I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

EQUAL TO ANY,
SUPERIOR TO MOST.

The Variety, Quantity and Value
AT PECK'S.

SEBRING, CLOTHIER,

Will close the balance of $12 suits for $8.
$15 suits for $10.
$12 ulsters for $8.50.
$15 overcoats for $10.
Children's overcoats and school suits at cost.

Park Avenue, Packer's Block.

VAN EMBURGH & SON

One factory lot of

Unlaundried Shirts at 29c

14 to 16½ inch neck.

One Factory lot White Goods Remnants
At half value.

Figured India Silks at 25c yard.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

The Welsbach Incandescent Gas Burner.

Call and see it.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Grocery Department.

TERMS CASH.

Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. Since the opening of the department we have sold over 6,000 cans of tomatoes, string beans and corn as an advertisement at the unheard-of price of 6c a can.

The goods give good satisfaction and the people are buying them over and over again, the demand increasing for them each week. They often remark that they are just as good as they pay 8 and 10c for elsewhere.

75 CASES MORE

new goods received

For Saturday's Trade.

We are constantly saving money to hundreds of our patrons and they seem to be pleased for us to do it.

Special 6c can	.....25 cases sweet corn..... .....25 cases string beans..... .....25 cases tomatoes.....	Special 6c can

25 cases very fine lemon cling peaches, regular price 25c, special 17c can; another lot of Blue Point catsup quart size, 17c bottle; Burnham's clam bouillon special 19 and 31c bottle; Heinz little giant pickles, all kinds, special 9c bottle; Oyster Bay asparagus, flat cans, special 18c can; celery salt in screw top bottles 10c each.

Silexo 2½c Cake	5,000 pieces Silexo scouring soap, one of the best scouring articles on the market, for this sale only. 2½c cake.	Silexo 2½c Cake

Our White Seal flour can't be beat; one trial will convince you. ½ barrel at 54c, ¼ at $1.07, ½ at $1.98, 1 barrel at $3.95.

Finest quality olive oil, large size quarts, 69c bottle; do 1 gallon size $1 95 gallon. The above is the finest grade imported.

Housefurnishing Department.

3c each	100 doz cups and saucers Tea, breakfast and soup plates at 3c each 150 doz thin blown table tumblers worth 60c per doz at 3c each	3c each
27c each	Bread boxes square Japanned and well made regular price 39c special 27c each	27c each
73c each	Solid copper tea kettles choice of any size Some are nickle plated Your choice 73c each	73c each
9c each	Earthen cuspidores assorted decorations Regular size colors burnt in at 9c each	9c each

DRESS GOODS. DRESS GOODS.
DRESS GOODS. DRESS GOODS.

Newest spring styles in a great variety of washable fabrics. New and stylish effects in all-wool and silk and wool. The prices are the lowest ever known.

Priestley's Silk Warp blk Henriettas

$1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

CARPET DEPARTMENT.

OPENING OF NEW SPRING GOODS.

We quote only a few specials. All-wool ingrains at 49c; Tapestry Brussels at 53, 59, 65c; Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminsters, Ispahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, new styles, jointless, 9c and up; oil cloths No. 1, 39c, No. 3, 25c, No. 4, 19c; linoleums 37½c; window shades from 19c up, poles and fixtures 19c and up.

EDSALL'S

The greatest money-saving place to buy at in this part of the State.

Shoe Bargains.

Among the many bargains that we shall offer for a short time yet are the following—Boys patent leather bals $1.98, were $4
Boys grain leather bals, waterproof, $1.98, were $3.
Misses Dongola kid, button, $1.48, were $2 50
Womens " " $1.48, were $3, $4 and $5.
Womens gt., button, $1.48, were $5. For men we have a number of bargains. Come and see for yourself.

[DOANE & EDSALL.]

EDISON'S RIVAL BURNED OUT.

New York, March 13—By a fire, which broke out early this morning in the six-story building, 33 and 35 South Fifth avenue, Nicola Tesla, the well-known electrician, the man who it is claimed rivals Edison, lost all his electrical apparatus with which for years he has experimented and astonished the world.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

C. B. VanWinkle is in town, much improved in health.

A. S. Patterson and family are expected home Saturday.

Horace J. Martin will move into his new house on Fairview avenue tomorrow.

Borough Councilman Joseph Howell who has been very ill with equinancy, will be able to be out in a few days.

Mrs. D. M. Demarest of Crescent avenue has been summoned to Millstone by the dangerous illness of her sister, Mrs. I. D. Brower.

Chief-Marshal Pangborn of the Borough is suffering with a severe attack of neuralgia. Marshal Van Horn is on duty in his place.

Mrs. J. C. Van Dyke of East Front street received a telegram last evening summoning her to the bedside of a dying schoolmate in Jersey City.

Robert Elsworth Terry of New York, who played at the MacClymont-Vail wedding last evening, was the guest of his friend R. E. Pease. He returned to New York today.

J. K. Van Ness of East Front street who has been very ill for the past three weeks with pneumonia, has so far recovered as to be able to sit up in bed. He is very weak as yet but is now on the road to recovery.

Charles Kelderling, an active member of Plainfield Council Order of Chosen Friends, has already proved his right to one of the beautiful gold emblems of the order by securing five members before the charter closes.

At Warfare Over Signs.

J. A. Smith & Bro. the West Front street grocerymen, yesterday had built a large sign which they hung from the front of their store to an even point with the curb. It is thought that this is a violation of a city ordinance, and Messrs. Smith had a conference with the Street Committee last night to determine whether or not the sign should be taken down. Nothing could be decided because such matters must go before the Council as a body. Chief Doane told a Press reporter that there were at least 50 violations of the sign ordinance in this city.

—Lawyer Harry C. Runyon says that Jacob Geiger is still in New York and has settled with him.

—As advertised in another column of The Press the property of the late Manning Vermeule will be sold at public auction tomorrow afternoon by Executor Nelson Runyon. At 2 the store property, 107 and 109 West Front street, will be sold, after which the homestead property, 550 West Front street, will be disposed of.

Makes Tunes With Bullets.

Here is a story from New Orleans that must be taken as it stands. We do not vouch for the truth of it.

"Musical shots," says the tale, "are the latest among the sensations of New Orleans. A sharpshooter of the name of Pardon fires at the metal bars of a set of bells. The bullet, in striking the bar, sound a musical note, and the shots follow each other in such rapid succession and with such accuracy that the marksman is able to shoot any tune that may be desired."

The only thing lacking in this story is some account of Pardon's ability, which we presume he must possess, to shoot chords with ordinary birdshot.—Harper's Young People.

Routed the Fleas.

A storekeeper had a pet dog which was vainly trying to dislodge a flea, when an accommodating clerk took a curry comb from a box on the shelf and combed the dog with it to his great satisfaction. Then the clerk laid the comb back in the box and went to another part of the store. But the dog had taken careful note of where the comb was put, and, after some effort managed to climb up where it was. Taking hold of it with his teeth he dragged it out of the box and let it drop on the floor. Getting down himself he carried it to his place by the stove. Then placing it careful y in the right position he rolled over and over on it to his heart's coutent, wriggling and twisting all manner of ways the while so as to insure himself a good scratching.

Passing fashions have the same funcotion in the reading of the general public as pickles and Russian sideboard dishes in the dining room. They stimulate an artificial appetite where none exists naturally. But after all it is better to eat because you have had caviare than not to eat at all.

An evenly balanced horse trade is reported from Maine. Two farmers met and after a long talk one exchanged a horse for a cow owned by the other. Each took his new property home, and on the following morning both animals were dead.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Minor Liscoe of Salem was in town yesterday.

J. H. McVey leaves town this week for Albany to be gone three days.

Mrs. Mary Disborough of East Front street has returned from a visit in New York.

Miss Mary Wood of Summit is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hazell of Westervelt avenue.

Miss Emma Wyckoff returned to her duties in Edsall's this morning after a short illness.

Miss Smalley of Westervelt avenue gave a very pleasant euchre party to a number of friends last night.

Miss C. Barton has recovered from her recent illness and resumed her duties in Edsall's this morning.

Mrs. W. H. Mountford of Somerset street, who was seriously ill with bronchitis, is now improving.

Miss Jessie Utter will preside at the organ at the First Presbyterian Church in the absence of W. E. MacClymont.

Wm. Hand & Son of Park avenue moved George Belcher and family from Watchung avenue to East Fifth street yesterday.

Miss Gayton, of New York, who has charge of Edsall's millinery department each season, visited friends in this city yesterday.

C. W. Bolby of Netherwood avenue will move his family to Clinton, where he will embark in the piano business under the firm name of Bolby & Co.

Miss Lottie Messerschmidt and Fletcher Hallock of this city will assist in the entertainment to be given in the Scotch Plains Baptist Church this evening.

Mrs. H. O. Campbell, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia at her home on Netherwood avenue, is slowly improving under the careful treatment of Dr. O L. Jenkins.

Miss Bankhead, who has been spending the past week with Mrs. Charles Lefles of La Grande avenue, Netherwood, returned to her home in New York city Monday.

Eugene O'Reilly has returned from the Post-Graduate College, New York, where a second operation was performed on his left arm. He is feeling very much better and gaining rapidly.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck will move into his new house about April 1. Officer Evans of the Central Division of the Salvation Army will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Schenck.

A birthday surprise party was given to Miss Ida Johnson at her home on West Fifth street last night by 25 friends. Singing, games and social chat made the evening a very pleasant one for all in attendance.

William Wyckoff of Howard street has leased the Cory farm, near Washingtonville, where he moved with his family yesterday. Mr. Wyckoff has accepted a position as foreman of Smith's stone quarry.

Rev. Father Bogaard of Somerville will preach the second of the Wednesday evening Lenten sermons in St. Mary's Church tonight at 8. Father Bogaard was for many years pastor of the Catholic church in Bound Brook.

CAPT. ROBT. COOK, Camden, N. J., says:

"I had been seriously troubled for some time with indigestion, constipation, and a weak stomach, my system becoming all run down, and losing fifty pounds in weight. I had about given up hopes of again being a well man, when I came across which soon restored me to health, I gaining twenty-five pounds in three weeks. Give them a trial and see what they will do for you."

Dr. Deane's

Dyspepsia Pills,

At all druggists', 25 cents. Send to us for a free sample if you have indigestion.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO.,
Kingston, New York.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 11, 1895.

Armstrong J E	Ledeon L
Anderson Mrs Mary	Lloyd Miss
Bronson Miss E	Lowe Miss
Byron John	Laing Mrs N M
Bunn Mrs J N	Myers Fred H
Banner J	Mulligan Ellen
Blythe Katie	Macousen John
Bicker M	Miller J J
Brokaw Mrs Mary E	McKenna Michael
Baldwin W D	Hoyt W H
Boll'son Wm	McElvaine Minnie
Colgate G S	Peterson Rev F E
Coffin Mrs L P	Pettonienie Maria
Clark Miss	Potts Geo H
Coalds Mary	Ray Georgia W
Carter W H	Rose Geo H
deGallarraga Dr J A	Randolph H R
Demarest D C	Reid Lizzie F
Dyckman Naomi F	Ruellan Mr
Edmonson Mamie	Randolph Mrs S R
Flanagan P	Randolph Sarah
G F R	Ross Will
Green John	Smith Hattie E
Hughes Annie	Starr W E
Hoehn Chas H	Schott Miss
Howell Frank	S H S
Hale Capt. Geo	Thompson Frank
Hensking Jerry	Webber Mrs Anna
Hill Mrs Lithe	Williams Harry
Jones Lucy	Whiting Miss
Jones Lewis	Woman's Exchange
Jackson W H	Wilson M A
Williams Minnie A

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Short Stories of Heroism from Real Life.

For the Glory of Nelson.

March 13, 1811, was the date of a battle off Lissa which partook of the nature of a duel at sea. The traditions of the navy rather than national welfare inspired the combatants. The French held Lissa. Commodore Dubourdien, with four 40 gun frigates, two smaller ones and a corvet lay outside the harbor. Captain Hoste, with the three British frigates, Amphion, Cerebus and Active, and the sloop Volage, passing through the Adriatic, made out the French squadron and gave chase. Dubourdien had captured Lissa by flying false colors and had, moreover, reported that Hoste witnessed the capture and avoided encounter with his fleet. The gallant Englishmen had but four ships to the enemy's seven, a third less guns and but 900 seaman against 2,500. Forming his line with the Amphion leading, he ran up every inch of bunting on the fleet. To still further inspire the men, just before closing in for action he displayed on the flagship the legend, "Remember Nelson." A roar of huzzas sounded over the water and the ships closed up so that the French could not break between. Dubourdien's flagship Favorite hove to, intending to board the Amphion, her crew led by the commodore standing ready in the forecastle. A howitzer charged with 750 musket balls was fired into the crowd. Dubourdien and half his men fell. Hoste then drove the Favorite on the rocks, where she blew up. Thereafter it was ship against ship, except for the Amphion, which looked after two 40 gunners, the Bellona and Flore. The Flore soon struck, and the Bellona did the same after her captain fell. The Active overhauled the Corona and fought her nearly an hour. She finally hauled down the tricolor almost under the guns of friendly batteries.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 1c a dose; 25, 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

VALUABLE

Business Property FOR SALE

to close an estate. The subscriber, executor of Manning Vermeule, deceased, will sell at public auction, on

Thursday, March 14, 1895,

at 2 o'clock p. m., on the premises, the property Nos. 107 and 109 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J. Situated on Front street, near Park ave., and directly opposite Somerset street, this is one of the most desirable business stands in the city. Entrance also to the rear of said premises from Park ave.

4-Story Brick Store and Basement

Immediately after sale of the store property the late

HOMESTEAD PROPERTY

of said Manning Vermeule will be offered for sale on the premises, Nos. 550, etc., West Front st., consisting of the dwelling house and barn and lot of about 155 ft. in width. This will be sold as a whole or in parcels At same time and place 2 lots on West 3d st., near Plainfield ave., will be offered for sale, one havinng a frontage of about 104 ft., the other of 30 ft, in parcels if desired.

TERMS LIBERAL, and will be made known on day of sale. Further information cheerfully given prior to sale by the subscriber, at his office, or by J. H. French at French's Mills, Somerset st. NELSON RUNYON, Executor, cor. Park ave. and Front st.

Dated March 7, 1895. 3 8 6

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE City National Bank,

No. 2243.

At Plainfield, in the State of New Jersey, at the close of business,

MARCH 5, 1895.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$382,907 56
Overdrafts secured and unsecured		320 55
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		40,000 00
Stocks, securities, etc		71,248 00
Furniture and fixtures		2,500 00
Due from National Banks (not reserve agents)		4 588 87
Due from State Banks and bankers		29,635 72
Due from approved reserve agents		90 670 90
Checks and other cash items		894 79
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		253 32
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz:
Specie	23 000 00
Legal tender notes	7 500 00	30,500 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		1,800 00
Total		$665,415 71

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$150,000 00
Surplus fund	30,000 00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	23,331 43
National Bank notes outstanding	36,000 00
Due to other National Banks	29,055 49
Due to State Banks and Bankers	64 15
Dividends unpaid	832 00
Individual deposits subject to check	389,684 43
Demand certificates of deposit	4,881 85
Certified checks	948 76
Cashier's checks outstanding	617 60
Total	$665,415 71

STATE OF NEW JERSEY, COUNTY OF UNION, } ss.

I, Wm. F. Arnold, cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

WM. F. ARNOLD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of March, 1895. J. C. POPE, Notary Public of N. J.

Correct—Attest:
H. G. RUNKLE,
J. F. HUBBARD,
R. R. POPE,
Directors.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

Almost Given Away

Who wants it?

A House on Fairview Avenue,

Watchung Park. New, delightfully located, 9 rooms, all improvements, electric and gas light, stained glass, finely papered; has to be seen to be appreciated; known as the Russian style; mortgage $3,000; $1,500 cash takes it. Can be seen at any time. Apply to 3 13 6 A. BARTLETT, 339 Park avenue.

—THE—

Plainfield Ice & Cold Storage Co

has removed from 140 Park avenue to 132 North Avenue.

3 13 6

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 235 Liberty street.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 26 y

WANTS AND OFFERS.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

TO LET—Two small stores or offices on one of the finest corners in the city, with or without stable room for one or more horses. Inquire F. Westphal & Son cor. of West 4th and Liberty st. 3 6 m

HOUSE to let on Duer st., 9 rooms with improvements; $35. Call at 17 Duer street. 3 12 6

WANTED—A reliable girl for general housework, with references. 913 West Front st. 3 13 3

LOST—Pocketbook with small sum of money and 2 keys. Reward at this office.

TO LET—7 room house on Duer st; $15 Call 17 Duer st. 3 12 6

FIVE room house to let; new building; city water; $12 50 per month. Chas. H. Hand, 317 Watchung ave. 3 12 3

FOR SALE—Fresh Alderney cow. F. Quinn, Plainfield ave. 3 12 2

STABLE to let; room for 8 horses and 8 wagons; rent cheap. Charles. H. Hand, 317 Watchung ave. 3 12 3

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, old established meat market, 2 horses and 2 wagons; good paying business; reason for selling given. Address Butcher, care Press. 3 11 6

AGENTS make $5 daily; marvelous invention; retails 25c; 2 to 6 sold in a house; sample mailed free. Forshee & McMakin, Cincinnati, O. 1 2 y-w

FOR RENT—Half double house, six rooms; $11 per month. 29 Emily st. 3 11 3

TO RENT—House 303 West 2d st; now occupied by Relief Association. Inquire 208 Madison ave. 3 11 6

NINE room house to let; will rent upper and lower floors for two families if desired; large lawn and plenty of shade; rent reasonable; reference required. Call 16 Grandview ave.

GROCERY store and building for sale in a growing location; store is well stocked and doing a good business; I will sell reasonable to a quick buyer; reason for selling is on account of ill health. Address J. V. W., care Press. 3 11 3

FOR SALE or exchange, value $7,500, a place of 1 acre, house, stable, henery; also extra house for help; easy terms. Address Wm. Cornell, 124 Liberty st., New York. 3 11 3

HORSE and buggy for sale cheap. Call 85 Manning ave. 3 11 6

MILK route wanted by cash buyer. J. H., care Press. 3 9 tf

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

FLAT to let with improvements. Inquire Manning's marble works, Front street and Central avenue. 3 8 6

TO LET—Two new, large stores No. 224 East Front street; new 11 room house with all improvements 22 Norwood avenue, and a 6 room house 746 East 2nd street. Inquire J. Voehl 65 Somerset street. 3 7 6

TO LET—Desirable flats in the Miller Building. All improvements, steam heat. Inquire Miller 339 Park ave corner of 4th street. 3 7 6

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman. 1 30 tf

NAPOLEON

Monographs on the Man of Destiny

A Series of Original and Interesting Studies

—BY—

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH

THE HISTORIAN

Read Them in This Paper

They Are Published Saturdays.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

BIG CUT.

Special Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia 1 lb Print Creamery Butter 20 cts.

4 lbs cod fish for 25 cents; 1 lb package best macaroni 7½ cents; Dried green peas 5 cents a quart; Best laundry starch 5 cents lb; Granulated sugar 4 cents lb; 2 lbs extra creamery cheese for 23 cents.

AT FULPER'S.

There Are Others

but none of finer material or of handsomer design and finish than the CZAR.

E. FRANK VAIL, AGENT,

177 North avenue.

Also Phoenix and P. & G. special are leaders. 2 28 3m

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield. N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

THE SUN'S FASHIONS.

SOMBRE HUES WILL PREVAIL FOR A BRIEF SEASON.

Black Gowns the Reigning Favorites at Present. Bishop Sleeves Much Worn for Blouse Suits. New Materials for Tailor Coats.

Black gowns are the reigning favorites at present, and will continue to take the lead throughout the early spring months. Black satins, both figured and plain, diamantine moires, crepons, and various kinds of rough wool goods are being made up into spring gowns, with the customary fancy waists combined with or entirely made of a contrasting color. Tailor gowns of black cloth are very fashionable and especially suitable for these Lenten days. And, like those of mixed tweeds and light colors, they are made with the short, tight fitting coat, which is worn over blouses of lace or soft silk or chemisettes of white batiste, trimmed with rows of cream Valenciennes lace.

A novelty in blouses is made double breasted and fastened with buttons well over on the left shoulder, tapering off toward the waist, where it is gathered full into a belt. A turn over collar completes the neck. This style of collar, however, is not the exclusive peculiarity of the blouse waist, for it is seen on dresses as well.

Bishop sleeves are much used for the blouse waists and are easily managed under the coat.

Some tailor dresses have the extreme full skirts, while others are more moderate in size, but in either case they are cut short enough to clear the floor.

The new materials for tailor coats, to be worn with any and every gown, are heavy tweeds in which several colors are prettily blended, and the covert cloths in all the pale shades of tan and gray. They are made quite short, with some fulness in the back. The front may be either single or double breasted, and is finished with the usual revers.

Fancy vests of pique and bright colored vesting are shown with the new tailor gowns, and are very similar to those worn last season.

Street dresses of plain cloth, not tailor made, have sleeves and bodice like the skirt. One made of light tan cloth has a very full, plain skirt, a plain waist with a full blouse front, which pinches a little over the belt, of bright plaid silk, and is made whole to fasten on the shoulder and under the arm. The belt fastens at the back under a full, short bow, and the neck band is of dark red velvet, of one of the shades in the plaid. Over this is a turn down collar of white batiste trimmed with rows of narrow cream lace. Cuffs of this material turn back over the red velvet cuffs which finish the sleeves.

One of the marked features of the present fashions is the use of one material over another so that both can be seen. And sometimes three materials are employed, as, for example, lace over chiffon for a blouse waist and these made over satin or silk.

The fancy for silk waists fitted close and covered with guipure lace is still with us, and here is a model for any dark shade of silk. The lace is cut out in the neck like a pinafore and edged around with jet. The collar and belt are of velvet, and straps of velvet beginning at the belt in the back are brought around under the arms to the front where they end in three loops clasped with a jet buckle.

Silk tissue, such as was worn years ago has appeared again and is delightfully soft and pretty for fancy waists.

A pretty afternoon dress is of mauve brocaded silk, made with a blouse and apron panel of pale yellow accordion plaited silk muslin over yellow silk. Mauve satin forms the belt, bow and collar, and lace epaulets fall over the sleeves.—N. Y. Sun.

WHAT SHOOK HER FAITH.

How a Very Sweet Tempered Bride Learned Something of Old Soldiers.

She is a bride, sweet tempered, sympathetic and with a boundless faith in human nature. She lives in a pretty little home in West End avenue—no matter what the number is. Before her marriage—and, indeed, ever since—she has been active in works of charity and good will, and long ago she made a resolve that when she came to have a home of her own no needy man should be turned from her door empty handed.

But already she has made a mental reservation. She is disposed now to do her almsgiving through organized channels of charity, rather than at the front door or in the streets. And this is how her childlike faith was shattered.

The snow had just stopped falling. It lay six inches deep, white and glistening on the pavement of West End avenue, when a poor, forlorn fellow in tattered coat and leaky shoes came shuffling through the drifts and up the steps that led to the pretty bridal nest. He shook the feathery flakes from an old slouch hat, hesitated a moment, then touched the electric bell and stood firm and erect, despite his beggarly raiment, in the attitude of "attention."

"Excuse me, miss," he said to the maid who opened the door, as he gave her the military salute, "I'm an old soldier, and not used to begging, but if you would ask your mistress if she hasn't an old pair of shoes to spare. The snow comes clear through the soles of these."

The maid left him standing there, and soon returned with a half worn but serviceable pair of shoes, much better than those he wore. The old soldier took them gratefully. He hesitated, and then said, with an air almost Chesterfieldian:

"Miss, your blue eyes are as kind as they are pretty, and that makes me bold to ask if you couldn't perhaps find an old coat a trifler more presentable than these rags I am wearing."

The maid was impressed. "He's a well spoken man," she said to her mistress, as she delivered the second message, "and I'm thinking he's seen better times."

A serviceable coat was found. The bride's good husband only glanced over his newspaper to see that it wasn't his newest cutaway that was to be sacrificed. He smiled. He was rather fond of humoring the bride's little charitable whims. The maid delivered the coat and was soon up stairs again, wearing a look of unutterable surprise.

"And what is it he wants now, Maggie?" said the mistress.

"Well, ma'am, I never saw the likes of him for a beggar. He took the coat like he took the shoes, almost a cryin', he was so pleased, and then he kind o' choked up like, and he says to me: 'Sure, miss, I'd like to do something for yez to show me gratitude is genuine, and if yez'll get me the coal shovel I'll do yez a good turn anyway by a-clearing the snow off your front pavement.' So I got the coal shovel and gave it to him, and he touched his hat again."

"He is no ordinary mendicant, surely," said the bride. "His desire to give us some equivalent, even by his own hard labor, proves him to be a worthy man; don't you think so, my dear?" and she turned toward her more worldly wise husband for his approval.

But the worldly wise husband only smiled as he glanced over the top of his newspaper again and said: "Perhaps so, my dear; but Maggie had better go down and just see that he doesn't steal the coal shovel."

Maggie went. The wind whistled as she opened the door. The snow still glistened in the sunshine. It was still six inches deep on the level, and drifting. It was still unbroken, save for the broad footprints of the old soldier headed toward the street corner. He had gone. So had the coal shovel.

THE BOY AS A BAROMETER.

He Portells the Coming of Spring in His Own Way.

The other day a boy in this town standing upon the heel of one boot for a center described the circumference of a circle with the toe of the other. It was a marble ring, and spring's first and surest harbinger is here. The migratory birds may be deceived. The trees may swell their buds with a false joy at the deceitful breath of the south wind. Waters may laugh merrily at their territory release from bondage, as the mouse rejoices when the cruel cat lifts up her tantalizing claw. The sky and the earth and the air may seem to read the signs of spring and be mistaken, but the boy is nature's masterpiece. He does not err in interpreting the sound of nature's voice.

When the season's change is first surely heralded a boy is the herald. The marble ring is more faithful in its promise than the rainbow. There is no doubt now that the winter has done its worst. There may be bitter cold days but there will be in the chilling winds the chill of spring, and the warm days will outnumber the cold ones from now on.—Kansas City Star.

Time's Possible Revenge.

The Hon. Mrs. Strongmind (rising in her place and speaking in a deep, resonant, contralto voice)—I wish, now, Madam Speaker, to move that we proceed to the consideration of the bill, "To Prohibit Men from going Out Between Acts at Theatre."—Chicago Daily Tribune.

Content With Less.

"I suppose," said Mr. Gratebar, "that really the man who attains the greatest possible enjoyment of life is the man who finds the greatest happiness in work; but how few of us there are that are ambitious in that direction!"

Apples as Brain Food.

Apples are now recommended by many physicians as brain food because they contain a quantity of phosphoric acid and are easily digested. Eaten at night before retiring they excite the action of the liver and produce sleep. Several Chicago physicians have pronounced in their favor.—Chicago Tribune.

Laporte Girls' Modest Wants.

Laporte girls don't want very much. They ask for a new writing desk at the postoffice, a desk supplied with a mirror where ladies can arrange their toilets, and easy chairs so that they can rest while waiting for the mail.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Beginning of Wisdom.

One of the first things for women to learn is how to buy a larger shoe and a smaller hat.—Galveston Daily News.

SHE RIDES A BIKE.

OUR GREATEST TEMPERANCE APOSTLE DONS DIVIDED SKIRTS.

Miss Frances Willard, Fair, Fat and 55, Tells of Her English Experiences. She Don't Like the Cockney Accent and Won't Use It.

Miss Frances Willard is 55 and she tells it. She came back to her native land a better American and a stronger woman than ever.

England and English society agreed with her. She has primroses in her complexion and flesh on her restless little body. She brings a brain load of ideas and the manuscript of a new book.

To a reporter she said:

"God Bless America! I love it. My stay with Lady Henry Somerset was a day dream. I met most delightful people. I came near being killed with kindness. But I have been kept crying with joy ever since I returned."

"Did you get the English accent, Miss Willard?"

"No, I didn't."

"Not just a few broad a's?"

"Not one. I didn't learn to say clark for clerk, luggage for baggage, railway for railroad, tram for street cars, brasses for checks, or gowns for dresses. I do say station for depot because I think it more expressive. And I did learn to soften my pronunciation of the word American. It is a most beautiful word and I feel justified in speaking it as beautifully as I can."

When asked the secrets of her good looks she said:

"I have had a good rest. I am an eight hour woman. Eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep and eight hours for what you will, and one day in the seven for the soul, is my programme. I put in eight hours a day at my desk. We had four stenographers come down from London every morning and Lady Henry Somerset and I kept them going all the time. But that sort of work didn't hurt me. It is speaking in public that takes the heart out of me. For ten years I made one speech a day the year round. When I went abroad I was talked out. I did very little talking while I was away and the rest was a cure."

"But who is your complexion improver and eye brightener?"

FRANCES WILLARD.

"Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson, one of the greatest hygienists of Great Britain."

"What did he prescribe?"

"The bicycle."

"And you took it?"

"Yes, in large doses. It took me thirty hours to learn. First, I began with three assistants. Then I got along with two. For a long while I rode with one and now I go alone. I had a short blue suit, sweater and divided skirts, cap and shoes and I exercised every day, winter and warm weather, for half or a full hour. It was hard work but I was determined to master it."

"Did you get many black and blue spots?"

"No, because I didn't fall. I wasn't allowed. My girls took too good care of me. Even after I conquered they came with me. While I was learnin I wrote a book. I simply talked and a stenographer reported me. I have called it, 'How I Learned the Bicycle and Reflections by the Way.'"

"How did you learn to ride the bicycle?"

"Well, I had two rules and I rode up to them. The major promise I took was 'I will not fall.' That is rule one. There is an old Yorkshire proverb. 'It's dogged as does it,' which I took for rule two. I used to repeat it a dozen times, and although it made the girls laugh it helped me. When I got my courage up to pitch I would tell the girl to stand aside and exert her moral influence and it sustained me. I learned to ride as I learned to walk. I define bicycling as walking six inches above ground. The pedals are six inches from the ground and the same confidence by which the child learns to walk helps the adult to ride.

"No, I didn't go out on the highway. Lady Henry Somerset had a tricycle and we took our exercise on the grounds. The estate is immense and the roads and drives left nothing to be desired. I brought my wheel with me. She presented it to me. If I had bought one, of course, I should have selected an American bicycle, for I am too loyal to believe that American labor or American skill is second to any workmanship. I called it the 'Gladys,' because it made me gladsome in my spirit. The day I took my first ride I gave Gladys the white ribbon."

DWELT IN A MINE.

The Domicile of Two Miners and Their Families at Wheeling.

A few days ago a sad case of destitution was found on the South Side, among some miners and their families who had recently removed from an Ohio mining camp to this city. Two miners and their families came to the southern portion of Wheeling about two weeks ago, and they were so poor that they had not the means to rent a house. They were fortunate enough to find some employment in the mines of a South Side man. The two families took up their abode in one of the deserted chambers in the mine, and here they remained until they could make enough money to buy sufficient lumber with which to erect a small cottage near the mines.

The house was completed a day or so ago, and now the two families have a better place to live. The men are apparently worthy in every respect, and the owner of the mine has given them all the work he has on hand. How they managed to live for ten days in a dark, damp mine is something not easily explained.—Wheeling News.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

WALL PAPER

WALL PAPER,

Wall Paper.

Paint, Brushes, Shades, Glass, Carpets, Rugs.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

QUEEN & CO. —OF— PHILADELPHIA, SEND THEIR EYE SPECIALIST TO PLAINFIELD

Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street,

Dunham's Real Estate Office.

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. G. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young, Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 2 m

FURNITURE MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 26 tf

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C.

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 27 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 213 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 6084, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 25 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 168, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front street

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
E. A. Thorne, Secretary.

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON,

New No. 123, North Ave., Plainfield.

Telephone 168 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 20 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.36 p.m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago, and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00, 9.06, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 06, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 34, 6 45, 6 47, 6 45, 7 07, 7 20, 7 49, 7 57, 8 06, 8 28, 8 33, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 38, 10 46 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 13, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 45, 3 27, 3 47, 4 42, 5 15, 5 36, 5 45, 6 08, 6 27, 6 43, 6 53, 7 07, 7 26 7 59, 9 a. m. 9 10, 9 50, 10 03 11 03 and 11 56 p. m. Sundays 3 02, 5 34, 7 54, 8 45, 9 20, 9 47, 10 19, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 38, 1 44, 2 38, 3 45, 5 45, 4 38, 5 36, 5 46, 7 05, 7 12, 7 28, 7 58, 8 30 9 16, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 00, 5 47, 7 19, 9 05, 9 36, 11 43 A. M.; 1 06, 1 37, 2 33, 5 02, 6 36 7 45, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 5 39, 9 05, 9 36, 10 43 A. M.; 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 43 P. M.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 59 a. m.

Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Rahway—1, 1 43 daily ex. Monday, 4 03, 6 44, 7 10, 7 30, 8 54, 9 46, 9 50, 10 39, 11 43, a. m., 12 45, 1 11, 1 37, 2 43 3 20, 3 30, 3 50, 4 20, 4 33, 5 22, 5 40, 6 06 6 12, 6 17, 6 27, 6 45, 6 52, 6 59, 7 20, 7 46, 8 14, 8 56, 9 54, 11 02 11 45 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 1, 1 43, 6 59, 7 45, 9 49, 10 26 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 30, 1 00, 2 41, 3 28, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 07, 7 10, 7 30, 9 05 9 36, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 36, 1 37, 2 43, 3 30, 4 33, 5 06, 5 40, 6 06, 6 45, 7 46, 9 39 and 11 09 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 39, 9 05, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 30, 1 00, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 09 a.m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 56 p.m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 26, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 09, 12 46 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 56 9 54 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 26, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 26, 2 43 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 7 30, 9 05, 9 36, 11 43 A. M.; 1 06, 1 37, 2 43, 3 02, 4 56, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 5 39, 9 05 9 36, 10 43 A. M.; 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 43 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 30 A. M., 2 43 and 6 36 p. m., and 5 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 30 A. M.; 2 43 P. M.

For Freehold—7 30, 11 43 a. m., 4 56, 5 06 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 30 and 11 43 a. m., 4 56 and 5 06 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 12 5 44 p. m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p. m.

For Boston—8 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 30, 7 20, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 30, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 30, 5 50, 6 00, 6 00, 6 10, 6 30, 6 40, 7 00, 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 30 p. m., 12 15 night. Sundays, 1 00, 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00, 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

THE MASTODON

was the biggest animal of which we have any knowledge, and lived ages ago. Mastodons in other lines still exist, for instance you will find a mastodon stock of wall paper and mastodon bargains with us every day in the year.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.

141 East Front st

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 5 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Agt.

69 BROADWAY, cor. 41st ST.

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner at short notice.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 24, 5 37, 5 53, 6 08, 7 10, 7 30, 7 55, 8 08, 8 37, 9 10, 9 36, 9 55, 10 08, 10 38, 11 10, A. M., 12 08, 1 16, 2 07, 3 10, 3 30, 3 55, 4 40, 5 04, 6 14, 7 07, 8 20, 9 32, 10 17, 11 10, 11 50 P. M. Sunday—2 24, 5 37, 8 08, 8 53, 9 35, 10 08, 10 38, 11 10 A. M., 12 38, 1 46, 3 10, 4 32, 5 22, 6 32, 10 17 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 20, 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 15, 11 45, A. M., 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 45, 4 20, 4 30, 5 15, except Saturday, 5 00, 5 45, 6, 6 15, 6 30, 7, 7 30, 8, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 12 00 P. M., 12 15, 1 night. Sunday—4 30, 7 15, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 12 00 P. M., 12 30 night. 1 A M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 6 32, 8 29, 9 10, 7 30, 7 55, 8, 8 40 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, A. M., 12 06, 1 16, 2 07, 2 30, 3 55, 4 40, 5 04, 6 14, 7 07, 8 20, 10 17 11 20 P. M. Sunday—9 07, 9 32, 10 00, 11 30 A. M., 12 27, 1 46, 3 00, 4 36, 7 11, 8 32, 9 32, 10 17 P. M.

Leave Newark 6 15, 7 15, 7 55, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 11 30 A. M., 1 15, 1 30, 2 20 Saturday only, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 6 10, 6 30, 7 15, 7 55, 10 00, 11 30 P. M. Sunday—7 00, 9 45, 9 30, 11 30 A. M., 1 10, 3 30, 4 10, 6 40, 7 50, 9 25, 10 30 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 8 16, 9 54, A. M., 12 45, 3 05, 5 14, 7 00, 8 21 P. M. Sunday—8 45, 9 36 A. M., 3 05, 6 06, P. M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 8 00, 7 00, 7 36, 7 55, 8 20, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 A. M., 12 32, 4 05, 7 00 P. M. Sundays—7 15, 10 32, A. M. 6 40, 7 30, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 45 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Pottsville, Manch Chunk, Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Manch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Manch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

3 08 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Manch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Manch Chunk.

5 09 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

5 14 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Manch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 38 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Manch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

8 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

8 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Manch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 26 a.m. Sundays for Easton.

9 08 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Manch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6.36 p.m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Manch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 27 a. m. 1 16 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 8 27, 8, 10 27, a. m. 1.16, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—except Ocean Grove 8 26, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 27, 8 26, 10 27 a. m. 1 16, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 7 08 p.m. Sunday—8 26, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 27, 8, 10 27 a.m., 1 16 3 51, 4 50, p.m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 46, 7 46 9 46, 10 46, a. m., 3 08*, 5 16* 6 46 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—5 46, 8 a. m., 3 08*, 5 16*, 6 46 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 5 46, 8 44, 9 40*, 10 46, a. m., 12 46, 3 08*, 5 16*, 6 36*, 8 21, 9 37* p.m., 1 12 night. Sunday—5 46, 9 24, a. m., 3 08*, 5 16* 6 36 p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 5 46, a. m. 2 08, 5 36* 6 46 p. m. 1 12, night. Sundays—5 46 a. m., 2 08, 5 16* 6 46 p.m. 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 36 p m. Sundays 5 16 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week-days at 9 56 a m., 3 22 p. m. Sundays 6 36 p. m

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA,

Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 30, 9 30, 11 35 a.m., 1 20 3 05 5 15, 6 05, 8 25, p.m., 12 10, night.

Sundays—4 10, 9 30, 9 30, 12 35 a. m., 3 30, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—3 05, 7 55, 9 21, 11 10, a. m. 2 40, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—3 05, 7 55, 12 10 p m., 3 30, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 55, 9 05, 10 25, a.m., 12 15*, 3 10, 4 25*, 5 54, 9 05 p.m. Sundays—1 00, 4 55, 9 05, 10 27 a. m., 1 15*, 4 25 5 45*, 9 05 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

NO.

BUT FULL VALUE.

G. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging. 27 Chatham street.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N J

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handke chiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

UNUSUAL.

Great reductions, "half price sales," and "goods at cost," usually mean undesirable things that must faily be kicked out, if they are to go out.

This week we offer two brilliant exceptions—

1st—$12 and $15 Ulsters at $7.90.

2d—$15 and $20 Overcoats at $10.90.

We make prices this week that will move them like feathers before a March wind.

WERNER'S, 206 West Front St

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 1 19 tf

THE COUNT TALKED.

ANNA GOULD'S HUSBAND LIKED HIS NAME IN PRINT.

Every Evidence that a Regular Literary Bureau Was Maintained in Connection With the Preparations for the Wedding. Interviews and Details by the Yard.

That the Count de Castellane, Anna Gould's French husband, enjoyed the cheap notoriety usually accorded actresses, is clearly evinced by the space occupied in metropolitan papers by the ante-nuptial announcements and gossip of the then impending event. That column after column of the stuff published emanated from an inner source there is no doubt. Why the great papers gave their space to it is one of those things one cannot explain.

Here is a story from the New York Herald:

"Helas!" he exclaimed with true Gallic fervor. "I came to America unknown, and to-day I am famous. Each hour brings me twenty letters. There are men who want to sell me jewels and lace, silver and old furniture. There are others who want to be my coachmen, my grooms and my valets de chambre. There are lots who beg outright, and many more who wish to extract from me the secrets of my soul. There is not an hour of the day that I can call my own.

"The manner of my going to bed and getting up has been minutely described. They say I lace and pad, that my father and mother are separated, and that I am to be a charge for life upon the Gould estate.

"My pictures are scattered broadcast through the land, my—"

A messenger approached the count with a note.

"Yes, and here is a man who wants to curl my hair for nothing.

"I came to America to indulge in my love of sport. I had heard much of your Western shooting and hard riding. I went first to Newport, where I was fascinated by the place and its society. I stayed on and on. Then I came to New York and to Colorado, where I had great shooting. I got back in time to find the hunting clubs in full blast.

"It was while hunting with the Monmouth County pack at Lakewood that I first met the Goulds. They were kindness itself. I was thrown often in their society, both then and afterward in New York. I greatly admired Mr. George Gould's cleverness and wide grasp of information. Miss Anna Gould was a charming young lady, simple and unaffected, but no idea of marriage or any other feeling than esteem crossed my mind.

"Then came the invitation to join their party to Canada. It had been my original intention to journey north and see the famous sports on snow and ice. It was during that trip that the truth came out. I know not exactly how or when, but I returned to New York the accepted suitor of Miss Gould.

"The brother and sister, her guardians, gave their consent, and it was when the Herald announced the engagement that I awoke to find myself famous."

Count de Castellane was talking for publication, but with the greatest frankness.

"I have been misunderstood completely as to any settlements the Gould family may make upon me. The question has never been broached or even hinted at in any way. The whole idea is exceedingly repugnant to me and must be so to my relatives and friends in France. My lawyer has naturally conferred with the Gould lawyers upon those matters, which must come up when marriage is contemplated. Beyond that I know nothing.

"I have always declared against a long engagement, and only asked that our marriage should be as soon as possible.

"My great pleasure on getting home will be that I shall not find myself so famous a person there, and can then afford to snap my fingers at all the untrue statements that have been circulated about me here.

"I can never accustom myself to having my name so constantly in print. Mr. Gould tells me that that is the American way of doing things; but I must say that it is the only American fashion to which I object."

A Well Intentioned Man's Mistake.

The Well Intentioned Man overheard two women talking together in the cable car and he immediately let down the portals of his ears, for the Well Intentioned Man always goes about with a lifelong hunger in his heart to insert himself into the affairs of other people.

"I tell you he is a perfect tyrant," said woman number one.

"I haven't a doubt of it," said woman number two.

"I will listen to this poor woman's tale," thought the Well Intentioned Man "and perhaps I may be able to assist the poor soul."

"Yes, he is a regular tyrant and despot. He has no mercy on me whatever. He rules the whole house like a regular czar."

"Of course he does," said woman number two.

"I shall have to offer my services to this poor down trodden woman," thought the Well Intentioned Man.

"Yes, he rides over the whole of us rough shod. And sometimes when he gets on the rampage he breaks everything he can lay his hands on."

"Madam," said the Well Intentioned Man, who could stand it no longer, "madam, my services are at your disposal. Let me go to your home and intercede with your tyrannical husband."

"He isn't my husband at all, you simpleton," snapped woman number one. "He's my nine months old baby—bless his precious little soul!"

An Extravagant Girl.

"A penny for your thoughts!" she cried
To the dudeling by her side.
Then she stopped to reconsider
And her calm reflection bid her
Not to cling
To a bargain quite so rash,
So she spoke up like a flash:
"Hold! That's what bad habits bring—
In my extravagant way
I always do pay
About two prices for a thing!"
—Chicago Record.

One Habit Corrected.

"I don't know whether I will be able to break him of all the habits I do not like," said the engaged girl, "but the first one I stopped for him was just as easy."

"What habit was that?" asked the other girl.

"The habit he had of proposing to me two or three times a week."—Indianapolis Journal.

LANDSCAPES IN FOUR MINUTES.

A Lightning Artist Whose Pictures Are Appreciated in Eighth Avenue.

Down in the lower part of Eighth avenue, New York, there is a man who has this notice painted in red and black letters on a piece of cloth stretched over the upper part of his shop window:

"Lightning artist. Elegant landscapes painted and finished in four minutes. Walk in!"

A Sun reporter saw him do even better than he promised. The artist stood in his shirt sleeves in the front window, his easel in front of him and a packing case containing canvases about 12x14 inches at his side. In his left hand he held his palette and brushes, the latter seemingly better fitted for house painting purposes than for the delicate work of landscape painting. He had just placed a new canvas on his easel as the Sun man approached.

Taking one of his largest brushes he dipped it into a mound of paint on the palette, and then, with a nervous movement of the hand, covered about a third of the upper part of the canvas, leaving a gray blue background. Then, with another brush of equal size he laid in spots of white. After blending the two colors the effect, with a good imagination, might be construed into a representation of a cloudy sky. To the right side of the canvas he applied a coat of mottled green, picking it out here and there with yellow and red—autumn foliage on the side of a mountain. Standing off a moment to regard his work, he put a few extra touches on the mountain with his thumb. Then with the brush used for the first layer of sky he filled in the lower part of the canvas with lead colored paint, most of his strokes here being horizontal. Then he added a bit of high light in the center, and at the back a daub of white indicated a boat, the sail coming dangerously near the trees on the top of the mountain. The presence of the boat explained the scheme in gray paint; it was a placid lake, and when a few streaks of deep blue were laid in around the sides one was sure of the artist's intention.

The picture was now finished, and the artist, leaving it unsigned, handed it to his assistant. He had beaten his record by half a minute.

After seeing a new canvas placed on the easel and a sunset sky laid on, the reporter walked into the store to see what disposition was made of the finished pictures. The store was filled with women, all of a type—that of the tenement life. They all appeared middle aged, were gowned in rusty black and bonneted in the old familiar way one becomes accustomed to at early mass in the Catholic church—a rusty black straw, topped with feathers, which show signs of conflict with much hard weather, and flowers that enjoyed their first artificial bloom several seasons gone by. All were with ungloved hands, red, with blunted finger nails, and the wedding ring on the left hand, always seeming too small for the finger wearing it.

These women were grouped about the artist's assistant, who placed the pictures in cheap white and gold frames and auctioned them off. The bidding was very spirited. Fifty cents was the lowest bid considered, and the picture, with the frame thereon, was usually knocked down for from $1 to $1.50, the successful bidder carrying away the prize in her hands, after paying heed to the auctioneer's caution to handle it carefully until it dried. In this manner at least ten were sold inside of as many minutes.

GENERAL BOOTH'S PLAN.

His Solution of the Poverty Problem in America.

In all our Salvation Army posts in London we have this sign posted:

* *
* No man need beg or starve or steal *
* or commit suicide. Apply to the cap- * * tain for a ticket and he will find you * * work. *
* *

That is what every State should have posted in the portal of its prison.

The unions are opposed to having men in prison support themselves. I do not always agree with the unions.

Here are four men in a garden. There is just enough work to keep them. Along comes the fifth man who looks over their heads and says: "Can you give me some work?" They answer him, "No; there is just enough work for four here." He says, "My God, you are not going to let me starve, are you?" They put their hands in their pockets and take out enough to feed him.

Would it not be better for them, since they must feed him to get something for their money? That is in little what society is in large.

America, has, in common with England the great drawback of an educational system. I don't know whether I dare say anything against education, but it seems to me it is all done for the mind and nothing for the body or soul. The children are brought up to be ladies and gentlemen, not men and women, who must work for a living. They are afraid to put their hands in the dirt or the dishwater.

The plan for darkest America would be to start little communities—little villages of thirty or forty houses together. Each man would have six or eight acres of ground surrounding the village, and, besides that, would have a common for his cow. There would be hovels for his pigs and chickens, and carts to come around so often to take the produce to the market.

This little farming community would not find life away from the cities such a barren thing. They would have their proper recreations, the bands and the barracks and trips to the city, and while they would not get rich they would make a fair living and a sure one.

None of the colonists will own the land. That is what I want the Government's help in. I want the Government to deed to me in trust this tract of land, to be used for the betterment of these people, giving me the privilege of alienating it or disposing of it only in cases where it is absolutely necessary for the success of the scheme.

The colonists simply would have the use of the land free as long as they chose to work it. The money to build their little cottages, their sheds and styes for cattle and pigs would be advanced to them out of their own wages, so that if a man ran away he would run away from his own money, and the scheme would be so much the richer by his running away.

We have a college in London to prepare teachers for the sixty or seventy colonies which we have scattered throughout the world.

Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, carrying good news of relief from pain.

Allcock's Porous Plaster

stands at the head of all remedies for congestion in the chest, the first result of taking cold, and for all lameness and stiffness of joints or muscles.

"Just as Good as Allcock's." Not at all. No imitation approaches the genuine.

Allcock's Corn Shields,
Allcock's Bunion Shields,

Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.

Brandreth's Pills

are free from injurious substances. They give universal satisfaction.

11 16y-m w f

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The

BEEHIVE

keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½
Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.
Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.
We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

Treasury Department

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

[SEAL] JAMES H. ECKELS,
Comptroller of the Currency.

8 4 30

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's

LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,

178 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 98 y

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. I. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

HER PA'S EXCEPTION.

The low-descending sun with torch of fire
Illumined cloudland's minaret and spire
As ardent maiden said unto her sire,
"A sight more vivid never met my quest!"
"Except", quoth he, cheered by the grate-fire bright,
"This warmth-disseminating anthra-cite
I bought of Geo. O. Stevens yesternight,
At 747 Front St., West."

(Orders may be left at VanBuren & Timpson's, opposite railroad station, or at G. L. Hallock's, 109 West Front street.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillauden, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.
203 LIBERTY STREET.

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

Vanity

is a virtuous vice. The world is better for it. It makes men ambitious—and it makes women careful of their personal appearance. It doesn't take much money to keep well-dressed now-a-days. Cleaning or dyeing makes it possible to use soiled or faded garments. And there's where our ax comes in. We are in the Cleaning and Dyeing business. Our cleaner is ready, and our dyer has his fall shades mixed.

Ask for our little booklet "Re-Freshing Thoughts." It tells about cleaning men's clothing.

HILLIER & Co.,

175 North ave.

COMFORT PEASE AND HER GOLD RING.

MARY E. WILKINS.

CHAPTER II.

Matilda Stebbins put her arm around Comfort, who was fairly crying. "Come," said she, "don't you mind anything about 'em, Comfort. Let's go in the schoolhouse. I've got a splendid Baldwin apple in my dinner-pail and I'll give you half of it. They're mad 'cause they haven't got any gold ring."

"I have got a gold ring," sobbed Comfort: "Honest and true, Black and blue, Lay me down and cut me in two." That was the awful truth-testing formula of the village children.

"Course you have," said Matilda, with indignant backward glances at the others. "Le's go and get that Baldwin apple."

Comfort went with Matilda, but it took more than a Baldwin apple to solace her, and her first day at school was a most unhappy one. It was very probable that the other scholars, and especially the older ones who had many important matters of their own in mind, thought little more about her and her gold ring, after school had begun, but Comfort could not understand that. She had a feeling that the minds of the whole school were fixed upon her and she was standing upon a sort of spiritual platform of shame, which was much worse than the schoolroom floor. If she saw one girl whisper to another she directly thought it was about her. If a girl looked at her her color rose and her heart began to beat loud, for she thought she was saying to herself: "Likely story."

Comfort was thankful when it was time to go home, and she could trudge off alone down the snowy road. None of the others lived her way. She left them all at the turn of the road, just below the schoolhouse.

"Good night, Comfort," Matilda Stebbins sang out loyally, but the big girl with red cheeks followed her with, "Wear that gold ring to school to-morrow an' let us see it." Then everybody giggled, and poor Comfort fled out of sight. It seemed to her that she must wear that ring to school the next day. She made up her mind that she would ask her mother, but when she got home she found that her Grandmother Atkins had come, and also her Uncle Ebenezer and Aunt Susan. They had driven over from Barre, where they lived, and her grandmother was going to stay and make a little visit, but her uncle and aunt were going home soon, and her mother was hurrying to make some hot biscuits for supper.

"PLEASE LET ME, MOTHER."

So when Comfort came in, she was stopped short at the sight of the company, and had to kiss them all and answer their questions with shy politeness. Comfort was very fond of her grandmother, but this time she did not feel quite so delighted to see her as usual. As soon as she had got a chance she slipped into the pantry after her mother. "Mother," she whispered, pulling her apron softly, "can't I wear my gold ring to school to-morrow?"

"No, you can't. How many times have I got to tell you?" said her mother, mixing the biscuit-dough energetically.

"Please let me, mother. They didn't believe I've got one?"

"Let them believe it or not, just as they have a mind to," said her mother.

"They think I'm telling stories."

"What have you been telling about your ring in school for, when you ought to have been studying? Now, Comfort, I can't have you standing there teasing me any longer. I've got to get these biscuits into the oven, they must have some supper before they go home. You go right out and set the table. Get the clean tablecloth out of the drawer, and you may put on the best knives and forks. Not another word. You can't wear that gold ring until your hand grows to it, and that settles it."

Comfort went out and set the table, but she looked so dejected that the company all noticed it. She could not eat any of the hot biscuits when they sat down to supper, and she did not eat much of the company cake. "You don't feel sick, do you, child?" asked her grandmother, anxiously.

"No, ma'am," replied Comfort, and she swallowed a big lump in her throat.

"She ain't sick," said her mother, severely. "She's fretting because she can't wear her gold ring to school."

"Oh, Comfort, you must wait till your hand grows to it," said her Aunt Susan.

"Yes, of course she must," said her Uncle Ebenezer.

"Eat your supper and your hand will grow to it before long," said her father, who, left to himself, would have let Comfort wear the ring.

"It wouldn't do for you to wear that ring and lose it. It's real gold," said her grandmother. "Have another piece of the sweetcake."

But Comfort wanted no more sweetcake. She put both hands to her face and wept, and her mother sent her promptly out of the room and to bed. Comfort lay there and sobbed and heard her Uncle Ebenezer's covered wagon roll out of the yard, and sobbed again. Then she fell asleep and did not know it when her mother and grandmother came in, and looked at her, and kissed her.

"I'm sorry she feels so bad," said Comfort's mother, "but I can't let her wear that ring."

"No, you can't," said her grandmother, and they went out shading the candle.

Comfort said no more about the ring the next morning. She knew her mother too well. She did not eat much breakfast, and crept off miserably to school at a quarter past eight, and she had another unhappy day. Nobody had forgotten about the gold ring. She was teased about it at every opportunity. "Why didn't you wear that handsome gold ring?" asked the big girl with red cheeks, until poor Comfort got nearly distracted. It seemed to her that the time to go home would never come, and as if she could never endure to go to school again. That night she begged her mother to let her stay at home the next day. "No," said her mother. "You've begun to go to school, and you're going to school unless you're sick. Now, this evening you had better sit down and write a letter to your Aunt Comfort. It's a long time since you wrote to her."

SHE LIFTED THE BRASS CATCH CAUTIOUSLY.

So Comfort sat down and wrote laboriously a letter to her Aunt Comfort, and thanked her anew, as she always did, for her gold ring and the gold dollar: "I wish to express my thanks again for the beautiful and valuable gifts, which you presented me for my name," wrote Comfort in the little stilted style of the day.

After the letter was written it was eight o'clock and Comfort's mother said she had better go to bed.

"You look tired out," said she, "I guess you'll have to go to bed early if you're going to school."

"Can't I stay at home to-morrow, mother," pleaded Comfort, with sudden hope.

"No," said her mother. "You've got to go if you're able."

"Mother, can't I wear it just once?"

"Don't you bring that ring up again," said her mother. "Take your candle and go right upstairs."

Comfort gave a pitiful little sob. "Now don't you go to crying over it," ordered her mother, and Comfort tried to choke back another sob as she went out of the room.

Comfort's father looked up from "The Old Farmer's Almanac." He was going to Bolton the next day with a load of wood, and wanted to see what the weather was to be, and so was consulting the almanac. "What was it Comfort wanted?" he inquired.

"She wanted to wear that gold ring her Aunt Comfort gave her to school," replied Mrs. Pease. "And I've told her over and over again I shouldn't let her do it."

"It's a mile too big for her, and she'd be sure to lose it off," said Grandmother Atkins, "and it would be a pity to have anything happen to it, when it's real gold, too."

"She couldn't wind a rag round her finger, under it, could she?" asked Comfort's father, hesitatingly.

"Wear a rag round her finger under it," repeated Mrs. Pease. "I rather guess she can wait till her finger grows to it. You'd let that child do anything."

Mr. Pease did not say anything more, but studied the "Old Farmer's Almanac" again, and found out that it was likely to be fair weather for the season.

It was past midnight, and the hearth fire was raked down, and Comfort's father and mother and grandmother were all in bed and asleep, when a little figure in a white nightgown, holding a lighted candle, padding softly on little cold bare feet, came down the stairs. Comfort paused in the entry and listened. She could hear the clock tick and her father snore. The best parlor door was on the right. She lifted the brass latch cautiously, and pushed the door open. Then she stole into the best parlor. The close icy air smote her like a breath from the north pole. There was no fire in the best parlor except on Thanksgiving day, and perhaps twice besides, when there was company to tea, from fall to spring. The cold therein seemed condensed and concentrated, the haircloth sofa and chairs and the mahogany table seemed to give out cold as stoves did heat.

There were two coffin plates and funeral wreaths, which had belonged to uncles of Comfort who had died before she was born, in frames on the wall, and these always scared Comfort.

She kept her eyes away from them as she went swiftly in her little bare feet, which had no feeling in them as they pressed the icy floor, across to the mahogany card table, whereon set the rosewood workbox.

Comfort set her candle on the table, and turned the key of the box with her stiff fingers. Then she raised the lid noiselessly and there lay the ring in a little square compartment of the tray—next to it in the corner square lay the gold dollar.

Comfort took the ring out, shut the box lid down, turned the key, and fled. She thought some one called her name as she went upstairs, and she stopped and listened, but all she heard was the clock ticking, and her father snoring, and her heart beating. Then she kept on to her own chamber, and put out her candle, and crept into her feather bed, under the patchwork quilts. There she lay all night, wide-awake, with the gold ring clasped tightly in her little cold fist.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them."

'Horner's Furniture'

The Best in the Market.

All who desire to buy reliable Furniture in moderate priced or more costly grades will find our stock the most advantageous to select from for these reasons: It represents the productions of the best makers only, and is the largest and most varied in America.

The completeness of our assortments can best be understood from the fact that we exhibit more than two hundred and fifty different Bedroom Sets in every variety of wood, over 70 patterns of Brass Bedsteads, as well as endless lines of Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Dining Room Furniture of the most artistic styles, and ranging from the modest and inexpensive to the most elaborately carved and inlaid.

In a word, every article required for use, comfort and adornment in the household can be had with its plainly marked moderate price at our

GREAT FURNITURE EMPORIUM,

61-65 West 23d St., N. Y.

(Adjoining Eden Musee.)

Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

Aunt Samantha's Album, with musical selections,

IN W. C. T. U. ROOMS,
Watchung ave.,
Thursday, March 14,
1895, at 8 o'clock.
Admission, 25c. 3 12 2

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

Three New Styles.

A Year of Paper Dolls 60c
The Brownies in Paper Dolls 60c
Famous Queens in Paper Dolls 15c

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

Hot Rolls

of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department, 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
69c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....69c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 30c " 10c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $4 25—worth $6.
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2.49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1 25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 00 " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44, for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

BAMBERGER'S

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE."

NEWARK, N. J.

Phenomenal Values

IN

UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

The careful housewife whose thoughts will soon turn to spring house cleaning and fixings, and who desires to practice economy, cannot possibly make a better investment than in the grand values we offer in Upholstery Goods.

New Nottingham Lace Curtains,

Very choice and well covered designs and excellent quality.

98c Value, $1.49 Value, $1.98 Value, $2.98 Value, $3.98 Value
59c 98c $1.25 $1.98 $2.98

FIGURED CHINA SILK

for drapery and also suitable for pillow covering, new designs and choice colors, value 69c, at

49 cents.

FIGURED SILKALINE

36 inches wide, fine designs and desirable colorings, value 12½c, at

7½ cents.

TAMBONIED SASH MUSLIN

with double border and well covered centres, in the latest designs, very choice quality, value 19c, at 12½ cents.

CHENILLE PORTIERES,

each pair 75 inches wide, wide dado and frieze and heavy tassel fringe, excellent weighty quality, all the most desirable shades, value $2.98, at $1 98.

Mail orders promptly filled.

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

SPRING STYLES

In Men's Hats are in today.

G. A. Hallock, 109 West Front St.

Our Men's $3 Shoes

will give you lots of wear and good solid comfort.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue

IF YOU WANT

ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

Spring Curry Comb

Clock Spring Blade. Soft as a Brush. Fits every Curve. The Only Perfect Comb. Used by U. S. Army and by Barnum and Forepaugh Circuses, and Leading Horsemen of the World. Ask your Dealer for It. Sample mailed post paid 25 cents. See our name on the handle. SPRING CURRY COMB CO., 102 Lafayette St., South Bend, Indiana.

781-1 9-t t

HEATH & DRAKE

Announce their

Grand

Spring Opening

on Tuesday,

Wednesday,
Thursday,

MARCH 12, 13 and 14.

When a line of goods suitable for the season will be exhibited, consisting of elegant, medium and low priced dry goods upholstery, carpets, etc.

You are cordially invited to attend.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET,

Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1 50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 25 1m

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.,

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.,

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city, free of charge. 6 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,

25 acres, or in plots to suit.

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

MEDICATED

Sulphur and Vapor Baths, followed by a thorough rubbing with alcohol; a wonderful help for rheumatism and skin diseases. For men only; hours 8 to 11 a. m., 2 to 6 p. m. H. HONNIUS, 26 North ave., Plainfield, N. J. Refers to Drs. Probasco, Radicott, Pritts Tomlinson, Geo. W. Rockfellow, and T. S. Armstrong. 6 27

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

BIRDS FOR A SUBJECT.

And Very Interesting, as Discussed by Mrs. Tyron Yesterday.

For an hour and a half yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the Crescent Avenue Church Mrs Kate Tyron of Cambridge, Mass., carried a large audience into the realms of bird life, and created in the minds of her hearers an insight into and appreciation of the traits of feathered songsters that the average person does not possess. Colored plates showing the physical characteristics and plumage of the birds, together with imitations of their singing, gave to the lecture a zest of realism that carried one on into the season of warmth and green foliage, when the birds flutter and twitter, and make the lover of nature feel contented and happy. That Mrs. Tyron's mind is filled with thoughts of true nature as given vent in her study and admiration of birds, was plainly evident throughout her talk by the earnestness with which she discussed the various species. In order that the interest of her hearers might not lag she only spoke of those birds that are common to this climate.

Mrs. Tyron said she first began to notice and study birds five years ago, and at that time could not tell an English sparrow from a robin, but in the past few years seldom made a mistake. Birds, she said, were very curious to observe things, and an easy manner to attract them so that they would not fly away was to kiss the hand—this method being often successfully practiced by her. She cited instances where she had shaken twigs on which birds were perched and they were so curious that they did not offer to move, and only blinked in an innocent way. As a rule they are gentle and sweet but when molesting their young in nests they become furiously mad and not infrequently attack human beings in their anger. Commencing with the blackbird she went down through the sparrow species, blue and yellow birds, orioles, bobolink, kingbird, thrush, red wing, etc., and of each one told their peculiar traits and mimicked their voices so that her hearers might with a little observation soon learn to distinguish birds that closely resemble each other.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the Benevolent Band of the King's Daughters, the proceeds of which are to be devoted towards the support of a city nurse.

Waterscapes on the Old Truck.

The hook and ladder truck which was used by Zephyr Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, until the purchase of the new truck, has been in the shop of David W. Kelly for two months, who has with paint and brush transformed it into a fire apparatus that in point of beauty and finish equals any now in the service of the department. It has been out of use two years and during a great portion of the time stood out of doors, so that it became badly rusted and chafed. The background of iron and wood work is finished in wine color, with trimmings of gold and silver. On the truck and ladders 250 waterscape views of 50 different designs have been painted, in which there are 400 distinct tints. The subjects of the pictures have all been taken from illustrations cut from daily papers, and display great ability on the part of Mr. Kelly in blending colors and reproducing with artistic perfection.

The Fire, Water and Lamp Committee are considering the proposition of establishing the truck in the West End, as soon as Summer sets in.

And He's All Right.

(From The Elizabeth Journal.)

Already able men are being named as candidates for county judge, under the new elective judiciary law. Plainfield has named Counselor Frank Marsh, Rahway names ex-Senator Vail, and in Elizabeth the candidates thus far named are Edward S. Atwater and Speaker Cross. There is but one Democratic nominee, and that is Judge McCormick, the present law judge.

Took Possession.

Wm. C. Smith, Jr., of Grandview avenue was very much surprised last evening when a large company of young people walked into his home. He had no idea of the affair, which was as complete as it was enjoyable.

The hours passed too quickly in dancing, and it was with regrets that the merry party left for their homes. A collation was a pleasant feature of the event.

M. E. Church Election.

The annual election of the official board of the First M. E. Church will take place March 25, whe the terms of the following expire: Isaac W. Pangborn, E. M. French, and George R. Cornwell. The vacancy caused by the death of George H. Burgess is also to be filled by election. Members are elected for three years.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

HIRAM HORNISH.

His Death Ends a Long and Useful Career.

The death of Hiram Hornish, which was exclusively announced in the complete editions of The Daily Press yesterday afternoon, removes a man who has been a resident of Plainfield since 1867, and whose life here gained the respect of all with whom he came in contact.

The 72 years of Mr. Hornish's life were uneventful and distinguished only by his steady industry and sturdy character. He was born of Moravian parents near Bethlehem, Pa., and early in his teens left home to go to work on a farm. Here he labored for a number of years foregoing the usual pastimes and pleasures. From the farm he went to Easton, Pa., where he labored in a wire factory until failing health compelled him to seek lighter employment. During this time he had saved enough money to purchase a small house and lot at Snufftown on the Lehigh river, a short distance from Easton, and there established a small grocery with the aid of his mother as a helper.

It was here that Gideon Allen, who now resides at 35 Grandview avenue, in the borough, made the acquaintance of young Hornish, which developed into a close friendship that lasted up to Mr. Hornish's death. Mr. Allen at that time conducted a bakery in Easton, and furnished bread and cakes for Hornish's grocery store. His health did not improve, and Mr. Allen made him an offer to work for him on the delivery wagon. The position was accepted, and his health was greatly improved thereby.

A year after that Mr. Allen removed to Clinton, near Annandale, Hunterdon county, where he afterwards secured a position for Mr. Hornish, who came on and worked for a Mr. Bowman, until he finally came on to Plainfield and established a confectionery and bakery business in a store on Park avenue in the rear of Berry's hardware store. By attending strictly to business, and with the aid of Mr. Allen's help Mr. Hornish in six years amassed savings to the amount of about $6,000. The fever to emigrate to the west then struck him and he sold his business to Peter Hoagland. Going West with a tailor by the name of Hearse he invested his money in land which he ultimately lost, and returned to Plainfield. After his return he established the sulphur baths on West Second street, and from there changed to the rooms on North avenue where his death occurred.

Mr. Hornish left a will which will be offered for probate at the proper time.

His nephew, Wm. Troneo of Easton, who came to Plainfield today, will take the body to Easton tomorrow night. The interment will take place in that town Saturday. L. W. Randolph and M. C. Dobbins will accompany the remains to Easton.

A brief funeral service will be conducted at the rooms where he resided on North avenue tomorrow afternoon at 3 by Rev. J. W. Richardson. The body will lie in state from 2 to 3.

Mr. Hornish leaves a sister, Mrs. Batey of Easton.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Joel Giddis spent yesterday with Springdale friends.

Mrs. Ella Slape is visiting relatives at Salem, N. Y.

Oscar Liebe spent yesterday in Plainfield with friends.

Mrs. Harry Hull of Sing Sing is at the home of Mrs. E. Slape.

Mrs. E. Force of New Haven is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. S. Cannon.

Miss Mina Whiteman of Bayonne is visiting Mrs. E. Sanders of Front street.

Mrs. M. M. Sutphen is entertaining Miss M. J. VanAredale of Bedminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smalley of North Plainfield have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smalley.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Mr. Stevens, who has long been interested in mission work, will lead the W.C.T.U. meeting in their rooms, Watchung avenue and Fourth street, Sunday afternoon at 4.

—The Firemen's Relief Association held a regular meeting in No. 2's parlors last evening, and heard the report of the Legislative Committee, which was received and filed.

—The Young Men's Association of Monroe Avenue Chapel will hold their regular meeting next Wednesday evening. As important business is to be transacted, all members are requested to be present.

—A farmer's team broke loose from the post where they were tied on Park avenue yesterday afternoon, and, turning short around, broke the pole of the wagon. The team was caught by bystanders before doing further damage.

—V. W. Nash and Henry Liefke of Columbia Lodge, No. 58, and W. H. Brokaw of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., went to Trenton this morning to attend the two-days session of the Grand Lodge. It is expected there will be a large attendance.

FINED FOR WHAT THEY WORE.

Masquerading in Poverty Guise, Merry-Makers Defy the Storm.

The povertie partie given in the Scotch Plains Baptist Church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies Circle of the church was a great success, notwithstanding the exceedingly bad weather.

The cozy little edifice was comfortably filled with both old and young, who passed a most pleasant evening in a very novel way.

Mr. Beacon, the promoter of the affair, was highly complimented for the excellent entertainment afforded. He induced Pastor Braker to announce the several numbers, which he did in a happy manner.

The programme was started with a very pretty instrumental selection on the piano by Miss Ada Mullin, after which all joined heartily in the singing of "Auld Lang Syne".

Fletcher Hallock with his banjo delighted all with his clever playing, and was recalled several times.

Miss Randolph rendered in a very pleasing manner choice selections on the piano with her accustomed grace and skill.

Miss Sarah Hand then gave several amusing recitations in excellent style, which called forth hearty applause.

A novel part of the affair was the quaint style in which some of the people appeared. Mr. Synder and Mr. Humes were dressed as twins, and the old style of their clothes caused much merriment. They were without collars or cuffs or any jewelry, and in consequence they were exempt from fines, as was also Mr. Banks, who appeared as a very plain working man, and he escaped the derecting eye of Mrs. Bornman, who assessed each one in accordance with the apparel worn.

Mr. Mead wore a vest 30 years old, and the coat he was married in. He also came in for a share of expenses.

The women were prettily attired in old-fashioned costumes. Noticeable were Miss Hand, Mrs. Bornmann and Mrs. Mead.

A very handsome sum of money was realized from the fines. Several young men who had apologies for mustaches were fined 1 cent, to which serious objection was made.

After the first part of the programme the members of the Circle served crullers, cookies, and ginger nu's with coffee. "Bread with meat between" also was provided. The lunch was greatly relished by all, and when the affair came to an end all were of the opinion that it was one of the best evenings they had experienced.

17TH OF IRELAND.

How The Daily Press Will Observe St. Patrick's Day.

For centuries Ireland's patron saint has been honored with the foremost place in the affections of the Irish people, and today there is no diminution of their reverence for the sacred name of St. Patrick. Each recurring Seventeenth of March is marked by customs and observances that testify eloquently to the loyalty of Ireland's exiled children to the Land of the Shamrock. America knows no more joyous festival than that which characterizes the annual celebration of St. Patrick's Day, and there is no anniversary which more imperatively requires special attention from enterprising and popular newspapers like The Daily Press.

This paper has therefore prepared for publication tomorrow special material in honor of Erin's anniversary. There is a full page of this appropriate and interesting matter. It has a charming love story by Viola Roseboro, a sketch of St. Patrick by Joseph W. Gavan, some appropriate poetry, and an interesting article on Irish names.

The illustrations are artistic, and the large cartoon is particularly attractive. Be sure of your copy in advance.

Death of Mrs. Fine.

The death occurred this morning at 1 of Mrs. Eliza E. Fine of West Front street, in her sixty-second year.

Mrs. Fine has been confined to the house since January, and her death resulted from creeping paralysis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fine moved from Westfield to this city 20 years ago, and made many friends.

Decedent was born at Mt. Pleasant, Hunterdon County, where she spent her early life. She was a devout member of Trinity Reformed Church.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. Fine in his bereavement.

—Harper, 411 Park avenue, has a full line of tops, marbles, kites, balls, bats, croquet, hammocks, garden sets, etc., at lowest market prices.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. B. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

ACCOUNTS QUESTIONED.

A Plainfield Estate Under Investigation.

HEIRS SAY FRAUD WAS DONE.

Theodore J. Miller Accused of Improper Administration of the Sarah Conklin Property.

The Elizabeth papers of yesterday report that at the Court of Special Sessions, held yesterday morning, Counselor Craig A. Marsh of Plainfield, in behalf of the heirs of the late Sarah Conklin, asked that Theodore J. Miller, appointed as sole executor of the will of the said Sarah Conklin, be obliged to show cause why the account closed February 13 should not be reopened.

The petitioners, Edwin W. and Henry R. Conklin of Plainfield, charge Theodore Miller, the said executor of the estate, with fraud and deceit. They hold that through fraud he succeeded in being named as executor, and that in his final account it was plainly shown that he from the estate paid himself $4,925, which he claims was due him for services rendered by him to the deceased, Sarah Conklin, during her lifetime. This, the petitioners claim, is clearly a piece of fraud.

The Elizabeth Journal reports that Mr. Marsh stated that it was one of the most glaring frauds he recollected ever having been presented to this court.

Miller was the sole executor, and on Feb. 13, 1895, he filed his final accounting, charging the value of the estate at $33,545 90; debts, $7,775 59, and for distribution among the heirs, $25,778 51.

Mr. Marsh said that the will shows that Miller was made a legatee for one-ninth of the estate, in lieu of all commission and for his services to Mrs. Conklin during her lifetime. He read this clause in the will after Mrs. Conklin's death, and accepted the bequest. The will was written by Miller.

Judge McCormick took the papers presented by Mr. Marsh, and said he would consider the question of granting a rule to show cause why the accounting should not be reopened.

ELECTRICITY IN THE CHURCH.

Gratifying Progress of a Parish that is Letting Its Light Shine.

The Lent services in All Saints Church, Scotch Plains, are held Wednesday evenings at 8, and Saturday afternoons at 4. Next Sunday Holy Communion will be administered at 10:45 a. m., with sermon by the rector, Rev. Edward H. True. It is expected that in the evening at 7:45 Rev. Dr. McAllister will preach. The Sunday-school is increasing in numbers and interest since the change of hour was made to 3 p. m. The Ladies Aid Society is doing very efficient work, and lately raised $100 for the current expenses of the parish. Electric lights have recently been placed in the church, and are a great improvement over the old method of lighting by kerosene lamps.

A Busy Electrical Expert.

A. D. Phillips of 508 Central avenue, is filling contracts for a number of buildings. He is at present working on the First National Bank of Jersey City, a contract of $800; also on the residence of E. F. C. Young, president of the bank and of the New Jersey Traction Company, a contract of $1,400, and the residence of James Hunt of Jersey City, a contract of $400. He has contracts also for many others, among them the Summer residence of J. Howard King of Albany, at Ridgefield, Conn.; also, in this city, the residences of E. R. Ackerman, J. P. Mason, E. S. Hooley, John Valiant and James Manning, and of Mr. Glover in Fanwood.

What Does Little Birdie Say?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS: Yesterday, at the Crescent Avenue Church, we were told about the bird that sings sol do. That bird is guilty of plagiarism. Why doesn't he boldly acknowledge that he stole his song from Haendel, and give us some more of his Messiah: sol do that my Redeemer liveth. MUSIC.

Republic Savings and Loan.

There will be a meeting of the Republic Savings and Loan Association tonight in the Republican clubroom, East Front street, for election of officers for the coming year. F. J. Pope, Secretary.

—The picture business which has been carried on between George Holman and Robert Ferris has been dissolved, the latter retiring.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

TRAMPS, AND DRUNK.

A Disorderly Trio in the Plainfield City Court—One of Them a Woman.

Three culprits, all tramps, and all admitting the charge of drunkenness, lined up in front of the police court rail this morning.

"What is your name"?—asked Judge Coddington of the first in line.

"Charlie Stevens"—was the reply.

Charlie was from wicked Chicago, was 50 years old, and had never been arrested, so he said, until he struck model Plainfield and drank some new bock beer, after which he tried to emulate the pugnaciousness of the bock beer goat.

Sergeant Kiely met him on Park avenue and conveyed him to the police station. Here Charlie recovered from his maudlin condition during the night, and this morning promised to leave town as fast as his legs would carry him if the judge would let him go.

He went.

The only difference between Charlie and Robert Stewart, who was next in line, was that the latter had one eye and a bald head. He filled up on five whiskeys and numerous glasses of lager beer as chasers. Then when he became boisterous and was ejected from several John Barleycorn dispensaries, he threatened to smash windows and do other disastrious things.

"I 'll admit I was drunk"—said Stewart—"but it was alcohol who was talking and acting, your honor, and not Robert Stewart. I am an old veteran, too, and a painter; sometimes I get a little discouraged and get full."

He said he did not remember anything about threatening to whip anybody or break windows. He considered himself more of a musician than a scrapper.

"In your case I will suspend sentence if you will leave town immediately"—said the Judge.

"Thank you, your honor, I 'll be off"—and out he scooted into freedom.

The last one arraigned was Mary Jenkins, a little, old, shriveled bit of femininety.

She called at the station house a little after 7 last night, and asked Sergeant Kiely for a place to sleep. When shown where she would have to stay, she declined to accept the lodging and went away. Afterward she returned staggering drunk, and the Sergeant locked her up.

Mary, like the other two, admitted she was drunk, although it took a great deal of vociferous talk to make her understand questions, for she was deaf.

"Sergeant", said the Judge to Sergeant Kiely, who did the talking to the little old woman, "tell her that if she will leave town and not come back again I will suspend sentence."

"Which is your good ear?"—hollered the Sergeant in sonorous tones.

The little old woman pulled back a faded black veil, and turned her right ear to the Sergeant, who said:

"If you do n't go right away you will have to go to jail to rot for 60 days."

"What?"—asked the little woman in a surprised and bewildered voice.

The Sergeant repeated.

"All right, I'll go"—she piped in reply, and Court adjourned.

A Gift That is Opportune.

Edward H. Apgar, formerly a resident of Plainfield, but now of Phillipsburg, a few days ago was made the recipient of property valued at $1,500 in Annandale, Hunterdon County, by the will of Joseph Nevius, who recently died there. Apgar lived for a number of years when a boy with Nevius, who took a great liking to the lad for his industrious habits, and always thereafter took a fatherly interest in his welfare. The gift comes at an opportune time, for Apgar will soon take a wife unto himself. He expects to take up his residence in Annandale.

New Members for Crescent Wheelmen.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors of the Crescent Wheelmen last night V. W. Nash of Plainfield and Howard Pearsall of Westfield were elected members. H. H. Coward and George Stevens were appointed a committee to confer with the Camera Club committee relative to the joint entertainment soon to be given. An informal discussion concerning racing plans for the season was indulged in, but nothing decided definitely.

Not Likely to Strike.

Before long it is expected that all of the employes of Scott's Press Works will suffer a reduction in wages, varying from one to five cents an hour. An employe in one of the departments told a Daily Press reporter last night that the unions would probably not resist the reductions, though it is possible that individual members may refuse to work under a new scale.

In Darkest Plainfield.

The ejection of a colored family from a West Fourth street house yesterday afternoon caused considerable disturbance and excitement for that section of the city. A portion of the household goods remained out of doors all night in the rain.

—Fur robes, and horse blankets, at cost prices, are seasonable offers at Laing's, 105 Park avenue.

THE CLIMAX GUN CLUB.

Good Shooting on the Grounds Near Fanwood.

The regular monthly shooting meeting of Plainfield's crack gun club took place on the club grounds near Fanwood yesterday. The day was favorable for good shooting with the one exception of a bad light, which made the flying targets hard to see against the background of trees; many of the missed targets can thus be accounted for.

The main event was the club handicap, which had seventeen entries, and in addition to this, several sweepstakes were shot, the traps throwing over 1,500 Empire targets during the afternoon. The score of the handicap and the winners of the several sweepstakes are here given:

Club handicap—scratch men shooting at 25 Empire targets, thrown from known trap at unknown angles—T H Keller noallowance, 22; N Apgar 0, 20; Ferd Van Dyke 0, 18; T Brantingham 0, 19; C Smith 0, 17; C Hebbard 0, 17; Capt. Cranmer 5, broke 20; Aaron Woodruff 2, 24; D Terry 1, 13; R B Manning 2, 22; J Darby 7, 18; S Terry 3, 17; D Darby 5, 23; V Swody 6, 20; J Singer 10, 13; "Edwards" 5, 22; Will Terry 4, 19.

Sweepstake No. 1, 10 targets—Keller 10; VanDyke 10; Apgar 9; Brantingham 8; Manning 8; Miller 7; Hebbard 7.

Sweepstake No. 2, same conditions—Keller 10; Apgar 10; VanDyke 9; Hebbard 9; Miller 8; D Terry 8; S Terry 7; Swody 7; Cranmer 7; Woodruff 7.

Sweepstake No. 3, same conditions—VanDyke 10; Keller 9; Brantingham 9; Hebbard 9; Apgar 8; Manning 8; Edwards 7; D Darby 7; S Terry 7.

Sweekstake No. 4, same conditions—Manning 10; VanDyke 10; Keller 9; Apgar 9; Brantingham 9; Woodruff 7; Hebbard 7.

Sweepstake No. 5, same conditions—Apgar 10; VanDyke 10; Woodruff 9; Keller 8; Miller 8; Manning 7; Brantingham 7.

Sweepstake No. 6, 5 pairs of doubles—Keller 8; VanDyke 8; Apgar 7; Woodruff 7.

THIS SEEMS QUEER.

Somerville Claims to Be Getting a Better Telephone Bargain Than Plainfield.

Somerville, March 13—An agent, representing the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, better known as the Bell Telephone Company, was in town Monday soliciting contracts for his company's service for one year at the low price of $25.

This is unusual, in view of the fact that less than one year ago this same company, it is said, demanded $150 of the Raritan Woolen Mills for the same service, and furthermore that in Plainfield and other New Jersey cities this same company charges from $60 to $80 for the same service.

The reason of this can be plainly seen.

About one year ago D. N. Messler, editor of the Somerset Democrat, went to the Bell people and tried to have them extend their line into Somerville. This they refused to do unless he would guarantee them 80 subscribers at $45 apiece each year, he to solicit the subscribers and make the contracts, then the Bell people would take hold. In other words, he was to do the hard work, and they get the money. After their refusal to come here, Mr. Messler organized a stock company and put in local service, charging $30 per year for the same. The local company has about 150 subscribers, and the service is good. The latest move on the part of the Bell people is for the purpose no doubt of driving out the local company by putting the rates down to an unheard-of figure, and then when there is no other service in town make them what they please. The telephone subscribers in Plainfield should find out why they pay $60 and the people in Somerville $25.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

AN APPEAL TO PISTOLS

Sons of Noted Sires To Fight a Duel.

Young Gilroy of New York and a Prospective Admiral of Massachusetts Display Their Family Skeleton in a Boston Hotel—Words the Only Weapons Up to Date.

Boston, March 14.—The billiard room at the Parker house was the scene of unusual excitement over the issuance and acceptance of a challenge to fight a duel with pistols. The parties concerned were Thomas Gilroy, jr., son of ex-Mayor Gilroy of New York, and Walter Scott Hale of Haverhill, Mass. The latter, who has just arrived at his majority, recently brought suit in the Essex county probate court to have his mother relieved as guardian, he claiming she was spending his income. Young Hale is the son of the late Col. Harry Hale of Bradford, and has a monthly allowance of $100 from the estate of the late Hon. E. J. M. Hale, of Haverhill, a millionaire mill owner in that city. Two years ago young Hale entered the United States navy and made a trip around the world, arriving at the rank of quartermaster sergeant. Some time ago he went to New York and found that his sister, Miss Nataline Hale, had married young Gilroy. Since then, he claims, he made an investigation and found that the trustees of the Hale estate had paid his monthly allowance.

While he was in the navy, he claims his mother received the money and used it in furnishing the house for her daughter and young Gilroy. Last week, young Hale, through a Haverhill lawyer, brought suit against his mother, and the case came up in the probate court, Salem, Monday, but as his mother did not appear, the case was continued to April 1. Young Hale was delegated to serve the papers upon his mother in New York. Tuesday he visited New York and found his mother in the evening. He served the papers and returned to Boston. He met Gilroy in the Parker house, and, it is alleged, accused him of living upon his income. A wordy scene ensued, during which Hale offered to fight Gilroy. The latter declined, saying he preferred to meet him with pistols. Hale accepted, and they agreed to meet in New York. The scene caused considerable excitement among the employes, and they separated the men before any damage was done.

STATE ARBITRATION.

Samuel Gompers Opposed to Compulsion in That Line.

Trenton, March 14.—The senate judiciary committie gave a hearing to those interested in the state board of arbitration on the bill which proposes to wipe out this board. The first speaker was Samuel Gompers. He endeavored to show the weak points in the bill. He thought that laborers or those concerned with labor should be members of such a board. The present bill made the board of arbitration impotent, while it should be strengthened. He was opposed to compulsory arbitration. When a man was made to work one moment beyond the time when he thought he was fairly treated, he was a slave, and when the employer was made to pay more than he desired to that became confiscation. The speaker was closely questioned by the committie on the various phases of the question. He was followed by other labor men. All the members of the board of arbitration were present to present their case.

Pacific Cable Project.

Victoria, B. C., March 14.—Advices received by the steamer Miowera are to the effect that the conference of premiers at Hobart, Tasmania, adopted a resolution favoring the apportionment of the cost of a Pacific cable among England, Canada, and the colonies of Australia, and the naming of a joint commission made up of representatives of all to consider the project.

For a Consumptives' Hospital.

Middletown, N. Y., March 14.—J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York banker, has given $20,000 to erect a stone sanitarium at Liberty, Sullivan county, where consumptives will be treated, the structure to be built on a tract of land consisting of two hundred acres which has already been purchased.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

WHEAT—Trade on spot is dull, and values weak and unsettled. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted 63@64c.

CORN—Spot trade slow and prices nominally weaker. No 2 about 51, elevator steamer mixed 50½, do. yellow 51.

OATS—Spot quiet and prices irregular, white being firm and mixed easier. No. 2 white 37@37¼, No. 2 mixed 37½ afloat.

PORK—Spot firm but less active. Extra prime nominal, short clear 12.25@14.75, family 11.50@12.00, mess 11.75@12.25.

BUTTER—Fancy western creamery remains steady, with rather more inquiry at the recent decline. Under grades dull and prices weak and uncertain. New buter, creamery, western extras, 19c.; creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 14@18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 17½@18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 12@17c.; western imitation creamery, seconds to firsts, 9@14c.; western dairy, firsts, 12@13c.; western dairy, thirds to seconds, 8@10c.; western factory, fancy, 11½@12c.; western factory, firsts, 9@10c.; western factory, thirds to seconds, 7@8½c.

CHEESE—Stocks of strictly fancy quality are reducing steadily, and on such the feeling is firm, especially on small size colored. Under grades are plenty and weak. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; do. do., large white, fancy, 11c.; do. do., large choice, 10½@10¾c.; do. do., large, good to prime, 10@10¾c.; do. do., common to fair, 8½@9½c.; do. do., small colored, fancy, 12c.; do. do., white fancy, 11½c.

EGGS—The receipts were heavy and with more pressure to sell the market broke to 13½c., for best western.

POTATOES—Are in good demand at full prices. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $1.87@2.00. Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., at $1.75@1.87, and do., common to fair, per 180 lbs., $1.50@$162.

SUFFERING INDIANS.

Tardy Aid for Navajos Struggling With Agriculture.

Washington, March 14.—The commissioner of Indian affairs has called upon Captain Williams, in charge of the Navajo agency, for estimates on the agricultural implements, etc., which will be needed by the Navajos in the San Juan river country to carry on their work this year and do something in the way of crops against another winter. How good Indians these are may be judged by their peacefulness in spite of the neglect which has been shown them by the government in their efforts to make a living as farmers. Reports which come in from the agency show that, in the part of the reservation just mentioned, hardly any tools or wagons have been introduced by the government. When Lieutenant Plummer took charge there in the fall of 1893 he found that the farmer at Fruitland—the man appointed to teach the Indians how to take care of themselves—was supplied with no farm team, no wagon, no implements, and only one pony. Plummer improved the condition of things as far as his means would permit, and Williams is aiming to follow out a like policy. But a pathetic feature of the business appears in the fact that when these Indians, in making an irrigating ditch, have to build a dam at the mouth of the reservoir, they are obliged to carry every shovelful of the earth in their blankets for lack of any better facilities. Yet they are hard-working and anxious to get ahead. Commissioner Browning is looking into their case with a view to seeing what can be done to help them, but the law concerning supplies has so much red tape about it that private parties have to step in and advance the ready money needed in order to prevent the lapse of the current planting season before the requisite tools can be furnished.

TROUBLE AT NEW ORLEANS.

Street Car Strike To Follow the Recent Riots.

New Orleans, March 14.—One carnival of riot has just been concluded and the prospects for another disturbance are good. The promised trouble is a street car strike, and while the men may be called off their cars at any time the call may not take effect until Friday morning. From general rumors heard, the feeling of the men was to go out at once. Before noon, this report became current at the banks and on the exchanges and created quite a flurry. Nearly all kinds of opinions were expressed and the majority were against the strike being general, at least. The strike will probably be confined to the lines of the Traction company, and the Carrollton and St. Charles avenue line will not be affected. Superintendent Littel, of the Traction company, said he understood that the men were to be ordered off the cars on Friday morning. He said he could not tell what he was going to do about the strike until then. He has been overheard to say several times that if it was necessary the company would tie up its cars in the barn and wait until matters returned to their peaceful channel.

INCOME TAX CASES.

Argument Ended But Decision Not Expected for Weeks.

Washington, March 14.—The argument in the income tax cases, which has been in progress before the supreme court of the United States since last Thursday, was concluded in a speech of three hours, delivered by Hon. Joseph H. Choate, of New York, in support of the contention that the provisions of the law were unconstitutional. Not a little comment was made as the argument proceeded upon the anomalous fact that Mr. Carter, a democrat, advocated the right of the federal government to tax state bonds, while Mr. Choate, a republican, vigorously combatted the proposition. Mr. Choate spoke three hours, scores of spectators standing during the whole time, and when he concluded, the cases were submitted to the consideration of the court. It was stated that the argument of counsel would be printed and furnished to the court in addition to the voluminous briefs already on file. A decision in the case will doubtless be rendered before the court adjourns for the summer recess, and it may probably be handed down within a few weeks.

Proposed Honors to Bismarck.

Berlin, March 14.—A committee of the reichstag discussed the proposal to appoint Bismarck an honorary citizen of the empire on his eightieth birthday. The committee's reporter happened to be a socialist. He severely attacked the prince and proposed that the committee declare the matter unsuitable for discussion. Other amendments were proposed and were debated excitedly. Finally it was resolved by a vote of twelve to five to hear the government commissioner on the subject. Many of Bismarck's South German admirers will celebrate his birthday by lighting bonfires on the night of March 31 on the peaks of the Schwarzwald. They have invited the residents of other mountain districts to do the same.

Hundreds May Be Lost.

Madrid, March 14.—Anxiety for the safety of the overdue Reina Regente has grown rapidly, and it is feared generally that she went down with her 420 souls in the storm which swept the southern coast on Sunday night and Monday morning. Dispatches from Gibraltar say that pieces of a boat and several semaphore flags belonging to the cruiser came ashore at Ceuta and Tarifa yesterday. The cruiser Isla de Luzon has left Algeciras to search for the missing vessel.

Expected Attack on Formosa.

Paris, March 14.—A dispatch from Shanghai says that the rumored Japanese descent upon the island of Formosa is an accomplished fact. A Japanese squadron from Wei-Hai-Wei, numbering sixteen vessels, has been sighted off the northern extremity of the island. The squadron is hovering around Kelung and Tamsin, which are the strongest places the Chinese possess in Formosa. It is expected that these two towns will be the first points of attack.

Bomb Outrage.

Palermo, March 14.—A bomb was exploded last evening at the Raggio Palace in Cerami. The palace and the adjacent buildings were badly damaged. No loss of life has been reported.

BASEBALL BREAKS OUT

Meeting in New York of the Eastern League.

Umpires Selected for the Coming Season — Trouble To Begin April 29 and Cease September 15 - Total of 112 Games To Be Played—Complications Over Three Erie Players.

New York, March 14.—The annual meeting of the Eastern Baseball league opened at the Fifth Avenue hotel. There were representatives from nine clubs present as follows: Buffalo, J. Franklin and C. H. Morton; Erie, John Depinet; Providence, William H. Draper and E. A. Johnson; Scranton, W. L. Betts, J. A. Swayze and William Barnie; Springfield, Mass., I. E. Sanborn and Thomas E. Barnes; Syracuse, George N. Kuntzsch and T. C. Griffin; Toronto, Canada, William Stark and Charles Maddock; Rochester, Charles A. Seirngruber, Charles Englert and John C. Chapman; Wilkesbarre, Pa., E. F. Bogart, L. W. Long, C. W. Tammaney, Daniel Shannon and P. T. Powers, president of the league. The day was devoted to the consideration of amendments to the constitution and various routine business.

The championship schedule will not be reached till late to-day. President Powers, however, has let slip the fact that the season will open April 29 and close Sept. 15, and will consist of 112 games. Mr. Depiret, of Erie, Pa., and Lawrence E. Fassett, of Albany, were elected honorary members of the league, with the privilege of admission to all meetings and grounds. It was reported that the suit brought by the Troy players against Marcus D. Russell, of Troy, for salaries, and taken up by the league in behalf of the players, had brought about such good results that it would probably not have to be pushed further, as Mr. Russell has already settled with most of the players and is rapidly clearing up the debt.

The committee composed of Messrs. E. F. Bogart, C. H. Morton and William Barnie, who consumed so much valuable time revising the constitution, presented their report. According to as much of it as is given out only two trifling amendments are suggested. The first was to Section 2, in changing the names of the clubs to those now comprising the league, viz.: Buffalo, Providence, Rochester, Syracuse, Springfield, Wilkesbarre, Scranton and Toronto. The other amends Section 22 of article 1, so as to require the competing clubs to place their guarantee of $250 that they will continue right through the season in the hands of the president on April 15, instead of May 1, as heretofore. The guarantee was placed at a low figure so it would not cramp a club at the beginning of the season, while, at the same time, placing ample funds in the treasury.

The staff of umpires appointed by President Powers is composed of T. C. Hurst, Ashland, Pa.; Herman Doescher, Binghamton, N. Y.; John H. Gaffney, Worcester, Mass., and Chas. N. Snyder, Washington. The league voted to increase the staff to five, and President Powers will soon appoint another umpire.

In regard to the Western league signing the three Erie players, Kenny, Lally and Berger, in violation of the national agreement, a committe of three was appointed to submit the case to the national board. It consists of President Powers, John Depinet and James Franklin. The latter purchased the franchise from Depinet, and if these three cannot state their case properly to the national league moguls, then there is but little to be gained by being a party to the national agreement. The Eastern league are very much worked up over the matter—not so much over the loss of the players as because they are paying the National league a stipulated amount annually for protection.

ILLEGAL JURIES.

Disregard of Law in Selecting Jurors in Chicago.

Chicago, March 14.—Judge Baker in his court discharged the last panel of twenty-three jurors after rendering a decision that the system in vogue of drawing citizens for jury service in Cook county was illegal and that every jury serving in the courts to-day was doing so on an unlawful basis. The decision puts the stamp of illegality on all the juries which have tried cases for years and consequently the judgments of such juries are illegal. In the case before Judge Baker the lawyer for the defendant railroad company challenged the veniremen on the ground that they were illegally drawn and asked for an investigation. The court soon learned from the county employes that the law had been disregarded.

Russian Warships.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—The government is laying down at the St. Petersburg navy yard two ironclads, a cruiser, a gunboat, and fifteen torpedo boats. From the same yard she recently launched five cruisers. An ironclad of 11,000 tons, a cruiser, and a training ship will be begun shortly. An ironclad and four torpedo boats are equipping at Nicolaieff where another ironclad has been begun. Other warships are building at Abo, on the Gulf of Bothnia, at Copenhagen and in England.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box For sale by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MUNYON'S TRIUMPH.

The Fight Against Disease, Poisonous Drugs and Old Fogyism Declared in His Favor.

Mr. J. Baumer Tells the Story of His Suffering and Cure.

Mr. J. Baumer, 22 East 21st street, Bayonne, N. J., says: "Eighteen months ago I was so crippled with rheumatism that I could not dress myself. I tried all the doctors in Bayonne, but they gave me up as hopeless. I also tried numerous preparations, but failed to find any relief. At last I heard of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure and began using it. The effect was marvelous. I improved at once, and found that less than two bottles were sufficient to cure me completely, as I have not had a twinge of rheumatism since."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism cured in from one to five days. It never fails to cure sharp, shooting pains in the arms, legs, sides, back or breast, or soreness in any part of the body in from one to three hours. It is guaranteed to promptly cure lameness, stiff and swollen joints, stiff back and all pains in the hips and loins. Chronic rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or pain in the back are speedily cured.

Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy Co. of Philadelphia put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25c. a bottle.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.
Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. G. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,
MASON AND CONTRACTOR.
Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 3 25

JOHN P. EMMONS
—Mason and Builder.—
Washington avenue and Prospect place
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to 11 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St
E. B Gayle, No. 13 Vine St
ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO
1-21-tf

JOHN T. ODAM
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer
Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J
New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 5 19 3

GEO. W. STUDER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,
21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.
S. M. McCullough, Proprietor.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 4 11-1

C. W. LINES.
Mason and Builder.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence—118 Liberty street.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to 12 6

Jno. J. Shotwell,
Wood Mantels,
Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.
221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 tf

MONEY LOANED,
Local Representatives Wanted.
Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum. It affords absolute security to investors with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1122 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 3m

EDWIN B. MAYNARD
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial Parlor, 206 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 19 tf

E. H. HOLMES,
DEALER IN
COAL and WOOD,
YARD—No. 208 Madison Avenue. Also
Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle 145 North avenue.

CODDINGTON'S
FURNITURE AND FREIGHT
EXPRESS.
OFFICES—26 West Front street; 32 Park avenue Post Office Box 220.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large cars and trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 19 tf

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS
YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10¾c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,
Painters and Decorators.
167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)
We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:
L Y H A O E I T S U O R E T M I R E S O P U B C F T R A P T
We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; second if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

Ready, There
Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.
Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.
L. W. Randolph,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

NEW STOCK.
Fine Hats, Dress Shirts, Gloves and Neckwear
U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,
120 West Front street.

Given Away With Every $2.00 Hat. or over, one pair 50c Suspenders. One week only.
E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,
177 North Avenue.

LEGGETT'S TOILET SOAP,
for the toilet, bath and nursery. 15 cents a cake, 6 cakes 75 cents. Warranted absolutely pure.
The compounding of physicians' prescriptions a specialty.
Corner Park avenue and Front street.

SHAD! Rogers
232 W. 2d. St.

106 East Front Street — NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.
Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."
Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented. H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,
301-311 Watchung Ave.
DEALERS IN
Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.
Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement
For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables
Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.
OFFICE AND STABLES,
147, 149, 151 North Avenue, Opp. Railroad Depot.
A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager.
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn. 1 14 tf

WEAK NERVES EPIDEMIC

Weak Nerves Will Surely Break You Down.

NERVES ARE THE VERY FOUNDATION OF STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE.

If Your Nerves are Weak, Lose No Time in Getting Them Strong.

You are growing older every day, and if you do not wish the unpitying years as they roll on their relentless way, to rob you of your hopes and joys, your pleasures, your ambitions, your very strength and energies, keep your nerves strong and vigorous.

It is the nerves which soonest wear out You thoughtlessly use them up in work, pleasure or dissipation, and suddenly wake to find yourself broken down—that only your body remains, bereft of strength energy and power, a mere wreck of what you were and with only dreariness, pain, weakness and discontent your future portion. Then you realize the immeasurable depth of bitterness in Longfellow's lines:

"Oh, sudden thrills of fire and frost!
The world is bright while ye remain,
And dark and dead when ye are lost."

Health, hope, happiness—everything is dependent upon strong and vigorous nerves. It is weak nerves which give to the young fits, convulsions, hysteria, St. Vitus' dance and the myriad nervous affections of youth. It is weak nerves which make women constantly tired, irritable, nervous, dispirited, dragged-out and miserable. It is weak nerves which conquer men in their struggle for mastery in the world, which render them nerveless, strengthless, powerless, with dull feeling head, shaking, shattered and unsteady nerves, without appetite or good digestion, enfeebled from sleepless nights and wretched and discouraged from trying days It is weak nerves which make age a curse instead of a blessing—a body, a casket from which every power and energy has fled, leaving only weakness, despair and utter weariness.

If there is any advice, which above another, should sink into the heart, it is the admonition to keep your nerves strong. Hence, the words of Mrs. Eliza E. Clements, of 124 Bright st., Indianapolis, Ind., should have weight with everyone.

"I was afflicted for six years with nervous debility. I could not sleep nights, and I was in a terrible condition. I had heart trouble, and it beat so hard I thought I should die. I was in constant misery and could do no work.

"I had heard much talk about the wonders of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now made up my mind to take it. I had given myself up for lost, but began to improve immediately under the use of this marvelous medicine.

MRS. ELIZA E. CLEMENTS.

"It has made me sound and well. I can work all day and not get tired. My heart disease is entirely cured, and my nerves are strong and under perfect control.

"I feel it my duty to tell suffering humanity what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me, and what it will surely do for them. I am thankful that Dr. Greene has given such a valuable medicine to a suffering world."

If you would be well and strong, with vigorous nerves full of the vim and energy of youth, use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. At this season of the year you should take it, by all means, as it is the best spring tonic and invigorator you can possibly use.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr Greene is a guarantee that this medicine will cure and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

Call and see the new

SPALDING

FOR '95.

Any one placing their order for a Spalding before January 1, 1895, will receive a new

'95 Spalding Cyclometer

FREE.

W. H. ROGERS,

408 West 5th st.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

OUR MOTTO—Good work, good material at fair prices. 8 4 y

NEW TASKS FOR GROVER

Three International Affairs in Forty-Eight Hours.

Waiting for Spain To Explain the Firing on the Steamship Allianca. Killing of Italians in Colorado May Prove as Serious as the Mafia Affair—Purser Bain's Case.

Washington, March 14.—The United States government finds itself with the promise of three international complications on its hands, all of which have developed within the past forty-eight hours. No action of a positive character has yet been taken with reference to the reported firing on the American steamship Allianca by a Spanish warship. The Spanish minister, Senor Muruagua, called upon Acting Secretary Uhl and informally gave assurance of prompt explanation and reparation if wrong had been done. The protest and complaint written by Captain Crossman of the Allianca to Secretary Gresham arrived in Washington by mail and reached Acting Secretary Uhl at the state department. After a consultation with Secretary Gresham Mr. Uhl, as acting secretary, sent a telegram to Captain Crossman in New York, asking for further particulars. It is expected that Captain Crossman will send by mail full details.

Mr. Uhl was asked by the United Press whether anything else had been done by this government, and he answered in the negative. He was also asked whether the government had notified Mr. Taylor, the United States minister at Madrid, or Mr. Williams, the United States consul-general at Havana, of the reported action of the Spanish warship, and he replied that nothing could be done until further particulars had been received from Captain Crossman.

The merits of the case are involved in the question whether the Spanish warship had the right to stop the Allianca, in the belief that she was conveying aid to the insurgents, and the further question whether, granting the right of the Spaniard to order her to heave to, Captain Crossman was justified in imperilling his ship by not obeying him.

The killing of Italians at Walsenberg, Col., is regarded as a most unfortunate sequel to the Mafia riots in 1892, which for a time caused the withdrawal of the Italian minister from the United States and a leave of absence to our minister at Rome, and was only adjusted by the voluntary payment of a large amount of damages by the United States. The Marquis Imperili, first secretary of the Italian embassy, called on Acting Secretary Uhl at the state department and presented a dispatch saying that four Italians had been killed by a mob at Walsenberg. The marquis did not file a formal complaint but merely asked that the federal government take steps to secure the safety of other Italians. Mr. Uhl promised to do so, and sent a telegram to the governor of Colorado asking what measures had been taken to insure compliance with the request of the Italian government. After the telegram was sent news of the killing of another Italian at Walvenberg was received by Mr. Uhl.

To these causes of international trouble the serious wounding of the British Purser Bain at New Orleans and the still pending interruption of British commerce with that port add a third difficulty of no slight dimensions. All of them will demand the president's attention on his return.

Federal Authority.

Secretary Lamont said that the war department had not received any application for United States troops from the governors of Louisiana or Colorado, and that he believed that no such calls would be made. The law is very clear on the subject and does not give authority to the federal government in the event of a riot or insurrection to call out the regular forces unless the state authorities have exhausted every effort to suppress the trouble.

The absence of the president raises a question that would be of serious moment were the Louisiana and Colorado troubles of a more critical aspect. Under the law the president, and the president only, has authority to send the federal forces to the assistance of a state government unable to quell internal troubles.

If a call for troops were made, and Mr. Cleveland was away from Washington, it is probable that the action would have to remain in abeyance until his return.

The federal government has ample authority, however, and will probably exercise it, of arresting and trying persons suspected of being concerned in both the New Orleans and Walsenburg riots. The New Orleans massacre of 1892 brought out vividly that the United States government was powerless to punish persons who assaulted or killed aliens guaranteed protection by our treaties with foreign powers. The Italian government demanded the arrest and speedy trial of the persons concerned in the affair and the federal administration was obliged to answer that murder was a state offence and that the United States courts were not competent to try the offenders. This, it will be remembered, caused the withdrawal from the United States of Baron Fava, the Italian minister, and nearly involved the United States in war with Italy. The lesson, however, had its effect in the enactment of a law by congress that offenses in violation of the rights guaranteed by treaties to foreigners should be under the jurisdiction of the federal government. The wounding of the British purser in New Orleans and the killing of Italians in Colorado, appear to come within the provisions of the statute.

Representative Meyer, of Louisiana, called at the state department and made inquiry about the case of Purser Bain. He was told that the British government had complained and that the governor of Louisiana had been called on and had made an explanation of the circumstances.

General Meyer assured Acting Secretary Uhl that the city of New Orleans would make indemnity for the wounding of Bain.

PRACTICAL POLITICS.

Allegations of Corruption in the Michigan A. P. A.

Saginaw, Mich., March 14.—The attempt of C. T. Beatty to rule the Michigan branch of the A. P. A., has led to much dissension, and the ignoring of Walter Sims is only one instance of inside work among the party leaders. One of the defeated members shed some light on the association in the last campaign for the republican nomination of governor of Michigan and the Des Moines, Iowa, meeting. The dissatisfied A. P. A., member makes a series of startling statements, alleging that G. T. Beatty, the state president of the A. P. A., received a consideration of $6,000 for promising to work for Col. A. T. Bliss, nomination as governor on the republican ticket. He claims the Michigan A. P. A., delegation to the supreme council meeting at Des Moines contained twenty-six delegates when only entitled to sixteen and that the extra members manipulated matters in the interest of the re-election of W. I. Trayner and C. L. Beatty as supreme president and secretary. Copies of various letters written by Beatty to A. E. Gammage at Lansing regarding the payments of drafts to Beatty's order are produced to fortify his charge. He gives an interview between Col. Bliss and Mr. Gammage in which Bliss, as alleged, became angry because Beatty was not properly looking after the Bliss campaign as promised and in which Bliss declared he paid $6,000 to secure the help of the order, having been led to believe its political committee was handling his campaign.

BUSINESS REVIVAL.

Hopeful Talk at a British Commercial Banquet.

London, March 14.—Prof. Bryce, president of the board of trade, said at the dinner of the Associated Chambers of Commerce that the signs of a business revival were multiplying everywhere, especially in the United States since the settlement of the tariff question. Thomas F. Bayard, United States ambassador, spoke in behalf of the visitors. He was unable to say anything as to the changes in the American tariff, he remarked, beyond expressing his satisfaction that they had proved beneficial. He devoted some time to the rules of the sea as set forth by the Washington conference. The delay in enforcing the regulations showed, he said, that the United States were willing to do all possible to assist in compiling rules which might be acceptable and become law to all civilized nations. Individual rights ought to be regarded as carefully on water as on land; so, too, ought justice. It was America's desire to secure both. Henry M. Stanley answered the toast "Geographical travel and the foundation of commercial enterprise." "Many places await the coming of our travelers," he said, "but I fear we do not understand this so well as do Germany and the United States." Mr. Stanley referred also to Germany's competition with Great Britain in Australasia and Africa.

MORE GOLD THAN NOTES.

Curious State of Affairs in Some of the New York Banks.

New York, March 14.—The operations of the Belmont-Morgan syndicate in connection with the new government loan, says the Evening Post, are bringing about some curious, but no doubt temporary, complications in some of the banks in regard to their cash holdings. For instance, some of the banks are well supplied with gold, but are short of United States (legal tender) notes. At least three well-known banks have had to borrow notes this week. They do not want to part with their gold permanently, so they exchange some of it temporarily for legal tender notes with a neighboring bank. In a few days they will gain some notes through the clearing-house in payment of a credit balance, and then they will get back their gold. It is expected that these complications will adjust themselves in a short time, but in the meanwhile a much more active demand for money is expected by bankers, and they show a disposition to mark up the rates for loans as the surplus reserve in the banks decreases.

Pennsylvania Railroad Wages.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 14.—General Manager Prevost to-day denied the report that the Pennsylvania railroad management had ordered a reduction of wages among a certain class of its employes in the western part of the state. It was against the policy of the company, he declared, to reduce wages. When retrenchment was found necessary, it was accomplished by dispensing with those men whose services by reason of the depression were no longer required. This plan was particularly observed during the past two years.

Yachting in England.

London, March 14.—George J. Gould has cabled to Mr. Boyd, who represents him here, requesting him to have the Vigilant iron work and beams strengthened at once and await further instructions. John E. Brooks, the owner of the steam yacht Lasca, has also cabled instructions to have his boat fitted out next week. Her crew, he says, will leave for England on the steamer Berlin, which will sail from New York April 20.

Level of the St. Lawrence.

Montreal, March 14.—In connection with the proposal to connect the great lakes by canal with the Hudson, the Quebec Board of Trade has decided, in view of the injurious effects the project may have upon the level of the St. Lawrence, to call the federal government's attention to the work on the subject by Quebec's city engineer, Chevalier Baillarge, and to ask them to instruct their own engineer to study and report on the question.

To Colonize Negroes in Nicaragua.

Managua, Nicaragua, March 14.—The government has arranged with an American syndicate for the introduction of 2,500 able-bodied negroes and their families from the United States to be employed, most of them, in agriculture on the coast country, and has received advices that a number of these negroes are already on their way. The syndicate also proposes to erect new telegraph lines and railroads.

Robert Dale Dead.

London, March 14.—Robert William Dale, the celebrated preacher, author and lecturer, is dead.

FIENDS AND FANATICS

Revolting Story of Cruelty to Children.

A Philadelphia Father and Mother Torture Their Little Boys in What They Call a Christian Spirit—Burned on a Stove and Frozen in Buckets of Water.

Philadelphia, March 14.—A revolting case of heartless and almost unbelievable cruelty of a man and his wife towards their two helpless children was brought to light at a hearing before Magistrate Milligan. If anything could add to the barbarity of the tortures practiced upon his own children was the assertion by the father that he had biblical admonition for the course he pursued. The case was one brought by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children against Joseph and Elizabeth Copestake, on the charge of brutality towards their two sons, Joseph, aged 11 years, and John, aged 8. The testimony was of a most terrible character and according to the evidence such treatment was meted out to the two little boys as is only conceivable would be inflicted by savages upon prisoners of war. It was shown by testimony that during the recent Arctic weather the children were left with hardly any clothing upon them in the cellar with their hands tied to a water pipe. Another form of punishment practiced by this inhuman pair was the placing of the children's hands upon a hot stove until the flesh was almost burned to the bone. Even this did not satisfy the barbarous instincts of the Copestakes and on several occasions the children were compelled to sit in the open air on cold nights with their naked feet in the buckets of water. This form of punishment is said to have resulted in freezing their feet to their ankles.

The boys gave their testimony to the magistrate reluctantly and in evident fear of their brutal parents.

When the magistrate asked Mrs. Copestake for some explanation of her cruelty the woman replied with a toss of her head that they were punished when they needed it.

When the magistrate turned upon Copestake the man replied to his questions with a meek and lowly air "All that was done was done in a Christian spirit."

"Where did you get those ideas of Christianity?" asked the indignant magistrate.

"From the bible," was the reply.

"Where does the bible tell you to burn your children and inflict upon them kindred acts of cruelty?"

"There was need of it," answered Copestake.

"Well, if they had needed much further punishment, you would soon have needed an undertaker," replied the magistrate. "I fine you $50 each and you will stand committed until it is paid. The children I will turn over to the care of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children."

MOB RULE IN COLORADO.

Six Italians and One German Victims of Lawless Vengeance.

Denver, March 14.—Mob rule has reigned among the miners in the coal camps of Huerfano county since Sunday night and seven victims—all but one, Italians—have been slain by bullets from the mob's Winchesters. Four of the Italians were killed from ambush while being taken prisoners in a wagon to the jail at Walsenburg after a coroner's committment for complicity in the murder of Abner J. Hixon, a temperance saloon-keeper at Rouse. An American boy who was driving the wagon was unintentionally killed by the fusillade of bullets. Before daylight a mob of miners and citizens of Walsenburg gathered outside the jail where two of the Italians were confined, got inside by a pretense and killed both the prisoners. It is reported that the same mob thirsting for more bloodshed later took out of jail a German charged with rape and killed him. During the excitement two other prisoners escaped.

CUTTING OFF AIR BRAKES.

Attempts To Wreck Trains in Western New York.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 14.—The police have under arrest here Wilson Simes, a young railroad engineer who is charged with cutting off the air brakes between the engine tender and baggage car of a West Shore passenger train after it had started south from the Suspension bridge yards yesterday. The train was stopped just in time to prevent a serious collision. Railroad engineers say that a gang of men evidently bent on train wrecking have been practicing this fiendish trick for the past three months between this city and Tonawanda, eleven miles east, and considerable damage has been done to locomotives by the reversing of the levers, when the engineers on approaching the city have found they were helpless so far as the brakes were concerned. The matter is being vigorously investigated.

Uneasiness in Turkey.

London, March 14.—The Daily News correspondent in Vienna says: "The former sultan, Murad, is making use of the Armenian difficulty to agitate against the present form of government. It is feared that if the result of the inquiry be humiliating for the porte, events similar to those which followed the murder of the consuls in Salonica in 1876 may occur in Constantinople. The sultan is aware of the danger. He sends officials nightly to examine Murad's quarters in the Yildiz Kiosk, and has them closely guarded by sentinels. It is stated that the sultan takes to his room the keys of the principal doors. All Murad's letters are read by a special committee."

Last of the Blue Laws.

Hartford, Conn., March 14.—The senate repealed the last of the blue laws. It was a statute which provided that a justice of the peace might convict a person on his personal knowledge without corroborative testimony of the following offenses: Sabbath breaking, swearing, blasphemy, and drunkenness.

An agreeable LAXATIVE and NERVE TONIC. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 60c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO HO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U.S.A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures when all others fail. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will cure you, if taken in time. Price 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00.

Sold by all druggists.

8 14 y

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 2d, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " " "
4,925 feet 10 " " "
80,605 feet 8 " " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
179 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains,

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MAC MURRAY,
City Clerk.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 11, 1895.

Armstrong J E	Ledeon L
Anderson Mrs Mary	Lloyd Miss
Bronson Miss E	Lowe Miss
Byron John	Laing Mrs N M
Bunn Mrs J N	Myers Fred H
Banner J	Mulligan Ellen
Blythe Katie	Macousen John
Bicker M	Miller J J
Brokaw Mrs Mary E	McKenna Michael
Baldwin W D	Hoyt W H
Bollson Wm	McElvaine Minnie
Colgate G S	Peterson Rev F E
Coffin Mrs L P	Pettonienie Maria
Clark Miss	Potts Geo H
Coulds Mary	Ray Georgia W
Carter W H	Rose Geo H
deGallanaga Dr J A	Randolph H R
Demarest D C	Reid Lizzie F
Dyckman Naomi F	Ruellan Mr
Edmonson Mamie	Randolph Mrs S R
Flanagan P	Randolph Sarah
G F R	Ross Will
Green John	Smith Hattie E
Hughes Annie	Starr W E
Hoehn Chas H	Schott Miss
Howell Frank	S H S
Hale Capt Geo	Thompson Frank
Henskins Jerry	Webber Mrs Anna
Hill Mrs Lithe	Williams Harry
Jones Lucy	Whiting Miss
Jones Lewis	Woman's Exchange
Jackson W H	Wilson M A

Williams Minnie A

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION is called to the

Home Department

of Rockview School, 317 East Front street. Children received from

4 to 15 Years.

Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT, 25 Washington ave

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

Hotels and taloons.

HOTEL ALBION,

OPEN FOR GUESTS

Park avenue and 8th street

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager,
Finderne, N. J.

1 9 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

8-13-1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET.

J. R. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 4 5 y

IMPORTED WERZBURGER BEER

On draught at

CHARLES SMITH'S

Sample and Lunch Rooms, 4 WEST FRONT ST.

The Bartholomay, Rochester Pale, the Bavarian Dark and the St. Louis.

Ballantine's Ales also on draught The Indian Pale XXX Still Ale and Porter.

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank, is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

F. A. DUNHAM.

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,

163 North ave. PLAINFIELD. 2 4

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Malaria, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels

R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES

act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 5 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 30 tf

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built. 9 18

FISCHER PIANOS.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Nearly 100,000 Now In Use.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

EASY TERMS.—EXCHANGED.

Catalogue mailed on application.

110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 14, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

SEVENTH-DAY SOCIABILITY.

Music, Supper and Tableaux Representing Nations' Life.

The Women's Society of the Seventh Day Baptist Church met yesterday afternoon and held a sewing and business meeting.

In the evening, the society entertained their friends with a sociable. Supper consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee from half past six until 7:30. The energetic committee in charge of this part of the evening's enjoyment consisted of Mrs Amanda Maxson and Mrs W L Titsworth, and their efforts proved very successful. The programme was ably arranged by Miss Mineola Tomlinson and Miss Evalyn Lewis. Its title was "Homes of All Nations" and consisted of a series of tableaux representing a group of the natives of each country in appropriate costume and occupied in some manner usual to that country.

After a piano duet by Miss Mabel Maxson and Maxson and Miss Bessie Titsworth the tableaux commenced.

The first was an Esquimaux hut in which were grouped the Misses Bessie Randolph, May Ross, Clara Scriven, Violet Truell, and Paul Russell.

Japanese home life was represented in the next picture, those taking part were the Misses Mattie Maitland, Nellie Miller, and Grace Van Sickle.

Holland was the scene of the third tableaux, and was prettily represented by the Misses Ethel Titsworth, Zilpha Williams, Ruth Maxson, and Bessie Randolph.

Another very pretty picture was formed by Misses Louise Van Sickle, Effie Randolph, Mertie Randolph, as a scene from Mexico.

At this point, D. E. Titsworth read a letter that had just been received from the Y. M. C. A. in the city of Mexico telling about missionary meetings that were being held in that city.

The Misses Mertie Randolph, Edith Titsworth, and Kuzzy Nagle formed an artistic tableaux, and represented a picture from Syrian life.

India was the next group, and was charmingly represented by the Misses Bessie Titsworth, Effie Randolph, and Edith Titsworth.

The last scene was composed of all the nations gathered in America about Liberty, artistically impersonated by Miss Violet Truell, draped in the American flag.

Between each of the tableaux, Dr. Lewis told about the home life, manners and costumes of the nation just represented. This added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening, and all were sorry when the curtain had fallen on the last scene. Everyone expressed himself as delighted with the entertainment and hospitality for which the women of this church are famed.

—The Westfield Bowling Club play the Plainfielders on the Board of Trade alleys this evening.

—At a meeting of Unity lodge, K. of P., last night it was decided to remove to the Babcock Building, April 1.

—Rev. Mr. Glazebrook of St. John's Episcopal Church, Elizabeth, made a very interesting address in Holy Cross Church last evening before a good-sized audience.

—"Senator" McFadden has removed the dead cat with his garbage wagon from East Fifth street, and pedestrians can now pass along without holding their nasal organs.

—An average temperature of 80 degrees is maintained at the swimming pool in the Y. M. C. A. building, and the manner in which the boys take to the water is evidence of appreciation.

—Dr. Coles of Scotch Plains presented the women of the Baptist Church with a bushel and a half of peanuts for their povertie partie last evening. The proceeds therefrom was clear profit.

Gave Spice to the Event.

The dance at New Market last night was attended by 30 people from Plainfield, who journeyed there in a stage. Just before starting the team drawing the stage became fractious by the tangling of the harness, and caused quite a bit of excitement in front of Shaw's drug store.

Gun Exploded.

While attending the monthly shoot of the Climax Gun Club at Benner's road house in Fanwood yesterday afternoon, the gun of Charles Smith exploded near the stock, a piece entering his left arm below the elbow. Dr. Long dressed the wound, which was not serious.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Henry Windham of Casper's cafe is ill with the grip.

Mrs. John M. Schorb, Jr., is confined to her home with an attack of the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson of La Grande avenue left town today for a short visit.

Chief Marshal Pangborn was welcomed on the streets today. He is not entirely well, however.

H. N. Spencer was presented with a brace of canvas-back by Dr. J. H. Cooley a few days ago.

William Hand & Son have moved Horace Martin from Jackson avenue to Fairview avenue.

Miss Jennie Frentz of Scotch Plains is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Putnam on Orchard place.

Samuel Milliken and family left today for 10 days at Atlantic City. They will stop at the Seaside House.

Isaac Pangborn of Rockview avenue, who has been ill during the past Winter, is still confined to his home.

Mrs. Elias Southard of the borough went today to Bayonne, where she will spend the day among friends.

Harry Squires of the firm of H. C. Squires & Son will leave on a trip to Europe the latter part of the week.

George VanNest of Dunellen, who was injured in New York city while handling a large plate-glass, is improving steadily.

Consul-General Herbert W. Bowen and bride sailed yesterday on the steamship Teutonic, for his post in Barcelona, Spain.

Father Milligan of New Brunswick, delivered a highly interesting lecture to the members of St. Joseph's parish last night.

Sidney Dorman of New York, formerly a resident of Plainfield, returned to the metropolis this morning after a pleasant visit in Plainfield.

J. H. Hart of the firm of Hillier & Co., came to Plainfield last evening and registered at the Albion. He returned to Newark this morning.

C. W. Johnson is to marry Miss Gussie Quase of Plainfield, March 27, at the home of C. W. Johnson, Dunellen. Invitations were sent out this morning.

Arthur C. Maclay has moved into his house on West Eighth street, which he has been remodeling and fitted up with all the latest improvements.

On account of illness Miss Lottie Messerschmidt was prevented from taking part in the povertie partie in the Scotch Plains Baptist Church last evening.

Mrs. Worthington and daughter Miss Laura, who have been spending a portion of the Winter in Florida, will make a visit in Charleston, S. C., next week, on their way home.

Clarence Woodcock and family of West Seventh street went to New York city yesterday to attend the golden wedding of Mr. Woodcock's father, at their residence, 148 Lexington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde and Miss Edith Hyde are now in Athens, Greece. They contemplate a trip up the Nile. Mrs. Hyde's health is slowly improving. It is likely the Hydes will stay abroad several years.

Last Winter John Chandler of East Third street fell on some ice in his yard, and injured his right hand severely. Since then he has had considerable trouble with it, until now he is obliged to keep it bandaged.

Frank Cokefair of Crescent avenue left for Bryson City, North Carolina, today in company with W. H. Nichols, expert for the Nichol's Chemical Company of New York city, for the purpose of examining some extensive mineral and timber tracts in the Smoky Mountain Range in Western North Carolina and Tennessee. Mr. Cokefair expects to return about April 5.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Shot in the Hand.

Lougis Appecazatti, an Italian living in Scotch Plains, was cleaning a pistol Tuesday which contained some cartridges. The trigger was drawn accidentally, which caused one of the cartridges to explode. The ball passed through the palm of the left hand. Dr. Frank Hallock attended the man and dressed his wound. He is getting along nicely and no serious results are feared.

Music as She Is Criticised.

Concerning the pianist of the Choral Concert, the Plainfield Courier said:

"Miss Wilbrandt, the contralto, was not quite so pleasing, though her voice is an excellent one in every respect."

It is rather hard on a woman to criticize her voice when she never opened her mouth.

—A meeting of the Pattern Makers Association was held last night.

—William Hand & Son yesterday T. B. Laire from Washington street to Muhlenberg place.

—Central lodge, A. O. U. W., meets this evening. An elaborate programme for the good of the order has been arranged.

BY THE WAY.

—The stone platform at the North Avenue station is being leveled up by workmen today.

—The bright weather, and a new spring hat, go together. Hallock leads the styles; prices are right.

—A pretty hand in a pretty glove—something everyone likes to see. Peck furnishes the gloves.

—The police have been notified that teamsters are using the sidewalk on Spooner avenue for a driveway.

—The electric lamp on West Second street between Liberty and New streets has not been lighted since Sunday night.

—It is expected that several new features will be added to the doll show before it is repeated Saturday afternoon, March 23.

Fruit Pinwheels

(Miss Parloa's recipe)

made with Cleveland's baking powder are nice for luncheon or tea.

The recipe is in our cook book, which will be mailed free on receipt of stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co.,
81 Fulton St., New York.

Only a rounded spoonful is required, of Cleveland's Baking Powder

not a heaping spoonful.

BARGAINS.

Poor old word used to mean something in times gone by, but not so now. Any old trash or plunder that some merchants can rake up is put out and named BARGAIN.

We are looking for a word to take its place and to any one sending us a new name for the many good things we offer to our customers every day we will give ten dollars in gold.

The items below are

Jap Rugs

Japanese rugs of the celebrated Yamato manufacture. All rich oriental designs and colorings at half the usual prices.

36x36 in. 88c. value $1.25
26x54 in 90c. " 1.25
30x60 in 1.27 " 2.25
48x84 in 2.49 " 4.50
2½ yds x 3½ yds $6.98 value $10.00.

Dress Goods

38 in all-wool henriettas black and colors 33c.
45 in Imperial serges black and navy 39c.
50 in wool mixtures 33c.
54 in Covert cloth 49c.

Linoleums

10-piece extra heavy linoleums new designs 37½c square yard.

Skirts

Made of black satine, splendid quality, new styles and new prices 75c to $2.17 for the best.

Umbrellas

A good gloria silk paragon frame can be bought for 75c. Old price $1 00.

House Furnishings

10-qt. galvanized pails 13c.
Paper pails 17c.
Jap. Tea pots 10c
2-qt granite Coffee pots 37c.
2 qt. " stew pots 27c.
Brooms 13c.
Pail, soap, brush and mop all for 27c.

WHITE, of Plainfield.

ELY'S Cream Balm CATARRH

Is quickly absorbed. Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation. Heals the Sores, Protects the Membrane from Additional Cold. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

COLD IN HEAD

IT WILL CURE. A particle is applied into each nostril and is a greeable. Price 50c, at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 11, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

AT PECK'S.

NEW Street Glove $1.50. Foster's KID GLOVES. Black, Brown Tan, Mode and Slate.

SEBRING, CLOTHIER,

Will close the balance of $12 suits for $8.
$15 suits for $10.
$12 ulsters for $8.50.
$15 overcoats for $10.
Children's overcoats and school suits at cost.

Park Avenue, Packer's Block.

VAN EMBURGH & SON

One factory lot of

Unlaundried Shirts at 29c

14 to 16½ inch neck.

One Factory lot White Goods Remnants

At half value.

Figured India Silks at 25c yard.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building.

Grocery Department.

TERMS CASH.

Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. Since the opening of the department we have sold over 6,000 cans of tomatoes, string beans and corn as an advertisement at the unheard-of price of 6c a can.

The goods give good satisfaction and the people are buying them over and over again, the demand increasing for them each week. They often remark that they are just as good as they pay 8 and 10c for elsewhere.

75 CASES MORE

new goods received

For Saturday's Trade.

We are constantly saving money to hundreds of our patrons and they seem to be pleased for us to do it.

Special 6c can | 25 cases sweet corn | 25 cases string beans | 25 cases tomatoes | Special 6c can

25 cases very fine lemon cling peaches, regular price 25c, special 17c can; another lot of Blue Point catsup quart size, 17c bottle; Burnham's clam boullon special 19 and 31c bottle; Heinz little giant pickles, all kinds, special 9c bottle; Oyster Bay asparagus, flat cans, special 18c can; celery salt in screw top bottles 10c each.

Silexo 2½c Cake | 5,000 pieces Silexo scouring soap, one of the best scouring articles on the market, for this sale only, 2½c cake. | Silexo 2½c Cake

Our White Seal flour can't be beat; one trial will convince you. ½ barrel at 54c, ¼ at $1.07, ½ at $1.98, 1 barrel at $3.95.

Finest quality olive oil, large size quarts, 69c bottle; do 1 gallon size $1 95 gallon. The above is the finest grade imported.

Housefurnishing Department.

3c each | 100 doz cups and saucers Tea, breakfast and soup plates at 3c each; 150 doz thin blown table tumblers worth 60c per doz at 3c each | 3c each

27c each | Bread boxes square Japanned and well made regular price 39c special 27c each | 27c each

73c each | Solid copper tea kettles choice of any size Some are nickle plated Your choice 73c each | 73c each

9c each | Earthen cuspidores assorted decorations Regular size colors burnt in at 9c each | 9c each

DRESS GOODS. DRESS GOODS. DRESS GOODS. DRESS GOODS.

Newest spring styles in a great variety of washable fabrics. New and stylish effects in all-wool and silk and wool. The prices are the lowest ever known

Priestley's Silk Warp blk Henriettas

$1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

CARPET DEPARTMENT.

OPENING OF NEW SPRING GOODS.

We quote only a few specials. All-wool ingrains at 49c; Tapestry Brussels at 53, 59, 65c; Body Brussels, Moquette, Axministers, Ispahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, new styles, jointless. 9c and up; oil cloths No. 1, 39c, No. 3, 25c, No. 4, 19c; linoleums 37½c; window shades from 19c up, poles and fixtures 19c and up.

EDSALL'S

The greatest money-saving place to buy at in this part of the State.

Shoe Bargains.

Among the many bargains that we shall offer for a short time yet are the following—Boys patent leather bals $1.98, were $4
Boys grain leather bals, waterproof, $1.98, were $3.
Misses Dongola kid, button, $1.48, were $2 50
Womens " " $1.48, were $3, $4 and $5.
Womens gt., button, $1.48, were $5. For men we have a number of bargains. Come and see for yourself.

DOANE & EDSALL.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

PAJAMAS FOR NIGHTIES.

A Young Woman of Observation Protests Against Them as Unfeminine.

"I declare," said a young woman of observation, "this is carrying things a trifle too far. Here is a circular which I have just received from one of our first trade houses saying that pajamas are to be the fashionable night dress for ladies. Are they? Well, they'll never be the fashionable night dress for this one, at all events—the ungraceful, unwomanly things. Here are illustrations, too, I see, how we will look in our Japanese nighties. They are to be of silk, of all shades and qualities, and they are to be made distinctly feminine by the addition of a row of lace at the top and a ruffle round the bottom, which can be drawn in with a gathering string. Charming, I must say.

"Why, they're just Japanese bloomers; that's all they are. No, I'll tell you what they are. You fellows have taken to wearing these pajama things, and we women have got to follow the masculine craze, like so many sheep as we are. Now mark me, you'll hear heaps of stuff about 'sanitary dress' 'ultimate modesty of attire' and all that fol de rol. But it's only fol de rol all the same, and it's just sung to cover up our determined efforts to ape the men. Popular prejudice has effectually barred women—for the time, at least—from wearing 'pants' in the open, but women are bound to get there somehow, and now we are going to wear them nights.

"As we say up at the club meetings, 'I hope the motion will not prevail,' and if it does, I hope the laws will be so amended as to make the wearing of pajamas by married women good and sufficient ground for divorce."

CLOTHING THE FAMILY.

A Picture Easily Recognized by Men but Not by Women.

"My dear," said Mrs. Bloobumber to her husband, "I really need a new street gown. I am ashamed to go out any more with the only one I have."

"Very well," replied Mr. Bloobumber. "Get yourself a street gown."

"By good rights I ought to have a bonnet, too. I haven't had a new one for three months and it's getting real shabby, to say nothing of it being utterly unsuited to the weather."

"Get a bonnet, too, darling."

"Then Annie needs a few more things. She can't possibly put off getting a new dress and a new hat any longer. A young lady of her age is absolutely required to dress well. You know that yourself, Harry."

"It is true dear! Get whatever is necessary and proper for Annie, and make her look as sweet as a peach."

"Baby Bess will have to have some new dresses, Harry. It is wonderful what a lot of clothes a little girl of eight requires. You wouldn't believe it if you didn't have to provide them and keep them looking at least semi-respectable."

"That is true, little wifey. Baby Bess deserves all the nice clothes she gets, and it is quite right for you to take a proper pride in dressing your daughter neatly."

"Then, Harry, dear, you need an entire new suit yourself, and a new hat. I don't think you can have noticed how shiny your coat is in the back, while your trowsers have commenced to fray a little at the ends as well as bag at the knees. Won't you get a new suit, love?"

"I don't know about an entire suit, dear, but I was thinking that after you and Annie and Baby Bess were provided for, I'd get myself a three dollar pair of pants if I have that much money left."—Truth.

Glad to Get Back to Jail.

Paddy Mulcahey is a quaint little Irishman who spends most of his time in the county jail, serving sentences for intoxication. He is a trusty and handy man around headquarters, where he performs odd jobs. A few days ago, when not under the eye of an officer, Paddy quietly took French leave.

It was thought he had gone for good, but yesterday he was seen coming for the station on the run. Shannon met him at the door, but Paddy rushed passed the policeman, saying:

"Let me in! Let me in!"

He had spent his brief vacation at Hillyard and was nearly frozen. The cold comfort of a box car was not to be compared with the warmth of his cosy cell. He washed up, said "Howdy" to all of the boys, and in ten minutes was down in the basement helping the engineer cord up a fresh supply of wood.—Spokane Chronicle.

All, All is Vanity.

Man that is married unto woman is of many days and full of trouble.

In the morning he draweth his salary, and in the evening—behold, it is gone.

It is a tale that is told, and no man knoweth whither it vanishes.

He rises up, clothed in the chilly garments of the night, and seeketh the somnolent paregoric wherewith to soothe his infant posterity.

He cometh as the horse or ox, and draweth the chariot of his offspring.

He speedeth the shekels in the purchase of fine linen wherewith to cover the bosom of his family.

Yet himself is seen at the gates of the city with one suspender.

Yea, he is altogether wretched.—Memphis Appeal.

An Important Consideration.

It may be expected that when the women get their rights they will become the head of the family and carry the pocketbook. Then where will poor man be? Under the present order the wife can help herself to the loose change in the husband's pockets, and so the two live on together in peace and tranquility. But how is the husband ever to find the wife's pocket? Men should reflect upon this before giving the ballot to the women.—Boston Transcript.

Lack of Thoroughness.

"This novelist," said the book reviewer, "means well, but he knows nothing about anatomy."

"What makes you think so?" asked his wife.

"In writing of a love scene between two people in Philadelphia he says: 'Her words had stung Reginald to the quick.' Anybody, it seems to me, ought to know that a Philadelphia man hasn't any quick."—Judge.

Played Out.

"But you love me," persisted the India Rubber Man.

"Yes," faltered the Circassian Girl.

"Then let us proclaim ourselves one."

"No, Horatio; it is better thus. There is no money in the Siamese any more."—Puck

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Officers Installed.

The following officers of Crescent Division, No. 13, U. R. K. of P., were installed last night at their armory on West Second street by Major Clark of Newark, of the Second Regiment of N. J.:

Sir Knight Capt.—J. E. Flannery; Sir Knight Lieut.—Morgan Turton; Sir Knight Herald—Jacob Blimm; Sir Knight Recorder—J. Robinson; Sir Knight Treasurer—Gilbert Smith; Sir Knight Guard—Jos. Blimm; Sir Knight Sentinel—Charles McGinley.

An inspection in full uniform followed the inspection.

Death of Mrs. Collins.

Mrs. E. P. Collins, wife of George Collins, died in a New York hospital yesterday in her 44th year, from an operation performed a few days ago. Mrs. Collins was a professional nurse in Plainfield and was well known. She leaves a husband and one daughter, Mrs. Lulu Hannigan. The body was brought to Plainfield today. Notice of funeral will be given tomorrow.

Boehm Bought It.

The store property, 107 and 109 West Front street, of the late Manning Vermeule, was sold at public sale this afternoon by Nelson Runyon, executor, to I H. Boehm for $13,750.

—Baker & Young, carpenters, have the contract for remodeling the store on North avenue to be occupied by Titsworth & Rickert.

—A cold wave is predicted for tomorrow.

—E. B. Anthony will lead the Gospel meeting in the East Third Third Street Mission tonight.

THE SCOTCH KILT.

A Natty and Serviceable Street Costume for a Little Girl.

Mothers with imaginations and pretty little daughters do not hesitate to adopt for the street and school picturesque little Scotch kilts, sashes and caps. The kilts are made of bright plaid velvet, and sometimes the scheme of the dress is carried out even to stout, hand knit, woollen hose, worked in points or squares of color on a dull gray background, rolled back from dimpled, pink, childish knees and worn with button boots of cloth and patent leather. It is at the opera matinees that a great deal of very nice elegance in youthful toilets is displayed to an appreciative public, for seats and boxes are filled with children at the great Saturday musical festivals, and the notable artists who supply the emotion and melody never enjoy more attentive and respectful audiences. One handsome cloak, noticed on a pretty blond girl of perhaps ten summers, was of black velvet, double breasted and caught by eight large cut steel buttons. Over her shoulders fell a cape of velvet heavily bordered with Persian lamb, and cuffs of this fur finished the full bishop sleeves. A small sister wore a pinafore cloak of olive brown face cloth, with a cunning collar made of countless small mink tails frilling out from her throat. Gilt link buttons clasped the brown velvet cuffs of the full cloth sleeves, and a little turquoise and gold clasp held the collar.

The Interest We Pay John Bull.

There is ample gold locked up in this country to cover all our needs. People are asking: "Why go to Europe for it on terms partly fixed by the representatives of foreign bankers in Wall street?" No proposition can be more just and patriotic than that the benefits of the nation's credit should be enjoyed by the people whose labor pays for it, rather than by alien speculators. It ought to be possible to act according to the motto, "American bonds for Americans!" We already pay John Bull $100,000,000 in interest annually as a holder of our securities. Is not that enough?—Boston Globe.

Tough On the Husbands.

Husbands whose wives are not always able to control their tempers and refrain from speaking ill of other persons, will do well to keep away from the State of Minnesota. The courts of that State have just decided that if a married woman is convicted of slander her husband must pay the damages assessed by the jury.

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c, and $1. Sold by all druggists.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Short Stories of Heroism from Real Life.

Settled by a Bayonet Charge.

March 14, 1864, was the date of the capture of Fort de Russy, the Gibraltar of the Red river, by troops of Bank's expedition. While the navy was picking its way up the river channel among torpedoes and other sunken obstructions the land force marched around to the rear of the fort, and getting within cannon shot opened bombardment. The post consisted of two earthworks connected by a covered way. It mounted eight siege guns and two field pieces and was garrisoned by 300 men. After four hours' battering, with little effect, the Union commander, General Kilby Smith, decided to end the struggle by storming before the Confederate land forces could come up on his rear. Although his troops had marched 35 miles in 24 hours, he formed column for attack, placing General J. A. Mower's division in front. A strip of woods screened the column when forming, but an open space 100 yards wide lay between them and the parapet. General Mower rode out at the head of his line, composed of General Lynch's two regiments, the Fifty-eighth Illinois and Eighty-ninth Indiana, and General Shaw's Iowans, the Fourteenth, Twenty-seventh and Thirty-second regiments. The instant the column emerged from the woods the Confederates opened with shell and shrapnel. The outburst was answered by a blast from the battle trumpet sounding the double quick charge When under full headway, the troops broke into a wild cheer and marched steadily on into the works at the first rush, General Mower's horse leaping the ditch and rampart with his firm seated rider, ahead of the most impetuous of the soldiery. The capture was in nick o' time, for next day the position was surrounded by General Dick Taylor's cavalry.

GENERAL MOWER.

How Burnside Captured Newbern.

March 14 is the anniversary of the first capture of Newbern, N. C. (1862.) Burnside's little army of three brigades found the single road across the narrow peninsula between the Trent and the Neuse blocked by a line of intrenchments filled with guns and men, and extending from river to river. Along the Neuse a chain of forts commanded the channel to keep off the Union gunboats. Burnside's infantry marched up to within 300 yards of the parapet under fire and shot down the enemy's cannoneers; also the riflemen who were bold enough to expose their heads above the works. For four hours the struggle was kept up, but every advance in force to the batteries drew upon the assailants a rain of fire they could not endure. Colonel William S. Clark led his Twenty-first Massachusetts into a Confederate battery of 13 guns, but two of the enemy's regiments drove him out by a gallant counter charge. Colonel Isaac P. Rodman then offered to charge his Fourth Rhode Island regiment through a gap in the intrenchments where a railway passed through. The offer was accepted, and the Fifth Rhode Island, Eighth and Eleventh Connecticut advanced simultaneously against other points in the line. Rodman's men penetrated the gap and turned down the enemy's line, rolling it up in reverse and taking five cannon at one swoop. The other charging regiments at the same time planted their flags on the parapets. Burnside lost but 400 men and captured 9 forts, with 65 guns. GEORGE L. KILMER.

—M. W. Pratt, a Canada temperance lecturer, who is now in Plainfield, will speak in Reform Hall tonight. All are cordially invited.

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipsic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper.

1 21 tf-c

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS.

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

—THE—

Plainfield Ice & Cold Storage Co

has removed from 140 Park avenue to 132 North Avenue.

3 13 6

DEATHS.

FINE—On Thursday morning, March 14, 1895, Eliza E., wife of Christopher M. Fine.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services at her late residence, 469 West Front st., Sunday, March 17, at 2:30 p. m. Somerville papers please copy.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church. First-class livery attached.

Telephone 153 11 26 y

Almost Given Away

Who wants it?

A House on Fairview Avenue,

Watchung Park. New, delightfully located, LOT 50x175 FEET.

9 rooms, all improvements, electric and gas light, stained glass finely papered; has to be seen to be appreciated; known as the Russian style; mortgage $3,000; $1,500 cash takes it. Can be seen at any time. Apply to

A. BARTLETT,

3 13 6 339 Park avenue.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, 10 cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

TO LET—Two small stores or offices on one of the finest corners in the city, with or without stable room for one or more horses. Inquire F. Westphal & Son cor. of West 4th and Liberty st. 3 6 m

COLORED woman wants situation as chambermaid. Apply 230 Park ave.

LADY wants board; pleasant room, not too far from station; reply immediately. Address W. F. F., care Press.

TO LET—Small house 111 Elmwood place. L. E. Hart.

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

FOR SALE—Baby carriage and high chair. 121 Hillside ave. 3 14 2

WANTED.—Position by a colored coachman; thoroughly understands the care of horses; 3 years reference; present employer can be seen. Thomas Sims, 239 West Front st.

FOR SALE—Cheap, a carriage and cart. 1045 West 2d st. 2 14 2

WHITE woman wants work by the day week or month; is a good laundress and has good city references. Call 331 Cottage place. 3 14 3

HOUSE to let on Duer st., 9 rooms with improvements; $35. Call at 17 Duer street. 3 12 6

WANTED—A reliable girl for general housework, with references. 913 West Front st. 3 13 3

TO LET—7 room house on Duer st; $15 Call 17 Duer st. 3 12 6

FIVE room house to let; new building; city water; $12 50 per month. Chas. H. Hand, 317 Watchung ave. 3 12 3

STABLE to let; room for 8 horses and 8 wagons; rent cheap. Charles. H. Hand, 317 Watchung ave. 3 12 3

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, old established meat market, 2 horses and 2 wagons; good paying business; reason for selling given. Address Butcher, care Press. 3 11 6

TO RENT—House 303 West 2d st; now occupied by Relief Association. Inquire 208 Madison ave. 3 11 6

HORSE and buggy for sale cheap. Call 85 Manning ave. 3 11 6

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

FLAT to let with improvements. Inquire Menning's marble works, Front street and Central avenue. 3 8 6

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman. 1 30 tf

PLAINFIELD SOUVENIR

SOLID SILVER SPOONS.

COLLIER'S,

103 PARK AVENUE.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

Are You Reading

Those Interesting Monographs on

Napoleon

BY

John Clark Ridpath

IN THIS PAPER?

The Greatest Warrior

Described by one of

The Greatest Historians

They Are Published Saturdays.

BIG CUT.

Special Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia 1 lb Print Creamery Butter 20 cts.

4 lbs cod fish for 25 cents; 1 lb package best macaroni 7½ cents; Dried green peas 5 cents a quart; Best laundry starch 5 cents lb; Granulated sugar 4 cents lb; 2 lbs extra creamery cheese for 23 cents.

AT FULPER'S.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

MEADOWS' WARNING.

I went down to Meadows' place one Sunday afternoon with the intention of telling Lizzie how it was with me and of asking her to be my wife. It would be the best way, I thought, of putting an end to the talk of the village, which did not please me, though it caused me no anxiety. I had lately had a rise in my wages, and was promised a further increase at the end of the year, so I hoped to satisfy Meadows as to my prospects.

I cannot tell if he suspected my intention; but it was in vain I sought for an opportunity of speaking to Lizzie that evening. Meadows talked without ceasing, and Lizzie herself seemed more occupied than usual. Instead of sitting still, she flitted about the kitchen, doing one thing or another; now reaching down plates from the topmost shelf of the dresser, then bending over the fire, where, contrary to her custom on a Sunday, she had two or three pots to attend to. I was so absorbed in watching her movements that I fear I made but an indifferent listener to Meadows' old time yarns.

We had not sat there long before I saw Ben Holding in the distance, evidently making his way toward us. So little did I fear him, that I was actually glad to see him, thinking he would take off Meadows' attention and give me a chance of a word with Lizzie. But I soon saw that was not to be. After shaking hands with us Ben strode into the kitchen, and though we followed immediately he had found time to give her a little note, for I saw her hide it in her dress as I came in.

I soon discovered he had been invited to supper, and the dishes Lizzie had been taking so much pains with were prepared in his honor. When we sat down to table the talk turned on matters of which I knew nothing, and could take no part in. Lizzie asked question after question about Holding's cottage, and displayed such an intimate knowledge of its arrangements that it was clear to me the subject had been often discussed between them. What could this mean but that the house was furnished for her as Holding's wife.

Meadows smiled placidly, and looked on with an air of approval that well nigh maddened me. I turned cold and sick; but though I never spoke, and hardly touched a morsel on my plate, they paid no heed, but continued to laugh and joke over their own affairs. At last I could stand it no longer, and, rising from the table, abruptly said it was time to go home. Then, for the first time, Lizzie seemed to perceive my agitation, for she blushed and looked confused.

"Are you going out, to-morrow, George?" Meadows asked, as I bade him good night.

"Of course," I said, briefly. "Why not?"

"I don't like the look of the weather," he explained. "I was just going to say so when Ben came up this evening. I am not one to counsel any man to stay at home when there's work to be done, but industry is one thing and rashness another. It's blowing up a gale, take my word for it, lads. There'll be mischief to-morrow, I warn you."

"What then?" I rejoined, sullenly. "Twon't be the first gale I've been out in, nor the last, maybe. And if it is, nobody will care."

I went out, and, to my surprise, Holding followed me. I hurried on, thinking to avoid him, but he soon caught me up. The sky was cloudy and dark, and on one side was an irregular streak of grayish yellow light, where the moon was struggling to break through. I saw no cause of old Luke's warning, nor did Holding, it appeared, for he began: "What can Meadows mean, Powell? It is a dirty night, no doubt; but 'twill clear before morning, I should think. What say you?"

"I think so, too," I answered between my set teeth.

"But he is not one to croak, and he is very rarely out in his predictions," Ben continued. "Would it not be wiser to stay on shore?"

"Do so, by all means, if you are afraid," I replied with a sneer. "You are your own master."

The taunt stung him, I could see, dark as it was, but he kept his temper and only said: "I don't deserve that, George, and no one knows it better than you. What ails you to-night?"

"'Taint your business."

"Powell, listen—" he began, but I would not stay to hear; I broke away from him and ran down a narrow lane that led to my lodging. I was boiling over with wrath and his coolness irritated me past all bearing.

Before sunrise next morning I was out and on my way to the beach. The morning broke gloomy and dull; the clouds were ragged and torn at the edges; telling of wind; but the sea just then was calm enough. The barometer at the coast guard station was lower than it had been for weeks. Still I had gone out many a day more stormy looking than this and I made up my mind that if Ford wished to go I would say nothing to dissuade him. It was not likely he would care to stay on shore. He was a bold, determined fellow and knew his boat, the Vixen, to be one of the stoutest and best built in the place.

He came down presently and, with a shrug of his shoulders and the remark, "We'll get a wetting to-day, more than likely," motioned to me to shove off. Ford was a man of few words.

We got on much as usual till about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Then I saw Meadows' prediction would be verified. Thunder rumbled in the distance and the waves were high and sullen. Suddenly the wind sprang up and it was all we could do to shorten sail before it was down upon us. Ford said it was a squall and we had seen the worst of it; but he was wrong, as the event proved. The gusts of wind followed each other fast. Every wave threatened to engulf the Vixen and her crew and it soon became a struggle for life. For my own safety I cared little; life had ceased to have any attractions for me; but remembering Ford's wife and children, I worked manfully to keep the boat on her course.

"Who would have thought it would blow like this?" Ford said in his usual phlegmatic fashion, as we crouched together in the stern.

"Meadows said last night 'twould be rougher than common," I rejoined. "But he is getting old now and thinks more of a hatful of wind than he used to do."

"You should have told me that," said Ford gravely. "It's never safe to go agin old Luke—he knows the weather signs better than any man. I say, George, isn't that the Mermaid yonder?"

It was not easy to distinguish anything, for my eyes were full of salt water; but after a bit I managed to make out Holding's boat, with three men on board of her, being driven before the gale. It was madness on his part not to put back hours ago, for he knew well enough how little the Mermaid was fitted to encounter such a sea as this. For a few minutes the wind lulled and we came within speaking distance.

"George," Holding shouted as soon as he could make himself heard, "Meadows knew what he was about last night, eh? I was a fool not to take his advice. I shall never set foot on shore again."

Ford stood up, a rope in his hand, and called to him to come on board the Vixen. But Holding shook his head. He was seaman enough to know that to attempt such a thing would in all probability swamp us all and he would not risk it.

"Tell the folks you saw us," he said calmly, though his face was white as death. "Bid them good by. I know Meadows will look after my little girl, God bless her! And you, George—Lizzie—"

His voice was lost in the roar of the waves, and indeed my heart beat so fast I should hardly have made out his words in any case. A flash of lightning, more vivid than any we had yet, half blinded me, and at the same moment we shipped a sea that nearly washed us from our seats. When we had succeeded in bailing out the water and were able to look about us I sought in all directions for the Mermaid, but she was nowhere to be seen.

I cast myself down at the bottom of the boat, overcome with horror. To have my rival thus suddenly swept from my path was more than I could bear. Last night I would have hailed with joy anything that severed him from Lizzie. Now I felt like a murderer. It was I who had lured him to his doom and wrecked the life of the girl I loved. I tried to pray for God's forgiveness, but no words would come. In my misery I would have thrown myself into the water, but I had no strength to move. Ford called to me, but his voice fell on deaf ears. I lay stunned and motionless.

I must have remained in that state for some time. Ford thought I had been struck by lightning; but it was out of his power to help me; it was all he could do, single handed, to guide our little craft. Fortunately for us both, the storm began to abate, or we should never have reached the shore.

It was dusk when we landed, and the harbor lights flashing into my eyes roused me from the lethargy into which I had fallen. A crowd was assembled on the beach, eager to welcome the friends they had given up for lost. I soon made out the tall figure of Meadows, with his granddaughter clinging to him as if for support, and I bowed my head in agony at the thought of the fatal news I had to give her. Suddenly a voice sounded in my ear, clear and sharp above the rest, and I started. It was a voice I never expected to hear again in this world.

"Here they are at last!" Ben Holding cried joyfully. "Lizzie, look up. Powell is safe, thank God! He is here!"

I staggered toward them, dizzy and faint. The joy was overpowering. By what miracle had Holding escaped with his life? He seized me by the hand and drew me forward. Lizzie said something I could not hear, and would have fallen to the ground had not some one caught her and laid her, white as a lily, in her grandfather's arms. Then ensued a babel of voices.

All the fishermen in the village seemed thronging to shake hands with me and Ford. I gathered from their talk that great anxiety had been felt on our account, that a lifeboat had been sent to our aid and had fallen in with the Mermaid only just in time to save the lives of those on board, for she had capsized and left them all struggling in the water. By the time this was effected the wind went down; and, finding the Vixen was not in pressing need of assistance, the lifeboat made for shore, where she arrived long before we did.

I was borne on the shoulders of my comrades to Meadows' house, where a good glass of grog helped to steady my nerves. But as soon as I was able to walk I insisted on going home, giving as an excuse that I wanted to turn in. To remain under Meadows' roof was intolerable.

"Well, if go you must," Luke exclaimed, when he found I would stay no longer, "I will see you to your door. Don't cry, my girl; he will be all right in the morning. Ben and I will look after him."

"Powell," Holding began, as soon as I reached my room, "you and I have a little matter to settle, and the sooner it is done the better. I know what's troubling you. I knew it last night, and I would have set you right then if you would have listened to me. I don't deny I was put out by what you said—but—Well, I have been very near death to-day, and such things seem of no importance. You think Lizzie and I are lovers, don't you? All the village thinks so. Because I have taken a little house of my own I am going to take a wife, they say. And so I am. Mary Blake and I hope to come together at Christmas. She lives at the place where I've been working all summer.

"As I haven't a creature belonging to me, I came to Lizzie for help: for was no I know of how things ought to look, or what a girl likes to have about her? But you've no call to be jealous; Lizzie is yours heart and soul. I've thought so many a day, and now I'm sure of it. I confess I pretended to make love to her last night, but it was only a bit of fun. Will you forget and forgive?"

What a relief those words were to me! I tried to tell him of all the wicked thoughts that had filled my brain, and to ask his pardon for them; but he would not let me speak, and presently went away, leaving me alone with Luke Meadows.

I could do no less than confess the state of my heart to the old man, though I was scarcely in a condition to talk coherently. But Lizzie's grief and terror during the storm had softened him; and instead of repelling me as I had feared he would do, he smiled as he said it was true he had vowed never to part with his little girl; but if I liked to come and live at the cottage, I might marry her when I pleased, and the sooner the better.

But that happy day was not to dawn yet awhile. The next morning found me unable to rise from my bed, and many weeks passed before I could leave it again. Through the fever that followed, Holding nursed me like a brother, even putting off his own wedding rather than leave me to strange hands; and I verily believe it was owing to his watchful care that I ever recovered my health—as it was to him I owed the restoration of my peace of mind.

Winter had passed away, and the spring flowers were peeping from their hiding places in the grass, before Lizzie Meadows and I were man and wife. All Lizzie's old playfellows came to the church to see her married, and wish her happiness with the lad she had chosen: but no one's words touched me so nearly as did those of Ben Holding.

"Ah, Ben," I whispered as I wrung his hand, "I don't deserve my happiness, and no one knows that better than you do."

Of course he assured me it was all nonsense, and I must not let such thoughts trouble me; but I know well that the recollection of that terrible day will never fade from my memory.—Chamber's Journal.

A RECORD BREAKING DIAMOND.

Leo XIII Presented With a 971 Carat Gem Found in the Transvaal.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the Pope has received from the President of the Transvaal Republic a diamond weighing 971 carats. The stone was found by an African chief in the mines at Jagersfontein, and is the largest known. It is of a bluish white cast and practically perfect, its only blemish being a tiny spot, which is invisible to the naked eye.

If the description of the diamond referred to is correct it is a phenomenal gem. The Kohinoor, one of the most celebrated diamonds in the world, weighed when it came into the possession of the British Crown 186 1-16 carats, and was reduced by cutting to 103 1-16 carats. The Great Mogul, which mysteriously disappeared at the sacking of Delhi, is said to weigh 280 carats. The Orloff mounted in the imperial scepter of Russia, weighs 193 carats. The Regent, another historically famous gem, and among the most perfect in water and cutting, originally known as the Pitt diamond, weighed in the rough state 410 carats, which was reduced in cutting to 136 3-4 carats. The stone, purchased by the Duke of Orleans in 1717 for the French Crown is now the property of the French Republic and is valued at $2,500,000. The price paid for it was $675,000. The Victoria or Imperial diamond weighs 180 carats, and was purchased by the Nizam of Hyderabad for $1,500,000. Another large diamond is the De Beers. It weighs 125 carats, but its value is considerably lessened by the fact that it is of a light yellow color. It is owned by an Indian prince. It will, perhaps, be also interesting to know that a carat is 3.2 grains troy, so that the diamond just presented to the Pope weighs very nearly 6 1-2 ounces.

A Handy Man.

Oh, mister, I used to be a jiggler in a dime museum and would like ter git a situation as waiter.

Wid knives, forks an' plates I could astonish 'em—an' den git off a balancing act dat would crowd de place.—New York Herald.

The Turkish Toe.

Something new is the "Turkish toe." It is two inches longer than the foot, and turned up so that the least bit of the sole appears to view when worn. It is an elongated razor toe. It is made on both men and women's lasts, and manufacturers say it will be a permanent style. There is a decided tendency to narrow toes. Even the square ones are "narrow square." As for the material in shoes, colors will lead, then patent leather, kangaroo, and, of course, glazed kid will be fashionable.

A Tenant for Life.

"Have you boarded long at this house?" inquired the new boarder of the sour, dejected man sitting next to him.

"About ten years."

"I don't see how you can stand it. Why haven't you left long ago?"

"No other place to go," said the other dismally. "The landlady's my wife."—Le Figaro.

One Swallow

"don't make a spring." Neither will one bottle of Scott's Emulsion cure a well established case of Consumption, but it will ease the Cough, relieve the irritation and arrest the progress of the disease, and if persistently used, with the observance of the laws of health, will surely restore the patient in the early stages and give great comfort and prolong life in the latter stages.

It is simply Cod-liver Oil properly emulsified, combined with Hypophosphites and Glycerine. It is a tissue-builder.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

WALL PAPER

WALL PAPER,

Wall Paper.

Paint, Brushes, Shades, Glass, Carpets, Rugs.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young, Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 2m

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 28 tf

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C.

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

E. C. Pease, Dictator.
E. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 6094, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 28 5

Anchor Lodge, No. 169, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
W. A. Thorne, Secretary.

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON.

New No. 123, North Ave., Plainfield

Telephone 149 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 25 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.39 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.36 p.m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond

9 49 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago, and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00 9.06, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 06, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 3 34, 5 45, 6 17, 6 45, 7 07, 7 20, 7 40, 7 57, 8 06, 8 20, 8 33, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 38, 10 49, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 18, 1 20, 1 36, 2 24, 2 40, 2 46, 3 27, 3 47, 4 43, 5 15, 6 20, 6 45, 6 06, 6 27, 6 48, 6 58, 7 07, 7 26, 7 39, 8 .., 9 10, 9 50, 10 03, 11 03 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 3 34, 7 54, 8 45, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 38, 1 44, 2 20, 2 45, 3 45, 4 38, 5 34, 5 49, 7 06, 7 12, 7 25, 7 06, 8 20, 9 18, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 00, 3 01, 7 19, 9 06, 9 26, 11 43 A. M., 1 06, 1 37, 3 23, 5 06, 6 06, 7 45, 8 43, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 3 09, 9 06, 9 26, 10 41 A. M.; 3 01, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 3 09 a. m.

Cape May and Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Bayway—1, 1 43 daily ex. Monday, 4 06, 6 44, 7 10, 7 50, 9 54, 9 46, 9 50, 10 09, 11 09, a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 1 37, 2 48, 3 20, 3 29, 3 50, 4 20, 4 53, 5 22, 6 06, 6 36, 6 12, 6 17, 6 27, 6 45, 8 02, 8 09, 9 20, 9 46, 9 54, 11 02 11 35 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 1, 1 43, 3 09, 3 43, 9 49, 10 25 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 2 47, 3 20, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 14, 10 14, 11 and 11 35 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 09, 3 37, 7 10, 7 39, 9 05, 9 26, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 35, 1 27, 2 45, 3 50, 4 29, 5 05, 5 47, 6 05, 6 45, 7 46, 9 39 and 11 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 09, 3 09, 9 05, 9 26 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 45, 7 47, 9 18, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 50 a.m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 29 9 54 p m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 25, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 50, 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 29 7 54 9 54 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 25, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 35, 2 45 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 00, 3 37, 7 10, 7 39, 9 05, 9 26, 11 43 A. M., 1 06, 1 37, 2 45, 3 06, 3 23, 7 06, 7 46, 9 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 3 09, 9 05, 9 26, 10 41 A. M., 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 39 A. M., 2 45 and 5 40 p. m., and 5 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 39 A. M.; 2 45 P. M.

For Freehold—7 39, 11 43 a. m., 4 53, 5 06 p.m., via Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 43 a. m., 4 53 and 5 06 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 12 5 46 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 28 a. m., and 5 46 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.

For Boston—3 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 30, 7 20, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 20, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 20, 3 00, 3 20, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 30, 6 40, 7 00, 7 20, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 30 p. m., 12 15 night. Sundays, 1 00, 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30 5 00, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 20, 8 00, 8 20, 9 30, 10 15 10 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 5 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 5, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart. Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't

80 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner at short notice.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 34, 3 37, 6 32, 8 30, *9 27, 9 50 *7 20, *7 50, 8, 8 15, 8 37, 9 01, 9 45, 9 52, 10 37, 11 10, A. M., 12 06, 1 15, 2 37, 4 10, 5 04, 6 04, 7 09, 8 30, 9 32, 10 17, 11 32 P. M. Sunday—2 14, 3 37, 8 05, 9 01, 9 52, 10 06, 11 32, 8 32, 10 17 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 20, 8 00, *7 15, 8 45, 9 10, 10, 11 45, A. M., 1 10, 3 00, 3 30, 3 45, 4, 4 30, 5, *5 15, except Saturday, 5 30 5 45, 6, 6 15, 6 30, *7 30, 8, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30 P. M. 12 15, night. Sunday—4 30, *7 15, 8 30, 9 15, A. M., 12 M., 1 0 15, 5 30, 7, 9 00, 10 00 P. M., 12 15 night. 1 A M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 6 32, 6 29, 8 09, 7 30, 9 02, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, A. M., 12 06, 1 15, 3 02, 3 32, 5 01, 4 00, 5 54, 6 54, 7 02, 8 32, 10 17 11 29 P. M. Sunday—8 01, 8 09, 10 06, 11 29, A. M. 12 29, 1 45, 3 30, 5 30, 7 11, 8 32, 9 32, 10 17 P. M.

Leave Newark 6 15, 7 15, 7 55, 8 39, 9 09, 10 09, 11 26 A.M. 1 15, 1 35, 2 20 Saturday only, 3 05, 3 35, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 40, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 9 05, 10 05, 11 26 P. M. Sunday—7 30, 8 44, 9 25, 11 05, A. M., 1 10, 3 35, 4 10, 5 40, 7 30, 9 30, 10 30 P. M. Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

"LAINFIELD AN SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 a.m., 12 05 2 05, 3 02, 3 45, 4 26, 5 05, 5 14, 5 54, 6 54, 8 19, 9 08, 9 21, 10 26, 11 23 P. M. 12 38 night Sunday—8 45, 9 34, A. M., 2 08, 3 26, 6 14, 6 30, 10 18, 11 14 P. M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 30, 7 00, 7 35, 7 55, 8 20, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 A. M., 12 57, 1 45, 3 05, 3 25, 4 25, 5 25, 6 25, 6 55, 7 47, 8 45, 11 05, P. M. Sunday 8 25, 9 45, 10 55 A. M., 12 05, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 05, 9 05, 9 40, M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 9 16, 9 54, A. M., 12 46, 3 02, 5 14, 6 26, 8 21 P. M. Sunday—6 45, 9 16 A. M., 5 26, 8 21 P. M.

Leave Easton 6 05, 7 00, 8 55, A. M., 12 22, 4 04, 7 05 P. M. Sundays—7 15, 10 02, A. M. 6 40, 7 20, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p.m

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 45 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 05 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

6 14 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

8 19 P. M. for Flemington.

8 35 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

9 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

6 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 26 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 2 05 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6 35 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 57 a. m. 1 18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c. Leave Plainfield 8 57, 6, 10 27, a. m 1 18, 3 51, 6 54, p. m, Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 9 53, a. m., 3 20 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 57, 6 32, 8 10 27 a. m. 1 18, 3 51, 6 50, 6 54, 7 05 p.m. Sunday—6 45, a. m., 3 20 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 57, 5 10 27 a.m., 1 18 3 51, 6 50 p.m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 45, 6 48, 7 22 48, a. m., 2 09*, 5 14* 6 21, 9 17* p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—7 45, 9 01, a. m., 2 09*, 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 5 45, 8 44, 9 40*, 10 48, a. m., 12 16, 2 09*, 6 24*, 8 28*, 9 21, 9 37* p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday—5 45, 9 24, a. m., 2 09*, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 12 night.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 50, 9 05, 10 26, a.m. 12 15* 2 10, 4 29* 5 54, 9 05 p. m. Sundays—1 00, 4 56, 9 05, 10 27 a. m. 1 15* 4 25 6 49*, 9 03 p. m

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

O. R. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging. 87 Chatham street.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

CARPETS

Made and Laid Wi h Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Stree', Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at s ch low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N J

UNUSUAL.

Great reductions, "half price sales," and "goods at cost," usually mean undesirable things that must fairly be kicked out, if they are to go out.

This week we offer two brilliant exceptions—

1st—$12 and $15 Ulsters at $7.90.

2d—$15 and $20 Overcoats at $10.90.

We make prices this week that will move them like feathers before a March wind.

WERNER'S, 206 West Front St

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 1 19 tf

FRED DOUGLASS.

STORIES OF THE EMINENT BLACK MAN'S CHARACTER.

His Dislike of the Notoriety Which Was Prompted by Curiosity. How He Squelched a Southern Senator's Son. An Imposing Orator.

The passing away of Frederick Douglass recalls a remarkable personality. Who that ever listened to him can forget the marvelous oratory, the splendid appearing man? Frederick Douglass looked the great man, and nowhere more so than when speaking. There was something in his pose, in his bearing, the manner of that straight, towering six feet of humanity which, to my way of thinking, surpassed all others, and, so far as ability was concerned, where were one more worthy to be a Senator of the United States.

For years, as many will remember, Mr. Douglass was in great demand on the lecture platform; and when I lived in an Illinois town he lectured one evening—following Gen. Howard in the course—at a town about a mile distant. He was stopping at a hotel, and as he was a friend of my grandfather, at whose house I had met him, I called to pay my respects. I was shown to his room, where I found him sitting in a rocking chair mending the fire with a large pair of tongs. He seemed very distant, if not surly at first, merely bowing and not in the slightest relaxing his efforts with the tongs. But on my mentioning the name of my grandfather, and informing him that I was that tremendously important personage—the village minister, and on his apparently sensing the idea that I hadn't called out of curiosity, but really to pay my respects, his manner changed at once and entirely.

He laid down the tongs, rose from his chair, and walking toward me, offered his hand, saying: "Pardon me, sir; I am very glad to see you. I thought—pray be seated"—with which he handed me a chair, reseating himself in his rocking chair, laid his head back and began talking. After a short time the proprietor entered the room and informed Mr. Douglass that tea was ready.

"Thank you," he replied, "I will take tea later"—and when the landlord had departed he said:

"I have been annoyed so many times at public tables that I never venture if I can avoid it." Expressing some surprise at this, he said: "Yes, I have had people leave the table when I took my seat; and the many black, scowling looks are quite as bad." Recalling his remark that Mr. Lincoln was the only man who, in the course of a visit, did not remind him in some way that he was a colored man, I held my peace. In about half an hour the landlord again appeared, and extending me an invitation, I went down with Mr. Douglass and had the pleasure of taking supper with him.

His lecture that evening was on "The Evils That Beset the Republic," and during the first part of it he read largely from his manuscript. He appeared to be ill at ease, and was, I observed continually working at the lapel of his coat with his left hand. Before long, however, he turned from the desk and notes, walked slowly round to the front of the platform, buttoned his coat, gave his mane a sort of shake, and then for nearly two hours made that kind of a speech which but few men in this world have been able to make.

At its close I went up to him to express the pleasure I had felt, and I recall that, as he walked toward me, he had unbuttoned his coat and put both hands in his vest pockets—expressive apparently of honest pride and satisfaction at the performance.

When I had finished my edifying remarks, he said: "I delivered that lecture some time ago in Baltimore, and at its conclusion a pompous young Southerner came up to me and began what he was going to say with the remark: 'Mr. Douglass, I am the son of a United States Senator.' I cut him short," said Douglass, "by saying: 'I have good reason for believing that I, too, am the son of a United States Senator.' The young man," he added, "didn't say another word, but looked at me turned and left the platform."

How a Dog Became a Teetotaler.

A lady at Westgate-on-Sea tells a remarkable anecdote of a dog who was cured of its evil habit of love for liquor. Some mischievous persons had so often given to her father's great dog bits of bread soaked in beer that Neptune grew fond of the artificial dainty. One day, when a large party was returning from a picnic, Nep was put on the box seat beside the driver of the carriage as he seemed too tired to run home all the way. He must have drunk some liquor at the feast, for on the road he fell from the carriage to the ground. No bones were broken, though he must have got a severe shake and a fright in the fall. The result was that Nep never once after that day could be induced to touch bread soaked with liquor, turning from it with loathing and contempt, the very smell of it being repulsive. In fact, he became a teetotaler.

Economizing the Time.

"We will wait a few minutes longer," said the pastor, "in order to give an opportunity for those who may wish to unite with the church to come forward and do so."

A solemn hush fell upon the congregation, but nobody moved.

At last a tall, slender, lantern jawed, long whiskered man sitting near the door rose up and said:

"While the young people in the audience are making up their minds on this all important question I should like to offer a few thoughts on the subject of free coinage."—Chicago Tribune.

Her Sweet Content.

In the impenetrable darkness she was alone with her thoughts. The chill of morning was stealing into her chamber.

"He comes," she murmured. "My husband comes."

Tears sprang to her eyes.

"Unfeeling man."

She hearkened yet again.

"Unfeeling man," she whispered, as she distinctly heard him run his face against the hatrack.

A sense of sweet content possessed her now.—Puck.

The Great Modern Remedy.

"Poor Thompson! I'm dreadfully sorry for him."

"What ails Thompson?"

"Why, he's laid up with rheumatism. Can't find a doctor who can help him."

"Why doesn't he try shooting ducks in [illegible]"—Judy.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT.

The Story of a Lost Diamond Ring and a Man that Wouldn't Be Searched.

It is by no means a new tale, but maybe you haven't heard it before. At a dinner party given in New York city by a lady of wealth there were present numerous representatives of the refinement and fashion of the community. In the course of the evening it was remarked that one of the ladies wore a diamond ring of exceptional beauty, and with amiable condescension the fair owner took the treasure from her finger and passed it around for the scrutiny and admiration of the other guests. An hour or two later this lady said:

"I enjoy a joke as heartily as any of the rest of you, but it appears to me that this jest has gone too far. Will the gentleman or lady who has my ring please return it to me at once."

These words fell like a thunderbolt upon the company. All protested that they had passed the ring along, while the owner declared that it had not come back to her. It was clear that a theft had been committed and it was determined to institute a search of each guest in order that suspicion might not lie against any innocent person.

There was one in all the company who declined to be searched. He was a young artist who by reason of his talents and the charm of his personality had been accepted as a welcome guest at the social functions of the rich. In fact, he had been much courted, but now his refusal to submit to the test of his honesty convinced his former friends that he was indeed a thief and in no way worthy of their confidence. He was incontinently dismissed from the presence of the company and thereafter was tabooed by his former patrons.

But, lo and behold! Several months after this distressing scene the ring was found, caught and hid away in one of the numerous ruffles with which its owner's dress was decorated. A mutual friend immediately sought out the young artist and told him of the recovery of the lost ring and offered all reparation that an honorable man could ask.

"But tell me," asked this mutual friend, "why, innocent as you were, you refused to submit to the search which would have proved your innocence?"

"I had intended keeping my secret," replied the artist, "but under the circumstances I feel warranted in telling you the story of my life here in New York, an experience involving privation, humiliation, deception and sorrow." He proceeded to say that he was married and that his wife was an invalid. Such was their poverty that oftentimes they were without food. Yet his wife insisted that he should avail himself of the invitations extended to him by the rich, feeling that ultimately these social advantages would redound to his financial profit. The artist, remembering always the lonely lot of his invalid wife and knowing well that while he feasted she wanted food, made it a practice to pilfer viands from the tables of his fashionable host and convey them home to his sick and suffering dear one.

"When the search was suggested that particular evening," said the young artist, "I refused to submit to it because I had only a moment before secreted in my coat tail pocket part of a fowl which I intended for my invalid wife. I chose to be wrongfully adjudged a thief rather than expose the poverty and wretchedness of my domestic life."

INTERNATIONAL SIGNAL CODE.

How Vessels of Different Nations Communicate at Sea.

On July 3, 1855, a committee was appointed by the British board of trade "to inquire into and report upon the subject of a code of signals to be used at sea." In September of the following year this committee presented a code made up of eighteen flags and pennants representing the eighteen consonant letters of the alphabet, out of which 78,642 combinations could be made for words and sentences. A signal book of combinations, with the words, sentences, names of places and ships which these combinations represented was prepared, adopted and afterward translated by many foreign nations. This code has now become established all over the world and is known as the International Signal Code. Now when a ship meets another ship at sea her captain looks in his signal book for the combination of flags which represent his ship's name and hoists them. The captain of the other ship looks at that combination in his book and reads opposite to it the same name. Then he tells his ship's name in the same way. Then he may ask questions to tell anything by looking in the signal book for the sentences or parts of sentences he wants and hoisting the combination of flags which makes them. In his own language, the other captain will find the same sentences opposite the same combinations of flag letters in his own signal book.—St. Nicholas.

The Latest Single Tax Scheme.

Representatsve Moroney has introduced in the Texas House a bill providing for the levying of a $50 annual tax upon all unmarried men of 30 years of age who under oath swear that they have not exerted due diligence in trying to get married. He shall be exempt from the fine, however, if he can produce evidence to show that he tried to get married. To be exempt from this act, however, if he remains single he must produce the affidavit of some reputable woman that at least once a year he has made a proposal of marriage to her.

Perils of Newsboy Life in Duluth.

James Beerley, a carrier for a morning paper in Duluth, at 7 o'clock one morning was confronted by a bear which came from a clump of trees and started toward him. The boy ran and was followed for nearly a mile. Then he drew his knife and cut the brute twice, when a team arrived and scared the bear awaway in time to save the boy's life.

Choosing Between Two Perils.

During the past two weeks twenty-one persons have been baptized at Prineville in the cold waters of Ochoco Creek, and others are waiting for much warmer water, taking their chances meanwhile with other sinners.

It is a curious fact that when a man gets damaged in a railway accident he always applies to the railway company for further damages.

It is stated that at a Chinese luncheon forty courses are usually served. We suppose that the Chinese take it as a matter of course.—Judy.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY

WITH EVERY ONE POUND bale OF

DUKES MIXTURE

for 35 cents

Every pipe stamped DUKES MIXTURE or ATC

2 oz. PACKAGES 5¢

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The

BEE H VE

keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

Treasury Department

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

JAMES H. ECKELS,
Comptroller of the Currency.

3 4 30

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's

LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1876.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,

176 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 92 y

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. I. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 19 t

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

HER PA'S EXCEPTION.

The low-descending sun with torch of fire
Illumined cloudland's minaret and spire
As ardent maiden said unto her sire,
"A sight more vivid never met my quest!"
"Except", quoth he, cheered by the grate-fire bright,
"This warmth-disseminating anthra-cite
I bought of Geo. O. Stevens yesternight,
At 747 Front St., West."

(Orders may be left at VanBuren & Timpson's, opposite railroad station, or at G. A. Hallock's, 109 West Front street.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort
[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.
[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $15 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey porkland poultry a specialty.
203 LIBERTY STREET.

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles,

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

Vanity

is a virtuous vice. The world is better for it. It makes men ambitious—and it makes women careful of their personal appearance. It doesn't take much money to keep well-dressed now-a-days. Cleaning or dyeing makes it possible to use soiled or faded garments. And there's where our ax comes in. We are in the Cleaning and Dyeing business. Our cleaner is ready, and our dyer has his fall shades mixed.

Ask for our little book—"Re-Freshing Thoughts." It tells about cleaning the men's clothing.

HILLIER & Co.,

175 North ave.

COMFORT PEASE AND HER GOLD RING.

By MARY E. WILKINS.

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller]

CHAPTER III.

When Comfort came downstairs the next morning there was a bright red spot on each cheek, and she was trembling as if she had a chill.

Her mother noticed it and asked her if she was cold, and Comfort said: "Yes, ma'am."

"Well, draw your stool up close to the fire and get warm," said her mother. "Breakfast is most ready. You can have some of these pancakes to carry to school for your dinner."

Comfort sat soberly in the chimney corner until breakfast was ready, as her mother bade her. She was very silent and did not say anything during breakfast, unless some one asked her a question.

When she started for school, her mother and grandmother, stood in the window and watched her.

It was a very cold morning, and Mrs. Pease had put her green shawl on Comfort over her coat, and the little girl looked very short and stout as she trudged along between the snow ridges which bordered the path, and yet there was a forlorn air about her.

"I don't know as the child was fit to go to school to-day," Mrs. Pease said doubtfully.

"She didn't look very well, and she didn't eat much breakfast, either," said Grandmother Atkins.

"She was always crazy after hot pancakes, too," said her mother.

"Hadn't you better call her back, Em'ly?"

"No, I won't," said Mrs. Pease, turning away from the window. "She's begun to go to school, and I'm not going to take her out unless I'm sure she ain't able to go."

So Comfort Pease went on to school and she had the gold ring in her pocket, which was tied around her waist with a string under her dress skirt, as was the fashion then. Comfort often felt of the pocket to be sure the ring was safe as she went along. It was bitterly cold, the snow creaked under her stout shoes. Besides the green shawl, her red tippet was wound twice around her neck and face, but her blue eyes peering over it were full of tears which the frosty wind forced into them, and her breath came short and quick. When she came in sight of the schoolhouse she could see the straight column of smoke rising out of the chimney, it was so thin in the cold air. There were no scholars out in the yard, only a group coming down the road in the opposite direction. It was too cold to play out of doors before school as usual.

Comfort pulled off her mittens, thrust her hand in her pocket, dangling against her blue woolen petticoat, and drew out the gold ring.

Then she slipped it on over the third and fourth fingers of her left hand, put her mittens on again, and went on.

It was quite still in the schoolhouse, although school had not begun, because Miss Tabitha Hanks had arrived. Her spare form, stiff and wide, and perpendicular as a board, showed above the desk. She wore a purple merino dress buttoned down the front with bar! black buttons, and a great breast pin of twisted gold. Her hair was looped down over her ears in two folds like shiny drab satin. It scarcely looked like hair, the surface was so smooth and unbroken, and a great tortoise shell comb topped it like a coronet.

"GOT THAT GOLD RING?" SHE ASKED AGAIN.

Miss Tabitha's nose was red and rasped with the cold, her thin lips were blue and her bony hands were numb, but she set copies in the writing book with stern patience. Not one to yield to a little fall in temperature was Tabitha Hanks. Moreover she kept a sharp eye on the school, and she saw every scholar who entered, while not seeming to do so.

She saw Comfort Pease, when she came stepping shyly in, and at once noticed something peculiar about her. Comfort wore the same red thibet dress and the same gingham apron that she had worn the day before, her brown hair was combed off her high, serious forehead and braided in the same smooth tails, her blue eyes looked abroad in the same sober and timid fashion, and yet there was a change.

Miss Tabitha gave a quick frown and a sharp glance of her grey eyes at her, then she continued setting her copy. "That child's up to something," she thought, while she wrote out in her beautiful shaded hand: "All is not gold that glitters."

Comfort went forward to the stove which was surrounded by a ring of girls and boys. Matilda Stebbins and Rosy were there with the rest. Matilda moved aside at once when she saw Comfort and made room for her near the stove.

"Hullo, Comfort Pease," said she.

"Hullo," returned Comfort.

Comfort held her numb right hand to the stove, but the other she kept clenched in a little blue fist hidden in her dress folds.

"Cold, ain't it?" said Matilda.

"Dreadful," said Comfort, with a shiver.

"Why don't you warm both your hands?" asked Matilda.

"My other hand ain't cold," said Comfort, and she really did not think it was. She was not aware of any sensation in that hand except that of the gold ring binding together the third and fourth fingers.

Pretty soon the big girl with red cheeks came in. Her cheeks were redder than ever, and her black eyes seemed to have caught something of the sparkle of the frost outside. "Hullo," said she, when she caught sight of Comfort. "That you, Comfort Pease?"

"Hullo," Comfort returned faintly. She was dreadfully afraid of this big girl, who was as much as sixteen years old and studied algebra and was also said to have a beau.

"Got that gold ring?" inquired the big girl, with a giggle, as she held out her hands to the stove.

Comfort looked at her as if she were going to cry.

"You're real mean to tease her, so there!" said Matilda Stebbins, bravely, in the face of the big girl, who persisted, nevertheless. "Got that gold ring?" she asked again, with her teasing giggle, which the others echoed.

Comfort slowly raised her left arm. She unfolded her little blue fist, and there on the third and fourth fingers of her hand shone the gold ring.

Then there was such an outcry that Miss Tabitha Hanks looked up from her copy, and kept her wary eyes fixed on the group at the stove.

"My sakes alive! Look at Comfort Pease with a gold ring on two fingers!" screamed the big girl, and all the rest joined in.

The other scholars in the room came crowding up to the stove. "Le's see it?" they demanded of Comfort. They teased her to let them take it. "Lem me take it for just a minute? I'll give it right back, honest," they begged, but Comfort was firm about that; she would not let that ring go from her own two fingers for one minute.

"Ain't she stingy with her old ring?" said Sarah Allen to Rosy Stebbins. "Maybe it ain't real gold," whispered Rosy, but Comfort heard her. "'Tis, too!" said she, stoutly.

"It's brass, I can tell by the color," teased one of the big boys; "'fore I'd wear a brass ring if I was a girl."

"It ain't brass!" almost sobbed Comfort.

Miss Tabitha Hanks arose slowly, and came over to the stove. She came so silently and secretly that the scholars did not notice it, and they all jumped when she spoke.

"You may all take your seats," said she, "if it is a little before nine. You can study until school begins. I can't have so much noise and confusion."

The scholars flocked discontentedly to their seats. "It's all the fault of your old brass ring," whispered the big boy to Comfort with a malicious grin, and she trembled.

"Your mother let you wear it, didn't she," whispered Matilda to Comfort as the two took their seats in the bench. But Comfort did not seem to hear her, and Miss Tabitha looked that way, and Matilda dared not whisper again. Miss Tabitha moreover looked as though she had heard what she said, although that did not seem possible.

However, Miss Tabitha's ears had a reputation among the scholars for almost as fabulous powers as her eyes. Matilda Stebbins was quite sure she heard, and Miss Tabitha's after course confirmed her opinion.

The reading class was out on the floor fixing its toes on the line when Miss Tabitha walked behind it straight to Comfort.

"Comfort Pease," said she, "I don't believe your mother ever sent you to school wearing a ring after that fashion. You may take it off."

Comfort took it off. The eyes of the whole school watched her; even the reading class looked over its shoulders.

"Now," said Miss Tabitha, "put it in your pocket."

Comfort put the ring in her pocket. Her face was flushing redder and redder, and the tears rolled down her cheeks.

Miss Tabitha drew out a large pin, which was quilted into the bosom of her dress, and proceeded to pin up Comfort's pocket. "There," said she. "Now you leave that ring in there and don't you touch it till you go home, then you give it right to your mother. And don't you take that pin out, if you do I shall whip you."

Miss Tabitha turned suddenly on the reading class, and the faces went about with a jerk. "Turn to the fifty-sixth page," she commanded, and the books all rustled open as she went to the front. Matilda gave Comfort a sympathizing poke and Miss Tabitha an indignant scowl under cover of the reading class, but Comfort sat still with the tears dropping down on her spelling book. She had never felt so guilty and so humble in her life. She made up her mind she would tell her mother about it and put the ring back in the box that night and never take it out again until her finger grew to it, and if it never did she would try to be resigned.

When it was time for recess, Miss Tabitha sent them all out of doors. "I know it's cold," said she, "but a little fresh air won't hurt any of you. You can run around and keep warm."

Poor Comfort dreaded to go out. She knew just how the boys and girls would tease her. But Matilda Stebbins stood by her, and the two hurried out before the others and ran together down the road.

"We've got time to run down to the old Loomis place and back before the bell rings," said Matilda. "If you stay here they'll all tease you dreadfully to show that ring, and if you do she'll whip you. She always does what she says she will."

The two girls got back to the schoolhouse just as the bell rung, and beyond sundry elbow nudges and teasing whispers, as they went in, Comfort had no trouble. She took her seat and meekly opened her geography.

Once in awhile she wondered, with a qualm of anxiety, if her ring was safe. She dare not even feel of her pocket under her dress. Whenever she thought of it Miss Tabitha seemed to be looking straight at her. Poor Comfort had a feeling that Miss Tabitha could see her very thoughts.

The Stebbinses and Sarah Allen usually stayed at noon, but that day they all went home. Sarah Allen had company, and the Stebbinses had a chicken dinner. So Comfort stayed alone. The other scholars lived near enough the schoolhouse to go home every day unless it was very stormy weather.

After everybody was gone, Miss Tabitha and all, the first thing Comfort did was to slide her hand down over the bottom of her pocket, and carefully feel of it under her dress skirt.

Her heart gave a great leap and seemed to stand still—she could not feel any ring there.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: 'I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

Three New Styles.

A Year of Paper Dolls 60c

The Brownies in Paper Dolls 60c

Famous Queens in Paper Dolls 15c

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

Hot Rolls

of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department, 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
69c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....69c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 20c " 10c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $4 25—worth $6
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2 49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1 25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 00 " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44, for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

BAMBERGER'S

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"

NEWARK, N. J.

Phenomenal Values

IN

UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

The careful housewife whose thoughts will soon turn to spring house cleaning and fixings, and who desires to practice economy, cannot possibly make a better investment than in the grand values we offer in Upholstery Goods.

New Nottingham Lace Curtains,

Very choice and well covered designs and excellent quality,

98c Value, $1.49 Value, $1.98 Value, $2.98 Value, $3.98 Value

59c 98c $1.25 $1.98 $2.98

FIGURED CHINA SILK

for drapery and also suitable for pillow covering, new designs and choice colors, value 69c. at

49 cents.

FIGURED SILKALINE

36 inches wide, fine designs and desirable colorings, value 12½c, at

7½ cents.

TAMBONIED SASH MUSLIN

with double border and well covered centres, in the latest designs, very choice quality, value 19c, at 12½ cents.

CHENILLE PORTIERES,

each pair 75 inches wide, wide dado and frieze and heavy tassel fringe, excellent weighty quality, all the most desirable shades, value $2.98, at $1 98.

Mail orders promptly filled.

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

SPRING STYLES

In Men's Hats are in today.

G. A. Hallock, 109 West Front St.

Our Men's $3 Shoes

will give you lots of wear and good solid comfort.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue

IF YOU WANT

ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

Spring Curry Comb

Clock Spring Blade. Soft as a Brush. Fits every Curve. The Only Perfect Comb. Used by U. S. Army and by Barnum and Forepaugh Circuses, and Leading Horsemen of the World. Ask your Dealer for It. Sample mailed post paid 25 cents. Give our name on the handle. SPRING CURRY COMB CO., 102 Lafayette St., South Bend, Indiana.

78t-1 9-tt

HEATH & DRAKE

Announce their

Grand

Spring Opening

on Tuesday,

Wednesday,
Thursday,

MARCH 12, 13 and 14.

When a line of goods suitable for the season will be exhibited, consisting of elegant, medium and low priced dry goods upholstery, carpets, etc.

You are cordially invited to attend.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET,

Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

22 tf

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1 50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 2 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Nuts, Etc.,

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.,

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city, free of charge 9 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit,

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 238 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

SAMANTHA'S ALBUM.

The W. C. T. U. Produce Pictures of the Past.

A very pleasant entertainment was given in the W. C. T. U. rooms on Watchung avenue last night for the benefit of the Union.

"Aunt Samantha's Album" was the greatest source of amusement. This was a large frame with a door on which the word Album was printed in gilt letters. The pictures were represented by people who stood behind the frame.

Mrs. J. G. Miller represented Aunt Samantha. She was dressed in old-style costume, and told what person each picture was to represent.

The first picture was an old maid dressed in the height of fashion with a very large hat. The picture of Uncle Josh, represented by Louis Rodgers, caused much laughter. The next picture was one of Aunt Samantha wearing her wedding dress, another of her as a school girl.

She showed the pictures of all the relatives she ever had, and of the clergyman and deacon that married some of them. There were thirty-six pictures.

Those who participated in this part of the programme were the Misses Cahoone, Miss Clyte Burnett, Miss Mineola Tomlinson, Miss Ida Randolph, Miss Mabelle Maxson, Miss Grace Lewis, Mrs. Krom, Miss Margarette Burnett, Miss Lou Clawson, and Louis Rodgers, Asa Randolph, Rolland Tomlinson, Burt Honeyman, Sydney Titsworth, E. Frank Vail, Arthur W. Vail, and Carl Pfender.

The next number on the programme was a trombone solo by Mr. Dunham, accompanied by Miss Jessie Utter on the piano. Mr. Evans was then announced. He charmed his hearers by his whistling, and was encored. After a cornet solo by Dr. Berg, Mr. Evans delighted the audience with another solo. The last number on the programme was instrumental music, Dr. and Miss Berg on cornets, Mr. Dunham on the trombone, and Miss Jessie Utter on the piano.

There was a large attendance, and all thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment.

TELEPHONE RATES.

Somerville Merely Enjoying a Trial Privilege Which Plainfield Had Before Her.

In corroboration of the despatch from Somerville, concerning telephone rates, published in The Press yesterday, The Unionist-Gazette publishes the following:

"The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company have put a switch in Field's drug store for the accommodation of a limited number of subscribers. Pay stations have been opened in Ballantine & VanFleet's building and at Sliberts in Raritan. Telephones will be put in for subscribers for a trial year at very moderate rates. This service, which is of the very best, connects with all parts of New Jersey and New York city."

It therefore appears, as The Press intimated, that the reduced rate is merely for a trial year, a custom which was followed when 'phones were introduced in Plainfield. The trial rate for the first year's service in Plainfield was a large reduction below the present cost of rentals; and the company's officials state that the prices charged today are as low as can be afforded, considering the great cost of operating and maintaining so comprehensive and satisfactory a system. The Plainfield service is today a model of promptness and efficiency; and in extending it to Somerville, Manager Runyon is bringing that benighted community within the bounds of civilization.

This Bicycle Free.

Bicycles are cheap this year, but the cheapest wheel to be had in town is to be found in the window at Love's, corner of North and Watchung avenues.

He offers a beautiful Remington wheel to the largest cash buyer of wall paper, carpets, shades, paints, oils, etc., between the 14th of March and June 1.

Love is having a great clearance sale. He says these are hard times, but he must have business. He has an immense stock of the newest and most beautiful designs, and offers them at prices defying competition.

Watchung is the avenue. Love's is the corner; cars stop at the door.

A Portable Pool.

B. W. Hand's Christian Mission on Liberty street has been very successful. Four candidates await baptism. A portable pool will soon be built suitable for baptismal purposes. By request Sunday evening Mr. Hand will preach on Christianity against Ingersoll's theories.

—A dance which a number of Plainfielders will attend will be given at New Market Wednesday evening, March 27.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

FIVE AGAINST FOUR.

One-Sided Bowling Contest Between Plainfield and Westfield.

The bowling game between the Plainfield and Westfield clubs on the Board of Trade alleys last night was devoid of that excitement which makes the players watch with a bated breath and quivering nerves the result of each bowler's efforts to make a strike and doing other extraordinary things with the wooden spheres.

The listlessness ensued from the fact that Plainfield had the game won before a ball was bowled on account of the absence of Pell, the Westfield captain, and the conclusion of his team to contest with four men against the Plainfield five. This act, of course, took all the vim out of the game, and the bowlers simply rolled in a half-hearted and perfunctory manner, at least on the part of the Plainfielders.

Notwithstanding the odds which they were up against the Westfield men, with the exception of Marsh, put up as good playing in the first game as is usually seen, Seeley running up the splendid score of 221. In the second game the average dropped materially, the only star play being that of Marsh, the man who is called the Pooh-bah because he holds all the offices in Westfield, making a grandstand spare.

The Plainfielders bowled better in the second game than in the first, which was caused by the low score of Harry VanEmburgh, who claims he was hoodooed by a reporter in the afternoon who told him that he would not score more than 149, and sure enough that was just his record in the first half.

The score:

FIRST GAME.

PLAINFIELD.		WESTFIELD.
VanEmburgh	149	Seeley	221
VanAlstyne	140	Decker	197
Wilbur	171	Marsh	111
Maltby	194	Baker	180
Vail	159
	813		709

SECOND GAME.

PLAINFIELD.		WESTFIELD.
VanEmburgh	177	Seeley	161
VanAlstyne	136	Decker	146
Wilbur	182	Marsh	139
Maltby	133	Baker	151
Vail	167
	788		597

Totals—Plainfield, 1522; Westfield, 1376.

"THE LAND OF FLOWERS."

Last Personally-Conducted Tour of the Season to Florida by Way of Pennsylvania Railroad.

If the general sentiment concerning the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's personally-conducted tours to Florida is to be taken as an index of their popularity, they may in all verity be styled the ideal tours.

The next and last of this season's series of tours to Jacksonville will leave New York and Philadelphia March 26, and the rate, including round-trip transportation and meals and Pullman berth on special train going, is $50 from New York and $48 from Philadelphia; proportionate rates from other points. Tickets for this tour will be good for return passage on regular trains until May 31.

The number of persons for which accommodations can be provided is necessarily limited, and it would therefore be prudent for those who desire to join this party to make early application for space.

For further information apply to Ticket Agents, or address Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, to whom application for space should also be made.

Hope Chapel Wins.

A friendly game was bowled by a five-men team composed of members of Hope Chapel against a five-men team of the I. F. and D. C., on the Hope Chapel alleys last evening. In the fourth frame the visitors were in the lead by a good margin, and it looked as though the game belonged to them, but the Hope Chapel boys struck out and at the finish were the victors by 47 pins. The score:

HOPE CHAPEL.		I. F. & D. C.
Eddy	127	Adams	103
Shirley	146	Terry	138
Marsh	119	Bodine	111
Neilhead	112	Adams	116
Muir	113	Wilson	102
	617		570

After the game refreshments were served.

The Excelsior Germicide.

Excelsior in name and fact is the disinfector today placed on exhibition at Leggett's pharmacy. It is the perfection of deodorizers and germicides, and as such won the World's Fair award at the Columbian Exposition. Railroads and public institutions have adopted it, and in all uses it is the best sanitary agent of its class.

Ought to Have Been Tied.

A horse attached to the delivery wagon of W. J. Stephenson of North avenue became frightened while left unhitched on Watchung avenue yesterday afternoon, and, starting at a rapid speed, ran through North avenue and Park avenue to West Front street, where the vehicle collided with an electric light pole in front of Voehl's store, and brought the runaway to a standstill. The wagon was considerably damaged.

A MUSICAL PRODIGY.

He Adds to the Pleasure of a Bethel Chapel Sociable.

That W. L. Lindsey is a musical genius, those will testify who attended the entertainment given by him last evening in Bethel Chapel. The programme consisted of a number of selections on different instruments. As was advertised, he played on five different instruments at once, the guitar, harmonica, handbell, footbell and organ.

His playing of the guitar was remarkable; he would play it behind him, while swinging it in the air, with one hand, and in various other ways.

One of the best of his renderings was a flute solo, in which he was accompanied by four young men from the audience, they blowing, and he moving his fingers on the flute. He also played the flute with his nose, whistling at the same time.

His imitation of a train was very realistic. It was done with the harmonica and guitar. After starting off, he represented the newsboy passing through the train, causing great laughter among his audience, and when he called out "Daily Press! Daily Press!" his mention of the popular Plainfield paper brought down the house.

Whistling was another of his accomplishments in which he excelled.

Mr. Lindsey will give another entertainment Monday evening, and all those who did not hear him last night should take advantage of this chance.

After the entertainment ice-cream and cake were served, and a period of sociability was enjoyed. The committee in charge of the refreshments consisted of Mrs. George Henry, Mrs. Samuel Green, Mrs. Fannie Wilson, Mrs. A. W. Brown. George Henry presided over the ice-cream.

THEY FOLLOW THE MUSE.

And Their Initial Performance Will Be Before a Plainfield Casino Audience.

The Euterpe, a new literary and musical society, will give its first grand entertainment in the Casino Thursday, April 25, at 8 p. m. Excellent artists have been engaged to make this a gala occasion and an unqualified success.

Hugh J. Emmett, the refined and versatile musical and humorous artist, will make his second appearance in Plainfield, and undoubtedly repeat the success he had at the Royal Arcanum concert a year ago.

The Russell Brothers, who are highly gifted performers on a dozen different instruments, will also again appear; they played here before, for the Park Avenue Baptist Church, and pleased their listeners.

Martyne, aptly termed the phenomenal mimic, will give his famous impersonation of fifteen different characters, without costume, changing his voice each time.

Several other members of the Euterpe, and Miss Grant, soprano, will assist.

L. Spangenberg is the honorary president of the society.

A Surprise That Was a Surprise.

A birthday party was given to Miss May McLaughlin last night at her home on Somerset street that was a complete surprise to her. At 8 in the evening 27 of her young friends gathered at the home of Miss Ada Wilson and from there descended on Miss McLaughlin's home and took possession while she was calling on a neighbor. When she returned home a short time after and found the house full of merry friends, she acted the same as anyone else would have done under the same circumstances, simply that of an entertaining hostess. Dancing was the principal pleasure of the evening, which was continued, with a brief intermission, until 1:30 this morning. The occasion was Miss McLaughlin's 10th birthday.

F. L. C. Martin Co.

The Frank L. C. Martin Cycle Company is the corporate title under which the bicycle business of Frank L. C. Martin on Park avenue will hereafter be conducted. Mr. Martin is president, and P. B. Macintyre secretary and treasurer of the new company, which is organized under the State laws. George Macintyre is also a member of the corporation. It is the intention of the firm to branch out extensively into the instalment business.

Bowlers, Attention.

A meeting will be held in Taylor's Hotel, Dunellen, Monday evening, March 18, to organize a bowling tournament for two-men teams. Entries are expected from Plainfield, Bound Brook and other neighboring towns. All bowlers interested are invited to attend the meeting. It is hoped to be able to play the initial game about March 25.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. B. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

GIFTS TO THE PASTOR.

Happy Surprise for Rev. C. E. Herring.

BOUND TO KEEP HIM MOVING.

Trip Tickets to New York, and a Bicycle, Are Bestowed on Him at the Congregational Reception.

The reception given by Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, to his congregation yesterday from 4 to 9, was truly delightful in every particular. Never was formality less manifested than on this occasion. The pastor's beautiful home, 403 East Second street, presented a scene never to be forgotten. A select arrangement of choice flowers and pink decorations added much to the enjoyment of those present.

Steadily from 4 to 9 the people called, and the genuine hospitality extended was a marked feature, for everyone was given the most cordial greeting.

Mr. Herring was assisted in receiving by his sister, Miss Pansy Herring, who made a charming hostess, and Mrs. Howard Pope, Mrs. Bettman, Mrs. Ladd, Miss Petrie, and Mrs. Robert Radford.

In the dining room Miss Bond presided and poured chocolate. Those who assisted in serving were Miss Bliss, Miss Blair, Miss Mabel Force and Miss Remsen.

Those calling were made thoroughly acquainted with one another, which was a decided feature of this charming event. The pastor's desire was to know his people better, and that was the result attained last evening.

Much to the happy surprise of Mr. Herring, he was presented at the close of the reception with a Spalding wheel and riding outfit complete, from Rogers's, presented by the men of the congregation; and with two 50-trip tickets to New York, presented by the women. He had been planning to buy a wheel for himself, but Rogers, knowing of the surprise in store, kept putting him off. His trip-tickets will enable him to pursue his studies at his favorite metropolitan library.

BY THE WAY.

—A meeting of the Camera Club will be held Tuesday evening.

—Napoleon Bonaparte's great new history continues in the Saturday Daily Press.

—A regular meeting of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., will be held this evening.

—The front of the Schepflin block on West Front street has been made brighter by the use of the painter's brush.

—Richmond street, from Front to Fifth, was cleared of surplus mud yesterday by Street Commissioner Meeker's men.

—Christian Endeavorers and Epworth Leaguers will find their special departments in The Daily Press tomorrow as usual.

—William Leithenrel and Theodore Leurssen will be installed as trustees of the German Lutheran Church Sunday morning next.

—The furnishings and paraphernalia belonging to the Masonic lodges will be packed today, prior to their removal to the Babcock Building.

—The old Zephyr hook and ladder truck which has been repainted by Chas. Kelly will be removed to the fire department headquarters today.

—Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., will speak and Prof. Conde's symphony orchestra will play at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting Sunday at 4:15 p. m.

—Members of Crescent Division, U. R., K. of P., are making arrangements to attend the Pythian field day to be held in Phillipsburg the fourth week in September.

—While practicing a day or two ago, George Squires, who is to contest with Mr. Boss of Elizabeth tomorrow in a shooting match, made a score of fifteen straight.

Canine Cycling.

Hazel Keller afforded much amusement for himself and others, yesterday afternoon, on East Front street. He was seated on his wheel, and his little dog acted as a motive power sufficient to carry him along.

Plainfield Gets the Meet.

The annual State Athletic League meet of the Y. M. C. A. will take place Saturday, July 27, in this city. It gives promise of being the largest ever held.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Fanwood Council, R. A., met in their rooms Tuesday evening, when the invitation extended by Plainfield Council to visit them Monday evening, March 25, was accepted. The Entertainment Committee added to the treasury a very neat sum, the result of their recent entertainment. One new member was added to the Council by card.

The votes cast election day were 270 out of 355 registered.

William Messler has left town, and will hereafter hang his hat in Rahway, having accepted a position in a factory there.

W. R. Buckley, manager of last season's ball team, is receiving letters every day from strong out-of-town clubs, asking for dates for the season of '95. As yet the prospects look rather poor for Scotch Plains putting a team in the field this season, unless residents of the village will contribute towards helping to put the grounds in condition. The boys do not feel like standing it all. There should be a team, as it makes the town lively during the Summer, brings outsiders to the Plains to see the games, (as the team's fame is not local), and leaves money here. The team plays clean ball, also allowing no objectionable or indecent language to be used on the grounds. The result of last season was that every game was well attended by the fair sex. Now the question is, Who will start the team going? With Johnston in the box, and a catcher to hold him, the nine could hold their own against the majority.

Mr. Rivera's dancing class is becoming very popular with the young people of the village, and several new members joined Tuesday night.

The cantata of Esther will be rendered by the Choral Union in about two weeks.

C. N. Flanders, who is spending the Winter in Brooklyn, journeyed to the Plains Tuesday to cast his vote and to spend the day with friends.

The Town Committee will meet next week to swear in the newly elected town officers.

Joseph Clark's election to the office of justice of the peace is following a custom of generations. Mr. Clark's grandfather and father before him held the office.

Robert Murphy's house on Park avenue is finished and ready for occupancy.

Sheriff Kyte is heartily in favor of the law introduced in the Senate in Trenton, to have all executions in the State take place at the State Prison.

The J. O. U. A. M. meet tonight at their rooms on Park avenue.

Crushed stone is being put on Park avenue through the centre of the town. The road was beginning to be very poor.

Mrs. George Lyons and family are visiting her aunt, Mrs. Billings.

Rev. J. S. Braker, assisted by Messrs. Hall of Fanwood, will give stereopticon views on "The Pilgrim's Progress", in the Baptist Church Sunday evening.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Rev. Judsen Titsworth of Milwaukee is visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Titsworth.

Mrs. Henry Corse of New York is being entertained by Mrs. William Wykoff.

Miss Barbara Kratzal is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Eckel of Westfield.

Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Greenbrook has returned from a very pleasant visit with Brooklyn friends.

Mrs. D. P. Runyon has returned from her visit with Newark friends.

Raymond Apgar, who has been ill for a long time, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Fred Miner returned to her home in Plainfield after spending a few days with relatives in town.

T. W. Sisty spent Wednesday in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Gaston are entertaining friends from Lebanon.

Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Martine spent yesterday in New York.

The primary meeting for the nomination of borough officials will take place next Wednesday night in the W. C. T. U. rooms. There are already a number of aspirants for the salaried offices, and a lively contest is likely to occur.

Mrs. P. Larmon and children are visiting relatives in Glen Gardner.

Mrs. Isabella Titsworth of New York is the guest of Mrs. J. E. Low.

Mrs. Wm. Shively is visiting relatives in Bloomsbury.

Mrs. Charles Kneulen returned last night from New York, where she has been visiting friends.

C. H. Hand of Plainfield called on Dunellen friends yesterday.

Miss Anna Campbell of Fairmount is with her sister, Mrs. N. Apgar.

Miss Louise Zann of New York has returned home after spending a few days with Mrs. E. Milliken.

Mrs. F. P. Nailor of Brooklyn is visiting Mrs. Silas Nailor.

Mrs. George Trimmer returned this afternoon after spending several days with friends at Westfield.

Miss Lillian Staats spent yesterday with Miss Mary E. Hague of 1047 West Front street, Plainfield.

John Tingley was in Plainfield this morning.

Mrs. J. B. Conover is visiting relatives in Newark.

Mrs. Smith Watson is entertaining friends from Point Pleasant.

HAPPY HELEN.

She and Her Friends Charmingly Celebrate Her Birthday Anniversary.

Mary Helen Carney, the eight-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Carney, ex-Chief Engineer of the Plainfield Fire Department, last evening celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary by a royal entertainment to her young friends. New York city and up-the-State friends showed by their presence their appreciation of the assured kind reception that awaited them.

Ice-cream, cake, oranges, and lemonade, were dispensed, and instrumental music and vocal selections made the hours between 5 and 7 pass too rapidly to suit the happy gathering. The following is a partial list of those who attended:

Misses May Neely, Bertha Neely, Bertha Riker, Helen Lynch, the Misses Rafferty, Anna McCollough, Stella Maag, Elsie Drake, Agnes Bailey, Maggie Kenney, Hattie Voehl, Hattie Dunlap, Sarah Pierson, Edna Sebring, Tina Voehl, Ada Carney, Nellie Valliant, Margie DeCourcy, Agnes FitzPatrick of New York; Ethel Most of New York; Masters Henry Dresselt, Alsek Dresselt, Howard Neely, John Dowd, John McCullough, Fred Emmons, Howard Maag, Theo. Koller, George Voehl, Archie Bailey, Leo Kenney, Henry Voehl, Sherman Haverle, Leslie Hanson, Harry Schuck, John Carney, John Valliant, John McCann, Charles Feller, Frank Feller, George Feller, Willie Huff, Leo DeCourcy, Joe Blatz; Miss Lizzie FitzPatrick of New York; Miss Agnes FitzGerald of New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Neely, Mrs. Thos. Flynn, Mrs. John Carney, Mrs. A. Waldron, Mrs. FitzGerald, A. E. Kenney, Bert Dobbs and brothers, F. and E. Krause, Maude and Myra Emmons, Irene Voehl, Mary Frances Kenney, Maggie Loughlin, Ella K. Brown of Dobbs Ferry; Miss Anna FitzGerald of New York; Master Louis Feirnans, Miss Lyda Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. Rankin, Minnie and Anna Walsh of New York.

"PECK'S BAD BOY."

A New Version of This Very Funny Play at Music Hall Monday Evening, March 18.

Among all the farce-comedies that have been produced none has achieved more lasting success than "Peck's Bad Boy". Upwards of half a million people of all ages have seen and enjoyed the merry pranks of the bad boy and his chum Jimmie Duffy.

Monday evening, March 18, this popular comedy will come to Music Hall for one night only. "Peck's Bad Boy" will be presented by an entirely new metropolitan cast, playing a new version of the piece fresh from the pen of Louis Wesley, the "Bad Boy" of the company, late with "The Bunch of Keys", where he played the part of Grimes.

The company is sure of success in Plainfield, when they have such people in the cast as Louis Wesley, Lynn Welcher, Sol Aiken, Clayton White, Dott Karvell, Fannie Temple, Frankie St. John, Julia Aiken and Gladys Atkinson.

For a $150 Trophy.

A match has been arranged between teams of 15 men, representing the Climax Gun Club of this city and the Keystone Shooting League of Philadelphia, to take place on the Climax grounds, Monday, March 25. The conditions of the match will be 15 live birds for each man. This match is the first of a series of three for a trophy valued at $150.

The Winner.

The $10 in gold offered by Edward White for a new word to take the place of bargain has been awarded to the Children's Home. Of all the answers received, none was appropriate or original, and as no one was entitled to the money it was decided to award it to the Children's Home, to which it has been sent.

Sold the Homestead.

The homestead property of the late Manning Vermeule on West Front street was bought at public sale yesterday afternoon by Daniel Manning for $4,600. The three lots fronting 35 feet each on West Third street were bought by Lewis French for $9 per running front foot.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

DEATH OF GEN. GARZA

Details of the Rebel Attack on Bocas Del Toro.

The Colombian Soldiers Surprised in the Early Morning, But Succeeded in Killing or Capturing the Entire Rebel Force—Citizens Shot Down in Their Homes.

Mobile, Ala., March 15.—Upon the arrival of the steamship Herald, last evening, the Register obtained from its correspondent at Bocas del Toro the following details of the bloody and desperate attack on Bocas del Toro last Friday by a band of insurgents, under Gen. Garza:

Bocas del Toro, United States of Colombia, March 8.—A desperate attack was made about 4 o'clock this morning by a band of rebels under Gen. Garza upon the Colombian troops quartered in the barracks here and the battle waged fiercely for three hours, during which time the bullets flew thick and fast and many of the principal buildings were riddled until they looked like sieves.

The barracks is a small frame, shingle-roofed store and dwelling, situated in the centre of the city. The store of John Wilson & Co., is fifty feet north. John H. D. Finkee store is directly across the street, about forty feet. The soldiers were asleep upstairs, while their guns and ammunition were downstairs, the steps being on the outside of the building, thereby exposing the soldiers to the fire of the rebels as they ran down stairs to secure their arms. As to the landing of the rebels, no definite information can be learned either as to how, when, or where they landed. The general supposition is that they landed from a schooner at or near a point on Columbus island known as "Big Bight." From this point they marched through the swamp, a distance of three miles, to Bocas del Toro. The mud on the shoes of the dead men proves this to be a fact. As they marched along, each government sentinel was in turn made a prisoner. The outposts were policemen armed with clubs.

It was 4 o'clock, a. m., when Gen. Garza and about ten men opened fire on the barracks from the Finkee building across the street.

The first man to meet his fate was the government sentinel at the barracks. As the shots were fired, the second lieutenant, who was in command, ran out on the front gallery and met a similar fate. The rebels advanced and kept up a constant fire upon the barracks, where the soldiers were entrapped, as the sea was behind them. The regulars made a desperate rush down stairs for their arms and commenced to return the fire. The troops opened fire upon the squad of rebels who were firing from the second story of Finkee's building and actually riddled the house. Garza continually called to the government troops: "Surrender you fools." He was heard to say in English "The soldiers are shooting high," and ran down stairs where he met his death. He was found dead not more than fifty feet from the barracks. When the rebels lost their leader they lost their cause.

They had the best of the battle until daylight, then the government soldiers seeing the enemy not near so strong as they supposed, rushed from the death trap and forced the enemy to retreat. Once getting their opponents on the run they pursued them with renewed energy and deadly effect, shooting them to death in the streets, dragging them from houses and chasing the remaining few into the swamp.

The doctors from the United States cruiser Atlanta, rendered valuable aid to Dr. Feuss, an American doctor, attending the dying and wounded men and women. Garza and his men were in front of the rooms occupied by Messrs. Karauseman and Feuss, in the second story of the Finkee building. How the latter escaped no one can tell. They could not get out of their rooms and were compelled to stand this awful fire for nearly three hours. Every bottle of medicine in Dr. Feuss' room was blown to atoms. The doctor, however, was soon about among the wounded, relieving their sufferings.

Five of the Colombian soldiers are dead and several are wounded. Five of the rebels are dead and thirty-five taken prisoners. The names of the rebel leaders dead or under arrest are:

Sibore More, prisoner; Perura Castro, killed; Jose Ansonia Garza, killed.

Mrs. Kurt, who lived next to the barracks, on the south, was painfully wounded in the leg and her 3-year-old child was shot in the face, the ball going into the cheek and passing through the mouth. The Atlanta's surgeon extracted the ball from Mrs. Kurt's leg.

Two other women and a little boy were wounded by balls passing through their houses. None of these are badly injured. The steamer Premier is expected from Colon at any moment with reinforcements for the government troops. Gen Garza was supposed to have about eighty men.

The government troops made a good, game fight, under disadvantages and deserve much credit.

Murdered and Robbed.

Greensburg, Pa., March 15.—Saturday last Mrs. Colinsky and her daughter started to walk from Mammouth Mine to Mount Pleasant, where they intended to purchase tickets for Hungary. They had $500 in their possession when they left Mammoth. Yesterday the bodies of both mother and daughter were found concealed in a brush heap at the roadside. It is supposed that they were followed and assaulted by two Hungarians who knew of their having the money. The suspected men have disappeared. The husband and father of the murdered women was killed in a mine disaster at Mammoth some time ago.

Mere Boyish Play.

Haverhill, Mass., March 15.—George K. Hale, brother of the late Hon. E. J. M. Hale, says that he considers the Gilroy-Hale affair in Boston mere boyish play, that young Hale would soon get over his passion and that the matter would soon be forgotten.

M'AULIFFE IN EARNEST.

Deposits $500 for a Fight to a Finish with Any Man in His Class.

New York, March 15.—The following challenge was received by Arthur T. Lumley, of the Illustrated News, yesterday accompanied by the deposit of $500:

"I have now the assurance of my physician that my arm which was broken in my last fight will shortly be in condition to allow me to enter into strict training.

"While disabled by this unfortunate accident I have been characterized as a 'has been' a retired champion and a fighter of the past. These slurs have been very galling to me under the circumstances and I now demand the first opportunity to prove that I am still the light weight champion of the world, having never been defeated for that title.

"I herewith deposit in your hands the sum of $500 to guarantee that I mean business, and will meet any man in the world who lays claim to that title. As far as the belt is concerned it does not cut any figure with me. I will dispose of the same to the highest bidder if they consider it of such importance.

"I shall demand, however, that my next opponent in the ring must fight to a finish, this being the only positive way of proving who is the best man. I want no more limited round contest decisions, especially with Griffo, as they are as unsatisfactory to me as they are to the public at large.

"If the Mexican Athletic club desires me to meet James F. Carroll, I readily agree to do so for the $6,000 purse offered, provided they deposit a $1,000 guarantee in some responsible hands in this city.

"I issue this challenge and bar no man from 133 to 135 pounds at the ring side, provided they are noted enough to secure a good purse with me.

"I hope these croakers will now cease their idle twaddle and cover my $500 in the Illutrated News office, and agree to meet me in a finish fight and by this, the only legitimate means, try and win the light weight championship like honest men. Yours in earnest. Jack McAuliffe.

"Champion lightweight of the world."

ALL QUIET IN COLORADO.

Baron Fava Demands Punishment of the Murderers.

Denver, March 15.—The governor has just received a telegram from Baron Fava at Washington asking him to proceed at once against the murderers of the Italians at Walsenburg.

Gov. McIntyre will act at once. Dr. Cuneo, Italian consul at Denver, also received a telegram from Baron Fava, directing him to go to Walsenburg. He will obey.

Quiet reigns again in the Italian colony at Walsenburg. While the friends of the murdered men are still intensely excited, there is little probability that they will attempt to resort to violence.

There are a large number of Italians in Denver and they are loud in their denunciations of the slayers of their countrymen, but they have made no effort to organize and are closely watched by the police for whom they have a wholesome respect.

Although loud threats of vengeance are made on every hand, there is a lack of concerted action, which indicates that there will be no serious trouble.

Gov. McIntyre is in readiness to send troops at a moment's notice should any necessity for such action arise. Only one of the victims was an American citizen.

UNDER MILITARY CONTROL.

Threats of Lynching Causes a Negro Uprising in Virginia.

Winchester, Va., March 15.—For the second time since the war Winchester is practically under military control. On the 5th instant Thornton Parker, colored, was arrested for attempted criminal assault on Mrs. Malton, a respectable married lady, of near Middletown, this county. The details of the crime are disgusting. Parker, after being fully identified as the assailant was lodged in jail here and indicted on Monday by a special grand jury and his trial set for to-day.

Threats of lynching have been made and the negroes of this city have expressed their intention to rescue the negro and burn the town. Suppressed excitement and indignation have been manifest for several days, especially when the negroes paraded the town in groups on Tuesday night and were disbanded by the police force. The municipal officers therefore decided to place the city under military protection. Three companies of the Virginia regiment are here virtually in charge of the town.

Postoffice Robbers Caught.

Newburgh, N. Y., March 15.—Two men giving the names of William Riley and John Connors, have been arrested here on suspicion of having committed the Highland Falls postoffice robbery. The men had in their possession $7.31 in postage stamps of different denominations, which they were trying to sell. They had also several dynamite cartridges, a quantity of fuse, and a revolver. They were held for an examination.

Pursuing Bank Burglars.

Marshal, Mo., March 15.—Posses are in pursuit of burglars who wrecked the Corder bank, twenty miles from here last night with dynamite. The explosion, which destroyed the vault, frightened the men away empty handed.

Dubois Bank Closed.

Dubois, Pa., March 15.—The Bank of Dubois opened for business yesterday and closed again inside of an hour on account of shortage of funds. It was rumored lately that the bank was not in very good condition and a run followed.

Striking Workmen Win.

Buffalo, March 15.—The strike of workmen on the Mooney-Brisbane building has been settled and the men have returned to work. They succeeded in obtaining a nine-hour day and the employment of union men only.

The Situation at New Orleans

New Orleans, March 15.—Cotton was loaded yesterday on the steamer Engineer under the protection of the military and police. No demonstrations were made and quiet prevails throughout the city.

THE ALLIANCA AFFAIR

What the Spanish Minister Thinks of the Story.

Says It Is a Pure Fabrication—All Efforts on His Part To Secure Information from Cuba Unsuccessful. Captain Crossman's Claim of Being Outside Spanish Waters Doubted.

Washington, March 15.—Senor Muruaga, the Spanish minister, expressed the opinion last night that the story of Captain Crossman of the firing on the Allianca was pure fabrication, as all efforts on the minister's part to secure information on the subject from the Spanish authorities in Cuba have been unsuccessful.

"I have received a cablegram from the captain general of Cuba," said the minister, "in answer to my telegram asking for the facts in the case, and he reports that nobody in Havana seems to know anything about this affair. He says the naval commander of the station of Havana has ordered inquiries to be made at Santiago de Cuba and at Gibara, which are the nearest places to the point where the supposed outrage was committed. It is strange that if the firing was done by a Spanish ship that no vessel flying the colors of that country has yet put into a Spanish port and reported the occurrence. If the vessel had been a Spanish one her commander would undoubtedly have some purpose in firing, and it is but natural that he should communicate on the subject with his government. In the circumstances, I can but believe that no Spanish vessel has committed the alleged outrage, and there are no pirates in the vicinity of the island of Cuba.

"Of course, until this whole matter is sifted, I shall make every endeavor to secure information, and to this end I have already sent a cablegram to Spain informing the authorities of the matter and giving concisely the opinions of the press.

"What I consider would be fair to my government and to the government of the United States as well, would be for this government to secure the affidavits of Captain Crossman, his crew and his passengers. I am sure they will not agree with each other, and I believe that is the best course to be taken."

New York, March 15.—Although the evidence submitted by Captain James A. Crossman of the American mail steamship Allianca, which has been fully corroborated by officers of the vessel, is too direct and circumstantial to admit of much doubt as to the Allianca having been outside the Spanish waters when fired upon by the Spanish gunboat, the claim has nevertheless been questioned.

Those who are well informed on international laws governing such cases say that the fact of the Allianca having been inside instead of outside of the marine league, as claimed, would in a degree mitigate the offense, but would still offer no valid excuse for the affront.

Yesterday, Captain Crossman was engaged in drafting a reply to Acting Secretary of the Treasury Uhl's letter. Captain Crossman declined to furnish a copy for publication until after the original has been received in Washington. He said he would also send a chart with the letter with the position of his ship and that of the Spanish gunboat dotted upon it.

Tampa, Fla., March 15.—A passenger on the steamer Olivette just arrived here, after being told of the firing on the Allianca, said that if the outrage occurred, as there is no reason to doubt, from the statement of Captain Crossman, it must have been the torpedo cruiser Nuevo Espana, which has been painted black since being assigned to shore patrol duty.

The Neuvo Espana is known to be on the east coast and is only capable of running fifteen to seventeen knots an hour, which accounts for the ease with which the Allianca distanced her. Rumors have for several days been circulating in Tampa that a consignment of arms was enroute to a gulf port for re-shipment to Cuba in aid of the Cuban insurrection, and that a filibustering expedition would receive the arms at this place and sail for Cuba.

New Orleans, March 15.—Judge King of the civil district court has rendered his decision in the impeachment proceedings against Mayor Fitzpatrick which he has had under advisement since the arguments were heard some weeks ago. The opinion of the court is lengthy and comprehensive and deals with the case thoroughly. The summing up is a complete vindication of the mayor and acquits him on every charge of malfeasance.

Will Continue Their Good Work.

Boston, March 15.—The Boston relief committee is arranging to send another cargo of flour to Newfoundland at once, not waiting for the return of the supply steamer Halifax, in view of the offer made by Stratton, Little & Co., that they would transport, free of charge, one hundred barrels of flour on the company's schooner Jubilee, which is chartered to sail from this port for St. Johns, N. F.

Strict Censorship Exercised.

Cadiz, March 15.—A French ship coming here reports having seen the wreck of a large vessel upon the rocks near Tarifa, which is supposed to be the Spanish cruiser Reina Regente.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SIX O'CLOCK.

WEARY WOMEN WATCH FOR THAT BLESSED HOUR.

Help for our Working-Girls and Women Near at Hand.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

IN the stroke of six ends the day's work at stores, offices, factories, mills, where women are employed. But their necessary work at home, sewing, mending, etc., must be done after that time, and "their work is never done."

All women work; some for ambition, some for economy in the household, but the great mass of women work for their daily bread. All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties often quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, leucorrhœa, and perhaps irregular or suppressed "monthly periods," causing severe backache, loss of appetite, nervousness, irritability and weakness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and cures displacement.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled. Write Mrs. Pinkham about your trouble.

You can tell the story of your pain to a woman, and get the help that only woman can give. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.
Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,
MASON AND CONTRACTOR.
Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 3 28

JOHN P. EMMONS
—Mason and Builder.—
Washington avenue and Prospect place
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to 11 16

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St
H. N. Gayle, No. 18 Vine st
ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 7-23-tf

JOHN T. ODAM
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
Slate Roofer and Repairer
Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 3 15

GEO. W. STUDER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,
21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.
S. H. McCullough, Proprietor.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 4-11-1

C. W. LINES,
Mason and Builder.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence—118 Liberty street.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to 13 4

Jno. J. Shotwell,
Wood Mantels,
Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.
221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 tf

MONEY LOANED.
Local Representatives Wanted.
Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1123 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 3m

CODDINGTON'S
FURNITURE AND FREIGHT
EXPRESS.
OFFICES—24 West Front street; 23 Park avenue
Post Office Box 220.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 15

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10¾c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver.)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

L Y H A O E I T S U O R E T M I R E S O P U B C F T R A P T

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,
Prescription Druggist,
143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts, Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,
120 West Front street.

Given Away With Every $2.00 Hat. or over, one pair 5cc Suspenders. One week only.
E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,
177 North Avenue.

Our Men's $3 Shoes
will give you lots of wear and good solid comfort.
ALEX. WILLETT & SON,
107 Park avenue.

SHAD! Rogers
232 W. 2d. St.

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.
Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
All goods warranted as represented.		Lard	8c

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement
For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.
1 14 tf

MANY Starve
TO DEATH

while using beef-tea, calfs-foot jelly, and various beef extracts made by application of heat. They contain no nutrition whatever, and cannot restore vitality.

BOVININE
The Original Raw Food

holds in solution the albumoids and salts of lean raw meat, prepared by a cold process, containing the life-sustaining and tissue-building properties of meat itself, yet in the most condensed form.

Endorsed by 25,000 physicians.

For sale by all druggists.

THE BOVININE CO., NEW YORK.

A LADY'S TOILET
Is not complete without an ideal
COMPLEXION
POWDER.
POZZONI'S

Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.

Insist upon having the genuine.

IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 SHOE IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.
$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75 BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE.
W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the
W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes
All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole.
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by
A. WILLETT & SON.

Vanity

is a virtuous vice. The world is better for it. It makes men ambitious — and it makes women careful of their personal appearance. It doesn't take much money to keep well-dressed now-a-days. Cleaning or dyeing makes it possible to use soiled or faded garments. And there's where our ax comes in. We are in the Cleaning and Dyeing business. Our cleaner is ready, and our dyer has his fall shades mixed.

Ask for our little booklet "Re-Freshing Thoughts." It tells about cleaning men's clothing.

HILLIER & Co.,
175 North ave.

HOW WILL THEY DECIDE

Absorbing Question Upon the Income Tax Cases.

Echoes of the Closing Argument Before the Supreme Court Still Floating About the Capitol—Much Interest Manifested by the Judges on the Bench During the Trial.

Washington, March 15.—Echoes of the argument upon the income tax cases which closed in the supreme court yesterday, are still floating about the capitol and in legal circles. The all-absorbing question is "How is the court going to decide the case?" and no one can tell. It is impossible to base an opinion upon the tenor of the questions asked of counsel by members of the court in the course of the argument, for they may fairly be said to have given evidence of a desire only to bring out both sides of the question. Every justice, save Mr. Brewer, at one time or another, manifested his interest in the argument by interrupting questions or suggestions into the counsels remarks. Of the quality of the argument, as a whole, Mr. Justice Field is quoted as saying that he had never heard its equal in his thirty-two years experience on the bench.

Mr. Choate's reference to the Springer case and the issues involved in that litigation, caused a renewed examination by those who are interested, of the opinion then delivered by Mr. Justice Swayne. Mr. Choate asserted that neither in that case nor in any other that had been quoted by counsel to establish the status of an income tax as an indirect tax, had the proposition he contended for been at issue, viz: that a tax on rents was necessarily a tax on land and therefore a direct tax. In the Springer case, Justice Swayne reviewed the cases in the reports, including that of Schlocy vs. Rew (90th United States) where the succession tax imposed by the act of June 30, 1864, was involved. "It was held," said Justice Swayne, "that the tax was not a direct tax, and that it was constitutional and valid. In delivering the opinion of the court, Mr. Justice Clifford, after remarking that the tax there in question was not a direct tax, said: 'Instead of that, it is plainly an excise tax or duty.' Taxes on houses, lands and other permanent real estate have always been deemed to be direct taxes, and capitation taxes, by the express words of the constitution, are in the same category; but it has never been decided that any other legal exactions for the support of the federal government fall within the condition that, unless laid in proportion to numbers, the assessment is invalid."

Justice Story was also quoted by Justice Swayne, that "all taxes are usually divided into two classes—those which are direct, and those which are indirect—" and that "under the former denomination are included taxes on real property, and under the latter, taxes on consumption."

The conclusions of the court were stated to be "that direct taxes, within the meaning of the constitution, are only capitation taxes, as expressed in that instrument, and taxes on real estate; and that the tax of which plaintiff in error (Springer) complains is within the category of all excise or duty."

WILL SAIL THE VIGILANT.

Report Confirmed That Captain Barr Will Be Master of the Yacht.

New York, March 15.—Mr. Howard Gould has confirmed the report that Captain Charles Barr had been engaged as navigator and master of the Vigilant on her coming return voyage to America. Mr. E. A. Willard, who has entire charge of the yacht, conducted the negotiations with Captain Barr. The latter, it is understood, will not only be the master of the Vigilant during her voyage to New York, but will sail her throughout the coming season.

Captain Barr will sail as soon as possible for the other side. He will take a crew with him. As soon as he lands at Southampton the work will be commenced of preparing the Vigilant for her return trip. On her arrival here the work of getting her ready for this summer's races will be undertaken.

Captain Barr is well-known in yachting circles. He commanded the Gloriana last season. He has commanded the Wasp and the Navahoe.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

WHEAT—Prices on spot are held higher, but trade is quiet. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat, 63¾c.

CORN—Spot dull but firm. No. 2 nominally 52¼c.; steamer, 51½c. afloat.

OATS—Spot trade is quiet at old prices. No. 2 white 37c., No. 2 mixed 33½c.

PORK—Spot held higher, checking business. Sales 165 barrels. Quoted: Extra prime nominal, short clear 12.25 @14.75, family 11.50@12.00, mess 12.50 @13.00.

BUTTER—Fancy western creamery steady but quiet at the recent decline. Under grades neglected and values uncertain. New butter, creamery, western extras, 19c.; creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 14@18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 17½@18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 12@17c.; western imitation creamery, seconds to firsts, 9@14c.; western dairy, firsts, 12@13c.; western dairy, thirds to seconds, 8@10c.; western factory, fancy, 11½@12c.; western factory, firsts, 9@10c.; western factory, thirds to seconds, 7@8½c.

CHEESE—The demand fair for strictly fancy grades, which are scarce and held firmly. We quote: State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; do. do., large white, fancy, 11c.; do. do., large choice, 10½@10¾c.; do. do., large, good to prime, 10@10¾c.; do. do., common to fair, 8½@9½c.; do. do., small colored, fancy, 12c.; do. do., white, fancy, 11½c.

EGGS—Arrivals continue large and prices again lower, best western quoted at 12¾@13c.

POTATOES—Choice are firm with a good demand at unchanged figures. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $1.87@ $2.00; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., at $1.75@$1.87; and do., common to fair, per 180 lbs., $150@$1.62.

NOT UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

Savannah Authorities Deny That the Pedro Pablo Is Under Suspicion.

Savannah, Ga., March 15.—The yacht Pedro Pablo which arrived here yesterday from New York via Norfolk and Wilmington, is lying at Rourke's dock undergoing repairs and will sail as soon as the repairs are completed. There is no suspicion attached to the yacht and she is not under surveillance. She is a new vessel and is being taken to Cuba by Captain Greenwood under contract to be used for towing logs. As is customary with all arrivals of south-bound yachts she was inspected by the custom officer. Her Spanish name and the fact that she is on her way to Cuba gave rise to a rumor that she was to take on board a number of suspicious boxes lying at her dock. The customs authorities were sent for and the boxes were found to contain steam pipe belonging to the repair shop. Neither the customs authorities nor the Spanish consul here have received any instructions in regard to either Pedro Pablo or the British steamer Elliot which has cleared for Costa Rica for fruit. The Elliot has been running between Savannah and Bluefields for a year until a couple of months ago when she was laid up awaiting a charter. There is no representative of the Costa Rica government here and C. S. Salas telegraphed the consul general in New York for authority to give the vessel a bill. He was instructed to do so and to see that nothing contraband was on board. The Elliot will sail to-day or to-morrow.

SENSATION IN WILKESBARRE.

Lottery King Wurzberger Arrested and Held Under Bail for Court.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 15.—A sensation was created in this city when Chief of Police Braggs and a squad of officers raided the "commission brokerage" office of John Wurzberger and arrested the inmates. Wurzberger is known all over northeastern Pennsylvania as the "Lottery King of Luzerne county," his brokerage business being merely a blind. For the past ten years he has been selling tickets openly, and it is estimated he did a business of over $120,000 a year.

Wurzberger was taken before Mayor Nichols and after a hearing, was fined $50 and held under $500 bail for court. The police when the raid was made found several thousand dollars worth of tickets of all the lotteries doing business, and also lists of his regular customers, showing that bankers, doctors, lawyers and prominent business men were spending large sums monthly through Wurzberger's agency. The raid was made at the instance of the Wilkesbarre Times, the editor of the paper appearing as the prosecutor.

Wurzberger's victims in his nefarious traffic included all classes of people, hundreds of ignorant Polish and Hungarian miners spending all their savings for tickets. The arrest and confiscation of the list of customers created much consternation, and the mayor was besieged by prominent people who pleaded with him to have their names suppressed.

LI HUNG CHANG'S MISSION.

Instructed To Consent to an Indemnity and Cession of Territory.

Paris, March 15.—The European edition of the Herald will publish to-day this dispatch, dated at Shanghai: It is reported that Li Hung Chang is instructed to consent to an indemnity; also, if necessary, to a cession of territory. The Japanese will occupy Manchuria, Shantung promontory and Formosa. The indemnity will be guaranteed by the customs and will be paid quinquennially. China is also ready to surrender her southern squadron now hiding at Nankin. The emperor and dowager empress warned Li Hung Chang that he need not return unless successful. They upbraided him for concealing from them the deplorable condition of China, which, they said, might easily have been victorious if properly prepared."

London, March 15.—The Central News correspondent in Tokio telegraphs: "Some 1,600 Chinese attacked the outposts of Chiulie, near the border of Corea, on the morning of the 11th. They were repulsed with heavy losses and pursued. Another Chinese force, 1,000 strong, made attacks on the Japanese rear and left flank, but was repulsed with seventy killed. The Japanese loss was six wounded."

LATE CUBAN NEWS.

Provisional Government Organized with Gen. Marti as President.

Tampa, Fla., March 15.—When the Ollivette arrived from Havana, a rush was made for the passengers in search of Cuban revolutionary news.

A Cuban, who has come on an important mission, stated that the provisional government had been organized and that General Marti had been made provisional president. Gen. Gomez was made general-in-chief. The revolutionary army, as now organized, consists of 5,000 infantry and 3,000 cavalry. The Cubans are armed with machettes and rifles while the Spanish forces are armed with rifles and the old style sword which is very clumsy.

Company Sued for Negligence.

Buffalo, March 15.—The first of several suits to be brought in connection with the burning of the American Glucose company's plant in April of last year, by which twelve lives were lost, has been put on trial in the superior court. The plaintiff in the case is Mrs. Anna Huda, widow of Valentine Huda, and she asks $10,000 damages for the loss of her husband. It is alleged that the company had been guilty of gross negligence in not maintaining the electric light plant in proper condition, and had also violated the statutes by not providing proper means of escape in case of fire.

Injured by a Premature Explosion.

Greensburg, Pa., March 15.—Yesterday Wm. Welsh, John McAndrews and Samuel Simson, miners employed in the Donnelly mines, were terribly injured by a premature explosion while blasting coal. Welsh and Simson will die from their injuries. All were taken to the Cottage hospital at Connellsville.

In Honor of Bismarck.

Berlin, March 15.—The Prussian government has ordered that all schools be closed on April 1, Bismarck's 80th birthday. Special prayers will be offered in all the evangelical churches for Bismarck on Sunday, March 31.

HIS ANSWER TO STRONG

O'Grady's Letter on Mandatory Legislation.

Agrees with the Mayor in Reference to Legislative Action on Expenditures in New York City—Anxious To Have the Views of the Administration Upon Any Bill.

Albany, March 15.—Chairman O'Grady, of the assembly cities committee, sent the following letter to Mayor Strong last night in answer to his communication touching the passing of mandatory legislation affecting New York city:

"Dear sir:—Your letter of 11th., inst., reached me yesterday, the 13th, inst. I agree entirely with you in the position you take concerning legislation of a mandatory nature effecting an increase in the expense of conducting public business in the city of New York, and leaving no discretion to the authorities in relation to the propriety of such increase. In all legislation of this character affecting the city of New York I have endeavored to obtain, in the best manner that I could, the views of the local authorities in order that those views might be known to the committee on cities when the bills are under consideration; and aside from two instances (of which I shall speak later) I do not believe that any bill has been reported to the house that has not been in accord with our ideas and that has not conformed to the wishes of yourself and your associates in the government of the city of New York, as far as I could obtain them. This class of legislature is asked for by no other city in the state, and my experience as a member of a committee on cities last year has caused me to be careful in my action this year. I am very glad that your position upon this question is as strong as it is.

"The two bills, which in the provisions for their enforcement are mandatory and not discretionary, are the Pavey bill, providing for an increase in the pay of certain members of the fire department of New York city and the Halpin bill, providing for an increase in the pay of park police. When the former bill was considered by the committee its chief advocate informed the committee that it met with the approval of and was asked for by yourself and your associates in the administration. I am frank to say that no other consideration would have procured its favorable consideration. This bill having been reported favorably and presumably with the consent and approval of the city authorities, and having passed the assembly, you can readily understand the embarrassment of the committee with respect to the Halpin bill, against the merits and justice of which no question has been raised. Had your views been known in time, the Pavey bill would not have been reported as it was; and now that they are known, and as we are all a unit in our position toward this bill, I have suggested to Mr. Pavey that he introduce a resolution at once recalling his bill from the senate, where it now is, for the purpose of amendment; and I shall insist that the Halpin bill be likewise amended.

"In view of the large number of bills in the house affecting the city of New York and the desire upon the part of the introducers to move them rapidly, I would suggest that you instruct the corporation counsel, or his representative to at once familiarize himself with all of these bills in order that he may be able to speak on any of them at any meeting when they may be called up. The session has arrived at that stage where unnecessary postponement of good measures should not be had, and where the objections to improper ones should be known at once. I am anxious to have the views of the administration upon any bill, should you desire to be heard.

"I trust you will pardon my giving a copy of this letter to the press at the same time that I mail it to you. The anxiety of the correspondents to obtain it forces me, almost in self protection, to take this course."

MISSIONARY KNAPP DEAD.

Spent Forty Years in Service in Eastern Turkey.

Boston, March 15.—A cable dispatch to the American board of commissioners of foreign missions announces the death of Rev. George Cushing Knapp at Bitlis, eastern Turkey, where he has lived as a missionary for forty years, which have been seasons of severe labor and much peril. He was once attacked upon the road while about his duties by the now notorious Koordish chief and robber, Mouse Bey, who left him unconscious and bound in a ravine.

The Sassoun massacres occurred in the vicinity of Bitlis and there have been recent threats of expulsion of the missionaries from that region. Mr. Knapp's death was not caused by any violence, but his last days were filled with anxiety for the country and the people to which he had devoted his life. He leaves an adult son and daughter who are missionaries at the same station, and a widow and five other adult children interested in the work of education and evangelization.

Severe Storm in Georgia.

Columbus, Ga., March 15.—The severe rain storm of the past twenty-four hours has flooded the lower portion of this city, and houses and bridges have been washed into the river. All mills on the river front have been compelled to shut down. The river is still rising and much apprehension is felt among the residents of this district.

Killed By a Falling Wall.

Pittsburg, March 15.—One man was killed and two injured by the falling of a wall of the Mechanics' National bank last evening. The building was being raised for the purpose of rebuilding.

Entertained by Mrs. Cleveland.

Washington, March 15.—Mrs. Cleveland, assisted by Secretary and Mrs. Lamont, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sol Smith Russell at an informal lunch at the white house yesterday.

CURE THAT COUGH WITH THE BEST SHILOH'S CURE
25cts., 50cts. and $1.00 Bottle. One cent a dose.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival: has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For a Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S BELLADONNA PLASTER. 25c.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.
Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price 50cts. Injector free.
Sold by all druggists.
8147

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 2d, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " " "
4,935 feet 10 " " "
80,605 feet 8 " " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
179 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY,
City Clerk.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 11, 1895.

Armstrong J E	Ledeon L
Anderson Mrs Mary	Lloyd Miss
Bronson Miss E	Lowe Miss
Byron John	Laing Mrs N M
Bunn Mrs J N	Myers Fred H
Banner J	Mulligan Ellen
Blythe Katie	Macousen John
Bicker M	Miller J J
Brokaw Mrs Mary E	McKenna Michael
Baldwin W D	Hoyt W H
Bollison Wm	McElvaine Minnie
Colgate G S	Peterson Rev F E
Colfin Mrs L P	Pettonienie Maria
Clark Miss	Potts Geo H
Coalds Mary	Ray Georgia W
Carter W H	Rose Geo H
deGallarraga Dr J A	Randolph H R
Demarest D C	Reid Lizzie F
Dyckman Naomi F	Ruellan Mr
Edmonson Mamie	Randolph Mrs S R
Flanagan P	Randolph Sarah
G F R	Ross Will
Green John	Smith Hattie E
Hughes Annie	Starr W E
Hoehn Chas H	Schott Miss
Howell Frank	S H S
Hale Capt Geo	Thompson Frank
Henskins Jerry	Webber Mrs Anna
Hill Mrs Lithe	Williams Harry
Jones Lucy	Whiting Miss
Jones Lewis	Woman's Exchange
Jackson W H	Wilson M A

Williams Minnie A

M. M. DUNHAM,
Real Estate and Insurance.
7 East Front Street.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies
Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT,
25 Washington ave

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,
307 Broadway, New York.
1 5 6m

Hotels and Saloons.

HOTEL ALBION,
OPEN FOR GUESTS
Park avenue and 8th street.

The Finderne,
FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager,
Finderne, N. J.
1 0 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,
North Avenue.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.
5-13-t

CITY HOTEL.
Plainfield, N. J.
COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET
J. R. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.
With stables attached. 45y

IMPORTED WERZBURGER BEER
On draught at
CHARLES SMITH'S
Sample and Lunch Rooms, 4 WEST FRONT ST.
The Bartholomay, Rochester Pale, the Bavarian Dark and the St. Louis.
Ballantine's Ales also on draught The Indian Pale XXX Still Ale and Porter.

A full assortment of Stationery!
AT
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave.

$500 DOWN
Buys One of Those New Houses
on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,
111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank,
is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.
BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

F. A. DUNHAM.
Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue.
Sewers, pavements and road improvements.
Publisher of city map and atlas.

Real Estate Insurance
VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,
163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

REMOVAL.
I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to
142 North Avenue
Next to Walker's bakery, and shall e pleased to have my friends call.
CALEB DICKINSON

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE
For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.
R·I·P·A·N·S· TABULES
act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail.
Price 50 cents a box. Address
RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,
Real Estate and Insurance,
197 North ave. 10 1 tf

H. Eggerding,
121 PARK AVENUE.
Manufacturer of the celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

Jones & Co., Excavators.
Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
JONES & CO.
Cesstools built, 9 15

FISCHER PIANOS.
ESTABLISHED 1840.
Nearly 100,000 Now in Use.
RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD,
WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.
EASY TERMS,—EXCHANGED.
Catalogue mailed on application.
110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N.Y.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 15, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

Tribute to Ireland's Spring festival, St. Patrick's Day, is given by The Press in this issue, by the publication of special copyrighted material on Pages 6 and 7.

The charming story "Comfort Pease" by Mary E. Wilkins will be concluded in The Press tomorrow. The serial to run through next week will be "The Second Promise" by Howard Fielding, and following that will be Ouida's great new story "Toxin". All of these are brand-new, copyrighted, and published in The Daily Press for the first time.

Readers of The Press have already been told that the best newspaper in Union County is the Elizabeth Daily Journal, and Plainfield's best newspaper herewith extends congratulations to The Journal in its continued prosperity. The Journal has developed a great circulation which has necessitated the innovation in rural journalism of a delivery wagon. So wide is the field over which the huge piles of Journals have to be distributed that now a fleet horse dashes through the city supplying bundles of papers for the carriers and newsdealers. The Journal now covers Elizabeth as quickly as it does thoroughly.

As has already been stated in these columns, the success of The Daily Press as the Plainfield people's paper has prompted a jealous rival to say "The Press prints things for love; but we're in the business for money". It transpires that The Press is not alone in New Jersey in being above mercenary motives. The Newark Evening News is destined to shine with The Press as an example of journalistic integrity. The News was authorized to publish the delinquent tax list, and by law was allowed to charge 20 cents a line for the work. As its regular advertising rate was 10 cents a line, The News declined to accept more than that rate, and has therefore restored to the city treasury $1,325.70, the excess amount to which by law it was entitled. Conscience in newspapers is as admirable as in individuals, and the confidence and esteem of the people afford a reward as satisfactory as the accumulation of riches.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

A Farewell Tea.

Miss Marie Dryden of West Seventh street gave a tea at her home last evening as a farewell to Miss Jane Schoonmaker of Putnam avenue, who is soon to leave town. It was a charming affair. The decorations were pink, consisting of chrysanthemums and other choice flowers, making a picture of rare beauty.

The dinner cards represented "Brownies" and were exceedingly pretty in design.

Those present were: Miss Jane Schoonmaker, Miss Alice Schoonmaker, Miss Ethel Green, Miss Genevieve Daniels, Miss Marie Dryden, Arthur Freeman, Ted Freeman, Will Thiers, Meredith Dryden, Albert Woltmann, Edgar Sergell and Frank Hutton of New York. Max Wiertz was the caterer.

Progressive Euchre.

The regular meeting of the Progressive Home Circle was held last evening at the home of Carl Knerth, East Second street. A majority of the members present played euchre, and a four-handed penochle contest, which was entered into with Isaac Schwed and Thomas Hughes opposed to J. Karet and Joseph Blimm. During the game the latter scored the full 250 points in the count, this being the first time it has been done since the formation of the club. The former, however, were winners in the end by a score of 7 to 5.

Daffodil Luncheon.

A delightful daffodil luncheon was given by Miss Jessamy Hart of Putnam avenue yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Arthur Webb Parsons of Staten Island. The guests were Miss Kittie Stewart, Miss Sadie Hunter, Miss Margaret Yates, Miss May Wood, Mrs. Daniel Ginna, Miss Marion Dumont, Mrs. M. S. Ackerman, Mrs. Howard Tracy, Miss May Tracy, Mrs. Rice, Miss Elsie Hawley.

Games in the Bowling League.

Roselle last night defeated Cranford in both games. Alcyones won and lost with the E. A. C. The high score of 931 was rolled by the E. A. C.

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 1c a dose; 25, 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life; I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels; 75c. Sold by all druggists.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

George Ahern of Newark was in town last night.

John Morris of Newark was in Plainfield yesterday.

John Weir of Willow avenue is very low from hemorrhages.

F. H. Walton of Williamsport, Pa., was in town yesterday on business.

Mrs. S. R. Hope is still seriously ill at her home on Richmond street.

Mrs. Lane of East Front street is confined to her home with illness.

Patrick McGauley is ill with the grip at his home on West Third street.

William Ayres smiles blandly nowadays over the advent of a baby girl into his family.

George Hall is still compelled to remain in his rooms in the Central Hotel, with pleurisy.

Alfred Drew has recovered from his recent illness so as to be about, though unable to work.

Rev. Dean O'Grady of New Brunswick will lecture in St. Joseph's Church Sunday evening on St. Patrick.

Druggist Pike has recovered from his attack of rheumatism so as to be out of his rooms in Hotel Grenada.

Judson Bonnell of East Front street recently purchased a valuable black cob horse from a New York firm.

R. E. Rice of Allentown, Pa., and John P. Case of Clover Hill, Hunterdon County, are guests at the City Hotel.

Misses Anna and Carabel Harris of Cranford have been visiting their grandfather, S. R. Hope, Richmond street.

Dr. H. G. Stephenson is out again after his third siege of the grip. The doctor is a remarkably hale man for one 70 years of age.

Mrs. John Valiant gave a pleasant afternoon tea to a number of guests at her home on Craig place yesterday afternoon.

James Whalen, who is connected with the Stoutenburg clothing firm of Newark, is visiting his parent on West Sixth street for a few days.

William C. Hubbard will start for the South and West on an extended business trip, in a few days. Mrs. Hubbard will accompany him.

Mrs. L. W. Serrell, Jr., has consented to give recitations at the New England supper of the First Baptist Church next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

A number of Plainfield people attended a surprise party given to George Dale in Washington Valley last night. Dancing and games were the principal amusements.

Patrick Marron, the faithful shoemaker of Sherwin's shoe store, is contemplating a trip to Ireland in a short time to visit his aged mother and other relatives and friends.

The family of H. S. Taylor, who reside in Elizabeth, visited Mr. Taylor at his music store on West Front street last night, and with a few friends had a pleasant time in hearing vocal and instrumental music from the different members of the party.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

MUSIC HALL,

Jos. Sohl, Lessee and Manager

Telephone 49B.

Monday, Mch 18.

The new version of

Peck's Bad Boy.

New songs, dances, medleys, ideas and electrical effects.

Everything new but the name.

Prices 35, 50, 75 and $1. Box office now open.

A Special Meeting

OF THE

Home Building and Loan Ass'n

is called for

Monday, March 18,

at 8:30 p. m.

for the purpose of nominating officers and directors for the ensuing year. By order of ISAAC W. RUSHMORE, Pres.

S. R. STRUTHERS. Secy.

3 15 2

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,

118 West 5th st., Plainfield, N. J.

and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them"

Horner's Furniture.

Reasons why you should buy it in preference to any other.

(1). Because this firm have long enjoyed the reputation of keeping only the best Furniture that can be produced, both in medium and finest grades; (2). Because their assortments are unequalled; (3). Because their prices are the lowest at which goods of standard quality can be sold.

Latest productions in Dining Room, Bedroom, Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Hall Furniture—Venetian Carved Furniture—Novelties in Imported Furniture—White and Gold Enameled Furniture—Enameled and Brass Bedsteads—English Brass Bedsteads (75 patterns); Maple and Bamboo Furniture—Restful Easy Chairs and Settees—Smoking and Billiard Room Furniture—Everything for city or country homes—Eight spacious floors—All prices in plain figures.

R. J. HORNER & CO.,

Furniture Makers and Importers,

61-65 West 23d St., N. Y.

(Adjoining Eden Musee.)

Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

To the CONTESTANTS

for the

TEN IN GOLD!

We have received about two hundred replies to our offer of ten dollars to take the place of the word bargain, but none are original or can be used to advantage, so it has been decided to award the money to the Children's Home.

The following are some of the words suggested.

Ground Floor
20th Century
Pan Rock
White's Cinches
Bonanza
Your Gain
Ideal
Inducements
Royal Exchange
White's
Big Gains
Desirable Satisfaction
True Deal
Cheapets
Specialties
White's Snaps
None such as White's
White's irresistibles
Superfluities
Satisfactory Transactions

WHITE, of Plainfield.

Business tomorrow, see adv. tomorrow night

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS.

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc 3 14 m

—THE—

Plainfield Ice & Cold Storage Co

has removed from 140 Park avenue to

132 North Avenue.

3 13 6

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N J.

AT PECK'S.

NEW Street Glove $1.50. Foster's KID GLOVES. Black, Brown Tan, Mode and Slate.

SEBRING, CLOTHIER,

Will close the balance of $12 suits for $8.

$15 suits for $10.

$12 ulsters for $8.50.

$15 overcoats for $10.

Children's overcoats and school suits at cost.

Park Avenue, Packer's Block.

VAN EMBURGH & SON

One factory lot of

Unlaundried Shirts at 29c

14 to 16½ inch neck.

One Factory lot White Goods Remnants

At half value.

Figured India Silks at 25c yard.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Carpet Dep't.

Opening of New Spring Goods.

We quote only a few specials:

All-wool ingrains at.....49c
Tapestry Brussels, at.....53c 59c 65c
Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminister, Ishpahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, jointless, new patterns, 9c up
Oil cloths, No. 1. 39c No. 3 at 25c No 4 at 19c
Linoleums at 37½c; Window shades 19c up; poles with fixtures 19c up.

The elegant new Laces in

Our Lace Dept.

will interest you.

Laces, Veilings and Lace Collars.

A large collection of fine laces and lace collars (by far the most comprehensive assortment in the city) we shall offer during the week at prices very much below real value, comprising Broderie Anglaise, Point de Gene, Point Venise, Chiffon, Chantilly and Point de Ireland Laces, now very desirable for spring trimmings. Our leader this week—Brussells Applique in match patterns of 3 widths—5 inch 19c; 6½ inch 23c; 8 inch 31c a yard.

Veilings

All-silk Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings 18x27 inches wide, in all colors, at 25 and 35c a yard; regular price 35 and 50c a yard.

Lace Collars

Point Venise and Point de Rene Collars (butter color) now much in demand, regular $1.50 to $5 lines, special during the week at $1.25, $1.39, $1.93 and $3.28 each.

Silks

Illuminated Brocaded and Striped Taffeta Silks, 12 different combinations, 20 inches wide, will not cut, crush or slip in seams, choice designs, good value at 90c yard; special at 65c a yard. 700 yards of Crepon Wash Fabrics, in all leading colorings, regular 10c goods; special for the week 7½c yard.

Housefurnishing and China Dept

Extra values at about half price. At half price, 1 lot English Majolica milk and water pitchers

Milk pitcher regular price 15c; special 8c.
" " " 19c; special 10c
Water " " 29c; special 18c
" " " 39c; special 21c

The above are assorted colors and strictly perfect.

50 dozen engraved goblets, all perfect, at 3c each: scrub brushes, regular 15c, at 10c each; japanned chamber pails, assorted colors, 23c; another lot japanned bread boxes at 27c; japanned fire screens, 4 fold bamboo frames, at 49c

Grocery Department

TERMS CASH—Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. You will be surprised at the amount of money you can save in buying in this department.

SPECIAL SPECIAL

French sardines in pure olive oil, Martel brand at 10c can
Cook's flat salmon steaks, very fine, at 16c.
Very fine large olives, 32 oz bottle, 39c can.
Heinz's assorted Little Giant pickles 9c bottle.
Anderson's jams, all kinds, 1 pound tins, 12c.
FLOUR—Our White Seal Flour is in greater demand each day. The price and quality is right. ⅛ barrel 54c; ¼ barrel $1.07; ½ barrel $1.98; 1 barrel $3 95.

Special for Saturday Night Only

From 8 to 9:30.

500 yards of Point Venise, Bourdon, Applique and Valenciennes laces, 2 to 7 in. wide, 20c to 50c lines; special Saturday only at 10c, 18c, 20c, and 25c a yard.

1,000 yards of satin and gros grain ribbons in all leading shades, ¼ to 4 in. wide, reduced to 3, 5, 9, 12 and 20c a yard; regular price 5, 7, 12, 18 and 25c a yard.

EDSALL'S

Shoe Bargains.

Among the many bargains that we shall offer for a short time, yet are the following—Boys patent leather bals $1.98, were $4
Boys grain leather bals, waterproof, $1.98, were $3.
Misses Dongola kid, button, $1.48, were $2 50
Womens " " $1.48, were $3, $4 and $5.
Womens gt., button, $1.48, were $5. For men we have a number of bargains. Come and see for yourself.

DOANE & EDSALL.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Runyon returned home today from the South.

Mrs. Edward VanWinkle and daughter of Elm place spent yesterday in Somerville.

Mr. Baird of Elm place has moved with his family to his former home in Pennsylvania.

William Stewart and his mother of West Fifth street moved to Somerville today.

Jacob VanDyke is visiting his nephew, Charles C. McBride, editor of the Elizabeth Journal.

Charles Brownell of 129 Watchung avenue has moved with his family to 426 West Second street.

J. E. Townsend and family are moving from 8 Craig place to ex-Sheriff Coddington's house on Coddington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Murray will occupy the residence of Isaac W. Rushmore and family during their visit to California.

Boswell G. Horr leaves Plainfield tonight for Pennsylvania and Ohio to fill lecture engagements. He will return next week.

Everitt S. Swaim, the baritone singer in Dr. Meredith's church, Brooklyn, spent yesterday with his father, Wm. Swaim, West Front street.

Mrs. Eugene A. Gross of Seventh street went today to New York, where she will be the guest of Miss Annie Bennet of West Ninetieth street.

William Morrison formerly connected with The Evening News, and now of New York, is visiting his uncle, Thomas W. Morrison of Mountain avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey of Jackson avenue have returned home from a pleasant trip to Washington, D. C., where they spent several days last week.

Whatsoever's Night.

The Whatsover Circle, King's Messengers, of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, and their many friends, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips 508 Central avenue last evening, the event being an entertainment and parlor sale. The decorations were lavender and white, and were very attractive.

A programme consisting of a piano solos by Miss Lucile Pretty, Soprano solos, by Miss Blair, contralto solos by Miss Fanny Mattison and recitations by Miss Juliet Phillips of Jersey City, were very much enjoyed. The proceeds of the sale were encouraging and the entire affair was a success.

Preparing for Work.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church was held last night at the home of Miss Grace Yerkes. The chairmen of the various committees selected their assistants, and a committtee was appointed to rearrange the by-laws. Plans in social work for the coming season were discussed.

—Mr. Lunger, the East Front street grocer, is about to give up his business and move to North Plainfield.

—D. H. Terry of Plainfield and William Lever of Elizabeth will contest a shooting match at Jersey City tomorrow.

—There will be a special missionary service with music by a double quartette in the Trinity Reformed Church, Sunday, March 31.

—Surrogate A. B. Huff of Somerville has appointed H. N. Spencer and Jacob Voehl appraisers of the personal and real property of the late Daniel Cory. They went to Warrenville today to look after the business.

—On request, the young ladies of the Presbyterian Mission Band have decided to repeat the "Doll Show", and it will be given in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue Church Saturday March 23, at 4. Admission, 25 cents.

THE SCHUYLKILL IRON FURNACES.

Works That Competition in the West and South Has Closed.

The wrecking of the old Edge Hill blast furnace, at Edge Hill, Montgomery County, removes a familiar landmark on the line of the North Penn Railroad and adds another name to the list of abandoned iron making enterprises with which the Schuylkill Valley is strewn. Against the great advantages of cheaper ore and fuel in the West and South the manufacture of pig iron in this vicinity has had a continuously hard struggle during the last ten or fifteen years.

Twenty years ago the Lehigh Valley was the largest pig iron producing region in this country. New York State stood second, and the Schuylkill Valley was third. The Lehigh and Schuylkill Valleys together produced more pig iron than any entire State, outside of Pennsylvania, and their joint output was more than one-fourth of the whole product of the country. Last year the Schuylkill Valley stood twelfth in the list of iron producing regions, and the Lehigh Valley was in the fourteenth place.

Anthracite pig iron, the chief product of the Schuylkill Valley furnaces, has declined one-half in price in this market in twenty years, but anthracite coal which is the chief dependence of the pig iron industry of Eastern Pennsylvania, has not cheapened perceptibly since the beginning of that period. In intervening years it has been both higher and lower than at present.

A German Negro.

There is a negro porter at the Belvedere hotel whose native tongue is German, as he was born and brought up in Germany. When he meets with an impressible German newly arrived, he tells him that his color is the effect of the American climate. "I have been here eight years," he says. "When you have been here eight years you will be as black as I am." This amuses him, and the newcomer, too, when he has found out the inaccuracy of it.—N. Y. Sun.

"Yes," said one woman to another, "she's a very lovely girl, no doubt. But she isn't used to society."

"How do you know?"

"She was in a private box at the opera and she didn't make any noise whatever while the performance was going on."

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—"No Smoking" is the proper sign posted in the lobby of the postoffice.

—The carriers room in the postoffice will be ready for occupancy next week.

—H. Hand, auctioneer, has gone to Connecticut on a two-days business trip.

—A meeting of the Master Plumbers Association will be held this evening in McVey's restaurant.

—W. H. Ruckston, the milkman, has purchased an elegant enclosed milk wagon which he will use on his route, —The Grinell system of sprinklers for fire protection are being placed throughout the Babcock Building by a New York firm.

—The meeting of the Republic Savings and Loan Association was adjourned last evening till Thursday evening of next week.

—The programme for the coming entertainment of the German Reformed Church will probably be arranged tonight.

—A 25-foot brick extension is being built in the rear of the shoe store of M. Abrams on West Front street by Contractor Charles Burnett.

—On Saturday, March 23, we will sell 50 head of horses at public auction, at the Farmers Hotel, Somerset street.

JUSTICE & PETERSON.

—During the progress of the two-men bowling tournament at the Park Club last night Peter Matthews and Jules Erickson, who constitute a team, made a score of 423.

—Edsall says he has made great preparations for another big Saturday's trade tomorrow. He says purchasers will be sure to get their money's worth at the Commercial Palace.

—A passing coal train on the Central this morning carried several tramps who sat on loaded coal cars and smiled contemptuously on the passengers standing at the North Avenue station.

—The final preparations for the A. O. H. ball, to be given Monday night, was made at the meeting of that organization last night. Besides the routine business transacted 6 new members were elected and 12 applications received.

—E. A. Laine of Park avenue will remove April 1 to the store a few doors from his present location, lately occupied by the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company. The place is now receiving exterior decorations by painters.

—An examination of the confirmation class of the German Lutheran Church will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Klonka March 31. One candidate will also be baptized on that date. The confirmation will take place April 7 at 9:45 a. m.

—The Exempt Firemen's Association held a special meeting last night and voted to accept the invitation of Rev. Mr. Herring to attend divine service in the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday, March 24, when a sermon for firemen will be delivered.

—At Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, is always found the best brands of canned fruits and vegetables. Their teas and coffees are of the finest quality. A pound of their Java and Mocha coffee will convince you that none equals it in quality and flavor.

—H. O. Newman, C. M. Thorp, S. F Kimball, H. P. Reynolds, Stephen Cahoone, and E. R. Ackerman, composing the Finance Committee of the Y. M. C. A., held a meeting last evening in the Association Building, and discussed ways and means.

—Mr. Clemens of the Y. M C. A. received a letter a few days ago from the National School of Electricity in New York, commending him and his Plainfield class on their advancement in electrical studies, and stating that it was one of the banner classes.

—Unreliable papers have made a silly sensation of Charles Smith's shooting accident. One barrel of his gun did explode, but he was only slightly hurt, and laughed at the Music Hall show the same night. His trifling hurt has been magnified into an amputation of the arm.

—An interesting programme was carried out at the meeting of Central lodge, A. O. U. W., last night. Samuel C Baker read a choice selection from Bret Harte; Thaddeus C. Smith delivered an address on "Do Fraternal Organizations Intend to Promote and Elevate Mankind?" Several songs were sung by George Clark.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Short Stories of Heroism from Real Life.

Running the Batteries Under Fire.

March 15, 1863, soon after midnight, Commodore Farragut made a dash past the Confederate batteries at Port Hudson, down the river from Pittsburg. The enemy mounted 19 guns bearing on the Mississippi channel. With the flagship Hartford and the Albatross, Farragut stole up under their guns and opened fire. The Confederates rushed to their pieces, and to the bewilderment of darkness was soon added that of dense battle smoke. The Hartford passed on with her consort. The Richmond, following, was disabled at a bend in the river near the last battery, and with her consort, the Genesee, turned back. The Monongabela and Kineo had their guns disabled by the enemy's shots, delivered at 100 yards, and also backed out. Undismayed by the disasters to her comrades, the Mississippi steamed ahead, firing steadily. At the bend in the channel where the effect of the shore guns was greatest she grounded and heeled to port. With the starboard guns firing as though nothing had happened Captain Melancthon Smith ordered the port guns spiked and thrown overboard. Even that didn't bring the ship on a level keel, and the captain determined to destroy her and save his men. While the wounded were being lowered into the boats the starboard batteries continued to fire at every flash of the enemy's cannon, the only guide for the gunners. After smashing the engines the ship was set on fire between decks. When the fire was well under way and the under officers and crew safe in the boats, Captain Smith and his lieutenant spiked the last gun and left the gallant old ship to her fate. She lost 64 men in the encounter, more than all the other ships combined. She also did more execution. Her officers and crew remained cool throughout, never forgetting, too, that they were bound to fight the enemy's batteries as well as to pass them. The Mississippi really had the hardest end to bear up. By the time she reached the scene the smoke of battle hanging over the volley made it impossible for her pilots or gunners to see beyond the rail of their ship.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

—An entertainment will be given in the Disciples Chapel on Liberty street this evening.

STARVING won't cure Dyspepsia. You need nourishment, and to get it you must make the stomach and bowels digest your food; that is what are for. One after each meal, and the most stubborn case of Dyspepsia (and that is everything) will disappear. White wrappers if constipated, yellow if not.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills.

25 cents at druggists'. Send to us for a free sample.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, New York.

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-c

Three New Styles,

A Year of Paper Dolls 60c

The Brownies in Paper Dolls 60c

Famous Queens in Paper Dolls 15c.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS.

Notice of Order to Limit Creditors.

Somerset County Surrogate's Office.

Estate of Daniel Cory deceased,

Notice is hereby given that on the eleventh day of March A. D. 1895 on the application of the undersigned, as administrator of Daniel Cory deceased; an order was made by the Surrogate requiring the creditors of Daniel Cory deceased, to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the said decedent, under oath or affirmation and present the same to the subscriber within nine months from the date of said order; and in default thereof any such creditor should be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the subscriber

JOHN CORY
Administrator.

3 15 9-oaw

DEATHS.

FINE—On Thursday morning, March 14, 1895, Eliza E., wife of Christopher M. Fine.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services at her late residence, 460 West Front st., Sunday, March 17, at 2:30 p. m.

Somerville papers please copy 3

RANDOLPH—At Newark N. J., March 14, 1895. George F. Randolph.

Funeral services at Mt. Olive Baptist Church on Sunday, March 17, at 2:30 p. m. Friends

CONWAY—In this city March 14, 1895. Robert Conway, aged 57 years.

Funeral services at No. 3, The Row, West Fourth st. Saturday March 16, at 4 p. m. Friends COLLINS—In Brooklyn N. Y. March 13, 1895. Evelyn T. wife of George A. Collins.

Funeral services from her late residence 15 Prospect Place, North Plainfield, Saturday March 16, at 2 p. m.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 163 1 26 y

Almost Given Away

Who wants it?

A House on Fairview Avenue,

Watchung Park. New, delightfully located, LOT 50x175 FEET.

9 rooms, all improvements, electric and gas light, stained glass finely papered; has to be seen to be appreciated; known as the Russian style; mortgage $3,000; $1,500 cash takes it. Can be seen at any time. Apply to

A. BARTLETT,
3 13 6 339 Park avenue.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

TO LET—Two small stores or offices on one of the finest corners in the city, with or without stable room for one or more horses. Inquire F. Westphal & Son cor. of West 4th and Liberty st. 3 6 m

WANTED—A girl for general housework. Mrs. Bliff, Scotch Plains.

WANTED—Young girl for light housework, sleep home. Call from 2 to 5 p. m. 426 Madison ave.

PLACES wanted for coachman or useful man; also for a chambermaid and seamstress. Recommendations excellent. Apply between 9 and 11 at the office of the Organized Aid, corner Park and North avenues.

BUGGY for sale, in good order, price $15 52 Jackson ave.

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. P. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

FOR SALE—Baby carriage and high chair. 121 Hillside ave. 3 14 2

FOR SALE—Cheap, a carriage and cart. 1045 West 2d st. 2 14 2

WHITE woman wants work by the day week or month; is a good laundress and has good city references. Call 331 Cottage place. 3 14 3

HOUSE to let on Duer st., 9 rooms with improvements; $35. Call at 17 Duer street. 3 12 6

WANTED—A reliable girl for general housework, with references. 913 West Front st. 3 13 3

TO LET—7 room house on Duer st; $15. Call 17 Duer st. 3 12 6

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, old established meat market, 2 horses and 2 wagons; good paying business; reason for selling given. Address Butcher, care Press. 3 11 6

TO RENT—House 303 West 2d st; now occupied by Relief Association. Inquire 208 Madison ave. 3 11 6

HORSE and buggy for sale cheap. Call 85 Manning ave. 3 11 6

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman. 1 30 tf

PLAINFIELD SOUVENIR SOLID SILVER SPOONS.

COLLIER'S,

103 PARK AVENUE.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

Hot Rolls

of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department, 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
69c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....69c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 20c " 10c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $4 25—worth $6
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2 49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1 25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 00 " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44, for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 8 4 y

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16
Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

BIG CUT.

Special Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia 1 lb Print Creamery Butter 20 cts.

4 lbs cod fish for 25 cents; 1 lb package best macaroni 7½ cents; Dried green peas 5 cents a quart; Best laundry starch 5 cents lb; Granulated sugar 4 cents lb; 2 lbs extra creamery cheese for 23 cents.

AT FULPER'S.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

THE GREEN RIBBON.

A STORY OF ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

[Copyright, 1895, by American Press Association.]

"An if iver ye meet a pretty fair maid,
Wid a dark an rollin eye,
Oh, kiss her an embrace her
An tell her the rayson why!"

It was Annie, the boarding house chambermaid, caroling outside Miss O'Neil's hall bedroom.

"God bless the Irish heart of her!" said Miss O'Neil, and then she sighed as she fastened her collar with her mother's old fashioned brooch, the little quick sigh that tells of melancholy put down by determination.

Miss O'Neil was Irish herself. Her gray, dark fringed eyes told that more plainly than did her name, and though her pretty speech was enriched by just a touch of brogue she was newer to the new world than Annie and more homesick for the old.

Annie tapped lightly at the door.

"Yes; come in, Annie," said Miss O'Neil, and then she started and stared an instant. "Why, Annie, is it— Why, it is St. Patrick's day! Think of my forgetting that!"

Annie had a knot of green ribbon on her breast. Miss O'Neil's lip began to quiver. "Oh, Annie," the words came, with a sob, "I wish I was back in Ireland! I wish I was!"

"Sure ye'll think ye are this day. Ye're not fit to go down stairs. Sit here, an I'll bring yer breakfast up to ye meself. It's a blessed day, an let me begin it by doin that much for a ra-al Irish lady—the Blessed Virgin take care of ye!"

"You have done a deal for me by just being so sweet and Irish, Annie, and bringing the sight of your green ribbon with you. It made me cry, but I'll be braver for it." Miss O'Neil wiped her eyes. She turned back as her hand was on the knob. "It ought to be a lucky day this, don't you think so, Annie, for an Irish girl?"

SHE CAUGHT AT A CHAIR.

And Annie stopped beating a pillow to say that St. Patrick's was well known to her mother before her and her grandmother before that for the luckiest day in the whole year, and that if Miss O'Neil had the luck she deserved—but Miss O'Neil was gone.

It was not a year since Mary O'Neil had come to America with her widowed father. He was a Dublin lawyer, making a good income and spending it all, but after her mother's death he found life in the old surroundings intolerable. He must do something to get away from familiar sights and sounds. He determined to go to America. Friends said it was madness at his time of life to tear up the old roots and transplant his profession, but he said he should go mad if he staid. He was himself surprised when Mary, too, said she would rather go than stay. She would like to live in America. He did not think of the fact that young Harry Stevenson was in America as having anything to do with Mary's willingness to live there. Neither did Mary, or if she did she did not put the thought into words, not even to deny it. But the mother, if she could have known, would have suspected that there was a connection between the two things and would have sighed and smiled with tears in her eyes. Mary did not know that young Stevenson had asked her father's permission to write to her and had been refused it on the ground that it was best to put no nonsense in such a chit's head when she had never thought of such a thing as a lover in her life. The best way would be to leave her alone in her childish freedom of heart for a time, was Mr. O'Neil's verdict, and his wife knew he was talking nonsense—that Mary was a woman—but she told him it was a wise arrangement, because who could tell but that anything else was yet more unwise? And so Mary had her time of the secret pain girls know so well till all lesser troubles were lost in her loss of her mother.

She and her father came to America. She never asked him why he did not look up Harry Stevenson. He thought to himself that she had actually forgotten all about him. He would not look up a man who had once wanted to become his daughter's suitor till he had once more gained a place in the world for his daughter befitting her. He lived only six months after their arrival, and his daughter was now living on the little capital he left behind him, or rather on the small part of that which was in money. She was a brave girl, and she had cast about her for some way to earn her living at once. She had at last decided to try to go on the stage. It was not such a foolish decision in her case as it usually is, looked at from one point of view. A sheltered, happy girl is not apt to have many breadwinning gifts at her command when she is suddenly thrown on her own resources, and Mary was no exception, but she had a large experience of the amateur stage and beauty, distinction and a lovely, round Irish voice. To seek some modest theatrical engagement seemed a sensible thing to do—till she began to do it.

But, oh, the misery, the humiliation, the cold despair she had felt during this last week! She, without friends, without experience, had been making the rounds of the dramatic agents and managers, and only her despair, her pride and her courage had kept her up under her experience of their cynical, cold scorn and indifference, their tone, so new to her, that refused to recognize her femininity as any plea for the courtesy she was so used to that she had never recognized its existence till she missed it.

Today she was to see one more, an agent, the last on her list. Yesterday he had said to her brusquely, "I haven't time to talk to you." Then, with a glance that measured her as if she had been a horse: "You say you've played a lot with amateurs? Well, you can come in and see me tomorrow at 2 o'clock if you want to. I'll hear what you have to say, if you can say it in ten minutes."

"We expected to see you all in green, with a harp in your hand, this morning, Miss O'Neil," said one of the old women of the boarding house as the girl seated herself at the breakfast table. She drew her crocheted chinchilla shawl closer about her, with a pinched smile.

"I suppose Miss O'Neil will appear in that costume when she makes her debut on the stage," said the little beprinked passe married woman who considered herself the belle of the boarding house.

"One of my young men said he saw you in Hart & Block's office yesterday, so we expect you to begin starring soon." She stared at Mary with hard, triumphant black eyes. She felt she had ferreted out a secret and succeeded in giving pain.

"Well, that's great news for us theater goers, if it's so, Miss O'Neil," said the big, good natured drummer. "Lucky manager"— He was interrupted by another and very dismal old woman, who said in a high, penetrating voice that it was "a terrible thing the way actresses behave nowadays by what you read in the newspapers. I never saw one myself," and the drummer, feeling himself powerless before the feminine phalanx, swallowed at a gulp his beverage, called by courtesy coffee, and flung himself out of the room, wondering if Miss O'Neil would accept a pot of shamrock if he sent it to her. He concluded he did not dare try it.

Miss O'Neil carried herself through the meal with that quiet pride the belle of the boarding house called arrogance, but she did not eat much, and as she stitched away, repairing and remodeling her little wardrobe, all morning, some tears dropped upon her gowns.

"Well, at this rate I'm doing my clothes more harm than good," she said to herself, "and indeed they cannot afford the luxury of grief, and neither can I," and she got up to look in the glass to see if her eyes were red. The tide had turned, as Irish tides do, so unaccountably, and she dressed and went out upon her appointed mission all but gayly. She put all thought of the coming interview out of her mind, and let her heart grow at the sight of so many green ribbons and green flags on boys and men and horses and carts. "It is an Irish town, as they say," she thought, "and an Irish girl ought not to have to starve here."

In a shop window she caught sight of the most gorgeous green ribbon she had seen that day, a lovely ribbon of watered silk embroidered in gold harps and shamrocks. "I never saw anything so pretty," she exclaimed sotto voce. "Oh, I must have a piece of it!" was the next thing with this Irish daughter of Eve. Her little money was melting away day by day; she was economizing to the point of hardship, walking till she was faint to save a car fare; her future was full of dark uncertainty, and she was facing it like a heroine, and now here she was merrily squandering $1.50 for a useless knot of green ribbon, carried away by a child's impulse made of infantile patriotism, vanity and pleasure in prettiness.

"No, don't do it up," she said to the shopgirl, and she knotted her ribbon on her breast under her cloak. "I must remember and not throw back my cloak in that office," she cautioned herself. "That man might be an Orangeman. Who knows?" thought the Dublin girl, with serious faith in the reality of such an issue.

Hart, the agent, sat at his desk in an inner room. The outer office was full of ladies of all ages, but unanimously youthful in toilet and generally yellow haired, with a sprinkling of clean shaven men. Mary passed through the crowd, summoned by the magnate of the place, to enter his sanctum at once.

"Well?" he said curtly. Mary tried to state her case. She mentioned among other things that she sang.

"I'll put your name on our list," said the great man. "Maybe we can place you if you are willing to go on the road at a very small salary, but I doubt if we can do anything for you at all, and certainly not before next fall. Good day!"

"HARRY, HARRY STEVENSON!"

Mary had stood during the five minutes' interview. She turned to the door. Her eyes were dim with the sickness of hope deferred; she did not see a stool at her feet; she stumbled over it, caught at a chair to save herself; her cloak flew back as she threw out her arm, and there on her breast gallantly waved that foolish knot of gay green ribbon. Mr. Hart had sat unmoved while she was about to fall, but now a quite human smile spread over his face that had hitherto been so sphinxlike.

"Wait a minute," he said. "Is that for St. Patrick's day?"

"Yes," and Mary stood straight and proud and far more becomingly than before. "I'm an Irish woman."

"Good," said Mr. Hart. "You did that very well; looks as if there were some stuff in you. Sit down here a minute. I'm an Irishman myself, Irish American, and I'm in a devil of a hole about an Irish singer I'd engaged for a show tonight. Irish society going to have a banquet at one of the theaters tonight. It's one of the little places, and this girl that was going to sing some real old Irish songs for them from the stage has gone and got the quinzy or something. I don't know anybody that knows any real Irish songs, and you can't put up a fake on these people. Do you suppose you've got voice enough, and do you know any Irish songs?"

That night Mary sang before the banqueting Irishmen and the onlooking Irish women who filled the boxes and balconies of the little theater.

"Where'd they get her?" "Who is she?" "And did you ever hear such a voice for sweetness and roundness? A contralto for me every time!"

"Do you know who she is at all?" The bombardment of the silent young man continued: "Is she Irish? She must be."

"Yes, she's Irish," he answered at last, adding hastily, "You may be sure of it."

After an interval the singer again appeared. The young man left his seat and found another, close to the stage.

Mary began to sing to its own incomparable melody "The Dear Irish Boy."

The lines had just rung out, with their heart moving pathos, when there was a scream, a crash and a great confusion. Some one, of course, cried "Fire!" and a hundred voices contradicted him in various uncomplimentary terms. The pit of the theater had been boarded over to make a new floor above the seats, and this temporary flooring had given way at one spot. No one was seriously injured. A woman or two had fainted, a man or two went home, and then the festival once more became festive, and calls for the rest of the "Dear Irish Boy" began to be raised.

But something very queer had happened. The singer had disappeared entirely. Not a trace of her was to be found. "She's a fairy, a real Irish fairy," the men said to each other. The mystery of her exit added in retrospect to the mystery and charm of her appearance. The newspaper men found "material" in the matter. Mary had "made a hit."

When the crash came and the singer stopped and paled, when all heads were turned from the stage, the silent young man who had drawn near had leaped upon it, the girl gave one hushed cry, "Harry, Harry Stevenson!" the word "Fire!" had rung out, and Harry Stevenson had hurried her off the scene.

The next day Mr. Hart wrote to Miss O'Neil telling her he had an engagement for her with a popular Irish comedian who had heard her sing the night before.

"I shall tell him, Harry, that I already have an engagement with an Irish comedian," said Mary.

"God grant you may never play tragedy with him!" said Harry Stevenson, pressing her hand between both of his till she reminded him she had already warned him that the belle of the boarding house was watching them through the portieres.

"Well, our story begins, this chapter of it, as a reward for my sins. If fate keeps that, we'll surely always be lucky. What would have become of me if I hadn't squandered my precious pennies for that silly ribbon, bless it! They say God loves the Irish, and there's a sign of it, for it was the Irishest thing to do!" VIOLA ROSEBORO.

Call and see the new

SPALDING

FOR '95.

Any one placing their order for a Spalding before January 1, 1895, will receive a new

'95 Spalding Cyclometer

FREE.

W. H. ROGERS,

408 West 5th st.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 2 m

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 2 26 tf

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

E. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 5024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Langer, Fin. Sec. 9 25 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 148, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
W. A. Thorne, Secretary.

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON.

New No. 129., North Ave., Plainfield

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 25 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania

6.37 P. M. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.34 p.m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 02 9.08, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 08, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 04, 5 46, 6 17, 6 45, 7 07, 7 20, 7 47, 7 57, 8 06, 8 20, 8 28, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 38, 10 49, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 13, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 46, 3 57, 4 07, 4 43, 5 15, 5 32, 5 48, 6 08, 6 27, 6 48, 6 58, 7 07, 7 26, 7 59, 9 41, 9 10, 9 50, 10 08, 11 05 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 5 04, 7 54, 8 45, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 38, 1 44, 2 28, 3 45, 5 45, 6 28, 6 54, 8 45, 7 05, 7 12, 7 25, 7 58, 8 30 9 15, 10 15, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 02, 3 37, 7 19, 9 08, 9 36, 11 45, A. M.; 1 08, 1 37, 3 38, 5 08, 8 26, 7 46, 8 45, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 3 39, 9 06, 9 36, 10 41 A. M.; 3 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 39 a. m.

Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Ranway—1, 1 43 daily ex. Monday, 4 08, 6 44, 7 20, 7 39, 9 54, 9 46, 9 50, 10 39, 11 43, a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 1 37, 2 48, 3 20, 3 39, 3 59, 4 39, 5 22, 5 46, 6 06, 6 12, 6 17, 6 27, 6 45, 6 52, 6 59, 7 20, 7 46, 8 14, 8 55, 9 54, 11 02 11 45 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 1, 1 43, 6 39, 7 43, 9 49, 10 26 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 56, 1 50, 2 47, 3 58, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 9 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 7 58, 9 05, 9 26, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 35, 1 37, 2 46, 3 50, 4 38, 5 05, 5 40, 6 06, 6 45, 7 46, 9 19 and 11 03 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 39, 9 05, 9 26 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59 a.m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 54 p.m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 25, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59, 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 55, 9 54 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 25, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 35, 2 46 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—3 06, 6 37, 7 10, 7 59, 9 05, 9 26, 11 43 A. M.; 1 05, 1 27, 2 46, 5 08, 6 12, 7 46, 8 45, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 6 39, 9 06, 9 26, 10 41 A. M.; 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 59 A. M., 2 46 and 5 36 p. m., and 5 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 59 A. M.; 2 46 P. M.

For Freehold—7 59, 11 43 a. m., 4 08, 5 08 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 59 and 11 43 a. m., 4 08 and 5 08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 19, 5 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p. m.

For Boston—8 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave (New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 20, 7 25, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 25, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 20, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40, 7 00, 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 30 p. m., 12 15 night. Sundays, 1 00 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30 5 00, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 9 30, 9 30, 10 15 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass Agent

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 20, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 20, 5, 6 20 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 20 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 20 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 20 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Agt.

30 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.

Invites the public to inspect the operation his newly acted steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner short notice.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 57, 5 32, 6 05, 7 25, 8 05, 7 30, 7 50, 8 05, 8 16, 8 37, 8 45, 9 05, 9 20, 9 40, 9 50, 10 06, 10 19, 11 19, A. M., 12 05, 1 15, 2 05, 3 30, 3 32, 3 55, 4 10, 4 50, 5 05, 5 20, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 30, 8 32, 9 30, 10 17, 11 17 P. M. Sunday—2 14, 3 57, 5 05, 5 32, 6 05, 8 05, 8 45, 9 30, 10 06, 11 19, 11 30 A. M., 12 05, 1 15, 2 05, 3 30, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 9 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8, 8 40, 9 10, 10, 11 45, A. M., 1 10, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 4, 4 30, 5, 5 15, except Saturday, 5 30, 6 45, 6, 6 15, 6 30, 7, 7 30, 8, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00 P. M., 12 15, 1, night. Sunday—4 30, 7 15, 8 30, 9 15, A. M., 12 M., 1, 2 15, 4, 5 30, 7, 9 00, 10 00 P. M., 12 15 night. 1 A M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5 35, 6 29, 6 59, 7 26, 7 55, 8, 8 48, 9 22, 10 04, 10 27, A. M., 12 06, 1 15, 2 07, 2 30, 3 13, 3 51, 4 30, 5 54, 6 54, 7 02, 8 20, 10 17 11 28 P. M. Sunday—8 01, 8 52, 10 02, 11 30, A. M. 12 29, 1 45, 2 20, 3 26, 7 11, 8 20, 9 22, 10 17 P. M.

Leave Newark 6 15, 7 10, 7 55, 8 30, 9, 9 08, 10 05, 11 08 A.M., 1 15, 1 35, 2 20 Saturday only, 2 35, 3 05, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 6 32, 6 40, 8 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 35 P. M. Sunday—7 20, 8 45, 9 25, 11 35, A. M., 1 10, 2 35, 4 10, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 5 45, 7 10, 9 16, 9 54, 11 a.m., 12 40 2 05, 2 25, 3 45, 4 30, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 33, 7 12, 7 34 8 21, 10 16, 11 22 P. M., 12 38 night Sunday—8 45, 9 30 9 54, A. M., 2 05, 3 25, 5 14, 6 38, 10 16, 11 14 P. M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 30, 7 00, 7 26, 7 55, 7 45, 8 20, 9 05, 9 45, 11 40 A. M., 12 57, 1 45, 3 05, 3 25, 4 25, 5 28, 6 35, 6 57, 8 45, 11 05, P. M. Sunday 8 25, 9 45, 10 55 A. M., 12 05, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 02, 9 05, 9 40 P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 8 16, 9 54, A. M., 12 45, 3 05, 5 14, 6 38, 9 21 P. M. Sunday—8 45, 9 38 A. M., 2 05, 6 05 P. M.

Leave Easton 8 05, 7 00, 8 53, A. M., 12 52, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sundays—7 15, 10 52, A. M. 6 40, 7 30, P. M

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m, 5 05 p.m

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 45 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 P. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 05 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 05 P. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

5 14 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 38 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

9 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

8 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 38 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 2 05 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6 38 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 37 a. m. 1 18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 8 37, 8, 10 27, a. m 1.18, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 8 03, a. m., 5 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 37, 5 38, 8 10 27 a. m. 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 7 03 p.m. Sundays—8 37, a. m., 5 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 37, 8, 10 27 a. m. 1 18 3 51, 4 50 p.m.

MONTAUK BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 45, 8 46 9 45, 10 55, a. m., 2 09*, 5 54* 8 21, 9 27* p. m., 1 12, night, Sundays—5 45, 8 46, a. m., 2 09*, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 5 45, 8 46, 9 45*, 10 55, a. m., 12 45 2 09*, 5 54*, 8 38*, 8 21, 9 27* p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday—5 45, 8 34, a. m., 2 09*, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9 45, a. m. 2 09, 5 54* 6 45 p. m. 1 12, night. Sundays—9 45 a. m., 2 09, 5 14* 6 45 p.m. 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 34 p m. Sundays 5 14 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, weekdays at 9 54 a m., 5 22 p. m. Sundays 6 35 p. m

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA.

Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 20, 9 50, 11 25 a.m., 1 20 3 20 6 15, 6 04, 8 25, p.m. 12 10, night.

Sundays—4 10, 8 20, 9 50, 12 35 a. m., 3 20, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—3 55, 7 58, 9 21, 11 19, 2 m. 3 20, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—3 55, 7 58, 12 19 p m, 3 20, 6 13, 8 10, 11 45 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 58, 9 06, 10 25, a.m. 12 15* 2 10, 4 25*, 5 54, 9 07 p. m. Sundays—1 00, 4 58, 9 06, 10 27 a. m. 1 15*, 4 25 6 45*, 9 05 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

G. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging. 97 Chatham street.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N J

We make prices this week that will move them like feathers before a March wind.

UNUSUAL.

Great reductions, "half price sales," and "goods at cost," usually mean undesirable things that must fairly be kicked out, if they are to go out.

This week we offer two brilliant exceptions—

1st—$12 and $15 Ulsters at $7.90.

2d—$15 and $20 Overcoats at $10.90.

WERNER'S, 206 West Front St

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 189 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 1 19 tf

ERIN'S GREAT SAINT.

CONFLICTING STORIES AS TO HIS BIRTH AND DEATH.

What St. Patrick Says In His "Confessions." His Great Work For the Cause of Christianity—The Shamrock Used to Illustrate the Trinity.

Irish historians and nearly all those who have written about the birthplace of St. Patrick are in doubt as to the country to which he belonged or the place where rest his mortal remains. As many as 36 lives of the saint were written as early as the twelfth century. These various works have since the conquest of Ireland by England in 1172 been condensed into seven, and on these seven works is founded most, if not all, of what has been since written in connection with the life, the history and the times of St. Patrick. Much that was pertinent to the nativity and birthplace of St. Patrick has doubtless been expunged in these condensed works, but enough still remains to show that, though a Gallic as well as a Celtic origin has been claimed for him, there is abundant evidence to show, and indeed St. Patrick himself says in his "Confessions," that he was an Englishman.

"I was born," says he in his famous "Confessions," "the son of Calpurnius, who was of the village of Bonavon, in Thavurnia," and Mr. Cashel Hoey, a well known Catholic writer, thinks that St. Patrick was the son of a British official employed under the Roman power, and who remained in Britain after the Roman legions had returned to do battle for Julius Cæsar.

Ballandist's copy of the "Book of Armagh," one of the most ancient records that is now extant, says: "Patrick, who was called Sochet, was a Briton by birth, being born in Britain, the son of Calpurnius, a deacon, who was of the village of Bonavon Thabur, not far from the sea."

Again, St. Patrick speaks of himself, saying, "After a few years I was again in Britain with my parents." Elsewhere the saint refers to his great anxiety "to go to Britain as unto his parents," and also to visit his spiritual brethren in Gaul. Besides all this St. Patrick's father and brother were buried in Glastonbury, only 17 miles from Bath, in the west of England, which is near the river Avon, running into the Irish sea. It is thus understood that "Bonavon Shabur" refers to the mouth of the Avon, which adjoins Bath, and is only 19 miles from the Bristol channel.

ST. PATRICK.

Owing to a revolt in the district after the withdrawal of the Roman legions from Britain, St. Patrick and his brother and sister were carried away from their parents and sold as slaves into Ireland. The future apostle was but 16 years of age when, in the early Saxon times, the shores of Britain were infested by pirates. In Ireland Patrick's occupation was like that of the prodigal son of the New Testament—feeding and herding hogs and tending sheep. He thus became the slave of an Irish chief named Melcho, who farmed lands near Ballymena, in the county of Antrim, and while St. Patrick was in this condition he sighed and longed for his native land, and while in a yearning condition he tells us he had an intimation that the time of his deliverance was close at hand. During a vision one night he saw in his dreams a man named Vitricus—a thoroughly Roman name—coming from one of the Roman camps, in which, while a boy, he resided with his father on the banks of the Avon, and he prayed long and fervently that he might be rescued.

In his twenty second year, A. D. 454, he set sail from the barony of Tyrawley, in the county of Mayo, and after being three days at sea he reached that part of France between Trajectus and Tours, on the banks of the Loire. Finally he arrived at Tours and joined some of the colaborers of St. Martin, who was bishop of that place. Here the future apostle of Ireland remained four years undergoing an education, through the influence of the bishop, who was a near relative of his mother, Gaul as well as Britain then owning tacit submission to the Roman empire. He was admitted to the priesthood in due time and commissioned by Pope Celestine to preach the gospel to missionary nations. The first wish of young Patrick as soon as he became a priest was to return to Ireland and to convert those Irish herdsmen who had toiled with him in the days of his captivity. It is owing to this circumstance that the name of St. Patrick is known to us as the apostle of Ireland.

When he relanded in Ireland, the Irish were already a highly civilized people, with an organized form of government and enjoying the benefits of civilization, derived from a former effort under St. Germanicus to Christianize them. They were then organized in clans, the head of each clan being a chieftain, who carried on the government of his tribe under an admirable constitution known as the Brehon laws, and St. Patrick lost no time with the common people. He addressed himself to the chieftains and the kings, feeling that if he converted these he would secure the spiritual conquest of the entire nation. Accordingly, availing himself of a convention in the famous halls of Tara, he addressed himself to the assembled chiefs, preaching to them the gospel of a new civilization as well as of Christian truth. The Irish were always hospitable and kindly to strangers, and, though the Druids and pagan priests of the period received the strange young missioner with the same feelings of alarm as the Samoan people would today receive an enovy of the Vatican or a disciple of Exeter Hall, the chiefs gave Patrick a hearing, and, according to all accounts, he made the best possible means of his great opportunity. It so happened that at the time of this convention in the historic halls of Tara the Druid priests had ordered fires to be lighted upon the neighboring hills of Louth and of Meath in honor of the gods and of the great occasion. St. Patrick had made such headway with his doctrines that in winding up his sermon he utilized the beacon lights to assure his hearers that a light was burning brightly in Erin that evening which might never become extinguished. He had already confounded the Druids and turned the tables upon themselves and their doctrines in presence of the kings and chieftains of the nation.

One remarkable instance of Patrick's extraordinary cleverness and of his readiness to avail himself of a simple illustration, in order to bring conviction home to his hearers, comes down to us from his day. While the young missioner was discoursing upon the Trinity one of the Druid priests interrupted him, as a Unitarian might do even in our own day, by challenging Patrick to explain how there were three Gods in one. This was evidently a poser to the illiterate pagans, who sat around the royal circle. But Patrick, suiting the action to the word, stooped down, and plucking a single leaf of shamrock from the sward beneath him held it up to the astonished gaze of the multitude, and explaining that, as the little bit of trefoil grew on a single stem, and the stem emanated from the three leaves, so there were three Gods in one, and one in three. One can easily imagine, even at this distance of time, with what a thundering shout of patriotic applause this explanation involving the shamrock was received by the primitive Irish, even if the reason and the not overacute intellect of the period remained unsatisfied.

It was in this way and by arts like these quite as much as by the force and the beauty of Christian principles that St. Patrick accomplished his purpose and established his right to the chief apostleship of Ireland.

JOSEPH W. GAVAN.

IRISH NAMES.

Their Origin and What Many of Them Mean.

"The O's are above the Macs."

This was one of the old sayings with which one faction too often taunted another, but it is only true in the sense that the O's were first on the ground. Both mean the same—that is, "son of" or "of the house of," as De in French and Spanish, Van in Dutch and A or Ap in Welsh and old English. Some Scotchmen, however, claim that Mac is from the same root as the Latin magnus, and therefore means "great." As there were no surnames before the tenth century, many a family or clan took the name of its chief or founder, as the Hy-Nial, and later O'Neil from the great Nial.

Naari was old Celtic for "hero," and the MacNaaris were his followers. Queen Macha gave name to Ar-machs, or Armagh. Owen Mor was "Owen the Great." Cormac Ulla was "Long Beard," but it is hardly the case that all the McCormacks are his descendants. Laighaire was the monarch who protected St. Patrick, and by slow modifications the name has become Leary. All the kings of the sixth and seventh centuries were of the Hy-Nial race, so the O'Neils are an extensive family. The Scotch Dearmid and Irish Dermid changed naturally to Dermott, and the clansmen added the Mac. In like manner King Hugh probably gave origin to the great sept of the Hughes.

The Danes left us a few names—all those old names ending in "ford," chiefly names of places, as Wexford, Waterford, etc. Among their opponents appear the great Brian and Melaghlin, or Malachy, well represented in Irish names of today. Soon after the Danish war began we find such names for titles as Glun-dubh, or "Black Knee;" Sitrick and Ivar—the last clearly Danish, but the MacIvors are good Irish. Godfrid, son of Sitrick, was the first Danish chief to proclaim himself a Christian, but as he did this in a year of disaster, and when he had gathered power again destroyed all the churches of East Meath (A. D. 949) and burned 150 people in the oratory at Drumvee, we must doubt his conversion.

The Norman conquest brought in a great variety of names and titles, and thereafter all had surnames. The prefix "Fitz," meaning "son," soon abounded in Irish names, as Fitzroy, Fitzburn, Fitzgerald, etc. The De Burghos transformed a sept, and half the fighting men of Galway became Burkes. Other founders of Irish-Norman houses were the De Clares, De Cogans, De Lacys, De Courcys, Le Poers and the great Maurice Fitzgerald, common ancestor of the Geraldines of Desmond and Kildare. Later came such purely English families as Jackson, Lee, etc., and last of all the Hanovernians, and so there we are—a mixed set as to names, but all Irish by time, and soon, it is to be hoped, to be united Irishmen indeed.

J. H. BEADLE.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Oh, blest be the days when the green ban-ner float-ed sub-lime o'er the mountains of free In-nis-fail;
when her sons, to her glo-ry and free-dom de-vot-ed, de-fied the in-vad-er to tread on her soil.

When back o'er the main they chas'd the Dane
And gave to religion and learning their spoil:
When valor and mind together combined—
But wherefore lament o'er the glories departed?
Her star shall shine out with as vivid array,
For ne'er had she children more brave and true hearted
Than those she now sees on St. Patrick's day.

Her scepter, alas! passed away to the stranger,
And treason surrendered what valor had held,
But true hearts remained amid darkness and danger,
Which, despite of her tyrants, would not be quelled.
Oft, oft, through the night flashed gleams of light,
Which almost the darkness of bondage dispelled.
But a star now is clear, her heaven to cheer,
Not like the wild gleams which so fitfully darted,
But long to shine down with its hallowing ray,
On daughters as fair and sons as true hearted
As Erin beholds on St. Patrick's day.

Oh, blest be the hour when, begirt by her cannon
And hailed as it rose by a nation's applause,
That flag waved aloft o'er the spire of Dungannon,
Asserting for Irishmen Irish laws.
Once more shall it wave o'er hearts as brave,
Despite of the dastards who mock at her cause,
And like brothers agreed, whatever their creed,
Her children, inspired by those glories departed,
No longer in darkness desponding will stay,
But join in her cause like the brave and true hearted,
Who rise for their rights on St. Patrick's day.

Norah, the Pride of Kildare.

As beauteous as Flora is charming young Norah,
The joy of my heart and the pride of Kildare.
I ne'er will deceive her, for sadly 'twould grieve her
To find that I sighed for another less fair.

Where'er I may be, love, I'll ne'er forget thee,
Though beauties may smile and try to insnare,
Yet nothing shall ever my heart from thee sever,
Dear Norah, sweet Norah, the pride of Kildare.

CHORUS.

Her heart with truth teeming, her eyes with smiles beaming,
What mortal could injure a blossom so fair?
Oh, Norah, dear Norah, the pride of Kildare.

To Dye Or Not to Dye

that is the question; whether it is better to wear that faded, shabby dress and endure the scornful looks of all your well-dressed neighbors, or to purchase a package of Diamond Dyes and restore its freshness in another color—making a new dress for ten cents.

Diamond Dyes are made for home use. Absolutely reliable. Any color.

Sold everywhere. 10 cents a package. Direction Book and 40 samples of colored cloth, free. WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

HER PA'S EXCEPTION.

The low-descending sun with torch of fire
Illumined cloudland's minaret and spire
As ardent maiden said unto her sire,
"A sight more vivid never met my quest!"
"Except", quoth he, cheered by the grate-fire bright,
"This warmth-disseminating anthra-cite
I bought of Geo. O. Stevens yesternight,
At 747 Front St., West."

(Orders may be left at VanBuren & Thompson's, opposite railroad station, or at G. A. Hallock's, 109 West Front street.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial Parlor, 324 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Ladies shampooing and children's hair cutting a specialty. 1 19 t

E. H. HOLMES,

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD,

YARD—No. 208 Madison Avenue. Also

Office for coal orders with Worsten & Bucks 145 North avenue.

A New World

opens to the man who finds quick relief from wearing pain. That is the testimony of multitudes who have used for all sorts of aches and pains, lameness, stiffness of the muscles and joints of the back, limbs or side.

Allcock's Porous Plaster

Make Sure and get the genuine. Never put up with imitations "Just as good as ALLCOCK'S."

Allcock's Corn Shields,
Allcock's Bunion Shields,
Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.

Brandreth's Pills

relieve rheumatism and any disease arising from impurity of the blood.

11 16r-m w f

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The

BEEHIVE

keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½
Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.
Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.
We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c,

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

Treasury Department

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evilence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2463 JAMES H. ECKELS,
2 4 30 Comptroller of the Currency.

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's

LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Upp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,

175 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 88 7

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. L. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first class goods, at low prices for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 19 t

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

in Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

COMFORT PEASE AND HER GOLD RING.

MARY E. WILKINS.

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER IV.

Comfort felt again and again, with trembling fingers. She could not believe that the ring was gone, but she certainly could not feel it. She was quite pale and shook as if she had a chill. She was too frightened to cry. Had she lost Aunt Comfort's ring?—the real gold ring she had given her for her name? She looked at the pin which Miss Tabitha had quilted into the top of her pocket, but she dared not take it out. Suppose Miss Tabitha should ask if she had, and she had to tell her and be whipped! That would be almost worse than losing the ring.

Comfort had never been whipped in her life, and her blood ran cold at the thought of it.

She kept feeling wildly of the pocket. There was a little roll of writing paper in it, some leaves of an old account book which her mother had given her to write on. All the hope she had was that the ring had slipped inside that, and that was the reason why she could not feel it. She longed so to take out that pin and make sure, but she had to wait for that until she got home at night.

Comfort began to search all over the schoolroom floor, but all she found were wads of paper and apple cores, slate-pencils stumps, and pins. Then she went out in the yard and looked carefully, then she went down the road to the old Loomis place, where she and Matilda had walked at recess. Miss Tabitha Hanks went home that way, but no sign of the ring could she find. The road was as smooth as a white floor too, for the snow was old, and well trodden.

Comfort Pease went back to the schoolhouse, and opened her dinner-pail. She looked miserably at the pancakes, the bread and butter, and the apple pie and cheese, and tried to eat but she could not. She put the cover on the pail, leaned her head on the desk in front, and sat quite still until the scholars began to return. Then she lifted her head, got out her spelling-book and tried to study. Miss Tabitha came back early, so nobody dared tease her, and the cold was so bitter, and the sky so overcast, that they were not obliged to go out at recess. Comfort studied and recited, and never a smile came on her pale, sober, little face. Matilda whispered to know if she were sick, but Comfort only shook her head.

Sometimes Comfort saw Miss Tabitha watching her with an odd expression, and she wondered forlornly what it meant. She did not dream of going to Miss Tabitha with her trouble. She felt quite sure she would get no sympathy in that quarter.

All the solace Comfort had was that one little forlorn hope that the ring might be in that roll of paper, and she should find it when she got home.

It seemed to her that school never would be done. She thought wildly of asking Miss Tabitha if she could not go home, because she had the toothache. Indeed, her tooth did begin to ache, and her head, too, but she waited and sped home like a rabbit when she was let out at last. She did not wait even to say a word to Matilda. Comfort, when she got home, went right through the sitting-room and upstairs to her own chamber. "Where are you going, Comfort?" her mother called after her. "What ails the child?" said Grandmother Atkins.

"I'm coming right back," Comfort panted as she fled.

The minute she was in her own little cold chamber she took the pin from her pocket, drew forth the roll of paper and smoothed it out—the ring was not there. Then she turned the pocket and examined it. There was a little rip in the seam.

"Comfort, Comfort," called her mother from the foot of the stairs. "You'll get your death of cold up there," chimed in her grandmother from the room beyond.

"I'm coming," Comfort gasped in reply. She turned the pocket back and went downstairs.

It was odd that, although Comfort looked so disturbed, neither her mother nor grandmother asked her what was the matter. They looked at her, then exchanged a meaning look with each other. And all her mother said was to bid her go and sit down by the fire and toast her feet. She also mixed a bowl of hot ginger tea, plentifully sweetened with molasses, and bade her drink that so she could not catch cold, and yet there was something strange in her manner all the time. She made no remark, either, when she opened Comfort's dinner pail and saw how little had been eaten. She merely showed it silently to Grandmother Atkins behind Comfort's back, and they nodded to each other with solemn meaning.

However, Mrs. Pease made the cream toast that Comfort loved for supper, and obliged her to eat a whole plate of it.

"I can't have her get sick," she said to Grandmother Atkins, after Comfort had gone to bed that night.

"She ain't got enough constitution, poor child," assented Grandmother Atkins.

Mrs. Pease opened the door and listened. "I believe she's crying now," said she. "I guess I'll go up there."

"I would if I was you," said Grandmother Atkins.

Comfort's sobs sounded louder and louder all the way, as her mother went upstairs.

"What's the matter, child?" she asked when she opened the door, and there was still something strange in her tone. While there was concern, there was certainly no surprise.

"My tooth aches dreadfully," sobbed Comfort.

"You had better have some cotton wool and paregoric on it, then," said her mother. Then she went downstairs for cotton wool and paregoric, and she ministered to Comfort's aching tooth, but no cotton wool nor paregoric was there for Comfort's aching heart.

She sobbed so bitterly that her mother looked alarmed. "Comfort, look here, is there anything else the matter?" she asked, suddenly, and she put her hand on Comfort's shoulder.

"My tooth aches dreadfully, oh!" Comfort wailed.

"If your tooth aches so bad as all that, you'd better go to Dr. Hutchins in the morning and have it out," said her mother. "Now, you'd better lie still, and try to go to sleep, or you'll be sick."

Comfort's sobs followed her mother all the way downstairs. "Don't you cry so another minute or you'll get so nervous you'll be sick," Mrs. Pease called back, but she sat down and cried awhile herself after she returned to the sitting-room.

Poor Comfort stifled her sobs under the patchwork quilts, but she could not stop crying for a long time, and she slept very little that night. When she did she dreamed that she had found the ring, but had to wear it around her aching tooth for punishment, and the tooth was growing larger and larger, and the ring painfully tighter and tighter.

She looked so wan and ill next morning, that her mother told her she need not go to school; but Comfort begged hard to go and said she did not feel sick, her tooth was better.

"Well, mind you get Miss Hanks to excuse you and come home if your tooth aches again," said her mother.

"Yes, ma'am," replied Comfort.

When the door shut behind Comfort, her Grandmother Atkins looked at her mother. "Em'ly," said she, "I don't believe you can carry it out, she'll be sick."

"I'm dreadfully afraid she will," returned Comfort's mother.

"You'll have to tell her."

Mrs. Pease turned on Grandmother Atkins, and New England motherhood was strong in her face. "Mother," said she, "I don't want Comfort to be sick, and she shan't be, if I can help it, but I've got a duty to her that's beyond looking out for her health. She's got a lesson to learn that's more important than any she's got in school, and I'm afraid she won't learn it at all, unless she learns it by the hardest way, and it won't do for me to help her."

"Well, I suppose you're right, Em'ly," said Grandmother Atkins, "but I declare I'm dreadful sorry for the child."

So the two little girls went up the road, and hunted, but they did not find the ring. "Nobody would have picked it up and kept it, everybody round here is honest," said Matilda. "It's dreadfully funny."

Comfort wept painfully under the folds of her mother's green shawl, as they went back.

"Did your mother scold you?" asked Matilda. There was something very innocent and sympathizing and honest about Matilda's black eyes as she asked the question.

"No," faltered Comfort. She did not dare to tell Matilda that her mother knew nothing at all about it.

Matilda, as they went along, put an arm around Comfort, under her shawl. "Don't cry, it's too bad," said she. But Comfort wept harder.

"Look here," said Matilda. "Comfort, your mother wouldn't let you buy another ring with that gold dollar, would she?"

"That gold dollar's to keep," sobbed Comfort, "it ain't to spend." And indeed she felt as if spending that gold dollar would be almost as bad as losing the ring; the bare idea of it horrified her.

"Well, I didn't s'pose it was," said Matilda, abashedly. "I just happened to think of it." Suddenly she gave Comfort a little poke with her red-mittened hand. "Don't you cry another minute, Comfort Pease," she cried, "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll ask my Uncle Jared to give me a gold dollar, and then I'll give it to you to buy a gold ring."

"I don't believe he will," sobbed Comfort.

"Yes, he will. He always gives me everything I ask him for. He thinks more of me than he does of Rosy and Imogen, you know, 'cause he was going to get married once, when he was young, and she died, and I look like her."

"Were you named after her?" inquired Comfort.

"No, her name was Ann Maria, but I look like her. Uncle Jared will give me a gold dollar and I'll ask him to take us to Bolton in his sleigh Saturday afternoon, and then you can buy another ring. Don't you cry another mite, Comfort Pease."

And poor Comfort tried to keep the tears back, as the bell began to ring, and she and Matilda hastened to the schoolhouse.

BUT THERE WAS NO GLEAM OF GOLD ON ITS WHITE, FROZEN SURFACE.

"You ain't any sorrier than I am," said Comfort's mother, and she wiped her eyes now and then, as she cleared away the breakfast dishes.

As for Comfort, she went on her way to school, looking as industriously and anxiously at the ground as if she were a little robin seeking for her daily food. Under the snowy blackberry vines peered Comfort, under frozen twigs, and in the blue hollows of the snow, seeking, as it were, in the little secret places of nature for her own little secret of childish vanity and disobedience. It made no difference to her that it was not reasonable to look on that part of the road, since she could not have lost the ring there. She had a desperate hope, which was not affected by reason at all, and she determined to look everywhere.

It was very cold still, and when she came in sight of the schoolhouse, not a scholar was to be seen. Either they had not arrived or were huddling over the red-hot stove inside.

Comfort trudged past the schoolhouse and went down the road to the old Loomis place. She searched again every inch of the road, but there was no gleam of gold in its white frozen surface. There was the cold sparkle of the frost crystals, and that was all.

Comfort went back. At the turn of that road she saw Matilda Stebbins coming down the other. The pink tip of Matilda's nose and her winking black eyes just appeared above her red tippet.

"Hullo!" she sung out, in a muffled voice.

"Hullo!" responded Comfort, faintly. Matilda looked at her curiously when she came up. "What's the matter?" said she.

"Nothing," replied Comfort.

"I thought you acted funny. What have you been up that road for?"

Comfort walked along beside Matilda in silence.

"What have you been up that road for?" repeated Matilda.

"Won't you ever tell?" said Comfort.

"No, I won't, Honest and true, Black and Blue, Lay me down and cut me in two."

"Well, I've lost it."

Matilda knew at once what Comfort meant. "You ain't," she cried, stopping short and opening wide eyes of dismay at Comfort over the red tippet.

"Yes, I have."

"Where'd you lose it?"

"I felt of my pocket after I got back to school yesterday, after we'd been up to the old Loomis house, and I couldn't find the ring."

"My!" said Matilda.

Comfort gave a stifled sob.

Matilda turned short around with a jerk. "Le's go up that road and hunt again," said she, "there's plenty of time before the bell rings. Come along, Comfort Pease."

Matilda put up her hand and whispered to her in school-time: "You come over to my house Saturday afternoon, and I'll get Uncle Jared to take us," she whispered, and Comfort nodded soberly. Comfort tried to learn her arithmetic-lesson, but she could not remember the seven multiplication table, and said in the class that five times seven were fifty-seven, and went to the foot. She cried at that, and felt a curious satisfaction in having something to cry for beside the loss of the ring.

Comfort did not look any more for the ring, that day nor the next. The next day was Friday, and Matilda met her at school in the morning with an air of triumph. She plunged her hand deep in her pocket, and drew it out closed in a tight pink fist. "Guess what I've got in here, Comfort Pease," said she. She unclosed her fingers a little at a time, until a gold dollar was visible in the hollow of her palm. "There, what did I tell you?" she said; "and he says he'll take us to Bolton, if he don't have to go to Ware to see about buying a horse. You come over to-morrow, right after dinner."

The next morning after breakfast Comfort asked her mother if she might go over to Matilda's that afternoon.

"Do you feel fit to go?" her mother said, with a keen look at her. Comfort was pale and sober and did not have much appetite. It had struck her several times that her mother's and also her grandmother's manner toward her was a little odd, but she did not try to understand it.

"Yes, ma'am," said Comfort.

"What are you going to do over there?"

Comfort hesitated, a pink flush came on her face and neck, her mother's eyes upon her were sharper than ever.

"Matilda said maybe her Uncle Jared would take us a sleigh-ride to Bolton," she faltered.

"Well," said her mother, "if you're going a sleigh-ride, you'd better take some yarn stockings and pull on over your shoes, and wear my fur tippet. It's most too cold to go sleigh-riding, anyway."

Directly after dinner Comfort went over to Matilda Stebbins', with her mother's stone marten tippet around her neck, and the blue yarn stockings, to wear in the sleigh, under her arm.

But when she got to the Stebbins' house, Matilda met her at the door with a crestfallen air. "Only think," said she, "ain't it too bad? Uncle Jared's had to go to Ware to buy the horse and we can't go to Bolton."

Comfort looked at her piteously.

"Guess I'd better go home," said she.

But Matilda was gazing at her doubtfully. "Look here," said she.

"What," said Comfort.

"It ain't more'n three miles to Bolton. Mother's walked there and so has Imogen—"

"Do you s'pose—we could?"

"I don't believe it would hurt us one mite—say, I tell you what we can do—I'll take my sled and I'll drag you a spell, and then you can drag me, and that will rest both of us, anyhow."

"So it will," said Comfort.

[TO BE CONCLUDED.]

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
CHOICE MEATS
Jersey porkpand poultry a specialty.
203 LIBERTY STREET.

BAMBERGER'S
"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"
NEWARK, N. J.

Phenomenal Values
IN
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

The careful housewife whose thoughts will soon turn to spring house cleaning and fixings, and who desires to practice economy, cannot possibly make a better investment than in the grand values we offer in Upholstery Goods.

New Nottingham Lace Curtains,
Very choice and well covered designs and excellent quality,
98c Value, $1.49 Value, $1.98 Value, $2.98 Value, $3.98 Value
59c 98c $1.25 $1.98 $2.98

FIGURED CHINA SILK
for drapery and also suitable for pillow covering, new designs and choice colors, value 69c. at 49 cents.

FIGURED SILKALINE
36 inches wide, fine designs and desirable colorings, value 12½c, at 7½ cents.

TAMBONIED SASH MUSLIN
with double border and well covered centres, in the latest designs, very choice quality, value 19c, at 12½ cents.

CHENILLE PORTIERES,
each pair 75 inches wide, wide dado and frieze and heavy tassel fringe, excellent weighty quality, all the most desirable shades, value $2.98, at $1 98.

Mail orders promptly filled.

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,
147 and 149 Market Street,
Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

OU MAY BE HAPPY
—IN—
Hallock's Handsome Hats.

Sanitary Science,
THE NATION'S PRIDE.
Excelsior Disinfector,
The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.
LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

IF YOU WANT
ANY REAL ESTATE,
Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.
Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.
F. M. BACON,
Babcock Building, Room 211.

HEATH & DRAKE
Spring Dress Goods
Our Dress Goods Department is now stocked with the la est materials for spring wear. Many new and novel effects will be shown at much lower prices than heretofore.

Jacard Crepons
A new weave for street wear; very serviceable.
Begonia Suiting
A pretty illuminated crepe weave
Vienna Twill
Specially adapted for hard wear.
Silk and Wool Cross Bar Grenadines.
A very handsome fabric for summer wear.
Check Wool Goods
In small medium and large checks. Very popular this season.
Crossie Mixture
For traveling costumes.
Jasper Cheviot.
A fine mixed weave, slightly illuminated with fancy colors.
English Corkscrew
Cloth-faced fabric for street wear.
Marine Serge and Cheviots
For mountain and seashore wear will not change color by exposure to salt air or sun.
Silk and wool Crepons, All-wool Rock Crepons, Pelisse Crepons, Crepo Cordele.
We have all the above Crepons in dove, gray, Havana brown, navy, myrtle, sage and ivy green.

HEATH & DRAKE,
777 and 779 BROAD STREET,
Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,
FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,
Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield. N. J. Residence 78 Duer st
Taylor's French System used. Suits $6.00 and upward.
2 2 tf

FLORIST.
A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1 50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 25 1m

Central Employment Office
218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.
All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed.
1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,
Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Segars, Etc.
128 NORTH AVENUE,
FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,
10 CENTS A QUART.
I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit yourpatronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.
Hummer & Mulford,
VARIETY MARKET,
Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.
220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N J
Telephone call, 29 A.
Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,
26 acres, or in plots to suit,
Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.
L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salted Meats,
smoked hams, Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 203 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

A FAMILY OF MISERY.

John Mullen, Drunk, Leaves His Family in Pitiful Circumstances—Willie and Tommy, Babes of the Wood, Are the Bread-Winners.

A pitiful condition of affairs is that which exists in the family of John Mullen, who live in abject poverty in rooms over the United States Express office on North avenue. Besides the father and mother there are four children under nine years of age, whose existence is one of complete misery.

The father can hardly be called a member of the family, for he pays no attention whatever to their needs, spending all that he earns for liquor. He is a first-class plumber, but owing to his unsteady habits and shiftless disposition secures but little work, and the wages from what little he does earn immediately goes over the bar. Last week he was sentenced to the Somerset County jail for drunkenness in North Plainfield, and is now confined there.

Mrs. Mullen earns what little she can at washing and other menial labor, but with four little children to look after—two of whom are mere babes—she has but little chance to work. The principal support of the family—such as it is—is gained from the profits of Willie and Tommie, who sell papers each evening. The former is a bright little lad, 9 years old, who has never yet been to school, and the latter another juvenile growing up in a manner that might be tolerated on the East side of New York, but hardly seems possible in Plainfield. Between them they possibly earn 40 or 50 cents a day, and this is practically all the money that goes into the family.

Through the Winter their food was supplied by charitably inclined neighbors and in some way they managed to pay the room rent. But for the last five or six weeks the rent has not been paid, and now a notice has been served on them to vacate the room by next Tuesday.

When Constable Amos Moffett went to serve the papers a day or two ago, he was confronted with a sight that was nothing but misery. In the dingy rooms only a few pieces of furniture could be seen, and no carpets. On the floor were two baby girls with scarcely enough clothes on them to cover their nudity, and the mother not much better off in that respect. When he informed her of his mission she commenced crying in a hysterical manner, exclaiming between her sobs that she did not know what would become of her and the children, for she possessed no money and had no way of getting any beyond what was needed to buy enough food to keep them alive. Whether or not they will be turned out of doors on Tuesday remains to be seen.

Certainly it seems that some action should be taken towards relieving the present condition of the family, by either the city authorities or some of the charity organizations, and in addition an effort should be made to educate and bring up the children in some respectable manner.

A Tribute of Love.

The committee appointed to prepare a memorial of the late Rev. J. Judson Pierson, ex-President of the State Christian Endeavor Union, formerly of North Plainfield, have reported the following:

IN MEMORY OF REV. J. JUDSON PIERSON.

The death of a servant of Christ, seals his life with all its victories and righteous fruitage, to the glory of God, and the future good of man.

When our beloved brother, Rev. J. Judson Pierson, passed away, on the 18th day of January last, a hand, strong in service to God, fell, and a noble heart ceased to beat.

We miss him from the ranks of consecrated toilers, but we cannot, we dare not, grieve for him. We glory in his eternal victory; and, while we express our warmest and most prayerful sympathy for his loved ones who are left to mourn his departure, we at the same time congratulate them on their priceless heritage of a memory so sacred, which the passing years will serve to render more precious still.

We, the officers of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union, most heartily pay this tribute of love to our departed brother.

ARTHUR W. SPOONER,
W. D. STULTZ,
CAROLINE H. BROOKFIELD,
Committee on Resolutions.

Brilliant and Brainy.

(From The Bound Brook Chronicle.)

North Plainfield is to be congratulated upon electing for Mayor the brilliant young Republican, B. A. Hegeman, Jr. He is a man of brains.

And in Plainfield.

(From The Bound Brook Chronicle.)

The name of Coddington is highly respected by the people of Bound Brook.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

TOXIN OR ANTI-TOXIN?

There is no antidote without its bane, no good without its evil, no discovery of the angels that the devil may not use. The success of the new remedy for diphtheria, anti-Toxin, has suggested to the keen intellect of the queen of the writers of romance, a powerful and dramatic study of human passion, which she has entitled "Toxin".

OUIDA'S

most powerful novel will begin in The Daily Press, Saturday, March 23, and be concluded in six days. It is the story of a physician and man of science, who has the care in illness of a rival in love and is tempted to administer to him, instead of a healing injection, a powerful poison. How the temptation was met, the reading of the tale will disclose. The use of hypnotism, so successful in Du Maurier's "Trilby", is here also resorted to with masterly skill.

Don't miss the first instalment.

B. Fay Mills to Preach.

The Chairman of the Programme Committee of the next Christian Endeavor State Convention, Rev. A. W. Spooner, reports that Rev. B. Fay Mills has been invited to preach the convention sermon. The Programme Committee as appointed at the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees at Trenton, are: Rev. A. W. Spooner, Camden; Rev. A. DeWitt Mason, Morristown; Joseph H. Wright, Trenton. A meeting of this committee will be called soon to outline the programme. Atlantic City has been elected as the place for the next State convention. The dates are Oct. 9-11. Preparations are in progress to make this a grand success. The convention fires will be kept burning right through the hot weather.

Seeing the Horses Run.

Chief Engineer T. C. Doane obligingly escorted a party of Plainfielders and others through the houses of the Fire Department Thursday night, exhibiting the apparatus, and displaying the marvelous sagacity and agility of the horses. In each of the houses an alarm was sounded, bringing the horses from their stalls. Immediately they were in their harness, attached to the apparatus, ready to gallop away, and the men were at their posts.

The system was perfect, and everything was found in splendid condition. The inspection was unexpected, and it was gratifying to find everything in such thorough good order.

A Burlesque on Trilby.

The burlesque on Trilby is one of the funniest things in "The Twentieth Century Girl", which appears in Music Hall March 22. The subject is recognized at once, and is heartily appreciated. The "Boy Spinster" chorus, led by Dan Daly, and the "MacNamara Guards", led by John T. Kelly, also have become popular features of this pretty production. Some of the gems among the musical numbers are: "The Twentieth Century Girl", "The Magpie", "The Girl Bachelor", "The Play is the Thing", and the song which is now being hummed and whistled all over the country, entitled "On Broadway".

A March Freshet.

A small sized flood was caused on West Third street between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue yesterday by the breaking of a water main. The roadway and walks for a considerable distance were almost completely inundated until workmen from the water-works company arrived and cut off the supply for that section, and repaired the break. Last Fall West Third street was leveled off, necessitating the removal of several inches of dirt, and this left the pipes without sufficient protection from the frost, which caused the break.

A Joint Field Day.

The Plainfield High School Athletic Association has decided to unite with Leal's School and give a field day in the Spring, open either to the schools of the State or those within a radius of 20 miles. The committee to confer with Leal's consists of Charles B. Morse, Carlos C. Gallup and Wilbur F. Cornwell. As soon as the preliminary arrangements have been made work will go on in earnest.

All Kinds of Scores.

The following scores were made in the individual bowling contest on the alleys of the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum last night:

McInerney	121	M. Owen	153
Butscher	151	Wierenga	136
Revelle	153	Carty	193
T. Owen	122	Reagan	153
Donnelley	133	Mattox	150
McInerney	142	Reagan	127
Butscher	129	M. Owen	185
Revelle	147	Donnelley	157

A Better Light for the Same Money.

Leggett's drug store, the City National Bank, and Packer's furniture store are among the places trying the Welsbach incandescent gas burner, of which Gavett is sole agent for Plainfield. Mr. Gavett intends having one tested at the gas works to prove that they are no more expensive consumers of gas than the ordinary store gas burners.

A BOROUGH COMMUTER'S GROWL.

Dissatisfied With a Service Which Is a Losing Investment to the Company.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS:—The Street Railway Company has heretofore had a time-table which started their cars from the depot every twelve minutes; and the same in the return by the Somerset street line, with which line I am more familiar than the Front street. This enabled anyone, by simply keeping accurate time, to meet the car at the depot end of the route without losing time, and, by a slight calculation, he could also catch it anywhere en route.

Time is money, and to business men it is out of the question to ask them to stand on the sidewalk perhaps ten minutes to wait for a chance car. Under the system just adopted, of starting a car every eleven minutes, the even hour is made, I am informed, only once in the day. The result is utter confusion in the time-tables, and for one I would prefer to walk a quarter of a mile, without troubling myself to meet a car, to the uncertainty. In fact, it has been impossible since the new arrangement to meet a car except by chance, and I have friends who, like myself, have been riding on the cars every day, but who now walk instead. No doubt that is or will be the case all over the city.

There are two remedies only: one is a return to the twelve-minute system (if a ten-minute system cannot be inaugurated) and the other is the printing of time-cards and their distribution. The former is the true plan, as no one wants to be constantly watching a time-card to see when to board a street car.

DAILY TRAVELER

Peck's Bad Boy.

On Monday evening, March 18, this ever popular comedy will be the attraction at Music Hall. It goes without saying that they will play to a crowded house, as "Peck's Bad Boy" is a favorite comedy with the theatre-going public of Plainfield, and take into consideration the cast of the company this season those who attend are assured of a good solid three-hours of laughter. They have such well-known people as Louis Wesley, Lynn Welcher, Sol Aiken, Fred Wenzel, Clayton White, Misses Dott Karroll, Frankie St. John, Julia Aiken, Fannie Temple, and Gladys Atkinson. Since last seen here, "Peck's Bad Boy" has been entirely rewritten, and new pranks by the bad boy and his chum have been added.

A Good Suggestion.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS: Having learned from The Press that the city and borough firemen have received an invitation from Rev. Mr. Herring to attend service at his church Sunday evening, March 24 it occurred to me that in order to make it a benefiting service it would be well for Mr. Herring at the close to ask a liberal collection for the benefit of the Exempt Firemen's Association, which they deserve and need to assist them in caring for their sick and needy brethren; and they have never yet asked from any church in Plainfield.

VETERAN.

Not Liable to Mulct the City.

It is said that Mollie Stevens and mother have approached several lawyers with the proposal to sue the city for damages for false imprisonment over Sunday in the police station, the particulars of which were published in The Press at the time. However, no fee was forthcoming and the lawyers refused to accept the case without.

Great Selling.

It's always buying and always selling, at that big house of White's. For the coming week they say such selling of dry-goods, and house-furnishings, at prices that are a third off what is usually asked for good reliable goods. There is no money saved by buying trash, or odds and ends, and no reason to buy them when you can buy the best at the smallest prices at White's.

Hospitable Socialists.

The Socialists of the West End wish to inform the people of Plainfield through the columns of The Press that their rooms on Grant avenue are always open, and a pleasant evening can be spent there in reading, playing games, and various amusements. A hearty welcome is assured.

Be Careful Next Time.

While attempting to pass through the swinging doors in the entrance leading to offices of the Babcock Building yesterday afternoon Theodore Vroom accidentally caught his fingers in between the doors as they closed and had them painfully injured.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

DUNELLEN.

Miss Irene Day of New Market spent yesterday with Mrs. George W. Day.

Mrs. H. Fields and son Clarence, of Bayonne, are spending a few days with friends in town.

Mrs. Harry W. Hull is spending the day with friends in New York.

C. W. Johnson called on Plainfield friends this morning.

Willis W. Masters of Pasadena, who has been visiting E. H. TenEyke, left yesterday for Cleveland.

Hiram Hornish at Rest.

Many called at the rooms of the late Hiram Hornish on North avenue yesterday to take a last look on the form of one whom they had known for many years, and that to love; and at 3 in the afternoon, the time for the funeral services, there was a goodly number present.

Rev. J. W. Richardson followed out the desire of decedent, and nothing but a prayer was offered. It was Mr. Hornish's wish that no remarks be made at the service.

The body was taken to Easton on the 5:20 train, in charge of his nephew, Wm. Tronso, and was today buried at that place, with the same simple ceremony that was held here.

L. W. Randolph and M. C. Dobbins went to Easton this morning, and the will of Mr. Hornish will be read before the relatives, after which Mr. Randolph will see that it is offered for probate at the proper time. They will as executors look after the personal effects of the decedent.

Plainfield Man Sues for Libel.

F. X. Schoonmaker, well known in this city, has instituted a suit for $100,000 damages for libel against the Chicago Evening Post. The alleged libel consisted in the publication of certain statements concerning his arrest for the alleged attempt to raise money by false pretences on his claim on the cloisonne collection in the Plainfield Public Library, the facts of which are well known to the reading public. Mr. Schoonmaker was exonerated from the charges by the courts, and now seeks further vindication by mulcting the Evening Post for $100,000. Carlisle & Strong of Chicago are his attorneys, a representative of whom was in Plainfield yesterday looking up the case.

North Plainfield Solons.

The North Plainfield Borough Council will meet Monday evening to organize for the coming year. This year there is one Democrat in the Council, Mr. Howell. The Council will elect a president, who presides in the Mayor's absence.

The newly-elected Township Committee will meet to organize Monday evening at Demler's Hotel, Washingtonville. Horace J. Martin has one more year to serve as clerk, having been elected for three years in 1893. It is thought that after the first meeting all future meetings will be held in the Borough Council rooms.

Plato Knocks Out Aristotle.

The Kappa Delta Phi of the High School met yesterday afternoon. After a short address by Superintendent Maxson, a debate was held on the subject "Was Plato a greater philosopher than Aristotle?" The affirmative was ably supported by John V. Beekman, Jr., and Lewis H. Rand. The negative speakers were J. Hazelwood Craig and Henry Eggerding. After an interesting, and, toward the last, an exciting debate, the affirmative was given the victory by a vote of the society. One new member was elected.

Telescope Won.

The Kappa Delta Phi of the High School recently debated "Resolved, That the revelations of the telescope are more wonderful than those of the microscope". The speakers for the affirmative were Charles B. Morse and George A. Horne. The negative was defended by Wilbur F. Cornwell and John V. Beekman, Jr. After a most exciting debate, a committee composed of Charles Noble, Frederick Corlell and Carlos C. Gallup, decided in favor of the affirmative.

Day's Opening.

James J. Day, who was recently licensed to keep an inn and tavern at 545 West Third street, held his formal opening Thursday. Several hundred persons were present during the afternoon and evening. The layout was more than usual on such occasions, and the menu included baked fish, salads of different varieties, and raw clams.

During the evening Mr. Day treated his guests in a most hospitable manner, and his friends and patrons wished him long life and prosperity in his undertaking.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

CONGREGATIONAL SOCIABLE.

Guessing at Charades Affords Fun for Endeavorers and Their Friends.

A feast of good things for the mind and for the inner man was given to those who attended the sociable of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational Church given in the church parlors last evening. Quite a number of the young people gathered together and spent the evening in social chat and listening to the excellent programme provided.

A recitation, given in a charming manner by Miss Kathryn Dwight, was the commencement of the entertainment, after which a charade followed. The word selected was Madagascar, and it was divided into Madder-gas-car. Madder was represented by the scene in which H. Oscar Nightingale, the artist, was sketching his model, Miss Edna Howell, and kept repeatedly calling for "madder".

The model was draped with a sheet in Grecian fashion but the sketch showed a young lady of today with the usual balloon-like sleeves.

The next scene, representing "gas", was laid in a dentist's office where George Fuller, the dentist, was instructing his assistant, Lyman R. Allen, in the tricks of the trade. A knock and a mournful groan were heard and Miss Mary Robinson, accompanied by Joseph Robinson, entered. Mr. Robinson's face was covered with an immense bandage and he gave utterance to the most agonizing groans. He was placed in the chair but it gave way and he was sent sprawling. At last he was given gas but not the kind he expected, and the cause of all his agony, which proved to be a cure-all fastened on his face, was shot away with a pop-gun by Mr. Allen, while Mr. Robinson supposed his tooth was being extracted. The patient departed delighted and the dentist congratulated his assistant on his successful use of "gas".

A number of school girls who were waiting for the "car" and said good-bye as it approached was the next scene.

The entire word "Madagascar" was represented in the next scene. It was a country school with Miss Mary Robinson as teacher and Miss Julia Belknap, Miss Maud Belknap, Miss Bessie Belknap, H. Oscar Nightingale, Lyman R. Allen, and Joseph Robinson as pupils. They tried to bound New Jersey, but "Ossie" would sneeze, "Julie" would laugh and talk, and "Lyman" would tell "Joie" what was in the book. But at last it was settled that New Jersey was bounded on the south by "Madagascar." After a good deal of guessing the word was found.

A violin solo by Charles Davis was the next number on the programme, and he was heartily encored.

Another charade followed. "Lohengrin" was the word, and much laughter caused. Those who took part were: Miss Edna Howell, Miss Julia Belknap, Miss Maud Belknap, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Nellie Winckler, Miss Bessie Pound, Lyman R. Allen, George Fuller, H. Oscar Nightingale, and Joseph Robinson.

Another recitation by Miss Kathryn Dwight followed, and then ice cream and cake were served.

Miss Adeline Parsons is chairman of the social committee, but the entertainment was under the direction of George Fuller, a member of the committee, and showed in a pleasing manner the result of his energetic efforts. The rest of the committee, who ably assisted in carrying out his plans were Miss Mary Robinson and Joseph Robinson.

President Nomer.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational Church held its semi annual election of officers yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. It resulted as follows:

President—Harold Nomer.
Vice-president—Edwin Weseman.
Secretary—Miss Emma LaBoyteaux.
Treasurer—Willie Whiting.

The chairmen of the different committees are:

Lookout—Edward Suffren.
Prayer-meeting—Miss Agnes LaBoyteaux.
Missionary—James Beekman.
Social—Warren Weseman.
Scrapbook—Miss Carrie Fuller.

After the election, a sociable was held and the young people enjoyed themselves. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

A Letter That Came Too Late.

A touching incident in connection with the death of Hiram Hornish occurred yesterday afternoon as the body was being taken from his rooms. A letter for Mr. Hornish from his friend Charles B. Brown was left with those in charge. It was read later, and was very pathetic.

Mr. Brown had read in The Daily Press, which he receives regularly, of the illness of Mr. Hornish, and hoped when he received the letter that he would be much better. He said, however, "if we don't meet again while here, we have the assurance that on the other shore we shall; and there will be no more sorrow, nor suffering".

Change of Landlord.

Through the agency of Wallace Vail the West Side Hotel, Scotch Plains, was today transferred by John Force to Wm. H. Lee, who will take charge immediately.

—Hallock's handsome hats produce happiness.

DID NOT GET FAR.

Lawyer Quinn's Effort to Move Checked by Creditors.

S. W. Quinn is a New York lawyer, and up to last night resided on the corner of West Front street and Plainfield avenue, in this city, with his family.

Some time ago he decided to remove to the metropolis, but was somewhat hindered in carrying this undertaking out by reason of merchants who interposed objections to the removal of his furniture. Last night he packed his goods in two large vans, and, taking a roundabout route through various streets, started on the Scotch Plains road for New York.

Previous to this, however, A. G. Vogeler, the West Front street meat market man, the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company, and Alexander Titsworth, received an inkling of his intended removal, and on the strength of the debts which he owed them, secured writs of attachments against his goods. They were placed in the hands of Constable Bockafellow, who started on the trail of the movers, overtook them at Scotch Plains, where the papers were served, and returned with them to a livery stable on North avenue. The goods now stand in front of the stable in the two vans and will probably not be released until the accounts are liquidated.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Watson J. Tunison of Watchung avenue has purchased a fine team of bays.

—The Board of Health today gives official notice of the new plumbing ordinance.

—The annual school meeting of North Plainfield is today advertised for Tuesday, March 19.

—Druggist Mallinson has a handsome new marble in front of his soda-water fountain.

—The German Lutheran Church now has 63 members, all services being well attended.

—Wm. Hand & Son have moved Sam'l Schuyler from Somerset street to 131 West Second street.

—The uneven spots along the car tracks on West Front street have been leveled off with crushed stone.

—Wm. Hand & Son moved Charles Wergiar from 356 East Second street to Netherwood, yesterday.

—Several feet of snow still remain in certain places along the road between Plainfield and Scotch Plains.

—Rev. C. E. Herring has not moved to East Third street, unreliable papers to the contrary notwithstanding.

—The electrical fixings at the Y. M. C. A. Building are now complete, the work having been finished yesterday.

—Writing cannot do justice to the beauty of the goods at Peck's; neither can printed prices portray the values.

—Father Dunn of Jersey City will deliver a lecture in St. Mary's Parochial School tomorrow evening on "A Trip to Ireland."

—A number of sporty individuals from Plainfield will attend a cock fight tonight between Scotch Plains and Jersey City birds at a house on the Waverly road.

—The Somerset County Christian Endeavor Union reports that 25 have been booked already, as delegates from that Union, for the 14th International Convention.

—Special Easter services will be held in the German Lutheran Church Sunday, April 14, after which first communion will be extended to the newly confirmed members.

—S. H. Whitney's store on East Front street, near the City Bank, is being freshened up and brightened by kalsomine, under the skilful direction of E. E. Marshall.

—Students in Washington School are doing considerable studying outside of school hours in the endeavor to secure promotion ahead of the regular schools work laid out by teachers.

—The Japan Weekly Mail, published in Yokohama, has just been added to the periodical list of the Free Public Library. It will be given regularly by Mrs. Charles L. Case of Central avenue.

—Owing to the very stormy weather yesterday H. N. Spencer and Jacob Voehl, appraisers of the property of the late Daniel Cory, did not go to Warrenville. They will arrange to go in a few days.

—The first Christian Endeavor meeting in the First Baptist Church under the newly-elected officers was conducted last evening by President McLaughlin. It was a consecration service and the attendance was excellent.

Spring Dem's.

Don't, when the first Spring symptoms warm the air, divorce yourself from Winter underwear; don't, when that "tired feeling" doth arise, take all the quack affairs they advertise; don't, when your vernal rubbish you'd dispense, toss it at night across your neighbor's fence; don't, when you see the robins hither flock, go put your Winter overcoat in hock; and don't forget, if good coal be your quest, of Geo. O. Stevens you will get the best.

BUILDING STRIKE ENDS

Contractor Downey Makes a Satisfactory Agreement.

Over 2,000 Men To Resume Work on Monday, and Operations Will Resume on Three Big Structures. Electric Company in a Bad Fix. Victory for the Men.

New York, March 16.—The deadlock in the building trades strike was broken yesterday by a satisfactory agreement being made between Contractor John Downey and the board of delegates.

This will cause the return to work of about 2,000 men on Monday morning. The three principal jobs on which work will be resumed are the American Tract Society's building, Spruce and Nassau; the Astor mansions and the Wolff building. Mr. Downey is the largest builder in the city and the fact that he has given in is looked upon as an important victory for the men, and really the end of the building strike in this city.

Information as to the exact terms of settlement was withheld, but from a private source it is learned that matters were arranged entirely as the board of delegates desired.

The following official notice of the strike being called off by the board of delegates on Mr. Downey's jobs was given out for publication:

"To members of all trades employed on John Downey's work:

"You are hereby notified that a satisfactory arrangement has been arrived at on the following jobs: The Wolff building, the American Tract building and the Astor mansions.

"Members are hereby notified to resume work Monday, March 18.

"Executive committee of board of delegates: R. J. Ainslow, chairman; D. Cavanaugh, secretary; W. J. O'Brien, chairman board of delegates; P. Gibbons, D. J. Gaylord, T. Cunningham, T. Tyrell, T. Keating."

One of the contracts for electrical work, that on the American Tract building, is being done by the Tucker Electrical company, with which Mr. James R. Strong, president of the Contractors' association, is connected. There was a number of rumors current yesterday in connection with a reported settlement of the strike.

It was stated that the New York Electrical Equipment company, of which Mr. Simon Bergmann is president, was in a bad fix over certain contracts, which would be withdrawn if the work was not proceeded with at once, and that Mr. Bergmann had dismissed a superintendent who was the representative of the company in the Contractors' association.

When Mr. Bergmann was seen he would not admit that there was any trouble about his contracts. He stated that he had 75 non-union men at work and that his usual force was 150 to 180 men, and that no pressure was being brought to bear upon him by the master builders in regard to contracts, and said the builders were very anxious to have the contractors keep up the fight.

Mr. Bergmann seemed very well inclined toward his men, and said he should be glad to get some of his old employes back when they were ready. He stated that he knew of no negotiations in progress with the view of a settlement, and said that he would grant the eight-hour day May 15, as decided by the Contractors' association.

Another decided attempt is being made by the council of mediation and arbitration to secure an adjustment of the present difficulty. A meeting was held last night at which Bishop Potter presided. The other members present were Ernest H. Crosby, Mrs. Josephine Shaw Lowell, Mrs. Mary E. Kelley, John H. Bogert, Charles W. Hoadley and James R. Strong.

It was agreed that the proceedings should be kept secret until something definite was done, but it is believed that certain obstacles to a settlement have been overcome and that it is possible arbitration may be brought about by means of the council.

Charges Against an Ex-Mayor.

Newcastle, Pa., arch 16.—During the trial of ex-Mayor Alexander Richardson, on a charge of bribery here, a sensation was caused by F. L. Genkinger, of Youngstown, turning state's evidence and telling how he settled an illegal liquor selling case by paying the mayor $150. The ex-district attorney and county detective testified that Richardson offered them $50 apiece to withdraw the information charging him with bribery. The case is still on trial.

Died of Starvation.

Norristown, Pa., March 16.—The three-months-old daughter of James Adams of Whitemarsh, died yesterday under circumstances that led the coroner to investigate. He announces that death was due to starvation. Adams is a hod carrier, but he has had no employment and the family is utterly destitute. Six weeks ago the twin brother of the child in this case died.

Train Wrecked.

Terre Haute, March 16.—A Vandalia westbound train with six coaches with passengers, was wrecked by running into a switch engine and two cabooses at the east yards, near the fair grounds, yesterday. The express and baggage cars were crushed to splinters, but the passengers miraculously escaped with slight bruises.

Fifteen Years for Murder.

Pottsville, Pa., March 16.—Louis Pascato, who has been on trial here for the murder of Dominico Asto, withdrew his plea of not guilty and the commonwealth accepted the plea of guilty of murder in the second degree and he was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary.

Connolly Guilty of Assault.

Trenton, N. J., March 16.—The court of impeachment after being in private consultation for two hours, found Justice of the Peace Patrick W. Connolly, of Bayonne, guilty of assault and as a penalty, removed him from office He is not disqualified and may be re-elected.

WOMEN GAIN A VICTORY

To Be Admitted as Delegates in the M. E. Conference.

After a Turbulent Session an Amendment Was Sprung on the Philadelphia Assembly and Carried by a Large Vote—Sharp Talk by Some of the Brethren.

Philadelphia, March 16.—The question of womans equality with men was injected into the meeting of the Laymen's association of the Philadelphia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday and for a time the deliberations of that usually staid body more resembled a political convention than a church meeting.

The discussion arose from the effort that has been made annually for some years to admit women as delegates to the laymen's conference. When the meeting was called to order by President John E. James, M. D., the credentials of six women were presented as delegates from some Philadelphia churches. The president promptly ruled that under the action of the convention last year women could not be admitted as delegates. This precipitated the stormy discussion which followed and an appeal was taken from the decision of the president, but the appeal was not sustained. Not to be beaten, the advocates of the women succeeded in having the committee on credentials report in favor of seating the six women, but the conference refused to admit them nevertheless.

A resolution giving the women the right of the floor was carried. The discussion waxed warm on both sides and the advocates for and against women indulged in an excited debate. J. H. Fisher, of Pottsville, was particularly worked up about the threatened invasion of the women. He walked up and down the aisle while he was speaking and excitedly swung his arms, as in disjointed sentences he inveighed against women delegates as follows:

"I see danger in this and I hope and pray that every motherly heart will stop on the threshold at home and prevent the disintegration of womanhood. If I am not right I hope the good Lord will confuse my tongue. The devil is just as potent, as supple as he ever was as a vendor of apples in the Garden of Eden. Soon it won't be so much a question of woman's rights as man's rights, woman is just as susceptible to a bribe as a man is, and when they come in it will be difficult for two men to watch one woman."

Mr. Fisher was as warmly replied to by the advocates of the women and one of them contemptuously referred to his remarks "As worm eaten chestnuts." During a lull in the transaction of some routine business an amendment to the constitution admitting women as delegates was sprung upon the conference and was carried by a vote of 116 to 40, and so in the future women will sit as delegates in the Laymen's association of the Philadelphia conference.

SENTENCED TO BE HUNG.

End of the Remarkable Canadian Murder Case.

St. Thomas, Ont., March 16.—After eight days trial in the Elgin county assizes one of the most remarkable murder cases ever known in Canada, John D. Hendershott, and William D. Welter, were found guilty of the murder of William Henry Hendershott on Dec. 11 last. The murdered man was a nephew of the first named prisoner and was engaged to marry his daughter. William Henry's life was insured for $11,000 shortly before the date of the crime in the girls favor, her father paying the policy premiums. Both Welter and William Henry Hendershott were in John D. Hendershott's employ and the defence tried to prove that the victim was accidentally killed while felling trees in Hendershott's bush. The defence made out a fairly good case and were confident of a verdict of acquittal. Chief Justice Meredith sentenced both men to be hung June 18. The prisoners counsel will apply for a new trial.

Will Work at the Old Scale.

Jamestown, N. Y., March 16.—At a meeting of the 200 weavers, who have been on strike at the Hall Worsted mills for an increase of wages, it was decided to return to work Monday at the old scale.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

WHEAT—Prices on spot are held higher, but trade is quiet. No 2 red f. o. b. afloat, 63½c.

CORN—Spot held strongly but quiet. No. 2 quoted 51⅝ elevator, steamer 51, ungraded 51⅝@51⅞c., afloat.

OATS—Spot steady with a fair inquiry. No. 2 white 37c., No. 2 mixed 33½c.

BUTTER—Only a moderate trade passing, but the feeling on fancy creamery is steady. Receipts light. New butter, creamery, western extras, 19c.; creamery, western, seconds to firsts, 14@18c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 17½@18c.; state dairy, half firkin tubs, seconds to firsts, 12@17c.; western imitation creamery, seconds to firsts, 9@14c.; western dairy, firsts, 12@13c.; western dairy, thirds to seconds, 8@10c.; western factory, fancy, 11½@12c.; western factory, firsts, 9@10c.; western factory, thirds to seconds, 7@8½c.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Dr. Greene's Nervura

Guaranteed Purely Vegetable Blood and Nerve Remedy, and Harmless, is the Greatest and Best Spring Medicine.

HON. L. P. STRICKLAND.

Are You Prepared for Spring?

It is necessary to prepare yourself for the advent of spring by taking a spring medicine. Use the remedy which cured Hon. L. P. Strickland, of 58 Taylor Street, Cleveland, O.

"I have taken Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy!" he says, "and I feel like a new man. It has cured me of chills, hot flashes, bloating after eating, cold feet, and shortness of breath. I have also had a fistula for over twenty years, and it is almost gone now. I cannot express how thankful I am that I used this wonderful remedy."

He was cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

MRS. J. M. EARLE.

How to Get Well and Keep Well.

Do You Feel Weak, Tired, and Nervous?

The wonderful cure of Mrs. J. M. Earle, of North Calais, Vt., will interest you.

"I had a scrofula sore on my breast," she says, "and was very short of breath, and was terribly nervous. I commenced taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and soon perceived a wonderful improvement in my condition. The scrofula sore entirely disappeared, and my general health was greatly benefited. I think that it saved my life. My heart used to be so bad that my husband was obliged to jump up and go for the doctor in all haste, and he did not think I would be alive on his return. But this is now all gone, thanks to Dr. Greene's Nervura. I am as well as I ever was, and as tough as a bear. Let all who are sick take this wonderful medicine."

Everybody Should take a Spring Medicine.

Read this and you will know what to use.

MRS. G. A. SWEETLAND.

Mrs. Granville A. Sweetland, of 10 Miller St., West Quincy, Mass., tells you how you can be well and strong:

"I was troubled for a long time with sleeplessness, constipation, pain in the back, and great weakness and debility. I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and after taking four bottles it had helped me wonderfully. The pain in my back was relieved, I could sleep better nights, my constipation was overcome, and my skin was much clearer.

"I never could have done the work I have accomplished if I had not taken Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. My father also uses it, and thinks it benefits him more than any other remedy he has taken."

Is Your Blood Pure? Are Your Nerves Strong?

Mr. John Mather, of 433 Broadway, Lawrence, Mass., one of Lawrence's most prominent business men, states:

"For years I was unable to do any work and suffered torture with the pains in my back. My nerves were in such a state that I could not take hold of anything, as I could not keep it in my hands, but would drop it. I was very weak and trembling.

"I expected to die, and have no doubt but for the aid of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I should have been in my grave. I began taking the Nervura, and at once noted the change. The pains left me and my nerves were greatly strengthened. To-day I am a well man, and can do a hard day's work. I have the greatest faith in Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I heartily recommend it, and am confident that it will cure."

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy Cured Him.

MR. JOHN MATHER.

To get well and keep well, take

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

It is the discovery and prescription of a widely known Physician.

Sold by all Druggists. Price, $1 per bottle. Accept no substitute. This remedy has no equal.

Dr. GREENE, 35 West 14th St., New York City, can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Our Men's $3 Shoes

will give you lots of wear and good solid comfort.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue.

BIG CUT.

Special Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia 1 lb Print Creamery Butter 20 cts.

4 lbs cod fish for 25 cents; 1 lb package best macaroni 7½ cents; Dried green peas 5 cents a quart; Best laundry starch 5 cents lb; Granulated sugar 4 cents lb; 2 lbs extra creamery cheese for 23 cents.

AT FULPER'S.

Blauvelt Will Ride THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5.00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10¾c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

106 East Front Street — NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c
" Oolong tea	30c
" Young Hyson tea	40c
" Japan tea	40c
XX soda crackers	4½c
Ginger snaps	5½c
Nic-nac crackers	6c
California peaches	17c can

All goods warranted as represented.

Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
Can peas, early June	8c
Can corn, fine goods	8c
Fine butter	24c
Ground coffee	17½c
Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
" Rio coffee	24c
Lard	8c

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement

For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue, Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager

Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

JUDGE'S FAMOUS CARTOONIST.

Bernard Gillam Recommends Paine's Celery Compound for Exhaustion.

The Buffalo News, in a recent article remarks upon the fact that "Bernard Gillam, the cartoonist of Judge, is one of the few living men whose cartoons have ever changed a vote in the U. S. Senate."

Bernard Gillam is a young man, but 35. He received his art education in England. He is today the foremost cartoonist of America.

In 1880 he came to Harper's Weekly as the colleague of the immortal Nast. His work afterward for Frank Leslie's and Puck well fitted him for bringing Judge to its present success. In 1886 Mr. Gillam went into partnership with W. J. Arkell, and bought Judge. The full-page colored cartoons, Mr. Gillam's special province on Judge, equal the remarkable efforts of the great Keppler, in Judge's older rival.

There is probably no form of brain work that is so exhausting, so exacting and so intense as the work of the great artist on the large comic papers. To turn out brilliant ideas with the regularity of machinery and yet keep their work up to the high standard set by their splendid reputation, makes fearful demands upon their nervous vitality. Mr. Gillam knows what severe work means.

The nervous strain of his responsible position has at times brought him near to prostration and the giving up his work. He says in a letter dated New York, Nov. 13, 1894:

"No tonic that I have taken has done me so much good as Paine's celery compound. When I am run down or exhausted after particularly exciting work on cartoons and in other artistic occupations I have found a dose of the compound exceedingly beneficial as a restorative for the nerves."

The racing speed of the marvelous new processes for swiftly carrying out men's ideas is taxing to their utmost the nervous systems of countless men and women.

A cry of protest is going up all over the country from medical men against the suicidal waste of nerve force. Preachers, editors, lawyers, even doctors themselves from their daily round of hard, anxious work—every brain worker, in fact, who labors draws heavily upon his nervous vitality, must take alarm at the first sign of brain-tire, pressure, fullness or tension in the head, or nervous fatigue.

In every city in the United States physicians every day are not only prescribing, but themselves using, Paine's celery compound for weakness and nervous debility, for curing the effect of poor and unhealthy blood, disorders of liver, kidneys, stomach, heart and the nervous system.

An effective remedy must first enter the blood to cure rheumatism. Local treatment for a constitutional disorder will do no good. Rheumatism, gout, blood poisoning, scrofula, etc., are diseases lodged in the blood.

Just why Paine's celery compound cure while other remedies fail, is because all its ingredients effectually aid the system to rid itself of any poisonous humors in the blood.

Hundred of cases have within this year been reported directly from persons, between the ages of 45 and 65, suffering from acute Bright's disease, who have been permanently cured by Paine's celery compound. It stops the gradual structural changes in the kidneys, restores their vigor and removes such alarming symptoms as the gradual loss of strength pallor of the face, shortness of breath, pain in the back and sides, dropsy and a puffy condition of the skin. As a spring medicine it is absolutely without a rival.

Every overworked man and woman, reduced in strength, flesh and nervous vigor, will find a powerful restorative in Paine's celery compound. It is food for the brain and nerves. It sends new, healthy blood through the arteries. It makes people well.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,

118 West 5th st., Plainfield. N. J.

and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipsic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper.

1 21 tf-c

Three New Styles,

A Year of Paper Dolls 60c

The Brownies in Paper Dolls 60c.

Famous Queens in Paper Dolls 15c.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,

178 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 92 7

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET,

(Estate D. I. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

NEW TRIAL FOR WIMAN

Decision Handed Down by the Supreme Court.

Opinion Written by Justice Van Brunt and Concurred in by Judge O'Brien, While Judge Follett Dissents from It—Mr. Wiman Hears the News.

New York, March 16.—The general term of the supreme court has reversed the judgment convicting Erastus Wiman of forgery in the second degree and on which he was sentenced to five years and six months in state prison. Judge Van Brunt wrote the opinion reversing judgment, which Judge O'Brien concurred in. Judge Follett dissented from it. The opinion follows:

"It seems to be admitted by the learned counsel for the defendant, that under the prohibition contained in the seventeenth article of the agreement, neither of the associates other than Dun would have had the right to sign any checks.

"But an examination of this clause seems to us to lead to a different conclusion, and that it was never intended to deprive the members of the association of the right to sign the checks of the concern; and that when bills of exchange, drafts, or other obligations or evidence of debt were referred to, it was thereby not intended to include the checks which were necessary to be signed and issued in the ordinary transaction of the business, but had reference to the other classes of mercantile paper which would come under the definition of bills of exchange, drafts, or other obligations or evidences of debt.

"In fact the practice under the agreement showed that it was not so construed by any of the parties thereto, inasmuch as checks were uniformly and almost exclusively signed by others than Dun. Therefore in consideration of the relation of these parties to each other we must assume that there was no intention to restrict the rights of those associates in respect to the drawing of checks in the ordinary course of the business of the agency. It seems to have been assumed that by reason of the association of these parties together they would have the right to use the firm name in respect to the business of the association generally, and in order to restrict this right it was considered necessary to insert the prohibition contained in the articles of the association.

Status of the Accused.

"Various questions are presented for our consideration, among which is the question as to the relation which Dun, Wiman, Douglass and King bore to each other in respect to this business. It was held upon the trial that the associates were not partners, but that Wiman, Douglass and King were substantially employes upon a salary. As between the parties the question as to what relationship has been created by association depends largely upon intent. We think it would not be disputed for a moment that the parties to this agreement became partners as to third persons. But it is contended upon the part of the prosecution that no such relation existed as between themselves.

"While it may not be possible to dispose of this question in the affirmative as a matter of law, yet there seems to have been amply sufficient to go to the jury thereon. It was assumed by all these associates, as a matter of law, Wiman, Douglass and King, as well as Dun, could sign the firm name, except where prohibited by the articles of agreement.

The Question of Intent.

"Referring to the charge to the jury, the question for them to decide was, did he write the name of Bullinger on the back of that check with intent to get money from the firm that he had no right to take and apply it to his own purposes? In other words, did he write the name of Bullinger upon the back of that check with the intent to defraud Mr. Dun or his partners? The evidence in this case showed that, to the knowledge of Dun, Wiman had been in the habit of overdrawing his account for several years.

"Dun would protest, Wiman would repent, and to Dun's knowledge repeat the offense immediately thereafter. On January 12, 1893, Dun wrote to Wiman protesting against his overdrafts. Wiman replied admitting the charge, explaining the reasons why it had occurred and promising not to increase the account. And shortly thereafter he drew the check and made the indorsement in question, in accordance with his usual habit.

"It would seem under these circumstances that it was a question for the jury to determine as to whether the prohibitions of the articles of association had not been so far departed from and so habitually transgressed to the knowledge of the party now claiming to have been defrauded, that upon the act of the defendant in drawing the check in question for the purpose of transferring a portion of the funds of the firm to his own private account a criminal intent to defraud could not be predicated. The further question presented is as to whether an intent on the part of the defendant to defraud his co-partners would be sufficient to justify a conviction of forgery under this indictment.

"Unless, therefore, the unauthorized indorsement of the check was made with the intent and for the purpose of defrauding the firm, the defendant was entitled to an acquittal."

Judge Follett, in a dissenting opinion, concludes: "Under the section of the code quoted, if the act was committed by the defendant with the intent to defraud, it follows that it was done with original intent, for the statute declares it to be a criminal forgery. The terms, 'with intent to defraud' and 'with criminal intent,' are, under this statute, synonymous."

Mr. Wiman expressed himself as overjoyed with the turn affairs had taken when notified of the action of the court.

Off for Japan.

Shanghai, March 16.—Li Hung Chang, China's peace envoy, has sailed for Japan with his suite of forty persons.

MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION.

Serious Split in the Dominion Cabinet Over the Affair.

Montreal, March 16.—There is a serious split in the Dominion cabinet over the Manitoba school question and it is not likely that a decision will be reached for several days. There are fifteen members in the cabinet. Of this number six are in favor of non-interference with the existing state of affairs, five for a peremptory order to the Manitoba legislature and four whose views are not known.

Those who think it would be best to let Manitoba alone are Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Messrs. Foster, Haggert, Patterson, Daly and Montague. The section favoring active interference consists of Messrs. Smith, Sostigan, Caron, Ouimet and Angers. The remaining four, Sir Hibbert Tupper, Messrs. Dickey, Ives and Ferguson, are put down as doubtful, but Messrs. Dickey and Tupper are considered certain to vote for interference, and Mr. Ferguson of Prince Edward Island will vote with them.

A proclamation has been issued by a number of prominent orangemen in Manitoba calling upon all members of the order to stand by the provincial government and resist attempts at remedial legislation in connection with the schools.

ESTABLISHED HIS CLAIM.

And Now He and His Family Will Receive $51,000,000.

Mount Carmel, Pa., March 16.—Several days ago L. J. Metzinger, of Locust Gap, noticed an advertisement published by the Dutch consul at Philadelphia, calling for heirs to a fortune belonging to people of that name, which is now in the hands of the government of Holland. Mr. Metzinger visited the consul and established, so it is said, satisfactory proof of his claim. The fortune is said to amount to $51,000,000, and it is claimed that by next May the wealth will be distributed among the members of the Metzinger family in this section.

There are three branches of the family—Joseph Metzinger, of this place, and Nicholas and Peter Metzinger, of Locust Gap. In all the family numbers 200 persons and, when the wealth is distributed each will be the recipient of $255,000.

It is said that the fortune was founded 150 years ago by one of the original stems of the Metzinger family established in France, who afterwards emigrated to Holland.

REHEARSED THE MURDER.

Sadie Robinson Declares That Her Confession Is False.

Buffalo, March 16.—Yesterday was a field day in the trial of the two Robinsons for the murder of Montgomery Gibbs. It was a day full of incidents, interesting and dramatic, and it brought out one of the cards which the defense will endeavor to play as a heavy trump.

This was that Sadie's confession that she and Clarence had shot Gibbs was obtained from her by improper means, and was made to avenge herself on her husband, who, she was led to believe, had another wife, whom he was supporting. Working from this, the defense will try to prove that the "confession" was false.

One of the most dramatic features of the day was the realistic acting on the part of Mr. Quackenbush and Warden Abbey, of Cleveland, in which they showed how Robinson had tracked and shot Montgomery Gibbs.

FOUGHT FOR HIS LIFE.

Desperate Attempt To Murder a Priest by Masked Men.

Hazleton, Pa., March 16.—A desperate attempt to murder and rob the Greek Catholic priest, Rev. Galovich, at Freeland, was made last night. His housekeeper, Mrs. Lehatoz, and her companion, Mrs. Zacharias, were each beaten into insensibility.

The safe in the priest's house was dynamited but the attacking party was frightened off by the people who, attracted by the noise of the explosion, rushed to the scene. Both vestibule doors were battered down.

The priest made a desperate fight for his life. He escaped with a few slight wounds. Revolvers were used freely, and the doors and walls were perforated with bullets. There is a belief that there is a religious feeling behind the attack, and that the dynamiting of the safe was merely a ruse to divert suspicion. The men were all masked.

Parker to Hang.

Winchester, Va., March 16.—Thornton Parker, the negro who made an attempt to commit a criminal assault on Mrs. Melton, of near Middletown, on the 5th inst., was tried here, convicted and sentenced to be hanged on Friday, April 19, the trial lasting about four hours and the jury rendering its verdict in about forty minutes. The verdict meets with approval on all sides here, even the negroes being in better humor than yesterday.

New Trial for Captain Cross.

New York, March 16.—The general term of the supreme court has reversed the decision of the board of police commissioners, dismissing Captain Adam A. Cross and Wardman Smith from the force and restores them thereto. In granting the new trial the general term says that it would be impossible to convict any man on the testimony of such witnesses as the three women who appeared against them.

Queen Victoria at Nice.

Nice, March 16.—Queen Victoria arrived here, and was received with a great display of ceremony by the mayor and the other municipal authorities of the town. She entered a carriage, and, with military escort, was driven to Cimiez. Her majesty has borne her journey well. She shows no signs of fatigue.

Vanderbilt Workmen Strike.

Newport, R. I., March 16.—Sixty odd marble workers at Cornelius Vanderbilt's $3,000,000 villa at Ochre Point are on strike. This will probably interfere with the promise to the owner, who recently sailed for Europe, that he would be able to occupy a portion of his house during the coming season.

Indicted for Embezzlement.

Lynchburg, Va., March 16.—The grand jury in the United States court has returned true bills of indictment against Walker C. Hamner, late teller of the First National bank of this city, and R. H. Pannill for embezzlement.

OUR PROTEST TO SPAIN

All Eyes Centered on the State Department.

Disavowal of the Act and Expressions of Regret Demanded—Will Also Insist That Our Commerce Must Not Be Interfered With—Gresham Resumes Duty.

Washington, March 16.—Secretary Gresham, in spite of his sickness and the inclemency of the weather, resumed duty at the state department and was closeted with Assistant Secretary Uhl for several hours. Neither he nor any other state department official would discuss the Spanish affair further than to admit the accuracy of the published text of the dispatch sent to Minister Taylor at Madrid. No expression could be obtained from them on Minister Muruaga's somewhat drastic comments upon the action of the department. The president will be back to-day and further steps will doubtless be deferred until his return.

"This is a matter of diplomatic procedure," said Mr. Gresham, "and you can understand that it would not be proper for me to talk about it. It is unfortunate that the instructions sent Mr. Taylor should be published and seen in the public prints before Spain has had an opportunity to reply. But even if the question were a proper one for discussion by me, I do not see what I can say. You have seen the instructions and they speak for themselves. They represent the position of this government and contain all that can be possibly said at this time."

For the reasons given Mr. Gresham also declined to say whether or not he had heard from Minister Taylor since the instruction were sent, but it was stated on good authority that Mr. Taylor had not communicated with the department and further that no answer is expected from him before to-day.

Apology Demanded.

The following is the text of the dispatch to Minister Taylor:

"This department is informed that on the 8th instant, the United States mail steamship Allianca, on her homeward voyage from Colon to New York, when six miles from the coast of Cuba off Cape Maysi, was repeatedly fired upon by a Spanish gunboat with solid shot, which fortunately fell short. The Windward passage where this occurred is the actual and usual highway for vessels plying between ports of the United States and the Carribbean sea. Through it several regular lines of American mail and commercial steamers pass weekly within sight of Cape Maysi. This is well known and their voyage embraces no Cuban ports of call. Forcible interference with them cannot be claimed as a belligerent act, whether they pass within three miles of the Cuban coast or not, and can, under no circumstances, be tolerated when no state of war exists.

"This government will expect prompt disavowal of the unauthorized act and due expression of regret on the part of Spain, and it must insist that immediate and positive orders be given to Spansh naval commanders not to interfere with legitimate commerce passing through that channel, and prohibiting all acts wantonly imperilling life and property lawfully under the flag of the United States. You will communicate this to the minister for foreign affairs and urge importance of prompt and satisfactory response."

Madrid, March 16.—Mr. Hannis Taylor, the American minister, presented to the minister of foreign affairs a demand from his government for apology and reparation from the government of Spain on account of the Alliance affair.

SHATTERED BY DYNAMITE.

Twelve Men Missing Who Were Caught in the Explosion.

Houghton, Mich., March 16.—The dynamite factory of the Hancock Chemical company at Dollar Bay blew up yesterday.

Telephone and telegraph wires were broken by the explosion. A number of men are missing, but it will require several hours' search to give the extent of the disaster and loss of life.

Of the dozen men employed at the works, half are unaccounted for, but it is hoped not all are lost. Only one body, that of Dimoneck Christian, has been recovered. The families of some of the men are on the ground, and the scene is a pitiful one.

One Hundredth Anniversary.

Boston, March 16.—The members of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic association and their guests commemorated the one hundredth anniversary of the organization yesterday at Mechanics' hall. The gathering was a notable one, comprising representatives from almost every sphere of action, and included men whose fathers before them were honored and useful members of the association.

Pleasant News for Cokers.

Mount Pleasant, Pa., March 16.—Not since the halcyon days of the old syndicate has the Connellsville cokers received such pleasant news as just received by the almost ten thousand employes of the Frick and Southwest companies, when notices were posted at all their works stating that an advance in wages averaging 15 per cent. will go into effect on April 1 next.

Gen. Nansouty Dead.

Paris, March 16.—Gen. Nansouty died of influenza yesterday in Dax. Champion Dubois de Nansouty was born in 1815, entered the army as a volunteer in 1837, and in 1869 was promoted to the rank of general. He served under MacMahon in the war of 1870-71. After the war he did some scientific work. He was a commander of the Legion of Honor.

Bank Manager Arrested.

St. Johns, N. F., March 15.—Henry Cooke, ex-manager of the defunct Commercial bank of this city, has been arrested and lodged in jail. He will be arraigned for examination before the magistrates to-day and specific charges of embezzlement will probably be made against him. Bail was cancelled.

THE DAILY PRESS.

E. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.

WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 16, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. H. McVey is home from Buffalo.

Amos Stites is out today after a week of illness.

B. Fosgate has recovered from a severe attack of neuralgia.

W. K. Vanderveer of Newark was in town yesterday on business.

Judge Coddington left this morning on a business trip to Connecticut.

James Trainor is confined to his home on West Third street with illness.

Charles Lippencott of Griffin's has accepted a position with Edward White.

The Misses Billings of East Fifth street left for New Haven today on business.

E. W. Moulton, of Westfield, Mass., was a guest of the City Hotel yesterday.

Chief Marshal Pangborn of the borough is on duty again after a few-days illness.

David S. Dunavan has been compelled to take to his bed on account of severe illness.

Miss Haines of Summit avenue is visiting her brother Jonathan Moore, at Liberty Corner.

Mrs. P. Lane of Mountain View is visiting at the home of J. VanEps on East Fifth street.

Charles E. Stover has accepted a position with Coley & VanBuren, a New York banking firm.

Miss Dodge of Jackson avenue this morning began work in the lace department of Edsall's.

F. E. Stover has resigned his position with Charles B. Flint & Co. of New York, to take effect today.

William G. Gray, Jr., of Grant avenue is spending a few days with friends and relatives in Jersey City.

Miss Louise Holmes of East Front street, who has been very ill with pleuro-pneumonia, is much better.

Harry Squires leaves today on the steamship Umbria of the Cunard Line for a business trip to Europe.

Miss Bullock, principal of the Bryant School, expects to spend her Summer vacation traveling through Europe.

Mrs. George A. Vosseller of Somerville is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Holmes of Grandview avenue.

Mrs. William Hanglighter, formerly of this city and now of Philadelphia, is spending a few days with friends in town.

The funeral takes place, tomorrow, in Rahway, of Mrs. Theodocia Voorhees, mother of Mrs. John H. Tier, Sr., of this city.

Mrs. Mary Pullan of 320 Liberty street left yesterday for treatment in the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital.

F. F. Couch of Atwood's Pharmacy, Broadway, New York, was a guest Wednesday of his classmate, Druggist Howard Leggett.

Capt. Nellie Merritt of the Plainfield Salvation Army Corps, who has been suffering from grip, has so far recovered as to be able to be out.

William Nicholson, formerly of the West End, who has been in Allentown, Pa., some time, has returned to this city, and expects to live here.

Miss E. M. Gillem last night gave a party to her Sunday-school class of Trinity Reformed Church at her home on Duer street. Games and songs were the amusements enjoyed.

Mr. Travell spent part of Friday at school, and will resume his regular duties on Monday. His class will be glad to see him back, although they will be sorry to lose Miss Sherwin.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Batchelor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spratt, Miss Belle Carkhuff and Robert Barnes have purchased new wheels and are planning for many pleasant rides this Summer.

Invitations have been issued for the coming marriage of Fannie A. Westphal to George Gray, both of this city, which will take place March 27 at the home of the bride's parents, South Second st.

—Raymond Pool will hereafter have charge of the window trimming in Edsall's.

—At the meeting of Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., last night, one proposition for membership was received.

—The perfumery and soap departments in Edsall's have been removed from the rear to the front of the store.

—The Home Building and Loan Association will have a special meeting Monday night for nominations, as advertised.

—At the meeting of Columbia Lodge, A. O. U. W., last night an elegant gold Past Master Workman badge was presented to V. W. Nash by Past Master Workman Wm. H. Brokaw.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

BY THE WAY.

—Fair and warmer tomorrow.

—The Stirling silk mills will reopen Monday. 300 hands are advertised for.

—Harry Runyon will remove his law office to the Babcock Building next week.

—Wm. Hand & Son has moved Charles Brownell from 125 Watchung avenue to 426 West Second street.

—The Swalm building on North avenue has been connected with city water and the North avenue sewer.

—The Summer residence of Walter Williams at Netherwood is receiving repairs preparatory to occupancy.

—An election will be held in the Washingtonville schoolhouse Tuesday afternoon next at 3, to elect trustees and secure appropriations.

—George W. Squires, who was to have participated in a shooting match with a Mr. Ross at Jersey City today, was unable to go on account of illness.

—The regular monthly social of the Epworth League of the Grace M. E. Church was held last night, at which an entertaining literary and musical programme was rendered.

—H. C. VanEmburgh received a letter today from John J. Reynolds, treasurer of the Watchung Bowling League, stating that the league trophy would probably be delivered to the Plainfield Bowling Club some time next week.

—The civil engineers, under direction of H. C. VanEmburgh, who started Wednesday on West Seventh street to stake out the streets for the 17 miles of new city sewers, have been compelled to suspend operations on account of the frozen ground.

—The Junior Epworth League of the Dunellen Methodist Church entertained two hundred friends last evening in the church with dialogues, dumb-bell exercise by the boys, recitations, instrumental and vocal music, a military drill by the girls, and a very exciting tug-of-war. Rev. W. C. Kinsey, pastor, had all the members of the League at his home this afternoon for a social time.

—A new bill which has recently become a law in this State is causing considerable discussion. It relates to township officers holding over from their last election, and those who claim to know about it say that the collector, assessor, freeholder, town committeemen, and justices of the peach are legislated out of office. There is a little uneasiness in North Plainfield township in regard to the matter. It appears that the bill was drawn to affect Bridgewater township.

PERSEVERANCE AND GRIT.

Ten Years of Misery—A Simple Remedy.

LINCOLN CENTRE, Me.—"I thank God that I used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy." Such were the words of Asa T. Griffin of this place, and any one acquainted with the benefit he derived from its use, knows that he has great reason to feel thankful. The history of Mr. Griffin's case is of so much interest that your correspondent obtained full particulars.

"For ten years past," to use Mr. Griffin's own words, "I have suffered with constant pain in my back which was brought about by a diseased condition of my kidneys The suffering I endured at times is beyond words. I doctored and took all manner of medicines, but to no purpose. I began to be despondent for haying was coming on and I wanted to get to work. One day I was reading of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and I told my wife I would try it, and I am thankful I did so. I had used it but a short while when the pain disappeared; and I then started in and worked all through haying and helped to get in twenty three acres of grain and am feeling better than I have for years My wife, who has also taken Favorite Remedy for the sickness women are usually troubled with, has induced many others to try this valuable medicine, and in every case it has cured, where a cure was possible." One of our local physicians recently said: "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has cured more people of dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney, liver and urinary troubles, and women who are suffering from illness peculiar to their sex, than any known treatment. The great value of Favorite Remedy lies in the fact that it dissolves the excess of uric acid in the blood, expels it from the system, thus curing the disease."

In diabetes, Bright's disease and gravel, it has cured where all else failed. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy can be purchased of any dealer of medicines at $1 a bottle.

The Whist Tourney.

The New Jersey Whist League began their games yesterday, and the score complete to this morning is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Park Club	2	0
Fanwood	2	0
Montclair	2	0
Elizabeth Athletic Club	2	0
Newark	1	0
Elizabeth Whist Club	1	1
Orange	1	1

The Park Club is defended by S. St. John McCutchen, George Rogers, Samuel Townsend and Charles A. Reed.

The press is the best instrument for enlightening the mind of man and improving him as a rational, moral and social being.—Thomas Jefferson.

Buster Than the Bee.

How doth the little busy ad
Improve each shining minute,
And gather dollars, dimes and cents
For the merchant who is in it.

MUSIC HALL,

Jos. Sohl, Lessee and Manager

Telephone 49B.

Monday, Mch 18.

The new version of

Peck's Bad Boy.

New songs, dances, medleys, ideas and electrical effects.

Everything new but the name.

Prices 25, 50, 75 and $1. Box office now open.

Physicians

prescribe Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites because they find their patients can tolerate it for a long time, as it does not upset the stomach nor derange the digestion like the plain oil.

Scott's Emulsion is as much easier to digest than the plain oil as milk is easier to digest than butter. Besides, the fish-fat taste is taken out of the oil, and it is almost palatable. The way sickly children, emaciated, anæmic and consumptive adults, gain flesh on Scott's Emulsion is very remarkable.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute.

Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

—Those who will take part Monday night in the entertainment at the New England supper in the First Baptist Church are the Misses Manning, Miss Florence Dodge and Will Runyon. On Tuesday night Mrs. L. W. Serrell, Jr., Miss Nancy Randolph, Miss Bessie Blair, and L. Davis will assist.

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c. and $1. Sold by all druggists.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery.

Teacher of Banjo. Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, administrator of Adele Feytel deceased will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the seventeenth day of April next.

CHARLES JOSEPH FEYTEL.

Dated February 11, 1895. 2 16 10

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Executor of Robert Palmer, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the Seventeenth day of April next.

JOHN S. McLEAN.

Dated February 11, 1895. 2 16 10

NOTICE!

Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of the School District

of the

Borough of North Plainfield

in the county of Somerset, that the

ANNUAL MEETING

for the election of three members of the Board of Education, will be held at the school house, on

TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1895,

at 8 p. m. The polls will remain open one hour and as much longer as may be necessary to enable all the legal voters present to cast their ballots. At said meeting will be submitted the question of voting a tax for the following purposes—For the payment of teachers salaries and other current expenses of maintaining the school for the ensuing year and a flag, $6,600. For text books and other necessary school supplies to be furnished free of cost for use in the school $750. The total amount thought to be necessary is $7 350.

Dated this 8th day of March, 1895.

J. B. JOSEPH, District Clerk.

3 16 2

An Ordinance

governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An ordinance governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation" has been introduced and passed its first and second readings in the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield. The date when said ordinance passed its second reading is March 8, 1895, and this notice is given pursuant to the requirement of the statute in such case made and provided. By order of the Board of Health.

H. O. NEWMAN, Secretary.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., March 16, 1895.

MUSIC HALL,

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.

Telephone call 49B,

Friday, March 22—1 Night

Canary & Lederer's newest New York production

THE

20th Century Girl.

75 people on the stage 75

The phenomenal cast introduces John T. Kelly, Dan Dooly, Samie Fisher, Bettina Gerard, Edith Howe, Jennie Weathersby, Al H Wilson, Harry Kelly, Harry Standish, Catherine Quingard, Lillian Thurgate, Orissa Carlyle and others. Everything bright, new, original and up to the title.

Prices 25, 50, 75 $1 and $1.50.

Box office now open.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

AT PECK'S.

NEW Street Glove $1.50. Foster's KID GLOVES. Black, Brown Tan, Mode and Slate.

SEBRING, CLOTHIER,

Will close the balance of $12 suits for $8.

$15 suits for $10.

$12 ulsters for $8.50.

$15 overcoats for $10.

Children's overcoats and school suits at cost.

Park Avenue, Packer's Block,

12-6-1

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Carpet Dep't.

Opening of New Spring Goods.

We quote only a few special:

All-wool ingrains at.....49c
Tapestry Brussels, at.....53c 59c 65c
Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminister, Ishpahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, jointless, new patterns, 9c up.
Oil cloths, No. 1, 39c No. 3 at 25c No 4 at 19c
Linoleums at 37½c; Window shades 19c up; poles with fixtures 19c up.

The elegant new Laces in

Our Lace Dept.

will interest you.

Laces, Veilings and Lace Collars.

A large collection of fine laces and lace collars (by far the most comprehensive assortment in the city) we shall offer during the week at prices very much below real value, comprising Broderie Anglaise, Point de Gene, Point Venise, Chiffon, Chantilly and Point de Ireland Laces, now very desirable for spring trimmings. Our leader this week—Brussells Applique in match patterns of 3 widths—5 inch 19c; 6½ inch 23c; 8 inch 31c a yard.

Veilings

All-silk Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings 18x27 inches wide, in all colors, at 25 and 35c a yard; regular price 35 and 50c a yard.

Lace Collars

Point Venise and Point de Rene Collars (butter color) now much in demand, regular $1.50 to $5 lines, special during the week at $1.25. $1.39 $1.93 and $3.28 each.

Silks

Illuminated Brocaded and Striped Taffeta Silks, 12 different combinations, 20 inches wide, will not cut, crush or slip in seams, choice designs, good value at 98c yard; special at 65c a yard. 700 yards of Crepon Wash Fabrics, in all leading colorings, regular 10c goods; special for the week 7½c yard.

Housefurnishing and China Dept

Extra values at about half price. At half price, 1 lot English Majolica milk and water pitchers

Milk pitcher regular price 15c; special 8c.
" " " 19c; special 10c
Water " " 29c; special 18c
" " " 39c; special 24c

The above are assorted colors and strictly perfect.

50 dozen engraved goblets, all perfect, at 3c each: scrub brushes, regular 15c, at 10c each; japanned chamber pails, assorted colors, 23c; another lot japanned bread boxes at 27c; japanned fire screens, 4 fold bamboo frames, at 49c.

Grocery Department

TERMS CASH—Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. You will be surprised at the amount of money you can save in buying in this department.

SPECIAL SPECIAL

French sardines in pure olive oil, Martel brand at 10c can
Cook's flat salmon steaks, very fine, at 16c
Very fine large olives, 32 oz bottle, 39c can.
Heinz's assorted Little Giant pickles 9c bottle.
Anderson's jams, all kinds, 1 pound tins, 12c.
FLOUR—Our White Seal Flour is in greater demand each day. The price and quality is right. ⅛ barrel 54c; ¼ barrel $1.07; ½ barrel $1.98; 1 barrel $3 95.

Special for Saturday Night Only

From 8 to 9:30.

500 yards of Point Venise, Bourdon, Applique and Valenciennes laces, 2 to 7 in. wide, 20c to 50c lines; special Saturday only at 10c, 18c, 20c, and 25c a yard.

1,000 yards of satin and gros grain ribbons in all leading shades, ¼ to 4 in. wide, reduced to 3, 5, 9, 12 and 20c a yard; regular price 5, 7, 12, 18 and 25c a yard.

EDSALL'S

DO YOU BUY YOUR

Trunks and Bags in New York?

Do So No More.

You can now buy them just as cheap at the house of

Doane & Edsall.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

CHINAMEN'S REGISTERED LETTERS.

Large Remittances Apparently Sent by Them to China.

People who have occasion to register letters or parcels at the New York postoffice are often surprised at the large number of Chinamen they find bent upon the same errand. Frequently there are more Chinamen waiting in line than there are representatives of all other nationalities combined. Almost every day from 25 to 50 remittances are made. Sometimes three or four Chinamen will send drafts in one envelope, a device by which they avoid paying the United States the full charge for each remittance. This charge is 8 cents on each letter to any part of the world. It is impossible to learn the amount of money which is sent out this way. The indications are that it is very considerable. Most of the letters are sent to Hong Kong, San Francisco and Victoria, B. C. The addressees are presumably agents of the Six Companies, by whom the money remitted is forwarded to its final destination. Very few of the registered letters are sent to the interior cities of China, although the cost would be the same.

"We have no way of knowing," said one of the postoffice officials, "how much the remittances made by the Chinese amount to, but it is certain that every cent they can rake or scrape is shipped off somewhere. Unlike the Italians, who emigrate by families and stick together in this country, the members of a Chinese family are usually scattered all over the world. The Italians send more registered letters than the Chinese, but the amounts enclosed are generally much smaller, it is believed."

STERILIZED MILK.

The Simple Process by Which All Bacilli May Be Killed.

When there is a baby in the house the city mother always looks askance on the milk which the dealer in the covered wagon leaves at her door.

That is why sterilized milk—or milk in which the bacilli are destroyed—has been so much talked about during the last few years. In the cities, especially where the milkman himself does not know whether his stock is pure or not, the use of sterilized milk has grown to be an almost absolute necessity for young children.

The housewife may do the work just as well as anyone. An ordinary oatmeal or custard cooker may be used and the milk heated to the proper temperature of 167 degrees, which can be readily regulated by a dairy thermometer, costing only 50 cents. Ordinarily this will render the milk perfectly safe for children to use.

The Yeast Did the Rest.

It is a custom in every good orthodox Jewish family to bake Sabbath bread Friday morning so as to have it fresh for the first Sabbath meal Friday evening. The Goldman family of 462 North Wells street was doomed to great disappointment on the last Sabbath, for they were deprived of the usual home baked bread, and all on account of the cold weather and a pet dog.

Last Thursday night Mrs. Goldman as usual prepared the dough in a large pan and put the pan on a chair near the stove, so that the dough might rise better. At the usual hour the family retired. There is a little pet dog in the house, which also decided to retire for his rest, but he did not find his old corner as comfortable that night. The wind outside was blowing, the mercury falling, and the old corner looked desolate, and the dog looked for a more cheerful place. The blazing coals in the stove looked inviting, and slowly the dog made his way to the stove and then to the chair, where he hoped to find his comfort. But that pan with the dough appropriated too much of the chair, and to overcome that the dog decided to make his berth in the pan. He carried his resolution into effect. The warm dough soon covered up his little body and the raging blizzard troubled him no more that evening.

Friday morning Mrs. Goldman made ready to bake the bread; she prepared the stove, greased the small pans, and started to put the dough in the pans. She noticed that the dough had risen unusually well. But what was her horror and what a scream did she give when instead of dough she pulled out the little dog.—Chicago Daily Tribune.

Tammas' Little Joke.

The worthy beadle in a rural district in Perthshire had become too feeble to perform his duties as minister's man and gravedigger and had to get an assistant. The two did not agree well, but after a few months had elapsed Sandy (the beadle) died, and Tammas, his erstwhile assistant, had to perform the last service for his late partner. The minister, a bit of a wag, strolled up to Tammas while he was giving the finishing touches to the grave and casually remarked:

"Have you put Sandy weel down, Tammas?"

"I hev that, sir," said Tammas, very decidedly; "Sandy may get up, but he'll be among the hindmost."—Halifax Chronicle.

Where the Best Horses Are Found.

The best driving and carriage horses come, I think, from Maine and Vermont, being tougher as a rule, than the Kentucky horses, and no less intelligent. High steppers, for the most part, are natives of Maine or of Canada. Western horses, especially those from Ohio, Iowa and Indiana, are corn fed and soft; and they often lack that quality which the Kentucky horses derive from the thoroughbred strain in their blood. The best hunters—perhaps the best combination saddle and harness horses—come from the Genessee Valley, where there is a great deal of good blood, and where real fox hunting is pursued.—Century Magazine.

His First Alarm Clock.

Biway—Use an alarm clock nowadays?

Jigsup—No; never tried one but once.

Biway—How was that?

Jigsup—Well, you see, the first time it went off I didn't exactly know what it was, and so I said: "Oh, for heaven's sake, Maria, shut up!" Maria happened to be awake, and—well, that is how it was.

No Doubt of It.

Miggs—Every Chicagoan I meet seems to have a harder lot than his neighbor.

Diggs—How harder?

Miggs—Harder to dispose of to the gullible New Yorker since the real estate collapsed.

At the Head of the Stairs.

Clubby—Don't reproach me dar—hic—ling. My cup is full.

Wife—What cup?

Clubby—My hiccup, dar—hic—ling.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Official Announcements for Worship in Plainfield Tomorrow.

[Matter intended for this department must be supplied fresh every week, not later than 10 a. m. Saturday to insure insertion.]

W. C. T. U. Rooms—Mr. Stevens will lead the meeting at 4 p. m.

Reform Hall—4 p. m. Gospel temperance meeting, led by Rev. Wm. Humpstone.

St. Joseph's Church—Masses at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school at 3, and Vespers at 8 p. m.

St. Mary's Church—Masses at 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; Vespers, 6 p. m.

Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest—Morning prayer and sermon, 11; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m.

St. Peter's German Lutheran Church—Services, 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.; Sunday-school, 9 a. m. Rev. Ed Klonka, pastor.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Meeting—Robert A. Suffern will conduct the boys meeting at 4:15 p. m. Special music will be a feature.

All Souls Church—Rev. Hobart Clark, pastor. Services at 10:45 a. m. with preaching by the pastor. Sunday-school, 11:45 a. m.

Y. M. C. A. Building—4:15 p. m. meeting. Rev. Dr. Richards will speak to the young men and Prof. Conde's Symphony Orchestra will play.

East Third Street Mission—The Gospel service at 3 p. m. will be conducted by M. F. Marclay. Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m. Christian Endeavor at 7.

Grace Church—Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector. Early Celebration of Holy Communion, 7:30; morning prayer and sermon, 11; Sunday-school at 3; evening service, 7:45.

First Church of Christ (Disciples) Morris's Hall, 110 Liberty street—Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. by pastor B. W. Hand; Sunday-school, 2:45; Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m.

First M. E. Church—Rev. Dr. C. R. Barnes, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. subject of evening sermon, "The House that was haunted". Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; Epworth League, 6:45 p. m.

Church of the Redeemer, Protestant Episcopal—Rev. Dr. Jocelyn Johnstone, rector. Celebration of the Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m. Morning service, 11:15; Sunday-school, 3 p. m.; evening service, 4:30.

Salvation Army—Meetings 7 and 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Adjt. George Wood of Morristown will be present at all the meetings, and there will also be swearing in of recruits who have been on probation three months.

St. Stephen's Church, Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector—Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45; morning prayer, litany and sermon, 11; evening prayer, 4:30. Free stages from station at 10:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Grace M. E. Church—Rev. Herbert F. Randolph, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Preaching by the pastor. Evening subject, "When and why does the Master sigh?". Sunday-school 2:30; Epworth League, 7.

Trinity Reformed Church—Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor. 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., preaching by pastor. Evening theme—"A Question—pertinent and timely". Sunday-school, 2:30; prayer-meetings at 10 a. m. and 6:45 p. m.

Park Avenue Baptist Church—Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning theme, will be, "A thing to be remembered"; evening, "The superior wife of an inferior husband". Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m.

Congregational Church—Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor. Morning service, 10:30. The pastor will give a five-minute sermon to the children. In the course of the regular sermon he will explain Scripture passages which speak of God's hardening Pharaoh's heart. Sunday-school, 2:45 p. m. The pastor will conclude the series of talks on ancient inscriptions. Christian Endeavor meeting, 7:30 p. m.

To Settle It.

The bowling game between Plainfield and Roselle at the latter place next Tuesday evening will probably decide the championship of the Jersey Central section of the Elizabeth Journal league, and therefore will be of great interest. The Plainfield team will be composed of Messrs Maltby, Vail, Wilbur, Van Alstyne, Petrie and Van Emburgh.

Christian Endeavor Workers.

The chairmen of the various committees of the Christan Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church have appointed assistants as follows:

Missionary—W. T. Spangenberg, (chairman), Charles Covover, Miss I. B. Yerkes. Prayer Meeting—Miss Alice G. Woodland, (chairman), Misses Ella Serrell, May E. Howlett, Bertha F. Needham and Charles Fountain. Social—Miss Grace Yerkes, (chairman), Mrs. Fannie Batchelor, Miss —elle Vail, Mrs. Charles Conover and Harry J. Bremer. Lookout—George F. Brown, (chairman), Arthur E. Crane, R. W. Barnes, Misses Laura Runyon and Florence Marsh. Welcome—R. W. Barnes, Robert Love, Grace Yerkes, Miss Runyon and Miss Woodland. Music—Miss Marsh, William Runyon, Florence Dodge, Clifford Brady and Harold Serrell. Press—R. W. Barnes, (chairman), Miss Emily Coriell and J. Henry Crane.

Choked to Death.

Clarence, the three year old son of Robert H. Lowry of Madison avenue, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon from choking. The child had been ill 36 hours with membraneous croup, and at 2 yesterday afternoon a piece of the membrane became detached and clogged up the windpipe, and the little fellow choked to death in a minute and a half. Dr. Endicott was the attending physician, but by the time he reached his side life had become extinct. He was the only child, and the affliction is a grievous one.

An Echo of Longfellow.

Lives of great men all remind us
We may make our lives sublime
If the ills that else would blind us
We do remedy in time.
Therefore, if your sight's invested
By the slightest film or hurt,
Have your eyes at Collier's tested
And all greater ill avert.

—Buy a hat of Hallock today. He'll do your head good.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dismondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Short Stories of Heroism from Real Life.

Sherman Got the Right of Way.

March 16, 1865, was the date of Sherman's first encounter with the enemy in crossing the Carolinas. Kilpatrick, with his troopers, led the column. The Confederates under Hardee, who had been driven from Savannah, opposed the march in every way possible. At Averysboro, Kilpatrick met them hurrying to seize a defensive position between a swamp and a deep ravine where there was only a narrow pass for an army to march. Sending his skirmishers galloping ahead he prepared to give battle for the right of way, but his officers were alarmed at what appeared to them sheer recklessness and wanted to withdraw. Davy Crockett's favorite axiom was also that of this brave cavalrymen. "Gentlemen," said he, "we may get the worst of it, yet the enemy must not hold this road if my force can prevent it. Sherman wants to pass this way tomorrow."

KILPATRICK.

Dismounting portions of each regiment, he directed the men to barricade the farther brink of the ravine with rails, brush and timbers, while skirmishers kept the enemy at a safe distance. Several desperate charges upon the barricades were repulsed and when Sherman's infantry reached the scene next morning Kilpatrick held the key to the situation. Moving his squadrons to the right and left a couple of infantry brigades relieved them at the parapets. Then the lines dashed forward and drove the Confederates from the path, losing but 500 men in an encounter which must have cost dearly had the enemy been allowed the choice of ground.

Risked His Life For a Stranger.

March 16 is the anniversary date of the naval disaster in the Samoa hurricane (1889). There were many heroic deeds by officers and seamen to save their ships. One rescue, accomplished at a daring risk of life and purely voluntary as well as unselfish, was made by a Japanese cabin steward of the United States flagship Trenton, named Hatchitaro. The Vandalia had been driven upon the beach where the hurricane seas swept 15 feet above her decks. Her captain and several sailors lost their lives in trying to get lines ashore. Finally the Trenton was lifted by a tremendous wave and hurled broadside upon the Vandalia's sunken hull. Ropes were thrown from the Trenton to the men in the rigging of the Vandalia, and many who had strength to grasp them and hang on, escaped. One of the last to leave the rigging was Lieutenant Wilson. Yielding the ropes to his men, he attempted to jump to the Trenton's spars, but in the darkness got entangled in the ratlines and fell into the water. He managed to get a foothold on the ladder of the mainmast so as to keep his head above tide, but was too weak to climb higher. The lurching hull of the Trenton pounded against the masts of the Vandalia, threatening to carry them down. Hatchitaro saw the peril of the lieutenant, who was a stranger to him and anyway unrecognizable in the darkness. Crawling out from the Trenton's deck to a projecting yard of the sunken ship, he made his way to the mainmast and lifted Wilson up to the yard, along that to the rigging, and clung to him until a line was thrown within reach from the Trenton. Fastening that about the half drowned man, he stood by and guided him while the sailors above hauled him on deck. Hatchitaro was then hauled up by his shipmates and was barely clear of the wreck when the mainmast went down with a crash.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

—W. L. Lindsay, the musical wonder, will reappear in Bethel Chapel Monday evening. The admission will be 15 cents, with 10 cents extra for reserved seat. This is a splendid and marvelous entertainment.

DEATHS.

VOORHEES—At Rahway March 15, 1895, Mrs. Theodocia Voorhees, mother of Mrs. John H. Tier, Sr., of this city, aged 82 years. Funeral Sunday at 2 p. m. from the residence of her son-in law, W. I. Tier, Rahway, N. J.

FINE—On Thursday morning, March 14, 1895, Eliza E., wife of Christopher M. Fine. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services at her late residence, 469 West Front st., Sunday, March 17, at 2:30 p. m. Somerville papers please copy. 3

LOWRY—In this city Friday, March 15, 1895, Clarence Loxley, only child of Robert H. and Lizzie D. Lowry, aged 3 years, 7 months and 11 days. Funeral private.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church. First-class livery attached. Telephone 153 11 26 y

Almost Given Away

Who wants it?

A House on Fairview Avenue,

Watchung Park. New, delightfully located, LOT 50x175 FEET. 9 rooms, all improvements, electric and gas light, stained glass, finely papered; has to be seen to be appreciated; known as the Russian style; mortgage $3,000; $1,500 cash takes it. Can be seen at any time. Apply to A. BARTLETT, 3 13 6 339 Park avenue.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

OPPORTUNITY—One large old fashioned and two small spinning wheels. Address 318 West Front st. 3 16 2

FOR SALE—New 7-room house on Stone st; will sell on easy terms. Apply 196 Somerset st. 3 16 2

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Apply 301 Madison ave.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. 33 Willow ave.

WANTED—Girl for general housework; reference required. 822 Park avenue. 3 16 2

BUFF Cochins and buff Leghorns for sale. 216 8th st.

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

WANTED—A fresh Alderney cow; must be cheap and gentle. Address Box 81, Dunellen, N. J.

TO LET—Two small stores or offices on one of the finest corners in the city, with or without stable room for one or more horses. Inquire F. Westphal & Son cor. of West 4th and Liberty st. 3 6 m

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

WHITE woman wants work by the day week or month; is a good laundress and has good city references. Call 331 Cottage place. 3 14 3

HOUSE to let on Duer st., 9 rooms with improvements; $35. Call at 17 Duer street. 3 12 6

TO LET—7 room house on Duer st; $15. Call 17 Duer st. 3 12 6

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, old established meat market, 2 horses and 2 wagons; good paying business; reason for selling given. Address Butcher, care Press. 3 11 6

TO RENT—House 303 West 2d st; now occupied by Relief Association. Inquire 208 Madison ave. 3 11 6

HORSE and buggy for sale cheap. Call 85 Manning ave. 3 11 6

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman. 1 30 tf

PLAINFIELD SOUVENIR

SOLID SILVER SPOONS.

COLLIER'S,

103 PARK AVENUE.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

SUCH SELLING

From Monday morning until Saturday night of the pick of our immense stock, with profits chopped off, just for a big and bright ending of a dull month. Profits will come later, perhaps. All new goods, not in the store a month. We are only giving you our

PROFITS

Crepon

Cloth, a new name for crinkles Wash 'em and shake them out; no ironing necessary. Manufacturer thought they would sell for 12c, but they didn't, so they go for 6c.

Embroideries

Just a hint our show window gives of our big purchase—5,000 yards in the lot. Not too much for Plainfield at the price—3 to 10c, and worth from 10c to 20c.

Ginghams

You know the Toile du Noirs; ask anyone the price and they say 10 and 12c. White's price 6c, and 30 inch percales ought to bring 10c, but they go for 6c.

Silks

The prettiest weaves. Makes you wish you could buy them all when you see them, and you can, for the price is only 62c. All shades in light and dark grounds.

Dress Goods

Go where you please it's the same story White's is ahead of all, and you buy an all wool dress for what a gingham used to cost. Too many kinds to tell of all. Just come and see them.

Linens

Big selling it will be this week and little prices buy them. Towels, toweling, table linen, napkins at a third off, just to show you how cheap they can be sold. The more we can hammer prices the better.

For further particulars see circulars

WHITE of Plainfield.

A Special Meeting

OF THE

Home Building and Loan Ass'n

is called for

Monday, March 18,

at 8:30 p. m.

for the purpose of nominating officers and directors for the ensuing year. By order of ISAAC W. RUSHMORE, Pres. 3 15 2 S. R. STRUTHERS. Secy.

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS,

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 819 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc 3 14 m

—THE—

Plainfield Ice & Cold Storage Co

has removed from 140 Park avenue to

132 North Avenue.

3 13 6

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey porkjand poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material, fair prices. 8 4 y

Hot Rolls

of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department. 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
69c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....69c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 30c " 10c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $4 25—worth $6
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2 49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1 25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 00 " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44, for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

in the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

MUNYON'S WITNESSES.

Well-known Citizens Testify That They Have Been Cured By His Remedies.

More Than 300,000 People Have Given Their Unsolicited Indorsement of Munyon's Little Sugar Pellets.

Samuel A. Heath, 218 Columbus ave., Boston, says: "It is now sixteen months since I was cured of rheumatism by using Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. I took it several times daily, and in four days was completely cured. At that time I could not put on my coat without assistance. My knees and ankles were so swollen that walking was difficult. I had suffered with rheumatism every spring and fall, but since taking Munyon's Remedies I have not had the lightest symptoms of the disease."

Wallace Bickford, of Bemis, Mass., says: "I had nasal catarrh of several years' standing, with all its disgusting symptoms when I began using Munyon's Catarrh Remedies. Their action was marvelously quick. The disease yielded rapidly, and now I am perfectly cured."

Miss Iola Forrest, 35 Monad st., Boston, says: "My entire system was broken down from nervous prostrasion, caused by dyspepsia. What I suffered is impossible to tell, and I was unable to get relief. Finally I began using Munyon's Dyspepsia and Nerve Cures, and it was not long before I was thoroughly cured."

Munyon's Homoepathic Remedy Co. put up a cure for nearly every disease.

No matter what your disease or how many doctors have failed to cure you, step into the nearest drug store and get a 25-cent vial of Munyon's Remedies. It will benefit you.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

ELY'S
Cream Balm

Is quickly absorbed. Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation. Heals the Sores, Protects the Membrane from Additional Cold. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

IT WILL CURE. A particle is applied into each nostril and is a greeable. Price 50c, at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½
Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.
Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.
We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

JAMES H. ECKELS,
Comptroller of the Currency.

3 4 30

MONEY LOANED.

Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1129 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 3m.

E. H. HOLMES,

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD,

YARD—No. 216 Madison Avenue. Also

Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle 145 North avenue.

MISSION OF THE MONTGOMERY.

On Her Way to Honduras To Investigate the Renton Murder.

Washington, March 16.—A cablegram has been received at the Navy Department from Commander Davis, of the Montgomery, stating that he had sailed from Trujillo for Brewers Lagoon, Honduras.

The mission of the cruiser is to thoroughly investigate the killing of Charles W. Renton, an American, there about a year ago. Renton and his wife purchased an estate near the Lagoon and lived there until March last, when Renton was set upon by several negroes and Honduranians and killed. Mrs. Renton called the attention of the Honduranian authorities to the fact and waited for them to punish the offenders. This was not done, and she wrote Secretary Gresham, and supplemented her statement of the murder by affidavits of witnesses of the crime.

Minister Young's attention was called to the matter by Secretary Gresham. He made representations to the Honduranian government that the murderers of Mr. Renton should be punished. Honduras has so far diplomatically evaded the matter, so he Montgomery has been detailed to make an investigation and report. Mrs. Renton and her niece reached the United States some time ago, after much difficulty.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY WORK.

Anniversary of the Foreign Board at the M. E. Conference.

Tyrone, Pa., March 16.—The anniversary of the Womans' Foreign Missionary society, Rev. Richard Hinkle presiding, occupied the time of the Methodist conference yesterday afternoon. Miss Mary McCord, for several years engaged in missionary and educational work in Panama, gave a very intelligent description of the work of this society in foreign lands. The principal address was made by W. P. Oldham, D. D., a member of the Pittsburg conference, and who was born and raised in India. He spoke of the great work he had witnessed by this society in Oriental lands, and the most noted feature that impressed him on his first visit to this country was the great respect shown to woman, which was in such a striking contrast with the degraded position she held in India.

The anniversary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society took up the time of the evening session. It was shown that $2,000,000 had been contributed by the church to this cause and that over 100,000 students had received instruction, which was about one-third of the whole number of students in all the school of Methodism.

MISSING REINA REGENTE.

Nothing as Yet Heard of the Spanish Warship.

Madrid, March 16.—In the chamber yesterday Premier Sagasta said he had no information as to the rumored arrival of the Reina Regente at the Canaries. The government had not abandoned hope, however. Human bodies and wreckage had been found at various ports along the southern coast, but they did not belong to the cruiser. The premier read dispatches from Captain Lopez, commanding one of the Cuban transports which were compelled to seek shelter at Teneriffe island from the gale. The waves swept her decks, carrying off live stock and damaging the deck houses. Lopez did not see the Reina Regente.

In the senate Admiral Beranger said: "The Reina Regente was one of the best ships in her class afloat. She was well appointed in every way. If she is lost, I believe she must have collided with another vessel or have gone ashore."

In a subsequent interview Admiral Beranger said that the overweight of the cruiser's deck guns was rectified two years ago by his order when he was minister of marine. Forty bodies have come ashore on the south coast in the last two days, but none of them is from the Reina Regente.

ITALY'S REQUEST.

Colorado Governor To Act at Once in the Rioting.

Washington, March 16.—The following telegram was received at the department of state from Gov. McIntire, of Colorado, dated Denver: "I am just in receipt of a detailed account by telegraph from sheriff at Walsenburg. It does not differ materially from the newspaper reports. Sheriff reports that there has been no trouble of any kind since, and no danger, and that he is thoroughly able to maintain peace, and no danger of uprising of Americans or Italians. Am in receipt of telegram from ambassador of Italy saying in part: 'Please give orders for immediate action against murderers of Italians.' Immediate action will be urged on proper authorities looking to arrest and punishment of guilty persons. I am satisfied that everything is quiet. Have taken steps to ascertain nationality of deceased."

Rescued in Mid-Ocean.

Belfast, March 16.—The British bark G. S. Jenry, from Brunswick, has arrived here with six of the crew of the British bark Maggie Dalling, who were rescued in mid-ocean on February 8. The Maggie Dalling was struck by a hurricane on February 7. Her steering gear and masts were carried away and the vessel was so strained that she leaked badly.

Business Booming at Uxbridge.

Uxbridge, Mass., March 16.—Business has taken a decided spurt the past week, and the mills are heavily pushed with orders. The Hecla Woolen mill is running day and night, Scott's Woolen mill, that was burned a short time ago, has been rebuilt and is working full set, while Capron & Sayles are doing double the business of last year.

May Receive Fifty Per Cent.

Washington, March 16.—A first dividend of two per cent. has been declared in favor of the creditors of the Broome County National bank of Binghamton, N. Y. The report of the receiver is not yet complete, but the opinion is expressed that creditors may receive fifty per cent. of their deposits.

Tragedy at Batavia.

Batavia, N. Y., March 16.—While resisting arrest here last night, Pat Nugent, a rag dealer, shot and instantly killed Sheriff Harvey Johnson and afterwards shot himself, dying in a few minutes.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 17. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Sin Offering.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Lev. iv, 1-7; Heb. ix, 7-14; Heb. x, 8-12.

The sin offering was the most important of all the sacrifices prescribed in the Mosaic ritual. They were not to be omitted even on festive occasions like the Passover, Pentecost and Feast of Tabernacles. But there was nothing joyous about it. Rather it represented a terrible necessity. Considerable similarity existed between the trespass offering and the sin offering, yet they were distinct in meaning and manner of observance. The first was to atone for certain particular wrongs committed, and the animal sacrificed was a ram. The sin offering made atonement for the person of the offender as a sinner rather than for a special offense. This sacrifice was never a ram, but in the case of a priest or the offering for the whole congregation it was a young bullock. For a ruler it was a male kid of the goats. One of the common people might bring a female kid or lamb. If too poor to bring these, two turtledoves or two young pigeons or an offering of sifted flour was accepted. No oil or frankincense was to be offered with this sacrifice. When presented for the congregation or a priest, some of the blood was to be brought into the holy place and sprinkled before the veil of the most holy place, and also put on the horns of the golden altar of incense. The remainder was poured at the bottom of the brazen altar. The fat, kidneys and caul were burned on the brazen altar. All the rest of the animal was burned outside the camp or city in the place where the ashes from the altar were placed. When the offering was made for a ruler or one of the common people, the priest performing the service was to sprinkle the blood on the horns of the brazen altar and to eat the animal in the court of tabernacle or temple. Probably this was to give assurance to the offerer of the acceptance of his sacrifice by God, who would not have allowed it to be eaten if the sin was not pardoned. On the great day of atonement the high priest entered the most holy place and sprinkled the blood of the sin offerings for himself and the congregation upon and before the mercy seat.

All types are fulfilled in Jesus, our sin offering, since "by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us." Again: "The bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin are burned without the camp. Therefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate." With special force then comes the exhortation, "Let us go forth, therefore, unto him without the camp bearing his reproach. For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come."

Enthusiasm of Numbers.

There is oftentimes an inspiration in numbers. A sense of power and consciousness of companionship is imparted, courage is strengthened and determination fixed. We hail with gladness the indications apparent on every hand that the young people of the church of Jesus Christ are awake and banding together for aggressive work. The international convention of the Christian Endeavor society to be held in Boston in June will be a notable gathering. The magnificent building of Mechanics' hall will be supplemented by two mammoth tents, and ample provision will be made for an immense throng. The Chattanooga convention of the Epworth League will be equally important in the interests of the kingdom of God within the bounds of Methodism. The crowds may not be so large perhaps, but mighty results will unquestionably follow both gatherings.

Christ In All.

The general subject for study during the first quarter of the year is Christ and his work as symbolized in the worship of the Jewish tabernacle and temple. The minute details of construction of the various parts and their furnishings, with the directions for proper performance of the elaborate ritual of sacrifice, lose all tediousness and become wondrously fascinating when once the thought is fully grasped of their spiritual significance. The book of Hebrews is the key to the treasures hidden in Exodus and Leviticus. Christ the high priest and sacrifice for sin is the central truth of both the Jewish and Christian systems, symbolically set forth in the first, fully revealed in the second.

Vermont Gets It.

The annual convention of the first general district has always been well attended and deeply interesting. It has been held in Boston, Providence, Portland, Worcester, Plymouth, Mass., and Manchester, N. H. Strong appeals were made by the Leagues of Taunton, Mass., and St. Johnsbury, Vt., for the next session in October, 1895, to be held with them. After careful consideration the cabinet decided to appoint it at the latter place. No great gathering of the League has ever been held in that state, and it is hoped this meeting will give fresh impetus to the cause.

Philosophy Not Religion.

Dr. Scudder says that at the parliament of religions in Chicago no oriental religion save that of Zoroaster was represented. The systems of philosophy there discussed are no more representative of the religions of the east than are the systems of Hegel and Herbert Spencer of the religions of Germany and England.

Temperance Work.

The most encouraging feature of this greatest reform of the age lies in the zeal with which the young people's societies enter into the work. Total abstinence is generally the rule. Prohibition of the saloon is their aim. The promise for sobriety among the people was never so great as at present.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 17. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Winning others—from what, to what and how?—Acts viii, 26-39.

The topical reference narrates the familiar story of Philip and the Ethiopian. In the providence of God Philip is led to this man returning from Jerusalem, as he was reading the Scriptures, which, however, he did not understand. Explaining away the difficulties, Philip led him to a true knowledge of God in Jesus Christ by preaching Christ as He is set forth in the Scriptures and thus we have illustrated before us, from what, to what and how we are to win others.

1. From what are we to win others? In general we may answer from anything that prevents them from having a true apprehension of God in Jesus Christ. In the case before us it was ignorance that caused the misapprehension. The Ethiopian read the Scriptures concerning Christ, but he did not understand them. He did not know to whom they referred. Philip had to lead him from ignorance. Ignorance keeps many from a true apprehension of God in Jesus Christ. Many, like the Ethiopian, have no one to guide them, and many who have the opportunity to learn will not do so. But there are other things besides ignorance that separate men from Christ. It may be skepticism, or unbelief or false pleasure or worldliness or sin in one form or another. From all these things Christians should seek to win others from whatever keeps them from a saving knowledge of God in Jesus Christ. We should esteem it a pleasure as well as a duty to win all men.

2. To what are we to win others? To a true apprehension of God in Jesus Christ. The work is only half done when we win them from their errors. Error must not only be removed, but truth must be inculcated in its stead. Skepticism and unbelief must not only be overcome, but a real and true faith must be established in their places. We must not only turn men from sin, but to God; not only from darkness, but to the light; not only from unrighteousness, but to true holiness. When we have despoiled the vessel of its false rudder, it must not be left rudderless, to be tossed aimlessly to and fro by the winds and waves. We must replace the false by the true if our work is the perfect work that it should be.

3. How are we to win others? By preaching Christ. This was Philip's method, for we are told that "Philip opened his mouth and began at the same Scripture and preached unto him Jesus." This was the apostolic method. It should be our method. We should preach Christ as He is set forth in the Scripture—the incarnation, death, resurrection, the atonement of Christ. It is the Scriptural Christ alone that can save men. We should preach Christ personally. Philip preached "to him." He had but one for his audience, and preaching is often most effective to audiences of one. It is personal work, individual work that is most effective. The world cannot be saved as a mass, but as individuals. Will we do our part to win the world for Christ?

Bible Readings.—Dan. xii, 3; Math. v, 16; Luke xxiv; 27; John i, 40-42; iii, 14-16; xii, 32; Acts xvi, 25-33; xvii, 22, 23; xviii, 24-28; xxviii, 23, 24; I Cor. ix, 19-22; x, 32, 33; I Tim. iv, 16; II Tim. iv, 1, 2; Jas. v, 19, 20.

Floating Endeavorers.

In the 18 months during which the Christian Endeavor union at Oakland, Cal., has been carrying on work for seamen they have secured from sailors 166 signatures to the active members' pledge, 750 of the men have attended meetings on land with Endeavorers, and the audiences at meetings on shipboard have numbered 900. Sailors have been received in the homes of the workers, and two officers have been brought into church membership.—Christian Herald.

Implicit Trust.

The Spirit of God creates in us the simplicity and warmth of heart which children have—nay, rather the perfections of His heavenly hosts, high and low being joined together in His mysterious work, for what are implicit trust, ardent love, abiding purity, but the mind both of little children and of the adoring seraphim?—Cardinal Newman.

Solid Devotions.

Solid devotions resemble the rivers which run under the earth. They steal from the eyes of the world to seek the eyes of God, and it often happens that those of whom we speak least on earth are best known in heaven.—Lutheran.

Christian Endeavor Jottings.

Many new societies are being formed in China. Three were recently organized in Nankin.

By the penny a day and penny a week plans the juniors of the Agnes Street Methodist Episcopal church, Toronto, give $1.05 weekly to the cause of missions.

Missouri Endeavorers have secured quarters for $50 of their delegation to the Boston convention.

Miss Newton of Fuchau writes, "I have seldom seen such marked cases of conviction of sin in China or such joy in the reception of the Holy Spirit." Pray for China, that her millions may be led to own the Messiahship of Jesus.

The island of Jamaica now boasts of 43 societies with 2,933 members, an increase of seven societies and 700 members over last year.

Rev. S. H. Doyle, for so long a time president of the West Virginia Christian Endeavor union, now has a pastorate in Philadelphia.

Christian Endeavor has gained a strong foothold in Liberia and is spreading rapidly. A society has been formed in connection with the Grange mission, Johnsonville, and another among the students of Liberia college. Other places are asking for information concerning Christian Endeavor.

An agreeable Laxative and Nerve Tonic. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO NO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures whereall other Throat and Lung Preparations fail. One dose will relieve. Sold by druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

Sold by all druggists.

8 14 y

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer.
2,284 feet 12 " " "
4,925 feet 10 " " "
80,605 feet 8 " " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer.
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
179 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Creating a Stir

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's

LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

Call and see the new

SPALDING

FOR '95.

Any one placing their order for a Spalding before January 1, 1895, will receive a new

'95 Spalding Cyclometer

FREE.

W. H. ROGERS,

408 West 5th st.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 237 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 2 m

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 27 Chatham street.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

HER PA'S EXCEPTION.

The low-descending sun with torch of fire
Illumined cloudland's minaret and spire
As ardent maiden said unto her sire,
"A sight more vivid never met my quest!"
"Except", quoth he, cheered by the grate-fire bright,
"This warmth-disseminating anthra-cite
I bought of Geo. O. Stevens yesternight,
At 747 Front St., West."

(Orders may be left at VanBuren & Timpson's, opposite railroad station, or at G. A. Hallock's, 109 West Front street.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial Parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J. Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 19 tf is a virtuous vice. The world is better for it. It makes men ambitious—and it makes women careful of their personal appearance. It doesn't take much money to keep well-dressed now-a-days. Cleaning or dyeing makes it possible to use soiled or faded garments. And there's where our ax comes in. We are in the Cleaning and Dyeing business. Our cleaner is ready, and our dyer has his fall shades mixed.

Vanity

Ask for our little booklet "Re-Freshing Thoughts." It tells about cleaning men's clothing.

HILLIER & Co.,

175 North ave.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N J

UNUSUAL.

Great reductions, "half price sales," and "goods at cost," usually mean undesirable things that must faily be kicked out, if they are to go out.

This week we offer two brilliant exceptions—

1st—$12 and $15 Ulsters at $7.90.

2d—$15 and $20 Overcoats at $10.90.

We make prices this week that will move them like feathers before a March wind.

WERNER'S, 206 West Front St

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 1 19 tf

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE.

The Young Soldier Ambitious to Shine as an Author.

WRITES A HISTORY OF CORSICA.

Seeks a Publisher In Vain—Revisits His Native Land—Despotic Treatment of His Kinsfolk—At This Period Displays Willfulness and Gloom.

[Copyright, 1895, by John Clark Ridpath.]

V.—FLASHES OF OBSCURITY.

The insurrection in Lyons quelled itself before the arrival of Lieutenant Bonaparte's contingent. The municipality proved itself sufficiently strong to put down the insurgents without the assistance of the military arm. Fighting there was none. Napoleon's company, arriving in due time, was stationed in the city for a month. It was a small beginning of war for him who was destined, with less than a decade, to lead a victorious army over the Alps into Italy.

The disturbance at Lyons put a date to Bonaparte's career at Valence. He had remained in that place from the fall of 1785 to August of 1787. This period of twenty-three months, though obscure in its manifestations, was one of the most important in his life. It was the transition from youth to early manhood. At this stage in the lives of men, the mind passes rapidly from one condition to another. Particularly is this true if study have been the mood and genius the attribute of the person concerned.

Napoleon here went forward from the early part of his seventeenth to the completion of his eighteenth year. If he had continued in the reckless course which he took at the beginning, his life at Valence would little concern the reader a century afterwards. But with the coming of the spring of 1786 an iron resolution entered into him, and he became a truer student than ever before. Probably no greater degree of mental concentration and compression was ever exhibited by a young man in the world than by Napoleon Bonaparte brooding over his books in his humble apartment at Valence.

The ambition of the young officer now shot out in several directions. Deeply impressed with the fame and power of the great authors whose writings just then were setting the world aflame, he, too, would be an author! Such was the quality of this singular personage that he never distrusted himself in anything. Before the end of his eighteenth year he conceived himself able and qualified to write a history! Corsica should be his theme. He would write the annals of his native land in so philosophical a manner as to place him alongside of the Abbe Raynal! He went so far as to address a letter to that august personage, telling him that he himself, though a youth, was already a writer. He begged the historian to excuse his audacity. He flattered him by saying that indulgence, extended to a neophyte, was a sure mark of genius! He enclosed to the Abbe the first two chapters of his alleged "History of Corsica," the cacography only being surpassed by the heresy of the rhetoric and the massage of grammar!

NAPOLEON BY AUDOIN.

We half suspect that the bottom motive in this business was not the hope of being a historian, but rather the distinction of having correspondence with a great man. However this may be, the Abbe indulged Napoleon, wrote to him, advised him to study further, and then to rewrite his work. Not only did the historical ambition have the Lieutenant, but the romantic also. He took somewhat to novels, and for the first time falling in love, determined to write a novel. At the house of Madame du Colombier, he made the acquaintance of her beautiful daughter, and fell in love with her—after the manner of all young lieutenants. The flame of this passion presently went out, but traces of it are seen in his correspondence until what time—ceasing to love Madamoiselle Colombier—he turned pessimist, denounced love as a mockery, and in particular as the drawback to human ambition!

In the midst of the fitful gleams of this erratic life may be seen burning the coals of that furnace-heat which the years have not yet extinguished. The student Bonaparte became a pale, living reality. He supplied himself with the works of the leading authors of the age, and devoured them with the rapacity of one starving. He made himself familiar with the writings of Voltaire and Necker. The one he followed through the mazes of the new French learning, and the other through the intricacies of practical finance. For months together, in his lodgings and about the barracks, he might be seen, with book in hand, muttering as he read, pencilling the margins, approving and condemning the doctrine, according to his judgment or whim. There never was a time in his life when he swept within his grasp a greater amount of intellectual products than during the after part of 1786 and the first half of the following year.

Coincident with the date of the Lyons episode, came a military order sending the Regiment La Fere from Valence to Douai, in French Flanders, three hundred and ninety miles distant. Here Napoleon found himself exposed to northern blasts and unfamiliar hardships. In his correspondence he complains bitterly of his situation. He got a fever of both mind and body, and the effects of it lasted for several years. His unhappiness became extreme, and he sought by every means in his power to escape from the situation. He would get away or kill himself! Nor were very powerful reasons wanting why he should go elsewhere. The Bonaparte family in Corsica had fallen by this time into desperate straits. Joseph had undertaken to build up a wine-trade with Italy, but had failed—as he did with most things else. Lucien, a student at Brienne, was doing his best to get a transfer to Aix, where he might substitute a priestly for a military education. Madame de Bonaparte, now thirty-seven years of age, was hoping against hope that the government would pay her the petty stipend due for the care of her mulberry orchards, but no payment was made.

There came want into the household. Lieutenant Bonaparte, making the condition of his family a plausible excuse, sought, and in February of 1788, obtained, leave of absence to visit Corsica. Thither he went, in poor health and general morbidity of mind. By this time his arbitrary character had begun to show itself in full force. Once at home, he played the despot. He hectored all his kinsfolk, with the exception of the mother, and she could hardly withstand his impetuosity, willfulness and gloom. His old and gouty great-uncle Lucien, from being the main stay of the family, was now about to die. Napoleon sought to alleviate the distresses of the household; but his resources were limited, and his ambitions were constantly contending with the purposes born of natural affection.

Home again after an absence of nearly nine years, the young officer busied himself more with things great than things little. He was more concerned with the political condition of the world than with the daily needs of his mother's house. He dwelt more on the state of Corsica than on the emptiness of Madame Bonaparte's cuisine—more on the woes of Ajaccio than on those of his brothers' and sisters' stomachs. He conceived himself to be the patriot par excellence of his age, and spent more time in delivering socialistic monologues than in contriving the means to rescue the family from impending ruin.

It was at this juncture that Napoleon began to concern himself especially about the institutions and history of England. Along with his Necker he studied Smith's "Wealth of Nations," then only twelve years from the press. The Elizabethan age—not indeed for the intellectual glory that was in it, but for its political intrigues—impressed him greatly; and he undertook to do into fiction the features of that era in a novel entitled the "Count of Essex." Then he flew back to his "History of Corsica," revised the parts which he had sent to the Abbe Raynal, and pressed on with the rest. Alongside of Voltaire, he would set up a rival production of his own, called the "Masked Prophet"—a marvelous and impossible invention out of Persia! Literature was thus mixed with affairs; fiction flourished at the meager meals which Madame Bonaparte was able to set for her family; anathemas of Joseph's unprofitable wine-shop were illuminated with paragraphs about the glories of rebellion; and the mulberry orchard back of Ajaccio was cursed in the middle of an apostrophic peroration about the regeneration of mankind!

Bonaparte's leave of absence—so eagerly sought—soon became as intolerable to him as to the rest. His paper gave him privilege to be away from his command for six months; but before the end of the fourth month—inventing casuistical reasons—he impatiently left Corsica to rejoin his company. During his stay in the island, he had accomplished something—something that would have been much in any other. He had induced the French intendant to agree to allow his mother's claim. He had pushed forward the inert Joseph to try the law as a profession, and had seen him installed at Bastia. He had urged upon his gouty uncle the necessity of patriotism! He had drawn up and submitted a system of coast defenses for the principal ports of the island. He had prepared a scheme for the creation of an insular army. He had studied and written incessantly at a furious speed, completing his Oriental novel and his "History of Corsica." The latter was cast in the epistolary form, and was dedicated to Monseigneur Marbœuf, now promoted to the see of Sens.

Meanwhile the Regiment La Fere had been ordered from Douai, to Auxonne, in Cote d'Or, 182 miles from Paris. Thither Napoleon repaired, to rejoin his command, in the last week of May, 1788. He took with him the manuscript of his "History of Corsica," seeking a publisher, but finding none, either at Valence or Lyons or Auxonne or Paris or anywhere else in this mundane sphere forever. In that same week, Alexander Hamilton wrote his last paper for The Federalist. One month previously, from the presses of Strahan and Cadell, in the Strand, was issued, by the author, on his fifty-first birthday, the greatest history ever composed by man.

It would be impossible to define the mental condition of Napoleon at this stage of his development. Politically—for though a soldier he was always a politician—he went halting between two forces. The one tendency drew him powerfully towards the local independence of his native island. This involved hatred of the conquest and annexation of Corsica to France. It also involved hatred of France itself; of the French race; and of the French monarchy in particular. But the other tendency drew Franceward with equal stress. It was from the powerful fact of France that all benefits had thus far flowed to the family of Bonaparte. By France he had himself been educated. Besides, Corsica, even as an independent state, was a limited field of action. France is great. France offers world-wide distinction. Our commission as Lieutenant of artillery is a French commission, and our very sword is a French blade.

But our "History of Corsica" is a patriotic and insurrectionary document. It is inconsistent with our allegiance, and hurtful to what France may promise hereafter. Therefore we would better shuffle, and rewrite our book. We will put it into the mouth of a Corsican patriot of the old Genoese faction, to which the family of our mother Ramolino once belonged. In its present form we make a copy of it, and send it to the great Paoli in London; but he returns it to us, putting us off with the counsel that we are as yet immature, "too young for writing history," and adding words to the effect that our book is not sufficiently original. In truth, our mind is a vortex, a maelstrom of conflicting tides. Here at Auxonne, during our stay of eighteen months, we will sit down again, insatiable, in solitary gloom, and devour the greatest things thought and written by men whom we shall one day surpass and eclipse!

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH.

A Phase of Fatalism.

"Not many people will agree with me perhaps," said a man the other day, "but in addition to persons inheriting diseases I think they often inherit the same fate. For instance, I have seen large families of sisters, nearly all of whom became widows, and looking back a generation or so it will be found that widowhood early in life became the fate of their aunts, mothers and grandmothers. I heard a friend remark, too, that deaths did not happen very often in her family, as all lived to be quite old, and although the family was numerous they rarely needed the services of an undertaker. Another thing in this same line of thought is the fact that one individual will have the fatality of having the same kind of an accident befall him right along."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

SPECIAL!

Gent's suits dyed	$2.25
Gent's suits cleaned	$1.50
Overcoat dyed	$1.50
Ladies' dresses cleaned	$1.50
" " dyed	$1.50
Lace curtains cleaned, a pair	50c
Blankets cleaned	$1.00

G. O. KELLER,

317 WEST FRONT ST.

☞Goods called for and delivered.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

L Y H A O E I T S U O R E T M I R E S O P U B C F T R A P T

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts, Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

COMFORT PEASE AND HER GOLD RING.

MARY E. WILKINS.

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller]

CHAPTER V.

But Matilda looked doubtful again. "There's only one thing," she said. "Mother ain't at home. She and Rosy went over to grandma's to spend the day this morning and I can't ask her. I don't see how I can go without asking her, exactly."

Comfort thought miserably: "What would Matilda Stebbins say if she knew I took that ring, when my mother told me not to?"

"Well," said Matilda, brightening, "I don't know but it will do just as well if I ask Imogen. Mother told me once that if there was anything very important come up when she was away that I could ask Imogen."

Imogen was Matilda's oldest sister. She was almost eighteen and she was going to a party that night, and was hurrying to finish a beautiful crimson thibet dress to wear.

"Now, don't you talk to me and hinder me one moment. I've everything I can do to finish this dress to wear to the party," she said when Matilda and Comfort went into the sitting-room.

"Can't I go to Bolton with Comfort Pease, Imogen?" asked Matilda.

"I thought you were going with Uncle Jared. Didn't mother say you might? Now, don't talk to me, Matilda."

"Uncle Jared's got to go to Ware to buy the horse, and he can't take us."

"Oh, I forgot. Well, how can you go, then? You and Comfort had better sit down and play checkers, and be contented."

"We could walk," ventured Matilda.

"Walk to Bolton! You couldn't."

"It's only three miles, and we'd drag each other on my sled."

Imogen frowned over a wrong pucker in the crimson thibet, and did not appreciate the absurdity of the last. "I do wish you wouldn't bother me, Matilda," said she. "If I don't get this dress done I can't go to the party tonight. I don't know what mother would say to your going to Bolton any such way."

"It wouldn't hurt us one mite. Do let us go, Imogen."

"Well, I'll tell you what you can do," said Imogen. "You can walk over there; I guess it won't hurt you to walk one way, and then you can ride home in the stage coach. It comes over about half-past four. I'll give you some money."

"Oh! that's beautiful. Thank you, Imogen," cried Matilda, gratefully.

"Well, run along, and don't say another word to me," said Imogen, scowling over the crimson thibet; "wrap up warm."

When they started Matilda insisted upon dragging Comfort first in the sled. "I'll drag you as far as Dr. Hutchins," said she; "then you get off and drag me as far as the meeting house. I guess that's about even."

"YOU ASK HIM; IT'S YOUR RING."

It was arduous, and it is probable the little girls were much longer reaching Bolton than they would have been had they traveled on their two sets of feet all the way, but they persuaded themselves otherwise.

"We can't be—a mite—tired," panted Matilda, as she tugged Comfort over the last stretch; "for we each of us rode half the way, and a mile and a half ain't anything. You walk that every day to school and back."

"Yes, I do," assented Comfort. She could not believe that she was tired, either, although every muscle in her body ached.

Bolton was a large town, and the people from all the neighboring villages went there to do their trading and shopping. There was a wide main street, with stores on each side, and that day it was full of sleighs and pungs and wood sleds, and there were so many people that Comfort felt frightened. She had never been to Bolton without her father or mother. "Just look at all the folks!" said she, and she had an uncomfortable feeling that they all stared at her suspiciously, although she did not see how they could know about the ring. But Matilda was bolder. "It's such a pleasant day they're all out trading," said she. "Guess it'll storm to-morrow. Now we want to go to Gerrish's. I went there once with mother and Imogen to buy a silver spoon for Cousin Hannah Green, when she got married."

Comfort, trailing the sled behind her, started timidly after Matilda.

Gerrish's was a small store, but there was a large window full of watches, and chains, and clocks, and a man with spectacles sat behind it, mending watches.

The two little girls went in and stood at the counter, and a thin man with gray whiskers, who was Mr. Gerrish himself, came forward to wait upon them. Matilda nudged Comfort. "You ask him, it's your ring," she whispered.

But Comfort shook her head. She was almost ready to cry. "You'd ought to when I'm giving you the dollar," whispered Matilda, with another nudge. Mr. Gerrish stood waiting and he frowned a little; he was a nervous man. "Ask him," whispered Matilda, fiercely.

Suddenly Comfort Pease turned herself about and ran out of Gerrish's with a great wail of inarticulate words about not wanting any ring. The door banged violently after her. Matilda Stebbins looked after her in a bewildered way, then she looked up at Mr. Gerrish, who was frowning harder. "If you girls don't want anything, you'd better stay out of doors with your sled," said he. And Matilda trembled and gathered up the sled rope, and the door banged after her. Then Mr. Gerrish said something to the man mending watches in the window, and went back to his desk in the rear of the store.

Matilda could just see Comfort running down the street toward home, and she ran after her. She could run faster than Comfort. As she got nearer she could see people turning and looking curiously after Comfort, and when she came up to her she saw she was crying.

"Why, you great baby, Comfort Pease," said she, "going along the road crying."

Comfort sobbed harder, and people stared more and more curiously. Finally one stout woman in a black velvet bonnet stopped. "I hope you haven't done anything to hurt this other little girl?" she said suspiciously to Matilda.

"No, ma'am, I ain't," replied Matilda.

"What's the matter, child?" said the woman in the black velvet bonnet to Comfort, and Comfort choked out something about losing her ring.

"Where did you lose it?" asked the woman.

"I don't k-n-o-w," sobbed Comfort.

"Well, you'd better go right home and tell your mother about it," said the stout woman, and went her way with many backward glances.

Matilda dragged her sled at Comfort's side, and eyed her dubiously.

"Why didn't you get the ring when we were right there with the gold dollar?" she demanded. "What made you run out of Gerrish's that way?"

"I'm —go—ing—home," sobbed Comfort.

"[illegible] a visit and ride in the stage coach?"

"I'm going right home."

"Imogen said to go in the stage coach. I don't know as mother'll like it if we walk. Why didn't you get the ring, Comfort Pease?"

"I don't want—any—ring. I'm going home—to—tell—my mother."

"Your mother would have been real pleased to have you get the ring," said Matilda, in an injured tone, for she fancied Comfort meant to complain of her to her mother.

Then Comfort turned on Matilda in an agony of confession. "My mother don't know anything about it," said she. "I took the ring unbeknownst to her when she said I couldn't, and then lost it, and I was going to get the new ring to put in the box, so she wouldn't ever know. I'm going right home and tell her."

Matilda looked at her. "Comfort Pease, didn't you ask your mother?" said she.

Comfort shook her head.

"Then," said Matilda, solemnly, "we'd better go home just as quick as we can. We won't wait for any stage coach, I know my mother wouldn't want me to. S'pose your mother should die, or anything, before you have a chance to tell her, Comfort Pease. I read a story once about a little girl that told a lie and her mother died and she hadn't owned up. It was dreadful. Now, you get right on the sled and I'll drag you as far as the meeting house, and then you can drag me as far as the sawmill."

Comfort huddled herself up on the sled in a miserable little bunch and Matilda dragged her. Her very back looked censorious to Comfort, but finally she turned around.

"The big girls were real mean, so there, and they pestered you dreadfully," said she. "Don't you cry any more, Comfort. Just you tell your mother all about it, and I don't believe she'll scold much. You can have this gold dollar to buy you another ring, anyway, if she'll let you."

The road home from Bolton seemed much longer than the road over had done, although the little girls hurried and dragged each other with fierce jerks. "Now," said Matilda, when they reached her house at length, "I'll go home with you while you tell your mother if you want me to, Comfort. My mother's got home. I can see her head in the window. I'll run in and ask her."

"I'd just as lief go alone, I guess," replied Comfort, who was not crying any more, but was quite pale. "I'm real obliged to you, Matilda."

"Well, I'd just as lief go as not, if you want me too," said Matilda. "I hope your mother won't say much. Good-by Comfort."

"Good-by," returned Comfort.

Then Matilda went into her house, and Comfort hurried home alone, down the snowy road in the deepening dusk. She kept thinking of that dreadful story which Matilda had read. Anxiety and remorse and the journey to Bolton had almost exhausted poor little Comfort Pease. She hurried as fast as she could, but her feet felt like lead and it seemed to her that she should never reach home. But when at last she came in sight of the lighted kitchen windows her heart gave a joyful leap, for she saw her mother's figure moving behind them, and knew that Matilda's story was not true in her case.

When she reached the door she leaned against it a minute. She was out of breath and her knees seemed falling under her. Then she opened the door and went in.

"WELL, I'D JUST AS LIEF GO AS NOT."

Her father and mother and grandmother were all there and they turned and stared at her.

"Comfort Pease," cried her mother, "What is the matter?"

"You didn't fall down or anything, did you?" asked her grandmother.

Then Comfort burst out with a great sob of confession. "I—took—it," she gasped. "I took my gold ring that Aunt Comfort gave me for her name—and—I wore it to school, and Miss Tabitha pinned it in my pocket, and I lost it. And Matilda she gave me the gold dollar her Uncle Jared gave her to buy me another, and we walked a mile and a half apiece to Bolton, to buy it in Gerrish's and I couldn't—and I was afraid something had happened to mother, and I'm sorry." Then Comfort sobbed until her very sobs seemed failing her.

Her father wiped his eyes. "Don't let that child cry that way, Em'ly," said he to Mrs. Pease, then he turned to Comfort. "Don't you feel so bad, Comfort," he coaxed, "father'll get you some peppermints when he goes down to the store to-night." Comfort's father gave her a hard pat on her head, and then he went out of the room with something that sounded like an echo of Comfort's own sobs.

"Comfort," said Mrs. Pease, "look here, child, stop crying and listen to what I've got to say. I want you to come into the parlor with me a minute."

Comfort followed her mother weakly into the best parlor. There on the table stood the rose-wood work-box, and her mother went straight across to it and opened it.

"Look here, Comfort," said she, and Comfort looked. There in its own compartment lay the ring. "Miss Tabitha Hanks found it in the road, and she thought you had taken it unbeknownst to me, and so she brought in here," explained her mother. "I didn't let you know because I wanted to see if you would be a good girl enough to tell me of your own accord, and I'm glad you have, Comfort."

Then Comfort's mother carried her almost bodily back to the warm kitchen and set her before the fire to toast her feet while she made some cream toast for her supper.

Her grandmother had a peppermint in her pocket and she slid it into Comfort's hand. "Grandma knew she would tell, and she won't never do such a thing again, will she?" said she.

"No ma'am," replied Comfort, and the peppermint in her mouth seemed to be the very flavor of peace and forgiveness.

After Comfort was in bed and asleep that night, her elders talked the matter over. "I knew she would tell, finally," said Mrs. Pease, "but it's been a hard lesson for her, poor child, and she's all worn out; that long tramp to Bolton, too!"

"I most wish her Aunt Comfort hadn't been so dreadful careful about getting her a ring big enough," said Grandmother Atkins.

Mr. Pease looked at his wife and cleared his throat. "What do you think of my getting her a ring that would fit her finger, Em'ly?" he asked timidly.

"Now, father, that's all a man knows," cried Mrs. Pease. "If you went and bought that child a ring now it would look just as if you were paying her for not minding. You'd spoil all the lesson she's got, when she worked so dreadfully hard to learn it. You wait awhile."

"Well, I suppose you know best, Em'ly," said Mr. Pease, but he made a private resolution. And so it happened that three months later, when it was examination day at school, and Comfort had a new blue thibet dress to wear, and some new blue ribbon to tie her hair, that her mother handed her a little box, just before she started.

"Here," said she, "your father has been over to Gerrish's and here's something he bought you. I hope you'll be careful, and not lose it."

And Comfort opened the box and there was a beautiful gold ring, which just fitted her third finger, and she wore it to school, and the girls all seemed to see it at once, and exclaimed: "Comfort Pease has got a new gold ring that fits her finger!"

And that was not all, for Matilda and Rosy Stebbins also wore gold rings. "Mother said I might as well spend Uncle Jared's dollar for it, 'cause your mother didn't want you to have it," said Matilda, holding her finger up. "And father bought one for Rosy, too."

Then the two little girls took their seats, and presently went forward to be examined in spelling, before the committeemen, the doctor, the minister, and all the visiting friends.

And Comfort Pease with all the spelling lessons of the term in her head, her gold ring on her finger, and peace in her heart, went to the head of the class, and Miss Tabitha Hanks presented her with a prize. It was a green silk pin cushion, with "Good Girl" worked on it in red silk, and she had it among her treasures long after her finger had grown large enough to wear her Aunt Comfort's ring.

[THE END.]

"Perhaps you would not think so but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

BAMBERGER'S
THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE
NEWARK, N. J.

Phenomenal Values
IN
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

The careful housewife whose thoughts will soon turn to spring house cleaning and fixings, and who desires to practice economy, cannot possibly make a better investment than in the grand values we offer in Upholstery Goods.

New Nottingham Lace Curtains,
Very choice and well covered designs and excellent quality,
98c Value, $1.49 Value, $1.98 Value, $2.98 Value, $3.98 Value
59c 98c $1.25 $1.98 $2.98

FIGURED CHINA SILK
for drapery and also suitable for pillow covering, new designs and choice colors, value 69c. at 49 cents.

FIGURED SILKALINE
36 inches wide, fine designs and desirable colorings, value 12½c, at 7½ cents.

TAMBONIED SASH MUSLIN
with double border and well covered centres, in the latest designs, very choice quality, value 19c, at 12½ cents.

CHENILLE PORTIERES,
each pair 75 inches wide, wide dado and frieze and heavy tassel fringe, excellent weighty quality, all the most desirable shades, value $2.98, at $1.98.

☞ Mail orders promptly filled.

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,
147 and 149 Market Street,
Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

OU MAY BE HAPPY
—IN—
Hallock's Handsome Hats.

Sanitary Science,
THE NATION'S PRIDE.
Excelsior Disinfector,
The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price comp'ete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.
LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

IF YOU WANT
ANY REAL ESTATE,
Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.
Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.
F. M. BACON,
Babcock Building, Room 211.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes
at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.
E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE
Spring Dress Goods
Our Dress Goods Department is now stocked with the la eat materials for spring wear. Many new and novel effects will be shown at much lower prices than heretofore.

Jacard Crepons
A new weave for street wear; very serviceable.
Begonia Suiting
A pretty illuminated crepe weave
Vienna Twill
Specially adapted for hard wear.
Silk and Wool Cross Bar Grenadines.
A very handsome fabric for summer wear.
Check Wool Goods
In small medium and large checks. Very popular this season.
Crossie Mixture
For traveling costumes.
Jasper Cheviot.
A fine mixed weave, slightly illuminated with fancy colors.
English Corkscrew
Cloth-faced fabric for street wear.
Marine Serge and Cheviots
For mountain and seashore wear will not change color by exposure to salt air or sun.
Silk and wool Crepons, All-wool Rock Crepons, Pelisse Crepons, Crepo Cordele.
We have all the above Crepons in dove, gray, Havana brown, navy, myrtle, sage and ivy green.

HEATH & DRAKE,
777 and 779 BROAD STREET,
Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,
FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,
Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st
Taylor's French System
used. Suits $6.00 and upward.
2 2 tf

FLORIST.
A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

Central Employment Office
218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.
All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 1m

L. PAOLI & CO.,
Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.,
128 NORTH AVENUE,
FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY.
10 CENTS A QUART.
I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.
Hummer & Mulford,
VARIETY MARKET,
Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.,
220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Telephone call, 29 A.
Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,
26 acres, or in plots to suit,
Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.
L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salted Meats,
smoked ham, Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 208 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., MONDAY, MARCH 18, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY, $5 A YEAR.

THE PARKS CAN PLAY.

They Demonstrate Their Eternal Ability to Win at Whist.

In the New Jersey Whist League tourney just completed, the Park Club of North Plainfield played against the crack whisters of the State, yet came out at the top of the list. The clubs played straight whist for pairs and progressive whist for pairs, two losses and drop out. The score:

	WON.	LOST.
Park Club	4	0
Fanwood W. C.	4	0
Orange W. C.	2	2
Elizabeth W. C.	1	2
Newark W. C.	1	2
Montclair Club	0	2
Elizabeth Athletic Club	0	2
Elizabeth Chess and Checker Club.	0	2

It will be seen that Fanwood tied with the Parks. This tie will be played off when convenient. Messrs. McCutchen, Reed, Townsend and Rogers were the Park team, but the Fanwood was made up from cracks from everywhere: Kieb of Fanwood, McCarthy of Plainfield, Newman of Bergen Point, and Worth of New York.

The Orange club gave a fine dinner Saturday night at the close of the tourney, at which McCutchen topped off the speechmaking in his own happy way.

Liberty Street Sociability.

Under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, the first sociable of the Liberty Street Mission in its new quarters was held Friday night. Despite the storm, a large number was present. After a short devotional service, the president, J. H. Staats, made a few remarks, welcomed the audience, and made everyone feel at home. Miss Charlotte Happe then recited "A Picture of the War", Miss Dora Bennett gave a banjo solo, and Henry Staats recited "His Heroes". Then a dialogue entitled "A Strange Secret" was given by Miss Hattie Bush, Miss Etta Staats and Miss Lillie Sutton. Katie Jeroloman recited a piece entitled "The Cricket; or, No Work, No Bread". Miss Happe recited "Grandma's First Beau". Miss Emma Herman and Miss Lillie Ackerman gave a dialogue entitled "A Repudiated Legacy". Miss Dora Bennett gave another banjo solo. Mr. Jessup and son gave a duet on the organ and concertina, which was well rendered. The programme was concluded with a few remarks from the pastor, Rev. B. W. Hand, after which coffee and cake were served and a social time was enjoyed by all present. The committee in charge consisted of Bert Mettler, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hand, and Mr. Van Middlesworth.

A lunch-box sociable will be held some time in April.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held Monday night at Mrs. Thompson's, Liberty street, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society. These meetings are very interesting. All are welcome.

The Next Attraction.

The heroine of "The Twentieth Century Girl" is a "girl bachelor" of advanced ideas, mannish in dress, swagger and bravado, and so dearly interested in politics that she is a candidate for office. Her guardian, knowing her to be in reality as tender-hearted and amiable as the rest of her sex, sets about curing her of her fads. To show her the folly of her style of dress, he roben himself in feminine apparel. He succeeds only in making himself ridiculous, for the girl simply laughs at him and dresses more mannish than before. In bringing her to a realizing sense of her unfitness as a political factor he is more successful, however, and the ruses he adopts and the traps he sets for her bring about a series of exceedingly ludicrous situations. Canary & Lederer's company, who present the new piece in Music Hall, Friday night, is especially strong in singers and comedians, and includes more than a score of the prettiest girls that ever appeared together on the Music Hall stage.

The Popular Fruiterer.

With an experience that enables him to buy his fruits fresh from the growers, and a reputation for honest dealing and low prices, A. Lusardi has built up a large business at both his stores, 120 North avenue, and corner of Front and Somerset streets. In addition to fine fruits, he deals also in choice confections and best cigars, and his peanuts are fresh-roasted every day. Everybody deals with Lusardi.

The Second Promise.

"The bird that was set free" is the fascinating first chapter of "The Second Promise", the new serial begun in this issue. Howard Fielding has in this story written a story that all will read with interest. It is brand-new, and copyrighted to Daily Press use.

—Charles Smith of Front and Somerset streets will serve bock beer all this week and buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

OBITUARY.

William R. Clarkson.

William Randolph Clarkson, a wealthy retired flour merchant, whose home was for many years in Plainfield, died Saturday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ayres, 140 West Forty-third street, New York. Mr. Clarkson's home was in the Metropolitan Opera House Building, but during his lingering illness he was removed to the more quiet neighborhood of his sister's home. He was born in 1820, and when only twelve years old went to New York and obtained a position in a grocery store at the salary of $1 50 a week. Even at that early age he showed his appreciation of the value of money, and out of his meagre salary he saved a large proportion of it. These habits of economy he practised until economy was no longer necessary. When a young man Mr. Clarkson entered the employ of Brooks Brothers, the clothiers, who were then in Catharine street. In time he rose to be the head cashier, and in 1853, when he left them, he had laid by a sum that enabled him to enter business for himself. He then became a flour merchant and jobber on a small scale, and gradually built up a large business, amassing a fortune. His place of business for a number of years was in South street.

Eight years ago Mr. Clarkson retired. He was a member of the Produce Exchange. In 1853 he married Miss Anna E. Payne, who survives him. Their only child, daughter Jennie, died a few years ago, and after her death Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson removed to New York. They still retained ownership of considerable East Front street property, including the building just vacated by the postoffice. The funeral will take place from the First Baptist Church, this city, tomorrow afternoon on the arrival of the 1:10 train.

TOXIN OR ANTI-TOXIN?

There is no antidote without its bane, no good without its evil, no discovery of the angels that the devil may not use. The success of the new remedy for diphtheria, anti-Toxin, has suggested to the keen intellect of the queen of the writers of romance, a powerful and dramatic study of human passion, which she has entitled "Toxin".

OUIDA'S

most powerful novel will begin in The Daily Press, Saturday, March 23, and be concluded in six days. It is the story of a physician and man of science, who has the care in illness of a rival in love and is tempted to administer to him, instead of a healing injection, a powerful poison. How the temptation was met, the reading of the tale will disclose. The use of hypnotism, so successful in Du Maurier's "Trilby", is here also resorted to with masterly skill.

Don't miss the first instalment.

Hibernian Ball.

Division No. 4, A. O. H., will give their twenty-first annual sociable in Ssengerbund Hall, tonight, under the efficient management of the following: P. Casey, president; E. Birmingham, vice-president; William Carty, secretary; Cornelius Regan, financial secretary; Michael Nugent, treasurer; Michael Regan, Joseph Galbraith, Patrick Regan and J. F. O'Halloran, floor committee; and P. Divver, E. Connors, T. Fitzgerald, Peter McDonough, P. Harrington and Michael Nugent, reception committee.

Drink Brought Her to Grief.

Livira VanGiellen, of the Negro race, got drunk Saturday night, and then early Sunday morning made a good deal of noise on Front street berating white folks with language more forcible than elegant. Policeman Frederickson came along and took her to the police station. This morning before Judge Coddington she was repentant. Besides, she said that a baby was crying for her at home. She was willing to pay $3 for her misconduct, and so she went home to her baby.

Plainfield Schools Should Practise it.

(From The Firemen's Herald)

The benefit of the fire drill, as taught and practiced in the public schools of Indianapolis, Ind., for 15 years, was made apparent recently. Upon discovering the school building on fire, the alarm was given, and in two minutes the pupils were out, but did not know the building was burning until the department dashed up to the building.

Peck's Bad Boy Tonight.

If you want to get rid of that tired feeling or tendency to the "blues", take the family to Music Hall this evening and enjoy three solid hours of laughter. "Peck's Bad Boy" has a great company of comedians, and presents an entire new verson, clean, wholesome and funnier than ever.

—People looking for the new postoffice often mistake the main entrance of the Baccock Building for the postoffice entrance, but on coming in contact with the elevator shaft they soon find out their mistake.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Appropriate Celebration in St. Mary's School Hall.

A large audience attended the St. Patrick's Day celebration in St. Mary's Parochial School Hall last night, when an enjoyable and instructive entertainment was presented.

Rev. J. C. Dunn of Chatham gave an illustrated lecture on Ireland, escorting his audience on a most delightful tour of the Emerald Isle, and paying patriotic tribute to Erin's patron saint.

Master Lawrence Doyle recited "The Day We Celebrate" and Charles J. Ward also gave an appropriate recitation. Thomas Commerford sang "Once Again a Nation"; and the choir, composed of Mr. Commerford, Mr. O'Connor, Miss May Flanagan, and Miss Tessie Keely, sang "Believe me if all those endearing young charms", and "The Minstrel Boy". The Misses Quinn favored with a duet on violin and piano.

It was a spirited and happy observance of the day, and an additional pleasant feature was the congratulations showered on Father Smyth. It was his birthday anniversary as well as St. Patrick's, and the expressions of affection and esteem evidenced the high regard felt for the good priest by his parishioners.

George Craig's House Burned.

Friends of George Craig, who is on his ranch in Texas, will learn with regret of his recent misfortune, the loss of his home and all its contents by fire.

He had started out on horseback to go to some distant point, when he was overtaken by a friend who told him his house was burning. He immediately went back, in the hope of saving some valuables and releasing his dogs, but on second thought he remembered there was a large quantity of cartridges in the house which was liable to explode, and he feared to enter.

Among the property destroyed were personal effects which had belonged to his mother, and which he highly prized.

Reviving Finery.

Getting ready for Easter is an easy matter since Hillier & Co. came to town. Old clothes are just as good as new, after passing through their hands, such is their skill at cleaning and dyeing. The rush of the busiest season being over, the house is enabled to give special attention to all orders, and splendid work is the result. The laundry department is highly praised by all patrons, the work being done in most excellent style. Hillier & Co. have established a flourishing business here, which is increasing on its merits.

Mrs. Fine at Rest.

The attendance of friends and relatives at the funeral services of the late Mrs. C. M. Fine, held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, was very large. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, her pastor, conducted the ceremony, and spoke very highly of the decedent, who was well known for her excellent Christian life and character. The service was a most impressive one. Mr. Schenck concluded his remarks with a very touching prayer.

The floral tributes were beautiful. Resting on the casket was a handsome large pillow of roses with the words "At Rest" inscribed, also a bunch of lilies and some very choice roses.

Interment was in Hillside Cemetery.

A Sad Death.

Clark Cadmus of Lansdowne, Pa., who came to Plainfield recently on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. Jaspar Cadmus, died Saturday evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. Albert Vail, Duer street. He was a sufferer from pleurisy, and had grown rapidly worse the past few days.

His mother is very low and is not expected to live.

The remains will be taken to Philadelphia tomorrow morning in charge of Ira Riker, and the services will be held at that place tomorrow.

George F. Randolph Obsequies.

Funeral services of the late George F. Randolph were held yesterday afternoon at 2 from the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Rev. P. S. Gibson officiating.

Mr. Randolph had been a resident of Newark for two years, and during the past year had been quite ill. A widow and four children, survive him, George F. Jr., Walter, Lewis and Herbert.

Interment was in Hillside Cemetery.

Goodbye to the Old Hall.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., which for nearly twenty years held its meetings in the Van Deventer Building, East Front street, will hold its last regular communication in the old hall tomorrow evening, when the M. M. degree will be worked on two candidates. A large attendance of members is requested.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. B. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

AT LOWER PAY.

Workmen in Scott's Press Works Suffer a Reduction in Wages.

This morning all the employes in Scott's Press Works commenced working under a new scale of wages. Some of the workmen were reduced some time ago, and this morning machinists and moulders commenced under a new schedule. The unskilled laborers are cut one cent an hour and the skilled from two to three cents. Impossibility of ready sales at former prices is the principal reason for the cut.

Among the men the reductions are causing some complaint and dissatisfaction, but no open break has been made to resist the decrease and none is anticipated. The laborers with families who have been earning less than $9 a week heretofore and who have now suffered the reductions, feel it more than any other class, asserting that a few cents off from their wages every day compels them to cut their household expenses just that much, thus leaving them but a very meagre living.

A large number of the machinists have been non-union men, but since the cut of wages was announced there has been a manifest desire among them to get into the International Association of Machinists of North America, which has a subordinate lodge here composed largely of press works employes. At their last meeting six new members were initiated, and twenty applications for membership received. This condition of affairs gives evidence that the men are preparing for trouble should any arise. The machinists now earn from $2 to $2 50 per day. Walter Scott & Co. have the reputation of paying their men as high wages as business allows.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Miss Carrie Haffner returned yesterday after a pleasant visit with Mrs. W. P. Austin of Brooklyn.

Rev. Mr. Boggs had charge of the service in the Baptist Church Sunday morning. He spoke in the interests of foreign mission.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frederick visited friends in Somerville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Barick visited friends at Chester yesterday.

Miss Fannie Smith is spending the afternoon in Bound Brook.

A. D. Pope of Plainfield was in town this afternoon calling on old acquaintances.

Arthur Giddis left this afternoon to spend a few days with Staten Island friends.

David Boice and family will move to Plainfield April 1.

M. J. Hamilton of Hackensack is at the home of S. C. Bodine.

D. W. Cramer of Lebanon is visiting J. H. Cramer.

Miss Charlotte Williams is entertaining a young lady friend from Plainfield.

Miss Irene Hurd of Hoboken is visiting Mrs. Walter Apgar.

Raymond Apgar went out today for a short time after his recent illness.

The condition of Mrs. John Hunt remains unchanged.

Tomorrow evening the regular annual school meeting takes place. Nine trustees are to be elected, and the appropriation for special taxation will be voted for. It is expected a full representation of the citizens will be present, as Dunellenites are anxious to keep their schools up to an excellent standard.

Mrs. F. P. Nailor returned yesterday to her home in Brooklyn after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Silas Nailor.

Rev. Judson Titsworth of Milwaukee, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Titsworth, left yesterday for Amherst.

W. Wilber of Newark is spending the day with friends in town.

J. Higgins of Three Bridges was in town last night on business.

Mrs. Mary Lyon of New York is visiting her son Henry of High street.

Mrs. A. E. Marlow is spending the day with Plainfield friends.

One of the women belonging to the Salvation Army of Plainfied was in town today selling their wonderful paper, The War Cry.

Wm. H. Terry, who has been confided to the house for the past week with asthma, is reported to be somewhat better.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Church of Christ have two meetings every week as follows: Sunday evenings at 7 and Tuesday evenings at 8, to which everyone is invited. The meeting tomorrow evening will be led by Miss Mabel VanMiddlesworth. Topic: "Winning others from what? To what? And how?"

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Councilman Joseph Howell is out again after a protracted illness.

Harry B. VanAlstyne of New York is visiting relatives in town.

John Fellows of Grove street will move to Putnam avenue, April 1.

Mrs. Charles R. Norman of Brooklyn spent Sunday in Plainfield.

A. Hahn of Catasauqua, Pa., was in town Saturday calling on friends.

Jacob Blimm, Jr., of New York spent Sunday with relatives in Plainfield.

The engagement of Charles Bach and Miss Charlotte Happle is announced.

Miss Anna H. Slater of Phillipsburg is the guest of Miss Jennie Smith of John street.

F. H. Andrews and family of Central avenue are spending a few days at Atlantic City.

Miss Ethel Porter of 43 Craig place entertained Miss Margie Coyne of East Orange last week.

Mrs. Catherine Runyon of Newark is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Stover of East Ninth street.

William G. Gray of Grant avenue has accepted a position with the Mergenthaler Linotype Company in Brooklyn.

Miss S. A. Dolliver of Somerville is spending a few days with her brother G. Q. Dolliver of Manning avenue.

The marriage of Benjamin Webster and Miss Ella Mirex will take place Wednesday, March 27, at New Providence.

J. M. Duck of Jackson avenue, who has rented the Howard Randolph house on Netherwood avenue, moved into it today.

Walter C. Williams of East Front street, who has been confined to his home for the past week with the grip, is now convalescent.

Harry McComas of Prescott place has accepted a position with the Climax Bottle Stopper Company, East Fourth street.

Mrs. B. T. Barnes, organist of the Congregational Church, is ill, and yesterday her place was filled by Miss Eifleda A. Whiting.

Mrs. William H. Mountford, who has been seriously ill with bronchitis at her home on Somerset street, has now fully recovered.

Charles French, genial manager of Hoyt's company which is now playing "Flams", was the guest of his friend Ted Clevely yesterday.

Miss Louise Humes and Miss Sandy of Newark are visiting Miss Humes's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dunavan of East Third street.

Miss Bertha Cium, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Clifton, returned to her home on Leland avenue, Netherwood, Saturday.

James Demarest and family, who rented the Gilbert house on Woodland avenue, Netherwood, for the Winter, moved Saturday to Hackensack.

The marriage of Miss Kurzhals and Arthur Adams takes place Tuesday evening, March 26, at 7:30, at the home of the bride, West Second street.

Stewart Moffet and bride of Rahway were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of Manning avenue. Mrs. Clark is Mrs. Moffet's aunt.

The marriage takes place Wednesday evening of Miss Nellie Thompson to Alexander Campbell, at the residence of the bride, Richmond street.

Mrs. E. H. Hannigan and her daughter Eugenie, who have been spending the Winter in St. Augustine, returned to their home, 15 Prospect place, last Friday evening.

The Worcester, Mass., papers record Mr. Muir, Mr. Reed, Miss Lucy Clifton and Miss Jennie Slorah, of Plainfield, as attending the reception of the White Carnation Club.

George Radford of Spooner avenue had the misfortune to cut his hand very severely Saturday with an axe. Dr. Probasco dressed the wound, and the patient is doing well.

Nathan D. Culver, who runs a large sheep ranch in Oklahoma, while on an extensive eastern trip, is the guest for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sharp of West Front street.

Hughes Fawcett of Grove street has purchased of W. D. F. Curtis of Philadelphia a handsome residence on Rockview avenue, now occupied by W. D. Christman, where he will move his family April 1.

Wm. Benson of Bangor, Pa., who has been visiting his brother, Rufus Benson of Howard street, left Saturday for Harrisburg, where he has accepted a lucrative position as traveling salesman for a large steam-fitters supply house.

The types made The Press record the age of Dr. Henry G. Stephenson as 70 years, a few days ago, when as a matter of fact he is in his 90th year. Despite the three successive attacks of the grip which have enfeebled his body, his intellect is as keen as ever, and his mental faculties are unimpaired. The Press joins with his host of other friends in hoping he will round out his century, for his activity of mind makes him a most estimable companion.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Frank Hedden recently purchased several game fowls in Bayonne.

—W. L. Lindsay the musical prodigy is to appear in Bethel Chapel tonight.

—A much-needed board walk has been laid in front of Joseph Bogert's residence, East Second street.

—The Memorial Day committees from both G. A. R. posts will hold a meeting this evening to organize.

—Charles Clifton is contemplating the erection of a house at the corner of West Seventh street and Spooner avenue.

—Thomas Kearns is building a large extension and making other improvements to his house on East Second street.

—A sociable will be held this evening at the East Third Street Mission under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society.

—The dance of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., Wednesday evening, in Central Hall, promises to be a most enjoyable affair.

—One of William C. Smith's new houses in Watchung Park is about completed. The plumbing work was finished by I. L. McVoy, Saturday.

—Ex-Councilman F. M. Slater is having the interior of his house on Jackson avenue handsomely papered and decorated by Contractor E. C. Morse.

—Those going to the First Baptist Church this evening will enjoy an excellent entertainment. A genuine New England supper will be served.

—A Plainfield man distinguished himself in Jersey City yesterday by heroically stopping a runaway team, which came near plunging into the North river.

—Contractor Smith has completed the excavation of the cellar of John G. Bicknell's new house on South avenue. The mason work was begun this morning.

—M. Abrams, shoe dealer of 229-231-233 West Front street, is having a 25-foot addition built to the rear of his store to accommodate his increasing business.

—The bowling section of the Y. M. C. A. of Rahway will bowl a friendly game with the boys of Hope Chapel Thursday evening. A good time is promised those who attend.

—An important meeting of the Young Men's League of Hope Chapel is called for this evening. All are requested to attend, as matters of interest will be discussed.

—The shooting match between D. H. Terry of Plainfield and William Lever of Jersey City, at the latter place Saturday afternoon, resulted in a victory for Lever by a score of 16 to 13.

—It is proposed to purchase the model iron steamer, with the music box and clock attachment, made by Martin Snyder of the Union Beef Company, and place it in the basement of Reform Hall.

—For the past two weeks workmen have been engaged digging a sandpit on Grant avenue, near South Second street, and the pit has been left open, making it very dangerous to pedestrians who have to pass that way.

—Several Plainfield telegraphers are making arrangements to attend the annual ball of the Newark Division, No. 118, Order of Railroad Telegraphers of North America, which will be held in Elizabeth, Wednesday evening, April 17.

—Several weeks ago Alex. Muir of West Fourth street had the misfortune, while at work in the Potter Press Works, to have a chip of a piece of steel fly into his eye, thereby causing him much pain. Saturday a successful operation was performed on the eye by Dr. Ard, and the eye is now healing rapidly.

—Mrs. E. C. Morse of Chatham street, who had been spending the afternoon and evening with relatives in North Plainfield yesterday, on her return home was unfortunate enough to lose a pair of gold eye-glasses on Somerset street, between Greenbrook road and Chatham street.

—A missionary talk will be given in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed Church tomorrow afternoon at 3 by Miss Mary O. Duryea, Secretary for China, of the Woman's Board of the Reformed Church. She is a very earnest and entertaining speaker. No admission fee will be charged, but a collection will be taken.

—The Young Men's Association of Monroe Avenue Chapel will give a reception to the young women of the chapel Wednesday, March 20. That being the date for their regular monthly business meeting, all the important business will be transacted first, and a programme which is being prepared by the social committee of the association will follow.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

BISMARCK'S BIRTHDAY

The Festival Will Virtually Begin on March 25.

Conflict in the Reichstag Over Sending a Deputation to Congratulate the Prince—The Old Chancellor Attaches the Greatest Importance to the Reception of the Students.

Berlin, March 18.—The programme of the Bismarck birthday celebration has extended so far beyond April 1 that several deputations are arranging to be received late this month. The festival will virtually begin on March 25 when the national liberal and conservative members of the landtag will go in a special train to Friedrichsruh. The president of the landtag will present an address, the prince will reply, and then all will have luncheon in the castle. The deputies will return to Berlin in the evening.

The country seems to be most interested at present in the progress of the conflict in the reichstag over the question of sending a birthday deputation to congratulate the prince. The committee of senior members after three hours discussion, decided to postpone final action because the clericals, Richter radicals and south German democrats held aloof. President von Levetzow, who since the reconcilliation between Friedrichsruh and Potsdam is again an enthusiastic Bismarckian, is anxious that all parliamentary parties except the social democrats shall unite in congratulating the prince.

The Danziger Zeitung, organ of the radical unionists, argues that the birthday festival is not intended so much as homage to the prince's personality as to his share in founding the German empire. The editor thinks the country takes this view of the festival, but he has not found many to agree with him. His words, which have been quoted widely, have roused the indignation of the Bismarckian politicians as well as the general public who have not thought of disseverring the man from his lifework. Whatever the reichstag may decide to do, its action will be viewed coldly by the prince. If a deputation go to Friedrichsruh it probably will be received without distinction.

The old chancellor attaches the greatest importance to the reception of the students. For him their coming will be the event of his birthday. He tells his friends that he thinks more of the honors from the students than of all the others combined. He clings to the ideals cherished in Germany in the old days of disunion when the universities were the warmest advocates of a new empire. He believes that among the students are to be found the most loyal and steadfast friends of the national idea—the men who in after life can be rallied to counteract the plots of the disunionists. He will address them as the most promising class in the nation's future.

Three extra telegraph wires have been laid from Friedrichsruh to Hamburg and ten extra telegraph clerks will be sent to man the Friedrichsruh office. Still the telegraph facilities are likely to be far behind the requirements of business on April 1.

Gen. Count Waldersee will head the deputation of corps commanders whom the prince will entertain at dinner on the 2d. To ease the strain of the celebration, the deputations from the cities will spread their demonstrations over several days, Munich, beginning the series on April 2. The prince will limit himself in each occasion to a brief ceremony in doors but a few words in acknowledgement of the address.

It is now proposed that birthday bonfires be lighted on most of the mountains and high hills of Germany so as to form, as far as possible, a chain of beaconlights covering the whole country. In the Rhine country the people have arranged already to light all the high points from the Drachenfels to Ruedesheim. The German Alpine society will light beacons at the most conspicuous points in the Silesian and Harz mountains and in the Palatinate. A special ceremony will be held on the Kyffhaetiser near Nordhausen, with bands, speeches, music and fireworks. There will be a torchlight procession of Thuringian athletes, a banquet at the Rathsfelde castle and an illumination of the mountain with beacon lights. The German athletes, known as turners, will send to Friedrichsruh a huge silver and gilt laurel wreath supported by two massive pillars on which are engraved the names of all the athletic societies (Turnvereine) in Germany.

The authorities of Myslowitz have decided to light on the evening of April 1 a big bonfire at the Three Emperor corner, a hill at which the Russian, Austrian and German borders meet, and to meet there with the people to sing "The Watch in the East Mark."

The Neueste Nachrichten, the National Zeitung and other conspicuous dailies urge the Berlin city council to reconsider their vote against honoring Bismarck. They say it will be a national scandal if the capital, which in 1866 conferred honorary citizenship upon him, now refuse to join the rest of the country in congratulating him.

Interfered with an Officer.

Chicago, March 18.—Edward Gorman, a Canadian, was fatally shot by Police Officer Mainsfert at 59th and Halsted streets. The officer was so brutally beaten that his condition is critical. Mainsfert interfered in a quarrel between four men who kicked him into insensibility. Before losing consciousness Mainsfert fired two shots, one of which entered Gorman's body.

The Fair Wills.

San Francisco, March 18.—There are two certified copies of ex-Senator Fair's will in existence. They vary in at least one important particular, besides minor differences. The court will have to decide which to accept or both may be thrown out.

Died in Exile.

San Francisco, March 18.—Arthur P. Peterson, attorney-general of Hawaii, under the monarchy, died in exile in this city yesterday.

COTTON INDUSTRY SOUTH.

What Senator Darling, of Massachusetts, Thinks of the Situation.

Washington, March 18.—Senator Darling, who is chairman of the committee of Massachusetts legislators en route home from a ten days sojourn in the south, where they went to investigate the cotton industry said that the committee had not as yet made any report but that he would state a few satient points.

"There is no danger," said Mr. Darling, "of the New England mills moving south en masse. In the Carolinas and Georgia they are making coarse grades of cloth very successfully and profitably, I believe, but it will be a good many years before they will be able to compete with Massachusetts in the production of the finer fabrics.

"They can't make fine goods in the south for a number of years for two reasons: They have not the machinery nor the skilled labor.

"But for all that, there is splendid opportunity for northern capital in the southern states, and no man would advocate its employment there more heartily than I. The manufacture of cotton is but a single industry. There are scores of other channels for profitable investment.

"The state of Georgia and the two Carolinas are rich in natural resources, and the time cannot be very far distant when their citizens will be as thrifty and prosperous as the people of any state in the union."

JUDGE BLAKE'S LIBEL CASE.

Sensational Developments in His Suit Against the Goshen Times.

Chicago, March 18.—A special from Elkhart, Ind., says: Sensational developments have occurred in the libel case of Judge Blake against the publishers of the Goshen Daily Times. Col. R. M. Johnson, a wealthy attorney of this city, was recently a defendant in Judge Blake's court and after a bitter fight a judgment was taken against him. The following day the Times denounced the judge for his rulings in the case and held him up to ridicule. The judge immediately began libel proceedings, placing the damages at $20,000. Evidence was brought out that Col. Johnson had personally procured the publication of the editorial and had furnished the publishers of the Times a bond indemnifying them against all damages that might accrue from libel suits resulting from the publication and also from the attorney's fees and all other expenses connected with it. The prominence of all the parties made the revelation a sensation. Col. Johnson is a leading democratic politician of northern Indiana, was a prominent official of New Mexico under President Cleveland's first administration, has amassed great wealth and was a recent candidate for the Berlin mission.

WOMAN'S CARELESSNESS.

Two Bodies Lying at the Morgue Caused by Explosion of Gasoline.

St. Paul, Minn., March 18.—Two bodies are lying at the morgue as the result of a woman's carelessness in the handling of gasoline. They are those of Mrs. Frances Sumner, a widow, and her niece, Miss Nellie Closson, 21 years old, of Boscobel, Wis. They lived at 833 Payne avenue. To start the fire yesterday morning, Mrs. Sumner poured a little gasoline on the wood in the stove, but it burned too slowly, and she seized the can and dashed in about a quart There was an explosion, which blew out a partition and a part of the ceiling. A bed in which Miss E. C. Shole was sleeping caught fire, but she escaped to the street with but slight burns. Miss Closson was enveloped in flames and was found by the Margaret street patrol writhing in ice, ashes and water in the street. Her aunt was also frightfully burned about the face and breast. Both were hurried to the hospital, where they died last evening.

REV. DIXON'S NEXT MOVE.

Will Start "The Church of the People" in April.

New York, March 18.—The Rev. Thomas Dixon jr., announced yesterday that he had engaged the Academy of Music, and that, beginning with the first Sunday in April, his new church "The Church of the People" would be formally started. A marked innovation will be a board of deacons composed half of women. This news was loudly applauded by the women present. Mr. Dixon prefaced his sermon on "Some Results of Sensationalism" by denying most emphatically that he had been coerced into resigning, and in support of the statement read a letter from the president of the board of trustees. The letter contained many expressions of good will toward Mr. Dixon, and also denied the published report that the board had asked him to resign.

Japanese Cabinet Changes.

London, March 18.—The Central News correspondent in Tokio says that Count Matsukata has been appointed minister of finance to replace Mr. Watanabe, who has been made minister of roads, railways and telegraphs. Count Kuroda, whose portfolio has been given to Mr. Watanabe, has been named president of the privy council, although remaining a member of the cabinet. Prince Komatsu is about to go to the continent to inspect the Japanese armies.

Britannia Wins the Monaco Prize.

Monte Carlo, March 18.—In the Monte Carlo regatta yesterday for the Monaco prizes the Prince of Wales' Britannia won after an exciting contest, the Ailsa being two minutes in the rear. The Ailsa gained on the Britannia toward the close but on account of the choppy sea and from the fact that the Britannia got the best of the variable winds the gallant little yacht was beaten.

Lumber Schooner Burned.

Lewes, Del., March 18.—The schooner Zimri S. Wallingford, from Georgetown, S. C., for Boston with lumber, accidentally caught fire yesterday off Metomkin inlet and was burned to the waters edge. The crew were rescued by life savers and transferred to the tug Sampson and brought here.

Flour Millers Combine.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 18.—The flour millers of the Red River Valley, western Dakota, and Montana, have formed an association for the purchase of wheat and selling of their product. Twenty-one mills are in the combination.

FATAL FIRE IN TOLEDO

Three Men Killed and Many Others Wounded.

The Wabash Round-House Completely Wrecked—The Weak Walls Crash to the Ground Covering the Firemen—The List of the Dead and Injured.

Toledo, O., March 18.—A disastrous fire, attended by loss of life, occurred in this city yesterday. Three men lost their lives, two being instantly killed. Nine others were more or less injured, one of them, John O. Leary, a machinist, it is thought, fatally.

The list of the dead is as follows: R. H. Bohlman, aged 56, skull crushed, internally injured. J. J. Preston, 35, back broken, skull crushed. John Bowen, 18, skull crushed, internally injured.

The injured are: H. F. Howard, back bruised, face cut, slightly burned. John O. Leary, machinist, leg broken, arm crushed, skull fractured; may die. Patrick McDonough, fireman, skull fractured, shoulder broken. Martin Greenburg, head cut. Harry Zimmerman, leg sprained, body bruised. Louis Decker, head bruised, shoulder sprained. Henry Gerding, head cut. Casper Becker, head and shoulders cut. T. C. Lauer, neck sprained and head cut.

All of the dead except John Bowen were employes of the Wabash railway. They constituted the company's fire department for the protection of the shops and were engaged in fighting the flames when the accident occurred that resulted so disastrously to them.

The round house is located at the foot of South street. It was a substantial brick structure with a capacity of twenty engines and contained six locomotives when the fire broke out. The flames were first seen in the cupola that surrounded the roof. An alarm was telephoned to the city fire department and, in the meantime, the yard company got one stream playing on the blaze which soon made its way to the roof. The walls of the building were believed to be secure and the brave fire fighters pressed closely in towards the building, the more effectively to combat the spreading flames. It was seen that the roof would soon fall, but no danger was apprehended from that source until, to the horror of the spectators, the southwest wall weakened by the destruction of the frame supports that connected it with the roof, was observed to tremble and suddenly fall out on the volunteer firemen.

Before the majority of the men could realize their peril, the heavy wall was down on top of them, burying them under a heap of smoking debris.

All but Bowen, Preston and Bohlman were quickly taken out. The two first named were completely covered by the ruins of the wall; Bohlman was a little more fortunate. From out of the smoking heap the mangled bodies of Bowen and Preston were taken; they were beyond need of human care. Bohlman was still alive, though unconscious, but he succumbed to his injuries shortly after being taken home.

A dozen surgeons were quickly summoned and prompt assistance rendered the injured. Leary, the machinist, was still unconscious and at one time appeared to be sinking. He rallied temporarily, but it is not thought he can recover.

When the first of the city firemen answered the alarm they saw that there was imminent danger of the fire spreading to the Wabash elevator and the repair shops, which stood close by. The oil house was also menaced but luckily the flames were held in check at this point. A general alarm was sent in and by dint of numbers the firemen finally succeeded in saving the surrounding property. The round house was completely wrecked, and the six engines stored there are practically rendered useless. The loss is estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000, and it is believed to be fully covered by insurance.

Just in Time.

Caddo, I. T., March 18.—Johnson Jacob, the Choctaw, was sentenced to be shot at Pushmataha court grounds, thirty miles east of here Friday for the murdeh of his wife last fall. Jacob had pulled off his coat and boots, painted a spot over his heart on his left breast and taken his seat to await the firing of the sheriff's Winchester when a courier arrived with a reprieve, granting a hearing before the supreme court.

Killed by an Overhead Bridge.

Lancaster, Pa., March 18.—The dead body of J. M. Eckert, of Harrisburg, a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, was found lying on top of a box car while the train was passing the McIlvaine signal tower. He is supposed to have been struck by the overhead bridge at Leaman place, his neck having been broken. He was 45 years old and leaves a family.

Freiherr Von Alst Dead.

Berlin, March 18.—Freiherr von Schorlemer-Alst died in Muenster yesterday. He was the leader of the clericals in the Prussian upper house and was one of the most conspicuous clericals in the reichstag until he broke away from the radical wing of his party to support Count Caprivi's army bill.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

AMBITIOUS WOMEN

MAKE HEROES OF MEN.

She Will Brave Anything for the Man She Loves.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

When an ambitious woman loves a man she will spur him to heroic efforts.

She will dare with him the rigors of the frozen North, and encourage him in daring dangers almost unsurmountable.

Women are by nature ambitious according to their physical and mental strength. Hope and ambition come with perfect health, but vanish before sickness and despair.

American women are, unfortunately, particularly subject to those painful female diseases that are the cause of so much hopelessness and misery.

Could all women realize the undeniable fact that they suffer unnecessarily, how much brighter life would be!

Lydia E. Pinkham devoted her life to the study of female diseases and their cause; and she discovered in the Vegetable Compound an absolute remedy. It succeeds in removing the cause of the trouble.

Women who rely more upon their own natural common-sense, rather than on the theories of their physicians, write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and are soon restored to health.

Here is a living example: "Four months ago I was unable to stand on my feet. I had falling of the womb, kidney trouble, and inflammation of the bladder; the backache and bearing-down pains were dreadful. me no relief.

My physician could give A friend said, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Well, I did. Oh, if every suffering woman would do the same, they would be cured, cured absolutely and entirely, as I am!" MRS. WM. M. MOREY, 20 Seymour St., Pittsfield, Mass.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., a bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 9 16 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 28 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 19 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 28, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 8 26 tf

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON,

New No. 122., North Ave., Plainfield

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

is called to the

Home Department

of Rockview School, 317 East Front street. Children received from

4 to 15 Years.

Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT, 25 Washington ave

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

60 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner short notice.

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. G. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 8 28 y

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 16 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St. H. B Gayle, No. 13 Vine St

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 7-21-tf

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 8 10 y

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. H. McCullough, Proprietor.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-12-1

C. W. LINES,

Mason and Builder.

PLAINFIELD, N. J

Residence—118 Liberty street.

Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to 12 61

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 6 tf

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11,9tf

Jones & Co., Excavators,

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built, 9 18

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS,

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

HENRY C. ADAMS,

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

Hotels and Saloons.

HOTEL ALBION,

OPEN FOR GUESTS

Park avenue and 6th street

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager, Finderne, N. J.
1 9 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public. 5-19-1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET

J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 465

IMPORTED WERZBURGER BEER

On draught at

CHARLES SMITH'S

Sample and Lunch Rooms, 4 WEST FRONT ST.

The Bartholomay, Rochester Pale, the Bavarian Dark and the St. Louis.

Ballantine's Ales also on draught The Indian Pale XXX Still Ale and Porter.

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank.

is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON.

163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 60 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

RIPANS TABULES

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented.

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement

For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager

Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn. 1 14 tf

APPROVAL

THE SEAL

Of approval of 25,000 prominent physicians has been placed on Bovinine, the original raw food. It is acknowledged by them to be one of their greatest factors in the cure of all wasting diseases.

Bovinine

Is not a medicine, but a strength and flesh producer, giving to the patient at a critical moment the real strength — not that of a stimulant, — to tide over the crisis, and make the physician's skill available. For convalescent cases, chronic invalids and infants, Bovinine is invaluable. Sold at all druggists. The Bovinine Co., New York.

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes.

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.
Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.
References given and required.
Address letters to the office of this paper.
1 21 tf-c

GEO. J. TOBIN.

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer
TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
175 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 92 y

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.
To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before,

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

SPANISH CABINET OUT

Sagasta and His Associates Forced To Resign.

Caused by a Row in the Chamber of Deputies Over Newspaper Men. Marshal de Campos May Be the New Premier — Considerable Stir in Washington.

Madrid, March 18.—The Sagasta ministry has resigned in consequence of the trouble in the chamber of deputies Saturday, when all the reporters withdrew from the house as a protest against the official defence made by the minister of war of the officers who attacked and wrecked the offices of El Globo, the organ of Senor Castelar.

The ministers decided to resign at a council held last evening. Senor Sagasta subsequently went to the palace and handed the resignations to the queen regent, who accepted them. It is expected that Marshal Martinez de Campos will form a business cabinet. Senor Segasta has declared that it his intention not to resume the premiership.

The Heraldo will to-day say that Marshal de Campos will assume command of the troops in Madrid before he forms a cabinet. General Bermudez Reina, the military governor of Madrid, it will be recalled, resigned that position Saturday. The Heraldo will further say that while the council was sitting last night a deputation of military officers presented itself. It is not known whether the officers were summoned by General Dominguez, the minister of war, or came of their own accord.

The government is only able to count on the support of the police, the civil guard having declined to act against the young officers who took part in the riot at the offices of El Globo. The spirit of the garrison shows that almost all the officers sympathize with the young rioters. There is great excitement in the city, and no such military conflict has been seen since the restoration of the monarchy.

The queen regent is much affected. It has been learned that the military deputation that visited the council formulated conditions that no government could accept.

Washington, March 18.—The news that Prime Minister Sagasta and his cabinet have resigned created considerable stir here last night. Such state department officials as could be seen declined to discuss the situation, preferring to allow Secretary Gresham to do so, should he choose. He declined likewise.

It was learned, however, that considerable apprehension already exists owing to the likelihood of Marshal de Campos being chosen to succeed Sagasta. The marshal is an active warrior, who has been preparing to look after the Cuban revolution in person. On that matter there is no question of Spain's attitude. She is determined at all hazards to crush out the insurgents, and that, apparently, now can only be accomplished by war.

CHRISTIAN SAFETY ASSURED.

Orders Sent by the Porte to the Provisional Governors.

London, March 18.—The Daily Graphic has this dispatch from Constantinople: "The Porte has sent a note to Mr. Terrell, the American minister, assuring him of the safety of the Christians in Asia Minor. Orders on this subject been sent to the provincial governors. The government objects to the presence of an Armenian interpreter at the sittings of the commission of inquiry, as he would enable the foreign delegates to follow the testimony too closely. The embassies concerned have urged the porte to send to Moesh the drageman attached to the French consulate in Erzereum. It is believed that the sultan eventually will consent to this. Forty Armenians were arrested here on March 14 because they subscribed to the fund for the relief of the families of the Sassoun victims."

Flattering Comments.

Rome, March 18.—The semi-official newspapers contain very flattering comments upon the promptitude with which President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham have taken steps to bring to justice the murderers of the Italians in Walsenburg, Col. After comparing the present government's order to the governor of Colorado with the irresolute negotiations concerning the New Orleans massacre, they say that America's conduct in this case has been as honorable to her as it is flattering to Italian national sentiment.

Wreckage Near Tarifa.

Madrid, March 18.—Much wreckage has come ashore near Tarifa in the last thirty-six hours. The supposition is that it came from the missing cruiser Reina Regente. The Alfonso XII., which was sent out to search for the cruiser has reported from Tangier that she has found no trace of her. Many steamers passing outward and westward through the straits have made similar reports. The government does not credit the report that the Reina Regente was seen disabled during the storm.

Newspaper Building Burned.

Cleveland, March 18.—The newspaper building on Ontario street occupied by the World, the A. N. Kellogg Newspaper company and the United Press was completely destroyed by fire last evening. The total loss was about $150,000. It is thought that the fire started through the carelessness of a porter.

Embezzler Coombs Caught.

Jacksonville, March 18.—Elliott T. Coombs was arrested here last night by United States Marshal McKay. Coombs is wanted in Dallas, Texas, where it is said, he embezzled $5,000 of the funds of a wholesale house of which he was cashier.

Acknowledges the Engagement.

Bloomington, Ill., March 18.—Beyond acknowledging that Miss Julia is engaged to Martin D. Hardin of Kentucky, Vice-President Stevenson declined to say anything.

TERRIFIC BOILER EXPLOSION.

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed at Webster, Mass.

Webster, Mass., March 18.—The residents of this town were startled at noon by a terrific explosion in the South Village mill of the Slater Woolen company. A sixty-horsepower Allen boiler burst, causing the loud noise and wrecking many thousand dollars worth of property near it. If miracles are ever worked in these matter-of-fact days, one was certainly worked yesterday, for no one was killed or even seriously injured.

The cause of the accident will probably always remain a mystery though it is believed that there was no water in the boiler. Joseph Uhminski, a Pole, who lived on Bartlett street had charge of the boiler room. He was engaged about two weeks ago. It is said he was at home eating his dinner at the time of the explosion.

The boiler which caused the trouble is one of a set of twelve Allen boilers, all of thirty-horsepower, located in the south end of the mill yard, near the corner of Main and Peter streets.

The boiler was driven out of its building, which stands ten feet or more below Main street, through the basement and the parlor of the Corporation tenement occupied by the Domi family, and across Main street, striking the stone foundation of the "Old Tavern" where it lodged. Rosa Domi was sitting in the parlor at the time, and she was precipitated into the basement, but was not injured beyond a severe shaking up. Mrs. Domi was in the kitchen adjoining the parlor. She was knocked down. Large pieces of debris were thrown around for many rods but fortunately they hit no human mark.

MAY BE MANSLAUGHTER.

Brutal Attack on a Woman in Her Apartments in Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 18.—John Daily, aged 39 years, of 231 Tillary street, this city, is a prisoner in the Clermont avenue police station charged with assault, but he may be charged with manslaughter this morning in the Myrtle avenue police court, where he will be arraigned.

Yesterday about noon he called at the apartments of Mrs. Lela Sinman, in the same house. He wanted to see her, but she refused to let him in.

Then he kicked in the door and abused her. Not satisfied with this he dealt her a blow in the face which knocked her down. She had her two-year-old child in her arms when he struck her, and as she fell the child's head struck the floor, causing concussion of the brain.

Just what the man called at Mrs. Sinman's apartments for the police have not as yet ascertained. Daily was arrested, and the child was removed to the Homeopathic hospital, where the surgeon said it would probably die.

LATE CUBAN NEWS.

The Government Troops Forced To Retreat by the Insurgents.

Port Tampa, Fla., March 18.—The steamship Olivette arrived from Cuba yesterday bringing news of a battle between the insurgents and government troops in which the latter were compelled to retreat.

The leading spirit of the movement received a letter Friday from Gen. Maso stating that he with 2,000 troops had attacked 2,500 government troops under command of Gen. Saldo, who were on their way from Mansinalla to Bayamo. The engagement lasted two hours and the government troops were compelled to retreat into the town of Bayamo with a loss of 300 men killed and wounded. The insurgents loss is reported to have been less than seventy killed and wounded. The troops, said Gen. Maso in his letter will not follow up their advantage, preferring to remain quietly under arms until after the crops are harvested in June, when a more general uprising is anticipated.

MEXICO-GUATEMALA SITUATION.

No Change for Better or Worse in the Boundary Difficulty.

Washington, March 18.—Minister Romero said last night that, so far as he had been advised, there had been no change in the condition of affairs between Mexico and Guatemala—that the situation was just as it had been for a month or more, neither better nor worse.

The Guatemalan special commission was still in the City of Mexico and negotiations were progressing for a settlement of the boundary troubles, but since Guatemala's rejection of the terms proposed by Mexico, which was announced at the time, nothing definite has been accomplished.

Has Taylor Been Arrested?

Jacksonville, Fla., March 18.—A special to the Times Union from Port Tampa, Fla., says: The steamer Olivette arrived here from Havana last evening, but Taylor, the defaulting South Dakota treasurer, said to have been arrested at Vera Cruz, Mexico, was not on board. None of the passengers or officers know anything of Taylor's whereabouts or had heard of his arrest. The suspicion is growing that Taylor has not been arrested at all.

Saloon-Keeper Shot Two Men.

Detroit, March 18.—Allen Ashley was fatally and his brother Frank seriously wounded last night by John Holtz, a saloon-keeper, at 602 Forest avenue, west. The Ashley boys became involved in an altercation with a customer of Holtz and assaulted him. Holtz interfered, when the Ashleys knocked him down and were brutally beating him when he drew a revolver and fired at them.

Komatsu Commander-in-Chief.

London, March 18.—The Central News correspondent in Tokio says: "Marshal Prince Komatsu has been ordered to proceed at once to the front as commander-in-chief of all the Japanese armies. Premier Count Ito will proceed to Simonaseki to-day to prepare for the reception of the Chinese peace envoys. Mr. Mutsu, minister of foreign affairs, is already there."

Forty-three Dead Bodies Recovered.

Vienna, March 18.—A dispatch from Troppau says that forty-three dead bodies have been taken from the mine, owned by the late Archduke Albrecht. The Archduke Frederick has ordered that an annual pension of 100 florins be paid the widow of every victim, the first payment to be made at once.

A SATISFACTORY REPLY

Spain's Dispatch Received by Secretary Gresham.

It Is Understood That Orders Have Been Issued To Keep Hands Off Our Commerce — Allianca Affair Reserved for Future Reply — Expert Opinion on the Attack.

New York, March 18.—The Recorder published the following dispatch from Washington this morning: "Spain has replied to Gresham's demand. A dispatch was received last night that, so far as it goes, is entirely satisfactory to the United States. It is a response to the last part of Secretary Gresham's dispatch in which he insists that "immediate and positive orders be given to Spanish naval commmanders not to interfere with legitimate American commerce passing through that (Windward) channel, and prohibiting all acts wantonly imperilling life and property lawfully under the flag of the United States."

That part of the dispatch which refers to the firing upon the Allianca is reserved for future reply, after an investigation by Spain into the circumstances that surrounded it. There is no doubt in the minds of the president and the secretary of state that this will receive "prompt disavowal as an unauthorized act," and that a "due expression of regret on the part of Spain" will be forthcoming.

Secretary Gresham communicated the substance of Spain's response to the president as soon as it had been translated, but he was unwilling to give it out for publication. It is understood, however, that the dispatch conveyed the information that orders had been issued to the commanders of the Spanish men-of-war in Cuban waters not to interfere with legitimate American commerce and to use every precaution to avoid international complications by an exercise of undue zeal.

An Expert's Opinion.

Washington, March 18.—Speaking of the Allianca incident and Secretary Gresham's dispatch to our minister to Madrid insisting upon disavowal of the unauthorized act and that positive orders be given to Spanish naval commanders not to interfere with the passage of mail steamers through a recognized and legitimate channel of commerce, one of the best informed authorities on international law in this city said to the United Press:

"Assuming the facts to be as stated, there can be no question as to the soundness of Secretary Gresham's position under the principles of international law as now recognized and practiced. One hundred years ago, when the sea was overrun with pirates and privateers, the right of visit or search was recognized under certain contingencies. But these only applied to a recognized existing state of war.

Different Case.

"There is no such condition in this case. Even if there were, no nation of late years has had warrant for stopping a vessel flying a friendly flag on the high seas, nor has the right been recognized for a war vessel under any circumstances to fire a solid shot at any merchant vessel flying any flag except that of the war vessel attempting to intercept her.

"Supposing for the sake of argument, that the Allianca was misusing the American flag (as was actually the case with the Virginius, for the execution of whose crew the United States exacted heavy indemnity from Spain), the power to punish the vessel for this misuse of the flag would rest with the United States alone and not with Spain. But, of course, there is no such supposition as to the misuse of a flag possible in a case of a steamer belonging to a regular United States mail line."

"Is that actually a fact," was asked, "that the Virginius had no right to fly the United States flag, and yet the United States exacted an indemnity and an apology from Spain on her account?"

"Certainly," was the reply, "but the irregularity of her clearance from Jamaica was not discovered until after the demand for indemnity and apology had been made and acceded to. That, however, was not a matter that concerned the Spaniards at all. It was purely a question for the United States to deal with. The only notice we took of it was to remit the salute and hold on to the indemnity.

Unjust Act of the Spaniard.

"The assumption that there is the slightest obligation on the part of the Allianca to show that she was more than one marine league from shore when fired upon is entirely unwarranted. If she had been within half a mile of the Cuban coast the alleged action of the Spanish man-of-war would have been just as unjustifiable as if she had been fifty miles out at sea.

"In the case of the seizure of the four American schooners off Cuba by Spanish authorities fifteen years ago, our government successfully asserted and sustained the principle that in time of peace no forcible intervention with American ships could be permitted, whether they were within three miles of shore or not.

"Our state department then laid down the dictum that the right of examining ships' letters within the marine league of shore in time of peace was confined to revenue vessels and could not be extended to war ships, and we declared most positively that the world's commerce was not to be impeded by driving ships of friendly nations out of their course into adverse winds and currents to avoid discourteous acts."

Green Goods Bennie Fled.

Atlanta, Ga., March 18.—Deputy marshals last night arrested Benjamin R. Simms, who has been distributing agent here for New York dealers in counterfeit money. Simms is a well-educated negro of 25. He was locked in a room in the custom house while the deputy marshals went to his house to search. They found evidence of his guilt there, but, when they returned, did not find him. He had escaped by a transom and has not been arrested since. Several letters referring to green goods were signed "J. R. Lansing, 175 West street, New York."

A New World

opens to the man who finds quick relief from wearing pain. That is the testimony of multitudes who have used for all sorts of aches and pains, lameness, stiffness of the muscles and joints of the back, limbs or side.

Allcock's Porous Plaster

Make Sure and get the genuine. Never put up with imitations "Just as good as ALLCOCK'S."

Allcock's Corn Shields,
Allcock's Bunion Shields,
Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.

Brandreth's Pills

relieve rheumatism and any disease arising from impurity of the blood.
11 16y-m w f

Three New Styles.

A Year of Paper Dolls 60c

The Brownies in Paper Dolls 60c.

Famous Queens in Paper Dolls 15c

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

TO PLAINFIELD

Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street,

Dunham's Real Estate Office.

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET,

(Estate D. I. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2243 JAMES H. ECKELS,
Comptroller of the Currency.

3 4 30

F. A. DUNHAM.

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue.
Sewers, pavements and road improvements
Publisher of city map and atlas.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75 BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE. W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the
W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes
All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole.
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

A. WILLETT & SON.

A LADY'S TOILET

Is not complete without an ideal

COMPLEXION POWDER.

POZZONI'S

Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.

Insist upon having the genuine.

IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Call and see the new

SPALDING

FOR '95.

Any one placing their order for a Spalding before January 1, 1895, will receive a new

'95 Spalding Cyclometer

FREE.

W. H. ROGERS,

408 West 5th st.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 237 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 32 m

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.
Stoves at reduced prices.
Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.
Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

O. B. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 37 Chatham street.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.
Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

HER PA'S EXCEPTION.

The low-descending sun with torch of fire
Illumined cloudland's minaret and spire
As ardent maiden said unto her sire,
"A sight more vivid never met my quest!"
"Except", quoth he, cheered by the grate-fire bright,
"This warmth-disseminating anthra-cite
I bought of Geo. O. Stevens yesternight,
At 747 Front St., West."

(Orders may be left at VanBuren & Timpson's, opposite railroad station, or at G. A. Hallock's, 109 West Front street.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial Parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 18 t

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey porkland poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue.
Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 18, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

BY THE WAY.

—Bargains in baby carriages at Harper's, 411 Park avenue.

—A new mail box will be placed on East Front street near Park avenue, in a few days.

—The excellent laundry work of Hillier & Co. is growing in reputation and their business is increasing rapidly.

—A regular meeting of the Camera Club will be held tomorrow evening in their rooms in the Babcock Building.

—August Trust of Somerset street is building an extension to his barn, preparatory to investing in another horse.

—Shrewd buyers will do well to take advantage of the $10 suit sale now going on at Werner's, 206 West Front street.

—It is understood a grocer named O'Donnell, a newcomer, will occupy the store about to be vacated by Grocer Love.

—The missionary collection for home missions in the Congregational Church will be taken up the first Sunday in April.

—Borough patrons of the Somerset street trolley line find much just cause for complaint against the 11-minute schedule.

—Get your bicycle put in shape for the season by W. H. Rogers. Or if you want a new wheel get him to show you the Spalding.

—The boys meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday was addressed by R. A. Suffern, and H. Martin rendered several pleasing vocal solos.

—Neaf Apgar won first money, amounting to $5, at the sweepstakes shooting match of seven birds at Marion Saturday afternoon.

—F. L. C. Martin has presented Physical Director MacPhie with a handsome bicycle pump for the use of the club at the Y. M. C. A.

—The Physical Department of the Y. M. C. A. has received an appropriate present from H. J. Fleischhauer, in the shape of four bottles of witch hazel.

—The sidewalk in front of the North Plainfield Public School was in a very dangerous condition yesterday, owing to the neglect of removing the snow and ice.

—Two of the largest loads that ever left Plainfield were transported today by L. B. Coddington for the Sherman Outfitting Co., for whose removal he contracted.

—President W. D. Murray of the Y. M. C. A., will give his third lecture on Paul's Epistles this evening in the Building His subject will be First Corinthians. Both men and women are invited.

—Scott Terry of Plainfield and Mr Rose of Elizabeth will shoot 50 birds for a prize of $100 at Marion, Jersey City, Saturday, March 30. D. H. Terry of Plainfield and Mr. Batch of Elizabeth will participate in a shooting match at the latter place next Saturday.

—A trades school will be opened in Reform Hall tonight in charge of Mrs. George F. Opdyke. John Dalziel and Frank Patience will look after the practical workings of the school. All boys from 14 to 18 years of age will be able to enter the school at a nominal cost.

Progressive Whist.

The second social gathering of the Progressive Whist Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Armstong Mulford, East Fifth street, last week. Mrs. McClintock won first prize for the women and Mrs. Fred Cutter second. For the men Fred Cutter captured first and J. E McClintock second.

Those present were Mr and Mrs Armstrong Mulford, Judge and Mrs Wm A Coddington, Mr and Mrs J E McClintock. Mr and Mrs Fred Cutter, Mr and Mrs E Waldorf, David McFarland of Elizabeth, and Mrs. Bell of Brooklyn. A collation was served after the games.

A West India Native.

A massive tarantula was discovered on a bunch of bananas at J. F. MacDonald's grocery store on East Front street Saturday afternoon by Cornelius J. Ackerman, Jr. After some trouble the creature was killed and the clerks breathed a sigh of relief.

Buckwheat Cakes
"az iz"
Buckwheat Cakes
are made with Cleveland's
Baking Powder
Try the recipe.
Cleveland's, the best that money can buy.
The recipe is given in our cook book. A copy mailed free on receipt of stamp and address.
Cleveland Baking Powder Co., 81 Fulton St., New York.

TELEGRAPH TICKS.

An unconfirmed report that a Spanish warship has sunk an American schooner has been received in Washington.

Henry Leifer, age 27, of Elizabeth, hanged himself in his room last night.

James Blizzard of Port Norris drove in a buggy off a wharf this morning and was drowned.

Great Electricians.

Special exercises were held in the North Plainfield Public School Friday, and consisted of selections on the life of great electricians.

The programme was as followe:

Life of Benjamin Franklin, Miss Emma Line.

Poor Richard's sayings, by members of the school:

"He that hath a trade hath an estate." "One today is worth two tomorrows." "Since thou art not sure of a minute throw not away an hour." "If you would have your business done, go; if not, send." "Pay as you go." "He that goes a borrowing goes a sorrowing." "He that lives on hope dies fasting." "Lost time is never found again." "God helps them that help themselves." Life of Prof. Morse, Elmer Squier. Life of Thomas Edison, Charles Bryan. Clipping about Edison, Miss Anna Doeringer.

$10 Apiece.

John Barry and William Wilson imbibed too freely in Hipp's, in the borough, Saturday night. A stranger from Paterson happened in, and the three engaged in a free fight.

Mr. Hipp attempted to separate them, but the men were desperate. Chief Marshal Pangborn and Marshal Line were sent for, and with difficulty arrested two of the combatants, the man from Paterson escaping.

This morning before Justice Crosley a lively time ensued. Lawyer DeMeza appeared for the prisoners, and, owing to a considerable difference of opinion, the matter was not easily settled. The fighters, however, were fined $10 apiece.

Distressing Bereavement.

A particularly sad death is that of Edward, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lippencott of Jackson avenue, which occurred Saturday night from diphtheria.

Two hours before he died he called to his father and said, "Let me go see mamma a few minutes; I 'll come right back." Mrs. Lippencott is very ill, and was not able to see her darling. The little one will be buried today.

Must Settle Today to Get His Goods.

The household goods of S. W. Quinn, which were attached by several merchants Saturday for debts, still remain loaded in two large vans in front of Roberts' livery stable on North avenue. If the debts are not paid today the goods will be placed in storage, and Justice Newcorn will set down a date for trial. Another attachment was issued today in favor of George O. Stevens.

Hotel Albion.

Though Manager Samuel Conover has retired from the management of Hotel Albion, and returned to New York, the house is still open. Whether or not it will be continued under new management will be decided at a conference this evening between J. J. Pollion, who owns the furniture, and Mr. Bronson, who owns the building. Max Wiertz, the famous caterer, has been made an offer to take the house.

Four Divines Immersed.

Dr. A. H. Lewis, Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, Dr. Richards and Rev. C. L. Goodrich, had a thoroughly enjoyable time at the Y. M. C. A. gemnasium this morning. After plenty of exercise, a delightful swim was indulged in.

Plainfield the Model.

The fame of Plainfield's bicycle track has spread everywhere, and a committee from Hazelton, Pa., is expected here March 25, to inspect the track with a view to duplicating it in that town.

—The millinery department of Edsall's was opened this morning in charge of Miss E. Gayton of New York.

Spanish Victory on Mindanao Island.

Madrid, March 18.—A dispatch from Manilla, Phillippine Islands, says that on March 16 the Spaniards under Gen. Parrado decisively defeated the Malay Mussulmans on Mindanao island, killing 108, among them the sultan and his son. The Spaniards lost two officers and fifteen privates killed and 193 wounded.

$1,000 for Colorado Assassins.

Denver, March 18.—Gov. McIntyre last night gave out a proclamation announcing a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of those who were implicated in the killing of the Italians at Walsenburg. He declares his intention to give the matter his close personal attention and see that the law is vindicated.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dismondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

New York Announcement.
"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them"
Can readily be ascertained by visiting
HORNER'S
Great Furniture Emporium
where everything is of the best quality, artistic excellence, and moderate in price. No such assortment of reliable goods can be seen in America.
Over two hundred and fifty distinctly different Bedroom Sets in all the various woods, Brass Bedsteads in over seventy patterns, as well as endless lines of Parlor, Drawing-Room, Library and Dining-Room Furniture.
Hundreds of Imported Novelties particularly suitable for presents, or home use and decoration.
All prices in plain figures.
R. J. HORNER & CO.,
Furniture Makers and Importers,
61-65 W. 23d St., New York,
Adjoining Eden Musee.
Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

—Rogers will sell oysters for 30 cents a quart, this week only.

—W. C. Smith started another new house in Watchung Park, Saturday.

—South avenue is already quite dry, and promises good cycling in a short time.

—Don't forget that L. J. Denton has his usual fine lot of Easter lilies and flowers.

—A number of Plainfielders went to the metropolis this morning to attend the St. Patrick Day festivities.

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 1c a dose; 25, 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Kari's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life; I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels; 75c. Sold by all druggists.

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery.
Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street. Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

NOTICE!
Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of the School District
of the Borough of North Plainfield
in the county of Somerset, that the
ANNUAL MEETING
for the election of three members of the Board of Education, will be held at the school house, on TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1895,
at 8 p. m. The polls will remain open one hour and as much longer as may be necessary to enable all the legal voters present to cast their ballots. At said meeting will be submitted the question of voting a tax for the following purposes—For the payment of teachers salaries and other current expenses of maintaining the school for the ensuing year and a flag, $6,600. For text books and other necessary school supplies to be furnished free of cost for use in the school $750. The total amount thought to be necessary is $7,350.
Dated this 8th day of March, 1895.
J. B. JOSEPH, District Clerk.
3 16 2

An Ordinance
governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation.
Board of Health Notice.
Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An ordinance governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation" has been introduced and passed its first and second readings in the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield. The date when said ordinance passed its second reading is March 8, 1895, and this notice is given pursuant to the requirement of the statute in such case made and provided. By order of the Board of Health. H. O. NEWMAN, Secretary.
Dated Plainfield, N. J., March 16, 1895.

MUSIC HALL,
Jos. Sohl, Lessee and Manager
Telephone 49B.
Monday, Mch 18.
The new version of
Peck's Bad Boy.
New songs, dances, medleys, ideas and electrical effects.
Everything new but the name.
Prices 35, 50, 75 and $1. Box office now open.

MUSIC HALL.
Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 49B,
Friday, March 22—1 Night
Canary & Lederer's newest New York production
THE
20th Century Girl.
75 people on the stage 75
The phenomenal cast introduces John T. Kelly, Dan Dooly, Samie Fisher, Bettina Gerard, Edith Howe, Jennie Weatherby, Al R. Wilson, Harry Kelly, Harry Standish, Catherine Quinsard, Lillian Thurgate, Grisela Carlyle and others. Everything bright, new, original and up to the title.
Prices 25, 50, 75c $1 and $1.50.
Box office now open.

REMOVAL.
Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to
NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.
(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.
Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.
The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.
TO THE PUBLIC:
From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.
We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.
Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.
EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.
18 ARLINGTON PLACE, Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.
I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.
I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.
I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.
JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.
PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.
TO THE PUBLIC:
For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.
THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,
of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,
Plainfield, N. J
I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.
T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill
can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,
No. 132 Crescent Avenue.
Plainfield, N. J.

AT PECK'S.
NEW Street Glove $1.50. Foster's KID GLOVES. Black, Brown Tan, Mode and Slate.

SEBRING, CLOTHIER,
Will close the balance of $12 suits for $8
$15 suits for $10.
$12 ulsters for $8.50.
$15 overcoats for $10.
Children's overcoats and school suits at cost.
Park Avenue, Packer's Block.
12-6-1

VAN EMBURGH & SON
1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35
Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.
Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,
Carpet Dep't.
Opening of New Spring Goods.
We quote only a few specials.
All-wool ingrains at.....49c
Tapestry Brussels, at.....53c 59c 65c
Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminister, Ishpahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, jointless, new patterns, 9c up.
Oil cloths, No. 1, 39c No. 3 at 25c No 4 at 19c
Linoleums at 37½c; Window shades 19c up; poles with fixtures 19c up.
The elegant new Laces in
Our Lace Dept.
will interest you.
Laces, Veilings and Lace Collars.
A large collection of fine laces and lace collars (by far the most comprehensive assortment in the city) we shall offer during the week at prices very much below real value, comprising Broderie Anglaise, Point de Gene, Point Venise, Chiffon, Chantilly and Point de Ireland Laces, now very desirable for spring trimmings. Our leader this week—Brussels Applique in match patterns of 3 widths—5 inch 19c; 6½ inch 23c; 8 inch 31c a yard.
Veilings
All-silk Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings 18x27 inches wide, in all colors, at 25 and 35c a yard; regular price 35 and 50c a yard.
Lace Collars
Point Venise and Point de Rene Collars (butter color) now much in demand, regular $1.50 to $5 lines, special during the week at $1.25, $1.39 $1.93 and $3.28 each.
Silks
Illuminated Brocaded and Striped Taffeta Silks, 12 different combinations, 20 inches wide, will not cut, crush or slip in seams, choice designs, good value at 98c yard; special at 65c a yard. 700 yards of Crepon Wash Fabrics, in all leading colorings, regular 10c goods; special for the week 7½c yard.
Housefurnishing and China Dept
Extra values at about half price. At half price, 1 lot English Majolica milk and water pitchers
Milk pitcher regular price 15c; special 8c.
" " " 19c; special 10c
Water " " 29c; special 18c
" " " 39c; special 24c
The above are assorted colors and strictly perfect.
50 dozen engraved goblets, all perfect, at 3c each: scrub brushes, regular 15c, at 10c each; japanned chamber pails, assorted colors, 23c; another lot japanned bread boxes at 27c; japanned fire screens, 4 fold bamboo frames, at 49c
Grocery Department
TERMS CASH—Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. You will be surprised at the amount of money you can save in buying in this department.
SPECIAL SPECIAL
French sardines in pure olive oil, Martel brand at 1cc can
Cook's flat salmon steaks, very fine, at 16c
Very fine large olives, 32 oz bottle, 39c can.
Heinz's assorted Little Giant pickles 9c bottle.
Anderson's jams, all kinds, 1 pound tins, 12c.
FLOUR—Our White Seal Flour is in greater demand each day. The price and quality is right. ⅛ barrel 54c; ¼ barrel $1.07; ½ barrel $1.98; 1 barrel $3 95.
Special for Saturday Night Only
From 8 to 9:30.
500 yards of Point Venise, Bourdon, Applique and Valenciennes laces, 2 to 7 in. wide, 20c to 50c lines; special Saturday only at 10c, 18c, 20c, and 25c a yard.
1,000 yards of satin and gros grain ribbons in all leading shades, ¾ to 4 in. wide, reduced to 3, 5, 9, 12 and 20c a yard; regular price 5, 7, 12, 18 and 25c a yard.
EDSALL'S

DO YOU BUY YOUR
Trunks and Bags in New York?
Do So No More.
You can now buy them just as cheap at the house of
Doane & Edsall.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.
Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.
BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

GOOD POINTS OF A HORSE.

The Eye and the Head Show the Animal's Nature.

Henry Childs Merwin has a paper in the March Century on "The Horse Market," from which the following is extracted:

And this brings us to consider what are the marks of a good, serviceable horse, such as most people want to buy. The chief points are the eye and head, for, whether on the score of safety or of pleasure in ownership, the essential thing is to have a horse that is intelligent and gentle, or one that is intelligent and vicious, rather than stupid, for stupid horses are the most dangerous of all. Every horse shows his character in his head, and chiefly in the eye, just as certainly as a man shows his character in his face; although, as in the case of men, it is not always easy to read what is written in the equine features. But as to horses of positive character, positively good or positively bad, there need be no mistake. I once bought a mare of a dealer for a woman's use without even taking her out of the stable. She seemed to be sound, and I felt sure from her eye that she was unusually gentle and safe, and so she proved to be. On the other hand, out of six or eight horses shown to me at a sale stable, on another occasion, I rejected one—the best in the lot otherwise—because his eye, not absolutely bad, was such as to arouse suspicion; and the owner afterward admitted to me that the animal was different from the rest in being a little "mean."

I mention these instances to show that any person of average intelligence can learn, by taking pains, to read the equine character. Horse dealers and trainers seldom make a study of this matter, because they do not care about it. What you should look for is a large, clear, luminous eye; what you should distrust is a small eye, a protruding eye, a sunken eye, an eye that shows the white, glancing backward, which indicates bad temper; and above all, a glassy, tremulous eye, which indicates stupidity. It is hard to describe, but easily recognized. There should be a considerable space between the eyes. The ears and the carriage of them are hardly less significant. Well cut ears that move continually with a general tendency to be pricked forward indicate a good and lively disposition. Large ears, if well shaped, are better than very small or "mouse" ears. Lop ears, coarse ears, ears planted either very far apart or very close together, are to be viewed with great distrust.

Next in importance to the head comes the feet. They should be of medium size, neither steep like a mule's, not flat, but sloping at a medium angle. The best feet are "cup shaped," that is, so formed that when you pick them up they will hold water.

As to the other points of a horse, I shall not attempt to go into details, because I fear that they would convey information only to those who do not need it. But this may be said generally by way of advice: Avoid a long backed or thin waisted, still more a long legged horse. Look for a compact, rather low standing beast, with a good head, good eyes and well shaped ears, and you cannot go far wrong.

KNEW ALL THE FIREBUGS.

Remarkable State of Affairs Disclosed Bearing Upon Incendiary Fires.

A startling condition of affairs in New York and neighboring cities was disclosed by the testimony of the principal witness for the prosecution in the case of Max H. Grauer, an insurance agent and adjuster, on an indictment for arson in the first degree.

This witness, Simon Rosenbaum, appeared from his testimony to have been connected with the various gangs of firebugs which have operated for years in New York, Brooklyn, Newark and Jersey City, endangering the lives of the dwellers in tenement houses and defrauding the insurance companies.

According to his testimony, given with reluctance, under cross-examination, Rosenbaum was known in effect as the "porilz," a jargon word, synonymous with "pantata," the Bohemian title which came into public notice during the Lexow investigation, and explained to mean chief or leader.

Rosenbaum was at the head of the gang of firebugs which frequently extended its operations to Long Island and towns in New Jersey, and occasionally to Boston, Lynn and Worcester, Mass. He became a witness for the people, and gave Fire Marshal Mitchell a vast amount of information, which resulted in the conviction of Mrs. Sarah Silbermeister, Mrs. Ida Lieberman and Louis Rothman.

Max H. Grauer, the insurance adjuster, was sentenced to the full penalty, which is imprisonment for life. Mrs. Sarah Silbermeister and Louis Rothman are serving terms of twenty-five and fifteen years respectively.

JOSEPH H. CHOATE.

Reckoned as at the Head of the Metropolitan Bar.

Joseph H. Choate is regarded among members of the legal profession as the most astute as well as profound lawyer of the New York bar.

JOSEPH H. CHOATE.

His methods are genteel, but keener than a Damascus blade. Few witnesses dare undertake under his questioning to weave a fabrication, and the truth if told none too well is liable to get an opposing victim in trouble.

Mr. Choate likes particularly to shatter the hypocrisy of a man's life. It was he who, without other provocation than his general dislike to Sage's methods of obtaining riches, called in open court recently your Uncle Russel Sage a self-convicted swindler and robber.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Lucy Rafferty of Edsall's is ill with the grip.

Wm. N. Runyon is an accession to Park Club membership.

Millard F. Elderton is confined to his home with sickness.

Joseph Blatz of Somerset street is out today after a week of the grip.

Mrs. Walter Runyon of Elizabeth is the guest of Plainfield relatives today.

E. C. Schoonmaker of Mercer avenue has returned from a business trip.

Miss Hume is a new employe in Edsall's crockery department this morning.

Miss Sallie Tuttle of Newton is visiting Mrs. C. C. Day of Watchung avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burdick of Dunellen spent Sunday with Plainfield friends.

A ten-pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Friese of Grove street this morning.

Mrs. J. F. Sharp of Somerville spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. J. F Garretson.

Miss Hoffard of New York spent Sunday with Mrs. P. C. Johnson of West Fifth street.

W. E. MacClymont and bride returned yesterday from their wedding journey to Washington.

J. E. Townsend and family of Craig place moved Saturday to their new home on Coddington avenue.

Miss Emma Gamberton of the borough was called to the bedside of a sick friend in Elizabeth yesterday.

Miss Clara Barton has been transferred from the lace to the white goods department of Edsall's store.

J. R. Garretson of Somerville was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Garretson of East Fifth street yesterday.

Miss Gardner of the Prudential Insurance Company has recovered from her illness and resumed her office duties.

Miss Adrienne Allieson of Brooklyn spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. August Trust of Somerset street.

F. Scheuer and M. Schlort, of S. Scheuer & Co., Newark, accompanied by W. E. Lehman, their architect, were in town yesterday.

C. W. Hogan and family, who have been spending the Winter in New York city, will return to their home on Rockview avenue today.

Miss Winnie Carroll gave a very pleasant surprise party to a number of little friends at her home on Westervelt avenue Saturday afternoon.

F. M. Bacon of Fifth and Liberty streets, who has been very ill three weeks with abscesses, is gaining nicely, under Dr. Gaston's treatment.

James Andrews, pleasantly remembered by many friends in Plainfield, paid a flying visit to this city today, and expects to come soon to stay a season.

On account of illness, P. Ludwig Conde was unable to appear at the First Presbyterian Church last evening, and Firman Ferrer assisted in his place.

Thomas Thompson of Oswego, owner of the large stables recently destroyed by fire, is in Plainfield the guest of his sister-in-law, Miss Carrie Becker of Grove street.

Garrett E. Dreier and his fiancee, Miss Krone of Brooklyn, spent yesterday with Mr. Dreier's parents on West Front street. The marriage will take place April 2.

—Fair and warmer tomorrow.

—St. Mary's Temperance Cadets will give an entertainment and supper in St. Mary's Parochial School this evening.

—Local merchants assert that Saturday was the best trade day since Christmas. Four extra clerks were necessary in Edsall's.

Chronic Diarrhoea

is cured by the use of our Pills, specially prepared and sold in yellow wrappers. Make sure of this. If they don't, write us fully, and we'll send a special pill that will, at the same price. This is some trouble, but are prepared to cure. Yellow wrappers when bowels are loose, white when constipated. 25 cents at druggists. Send us for a free sample.

Dr. Deane's

Dyspepsia Pills

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Hamilton, New York

A Special Meeting

OF THE

Home Building and Loan Ass'n

is called for

Monday, March 18,

at 8:30 p. m.

for the purpose of nominating officers and directors for the ensuing year. By order of ISAAC W. RUSHMORE, Pres.

S. R. STRUTHERS, Secy.

3 15 2

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

Many years ago the late Sir John Macdonald was present at a public dinner at which he was expected to deliver a rather important speech. In the conviviality of the occasion he forgot the more serious duty of the evening, and when, at a late hour, he rose, his speech was by no means as luminous as it might have been. The reporter, knowing that it would not do to print his notes as they stood, called on Sir John next day and told him that he was not quite sure of having secured an accurate report.

He was invited to read over his notes, but he had not gone far when Sir John interrupted him with "That is not what I said." There was a pause, and Sir John continued: "Let me repeat my remarks." He then walked up and down the room and delivered a most impressive speech in the hearing of the amused reporter, who took down every word as it fell from his lips. Having thanked Sir John for his courtesy, he was taking his leave when he was recalled to receive this admonition: "Young man, allow me to give you this word of advice: Never again attempt to report a public speaker when you are drunk."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager.

11 26 6m

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

—THE—

Plainfield Ice & Cold Storage Co

has removed from 140 Park avenue to

132 North Avenue.

3 13 6

DEATHS.

BARBER—At Dunellen, N. J. March 18, 1895, James R. Barber, age 43 years. Funeral service on Tuesday morning March 19, at Asbury, N. J. at 10:30 a. m. Friends wishing to see remains may call between the hours of 2 and 8 Monday afternoon.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church. First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 26 y

Almost Given Away

Who wants it?

A House on Fairview Avenue,

Watchung Park. New, delightfully located, LOT 50x175 FEET.

9 rooms, all improvements, electric and gas light, stained glass, finely papered; has to be seen to be appreciated; known as the Russian style; mortgage $3,000; $1,500 cash takes it. Can be seen at any time. Apply to

A. BARTLETT,
339 Park avenue.

3 13 6

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOST—At or near the railroad station, a black Morocco pocketbook containing between $50 and $60. $10 reward will be given for its return to the office of the Potter Press Works.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

TO LET—Modern house in perfect order; 7 rooms, reception hall, bath, electric light, laundry in basement and all modern improvements; extra large lot; rent from April 1 at $25 a month. J. P., care Press. 3 18 2-m w

LOST—Saturday evening on Somerset st. between Manning ave. and Front st., a pocketbook containing between $3 and $4 and several clippings of deceased children's hair. The owner, a poor widow woman, will reward the finder by leaving it at this office. 3 18 3

HOUSES for sale in all parts of the city on easy terms; prices range from $2 000 to $15,000. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

$5,000 TO LOAN on first bond and mortgage at 6 per cent. Address X. Y. Z., care Press. 3 18 tf

BUY a Fairview avenue lot; 3 houses sold last week. For terms apply to Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

A SQUARE Worcester piano for sale; $50; will sell on installment plan. Address Piano, care Press. 3 18 3

A GOAT wagon, harness and sleigh for sale; price $10. Address Wagon, care Press. 3 18 3

DESIRABLE houses and flats in all parts of the city to rent. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

OPPORTUNITY—One large old fashioned and two small spinning wheels. Address 318 West Front st. 3 16 2

IF you have any property you want to exchange for New York or Brooklyn property let us know of it and we can effect a trade; have a desirable list. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

FOR SALE—New 7-room house on Stone st; will sell on easy terms. Apply 196 Somerset st. 3 16 2

WANTED—Girl for general housework; reference required. 823 Park avenue. 3 16 2

WHAT have you to rent? If you have a house not yet rented let us know of it and we may rent it for you; send us full particulars. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 1-m w

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

BUY a lot on Fairview ave, Watchung Park; 3 houses sold there last week Lyman & Petrie. 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

IF you own a small house and want to exchange for a larger property, we can make an exchange for you. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

IF you pay $50 to $60 a month rent and want to own your own home, we can sell you for a little money beautifully located dwellings on easy terms. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2 m w

TO LET—Two small stores or offices on one of the finest corners in the city, with or without stable room for one or more horses. Inquire F. Westphal & Son cor. of West 4th and Liberty st. 3 6 m

SMALL houses to let, centally located, $9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

PURCHASE a lot on Fairview avenue, Watchung Park; 3 houses sold last week. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

WANTED—Woman for washing dishes. Apply immediately; McVey's restaurant.

HOUSE to let on Duer st., 9 rooms with improvements; $35. Call at 17 Duer street. 3 12 6

TO LET—7 room house on Duer st; $15. Call 17 Duer st. 3 12 6

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, old established meat market, 2 horses and 2 wagons; good paying business; reason for selling given. Address Butcher, care Press. 3 11 6

BUY a lot on Fairview ave., Watchung Park; 3 houses sold last week. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

TO RENT—House 303 West 2d st; now occupied by Relief Association. Inquire 208 Madison ave. 3 11 6

FOR SALE—Delightfully located; new dwelling, lot 50x175, inside the fence line; flagged and curbed; 12 rooms and bath; cabinet trimmed, hardwood finish, beautifully papered; electric and gas light; nickel plate open work plumbing, sanitary trapped; price $5,500; $2,000 down, balance bond and mortgage at 5 per cent. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

HORSE and buggy for sale cheap. Call 85 Manning ave. 3 11 6

DESIRABLE houses in all parts of the city to rent. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2 m w

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

WANTS AND OFFERS.

THREE houses sold last week on Fairview avenue, Watchung Park; buy a lot there and make a stake. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

SANDFORD ave; for sale; delightful location; lot 50x185; 12 rooms, all improvements, perfect order; cost $6,000; worth $6,500; will sell at a sacrifice; $1,000 down, balance bond and mortgage at 5 per cent. Do not lose this opportunity if you want a home on the nicest residence street in Plainfield; will rent for $45 a month. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2 m w

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

AN elegant lot 50x318 for sale; price $850; delightful location. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department, 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

Hot Rolls

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
60c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....60c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 30c " 19c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $4 25—worth $6
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2 49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1.25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 00 " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44. for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc 3 14 m

SUCH SELLING

From Monday morning until Saturday night of the pick of our immense stock, with profits chopped off, just for a big and bright ending of a dull month. Profits will come later, perhaps. All new goods, not in the store a month. We are only giving you our

PROFITS

Crepon

Cloth, a new name for crinkles. Wash 'em and shake them out; no ironing necessary. Manufacturer thought they would sell for 12c, but they didn't, so they go for 6c.

Embroideries

Just a hint our show window gives of our big purchase—5,000 yards in the lot. Not too much for Plainfield at the price—3 to 10c, and worth from 10c to 20c.

Ginghams

You know the Toile du Noirs; ask anyone the price and they say 10 and 12c. White's price 6c, and 30 inch percales ought to bring 10c, but they go for 6c.

Silks

The prettiest weaves. Makes you wish you could buy them all when you see them, and you can, for the price is only 62c. All shades in light and dark grounds.

Dress Goods

Go where you please it's the same story White's is ahead of all, and you buy an all wool dress for what a gingham used to cost. Too many kinds to tell of all. Just come and see them.

Linens

Big selling it will be this week and little prices buy them. Towels, toweling, table linen, napkins at a third off, just to show you how cheap they can be sold. The more we can hammer prices the better.

For further particulars see circulars.

WHITE of Plainfield.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

OUR MOTTO—Good work, good material at fair prices. 9 4 y

PLAINFIELD SOUVENIR SOLID SILVER SPOONS.

COLLIER'S,

103 PARK AVENUE.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

CAUGHT THE VICAR.

Rev. Stephen Endacott was vicar of Lynedon, Bucks. He was a bachelor, in young middle life, on the whole popular with his flock, for he was good natured, easy going and a gentleman. But he was not what you could call a strong vicar or a man of earnest views. He sailed along pretty easily down the stream of parish life, avoiding storms and collisions and doing what was required of him in a negative kind of way. If he had no very dear friends it was certain that he had no very bitter enemies. Many spoke well of him; none enthusiastically. Some spoke disparagingly of him; none abusively. From this it may be inferred that Rev. Stephen Endacott's character was something of a colorless sort.

On one point he was particularly cautious. No doubt he had reason. Bachelor curates are the acknowledged prey of amorous spinsters. A bachelor vicar was still more splendid game. The revenues of Lynedon were considerable, the glebe lands were broad, the vicarage was a charming house, just the ideal residence for a lady with good taste. "How pretty I could make that drawing room," sighed one to herself. "What tennis parties I could give in that dear old garden," thought another. "It would be so nice to be taken in by the bishop at the confirmation luncheon," felt a third. But the vicar had no desire for matrimony. He was not susceptible. He much preferred the independence of bachelorhood. Not that he was a misogynist; quite the reverse. A true Christian, he loved all women—as sisters. It might even be said that he adored the whole sex—in that capacity.

Many mothers with marriageable daughters, and many, too, with daughters who, from any but the desperado's standpoint, were the reverse of marriageable, tried to stalk the vicar. His caution defied them all. They could not get up a compromising situation. The vicar declined to be committed. When young ladies called to ask him for spiritual advice he was always either engaged or else so busy that he could only spare them five minutes. When he did give them that five minutes it was in his study, a room with large French windows opening upon the lawn. And the gardener generally managed to be moving about outside. There were those who averred that the man was paid extra to do so. At last most of the ladies abandoned the chase as hopeless. One or two, however, persisted. They were true Christians, you see, and liked to exercise the cardinal virtue of their creed, which, according to the apostle, "hopeth all things." The vicar would have been better pleased with a heathenish despair. He was heartily sick of living in a state of siege.

The most indefatigable of those who invested this impregnable fortress was Miss Cecilia Dobee. Miss Cecilia Dobee was a lady of numerous experiences. She had in her time played many parts, from that of the fast flirt to that of the slow saint. But in neither role nor in any of the intermediate had she achieved success. It was not her fault. There were facial disabilities. As a flirt she could not make her physiognomy fascinating; as a saint she could not make it celestial. "It does not matter," said some lady friends of hers, "what poor dear Cecilia does with her face. It will always be like a currant dumpling." So it always was. No cosmetics could alter that doughlike complexion.

But Miss Cecilia persevered. Nothing put her off from her apparently desperate pursuit. She lay in wait for the vicar round street corners, and when he appeared always happened to be walking in the same direction. At district visitors' meetings she was invariably the first present, and took the seat next to his. She fixed him with intense glances in the pulpit. She worshiped him with admiring glances in the reading desk. She wedged him into corners at social functions. In short, she ran after him so conspicuously that her conduct was a standing joke with all the gossips of the place.

The vicar was intensely annoyed. But he did not know how to stop it. Had he been a stronger man he might have gone to Lawyer Dobee, the young lady's father, and suggested to him in confidence the propriety of his parental interference. But he was weak and vacillating; he had a nervous horror of anything like a scene and a constitutional inability to say unpleasant things. Consequently he did what weak men generally do in difficulties—he let things slide, contenting himself with avoiding Cecilia Dobee as far as he possibly could.

At length he had the satisfaction of seeing that young lady begin to relax her attentions. The vicar breathed again. After two years his continual snubbings were now really taking effect. He had been wise to wait and trust to time for assistance. Even a rhinocerine hide must be penetrated if you only go on at it long enough. The vicar felt ten years younger. He had actually not set eyes on Cecilia Dobee for a week. On Sunday last, when he preached, there had been no Cecilia's face to worship him from the front seat under the pulpit. At the district visitors' meeting next day no Cecilia had been present to support him. The vicar was sanguine. He quite believed that Cecilia had been choked off.

But a surprise was in store for him. Even the boldest generals now and then make a strategic movement to the rear while planning a fresh attack. Cecilia Dobee, after this short withdrawal of her forces, renewed the attack in a bolder way than she had yet ventured to adopt. It was on February 14 that the vicar sustained the shock of her sudden assault.

The morning's post brought him, among other communications, a letter and a packet. The letter was in Cecilia Dobee's handwriting. He opened it with a groan, and read as follows:

DEAR MR. ENDACOTT—I hope you will deign to accept the small offering which I am today having sent to you. This season of St. Valentine, with its extra liberties, must be my excuse in your eyes for thus presuming. Ever yours, sincerely,

CECILIA DOBEE.

The vicar threw down this note with an angry gesture. He said something about Cecilia Dobee which was not clerical. For the credit of the cloth it is better not to repeat it.

Then he caught up the packet. Its label was ominous. On the head of it was printed the name of a well known Bond street jeweler. The box was suggestively minute. He hastily unpacked it. Then he said something about Cecilia Dobee even more unclerical than his last observation concerning her. There was an excuse for his thus forgetting himself. The valentine, of which she had prayed his acceptance, was a small locket such as a man might hang upon his watch chain. And such a locket! An opal heart set in gold and outlined with pearls. On the back was an inscription—the significant word AEL

To say that Stephen Endacott was aghast at the unblushing effrontery of this valentine would be feebly to express his sensations. He pushed the thing from him savagely; he crumpled up the note with energetic rage; he threw it into the fire. He would have liked to see Cecilia herself consuming in the blaze of that conflagration; he had, indeed, already consigned her to hotter flames.

Then he took a speedy resolution. This time he could not let things slide. There must be no mistake now. He must not keep that obnoxious valentine an hour, unless he was willing to let himself be compromised. He caught up the locket, thrust it into its box and repacked it. It was going back to Cecilia Dobee by the next post. The vicar had rarely before been so angry. He did not even concern himself to answer Cecilia's note. He just sent the locket back in withering silence. If that did not crush her and choke her off for ever, nothing ever would. Perhaps it was as well that she had laid herself open to this crowning snub. The vicar took the locket and posted it with his own hand.

But he had not yet done with Cecilia. When the evening post came in at 7 o'clock, it brought him another packet, larger than the last, bearing at the head of its label the address of a local bookseller. The vicar opened it. A visiting card fell out. He could hardly believe his eyes—"With Miss Dobee's compliments." Was it possible that after that tremendous snub which he had inflicted upon her by returning her locket, she had had the face to send him another present? It seemed incredible. But perhaps she had not received the locket when this book was dispatched. He glanced at the work, "Life of St. Athanasius," elegantly bound in morocco, with a gilt cross upon the cover. An unexceptionable present in itself. But under the circumstances any present was an insult. He tore up the card and tossed it into the fire, impatiently. He left the book lying upon the table.

He then lighted a cigarette and sat back in his chair meditating. The vicar did not feel quite comfortable. An idea had suddenly crossed his mind. Supposing, by any remote chance— Ha! The front door bell! What visitor was going to worry him now at this hour of the evening? It was too provoking of people to come after dinner. The vicar's language was again unclerical. It was nearly being still more so—only he checked himself in time—when the parlor maid threw open the door and announced:

"Mr. and Miss Dobee!"

The vicar sprang from his chair in a hurry. He colored, and both looked and felt embarrassed. There were no two people in the world, at that minute, whose presence could have made him feel more awkward. Lawyer Dobee, however, appeared to be quite at home. He advanced and shook the vicar cordially by the hand.

"Good evening, Endacott. I must apologize for our intrusion. This silly girl of mine said she must come and thank you at once for the handsome present you have sent her. And as I could not let her come alone so late, here we are both together, you see!"

"I—I—" began the vicar, with a very red face, "I—I—"

"Oh, I knew it was you, dear Mr. Endacott," broke in Cecilia, with her most unutterable look. "I recognized your handwriting on the address. It was so good of you. Such a lovely locket. See! I have put it on. Doesn't it look very pretty?"

To judge from the vicar's face he did not think that the locket looked at all pretty—that is, if he saw it, which, in his dazed condition, he probably did not. The sudden shock of this apalling truth, that he had been too precipitate in returning to Cecilia Dobee a locket which she had never sent him, had almost stunned him. In the face of an awkward situation he never showed much presence of mind. On this occasion—which, it must be admitted, was particularly awkward—he was simply bereft of his senses.

"I—I—" he stammered, "that is—I—mean—there—there has been a mistake."

"Eh!" said Lawyer Dobee, suddenly becoming less cordial. "A mistake? I don't quite understand you, Mr. Endacott."

"I—I ought—ought to tell you," mumbled the vicar, more confused than ever. "I mean to say—the fact is—it is rather—rather difficult to explain."

"So it appears," observed Lawyer Dobee, dryly. The vicar's confusion, his embarrassment, his hesitation about speaking out, suggested an absence of straighforwardness in his conduct which made Cecilia's father eye him very queerly.

"The truth is," the vicar blurted out, trying, without much success, to pull himself together, "that the whole affair has—has arisen out of a pure misapprehension. I—I—if you will hear me out I will—will explain it to you."

"If you please, Mr. Endacott," said Lawyer Dobee, regarding him with a grim stare.

The vicar told his tale. He did not tell it at all well. It was perfectly true from first to last, but it did not sound true. Lawyer Dobee's cold gray eyes confused him, made him falter and hesitate. He stammered and blushed like a man prevaricating. Consequently his explanation, as he rendered it, was surprisingly lame. It was evident that Cecilia's father did not believe a word of it.

"A most extraordinary story, Mr. Endacott," he remarked at the end.

"It is the gospel truth: I give you my word," cried the unfortunate vicar.

"Umph!" was Lawyer Dobee's only comment. His face wore a very unpleasant expression.

"Come, Cecilia," he said, turning to his daughter. "We had better be going. In view of your extraordinary explanation, Mr. Endacott, you shall—ah—hear from me further."

* * * * * * *

Lawyer Dobee was not a man to let the grass grow under his feet. Next day he went up to London and interviewed the jeweler from whom the locket had been purchased. The latter produced an order written in the vicar's hand upon Lynedon Vicarage note paper.

"Please send an appro. pearl and opal heart locket as advertised in this week's Universe, at 7 guineas."

Upon the lawyer giving a written undertaking to restore this document, the jeweler obligingly allowed him to take it away with him. Lawyer Dobee smiled to himself as he traveled back with the unanswerable evidence in his pocket. It had been no surprise to him. Probably he knew a good deal about it already. In his younger days he had perpetrated more than one excellent practical joke by his skill in imitating other people's writing. This promised to be the most excellent of them all. At the worst Cecilia's little scheme would fail. There was no greater risk. For in case of dangerous developments arising, what easier than to destroy—that is, to lose—the vicar's order?

But probably no dangerous developments would arise. Endacott was so weak, so nervously afraid of a scandal, that he might be bounced into an engagement at once. At all events, Lawyer Dobee meant to have a shot at it.

He interviewed the vicar next day. The following is a fragment from the close of their conversation:

"Very well, Mr. Endacott, if you refuse to acknowledge your own handwriting, I have no more to say. Of coure, I shall take what steps I may consider necessary to vindicate my daughter."

"But the thing is a forgery—an impudent forgery!" protested the vicar.

Lawyer Dobee shrugged his shoulders.

"A jury will have to decide that point," he said, coldly. "I wish you good morning, Mr. Endacott."

* * * * * * *

Lawyer Dobee, however, was incorrect. A jury did not have to decide that point. But after the next annual confirmation in Lynedon Church, when they adjourned to the vicarage for luncheon, it was to Cecilia, not now Dobee, that the Lord Bishop of the Diocese offered his arm.—London Truth.

LINCOLN'S RENOMINATION.

Scenes at the Baltimore Convention on the Final Roll Call.

That was a business convention, and when the roll call began, Maine simply announced its sixteen votes for Abraham Lincoln. New Hampshire, coming next, attempted to ring in a little speech with its vote, but was summarily choked off with cries of "No speeches," and the call proceeded in an orderly manner, no delegation venturing to make any other announcement than that of its vote. The convention struck a snag when Missouri was reached, and the chairman of the united delegations made a brief speech in which he said that the delegation was under positive instructions to cast its twenty two votes for U. S. Grant; that he and his associates would support any nominee of the convention, but they must obey orders from home.

This caused a sensation, and growls of disapproval arose from all parts of the convention; for it was evident that this unfortunate complication might prevent a unanimous vote for Lincoln. The Missouri delegation, it should be understood had been chosen many weeks before the nomination of Lincoln became inevitable. There was never any recall of the instructions given at a time when it was apparently among the possibilities that another than Lincoln might be the nominee of the National Convention.

When the clerk of the convention announced the result of the roll call, it was found that Abraham Lincoln had 507 votes and U. S. Grant 22 votes. Thereupon Mr. Hume, chairman of the Missouri delegation, immediately moved that the nomination be declared unanimous. This was done. Straightway the long pent up enthusiasm burst forth in a scene of the wildest confusion.

Men hurrahed, embraced one another, threw up their hats, danced in the aisles or on the platform, jumped on the benches, waved flags, yelled, and committed every possible extravagance to demonstrate the exuberance of their joy.

One of the most comical sights which I beheld was that of Horace Maynard and Henry J. Raymond alternately hugging each other and shaking hands, apparently unable to utter a word, so full of emotion were they. And when the big brass band burst out with "Hail Columbia!" the racket was so intolerable that I involuntarily looked up to see if the roof of the theater was not lifted by the volume of sound.

When quiet was restored and other business was about to be resumed, the band again struck up "Yankee Doodle" in its liveliest manner, and another torrent of enthusiasm broke forth; and it was a long time before the excited and jubilant assemblage could be quieted down and order restored.

In those days the mere sight of the American flag or the sound of a national melody would stir an assemblage to fever heat.—Century.

Hawthorne's Early Attempts.

Most of his early attempts at fiction he burned; but in time his hand became surer, and he found that he had learned at last the difficult art of story-telling. His little tales began to be published here and there in monthlies and in annuals. Being anonymous or under differing signatures, they did not attract attention to the author; but in the newspaper notices of the periodicals in which they appeared they were often picked out for praise; and this finally encouraged Hawthorne to gather a score of them into a single volume published in 1837 under the apt title of 'Twice Told Tales.' Although the little book had no remarkable sale, it won its way steadily; and the readers who had enjoyed Irving's pleasant sketches of New York character in 'Rip Van Winkle' and 'The Legend of Sleepy Hollow' could not but remark that Hawthorne's pictures of New England character revealed a stronger imagination and a deeper insight into human nature. Delightful as was Irving's writing, Hawthorne had a richer style and a firmer grasp of the art of fiction.—St. Nicholas.

London Policeman Sleep.

The London policeman is dignified if slow. The other day a citizen stood in the middle of the road out Pimlico way, shouting "Murder!" and "Stop thief!" A crowd gathered, and finally, after about half an hour, a guardian of the peace arrived, who straightway took the man into custody. When arraigned before a magistrate, he explained that it was all an experiment. He was new to the neighborhood and simply wanted to find out how long it would take to attract the attention of the man on the beat. The magistrate discharged him in the interest of science. But the English metropolis has been convulsed by the fact involved in that half hour's delay.

Not in His District.

During the last campaign the candidates were all obliged to run the gauntlet of raffle tickets, church fair tickets, subscriptions, etc. One of the mayoralty candidates was approached by a tall, motherly looking lady who sweetly solicited money for the missionaries in Africa.

"Africa," exclaimed the candidate, "not a cent; it is out of my district."—Wilkes-Barre Leader.

CURE THAT COUGH WITH SHILOH'S CURE

TAKE THE BEST

25cts., 50cts. and $1.00 Bottle. One cent a dose.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For a Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S BELLADONNA PLASTER. 25c.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure. Price, 50 cts. Injector free.

Sold by all druggists.

8 14 y

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " " "
4,925 feet 10 " " "
80,605 feet 8 " " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
179 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,
141 East Front st.

W. K. McCLURE,
Counselor-at-Law.
SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.
First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's
LAW OFFICES,
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.
ADDIS & SON,
PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.
Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg Co,
307 Broadway, New York.
1 5 6m

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America
Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Plainfield as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 20 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.34 p m—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago, and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00 9.08, 9.26 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 08, 9 26 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 34, 5 46, 6 17, 6 48, 7 07 7 20, 7 49, 7 57, 8 06, 8 28, 8 39, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 28, 10 48, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 13, 1 20, 1 58, 2 24, 2 40, 3 45, 3 57, 4 07, 4 43, 5 10, 5 36, 5 48, 6 08, 6 27, 6 48, 6 58, 7 07, 7 26 7 39, 9 a.f. 9 10, 9 50, 10 03 11 03 and 11 56 p. m. Sundays 3 02, 5 34, 7 54, 8 46, 9 30, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 58, 1 54, 2 28, 3 45, 5 48, 6 38, 7 05, 7 12, 7 25, 7 58, 8 30 9 15, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 9 08, 9 36, 11 43 A. M., 1 08, 1 37, 3 28, 5 09, 6 36 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 6 37, 9 05, 9 36, 10 41 A. M., 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 39 a. m.

Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Delaware—1, 3 daily ex. Monday, 4 08, 6 44, 7 10, 7 39, 8 44, 9 48, 9 50, 10 39, 11 43, a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 1 37, 2 48 3 20, 3 39, 3 49, 4 38, 4 58, 5 22, 6 40, 6 46, 8 06 9 12, 9 37, 9 47, 6 48, 9 52, 10 39, 11 43 p. m. and 12 37 night week-days Sundays, 1, 1 43, 6 39, 7 43, 9 49, 10 26 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 2 47, 3 28, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 58 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 7 39, 9 08 9 36, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 46, 1 37, 2 48, 3 39, 4 38, 5 08, 6 40, 6 46, 8 06 9 12, and 11 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 39, 9 05, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39 a.m., 12 46, 5 20, 4 58, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 54 p.m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 25, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39, 12 46 3 20, 4 58, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 36 9 54 and 12 27, Sundays, 1 43 10 25, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 p. m., 12 38, 2 48 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 7 39 9 08, 9 36, 11 43 A. M., 1 08, 1 37, 2 48, 5 09, 6 36, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 6 37, 9 05, 9 36, 10 41 A. M., 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 39 A. M., 2 48 and 6 36 p. m., and 5 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 39 A. M.; 2 48 P. M.

For Freehold—7 39, 11 43 a. m. 4 36, 6 09 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 43 a. m., 4 36 and 6 09 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 19 5 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p. m.

For Boston—2 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 30, 7 30, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 30, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 30, 6 40, 7 00, 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 30 p. m., 12 10 night. Sundays, 1 00 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00, 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10 15, 10 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

G. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 5 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a. m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 11, 1895.

Armstrong J E	Ledeon L
Anderson Mrs Mary	Lloyd Miss
Bronson Miss E	Lowe Miss
Byron John	Laing Mrs N M
Bunn Mrs J N	Myers Fred H
Banner J	Mulligan Ellen
Blythe Katie	Macousen John
Bicker M	Miller J J
Brokaw Mrs Mary E	McKenna Michael
Baldwin W D	Hoyt W H
Bollson Wm	McElvaine Minnie
Colgate G S	Peterson Rev F E
Colin Mrs L P	Pettonienie Maria
Clark Miss	Potts Geo H
Coalds Mary	Ray Georgia W
Carter W H	Rose Geo H
deGallarraga Dr J A	Randolph H R
Demarest D C	Reid Lizzie F
Dyckman Naomi F	Ruellan Mr
Edmonson Mamie	Randolph Mrs S R
Flanagan P	Randolph Sarah
G F R	Ross Will
Green John	Smith Hattie E
Hughes Annie	Starr W E
Hoehn Chas H	Schott Miss
Howell Frank	S H S
Hale Capt Geo	Thompson Frank
Henskins Jerry	Webber Mrs Anna
Hill Mrs Lithe	Williams Harry
Jones Lucy	Whiting Miss
Jones Lewis	Woman's Exchange
Jackson W H	Wilson M A
	Williams Minnie A

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½
Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.
Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.
We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,
222 West Front st

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring clean cars and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 34, 5 37, 6 30, 6 50, 7 30, 8 00, 9 10, 7 00, 7 40, 8, 9 10, 9 37, 10 31, 11 40 a. m., 12 10, 1 00, 2 11, 3 00, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 30 p. m. Sunday—2 34, 5 37, 6 30, 7 00, 8 00, 9 10, 10 00, 11 30 a. m., 12 00, 1 00, 2 00, 3 00, 4 00, 5 00, 6 00, 7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 30 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 00, 6 00, 7 10, 8 00, 9 00, 10 30, 11 30 a. m., 1 30, 2 00, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4, 4 30, 5, 5 30, except Saturday, 6 00 5 45, 6 00, 6 30, 7, 7 30, 8, 8 30, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 p. m., night, Sundays—4 30, 7 10, 8 00, 9 15, a. m., 12 00, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 p. m., night.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 6 32, 6 50, 8 10, 9 10, 9 32, 9, 8 00 9 32, 10 00, 10 32, a. m., 12 00, 1 15, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 32, 6 00, 6 32, 7 32, 9 00, 11 32 p. m. Sunday—7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 32 p. m.

Leave Newark 6 15, 7 15, 7 55, 8 10, 9 00, 10 00, 11 32 a. m., 1 15, 1 32, 2 30 Saturday only, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, 6 00, 6 30, 7 32, 9 00, 10 00, 11 32 p. m. Sunday—7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 32 p. m.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 48, 7 10, 8 16, 9 56, 11 a.m., 12 05, 2 05, 3 23, 4 48, 5 05, 6 14, 8 04, 9 10, 10 37 p. m.

Somerville 6 21, 10 36, 11 23, p. m., 12 38 night Sunday—6 48, 8 00, 9 04, a. m., 2 05, 5 20, 6 14, 9 10, 10 37 p. m.

Leave Somerville, 6, 8 30, 7 00, 7 36, 7 56, 8 20, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 A. M., 12 50, 1 48, 3 05, 4 25, 4 35, 5 28, 6 28, 6 28, 8 17, 9 45, 11 05, P. M. Sunday 8 25, 9 48, 10 55 A. M., 12 05, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 02, 9 02, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 6 48, 8 16, 9 54, A.M., 12 48, 3 05, 5 14, 7 32, 9 21 P. M. Sunday—6 48, 8 32 A. M., 3 05, 9 02, P. M.

Leave Easton 6 05, 7 00, 8 55, A.M., 12 32, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sunday—7 15, 10 52, A. M. 6 40, 7 30, 9 10 P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 48 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Bangor and Mauch Chunk, Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 05 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

5 16 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 55 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

9 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

8 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 26 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 9 03 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6 55 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 27 a. m. 1 25 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 8 27, 8, 10 27, a. m 1 12, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove) 8 02, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 27, 5 32, 8 10 27 a. m., 1 12, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 7 08 p.m. Sunday—9 02, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 27, 8, 10 27 a.m., 1 12, 3 51, 4 50, p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 6 48, 8 16 9 56, 10 56, p. m., 2 08, 5 32 8 21, 8 27 p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—6 48, 9 56, a. m., 2 08, 5 14, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 6 48, 8 16, 9 56, 10 56, a. m., 12 48, 2 08, 5 32, 8 21, 9 27 p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday—6 48, 9 56, a. m., 2 08, 5 14, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 6 55, 9 06, 10 25, a.m., 12 15, 2 10, 4 20, 6 54, 9 08 p.m. Sundays—1 00, 6 55, 9 06, 10 27 a. m., 1 10, 4 25 6 45, 9 06 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked • change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H P. BALDWIN. Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS
COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.
ESTABLISHED 1840.
Nearly 100,000 Now In Use.
RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO
EASY TERMS.—EXCHANGED.
Catalogue mailed on application.
110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

MONEY LOANED.
Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you poss

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J

We make prices this week that will move them like feathers before a March wind.

UNUSUAL.

Great reductions, "half price sales," and "goods at cost," usually mean undesirable things that must faily be kicked out, if they are to go out.

This week we offer two brilliant exceptions—

1st—$12 and $15 Ulsters at $7.90.

2d—$15 and $20 Overcoats at $10.90.

WERNER'S, 206 West Front St.

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19-tf

QUEER TRADE MARKS

UNCLE SAM HAS REGISTERED 26,000 OF THEM.

Some of the Official Marks Are Absurd as Well as Queer. Grounds Upon Which Registration May Be Refused. Favorite Designs and Newly Coined Words.

Uncle Sam registered trade mark No. 26,000 the other day. The fee paid was, as usual, $25. This is a very profitable part of the business of the patent office. It is governed by regulations which in many respects are both odd and interesting. The trade marks themselves are curiosities and not a few of them freaks, for a device of this kind is more valuable if absurd than if sensible.

The newer an invention the more valuable it is. If it has been in public use for so short a time as two years it cannot be patented. With a trade mark the case is exactly opposite; its worth grows steadily with age. It represents a business or a marketable article, with the growth or sale of which it obtains value progressively. It is the symbol of a trade. When one buys a cigar he looks on the box not for the name of the manufacturer but for the trade mark. If the cigar does not correspond to the trade mark you are annoyed and the maker of the cigar to which that trade mark properly belongs is injured.

It is the same way with any other sort of goods. You pick up a newspaper and you find the advertising columns full of trade marks. Here is the "Diana" flour, pure as the virgin snow. Your wife never buys any other brand. She doesn't even know the name of the manufacturer. The same remark applies to "Hygeia" hams. The trade mark is the business, an infringement is robbery. Accordingly the law protects it. Great fortunes are frequently at stake in suits that have to do with these trade emblems.

Anybody may get a trade mark for nothing. He has only to adopt it and it becomes his exclusive property, so long as nobody has taken it previously for designating goods of the same sort. Furthermore, the law will defend him in this right. But if he is a prudent man he has the trademark registered—that is to say, put on record at the patent office. The $25 paid for this is money well spent. He thus obtains the privilege of suing in the United States courts in case of infringement. The practice of those courts in such matters is settled, so that justice is pretty sure to be done. Otherwise he would be obliged to go to the State courts, where the outcome of legal proceedings on these grounds is more doubtful.

There is another good reason for registering a trade mark. The word "registered" appears to signify that the owner is disposed to defend his property, and thus it is apt to scare off persons who might be tempted to infringe. A registration is good for thirty years and may be renewed indefinitely. But an unregistered trade mark is a legal right in perpetuity and can never die, unless the business which it represents goes out of existence. It is common law property and passes from hand to hand with the business. Another odd thing about a trade mark is that it may possess considerable value, though the article for which it stands be utterly worthless.

The purpose of a trade mark is to identify origin and ownership. It ought to denote nothing else. Under the regulations it must not be descriptive of the ingredients of which an article is composed or in any other way. On that ground the patent office has refused to register the name "Fruit Butter" as a trade mark. It has likewise ruled against "Egg Macaroni" as being descriptive or calculated to deceive. Here was a case where the name signified that certain materials were used in making the food. If those materials were not so used people would be misled. If they were actually employed the term was objectionable on the ground already mentioned. Similar rulings have been made against "Snow White" for flour, "Think Back" for saws, and "Tasteless."

"Gold Prize" has been ruled out as either descriptive or deceptive. If no gold prize was given to the article the purchaser might be deceived. A similar instance was that of the legend "There's Money In It" on soap boxes. Registration for this also was refused. It was decided by a recent commissioner of patents that the word "stylographic," being generic for pens, could not be used as a trademark for an ink specially adapted for stylographic pens. Other adverse rulings have been made respecting "Shake" blown into bottles and "Burglar Alarm." "'Alf an' 'Alf" was shut out because the trade mark "1-2 and 1-2" had been previously registered in the class of drinkables. On the descriptive ground "Chili Colorow" was not allowed as a trade mark for pickles because it is provincial Spanish for red pepper.

People often try to secure the registration of trade marks that embody figures or emblems associated with religion. This is severely frowned upon by the patent office. For example, not long ago a design of this sort submitted included a representation of the Virgin Mary. It was promptly rejected as offensive. Acting in a spirit of broad catholicity, this ruling is not applied merely to matters having to do with Christianity. On one occasion it shut out a picture of a Chinese god. The red Greek cross is objected to also, though on other grounds. It will not do as a trademark for any article that might serve to supply invalid soldiers. The reason for this is quite obvious. It is the emblem of the Red Cross Society, an international organization. Its use as a trade mark on certain classes of goods might lead people to imagine that those goods were indorsed or actually manufactured by the society.

Favorite designs for trade marks are figures representing Hercules, Atlas supporting the world, an Indian, an alchemist, a saint and a good samaritan. The star and crescent frequently occur, separately or together. The owl is found in a variety of classes of marketable articles, being very old in the tobacco trade. The crow is conspicuous in pills, dyes and leather dressings. An odd emblem is a railway train for "Express Ointment." Another is a bottle shaped like a watch and containing pills. Yet another for pills is a conventionalized Roman candle shooting its balls, the latter being termed "Rheumatic Bullets." The more odd, and even nonsensical, a design, the better it serves for a trade mark.

Any man's signature will do for a trade mark. A word from the dictionary will serve the same purpose, likewise the name of a god or goddess of mythology. "Eureka" or "Excelsior" will pass, but not so if anybody has previously registered the same word or name in the same class of goods. For example, if Jones has adopted and registered the name "Hygeia" for his pills, Smith must select some other name for his pellets of health. Objection is raised against geographical names, but rulings on this point have been somewhat contradictory. A while ago the word "Concord" was submitted and the application was refused. On appeal to the commissioner of patents it was successfully argued that "concord" was recognized in the English language as having a meaning entirely apart from its geographical significance. So it went through. On the strength of this precedent "Atlanta" was admitted, the contention being that the word was historically derived from a period far more remote than the founding of the capital city of Georgia.

However, it is not necessary that a word should be accepted by lexicographers in order that it may serve for a trade mark. People engaged in introducing new articles into the market commonly coin words to fit their purposes. This they do very often by adding the terminations "in," "ine" and "tine"—as "Limins," "Absorbtine," "Epidermaline," and "Vulnerine." One purpose of the trade mark, and a very important purpose incidental to advertising, is to attract attention. "Society Polish" is a first rate name for a leather dressing, for instance. It has a double meaning, you see. The same idea is illustrated by such trade marks as "Skin Success," "Bile Beans" and "Chill and Fever Breakers."

From what has been said already it will appear that the same trade mark may be used over and over again in different classes of marketable articles. The prohibition is against its employment in any way that may lead to mistake on the part of the purchaser. On this ground many applications for rights in the name "Liebig" have been rejected. But obviously "Owl" pills could not be mixed up in anybody's mind with "Owl" sheetings. The cross is no trade mark—that is to say, nobody is permitted to monopolize it in all of its patterns in any class of goods. Having numerous typical shapes—the Greek, Roman, etc.—it may only be made proprietary in a specific pattern. An opposite rule applies to the eagle. There are several species of eagles in the world, but only one type is recognized by the patent office, simply for the reason that the public at large does not differentiate the bald eagle from the golden eagle, and so forth.

Rebuses and monograms are peculiar as trade marks. In many cases one finds the familiar "I-X-L." Geographical names are admissible if printed in some distinctive manner. For example, "Baltimore" would not be registerable if printed in ordinary type, but in red script it would go. Arbitrary arrangements of words and letters will serve as trade marks, inasmuch as in a manner they represent new designs. Representations of the United States flag or coat of arms are not allowed, because the proprietor must have exclusive ownership of the design. An arrangement of colors will not do for a trade mark, unless associated with some emblem or other design. In other words, form as well as color is required.

A portrait may be a trade mark. Manufacturers of patent medicines commonly use their likenesses for this purpose. The portrait of a public man, or of any other living person, may be employed lawfully with the consent of the individual. But when the person is dead his portrait ceases to be his private property and may be utilized for advertising purposes for anybody. Thus Washington and Franklin are most frequently made use of to give a post-mortem indorsement to articles which in many cases they would doubtless disapprove of most highly.

One of the oddest of registered trade marks is the "Angel Belt"—a medicinal belt that is represented in the design as hung upon a ladder. This ladder, of course, is the one that is supposed to lead to heaven. Labels, it should be said, cannot be registered as a rule. Either they contain descriptive matter or they include trade marks registered as such. There is a journal in this country called the Trademark Record, which is published chiefly for the purpose of recording proceedings instituted in the courts in behalf of rights secured by trade marks.—Boston Transcript.

The Country Preferable to Chicago.

A farmer in central Illinois wrote that he wanted to hire a married man to help him on the farm. The wife was to do the housework and the pay for the couple was to be $25 a month, not a large sum, but much more than many a family in Chicago has at the end of the month after paying house rent and grocery bills. In a few days the bureau found an honest appearing and willing German who had been out of work for a long time and who gladly went with his wife to accept the offer. Two weeks later the couple sent for the wife's sister, who was a widow, and her two children.

The sister became housekeeper for a neighboring farmer. Within two months the German sent for his parents, whom he had been compelled to support. They had been paying $6 a month house rent in Chicago. He found a cottage and garden patch which could be rented for $3 a month.

The colony wrote back to the bureau that the change was for the better.—Chicago Record.

The Chicago Man's Tale.

"It is my experience," said the Chicago man, "that a rat terrier makes the best kind of bird dog.

"I have a trained rat terrier that can locate a covey of birds at any distance. Now, the minute he gets a covey located he begins tapping with his tail. We have a code arranged between us. He gives me the signals under the Morse system of dots and dashes. For instance, the last time I was out with him he stopped suddenly and began marking off the dots and dashes with his tail. I kept count and read: 'P—C—30.' That meant 'prairie chickens 30 yards ahead:

"'How many?' I whispered to him.

"He sneaked up a little distance and counted off forty-three. I slipped in one of my special make cartridges, which are so flattened that the shot spread from side to side, but not up and down. By the use of these cartridges when a covey of chickens rise in a line I can bag the whole lot.

"When the chickens lifted I blazed away, and not one of them fell—at least I didn't see any fall—but I walked up to the place and the ground was literally covered with the feet of prairie chickens. I had aimed just a little bit too low. I counted the feet and there were exactly eighty-six—two for each chicken. I did it merely to check up the dog's count. It shows how well the dog is trained."—Chicago Record.

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10½c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

Our Men's $3 Shoes

will give you lots of wear and good solid comfort.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue.

BIG CUT.

Special Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia 1 lb Print Creamery Butter 20 cts.

4 lbs cod fish for 25 cents; 1 lb package best macaroni 7½ cents; Dried green peas 5 cents a quart; Best laundry starch 5 cents lb; Granulated sugar 4 cents lb; 2 lbs extra creamery cheese for 23 cents.

AT FULPER'S.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

L Y H A O E I T S U O R E T M I R E S O P U B C F T R A P T

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts, Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

THE SECOND PROMISE

By HOWARD FIELDING

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER I.

THE BIRD THAT WAS SET FREE.

Perfumes appeal to the memory in an extraordinary degree. This is sound scientific doctrine, and it is true, besides. Take that old glove out of its casket, my venerable and lonely friend. You may look upon it with a steady eye, perhaps; but if there linger in it the fragrance of the hand it held so long ago, you dare not raise it to your lips and say you have forgotten.

The sights of spring delight us for their promise, but the scented breeze blows out of the past, and we turn our face toward it. To Arthur Lynde, stretched upon his couch by the open window, the breath of early June came laden with more than a single season's sweetness—with the fragrance of blossoms that had grown to fruit, and ripened, and fallen to the ground. Whether the memories it brought were joyous, or trivial, or sad, he turned to the past willingly, for there was no future. His life lay all behind him. He could look upon it without shame or any sharp regret for opportunities neglected. It had been a happy life and a short one. Thirty years measured it.

Among the scenes that came back to him in the spring morning was one of trifling importance; but it came with singular vividness, and great persistance. He was a little boy then, and he had been quite ill, so that he lay in bed while the spirit of the springtime beckoned to him from outside the window, and he could not go. It was hard to wait for returning health, and sometimes he became desperately impatient, taxing the ingenuity of his mother to amuse him, but not her love to bear with him.

There was a canary in a cage in his room. His mother had given him the bird, and he felt most tenderly toward it. He had never before thought its lot hard, but, being then in captivity himself, he was moved to pity the little prisoner; so he besought his mother to open the door of the cage and give the bird at least the freedom of the room. She yielded to his entreaties, but, unhappily, neglected to close all the windows. Thus it chanced that the canary gained its freedom altogether and returned no more. Arthur grieved exceedingly, and quite unselfishly, for he thought less of his own loss than of the fate of the little bird which, bred in a cage, was unfit for liberty and would almost certainly perish. To console him, his mother said that the canary would realize its danger and would return, being provided with an infallible instinct as a guide. Believing implicity what his mother said, and observing that the bird did not come back, Arthur accepted the logical conclusion that it preferred freedom even at the price.

This small tragedy of his childhood was all in the June breeze, as he lay by the open window and inhaled the scent of blossoms.

Suddenly there was a sound in the room not dissimilar to the whir of a bird's wings, and then a voice cried:

"Good morning, Arthur, dear; I've come to keep you company."

He turned his pale face toward her, and she fluttered down beside the couch and kissed him. She was a picture in the soft tints of the blossoms, with blue and gold added.

"Don't you feel a great deal stronger this morning?" she asked. "Surely you must on such a day as this."

"I wish I could say so truly, for your sake," he replied. "But I am no better to-day; and, what is much more to be regretted, I am no worse."

"Don't speak like that," she cried. "I had hoped so much that Dr. Marston would help you."

"I think the time has come," he said, "to lay such hopes aside. Dr. Marston is older in practice and a more competent physician than I am. I would have said a year ago that his opinion in such a case was worth more than that of any other man in this part of the world—certainly far more than mine. But it isn't. They are both equally valueless. I do not know what is the matter with me, and neither does he; and that's all about it. His view of the probabilities of the case is exactly what mine is; that I shall lie here for months, perhaps for years, and pass from death-in-life to rest, at my appointed hour, which nobody can predict."

She drew away from him, and sank into a great chair, sobbing like a child.

"You always make me cry," she said. "If you would only be more cheerful."

"As to that," he replied, "I have a plan. It is impossible for me to be cheerful, but why should my gloom envelop you? It has done so, for nearly a year, since this illness came upon me. Every day you have brought the light of your presence to me, dear little wife, and God knows I am unspeakably grateful. But I am not so selfish as to permit this to continue. This room has been a prison to you as it has to me. I am going to open the door."

She looked at him uneasily. How had she shown him that she felt herself a prisoner?

"You have tried to do too much," he said; "and the inevitable consequence has come. It is all my fault. My selfishness was very short-sighted. If I had been wise enough at first to regulate your self-sacrifice, I might not now be the burden upon you that I am. You have read to me, talked to me, sung to me, and have been my consolation by day and by night. But what have I been to you? A sorrow and a care, the embodiment of misfortune, a spectacle of death with which your young and vigorous life could have no sympathy. What can come of it? Only unhappiness. I tell you that when nature has determined to sever a tie, it snaps; and those who cling the longest when she bids them part, suffer the most."

Her lips quivered, and a tear rolled from each of her eyes. She only half understood him; but, misled by conscience, she thought he was reproving her. It was true that she had found it very hard to give up so much of the gay life to which she had always been accustomed, yet she had done it for his sake. Why should he speak in this way? She took high ground with him.

"It is a wife's duty—" she began.

He smiled bitterly.

"It is a dead man's duty," he said, "to withdraw himself from the concerns of living persons. I have failed in that particular. Let us think less of your duty and more of mine. I am an utterly helpless creature. I cannot move either of my legs, and my right hand is just strong enough to hold my left upon my breast as I lie here, hour after hour."

"I love you," she sobbed.

"You pity me at this moment, but love me you cannot. Hereafter, when both of us are freed from the limitations of the flesh, it may be possible. But in this world, encumbered by these mortal bodies, love means life and health. It is reciprocal. It is a sentiment inspired by nature for her own purposes, and terminable at her pleasure. No human will can summon it or hold it. Am I the same to you as I was? Does your heart leap at the sound of my voice and tremble at a caress? I would not have it so. It would be unnatural, monstrous."

She tried very hard to turn him from his gloomy and desperate trend of thought.

"I am waiting," she said, "till you are well again."

"Dear little girl," he said gently. "I shall never be well. And now let's see what's to be done about it. I have spoken too bitterly, and have frightened you. And yet it is my wish to make you happy. Listen! I want you to go out into the world, and live your life."

"What! Go away from you?"

"Now, don't be frightened. Of course you'll live here, and run into this cage of mine whenever you wish to have a look at me. I'll always be glad to see you. But don't ever think that you must come. Go out into society, and have people come here if they can stand it, knowing that my body's in the house. Get your old friends back again, and make new ones, both men and women. Dance, and play tennis, and ride in the park as you used to do. Spend a lot of money. There's plenty of it. I only wish I could help you do all these things, but, as I can't, you must do them twice as hard. And every time a gloomy thought of me comes over you, say to yourself: 'I'm doing what he wants me to do. I'm doing what will make him the happiest.' And if you fall in love—"

"Arthur!"

"Now, little girl, let's be reasonable. I've proven to you that you can't love me. And love comes when you least expect it. Suppose, just for the sake of the contract we're to make, that you really do find some handsome and agreeable fellow who very naturally has forgotten that I am alive, and proceeds on the theory that I am not; and suppose, further, that you find yourself thinking of him oftener than is really necessary, will you promise to come to me and tell me all about it? That's the contract I mentioned. It's like this: You're to be perfectly free, the absolute mistress of your own heart and conduct. I renounce all claims. And in consideration of my generosity, you agree to tell me when you fall in love with somebody else."

SHE FELL ON HER KNEES BESIDE THE COUCH.

She fell on her knees beside the couch, and, clasping his hand, shed tears upon it.

"I have been cruel to you," she sobbed. "I have let you see that sometimes I was restless and impatient of my duty. And this is my punishment. You have ceased to love me, and you no longer care what I do. You wish to drive me away from you."

"Promise!"

"To love you always."

"You made that promise two years ago—to love me while I lived. You have kept it. You have loved me while I lived. Now for the second promise. You would remember me in my grave if a new love came to you, and would hesitate for the sake of that memory. Your faith would whisper to you: 'He knows. Will he forgive?' I tell you in advance, I will. But, in this living death, I crave the power of the angels. I would know. Will you promise?"

And, protesting that it was a sacrilege, she promised.

Then he spoke very calmly and cheerfully to her.

"You see I had to make a scene of this," he said, "or we never should have come to any decision about it. I've tried, before, to make you go back into society, but you would not understand me. It was necessary to startle you as I have done. But after you think it over you'll see that I have only considered your health and happiness. As to what I've said about love, it's all true enough and I hold you to your promise. But don't make a nightmare of it. You're not obliged to fall in love with somebody else, you know, just because I've suggested the possibility. You're not obliged to do anything, in fact. That's the point; you are free. We've discussed the subject, and we've decided that it is not your duty to give all your waking thoughts to me; that, in short, you are absolved, by the nature of the case, from any duty whatever so far as I am concerned. Your own self respect is quite enough. And now we've settled the whole matter, so run away and play, little girl, with a light heart."

He would not permit her to speak seriously any more. He forced her to leave him, and promise that she would go out into the air. Presently he saw her in the garden whence she threw a kiss to him.

A little later she was in earnest conference across the garden fence with a big, good-looking young fellow who was ridiculously encumbered by a great variety of bundles and boxes. Lynde recognized him as Walter Carroll, a great swell in college athletics up to his graduation a year before. He passed on and directly Mrs. Lynde ran breathlessly into her husband's room.

"Arthur," she said, "if you really mean it—"

He turned pale and then laughed.

"Upon my word, you startled me," he cried. "Walter is a very fascinating young man, and—"

"Now don't be absurd any more. What I want to know is whether you were in earnest about not caring to have me stay with you to-day. Because there's a tennis tournament, and they're one girl short, and I can play with Walter Carroll in the doubles. So it won't make any difference about my being out of practice because he can beat all the rest of them put together. Those were the prizes he had in those packages. They're making him do all the work, just as they always do, because he's so obliging. Now don't you think it would do me good—"

"HE IS SO OBLIGING."

"My dear child," he said, "of course I think so. Play, by all means, and win a prize. I don't see how you can help it, considering the number of them. Now run away, and get out your prettiest tennis dress and—"

She was gone like a flash.

"Well, I didn't think she'd take this quite so easily," muttered Lynde, "but then I never did understand women."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

—Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., will take possession of their new rooms in the Babcock Building two weeks from tonight.

—The boys have begun to take advantage of the March winds, and their kites may be seen sailing in the air on any afternoon.

—Steam fitters from New York are busily engaged today in moving the radiators in the postoffice to more convenient places, and also putting one up in the carriers room.

—Rev. F. W. Farr of New York will address the Plainfield Branch of the Christian Alliance Tuesday afternoon at 7:30, at 317 East Front street. His subject will be "The Four-Fold Gospel". Professor Farr is widely known as one of the ablest expositors of the doctrines of sanctification and divine healing. All are cordially invited.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs and expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

A. Lusardi,
No. 120 North Ave.,
Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.
Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets

M. M. DUNHAM,
Real Estate and Insurance.
7 East Front Street.

CODDINGTON'S
FURNITURE AND FREIGHT
EXPRESS.
OFFICE—24 West Front street; 28 Park avenue
Post Office Box 320.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfactio guaranteed. 113

BAMBERGER'S
THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE
NEWARK, N. J.

Phenomenal Values
IN
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

The careful housewife whose thoughts will soon turn to spring house cleaning and fixings, and who desires to practice economy, cannot possibly make a better investment than in the grand values we offer in Upholstery Goods.

New Nottingham Lace Curtains,
Very choice and well covered designs and excellent quality.
98c Value, $1.49 Value, $1.98 Value, $2.98 Value, $3.98 Value
59c 98c $1.25 $1.98 $2.98

FIGURED CHINA SILK
for drapery and also suitable for pillow covering, new designs and choice colors, value 69c. at 49 cents.

FIGURED SILKALINE
36 inches wide, fine designs and desirable colorings, value 12½c, at 7½ cents.

TAMBONIED SASH MUSLIN
with double border and well covered centres, in the latest designs, very choice quality, value 19c, at 12½ cents.

CHENILLE PORTIERES,
each pair 75 inches wide, wide dado and frieze and heavy tassel fringe, excellent weighty quality, all the most desirable shades, value $2.98, at $1.98.

Mail orders promptly filled.

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,
147 and 149 Market Street,
Near Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

OU MAY BE HAPPY
—IN—
Hallock's Handsome Hats.

Sanitary Science,
THE NATION'S PRIDE.
Excelsior Disinfector,
The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.
LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

IF YOU WANT
ANY REAL ESTATE,
Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.
Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.
F. M. BACON,
Babcock Building, Room 211.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes
at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.
E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE
Established 1841.
The Selection
of a Carpet,
is not always an easy matter. One thing about buying here, we have plenty of stock, a wide range of patterns, and we never hurry a customer to a decision Our salesmen are painstaking, and will gladly show you every pattern in stock i' it will help you to decide. We are now exhibiting many new styles in Royal Wilton
Bundhai Wilton
Velvets
Body Brusse's
Tapestry Brussels
and Ingrains
Also Art Squares
Oilcloths
Linoleums Etc.
Our recent importations of
Mattings!
are larger than ever 200 pieces of choice Chinese and Japanese from $3.75 piece upward.
HEATH & DRAKE,
777 and 779 BROAD STREET,
Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,
FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,
Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st
Taylor's French System
used. Suits $6.00 and upward.
22 tf

FLORIST.
A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 225 1m

Central Employment Office
218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.
All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,
Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Segars, Etc.,
128 NORTH AVENUE,
FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,
10 CENTS A QUART.
I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.
Hummer & Mulford,
VARIETY MARKET,
Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.
220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Telephone call, 29 A.
Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,
26 acres, or in plots to suit.
Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.
L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salted Meats,
smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 203 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

SUPPER AND SONG.

Baptist Young Missioners Conduct a Delightful Affair.

Whenever the Young Ladies Mission Band of the First Baptist Church wish to reach the pocketbooks of their many friends, they get together and plan one of their interesting and novel entertainments, and success is assured. They have become an established and recognized factor in the church for their zeal and spirit in missionary enterprise.

The young women were in need of money to carry on their missionary work, so it was decided to give a New England supper two nights, commencing last evening. They also provided an excellent entertainment, which followed the supper.

Artistic hands developed novel ideas, and made the lecture room a scene of ideal pleasure to all. The decorations, which were pink and white, were a pretty arrangement of bunting and flowers. Large streamers gracefully adorned the main room, while the numerous tables were made so inviting with the choicest taste and design that none could pass without "sitting by" and indulging in a good old fashioned supper, which included turkey, chicken, cold meats, baked beans, crullers, coffee, and all the requisite side dishes. And then there were the charming waitresses in caps and white aprons, who attended to every need in the most approved style.

After all who wished had been supplied, the tables were cleared, and the audience listened for one hour to a most pleasing entertainment.

A violin duet by Lindsey Fillman and Willie McKillop, with Walter Reynolds as accompanist, was the first number, and the rendition was exceedingly creditable and meritorious.

Miss Sarah Manning then sang the Waltz Song from Gounod's Romeo and Juliet, and "With verdure clad" from Haydn's Creation. Miss Harriet Manning was the accompanist. The selections were appreciated, and received hearty applause.

A novel feature was the whistling solo, "The Palms", by Mr. Evans, which called forth the approbation of everyone. Mr. Evans responded with another choice selection.

Miss Florence Dodge, dressed in quaint old-fashioned style, gave an exceedingly amusing recitation which kept the audience in a very good humor.

Contralto solos, Recitative and Aria from Rossini's Semiramide, and from Sullivan's Lost Chord, by Miss Harriet Manning, were fully enjoyed. Mr. Evans again pleased all by his whistling of two pretty selections, and the programme closed with a duet by the Misses Manning, "Forever with the Lord", by Gounod. Their excellent voices blended in the sweetest harmony, which was heartily applauded.

Those identified with this most successful event, under the very able leadership of Mrs. DeWitt C. Brokaw as chairman, were:

Refreshment Committee—Mrs Elvin VanName, Mrs Charles Conover, Mrs Phillip Macintyre, Mrs King, Miss Trewin, Miss Mary Thorn, Miss Ida Grant.

Ice-cream—Misses Laura Runyon, Louise Runyon, Manning, Coriell, Shreve, Lizzie Smalley, Love, Mrs Simpson, Mrs Harry Brokaw.

Entertainment Committee—Miss Speer, Miss Mamie French.

Decorating Committee—Misses Edith Harold, Grace Yerkes, Mrs Clinton Randolph.

Those in charge of the tables—Mrs Fred Slater, Mrs G H Batchelor, Mrs G F Brown, Mrs William Worth, Mrs C H Smith, Mrs Clinton Randolph, Mrs Walter McGee, Misses Anna Boice, Mamie French, Ida Yerkes, Ella Serrell, Florence Marsh.

At the candy table were Mrs Budd Vail, Mrs Frank Jones, the Misses Susie Woodland, Bertha Needham, and Mary Clawson.

Lemonade stand—Misses Rafferty, Edna Smith, Belle Milne, Della Graub.

Among the waitresses were the Misses Miles, Florence Serrell, Susie Milne, Margaret Coriell, Elsie Brokaw, Jennie Saxton, Jessie Saxton, Percy Emmons, May McLaughlin, Nora Williams, Laura Emmons, Grace Bonny, Bertha Thorn, Addie Manning, Lewis and Coddington.

Miss May Serrell represented "Dame Durden", and sold her famous cookbook.

The affair will be continued this evening with a change of programme.

Township Committee Organizes.

The North Plainfield Township Committee, Frank Mobus, R. M. Fountain and Elias Allen, with Clerk H. J. Martin, met last evening in Demler's Hotel and organized by electing Frank Mobus chairman and R. M. Fountain treasurer.

They then adjourned for one week, when they will meet at the same place.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PLAINFIELD'S BASEBALL.

The Town Should Not Be Content to Revel in Past Glories, But Should Awake to Other Conquests.

As the season for baseball approaches, the kranks of Plainfield are sad at heart, for they realize for another season we are to be without baseball.

There is no reason why Plainfield should not have baseball, and if some one would take the initiative step a team could be organized that would be strong enough to cope with any that might come along. There is plenty of undeveloped talent among the young players of Plainfield; and if such a man as Leo Smith was put at the head of it, there would be no necessity of employing any more professional talent other than a catcher. We have many amateur players that, under the tuition of such a strong ball player as Leo Smith, would soon shine as stars. In the McLoughlin brothers we have a brace of pitchers that would be able to hold down the best hitters that might face them. The trolley line to the grounds of the Crescent Wheelmen is an assured fact, and is bound to be in operation at an early date, and the greatest obstacle to baseball (remoteness of the diamond) will then be removed.

Let some one take hold and give us baseball!—is the cry of the krank.

Whether we have a team or not, the lovers of the game will always watch the movements of the stars who have gone from Plainfield, and it may be of interest to the public to note where the boys have gone. Turner is again with Philadelphia, and Keeler and Brown are with Baltimore. Little Keenan goes to Binghamton of the New York State League; Rafferty to Wilkesbarre; Heckman to Albany; and our own Leo Smith to Atlanta, of the Southern League. Freddy Jones will probably be again with Somerville, where he caught so cleverly last season.

FIRST SERIES NEARLY OUT.

Prosperous Condition of the Plainfield Building Loan.

Shareholders in the Plainfield Building Loan Association will be jubilant when they read the report of Secretary B. F. Coriell, to be issued this week. The Auditing Committee met with the Secretary and Treasurer last night, and passed on their books and accounts. The Directors will meet Thursday night in W. R. Codington's office. The accounts show the various series to stand as follows:

1—Just completing the eleventh year, and final payment to be made in May. Each share, $132 paid in; value, $196.10. Number of shares, 589.

2—Begun in 1887. 415 shares. Each share, paid in $91; value, $139 42.

3—Begun in 1890. 217 shares. Each share, paid in $54; value, $75 35.

4—Begun in 1894. 338 shares. Each share, paid in $6; value, $6 53.

The first series has handled $300,000 and has been administered so well that there has been no loss whatever, and no property has been left on the association's hands. This is a most gratifying return to the people for their investments.

The annual meeting will be held next Monday night.

A Grand Bred Youngster for the Avon Park Stud.

At the sale at Madison Square Garden yesterday, M. Quinn bought a young son of the great Sable Wilkes, 2:18, dam, Woodford Queen, dam of the famous young brood mare, Hinda Wilkes. Hinda Wilkes is ten years old and has three of her produce with records better than 2:20. She was sold as a brood mare at public auction a few weeks ago for $5,300, when the prices of horses were so low, and one of her daughters sold with her for $4,000. Mr. Maltby of this city also bought another colt by Sable Wilkes.

A Splendid Record.

Wm. N. Pangborn retires April 15 from the office of Chief Marshal of the Borough, a position which he has for three years filled with distinguished ability. He was appointed under Democratic administration, and retained two years longer under Republican rule. His removal is made simply for political purposes. During his three years of office he has never had a complaint made against him, and not once has the Borough Council been obliged to appear in Court to defend the Borough because of any of his arrests.

Has a Good Eye.

Police Sergeant Kiely has won seven games and lost none in the Lyceum bowling tournament, and now heads the list both in percentage and high average. Last night's scores:

McInerny	165	Kiely	180
Owens	138	Kiely	186
Daley	105	Regan	149
Butscher	134	Donnelly	152
Kiely	190	Donnelly	185
Owens	177	Guinee	128
Weirenga	129	Daley	114
T. Owens	135	Guinee	163
Moran	161	Kiely	169

Hotel Albion Closed.

At the conference between J. J. H. Pollion and Mr. Bronson, owners of Hotel Albion, last night, no arrangements were made to continue the house under new management, and this morning the hotel was closed.

TWO FLAGS TOGETHER.

Ireland and American Colors Wave Over the Hibernian Ball.

The twenty-first annual ball of Division No. 4, A. O. H., brought out 500 disciples of Terpsichore in the Saengerbund Hall last night, who tripped the light fantastic toe at lanciers, waltzes, polkas, and quadrilles, until Morpheus overcame them late this morning, and sent them homeward-bound, tired in body but light and joyful in heart.

The ball room was packed at 9:30, but a constant stream of dancers kept arriving until after 11. Everyone seemed to be there simply to have a good time; and no matter whether you tramped on the toes of someone else or not, it was all the same. They were there to enjoy the event of the mid-lent festival day, and such trifles as those were not permitted to mar the pleasures of the evening.

Differing from most dances where the invitations are only restricted to the price of admittance, the affair was entirely free from the class of young men who delight to fill the ball room with fumes of tobacco smoke. The floor committee deserve credit for prohibiting this feature, so distasteful to the gentler sex.

The grand march was started at 9:30. It was led by Michael Regan and Mary Regan, Patrick Regan and Mary Mangan, J. F. O'Halloran and Mrs. J. Fuchs, P. Casey and daughter Miss Nellie Casey.

The crowded condition of the ballroom left but little space for each set to dance in, but this only added to the merriment. There were 28 numbers on the order of dancing. At the conclusion of the fourteenth number refreshments were served in the basement by Jacob Daub, after which the dancing was resumed, and finally concluded with a quadrille to the music of Naylor's orchestra.

The arrangements for the dance were made by the officers of the division, who are as follows: P. Casey, President; E. Birmingham, Vice-president; William Carty, Secretary; Cornelius Regan, Financial-secretary; Michael Nugent, Treasurer.

The reception committee was P. Diver, Peter McDonough, E. Connors, P. Harrington, T. Fitzgerald and Michael Nugent.

The floor committee was Michael Regan, Joseph Galbraith, Patrick Regan and J. F. Halloran.

The only decoration consisted of the American and Irish flags, hung over the platform occupied by the orchestra.

BOYS HAVE A GOOD TIME.

St. Mary's Cadets Sing, Recite and Eat to Their Hearts Content.

The Temperance Cadets of Holy Name of St. Mary's Church had full sway at the entertainment given in the Parochial School last night, and enjoyed themselves hugely with song, recitation and supper. The following programme was rendered:

"Temperance Battle Song", chorus of 25 boys; recitation, "The Wine Cup", John Madden; recitation, "I'll take what Father takes", James Finley; "Homeward Bound", chorus; recitation, "This day we celebrate", Lawrence Doyle; dialogue, "Coals of Fire", John Butscher, John Owens, Edward Flynn, James Finley, John Madden, Lawrence Doyle; song and chorus, Lawrence Doyle.

At the conclusion of the programme Father Smyth talked to the boys in a happy vein, admonishing them to live a life of sobriety and thereby gain character and respect for themselves. Father Murphy also spoke entertainingly for a few minutes, after which the boys marched to a long table which was loaded with eatables that fulfilled the boyish idea of a good time, and served to top off in a more than pleasant manner the evening's entertainment.

A Pleasant Meeting.

The members of the Monday Afternoon Club enjoyed a very pleasant regular monthly meeting in the Casino yesterday afternoon. The Lieder of Mendelssohn and Schumann, with later composers of Lieder, was the paper compiled and read by Miss Marion Dumont, who was greatly assisted in illustrating her points by the singing of Mrs. George A. Chapman, the piano playing of Miss Beebe, and the violin playing of Miss White.

—Schepflin, Schultz & Co., of 318 West Front street, have just opened up their Spring styles of children's suits.

—The first and second degrees will be worked on two recruits at the meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, S. of V., this evening. A full attendance is desired.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

A PROGRESSIVE MAYOR.

This Is to Be a Business Administration.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS ADVOCATED.

B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Takes the Oath of Office, and Gives Important Advice to the Newly-Organized Council.

The North Plainfield Borough Council met last evening to organize for the coming year. H. E. Needham, retiring Mayor, gave the oath of office to Mayor-elect B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and then the new Mayor administered the oath to Messrs. Lounsbury, Schutt and Smith, the newly-elected Councilmen.

Mayor Hegeman presented the following message, which was received and filed:

To the Council of the Borough of North Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN: A well established custom prescribes that I shall bring to your attention, at the first meeting of our Council, several matters of importance which in my opinion are essential to the well being and progress of the Borough, and would urge you to give them your prompt and thoughtful consideration.

The first of these is the immediate necessity of providing the community with a system of sewerage which will in every respect meet the wants of our citizens. This will abolish the undesirable use of cesspools, which prevails at present. A proposal of this kind has been brought before you by my two immediate predecessors, and during the past year a considerable amount of work has been accomplished, but to the present has been confined to surveying and the preparation of maps. A step of this importance should be taken only in response to a general demand by the taxpayers and after a full hearing before our Council.

With reference to our streets and sidewalks, I cannot too strongly impress upon you the necessity of keeping them in such a state of repair that our citizens may use them with safety and comfort. At the present time much remains to be done to bring about this desired result. Many of our board walks are broken and dangerous, and many stone and brick walks have become depressed and shapeless; all this must be corrected. I would appeal to our citizens to co-operate with the Council in this project and facilitate our labors by giving their personal attention to the repair of the walks before their own homes, or by reporting to the Council any defective walks that may come under their observation.

Though our principal streets are macadamized, in many instances they are out of repair and covered with mud. This condition of affairs should have your early attention.

In view of the fact that before very long a sewerage system will undoubtedly be introduced, it would not be prudent to make any but necessary repairs, in our road work, except in certain cases dictated by the demands of our people's comfort and wise policy.

Notably among these are Harrison street, which is almost if not quite impassable during the Fall and Spring months. Prospect place which connects two of our prominent thoroughfares both of which are well paved, is in a very bad state of repair, no labor having been expended upon it for several years. The upper end of Grove street is in an uncompleted state, though there was spent on it a large amount of money contributed by public spirited citizens both of the City and Borough, to provide work for the deserving poor during the Winter of 1893 and '94. This work should be continued where it was of necessity dropped. It will require only the expenditure of a small amount of money and a good road will then be provided leading from the Mountain to the City and lessening the heavy carting on Somerset street.

Our Fire Department is in good condition. It is provided with modern equipment, an admirable hydrant system and efficient Fire Alarm. The company is well officered and is composed of faithful and efficient men.

There is one section of our Borough practically without protection against fire. I allude to the district which lies between Grove street and Maple avenue, Greenbrook road and the mountain. This district is thickly built up with small frame houses. Stony brook is the nearest water available in case of fire, and the engine located at Somerset street is so far away that it is impossible for it to be of any service when needed. I would suggest therefore that the Water Company be requested to run a line of pipe through Harrison street with two or three hydrants located at convenient intervals, that the old hose carriage be equipped with a supply of hose and a small frame house be built for the accommodation of a volunteer hose company to be formed by the young men of that neighborhood. You will thus furnish ample protection to a much neglected district and satisfy its just demands.

For several years the question of opening Watchung avenue from the Borough to the City has been prominently before the public. An effort was made through the Township Committee, in this direction, but the effort was fruitless. This was due to the decision of the courts; since that time the matter has rested until it was brought up again in a joint conference between the Street Committee of the Plainfield Council and similar representatives of this body. At that meeting it was unanimously agreed that this work should be started without further delay. With this decision I most heartily concur and would urge upon this Council the vital importance of this improvement.

I request therefore that you will not delay in taking the initial steps to secure the opening of this street, and I most sincerely trust that before another year rolls around our citizens may see a broad avenue, well paved and lighted, running from the Watchung Mountains to the Short Hills, connecting our beautiful Borough with our sister City across the brook.

In all matters, however, which relate to civic progress, you must not permit the tax rate to be raised, especially in these times of general depression. It is your duty to advance along all lines of material improvement, but to do so with due regard to wise economy.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Lounsbury was the unanimous choice for President of the Council, and the following committees were appointed:

Streets and Public Health—Messrs. Smith, Lounsbury, Schutt.

Fire, Water and Lamps—Messrs. Peck, Smith and Valiant.

License and Marshal—Messrs. Lounsbury, Valiant and Peck.

Auditing and Finance—Messrs. Schutt, Lounsbury and Howell.

Laws, Ordinances and Election—Messrs. Valiant, Peck and Howell.

Stationery and Printing — Messrs. Howell, Smith and Schutt.

Charles A. Reed was chosen Borough Counsel at the salary of $500 a year.

J. W. VanHorn was made Chief Marshal at a salary of $60 a month.

William Emmons was elected Street Commissioner at $50 a year, and $2 per day when working on the streets.

T. B. Crosley was again made Borough Magistrate at the salary of $100 a year.

Clerk Arnold's salary was made $400 a year.

A petition from J. Hoerster for the privilege of building an addition to his building, was granted, and one from John French to lay a sidewalk 104-106 Somerset street was referred.

The rules of last year were adopted by the Council, after which they adjourned.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Charles DeGraw is suffering with a severe cold.

Charles Moffett has been ill with the grip for a week.

Harry Coddington has recovered from an attack of the grip.

George Smith of Penn Yan was in town yesterday on business.

N. Bandler of Akron, Ohio, was in town yesterday on business.

Mrs. Andrew Cox of West Front street is kept at home by illness.

Miss Wiener of New York is a new attache in Edsall's millinery department.

Joseph R. Hall and family of 34 Washington avenue will move April 1 to 19 Grove street.

John F. Wakefield moved his family yesterday, from 33 Somerset street to 45 Chatham street.

James S. Newhall of Lynn is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hyde of Woodland avenue, Netherwood.

Miss Cutler, instructor of the North Plainfield Senior Class, is unable to teach teach on account of illness.

Henry D. Van Liew of 319 Liberty street will leave town today for Boston, where he will remain indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank of "The Sacmore", Belvidere avenue, are registered at the Hygeia Hotel, Old Point Comfort.

Miss Mamie Stahl of Grove street left yesterday to spend a week with her sister, Mrs. Martin Coddington in Westfield.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hazell of Westervelt avenue attended today the funeral services of Mrs. Hazell's cousin, in Summit.

Mrs. Fannie Woodward of Philadelphia is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William J. Courtney of Johnston avenue, Netherwood.

Charles Mattison of 19 Linden avenue has rented one of the new houses recently completed by F. H. Martin on Duer street, where he will move about April 1.

George F. Opdyke is going to enjoy his vacation this Summer by a naptha-launch tour, and is now making arrangements to have one built. The model from which the pattern will be taken will be made by Martin Snyder.

James F. Bedhead, who has been visiting at the residence of F. S. Green on East Fifth street, has returned to his home in Kansas accompanied by his niece, Miss Ethel C. Green. They will stop at Niagara Falls and Chicago on the way there.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A meeting of the Daughters of Liberty will be held this evening.

—Wall pockets are a specialty at Rand's, 149 West Front street.

—The Emerald Beneficial Association will give a grand ball April 15.

—The Plainfield bowlers leave for Roselle tonight on the 7:02 train.

—A balky mule made fun for the spectators and trouble for the driver on West Second street yesterday afternoon.

—Sebring, the Park avenue tailor, has just received a splendid assortment of fine trouserings, which he is making to order for $5.

—Queen City Lodge, No. 226, worked the first and second degrees on one candidate, and the second degree on another at their meeting last night.

—Contractor Joseph Milligan began the mason work this morning on the foundation of the house building for John Bicknell on South avenue.

—The surveying for the 17 miles of new sewers will be resumed in a few days. It is calculated that it will take two months to finish the work.

—E. C. Morse has received the contract to decorate the interior of J. Fred MacDonald's house at the corner of Front street and Watchung avenue.

—The Earnest Workers, the boys mission band of the Crescent Avenue Church, will meet Thursday afternoon. There will be a special programme.

—Professor Farr will speak tonight before the Plainfield Branch of the Christian Alliance, at 317 East Front street. All will be cordially welcome.

—The women's meetings of the several societies in this city have not been very well attended the past week, owing to the kid-glove sale, now being held at Peck's.

—The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian Church will give a missionary entertainment Friday evening in the Sunday-school rooms.

—Richard A. Boyce, proprietor of the Maple avenue brick works, received the contract yesterday to furnish the brick for the A. D. Thompson house at Netherwood.

—Rev. R. M. Rodman will speak this evening in Reform Hall, where Gospel temperance meetings are being conducted by Rev. Mr. Humstone every evening at 8. All are welcome.

—T. J. McGann of the borough, who was awarded the contract two weeks ago for the excavation of A. D. Thompson's new house on Belvidere avenue, completed his work yesterday.

—The Foreign Missionary society of the Congregational Church will hold its regular meeting next Thursday afternoon. Mrs. C. L. Goodrich will read a paper on Medical Missionaries.

—Councilman Charles Fisk instructed Chief Grant this morning to have the two attached furniture vans which have been standing on North avenue since last week, removed from the street.

—The Choral Society held its regular meeting last evening, and received the music for the oratorios "Stabat Mater" and "Hymn of Praise", which are to be sung at the next concert.

—The gallery in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium will only be opened Monday and Saturday evenings for visitors. This ruling has been thought the most advisable by Physical Director MacPhie.

—Justice Newcorn this morning rendered judgment in the case of Dr. Hedges against Lawyer Quinn, on contract, for $186.86, in favor of the plaintiff. An execution was applied for and issued immediately.

—At the regular meeting of the Loyal Addition Benefit Association it was decided to give an entertainment April 15, to be held in their rooms on Park avenue, which all Arcanum members are cordially invited to attend.

—The new Scotch Plains Township Committee will meet tomorrow evening, at which time the trolley ordinance will come up for the third and final reading. It is confidently expected that the franchise will be granted.

For Memorial Day.

The Memorial Day committees from both G. A. R. posts met last evening and informally planned for the proper observance of the day. There will be exercises in Music Hall in charge of the Woman's Relief Corps, and plenty of good music. A committee will be appointed at the meeting of the Sons of Veterans this evening to work jointly with the above committees.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

LYNCHED BY RUSTLERS

Nebraska Cattle Thieves Murder a Woman.

She Was Slain in Her Own Home—The Crime Supposed To Have Been Committed To Prevent Her Testifying Against Them—No Arrests Have Yet Been Made.

Butte, Neb., March 19.—Mrs. W. E. Holton, living in Keyapaha county, near Brocksburg, was lynched on Thursday last and her body was discovered yesterday. The crime is supposed to have been committed by rustlers of the anti-vigilance committee, who suspected her of giving testimony on which would lead to the conviction of some cattle thieves.

Her body was found lying in a room with a rope around her neck. She was living alone at the time, her husband having been sent to the insane asylum.

A neighbor discovered the deed the next morning when he passed by the house. She was found lying on the floor surrounded by her scattered and torn clothing and the clothing from her bed. Tracks of many men's feet were found in the yard and in the house.

No warrants have yet been issued. A meeting of citizens was held and it was decided that prompt measures should be taken. Several persons are under suspicion.

Keyapaha county is noted for its murderous vigilants. There is no doubt that the crime was committed by horse and cattle thieves who fear the vigilant committee and took revenge on Mrs. Holton for giving information. A man named Hunt, it is alleged, is implicated in some way with the murderers and it is thought he can be forced to confess.

A number of the alleged rustlers were recently arrested and taken to Springview, where they broke jail and escaped to the reservation. They were captured there and convicted.

POPE'S DECREE SUSPENDED.

Satolli Sets Aside Temporarily the Ban Against Knights of Pythias.

Fall River, Mass., March 19.—At the instance of H. A. Dabugue, Dr. L. P. De Granpre and Dr. P. Ecollett of this city, and Judge Chouquete of Providence, Monsignor Satolli, the papal ablegate has issued a decree temporarily suspending the edict of Pope Leo, relating to Catholic membership in the Knights of Pythias. These gentlemen returned from a visit to Washington, whither they had been sent by Lafayette lodge of this city to ask a hearing in the matter. They represented that one lodge of Pythians in this city consisted of 250 French Canadians and one lodge in Providence included 160. They said so far as they were able to observe they could see no conflict between Pythianism and Catholic doctrines and were very solicitous for a suspension of the edict so they might perform their Easter duty.

His grace announced that he would suspend the edict temporarily and would issue a formal decree to that affect in a few days. He promised to bring the matter to the attention of the vatican at the earliest moment, but would hold out no hope that his action would be endorsed as permanent policy to be followed.

WITNESSES' EYES GOUGED OUT.

Soldiers Hindering the Work of the Armenian Committee.

London, March 19.—A Moosh dispatch subdated from Kars says:

"The difficulties placed in the way of witnesses coming to testify before the commission of inquiry are almost insuperable. Every road is patrolled by bands of gendarmes who put intending witnesses out of the way. Persons from villages in the Sassoun district and survivors of the massacre are treated as criminals. The Armenians who feed or shelter them are imprisoned and beaten. The testimony of several witnesses piles horror on horror. For instance a witness hiding in the Oakscrub saw soldiers gouge out the eyes of two priests who, in horrible agony, implored their tormentors to kill them. But the soldiers compelled them to dance whilst screaming with pain and presently bayoneted them. The number of witnesses is increasing. The stories are essentially identical.

THE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY.

Our Chief Executive Is Now Fifty-eight Years Old.

Washington, March 19.—President Cleveland is 58 years old. The event was observed yesterday. There was, however, no special celebration of the day at the white house, and the president kept closely at his desk as usual. Several congratulatory telegrams were received and several intimate friends called, while others sent their congratulations accompanied by baskets of flowers. Aside from these little incidents the day was uneventful.

Morton's Train in a Crash.

Malone, N. Y., March 19.—Governor Morton's special train, consisting of three palace cars and a baggage car, crashed into a freight train near Owl's Head on the Adirondack St. Lawrence division of the New York Central. Governor Morton and party had left the train at Saranac lake, a few miles south of where the accident occurred. No one was injured.

To Examine a Treasurer's Accounts.

Camden, N. J., March 19.—The Gloucester city council has appointed an expert accountant to examine the books of City Treasurer Geo. E. King, who has been missing for two weeks. It is believed that King had about $5,000 of the city funds with him when he left Gloucester. His friends think he has met with foul play.

No More Racing in the District.

Washington, March 19.—The district court of appeals has sustained the decision of the lower court, holding that racing and pool selling within the limits of the District of Columbia were gambling, and, therefore, prohibited by statute. This practically closes the Bennings track.

No More Varioloid at Storrs.

Willimantic, Conn., March 19.—No new cases of varioloid have yet appeared at Storrs agricultural college. The college is under strict quarantine and it is believed there will be no further spread of the disease.

A BLOODY PERIOD.

Details of the Recent Insurrection in San Salvador.

San Francisco, March 19.—The steamer Saturn from Panama brings details of the recent Salvadorean insurrection. On the first of January a conspiracy was discovered to proclaim General Antonio president. As soon as the facts came to light President Gutierez ordered the principal leaders shot. Among them were Colonels Delfino Berrios and Fernando Salgedo and Captain Maggandi.

The chief of police was shot immediately upon the discovery of the plot, and the whole city was thrown into a state of great excitement, agents of reigning governments arresting all those who were thought to be concerned in the plot.

The conspiracy seems to have originated in different departments of the republic, including employees of Guiterez, who had turned traitor to him. All prisoners who were in jail since the last uprising were ordered to be hanged, and it is supposed by this time that the order has been executed.

The loyal people of San Salvador became infuriated upon the discovery of the conspiracy and Guiterez's followers repaired to the office of Colonel Angel Vasquez and lynched him without parlay.

General Ezeta, who is here, is much worried over his children. When he sent them away from San Francisco a month ago they were in charge of Madame Garzia, his mother in law, who was instructed to go to Acapulca and wait for him under the protection of President Diaz. It appears that she went on to Salvador, where they are now, and Ezeta fears they may be shot.

REWARDED FOR HEROISM.

Watches and Medals Given Out by Uncle Sam to Gallant Seamen.

Washington, March 19.—The president has just sent through the state department a number of watches and medals to mariners who had rescued American ships and seamen. The awards and the recipients were, a gold watch and chain to Captain Francis E. Jenkins, a gold medal to Chief Officer Raymond Holdeworth, and silver medals to Boatswain Alex. Milne and Seamen S. Davidson, J. Bolton, F. Pouton, E. Shirtcliff, J. Greenstreet and J. Thordsen, all of the British steamship Francisco, for gallant and heroic service in rescuing the officers and crew of the American schooner, George A. McFadden, Feb. 10, 1895; a gold watch and chain to Captain Jacob Wyman, a gold medal to First Officer Charles R. Grant, and silver medals to Seamen Christian Prefert, Robert, Wessel, John Williams and Peter H. Swensen, all of the British bark Buteshire, for gallant and heroic services in effecting the rescue of the captain and others of the American schooner Florence J. Allen, Feb. 11, 1895.

UNITED STATES AN EXCEPTION.

Korea Will Not Place Her Relations Here in Japanese Hands.

Washington, March 19.—Ye Haun Gik, the Korean charge d'affaires, who has been confined to the legation in this city by serious illness for the past three months, has been recalled by his government at his own request, and will leave to-day for home.

Intimations have reached the state department from the American legation in Seoul that the Japanese advisers of the king of Korea had suggested the desirability of placing Korean relations temporarily in the hands of Japanese ministers in various countries, but, on account of the exceptionally cordial friendship of the United States, which is the only nation except Japan maintaining a diplomatic representation in Seoul, the king of Korea declined to agree to the proposition, and has insisted on continuing its control of the channels of communication with the United States, which the Korean nation had every reason to consider its warmest friend.

KILRAIN GETS A DRAW.

Sullivan Creates a Scene at the O'Donnell Contest.

Boston, March 19.—The fight between Kilrain and O'Donnell last night was declared a draw in the eighth round.

When the referee called the contest a draw it met with the approval of every person in the hall.

At the close of the contest John L. Sullivan leaped into the ring, and rushing over to Referee Sheppard, declared that the bout should have been decided in favor of Kilrain. Sheppard did not appear to mind John's argument, but Billy Delaney, one of O'Donnell's seconds, exclaimed, "Don't talk to that mutton head," referring to John L.

Sullivan gave a war whoop and sprang at Delaney, who jumped from the ring and made for an ante room. Some of Sullivan's friends seized him.

John fumed for a few minutes, but as the object of his anger did not put in an appearance he went out into the cold, cold world, vowing vengeance on Delaney.

Death of Ex-Congressman Townsend.

Cleveland, March 19.—Word has been received from St. Augustine, Fla., announcing the death there of Amos Townsend, ex-congressman from the twenty-first district of Ohio. Townsend was descended from Quakers who settled at Germantown, Pa., at the time of William Penn and took a prominent part in the revolution. He was born near Pittsburg about 1821.

Negroes Off for Liberia.

Savannah, Ga., March 19.—The Danish steamship Horsa, which is to carry negro emigrants to Liberia, arrived here. Over a thousand negroes awaited her arrival. They were kept back from the wharf, only those who are to sail being allowed to pass the gate. She will probably sail to-day, carrying 197 negroes and three white passengers.

Reject Offer of Compromise.

Providence, R. I., March 19.—H. A. Kimball, owner of the woolen mills in Manton, offered the strikers a compromise schedule of wages which on the average equalled an advance of 8 per cent. The weavers rejected the offer and the mill will probably be idle for some time to come.

Not Worth the Powder.

Monte Carlo, March 19.—The Ailsa and Britannia will not take part in the racing to-day, as the prize is not worth the trouble. The American-built tenrater Docotah won 12,000 francs in prizes during the Cannes regatta.

Close of a Church Conference.

Tyrone, Pa., March 19.—The final session of the Central Pennsylvania conference was held last night and it was decided to meet in the Mulberry street church, Williamsport, next year.

HER TELL-TALE LETTER

Strong Day for the People in the Robinson Trial.

Sadie's Confession and a Letter Written in Jail to Her Husband Read to the Jury—In the Latter She Moralizes and Becomes Somewhat Dramatic—Breaks Down in Court.

Buffalo, March 19.—So much interest is being taken in the Robinson trial that it has been deemed necessary to call on the police reserves to keep the sensation lovers from over-crowding the court room.

It is expected that the case for the people will be finished to-day and the prosecutors believe they have made a good case.

The confession made by Sadie Robinson is but a repetition of the story as first told by the prisoner, how she was attired in male clothes the night of the murder, and how her husband had shot his victim while the latter held up his arms, etc.

The jury were instructed that the confession was not to be used as against Clarence Robinson.

Mrs. Augusta Church, matron at police headquarters, was put on the stand and asked if Sadie had written a letter while in her room after being brought from Cleveland. Mrs. Church replied yes, and said she delivered the letter to Superintendent Bull right away. Mr. Kenefick offered the letter in evidence as Sadie's second confession. It was a surprise to the defendant's counsel who objected to the reading of it and asked that it be laid over for a day. The letter was admitted and read as follows:

October 16th., 1894.

My Dear Husband:

They allowed me to see the papers for the first time to-day. Oh, Clarence, how could you say I did the shooting. I am not afraid to die. If they would let me, I would be ready to take your sentence, whatever it may be, for I love you and always thought more of your happiness and comfort than myself. I made a full and truthful statement of my life, ever since we met on the old farm, and I think they believe me. Now, Clarence, the best thing for you to do is to tell everything and tell the truth. It will be much better for both of us. If I can take and serve your sentence I will do it, for I'm not afraid to die, and you can take my sentence, which will probably be a few years at Auburn. Don't think I told to get rid of you, because I don't. If it happens that you get only a life sentence—and I pray to God constantly it will be so—perhaps after a few years I can get you a pardon, and then we can be together again. I love you, Clarence, but I cannot perjure my soul not even for you, but would gladly suffer on this earth for you. I want you to become a good man and a Christian, so whatever happens you can say with me 'Thy will, not mine, be done.' Trying to do right is the only life worth living. God is not only very just, but very merciful, and if we both do what is right I feel sure we will be happy again, if not for a long time. I would never have told a word about it, but you gave it away yourself. You made the mistake of your life when you told Bert what happened in Buffalo, and worst of all you did not tell the truth about it either. As I said before, I would and will take all the blame on myself. Your happiness is dearer to me than my own life, but tell the truth about it, Clarence, and if you are sentenced to die I will soon join you in death, for you remember our promise to each other. But I will never cease to pray for you and I feel sure my prayers will be answered for He doeth all things well.

Your loving wife,
SADIE A. ROBINSON.

As Mr. Kenefick read the letter to the jury Sadie broke into convulsive sobs.

This letter was applicable as evidence only against Sadie and not against her husband.

FOR MURDERING TWO WOMEN.

Arrest of a Man at Jamestown for Crime Committed Last December.

Jamestown, N. Y., March 19.—Claude Dewitt, of this city, is under arrest charged with the murder of Mrs. Winslow Sherman and Mrs. Cyntha Davis near this city last December. Dewitt has been suspected of the murder ever since it was committed but until the present little evidence could be found to identify him with it. He was placed under arrest for a minor offense and while in the city prison his person and premises were searched, and much incriminating evidence found.

To Compel Registered Voters To Vote.

Boston, March 19.—The committee on judiciary will report to the common council opinion of Corporation Counsel Bailey in the matter of the bill which proposes to fine every registered voter who does not vote on election day, $5, that the law is constitutional. The committee on judiciary will not make any recommendations. They will simply transmit a report with the opinion of the corporation counsel.

An Editor Robbed.

Hartford, Conn., March 19.—Captain Charles E. Clay, managing editor of the Telegram, was robbed yesterday of several medals won by him in campaigns in India and others presented to him for his services at the New York horse show, some clothing, etc. The thief was arrested and part of the stolen property recovered.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A VETERAN'S STORY.

Gen. Catlin Praises Munyon for His Great Work.

His Restoration to Health Due to the Wonderful Little Sugar Pellets.

General A. B. Catlin, formerly Deputy Surveyor of the Port of New York, is a veteran of the army and a well-known Republican politician.

"I have been troubled with catarrh for many years," said General Catlin. "I doctored for it a great deal, but did not obtain any material relief and this winter my condition was terrible. I took cold easily and my nose became stopped up. I had severe pains across the front of my head, my eyes became watery, I sneezed a great deal, and my bones and joints ached continually. When I got up in the morning my throat was filled with a nasty slime, which dropped there during the night. I had to hawk a great deal, and this made me gag and often vomit. There was a roaring or buzzing sound in my ears, and my breath was very offensive. I lost my appetite, ran down in weight and became depressed in spirits.

"I tried thoroughly several of the best physicians, so-called, in New York, took patent nostrums of all descriptions, but grew worse all the time.

"Finally, I began Munyon's Catarrh Remedies. I thought it was no use, and had but little faith, but I began to improve right away. My disease rapidly yielded to the remedy, and I underwent a change that was wonderful. Within a short time I was entirely cured, the last trace of the hideous disease had vanished and today my friends are marveling at the great change in me. It is a wonderful relief to feel strong and healthy again and it gives me great pleasure to testify that my restoration to health is due to Munyon's Catarrh Remedy."

Munyon's Homoepathic Remedy Co. put up a cure for nearly every disease.

No matter what your disease or how many doctors have failed to cure you, step into the nearest drug store and get a 25-cent vial of Munyon's Remedies. It will benefit you

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., a bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 13 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 213 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 5084, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 20 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 169, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 26 tf

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON.

New No. 122., North Ave., Plainfield

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

is called to the

Home Department

of Rockview School, 317 East Front street. Children received from

4 to 15 Years.

Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Miss Fawcett's School,

25 Washington Ave.

Department for boys to the age of 13,
" girls and kindergarten.
Girls prepared for college.
Re-opened September 13.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

80 BROADWAY, cor. 42d ST.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

BOUGHT AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner at short notice.

6-23-

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 15 Grandview ave. L. G. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 8 25 y

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place, NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.
E. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine St.
ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO
7-21-tf

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 8 10 y

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. E. McCullough, Proprietor.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-13-tf

C. W. LINES,

Mason and Builder.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence—118 Liberty street.

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 6t

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place

Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 tf

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9tf

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built. 9 16

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS,

30 PARK AVE,

He Manufactures Them

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

Hotels and Saloons.

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager,
Finderne, N. J.
1 9 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

5-12-

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET.

J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 4 8 y

IMPORTED WERZBURGER BEER

On draught at

CHARLES SMITH'S

Sample and Lunch Rooms, 4 WEST FRONT ST.

The Bartholomay, Rochester Pale, the Bavarian Dark and the St. Louis.

Ballantine's Ales also on draught The Indian Pale XXX Still Ale and Porter.

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

$500 DOWN

Buys One of Those New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

122 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank.

is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance
VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,
163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE
For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Malaria, Torpid Liver and Bowels.
R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES
act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail.
Price 60 cents a box. Address
RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE. NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	17½c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	24c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	24c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	24c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented. H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement

For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue, Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.
1 14 tf

Spring Curry Comb

Clock Spring Blade. Soft as a Brush. Fits every Curve. The Only Perfect Comb. Used by U. S. Army and by Barnum and Forepaugh Circuses, and Leading Horsemen of the World. Ask your Dealer for It. Sample mailed post paid 25 cents. Have your name on the handle. SPRING CURRY COMB CO., 102 Lafayette St., South Bend, Indiana.

781-1 9-1 t

NO NEED OF IT.

Homes Filled With Weak and Nervous.

NO NEED TO FEEL SO WEAK, TIRED AND NERVOUS.

Eminent Physicians Give Assurance of This Fact.

AND TELL HOW TO OVERCOME THE TERRIBLE WEAKNESS.

How is the Best Time to Get Strong and Well.

That there is no need whatever for a person to be weak, tired or nervous—the three great curses of our people—seems now a certain fact.

Eminent physicians affirm the truth of this welcome news, and ample proofs demonstrate the reliability of the information we are able so gladly to give.

It is certainly a godsend to those of our people who have weak nerves and tired bodies, who feel exhausted in strength and vitality, who cannot eat or sleep well and who are run down and debilitated, to know positively that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is a sure invigorator and strength giver, and will invariably make a person strong and well. Particularly is it a blessing at this time of year, for in the spring almost everybody feels languid, nervous and out of order and needs this best of all spring medicines.

Doctors are enthusiastic in their approval and endorsement of this remedy. They heartily recommend and advise its use, and many of our best known physicians are loud in their praise of its wonderful curative powers.

Dr. B. D. Bickford, of Wolcott, Vt., one of Vermont's eminent physicians, states: "I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for some time, first trying it on myself, and I found it did me so much good that I now recommend it to my patients. The fact that I have used it in my own case shows that I know what I am talking about. As a tonic and invigorant it is the best of all to build up a person."

Dr. Robert W. Lance, of South Woodbury, Vt., than whom there is no more eminent physician in the State of Vermont, says:

"I have known about Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and the good results in cases, as a tonic, after hard sickness and the cure of nervous females. They have received great good from its use, I do not hesitate to recommend it."

Dr. Willard H. Morse, F. B. S. Sc. of Westfield, N. J., the great expert on medicines, says of this grand discovery of Dr. Greene:

"The true remedy for nervous diseases is Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It acts by affecting the organs of nutrition, and entering into the formation of new nerve tissue, which generates nerve force. This means the making of new nerves. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the American nerve tonic."

The well-known Dr. Emil Neumer, superintending physician of the New York Lodge and Association Hospital states: "We are using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy at this hospital for our patients, with good success."

This enthusiastic endorsement by physicians stamps this remarkable medical discovery as the greatest tonic and restorative. Druggists tell you everywhere that it cures more cases than any other known remedy. In fact it makes all who take it strong and well.

One reason which gives the people so much confidence in it is the fact that it is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City, the well-known and probably most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and to the further fact that I can be consulted free of charge by any one, personally or by letter.

H. DeMOTT,
With livery attached,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
115 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 96 y

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

BLUE COATS INDICTED

Grand Jury Hot After New York Police.

High Officials Said To Be on the List—Report Says That Twenty-Seven Names Were Presented and That Five Indictments Were Returned Against One Officer.

New York, March 19.—Consternation again reigns in the police department as a result of the latest developments in the war against that body, known far and wide for its corrupt practices. The presentment of the extraordinary grand jury is the cause of the present excitement. Of course there was great secrecy regarding the names of those indicted, until after the warrants could be served, but rumor at once selected the following as among the twenty-seven names reported to have been handed in:

Alexander S. Williams, inspector; William McLaughlin, inspector; Jacob Siebert, captain; William Meakin, captain; James K. Price, captain, and William Schultze, captain.

The indictments charge the men with bribery and corruption.

There were five indictments filed against Inspector McLaughlin.

The presentment is in part as follows: "Court of Oyer and Terminer of the city and county of New York, to the Hon. George L. Ingraham.

"It is now two years since a former grand jury filed in the court of general sessions a presentment calling attention to facts which show widespread corruption in the department of police.

"Circumstances and testimony offered have tended to show financial considerations in some cases for lax administration. Indeed, the publicity with which the law is violated and the immunity from arrest enjoyed by the law-breakers, is inconsistent with any other theory. It is obvious that when a confession by a law-breaker of payment for protection would subject him to penalties, not only to punishment for his acknowledged crime, but also for bribe giving, it is extremely difficult to collect trustworthy evidence in direct proof of such charges.

"At the outset of our labors we recognized the many difficulties with which we were beset and to which our predecessors referred, and we anticipated the obstacles which we would be likely to encounter, and in pursuing our inquiries we found these difficulties most embarrassing and the obstacles at times seemingly unsurmountable.

"To many members of the force, officers and men, much credit is due that in time of general corruption and degredation they have remained faithful.

"In our opinion the great body of subordinate police officers are honest and capable men, and their assistance in our investigation would doubtless have proved valuable had we been able to command it; but without proper orders accompanied by honest and willing suggestions from their superiors, no aid of this character was practicable.

"No such orders were given, although at the beginning of our session the cooperation of the executive officers of the department was not only invited but directly requested.

"Not only has this inactivity of the force itself proved a source of difficulty, but its attitude throughout has hindered us far more. The impression was created and supported by convincing facts that our labors in ferreting out and enabling the prosecution of unfaithful officers instead of being approved by the department, was an attack upon it."

The presentment, in referring to Superintendent Byrnes, says:

"The enjoyment by the executive head of the force of the considerable fortune accumulated as a result of favors granted in the performance of official duty may well have caused demoralization of the force under his command. The distinction between such favors and direct gratuities is not one that his subordinates are likely to appreciate."

The jury further scores the police for its hostility to the investigation.

FAIR WILL MATTER.

A Newly Discovered Document Favoring Young Fair.

San Francisco, March 19.—When the Fair will matter came up before Judge Slack, Reuben H. Lloyd, of counsel for the children, presented a holographic will of the dead ex-senator dated three days later than the one originally filed for probate and which has been stolen. He stated to the court that Fair had given the will into the custody of a highly respected lady who had just become cognizant of the fact that the document was dated later than the missing one. Under the provisions of the newly discovered document, Charles Fair is to receive half a million dollars at once and after minor bequests are made, the estate is to be divided among the three children, share and share alike.

Tracy Will Be Prosecuted.

Hartford, Conn., March 19.—In an interview, Major John C. Parsons, president of the Security company, denied that the company would compromise the case against Louis A. Tracy, the defaulting secretary and teller of the company, as reported. He said the matter is now in the hands of the prosecuting officers of the state, and the company has no control over it.

Life Sentence for Sternberg.

Brussels, March 19.—Baron Sternberg, the central figure in the dynamite plot exposed at the anarchist trial at Liege last month, has been sentenced by the criminal court at Liege to penal servitude for life. He is now in a Russian prison.

Candidate for Governor.

Trenton, N. J., March 19.—Senator Foster Voorhees, chairman of the investigating committee which is investigating state house scandals, is out as the republican candidate for governor backed by the Elizabeth Journal.

Death of an Old Court Crier.

Binghamton, N. Y., March 19.—Elmer W. Brigham is dead at his home in this city, aged 86. Mr. Brigham was for over forty years court crier and during that period was absent from his duties only two days.

Government Honor for Bismarck.

Berlin, March 19.—The Berliner Corr Espondenz says the emperor has ordered that all public buildings be decorated and flagged on April 1, Prince Bismarck's eightieth birthday.

FLED FROM CUBA.

Prominent Planters Leave To Escape Outrages by Government Troops.

New York, March 19.—Among the cabin passengers who arrived on the Ward line steamer Seguranca from Havana were several prominent Cuban planters who were forced, they say, to flee the country to escape outrages perpetrated upon their person and property by the government troops in the affected districts of Cuba. One of them, now a citizen of the United States, stated that in Matanzas, in the heart of the affected districts, his home was ransacked by the Spanish troops and his family subjected to great indignity and humiliation. For five days he waited a chance to flee the country and finally succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the government officials, reached Havana where he appealed to the United States consul, who advised him to leave the country.

His story of the condition prevailing in the eastern part of the island is as follows:

"There are now some 5,000 or 6,000 well armed and determined rebels in the vicinity of Santiago de Cuba, in the extreme eastern part of the island. These men are heart and soul in the cause and have been recruited from the towns of Manzanillo, Santiago de Cuba, Holguin and Guantanamo. They are under the command of Gen. Guillermo Moncada. If these troops which are now moving toward Bayamo in large numbers ever succeed in rousing the planters of the province of Puerto Principe to revolution the war will last for years.

"There are 8,000 regular government troops in Cuba and 8,500 regulars are en route in three ships from Spain. Besides these the government has 50,000 volunteers now in Cuba."

Another passenger on the Seguranca declared that he had heard of the Allianca outrage in Havana and also stated positively that he had heard a prominent Spanish official declare that the Spaniards were only waiting a chance to sink an American merchantman as they believe that the revolutionists were being supplied with arms from the states.

IN MEMORY OF ST. PATRICK.

Annual Dinner of the Hibernian Society of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 19.—The Hibernian society of Philadelphia observed the birthday of the Patron Saint of Ireland by holding its 114th annual dinner last evening at the Continental hotel, with 150 of its members and a score or more of distinguished guests present. Mayor Stuart, the president of the society, presided at the dinner and some of the leading citizens of Philadelphia were seated around him. The principal guest of the evening was Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert, who responded to the toast of "The United States."

THE SPANISH CRISIS.

All Quiet in Madrid—Editors To Be Tried by Court Martial.

Madrid, March 19.—Queen Regent Christiana received Gen. Campos late last evening. He reported that all was quiet in the city and he was confident that the officers would not seek further revenge upon the newspapers. After Gen. Campos left the palace the queen regent gave an audience to the presidents of the chambers.

The editors of the republican journals Ideal and Justicia in Madrid will be tried by court martial for denouncing the officers who attacked the newspaper offices.

TING SMUGGLED AWAY.

Denied That the Chinese Admiral Killed Himself.

Paris, March 19.—The European edition of the Herald is informed to-day by the Shanghai correspondent that, according to the Chinese newspapers, Admiral Ting did not kill himself at Wei Hei Wei, but was smuggled away in safety. The three coffins conveyed from Kwengchi to Chee Foo contained Generals Liu, Chang and Tai.

The Chinese troops defeated by the Japanese under General Nodzu are reported from Shanhakwan as retreating rapidly toward Tien Tsin and Pekin.

EXEMPT FROM INCOME TAX.

State and County Officers' Salaries Not Included in the Law.

Hartford, Conn., March 19.—Collector Byxbee recently wrote to the commissioner of internal revenue inquiring whether the salaries of state and county officers are liable to the income tax. In reply, acting commissioner Wilson says: "You are advised that all salaries paid to state and county officers, by reason of their official positions, whether as stated salaries or in fees received from the municipality or from any persons or corporations whatever, are wholly exempt from income tax, and should not be entered upon any return."

MARVIL AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Delaware's Governor May Survive but a Few Hours.

Laurel, March 19.—Governor Marvil's death seems now to be but a question of a few days, perhaps hours. The members of his family have given up all hope, and it is conceded that nothing but the sick man's indomitable will keeps him alive.

Dallas Marvil, the governor's partner and only son, has also grown much worse, and his death is expected.

Illicit Still in His Bedroom.

Philadelphia, March 19.—Israel Lipscheutz, a Russian Jew, has just been arrested on the charge of running a "moonshine" distillery in his residence in this city. The inoffensive-looking "moonshiner" had stills that produced about twenty gallons of whiskey per day in operation in his bedroom.

Rooters Branded as Nuisances.

Atlanta, Ga., March 19.—The city council has refused to grant a permit to the Atlanta Baseball club to play in the city limits during the coming season. It was charged that the crowds at the ball games are nuisances because of the noise made by the "rooters."

Bayard in a New Home.

London, March 19.—Thomas F. Bayard has moved with his family into a splendid new house on Eaton square. J. Roosevelt Rooseveit, secretary of the embassy, has recovered from the influenza and gone back to his official duties.

Death of a Well Known Teacher.

New York, March 19.—Dr. Daniel G. Eaton, one of the best known teachers in the country and for many years the leading professor in the Packer institute, Brooklyn, is dead at his home in that city. He was 73 years old.

VENADITO DID SHOOT

Sent Two Solid Shots at a Steamer.

Did Not Wish to Hit the Vessel, But Merely To Cause Her To Heave To. Official Report of the Spanish Commander—The Allianca Affair Complicated—Views in Washington.

Havana, March 19.—The commander of the Spanish cruiser Conde de Venadito reports that on March 8, while cruising off the eastern coast of the island, he sighted a steamer heading for Maisi point. The steamer's course was to the northeast. The cruiser hoisted a flag and the steamer replied by raising an English flag. The cruiser signalled the steamer to stop, but without effect. As the steamer proceeded at full speed the cruiser first fired two blank shots and then two solid shots. The commander says he did not desire to hit the steamer, but merely to cause her to heave to. He asserts that the steamer was but one and half miles off the Cuban coast when the firing occured. The authorities here have ordered that a full inquiry be made into the commander's acts.

Judging from Capt. Crossman's story, nobody can doubt that the steamer in question was the Allianca, which was fired on by a Spanish cruiser on March 8.

Nothing has been heard here to confirm the rumor that the gunboat Alsedo has sunk an American schooner. The rumor is regarded as utterly unfounded in fact.

Views in Washington.

Washington, March 19.—The Spanish minister was shown the dispatch from Havana containing the report of the commander of the cruiser Conde de Venadito and while the substance was of a very gratifying nature to Minister Murugua he refused to talk on the subject. The statement made by the Spanish commander would, if true, entirely change the phase of the affair. It is very much doubted in naval circles that there can be any foundation for the statement that the Allianca hoisted the English ensign and it is thought to be highly improbable that any steamer other than the Allianca was fired on at that point on March 8 and no report made so far about the affair.

Complicates Matters.

The report by the Spanish commander must settle the doubt which has existed in the minds of some of the Spanish authorities here as to the truth of the statement made by Captain Crossman that he had been fired on by a Spanish cruiser, but the statement that the Allianca had raised the English flag has complicated matters to such an extent that no official opinions could be obtained from either side.

A WANTON OUTRAGE.

Ex-Secretary Whitney's Opinion of the Allianca Incident.

New York, March 19.—The following cablegram has been received by a morning paper from William C. Whitney, ex-secretary of the navy, in reply to a message sent him by the editor of the paper referred to:

Naples, March 18.—I reply to your dispatch as follows: "In considering what should be done concerning the outrage perpetrated by the Spanish man-of-war in firing on the Allianca one fact should not be lost sight of. It was deliberate and with full knowledge of the fact.

"It is certain that no person in command of any war vessel in the world would be ignorant that firing upon a merchant vessel of another power on the high seas in time of peace would violate the law of nations. There isn't a subordinate officer of any man-of-war in the world who hasn't been sufficiently instructed to know that.

"It is, therefore, a case of a wilfull insult to the American flag and people. I do not recall so wanton an outrage as happening to any first-class power in fifty years. An apology scarcely wipes out such an affront. The truth is we have happened to come in for a piece of the general brutality and ruffianism that holds Cuba. The thing is a relic of the middle ages. It is a disgrace to us that lies at our door-step.

"It makes my blood boil for one.

"Of course they will apologize elaborately and discipline the officer. But when we are looking toward him the general terrorism which holds Cuba down while they suck her blood will have been substantially increased at our expense."

License Vote in Massachusetts.

Springfield, March 19.—The license vote of several towns in this section resulted as follows: Palmer, yes 440, no 423; Cheshire, yes 35, no 62; Enfield, yes 61, no 80; Granby, yes 8, no 59; Granville, yes 70, no 69; New Marlboro, yes 50, no 47; Southampton, yes 8, no 51; South Hadley went license for the first time in seventeen years, the vote standing yes 272, no 250.

Triplets No Excuse.

New York, March 19.—Benjamin Spier asked Justice O'Brien, in supreme court, to excuse him from jury duty, and gave as a reason that his wife had just done the state a great service by giving birth to triplets. Justice O'Brien looked sympathetic, but wouldn't excuse the happy father.

Garibaldi Monument at Rome.

Rome, March 19.—The corner stone of the Garibaldi monument was placed in the presence of the ministers, Garibaldi's sons, and the municipal authorities. The monument is intended to commemorate the defence of Rome in 1849.

Parkhurst Agents Go Free.

New York, March 19.—The extraordinary grand jury has dismissed the charges of conspiracy brought against agents E. A. Whitney and Arthur Dennett of the Parkhurst society by Detective Sergeant Jacob.

Will Not Affect Kansas Banks.

Topeka, Kan., March 19.—State Bank Commissioner Breidenthal said that the failure of the National bank of Kansas City will not affect Kansas banks seriously.

Burke Cockran at London.

London, March 19.—Bourke Cockran, of Tammany Hall, is resting here after a tour of the continent. He has had two interviews with Ambassador Bayard.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY

WITH EVERY ONE POUND bale OF

DUKES MIXTURE

for 35 cents

Every pipe stamped DUKES MIXTURE or ATC

2oz PACKAGES 5¢

Three New Styles.

A Year of Paper Dolls 60c

The Brownies in Paper Dolls 60c.

Famous Queens in Paper Dolls 15c

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

SEND THEIR EYE SPECIALIST TO PLAINFIELD

Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street,

Dunham's Real Estate Office

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET,

(Estate D. L. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2443 JAMES H. ECKELS, Comptroller of the Currency.

$4 20

F. A. DUNHAM.

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements Publisher of city map and atlas.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.

W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government.

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,

118 West 5th st., Plainfield, N. J.

and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. R. C. YOUNG, 237 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial, satisfaction guaranteed. 32 m

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

HER PA'S EXCEPTION.

The low-descending sun with torch of fire
Illumined cloudland's minaret and spire
As ardent maiden said unto her sire,
"A sight more vivid never met my quest!"
"Except", quoth he, cheered by the grate-fire bright,
"This warmth-disseminating anthra-cite
I bought of Geo. O. Stevens yesternight,
At 747 Front St., West."

(Orders may be left at VanBuren & Timpson's, opposite railroad station, or at G. A. Hallock's, 109 West Front street.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial Parlor, 206 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 26 tf

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.

WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 19, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

DEFEAT OF THE BOROUGHS LICENSE BILL.

Trenton, March 19—The bill restoring to boroughs the right to grant liquor licenses through their governing bodies, came up in the Senate at an early hour this morning and was defeated by a vote of 9 to 11. This is the bill prepared by Rev. W. E. Honeyman of North Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Alvin E. Hoagland is a sufferer from a severe cold.

Jacob Winckler has removed from Park avenue to Elm place.

Miss Charlotte Happle denies the report that she is engaged to Charles Bach.

Assessor Joseph Hubbard is confined to his home on West Fifth street with rheumatism.

The body of the late Clark Cadmus was taken to Philadelphia this morning for interment.

Mrs. Bliss of Washington came to Plainfield today to be with her brother, L. J. Denton, who is very ill.

Architect W. H. Clum will remove with his family to the Jonathan Higgins house on Netherwood avenue.

George Taggart of Washington Park will this year ride a Warwick wheel, which promises great things in the reduction of time.

The death of Edward, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lippincott, occurred about noon Sunday, instead of Saturday as first reported.

Conductor Harry Seymore of the street railway, and his wife, have returned from a ten-days vacation which was spent very pleasantly at Cape May and Atlantic City.

Mrs. E. Green and Misses Lillie and Ellen Candy leave for Liverpool on the steamer Majestic April 27. The passage was booked through the agency of M. Estil.

The following will be confirmed in the German Reformed Church Sunday, April 7: John Utzinger, Fred VanDerwick, Misses Fredia Sutterlin, Annie Meier, Minnie Bechtel, Josie Fritz and Sadie Blimm.

Resolutions of Condolence.

The members of Zephyr Hook & Ladder Company No. 1 have unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst, by death, Max Hanson, a wise and consistent member of our company, it is therefore

Resolved, That by his death we, the members, have lost a most valuable member, a kind and conscientious counselor, and whose conservative actions and manners have won the esteem and admiration of all who knew him; therefore, be it further

Resolved, That the sympathy of this body be and is hereby conveyed to the family of the deceased, in this, their hour of bereavement, and believing that he, who has gone, has been taken to the kindly consolations of Him who doeth all things well. Be it further,

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, suitably engrossed and signed by the Foreman and Secretary of this Company, be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread in full upon the journal of this Company.

L. C. BEEKMAN,
CHAS. CONOVER,
GEO. STUDER,
Committee.

Plainfield, N. J., March 18, 1895.

New Officers Elected.

The Young Men's League of Hope Chapel held their regular business meeting last night. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, Frederick Wharton; Vice-President, John Cose; Treasurer, George Firstbrook; Secretary, William Stewart; Financial Secretary, Percy Davis.

The league has arranged a series of games, bowling, checkers, and chess, with the Y. M. C. A. of Rahway, to be played Thursday evening. After the games are over, a spread of good things will be set before the Young Men and their visitors.

The teams were chosen last night to contest the Rahways; and two new members, Alex Muir and George Howard, were elected.

The League feels proud of its choice of president, he being an enterprising man who will work zealously to promote the League's success.

Last Sad Rites.

The funeral of the late William Randolph Clarson, whose death occurred Saturday in New York, was held at 2:30 this afternoon in the First Baptist Church. The body arrived at 2:10 from New York, accompanied by his family and a number of relatives. The services as conducted by Dr. Yerkes were very simple and were attended by a large number who had been his acquaintances through life.

The music was by Misses Grant and Runyon, and Messrs. Barnes and McCutchen, with Miss Utter at the organ; they sang "In the hour of trial", and "A few more years shall roll."

The remains were placed in the ... mausoleum in Hillside Cemetery.

Mr. Clarkson was a charter member of the Y. M. C. A.

—The indicted New York police officials, whose names are given in another despatch, were today put under bonds.

BY THE WAY.

—Cloudy and cooler tomorrow.

—Through the agency of a Press ad., Chief Marshal Pangborn today restored a lost pocketbook to its owner, a poor widow.

—Taylor's annual two-men bowling tournament will open Tuesday evening at Dunellen, with representatives from Elizabeth, Plainfield, Dunellen, Bound Brook, Somerville and Finderne. Valuable prizes will be offered.

SPRING IN GEORGIA.

Sunshine after all the storm—
Hints of summer heat,
And the clod is getting warm
And the air is sweet.

Now the meadow grows to green
And the valley seems,
In the color of the scene,
Paradise of dreams!

Drowsy echoes from the dells,
Soft as whispered words;
Tinkle, tinkle, cattle bells—
Sing, ye mocking birds!

Johnny, Johnny,
Sure as fate
Fish are biting—
Dig the bait!

—Atlanta Constitution.

WILKES BOOTH'S FERRYMAN.

His Death Recalls His Connection With the Assassination of Lincoln.

Thomas A. Jones, who was noted as the man who helped John Wilkes Booth and David C. Herold to cross the Potomac river five days after the assassination of President Lincoln, recently died at his home in La Plata, Md.

During the war Jones owned a farm on the banks of the Potomac, bounded on one side by Pope's Creek, and standing on a high bluff. Through connection with another Southern sympathizer on the Virginia side of the river, Jones was able to keep up communications with the other side, and Jones's ferry became a very popular rendezvous for those who desired to cross the line. It was also used for the smuggling of mails to and from the South. Jones also made a regular business of aiding the blockade runners. A few years ago, after keeping his secret for many years, he published a book in which he described his share in the escape of Booth. He told of the flight of Booth and Herold into Maryland by way of the navy yard bridge, their taking refuge in the house of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd, near Bryantown, Charles county, on the morning after the assassination and the setting of Booth's broken leg by Dr. Mudd, who entertained the fugitives until night. Booth and Herold left Dr. Mudd's house, in the northeastern part of the county, Saturday night, on horseback, for the Pope's Creek ferry. They went to Col. Samuel Cox, the foster brother of Jones, who hid them and sent for Jones to aid them in crossing to Virginia. Jones gave them a boat and in other ways rendered them valuable assistance.

After the assassination Jones was arrested and imprisoned in the old Capitol in this city, but the Federal authorities were unable to connect him with the affair and had to discharge him. For a number of years after the war he held office either under the State or general Government. He was employed in the Washington navy yard, and was displaced during the Harrison administration. After that he was made a justice of the peace in Charles county, which position he held at the time of his death. —Washington Post.

What Hawthorne Called Himself.

After the publication of this collection of short stories, Hawthorne ceased to be what he once called himself—"the obscurest man of letters in America." His classmate Longfellow, with whom he had not been intimate in college, reviewed the book with hearty commendation, and Hawthorne wrote him that hitherto there had "been no warmth of approbation, so that I have always written with benumbed fingers." Now at last he basked in the sunshine of public approval, and he was encouraged to go on with his writing. Yet it was five years before his next book was issued, and even then the new volume was only a second series of "Twice Told Tales," collected from the periodicals.

But meanwhile he had come out into the world again, and mixed once more with his fellowmen. He had edited a magazine for a few months; he had held a place for two years in the Boston custom house; he had been one of those who formed a settlement at Brook Farm, and he had married Miss Sophia Peabody. The marriage took place in 1842, and the young couple moved to Concord. They went to live in the house which had been built for Emerson's grandfather, and in which Emerson himself had dwelt a years before. Hawthorne took for his study the room in this old manse in which Emerson had written "Nature;" and in that room, during the next few years, he wrote stories and sketches which were collected into the two volumes published in 1846 as "Mosses from an Old Manse."—Prof. Brander Matthews in St. Nicholas for March.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

My neighbor's jackass made more noise
Than all the hens in my back lot.
The jackass' bray was nothing worth,
But each day found eggs in my pot.

To tell the town of his new store
My neighbor scattered posters wide,
I used The Press—a page or more;
My store was filled; my neighbor—died.

BOCK BEER

all this week at

Charles Smith's Saloon.

Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

DEAD AT THE AGE OF 113 YEARS.

Abby Smith, Who For 100 Years "Worked Around," Passes Away.

Abby Smith, who without doubt was the oldest person in the Nutmeg State, died at the home of Justice Charles A. Johnson, of Bozrah, eight miles northwest of Norwich, aged 113 years. Her death was due to debility. It is not known that she had ever been ill until three years ago, and then her indisposition was caused rather by a natural decline than any actual disease. For more than 100 years she had worked in country homesteads, a faithful house hand, who toiled as hard as ever woman could. It was not until she was 110 years old that she ceased to be able to support herself and do all her household duties and chores. She was a sprightly, clean built, cheery faced, helpful old lady, who by turns trotted into one house and then another among the neighbors "jest ter help 'em on with the work," and her coming there was as good as a sunbeam twinkling in at the windows after dull and cheerless weather. She never dropped in upon a county homestead that she was not welcome there, and the only trouble with her visitations, said the neighbors, was that they were too brief and far between.

In her extreme old age she was a bowed, withered, and dried up little person, her visage checkered with a thousand tiny wrinkles, but her eyes were as bright, shrewd, and kindly, and her sunny smile was the reflection of a temper that was never ruffled. In sickness or health her hand was always helpful, and she could mind the crossest babe with a mollifying effect that seemed magical. After Abby had become disabled from doing active work she went to live with Peace Justice Johnson's family, who treated her with the utmost kindness, so that her closing years were those of pleasantness and peace.

"Well, the old lady is gone!" said more than one rugged ruralist regretfully, after her death; "and a better woman never lived," they all added. Said Justice Johnson:

"A more honorable example of vigorous and sturdy womanhood was seldom seen. Her freshness of mind and vitality remained with her to an astonishing degree. Perhaps her most remarkable feature was her green and retentive memory, and she was a cyclopæ lia of all the every day news of Bozrah for an age."

Futhermore, she was one of the last survivors of a race of household hands, peculiar to New England, who "jest worked 'round for a livin'," like the Yankee "hired man," and toiled early and late, with unexampled fidelity and loyalty, for a very small pecuniary compensation. Yet they were as independent and proud as you please, and it wouldn't do at all to proffer to them the chilly and humiliating hand of charity. In a certain degree, perhaps, a corresponding class of home helpers was met with before the war in faithful old plantation hands in Virginia and Kentucky. In respect of old Abby Smith's exact age, there was always somewhat of doubt on the part of her neighbors, and the general opinion was that she was a trifle older—perhaps a year or so—than she believed herself to be.

PHYSICIANS AND SCIENTISTS

Fail to Help Mrs N. Whitney.

HILLSBORO BRIDGE, N. H —There is no more highly respected resident of this village than Mrs. N. E. Whitney. Her long and serious illness and her remarkable recovery through the aid of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, has made that medicine a necessity in many New Hampshire households.

Mrs. Whitney in speaking about her sickness said: "I had been gradually failing in health for a number of years, and was told by my physicians that I was in the last stages of Bright's disease I had been under the treatment at various times of six physicians two clairvoyants and a Christian scientist, but received no benefit from any of them. It seemed to me that every means of ever being cured had been tried except to use Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which had been recommended. I purchased a bottle, and by the time I had used the second bottle I was greatly improved, and from that on I gained daily, and it was not long before I was doing my regular household work. No tongue can tell how I suffered for the three years before I used Favorite Remedy. My age is 56 and I now weigh 35 pounds more than I ever did. Favorite Remedy restored me to health and strength."

As a prominent physician recently said: "Anyone suffering from kidney or urinary troubles, rheumatism or dyspepsia, should use Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; it will cure them if their disease is within the reach of medicine."

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery.

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

An Ordinance

governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An ordinance governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation" has been introduced and passed its first and second readings in the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield. The date when said ordinance passed its second reading is March 8, 1895, and this notice is given pursuant to the requirement of the statute in such case made and provided. By order of the Board of Health. H. O. NEWMAN, Secretary.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., March 16, 1895.

MUSIC HALL

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 498.

Friday, March 22—1 Night

Canary & Lederer's newest New York production THE

20th Century Girl.

75 people on the stage 75

The phenomenal cast introduces John T. Kelly, Dan Dooly, Samie Fisher, Bettina Gerard, Edith Rowe, Jennie Weatherby, Al H. Wilson, Harry Kelly, Harry Standish, Catherine Quingard, Lillian Thurgate, Orisett Carlyle and others. Everything bright, new, original and up to the title.

Prices 35, 50, 75c, $1 and $1.50.
Box office now open.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

AT PECK'S.

NEW Street Glove $1.50. Foster's KID GLOVES. Black, Brown Tan, Mode and Slate.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block, 134

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Carpet Dep't.

Opening of New Spring Goods.

We quote only a few specials.

All-wool ingrains at.....49c
Tapestry Brussels, at.....53c 59c 65c
Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminister, Ishpahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, jointless, new patterns, 9c up.
Oil cloths, No. 1. 39c No. 3 at 25c No. 4 at 19c
Linoleums at 37½c; Window shades 19c up; poles with fixtures 19c up.

The elegant new Laces in

Our Lace Dept.

will interest you.

Laces, Veilings and Lace Collars.

A large collection of fine laces and lace collars (by far the most comprehensive assortment in the city) we shall offer during the week at prices very much below real value, comprising Broderie Anglaise, Point de Gene, Point Venise, Chiffon, Chantilly and Point de Ireland Laces, now very desirable for spring trimmings. Our leader this week—Brussells Applique in match patterns of 3 widths—5 inch 19c; 6½ inch 23c; 8 inch 31c a yard.

Veilings

All-silk Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings 18x27 inches wide, in all colors, at 25 and 35c a yard; regular price 35 and 50c a yard.

Lace Collars

Point Venise and Point de Rene Collars (butter color) now much in demand, regular $1.50 to $5 lines, special during the week at $1.25, $1.39, $1.93 and $3.28 each.

Silks

Illuminated Brocaded and Striped Taffeta Silks, 12 different combinations, 20 inches wide, will not cut, crush or slip in seams, choice designs, good value at 95c yard; special at 65c a yard. 700 yards of Crepon Wash Fabrics, in all leading colorings, regular 10c goods; special for the week 7½c yard.

Housefurnishing and China Dept

Extra values at about half price. At half price, 1 lot English Majolica milk and water pitchers

Milk pitcher regular price 15c; special 8c.
" " " 19c; special 10c
Water " " 29c; special 13c
" " " 39c; special 23c

The above are assorted colors and strictly perfect.

50 dozen engraved goblets, all perfect, at 3c each: scrub brushes, regular 15c, at 10c each; japanned chamber pails, assorted colors, 23c; another lot japanned bread boxes at 27c; japanned fire screens, 4 fold bamboo frames, at 49c.

Grocery Department

TERMS CASH—Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. You will be surprised at the amount of money you can save in buying in this department.

SPECIAL SPECIAL

French sardines in pure olive oil, Martel brand at 10c can
Cook's flat salmon steaks, very fine, at 16c
Very fine large olives, 32 oz bottle, 39c can.
Heinz's assorted Little Giant pickles 9c bottle.
Anderson's jams, all kinds, 1 pound tins, 12c.
FLOUR—Our White Seal Flour is in greater demand each day. The price and quality is right. ⅛ barrel 54c; ¼ barrel $1.07; ½ barrel $1.98; 1 barrel $3.95.

Special for Saturday Night Only

From 8 to 9:30.

500 yards of Point Venise, Bourdon, Applique and Valenciennes laces, 2 to 7 in. wide, 20c to 50c lines; special Saturday only at 10c, 18c, 20c, and 25c a yard.

1,000 yards of satin and gros grain ribbons in all leading shades, ¾ to 4 in. wide, reduced to 3, 5, 9, 12 and 20c a yard; regular price 5, 7, 12, 18 and 25c a yard.

EDSALL'S

DO YOU BUY YOUR Trunks and Bags in New York?

Do So No More.

You can now buy them just as cheap at the house of

Doane & Edsall.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

BLACKMAIL AS A HERITAGE.

The Cornerstone of Police Blackmail in New York Laid in Peter Stuyvesant's Day.

In Stuyvesant's time many abuses of power and assessment were grafted upon the eternal customs of the town. Shortly after his arrival he observed that "one full fourth part of the city of New Amsterdam have become houses for the sale of ardent spirits, of tobacco and beer," on some of the business streets this proportion still holds good. He inaugurated Sunday closing, with the result, perpetuated to our time, of sidedoor opening. Fines were established for this, that and the other infraction of regulations which afforded the constables a legal basis for making reprisals. In 1658 eight men were constituted the rattle watch and were authorized to take "lock up" money and fees, which sums were to be brought into the house of the captain of the watch and held for the benefit of the members, a "divvy," as it is now called, occurring four times a year.

Thus extortion was put, as it were, upon a basis of police discretion and right; but there was a rule against setting up a social club on the proceeds. So the habit of police collections, contracted as a pleasurable duty, has been handed down as a vast and secret perquisite of the guardians of the public peace; and it must not be overlooked that from those days to these the police of the city have been in the personnel a continuing body. It was as necessary then as now to admonish the police not to use violence upon peaceful burghers.

"Burgher right," after the Dutch custom, was granted by Stuyvesant to please the citizens, and prevailed as a trading and electoral qualification of "freemen" into our own century. Stuyvesant fixed the fee of "great burghers," from whom municipal officers were chosen, at fifty florins; and of "small burghers," qualified to pursue a trade or to keep shop, at twenty-five florins. Partly from this acorn has grown the Tammany oak of assessments and reprisals on merchants.

Followers of shady callings in the early days were the spoil of the autocratic authorities, just as they have been to-day of equally irresponsible blackmailers. Some of the earliest settlers were freebooters from the Spanish main. Smuggling was as common as Indian cheating, and Stuyvesant and other governors, English as well as Dutch, were openly charged with sharing in the profits of illicit trade. Subsequent to the Dutch governors piracy found in Manhattan its chief emporium. Even reputable merchants devised moral and legal quibbles for engaging in sea poaching, usually under the cover of so-called privateering. The great William Kidd was peculiarly a Manhattan product. Gov. Fletcher in 1696 admitted that he had exchanged "presents" with the notorious pirate Thomas Tew, but explained that his chief desire in seeking his "amusing conversation" was "to reclaim him from a vile habit of swearing"—which parallels the Tammany theory that a proper way to reclaim malefactors is to appoint them to public office. In 1698 the Earl of Bellomont, who had succeeded Fletcher as governor, complained to the English lords of trade that he had endeavored to place four merchantmen, about to clear for Madagascar, under bonds not to supply pirates at that notorious trysting place with supplies, and bring their booty to Manhattan; "but the council, some of them being concerned in these ships," he writes, "unanimously opposed this method, as not prescribed by law, and because it was never practiced here before, so I was forced to discharge the said ships."—Century.

Realism in the Witness Box.

When Searcy resumed the stand, looking fresh and chipper, Mr. White handed him a 44 calibre Colt's revolver, and asked him if he knew it. He said he did; that it was Charlie Morgan's pistol; that he used it at the Aquia Creek train robbery. Then Searcy turned it over to Lawyer Shay for cross examination. Mr. Shay's examination was exhaustive, and traced the whole course of Searcy's life. Searcy's replies were terse and pointed. After telling of his travels in this country, Central and South America, Searcy got to the time of the train robbery.

His story differed only in minor details from what had already been narrated by the other witnesses until he came to describe the manner in which their masks were put on when Mr. Shay dramatically whipped out of his pocket a large red bandana handkerchief and asked Searcy to put it on in the manner the masks were worn.

"Are the holes cut?" asked Searcy.

"No," replied Attorney Shay.

"Please cut them," said Searcy.

"I am not posted in the business," said Shay; "you cut them."

Some one produced a pair of shears and Searcy cut holes in the handkerchief, which he then put on in the manner in which he said they were worn on the night of the robbery. Then Morgan's hat was produced and Searcy was requested to put that on, and there he stood, the observed of all observers, an ideal train robber.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A Gray Rabbit's Nest.

Just as small boats always keep near shore, the short legged rabbit is never found far from a hiding place of some sort. Nature gave the gray rabbit a coat with a color that is a very great protection to him; and when he furls his ears and lies close to the ground, one can sometimes actually step over him without seeing that he is there. The ways of this little creature have surprised me many times; but he never actually paralyzed me with astonishment until one fine spring day when the mowers in the Smithsonian grounds were cutting the grass on the lawn, not over a hundred feet from the National Museum building. And there, on a bit of ground utterly without shrubs, bushes, or even flowers, covered with nothing but lawn grass, at that time only four inches in height, with a busy roadway and walk circling round on three sides, with the office of the curator of mammals in easy stone's throw on the other, a shop full of deadly taxidermists and osteologists looming up on the east, and dogs and bad boys literally swarming all about—there, on that naked lawn, was the nest of a gray rabbit, containing four young ones already so large that they filled the nest as full as it would hold!—St. Nicholas.

The Procession.

"Yes," remarked Mrs. Malaprop, "it was a great sight. First came the king, carrying a skeptic in his hand and wearing a beautiful red mantle all trimmed with vermin. It was a grand sight."—Truth.

Delightful Appropriateness.

It is proposed to locate a creamery on Cow Creek.—Morning Oregonian.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Two important meetings for this week are the Borough primary of Wednesday and the school meeting tonight.

The walks in some parts of the Borough are very bad, and it is hoped the Commissioners will have them repaired soon.

Mrs. Barclay Ball of High street entertained company from New York yesterday.

W. H. Leach is reported to be somewhat better.

Rev. Frank Fletcher has been spending the day in New York.

Mrs. P. Harmon has returned from her visit with Glen Gardner friends.

J. Y. Wilson is recovering from his attack of the grip.

Mrs. Silas Naftor left yesterday for Brooklyn, where she will visit her son Frank.

Mrs. Harry W. Hull returned yesterday to her home in Sing Sing, after spending many pleasant weeks with her sister, Miss Lillian T. Slape.

J. H. Staats and bride of Frenchtown are guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Staats.

Mrs. A. S. Corlell, Jr., is entertaining Mrs. Emily Tunison of Somerville.

Wm. Bittle and family will move to Plainfield April 1.

Mrs. A. G. Dunham is visiting relatives in New York.

J. H. Cramer and family are moving today to the place formerly occupied by W. J. Winges.

Miss Della Fritts went out yesterday for the first since her recent illness.

King's Daughters Musicale.

The Charity Circle, King's Daughters, will give a musicale in the Casino, Monday evening, April 1, at 8:15. Mrs. W. B Boorsem of Brooklyn, and other artists, will entertain. Tickets are to be obtained at Reynolds's and Randolph's drugstores, and of the following patronesses:

Mrs Alexander Gilbert, Mrs Isaac L Miller, Mrs Walter Haviland, Mrs John Gray Foster, Mrs Wm E Lowe, Mrs J K Myers, Mrs Mason W Tyler, Mrs F O Herring, Mrs Charles McCutchen and Miss Schipper.

The members of the Circle are: Mrs Charles Brooks, Mrs Wm Kaufman, Mrs E H Ladd, Mrs F A Pollock, Mrs Marion Ackerman, Mrs G S Clay, Mrs H M Stockton, Mrs Charles Fisk, Mrs Wilbur Fisk, Mrs A T Slauson, Mrs Howard Tracy, Mrs Evarts Tracy, Mrs Wm Stillman, Mrs Wm Kinney, Mrs Jose Mackado, Mrs Josephine Sterling, Mrs George Schoonmaker, Mrs D M Van Vliet, Mrs W A Garrigues, and the Misses Bushnell, Cook, Hunter, Huntington, Hayes, Tracy, Vreeland, Van Boskerck and Wood.

Ready for the Field Day.

The committees from the High School and Leal's School met yesterday afternoon. Charles B Morse was elected chairman of the joint committee and Albert Sampson secretary. The High School was represented by Edgar I Serrell, Wilbur F Cornwell, J Hazlewood Craig, Charles B Morse and George P Smith.

The Leal's School committee consisted of Lewis Thomas, Albert Sampson, George Rose and E Hall.

The committee decided in favor of limiting the field day to schools within 20 miles. A full report will be made at the P. H. S. A. A., Wednesday afternoon.

A challenge to a baseball game has been received from the Reading Academy of Flemington. It is to be hoped that a team can be organized, and the challenge accepted.

Fourteen Years of Happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Earned of Craig place were given a surprise party last night in honor of their fourteenth wedding anniversary. The affair was arranged by Mr and Mrs DeVoe, and complete in affording a pleasant evening of music and games, together with refreshments.

The following were present: Mr and Mrs Charles Vail, Mr and Mrs Fred Smalley, Mr and Mrs Will F Williams, Mr and Mrs. Nixon, Misses Cutler, Biglow, Petery, DeGollier, Ligue, Shafer, Ladd, Harned, Mrs Ladd and Irving Harned.

—Willett's $3 shoes are better than ever.

Father Flaherty's Trial.

Rochester, N. Y., March 19.—Justice Werner of the supreme court has granted a motion to postpone the trial of Father Flaherty which was to come up at Geneseo. Defendant's counsel ask for a change of venue on account of the partisan and bitter feeling among the people of Livingston county.

United for Ireland's Freedom.

London, March 19.—Justin McCarthy presided at the annual Nationalist banquet in London last night. He said in his speech that there was neither division nor faction in the party—that all were pledged to secure Ireland's autonomy and to nothing else.

Brooklyn, 6; Pittsburg, 5.

Savannah, Ga., March 19.—The exhibition game between the Pittsburg and Brooklyn teams resulted in victory for the latter by a score of 6 to 5.

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c, and $1. Sold by all druggists.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Short Stories of Heroism from Real Life.

True to the Old Flag. On March 19, 1865, Sherman's army was saved from destruction by the courage of one man. An Andersonville prisoner named Williams, who had passed the summer of 1864 in the stockade, found himself dying of a disease incurable in the prison camp. He decided to get north or die in the effort and enlisted in the Confederate army, intending to desert at the first chance. He was closely watched and could not get away. On the morning of March 19 Sherman was marching toward Raleigh, his army in two columns, on roads several miles apart. The right wing, on approaching Bentonville, found the road held by the enemy. General Slocum, the commander, asked Sherman, who was just leaving the bivouac to ride across the swamp and join Howard's left wing, whether he should fight his way through or wait for Howard to come up. "Go right ahead," said Sherman. "There is nothing in your front except a handful of cavalry." The chief rode away, and Slocum ordered an advance. His troops encountered infantry and batteries in a strong line. A fresh division was then ordered to break through at all hazard. Just at that time an aid brought before his chief a young man dressed in gray who had asked to see the commanding officer at once. He told his own story first, for he was Williams, the deserter, then said that there was an army of 40,000 Confederates in ambush on Slocum's front; that General Joe Johnston and the most valiant leaders of the south were in camp and had laid their plans to smash Sherman's army, a wing at a time. Slocum at first believed that the fellow was playing false, but some one present recognized Williams as a former Union soldier. He was taken at his word and the lines formed for defense. Couriers galloped off to notify Sherman and Howard, and the desperate assaults of Johnston's columns were met by firm battalions not to be overthrown.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St, NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan.

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.

The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night.

Almost Given Away

Who wants it?

A House on Fairview Avenue,

Watchung Park. New, delightfully located, LOT 50x175 FEET.

9 rooms, all improvements, electric and gas light, stained glass, finely papered; has to be seen to be appreciated; known as the Russian style; mortgage $3,000; $1,500 cash takes it. Can be seen at any time. Apply to

A. BARNETT,
3 13 6 339 Park avenue.

We have a few

Wall Pockets

odds and ends of two or three styles, in

Gilt, Enamel and Plain Frames

worth $1.25, now

89 Cents.

R. C. RAND.

140 West Front st.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue.
Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street,

Next to Trinity Reformed Chu ch.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 26 y

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

WANTED—Board for 3 young men; also for family of 4; near station preferred. Address Home Comforts, care Press

WANTED—A girl for general housework. 217 West 2d st.

$800 BUYS house and lot on West 3d st; will rent for $120 a year. Mulford, broker. 3 19 3

TO LET—Pleasant furnished rooms. 323 Watchung ave.

WANTED—Work as cook and laundress. Address X., care Press.

WANTED—Immediately, 3 rooms and board; family 4 adults. Address promptly, McKay, care Press.

WANTED—Room suitable for manufacturing toilet preparations. Address Druggist Sundries, care Press.

WANTED—A good cook and laundress in a small family; reference required. 831 Madison ave. 3 19 2

WANTED—Saleslady and young girl to learn millinery. Address Millinery, care Press.

EXPERIENCED cook and laundress wanted; white. 226 East 5th st. 3 19 tf

TO LET—2 new, attractive dwellings, 12 rooms each; all modern improvements; expensive decorations; Belvidere ave., opp. Hotel Netherwood; Woodland ave., near LaGrande; will sell; inspection invited. Call or address Alfred Cocks, 728 Woodland avenue, near Netherwood station, or Plainfield brokers. 3 19 2-t th

FOR SALE—Sideboard and sidetable. 243 East 9th st. 3 19 tf

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st, between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FOR SALE—25 loads of fine manure for lawns and gardens. B. W. Hand, 736 west Front st. 3 19 2

TO LET—110 Jackson avenue; 1st floor rent $8.50. 3 19 2

NOW is the time to buy a house on easy terms; prices range from $1,000 to $30,000; farms from $2,500 to $15,000; lots $5 to $50 per foot; houses to let from $9 to $75 per month; stores from $15 to $50 per month. Wm. D. Thickstun, real estate and insurance, 197 North avenue, near Watchung.

LOST—Saturday evening on Somerset st. between Manning ave. and Front st., a pocketbook containing between $3 and $4 and several clippings of deceased children's hair. The owner, a poor widow woman, will reward the finder by leaving it at this office. 3 18 3

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

$500 TO LOAN on first bond and mortgage at 6 per cent. Address X. Y. Z., care Press. 3 18 tf

A SQUARE Worcester piano for sale; $50; will sell on installment plan. Address Piano, care Press. 3 18 3

A GOAT wagon, harness and sleigh for sale; price $10. Address Wagon, care Press. 3 18 3

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

TO LET—Two small stores or offices on one of the finest corners in the city, with or without stable room for one or more horses. Inquire F. Westphal & Son cor. of West 4th and Liberty st. 3 6 m

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman. 1 30 tf

Hot Rolls

of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department. 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
69c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....69c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 30c " 19c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $4 25—worth $6
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2 49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1 25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 00 " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44, for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

—THE—

Plainfield Ice & Cold Storage Co

has removed from 140 Park avenue to

132 North Avenue.

3 13 6

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.
HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

SUCH SELLING

From Monday morning until Saturday night of the pick of our immense stock, with profits chopped off, just for a big and bright ending of a dull month. Profits will come later, perhaps. All new goods, not in the store a month. We are only giving you our

PROFITS

Crepon

Cloth, a new name for crinkles. Wash 'em and shake them out; no ironing necessary. Manufacturer thought they would sell for 12c, but they didn't, so they go for 6c.

Embroideries

Just a hint our show window gives of our big purchase—5,000 yards in the lot. Not too much for Plainfield at the price—3 to 10c, and worth from 10c to 20c.

Ginghams

You know the Toile du Nords; ask anyone the price and they say 10 and 12c. White's price 6c, and 30 inch percales ought to bring 10c, but they go for 6c.

Silks

The prettiest weaves. Makes you wish you could buy them all when you see them, and you can, for the price is only 61c. All shades in light and dark grounds.

Dress Goods

Go where you please—it's the same story White's is ahead of all, and you buy an all wool dress for what a gingham used to cost. Too many kinds to tell of all. Just come and see them.

Linens

Big selling it will be this week and little prices buy them. Towels, toweling, table linen, napkins at a third off, just to show you how cheap they can be sold. The more we can hammer prices the better.

For further particulars see circulars

WHITE of Plainfield.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work and material at fair prices 3 4 y

PLAINFIELD SOUVENIR SPOONS.

COLLIER'S,

103 PARK AVENUE.

ESTABLISHED 1869

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

Scott's Emulsion

is Cod-liver Oil emulsified, or made easy of digestion and assimilation. To this is added the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which aid in the digestion of the Oil and increase materially the potency of both. It is a remarkable flesh-producer. Emaciated, anæmic and consumptive persons gain flesh upon it very rapidly. The combination is a most happy one Physicians recognize its superior merit in all conditions of wasting. It has had the endorsement of the medical profession for 20 years.

Don't be persuaded to take a substitute!

Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c and $1.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

To All To Whom These Presents May Come, Greeting:

Whereas, In the judgment of the Board of Directors of The Music Hall Association of Plainfield, a corporation organized under the laws of this State, it has been "deemed advisable and most for the benefit of such corporation that the same should be dissolved before the expiration of the time limited in its certificate of organization," as appears by a duly authenticated record of the proceedings of said board of directors of such corporation held in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An Act concerning corporations," approved April 7, 1875, and the several supplements thereto, which said record, including the consent in writing of "two-thirds in interest of all the stockholders" of said corporation that such dissolution should take place, as by said act required having been by said corporation deposited in my office;

Now therefore, I Henry C. Kelsey, Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey, being satisfied by due proof that the requirements of "An Act concerning corporations," approved April 7, 1875, and the supplements thereto, relative to the dissolution of corporations, have been fully complied with by the said corporation, do hereby certify that The Music Hall Association of Plainfield did on the twenty-fifth of February, 1895, file in my office a duly executed and attested certificate of consent to the dissolution of said corporation by two-thirds in interest of all the stockholders thereof, which said certificate of consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file and of record in my said office, as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal, at Trenton, this Twenty-fifth day of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-five.

(L. S.)

HENRY C. KELSEY,
Secretary of State.

2 26 4

Notice of Order to Limit Creditors.

Somerset County Surrogate's Office.

Estate of Daniel Cory deceased,

Notice is hereby given that on the eleventh day of March A. D. 1895, on the application of the undersigned, as administrator of Daniel Cory deceased; an order was made by the Surrogate requiring the creditors of Daniel Cory deceased, to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the said decedent, under oath or affirmation, and present the same to the subscriber within nine months from the date of said order; and in default thereof any such creditor should be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the subscriber

JOHN CORY
Administrator.

3 15 9-oaw

Co-partnership Notice.

Notice is hereby given that J. Augustus Smith has associated with him, as co-partner, Frederick E. Smith, and that the general grocery business formerly conducted by him at No. 125 West Front street, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, is now conducted and will hereafter be conducted by the subscribers as co-partners under the firm name and style of J. Augustus Smith & Bro.

J. AUGUSTUS SMITH,
FREDERICK E. SMITH.

3 7 4-oaw

ASSIGNEE'S SETTLEMENT.

Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, assignee of Sylvester Sharkey, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, on Wednesday, the thirteenth day of March next.

Dated January 7, 1895.

CHARLES B. CLIFFTON.

1 8 10 oaw

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectionaries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

DIRECTIONS for using

CREAM BALM.

Apply a particle of the Balm well up into the nostrils. After a moment draw a strong breath through the nose. Use three times a day, after meals preferred, and before retiring.

CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

ELY'S CREAM BALM opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Price 50c at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper.

1 21 tf-c

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

O. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging. 37 Chatham street.

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

THE FUN IN A BEAR.

THE MORAL HUNTER DRAWS FROM HIS EXPERIENCE.

The Bear Stripped Him, He Says, and Put On the Clothes. As Evidence of Good Faith He Won't Shoot Bears Any More.

"I don't care what anybody says or thinks," said Max Ransom of New York city, an observant sportsman and one who thinks twice before he shoots, "but I am convinced that the predominating trait in the character of the great American bear is a longing for fun.

"Two or three of us were up in Pennsylvania one fall deer hunting. One day, after standing on a runway for two or three hours, and judging that the dogs had taken the deer in another direction, I put my gun down and walked away a short distance to a barberry bush to pick some of the tart berries. A frost had knocked the berries all off the bush and they lay thick on the ground beneath it. I stooped down and was enjoying the refreshing mountain fruit when I felt something tap me on the shoulder. I looked up and there, towering above me and with a grin on its face as near as a grin could possibly be on a face not human, stood a bear at least five feet tall, being on its hind feet, looking down at me, his forepaws hanging loose against his chest. It was the bear, of course, that had tapped me on the shoulder.

"Now here was a situation. I couldn't get at my gun. I had a knife in my pocket, but with that universal belief I have always had that the bear is a fierce, ugly and pugnacious beast that wanders about with his eye constantly skinned for some one he can pitch into and scatter about and chew up, I didn't think it would be wise for me to rise from the base of that towering bear, right into his clutch, you might say, and defy him with a knife. The bear seemed to be waiting for me to do something. I was in squatting posture and really couldn't make up my mind what to do. So I remained just as I was, trying to think what ought to be done under the circumstances. I guess the bear must have got impatient, for he reached down and tapped me on the shoulder again. It was just a gentle tap, as if he were calling my attention to something or other. Then I made up my mind. I thought I might throw myself quickly forward, get to my feet, cut and run, and make a circuit among the trees, supposing all the time that the bear would be chasing me until I could get back to where my gun was. Once there, I could have no further apprehension as to the result.

"So I made a surge forward, but before my head had scarcely changed its position the bear's paw closed on my shoulder. In an instant he jerked me to my feet, turned me square around, and there I stood, face to face with him, he with a paw on each of my shoulders. I thought my only chance now was to get my knife in action before the bear finished me, and I carefully slipped my hand in my pocket and got the knife. I was stealthily passing my other hand over to open the knife when the bear calmly reached down with one paw, snatched it out of my hand and threw it away. From the position the bear was in I might have given him a tremendous kick in the stomach and doubled him up so I could have got to my gun before he got over the effects of the kick, but I didn't think of it, and I'm glad now that I didn't. I wouldn't have known then what there really is in bears, and would have gone on killing them in cold blood.

"After the bear threw my knife away he took off my hat, looked it over, and then put it on his own head in a rakish way. He was more than grinning now; he was actually laughing and his eyes twinkled mischievously. The next move he made was to unbutton my hunting coat and take it off of me as slick as could be. This he threw off to one side and then took off my vest. He laid the vest on the coat.

"'Heavens!' I said to myself. 'This bear is going to strip me so he can chaw me up better.'

"After taking off my vest, the bear pushed me down on the two garments and deliberately and expertly drew off my boots! Then he sat down opposite me and drew the boots on his own feet. After he had done that he yanked me off the coat and vest, and tried to put the vest on himself. It was too small, but he got the coat on all right, and then he was a sight that made me tumble right down there and howl. It was the funniest thing I ever saw. My mirth seemed to please the bear, and he danced around like a tipsy raftsman, cutting all sorts of fandangos and pigeon wings. I guess this lasted ten minutes, and I was sore all through from laughing, when suddenly the bear stopped, cocked his head on one side and listened a moment. Then he stripped my coat off and tossed it to me, and sitting down pulled off the boots and gave them back. To take off the hat and hand it over was only the work of a second, and then the bear hurried away into the brush and disappeared. He had hardly got away before along came my companions with their guns. The bear had heard them, and he knew what would happen to him from men with guns, and so he got away as quickly as he could.

"Of course, my friends were surprised to see me sitting there half stripped, and when I told them what had occurred they acted as if they didn't believe me. And they've acted that way ever since."—N. Y. Sun.

Perpetual Pleading.

Lawyer—This case is likely to go hard with you, for the jury has accepted Digginton's plea that you hypnotized him into the commission of the crime.

Prisoner—Oh, I guess not. I can prove that another fellow hypnotized me into hypnotizing Digginton. As to who hypnotized the fellow that hypnotized me, that is his lookout.—Indianapolis Journal.

Blighted.

"I guess I ain't a success in the pun business," confessed Mr. Smallwort. "I put in three hours the other night getting up a joke about a ride on a horse at the price of a cent being like the wife of Ulysses, because it was a penny-lope, and when I read it to my family my eldest daughter informed me, in her superior way, that the word was pronounced Penellopy."—Cincinnati Tribune.

An Instance.

Tommy—Pa, what is an empty nothing?

Mr. Figg—I don't know, unless it is a dude before breakfast.—Indianapolis Journal.

OWNERS OF THE UNIVERSE.

Let us corner up the sunbeams
Lying all around our path;
Get a trust on wheat and roses,
Give the poor the thorns and chaff.
Let us find our chiefest pleasure
Hoarding bounties of to-day,
So the poor shall have scant measure
And two prices have to pay.

Yes, we'll reservoir the rivers,
And we'll levy on the lakes,
And we'll lay a trifling toll tax
On each poor man who partakes;
We'll brand his number on him
That he'll carry through his life;
We'll apprentice all his children,
Get a mortgage on his wife.

We will capture e'en the wind god
And confine him in a cave;
And then, through our patent process,
We the atmosphere will save;
Thus we'll squeeze our little brother
When he tries his lungs to fill;
Put a meter on his windpipe,
And present our little bill.

We'll syndicate the starlight,
And monopolize the moon;
Claim a royalty on rest days,
An proprietary oon;
For right of way through ocean's spray
We'll charge just what it's worth;
We'll drive our stakes around the lakes—
In fact we'll own the earth.

—Rochester Democrat.

REVERSED BY A COLLISION.

An Old Brakeman Tells of a Queer Railroad Accident in the West.

"The most remarkable wreck I was ever in," said an old brakeman, "happened on the Short Line between Pewee and Beard's some years ago. It was a freight wreck. I had charge of the La Grange accommodation, and was bound in to Louisville. We were following hard upon the trail of train No. 33, also bound for Louisville. Train No. 14 was coming in our direction. It had been delayed some minutes at Pewee, but expected to make up the time and sidetrack between Pewee and Beard's on schedule time, so that train No. 33 would have the right of way.

"The delay was what caused the trouble. The side track I am telling you about was just behind and under a hill. Train No. 14 had just backed on to the side track, and before the switchman could shift the switch train No. 33 came dashing around the hill. The engineer saw the danger. He turned down the throttle with a hard shove and whistled 'down brakes.' His efforts were of no use, however. Train No. 32 turned in on the side track and went crashing into No. 14. All the cars of the train, fourteen, were stripped off the track as clean as if they had been peas in a pod. The shock of the two trains meeting was, of course, terrific. The whole of train No. 33, including the locomotive, toppled off the track. Remarkable as it may seem, only the cars of No. 14 were thrown off the track.

"When the two trains struck the engineer of 14 had his hand on the throttle about to stop his train. The shock threw him out of the cab and the wrench threw open the throttle again and reversed the engine. When the cars had been stripped off the track the locomotive went 'wild' down the track toward Lagrange. We of the Lagrange accommodation had by this time neared the curve. I was at the head of the train as lookout. I heard the sound of a locomotive approaching and signaled the engineer of our train to reverse his engine. He had hardly time to jump to the throttle when the wild locomotive crashed into us. I was thrown, I reckon, 50 feet, and came out of it with two broken legs. No one else was hurt, but the Lagrange accommodation was a day late. No, I don't railroad any more."—Courier-Journal.

His Dearly Beloved Son.

He was a typical Virginia darky, very old, patriarchal, and very black. He came into Judge Miller's court yesterday very much excited.

"My name am Lemuel Harris," he said, "and dis boy he's my dearly beloved son; but he's bad, yo' honor, mighty powerful bad."

Albert Harris, the youthful wayward, pleaded not guilty in a loud voice to the charge of threats against the old man.

"'Deed, jedge," continued Lemuel, "he's nigh paralyzed me with worry. He say he goin' ter lead a fas' life, and he threatened ter knock my haid off if I didn't lef' him erlone."

"Well," queried the court, "did he hit you?"

"No, jedge, he didn't hit me. I sh'd hope he wouldn't hit his po' ol' father; but, jedge, he drawed back, he drawed back. He say ter me, 'I'll make yo' jump, ol' man.'"

Albert here remarked to the court that his old father was lying.

"Well, you'll have to give bonds to keep the peace," decided his honor.

"Dat won't suit me, jedge," asserted the outraged parent.

"I can't do anything more now," replied the court. "Look here, boy, if you go near that old man again I'll send you to jail."

"Dat's de talk, jedge," said Lemuel, nodding approvingly. "He's my own dearly beloved son, but he'll hev ter lef' me erlone now."

And he shuffled out of court with the boy walking doggedly after.

"Yo' hyar now," the old man warned the youth when they reached the steps, "yo's got ter quit monkeyin' wid me or yo'll git yosel' in de soup."—Washington Post.

She Read the Newspapers.

The journey was long and the old lady with the plaid shawl thought to beguile the time by a conversation with the tailor made girl who sat with her.

"Live in the city?" asked the old lady.

"Yes. Work there," answered the girl, and said nothing more.

"Might I ask what you work at?"

"Figures."

This seemed discouraging, but the old lady plucked up her nerve and asked:

"Figures? Livin' picters or bookkeepin'?"—Washington Star.

Imported Wine.

Curious Customer—What makes this imported wine cost so much more than the domestic?

New Clerk—I guess it is the freight. You see, by the time they ship from California to Europe and back here again it takes a heap of money.—Indianapolis Journal.

Disguised Autobiography.

"In your new story, what made you put in the chapter on pirates, with all that awful profanity?"

"I had just bought a fountain pen."—Los Angeles Times.

A Song of the Times.

So hard the times on us have borne
That luxuries are few.
And last year's overcoats are worn,
And pretty well worn too.

An agreeable Laxative and Nerve Tonic. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO NO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U.S.A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will cure YOU, if taken in time. Price 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00.

Sold by all druggists.

8 14 7

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 29, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " " "
4,925 feet 10 " " "
8,005 feet 8 " " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
179 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 25 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.34 p m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00 3.05, 3.36 a. m., 3.59 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 05, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 05, 3 36, 4 46, 6 12, 6 46, 7 07, 7 30, 7 40, 7 55, 8 06, 8 20, 8 35, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 38, 10 49, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 18, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 05, 3 47, 4 07, 4 43, 5 15, 5 38, 5 49, 6 09, 6 27, 6 46, 6 59, 7 07, 7 26, 7 39, 8 1. 9 10, 9 50, 10 38 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 05, 3 36, 7 56, 8 46, 9 20, 9 47, 10 19, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 38, 1 44, 3 22, 3 48, 4 43, 4 58, 5 34, 6 46, 7 08, 7 12, 7 26, 7 58, 8 30 9 15, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 9 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—2 07, 3 07, 7 19, 9 05, 9 26, 11 43 A. M.; 1 08, 1 37, 3 22, 5 07, 6 36 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 08, 3 07, 9 05, 9 26, 10 43 A. M.; 5 07, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 42 P. M.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

(3 25 p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 8 59 a. m.

Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Delaware—1, 3 43 daily ex. Monday, 4 08, 6 46, 7 10, 7 39, 8 06, 9 46, 9 50, 10 39, 11 40 a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 1 37, 2 43, 3 20, 3 59, 5 19, 5 58, 6 23, 6 52, 8 00, 8 06 6 12, 6 27, 6 46, 6 52, 8 59, 7 20, 7 46, 8 14, 8 56, 9 44, 11 03 (2 11 45 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 1, 3 43, 8 00, 9 43, 9 49, 10 38 10 43 and 11 47 a. m., 12 56, 1 50, 2 47, 3 58, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 07, 7 10, 7 39, 9 05 9 26, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 56, 1 37, 2 48, 3 39, 4 38, 5 06, 5 40, 6 06, 6 46, 7 46, 9 39 and 11 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 06, 9 05, 9 26 9 49, 10 43 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 38 a. m., 12 46, 3 10, 4 13, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 24 p. m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 26, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 38, 12 46 3 50, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 36 9 24 and 12 27, Sundays, 1 43 10 25, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 26, 2 48 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Easton—1 00, 6 07, 7 10, 7 39, 9 05, 9 26, 11 43 A. M.; 1 05, 1 37, 2 48, 5 05, 6 16, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 4 19, 9 05 9 26, 10 43 A. M.; 8 40, 8 49, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 19 A. M., 2 48 and 6 36 p. m., and 8 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 39 A. M.; 2 48 P. M.

For Freehold—7 39, 11 43 a. m. 4 36, 5 05 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 43 a. m., 4 36 and 5 05 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 19 5 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p. m.

For Boston—8 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 20, 7 25, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 30, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 20, 4 00, 4 20, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40, 7 00, 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 50 p. m., 12 15 night. Sundays, 1 00 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 20 5 00, 6 00, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

E. M. POST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 8 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 8 15 p. m.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 11, 1895.

Armstrong J E	Ledeon L
Anderson Mrs Mary	Lloyd Miss
Bronson Miss E	Lowe Miss
Byron John	Laing Mrs N M
Bunn Mrs J N	Myers Fred H
Banner J	Mulligan Ellen
Blythe Katie	Macousen John
Bicker M	Miller J J
Brokaw Mrs Mary E	McKenna Michael
Baldwin W D	Hoyt W H
Bollson Wm	McElvaine Minnie
Colgate G S	Peterson Rev F E
Coffin Mrs L P	Pettonienie Maria
Clark Miss	Potts Geo H
Coalds Mary	Ray Georgia W
Carter W H	Rose Geo H
deGallarraga Dr J A	Randolph H R
Demarest D C	Reid Lizzie F
Dyckman Naomi F	Ruellan Mr
Edmonson Mamie	Randolph Mrs S R
Flanagan P	Randolph Sarah
G F R	Ross Will
Green John	Smith Hattie E
Hughes Annie	Starr W E
Hoehn Chas H	Schott Miss
Howell Frank	S H S
Hale Capt Geo	Thompson Frank
Henskins Jerry	Webber Mrs Anna
Hill Mrs Lithe	Williams Harry
Jones Lucy	Whiting Miss
Jones Lewis	Woman's Exchange
Jackson W H	Wilson M A
	Williams Minnie A

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring clean linen and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 3 14, 5 37, 6 38, 6 59, 7 30, 7 50, 7 58, 8, 8 18, 8 37, 8 52, 9 46, 9 55, 10 04, 10 19, 11 19, A. M., 12 06, 1 16, 3 07, 3 30, 3 52, 5 31, 6 00, 8 06, 8 54, 9 53, 11 53 night. Sunday—3 14, 8 37, 9 06, 9 37, 10 06, 11 19, A. M., 12 06, 1 16, 3 07, 3 30, 3 52, 5 31, 6 00, 8 06, 8 54, 9 53, 11 53 night.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 00, 6 00, 7 10, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 10 30 A. M., 12 00, 1 00, 2 00, 3 00, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, except Saturday, 6 00 6 30, 6, 8 30, 9 00, 9, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00, 11 30 P. M., 12 00 night. Sunday—8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 00 A. M., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 3 00, 4 00, 5 00, 6 00, 7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 00 P. M., 12 00 night.

PLAINFIELD AND DUNELLEN.

Leave Plainfield 6 38, 8 10, 9 04, 10 04, 11 30, 1, 3 40, 5 00, 6 30, 8 29, 9 31, 10 54, A. M., 12 50 night. Sunday—10 54, A. M., 12 50, 3 29, 5 31, 6 30, 8 29, 9 31, 10 54, A. M., 12 50 night.

Leave Dunellen 6 42, 8 14, 9 08, 10 08, 11 34, 1 04, 3 44, 5 04, 6 34, 8 33, 9 35, 10 58, A. M., 12 54 night. Sunday—10 58, A. M., 12 54 night.

PLAINFIELD AND DUNELLEN.

Leave Plainfield 6 38, 8 10, 9 04, 10 04, 11 30, 1, 3 40, 5 00, 6 30, 8 29, 9 31, 10 54, A. M., 12 50 night. Sunday—10 54, A. M., 12 50 night.

Leave Dunellen 6 42, 8 14, 9 08, 10 08, 11 34, 1 04, 3 44, 5 04, 6 34, 8 33, 9 35, 10 58, A. M., 12 54 night. Sunday—10 58, A. M., 12 54 night.

Leave Plainfield 6 38, 8 10, 9 04, 10 04, 11 30, 1, 3 40, 5 00, 6 30, 8 29, 9 31, 10 54, A. M., 12 50 night. Sunday—10 54, A. M., 12 50 night.

Leave Newark 6 10, 7 12, 7 38, 8 39, 9 08, 10 08, 11 08 A.M., 1 38, 3 38, 4 50 Saturday only, 5 46, 6 38, 6 46, 8 40, 8 44, 8 46, 9 37, 11 38, 7 38, 9 38, 9 46, 10 08, 11 08, 11 38 P. M. Sunday—7 38, 8 46, 9 38, 10 38, 11 38 A. M., 1 38, 3 38, 6 37, 8 46, 9 38, 10 38 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 8 46, 7 10, 8 16, 9 04, 11 a.m., 12 46 2 06, 3 27, 5 46, 6 06, 6 14, 6 34, 6 54, 8 19, 10 04, 10 21 11 39, A. M., 12 06, 1 16, 3 07, 3 30, 3 52, 5 31, 6 00, 8 06, 8 54, 9 53, 11 53 night. Sunday—8 46, 9 37, 11 23, P. M., 12 28 night. Sunday—8 46, 9 34, A. M., 2 06, 3 27, 5 46, 6 06, 6 14, 6 34, 6 54, 8 19, 10 04, 10 21, 11 39, P. M., 12 28 night.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 7 50, 8 20, 9 00, 9 40, 11 40 A. M., 12 50, 1 45, 3 05, 3 28, 4 20, 5 28, 6 18, 6 47, 8 45, 11 05, P. M. Sunday 8 30, 9 45, 10 55 A. M., 12 05, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 02, 8 04, 9 40 P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 6 46, 9 16, 9 54, A. M., 12 46, 3 06, 5 14, 6 06, 8 21 P. M. Sundays—6 46, 8 38 A. M., 3 06, 6 06, P. M.

Leave Easton 6 06, 7 00, 8 03, A. M., 12 07, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sundays—7 16, 10 05, A. M., 6 40, 7 30, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 8 54, a. m., 5 06 p.m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 46 A. M. for Phillipsburg, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Hazleton, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

9 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 42 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 08 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 08 P. M. way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

5 36 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor, Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk, Shamokin and Tamaqua. Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 36 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

9 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

6 46 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 9 16 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 9 36 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6 36 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 9 37 a. m. 1 13 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 9 37, 8, 10 37, a. m. 1 13, 3 51, 6 44, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove) 9 33, a. m., 9 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 9 37, 8 33, 8 10 37 a. m., 1 13, 3 51, 4 50, 6 44, 8 33 p. m. Sundays—9 33, a. m., 9 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 9 37, 8, 10 37 a. m., 1 13, 3 51, 6 44 p. m. Sundays—9 33, a. m., 9 30 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 46, 9 46 9 46, 10 46, a. m., 3 08, 5 36 6 46 8 21, 9 37 p. m., 1 13, night. Sundays—5 46, 9 46, a. m., 3 08, 5 14 6 46 p. m., 1 13, night.

For Trenton 5 46, 9 46, 9 40, 10 46, a. m., 12 46, 3 08, 6 34, 6 46 p. m., 1 13, night. Sunday—5 46, 9 34, a. m., 3 08, 5 14 6 36 p. m., 1 13 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9 46, a. m., 3 08, 6 34 6 46 p. m., 1 13, night. Sundays—9 46 a. m., 3 08, 6 14 6 46 p. m. 1 13, night

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

We make and lay Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N J

UNUSUAL.

Great reductions, "half price sales," and "goods at cost," usually mean undesirable things that must fairly be kicked out, if they are to go out.

This week we offer two brilliant exceptions—

1st—$12 and $15 Ulsters at $7.90.

2d—$15 and $20 Overcoats at $10.90.

We make prices this week that will move them like feathers before a March wind.

WERNER'S, 206 West Front St

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

SIGN OF THE ARROW.

"The beginnin' of it all happened nigh on to twenty years ago," he resumed in response to our request for the story, "one time when I'd been out prospectin' 'round about San Felippe, and was on my way for more grub and powder and a new outfit of tools. It was a sizzlin' hot September afternoon, and I was takin' it kind of easy havin' nothin' much to hurry me, and was joggin' along on my mule just fast enough to keep my pack burro movin' ahead of me.

"I was gazin' up in the air, shadin' my eyes as best I could, to find how much the sun had dropped since I'd looked last, when I see, 'way up above the trail, half a mile ahead, what at first sight—with my eyes bein' dazzled—I took for a little floatin' cloud. Then, next minute when I see it sailin' 'round in a circle, and each time it made a round droppin' a little lower, I knew it wa'n't no cloud, but a bird, just one of them big California vultures, 9 feet from tip to tip of his wings if he was an inch.

"All to once the pack burro pricked her ears out forward, snorted and crowded 'round back on the trail, and my mule got to tremblin' and come to a dead stop. I hollered to the jenny and headed her off, as she was stampedin' back the way we'd come, and when I'd got her cornered in among some rocks, I hitched her and the mule short up to a bowlder and walked back to see what had scared 'em.

"I didn't wonder they was rattled when I seen what it was. There, lying sprawled out on his back across the trail, shot through the head, was a man with his face turned up to the sun.

"I see just in a minute who the man was lyin' there, he havin' been pretty well known in them parts, and havin' a scarred, scowlin' kind of face, which you didn't have to see more'n once to recollect it.

Him and his brother'd lived for the past five years up in among the pinon timber, way back on the upper slope of the same range of hills, alongside of which I was travelin', and there wa'n't but few men between the Colorado and White Water as could speak of 'em even without gettin' mad clean through, though they didn't care much to meddle with 'em really, bein' mostly just good, long distance talkers. One brother'd been killed the spring before, while actin' sort of fresh at an Indian fiesta, and now here was the other laid out, too.

"There'd been somethin' of a mystery about them two brothers, but more 'specially about the four or five men who'd gone up different times near their cabin, and never'd been afterward anyways heard from. Then, too, they'd been considerable conjecturin' as to them brothers bein' the ones what had got clean off with a good many express boxes and mail sacks from the desert stage line, and if they was, as to what they'd ever done with the coin and bullion they must have collected. They never was known to spend nothin' and so it was generally allowed they must have it all on hand cached somewheres.

"Havin' all these ideas runnin' through my head, and bein' though you mightn't think it, naturally curious minded and willin' to take no end of trouble to find out about things, no matter how triflin', which I didn't know and took interest in, as I stood there with the shadow of the vulture movin' like a little cloud over the sand—he not seemin' half so much scared at me bein' there as I'd been expectin' and sort of wished he had—I got to ponderin' and plannin'.

"Why not,' says I to myself, 'go on up to the cabin among the pinons and examine into things up there, now there's nobody to hinder?'

"Havin' concluded I'd make the trip, I didn't waste no time in startin', and, by hustling along pretty lively I managed to round up at the cabin a little after sundown. It seemed a gloomy kind of place to stop at, looking a long ways dismaler than the bare, hot sand and rocks of the desert down below. Nothin' all around but a low, scatterin' growth of scrubby pinons, just thick enough to shut out the view any way you'd look. There was a low, two roomed cabin, with the mud all droppin' out of the chinks and the bark peelin' off the logs; a brush shed for stock and a little shake granary, with a warped door hanging askew on one leather hinge.

"Havin unsaddled and taken off the pack and turned the animals loose to pick up what food they could, I didn't wait to get supper, but started right in inspectin' the premises. There was a room in each end of the cabin, with an open space between 'em, just covered in from the weather by the roof, and some shakes nailed up across the north side to keep out the worst of the wind. Here the only furnishin' was a three legged stool, an old saddletree and a stirrup leather hung up on pegs, a broken piece of lookin'glass and a ragged, moth eaten coyote skin tacked on the wall.

"I was gettin' discouraged and tired and hungry, and was just leavin' to start up a fire and get supper when I lowered my candle to look under the bunks, as a sort of finishin' up for the night of my examination, and there, under one of 'em, I see a big board box, painted red and bound with rusty hoop iron. Then I forgot all about eatin', and my curiosity got to workin' right away. I set the candle down on the floor, and, after considerable tuggin', got the box slid out to where I could get at it. The lock was gone all but the hasp and the lid was only fastened down with a hair rope lashin'. I unhitched that in just no time at all an' took off the top of the box, bein' all of a tremble with excitement.

"At first sight of the contents I was considerable disappointed. Aside from some rusty iron junk in the bottom of the box there was just a lot of old flannel shirts and a faded canvas coat wrapped round a five pound baking powder can. Inside the can there was a piece of rancheria tanned buckskin, done up in a roll. I was puttin' this back again, feelin' discouraged all through, when I see there was some blurry lines and letters drawn on it in ink, and I unrolled it near the candle to have a better look. It was meant for a map plain enough, but of what, first along, I couldn't make out.

"I quit looking out for anything else that night, and after I'd got supper put in my time puzzlin' away at the meanin' of the map and went to sleep still puzzlin'.

"In the mornin' first thing I started in again, and then, in a flash, the whole thing come to me. Everything seemed so plain I just wondered then I hadn't seen it all at first sight. 'I' was Torres Station and 'W W' White Water, and the crooked shaded line was the hills bordering on the desert, between the two places. I'd known the whole country thereabouts for years and recognized every little bend and corner in the hills where they'd tried to set 'em out on the map. Then I see the little red cross was just meant to locate the rock, with the arrow and the figures marked on it. Now I was on the right trail it didn't take me long to work it all out. I seen the whole scheme and the idea of the map and the blood just rushed to my head as I took it all in. Under that there rock was the coin and the bullion which folks had been conjecturin' about; '9' meant nine feet out from the arrow pointed down, and '3' meant three feet deep in the ground. That was where the plunder was.

"Well, as you can easy understand, I didn't waste much time once I'd struck this lead in startin' in to realize, and I went stumbling down that trail from the cabin at a gait which astonished the mule and worried the jenny considerable. But findin' treasury on a map and locatin' it on the ground I soon see was two very different things. I'd worked on the first proposition all right enough, but when I'd tackled the second I found I had a bigger contract on my hands than I'd been calculating on. I hadn't no trouble in hittin' on the rincon, marked by the red ink cross, but there was ledges and rocky bluffs for miles each way, and though I put in a week huntin' for that big rock with the sign of the arrow, I wasn't any wiser when I quit than when I started in, and at last I give up beat and went in off the desert for the winter.

"Now, though I'd give up, it was only for the time bein', and I still kept the map with me wherever I went, meanin' some day to go back; but one thing after another kept comin' up to hinder, and it was nigh onto three years before ever I set foot in that rincon again.

"My next trip there come about this way. Early one May afternoon I got into the White Water station and found a fat man, with a long, curly beard and a sociable sort of way with him, monkeyin' with some little rolled up papers just outside the brush porch in front. He said they were photographs he was dryin' off, he bein' a professional, hired—so he claimed—by some concern to make pictures of anything remarkable he run against down in that country. He wa'n't no ways particular what he photographed—so it looked to me—for he made a point of takin' a picture of me and my mule and the burro quick we'd got in, and that led up to our gettin' tolerable friendly right away.

"He begun spreadin' out his pictures, and I stood by talkin' and lookin' 'em over kind of careless like, till he give me one of a big palm tree, growin' just in front of a steep, rocky bluff. Then I stopped short in the middle of what I was sayin', and for a minute couldn't speak, I was so dumb founded, for on that rock in the picture, standin' out plain among the clevage lines, was the figure of an arrow pointing to the ground.

"I give a gasp, and the photographer looked up surprised, inquirin' what the matter was. When I asked him he described the place where he took the picture the best way he could, and before ever he'd got half through I see plain enough he was speakin' of the rincon marked by the little red ink cross on the map. I must have been by that same ledge at least half a dozen times without ever seein' the arrow bein' as it was all mixed up with the weather cracks and criss cross lines on the rocks. I pointed out an arrow, which he'd no notion of bein' there till I showed it to him, and then he seemed pretty near as much surprised as I was, and asked no end of questions about what I knew bearin' on the subject.

"Bein' sort of unstrung with excitement, and he seemin' terrible friendly and interested, and the sort of man generally you could tie to and trust in, and me bein' naturally, perhaps, over confidin', I started right in and give him the whole business, windin' up by showin' him the map. Finally it came to this: He agreed to take me 'round to the rocks in the mornin' early in a light pole buckboard he was travelin' about the country in—it bein' a trip of only ten or twelve miles from where he was talkin'—and we was to divide even up what we found there, we both of us allowin' there'd ought to be, from all accounts, more'n enough for two.

"I was up before daylight—the moon just goin' down—potterin' 'round to get things ready for an early start, and was some surprised not to find the photographer's sorrel team tied up alongside my mule when I went into the stable shed to feed him, where I'd seen 'em night before. Then I noticed, with a sort of misgivin', that there wa'nt no sign of the buckboard, which I'd last seen standin' out in front. Pretty quick the hostler come out, rubbin' his eyes and pickin' out straws from his hair, and when I asked about the sorrels and the buckboard, he said the photographer'd hitched up and pulled out night before, just after I'd turned in.

"Well, of course, I seen then right away how it was. That fat, sociable, photographin' scut had just gone off on the quiet to rake in the plunder for himself, not wantin' no dividin' when he'd struck a good thing.

"Naturally I saddled up right away and went off on a lope, hopin' to strike the rincon before he got away, and try 'n' make his stay there interesting for him; but he had too much the start, and when at last I saw the rock with the palm tree in front, there was the mark of the arrow plain enough, and I knew where to look, there was nothin' else left of what I'd been plannin' and dreamin' about all them years but a new hole in the ground, two stove in express boxes and a dull colored twenty lyin' on the new dug dirt, where he'd dropped and overlooked it in hisg. try to make his clear up and get well away.

"I was so sort of worked up and deathly disappointed, and mad all through, that when a little dickey bird roostin' on some brush near the palm commenced warblin' like he was celebratin' my being done up that way—"

"Doubtless Melospiza Fasciata Fallax. 19. Lehman. 35 cents," interposed the Naturalist.

"Like enough," continued Calkins. "Well, his warblin' riled me that much that before I'd thought—havin' nothin' else handy—I'd hove the twenty at him, and couldn't find it afterward.

"I made inquiries for that insinuatin' photo-grapher, longin' to see him again, if only just once, but I never learned nothing' about him or the treasure.

"That's my story, gen'lemen," concluded Calkins, rising. "It's getting late, and I reckon I'll turn in."—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Second Blow.

Counsel—Well, after the prisoner gave you a blow, what happened?

Prosecutor—He gave me a third one.

Counsel—You mean a second one.

Prosecutor—No, sir, I landed him the second one!

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10½c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE.

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

BIG CUT.

Special Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia 1 lb Print Creamery Butter 20 cts.

4 lbs cod fish for 25 cents; 1 lb package best macaroni 7½ cents; Dried green peas 5 cents a quart; Best laundry starch 5 cents lb; Granulated sugar 4 cents lb; 2 lbs extra creamery cheese for 23 cents.

AT FULPER'S.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5.00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

L Y H A O E I T S U O R E T M I R E S O P U B C F T R A P T

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts, Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

THE SECOND PROMISE

By HOWARD FIELDING

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER II.

DAVID CHASE'S FAVORITE GAME.

Most New Englanders are content if they can find the roots of their family tree in the soil about Plymouth Rock. They can hardly lay claim to genuine Americanism, however, in the presence of Mr. David Chase, who traces his descent to the Penobscot Indians. He has proof that his ancestors were great chiefs, and, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, it is hard to dispute his assertion.

Mr. Chase somewhat resembles an Indian, though the rough lines of that type have been softened by the lapse of centuries and the admixture of the invader's blood. He has a dark and powerful countenance, with remarkably keen eyes. His hair is straight, and black as ebony. In person he is somewhat above the medium height; his slender frame is notably erect, and he has the grace and strength of a savage. His voice is low, soft and very pleasing to the ear. He is a bachelor, and lives in the Kensington, on Columbia Heights, Brooklyn. He is in society, and is therefore acquainted with the Lyndes, who are Brooklyn people.

Nearly two months after the date of the occurrence described in the previous chapter, Mr. Chase—who by his general scheme of existence should have been at Newport long before—was standing with his back against the mantel in his parlor, addressing a young man who had called upon him. The visitor was Walter Carroll, who may be remembered as the organizer of tennis tournaments, already mentioned.

"This is very extraordinary, Mr. Carroll," he said, "I have been called to account for similar offenses many times, I am happy to say, but never by a person situated as you are."

Carroll was evidently abashed by Chase's manner, and not a little, too, by the nature of the business in hand.

"Of course I know it's very absurd," he said. "I haven't any right to represent Dr. Lynde, and I hardly know enough to venture to address you in a matter of this kind. But, hang it, you know, a fellow 's got to have some kind of principle; and I've tied up to the good, old fashioned golden rule. I'd want somebody to do this for me, and that's why I'm doing it for you."

"So it's on my account, is it?"

"Well, partly. I'm inclined to like you, confound it, and I hate to see you doing something that isn't right; isn't even gentlemanly or decent, if you come to that. Great Scott, man, it's too low down! There isn't anybody but a cursed cad who would take advantage of a fellow in Lynde's position. Yet it's a fact and I'm bound to say it, that your name is coupled with Mrs. Lynde's more often than you've any idea of. I hear at the club—heard it half a dozen times to-night—and I can't stand it. You know I was very good friends with her—used to go to school with her, and all that sort of thing. Of course that doesn't give me any special right to do this, but, by Jove, my right is as good as anybody's. There isn't a man left in either family, except her brother, and he's in Australia."

Chase regarded him for ten seconds with a peculiar smile.

"My dear fellow," he said, at last, "do you wish me to tell you the truth about this?"

"Why, of course! what the dickens else should you do?"

"I might get angry," responded Chase gently, "or I might lie. Probably that would be the wise thing to do. But, contrary to my custom, I am disposed to tell the truth—on one condition. You are to give me your word of honor not to repeat what I say."

"Repeat?" Carroll paused in amazement with his mouth wide open. "Why, man alive," he continued, "isn't it bad enough that we should stand here discussing a woman's reputation without our going around talking about it afterwards?"

"I have your word of honor, then?"

"Well, I should say so!"

"Remember, you are at liberty to act upon the information in any way you please, so long as you do not tell that you and I have spoken of this matter. If that information can help Amy Lynde, why that is all in the game. It's in the nature of odds. You may also profit personally by what I say, and that's partly why I say it. You were good enough to announce that you liked me. Well, I'm interested in you, and I have an idea that you're missing the best part of life."

Carroll shook his head slowly.

"I don't know just what you're driving at," he said.

"You will know immediately," rejoined Chase. "Let me say, to begin with, that your suspicions regarding me are entirely just. I am at present engaged in a most interesting game, my favorite game, the only game that is really worth while—the pursuit of a pretty woman, Amy Lynde—"

"Look here, Chase," cried Carroll, getting upon his feet with a suddenness that upset his chair, "I'm a good deal of a brute myself, but I draw the line somewhere; and you'll have to, while I'm present."

Chase courteously waved his hand.

"As you please," he said. "We will, if you prefer, confine our conversation to general philosophical principles. With most respectful consideration we will now dismiss Mrs. Lynde from our thoughts."

He pulled a box of cigars out of a drawer of his writing-table, and passed it to Carroll, who declined. Then Chase selected a cigar for himself; lifted a half-filled bottle of champagne from the floor, where it had previously been unnoticed by his visitor, and poured out a glassful for himself, after Carroll had refused the vintage by a shake of the head. While this was being done, Carroll noticed for the first time that his host was in the earlier stages of intoxication.

"As to women," Chase continued, sipping the wine, "they are the natural objects of men's pursuit. It seems strange to announce so palpable a fact seriously, but I verily believe that you have not hitherto considered the subject in that light."

"You're right," said Carroll; "I have not."

"Most men so consider them," rejoined Chase, "and most women prefer to be so considered. It is, as I have previously remarked, a game. There is no other to compare with it. A clever woman is the worthy adversary of any man. You observe that I am not one of those who underrate the intelligence of the sex. On the contrary, I have the greatest respect for woman. I drink to her—" with his left hand he motioned Carroll back— "in the abstract. I drink to woman in general. It is in that way that the sex should be regarded by philosophers. Of course we are obliged to deal with individuals, when it's a question of putting our principles into practice. The game is fought single-handed. It is a beautiful thing to see a woman play it, when she knows that she herself is the stake."

"And what, may I ask, is your stake when you play?"

"The bitterness of failure," responded Chase.

"You don't ask very much in the way of odds," said Carroll. "Hold on! I don't care to hear you expound your philosophy further. I have met plenty of rascals before, and the worst of them were members of your peculiar sect. But I confess that you have surprised me. I came here believing you to be a gentleman misled by impulse. Now I know the contrary to be the fact and I might as well face it. You have confessed to me that you are trying to win Mrs. Lynde's love, knowing that her husband is a defenseless cripple who needs her presence and her affection everyhour. Now, while, in one sense, she is as safe from you, because of her own purity of heart, as if she were already in Heaven and you on the other side of the great gulf, I am willing to admit that there is an element of peril in the situation. She likes you; most women do. She can be betrayed into many innocent indiscretions. You are shrewd, and infamously experienced. Now what can I do about it? I can break my promise and repeat to her what you have said. But I won't do that, and you know it."

"I was in hopes you would, my dear fellow," said Chase, quickly. "It would show her that you love her, and that would give me a rival, which is always an advantage. Besides she wouldn't believe you."

"I've given you my word, and there's an end of it," replied Carroll, gloomily. "There's nothing I can do but keep an eye on you. I know the world too well already to open my mouth and start a scandal. You must go your own up to a certain point. But, David Chase, if you pass the line which I shall mark out for you there'll be a stake in the game on your side that you haven't counted yet, and you'll lose it."

"You refer to my life," said Chase, filling his glass again. "I've played for it before and shall be delighted to do it again. Don't fancy that I underrate the risk. A man in your position is worse than forty husbands. But why not play fairly against me and let the woman be the stake? Of course I have a considerable advantage. For instance I've been over there this evening, and I don't mind telling you."

He sprang up a little unsteadily. Carroll checked himself and let his hands slowly open, while he took note of the other's condition. Then he seized his hat from the table and hurried out of the room. Chase sank back into his chair and laughed.

Turn the hands of the clock back an hour and you may see Amy Lynde standing at the foot of the stairs which led up to her husband's apartments. Since the early days of his illness he had wisely separated himself from her by night, that his sleep might be undisturbed. He had slept little and had often read till dawn.

She thought, as she stood there, that he would be reading on his couch with the gigantic negro, who was his body servant, as his sole companion. She had made up her mind to do a very foolish thing—to keep her promise. There was a conflict in her mind as she stood at the foot of the stairs, with her white hands clasped about the banister rail. She had taken the freedom he had offered her, without in the least meaning to do so. He had seemed quite contented, and, for her own part, she could not deny that active life and the renewal of associations broken a year before had been delightful. Then she had begun to feel Chase's black eyes upon her. She had known him for several years, but he had never had any part in her life. It seemed strange to her that she could have overlooked so remarkable a man. His tremendous energy appealed to her admiration. Profoundly respectful, and serving her as a student of women can learn to do, he made himself desirable. And at last he made himself desired.

She did not love him; of that she was perfectly certain. Yet he came within her husband's definition when he had that promise. She thought of him much oftener than she dared to confess to her own heart. He was a strong man, and she had nursed a weak one, and had felt that dangerous sentiment of pity. That evening she had been much more disturbed than ever before, and she had remembered her promise.

She went slowly up the stairs and softly approached the half-open door. She peeped in. He lay upon the couch perfectly still. His left arm hung straight down by his side and the fingers clasped the handle of a pistol.

THE SERVANT APPEARED, RUSHING TOWARD THE COUCH.

As she stood there, utterly incapable of speech or motion, she heard a cry, and instantly the servant appeared, rushing toward the couch. He flung himself down beside it, seizing the pistol with both hands as he fell.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Millinery Opening of Josephine & Co.

Yesterday afternoon the parlors of the new establishment of Josephine & Co., 9 Grove street, were thronged with those who had received cards of invitation for the Spring opening. Of the many charming hats and bonnets shown, it would be hard to decide whether those which were imported or those which were the company's own design and workmanship, were the most attractive. Especially dainty were the children's hats, which caught the eye on entering. Some pretty gowns also constituted a prominent feature, as the costume department is one to which great attention will be paid. To add to the attractiveness of the occasion, tea and chocolate were served to the visitors by several young women. The feminine portion of society in Plainfield should present an unusually chic appearance on Easter Day this year.

TOXIN OR ANTI-TOXIN?

There is no antidote without its bane, no good without its evil, no discovery of the angels that the devil may not use. The success of the new remedy for diphtheria, anti-Toxin, has suggested to the keen intellect of the queen of the writers of romance, a powerful and dramatic study of human passion, which she has entitled "Toxin".

OUIDA'S

most powerful novel will begin in The Daily Press, Saturday, March 23, and be concluded in six days. It is the story of a physician and man of science, who has the care in illness of a rival in love and is tempted to administer to him, instead of a healing injection, a powerful poison. How the temptation was met, the reading of the tale will disclose. The use of hypnotism, so successful in Du Maurier's "Trilby", is here also resorted to with masterly skill.

Do n't miss the first instalment.

Nomination Carries Election.

At a meeting of the Home Building and Loan Association held last night the following officers were nominated and will be elected at the meeting in April:

President—Isaac W Bushmore; Vice-president—Warren F Bartlett; Secretary—Stephen R. Struthers; Treasurer—Wm F Arnold; Attorney—Wm M Stillman; Directors for three years—S B Joseph, F A Dunham, G E Stillman, H E Gayle; Auditor, two years—D M Runyon.

It is expected at this meeting to open their fifteenth series.

From Assam to Plainfield.

The twenty-second anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Baptist Church will be held Thursday afternoon, March 21, at 3, in the church.

Mrs. E. W. Clark, for many years a missionary in Assam, will address the meeting.

It is hoped many will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear Mrs. Clark, whose ability has been long recognized by those who know her.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so evident that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolde's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolde's pharmacy, Park and North avenues, T. S. Armstrong, manager.

CODDINGTON'S
FURNITURE AND FREIGHT
EXPRESS
OFFICES—24 West Front street; 29 Park avenue
Post Office Box 128.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 119

BAMBERGER'S
"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"
NEWARK, N. J.

Phenomenal Values
IN
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

The careful housewife whose thoughts will soon turn to spring house cleaning and fixings, and who desires to practice economy, cannot possibly make a better investment than in the grand values we offer in Upholstery Goods.

New Nottingham Lace Curtains,
Very choice and well covered designs and excellent quality,
98c Value, $1.49 Value, $1.98 Value, $2.98 Value, $3.98 Value
59c 98c $1.25 $1.98 $2.98

FIGURED CHINA SILK
for drapery and also suitable for pillow covering, new designs and choice colors, value 69c. at 49 cents.

FIGURED SILKALINE
36 inches wide, fine designs and desirable colorings, value 12½c, at 7½ cents.

TAMBONIED SASH MUSLIN
with double border and well covered centres, in the latest designs, very choice quality, value 19c, at 12½ cents.

CHENILLE PORTIERES,
each pair 75 inches wide, wide dado and frieze and heavy tassel fringe, excellent weighty quality, all the most desirable shades, value $2.98, at $1.98.

Mail orders promptly filled.

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,
147 and 149 Market Street,
Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

OU MAY BE HAPPY
—IN—
Hallock's Handsome Hats.

OUR $3 SHOES
are better than ever before. Better means
More reliable,
More wear,
More style.
ALEX. WILLETT & SON,
107 Park avenue

IF YOU WANT
ANY REAL ESTATE,
Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.
Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.
F. M. BACON,
Babcock Building, Room 211.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes
at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.
E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE
Established 1841.
The Selection
of a
Carpet,
is not always an easy matter. One thing about buying here, we have plenty of stock, a wide range of patterns, and we never hurry a customer to a decision. Our salesmen are painstaking, and will gladly show you every pattern in stock i it will help you to decide. We are now exhibiting many new styles in Royal Wilton
Bundhai Wilton
Velvets
Body Brussels
Tapestry Brussels
and Ingrains
Also Art Squares
Oilcloths
Linoleums Etc.
Our recent importations of
Mattings!
are larger than ever 200 pieces of choice Chinese and Japanese from $3.75 piece upward.
HEATH & DRAKE,
777 and 779 BROAD STREET,
Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,
FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,
Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st
Taylor's French System
used. Suits $6.00 and upward.
2 2 tf

FLORIST.
A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1 50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

Central Employment Office
218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.
All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,
Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Segars, Etc.,
128 NORTH AVENUE,
FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY.
10 CENTS A QUART.
I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.
Hummer & Mulford,
VARIETY MARKET,
Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.
220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Telephone call, 29 A.
Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 6 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,
26 acres, or in plots to suit,
Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.
L. J. DENTON. 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salted Meats,
smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbotoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 213 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

TALK ON THE TRUTH.

The Christian Alliance Hears of the Four-Fold Gospel.

The Plainfield Branch of the Christian Alliance met last night at 317 East Front street, and was addressed by Rev. F. W. Farr, of New York, on "The Four-Fold Gospel." He divided the talk into three parts, as follows: What is present truth? What truth is present? How are we to establish it?

He considered truth to be indefinable. We explain the mind in operation, but we can not define it. The Bible is authoritative on redemptive and spiritual things, and when the redemptive truth is spoken of it is the truth as characterized in the life of Jesus. Present truth, he described, is that which is peculiarly applicable to a certain time. He said that this is a godless and giddy age, and it was the duty of the Christian to counteract the activity of Satan by the powerful teaching of the present truth. The first great truth of the present is salvation, and this is an individual affair.

Rev. Mr. Farr stated that there was an increasing number who are trusting their bodies to Christ for healing powers. Physicians say that nature completes all cures; nature is only God's custom of acting, but God is no respecter of persons, and therefore sinners as well as saints may enjoy the beneficial results of His healing through nature. But the Christian life bears a fruition which can only be gained by confessing at the altar.

In closing he said that he believed that the coming of the Lord would be within the next 20 or 30 years.

THREE DAYS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Birdseye View of Its Growth of Work Among Plainfield Youth.

Sunday—Men's meeting in the large Assembly Hall. Attendance, 191. A large meeting for boys was held in the upper Association hall at the same time.

Monday—Lecture on one of Paul's epistles by W. D. Murray. Class in arithmetic. Class in bookkeeping. Boys department open in the afternoon. Three classes in the gymnasium, students, business men, and general class.

Tuesday—Boys class in the gymnasium; attendance, 63. Mechanical drawing class occupied two rooms. Stenography. Boys singing class. Boys department, two rooms occupied in the evening. Executive Committee local union Christian Endeavor. The following privileges were also enjoyed by young men: Bowling alleys, plunge and other baths, reading room, parlor, gymnasium, and visitors gallery of the same.

FIRST WOMAN APPOINTED.

Miss Mary Steele of Somerville Made a Commissioner of Deeds.

Trenton, March 19—The first woman appointed as a commissioner of deeds under the new law was named by the joint meeting this morning. It is Miss Mary V. Steele of Somerville, daughter of late Congressman Steele of the old fourth district. She is employed in Alvah Clark's office.

Stole Coal and Was Fined.

A few days ago Freight-Agent Haynes complained to Chief Grant that a great amount of coal was being stolen from loaded cars sidetracked near Grant avenue for local coal dealers. At 4 this morning Chief Grant and Sergeant Kiely went to the tracks where the thefts were reported, and caught Patrick Cashmen stealing a pail of coal on one of the cars and taking it to the house of Mr. Brown nearby. He was arrested, and this morning fined $5 or 20 days in jail. The fine was paid by a friend.

The railroad company claim to have lost a great many tons of coal from these petty depredations, and the police will make a determined effort to suppress the thefts.

An Ideal Light.

Gavett is daily placing the celebrated Welsbach gas burner in the homes and offices of Plainfield people. He will put one in on trial, and if it is not satisfactory will remove it. But from a personal knowledge of its superiority over all other lights, The Press predicts that if once tried it will always be used. It is indeed a luxury to have one to read by after the toils of the day.

Sprinkling Wanted.

The wind raised havoc yesterday with coat tails and hats, besides stirring up great clouds of dust, which were sent whirling into the eyes of all who ventured on streets that were dry. Merchants felt the need of street sprinklers, and a few days more like that of yesterday will make their appearance a necessity.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

FIRE IN THE OUTSKIRTS.

Edward Campbell Burned Out of House and Home.

Fire this morning totally destroyed the home of Edward Campbell on the South Plainfield road two miles out of the city. At 4 Mrs. Campbell was awakened by the peculiar actions and whining of a pug dog, when she thought she smelled smoke and burning wood. She called her husband, who arose and went to the kitchen to investigate. When he opened the door a great volume of smoke poured out and he saw a small flame burning in the rear of the kitchen where he had left a lighted lamp when he retired at 11.

Returning and grabbing his little girl, and his wife taking the boy, they ran across the road to the clubhouse of his father, Ellis A. Campbell, giving the alarm of fire. The alarm aroused several neighbors who went to the house and endeavored to extinguish the flames, but their efforts were unavailing and in a half-hour the house was in ashes. A portion of the household goods was burned, only a few of those downstairs being removed.

The house was insured with Van-Buren & Timpson for $2,000, and the furniture for $250 or $300, which will not cover the loss. Elizabeth Hapenny gets the insurance as mortgagee.

KEAN IS AFTER IT.

Doesn't Withdraw from the Gubernatorial Race Just 'Cause Voorhees Has Entered.

(From The Elizabeth Journal.)

Trenton, March 19—Hon. John Kean, Congressman Fowler, Frank Bergen, E. M. Wood, George T. Parrot, R. V. Lindabury and Sheriff Kyte were among the Union County representatives who were present at the State Capitol last night. While the legislative bodies were in session these gentlemen talked politics.

Senator Voorhees experienced one of the liveliest evenings of his political existence. About 7 a number of copies of the Elizabeth Journal reached the State House, and every other kind of business was for the time being forgotten in the authorized announcement of Mr. Voorhees's candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination. The representatives of the New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania papers left their desks, left their stories of the Senate Investigation, and completely surrounded Mr. Voorhees. The latter acknowledged smilingly the interest manifested by the reporters, all of whom are his friends and the recipients of many favors for years past, and stated that his position was correctly set forth by the Journal.

When Mr. Kean appeared at the State House he also was beseiged, and was plied with questions from all sides. He expressed his surprise at Mr. Voorhees's announcement, but freely acknowledged the latter's right to enter the canvass.

"What have you to say with reference to this matter?"—asked our reporter.

"I am still a candidate"—replied Mr. Kean.

Tennis Club Nominees.

The Nominating Committee of the Hillside Tennis Club have posted the following list of names, which they recommend for election at the annual meeting of the Club to be held April 3:

President, Dexter O. Tiffany; Vice-president, Robert L. Burnett; Secretary, Arthur Lovell; Treasurer, Josiah Browne; Governing Committee, James T. Murray, Fred W. Walz.

Love Gives a Wheel.

To the one who purchases of him the largest amount of wall-paper, carpets, shades, paints or oils, at his store, corner of North and Watchung avenues, before June 1, Love will give a beautiful Remington wheel. Love is offering beautiful wall-paper at 5 cents, and an elegant lot of gold embossed paper at 10 cents. The rush is now on.

Monument to VanFleet.

Flemington, March 19—The firm of Thomas & Miller of Quincy, Mass., have received an order for the erection of a fine monument to the memory of the late Vice-Chancellor Abram V. VanFleet, in Prospect Hill Cemetery. It will weigh nearly 22,000 pounds, and is to be of the finest granite and workmanship.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs and expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

LOST THEIR GRIP.

Plainfields Go to Pieces on Strange Alleys and Drop from the Top.

In the county section of the Elizabeth Journal Association the tug-of-war took place last night, when the Plainfields and Roselles rolled their return games on the Roselle alleys. When they opened the section's series March 4, on the Plainfield alleys, the teams broke even, and kept pace with each other ever since. But last night the Plainfields were hoodooed, and lost both games, thereby leaving the Roselles in the lead and likely to get the championship. The scores:

FIRST GAME.

PLAINFIELD.		ROSELLE.
VanEmburgh	145	Miller, J	184
VanAlstyne	138	Miller, G	149
Wilbur	141	Hebbard, M	156
Maltby	178	MacQuoid	170
Vail	159	Warner	165
	761		749

SECOND GAME.

PLAINFIELD.		ROSELLE.
VanEmburgh	140	Miller, J	174
VanAlstyne	151	Miller, G	157
Wilbur	156	Hebbard, M	140
Maltby	143	McQuoid	188
Vail	159	Warner	181
	824		838

Roselle, 1662; Plainfield, 1510.

LEGISLATIVE ADJOURNMENT.

This Week to End the Formal Session of the Legislature—Adjournment Till March 27, and Then Till June.

Trenton, March 19—The Steering Committee of the Legislature in conference today decided that the Legislature shall adjourn next Friday until Wednesday, March 27, when veto messages only shall be considered. When the vetoes are disposed of the Legislature will take a recess until June. The exact date for reassembling will be fixed.

In the intervening period, the Senate Investigating Committee will finish its labors.

Direct From the Bijou.

"The Twentieth Century Girl", a three-act burletta, with a score of comedians and singers and a cast of 73 people, which is to be presented in Music Hall Friday night, is the work of Sydney Rosenfield and Ludwig Englander, author and composer of "The Passing Show". This was produced by Messrs. Canary & Lederer at their theatre, the Bijou, in New York, and the "up-to-date" girl sang and danced herself into fame in one night.

The famous John T. Kelly is the Irish comedian in the piece, and Al. Wilson, the German professor. Bettina Gerard personates the "girl bachelor", and Dan Daly represents the "boy spinster. Mr. Englander's music is in a large part entrusted to Miss Catherine Linyard, the well-known prima-donna soprano, and Edith Howe, for several years prima donna of the Carl Rosa Opera Company in England. The company also includes Lillian Thurgate, a clever dancer from the London Alhambra; Jennie Weatherby, Crissie Carlyle, Archie Crawford, Harry Kelly and Samuel Fisher. The novelty of the subject allows the prettiest and brightest costumes imaginable, and the entire production, intact, will be brought here from the Bijou Theatre, New York.

The marching and drilling of the cadets, and the dancing of the pretty seminary girls, are features of the performance. Some of the musical gems are "The Play is the Thing", "Words That Never Were Spoken", "The Antidote", "The Ambitious Magpie", and "and "On Broadway", which is today the most popular of any of the lighter tunes now being whistled and hummed.

Interested in the Almond-Eyed.

Miss Mary Q. Duryea, secretary for China of the Woman's Board of the Reformed Church, made an interesting address in Trinity Church yesterday afternoon to a circle of women interested in this class of mission work. She spoke of the lack of churches in China and how anxious some of the natives are to know more of the Supreme being. She had met many Christians who evince great apathy towards the Chinese, having a natural aversion to the race, but the Chinese, she considered, had as keen a sense of honesty as any class of people.

Her reports of the work of the organization showed it to be increasing in scope of finances and results accomplished, but there was still need of great expansion.

Mrs. F. E. Woodruff, Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, Miss E. Gillam and Miss L. Dunn sang during the afternoon; and following the lecture refreshments were served and a reception was given to the new members of the church.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PUBLIC EDUCATORS.

Annual School Election in the Borough.

REPORTS OF A BUSY YEAR.

S. St. John McCutchen, H. B. Wells, and E. J. Waring, Elected Trustees—Appropriations Fixed—Details of the Twelvemonth's Work—Women Suggested for School Board Members.

The annual meeting for the election of school trustees and fixing the appropriations for school purposes was held in the North Plainfield Public School last evening at 8. James McGee was chosen chairman and George Worth secretary. Messrs. Horn, James B. Joy, George Hallock, and Wm. Day, were appointed tellers.

The call of the meeting was read by the secretary. There were three trustees to be elected, and the result was as follows:

S. St. John McCutchen	65
H. B. Wells	66
E. J. Waring	66

John Goodwin received one vote.

The appropriations thought necessary were: For school expenses, $6,600; for text books, $750; total, $7,350. Sixty-two voted in favor of the above, and 19 against.

The reports of President S. St. John McCutchen and District Clerk S. B. Joseph were read, received and filed and the meeting adjourned. The reports are as follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE BOROUGH OF NORTH PLAINFIELD, RENDERED TO THE SCHOOL DISTRICT AT ITS ANNUAL MEETING HELD MARCH 19, 1895.

Pursuant to the new school law of the State enacted last Winter, there were elected in July last nine trustees of the District as follows: S B Joseph, Samuel Townsend, Geo F Brown, Ezra Loomis, H B Wells, J H VanWinkle, E A Overton, W A Schutt, S St J McCutchen.

Thereafter the trustees organized by the election of S St J McCutchen as their president and S B Joseph as district clerk. Pursuant to law, the trustees divided themselves by lot into classes of three each, to serve respectively, one, two and three years. The result of such division was the allotment of the trustees to serve as follows: To serve one year or to next school meeting, Messrs. Wells, Townsend, McCutchen. To serve two years, Messrs. Joseph, Overton, Schutt. To serve three years, Messrs. VanWinkle, Loomis, Brown.

The terms of office of Messrs. Wells, Townsend and McCutchen expire at this time, and you will at this meeting elect trustees to fill their places, to serve for the term of three years. During the past year the attendance upon the school has increased very largely, and thereby has been justified your wise action in causing an enlargement of the school building.

The following comparative statement of the total enrollment and also of the average attendance during the Fall terms of the last two years show well the gain. These terms cover, in each instance, the period between the opening of the school year in September and the first day of January succeeding:

Total enrollment to Jan. 1, 1893, 632; 1894, 677; 1895, 733. Average attendance to Jan. 1, 1893, 528; 1894, 552; 1895, 621.

These figures show a gain this year in total enrollment of 56, over one year ago, and of 101 over two years ago. The gain in average attendance is equally encouraging, being shown to be 69 over last year.

As the Board of Trustees, who reported to you last year, then predicted, the increase in attendance has been largest in the primary classes, that most important department of the school.

In April, 1894, we took out of the primary class, and organized into a new class, with a new teacher, 51 pupils; but after doing this we found we had left 101, and that still Miss Ginn was compelled to resort to a divided class with half-day sessions. Believing it to be a duty to these children, to give them the benefit of a full day of schooling, we again subdivided this large primary class into two, by taking out of it 42 pupils and placing them in charge of another new teacher, so that the growth and condition of the school have necessitated, during the past year, the creation of two new classes. The records of the school show that never before has this been done and it illustrates well our prosperous growth. While the increase is more marked in the primary classes, yet substantial increase occurs in the more advanced grades.

In the school there are ten grades, the ninth and tenth representing regular High School work; there are sixteen classes; this means that some of the grades are so large that they cannot all be taught in one class, but are placed in two or more classes under different teachers, and do substantially the same work; the primary or lower floor department includes four grades covering four years of study, but is divided into ten classes. Of these sixteen classes, eight number 50 or over; five number between 40 and 50; one between 30 and 40, and the remaining two, (the High School grades), number each less than 25. The Trustees have been concerned to see whether this period of ten years study could in any proper way be lessened, so that bright or willing students could cover our school course in a shorter time than has been heretofore required. It has seemed to us possible that time may be saved in the four grades of the primary department by a system of half-yearly examination and promotion, which will permit the brighter pupils to push ahead more rapidly than the average of their class can do. Such a system we have adopted as an experiment, and the first examination under it was had early in February. The fact that the four grades in the department were each divided into two or more classes permitted this to be done conveniently, because, after such an examination, those pupils who had satisfactorily passed the examination were placed together in one class of such grade, prepared for advanced work, and the remaining pupils were grouped in the other class or division of such grade. If this system proves successful it is hoped that, eventually, a year or more of time may be saved, and that the present course of four years in that department may be covered in three years. It is too early to judge what the result of this experiment will be; the coming year will determine it. Our fear is that too few pupils will have the ambition and industry to do the work necessary to take advantage of the system. Here, however, parents may do an effective work in spurring their children on to industrious effort.

The school building is giving satisfaction. There are repairs, of course, in which it has required attention; windows have needed weather strips, and other slight repairs have been called for, but generally the school is satisfactorily housed. During a few of the extremely cold days the rooms exposed to the wind have been cold; and one day the whole school was dismissed.

There has been much illness in the school during the Winter, particularly during January; at one time in that month five teachers were absent because of illness, and many of the children were detained at home for a like cause; happily things are much improved in that respect, all our teachers are in their places, and the classes are satisfactorily filled.

The district last Spring voted a special school tax of $1,000 to carry out the provisions of the then new law which ordered that text books and school supplies be furnished free to the pupils. Of this appropriation $932 16 has been used, and the school is now supplied with text books owned by it with the single exception of advanced geographies which are not yet obtainable, and in temporary place of which we are using loaned books.

Many of the parents of pupils have given to the school the text books used by their children prior to the change; and for this public spirited donation they are entitled to the thanks of the district.

We are informed that a law was passed at the present session of the Legislature permitting borough districts, like our own, by vote, to reduce the number of their boards of education from 9 to 5 or 3 as they may elect.

This is a subject that may well claim the attention of the district. If it be concluded, however, that it is best to retain the present number, 9, then the trustees suggest the query whether it will not be wise to elect women to, say two or three places in the board.

Busy men find it hard to give personal attention to visiting the school; women would find it easier; and the personal attention and attendance of intelligent and discreet women, could result only in good to the school. The trustees make no recommendation on this subject, but suggest for your thoughtful consideration.

The district clerk reports to you the amounts deemed necessary to be raised by special district tax for the proper conduct of the school. These amounts are the result of careful and earnest study of the probable needs of the school economically administered. The amount is large, but it is made necessary by the extraordinary growth of the school.

It is believed that the school was never more efficiently conducted than now. The corps of teachers is unusually strong, they are competent, faithful and zealous, there is an entire absence of dissension; and complete harmony of action and feeling in their school work prevails.

S. ST. J. MCCUTCHEN,
President of Board of Education.

REPORT OF DISTRICT CLERK OF THE BOROUGH OF NORTH PLAINFIELD.

1895.
March 19—
Teachers salaries		$9,201 13
Janitor's salary		645 00
Clerk's "		75 00
Bonds Nos. 16, 17, 18		1,500 00
Interest		1,670 05
Fuel		553 89
Census		52 35
School Supplies		159 21
Building and repairs		905 93
Incidentals		191 10
Balance		5,907 42
		$20,861 08
1894.
March 19—
By balance in Collector's hands		$5,163 18
1895.
March 19—
Cash from taxes 1888, '89, '90, '91, '92, and '93		1,128 05
Taxes 1894		7,718 29
State School tax		5,543 00
State appropriation		226 10
Surplus revenue		339 05
Revenue fund		307 43
Tuition		17 00
B. R. Cain		6 00
Building extension account		200 46
C. R. R. of N. J. and expressage		39
		$20,861 08

RECAPITULATION.

To balance text books and supplies account	$ 74 59
Total balance in hands of Collector	5,832 84
By balance general school fund	$5,907 43

SCHOOL EXTENSION ACCOUNT.

1894.
March 16—
Balance in collector's hands		$3,035 00
Disbursements—
Brokaw & Cain	$1,633 50
C. Wm. Krausse	416 25
A. D. Phillips	208 69
C. H. Smith	212 68
M. Powers	102 00
Israel Stout	75 00
Woolston & Buckle	65 00
B. R. Cain	20 13
Wm. R. Pitt	11 50
A. J. Winckler	8 80
K. Ebener	5 00
		2,784 55
Balance		$ 250 45
To general school fund account		$ 250 45

TEXT BOOK AND SUPPLY ACCOUNT.

1895.
March 19—
By cash from taxes 1894		$ 857 55
Expenditures—
Text books	$ 623 44
Pads, writing blanks, etc	238 42
Book cases	49 58
Expressage	16 84
Record book	2 00
Rubber stamps and dies	1 88
		782 16
By balance		74 59
	$ 932 16	$ 932 16
To balance	$ 74 59

MISSING FROM HOME.

A Dunellen Citizen's Disappearance—School Election—Other Dunellen News.

A. E. Baldwin, a son-in-law of W. H. Coles of Dunellen, disappeared Monday. He drew his pay and went to New York to purchase necessary articles, but has not returned. His family are greatly worried, and the New York police have been notified. Four citizens went to New York today in search of him. He was operator of the Greenbrook tower, and had been employed by the Jersey Central ten years past. He was always attentive to business, and had no bad habits. His wife lives in Dunellen.

At the Dunellen school meeting last evening the following trustees were elected: Rev. F. Fletcher, A. Dealaman, A. F. Sampson, for three years; G. Elston Lowrie, R. J. Swackammer, Frank Wynkoop, for two years; George W. Day, S. L. Thomas, and L. S. Titsworth, for one year. The meeting voted to raise $2,700 by special taxation for school purposes.

Mrs C. D. Boice is entertaining relatives from Bayonne.

Mrs. Charles Jennings and daughter Florence have returned from Plainfield, where they were visiting friends.

Mrs. A. S. Corlell and Mrs. Tunison of Somerville are spending the day in Plainfield.

Miss Julia Lynch left for her home in Phillipsburg after spending several days with Mrs B. McGovern.

Mrs. Winfield Hetfield is spending the day in New York.

Miss Sallie Gray is spending the afternoon in Plainfield.

W. M. Shultz of Plainfield was in town yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Smith Watson is entertaining her mother, Mrs. R. Pierce of Point Pleasant.

Mrs. P. Reusch is entertaining company from New Market.

Miss Maud Brown has been visiting out-of-town friends.

Arthur Giddes has returned from Port Richmond, where he has been visiting friends.

Mrs. John Hubbard has been visiting her daughter in Plainfield.

The borough meeting will be held tonight in the Whittier School hall, instead of the temperance room.

H. J. Swackhamer is ill at home with the grip.

A Drunken Man With Money.

Michael Donco, drunk and disorderly on West Third and Liberty streets, was arrested at 1 this morning by Policeman Flanagan. He had $46 in cash in his pockets, and out of this paid a fine of $5 this morning in the City Court.

—Physical Director MacPhie of the Y. M. C. A. has been corresponding with out-of-town bowlers in reference to arranging a match game on the new Y. M. C. A. alleys.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

MORE SPANISH SHOTS

The Report Regarding the Irene Confirmed.

Dismantled by a Spanish Gunboat Off Key West - Government at Madrid Awaiting Official News Regarding the Allianca Affair—Captain Crossman Makes an Affidavit.

Tampa, March 20.—The steamer Mascot arrived last evening direct from Havana and brought late reports from the seat of revolution. Copies of La Lucha confirm the report of the sinking of the schooner by the Spanish gunboat off Puerto Padre, near Gibara. For two days uncertain and untraceable reports have reached here regarding an American schooner being fired upon by a Spanish gunboat on the southern coast of Florida. Yesterday's steamer brought news from Key West, which is said to be authentic, claiming that the schooner Irene, of Key West, had been fired upon and dismantled by the Infanta Isabel near Charlotte Harbor, after which the schooner drifted ashore, where she now lies aground south of the above harbor. It is generally understood that the authorities at Washington have been notified of it to-day. The Irene is a coasting schooner of sixty tons, commanded by Captain Carballo, and generally carried a crew of eight. The incident must have occurred on Saturday.

Awaiting Official Information.

Madrid, March 20.—El Correo denies totally the truthfulness of the report that the Spanish government has expressed to the United States its disapproval of the action of the gunboat which, it is claimed, fired on the American steamer Allianca off Cape Maysi, the eastern extremity of Cuba. The paper adds that Senor Groizard, the foreign minister, is awaiting an official report from Havana before definitely replying.

The Feeling in Washington.

Washington, March 20.—The Allianca affair was discussed at the cabinet meeting, and it is learned on high authority that President Cleveland expressed great dissatisfaction with what he said were glaring inconsistencies in the chart and affidavit submitted by Captain Crossman. The president wants more conclusive evidence that the positions of the two ships were as stated. He is more strongly inclined than ever to a conservative course. It is in accordance with the express direction that the Columbia was ordered not to stop at Havana. Secretary of State Gresham has received a note from Senor Muruagua, the Spanish minister, asking that close watch be kept on a lot of arms stored in a warehouse at Fernandina, Fla. A freight car has been backed up from the warehouse and he fears the arms may be sent to the Cuban rebels. These arms, it is said, were intended for the Lagonda or Amadis, the two vessels recently suspected of intending to land arms in Cuba.

Captain Crossman's Denial.

New York, March 20.—Captain Crossman, of the steamship Allianca, in port here, made an affidavit in reference to the report made by the commander of the Spanish cruiser Conde de Venadito, in which the Spanish officer said that the Allianca had hoisted the British flag, in which he (Crossman) solemnly swears that the only flag used for the salute was the national flag of America. The affidavit will be sent to Washington. The captain stated further that the Spaniard's report was "a lie from beginning to end." Captain Crossman then made this humiliating statement, which he seemed to think should effectually dispose of the British flag charge: "The best proof that we did not hoist the British ensign is that we were fired upon. Had we saluted with the British flag Spain would never have dared to fire upon us."

A JOKE ON CHAUNCEY.

Dr. Depew Replies to Rebel Yell of Southern College Boys.

Atlanta, Ga., March 20.—A special from Rutherfortion, N. C., says that seventy-five college boys went to the train yesterday to meet a professor who was returning. When he stepped off the train the boys gave the old rebel yell. Chauncey M. Depew, who was on the train, thought the boys were cheering him. He stepped out on the platform and made the boys a political speech. The train moved off and Dr. Depew never saw the joke.

MISSING MAN RETURNS.

Morrow Left Home Mysteriously and Came Back the Same Way.

Lancaster, Pa., March 20.—Charles Morrow, station master, ticket agent and telegraph operator of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad at Mullica Hill, N. J., whose mysterious disappearance several months ago led to the belief that he was murdered and his body hidden, has returned to his home safe and sound. He says that he was in Florida all the time, but refuses to give any reason for his mysterious disappearance.

To Bring the Vigilant Home.

New York, March 20.—On the North German Lloyd steamer Saale, which sailed yesterday for Southampton, were fifteen of the crew and four of the officers who will man the Yankee racing yacht Vigilant on her voyage back to this country and in her subsequent races here. The Vigilant will sail for this country about April 15.

Rich Wedding Fee.

New York, March 20.—George Gould is reported to have sent his check for $3,000 to Archbishop Corrigan as his fee for performing the marriage ceremony of Anna Gould to Count Castellane. It was understood, however, that $2,000 of the amount was to be donated to the Catholic Orphan asylum.

Hudson River Navigation Open.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 20.—The steamer, John L. Hasbrook, reached this city from New York last night, and navigation with that city is opened for the season.

Ammen Starts for Bath.

Boston, March 20.—This morning the Ammen started for Bath, Me. Her trial trip will be made the latter part of this week.

Gov. Marvil's Condition Unchanged.

Laurel, Del., March 20.—The condition of Governor Marvil is unchanged. He is neither better nor worse.

REBEL GARZA DIED GAME.

Killed Within Twenty Feet of the Barracks He Was Storming.

Mobile, Ala., March 20.—A correspondent at Bocas del Toro, United States of Colombia, under date of March 13, writes: The identification of Gen. Catarino Erazamo Garza, slain in the attack on Bocas del Toro, is complete. Several letters were found on his body addressed to him, also a telegram. Individuals also identified him. Three times during the fight he advanced within ten feet of the barracks and called on the captain to surrender, and each time he was met with a refusal. When killed, he was within twenty feet of the barracks. As he fell, he shouted: "Fire the town," and a rebel named Cartro poured oil on a building between Wilson's store and the barracks and struck a match, but was shot dead in his tracks. Government soldiers captured the small schooner on the 9th in which the rebels came from Greytown. Five rebels were on board, but they jumped into the sea, reached the shore and escaped in the bush. These alone escaped to tell the tale of defeat.

WHILE THE DOCTOR WATCHED.

After Trying Chloroform, a Woman Shoots Herself in Bed.

Boston, March 20.—A woman, 30 years of age, who registered at the Adams house two days ago as Miss M. C. Norton of Holyoke, committed suicide last evening while in bed in her room. One of the maids noticed her inhaling chloroform and took the sponge away from her and then notified a physician, who arrived soon after and found the woman in bed. She had a bottle of chloroform and a sponge in her hand. The doctor took them from her. She had the bed clothes pulled over her and one of her hands was under them. While the doctor stood over her the woman shot herself with a revolver under the bed clothes. The bullet went through the heart. Nothing is known of the woman at the Adams house. She was not of a very prepossessing appearance. Nothing was said by her that would give any clew as to the reason for the suicide.

THE SCOTT MURDER CASE.

The Accused Men Dismissed by Request of the Attorney General.

Oncill, Neb., March 20.—The case against the alleged murderers of Barrett Scott, which was set for trial here to-day has been dismissed by request of Attorney General Churchill. He came down from Boyd county where he has been in consultation with the county attorney and the authorities and appeared before Judge Kinkaid and asked for the dismissal on the ground that he was convinced that they could not get a fair trial in this county. He did this without consulting the county attorney, who at once asked the court for an injunction against the interference of the attorney general in this case as he had no business there. Churchill replied that the legislature and the governer had requested him to conduct the case. Judge Kinkaid decided for Churchill, and dismissed the case.

WHY BISSELL REMAINS.

Not Ready To Retire and Mr. Wilson Is in No Hurry To Begin Work.

Washington March 20.—The impression prevails in some quarters that Postmaster General Bissell still remains in office because he desires to clear up some business that is yet unfinished. This is not the case. "Everything is in shipshape," said Mr. Bissell, when asked about this. "I could move out at any time if it was desired either by myself or Mr. Wilson. The fact is, I have my Washington house leased until the 1st of May, and the lease on my Buffalo house does not expire until the same date, and I don't care to be idle during the time, while Mr. Wilson is not yet ready to assume the duties of the department."

GREENHALGE IN THE SLUMS.

The Governor of Massachusetts Wanted to See for Himself.

Boston, March 20.—Governor Greenhalge, under the guidance of Police Commissioner Clark, made a night tour of the dance halls and other places not considered entirely proper. The governor was in search of first hand information. Fleet street dance halls were first visited; then came disgusting Italian boarding houses, where the lodgers were sleeping, packed like sardines into dirty rooms. After a visit to the Chinese joss house, opium dens, etc., Governor Greenhalge declared he had had enough, and carriages were taken to one of the clubs, where a supper was served.

A Most Disgraceful Act.

Birmingham, Ala., March 20.—In an interview, Dr. R. A. Moseley, chairman of the state republican executive committee, characterizes the manifesto of the two populists—Congressman Howard and Legislator Manning—relative to the financial condition of Alabama, as a most disgraceful act on the part of two men occupying prominent positions. No man, he says, has the right to attack the credit of his own state.

Miss Corbin To Be a Princess.

New York, March 20.—Society is now busy over the rumor that Miss Annie Corbin, the daughter of Austin Corbin, is shortly to become a princess, for it is understood that her engagement to Prince Lubecki, the scion of a noble Russian family, is to be announced shortly. Rumor has gone so far as to fix the date of the wedding some time in June.

Doesn't Want Alimony.

San Francisco, March 20.—Marie Burroughs, the actress, has filed suit for divorce from Louis F. Massen, charging him with neglect and infidelity. She asks for separation, explaining that she has enough property for herself.

Japs To Advance on Formosa.

London, March 20.—The Times to-day publishes a dispatch from Shanghai saying a rumor is current there that the Japanese are about to send an expedition against Formosa.

Fined for Running Overtime.

Fall River, Mass., March 20.—The Westamee Mill company was found guilty of running overtime on two complaints in the district court, and fined $165 in all.

Wilde in London Again.

London, March 20.— Oscar Wilde and Lord Alfred Douglas, son of the Marquis of Queensbery, who have been making a short visit to Monte Carlo, have returned to London.

Celebrated His 100th Birthday.

Woodbury, Conn., March 20.—Horace Manville, a well-known resident, celebrated his 100th birthday yesterday. He enjoys good health.

PLACED UNDER BIG BAIL

Indicted New York Police Officials Arraigned.

Numerous Other Arrests To Be Made, It Is Said—Grand Jury Now Investigating the Fire Department—The Indicted Police Officers Suspended from Duty at Once.

New York, March 20.—The shaking up which the Metropolitan police force is now experiencing at the hands of the machinery of justice promises to be more far-reaching and earnest than that body has ever before experienced. It is now learned from reliable sources that the number of indictments found by the Oyer and Terminer grand jury ran up as high as forty-seven. Of these four have been dismissed and twenty filed against the police officials. This leaves a balance of twenty-three indictments yet unaccounted for and the grand jury is not yet through with the police, although it is understood that the jury has now under investigation the fire department of this city. The particular line of their investigation cannot be ascertained, but several witnesses have been before them.

The Indicted Men.

The following is a list of the names of the officers and ex-officers on whom warrants have been served, charges against them and the amount of bail demanded of them: Inspector William W. McLaughlin, chief inspector in charge of the detective bureau, five indictments, bribery and extortion bail $20,000; Captain Michael J. Murphy, one indictment, accepting bribe, bail $10,000; Captain Jacob Siebert, one indictment, bibery, bail $10,000; Captain James K. Price, one indictment, extortion, bail $2,500; Captain John J. Donohue, one indictment, extortion, bail $10,000; ex-Captain William S. Devery, one indictment, bribery, bail $10,000; ex-Captain John T. Stephenson, one indictment, bribery, not in court; ex-Captain Edward Carpenter, one indictment, bribery, bail $10,000; Patrolman Henry H. Schill, three indictments, bribery, bail $11,000; ex-Patrolman James Burns, one indictment, charge not made public; ex-Patrolman Edward G. Glennon, one indictment, accepting a bribe, bail $5,000.

Accused Suspended from Duty.

The police board, after the indicted men were arrested suspended Inspector McLaughlin, Captains Siebert, Donohue, Murphy and Price, and Patrolman Schill from duty, and directed the superintendent to assign other officers to the command of the precincts which the suspended captains were in charge of, and also to the detective bureau.

BLOW AT FOOTBALL.

Harvard Faculty Again Vote Against Intercollegiate Games.

Boston, March 20.—The most severe blow that has been struck against the game of football came yesterday in the form of a second vote of the Harvard faculty. This is the official statement of the vote: "The faculty having received and considered a communication from the committee on the regulation of athletic sports, dated Feb. 25, 1895, remain of the opinion that no student under their charge should be permitted to take part in intercollegiate football contests." The general opinion is that the form in which the vote is worded will give the athletic committee an opportunity to abolish intercollegiate football.

CREW RESCUED IN MID-OCEAN.

The German Steamer Donau on Fire and Abandoned.

Liverpool, March 20.—The British tank steamer Delaware, Capt. Thomas, from New York, March 6, has arrived in the River Mercy, having on board the crew of the steamer Donau, which was abandoned in mid-ocean. When sighted by the Delaware the Donau had been on fire for thirty-six hours and the crew had taken to the boats. The abandoned steamer Donau, Capt. Siegel, sailed from Hamburg on March 8 for Philadelphia and Newport News.

Trouble Feared at Barcelona.

Barcelona, March 20. — A military court here has orderd that two directors of local newspapers be arrested for protesting against the excess of the subalterns in Madrid. Great excitement prevails and serious disturbances are threatened.

Decorated by the Czar.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—The czar after the presentation of the letter of recall of Gen. von Werder, the German ambassador, conferred upon the retiring diplomat the decoration of the order of St. Andrew.

Lord Rosebery's Illness.

London, March 20.—Although Lord Rosebery has recovered from his recent attack of influenza, he is still suffering from insomnia, in regard to which trouble no great improvement can be reported.

The Wahlberg Allowed To Sail.

San Diego, Cal., March 20.—The customs officers gave permission to the schooner Wahlberg, alleged to have been engaged in carrying arms to the royalists of Hawaii, to leave this port.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

WHEAT—Demand on spot is slow and values doubtful. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 62½c.

CORN—Spot scarce and held higher, checking trade. No. 2 afloat nominally, 54c.; steamer, 52½c.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

IN DESPAIR.

A PEN PICTURE.

Many Women Will Recognize It.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

"Oh, I am so nervous! No one ever suffered as I do! There isn't a well inch in my whole body! I honestly think my lungs are diseased, my chest pains me so; but I've no cough. I'm so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion horribly. Then I have palpitation, and my heart hurts me. How I am losing flesh! and this headache nearly kills me; and the backache—Heavens! I had hysterics yesterday. There is a weight in the lower part of my bowels, bearing down all the time; and there are pains in my groins and thighs. I can't sleep, walk, or sit. I'm diseased all over. The doctor? Oh! he tells me to keep quiet. Such mockery!

Inflammatory and ulcerative conditions at the neck of the womb can produce all the above symptoms in the same person. In fact, there is hardly a part of the body that can escape those sympathetic pains and aches.

No woman should allow herself to reach such a perfection of misery when there is positively no need of it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts promptly and thoroughly in such cases; strengthens the muscles of the womb, heals all inflammation, and restores that unruly organ to its normal condition. Druggists are selling carloads of it. Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., will gladly and freely answer all letters asking for advice.

Mrs. E. Bishop, 787 Halsey Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., suffered all the above described horrors. Now she is well. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her. Write her about it.

Hotels and Saloons.

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager,
Finderne, N. J.
1 9 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

5-12 1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET

J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor

With stables attached 45

BOCK BEER

all this week at

Charles Smith's Saloon.

Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Miss Fawcett's School,
25 Washington Ave.
Department for boys to the age of 13.
" girls and kindergarten.
Girls prepared for college.
Re-opened September 13.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

80 BROADWAY, cor. 6th ST.

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL, in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner at short notice.

4-19-

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

106 East Front Street——NEW STORE. NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented.

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement
For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue, Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.
1 14 tf

$500 DOWN

Buys One of Those New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank.

is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance
VAN BUREN & TIMPSON.
165 North ave. Plainfield, N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE
For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.
R-I-P-A-N-S TABULES act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail.
Price 50 cents a box. Address
RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,
197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 3 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Scenic Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8036, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 109 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 2 25 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 169, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front street.

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

F. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 26 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

IN 44 STATES.

In Each City, Town and Smallest Village.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND IS MAKING PEOPLE WELL.

Its Wide Use Today Over Three Continents.

'TIS THE ONE UNDISPUTED REMEDY THAT CURES.

Ordered by Physicians Wherever One Practices.

Wherever the English language is spoken and English newspapers and medical journals are read, there you will find Paine's celery compound is ordered for all forms of weakness.

At home, as well abroad, throughout the United States, in every State, city and village the one undisputed, strongly commended, unfailing remedy for the spring is Paine's celery compound.

As a nerve strengthener and regulator, blood purifier and bodily invigirator there is nothing that bears any relation or at all resembles or in any measure equals Paine's celery compound.

It stands by itself, unrelated to any sarsaparilla, nervine or tonic the world has ever known, and as far superior to them as the diamond is to ordinary glass.

Its discovery by Prof. Edward E. Phelps M. D., LL. D., in the laboratory of Dartmouth medical school was as noteworthy an event in medicine, as the wonderful cures it has effected have been remarkable.

Where everything else fails, Paine's celery compound cures. Try it!

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

NO OFFICIAL NEWS

Regarding the Finding of the Reina Regenta.

A Private Dispatch from the Agents of Lloyds at Gibraltar Confirm, However, the Cadiz Dispatches—Feared That All Aboard the Vessel Have Been Lost.

Madrid, March 20.—The government has not received official information regarding the report of the finding of the cruiser Reina Regente and the statement that she had been found sunk in shallow water near the Straits of Gibraltar is generally discredited by the authorities. All of the Madrid newspapers, however, publish the statement that the Alfonso XII. discovered the cruiser sunk at Bajo Aceitanos with only a small portion of her masts above water. A private dispatch from the agent of the Lloyds' at Gibraltar was received this morning saying it was reported that the vessel had foundered near Couil, but that the fate of those on board is not known. The salvage steamer Hermes, the dispatch also said, has been placed at the disposal of the Lloyds' agents, who proceeded with the vessel to offer assistance in ascertaining whether or not the cruiser could be raised.

First News from Cadiz.

Cadiz, March 20.—The Spanish cruiser Alfonso XII., which has been cruising in the Mediterranean in search of the missing warship Reina Regente, has arrived here. She found the Reina Regente at Bajo Aceitanos, near Couil, where she had sunk. Only about 18 inches of her masts were visible above the surface of the water. The Alfonso XII. has returned to the scene of the wreck with a company of divers. The news brought by the Alfonso XII. has created a profound feeling of sorrow here.

Fear All Hands are Lost.

From the best information obtainable here at this time it is regarded as probable that all on board the Reina Regente were lost. Not a single survivor has been reported as having arrived at any port, nor has a single body been found that could be identified as that of one of the officers or crew of the lost ship. The Alfonso XII. is taking divers and diving appliances for the purpose of removing the bodies from the sunken ship and examining the condition of the vessel with a view of ascertaining the possibilities of raising her. Until something further is heard from the Alfonso XII. nothing can be definitely known, but all hands are undoubtedly lost.

NICARAGUA MUST SETTLE.

John Bull Demands Reparation for Mr. Hatch's Expulsion.

London, March 20.—Lord Kimberley, secretary of state for foreign affairs, personally handed to the Nicaragua minister, at the foreign office, the ultimatum of the British government demanding reparation for the expulsion from Bluefields of Mr. Hatch, the British consular agent. A copy of the document was cabled to the British minister resident in Nicaragua. Lord Kimberley emphatically demands adequate satisfaction from Nicaragua. In official circles the belief is general that the matter will be amicably settled and that no demonstration by a British squadron will be necessary to enforce the demands of Great Britain.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

One Man, Mortally Wounded, Kills His Two Assailants.

Toomcuba, Miss., March 20.—A triple killing occurred at Kewanee, a small station on the Alabama Great Southern railroad, last evening. Ben and Allen Pringle, brothers, aged respectively 27 and 35 years, and James Britton, aged 30 years, renewed an old quarrel at a meeting and one of the Pringle boys shot Britton in the bowels, mortally wounding him. Britton then shot both of the Pringle boys killing them instantly. The men exchanged four shots each. A tragedy between these men had been anticipated for some time.

Peace Restored at Muscat.

London, March 20.—Advices from Calcutta state that the latest news from Muscat is to the effect that peace has been restored and the rebels have agreed to accept the $16,000 offered by the sultan upon condition that they abandon their positions. These were accordingly vacated after the palace and the houses and shops had been sacked. The sultan, the report says, now occupies the town.

Death of Mrs. Lester L. Potter.

Hartford, Conn., March 20.—Mrs. Lester L. Potter, wife of the Rev. L. I. Potter of this city, is dead from Bright's disease. She was the daughter of Ebenezer Towne of Oneida, N. Y., and her mother was "Fannie Forester," the writer of children's stories, and a grandniece of Charles Kingsley, the English author.

The Spanish Crisis.

Madrid, March 20.—General Martinez de Campos, captain general of Madrid, paid another visit to Queen Regent Christiana last evening. Later it was stated that Premier Sagasta and his colleagues in the cabinet, who had tendered their resignations, would probably resume their ministerial functions.

Liable to a Fine of $15,000.

Boston, March 20.—Under the law prohibiting the sale or purchase of lobsters under a certain size—$5 for each lobster—a Boston firm has just made itself liable to a fine of $15,000, three thousand of the shell fish having been seized by the authorities.

Vanderbilt Advance Guard.

Newport, R. I., March 20.—Fourteen horses have just arrived for Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. This is looked upon as indicating that Mrs. Vanderbilt will occupy Marble House immediately upon her return from Europe.

Blind Convict To Be Hanged.

Denver, March 20.—Henry Tyson, who committed murder in 1889 and who has been in the solitary cell confinement until he has become blind, has been sentenced to be hanged during the second week in April.

Blue Button Treasurer in Trouble.

Winsted, Conn., March 20.—Charles Parsons, treasurer of the Blue Button brigade, is under arrest charged with embezzling funds of the society.

IN A RECEIVER'S HANDS.

The Great Long Island Traction Company's Affairs Reach a Crisis.

New York, March 20.—The Long Island Traction company, operating 145 miles of track in Brooklyn and Queens county, and whose interests were involved in the late trolley strike, has passed into the hands of a receiver. The company was chartered under the laws of Virginia in March, 1893, to operate the Brooklyn City railroad, and took possession in June, 1893, under a ninety-nine years lease, guaranteeing 10 per cent. dividends on the $12,000,000 stock. The company has outstanding $30,000,000 stock and 6 per cents. $3,500,000 collateral trust notes out of an authorized issue of $3,000,000. The traction company guaranteed an annual dividend of at least 10 per cent. on the Brooklyn City Railroad company's stock, and also agree to pay a large rental if the control of the system were turned over to it. These alleged agreements have not been kept, it is alleged, and the result has been that for the last year a large number of stockholders have been up in arms against the traction company. During the late trolley strike the fight reach a crisis, when it was said that the traction company would try to transfer all of its immense debt to the city company and then go out of existence. Several suits are now pending against the traction company, and repeated threats had been made that a receiver would be asked for.

BANK WRECKERS ARRESTED.

Cashier Morgan and President Brownson Placed Under Bail.

Binghamton, N. Y., March 20.—County Judge Arms issued warrants late last evening for the arrest of Tracy R. Morgan, cashier of the Chenango Valley Savings bank, and David L. Brownson, the president of that bank, the authorities being ready to begin the prosecution of the wreckers of the savings bank. The warrants for Morgan presented three separate charges—two of grand larceny and one of burglary in the third degree. Brownson is charged with burglary in the third degree only. The burglary charges are based on the effort of Morgan and Brownson to remove property from the bank at night, when they were intercepted by a detective. Judge Arms fixed the bail in the larceny cases at $1,000 each and in the burglary cases at $500, pending at examination to-day.

LI HUNG AT SHIMONOSEKI.

With John W. Foster He Calls on the Japanese Envoys.

Shimonoseki, March 20.—Viceroy Li Hung Chang and his suite have arrived here in order to negotiate for peace between China and Japan. The envoys from the Japanese foreign office immediately visited the steamer conveying the Chinese viceroy, and later Li Hung Chang, accompanied by John W. Foster, the American adviser of China, visited the Japanese minister of foreign affairs, M. Mustu Munemitsu. The two steamers which brought the viceroy and his suite to Japan are anchored off Moje, opposite this place, at the entrance of Japan's inland sea.

TINSLEY REAPPOINTED.

An Exciting Executive Debate in the Senate Promised.

Washington, March 20.—Just before the president left Washington on his outing, he reappointed Alfred D. Tinsley to be postmaster at Sioux Falls, S. D., Tinsley having been rejected by a vote of 42 to 13 by the senate during the closing hours of the last session. The commission was not signed, however, by the president until yesterday afternoon, and this accounts for the apparently second reappointment of the nominee. The reappointment of Tinsley will, it is said, precipitate an exciting executive debate in the senate upon the reassembling of congress in December.

Tinsley in Luck.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 20.—Postmaster Tinsley has been located as one of the heirs to a fortune of $200,000 left by a cousin who died in Kentucky some time ago. The discovery was the result of the publicity given the postmaster by the bitter fight which has been waged against, his confirmation by Senator Pettigrew.

Phillies' Team Complete.

Philadelphia, March 20.—Cross and Hamilton, the two players of the Philadelphia Baseball Club who refused to sign contracts unless allowed an advance of $300 over last season's salary, have come to terms and signed contracts for the coming season. This makes the team complete and the players, with Secretary Shetsline and Manager Arthur Irwin, will leave to-day for Hampton, Va., where they will begin spring practice.

Death of Mrs. Isaac Newton.

New York, March 20.—Mrs. Isaac Newton, who was eighty-seven years of age, and the widow of Captain Isaac Newton, of old-time North river fame, died yesterday at her residence in this city. Her eldest son, now dead, was chief engineer of the United States ironclad turret steamer Monitor during the war of the rebellion, where he was highly esteemed by his brother officers.

Negroes from the United States.

Washington, March 20.—The secretary of state is advised by the diplomatic representative of the United States in the City of Mexico that between seven hundred and eight hundred negro families have recently arrived from the United States at Ilahualila, Burango, Mexico, as colonists under a federal concession granted to W. H. Ellis, an American citizen.

For a Parkhurst Avenue.

New York, March 20.—A resolution, "in recognition of Dr. Parkhurst's laborious and manly services in exposing corruption," was presented to the board of aldermen to change the name of Elm street to Parkhurst avenue. The Tombs is on Elm street. The resolution was referred.

Centre Party Oppose Bismarck.

Berlin, March 20.—In the Reichstag the leaders of the centre party informed Herr Von Lovetzow, president of the body, that their party would oppose the motion to tender the congratulations of the house to Prince Bismarck on the occasion of the eightieth anniversary of his birth.

New Yale Divinity School Rules.

New Haven, March 20.—The coming catalogue of the Yale divinity school will contain new rules for admission intended to make the degree of B. D. an indication of scholarship rather than the sign of a profession.

NEGROES SAIL AWAY

Two Hundred Off for New Homes in Africa.

Parting Salute of Songs from Thousands of Throats—An Assortment of Agricultural Implements and Other Tools Carried with Them To Make Their Way in Liberian Fields.

Savannah, Ga., March 20.—The steamship Horsa with two hundred Liberia emigrants sailed from Savannah last evening. Five thousand negroes gathered on the wharf and cheered the vessel as she passed down the river. Knots of negroes began gathering in the vicinity of the dock where the steamer was lying early in the afternoon. The number kept increasing and soon several thousand were packed in the streets and lanes and covered the roofs of the buildings for blocks. The effort by Rev. C. S. Smith, secretary of the Sunday School union of the African Methodist church, to prevent the clearance of the vessel on the ground that she was not properly equipped, failed to accomplish anything.

A Curious Procession.

Shortly after noon the gates to the wharf, where the emigrants were waiting, were opened and the negroes went aboard. It was a curious procession, ranging in age from the baby in arms to the old man tottering on the verge of the grave. The women came first and made strange contrasts. One with a checked apron and a sun-bonnet was followed by a jauntily dressed girl of more tender years with gaudy plumed hat and bright ribbons. Some carried valises, others buckets, others tins full of small articles. After the women came the men, some with shotguns and others with assorted luggage. All were sent into the stern of the vessel and grouped together in order that a picture of the vessel might be taken. The count showed 202, of which thirty-eight were children, and seven infants. The clearance papers put the number at 197. Over 400 trunks and boxes were taken as baggage. In the boxes are agricultural impliments, fire arms, ammunition, household utensils and supplies, clothing, etc.

Well Supplied with Money.

The party is probably the best equipped that has ever left America for the Dark Continent. Since their arrival in Savannah they have spent probably $1,500 to $2,000 laying in stores. The majority of the negroes appear to be still quite well supplied with money. There is probably not a man in the party but who has sufficient to provide subsistence for some time after landing in Liberia. Supplied as they are, there is no danger of this party starving to death or otherwise suffering if there is any possibility of making a living at all in the land to which they are going.

"Going Home to Africa."

When the vessel's lines were cast off there was a cheer from the crowd on the wharves and the emigrants sang their parting song: "I'm Going Home to Africa's Shores." The refrain was taken up by those on shore, and the singing kept up until the vessel passed the city, the crowds following along the wharves shouting good-byes, while from the negroes gathered on the crowded deck of the steamship came back answering shouts and the color bearer of the party, a sturdy negro, violently waved a large American flag that will be displayed as the Horsa enters the harbor of Monrovia. The Horsa expects to reach Monrovia about April 1, and after landing the emigrants, will endeavor to secure a return cargo. The party is accompanied by S. B. Cottingham, secretary of the International Emigration society; R. C. Truesdale and J. C. Lanchester and W. M. Simpson, agent of the charterers. The missionary cause is represented by four colored ministers who go provided with funds to build a church in Monrovia.

Fast Horses Coming East.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 20.—John Carey, driver of Joe Patchen, has bought from Dr. K. D. Wise, of this city, his entire string of horses for $30,000. Carey will ship the best of them east at once. Among the purchases are Adelaide McGregor, 2:15½; Adelaide Simmons, 2:14; and Emin Bey, by Gus Wilkes, 2:21½. Mr. Carey said to-day: "I wish that all betting on race tracks could be abolished. If it is kept up horse racing will be demoralized."

An Offer to Sullivan.

New York, March 20.—Steve O'Donnell, who fought an eight round drawn contest with Jake Kilrain in Boston Monday night, is out in a card to-day severely complaining of the decision of the referee, claiming that he was clearly entitled to the decision. Closing, he refers to Sullivan as a defeated sore-head and offers the latter $2,500 if he cannot put the ex-champion to sleep if Sullivan will stand before him.

Discredits the Statement.

New York, March 20.—Arturo Baldasano, the Spanish consul general of this country, when seen regarding ex-Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney's remarks on the Allianca outrage, said: "I cannot believe that Mr. Whitney gave utterance to any such statements. They are those of a stupid man. From all I have heard of him, he is a statesman, and I do not think he has been reported correctly."

First of the Income Tax.

Washington, March 20.—Among the various items in the report of internal revenue receipts for February, just given out, there appears one of $11,815 on account of income tax under the new law. This is the first time any receipts from this source has been reported.

Two Children Burned to Death.

Bethlehem, Pa., March 20.—The one-year-old son of Mrs. Frank Gubich was burned to death yesterday afternoon while his mother was on a shopping tour, and his brother, three yearse old, was fatally burned.

Baseball in the South.

Savannah, Ga., March 20.—Brooklyn, 6; Pittsburg, 3.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 20.—New York Giants, (regular team) 6; Second team, 1.

Newfoundland Relief Fund.

Boston, March 20.—Kidder, Peabody & Co., announce that the Newfoundland relief fund now amounts to $8,873.

A New World

opens to the man who finds quick relief from wearing pain. That is the testimony of multitudes who have used

Allcock's

Porous Plaster

for all sorts of aches and pains, lameness, stiffness of the muscles and joints of the back, limbs or side.

Make Sure and get the genuine. Never put up with imitations "Just as good as ALLCOCK'S."

Allcock's Corn Shields,
Allcock's Bunion Shields,
Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.

Brandreth's Pills

relieve rheumatism and any disease arising from impurity of the blood.

11 19-m w f

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned Attention given to sanitary condition Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built, 9 15

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
176 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 96 y

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

QUEEN & CO. —OF— PHILADELPHIA, SEND THEIR EYE SPECIALIST TO PLAINFIELD

Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street,

Dunham's Real Estate Office

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. I. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2.43 JAMES H. ECKELS,
Comptroller of the Currency.

3 4 30

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort
[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.
[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield, N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

A. W. BAKER, 200 Park Ave. B. G. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 2 m

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial Parlor, 304 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J. Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 19 t

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

THE DAILY PRESS.

S. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH 20, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

John Carney was in Somerville yesterday.

Mayor Gilbert was in Trenton yesterday on business.

Charles Kiederling of East Front street is ill with the grip.

J. T. Case of 11 Vine street is confined to his home by severe illness.

Miss Lillian Pope of Duer street is confined to her home with illness.

Grandma Stead of Washington Valley is much improved from her illness.

Miss Walker of Boehm's is again at her post after a brief illness with the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lovell of Crescent avenue will spend Sunday in Atlantic City.

Miss Runyon, bookkeeper for VanEmburgh & Son, goes tomorrow on a Washington tour.

George Coard of East Ninth street entertained a number of friends at his home last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson removed today from Washingtonville to their new house on Mountain avenue.

Ex-Councilman Arthur T. Gallup of West Front street has recovered from his recent illness so as to be out again.

Mrs. George Dember of Washingtonville, and baby Carrie, spent yesterday with friends on East Fourth street.

The second paper of the series on five great humorists will be read in All Souls Church Friday night by Miss Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kerr have the sympathy of all in the loss of their only remaining child, Grover Cleveland Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac W. Rushmore and Miss Rushmore of West Seventh street left this morning for a two-months trip to California.

The Whist Club met last night at the residence of J. Wesley Johnson of La-Grande avenue. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Mrs. J. W. Jackson entertained a few friends from New York at her home on Crescent avenue last night, among them Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Howard Banks.

A surprise party was given to David Smith at his home on Grove street last night, at which 40 of his friends enjoyed dancing until early this morning. The party was arranged by Harry Van Fleet and Frank Miner.

The funeral of Capt. Annie McIver of the Salvation Army, whose death occurred this morning, will be held in the Army barrack in the Elkwood Building Friday evening at 7:30. The interment will take place Saturday in Hillside Cemetery.

$10,000 TAKEN BY THEFT.

New York, March 20—Barry Mines, 34 years of age, a resident of Port Richmond, S. I., was held for examination in the Tombs Police Court today on a charge of stealing $10,000 from the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., the bankers. Mines was a clerk in the employ of the firm.

Warrenville.

The Warrenville school-house was filled Tuesday afternoon, for the election of three trustees to be elected for three years, and the raising of the regular appropriations for incidentals for the year. The board asked for $450, but the voters allowed them only $300, as they spent over $1,000 last year and there was dissatisfaction over the manner of the purchase of books, some scholars having as many as 11 books, and one boy 7 years of age having eight books.

B. E. Sage was chairman and H. Toms secretary; and John Bornman, W. H. Kipsey and E. E. Cooper were elected for the term of three years.

Y. M. C. A. Tennis.

All lovers of good sport, and especially the members of the Y. M. C. A., will be glad to know that the grounds back of the building are to be put in first-class condition for tennis playing. There will be three or four courts, and the place will be fenced in, making it very select for those who wish to play.

A portion of the grounds will be set aside for light gymnastics. The baths being easy of access will make the outdoor exercise very popular.

Burglary Cases.

John Fitmore had a trial before Justice Newcorn this afternoon on the charge of burglary preferred by his sister, Mrs. Frank Hallenbeck. He was held for the Grand Jury.

Justice Newcorn this morning issued a warrant for the arrest of Spencer Conway on the charge of burglary preferred by Maria States.

Jerusalem Bids Adieu.

After 16 years of occupancy, Jerusalem Lodge closed its communications in her old lodge rooms last evening. At the close, Past Master Henry Woodland made pleasant remarks, touching on their last meeting in the old rooms.

—Barnum is coming in May.

—Lawyer Quinn yesterday settled with his creditors. He exonerates Truckman Bailey from all complicity.

—The Legislature has passed a bill, authorizing Middlesex County to build a $150,000 bridge from Perth Amboy to South Amboy.

—The eye specialist of Leech, Stiles & Co. will be at 107 East Front street tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Examination is free.

—Threatening weather tomorrow; rain or snow.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Both lodges of the Red Men meet tonight.

—Chas. Bullman gives another Y. M. C. A. talk March 26.

—The Building Committee of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tomorrow evening and endeavor to clear up accumulated business.

—Compton's block on West Front street is receiving exterior painting improvements.

—Louis Coombs leaves today to fill his new position in the Grand View Hotel at Catasauqua, Pa.

—The authorship of the false report that a baby was born to Mrs. Fries has been traced to Mr. Spriggs of Howard street.

—Judge Coddington fined Robert Roberteon and Harry Lynn $1 apiece this morning for peddling without a license.

—Hendrickeon's last Washington tour of the season leaves Plainfield March 28, as advertised. The entire expense is covered by $14.50.

—A gymnastic exhibition will be given by the boys at the Y. M. C. A., Tuesday afternoon, April 2, from 4 to 5. All parents are invited to be present.

—Thus far only two men have quit work at the Scott Printing Machine Works on account of the reduction in wages. Both were pattern-makers.

—The report has gone out that E. M. Laing, the hatter, intends removing his store. The report is untrue; he remaining at his old stand, 105 Park avenue.

—The bowling game in the Journal Association series scheduled for last night between the Westfields and Cranfords at Cranford will not be rolled until tonight.

—People thinking of buying clothing would do well to look at those $16 and $18 suits that Werner is selling for $10 The ad in another column tells about them.

—Michael Donco, who paid a $5 fine in police court this morning, was arrested again this afternoon for drunkenness. Wm. Kenney was arrested for fighting with him.

—The regular Thursday afternoon meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held in their rooms at 3:30. Subject: "Interrogation Points". General officers please meet at 2:30. CARA L. PECK, President.

—Wm. Hand & Son have moved G. T Rhodes from West Sixth street to 610 Central avenue; P. L. Conde from East Front street to 117 West Sixth street; and Josiah Unangst from East Third street to Elm place.

—The regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Congregational Church will be held Thursday afternoon, March 21, at 2:45, instead of 3, in the church parlors. Mrs. C. L. Goodrich will give a paper on "Medical Work Among Missions". The usual current missionary news from the various stations also will be expected.

—The annual business meeting of the Home Mission Circle of the Park Avenue Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. J. K. Fisk, First place, yesterday. The report of the various officers showed the organization to be in a prosperous condition with 32 members. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. K. Fisk; Vice-President, Mrs. James Middledith; Secretary, Mrs. E. V. Fisk; Treasurer, Mrs. Walter Freeman.

Not the Girl to Endure a Slight.

"We need no ring to plight our troth," he suggested, as he kissed her impetuously.

"Yes, we do," retorted the maiden. "None of your slight of hand tricks with me."—Detroit Tribune.

"Squeaky shoes," said Mr. Gratebar, "I don't like, but I rather admire a squeaky rocking chair, if it is old and comfortable. I shouldn't like to have a new chair squeak, but with an old chair it is different; that has earned a right to squeak. Of course I shouldn't like to have it squeak too much, for that would imply that it was insecure, and without security there can be no comfort; but I like to have it squeal gently, with one arm or one leg just a little loose. It doesn't squeak at all unless you rock back just so far, and then it squeaks with precisely the same sound always, a rhythmic squeak that has rest and comfort in every note."

Tests of the laboratory and the kitchen show

Cleveland's Baking Powder

the best that money can buy.

It's "pure" and "sure."

Our cook book mailed free on receipt of stamp and address.
Cleveland Baking Powder Co.,
81 Fulton St., New York.

The press is the best instrument for enlightening the mind of man and improving him as a rational, moral and social being.—Thomas Jefferson.

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them."

'Horner's Furniture'

The Best in the Market.

All who desire to buy reliable Furniture in moderate priced or more costly grades will find our stock the most advantageous to select from for these reasons: It represents the productions of the best makers only, and is the largest and most varied in America.

The completeness of our assortments can best be understood from the fact that we exhibit more than two hundred and fifty different Bedroom Sets in every variety of wood, over 70 patterns of Brass Bedsteads, as well as endless lines of Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Dining Room Furniture of the most artistic styles, and ranging from the modest and inexpensive to the most elaborately carved and inlaid.

In a word, every article required for use, comfort and adornment in the household can be had with its plainly marked moderate price at our

GREAT FURNITURE EMPORIUM,
61-65 West 23d St., N. Y.
(Adjoining Eden Musee.)

Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

SPRING CLOTHING.

Watson & Co. Open Their New Spring Styles of Both Custom and Tailor-Made Garments at the Lowest Prices Ever Known.

This week Watson & Co. open their new spring styles of suits for both men and boys, including hundreds of choice styles that cannot be found elsewhere, which you should see before you buy. Their custom department has been greatly enlarged, and in consequence of the reduction in the tariff on imported goods, handsome suits are now made to order for $15 $18 and $20, and all garments are correctly duplicated and can be had all ready to put on, cut in better shape and more perfect fitting than you can find outside this concern. Special attention is called to their immense stock of handsome dress suits at $15, all with extra pantaloons in beautiful spring shades, and to their long lines of fancy cassimere and cheviot suits in choice custom patterns now shown in their Broad and Market street windows complete for $10, $12 $15 and $18, including the new fine line patterns in soft dark and light grays and mixtures.

Pay a little attention to the cut of your clothes this spring and remember that Watson & Co. can certainly improve your dress appearance and show you the largest stock of handsome garments in the State to select from, all hung on convenient racks as soon as finished to keep them free from creases, wrinkles or any of the usual objectionable ready made look.

Just now their stock is worth taking a day off to see as the first buyers always get the finest goods and choicest patterns Their great stock of spring overcoats, every garment silk or satin lined, marked from $10 to $18, will also be put on sale today.—Newark Item.

—Owing to the cancellation of a date at Bethlehem, Pa., Peck's Bad Boy company remained in the city yesterday and last night.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dismondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

An Ordinance

governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An ordinance governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation" has been introduced and passed its first and second readings in the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield. The date when said ordinance passed its second reading is March 8, 1895, and this notice is given pursuant to the requirement of the statute in such case made and provided. By order of the Board of Health. H. O. NEWMAN, Secretary.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., March 16, 1895.

MUSIC HALL.

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 493.

Friday, March 22—1 Night

Canary & Lederer's newest New York production THE

20th Century Girl.

75 people on the stage 75

The phenomenal cast introduces John T. Kelly, Dan Dooly, Samie Fisher, Bertina Gerard, Edith Howe, Jennie Weatherby, Al H. Wilson, Harry Kelly, Harry Standish, Catherine Quingard, Lillian Thurgate, Cristel Carlyle and others. Everything bright, new, original and up to the title.

Prices 25, 50 75c. $1 and $1.50. Box office now open.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lichthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

18 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt, of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

AT PECK'S.

NEW Street Glove $1.50. Foster's KID GLOVES. Black, Brown Tan, Mode and Slate.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block, 12-6-7

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Carpet Dep't.

Opening of New Spring Goods.

We quote only a few specials.
All-wool ingrains at.....49c
Tapestry Brussels, at.....53c 59c 65c
Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminster, Ishpahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, jointless, new patterns, 90c up.
Oil cloths, No. 1. 39c No. 3 at 25c No 4 at 19c
Linoleums at 37½c; Window shades 19c up; poles with fixtures 19c up.

The elegant new Laces in

Our Lace Dept.

will interest you.

Laces, Veilings and Lace Collars.

A large collection of fine laces and lace collars (by far the most comprehensive assortment in the city) we shall offer during the week at prices very much below real value, comprising Broderie Anglaise, Point de Gene, Point Venise, Chiffon, Chantilly and Point de Ireland Laces, now very desirable for spring trimmings. Our leader this week—Brussells Applique in match patterns of 3 widths—5 inch 19c; 6½ inch 23c; 8 inch 31c a yard.

Veilings

All-silk Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings 18x27 inches wide, in all colors, at 25 and 35c a yard; regular price 35 and 50c a yard.

Lace Collars

Point Venise and Point de Rene Collars (butter color) now much in demand, regular $1.50 to $5 lines, special during the week at $1.25, $1.39, $1.93 and $3.28 each.

Silks

Illuminated Brocaded and Striped Taffeta Silks, 12 different combinations, 20 inches wide, will not cut, crush or slip in seams, choice designs, good value at 98c yard; special at 65c a yard. 700 yards of Crepon Wash Fabrics, in all leading colorings, regular 10c goods; special for the week 7½c yard.

Housefurnishing and China Dept

Extra values at about half price. At half price, 1 lot English Majolica milk and water pitchers
Milk pitcher regular price 15c; special 8c.
" " " 19c; special 10c
Water " " 29c; special 15c
" " " 39c; special 24c
The above are assorted colors and strictly perfect.
50 dozen engraved goblets, all perfect, at 3c each; scrub brushes, regular 15c. at 10c each; japanned chamber pails, assorted colors, 23c; another lot japanned bread boxes at 27c; japanned fire screens, 4 fold bamboo frames, at 49c.

Grocery Department

TERMS CASH—Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. You will be surprised at the amount of money you can save in buying in this department.

SPECIAL SPECIAL

French sardines in pure olive oil, Martel brand at 10c can
Cook's flat salmon steaks, very fine, at 16c
Very fine large olives, 32 oz bottle, 39c can.
Heinz's assorted Little Giant pickles 9c bottle.
Anderson's jams, all kinds, 1 pound tins, 12c.
FLOUR—Our White Seal Floor is in greater demand each day. The price and quality is right. ⅛ barrel 54c; ¼ barrel $1.07; ½ barrel $1.98; 1 barrel $3.95.

Special for Saturday Night Only

From 8 to 9:30.

500 yards of Point Venise, Bourdon, Appliqse and Valenciennes laces, 2 to 7 in. wide, 20c to 50c lines; special Saturday only at 10c, 18c, 20c, and 25c a yard.
1,000 yards of satin and gros grain ribbons in all leading shades, ¼ to 4 in. wide, reduced to 3, 5, 9, 12 and 20c a yard; regular price 5, 7, 12, 18 and 25c a yard.

EDSALL'S

DO YOU BUY YOUR Trunks and Bags in New York?

Do So No More.

You can now buy them just as cheap at the house of

Doane & Edsall.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

SCHEMES TO WIN POPULARITY.

The New President of France Rapidly Becoming a Public Idol.

Felix Faure, the new President of the French Republic, rose up to his high office from a tanner's apprentice. He is proud of this. Always above his desk he keeps a picture of himself in his tanner's togs. This interesting picture was taken when he was nineteen years of age.

Felix Faure is in many ways the cleverest President the French Republic has yet had. He is up to all sort of tricks and devices and snares to get popularity and keep it.

Courtesy and kindness of heart are two of the chief characteristics of the people of France, and flattery has always been one of the strongest cards a French statesman or politician could play. With hardly an exception the French Presidents have prided themselves upon their diplomacy with the people.

Of all the Chief Executives, however, Felix Faure, the new President of France is now seen to be the greatest diplomat. The Parisian populace—and indeed the people of the provinces—are rapidly raising him to the pinnacle of hero worship. In France it takes, oftentimes, but an unimportant incident, perhaps only an apt phrase or two, to put a man upon the pedestal of popularity. Felix Faure is making his place secure in the hearts of the French people by a thousand and one little acts and speeches of this sort.

In France the President's official life is dependent upon the wind that listeth. Upon the support that is given him by the Deputies the fate of his ministry and himself hangs. An adverse vote or want of confidence may force him to resign at any time. With Faure the situation is particularly critical, for, elected by a small majority, he has all the Radical influence opposed to him, and the chances of a powerful cabal against any ministry he may name.

A man thoroughly of the people, who has come up from the ranks, President Faure well understands the manner of the men and women he is dealing with. His very first official act after taking his seat as President was most significant. With the aid of his friends in the Chamber, he had a general amnesty law passed for all condemned up to Jan. 28, for crimes or plots against the internal safety of the State, for the political offenders of the press, and for those concerned in electoral frauds. This act was made sweeping in its provisions, and under it a host of political exiles and refugees—notable among them Henri Rochefort—re-entered France.

Since then he has gone even further. Just within the past ten days he has decided to extend the amnesty law to cover the five hundred or more suits now pending against Paris coachmen for petty infractions of the statutes. His good will and clemency do not stop here even, and it is quite probable that through his influence the charges will be dismissed against a large number of writers condemned for offenses against public morality.

This is one of the ways in which the new president is rapidly and effectively winning a secure place in the hearts of the people. He is making even more friends by his charities and his acts of benevolence. Though his official duties are many and pressing, he is devoting his entire time on Thursday mornings to works of charity. Among his first acts on being elected president was the gift to the poor of Paris of 20,000 francs and 1,500 francs to the poor of Havre, his native city.

Another conspicuous bid for popularity was his gift of a large sum of money for wine with which the officers and men at the barracks might drink his health.

During the recent severe weather, which has thrown the Parisian poor into a state of unexampled suffering, he and Mme. Faure distributed large sums of money for the relief of the needy through the Assistance Publique and the mayors of various provincial cities as well. They also made many personal donations of food and clothing.

An Englishman's Geography.

"So you propose to make a tour through the United States, my boy," said Englishman No. 1 to Englishman No. 2, as they sat together in a London club room.

"Yes, I'm going to make a hurried trip through the States."

"What parts of the country are you going to visit?"

"Well, I shall land in the city of New Hampshire and give the town a pretty thorough visit. Then I shall sail up the Georgia river to Denver and visit its famous university. Then I shall put in a few weeks in the great forests of Cincinnati, hunting the antelope. I expect to make a trip across the vast prairies of Rhode Island and shoot an elephant or two. After that I shall winter in Bar Harbor and study American society among its most select representatives. Early in the spring I shall hire a guide and go on a fishing excursion up the California river into the lakes of Chicago."

"Going to visit New York?"

"Don't know as I shall get so far as that."

No Patience With Bunglers.

"H'mph!" ejaculated Fellaire (formerly Rusty Rufus), eyeing the wayworn pilgrim who had called at his kitchen door, "hungry, are you?"

"Yes'r," humbly answered the pilgrim.

"I ain't had anything to eat fur"—

"That'll do," interrupted Fellaire. "If you'd had sense enough to wipe off the egg that's sticking to your mouth I wouldn't know you'd had a feed not ten minutes ago and I'd give you a good hand out and a couple of shiners. Now you get away from here and don't you come back till you've learned the business better. These blamed amateurs," added Fellaire, tossing a dime at him, "make me tired!"

With Malice Toward None.

Wiggles—Why did they call it a charitable concert, do you think?

Waggles—I don't know. Possibly because it is so often necessary to be charitable toward the performers.—Somerville Journal.

Better Than No Excuse.

"What is the meaning of this, Mary? This is the second time I have found a policeman in the kitchen."

"Lor, mum! I'm so afraid of the beetles."—Pall Mall Budget.

Salaries of Two Officials.

The superintendent of the poor farm of Barton County gets $168 a year and the county physician $187.—Kansas City Star.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

CHRISTIAN SOCIABILITY.

Endeavorers Entertain in the Third Street Mission.

Under the skilful management of the Christian Endeavor Society, a very enjoyable entertainment was given in the Third Street Mission last evening.

First on the programme was a piano solo by Clifford Braider, which well deserved the hearty applause which followed. Miss Florence Dodge as an old lady was very amusing, and kept the audience laughing continually at her quaint sayings.

Miss Clara Meare then sang "A Secret", which so won the hearts of the people that to the call for more she responded with an equally pleasing selection.

After the last sweet strains of the violin solo by Mr. Barnes had died away a vocal solo, "My God, My Father", was rendered by Miss Lena Jomini.

A clothespin drill by five little girls was gracefully executed, and pleased everyone, as did also the cornet solo by Whitney Frazee.

After ten-minutes intermission, during which sociability reigned supreme, Messrs. Hepburn and Flack maintained good humor in the audience by a comic selection.

Then came a banjo solo by Mr. Wagner, which won much praise. Equally meritorious was the piano duet by the Misses Josie Van Natta and Florence Simmond.

"Dare I Tell?" was sung by Miss Mears in her usual superior manner, with Mr. Case as accompanist. For an encore, "Twickenham Ferry" was given, and everyone listened intently to the sweet notes of the autoharp in the skilful hands of William Kisch.

After the Christian Endeavor dialogue, which then took place between two old friends, the audience dispersed, much pleased with all they had seen and heard, and convinced that the Christian Endeavor society is one of the best organizations in existence.

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 1c a dose; 25, 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life; I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels; 75c. Sold by all druggists.

RALPH WILKES DEAD.

Lancaster, Mass., March 20.—The trotting stallion Rolph Wilkes died this morning. He was a son of Red Wilkes and Mary Mays, and had a record of 2:06¾.

GEN. BADEAU DEAD.

Ridgewood, N.J., March 20.—Brig.-Gen Adam Badeau died suddenly in the Herbert House here at 8 last night. He had a distinguished career, and was Military Secretary to Gen. Grant during the war

North Plainfield Township.

The annual school meeting of township of North Plainfield was held at the Washingtonville schoolhouse yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was largely attended, and much interest was shown by the tax payers in the affairs of the schools.

The efficient manner in which the schools, (Washingtonville and Greenbrook), were conducted by the five trustees in their untiring efforts to bring them up to a high standard of proficiency, was rewarded by electing all of them to remain on the board, except Andrew Wilson, who contemplates moving out of the township into the borough.

The following were the officers elected at the meeting, as well as the trustees:

John Morris, chairman; Andrew Wilson, secretary; George Bettman and Theodore Leurseer, tellers.

Trustees—3 years, M. Duffey, John Morris, Philip Ackor. 2 years, H. Coddington, Theodore Leurssen, John Doty. 1 year, George Stewart, Pool Voorhees, Robert Clark, Jr.

$200 was voted for special money to be expended for incidentals.

The trustees will meet to transact business of importance Friday night. The number of trustees was raised to nine at the suggestion of the old board.

—Special prayer meetings for boys will be held in Warren Chapel every Friday and Sunday evening commencing at 7.

DON'T starve yourself if you have dyspepsia, indigestion, or a weak stomach, as you cannot build up the system on a low diet, but eat generously, then take one of immediately after meals until cured. These pills cause the flow of bile and pancreatic fluid to occur as the food leaves the stomach—nature's method; and it is wise to observe natural laws, for in this way only can we expect perfect cures. Dr. E. R. Mackey, one of New York's most celebrated physicians, and hundreds of other noted physicians, vouch for the pills. If you are constipated, get bottle with white label, otherwise with yellow. At druggists', 25 cents, or send to us for free sample.

Dr. Deane's

Dyspepsia Pills

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, New York.

BY THE WAY.

—Those desirous of becoming charter members of Plainfield Council, Order of Chosen Friends, will do well to consult Friend Councilor Lantz before March 24. The charter closes March 26.

—A select subscriotion sociable will be given Thursday night, April 18 in the Olympia, 416 Sycamore street, under the committeeship of G. T. Dunham, W. C. Walker and J. D. Anderson. The grand march will begin at 9.

—Thos. J. McGann, who has charge of the sandpit on Grant avenue near South Second street, wishes The Press to inform the public that if pedestrains keep to the sidewalk there is no danger whatever from the pit, as said pit is on private property.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

DEATHS.

McIVER—March 20, 1895, Captain Annie McIver, of the Salvation Army.
Funeral services Friday, March 22, at 7:30 p. m., at Salvation Army Barracks, West 2d st.
Interment Saturday in Hillside Cemetery. 3

KERR—In North Plainfield March 20, 1895, Grover C., only son of John W. and Mamie Kerr, aged 6 months and 5 days.
Funeral services Friday, March 22, at 4 p. m., from his parents residence, 21 Somerset place. 2

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church
First-class livery attached
Telephone 153 11 28 y

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 18, 1895.

Adams Miss Rosilia	McGowen Patrick
Allen Strom	Miles W T
Brown Maggie	Morse & Co Wm W
Bayler T F	Nolan P
Burke James	Napensky Adam
Covery Fred	Pearce Herman S
Deloy Lucy	Post W
Eicke Lizzie	Preston H
Elder Harriet	Pentency Jinia
Fullom Lizzie	Randolph Mrs Louisa
Goepbel Mr	Russell J C
Gillispie & Son Wm	Seely E
Hanheld Phebe	Simpson Mrs Emily
Harben Jasper L	Sparks Louisa
Henley Mr	Sutphen Prime
Haney M A	Sumbom Roy
Hyatt Mrs Jennie	Truman Mrs W N
Hankerson A	Vail Ralph L
Jeroin Mrs	Washington Louisa
Jennings Annie	Wendell David
Jonrs Lewis	Williams C H
James Miss Ollie	Wells Lee
King James	Ward Ogle
Kimball Miss J	Watkins Mrs Florence
McDoland Mrs	Willoughby H
Michel Mr	Young Rev Dr W C

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.
The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

H. Eggerding,
121 PARK AVENUE.
Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 28

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

SANDFORD ave; for sale; delightful location; lot 50x185; 12 rooms, all improvements, perfect order; cost $6 000; worth $6,500; will sell at a sacrifice; $1,000 down, balance bond and mortgage at 5 per cent. Do not lose this opportunity if you want a home on the nicest residence street in Plainfield; will rent for $45 a month. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2 m w

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan, Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

THREE houses sold last week on Fairview avenue, Watchung Park; buy a lot there and make a stake. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

$800 BUYS house and lot on West 3d st; will rent for $120 a year. Mulford, broker. 3 19 3

DESIRABLE houses in all parts of the city to rent. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2 m w

WANTED—A good cook and laundress in a small family; reference required. 831 Madison ave. 3 19 2

MAN wants situation as coachman. Address Frederick Frederickson Netherwood, N. J. 3 20 4

FOR SALE—Delightfully located; new dwelling, lot 50x175, inside the fence line; flagged and curbed; 12 rooms and bath; cabinet trimmed, hardwood finish, beautifully papered; electric and gas light; nickel plate open work plumbing sanitary trapped; price $5 500; $2,000 down, balance bond and mortgage at 5 per cent. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

TO LET—2 new, attractive dwellings, 12 rooms each; all modern improvements; expensive decorations; Belvidere ave., opp. Hotel Netherwood; Woodland ave., near LaGrande; will sell; inspection invited. Call or address Alfred Cocks 728 Woodland avenue, near Netherwood station, or Plainfield brokers. 3 19 2-t th

FOR SALE—Sideboard and sidetable. 243 East 9th st. 3 19 tf

AN elegant lot 50x318 for sale; price $850; delightful location. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

IF you own a small house and want to exchange for a larger property, we can make an exchange for you. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

FOR SALE—25 loads of fine manure for lawns and gardens. B. W. Hard. 736 west Front st. 3 19 2

TO LET—110 Jackson avenue; 1st floor rent $8.50. 3 19 2

IF you pay $50 to $60 a month rent and want to own your own home, we can sell you for a little money beautifully located dwellings on easy terms. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2 m w

LOST—Saturday evening on Somerset st. between Manning ave. and Front st., a pocketbook containing between $3 and $4 and several clippings of deceased children's hair. The owner, a poor widow woman, will reward the finder by leaving it at this office. 3 18 3

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

PURCHASE a lot on Fairview avenue, Watchung Park; 3 houses sold last week. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

BUY a lot on Fairview ave., Watchung Park; 3 houses sold last week. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

HOUSES for sale in all parts of the city on easy terms; prices range from $2 000 to $15,000. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

TO LET—Modern house in perfect order; 7 rooms, reception hall, bath, electric light, laundry in basement and all modern improvements; extra large lot; rent from April 1 at $25 a month. J. P., care Press. 3 18 2-m w

BUY a Fairview avenue lot; 3 houses sold last week. For terms apply to Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

$500 TO LOAN on first bond and mortgage at 6 per cent. Address X Y. Z., care Press. 3 18 tf

DESIRABLE houses and flats in all parts of the city to rent. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

A SQUARE Worcester piano for sale; $50; will sell on installment plan. Address Piano, care Press. 3 16 3

IF you have any property you want to exchange for New York or Brooklyn property let us know of it and we can effect a trade; have a desirable list. Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave. 3 18 2-m w

A GOAT wagon, harness and sleigh for sale; price $10. Address Wagon, care Press. 3 18 3

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

WANTS AND OFFERS.

WHAT have you to rent? If you have a house not yet rented let us know of it and we may rent it for you; send us full particulars, Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 1-m w

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

TO LET—Two small stores or offices on one of the finest corners in the city, with or without stable room for one or more horses. Inquire F. Westphal & Son cor of West 4th and Liberty st. 3 6 m

FOR RENT—Store in the Alberti Building, 121 East Front st; changes made if desired to connect two floors. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

FOR RENT—House 208 East 5th st., from April 1; $35 a month; modern improvements. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick N. J. 3 20 6

WANTED—2 good canvassers; salary $3 a week and commission; good men can make from $15 to $20 a week. Address, stating experience and references, Canvasser, Box 100, care Press. 3 20 3

WANTED—A colored girl as chambermaid and waitress. 216 8th st.

A CHAMBERMAID and waitress wants work; has good references. Call at 315 Park ave.

YOUNG man wants situation as coachman in Plainfield after April 1; best of references. Address John Wingle, 940 Flatbush ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

WANTED—At once, a position by a refined German girl as waitress; highly educated and willing. M., care Press.

BUY a lot on Fairview ave., Watchung Park; 3 houses sold there last week Lyman & Petrie, 171 North avenue. 3 18 2-m w

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

SIX ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

ANNUAL SPRING TOUR TO

Washington, D. C.,

AND MOUNT VERNON,

by special Royal Blue Line train over the picturesque Baltimore and Ohio railroad. (Our last Washington tour this season.)

THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1895.

Affording an excellent opportunity and a most enjoyable trip to visit, at a delightful time of year, the National Capital. Face, entire trip, 3 days, including meals en route and first-class hotel board at Washington, only $14 50

Itinerary—Leave New York, foot of Liberty st. Central railroad depot, Thursday, March 28, at 10:30 a. m., stopping enroute at Elizabeth, Plainfield and Philadelphia. Returning the special train will leave Washington Saturday, March 30, at 3:10 p. m., arriving in New York at 8:15

Reception at the White House will take place at 1 p. m. Saturday, the 30th. Tickets, circulars and further information can be obtained at B & O offices, 171 415 and 1140 Broadway, New York, and from Thomas H. Hendrickson, 339 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Hot Rolls

of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department, 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
69c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....69c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 20c " 10c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $4 25—worth $6
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2 49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1 25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 co " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44, for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Wm 'Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 514 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

SUCH SELLING

From Monday morning until Saturday night of the pick of our immense stock, with profits chopped off, just for a big and bright ending of a dull month. Profits will come later, perhaps. All new goods, not in the store a month. We are only giving you our

PROFITS

Crepon

Cloth, a new name for crinkles. Wash 'em and shake them out; no ironing necessary. Manufacturer thought they would sell for 12c, but they didn't, so they go for 6c.

Embroideries

Just a hint our show window gives of our big purchase—5,000 yards in the lot. Not too much for Plainfield at the price—3 to 10c, and worth from 10c to 20c.

Ginghams

You know the Toile du Nords; ask anyone the price and they say 10 and 12c. White's price 6c, and 30 inch percales ought to bring 10c, but they go for 6c.

Silks

The prettiest weaves. Makes you wish you could buy them all when you see them, and you can, for the price is only 62c. All shades in light and dark grounds.

Dress Goods

Go where you please it's the same story White's is ahead of all, and you buy an all wool dress for what a gingham used to cost. Too many kinds to tell of all. Just come and see them.

Linens

Big selling it will be this week and little prices buy them. Towels, toweling, table linen, napkins at a third off, just to show you how cheap they can be sold. The more we can hammer prices the better.

For further particulars see circulars

WHITE of Plainfield.

We have a few

Wall Pockets

odds and ends of two or three styles, in

Gilt, Enamel and Plain Frames

worth $1.25, now

89 Cents.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue.
Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St.,
NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan.

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.
The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 8 4 y

PLAINFIELD SOUVENIR SOLID SILVER SPOONS.

COLLIER'S,

103 PARK AVENUE.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

GENERAL GRANT.

How Near His Personal Memoirs Came to be Lost.

A Valuable History Written by a Dying Man.—Proper Nourishment Enabled the Author to Live Until the Completion of His Book.

The fortitude shown by General Grant in writing the second volume of his personal memoirs while he was literally on his deathbed, excels even the remarkable courage exhibited by this famous soldier in his many achievements on the field of battle.

Col. Fred Grant, speaking of his father's last illness, says:—

"During the last four months of his sickness, the principal food of my father, Gen. Grant, was Bovinine and milk; and it was the use of this incomparable food alone that enabled him to finish the second volume of his personal memoirs."

Dr. T. H. Douglas, Gen. Grant's physician and friend, cordially indorsed the above statement.

What Bovinine did for Gen. Grant it has done, and is now doing, for thousands every day. It is the most wonderful concentration into a small bulk of all the life-giving, muscle, flesh, and blood-making elements of lean, raw meat ever produced.

It is in no way a medicine, simply a food invigorant, that by its strengthening qualities gives the worn-out or disordered vital centres of the body an impetus that again starts them performing their natural functions.

It is indorsed by eminent physicians everywhere, and blessed by thousands whose lives it has actually saved.

To neglect to use this wonderful food in all cases of debility, wasting diseases, overwork, stomach and nerve diseases, or for weak infants, chronic invalids, loss of vitality in old age, is to throw away one of the greatest chances of saving life.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

A LADY'S TOILET

Is not complete without an ideal

COMPLEXION POWDER.

POZZONI'S

Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.

Insist upon having the genuine.

IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75 BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE. W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the

W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory

They give the best value for the money. They equal custom shoes in style and fit. Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed. The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole. From $1 to $3 saved over other makes. If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

A. WILLETT & SON.

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C.

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON.

New No. 122, North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper.

1 21 tf-c

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 37 Chatham street.

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

THE SUN'S FASHIONS.

THE WISE WOMAN MAKING READY FOR HOT WEATHER.

New Styles in Skirts and Bodices, Ribbons and Trimmings. The Blouse in All Its Variations to Prevail in Thin Gowns. Piques for Cool Mornings.

The fashions which are most anxiously anticipated are the styles for making up the various cotton fabrics into gowns to be worn in midsummer. The average woman is too wise to let the warm weather find her napping, so she prepares for the first hot day long before it comes by making all her outing costumes and dainty organdies in the early spring.

Last season's gowns are inspected and renovated for use again, and fortunately the ways of fashioning these thin dresses do not differ so materially from one season to another that this cannot be done with great success. The reigning box plaits, which must declare themselves many times in her summer outfit if she would be up to date can easily be added to a simple full waist made last year, and if the required material is lacking the blouse effect may be gained by bands of satin ribbon covered with embroidery. The blouse style of bodice, in all its variations, will prevail in all thin gowns, and for heavier materials, such as piques, cotton cheviots, duck and linens, short coats, turned back in front, with revers to show a shirt front, will be worn, as will also the Norfolk waists, with and without the basque effect.

Piques, some in lovely pale shades, make very effective gowns for cool mornings in summer. The skirts are usually plain, but if desired they may be trimmed with rows of heavy lace insertion or embroidery. A pretty round waist is made with a wide box plait up the middle of the back and down the front, and trimmed with a wide square collar, edged with the heavy lace or English open work embroidery. The belt and neckband may be made of the pique, covered with embroidery, or of satin ribbon in a contrasting color. Both colored and black velvet ribbons are used on these gowns. In fact ribbons of every description, and the new varieties, many and charming, are to be a feature of all thin summer gowns. The thin blouse waists of organdie, Swiss and nainsook have a decided droop in front over the satin ribbon belt and are striped lengthwise with lace or embroidered insertions or tucked in narrow tucks, which are edged with Valenciennes lace. This manner of trimming is quite new this season and especially dainty and pretty.

Valenciennes lace, in the narrow widths, has revived its old time popularity, and the deep cream shade is very effective on white or colored muslins. It trims silks with equally good effect. A very stylish waist, lately imported, is made of black accordion plaited point d'esprit and striped at intervals from neck to belt and on the puffed sleeves with bands of half inch black satin ribbon, on the edges of which is sewed narrow valenciennes lace and in the middle a tiny line of jet. It is almost needless to add that the effect is charming.

A special feature of the new millinery is that the flowers and leaves are mostly very large, the hydrangea being one of the favorite blossoms. Petunia is one of the most popular colors and appears in straw hats as well as flowers and ribbons. The wide effect gained by wings and outspreading bows is still a dominant characteristic of both hats and bonnets, but the broad Dutch bonnet, so fashionable all winter, has grown a little point in front, which makes it resemble the Marie Stuart shape, and is infinitely more becoming to the majority of faces.

The jet bonnets, with their bunches of bright flowers at either side, are very attractive. Three shades of one flower are usually grouped together, and three feathers also. Fine plaitings of chiffon, with either flowers or feathers, are arranged from both hats and bonnets to fall onto the hair at the back, and a curtain of lace caught up in the middle is another fancy. A pretty jet bonnet with widespreading wings of jet is trimmed with cream colored pansies above the ears. Violets and roses are used in combination, and roses in all the unnatural colors are mingled with the uncommon tints of the new ribbons, which are ovely with chine figures and both satin and velvet stripes.—New York Sun.

All Right.

Dodson—I am writing a verse to the landlady's daughter; give me a rhyme for "spoons."

Foggs—"Prunes."

"Doctor, I have an important physiological question to ask you. When I stand on my head the blood rushes into my head. Now, when I stand on my feet, why does it not rush into my feet?"

"Because your feet are not hollow."

WOE AMONG THE NOBLES.

Girls With Fortunes Not Rushing in the Countess Anna's Footsteps.

The gentry and nobility are in the doldrums. "De Castey" is on the high seas with his fifteen million dollar bride, and the others are high and dry upon the shores of time and the sands of seedy impecuniosity. No more for them doth the cocktail bubble in the cafe of the Waldorf. No longer do the dukes and lords and barohets and counts drink health and happiness to and at the expense of the prospective bridegroom. The dogs had their day and reveled in it, but now their sun has gone under an eclipse and they must wait in their fifth story back rooms till another lucky member of their guild makes a tea strike in the matrimonial market.

The Baron Pumpernikel made a last lucky coup and succeeded the night before the wedding in borrowing enough money to pay his fare back to Lakewood, where he plays a star engagement at the seventh table from the bridal one in the hotel of the same name. He still casts sheep's eyes at Miss Evangeline de Porc, of Chicago, but that haughty young lady has decided that the German aristocracy are out of fashion this season, and nothing less than a French marquis can win her young affections and eleven figures.

Biewfik Pasha, who cut such a dash on his first arrival from Cairo, is industriously seeking a situation and a blonde of any age, but is meeting the marble heart wherever he goes, and the libellous statement that no negroes may apply. The idea of applying such a name to a member of Egypt's bluest blood!

Prince Brian Boru O'Heffernan, having fastened the soles to his shoes with carpet tacks so that they no longer flop, is now able to perambulate the avenue again looking for a "mash" with money.

Lord Pendennis is wintering at the Castle de Sing Sing, where he keeps the books in the laundry department in the neatest and most aristocratic of hands—that hand which forged the names of the nobility of Wall street with such distinguished success until he ran against the title hunter of Inspector McLaughlin's staff.

In sheer despair the Grand Duke Peteroffsky Skyblewoff has been forced to marry his landlady in the boarding house at 999 West 334 street, to which he was wont to retire after a fascinating day along the rialto. She is twenty years older than he, and weighs 200 pounds; but she is a keen business woman, with a neat sum in the savings bank, and she says that the Grand Duke, under her watchful eye, makes a much better vegetable cook than the one she discharged when she erased his long overdue account and took him to husband.

Thus it will be seen that the gentry and nobility now honoring our shores feel the stress of hard times just the same as poor ordinary millionaires and other plebeians. Uneasy lies the head which wears a crown, particularly if the rim be missing, and even a rim without a crown is not heartfilling unless it be made of gold and studded with jewels like that worn by the Countess Anna de Castellane, nee Gould.—New York Recorder.

His Souvenir of a Live Bear.

A long, brown bear claw on the watch chain of a man standing in the Metropolitan lobby a short while ago attracted several people's attention, and some asked him why he wore such an outlandish charm.

"Well," began the owner, who was George Miller, of Cheyenne, and a wealthy member of the Wyoming Live Stock Association, "there is a story about this claw. I cut it off a life grizzly bear, who is living yet for all I know, and I put it on to-night to show a friend who was mightily interested in the proceedings about the time the amputation occurred.

"I'm going over to Baltimore in a few minutes to see him, and when he spies this claw I'll bet he hollers. Phil Brent, that's his name, and we were out prospecting in the spurs that run back from Brown's Park, in Colorado in '77. I had the quartz fever bad then and wouldn't have given a piece of jerked meat for every bunch of cattle in the country. We had knocked up a sort of a shack for ourselves, something of a cross between a big wikiup and a hillside cave, and were pretty comfortable as far as quarters go.

"One day Phil got sort of sick and I went out to kill him a grouse, taking a little single barrel shot gun. I got a couple of mountain quail about a quarter of a mile away and came back. When I turned a little gully and came in sight of the shack there was the hindquarters of a grizzly bear sticking out of the doorway.

"I knew Phil was inside, and my hair stood up. The popgun I had was worth about as much as a pipestem so far as fighting a bear was concerned. I didn't know what to do, but every now and then I could hear the bear gurgle. It wasn't a grunt, but a regular gurgle, like it was blowing its wind against the roof of its mouth.

"All of a sudden I spied our ax near me, and I grabbed it. I sneaked up, thinking I could cut the bear on his hind knee and make him pay attention to himself until I could get a whack at his head. A bear hurt in the hindquarters will always doctor the wound for a minute or two before it starts to get even with its enemy.

"Well, I raised the ax and shut my eyes and whizzed away at that hind leg. There was a howl like a hundred hyenas had broke loose, and a bear half as big as an elephant, it seemed to me, fell back out of the shack and then started off up the hollow like a race horse.

"Derned if Phil wasn't sitting up in one corner with his eyes staring at the door in a dead faint. We examined the doorway to see if there were any blood marks, and blessed if I didn't pick up this claw. I reckon I missed his leg."—Washington Evening Star.

At the Board School.

Master—Now what is Christopher Columbus famed for?

The class is silent.

Master—Surely somebody knows that.

Tommy—I know. For frying eggs.

Master—No. He is notable for having discovered America, which was unknown then.

Tommy—How did he know it was America when he hadn't been there before?—Judy.

Probable.

Amos Moses Snowball—Say! black boy, hit seems ter me at I've saw yoh face before.

Ephraim Johnson—Reckon you has, 'cause das where I been wearing it all my life.

CURE THAT COUGH WITH SHILOH'S CURE

TAKE THE BEST

25cts. 50cts. and $1.00 Bottle. One cent a dose.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival: has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For a Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S BELLADONNA PLASTER. 25c.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price 50cts. Injector free.

Sold by all druggists.

8 14 3

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 309 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 309 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,500, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,667 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " " "
4,925 feet 10 " " "
80,605 feet 8 " " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
139 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,225 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 309 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MAC MURRAY,
City Clerk.

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's

LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street. Solicitor and Master in Chancery. Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Plainfield as follows:

EAST 1.32 p. m. daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Harrisburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. Western Express with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

6.56 p. m.—Fast Western Express with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8.03 p. m.—Pacific Express with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1.32 p. m., 6.56 p. m. Pacific Express, 1.03 a. m., 8.03 p. m.

For Philadelphia only 1.32 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—5.12, 8.36, 8.46, 9.27, 9.45, 10.07, 7.20, 7.40, 7.57, 8.06, 9.20, 9.58, 9.57, 9.27, 9.41, 9.48, 10.20, 10.28, 10.40, 11.07, 11.48 p. m., 1.23, 1.20, 1.56, 2.24, 2.40, 3.03, 3.27, 3.47, 4.43, 5.15, 5.36, 6.46, 6.57, 6.45, 6.48, 7.07, 7.26, 7.39, 8.41, 9.30, 10.03 and 11.06 p. m. Sundays 8.02, 8.36, 9.14, 9.40, 9.50, 9.57, 10.37, 10.28, 10.40 a. m., 12.26, 1.44, 2.32, 3.48, 4.38, 5.24, 5.48, 7.15, 7.32, 7.39, 7.48, 8.30 9.35, 10.36, 11.46 and 11.56 p. m.

For New York only, 6.10 a. m. daily.

For Elizabeth—7.12, 8.47, 7.19, 8.05, 9.20, 11.48 a. m., 1.27, 3.12, 5.07, 6.36, 7.46, 8.47, 9.20 p. m. Sundays 8.47, 9.20 a. m., 12.26, 1.44, 2.32, 3.48, 4.38, 5.24, 5.48, 7.15, 7.32, 7.39, 7.48, 8.30 9.35, 10.36, 11.46 and 11.56 p. m.

For Atlantic City 1.32 p. m. through Pullman parlor car Sundays 8.00 a. m.

City Fast Tea Line City and Ocean City 1.32 p. m., weekdays.

For Delaware—1.32 daily ex. Monday, 4.05, 6.46, 7.20, 7.36, 9.00, 9.20, 10.35, 11.49 a. m., 12.46, 1.32, 2.27, 3.28, 4.05, 5.22, 6.05, 6.56, 7.27, 8.46, 9.14, 11.02 11.46 p. m. and 12.27 night. Week-days Sundays, 1.32 6.56, 7.49, 9.49, 10.20 10.47 and 11.47 a. m., 12.56, 1.50, 2.47, 3.28, 4.50, 5.20, 6.46, 7.27, 7.47, 8.14, 8.47, 9.16, 10.14, 11 and 11.56 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1.00, 8.17, 7.10, 7.59, 9.05, 9.36, 9.56, 11.43 a. m., 12.36, 1.37, 2.46, 3.19, 4.28, 5.06, 6.40, 6.06, 6.46, 7.46, 9.19 and 11.02 p. m. Sundays, 1.00, 6.59, 9.06, 9.36 9.49, 10.41 a. m., 12.56, 1.50, 5.40, 7.47, 9.14, 9.41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1.43 a. m. daily except Monday, 6.44, 9.46, 10.09 a. m., 12.46, 3.10, 4.13, 5.44, 6.12, 8.16 9.20 9.44 p. m., 12.27 night. Week-days. Sundays, 1.43, 10.25, and 11.47 a. m., 10.34 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1.43 a. m. daily except Monday, 6.44, 9.46, 10.09, 12.46, 3.10, 4.13, 5.44, 6.12, 7.20 7.36 9 and 12.27. Sundays, 1.43 10.25, 11.47 a. m. 10.34 p. m.

For Red Bank—7.10 a. m., 12.36, 2.43 and 5.40 p. m., week-days.

For Keyport—1.56, 8.07, 7.10, 7.36 9.05, 9.56, 11.43 a. m., 1.36, 3.48, 5.08, 6.16, 7.46, 9.42, 9.57 p. m. Sundays 9.42, 10.25 a. m., 12.15, 3.10, 4.59, 5.08 9.38, 10.43 a. m., 5.40, 8.27, 7.47 and 9.41 p. m.

For Lambertville, Flemington and Belvidere via Trenton—7.10 a. m., 2.43 and 6.36 p. m., and 5.40 p. m. Sunday.

For Hamilton—7.10 a. m., 12.43 p. m.

For Freehold—7.10, 11.43 a. m., 4.36, 5.08 p. m., via Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via Monmouth Junction—7.10 and 11.43 a. m., 4.36 and 5.08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9.46, 12.46, 4.19, 5.44 p. m., 12.27 night week-days. Sundays, 10.28 a. m., and 5.44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12.46, p. m.

For Boston—5.46 p. m. daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1.00 daily except Monday, 6, 6.30, 7.20, 8.10, 8.30, 9, 9.10, 10.10, 11.00 a. m., 12, 12.10, 12.30, 12.40, 1.00, 2.10, 2.30, 3.00, 3.20, 4.00, 4.10, 4.30, 4.40, 5.00, 5.10, 5.20, 5.30, 5.40, 6.00, 6.00, 6.10, 6.20, 6.40, 7.00, 7.30, 8.15, 9.18, 10.18, 11.00, 11.30 p. m., 12.10 night. Sundays, 1.00, 5.18, 8, 9.00, 9.46, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 12.00 noon, 1.00, 2.00, 2.45, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 6.30, 8.45, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.30, 10.15, 11.00 p. m., and 12.18 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7.30, 8.40, 11 a. m., 2.30, 5, 6.30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9.20 a. m., 1.45, 6, and 7.30 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND RARITAN MAILS.

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.40, 6.30 p. m.
Close—7.15 a. m., 4.30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9.20 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9.30 to 10.30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6.15 p. m.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street.

Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2.34, 3.27, 6.22, 6.47, 7.30, 7.56, 7.30, 7.50, 8, 9.35, 9.37, 9.57, 10.48, 11.19, A. M., 12.06, 1.36, 2.17, 3.06, 3.32, 4.06, 4.56, 5.04, 6.04, 7.01, 8.30, 9.18, 10.37, 11.35 P. M. Express—2.34, 3.27, 6.22, 6.47, 7.30, 7.56, 8.35, 9.37, 10.48, 11.19 A. M., 12.06, 1.36, 2.17, 3.06, 4.56, 5.04, 6.04, 7.01, 8.30, 9.18, 10.37 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street, 6.00, 6.00, 7.30, 8.40, 9.30, 10.30, 11.40, A. M., 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.30, 8.40, 9.40, 10.40, 11.40 P. M. Express, 6.00, 6.30, 7.30, 8.40, 9.40, 10.40, 11.40 A. M., 12.40, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.30, 8.40, 9.40, 10.40, 11.40 P. M. Sundays, 9.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 A. M., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Express—9.00, 10.00, 11.00 A. M., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Night, 1 A. M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 6.32, 6.55, 7.10, 7.56, 8.00, 8.40, 9.02, 10.06, 10.57, A. M., 12.06, 1.36, 3.07, 3.30, 4.32, 5.05, 6.04, 7.01, 8.30, 9.18, 10.37, 11.35 P. M. Express—7.01, 8.30, 9.18, 10.37, 11.35 P. M.

Leave Newark 6.20, 7.10, 7.55, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 A. M., 1.00, 1.30, 2.30 Saturday only, 3.00, 4.00, 4.40, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Express—7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Sundays—7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 A. M., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

"LAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6.40, 7.10, 8.00, 9.04, 10.00 A. M., 12.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 6.30, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Express—8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 A. M., 12.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M.

Leave Somerville, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00 A. M., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Express—9.00, 10.00, 11.00 A. M., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Sunday, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 A. M., 12.00, 1.00, 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 6.40, 8.36, 9.56, A. M., 12.46, 3.06, 5.00, 6.14, 7.36, 9.21 P. M. Express—6.40, 8.36 A. M., 5.00 P. M.

Leave Easton 6.05, 7.00, 8.03, A. M., 12.27, 4.04, 7.00 P. M. Express—7.16, 10.02, A. M., 6.40, 7.30, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9.56, 5 P. M., 5.00 P. M.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6.40 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7.10 A. M. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

9.56 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9.56 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12.44 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2.08 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Pottsville and Williamsport, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5.04 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

5.56 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Blanchin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6.19 P. M. for Flemington.

6.56 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

8.21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

6.40 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8.28 a. m. Sundays for Easton, 2.08 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 5.56 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8.37 a. m. 1.18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield 9.37, 8, 10.27, a. m. 1.18, 3.51, 6.54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 9.52, a. m., 3.30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 9.37, 8.38, 8 10.27 a. m., 1.18, 3.51, 4.50, 6.54, 7.08 p.m. Sunday—9.52, a. m., 3.30 p. m.

For Freehold, 9.37, 2.10 27 a.m., 1.18, 3.51, 4.50, 5.30, 6.54 p. m. Sundays—9.52 a. m., 3.30 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 6.46, 8.18, 9.48, 10.48, a. m., 2.09, 3.56 p. m. 12.01 night. Sundays—8.18, 9.37 p. m., 1.12, night. Sundays—6.46, 8.18, 9.48, a. m., 2.09, 5.16, 6.48 p. m., 1.12, night.

For Trenton 6.46, 8.44, 9.40, 10.48, a. m., 12.46, 2.09, 3.56, 6.36, 9.21, 9.37 p.m., 1.12 night, Sunday—6.46, 9.34, a. m., 2.09, 5.16 6.36 p. m., 1.12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9.46, a. m., 2.09, 5.36, 6.46 p. m., 1.12, night. Sundays—9.46 a. m., 2.09, 5.16, 6.46 p.m., 1.12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5.36 p. m. Sundays 5.16 p. m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week days at 9.54 a. m., 9.21 p. m. Sundays 6.36 p. m.

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA, Reading terminal, 4.10, 9.00, 10.11 35 a. m., 1.30 3.30, 5.15, 6.04, 9.28 p. m., 12.10, night. Sundays—4.10, 9.30, 9.00, 12.35 a. m., 3.30, 6.00, 8.35 p. m., 12.10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—8.55, 7.58, 9.21, 11.18, a. m., 2.00, 5.12, 6.10, 11.45 p. m. Sunday—8.55, 7.58, 12.19 p. m., 2.30, 6.12, 8.10, 11.45 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1.00, 5.05, 9.05, 10.25, a.m., 12.15, 2.30, 4.59, 5.54, 9.05 p. m. Sundays—2.00, 4.00, 9.05, 10.27 a. m., 1.15, 4.25, 5.45, 9.05 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Nearly 100,000 Now in Use.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

EASY TERMS, — EXCHANGED.

Catalogue mailed on application.

110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

MONEY LOANED.

Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1122 Walnut st., Philadelphia.

E. H. HOLMES.

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD,

YARD—No. 1208 Madison Avenue. Also

Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle 145 North avenue.

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

965 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. H. McCullough, Proprietor.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 4-11-1

C. W. LINES,

Mason and Builder.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence—118 Liberty street.

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 4t

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 8 5 1

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place.

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.

E. E. Gayle, No. 18 Vine St.

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 7-21-tf

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 5 10 1

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 5 26 1

Are You Reading

Those Interesting Monographs on

Napoleon

BY

John Clark Ridpath

IN THIS PAPER?

The Greatest Warrior

Described by one of

The Greatest Historians

They Are Published Saturdays.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

A LUNAR ECLIPSE.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE SEE IT IF THE SKIES ARE BRIGHT.

Every Eclipse From the Beginning of Time to the End of Time Can Be Calculated to a Second. Laws That Do Not Change.

The last total eclipse of the moon on the evening of March 11 was visible entire to North and South America and the Atlantic Ocean, and more or less to Europe, Africa and the Eastern Pacific Ocean.

Observers at all points within this region saw the eclipse at exactly the same moment, though of course the clock time at various points differ according to the difference in longitude and the different methods of recording the time.

The eclipse was very nearly central; that is, the moon passed almost directly through the middle of the earth's shadow, so that the duration of totality fell much short of the greatest possible limit. Under circumstances the most favorable for a total lunar eclipse the moon may remain entirely within the shadow of the earth about two hours.

In an eclipse the shadow appears to move over the moon's disk, but in reality the eclipse is caused by the moon moving through the shadow. The instant when the last bright glimmer on the moon's western limb is blotted out is technically known as the beginning of totality.

One would naturally expect that then, the earth having stepped directly between the moon and the sun, the moon's disk would be absolutely invisible. Such, however, is seldom the case, owing to the fact that the earth's atmosphere possesses the peculiar property termed "refraction," which has the effect of bending the sun's rays into the shadow. The result is that when the moon has wholly entered the shadow her disk is usually distinctly visible, illuminated with a dull, copper colored light, which is sunlight deflected around the earth into the shadow cone. To an observer stationed on the moon the disk of the earth would appear to be surrounded by a narrow ring of brilliant sunshine, colored with sunset hues by the same vapor which tinge terrestial sunsets, but acting with double power because the light will have traversed a double thickness of our air.

If the weather happens to be very clear on the rim of the earth as seen from the moon, the quantity of light transmitted through the atmosphere is very considerable, and the moon is strongly illuminated. If, on the other hand, the weather happens to be stormy in this region, the clouds cut off nearly all the light. In the lunar eclipse of 1886 the moon was absolutely invisible to the naked eye.

From the beginning of totality, until the moon once more reveals herself, there is little to interest the ordinary observer. It is during this period, however, that the astronomers are especially active. At the time when the brilliant light of our satellite is cut off by the interposition of the earth between her and the sun it is possible to observe the moon's passage over small stars which suddenly spring into prominence owing to the unusual darkness.

As the copper colored limb of the eclipsed moon approaches one of these bright stars a very interesting phenomenon takes place. The star retains its full brightness until all at once it will vanish without the least warning. Its reappearance on the western limb of the moon is equally sudden and more startling. These occultations, as they are called, are of much importance in determining the exact position of the moon in her orbit. Not that there is much doubt as to this, but astronomy is an exact science, and astronomers eagerly seize upon any opportunity to detect a variation of a fraction of a second.

These occultations are also important in that they demonstrate the entire absences of atmosphere on the moon. The presence of even the slightest atmosphere would cause a gradual obscuring of the star's light until it finally passes behind the moon.

It is not generally known that a great many important dates in history have been fixed by means of lunar eclipses. Since these occur in obedience to absolute mathematical law, which is accurately understood by astronomers, it is possible not only to forecast every eclipse of the moon that will take place in the future, but also to reckon backward, and determine precisely the dates at which they have occurred in the past. Eclipses of the sun and moon were regarded with much awe by the ancients, and frequent instances have been recorded of their extraordinary behavior at the occurrence of these phenomena.

The Chinese supposed that the trouble was due to a large and greedy dragon which, in his effort to satisfy his extraordinary appetite, was devouring the moon or the sun, as the case should be. In order to avert this evil the people were accustomed to beat upon brazen instruments, to shout and make all possible noise. The dragon, frightened at the strange commotion, eventually disgorged his prey.

A familiar story is told of how Columbus forced the natives of an island to supply him with food by threatening to deprive them of the light of the moon if they refused. The Indians, remaining obdurate, and skeptical of the white man's power to perform this miracle, the eclipse duly began, whereupon they lavished food upon the famished sailors and implored the stranger to put back the moon in her place. Columbus promised to consider the matter and retired to a cabin for that purpose.

Shortly before the time for the moon to appear, Columbus also appeared and promised to restore the moon if they would be good Indians in the future. They promised, and the moon emerged from the shadow. It may be remarked that on this critical occasion Columbus was fortunately provided with a nautical almanac.

She Was a Kansas Girl.

"My task in life," said the pastor of one of our churches, complacently, "consists in saving young men." Whereupon one of our fair maidens, with a soulful longing replied, "Save a good one for me."—Troy Chief.

Conflicting Symptoms.

"Poor Cholly! What did he die of?"

"The doctors are not quite certain whether it was cigarettes or unrequited love."—Chicago Tribune.

TIPSY BUT CHIVALROUS.

Punishment of a Husband Who Would Whistle in a Ferry House.

It was a rather dejected looking crowd that waited in the ferry house for the boat for Jersey City to come in. The people were sleepy, for it was after midnight and the boat was long in arriving. Some of them had lapsed into ungraceful and occasionally stertorous slumber on the benches, while the others had assumed such attitudes as were best calculated to afford restful ease. Only two people in the waiting room seemed thoroughly wide awake. One was a stocky man, who walked up and down with a steady pace, grinning cheerfully and impartially on all sides. He was very drunk, but there was no evidence of it in his motions. Also he was very powerful, although to look at him no one would have suspected that either. Still when he climbed the automatic scales and deposited his cent the needle whirled round to 190 pounds, a significant matter when the man being weighed is only medium height and not at all fleshy. It is evidence of plentiful muscle and big bones.

The other wide awake man was standing near the door. He was a big man and he possessed a power of whistling out of all proportion to his size. He had already whistled "Mamie," "Say Au Revoir," "Comrades," "Her Golden Hair Was Hanging Down Her Back" and a few other favorites when the incoming boat bumped the slip. Then he stopped his tunes and, looking about the place, gave a few sharp whistles such as are used in summoning a dog. It was not a dog that responded, but a tired looking little woman in the rear of the room, who jumped up, seized two big baskets and said, tremulously:

"Yes, Hi, I'm comin' right off."

"Hurry up," growled the whistler, emphasizing his order with three imperative whistles.

As the little woman trudged along under the weight of the baskets the drunken man who had been admiringly regarding his own weight mark walked over to the big man.

"Joo wissle?" he asked.

"Yes, I wissled. Didn't che hear me?" retorted the big man, disdainfully. "I ben wisslin' for ten minutes and I'm goin' to wissle for haffenour more."

"Joo wissle at me?" inquired the inebriate with an air of great interest.

"No, I didn't wissle at you. I wouldn't waste my time wisslin' at a thing like you. I wissled at her."

The tuneful one jerked his head toward the woman with the baskets.

"Oh, you wissled at—hic—her did je? Well, y' shou'n't wissle at l—hic—ladies. Didn't nobody ever—hic—learn ye not t' wissle at l—hic—ladies?" inquired the drunken man cheerfully, and quite calmly he reached forward and tore the collar and necktie off the whistler, casting them contemptuously upon the floor. Whereupon the man thus maltreated struck out and hit his insulter fair upon the nose. The next instant he was jammed against the wall in a vise-like grip and his head was playing tunes on the woodwork in perfect rhythm to the remarks of the inebriate.

"Wajjer mean (whack) by assaultin' (crack) a gentleman (smack) who 'bjec' t' yer wisslin' (bang) t' ladies, eh?" (Plunk.)

"Ow, lemme go!" bawled the big man, vainly attempting to wriggle out of the grip. "I'll murder you. I'll have you arrested."

"Let him go!" shrieked the little woman, setting down one basket and banging the inebriate over the head with the other. "You ain't got no call to touch him. He's my Hi."

"Don't—hic—care 'f he's Hi (bump), low (thump) Jack (clump) an' th' game (biff, whack, bang!); I'm goin' ter—hic—hammer his drunken head into splinters till he—hic—'pologizes for wisslin' to a—hic—lady." (Thump, bump, biff and yells from the victim.)

At this moment the door to the boat flew open. With a violent wrench the big man tore himself away and sped down the ferry way, shouting:

"You damn fool, she's my wife! I'll have you arrested for this."

This information seemed to dazzle the inebriate for a moment.

"Wife, eh?" he muttered in self communion. "Wife—hic—wife. Wisslin' to his—hic—wife, eh? That's funny, ain't it?"

Nobody answered. The people were inclined to give the victim of drink a wide berth. He was evidently deep in thought as he walked aboard the boat and he made emphatic gestures. Then he suddenly broke out again:

"Do' care whose wife it is. Ca' wissle—hic—t' anybody's wife here, not ev'n 'f it's—hic—my wife, b'gosh."

Then he sank into peaceful slumber in a seat and before he awakened the boat was in the opposite slip and the big man and his little wife had quietly disembarked. A deck hand who shook him and whistled in his ear narrowly escaped a right hand swing, and the inebriate's last word as he marched away was that he was going out to look for the whistled at wife and if the whistling process continued was going to transform her into a widow.

Tit For Tat.

Sometimes school board officers are very officious and arrogant in manner. An elderly but fresh looking woman opened her door to one lately, and answered the following questions:

"Have you any children?"

"Yes."

"How many?"

"Three."

"Are they all at school?"

"No."

"Are any of them?"

"No."

"We must see to that," said the man, pompously taking out a note book. "Now your name and address?"

Given.

"Your children's names?" Also given.

"Now their ages."

"Well, let me think," answered the woman, with a gleam of fun in her eyes. "Willie, the youngest, is 30, and was married last week."

"Thunder and lightning!" roared the man, "why didn't you tell me that at first?"

"Because you didn't ask me," she answered, quietly.—Tit-Bits.

Emancipated Woman.

Mrs. Henry Peck (as she prepares to take a spin on her wheel)—You are the most neglectful man I ever met!

Mr. Henry Peck (meekly)—What's the matter now, dear?

Mrs. Henry Peck (angrily)—Matter enough! Here's the suspender button off these trousers yet; and I told you about it more than a week ago!—Puck.

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10½c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE.

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

BIG CUT.

Special Friday and Saturday.

Philadelphia 1 lb Print Creamery Butter 20 cts.

4 lbs cod fish for 25 cents; 1 lb package best macaroni 7½ cents; Dried green peas 5 cents a quart; Best laundry starch 5 cents lb; Granulated sugar 4 cents lb; 2 lbs extra creamery cheese for 23 cents.

AT FULPER'S.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5.00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORETMIRESOPUBCFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts,
Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

THE SECOND PROMISE

By HOWARD FIELDING

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER III.

CHASE SCORES SEVERAL POINTS AND CARROLL ONE.

"Frightened you, eh?" said Lynde, as the negro regained his feet, panting with excitement. "What did you think I was going to do?"

"'Deed, sah," replied the trembling fellow, "I was 'fraid yo' might hurt yo'self with that pistol. Whar yo' got it beats me."

"It's been under the couch for six months," said Lynde, calmly. "I got it out of my trunk just before I absolutely lost the use of my legs. It occurred to me that I might need it. Don't look so frightened, Andrew. There wasn't any danger. If I'd been disposed to hurt myself with it I couldn't have done so. I was only trying to shift the thing from the left to the right side of the couch because my left arm is getting weaker all the time. But I waited too long. There was no need of any hurry on your part. I had just strength enough to hold the pistol. I couldn't have lifted it to my head if I wished to without the aid of a derrick. By Jove! what a picture of utter helplessness I was at that moment!"

Amy, who had been leaning, almost fainting, against the casing of the door, recovered herself sufficiently to stagger into the room. When Lynde saw her a great change swept over his face.

"Did you see all this, Amy?" he asked, gently.

She sank down beside him, weeping like a frightened child. He soothed her, laying the hand that still obeyed him upon her golden hair.

"I must be a particularly melancholy rascal," he said, "that you and this great fellow should jump at once to the conclusion that I was going to end it."

He motioned to the negro to leave the room, and then continued:

"It's useless, little one, for me to palter with the palpable facts. I'd better tell you the exact truth about all this. And here it is: Life has been cruel to me, and, for myself, I can expect nothing of this world. But as long as you are in it, I want to stay. This room is a prison, but if it were a dungeon, and I were racked with every torment, I would still wish to live if you lived too. While there's room enough for both of us I'll take what comes. I'm useless, certainly, but that I can endure. It's only when I become worse than useless to you that I shall wish to go. I'll know when that time comes; you've promised me that I shall. Let's not think about that. Doubtless I shall wear out first. I'm deadly sorry that this foolishness of mine frightened you so, but now you know the truth, and you won't be frightened any more. Afflicted in this dreadful way, I'm happier at this moment with you beside me than I was in the old days of youth and health before you had given me your love."

She begged to be permitted to resume her former life, devoting herself entirely to him. If David Chase could have heard her plead for that sad privilege; he might have felt like giving up the game, for he was a good judge of sincerity.

Arthur Lynde would not listen to his wife's request.

"On the contrary," he said, "I've made up my mind to send you away from the city altogether. Brooklyn is not my ideal of a summer resort. If I had been able to put a foot upon the ground we would have been away long ago; but never will I be carried about the country on a shutter. His own house is the place for a man like me. I'd have sent you away, but you seemed to be having a good time until recently. Now you must go. You know I'm to have that soulless German scientist in the house after to-morrow, and he'll probably want to experiment with me twenty-four hours a day. He can't cure me, but he can have lots of fun with me, and, if I'm a judge of men, he won't let any of it escape him. So you see I could hardly have you with me very much of the time. The summer isn't over yet, and the heat of the city is telling upon you. I'm going to send you to join Mrs. Mason's party at Crescent Beach."

Although she outwardly resisted this suggestion, Amy inwardly welcomed it. Perhaps it would be the easiest way of separating herself from Chase. She would stay only a little while, she told herself, and would then return to her duty. The details were arranged without difficulty, and on the third day after the suggestion had been made, she departed for Crescent Beach.

She was warmly welcomed by Mrs. Mason and many other friends, among whom was Walter Carroll, who had arrived the day before. This young man had learned of her intended journey, and had communed with himself very seriously.

"It would be highly improper," he had said to himself, "for me to follow Mrs. Lynde. Chase might do it, but I will not. And the only way to avoid doing it is to get to Crescent Beach first and wait for her."

Carroll had secretly appointed himself the guardian of Mrs. Lynde. He had loved her when they were boy and girl together at school, and had never gotten over it. Her marriage had hurt him worse than all the other ills of his life combined. And second to that was the spectacle of Chase's influence over her. But for his complete confidence in her, the second would have been worse than the first.

What is a man to do in such a case as that? To see a good woman dazzled by the fascinations of a thorough scoundrel is one of the commonest spectacles of this mortal life, but a method of procedure which will be effective and steer clear of scandal is most difficult to frame. Carroll was young, and naturally deficient in strategy. The only scheme he could devise, after cogitation so fervent as to be akin to prayer, was to make his society so agreeable to Mrs. Lynde that she would not care for Chase's. This design would bear the severest test of reason. He argued somewhat thus: "A good woman naturally prefers a good man; I am a much better man than Chase—blast him! Therefore Mrs. Lynde will prefer me to him, if I give her a fair chance."

Like many another syllogism, this one was all sound but the major premise. He passed over that very lightly and proceeded at once to the conclusion. He had tried diligently to give Mrs. Lynde a chance. Meanwhile he struggled manfully with his character in order to make the difference between himself and Chase more conspicuous. He studied high ideals and talked about them feelingly in her presence. Yet it grieved him to suspect (and he was right about it) that his chief hold on her regard was in her admiration for him as a tennis player.

Carroll cherished the hope that Chase would not follow Mrs. Lynde to Crescent Beach. He know that Chase's interests bound him tightly to Wall street just at that time. As for himself, he had four hundred dollars in a bank as the remnant of a little legacy that had sufficed for his needs at college, and he should have been earning his living, but he solemnly devoted the four hundred dollars to the good cause, and faced the price of board at Crescent Beach without a murmur.

If he had been sure that Chase would stay away, he would have been content to do so; but there was a doubt in his mind. And it was well founded, for on the second day Chase appeared. Mrs. Lynde chanced to be passing through the hall of the hotel where Mrs. Mason's party was domiciled, at the moment when Chase inscribed his name in the register, and at the sight of him she grasped Mrs. Mason's arm in a manner which betrayed to that experienced matron the exact state of affairs.

SHE GRASPED MRS. MASON'S ARM.

To Chase, looking out of the corner of his eye, the gesture was a welcome sign. He came forward to greet the ladies with as plausible a lie upon his lips as ever the recording angel charged against a sinner. The rascal at that moment felt triumphant, and nothing was ever more becoming to him. Mrs. Lynde was forced to contrast him favorably with the other men at Crescent Beach. He was so deferential, yet so masterful. He always knew just what to say and do. There was absolutely nothing in his manner or his speech or his attire that could offend. He had studied her tastes to such a nicety that of two synonymous words in the language he always used the one which she liked best. It was a point in the game, and he played with a master's attention to detail.

From that time on the condition of Walter Carroll must have been a subject of pity among the angels. He continually made mistakes and Chase made none. His plans failed and Chase's always succeeded. His motives were misconstrued, and so were Chase's—to the advantage of the latter and the undoing of the former. Mrs. Lynde began to believe that he was pursuing her; and as he was such a boy—being not more than a year older than herself—she took him frankly to task about it. She told him that his conduct was foolish, not to say dishonorable, and took occasion to mention the fact that Dr. Lynde had been a good friend to the youth. Then, while Carroll went away to meditate upon suicide, Mrs. Lynde took a stroll with Chase on the long pier, and with undisguised admiration heard him expound his well-worn theory of Platonic friendship. Ah, Chase was a noble soul, until one knew him.

This was only an incident. There were many others. The bicycle is a great invention. Forty people may go out riding together with the greatest decorum, and never get into each other's way after the first half mile. Society cycled at the beach that summer. Chase's wheel always slipped an adjustment precisely at the right time, and nobody was ever near to help him but Mrs. Lynde. Many a chat they had under a tree by the roadside, waiting for a chaperone to climb a long hill.

The situation was becoming desperate. It was beginning to alarm Mrs. Mason, who had been to Narragansett Pier in the old days, and couldn't be easily frightened. There is more hypnotism in the world than most people know of; and Mrs. Lynde was under an influence which she did not understand. Chase was deliberately compromising her, and she could not see it. As for him, he had never played his favorite game so desperately. He knew that the odds were against him, and he was prepared to be easily satisfied. He would have accounted it a victory, if he could have made this woman say she loved him, even if she had fled from him that instant, and he had never seen her face again.

WAITING FOR A CHAPERONE.

And a time came when he felt fairly sure of it. She had already permitted him to speak to her in a way that she dared not remember when she was alone. He found it, however, increasingly difficult to be alone with her. Mr. Mason on the one hand and Carroll on the other were exceedingly annoying. Of course he played the old game of exciting her resentment against them because of their unjust suspicions; and it was so successful that at last he persuaded her to consent to a really secret interview.

There was a hop at the hotel that evening. It was an especially swell hop, and everybody was sure to be there. For that reason nobody was likely to be down on the long pier, which was on ordinary nights a favorite resort. That was why Chase was there at eleven o'clock when the ball was at its height.

There were some low buildings on the end of the pier which obscured his view landward, but they would also, later on, obscure anybody's view seaward. Chase paced back and forth impatiently. There was a little boat made fast at the pier head, and there was a steam yacht anchored in the offing which had nobody aboard but the crew, and would not be required by the owner—a friend of Chase's—during the evening. It is an interesting thing to view a handsome yacht by moonlight, and quite worth the risk of a rowboat.

Chase heard a light, quick step. He turned suddenly, and confronted Carroll who was notably light of foot for a man weighing a hundred and ninety.

"Look here, by the eternal heavens," cried Carroll in a guarded tone, "you're going to meet Mrs. Lynde here and I won't have it. You've crossed the line. Now get out. Get away from here, quick, or something will happen to you."

He stood for a moment on the end of the pier and glanced down at the little rowboat which was tugging at her painter in a three-knot tide. Chase, meanwhile, was silent, regarding the young man earnestly. Carroll had the faculty for looking twice as big when he was angry as at other times, and he was quite big enough at any time. Chase did not like the look of him. He turned away with affected contempt.

"You're a fool," he said. "And as to Mrs. Lynde, you're absurdly mistaken. You insult her. But I don't propose to stand here quarreling with you, and if you want the entire pier to yourself you can have it."

"Not that way!" cried Carroll, heading him off at the corner of the pavilion. "You're too late. She's coming."

He advanced upon Chase who, seriously alarmed, retreated before him.

"Can you swim?" exclaimed Carroll, between his teeth. "Answer me! But never mind. I remember to have seen you. Well, that settles your fate!"

Without another word, he seized Chase in his powerful hands, lifted him high in the air, and hurled him from the pier. For a moment Carroll stood panting on the edge. Then he saw Chase come to the surface and strike out for the shore. He could not swim back to the pier against the tide even if he had dared to do it. And he would not cry out; he was not the man to confess defeat in the presence of a woman. But there was murder in his heart as the tide swept him away.

A minute later Mrs. Lynde came hurriedly upon the pier. Carroll had withdrawn into the shadows, and for an instant she mistook him. Then she saw who it was.

"Yes; I know," he said. "You expected somebody else. He was here a little while ago, but he couldn't wait. He's gone up along the shore."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

TOXIN OR ANTI-TOXIN?

There is no antidote without its bane, no good without its evil, no discovery of the angels that the devil may not use. The success of the new remedy for diphtheria, Anti-Toxin, has suggested to the keen intellect of the queen of the writers of romance, a powerful and dramatic study of human passion, which she has entitled "Toxin", most powerful novel will begin in The Daily Press, Saturday, March 23, and be concluded in six days. It is the story of a physician and man of science, who has the care in illness of a rival in love and is tempted to administer to him, instead of a healing injection, a powerful poison. How the temptation was met, the reading of the tale will disclose. The use of hypnotism, so successful in Du Maurier's "Trilby", is here also resorted to with masterly skill.

OUIDA'S

Don't miss the first instalment.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

CODDINGTON'S
FURNITURE AND FREIGHT
EXPRESS
OFFICES—24 West Front street; 28 Park avenue
Post Office Box 220.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1187

BAMBERGER'S
"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"
NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in
Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts
will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are, they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes
in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons
$1 98 to $27.50

NEW
Spring Jackets
in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from
$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from 49c to $7.50

NEW
Separate Skirts
of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles, lined and interlined, from
$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS
The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from 98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND
House Dresses
Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from 44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,
147 and 149 Market Street,
Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

The Spalding Bicycle
W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.
REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S
Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

OU MAY BE HAPPY
—IN—
Hallock's Handsome Hats.

OUR $3 SHOES
are better than ever before. Better means
More reliable,
More wear,
More style.
ALEX. WILLETT & SON,
107 Park avenue

IF YOU WANT
ANY REAL ESTATE,
Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.
Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.
F. M. BACON,
Babcock Building, Room 211.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes
at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.
E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE
Established 1841.
The Selection
of a
Carpet,
is not always an easy matter. One thing about buying here, we have plenty of stock, a wide range of patterns, and we never hurry a customer to a decision. Our salesmen are painstaking, and will gladly show you every pattern in stock if it will help you to decide. We are now exhibiting many new styles in Royal Wilton
Bundhai Wilton
Velvets
Body Brussels
Tapestry Brussels
and Ingraine
Also Art Squares
Oilcloths
Linoleums Etc.

Our recent importations of
Mattings!
are larger than ever. 200 pieces of choice Chinese and Japanese from $3.75 piece upward.

HEATH & DRAKE,
777 and 779 BROAD STREET,
Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,
FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,
Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st
Taylor's French System
used. Suits $6.00 and upward.
22 tf

FLORIST.
A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

Central Employment Office
218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.
All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,
Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.
128 NORTH AVENUE.
FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,
10 CENTS A QUART.
I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.
Hummer & Mulford,
VARIETY MARKET,
Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.
220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Telephone call, 29 A.
Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 13

Prospect Hill For Sale,
26 acres, or in plots to suit,
Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.
L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salted Meats,
smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbotoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 220 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

DUNELLEN IS LIVELY.

SHE NOMINATES OFFICERS AND EMANCIPATES DOGS.

Firearms Not to Be Shot in Public Places, Is the Legislation Adopted Preliminary to Election.

The Borough Commissioners of Dunellen held their annual meeting last night. The full board was present. After transacting necessary business, the meeting was thrown open to the general public for the purpose of nominating two commissioners and other officers for the ensuing year.

Among other business transacted, an ordinance was passed forbidding any shooting of firearms on the public highways or within 80 feet therefrom. The penalty for such offense was set at $5 fine, or five days imprisonment, or both.

After the meeting was opened to the general public, P. W. Brakeley was elected chairman and H. C. Gaskel secretary. P. W. Brakeley and Fred Wilcox were nominated for borough commissioners, C. A. Coriell for assessor, George W. Day for collector, B. J. Swackhamer for freeholder, P. V Huff for justice of the peace, S. D. Luckey, Henry Dunham and J. P. Apgar for commissioners of appeal, Wesley Blaine for poundmaster, W. F. Coles for overseer of the poor, and A. F. Warden for constable.

The appropriation for borough purposes was fixed at $1,600, and $300 for the support of the poor.

Considerable discussion took part over a tax on dogs, and after several lively debates it was decided that dogs should be free dwellers of the borough and not be taxed.

The borough election will take place Tuesday, April 2.

Some talk of an independent ticket was indulged in before the meeting was adjourned.

Plainfield Schools Should Have Just Such a Drill.

(From The Firemen's Herald.)

Again the benefit of the fire drill has been practically demonstrated. The Westchester Temporary Home for Indigent Children in White Plains, was destroyed by fire Friday night. The building contained 200 children ranging from 1 to 15 years of age. There were a dozen teachers and nurses. About 10 a watchman in the building discovered flames in the cellar. The fire had originated from a defective flue. He ran to the room of Miss McDonal, assistant superintendent. The little ones were asleep in their beds in the long dormitories.

Miss McDonald rushed from her room sounding a large gong in the hallway. She then turned on the electric lights and with the assistance of the teachers, nurses and servants formed the children into line and marched them single file from the building. So well had the waifs and orphans been drilled in case of fire that not one life was lost, nor single person injured. It took but a few minutes to get the larger children out of the building and while Miss McDonald was superintending their exit, other employes of the home carried out the tots who were unable to walk.

Forsakes His Foster-Parents.

(From The Trenton True American.)

Senator Voorhees of Union enters the lists, and his own herald announces his own name as one to be considered by the politicians as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

In so doing Senator Voorhees casts aside the old formula as to the man being sought by the office, and at the same time demonstrates his adhesion to the modern doctrine of political ingratutude.

John Kean, under the glow of whose financial benignity Mr. Voorhees's political aspirations and prospects have blossomed and flowered, can only say, with the tone of Caesar "Et tu, Brute", "He has a right to be a candidate; but I am still in the field.

Leading Singers and Comedians.

"The Twentieth Century Girl", which will be the attraction in Music Hall tomorrow night, is a travesty on recent plays and novels that have exploited the "new woman". Sydney Rosenfeld is responsible for the dialect; and the lyrics are by Ludwig Englander, and said to be his best work. They are of a much higher class than are usually heard in such productions. The company engaged in presenting this work is especially strong in singers and comedians. Three of its members have starred with their own organizations.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

SHE WAS REAL.

Barbara Frietchie Decided to Be No Myth.

Lovers of John G. Whittier met in the Friends' meeting-house on Watchung avenue last evening and thoroughly enjoyed a most profitable time with this popular author and poet.

Aaron M. Powell, presided and spoke briefly on the subject, and introduced the various ones who contributed so much towards the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Anna Rice Powell was introduced and read a delightful sketch of the poet's life. Among the things said were that there was nothing too good to report about Whittier. He was once asked how he spent his boyhood days, to which he replied: "By loving and obeying my parents and making life as happy as possible for them. And it was often with sorrow that I realized how far short of the ideal I came."

Mrs. Powell quoted several very choice selections from his works, which were laden with precious thoughts. She said that had he written nothing but "Snowbound" his name would have been immortalized.

In conclusion Mrs. Powell read very affectingly "My Psalm" which Whittier penned in his eighty-fifth year.

Mr. Powell then stated that the writing of Whittier during slavery days had more influence for the right than that of any other. He then spoke of "Barbara Frietchie" which he considered to be a remarkable composition.

Mrs. Clara Rushmore was then called on and in a very pleasant manner recited the well-known selection, and at the close said, she knew there was such a person for she had visited Fredericktown during the war and afterward and had proof of the fact. Mrs. Rushmore had in her possession a picture of the famous woman also one of the house where the notable scene occurred.

Miss Rachel Vail then gave an interpretation of his interest in the slavery question by reading the "Pennsylvania Pilgrim" which was very interesting, and the "Preacher" prepared by Mrs. Margaret Vail, was read in an entertaining manner by Mrs. Anna Rice Powell.

That Whittier was a vigorous prose writer was shown by the reading of the "Iron Soldier" by Mrs. Mettie Adams.

Illustration of the poet as an artist was well given by Mrs. Caroline Hallock in her readings of "Snowbound", "Tent on the Beach" and "Among the Hills", with the story of the latter.

In his thoughts of a real Christian his selection "Eternal Goodness" as read by Mrs. Cornelia Gavett evidenced his faith beyond any doubt.

Brief sentiments in quotations were then given by various ones present which were very instructive.

In concluding the programme Mr. Powell gave a highly interesting talk, relating some of his reminiscences of his friend whom he knew personally and that to love. He spoke of Mrs. Powell and himself spending an evening with Whittier in his Boston home, and how much they enjoyed the rare pleasure. At the time Whittier made his last visit to New York he called at Mr. Powell's office corner of Liberty and Nassau streets, and not finding him at the office left a note saying, "I would like to see thee very much, but I cannot climb three flights of stairs again."

The audience and those taking part in the exercises were thanked and thus closed a most profitable evening.

Troublesome Donco.

Michael Donco was before Judge Coddington this morning for the second time within 24 hours on the charge of drunkenness and fighting. After his release yesterday morning he proceeded to get drunk again and just before noon was ejected from a saloon. He refused to move away from the door, and William Kenney attempted to compel him to move on, but in doing so was struck and called several bad names by Donco. Sergeant Kiely saw the fracas and arrested both. Sentence was suspended on Kenney, and Donco was fined $15.

Bowling Scores.

The following scores were made in the individual bowling contest on the C. Y. M. L. alleys last night:

McInerney	153	Hibbitts	149
Moran	134	"	157
Hibbitts	157	Daly	187
McInerney	155	T. Strap	128
Kiely	178	Kenney	173
Moran	129	Waters	171
McInerney	171	Wierenga	141
Powell	118	D. Galbraith	194
Kenney	168	Moran	161
Kiely	178	D. Galbraith	171
Waters	143	Moran	175
Guince	129	Wierenga	124

Gratitude Expressed.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS: Will you permit me, through your paper, to express my heartfelt gratitude to the friends who so kindly extended to me and mine their sympathy and aid during my dear wife's illness. C. M. FINE.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

COMMUTERS SURPRISED.

JERSEY CENTRAL TAKES AWAY A PRIVILEGE.

No More Will the Empty Cars Await the Early Travelers at the Station.

Three hundred commuters stood waiting about the North Avenue station this morning wondering at the absence of the cars which make up the Plainfield section of the 7:58 train. Heretofore five coaches have been brought every morning from Dunellen by the shifting engine and left standing on the third track from 7:30, into which commuters could enter as soon as their arrival at the station. This, of course, was a great convenience to the patrons, but the railroad company say that the third track was blocked so as to delay traffic considerably, and they have decided to make up the train at Dunellen hereafter. The change caused some complaint among the commuters this morning, but the dissatisfaction will probably be dispelled as soon as the weather warms up so that it will be comfortable to stand on the platform.

Anything for Peace.

Deacon Spencer Conway, happy in his troubles, had an examination before Judge Coddington in City Court this morning on the charge of assaulting Maria Staten in her own domicile on Battle Row, March 19. Maria is a niece of the Deacon, and she asserts that her uncle struck her and continually makes her life miserable. The defendant offered no evidence against the charges, and as this was the third time he had been complained of, the Judge fined him $15, and admonished him in a severe tone to cease his quarrelsome tactics, or he would be made to suffer severely.

He paid his fine in twelve one dollar bills, and a handful of dimes, nickles and pennies, and said he was glad to settle for the sake of peace, though he was n't guilty.

After Conway's release in the City Court he appeared before Justice Newcorn on the charge of burglary, also preferred by Maria Staten, and was held to await the action of the Grand Jury. He furnished $50 bail for release.

A Pleasant Dance.

The reception in Central Hall last night tendered by the members of the Junior Order United American Mechanics to the young women who assisted them at their fair last November, was successful in assembling a party of joyful dancers who made things merry with lanciers, waltzes, quadrilles, and other Terpsichorean accomplishments. The grand march, led by W. V. Sutton and Miss Annie Angerbauer, was participated in by 57 couples, a number of whom were from Elizabeth, Somerville, Bound Brook and Dunellen. During the intermission refreshments were served.

The reception committee was Harry M. Cooke, T. A. Kurzhals, Jr, and I. Squires. The floor was in charge of W. V. Sutton, with H. C. McVoy as assistant. Music was furnished by Frazee.

An Army Funeral.

A host of officers from far and near are expected to attend the funeral service of Capt. McIver, whose death occurred yesterday morning after a long illness. Her remains will be taken to the Salvation Army Hall, West Second street, Friday afternoon. The service will be held at that place Friday evening at 7:30. A real Army funeral will be held to which the public is invited after the service. An opportunity will be given for all who wish to view the remains. The conclusion of the service will be held at the same place Saturday morning at 10, when the Army will form in line to march to Hillside Cemetery, where another short service will be held. CAPT. MERRITT.

Will Steal No More Corn.

Last Sunday night a coon which was quartered in a room over the bar in Campbell's club-house became loose and descended into the liquor dispensary, where he caused havoc among the glasses and bottles, breaking nearly everything in sight on the bar. When discovered in the morning, the coon fought viciously, and it was with considerable effort and difficulty that he was captured and again placed in confinement, where he will remain until Friday, when he will be the principal actor in a coon hunt at the club-house. A number of Plainfield hunters and dogs will attend the hunt.

An Improvement Recognized.

Fred VanEps has received an offer from the United States Phonograph Company of Newark, for the right to use his motor which he recently invented, on their instruments. The advantage of the motor lies in the fact that it will run off six cylinders, where others will run off only three.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

MADISON AVENUE.

Official List of Benefits and Damages.

ASSESSMENTS FILED AT LAST.

The Plan to Widen the Thoroughfare Being Pushed—Common Council to Consider the Commissioners' Report April 1.

E. C. Mulford, Wm. M. Sandford and J. F. MacDonald, commissioners, yesterday filed with the City Clerk their report in the matter of widening Madison avenue, and it is now open to public inspection at the Clerk's office. The Common Council will consider the report at its meeting April 1. The commissioners report the following assessments of damages and benefits:

DAMAGES AWARDED.

Madison avenue—
Samuel Dreier	$4,080 00
Henry Piker	344 80
Chas. E. Austin	496 80
Estate Theodore J. Gillies	600 00
Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company	337 50
J. W. Jackson	825 90
E. H. & R. M. Holmes	537 50
Obtaining estimates on moving buildings, mason work, etc., and expenses of assessments assessed as damages	251 25
Benefits assessed upon the inhabitants of the city of Plainfield	2,833 15
Total	$7,813 75

BENEFITS ASSESSED.

Madison avenue—
Julia A. Rogers	$ 180 00
M. E. Church	1,203 00
Levi Hetfield	63 00
James Conneely	19 27
Catharine Flynn	44 10
Chas. S. Dawson	99 47
Estate Peter Ross	53 76
Keziah C. Dunham	26 13
Estate Rhoda Moore	33 23
David H. Thickstun	20 58
Marietta Rogers	24 50
Lizzie Titsworth	22 05
Frank Bushnell	68 23
Frank W. Rogers	26 16
John A. Thickstun	22 31
Spicer & Hubbard	108 90
Levi Hetfield	99 92
Seventh-Day Baptist Church	60 95
Phineas M. French	28 00
Elizabeth Runyon	33 88
Alex. M. Runyon	25 27
Estate Jas. Brand	30 46
Seventh-Day Baptist Church	45 93
S. H. C. Dunshee	24 50
Estate I. F. Randolph	77 47
Eva H. VanSyckle	25 51
F. A. Dunham	25 20
Elmer E. Runyon	21 00
J. Frank Hubbard	21 00
West Front street—
T. J. Carey	55 00
Christian Schepflin	96 25
A. C. Baldwin	110 00
Estate George H. Babcock	225 45
Estate George H. Babcock	291 01
Catharine B. Sebring	83 53
James Clark	72 93
Estate C. H. Stillman	132 66
Amelia H. French	30 30
Levi Hetfield and R. V. Lindabury	32 34
Henry Liefke	24 30
Amelia H. French	35 88
E. R. Pope and J. F. Hubbard	27 23
Joseph A. Patterson	54 45
William W. Coriell	35 12
Frank Linke	39 97
Walter England	56 49
Daniel W. Martine	113 65
Elizabeth Stevens	109 10
Philip J. Krietling	77 22
M. E. Church	174 60
L. L. Manning	80 08
L. L. Manning	45 48
Joel Manning	77 48
Charles P. Sebring	49 30
West Second street—
Julia A. Rogers	31 08
Hattie N. King	28 65
Charles B. Clifton	32 76
W. M. Stillman	21 57
F. B. Gillette	18 85
William Howatt	17 15
John Darling	102 27
Estate Warren Ackerman	54 81
Estate E. F. Randolph	47 77
Mary Vermeule	56 06
Rebecca M. Holmes	42 00
Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Co.	115 50
Estate John C. Sutphen	27 30
West Third Street—
Maria McDermott and Margaret K. Vail	23 08
Levi Hetfield	67 62
West Fourth street—
Frank S. Wells	22 17
Michael F. Marclay	24 50
Gertrude Vandenburg	29 85
Kate Fisher	29 51
Francis T. Humbert	11 76
Sam'l D. Collins	24 50
Susan S. Collins	38 53
Jeremiah Moore	27 62
Estate Geo. H. Babcock	28 40
John W. Murray, Jr.	23 75
West Fifth street—
Joseph F. Sheppard	15 79
Ellen Mullen	11 20
Charlotte Hallock	15 75
Cornelia A. Gavett	19 30
Elizabeth A. Golding	14 69
B. Frank Coriell	15 59
Estate Geo. H. Babcock	24 31
West Sixth street—
Lucy Hooley	10 50
Estate Geo. H. Babcock	17 90
Chas. Stimpson	35 00
Lizzie Taylor	8 40
West Seventh street—
Congregational Church	40 13
Union County Country Club	30 14
J. Frank Hubbard	31 06
Fanny C. Cox	20 61
Total	$7,813 75

Now that the project to widen the avenue is assuming definite shape, it is to be hoped that for the benefit of the town the plan to extend the avenue into North Plainfield will be forthwith revived and consummated. This great public improvement should be no longer delayed.

—It is early for Spring pleasures, but right in time for Peck's Spring goods.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Millard F. Elderton has recovered from his illness.

Miss Edith DuBois has recovered from an attack of the grip.

George Firman has recovered from his recent indisposition.

Alfred Drew has returned to his work after a period of illness.

Wm. Nicholson of Allentown is the guest of Plainfield friends.

Mrs. D. J. Yerkes has returned from her trip to Greenville, S. C.

Mrs. Oscar A. Campbell of Netherwood is improved from her illness.

Lawyer Charles L. Moffett is ill with the grip at his home in Dunellen.

Judge Bartine of Somerville was a distinguished Plainfield visitor today.

Miss Susie Boss of Central avenue has returned from a visit to Lebanon, Pa.

Charles Huxley has resumed his position as conductor of the street railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Shephard of Central avenue are entertaining Jersey City friends.

Mrs. E. T. Terrill of Newark is visiting her sister Mrs. W. W. Stratton East Third street.

Rudolph Wiergler has moved from East Second street to Johnston avenue, Netherwood.

C. M. Fine of West Front street left yesterday for Phillipsburg, to spend several days.

Charles W. Lines the mason moved from West Front street to Elm place yesterday.

Mrs. P. A. Roberts of Elizabeth is visiting her mother, Mrs. Rickert of Watchung Park.

Mrs. Herbert of Brooklyn is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George W. Cole of West Second street.

Mrs. George R. Palen of New York city is visiting Mrs. E. H. Mumford of Woodland avenue, Netherwood.

Rev. J. L. Lancaster of St. Peter's Church, Perth Amboy, preached in Holy Cross Church last evening.

Contractor H. C. Johnston will move his family from Passaic to Plainfield on Central avenue next Saturday.

Wm. R. Marsh of Hamilton street, Rahway, spent yesterday and today with relatives and friends in Plainfield.

Mrs. Harry Palmer and son, of East Second street, have returned from an enjoyable visit at Ridgefield Park, N. Y.

Wm. Turner of Mountain avenue will assist Secretary Manning in Y. M. C. A. work. He is an earnest young man, and sure to be popular.

Rev. W. R. Honeyman will move next Saturday from 59 Somerset street to 46 Emily street, the house formerly occupied by Wm. H. Shotwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Banks, who have been visiting J. W. Jackson on Crescent avenue, returned to their home in New York yesterday afternoon.

Choirmaster George Hoskings of Holy Cross Church is ill at his home in Jersey City. Harry M. Western officiated at the organ in his stead at last night's service.

Mrs. Julius Williams of Elmwood place has returned to her home after a pleasant visit in the country. Mr. Williams is expected home this week from an extended business trip.

Miss Fritz of North Plainfield was taken suddenly last evening with a severe attack of croup which necessitated her father going for a doctor. She is much better today, however.

Chester A. Cleaves of Netherwood avenue is erecting a house on Coddington avenue, North Plainfield, where he will move about May 1, when the house will be ready for occupancy.

L. H. Biglow, Jr., whose return to Brooklyn two years ago was deeply regretted by many friends, has taken the house 823 Madison avenue which he will soon occupy with his family.

Watson J. Tunison of Watchung avenue has purchased from Hand & McIntyre a lot on South avenue, where ground was broken yesterday for a seven-room house with all improvements.

Nelson G. Ayres and family who occupied the VanDeventer house the past few Summers, have rented the Morgan Taylor property on Rockview terrace for the Summer months. Mr. Ayres will take possession about June 1.

Mrs. E. W. Clark of Amenia, N. Y., is a guest at the home of Mrs. B. J. Shreve, Grove street. Mrs. Clark has been a missionary in Assam for many years, and addressed the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society in the First Baptist Church this afternoon.

Matthew Walker of Plainfield and Miss Clara Wordt of Westfield were married by Rev. Mr. Ruth of the M. E. Church, at the home of the bride last night. Among the invited witnesses were Misses Martha, Flora and Jane Walker, sisters of the groom, the parents, brother and sister of the bride, and Harry Shearer of Westfield. Many choice gifts were bestowed.

Death of the Veteran Track-Walker.

Thomas Loughlin, who for years had been track-walker on the Jersey Central Railroad, died yesterday, in his 62d year. He leaves three daughters and two sons.

DID HE ELOPE?

GOSSIP IS BUSY OVER BALDWIN'S DISAPPEARANCE.

A Bound Brook Woman Went Away the Same Day He Left, and Her Husband Says Baldwin Visited Her.

A. E. Baldwin who disappeared last Monday has not yet been heard from. A number of his friends were in New York city yesterday, making anxious inquiries about him, but received no information.

His name is now connected with that of a woman from Bound Brook, who resided within a stone's throw from where he worked, and who left her house last Saturday, and has not been seen since. Her husband claims to have found Baldwin at his home on several occasions when he came from work.

Baldwin was known to receive considerable mail at Bound Brook, some of which was from Texas.

Baldwin left a wife and four pretty children, and his departure has broken up a happy home. He was considered a very moral and trustworthy man by all who knew him.

DUNELLEN.

W. Dealman of Newark was the guest of Adam Dealman yesterday.

Mrs. Jesse G. Burdick is visiting friends in Westfield.

Mr. Scully of Somerville is the guest of John Hunt.

Floyd Sexton of Newark is visiting Harry Dodwell.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Laing spent the afternoon with Plainfield friends.

Mrs. A. E. Baldwin is entertaining relatives from Sidney.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lewis are entertaining relatives from Elizabeth.

The editor of The Call has been nominated for collector of taxes in the borough. If he does n't toot his own bazoo, who will do it for him?

A Plainfield Phonograph.

The phonograph which J. VanEps has been constructing at odd moments during the past six months, was adjusted a few days ago, and tested in a satisfactory manner. Every piece of the machine was constructed by Mr. VanEps, and displays great mechanical genuis on his part. He has made three improvements of his own invention which add greatly to its value. The first is a screw lock for the diaphragm carriage, which makes it immovable when locked, and is especially advantageous when in transit. The second is an adjusting screw which will operate the diaphragm either up for down; with other machines it is necessary to raise this section with the fingers, the screw only lowering it. Another valuable improvement is a spring pulley which assists the diaphragm carriage to move easily across the shaft, thus saving wear on the screws and adding power to the motor, there being less resistance to the cylinder.

Paid Their Coin, But Got No Boxes.

About a month ago an agent canvassed North Plainfield with a patent letter-box, and on the payment of 25 cents presented the victim with a receipt which read as follows:

"Received of No. — ——— street the sum of 25 cents, being payment in full for one mail-receiving box, guaranteed for five years, said box being taken care of and not wilfully damaged; is transferable from one house to another, and will be placed in position by manufacturers at their earliest convenience. (Signed) A. HUNT, Agent."

A number of people in North Plainfield paid for the boxes, and still await them. Appearances are that they have been swindled.

Coming Entertainment.

The following programme has been arranged for the entertainment to be given in the German Reformed Church, March 28: Opening overture by Mr. Conde's orchestra; recitation, M. Schoetlin; dialogue in English, "Uncle Rashy's Ruse", A. Wolf, Frides Sutterlin, Sadie Bilmin, Anna Doering, Nettie Kreitling; recitation, Herman Kilnsman; duet, Nettie Kreitling and Lillie Zeiss; recitation, Henry Wedemeier; music, orchestra; German dialogue, "He Isn't Jealous", A. Wolf, M. Schoetlin, P. Poestler and Miss Sutterlin; tableaux.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

THIRTY BODIES FOUND

Recovering the Dead of the Lost Reina Regenta.

The Coast Near Couil Strewn with Wreckage—Efforts Made To Prevent Scenes of Anguish During the Search for Bodies—Two Cities in Mourning for the Dead.

Madrid, March 21.—The Correspondencia reiterates the assertion that the Reina Regente was discovered sunk in shallow water at Baja Aceitunos, adding that the wreck was just visible at low tide. The paper also says that the cruiser, Alfonso XII., has brought from the wreck the bodies of thirty of the crew of the wrecked ship. It is asserted here that Admiral Pasquin, minister of marine, knows the truth regarding the fate of the missing cruiser, but that no official announcement of her fate will be printed until a new cabinet shall have been formed.

Cities in Mourning.

Meanwhile Cadiz and Carthagena, to which places most of the officers and crew of the ship belonged, are in general mourning. The women of these cities are heaping maledictions upon the heads of the Moorish embassy, whom they look upon as the cause of the disaster, as it was upon her return trip from conveying them to Tangier that the cruiser was lost. A dispatch from San Fernando, near Cadiz, says that the coast near Couil, somewhat further south, is strewn with wreckage, uniforms, flags and numerous other articles from the lost cruiser.

To Prevent Scenes of Anguish.

The officials along the coast have forbidden the people to approach the points where the wreckage has been cast up, ostensibly to prevent the scenes of anguish which would accompany the search for the bodies of friends or relatives. The officials refuse to say what they are doing to recover bodies and wreckage. The people believe they are doing nothing.

CROUSE STABLES SOLD.

The Magnificent Building Brought Only $17,500.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 21.—The magnificent stables of the late D. Edgar Crouse were sold yesterday at auction for $17,500. Their actual cost was over $250,000. These stables, in the time of their late millionaire owner, were probably the finest in this country, if not in the world. They were sumptuously fitted as a club house and bachelor's quarters, and contained nearly $100,000 worth of valuable furniture, rugs and bric-a-brac. In spite of the elegance of these stables, their late owner was never known to have shown their interior to any one but a few friends connected with him in a business way. The stables were purchased by Charles M. Warner. Mr. Warner is not a horse fancier, and it has been hinted that he will present the building to the medical college of Syracuse university.

LAST OBSTACLE OVERCOME.

Proposed Trolley Route Between New York and Philadelphia Clear.

Newark, N. J., March 21.—The South Orange township committee has granted, after several months' discussion, a franchise for a trolley road on Springfield avenue, to the New York & Philadelphia Traction company, thus virtually completing the last connecting link of the surveyed route for a trolley road between New York and Philadelphia. The franchise was made perpetual, the tax to be fixed by arbitration at the end of fifty years, and every twenty-five years thereafter. The annual license tax was made payable yearly after 1910, and to be fixed by arbitration every twenty-five years thereafter.

Against Confederation with Canada.

St. Johns, N. F., March 21.—About six thousand persons attended a meeting in Britain hall which was called for the purpose of denouncing the proposed confederation of Newfoundland with Canada. Intense excitement prevailed throughout the meeting, which was one of the most representative gatherings ever held here, and ringing speeches were delivered by leading mechanics, factory owners and business men.

To Investigate City and County.

Camden, N. J., March 21.—The all-absorbing topic is the application of members of the committee of one hundred to Justice Garrison for a committee to investigate the financial affairs of the city of Camden. A similar petition was signed by twenty-seven citizens and granted for a similar committee to investigate the county's affairs.

Another Electric Railway Project.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 21.—A syndicate of New York and Atlantic City capitalists have formed a company which is to be capitalized at $4,000,000, to build an electric railroad from New York to this city. If the scheme proposed goes through the road will be in operation next summer.

Japs Nearing Kin-Chou.

London, March 21.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Times says Chinese scouts report that they met an advanced detachment of Japanese twelve miles east of Kin-Chou. General Lin-Kun-Yi proposes to make his stand against them at Sha-Ho.

Spanish Steamer Lost.

London, March 21.—A dispatch from Seville says the Spanish steamer Carpie, which sailed hence for that port on February 27, is supposed to have been lost in the recent heavy gales. It is believed that all of her crew have perished.

Death of an Old Editor.

Brooklyn, March 21.—James M. Heatherton, the founder and editor of the Plumbers' Trade Journal, one of the oldest trade papers in the country, is dead at his residence in this city.

Byrnes in Charge.

New York, March 21.—Supt. Byrnes has taken temporary charge of the detective bureau while Inspector McLaughlin remains under suspension.

Duchess of Leinster Dead.

Mentone, March 21.—The Duchess of Leinster, widow of the fifth Duke of Leinster, who died Dec. 1, 1893, at Carton, County Kildare, is dead.

THE ARMENIAN OUTRAGES.

A Turkish Officer Who Shared in the Slaughter Dying from Remorse.

London, March 21.—A special reporter of the Daily News reports on his inquiry into the Armenian outrages. He says: "There is abundant and unanimous evidence of the bloodiest, most fiendishly premeditated and damnably perpetrated massacre of innocents. This I intend to prove out of the mouths of the perpetrators themselves." The correspondent sends from the Russian frontier, under the date of February 28, the story which he himself elicited from a Turkish non-commissioned officer. This officer, acting under orders, shared in the slaughter. He described the revolting horrors at great length. "He has how left the army," says the correspondent, "and has fled to Russia, where he is persecuted by the infinite horror of his own thoughts and is dying surely and rapidly. I questioned him three hours in the presence of responsible witnesses. I was deeply impressed with his resigned melancholy and invincible despair. He said that throughout the fighting he never heard of a single soldier being wounded, much less killed. Many Kurds were killed, however, especially in the earlier days of the affair."

END OF THE ROBINSON TRIAL.

The Accused Man and Woman Will Know Their Fate To-Day.

Buffalo, March 21.—Clarence and Sadie Robinson, whose trial for the murder of Montgomery Gibbs filled the last eight days in the superior court, may know their fate to-day. The case was given to the jury at 1.20 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and at 9.30 in the evening—eight hours later—no agreement had been reached, so Judge Hatch adjourned court until to-day. Linked together with handcuffs, Robinson and his wife were brought into the court room a few minutes before the adjournment, the former looking the very picture of despair. He bit his lips until the blood came and mixed with his red mustache, and as the officer leaned down to unlock the handcuffs, he shook as though suffering from an attack of palsy. Sadie was remarkably self-possessed and the only sign of fear she betrayed was in the nervous tapping of her feet against the chair in front of her.

FIERCE TORNADO IN GEORGIA.

Great Damage to Property and a Number of People Injured.

Augusta, Ga., March 21.—This city was visited yesterday by the most severe wind storm since 1878. Forty houses, mostly in the negro section of the city, were badly damaged and twenty others were utterly destroyed. The path of the cyclone was a mile in length and in the shape of the letter S from where it first struck to where it finally rose and passed over, it making four descents and rebounding. There are no fatalities reported, yet quite a number of people were more or less severely injured. Augusta seems to have been the only place in the state struck by the fierce wind. About seventy-five families have been rendered homeless.

SAT DEAD IN THE CARRIAGE.

After the Team Came Home Her Lover's Body Was Found.

Celina, O., March 21.—A team belonging to Robert Mangler, a livery stable keeper at Monticello, five miles from here, came into the stable yard late Tuesday night with the body of a girl named Annie Frisch sitting in the vehicle stone dead. There was a bullet wound in the right temple. Later the dead body of her lover, Arthur Speyd, who was known to have gone driving with her, was found on the roadside. Speyd had killed the girl and committed suicide, probably as a result of a lovers quarrel.

VALUABLE DOGS POISONED.

They Were Being Conditioned for the Pittsburg Bench Show.

Pittsburg, March 21.—Fred Pastre, the well-known dog fancier, is in receipt of a letter from Waynesburg, Pa., informing him that thirty dogs, which were being conditioned for the Pittsburg show, were poisoned there and all of them are dead. They were all English and Irish setters of the best breeding. A detective agency has been enlisted to ferret out the authors of the poisoning. Envy seems to have been the motive which led to the wholesale poisoning.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 21.—Francis A. Diffendorfer, a former resident of Lancaster, Pa., was arrested in this city last night charged with embezzling $10,000 from his brother. The alleged crime was committed four years ago and according to a detective from Pennsylvania, the police have been looking for him ever since. The prisoner is 43 years old and lived on DeKalb avenue with his wife and three children.

Harvard Football Question.

Boston, March 21.—The football question is being pretty thoroughly discussed at Harvard. While everyone hopes that something will be done to save the game, few expect to see it continued. Captain Brewer told the candidates, who have been working for the past few weeks in the gymnasium, that the squad would be given up for the present, but he expected all the men to keep in condition.

Resigns After Twenty-five Years.

Erie, Pa., March 21.—Superintendent J. M. Kimball, of the Erie & Pittsburg railroad, has resigned after a service of twenty-five years, and will take charge of the Pennsylvania Railroad company's coal business at Erie, Cleveland and Ashtabula.

Stabbed by His Wife.

Lancaster, Pa., March 21.—In a drunken quarrel last evening George Hood, of this city, was stabbed by his wife and seriously injured. The woman then attempted to finish Hood with a beer bottle, but was overpowered. She was arrested.

Relief for Newfoundland.

London, March 21.—Herbert Murray, formerly chairman of the customs department, will start to-morrow for Newfoundland to distribute a relief fund for the imperial government.

Italy's Imports and Exports.

Rome, March 21.—The customs report for the year 1894 show that during [illegible] year, as compared with 1893, Italy's [illegible] decreased 100,000,000 lire and [illegible] increased about 62,000,000 lire.

Her Identity Still a Mystery.

[illegible] March 21.—The identity of [illegible] C. Norton," the woman who [illegible] suicide at the Adams house, [illegible] a mystery.

RECALL OF THURSTON

It Temporarily Sidetracks the Allianca Affair.

No Longer Any Doubt That Secretary Gresham Demanded the Minister's Retirement—Mr. Thurston Denies Any Knowledge of the Matter—Frank Hatch May Succeed Him.

Washington, March 21.—That Secretary Gresham asked for the recall of Minister Thurston there is no longer any doubt and that the Hawaiian government has notified their representative of the fact is the general belief here. Mr. Thurston, however, denies in positive terms that he has either officially or unofficially acknowledged or even intimated that he has any knowledge that he is persona non grata to Mr. Gresham.

Allianca Affair Sidetracked.

The recall and the circumstances surrounding it appear to have temporarily sidetracked the Allianca affair. At the state department this morning those in authority refused to discuss the subject. The state department officers who permitted the secret to leak out are endeavoring to create the impression that Minister Thurston's offense is confined to his premature statements to the American press in connection with the recent conviction of ex-Queen Liliuokalani and her royalist accomplices. The request for the recall of the Hawaiian minister is the result of long-continued friction. Mr. Thurston, as will be remembered, came here originally as one of the envoys of the revolutionary party in Hawaii to effect a preliminary understanding with leading men in congress for the prompt annexation of the islands to the United States.

An Injudicious Selection.

It would have been wiser, as a mere matter of diplomatic expediency, for the new Hawaiian government to have sent here some one who had not been active already as its emissary before it was openly in existence. The bad blood engendered at the beginning of the controversy was bound to affect unfavorably all the later relations between Minister Thurston and the department of state. The minister is a man of combative disposition, moreover, and does not hesitate to return blow for blow. The suspicion that he was the source of inspiration for much of the ugly talk indulged in on the floor of congress during the last days of the short session was encouraged by his constant presence in the galleries.

Hatch May Be the New Minister.

Mr. Thurston does not know who will be his successor, but it is intimated that Frank Hatch may be selected, and that he will represent the same ideas and views that have been prominent during the mission of Mr. Thurston. The latest official mail from Hawaii has arrived here. Mr. Thurston declined to state whether it contained anything bearing on the request of Secretary Gresham for his recall. It is believed, from the fact that the communication relative to Minister Thurston was sent from San Francisco on February 21, that there has been time for a response from the Hawaiian government in the mail just received.

Will Not Leave This Country.

It is not likely that Mr. Thurston will leave this country. He will continue, it is stated, to look after Hawaiian interests in an unofficial manner. Mr. Thurston's friends say that as a matter of fact he has never been treated at the state department as other foreign ministers have been treated, and has not been accorded the courtesy usually extended to men holding similar positions.

WANTS US TO POSSESS CUBA.

Senator Frye Sorry That Spain Is Likely To Apologize.

Washington, March 21.—Senator Frye, who is a leading member of the senate committee on foreign relations, remarked that he was almost sorry there seemed a probability of Spain apologizing for the Allianca incident. "I had almost hoped," he said, "that Spain would assume such arrogant and belligerent tone that it would be necessary for the United States to go over and take possession of Cuba. We certainly ought to have the island in order to round out our possessions as they should be, and if we cannot buy it, I, for one, should like to have an opportunity to acquire it by conquest."

Scott's Murderers Still in Jail.

O'Neill, Neb., March 21.—Mulihan, Roy, Elliott and Harris, the alleged murderers of Barrett Scott, whose release was ordered by Judge Kinkaid on motion of the attorney general, are still in jail here, although the sheriff of Boyd county wants them. There is a clash of authority, the sheriff of this county insisting they are still his prisoners and have not been legally released.

Kilrain and Sullivan May Meet.

Baltimore, March 21.—It is probable that Jake Kilrain and John L. Sullivan will soon be brought together in a boxing match in New York. Arrangements with such an end in view are now under way, and if they can be satisfactorily carried out, the public will again see the old rivals face to face in the ring.

Boston National Banks.

Washington March 21.—The fifty-five national banks of Boston, Mass., had, on March 5, in loans and discounts, $146,152,000; lawful money reserve, $15,660,000; gold, $8,855,000, and individual deposits, $101,440,000. The average reserve held is 30.53 per cent.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

Professor Munyon's Great Work Among the Suffering.

His Medicines Are Marvels in the Way of Effecting Cures.

Mr. George Lodge, the well-known real estate dealer, 3d and Federal sts., Philadelphia, Pa., is not only one of the most prominent real estate brokers in the city, but is the general manager of the new underground system of electrical propulsion, which is destined to supersede the overhead trolley. Read what he says:

"Ever since 1868 I have been a great sufferer from sciatic rheumatism. There were times when the excruciating pain nearly drove me insane, and I was practically helpless. Upon a friend's advice I was induced to try Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. After taking a few doses the pain left me and I have not had the slightest symptoms of any return of the disease. I have recommended this remedy to several of my friends, who have also been cured."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism cured in from one to five days. It never fails to cure sharp, shooting pains in the arms, legs, sides, back or breast, or soreness in any part of the body in from one to three hours. It is guaranteed to promptly cure lameness, stiff and swollen joints, stiff back and all pains in the hips and loins. Chronic rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or pain in the back are speedily cured.

Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedy Co. of Philadelphia put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25c. a bottle.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

Hotels and Saloons.

HOTEL GRENADA.

North Avenue

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public

5-13 1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

Cor. Park Avenue and Second Street

J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor

With stables attached 45)

BOCK BEER

all this week at

Charles Smith's Saloon.

Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S.

411 Park ave.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

is called to the

Home Department

of Rockview School, 317 East Front street. Children received from

4 to 15 Years.

Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT, 25 Washington ave

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 37 Chatham street.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.,

80 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening. SPRINGLEIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL, in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner at short notice.

5-13-

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

B hr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
All goods warranted as represented.		Lard	8c

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager

Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

7 14 tf

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank.

is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON.

165 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES

act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 60 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., a bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3843, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 28 y

Amboy Lodge, No. 168, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yenger, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
W. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 28 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

SHE WORKED TOO HARD

How a Young Girl Was Broken Down.

SHOULD NOT HAVE BEEN ALLOWED TO THUS INJURE HERSELF.

But of Course the Best Thing Was Done Under the Circumstances.

Perhaps you think you are not working too hard, but if you feel weak, nervous, tired, fretful, if you have dull feeling head sleeplessness, are easily disturbed or excited, you are over-taxing your nerve strength. They are sure symptoms of exhausted nerve power.

Other symptoms soon follow, such as dizziness, trembling, palpitation, dyspepsia, kidney and liver disease, poor blood and cold extremities. They lead to prostration, paralysis, insanity or premature death. Miss Blanche Atwood, of Stowe, Vt., got into just this condition. Her mother, Mrs. S. G. Atwood, writes as follows about her wonderful cure:

"About a year ago, my daughter Blanche from too close application to study, became worn out. Her head was all confused, and at times she was almost crazy. She was terribly nervous and did not sleep well at all.

"She was in a frightful condition, and we worried constantly about her. We were obliged to take her from school, for she was not able to attend. She was completely used up and good for nothing.

BLANCHE ATWOOD.

"A friend who had been cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, advised us to try it. She commenced using it and almost immediately began to improve. Her nerves grew strong, she slept well and her head became clear.

"She was soon entirely cured of all her troubles and was in perfect health. The medicine benefited her general health also as she was much better and stronger than before. I recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to every body."

If you have overworked in any way and weakened your nerves or injured your health, you can get well by taking this wonderful medicine. There are thousands of people who are in just this condition. They are not sick with any particular disease, but they are out of order, have weak nerves and tired bodies. They do not eat or sleep well, wake tired mornings, have lost their snap and energy and work becomes an effort. Such people need Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It gives health and strength. It should by all means be used at this season, for it is the best of all spring medicines.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and his grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

M. M. DUNHAM,
Real Estate and Insurance,
7 East Front Street.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

DENIAL BY O'FERRALL

Reply to the Alleged Interview of Darling.

Did Not Know Teamoh Was with the Party Until Their Arrival—Admits He Was Put Out at the Negro's Presence—Shown Slight Courtesy by the Governor's Wife.

Richmond, Va., March 21.—When Gov. O'Ferrall was shown the telegram from Boston containing the interview with Senator Darling touching the treatment accorded Teamoh, the colored member of the Massachusetts legislative committee, who were received at the executive mansion, he said: "Senator Darling, I cannot think made the statement contained in the telegram. I never had the slightest intimation from any human being that a colored man was in the party. I thought it would be more courteous to receive them at the mansion than in my office, and fixed 2 o'clock Friday as the hour. A little before 2 o'clock on Friday I went from my office to the mansion. Later three other carriages arrived. The first carriage changed position and I did not see the occupants alight. Pretty soon my doorman came up and notified me that the gentlemen were in the parlor. I went down with Mrs. O'Ferrall and as we entered the parlor we were introduced to each member of the committee, winding up with the colored member.

Surprised and Embarrassed.

"Not until I reached Teamoh did I know, nor had I the slightest idea that one of the committee was a colored man, and I was greatly surprised and embarrassed, but I concealed my embarrassment as much as possible. Light refreshments had been prepared and I invited the committee to the dining room, not thinking that Teamoh would come. After the party got into the dining room, I discovered Teamoh and Mitchell with him. This embarrassed me still more, but I concluded that as Teamoh was one of the committee and Mitchell their friend, I could not invite them to retire without giving an affront to the other members of the committee and I submitted and Teamoh and Mitchell remained and partook with them of the refreshments.

Snubbed by Mrs. O'Ferrall.

"Mrs. O'Ferrall never spoke to Teamoh, after she was introduced to him, but out of courtesy to Senator Darling and the other gentleman, remained and conversed with them until they left the parlor. Senator Darling's statement that I told him that I knew Teamoh was in the party is absolutely untrue, and I cannot think he ever made it. I feel greatly aggrieved in this matter and that my desire to extend courtesies to a legislative committee of another state was taken advantage of, and I was placed in a position to which I would not have submitted for a moment if I had not been acting in an official capacity. Of course, Mrs. O'Ferrall did not shake hands with the negro. When she realized that Teamoh was a colored man, she bowed slightly, stepped back and did not speak to him."

Colonel Boykin's Statement.

Colonel H. M. Boykin, passenger and freight agent of the Seaboard Air line, through whom the reception of the Massachusetts party by Governor O'Ferrall was arranged, said in referring to the matter: "Senator Darling, as did the other white members of the committee, impress me very favorably, and I, like the governor, cannot think the Massachusetts senator made the statement referred to. But if he did, he made an entirely false statement, for in his presence I expressed regret at the negro's advent and he remarked to me that he, as well as the other white men on the committee, regretted it also, and had all the time regretted starting South with Teamoh and had hoped he was lost.

Could Not Shake Him.

"We were joined by the negro," continued Col. Boykin, "at Allen & Ginter's factory and he was afterwards given a carriage to see the city in company with Mitchell, but when we entered the executive mansion, we found that Teamoh and Mitchell had preceded us and had entered with us."

"HALLELUJAH WEDDING."

Mrs. Ballington Booth Ties the Knot for Two Salvation Army Officers.

Cincinnati, March 21.—Mrs. Ballington Booth was yesterday licensed to perform the marriage ceremony and last night at the Salvation Army barracks she made Adjutant Hargreave and Lieutenant Miss Talbott one. There were 1,000 people present, among them several hundred of Cincinnati's prominent church people. The "Hallelujah Wedding," with all of its shouting, beating of tambourines and similar performances, was the service used.

His Throat Cut by Robbers.

Charlotte, N. C., March 21.—At Blacksburg, S. C., about 2 a. m., while night operator W. A. Stewart, of the Southern railway telegraph office, was lying down on his desk asleep, his throat was cut by robbers. They secured only $10 from the ticket cash drawer. He will recover.

Wage Question at Homestead.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 21.—The reorganization of the Amalgamated association lodges of steel workers at the Carnegie plant at Homestead has progressed far enough for the men to begin talk of another scale of wages higher than the present rate of pay.

Actors Will Bury Her.

Philadelphia, March 21.—The remains of Genevieve Howard, the actress, who died on Monday in the Hahnemann hospital from injuries received by falling down stairs at her boarding house, will be buried at the expense of the actors' fund of this city.

Murderer Apprehended.

Philadelphia, March 21.—Joseph Hodgeth, who murdered his brother William on March 7 because the latter refused to loan him money, has just been caught in Chicago.

France's President Ill.

Paris, March 21.—President Faure has the influenza and has been ordered by his physician to cancel all engagements and rest a week.

Montreal To Have a World's Fair.

Montreal, March 21.—A public meeting of citizens last evening decided to have a world's fair in Montreal in 1896.

J. HAZLETON COOK'S SUIT.

He Claims $25,000 for Tutoring a Nephew of the Late Daniel Hand.

New Haven, March 21.—Ex-Governor Morris is defendant in a damage suit before a jury and Judge Wheeler in the superior court. The action is that of Lawyer J. Hazelton Cook of Clinton against the ex-governor as administrator of the estate of Daniel Hand, the millionaire philanthropist. Cook claims $25,000 for services performed in tutoring a nephew of Mr. Hand while in Yale college during 1876. In his statement Cook says that the agreement between himself and Mr. Hand was entirely verbal, and adds that Mr. Hand told him in 1879 that the $25,000 would be provided for in his (Hand's) will, but no such provision was found in the instrument. At the trial the defense will make an effort to impeach Cook's veracity and standing in the community. Judge Wheeler told counsel for the defense that they might introduce twelve witnesses to effect the purpose indicated.

Mr. Cook is the lawyer who in 1892 made serious charges against the judges of the Connecticut superior court, a matter that subsequently brought him before the New Haven county bar.

MUST ANSWER FOR MURDER.

A Twelve-Year-Old Boy Committed to the Camden Jail.

Camden, N. J., March 21.—Frank Wilson, a twelve-year-old school boy who several months ago shot a schoolmate named George Hewitt, was committed to jail last evening by Justice Phil Schmitz, of Camden, on a charge of murder. The little Wilson boy at the time of the shooting had taken a pistol from his father's desk, and Hewitt was shot while Wilson was handing the weapon to him. At least this was the statement made by the boys at the time young Hewitt was killed. Subsequent statements, however, led to the arrest of the Wilson boy, and there was sufficient testimony at the hearing to cause the justice of the peace to commit the lad for murder. Wilson's family is one of the best in Camden, and the boy was always considered a good and bright schoolboy.

HONORED NEAL DOW.

His Ninety-first Birthday Was Celebrated in London.

London, March 21.—The ninety-first birthday of General Neal Dow, the great American temperance reformer, who was born March 20, 1804, was celebrated yesterday in the Wesleyan church, Highgate, this city. Delegations from all the temperance societies were in attendance. Dj Chowry Muthu, the Christian Brahmin, presided. Mr. Roberts, M. P., and others addressed the meeting, and H. J. Osborne, editor of the Lantern, a publication devoted to Christian workers, lectured on "Neal Dow, Maine and the Maine Law." Resolutions were passed congratulating General Dow, recording the deep appreciation of the meeting for his immeasurable services in the cause of temperance.

NOT YET ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Dewitt Still Held on the Charge of Intoxication.

Jamestown, N. Y., March 21.—Nothing new has transpired in the Claude Dewitt case. Dewitt has not yet been charged with the murder of the Sheramans, but is held on the charge of intoxication, pending further investigation. He says he can prove an alibi. The foreman of the Jamestown Desk company states that he is positive Dewitt worked the afternoon the murder was committed. There is very little real evidence against Dewitt so far, but the authorities believe they have the clue to the mystery.

GRIEVES WITH HARVARD.

But Yale Has No Desire to Criticise the Former's Faculty.

New Haven, Con., March 21.—The action of the Harvard faculty provoked considerable comment at Yale. The Yale News, in response to a query from the Harvard Crimson, has been gathering opinions from Yale athletic leaders, who express their deep regret on the Harvard faculty action in the football matter. The News will say to-day that Yale grieves over the apparent loss of the annual football game with Harvard, but that it has no desire to criticise the wisdom of the Harvard faculty.

Blair County, Pa., Out $3,600.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., March 21.—The public investigation by the Blair county auditors into the financial mismanagement of the county commissioners' offices closed last evening. Auditors Attorney Dively presented a statement of the losses suffered by the county tax payers by reason of the commissioners misuse of power and malfeasance in office, amounting to $3,600.

Murder in a Penitentiary.

Buffalo, March 21.—Late yesterday afternoon as one hundred or more convicts who are employed at the penitentiary in the trimming shop where overalls are made were finishing their work, John Grant and John Roth, serving time for petty offences, got into a dispute and Roth stabbed Grant in the left side with a pair of tailor shears. Grant is dying.

Bismarck in Excellent Health.

Berlin, March 21.—Despite the inclemency of the weather, Prince Bismarck inspected yesterday the large hall erecting at the railroad station to shelter birthday visitors. He walked home and received the British consul, Schwabach, and the emperor's adjutant, Behendorff. He was in excellent health and spirits.

Gaudaur To Start for Texas.

Orillia, Ont., March 21.—Champion oarsman, Jake Gaudaur, will leave here next week for Austin, Tex., to go into training for the Austin annual regatta. Gaudaur will row in the single and double scull events. Ed. Durnan of Toronto will be his partner in the doubles.

No Third Fair Will.

San Francisco, March 21.—Mrs. Bessie Paxton, who was reported yesterday to have a third Fair will in her possession, declared this morning that the report is utterly without foundation.

Negro Woman Lynched.

Nashville, Tenn., March 21.—A negro woman named Henriette Tayler was hanged by a mob near Petersburg, Lincoln county, Tuesday night. She was accused of incendiarism.

Carson Mint Shortage.

Carson, Nev., March 21.—The amount of gold bars reported now missing from the United States mint amounts to $56,400. There are no new developments.

TROUBLE MAY RESULT

Serious Complications with Europe Threatened.

The Probable Encroachment of England, France and Germany on Venezuela and Nicaragua Causing Officials at Washington Much Concern. Discussed at a Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, March 21.—The prospect of serious complications which threatens the United States through probable European encroachment on Venezuela and Nicaragua has assumed a phase of such danger to the principle laid down in the Monroe doctrine that a special cabinet conference was held at the white house to consider the subject. There is no doubt whatever that these subjects are considered by the president and Secretary Gresham as of much greater import to this country than the Allianca incident or the recall of Minister Thurston and must be handled with unusual delicacy and with the knowledge that a misstep may plunge the government into embarrassing complications with not one, but several of the principal European nations.

A Lengthy Conference.

The conference was attended by the president, Secretary Gresham, Secretary Carlisle, Attorney General Olney and Secretary Lamont. It lasted several hours, but Mr. Lamont withdrew after a brief attendance. Mr. Gresham took with him to the white house the official copies of much of the recent correspondence on both the Venezuela and the Nicaraguan situations and he remained with Mr. Cleveland some time after his colleagues had left. It cannot be learned whether any additional information in the matter reached the state department to-day.

Serious Phase of the Difficulties.

It is said that Mr. Bayard has failed to arrange the Mosquito troubles with the British government in a manner satisfactory to the United States. Great Britain's ultimatum to Nicaragua demanding an indemnity for the expulsion of Mr. Hatch, the British consular agent, from Bluefields and the report that a British warship is on her way to enforce the demand is the latest known serious phase of the difficulties growing out of the Bluefields affair, and as action by this government may involve a new construction of the Monroe doctrine, it can be seen how slowly and carefully the president and his advisers are obliged to feel their way to prevent any possibility of blunder or to neglect any advantage that might weaken the practical sponsorship which the United States government holds over the South American and Central American republics.

Main Cause for Alarm.

In the Venezuelan affair the United States government finds itself opposed to such strong adversaries as Great Britain, France and Germany, with Belgium as an incidental factor. The settlement of the claim of Great Britain to certain Venezuelan territory is the main cause for alarm, and to this is added the prospect that Germany will send warships to collect a large amount of money guaranteed German contractors for the construction of the Central Venezuelan railroad. France and Belgium have a common ground for action disturbing to the peace of the little South American republic, namely, the expulsion of the French and Belgium ministers from that country. Both governments have protested against the expulsion and France will send a naval vessel to take their envoys home.

SNOWING IN THE WEST.

The Most Severe Storm in Several Years Now Raging.

St. Louis, March 21.—The snow storm in this vicinity has been general during the past twenty-four hours. Reports from southern Missouri and Illinois show that the storm has been severe in those sections. At Columbus, Ind., a heavy snow storm has prevailed for the past twenty hours. Street car travel has been stopped and railway traffic greatly impeded. The storm is still raging and is the most severe in years. The snow is drifting. At Percy, Ill., a steady northwest gale, with blinding snow and minute particles of ice, is blowing at the rate of forty-two miles an hour. Snow has drifted three and four feet deep in places, and business is practically suspended to-day.

Taral Will Not Ride Dr. Rice.

New York, March 21.—Fred Taral, the celebrated jockey, was asked about his reported engagement at the St. Louis fair grounds, to ride Dr. Rice, on April 1, in his match against the horse, Simmons. Taral stated that there was no truth whatever in the statement, as he had heard nothing from Fred Foster, the owner of Dr. Rice.

Died of Grief for Her Husband.

Johnstown, Pa., March 21.—Mrs. Frederick Lavely died yesterday from grief over the fact that her husband is a prisoner in Ebensburg jail charged with misleading his cousin, Lizzie Drummond.

Twenty Men Charged with Murder.

New Orleans, March 21.—The grand jury has returned fifteen indictments, charging twenty men with murder committed on last Tuesday morning in the levee troubles.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spots steady with a fair demand. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 63½c.

Corn—Spot scarce and held higher. No. 2 held at 55 afloat.

Oats—Spot demand is fair and prices firmer. No. 2 white, 37a37½c.; No. 2 mixed, 34½c. afloat.

Pork—Spot quiet and prices easy. Extra prime nominal, $13.00a$15.50; mess, $12.75a$13,25.

Butter—Trading not active, but the market ruled strong. New butter, creamery, western extras, 19½a20c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 17½a18c.

Cheese—Market remains firm. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; common to fair, 8a9½c.

Eggs—Prices made a further break of 1c. per dozen. Western, fresh collections, firsts, 12½c.

Potatoes—Late arrivals well sustained. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $1.67a$2.12; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., $1.75a$2.00; and do common to fair, per 180 lbs., $1.50a$1.62.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY

WITH EVERY ONE POUND bale OF

DUKES MIXTURE

for 35 cents

Every pipe stamped DUKES MIXTURE or ATC

2 oz. PACKAGE—5¢

Jones & Co., Excavators,

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.
Cesspools to Let, 9 15

H. DeMOTT,
With livery attached.
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
178 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 9 27

H. A. STILES,
of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

TO PLAINFIELD
Every Thursday.
He will be found at
No. 107 East Front Street.
Durham's Real Estate Office
From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET,
(Estate D. I. Smalley.)
94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.
GEO. EGEL, Manager.
We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 1

Treasury Department
Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.
WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.
Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,
Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.
In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.
[Seal] JAMES H. ECKELS,
Comptroller of the Currency.
3 4 30

F. A. DUNHAM.
Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 100 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line,
To Old Point Comfort
[Hygeia Hotel]
Or Virginia Beach, Va.
[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,
Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

N. E. KING,
High Grade Portraits
In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.
483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government
Mosler Patent Safes,
(fire and burglar-proof) in general use
All Over the World.
Lowest prices. Drop a postal to
S. W. CLARK,
General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield, N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.
Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

A. W. BAKER, 236 Park Ave. B. G. YOUNG, 237 Watchung Ave.
Baker & Young,
Carpenters and Builders.
Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 33 m

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.
Stoves at reduced prices.
Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.
Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,
119 East Front St.

GEO. J. TOBIN.
187 North avenue.
Practical Plumber
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer
TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.
15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.
Residence and postoffice address
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.
Marble and Granite Works
Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.
Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.
Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE
MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.
HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial Parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty 10 18 1

HARPER'S
Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.
411 Park Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
CHOICE MEATS
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.
203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb
V. L. FRAZEE,
151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in
Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.
LOCK BOXES
From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of
LEHIGH COAL.
No. 2 Coal Only $3.75
in the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.
Yard and office, 763 South Avenue.
Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 21, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

FANWOOD TOWN COMMITTEE.

Much Business Transacted at the Reorganization Session.

The Fanwood Town Committee met at their rooms last evening to reorganize, and accept the bonds of the newly-elected township officers. Clerk Hand read the minutes of the last meeting, and they were accepted.

The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $87.37. All bonds, with the exception of Collector Terry's were accepted, Mr. Terry's bond being returned for correction, there being a mistake in the date, the bond reading 1893 instead of 1895.

George L. Colgate presented a petition to the Committee asking them to take such action as was necessary regarding a road laid out years ago, (and which would soon become outlawed), known as the Feltville road, running from Westfield avenue through the woods to the station.

The petition was received and placed on file. A. Ryno presented a claim for damages from dogs for the killing of two geese valued at $4, signed and appraised by William Hetfield and John L. Darby. The claim was laid over, as the appraisers had not made affidavit to the claim. A petition was received from the citizens of the village, asking that two cisterns be built for use in case of fire.

One cistern was to be placed on the corner of Park and Westfield avenues, and the other near the Baptist Church, water for the cisterns to be obtained from the roofs of surrounding buildings.

Mr. Nichol said that before deciding the matter he would like to have the opinion of the department engineers.

The first assistant chief and secretary of the board presented a petition from the board of engineers asking for 500 feet of 2½ inch rubber-lined hose, 150 feet of 3½ inch rubber hose, and two dozen rubber buckets for use in the department, at a cost of about $300. This would leave of the $500 raised for fire department at the recent election, a balance of $200, out of which cisterns could be built. He said it was better to prepare for the cisterns and then build them. The department at present had only about 700 feet of hose, which would not be enough with the cisterns so far apart.

On motion of Mr. Nichol the matter was laid over to a future meeting.

The following names were received and approved as members of the Fire Department: John Radin, Fred Rose, Frank Gottick, George L. Colgate, Frank Brown, Louis Morul, John Wartu, Horace Hand, and Ole Johnson.

Ex-Judge W. R. Codington was appointed town counsel for the ensuing year. L. W. Miller was appointed treasurer at a salary of $75. Excelsior rooms were engaged for town meetings for the year at a rental of $50. Dr. F. W. Westcott was appointed town physician for the ensuing year.

On motion of Mr. Miller the ordinance relating to changing the names of Forest avenue and Forest road to the name of Forest road (they being virtually one street) was taken up and adopted.

A recess of ten minutes was taken to select a board of health for the ensuing year. The committee reconvened, and Dr. F. W. Wescott was appointed chairman of the board.

On motion the application of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company for a franchise to run an electric railway through the township was taken from the table to consider a few changes the committee wished to make, and the committee adjourned.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTEBOOK.

The P. R. S. A. A. held a meeting yesterday afternoon. It was decided to accept the plan reported by the committee which was as follows: The High and Leal's school will hold a joint field-day on June 8, at the Crescent Oval, open to all schools within twenty miles of Plainfield.

The list of events will be 100 yds dash, 440 yds run, ½-mile bicycle race, 1-mile bicycle race, 2-mile bicycle race, running broad jump, running high jump, pole vault, putting the shot, throwing the hammer. All of which will be scratch events.

The joint committee was then given the authority to make all arrangements for the field day, and was enlarged to five members from each school. Complete High School committee is as follows: Chas. B. Morse, Carlos C. Gallup, F. Wilbur Cornwell, Edgar J. Serrell and Geo. P. Smith.

Monroe Reception.

The reception given in Monroe Avenue Chapel last night by the Young Men's Society to the Young Ladies Society was attended by about 40, who extracted much pleasure from the informality of the affair. The Reception Committee was Walter McGee and Blanchard Randolph, who received the guests with warm hospitality. Games, refreshments and two comic songs by Mr. McGee were the amusements of the evening.

Loyal Women in Session.

The twelfth annual convention of the Loyal Ladies League, an auxiliary to the G. A. R., Department of New Jersey, convened in the Coward Building this morning at 10:30, with Mrs. Julia H. Mackey of Brooklyn in the president's chair. The election of officers will take place this afternoon.

—Electrical appliances were put on the chandelier in the main hall of the Y. M. C. A., today by George Tobin.

—A son of Robinson Pound has a mild case of scarlet fever, and the house is quarantined. Dr. Jenkins is in attendance.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—L. B. Woolston broke ground yesterday for a new house on Fairview avenue.

—It is reported that William H. Miller will remove to Dunellen in the near future.

—Dr. Pocock will enjoy Union County's excellent roads this Summer on an Apollo wheel.

—H. S. Thomas has purchased a Cleveland Swell Special wheel from F. L. C. Martin.

—The adoption degree will be worked on William H. Brokaw by Miantonomoh Tribe tonight.

—Several people residing at Netherwood assert that the streets are haunted by a suspicious night prowler.

—It is expected that there will be initiation in Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., at their meeting this evening.

—An entertainment will be given in Monroe Avenue Chapel the first week in April for the benefit of the Sunday-school.

—The United States mails are often taken to and from the postoffice on the electric cars, by Messenger Reuben Bay.

—A water motor is being placed in the Crescent Avenue Church to provide power for the bellows of the pipe organ.

—Don't fail to call on Fulper Friday and Saturday, and take advantage of the big cut in prices of butter, coffee, mackerel, etc.

—Jacob Snyder's horse balked on Netherwood avenue yesterday, causing Jacob much vexation, and the boys heaps of fun.

—Dr. M. S. Simpson is having new curbing and flagging laid around his residence on the corner of West Fifth and Liberty streets.

—An electric light will be placed at the Watchung avenue terminal of the street railway, which will be a great convenience to those using the cars.

—The shareholders of the Republic Building and Loan Association are reminded of the adjourned meeting to be held this evening for the election of officers.

—Electricians from the New Jersey Central shops were sent to Netherwood yesterday to repair a defect in the mechanism of the block signal at the Netherwood station.

—The Arlington Athletic Club of this city will have a strong team this season. It will be under the management of M. Sutphen, and begin work as soon as the weather is favorable.

—The Chase Machine Works have been compelled to shut down for the past ten days, owing to a leak in the boiler. The trouble having been remedied, work will be resumed tomorrow.

—H. DeMott of Somerset street is building a large barn on his property, 59 Somerset street. Mr. DeMott is the owner of the stages that convey passengers between this city and Scotch Plains.

—Rex, a valuable English setter belonging to E. C. Pease of Park place, was poisoned Tuesday night, and although everything was done to save the dog's life he died yesterday morning in great agony.

—Williams & Co., masons, will commence work on the foundation of A. D. Thompson's new house at Netherwood as soon as the plumbers have completed connecting the pipes with the watermain.

—Netherwood is infested with dog poisoners. An English mastiff, valued at $200, belonging to Walter Williams, and a valuable beagle owned by O. A. Campbell, have both displayed symptoms of the fiend's work.

—The chairman of the Prayer-meeting Committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church, Miss Alice G. Woodland, has issued special invitations to the members for the meeting tomorrow evening.

—The choir of the First Baptist Church are planning, under the direction of Organist E. J. Fitzhugh, to give a special service of song some Sunday evening before the close of Lent. The Easter music at this church will no doubt excel all previous renditions.

—All day yesterday and today there has been a perfect crush at White's, and the good reason for it is the remarkably low prices they are asking for goods that you want. It is popular prices that make trade, and your trade is what they are after. For details see their ad.

Good Corn Bread made with

Cleveland's Baking Powder

is appetizing and wholesome.

Cleveland's, the best that money can buy.

Our cook book, page 49, tells you how to make it. A copy mailed free on receipt of stamp and address. Cleveland Baking Powder Co., 81 Fulton St., New York.

WASHINGTON'S COLLAPSED BOOM

Land Values Along Puget Sound Inflated Hugely While It Lasted.

"Most people in the far Northwest," said a man from the State of Washington, "have amazing faith in the future of that region. I saw one town that had 12,000 inhabitants less than five years ago and now is said to have but 300. It was a boom town with no reason for being, and when the panic came it collapsed as if its houses had been merely blown bladders instead of brick and mortar. There must have been nearly twoscore such towns. The East has never known such inflation of land values as the Puget Sound region had a few years ago, and, of course, has never known such a shrinkage as has occurred there.

"I say such a shrinkage, but the faith of the people kept land at fictitious prices. Men are holding on to bad investments and starving themselves to pay interest in order that they may save something from the wreck. Although Washington has several thousand miles of coast line, you cannot now even buy an eligible water front on Puget Sound at a moderate price.

"Many have given up in despair, and I knew one man who deliberately gave away without any consideration property not long before valued at $30,000; but the faithful hold on for the revival of business. A man who once held important and well paid posts as an engineer was glad recently to accept a place at a salary that he would have ridiculed ten years ago, and I have little doubt that most of it goes to pay interest on mortgages.

"Persons in the East learned of the late boom in Washington through advertisements in newspapers and magazines, and doubtless many have repented that any such information came to them. There was a time when steamboats were busy carrying eager men and women to points along Puget Sound where town lots were to be sold.

"I learned the inside history of a boom town, though hardly a typical one, for the boom was procured in a fashion utterly different from that to which Western communities are accustomed. The man that conceived the idea went about his scheme with no attempt at advertising on his part. He simply sent a corps of engineers to lay out a town site. The sight of a level or theodolite always set Washington folks to talking in those days, and the news that somebody was laying out a town site soon got about. Friends of the promoter advised him to advertise, but he refused the advice. People who came to question him about the matter learned nothing. It was known that two railroads were coming through, and there was speculation as to whether this new town was to be the terminus of one, but here again nothing was learned from the projector.

"There was no reason on earth why a town should be built there and there was still less reason why a railroad should start from the town, but the next thing that interested the people was the surveying of a railroad to nowhere. There was no definite information to be had about the road, but the engineers kept right on while talk increased. Then the actual building of the road began, and after a few miles had been cleared and made ready for track laying the announcement was made that the sale of lots would begin at a certain date. The projector was advised to hold corner lots and water fronts lots at a higher figure than the minimum fixed for other lots, but he refused. He would give the first purchasers a chance to resell at a profit to late comers. He was advised to give a free banquet to boom the sale, but again he declined the advice. He knew that his scheme was advertising itself. On the day before the sale his office, seventy-five miles from the new town on paper, was besieged by inquirers.

"The sale began with a rush, and lots went as high as $1,000. Every buyer got corner lots and water front property, and resold at once at a profit. Some of them bought at $1,000 resold the same week at $3,500. An office boy in the employ of the projector made several hundred dollars in such a turn. When the sale was over nearly three quarters of a million dollars had been taken in. The excitement continued for a time, and the projector built several hotels and other structures, but presently the thing stopped. It has never started again. Without spending $500 in the ordinary methods of advertising the projector had made a fortune, because the gambling spirit was in the air and everybody was more eager to buy than the projector was to sell.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

An Ordinance

governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An ordinance governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation" has been introduced and passed its first and second readings in the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield. The date when said ordinance passed its second reading is March 8, 1895, and this notice is given pursuant to the requirement of the statute in such case made and provided. By order of the Board of Health.

H. O. NEWMAN, Secretary.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., March 16, 1895.

MUSIC HALL.

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 498.

Friday, March 22—1 Night

Canary & Lederer's newest New York production THE

20th Century Girl.

75 people on the stage 75

The phenomenal cast introduces John T. Kelly, Dan Dooly, Samie Fisher, Beatina Gerard, Edith Howe, Jennie Weathersby, Al H. Wilson, Harry Kelly, Harry Standish, Catherine Quinard, Lillian Taurgate, Grisel Carlyle and others. Everything bright, new, original and up to the title.

Prices 35, 50, 75c, $1 and $1.50.
Box office now open.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

10 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Don't ruin your form wearing poor corsets.

Buy Your Corsets

AT PECK'S.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue. Packer's Block.

12-6-y

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Carpet Dep't.

Opening of New Spring Goods.

We quote only a few specials.

All-wool ingrains at.....49c
Tapestry Brussels, at.....53c 59c 65c
Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminister, Ishpahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, jointless, new patterns, 9c up.
Oil cloths, No. 1. 39c No. 3 at 25c No 4 at 19c
Linoleums at 37½c; Window shades 19c up; poles with fixtures 19c up.

The elegant new Laces in

Our Lace Dept.

will interest you.

Laces, Veilings and Lace Collars.

A large collection of fine laces and lace collars (by far the most comprehensive assortment in the city) we shall offer during the week at prices very much below real value, comprising Broderie Anglaise, Point de Gene, Point Venise, Chiffon, Chantilly and Point de Ireland Laces, now very desirable for spring trimmings. Our leader this week—Brussells Applique in match patterns of 3 widths—5 inch 19c; 6½ inch 23c; 8 inch 31c a yard.

Veilings

All-silk Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings 18x27 inches wide, in all colors, at 25 and 35c a yard; regular price 35 and 50c a yard.

Lace Collars

Point Venise and Point de Rose Collars (butter color now much in demand, regular $2.50 to $5 lines, special during the week at $1.25, $1.39, $1.93 and $3.28 each.

Silks

Illuminated Brocaded and Striped Taffeta Silks, 12 different combinations, 20 inches wide, will not cut, crush or slip in seams, choice designs, good value at 98c yard; special at 65c a yard. 700 yards of Crepon Wash Fabrics, in all leading colorings, regular 10c goods; special for the week 7½c yard.

Housefurnishing and China Dept

Extra values at about half price. At half price, 1 lot English Majolica milk and water pitchers

Milk pitcher regular price 25c; special 8c.
" " " 19c; special 10c
Water " " 39c; special 15c
" " " 39c; special 23c

The above are assorted colors and strictly perfect.

50 dozen engraved goblets, all perfect, at 3c each: scrub brushes, regular 15c, at 10c each; japanned chamber pails, assorted colors, 23c; another lot japanned bread boxes at 27c; japanned fire screens, 4 fold bamboo frames, at 49c

Grocery Department

TERMS CASH—Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. You will be surprised at the amount of money you can save in buying in this department.

SPECIAL SPECIAL

French sardines in pure olive oil, Martel brand at 10c can
Cook's flat salmon steaks, very fine, at 16c
Very fine large olives, 32 oz bottle, 39c can.
Heinz's assorted Little Giant pickles 9c bottle.
Anderson's jams, all kinds, 1 pound tins, 12c.
FLOUR—Our White Seal Flour is in greater demand each day. The price and quality is right. ¼ barrel 54c; ½ barrel $1.07; ½ barrel $1.98; 1 barrel $3 95.

Special for Saturday Night Only

From 8 to 9:30.

500 yards of Point Venise, Bourdon, Applique and Valenciennes laces, 2 to 7 in. wide, 20c to 50c lines; special Saturday only at 10c, 18c, 20c, and 25c a yard.

1,000 yards of satin and gros grain ribbons in all leading shades, ½ to 4 in. wide, reduced to 3, 5, 9, 12 and 20c a yard; regular price 5, 7, 12, 18 and 25c a yard.

EDSALL'S

DO YOU BUY YOUR Trunks and Bags in New York?

Do So No More.

You can now buy them just as cheap at the house of

Doane & Edsall.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

AMERICAN CAMELS INCREASING.

And This Despite the Fact that They Are Butchered and Sold as Beef.

M. F. Campbell, who has been for some time at the famous Gunsight mine, near the line of southern Arizona, says the camels of the desert are increasing very rapidly and that there are now between 300 and 400 of them. This is surprising, he says, considering the large number that have been killed and palmed off for beef in the past few years and the inroads made upon the bands by passing showmen. Mr. Campbell gave some interesting details of these tawny denizens of the waste places, introduced so many years ago by Ben Butterworth and now grown wild.

"Those hulking animals," he said, "roam mainly between the Gila and Colorado rivers, in a stretch of the low Eagle Tail mountains and the desert adjoining. There is very fine bunch grass in that region and the camels keep in good condition. I have several times seen as many as eight or ten in a band and most of them are very large.

"Different persons have been there from time to time catching them for the circuses. That is the source of supply now for all the shows. The hunters go out in bands of half a dozen on mules, as horses would be of no account. The camels, cumbersome as they look, run very fast, and only mules are enduring enough in that rough country to wear them out. The hunters stretch out, surround a band and out of ten or a dozen manage to cut out and stay by a couple, wearing them out and catching them finally with lassos. The camels are very wild at first, but speedily tame down and the showmen can do anything they please with them.

"I was for nearly two years there mining, and myself and men were furnished with camel meat right along and thought it very good. We paid 25 cents a pound for a good deal of it and we thought it as good beef as we had usually eaten. The old prospectors, who had turned to peddling meat, never said a word to us, but took their pay regularly to go away and come back again. At last we found out it was nothing but the camel's meat which they were furnishing us. Then we began to draw the line.

"If the meat sellers and circus people would let the camels alone for a while they would increase much faster. The animals are interesting to see on the desert and do no harm."—San Francisco Examiner.

Weren't the Mothers Surprised!

Some time ago there was a dance in a Canadian settlement for the benefit of the settlers and their wives. Most of the married ladies had babies with them, whose noisy perversity required too much attention to allow the ladies the full swing of the souls' pleasure in the dance. So a number of young men present gallantly volunteered to watch over the refractory infants so that their mothers could indulge without let or hindrance in the sweets of the "light fantastic" exercise.

The gallant offer was readily and confidingly accepted, but no sooner had the women left their dear charges to the care of those mischievous young rascals than they commenced stuffing the infants, changing the clothing and giving one the apparel of another, till all were transmogrified.

The dance and the music continued into the "wee sma' hours," and then it was time to go home. The lights were lowered and each mother hurriedly took a baby, in the dress of her own, and started for home, which in many instances was ten or fifteen miles away.

The following morning there was a prodigious row in the settlement. Mothers discovered what had occurred, and then commenced some of the tallest female pedestrianism on record. Living as they did miles apart, it required two full days to unmix the babies, and as many months to restore the mothers to their naturally sweet dispositions. Those young men never venture into that settlement now.

One Way.

The teacher of an intermediate grade in one of the larger public schools was "showing off" her pupils before a number of visitors. The spelling class was on the floor, and one small shock headed boy was given the word "introduction." He paused, twisted his lips, stared, and then in a faltering way spelled it correctly, and seemed rather surprised that he had done it.

"Know what the word means?" asked the teacher.

"No'm."

"What! Don't you know what introduction means?"

"No'm."

"Well, now, I'll explain it to you. Does your mother ever have callers?"

"Yes'm."

"Well, now, suppose that two ladies come to call on your mother. Your mother knows one of the ladies, but doesn't know the other. She has never seen the other lady, and doesn't even know her name. Now, how would she become acquainted with this lady and find out her name?"

"She'd send me out for a can of beer."—Philadelphia Times.

Her Use for Souvenir Spoons.

Wealth and ignorance make a queer team, especially if they are hitched up suddenly. Not long ago a woman whose home is in one of the villages down the valley came to this city to do some trading. She had heard much about souvenir spoons and proposed to buy some. She asked for a dozen in one of the leading jewelry stores.

"A dozen souvenir spoons?" repeated the clerk in surprise. "Er, what kind of spoons did you say?"

"Maybe you don't know me," she said, noting his surprise, and, thinking that it was occasioned by the size of her proposed purchase, she added, "I am Mrs. Suddens of Valley Town. We keep a team. Yes, I want a dozen souvenir spoons to eat souvenirs with, you know. My daughter makes beautiful souvenirs!"—Utica Observer.

Not to Be Caught That Way.

"If I should ask you to marry me," he said, smiling softly and sweetly, would you say 'yes'?"

"My dear fellow," she responded in a tone of gentle reproof, "you talk to me as if I were receiving my first proposal."—Detroit Free Press.

Rough and Ready.

Mr. Fite, of Newtown, should go to Eldorado, where he will be in demand day and night now till the city election is over.—Kansas City Star.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

PARTICULAR MENTION

L. J. Denton has been given up by the physicians.

W. C. Ayers is out again after three weeks of illness.

Mrs Seymour G. Smith is convalescing after several weeks of illness.

J W. Van Sickle is enjoying the fresh air after a protracted illness.

Isaac Smalley, who fractured his leg, is improving. The weight has been taken off his leg, and he is getting along nicely

Mrs. Jane Brokaw of Piscataway, grandmother of Wesley Brokaw of Vanderbeek & Sattein's, died suddenly yesterday while a wound from which she had long been suffering was being dressed. She was aged, and blind.

—Miss Brown of Hillier & Co., deserves credit for the great improvements in the office.

A POET'S LESSON.

Poet, my master, come, tell me true,
And how are your verses made?
Ah! that is the easiest thing to do—
You take a cloud of a silver hue,
A tender smile or a sprig of rue,
With plenty of light and shade.

And weave them round in syllables rare,
With grass and skill divine;
With the earnest words of a pleading prayer
With a cadence caught from a dulcet air,
A tale of love and a lock of hair,
Or a bit of a trailing vine.

Or delving deep in a mine unwrought,
You find in the teeming earth
The golden vein of noble thought;
The soul of a statesman still unbought,
Or a patriot's cry with anguish fraught
For the land that gave him birth.

A brilliant youth who has lost his way
On the winding road of life;
A sculptor's dream of the plastic clay;
A painter's soul in the sunset ray;
The sweetest thing a woman can say,
Or a struggling nation's strife.

A boy's ambition; a maiden's star,
Unrisen, but yet to be;
A glimmering light that shines afar,
For a sinking ship on a moaning bar;
An empty sleeve; a veteran's scar,
Or a land where men are free.

And if the poet's hand be strong
To weave the web of a deathless song,
And if a master guide the pen
To words that reach the hearts of men,
And if the ear and touch be true,
It's the easiest thing in the world to do!
—Arthur Macy in the Chap Book.

THE CHILDREN GET THE GRAVY.

But the Father of the Family Gets the Fun of Giving It to Them.

"You know," said the father of a family, "it makes me laugh whenever I think of the children's absolute nerve about the gravy. What I mean is that when we have a steak, or anything that has gravy with it, the children take it all; down to the last drop, without leaving a speck for their father and mother. And they're perfectly sound hearted, wholesome children, too, who would do anything they could for their parents. But about some things they have a selfishness that appears to be perfectly natural to children and that I suppose is bred in indulgence. They have all their lives been accustomed to having everything that their parents could give them, and so they come to expect it.

"But I smile again as I recall the fact that when I was a boy I got all the gravy. Time and again I have seen my father tip the dish so that he might get for me the last drop, while he had none for himself. He was very fond of gravy, too, but he never said so; with grave courtesy he gave it all to me as though I were entitled to it. When I grew a little older I reproached myself sometimes for having taken it all; when I grew older still and came to know how gentle, and affectionate, and forbearing, and generous he was, I came to know that he wouldn't for the world have marred my pleasure by so much as a word—that the simple fact was that it was a far greater pleasure to him to give me the gravy than it would have been to eat it himself.

"And now when the children pass their plates I gravely dish out the gravy down to the last drop, and I say nothing for fear that they will rob me of the selfish pleasure of giving it all to them."

THE TRAINED TURKEY.

An Interesting Bird that Was Once Owned in Storkville Centre.

"Speaking of feather dusters," said Col. Calliper, "reminds me of a turkey I knew once that acted as one—a sort of living feather duster. It was owned by the wife of my friend Stephen Gawgleby, of Storkville Centre, Vt. Mrs. Gawgleby had long been accustomed, like many other housewives, to use a turkey wing to brush off the stove with and to dust up around.

"One day a big turkey walked in at the kitchen door and strolled through the kitchen, passing near the stove and brushing off the front of it with one of its wings as it passed. This was an idea to Mrs. Gawgleby, who forthwith set about training the turkey to dust off the stove and things about the kitchen. When you take into account the great amount of time that was required to train the turkey there was really no saving in having it do the dusting. As a matter of fact, I suppose Mrs. Gawgleby could have dusted the things herself in much less time than it took to teach the turkey; but I imagine it was more or less of a relief to her to train the turkey—it was a break in the monotony of her life—and then it was a sort of company to have the turkey round the kitchen, too, and it wasn't very long, either, before the people came to know about the trained turkey and folks used to come in to see it dust, and that made more life and animation about the house.

"Well, for quite a spell the trained turkey was a great comfort to Mrs. Gawgleby. Then suddenly it passed out of the kitchen and never came back. Growing in zeal, it stepped on top of the stove one day to dust the stovepipe, something it had never done before. It was not aware of the fact that often the top of a stove is very hot. The first thing it knew its feet were badly burned. It ran into the yard and it could never be persuaded to come back."

Hearts.

The Heart Club met for the last time this season last evening at the residence of John M. Crane West Eighth street. After an exciting game of hearts the rest of the evening was spent in dancing and conversation which was only interrupted by the serving of a hearty collation. The party broke up shortly before midnight.

The young people who were present at Mr. Crane's home were: Misses Lillian Schoonmaker, Lillian F Glenn, Coffin, Percy Emmons, Mary Luckey, Clara Long, Bessie Baldwin, Allen Taylor, Sydney R Titsworth, Volney F Green, George P Smith, Benjamin O Bowers, Jr., and Seymour G Smith, Jr.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dismondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

BY THE WAY.

—Fair, northerly winds, tomorrow.

—Wanamaker & Chapman's "Living Hymns" were used for the first time in Trinity Church last night.

—W. W. Coriell is the "Co." of the new mason and building firm of C. W. Lines & Co., with office at 18 Elmwood place.

—Messrs. Walter S. Timmis and Andrew J. Gavett of the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. are instructors of the mechanical drawing class that was formerly taught by A. B Clemens. Edward Fuller continues to act as assistant.

—The Park Club won a close game over Elizabeth last night at duplicate whist. Score; McCutchen and Townsend, 12; Humphill and Martinson, 10. Day and Reed, 7; Darragh and Roberts, 10 Rogers and Howell, 13; Kellogg and Faber, 9 Park Club, 32; Elizabeth, 29.

—A cyclist named Cregier and horseman Dayton Mellick collided on Park avenue yesterday, and Cregier was badly bruised. Dr. Adams is in attendance.

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

Captain Sweeney, U. S A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c, and $1. Sold by all druggists.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

DEATHS.

McIVER—March 20, 1895, Captain Annie McIver, of the Salvation Army.
Funeral services Friday, March 22, at 7:30 p. m., at Salvation Army Barracks, West 2d st.
Interment Saturday in Hillside Cemetery. 3

KERR—In North Plainfield March 20, 1895, Grover C., only son of John W. and Mamie Kerr, aged 6 months and 5 days.
Funeral services Friday, March 22, at 4 p. m., from his parents residence, 21 Somerset place. 2

LOUGHLIN—In this city March 20, 1895, Thomas Loughlin, aged 61 years 3 months
Funeral from his late residence 347 Cottage place, Friday morning, March 22, 9 o'clock house and 9:30 at St. Mary's Church.
Friends and relatives are respectfully invited to attend.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church
First-class livery attached
Telephone 153 11 26 y

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo. Mandolin and Guitar. 322 West Front street. Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS.

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 16 m

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

—The Y. M. C. A. has secured Rev. W. C. Kinsey to speak to men, and C. T. Kissam to speak to boys, Sunday at 4:15 p. m. There will be special music at both meetings.

—Adam Ross, 24, of Troy, a brother of Robert Ross who was killed on election day two years ago in Troy while endeavoring to prevent fraud at the ballot box, is in town for a few days on business.

—The bicycle room at the Y. M. C. A. is being put in order and stands will be arranged to accommodate the wheels belonging to the gymnasium members. It will hold 100 wheels. Each member will have a key to the room.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 2 cts. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

WANTED—White woman as first-class laundress by the day. Apply Friday evening after 7.30 at 240 E. 9th st.

WANTED—A cheap work horse. Address D. care Press. 3 21 2

TO LET—House No. 123 Plainfield ave. 10 rooms and laundry; all improvements including electric lights; perfect condition, now empty, good neighborhood, 10 minutes walk to depot, handy to trolley cars; can be bought at a bargain on easy terms. Apply 129 Plainfield ave.

Now is the time to buy a house on easy terms; prices range from $1 000 to $30 000; farms from $2 500 to $15 000; lots $5 to $50 per foot; houses to let from $9 to $75 per month; stores from $15 to $50 per month. Wm. D. Thickstun, real estate and insurance, 197 North avenue near Watchung.

WANTED—Immediately, by a young man, medium sized room with board in private family. W. C., care Press.

WOMAN wanted to wash dishes and assist in cooking; good wages and steady place. McVey's restaurant.

FOR SALE—Grocery store fixtures Apply 218 East Front st. 3 21 2

YOUNG lady wishes a position in office, writing or copying, and make herself useful. N. E. care Press.

WANTED—Housecleaning or plain washing at home. Address M. F. care Press.

PLEASANT rooms to let for housekeeping. Inquire at 512 Division st.

WANTED—A colored girl as first class laundress. Call at 40 Prospect Pl.

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 21 6

A large house 17 rooms, suitable for a boarding house. Apply W. H. Rogers. Washingtonville, 3 21 4

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

FOR RENT.—Store in the Alberti Building, 121 East Front st; changes made if desired to connect two floors. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

FOR RENT—House 208 East 5th st., from April 1; $35 a month; modern improvements. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

WANTED—2 good canvassers; salary $5 a week and commission; good men can make from $15 to $10 a week. Address, stating experience and references, Canvasser, Box 100, care Press 3 20 3

SMALL houses to let, centally located, $9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

SIX ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

$800 BUYS house and lot on West 3d st; will rent for $120 a year. Mulford, broker. 3 19 3

MAN wants situation as coachman. Address Frederick Frederickson. Netherwood, N. J. 3 20 4

TO LET—2 new, attractive dwellings, 12 rooms each; all modern improvements; expensive decorations; Belvidere ave., opp. Hotel Netherwood; Woodland ave., near LaGrande; will sell; inspection invited. Call or address Alfred Cocks, 728 Woodland avenue, near Netherwood station, or Plainfield brokers. 3 19 2-tf th

FOR SALE—Sideboard and sidetable, 243 East 9th st. 3 19 tf

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st, between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

$500 TO LOAN on first bond and mortgage at 6 per cent. Address X Y. Z., care Press. 3 18 tf

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 18 tf

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

Corporation Notice.

The undersigned commissioners heretofore appointed by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield to make an estimate and assessment of damages that any owner or owners of land will sustain by the widening and laying out of Madison avenue from the Southeasterly side line of West Front street to the Northwesterly line of the right of way of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, pursuant to the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to widen Madison avenue from the Southeasterly side line of West Front street to the Northwesterly line of the right of way of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey," approved June 5th, 1891, and also to ascertain the amount of damages that shall be assessed as aforesaid and of all necessary expenses incident to such widening and laying out, and to make a just and equitable assessment thereof among the owners and occupants of the lands, tenements and real estate benefited thereby in proportion to the benefits each shall be deemed to acquire, said assessment to be made pursuant to the valid laws now in force in the State of New Jersey governing such assessments, any unconstitutional provisions of the City Charter to the contrary notwithstanding, hereby give notice that they have this day filed their report and assessment in the office of the City Clerk and that the same is open to inspection of the public and will be presented to the Common Council at the meeting of that body to be held at the Council Chamber, No. 133 Park avenue in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, on Monday the first day of April, eighteen hundred and ninety five, at eight o'clock P. M.

Dated, Plainfield N. J., March 20th, 1895.

EDWARD C. MULFORD.
WM. M. SANDFORD,
J. FRED MACDONALD,
Commissioners.
3 21 2-c th

NOTICE

Estate of Elizabeth B. Vandenbergh, Deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the County of Union, made, on the application of the undersigned, administratrix of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from the fifteenth day of March, 1895 or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscriber.

GERTRUDE VANDENBERGH,
Administratrix.
3 21 10-o a w

You may have

Lost

many hours of comfort by not having worn

A

good reliable

Pair

of Collier's

Glasses.

103 Park ave. Established 1869.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 18, 1895.

Adams Miss Rosilia	McGowen Patrick
Allen Strom	Miles W T
Brown Maggie	Moore & Co Wm W
Bayler T F	Nolan P
Burke James	Napensky Adam
Coverly Fred	Pearce Herman S
Deloy Lucy	Post W
Eicke Lizzie	Preston H
Elder Harriet	Pentency Jinia
Fullom Lizzie	Randolph Mrs Louisa
Goepbel Mr	Russell J C
Gillispie & Son Wm	Seely E
Hanfield Phebe	Simpson Mrs Emily
Harben Jasper L	Sparks Louisa
Henley Mr	Sutphen Prime
Haney M A	Sumbom Roy
Hyatt Mrs Jennie	Truman Mrs W N
Hankerson A	Vail Ralph L
Jeroin Mrs	Washington Louisa
Jennings Annie	Wendell David
Jonrs Lewis	Williams C H
James Miss Ollie	Wells Lee
King James	Ward Ogle
Kimball Miss J	Watkins Mrs Florence
McDoland Mrs	Willoughby H
Michel Mr	Young Rev Dr W C

Hot Rolls

of carpet. Quite an accident happened to us while carrying carpets to our carpet department, 5 rolls tumbled down a flight of stairs; nothing broke but the prices and we are happy to say they broke in half. Not a piece of carpet have we forgot to mark down. If ever you had a chance to buy carpets cheap, this is one that you should grasp. A bare floor is as bad as a bare head. These are only a few of our many specials.

53c..Brussels carpet handsome patterns..53c
60c.....Brussels carpet worth 85c.....60c
29c.....Ingrain carpet worth 45c.....29c

Mattings

15 rolls of 17c matting 12½—by roll 10c.
13 " 20c " 15c " 15c.
10 " 35c " 25c " 20c.

Oil Cloths

In this line we have the best selection and lowest prices of any house in the city.

Ladies' Separate Skirts

Crepon skirts $1 25—worth $6
Black serge skirts $3 75—worth $5
Cloth skirts, all sizes, $2 49, worth $3 50
Just received an elegant line of Spring Capes in black, blue and tan at $1.25. This price for a short time only.

Infants' Long Robes

$1 25 will buy a $1 65 robe, nicely trimmed.
$1 45 " $2 robe, handsomely made.
$2 00 " $2 65 robe, Valenciennes lace trimming.

Calico Waists

Ladies calico waists, sizes from 32 to 44, for one week only 21c.

Capes

Cloth capes, a bargain, at $1.75; our price for one week only $1.

Dress Goods

We still lead with our goods on the top of the ladder.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET

LOSING MONEY.

You may think we are when you examine goods and prices. But we are not, neither are we making any. It's only giving you our profits for this month to make more business, to make more money in the future.

TRADE MAKERS

It takes place next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and we extend to you an invitation to come and see, to criticise or admire the many beautiful styles and designs of our spring

Millinery

Under a perfect north light you can make your own selection and such a difference in the price 30 to 50 per cent. in your favor, and no matter how many dresses you have you always want a black one. Cashmeres now 33c, were 50; serges 45 in wide 39c, former price 65; Jacquards 48c, worth 75. See our

Black Goods

How they sell! And why not? The prices are to your liking, so are the goods Crepon cloth at 6c, ducks at 5c, 30 in. percale 6c, 36 in percale at 10c, apron ginghams at 4½c That's the way we are selling

Wash Stuffs

We had about 200 of them and sold all except about 25, and we want to close out the balance. The price was $1.65, but they go for $1.29. They are

Black Fur Rugs

Fashion says they will be used more this season and such an endless variety. No matter what you want we have it, and you can rest assured that our prices are right on

Laces

Nothing the matter with them except the color. Instead of black they are a dark navy blue. Perfectly fast and good to wear, but it makes a great difference in the price. 100 boxes, 6 pair in a box, 59c box, worth $1 40 They are men's

Half-hose

You would almost think the Japs work for nothing, our prices are so low on

Matting

WHITE of Plainfield.

We have a few

Wall Pockets

odds and ends of two or three styles, in

Gilt, Enamel and Plain Frames

worth $1.25, now

89 Cents.

R. C. RAND.

140 West Front st.

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue.
Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St.,
NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan.

Fireproof and first-class in every particular Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.
The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices 9 4 y

PLAINFIELD SOUVENIR SOLID SILVER SPOONS.

COLLIER'S,

103 PARK AVENUE.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

Why Not

make the baby fat? For the thin baby is delicate, and is not half so cunning.

Give the thin baby Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites.

Scott's Emulsion is as easy a food as milk. It is much more effective in making thin babies fat, and they like it.

If all the babies that have been made fat and chubby and well by Scott's Emulsion could only tell their story to the mothers of other sickly babies!

There wouldn't be enough to go round.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.

The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS.

OFFICES—24 West Front street; 18 Park avenue Post Office Box 826.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 9t

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON,

New No. 132 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

HOW CONGRESS DIES.

SCENES OF DISGUSTING REVELRY AMID THE MAKERS OF LAWS.

A Prolonged Saturnalia, and Pandemonium Presided. Committee Rooms Are Made Bars and Disreputable Persons Join With Congressmen.

The closing scenes of every Congress are marked by incidents more or less emotional—sometimes exasperating, pathetic, disgusting.

No one who witnessed the going out of the late Congress at twelve o'clock Monday, March 4, will be likely to forget the impressive picture presented during the closing hours. It is a fact that nothing like it has been seen since the exit of the memorable body that was retired by the people on account of the "salary grab."

Congress drew its final official breath amid a wild saturnalia. Champagne flowed like water. Committee rooms become temporary brothels. Women of ill repute swarmed the corridors and sang songs in the public restaurants with inebriated Congressmen in the small hours of the morning between roll calls. Members staggered between their places and the bottle.

It was Sunday. The church bells were ringing out the usual invitation to divine worship and their silvery sounds floated upon the shimmering sunshine that bathed the nation's capital. The benign Goddess of Peace, from her snowy dome seemed to look down upon a nation and to bless and hallow it. The doors of the churches were wide open, and the streets were full of well dressed people. All business had ceased in accordance with custom and law. But these people were not going to church. If the surpliced priests, thus deserted by their congregations, could have seen what was going on beneath that stately mask of purity and peace they might have preached sermons that would have been heard from one end of the country to the other.

Congress had sat through the greater part of the night before. Congress was on its last legs, and so overburdened was it with the sudden weight of the public business that it staggered under it. In fact, some of Congress had not only staggered during the night, but had actually fallen.

And so it happened that at the very moment the church bells were merrily ringing the public business had settled down to a hard liquor basis, and the committee tables were groaning with plain Congressional drunks.

Against this attraction the churches played to poor business.

Given the holy Sabbath, the last day of Congress and wide open bars at both ends of the Capitol, and you have the foundation for any amount of excitement amusement and private instruction. On such an occasion nearly every committee room is a barroom, though its ministrations are confined to select parties of committeemen and their friends, male and female.

"I have seventy-five dozen glasses out," said Tom Murrey, the disgusted caterer of the House restaurant. "That tells the story of the committee rooms better than any words I could utter. The capacity of this House for liquor is something astonishing. I am simply and purely a head barkeeper; the restaurant end of it is nothing but a cheap lower Broadway lunch stand. I feel degraded myself and that I have unwittingly degraded a noble calling. I never kept bar before and would not accept this position again if I were offered $25,000 a year above my expenses. I might as well be a dive keeper on Sixth avenue, New York, with a pull with the police! This Congress is never hungry; it is always thirsty. It is overstocking this House with eatables to furnish more than a loaf of bread to a gallon of whiskey."

Rarely was there ever at the Capitol on closing day such a vast and variegated crowd. Men women and children; statesmen, politicians, strangers, citizens, working people, lobbyists, bums, Sunday school children, fast women, government officials, great and small; a motley concourse ten thousand strong.

The galleries are packed hours before the time set for the expiration of the recess of the night session begun a few hours previously. The corridor swarm with the populace in Sunday clothes. The rotunda presents a curious picture of an uneasy, shifting crowd, in the absence of other occupation gazing at the frescoes under the dome and criticising the historic paintings on the circular walls. Long rows of surplus expectants are coiled in the upper corridors at every gallery door.—New York Herald.

A Kindly Warning.

A little girl in Washington, in saying her prayers the other night, was told to pray for her father and mother, who are both very ill, and for one of the servants who had lost her husband. She did as instructed, and concluded her petition with these words: "And now, O God, take good care of yourself, because if anything should happen to you we would all go to pieces. Amen."

Useless.

Watts—I see that some one has invented an automatic cradle for rocking the baby. I wonder if it would be an infringement if a fellow were to get up an automatic spanking machine?

Potts—It wouldn't be an infringement, but neither would it sell. What satisfaction could an outraged parent get out of a mere machine?

Fishing Tackle.

The daughter was going over her father's fishing tackle, straightening it up for him to be ready for the spring campaign, when she came across a corkscrew.

"Why, mamma," she exclaimed, "what's this for?"

"Um!" sniffed mamma, "I guess that's a hook to catch bait with."—Detroit Free Press.

The Punishment Was Postponed.

"Katie," sternly exclaimed the little girl's father at the breakfast table, "you are too noisy! I shall certainly have to punish you."

"Well, there ain't anybody holdin' you, is there?" said Katie, with flashing eye and quivering lip.—Chicago Tribune.

When Bedtime Comes Too Soon.

The clocks don't know their A B C's,
And so they cannot spell;
But yet they count much more than I,
And seem to count quite well.

But what good so much counting does
I'd really like to know?—
Just sending people off to bed
Before they want to go.

—St. Nicholas.

AT DINNER WITH TIGERS.

The Royal Bengal Hosts Were Hungry and Their Hospitality Notions Startling.

Did you ever dine with a tiger?

That is what twelve courageous gentlemen from New York did in the wild animal house of Barnum & Bailey's circus winter quarters. And not only with a tiger for company, but two tigers, two splendid leopards, two pumas, two lions and a monster cinnamon bear and other beasts.

The table was laid for twelve in the center of the animal house, and the appearance of the guests on the outside of the high steel cage was greeted by a general chorus of growls, roars and snarls of disapproval from the four footed beasts confined in the cages beyond. At a signal the animal trainer, Weimer, slipped the bars, and into the lunch room bounded two magnificent royal Bengal tigers. They were followed by a brace of pumas, and then came a pair of sleek leopards. One of the latter, under the impression that the array of snowy linen, glasses, sandwiches and long necked bottles were for his especial repast, made just two jumps, and the second landed him in the middle of the table, amid a crash of glassware. For a few seconds he stood there, with one velvet paw on a pile of sandwiches, his eyes afire, when the voice and whip of the trainer brought him to a sense of propriety and hospitality.

Three of the party outside sat down and said they were not hungry. As soon as all the animals had been brought into the barred arena the gate was opened into a narrow vestibule and the guests who hadn't been thoroughly scared out of the show filed in, the outer gate being closed behind them with a clang that made some of them shiver.

The snarling tiger by the side of the entrance snarled savagely, and the whole outfit evidently regarded the two legged crowd hungrily and with a ert disfavor. But there was no retreat for us now; we sat down and attacked the edibles and drinkables. Before me were the fresh prints of the leopard's feet, each claw having left a rent in the tablecloth—and right glad I was that I had not been there when he was.

The animals kept up an incessant whine as if pleading for some of the good things, and when the spectacular part was over we learned for the first time that they had not been fed and that this was their dinner hour. As soon as they were safely back in their cages they were flung great masses of raw beef, which were seized with loud expressions of delight and torn savagely with tooth and claw. Had this ceremony been gone through first it is probable the lunch scene would have been lacking in participants.

There was a baby lion in the next house about as big as an ordinary cat. It was but four weeks old and took its nourishment from a bottle, such as is used with infants. After having fondled and petted the little lion to their hearts' content the party passed over to the horse barn, where Rose Wentworth, a comely young woman in panjamas and loose blouse waist, was taking her daily horseback exercise in the ring, under the management of the veteran equestrian director, O'Brien. Then there were the twenty elephants, the trained horses, intelligent pigs, and all the manifold living concomitants of the Greatest Show on Earth, all of which are being daily put through their respective paces in anticipation of the early opening.—N. Y. Herald.

The Mule and the Irishman.

A civil engineer tells this story:

One day, while overseeing a gang of men, who with mule teams were hauling loads of dirt, a friend of mine, a ventriloquist, came up and stood by my side, watching the men at work.

Presently, a mule, driven by a large, red headed and fiery tempered Irishman, balked right in front of where my friend and I were standing. The Irishman soon lost his temper and began to belabor the animal with his rawhide. Every now and then the mule would turn his head and look reproachfully at the angry Irishman, but still refused to budge an inch.

"Now, just watch the Irishman," the ventriloquist whispered in my ear.

At that moment Pat, losing all patience, gave the animal a tremendous kick in the ribs with his heavy boot.

The mule turned his head and, looking the Irishman in the face, opened his mouth.

"—— you! Don't you do that again!" The voice sounded as though it came direct from between the mule's parted lips.

The whip dropped from the Irishman's hands. For a moment he stared at the mule; and then, without uttering a word, he whirled about and bolted down the valley as fast as his rather lengthy limbs could take him.

How He Might Be of Value.

"Mr. Scrimple," said the magnate to the rising young lawyer, "I want to make use of your valuable services."

"Very well, sir," said Scrimple, as he gasped at the joyous prospect of a first brief. "What can I do for you?"

"A firm which competes with my house," replied the magnate, firmly, "is about to bring a damage suit against me, and I want you to get them to engage you as their attorney."—Chicago Record.

Psychology.

To be hypnotized is the fad of the present day, but there are other psychologic effects not less remarkable. For instance;

Waiters are tipnotized.
Lovers are lipnotized.
Criminals are skipnotized.
Poker players are chipnotized.
The Chinese are whipnotized.
Frivolous folk are flipnotized.
A great many people are gripnotized.
Coupons are clipnotized.
Drinkers are nipnotized.
Bathers are stripnotized. And so on as far as you please.—Detroit Free Press.

The Retort Courteous.

A chubby faced little urchin passed his conceited instructor upon the street without bowing. The schoolmaster stopped and frowned.

"What has become of your manners, sir?" he roared. "It seems to me you are better fed than taught."

"Yes, sir," replied the little boy. "That's because you teaches me, but I feeds myself, sir."—Harper's Young People.

A Man With a Record.

"What has your representative done since he's been in Congress?"

"What's he done?"

"Yes."

"Built two houses, paid off a mortgage and opened a grocery store!"—Atlanta Constitution.

An agreeable Laxative and NERVE TONIC. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO HO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U.S.A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will cure YOU. If [illegible] 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00.

Sold by all druggists. 8 14 y

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,667 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " "
4,925 feet 10 " "
60,605 feet 8 " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
179 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 25 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.26 p.m—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00, 9.06, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 06, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 27 p. m., week-days

For Newark and New York—8 02, 8 36, 8 46, 9 17, 9 45, 10 20, 10 38, 10 40 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 12, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 45, 3 27, 3 47, 4 42, 5 15, 5 36, 5 48, 6 06, 6 27, 6 48, 8 06, 7 07, 7 25, 7 59, 8 . 4. 9 10, 9 50, 10 02, 11 03 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 8 02, 8 36, 7 56, 8 45, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 36, 1 44, 2 28, 2 46, 3 45, 4 32, 5 34, 5 48, 7 06, 7 12, 7 25, 7 38, 8 30 9 18, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—3 00, 6 07, 7 19, 9 06, 9 36, 11 48, a. m., 1 06, 1 37, 2 32, 5 06, 6 26, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 p. m. Sundays at 1 00, 6 07, 9 06, 9 36, 10 41 a. m., 8 40, 9 47, 7 47 and 9 41 p. m.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY—

(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 59 a. m.

Cape May and Sea Isle City at 8 00 a. m. and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Delaware—3, 7 43 daily ex. Monday, 4 06, 6 44, 7 10, 7 39, 9 34, 9 46, 9 50, 10 06, 11 46 a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 1 37, 2 46, 3 20, 3 29, 3 39, 4 32, 4 52, 5 22, 5 40, 6, 6 06 6 12, 6 17, 6 27, 6 46, 6 52, 6 59, 7 20, 7 46, 9 14, 9 35, 9 54, 11 02 11 45 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 1, 3 43, 6 06, 7 43, 9 46, 10 26, 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 52, 1 50, 2 47, 3 29, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 07, 7 10, 7 39, 9 05 9 56, 9 00, 11 43 a. m., 12 38, 1 27, 2 46, 3 39, 4 28, 5 06, 5 40, 6 06, 6 46, 7 46, 9 09 and 12 09 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 39, 9 06, 9 26 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 3 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39 a m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 07 7 20 9 34 p m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 26, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39, 12 46 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 36 9 34 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 26, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 38, 2 43 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 06, 5 57, 7 10, 7 39 9 05, 9 26, 11 43 A. M.; 1 05, 1 37, 2 43, 5 08, 6 06, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 6 07, 9 06 9 36, 10 41 A. M., 5 40, 6 07, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 39 A. M., 2 43 and 6.36 p. m., and 5.40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 39 A. M.; 2 43 P. M.

For Freehold—7 39, 11 43 a. m., 4 36, 5 08 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 43 a. m., 4 36 and 5 08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 19 5 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 28 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.

For Boston—8 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn N.Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 30, 7 20, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 20 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 20, 4 00 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40, 7 00, 7 20, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 50 p. m., 12 10 night Sundays, 1 00 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 20, 5 00, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30 9 30, 10 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

P. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass Agent.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 5, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 8 26 y

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 24 y

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St

H. E Gayle, No. 18 Vine St.

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 1-21-12

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating of all shingles, 8 25 y

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

H. H. McCullough, Proprietor

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-11-

C. W. LINES,

Mason and Builder.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence—218 Liberty street

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 6t

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 t

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 3 57, 5 32, 6 00, 7 30, 6 in 7 10, 7 30, 7 56, 8, 8 15, 9 27, 9 51, 9 46, 9 52, 10 05, 10 in 11 19, A. M., 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 3 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 6 54, 7 05, 8 30, 9 22, 10 27, 11 in P. M. Sunday—2 14, 3 57, 8 00, 5 01, 8 52, 10 06, 11 in 11 28 A. M., 12 38, 1 45, 2 30, 5 38, 7 11, 8 32, 8 33, 10 17 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 30, 6 00, 7 15, 8, 8 40, 9 10, 10, 11 45, A. M., 1 10, 1 2 30, 3 30, 4 45, 4, 4 30, 5, 5 15, except Saturday, 5 00 6 45, 6, 6 15, 6 50, 7, 7 30, 8, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00 P. M 12 15, 1, night, Sunday—4 30, 7 15, 9 00, 9 15, A. M., 12 M., 1, 2 15, 5 30, 7, 9 00, 10 00 P. M., 12 15 night. 1 A M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5 30, 6 20, 6 52, 7 26, 7 52, 8, 8 44 9 22, 10 04, 10 37, A. M., 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 30, 5 04, 6 04, 7 02, 8 30, 10 17 11 28 P. M. Sunday—8 01, 8 51, 10 02, 11 22, A. M 12 38, 1 45, 2 30, 5 38, 7 11, 8 32, 8 32, 10 17 P. M.

Leave Newark 6 15, 7 12, 7 55, 8 59, 9 06, 10 03 11 30 A. M., 1 12, 1 35, 2 30 Saturday only, 2 50, 3 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 38, 8 10 03, 11 25 P. M. Sunday—7 30, 8 44, 9 35, 11 A. M., 1 10, 2 38, 5 10, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth both.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 7 10, 9 16, 9 54, 11 a.m., 12 2 00, 2 52, 3 45, 4 26, 5 05, 5 14, 5 54, 6 04, 6 15, 6 37, 7 5 21, 10 26, 11 23 P. M. 2 26 night Sunday—8 45, 9 2 M., A.M., 2 00, 3 20, 6 14, 6 55, 10 16, 11 14 P.M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 30, 7 00, 7 26, 7 36, 7 45, 8 20, 9 00, 9 45, 11 40 A. M., 12 57, 1 45, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 5 25, 6 05, 6 47, 8 45, 11 05, P. M. Sunday 6 25, 9 45, 10 55 A. M., 12 05, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 02, 8 05, 9 40 P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 8 16, 9 54, A.M., 12 45, 3 05, 5 14, 7 26, 9 21 P. M. Sunday—8 45, 9 26 A. M., 3 05, 6 35, P. M.

Leave Easton 6 05, 7 00, 8 50, A.M., 12 52, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sundays—7 15, 10 32, A. M. 6 40, 7 30, P. M

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p. m

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

5 40 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk Williamsport and Tamaqua,

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 56 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, East Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Nanticoke, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 05 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

5 16 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 30 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

8 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

6 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 28 a m. Sundays for Easton, 2 00 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 5.35 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 27 a. m. 1 18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 8 27, 8, 10 27, a. m 1.18, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 9 52, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 27, 8, 10 27 a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 7 05 p.m. Sunday—8 45, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 27, 8, 10 27 a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, p.m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 45, 8 48 9 48, 10 45, a. m., 2 08*, 5 34* 6 48 8 21, 9 37* p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—5 45, 9 48, a. m., 2 08*, 5 14*, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 5 45, 8 44, 9 40*, 10 45, a. m., 12 45 2 08*, 5 34*, 6 38*, 8 21, 9 37* p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday—5 45, 9 34, a. m., 2 08*, 5 14* 6 38 p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9 48, a. m. 2 08, 5 34* 6 45 p. m. 1 12, night. Sundays—9 48 a. m., 2 08, 5 14* 6 45 p.m. 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 34 p m. Sundays 5 14 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 6 22 p. m. Sundays 6 35 p. m

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA,

Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 20, 9 50, 11 35 a.m., 1 30 3 50 5 15, 6 04, 9 58, p.m. 12 10, night.

Sundays—4 10, 8 20, 9 50, 12 35 a. m., 3 50, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—3 58, 7 58, 9 21, 11 19, a m. 3 20, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—3 58, 7 58, 12 19 p m, 3 20, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 58, 9 06, 10 25, a.m. 12 15* 2 10, 4 20*, 5 54 9 0 p.m Sundays—1 00, 4 58, 9 06, 10 27 a. m. 1 15*, 4 12 6 45*, 9 05 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H P. BALDWIN. Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address

MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Nearly 100,000 Now in Use.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO

EASY TERMS, — EXCHANGED.

Catalogue mailed on application.

110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N.Y

MONEY LOANED.

Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1122 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 3m

E. H. HOLMES.

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD,

YARD—No. 1208 Madison Avenue. Also

Office for coal orders with Wickham & Buckle 145 North avenue.

NAPOLEON

Monographs on the Man of Destiny

A Series of Original and Interesting Studies

—BY—

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH

THE HISTORIAN

Read Them in This Paper

They Are Published Saturdays.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 3,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 189 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 24. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, Clean and Unclean.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Lev. xi; Eack. xxiv, 26.

Much stress is laid in the Mosaic law upon cleanness, actual and ceremonial. Many of the rules were necessary as sanitary measures in a camp such as that of the Hebrews during their wilderness life. Others were of wider application as health measures in all communities and times. Still others were largely if not wholly ritualistic and symbolical. The great lesson constantly impressed upon them by their lawgiver was: Ye are a peculiar people, a pure nation, a holy community. Cleanliness of body, garments, food, conversation and dealings with others were ever to be reminders of the duty to be pure in heart, because God is good and pure and holy. Oftentimes the inner soul condition was forgotten in undue anxiety about external bodily conditions. Bodily exercise, afflictions and fastings took the place of penitence and contrition of spirit. Many incidents in the gospel narratives show how deeply rooted in the thoughts and habits of the people were the distinctions between clean and unclean things.

Peter's vision on the house top of Simon, the tanner of Jaffa, and his dissembling at Antioch years subsequently in regard to eating with gentiles are indications of the almost slavish observance of ritualistic distinctions even among the Christian Jews. Under such circumstances the teachings of Paul to the Galations must have seemed to many, as Peter says, "hard to be understood." And yet he clearly, in his letter to the Romans, lays down the true principle, which he emphasizes in those to the Corinthians, "There is nothing unclean of itself, but to him that esteemeth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean."

It is the truth, as Jesus himself taught—not that which goeth into a man defileth him, but the words and acts which express the condition of the inner man are the things which defile.

Our Connectionalism.

One has pride in his native state, but every true American has a deeper fervor of patriotism regarding the United States than he has toward his own commonwealth. So with Methodists. Our worldwide connectionalism is a fact of profound significance. When in a single issue of one of our church papers we trace the movements of our bishops and secretaries of benevolent societies in widely separated lands we realize to some extent how our work has expanded, and as our prayers and gifts are poured out to assist the extension of the kingdom we take deeper interest in tracing the progress. Bishop Fitzgerald is in South America. With Dr. Drees he visits Peru and Chile, and crossing the Andes will also visit Buenos Ayres, Uruguay and Paraguay and Brazil. Bishop Ninde is in China pushing toward the interior. In May Bishop Walden sails for Japan and China via Honolulu, where he will stop to inspect our newly established mission.

Temperance Effort.

The Endeavor societies are giving much attention to this line of work and to the cultivation of patriotism. It is well for us to remember the high professions of our church in temperance matters and not let the utterances of the discipline become merely official sentiments. Earnest, aggressive work is needed. In many of our communities the Leagues hold it in their power, united with the young people's societies of the other churches, to create public sentiment and secure the banishment of the saloon. Is not such effort directly in the line of Christian advancement? Temperance work should receive renewed attention.

Self Made.

In a certain sense all who amount to anything in this world are self made. Each must use his own faculties, and by using develop them, else they remain forever in embryo. One must "look up" for himself until he catches sight of the ideal revealed only to his own inner eye. Then must he "lift up" all his powers of spirit and body to make real that which his artist prophet soul has seen in vision. Yet no one can truly make himself what he should be except he helps make others as they should be and in turn is helped by others to be what he should become.

Practical Fraternity.

Whether organic reunion of the several branches of American Methodism come soon or linger later, practical fellowship is demonstrated when Dr. Carman of Canada gives the address at the New England convention, and Dr. Schell gives an address at the great Canadian convention, and Dr. S. A. Steel of Nashville gives an address at the New Jersey state convention. The League will demonstrate the oneness of the Christian spirit possessing our Methodism. All the rest that is desirable will come in God's time.

Think of It.

A true Christian never grumbles.

If you know a man is wrong, your duty is to tell him of it and not his neighbor.

To do God's will is the first obligation of every soul and should be the supreme business of every life.

The performance of Christian duty should be like a carriage wheel rather than a grindstone. Both have motion enough, but only one has progress.

The best way to avoid being crushed by your own burdens is to help some other one bear his.

Some things seem made purely for ornament, but a Christian doesn't come into that class.

Vinegar and mustard are valuable in their places, but sour or fiery Christians are of no use anywhere.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 24. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Pure thoughts, pure words, pure deeds.—Math. xxiii, 25-28; Ps. li, 6-10. (A temperance topic.)

The life of a man is made up of his thoughts, words and deeds. These are not separate and distinct one from another, but are necessarily interdependent, and each expresses to a greater or less extent the character of the other. To have a true, noble and pure life, therefore, these three attributes of the life must each possess these characteristics.

There must necessarily be pure thoughts, words and deeds if the person be pure. The thoughts cannot be impure and the life pure. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit nor an evil tree good fruit." The stream must partake of the qualities of the fountain in which it has its source. There may be an attempt to have the outward life have the appearance of purity when impurity abides within. Many like the Pharisees try to "make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess." But God knows the heart as well as the words and the outward life, and any attempt to deceive Him is a miserable failure, and He will bring all who thus try to deceive Him into judgment.

Purity of thought is the great necessity to purity of words and deeds. Sin is first conceived in the heart. Then it is expressed in words, and at the last manifests itself in deeds. When David had repented of his sin and desired once more to be upright before God, he did well to pray, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." The heart needed first of all to be cleansed before the life could be what he desired. As with David, so it is with all. If the life has been sinful and we have repented of our sin, we should ask God first of all to renew our hearts. If the heart is right with God, the words and deeds of the life will also be right with him.

It is well to remember also that God demands and expects entire purity—purity in the heart, in the speech and in the behavior. In fact, he will be satisfied with nothing short of this. In the days of Noah "God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually," and He destroyed the world because of its sinfulness. Time and again Christ denounced the Pharisees for their hypocrisy—for making a show of godliness when the heart was wrong. As with the thoughts, so it is with our words and deeds.

But how may the heart be pure so that the words and deeds may be pure? There is but one way. God alone can purify the heart. If He purges us, we shall be clean; if He washes us, we shall be white as snow. Resolutions, reformation will not cleanse the heart. God only can do that.

Bible Readings.—Gen. vi, 5-7; Ps. xv, 1, 2; xxiv, 3, 4; xix, 14; Isa. xxxiii, 15, 16; Jer. xvii, 9; Mal. iii, 3; Eccl. v, 2; Math. v, 8; Mark vii, 20-23; Acts xv, 7-9; Eph. v, 1-5; Phil. iv, 8, 9; I Tim. v, 22; I Pet. i, 15, 16.

The Spirit of Endeavor.

Our brethren in the antipodes fully understand the genius of the Christian Endeavor Society, says The Golden Rule. How better could a vital principle of organization be stated than in the following words, delivered before a meeting of the New South Wales union? "The pre-eminent test of our Endeavor is service. Pledged to serve; pledged to serve God; pledged to serve Christ; pledged to serve truth. Blazon it on every banner; weave it in every fiber of your national life; write it in living deeds. Serve, serve. We are among you as those who serve."

Fact Beats Theory.

Opposers of the Christian Endeavor society may cry out against the wickedness of organizing any society not specially provided for by name in the New Testament, but the fact remains that the Christian Endeavor idea has enlisted in Christian work thousands of young men and women who formerly stood idle, and, as you may have noticed, whenever a fact runs up against a theory, the theory has to be laid by for repairs.—Young People's Weekly.

Our Gifts Multiplied.

The beautiful law of Christian love, life and truth is that the more we give of our own capital the more that capital increases. The widow's cruse of oil and barrel of meal increased as she distributed them, and a Christian's sunshine and happiness, faith and hope will be invigorated and multiplied in proportion as he tries to make others hopeful, trustful and happy.—John Cumming.

Christian Endeavor Briefs.

A Young People's church in Los Angeles is the aim of the societies among the United Brethren in Christ.

The Juniors of the Point St. Charles Congregational society of Montreal are frequently taken in delegations to visit the sick and poor of the city by the district Bible women. Then the Juniors report their experiences to the society.

They who count themselves too holy to do common work in the Master's kingdom ought to be disrobed in disgrace.

An office for the sale of Christian Endeavor literature has been opened in Sydney.

A good name for the Christian Endeavor pledge is "Our Touchstone."

If your pastor appreciates your society and has words of commendation for its excellences, and advice for its perplexities, and help in its needs, is it any more than right for your society members to appreciate your pastor, praise his good qualities and help him in every possible way?

During the year 1894 the Fourth Presbyterian society of Syracuse gave $132.05 to the cause of missions.

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10¾c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE.

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

L Y H A O E I T S U O R E T M I R E S O P U B C F T R A P T

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; second if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts,
Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

THE SECOND PROMISE

By HOWARD FIELDING

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller]

CHAPTER IV.

AN INSTRUCTIVE EPISODE.

Under the influence of strong emotion even a very ordinary fellow like Walter Carroll can talk well. He is always at the disadvantage in comparison with such a man as Chase that he has not studied his story in advance and has probably rehearsed it with not more than one or two other women. Yet, if his heart is right, he can get along fairly.

Carroll threw conventionality to the winds, and he talked the queen's English to Amy Lynde till she believed him in spite of the fact that he was telling the truth. He painted a portrait of Chase that would not have flattered him even as he looked at that moment, crawling out of the water—in evening dress, by the way—a quarter of a mile up the beach.

The upshot of it was that Mrs. Lynde became very angry with Carroll, and assured him that he baselessly maligned her character and totally misconstrued her motives. But since he was determined to make trouble, and see a scandal in a perfectly innocent friendship—when he himself had persecuted her with his attentions most shamefully—why, such being the case, she would leave Crescent Beach next day, which was just what Carroll wanted her to do.

In her heart, though she did not forgive Carroll, she bitterly accused herself. She was also quite severe upon Chase, whose cowardly disappearance from the appointed place she was unable to understand—for of course Carroll did not tell her that he had thrown the fellow overboard.

Alone in her room, she re-read her husband's letters. He had written at first in good spirits. The "cold-blooded German scientist" had seemed to throw the first light upon the mystery of his illness. Then came a letter in which Arthur wrote that the treatment had failed; it might succeed in prolonging his existence, but he would be only a cripple at the best. After that there were no allusions to his health. He wrote only of her. She had failed to understand what he had said. At one time he seemed to be covertly urging her to the very course which she felt to be dangerous; again he pleaded for her love, though he had only a soul with which to love her. On the whole, he had not strengthened his case with these letters. She did not comprehend the language of suffering, having never suffered greatly, either in body or mind. After reading the letters she felt a strong disinclination to return to her husband. She knew that she could not tell him all the truth. She would have preferred to be alone.

The next day Carroll did a really clever thing. He lied to a young woman of his acquaintance in such a way that she was led to repeat it to Chase, who was thereby entirely deceived about Mrs. Lynde, and permitted her to leave Crescent Beach without exchanging a word with him. She took the train with the intention of returning to Brooklyn, but changed her mind when she reached New York; and, without seeing her husband, she fled to an old school friend who had married a rustic in the wilds of northern New York. From that place she wrote to her husband, telling him that she was weary of everything in the world and wished to be alone. He replied, in due course, that she had doubtless chosen wisely. As for her coming home, the scientist had turned the house upside down, and had invented sanitary conditions which no well person could live in. She would better make up her mind to remain away at least a month.

The days slipped by. Amy lived the most monotonous life that she had ever known, and had a great deal to say about fate in her confidential talks with her friend. Nobody knew what had become of her. The celebrated Tascott did not accomplish a more mysterious disappearance. Chase and Carroll had returned to Brooklyn, and there had been no collision between them. The latter was satisfied and the former was biding his time. Chase had by no means given up the game. He was using his best endeavors to find out where Mrs. Lynde had gone. Meanwhile Carroll, equally ignorant, amused himself by throwing false information in Chase's way, and succeeded in causing Chase to make a large number of unnecessary journeys.

In every letter which Amy received from her husband there was some excuse to delay her return. When at last she had determined to go, her friend fell very ill, and Amy could not desert her. For a month or more she worked harder than ever before in her life, and she was sainted in that household ever afterwards.

At last her release came. She was going home. Her husband had written that he could bear her absence no longer, and she had replied with words of affection that she would not delay. But she did not look forward to her return with pleasure. She had worn herself out in a sick room, and she was about to enter another. There is in healthy people an instinctive protest against disease. It is so truly an instinct and so far from reason that it very frequently includes the sufferer in its condemnation, and visits a sort of blame upon him for his misfortune. Amy felt this unjust sentiment toward her husband though she fought against it. If David Chase had known of this, he would have regarded it as most favorable.

On the day when Amy left her friend's house she received this telegram:

"I have found you out. And I must see you. Meet me in Albany on your way back. My husband and I will be at the Delavan.

"ISABEL MASON."

It did not strike Amy as peculiar that Mrs. Mason had learned of her whereabouts and of her intended return. Doubtless she had obtained the information directly from Dr. Lynde.

It was late in the afternoon when she arrived in Albany. She had decided to take a night train for New York, and there was time to call at the Delavan. From the parlor of the hotel she sent her card to the Masons, and a servant immediately showed her to a suite. She knocked, and entered. The door closed quickly behind her, and there was David Chase with his back against it.

What arguments he found to justify his preposterous conduct, must be left to the imagination. Certainly he had never done better in his life. At first Amy was so utterly astounded that she was bereft even of the power to scream. And then she was utterly carried away by the flow of his eloquence. He protested by every false oath in the book of lies, that his sole thought was for her good. He had something of the gravest importance to tell her, and he had taken this desperate means of intercepting her before she reached her home. With the utmost cleverness he piqued her curiosity, and delayed to satisfy it. She was ashamed and afraid to raise an outcry, and there stood Chase before the door talking incessantly.

They were in a little parlor; it was scarcely worse, he urged, than meeting in the public parlor of the hotel. And in an instant he hurried from that subject to tell her of the murderous assault committed upon him by Carroll who, in that version of the story, had clandestinely stolen upon him, and pushed him into the dangerous current of the bay, with the design, of course, of taking his place in the rendezvous. He made it look like sheer murder, and Amy was horrified.

She had delayed too long. Before she was aware of it, Chase was on his knees protesting undying love, and a devotion which no suffering could measure and no peril check. He realized the hopelessness of it, and he was taking the only means that the experienced of the race had discovered to cure his wound. He was going to leave her forever. His exile had begun. He was even then on his way westward, beyond the limits of the continent, to a land on which the sun, which had set for them, was rising even as he spoke. Could she deny him a last word, or be unforgiving if he had gained the opportunity of speaking it, by a bold and desperate stroke?

There is no lie that, when properly presented, is beyond the credence of woman. And rarely has that old and extra durable falsehood been better told that it was then. Amy believed that he was really going to do as he said; that she was looking her last upon him; that his sufferings were real; that they would eventually be the death of him in some remote quarter of the globe, to which his heroic resolution to forsake forbidden fruit should have exiled him. That is the pity which really is akin to love. Without a thought of any outcome of the situation but a tragical farewell, Amy listened to him, and replied with words of sympathy. But she retained sufficient sense to bid him instantly permit her to leave that room. Elsewhere she would speak with him as his unhappiness merited.

THE DOOR CLOSED BEHIND HER.

How long he would have staved off obedience to the command, and whether his eloquence would have been equal to the unfolding of the remainder of the well-known story, is a problem impossible of solution, for just as he had come to that part of it which introduces the possibility of return—that familiar promise to brave a thousand deaths if ever she should need and summon him—he was interrupted by a strange and hideous sound.

It was low at first—a sort of shuddering murmur that ran through the vast hostelry; the sound of a cry far off and muffled by closed doors; a clamor rising from the street; and so, at length, the articulate name of deadly peril—fire! fire!

Chase got upon his feet, and at first he was inclined to congratulate himself. There could be little danger. Here was a chance to prove that he was a real hero.

"Don't be frightened," he said. "Come."

He took her hand and led her to the door. She was white as marble and scarcely able to stand. The instant that that cry had fallen upon her ears she saw a judgment in it. She had listened to this man, had pitied and almost loved him, and for her sin she had been called to meet the most horrible of deaths.

Chase opened the door. The corridor looked just as it had when he had seen it last. There was a sound of hurrying feet, but for the moment no person was visible. They were in an angle, and the main exit could not be seen. He advanced calmly, leading her.

And then in an instant, as if with the discharge of a cannon, there came a puff of smoke, filling the corridor. He dropped her hand and ran ahead, calling to her. At the junction of that hall with the larger one he paused. The smoke was already so thick that, looking back, he could hardly see her groping after him.

Terror seized him by the throat. The voice with which he called to her was hoarse and choked. He heard her cry: "Save me! Save me!" Then she fell at his feet. He tried to lift her in his arms, but it is only in romance that slender young men, with no air but only smoke in their lungs, pick up robust young women and run away with them.

He stumbled and fell. She clung to him. He heard her speaking fast and wildly, in hysterical terror.

"You have tried to kill my soul," she said. "Save me from bodily death, and we may both be forgiven."

Her hands clutched him. How much he would have given, so short awhile before, for that embrace! He opened his mouth to speak. It was the last effort of his expiring courage. A puff of hot and acrid smoke struck him full in the face. He was strangling.

HE WRENCHED HIMSELF FREE

The man was gone: only the brute remained.

"Let me go!" he yelled, hoarsely. "I won't die like this for such a woman as you are!"

He wrenched himself free, leaving his coat in her hands, and went plunging through the smoke. She heard him fall heavily on the stairs. She dared not follow him.

A sort of resignation came to her. She flung herself prone on the floor with no thought of further effort. But there was pure air down there. One full breath of it in her lungs, and the love of life came back.

She sprang to her feet. She reached the stairs and got a hand upon the banister rail. She reached the foot of the stairs without falling. It was very dark.

Suddenly she felt a rush of hot air. A lurid light cleft the smoke and struck straight into her face. She was blinded by it.

Then a voice cried:

"There she is! Thank God! Thank God!"

It was Walter Carroll's voice. She felt herself seized by powerful hands. Then consciousness deserted her.

[TO BE CONCLUDED.]

Neal Dow's Ninety-first Birthday.

Portland, Me., March 21.—General Neal Dow celebrated his ninety-first birthday yesterday. He had many callers and received telegrams of congratulation from friends all over the country.

Infantry for Cuba.

Havana, March 21.—The steamer Alfonso XIII. has arrived at Guantanamo with two battalions of infantry which were embarked at Barcelona.

Woman's Suffrage Rejected.

Augusta, Me., March 21.—In the senate the woman's suffrage bill, which has passed the house, was rejected by a vote of 11 to 15.

Brooklyn, 12; Pittsburg, 5.

Savannah, Ga., March 21.—Pittsburg 5; Brooklyn, 12.

—G. Thorn, the photographer, was taking a flash-light interior view of Estil's bookstore last night, for an illustration in the Daily Press Souvenir Book of Plainfield, when the flaming magnesium ran over on his hand and inflicted most painful burns. It was the first accident he has ever experienced.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper.

1 21 tf-c

DIRECTIONS for using

CATARRH

CREAM BALM

Apply a particle of the Balm well up into the nostrils. After a moment draw a strong breath through the nose. Use three times a day, after meals preferred, and before retiring.

ELY'S CREAM BALM opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Price 50c at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.

COLD IN HEAD

BAMBERGER'S

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in

Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts

will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes

in all styles of cloths, in silks in velvets, in velours, in moire in lacee effects and crepons

$1.98 to $27.50

NEW

Spring Jackets

in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from

$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from

49c to $7.50

NEW

Separate Skirts

of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles lined and interlined, from

$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS

The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from

98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND

House Dresses

Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from

44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c.
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

OU MAY BE HAPPY

—IN—

Hallock's Handsome Hats.

OUR $3 SHOES

are better than ever before. Better means

More reliable,
More wear,
More style.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue.

IF YOU WANT ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE

Established 1841.

The Selection of a

Carpet,

is not always an easy matter. One thing about buying here, we have plenty of stock, a wide range of patterns, and we never hurry a customer to a decision. Our salesmen are painstaking, and will gladly show you every pattern in stock if it will help you to decide. We are now exhibiting many new styles in

Royal Wilton
Bundhai Wilton
Velvets
Body Brusse's
Tapestry Brussels
and Ingrains
Also Art Squares
Oilcloths
Linoleums, Etc.

Our recent importations of

Mattings!

are larger than ever. 200 pieces of choice Chinese and Japanese from $3.75 piece upward.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET,

Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit.

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 208 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

THE PINK OF PERFECTION.

A Charming Progressive Euchre Party in the Borough.

Nine tables were filled with merry players at the progressive euchre party given by Miss Lillian A. Force at her home, 22 Duer street, last night. The parlors were a beautiful sight, decorated with a tasteful arrangement of choice cut flowers and palms, and illuminated with handsome banquet lamps. Full evening dress prevailed, and the toilettes of the fair sex were exquisite. Pink was the predominating color, and the effect was charming. The tally cards of the players were adorned with pink ribbons, and the designs were crescents and stars.

The tedium attending skilful attention to play was relieved by refreshments daintily served, and the sociability that reigned was of the cheeriest nature. After the victors were announced, and the prizes awarded, Tommy Atkins was introduced, and was a jolly entertainer till the happy gathering dispersed.

Mrs. Fred M. VanEmburgh was the winner of the first prize for the gentler sex, an elegant crystal vase of peachblow tint and gold. Miss A. DeCamp was awarded a handsome jewel case of Persian gold and enamel, second prize. For the men, J. G. McLaughlin won first prize, a silver coat-marker; and Edward O. Clark won second, a grip-marker of leather and silver.

Guests attended from Plainfield, Brooklyn, Wilmington, Somerville, Chester and Westfield, and were:

Mr and Mrs Fred M Van Emburgh, Mr and Mrs F S Cutter, Mr and Mrs W F Williams, Mr and Mrs S W Clark, Mr and Mrs F E Woodruff, Mr and Mrs R A Meeker, Mr and Mrs T H Hardy, the Misses Todd, J Van Winkle, Ernestine Smith, May Stelle, E Gillem, M Woodruff, Gertrude Volck, L DeCamp, A DeCamp, E Krymer, and L A Force, and Messrs W Gaston, W Holmes, R C Rand, F Fulton, W C Dobbins, F L C Martin, H C VanEmburgh, G W Moreton, F Howland, David Sutphen, John G McLaughlin, J. Herbert Case, Robert M Clark, and Edward O Clark.

SPECIAL VACATION.

Easter Holiday Tour to Washington, D. C., via Pennsylvania Railroad.

For the benefit of those who have been unable to take advantage of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's tours to Washington, D. C., during the Lenten season, that company has arranged a Special Easter Holiday Tour, to leave New York and Philadelphia Thursday, April 18, returning on the following Saturday.

The rates, including accommodations at Washington's best hotels, are $13 50 from New York and $11.50 from Philadelphia; proportionate rates from other points.

Detailed itinerary will be sent on application to Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

A Cent for Each Year.

Each member of the congregation of the Congregational Church received a little cheesecloth bag, yesterday, containing a slip of paper bearing the following rhyme:

This "Birthday Party" is given to you;
'Tis something novel, 'tis something new.
We send you each a little sack—
Please either send or bring it back
With as many cents as years you're old;
We promise the number shall never be told.
Kind friends will give you something to eat,
And others will furnish a musical treat.
The Ladies' Aid with greetings most hearty,
Feel sure you'll attend your own "Birthday Party".

On the other side of the paper it is stated that the "Birthday Party" will be held in the Congregational Church Friday evening, March 29, at 8.

For Public Safety.

Owing to the numerous complaints of the slippery condition of the iron girders which support the bridge over Green brook in front of French's carriage factory, the freeholders of both Somerset and Union counties have contracted to J. P. Homan to have the surface of the girders roughened by the use of a sledge-hammer and cold-chisel, thus making it safe for pedestrians. The surface of the girders was worn so smooth that they were slippery at all times.

The Way of the World.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY PRESS:—I would suggest that some of the recently paid license money be used to support the Mullin family on North avenue, as the husband and father was only recently thrown out of a local bar room after having spent all his money there.

JUSTICE.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

NEW JERSEY BRIDGE PLANS.

The Revised Ones Must Be Submitted to the Secretary of War by June 7.

Washington, March 21.—The Secretary of War has decided, upon the opinion of the Judge Advocate-General, that the general plan for the New York and New Jersey Bridge bill must be submitted to the Department by June 7 next, and that the submission of the first plan for the bridge cannot be construed as extending the time of the act.

The bridge company asked for information on this subject, it having assumed that it has one year from Dec. 12, 1894, the date of the decision of the Secretary of War approving the recommendation of the board and rejecting the plans submitted to the board, in which to file revised plans.

JERSEY BRIDGE BILL PASSED.

Lobbyists at Trenton Had Hard Work to Find a Majority in the House.

Trenton, March 21.—The House today passed the New York and New Jersey Bridge bill, about which there was so much fuss yesterday afternoon. Over night the lobbyists got to work in great force, and they had the members in line this morning.

During the roll-call it was apparent that the vote was going to be very narrow. Thirty-one votes were necessary, and by great hustling the promoters of the bill got in enough and one to spare. There were 26 against it.

The Senate passed the bill tonght without opposition.

DUNELLEN.

Mrs. Wm. Shively returned to her home yesterday after spending a few days with relatives at Bloomsbury.

Mrs. J. Bellis is entertaining her sister from Elizabeth.

Miss Ruth Fennes of Pluckamin is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Swackhamer.

An independent Borough ticket is being framed by some of the party leaders.

Music and Mirth To-Night.

Clever comedians and excellent singers will interpret "The Twentieth Century Girl" in Music Hall tonight. Elaborate scenery and fine costumes will form a perfect stage setting for the 75 people in the cast. The leading parts are played by Edwin Stevens and Miss Bettina Gerard, both well-known players. There is a great deal of bright, catchy music, and the burden of the vocalization falls on Catherine Linyard and Edith Howe, the former a well-known operatic soprano, and the latter for several years prima donna of the Carl Rosa Opera Company in England. Among other players are John T. Kelly, Al. H. Wilson, Harry Kelly, Lillian Thurgate, the sensational dancer, and other well-known entertainers.

Plainfield Should Have It.

It is very unfortunate that Physical Director MacPhie of the Y. M. C. A. and the Crescent Wheelmen are unable to come to a satisfactory agreement in regard to the use of the grounds for the proposed meet of the Y. M. C. A. State Athletic League July 27. The Wheelmen ask a price for the grounds which is deemed so high by Mr. MacPhie that it is feared Plainfield will be underbid by some other town.

From a Netherwood Correspondent.

Al. Story is getting ready for Spring planting.

The last of the Westfield revival meetings was held last night, and a number of Plainfield Methodists were there.

Mr. McCann, superintendent of the Johnston estate, is preparing his flowers for Easter blooms.

Organgrinders are around; a sure sign of Summer.

Tomorrow's Laugh.

The second presentation of the doll show will be given in the Crescent Avenue Church tomorrow afternoon at 4. A number of new features has been added, which will augment to the already ludicrous entertainment. It is expected that a large number of commuters will return on an early train for the purpose of attending the show.

Women Will Admire Them.

Boehm's Spring and millinery opening will be held next week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, at which a large array of tastefully trimmed bonnets will be displayed to the admiring women who will visit this department on these days.

—C. H. Rugg the coal merchant lost a valuable horse yesterday afternoon.

—A special prayer meeting for boys will be held in Warren Chapel tonight.

—Justice Nash is finishing off a private office for his court business in his building on Park avenue.

—Workmen from the Plainfield Gas Company made a tour of the city yesterday, inspecting the pipes leading to the gas mains, and pumping out the water that had accumulated there during the Winter.

GROCERS' BILL VETOED.

Governor Werts Says Married Women Should Not Be Liable for Home Supplies.

Trenton, March 21.—The grocers associations of New Jersey have been trying for years to get a law on the statute books making married women equally liable with their husbands for household necessaries. They claim that in many places—and especially in aristocratic suburban localities—dealers are swindled outrageously.

This year the grocers felt pleased with themselves when their bill passed both houses, but their joy was turned to sorrow today when Gov. Werts sent it back to the House with a veto.

The bill, the Governor says, overthrows the safeguards at present existing, without which the statute itself would be valueless. He calls this contradictory legislation and says it would be better to repeal the statute altogether than render it absurd and meaningless by antagonistic provisions. The means for binding the separate estate of a married woman are ample, and the proposed amendment is not germane to the statute on the subject.

The veto went over for a day.

[Grocer J. A. Smith of Plainfield, who has been in Trenton in the interest of the bill, states that enough votes are pledged to pass it over the veto.]

LATER.

The bill was passed by the House today.

SLAVE WOMAN DIES AT 116.

Born Among Soldiers of the Revolution in the Raritan Valley.

Mrs. Christie Washington, born in bondage in the Raritan Valley in 1779, when it was occupied by soldiers of the Revolution, died yesterday in Lotteryfield, a colored settlement north of Somerville.

She was married early in life to a man of the name of Holbart, who was killed in the war of the Rebellion. Her second husband, George Washington, survives her, and, although apparently an old man, he is said to be younger than the youngest of the four living children of the first marriage. The eldest of these children is 89 years old.

"Old Christie", as she was called, was a large woman. She died of rheumatism, it is said.

President Mrs. Olsson.

The twelfth annual convention of the Loyal Ladies League, Auxiliary to the G. A. R., Dept. of New Jersey, was held in this city yesterday. The convention was called to order at 10:30 a. m., with Department President Mrs. Julia A. Mackey in the chair.

At the roll call, delegates responded from New York, Brooklyn, Trenton, Caldwell and Plainfield. The session was taken up in the transaction of business relating to the general welfare of the order.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Mary S. Olsson; Senior Vice-president, Mrs. Julia H. Mackey; Junior Vice-president, Mrs. Jane A. VanSyckle; Treasurer, Miss Laura L. Brady; Chaplain, Mrs. Mary J. Cook; Advisory Council, Mrs. Sarah House, Miss Fioretta M. Cook, Mrs. Eliza A. Larew; Secretary, Mrs. Laura I Bodine.

Medical Mission Work.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Congregational Church held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church. A very interesting paper was read by Mrs. C. L. Goodrich on "The Medical Arm of the Missionary Service". She told of the necessity for the work, of the ignorance of the native physicians and their crude methods, and then of the different branches of the work; hospital work, dispensary work, house to house visitation among those who had been in the hospital and medical touring.

After the reading of the paper, Miss F. F. Clark read a letter from a woman who is engaged in medical missionary work in the East. The letter gave an excellent picture of the life of a medical missionary, and was listened to with a great deal of interest.

The Tramp Nuisance.

People who reside away from the business centre of the city, and especially along the line of the railroad, are again complaining bitterly of the tramp nuisance. Scarcely does a coal train pass through the city but it either brings in or carries out several of these indolent specimens of humanity. Barns and outhouses are made their sleeping quarters, which they evacuate early in the morning to prowl about and commit petty thefts in the neighborhood, later on calling at houses and begging food; if refused, oftentimes using insolent and threatening language to the women who answer their knock at the door.

—A. M. Griffin's plumbers finished laying the pipe and tapping the water main on Belvidere avenue, yesterday, so that the masons could begin work this morning on the foundation of A. D. Thompson's house.

A MEDDLER PUNISHED.

Dick Mead Sadly Whipped and Sent to Jail Besides.

When Richard Mead gets drunk, he imagines that he is a bruiser, and proceeds to pick a quarrel with anyone he may chance to meet in order that he may give evidence of his superiority in pugilistic accomplishments. He is usually able to pick the quarrel, sometimes to lick his man, but again oftentimes he gets whipped himself. The latter is the condition with which he met last night, and this morning his face presented a sorry-looking spectacle.

Joseph R. Reynolds, F. T. Tamney, Thomas Satchell and George W. Crafts, who are engaged in placing the sprinkler system of fire protection in the Babcock Building, were last night engaged in a friendly conversation in Hotel Grenada, concerning the militia in times of strike.

Shortly after 10, Mead came into the barroom with just enough liquor in him to make him feel ugly. He ordered a drink, and for a moment listened to the conversation, when his meddlesomeness appeared and, turning to the bartender, said:

"What's dese fellers talkin' 'bout?"

"Oh, they are having a friendly argument; that's all"—was the reply.

"Well, dat feller is got too much to say, see"—and walking over to Satchell, who had been talking to his companion in a gentlemanly manner, Mead said in an insolent tone:

"What 's dat you 're talkin' bout? Yer too fresh, young feller!"

The party paid but little attention to Mead, who then called Satchell several uncomplimentary names, and raised his fist as if to strike him.

Biff! bang! and Satchell let go several blows before Mead could recover himself, and for a minute the drunken Mead's head was like a punching bag before Satchell's fists. The fracas quieted down, and Mead left the house with a face like a piece of beefsteak.

A few minutes afterward he returned with a heavy iron wagon wrench concealed in his sleeve, and as he entered the bar room he raised the weapon to strike Satchell, who stood near the door unawares of his antagonist's approach. Before the wrench descended, however, the bystanders caught Mead's arm, and grabbed the weapon from him. After this he was battered about the room in a promiscuous way for a minute or two, until Policeman Frederickson was called, and by the time the officer arrived everything was quiet. As no one then made a complaint, and as he had not witnessed the fracas, he could make no arrests. However, he carried off the wrench, and this morning a complaint for drunkenness and fighting was entered against Mead. Judge Coddington issued a warrant, and Mead was later on arrested by Sergeant Kiely. At noon the case was called in City Court, and the evidence offered was a repetition of the above statements. Mead was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or 30 days in the county jail, the Judge adding that the penalty would be more severe only for the fact that he had already suffered severely for his meddlesome disposition. Mead went to jail.

THE BOWLING TOURNEY.

Each Team Has Four Games Still to Bowl.

Cranfords and Westfields break even in the Journal Association five-man tournament. Five times have they met in battle array, and each team has won two victories. They rolled their third and fourth games Wednesday night, with these scores: Cranford, 761; Westfield, 743. Cranford, 739; Westfield, 750.

In the city section the Alcyones twice defeated the Y. M. C. L. A. Scores: 818 to 721; 739 to 716.

The remaining schedule in the Journal Association series is as follows:

March 23,	Roselle	at	Westfield
March 25,	Y.M.C.L.A.	at	E. A. C.
March 25,	Alcyone	at	A. K. A.
March 26,	Cranford	at	Plainfield
March 28,	Roselle	at	Cranford
March 28,	Plainfield	at	Westfield
March 29,	A. K. A.	at	Y. M. C. L. A.
March 29,	E. A. C.	at	Alcyone

The record:

CITY SECTION.

Team	Won	Lost	To Play
Alcyone B. C.	6	2	4
Arthur Kulis	5	3	4
Elizabeth A. C.	3	5	4
Y.M.C.L.A.	2	6	4

COUNTY SECTION.

Team	Won	Lost	To Play
Roselle	7	1	4
Plainfield	5	3	4
Cranford	2	6	4
Westfield	2	6	4

Captain Morrell of the Elizabeth B. C. tried to get his men together Wednesday night to bowl the postponed game with Plainfield, but failed. He said yesterday that the game might be rolled next Tuesday or Wednesday night.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Lena Smalley is ill at her home on Somerset street.

Lawyer Charles L. Moffett is unimproved from his illness.

Miss Julia Sytell of Newark is visiting friends on Somerset street.

Miss Ethel Burdette of Netherwood is visiting friends in White House.

J. L. Moore has moved from Westervelt avenue to West Front street.

George H. Coleman of Long Branch was in town yesterday on business.

Harry L. Day is confined to his home on Rockview avenue with pneumonia.

Henry M. States of East George street has moved to 1314 Watchung avenue.

T. H. Kanause moved yesterday from East Front street to 167 North avenue.

J. W. VanEps and family moved from East Fifth street to the Clifton flats today.

Mrs. M. Delaney of Norwood avenue moved Wednesday to West 57th street, New York city.

J. E. Townsend of the borough went to Hudson today on a business trip, and will return Monday.

Miss Annie Hummer of High Bridge, N. Y., is visiting Miss Manola Force at her home on Summit avenue.

Ralph A. Wilson and family of Somerville have leased the house 31 Fairview avenue, and moved there yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lunger and son Harry, of White House, are stopping at the DuBois boarding-house on Park avenue.

George P. Mellick of LaGrande avenue, who recently sprained his ankle by a fall on the ice, is able to be about the house again.

Mrs. J. T. Armstrong and son Howard, of Brooklyn, are visiting Mrs. Armstrong's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Brown of East Fourth street.

Miss C. Florence Barnes of Grove street, who has been suffering with severe illness, has greatly improved, and expects to be out again in a few days.

Isaac L. Miller has greatly improved the appearance of his property on Watchung avenue by reducing the height of the hedge on the East Ninth street side.

Mrs. Isaac V. Brower, a sister to Mrs. David M. Demarest of Crescent avenue, died at her home in Millstone, Somerset County, yesterday, in the 80th year of her age.

The second paper in the series on five great humorists, being read in All Souls Church, will be furnished tonight by Miss Edith R. Leonard, whose subject will be Sydney Smith.

Thomson B. Drake, Geo. McGuinness, George M. Stewart, and Edward P. Gavin, are the North Plainfielders drawn on the Somerset County panel of petit jurors for the April term.

The North Plainfield Whist Club meet this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Whitenack, Duer street. Several prizes will be awarded to the winners and there will be the customary booby.

Charles R. Norman, manager of the lighterage department of the Tide-Water Oil Company, who has been a resident of Plainfield for the last six months, has leased the property of Counselor McClure, 326 Watchung avenue, and will occupy the same with his family about April 1.

Woman's Work.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission society of the First Baptist Church was held yesterday afternoon in the church. Mrs. Clark of Siam addressed the meeting, telling of her work in mission fields.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, also reports from the Young Ladies Missionary society and the Gold Dust Band.

The young women reported that the profit of the New England supper was about $100.

During the meeting Miss F. May Grant rendered a pleasing vocal solo, "Eye hath not seen", from "The Holy City".

After Which Plainfield Patterns.

The following appeared in the last issue of The Engineering News:

"South Framingham, Mass.—The State Board of Health has approved the plan proposed for the disposal of the underdrain water connected with the sewer system. The plan provides for a reservoir and filtration area. Eighteen acres of land have been purchased in Framingham and Natick for $1,000. The sum of $13,871 has been appropriated by the town for the work which will be commenced soon. About three months will be required to complete the job."

—The Bryant School was fumigated yesterday by the burning of 50 sulphur candles.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Board of Governors of the Crescent Wheelmen will meet tomorrow night.

—A number of Plainfield Methodists attended the last of the revival meetings in Westfield last night.

—Edward Lane last night made the highest score that has yet been bowled on the Y. M. C. A. alleys.

—That excellent story "The Second Promise" concludes in this issue. It will be succeeded by "Toxin" by Ouida.

—Miss Louie Sheppard, who was educated for the opera, will address a meeting of the Christian Alliance April 2.

—The partnership of George A. Moore and Walter N. Martin is dissolved by the withdrawal of Mr. Martin from the firm.

—Seeley Edsall will conduct the meeting of the Christian Alliance Society at 317 East Front street next Tuesday evening.

—The regular meeting of Senate lodge, No. 3543, Knights of Honor, was held last night, at which considerable business was transacted.

—A number of Plainfield bowlers will enter Taylor's annual two-men bowling tournament which starts Tuesday evening at Dunellen.

—At the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., last evening one member was received from Somerset Council, by card.

—P. L. Conde, after having his severe abscess lanced by Dr. Davis, is now much relieved from the awful pain which he endured for many days.

—John Tingley will soon remove from Dunellen to the corner of West Second street and Grant avenue, where he will establish in business.

—The horse attached to E. P. Gavin's milk wagon started to run away yesterday on East Front street, but was caught before proceeding far.

—The Earnest Workers, a band of young mission boys of the Crescent Avenue Church, held an interesting meeting in the church yesterday afternoon.

—A regular meeting of Perseverance Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will be held this evening, at which several applications for membership will be received.

—The choir of Grace P. E. Church have commenced practicing their Easter music. Rehearsals are held Tuesday and Friday of each week.

—The royal purple degree of Odd Fellowship was worked on Charles De-Graw and Frank Smith in Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, last night. This is the last degree of this fraternity.

—One adoption will be made into Miantonomoh Tribe, Red Men, at their meeting tonight. At the close of the regular order of business an entertainment and collation will be given.

—Cecil Miller, a musician in the band of Waite's Comedy Company now playing in Elizabeth, died in that city Wednesday. He was an Odd Fellow. His body will be sent home to Hamilton, Ohio.

—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held in their rooms on Watchung avenue yesterday afternoon at 3:30. A paper on "Interrogation Points" was read, after which a general discussion took place.

—S. A. Cruikshank of Belvidere avenue is macadamizing, at his own expense, about 300 feet at the extreme end of Watchung avenue, thus making a good driveway on the west side of his handsome residence, "The Sacmore".

—A special meeting of the Street Committee will be held this evening to consider the street railway extension. It is expected that matters will be arranged so as to permit the introduction in the Common Council of the ordinance to grant the franchise.

—A notice has been posted in the corridor of the postoffice announcing that sealed proposals will be received up to April 2 for carrying the United States mail between the postoffice and the North Avenue station over messenger route, No. 209,170.

—Conductor Jesse Hatfield of the street railway has received a very handsome plate to be worn on his cap. It bears the inscription "No 6 Conductor". A note accompanied the gift saying that they wanted him to accept it not for its worth but for his kindness to the traveling public, and was signed "Friends".

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

DIGGING OUT THE DEAD

Nearly All the Bodies Recovered at Red Canyon.

It Is Definitely Known That Sixty Miners Lost Their Lives—Fifty Widows and Fully 250 Orphan Children in the Camp as a Result of the Explosion.

Evenston, Wyo., March 22.—The work of recovering the bodies of the victims of the explosion at the Rocky Mountain Coal & Iron company's mine 5 at Red Canyon is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible to-day. A large force of men are at work. Nearly all of the bodies have been taken out, most of them burned beyond recognition. The company is doing everything they can for the relatives of the unfortunate miners, but the scenes at the mine are heart-rending.

Sixty Were Killed.

It is definitely known that the number killed is sixty. Many were killed on the outside by flying timber. About 150 men were employed in the mine, but most of them had gone out. The coverings at the slope were blown to atoms. All hope of rescuing any one alive was abandoned soon after the explosion occurred.

Fifty Widows; 250 Orphans.

There are fifty widows and fully 250 orphan children in the camp to-day as a result of the disaster. There is no fire in the mine and the work of recovering the dead bodies is made comparatively easy, but the task will probably not be completed to-day. A relief committee has been organized to assist the widows and children of the victims.

Some of the Killed.

The following men, all married, are known to have been killed: William Morris, John T. Clarke, James T. Clarke, William Langdon, Sr., David Lloyd, John T. Martin, George Critchleck, John Thebey, John Lester, William Dagstaff, Charles S. Clarke, James Hyden, Matt Bilte, Walter Miller, Samuel Hutchinson, Thomas Booth, Ben Coles, Samuel Bates, Thomas Hutchinson, John Dexter, Henry Burton, Samuel Halsey, Isaac Johnson, John Lamar, Angel Dermody, Baptist Julian, John Fearn, George Harley, Matt Johnson, H. A. Hybon, William Pope, John Wilkes, Charles Kaselo, Gus Kaselo, Adron Butt, William Waedop, James Hutchinson, William Sellers, Sr., Hugh Sloan and Henry Bathren.

Escape of a Boy and Horse.

A little boy who had come to the mine with a horse and buggy to take his grandfather, Henry Burton, home at the close of the day's work, was driving over the slope near its mouth on the public highway at the moment of the explosion. He and the horse and buggy were thrown almost perpendicularly in the air fully twenty-five feet and all fell in a heap into the mouth of the slope where the buggy was demolished. The boy was picked up unhurt and the horse an hour later was rescued from the first level down to which he had tumbled and was not much hurt apparently, although badly singed and stunned.

WANT OUR FRIENDSHIP.

Spanish Politicians Anxious for a Settlement of the Allianca Affair.

London, March 22.—The Central News correspondent in Madrid says: "The leading politicians here are not inclined to the idea of letting the Allianca affair result in a serious difference between Spain and the United States. The matter ought to be adjusted easily unless the United States insist upon demands injurious to Spain's dignity. Spain is most anxious to maintain the friendship of the two countries, and would even prefer to waive an over close investigation and accept the Washington view rather than risk a quarrel. Some of the leading journals argue in this spirit with a view to preventing public indignation in case the government yields to the United States."

Monmouth Park Sold.

Freehold, N. J., March 22.—Monmouth Park was sold yesterday at the court house in four parcels. Tract one, grand stand, courses and stables, 590 acres, $50,000; track two, hotel, 19¼ acres, $10,000, and tract four, 4½ acres, $2,500, sold to A. C. Monson and A. J. Cassat. Tract three, stables and 40 acres, $10,100, sold to Augustus Clasen.

Liquor Licenses in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, March 22.—The official list of liquor licenses for the cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny have just been handed down. There is an increase of 77 licenses in the two municipalities over last year. The total number granted is 504 in Pittsburg and 164 in Allegheny.

New Cotton Mill for Burlington.

Fall River, Mass., March 22.—It is reported that another cotton mill is to be erected at Burlington, Vt., and it has practically been decided to awarded the building contract to Chauncey H. Sears, of this city. Capitalists here are interested in the venture.

To Be Treasury Architect.

Washington, March 22.—Secretary Carlisle has appointed William Martin Aiken, of Cincinnati, supervising architect of the treasury to succeed Jeremiah O'Rourke, who resigned three or four months ago.

Secretary Carlisle in New York.

New York, March 22.—Secretary Carlisle is in this city. In response to a card sent to his room by a reporter, the secretary sent word that he must be excused from any interview.

In Honor of Bismarck.

Berlin, March 22.—An imperial decree orders that all German warships in the active service shall be dressed with flags on April 1, Bismarck's eightieth birthday.

Armenians Release Ordered.

Constantinople, March 22.—The sultan has ordered the release of the Armenian ecclesiastics who are imprisoned in the provinces for political offenses.

To Close Barber Shops on Sunday.

Albany, March 22.—In the senate a bill was reported favorably for closing barber shops on Sunday, except in New York city and Brooklyn.

FOLGER IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

The Commander of the Yorktown Up Before a Court of Inquiry.

Washington, March 22.—Commander Folger, of the Yorktown, on the Asiatic station, is in trouble again, according to official reports just received at the navy department. About a year ago, it will be remembered, he was reprimanded by Secretary Herbert for using excessively violent language to one of his subordinates. This time Admiral Carpenter has ordered a court of inquiry into charges made. It appears that on February 9 the commander reported Assistant Paymaster Edwin S. Webster to the admiral as having been under influence of liquor. The admiral called on the accused for his side of the case, and was informed that Commander Folger had called him into the cabin and told him that if he would withdraw a charge of disobedience he had made against the coxswain of the captain's gig he would let the matter drop. This the paymaster declined to do, and Commander Folger forwarded the report. On hearing this the admiral promptly ordered a court of inquiry into the whole transaction.

TORTURED AND ROBBED.

An Aged Couple Near Smathport, Pa., Victims of Masked Fiends.

Bradford, Pa., March 22.—Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Childs, an aged couple who live near Smathport, were robbed shortly after midnight after being tortured by four masked men. The thieves entered the house and demanded Mr. Childs' money. He refused to tell where it was hidden and the robbers struck him upon the head with a club, fracturing his skull. Mrs. Childs was seized and bound and fire applied to her feet until she told where $640 were concealed. The thieves secured the money and fled. The sheriff has a good clue to the identity of the robbers and hopes to capture them.

HER REMAINS IDENTIFIED.

The Camden Railroad Victim Was Mrs. Mary Ely of Norwich.

Camden, N. J., March 22.—The woman who was struck by a train at the Newton avenue crossing of the Camden & Atlantic railroad Tuesday afternoon and instantly killed has been identified by members of her family as Mary B. Ely, 45 years old, a wealthy resident of Norwich, Conn. She had been in Philadelphia in care of a nurse for a few days and managed to escape from her companion. Mrs. Ely was suffering from dementia and undoubtedly suddenly determined to end her life. The remains have been taken to New Haven for burial.

PEACE REIGNS AGAIN IN PERU.

After Over a Thousand Dead and Wounded Lay in the Streets.

Washington, March 22.—Mr. McKenzie, the United States minister to Peru, telegraphs the state department that after three days' fighting an armistice had been arranged between the insurgents and the government troops and that over a thousand dead and wounded were left lying in the streets of Lima. Later some sort of an agreement was reached by the bellegerents and peace was restored. A provisional government now seems to be in power.

NEGOTIATIONS BEGIN.

Li Hung Chang Meets Japan's Representatives.

Shimonoseki, March 22.—Li Hung Chang, with his suite, has left the warship on board of which he had remained since his arrival here. He is occupying quarters in the town. The negotiations between the Chinese envoys and the Japanese representatives has begun. Li Hung was violently seasick on his voyage to Shimonoseki. It was the first time in his life that he had been on rough water and it had the usual effect.

A POSITION FOR SPRINGER.

He and Kilgore Appointed Indian Judges.

Washington, March 22.—The president has made the following appointments: William M. Springer, of Illinois, judge of the United States court for the northern district of the Indian Territory. Constantine Buckley Kilgore, of Texas, judge of the United States Court of the southern district of the Indian Territory.

Postal Package Service.

New York, March 22.—Postmaster Dayton has applied for an extension of the postal package service over two routes from Ninety-sixth street to 125th street. It is estimated that 100 new boxes will be needed. The service is proving very satisfactory, and as soon as Mr. Dayton completes his plans the entire city will be covered.

Famine in Eastern Africa.

Zanzibar, March 22.—Droughts and locusts have caused widespread famine in eastern equatorial Africa. Villages have been depopulated and mission schools and churches have been closed. Many natives are selling themselves and their children into slavery to obtain food.

Pitcher Nichols Weakens.

Columbia, S. C., March 22.—Nichols, the pitcher of the Boston team who has been sulking in Kansas City demanding more money, has wired Manager Selee that he is ready to come to terms and join the team. He will probably join the team here on the 28th.

Could Not Stand Political Defeat.

Laporte, Ind., March 22.—Despondency over his defeat at the last election is said to have caused the suicide of Joseph Jackson, who shot himself here last night. He was a prominent politician and an ex-member of the Indiana legislature.

Hon. Joseph Manley Going Abroad.

New York, March 22.—Hon. Joseph H. Manley, chairman of the republican national committee, will sail for Naples from this port to-morrow, accompanied by his daughter and a party of friends of Augusta, Me.

Must Look Out for Themselves.

London, March 22.—The Morning Post is informed that Great Britain has not sent and does intend to send instructions to her agent in Honolulu regarding the conviction of British subjects tried for sedition.

King Albert Will Visit Bismarck.

Berlin, March 22.—King Albert of Saxony will go to Friedrichsruh to congratulate Prince Bismarck on his birth day.

Storm on the Mediterranean.

Toulon, March 22.—A terrific storm is raging along the coast of the Mediterranean and many disasters are feared.

FORTY TO BE SENT BACK

Diamond Cutters Headed Off at New York.

Twenty Proved To Be Contract Laborers and Twenty Were Declared Pauper Immigrants—Thirteen Men Engaged by a Cincinnati Firm Also To Be Deported.

New York, March 22.—The diamond cutters for whom the immigration authorities have been on the lookout arrived on the steamship Majestic, from Liverpool. There were 125 of them, all second cabin passengers. They were detained and sent to Ellis island suspected of being contract laborers.

Forty Will Be Deported.

Of the 125 suspects landed by the Majestic, only forty were examined. Twenty of them will be deported because they are paupers, that is they are paupers according to the reading of the immigration laws. Many of these men admitted that they had come to this country under contract with New York or Brooklyn houses. Twenty others must go back under the alien contract labor law.

Others To Go Back.

The steamer Westernland brought over on Wednesday last thirteen men who were also examined. One of the party, Francis Boesch, made affidavit to the effect that he and the other twelve men had been engaged by the firm of Coaler man, Henrich & Co., of Antwerp, to come to this country and proceed to Cincinnati, O., where they were to go to work for Coalerman, Henrich & Keck of that city. They were to receive 100 francs per week for their services. They will all be sent back in the same steamer on Wednesday

Liable to Heavy Fine.

This concern is liable to a fine of $1,000 for each of the thirteen men imported. Assistant Commissioner McSweeney said that the steamship Werkendam from Rotterdam brought over forty to fifty suspects who have not yet been examined

DIED AT THE AGE OF 115.

Mrs. Christie Washington, Colored, Passes Away Near Somerville.

Somerville, N. J., March 22.—In the little colored settlement of Lottery Field, near here, there died yesterday an old colored woman at the remarkable age of 115 years. Mrs. Christie Washington was born in bondage in the Raritan valley at the time it was occupied by Washington's forces, in 1779. She married early in life a man by the name of Holbart, who was killed in the war of the rebellion. George Washington, the husband who survives her, is apparently an old man, but is said to be younger than the youngest of her four living children by her first husband, the oldest of whom is 89 years old.

LENTEN FESTIVAL AT NICE.

A New York Girl Carries Off First Prize for Carriage Decoration.

Nice, March 22.—The mid-Lenten festival was celebrated yesterday. In the battle of flowers Queen Victoria and her party, who drove in from Cimiez, attracted more attention than all other visitors. The first prize for carriage decoration was given to Miss Van Buren, of New York, whose victoria, driven tandem, had been transformed into an enormous cornucopia filled with flowers.

CUBAN REBEL LEADERS KILLED.

Short But Brisk Fight at Solis—Arms and Ammunition Captured.

Havana, March 22.—The governor of Santiago province reports that on March 18 General Garrich started from Baire with 220 men. The troops overtook the rebels at Solis and killed five of them in a short but brisk fight. Among the dead were the rebel leaders Manuel and Pacheco and the aide-de-camp Estrada. All the arms and ammunition of the rebels were captured.

For Selling Oleomargarine.

New Haven, Conn., March 22.—In the United States court here W. W. Comstock, of New Canaan, plead guilty of selling oleomargarine without a government license and was fined $100 and $100 costs.

Armor Plate for the Texas.

Bethlehem, Pa., March 22.—A shipment of side armor plates for the battle ship Texas was made yesterday by the Bethlehem Iron company to the United States navy yard at Norfolk.

To Be Overhauled.

New London, Conn., March 22.—Torpedo boat Ericsson has been hauled out on the marine railway to undergo a general overhauling preparatory for a trial in May.

Von Werder's Successor.

Berlin, March 22.—The general opinion is that Prince Radolin, German ambassador to Turkey, will succeed General Von Werder in the St. Petersburg embassy.

Baseball in the South.

Charleston, S. C., March 22.—Washington, 4; Boston, 8.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 22.—New York Giants (regulars), 7; second team, 0.

Death of a German Editor.

New York, March 22.—Ludwig Frank, editor of the German edition of the Morning Journal, is dead at his home on East Sixty-second street.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25¢. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Emergency Hospital

Doctors and nurses realize the necessity of counteracting the effects of the "shock" which accompanies all accident and surgical cases, and which more often proves fatal than the original cause.

Animation is temporarily suspended. Something must be done to start "the wheels" going again, as it were. The stomach is in no condition to digest a sufficient amount of food to nourish the other organs of the body, so they resort to the original raw food, because the least amount of it contains the most life, strength and blood-producing qualities of anything known to medical science. It will, unaided, sustain strength for weeks, and can be retained by the Weakest Stomach.

Bovinine

Bovinine is not a medicine, but a builder of flesh and bone, and a maker of blood. For all cases of sickness, chronic invalids, infants or the aged, it is indispensable. 25,000 physicians endorse it. Sold by all druggists. The Bovinine Co., New York.

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St., NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan.

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.

The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night.

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

5-12 1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET

J. R. BEERBOWER, Proprietor

With stables attached 46

BOCK BEER

all this week at

Charles Smith's Saloon.

Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

O. B. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 87 Chatham street.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

80 BROADWAY, cor. 6th ST.

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for our coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL

in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner at short notice.

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

106 East Front Street—NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	20c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented. H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

121 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank. is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,

163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES

are surely yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 60 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

RIPANS TABULES

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 213 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

E. C. Rease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8036, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Langer, Fin. Sec. 9 26 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 142, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 19 East Front street

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
W. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 2 26 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

BACKACHE

AND BEARING-DOWN PAINS

Early Drove Mrs. Martin Hale Wild. How She Obtained Relief.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

"Nearly all last winter I was sick in bed, and was attended by different physicians; none cured me, none helped me very much. When I attempted to get up, it was always the same story; my back would ache, I was dizzy and faint, the bearing-down pains were terrible. I also had kidney trouble badly.

"I knew I must have help right away. I resolved to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The results were marvellous. I have gained in every way, and am entirely cured." — MRS. MARTIN HALE, Oakdale, Mass. Every druggist has it.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST.

FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4, $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75 BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE. W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory. They give the best value for the money. They equal custom shoes in style and fit. Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed. The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole. From $1 to $3 saved over other makes. If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

A. WILLETT & SON.

A LADY'S TOILET

Is not complete without an ideal

COMPLEXION POWDER.

POZZONI'S

Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.

Insist upon having the genuine.

IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

We have a few

Wall Pockets

odds and ends of two or three styles, in

Gilt, Enamel and Plain Frames

worth $1.25, now

89 Cents.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue. Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

JOHN BULL WILL HALT

Has No Intention of Acquiring American Territory.

Will Keep His Hands Off Nicaragua.

Latest Diplomatic Rumor Regarding the South American Affair—Washington Officials Satisfied with the Situation, It Is Understood.

Washington, March 22.—High department officials are predicting that before many days have passed the country will be treated to a diplomatic sensation which will make the present phases of the Spanish and Hawaiian incidents look small. Great Britain, they say, will not be allowed to take extreme measures against either Venezuela or Nicaragua.

England May Be Warned.

The next diplomatic stage, it was stated, of the Venezuela controversy would be embodied in a declaration on the part of this government, through Minister Bayard, to Great Britain, that the United States looks with disfavor on Great Britain's attitude toward Venezuela, and that under no circumstances will this country consent to or acknowledge the supremacy of any European power over territory in this hemisphere not already in its acknowledged and undisputed possession.

A Much Milder View.

Later developments in the situation, however, are of a character that at least temporarily sets at rest several baleful impressions that have been created by the strong ground England had taken in the demands made by her upon the South American republic. Dispatches from Ambassador Bayard at London, in response to telegrams from this government requiring him to ascertain the attitude of Great Britain in case Nicaragua should refuse to pay the indemnity demanded for the outrage upon Mr. Hatch, indicated quite clearly that whatever else might happen England will not seek to acquire American territory.

Satisfactory Assurances.

The telegram to Mr. Bayard was the result of the cabinet counsel of yesterday and the reply received to-day is regarded as very satisfactory. The full report of the dispatch from Ambassador Bayard is not forthcoming, but its purport is sufficiently indicated in the statement herein mentioned. This particular subject has been pressed by the American ambassador for some time, and it is regarded as having reached a position now satisfactory to him, and, as a matter of course, one that meets with the approval of this government.

MATAAFA WELL TREATED.

Sir Edward Grey's Answer in the House of Commons.

London, March 22.—Sir Edward Grey, parliamentary secretary to the foreign office, replying to a question in the house of commons regarding the treatment of Chief Mataafa, of Samoa, according to a recently published letter of the late Robert Louis Stevenson, said that when Mataafa yielded he was given no assurance except that his life would be spared. The cases of Chief Tamasese and Chief Mataafa, Sir Edward Grey added, were quite different. Chief Tamasese yielded peaceably on arranged terms, while Chief Mataafa yielded when in open rebellion. In conclusion Sir Edward said that according to the latest information the government had received from Samoa, Mataafa and his chiefs were well treated.

Huntington's Indictment.

San Francisco, March 22.—Dissention has arisen between United States District Attorney Foote and the United States grand jury over the indictment of C. P. Huntington, president of the Central Pacific, for issuing an interstate pass. The district attorney refuses to sanction the indictment. It is thought the grand jury will insist upon returning the indictment.

Occupied Separate Rooms.

San Jose, Cal., March 22.—The statement telegraphed from here that Marie Burroughs, the actress, and her husband had occupied the same suite of rooms at the Vendome hotel while in this city early in the week is not borne out by the hotel register, which give Miss Burroughs and Louis Massen, her husband, separate rooms.

Big Fire in Sioux City.

Sioux City, Ia., March 22.—The greatest fire in the history of this city yesterday destroyed property to the value of $400,000. It started in a pile of rubbish on the platform of the Western Transfer & Implement company's warehouse and in an hour nearly half a million dollars worth of property was in ruins.

Lane Refuses To Meet Klein.

Boston, March 21.—E. Klein, Harvard's strong man, has received an answer to the private challenge to a contest of strength which he sent to Lane, of Amherst, Friday. Lane positively refuses to meet him in any contest whatever. Klein is now thinking of challenging Nash, of Tufts.

Tartar Brigands Defeated.

Tiflis, March 22.—A band of Tartar brigands recently sacked the railroad station at Udshava. They were pursued by Cossacks, and a regular fight followed. The result was a defeat of the brigands, of whom five, including two leaders, were killed.

She Wants $15,000 Damages.

Warren, O., March 22.—A sensation was created here when it became known that Miss Jennie Leeworthy had filed a suit for $15,000 damages against Byron Sidells for alleged breach of promise of marriage. The parties to the suit are widely known.

Stephen Van Rensselaer Cooper Dead

New York, March 22.—Stephen Van Rensselaer Cooper, an old and prominent lawyer of New York, is dead at his home in this city from heart failure.

To Erect a New County.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 22.—Commissioners have been appointed to survey the proposed new county of Grow to be erected out of a portion of Luzerne county.

Western Brewer Fined.

Washington, March 22.—Secretary Carlisle fined Jacob Dobmeirer of Nebraska $1,000 for removing and selling beer without paying the tax.

MURAGUA UPHELD.

His Government Refused to Accept His Letter of Resignation.

Washington, March 22.—Senor E. De Muragua, the Spanish minister to the United States, was seen this morning in regard to a cablegram from Madrid, stating that he had cabled his resignation and the Spanish minister of foreign affairs refused to accept it. "It is true," said the minister, "but I will have to decline to discuss the matter at this time." From reliable source, it is learned that the Spanish minister sent in his resignation because of comments in some of the newspapers of Havana, criticising his course with regard to the present insurrection in Cuba. This person, speaking of the matter, said: "The minister was very sensitive as to the criticisms in view of the fact that he had been zealously working to further the interests of his government throughout the whole Cuban troubles. He felt that in view of the criticism, his government was not altogether satisfied with his course, which, it is said, has also been misrepresented by some American newspapers. The minister himself comments severely on the way he has been misquoted by several journals of this country. His resignation was consequently sent in on March 14, and the reply he received from the Spanish minister for foreign affairs was such as to completely vindicate his position. As it was not accepted, the minister will, of course, withdraw it."

JAPANESE TREATY.

Uncle Sam the First To Recognize Japan's Remarkable Progress.

Washington, March 22.—Of most immediate importance in the Japanese treaty just ratified is the protocal providing that on April 20 next the import tariff now in operation in Japan affecting American goods shall cease to be binding, and Japanese autonomy in customs duties shall be complete. The treaty itself with the long sought Japanese judicial control over foreigners is not effective until July 17, 1899, but the great principle of recognizing Japan's supreme right as a modern civilized nation to control its domestic affairs relating to imports for which the United States has contended for over ten years is made immediately operative. The United States is the first nation to make this recognition of Japan's remarkable progress towards civilization.

ANOTHER FAIR HEIR.

Now Stated That a Little Granddaughter Has Been Discovered.

San Francisco, March 22.—The statement was made in a newspaper that a grand-daughter of the late James G. Fair had been discovered and that she may play an important part in the litigation over the late millionaire's estate. The child is about 5 years old and is the daughter of James Fair, the eldest son, and Mary Ellen Lampman. It is asserted the wedding took place in 1888. The child was left at an orphan asylum and was adopted by Mrs. Charles Gregory. It is believed that the knowledge that this child was in existence impelled the ex-senator to insert in his will a clause giving $50,000 each to claimants whom he has not recognized.

INDIANS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

They Want the Money Paid for Their Lands and Not Farm Tools.

Washington, March 22.—A party of Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians in full costume were received by the president and made known to him that they would like a distribution of money paid for their lands. The interior department is opposed to paying the Indians this money in bulk, and is in favor of using a part of it for furnishing agricultural implements to the tribes in order that they may learn how to work their farms and become self-surporting before the residue is paid over.

Efforts To Burn Churches.

Washington, March 22.—Two attempts were made yesterday afternoon to set fire to Catholic churches in Washington. The first attempt was made upon St. Dominick's. Later, another similar attempt was made at St. Patrick's. It was believed that the same person, a mysterious woman in black, was the incendiary in both cases. The police think the woman is probably some religious fanatic.

Chased Out of Massachusetts.

Boston, March 22.—"Colonel" William Allen Huntley Silloway, alias William Huntley, for the last three or four years has been "doing up" Grand Army posts of this state. He confessed that he was a fraud, and plead to be allowed to leave the state. His request was granted, but his wife was left behind.

Bateman-English Fight a Draw.

Washington, March 23.—The fight last night for the lightweight championship of Maryland and the District of Columbia between Solly English of Baltimore and Joe Bateman of Washington was declared a draw at the end of the twentieth round. Bateman weighed 114 and English 118.

Gov. McKinley Slightly Indisposed.

Savannah, Ga., March 22.—Governor McKinley and party did not leave Thomasville for Florida last evening, according to programme. The governor is slightly indisposed, and his physician recommended him to remain in Thomasville until he recovers.

Will Enlarge California.

San Francisco, March 22.—It is unofficially learned that the persons having in charge the resurvey of the California-Nevada boundary line have agreed upon a change which will add about one hundred miles of territory to California.

Mrs. Beerbohm Tree Not Injured.

Philadelphia, March 22.—The report that Mrs. Beerbohm Tree was injured during the matinee performance of "Captain Swift" was an error. Another actress was slightly injured.

Lexow New York Police Bill.

Albany, March 22.—The Lexow New York city police bill has been reported favorably from the committee of the whole by the senate. This will send it to third reading.

Switzerland's New Minister.

Washington, March 22.—J. P. Pioda, the new minister from Swizerland to the United States, will present his credentials to the president to-day.

Sheriff Indicted for Murder.

Atlanta, Ga., March 22.—Sheriff McAllister, of Clay county, has been indicted for the murder of Judson Hyatt at Fort Gains some time ago.

THEY GOT OFF EASY

Opinion in Buffalo Regarding the Robinsons.

They Will Fight the Case, Nevertheless—Clarence To Be Taken to Auburn To-Day To Begin His Life Sentence—Sadie Will Not Follow Him Until Monday Probably.

Buffalo, March 22.—Clarence Robinson, convicted yesterday of murder in the second degree, for killing Montgomery Gibbs, and sentenced to life imprisonment, will be taken to Auburn prison this afternoon. His wife, Sadie, convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to twenty years, will remain in jail here until Monday probably as a warden and matron will have to come from Auburn to act as her escort.

Prosecution Not Satisfied.

District Attorney Kenefick is not at all satisfied with the verdict, particularly with regard to Sadie. To a United Press representative he said: "I agree perfectly with Clarence Robinson that the logical outcome of the testimony submitted should have been murder in the first degree. It is not right in my opinion to allow a woman like Sadie Robinson to be turned loose on the public, even after the lapse of twenty years. She is a dangerous person to have about—is absolutely without moral responsibility. It was she who fired the fatal shot. I feel positive of that." Public opinion in Buffalo is that the Robinsons got off easy.

Will Fight the Case.

Judge Hardesty could not be seen this morning but a legal friend of his said that the defense was going to continue the fight. "An appeal will be taken in Clarence's case," he said, "but Sadie will have to be satisfied with the sentence she has received. It appears from the evidence submitted by the prosecution that Sadie, if anybody, is guilty of firing the fatal shot, yet she got a lighter sentence than her husband. A fight will be made on that."

Sadie Not Communicative.

Clarence was quite communicative this morning, reiterating his denial of guilt for the crime for which he is convicted. Sadie was not as communicative, however, and left word with the jailor that she wanted to see no person but her sister and brother and Clarence. She was given an opportunity to have a long interview with her husband.

RICHARD VAUX VERY LOW.

The Ex-Congressman May Not Survive an Attack of the Grip.

Philadelphia, March 22.—Ex-Congressman Richard Vaux is lying very low from an attack of the grip at his residence here, and it is thought that he cannot recover. Mr. Vaux was born in this city in 1819, and comes of old Quaker stock. For years he has been prominent here and is one of the most eccentric men in Philadelphia, in some particulars. One of his marked peculiarities is that he has never worn an overcoat or caaried an umbrella, no matter what the state of the weather, and he always appeared on the street in patent leather pumps.

TELEPHONE FROM SEA TO LAND

Satisfactory Test of the New Device for Ships.

Washington, March 22.—Capt. Wilde, naval secretary of the lighthouse board, has returned from New York whither he went to see the test of a new telephone device designed to establish communication between the shore and a ship at sea. He says the test was eminently satisfactory, and that communication a distance of one mile or 200 miles at sea with the shore is entirely feasible.

Jap Ships Off Shan-Ha-Kwan.

London, March 22.—The Times correspondent in Shanghai says that many Japanese ships are reported off Shan-Ha-Kwan, Taku and Chi Khon, and a landing is likely to be attempted shortly. The Chinese are on the alert to offer resistance. A Japanese fleet is reported to have arrived at the Pescadores islands. Torpedoes have been placed to defend Amoy harbor.

Mrs. Lease Declines To Run.

Wichita, Kan., March 22.—Mrs. Mary E. Lease has declined the candidacy for mayor of Witchita. The citizen's convention nominated M. T. Barwell, one of the wealthiest men in the state. Mrs. Lease said to a reporter: "I felt highly honored, but I am too busy to give the office of mayor the attention it deserves."

Hetty Green's Daughter Ill.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 22.—Miss Green, Hetty Green's daughter, is very ill at the hotel St. George. Her mother says the illness was caused principally by worry over the legal tangle in which the multi-millionairess is involved.

Women Lawyers for New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., March 22.—Governor Werts has signed the women lawyers bill, which provides that women may be admitted by the supreme court to the examinations for attorneys and counselors' certificates.

May Lend Corea 3,000,000 Yen.

Washington, March 22.—According to recent unofficial advices received here the Japanese government is considering a loan of 3,000,000 yen to Corea, which step is said to be temporarily necessary.

Now Is the Time To Die Cheap.

New York, March 22.—The Eastern Burial Case company and the Undertakers' association, which have cooperated in the past, are now at war and coffins are going cheaper than ever.

To Legalize Pool Selling in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., March 22.—The Humphrey bill, which allows ninety days racing by associations and legalizes foreign bookmaking, passed the senate, the vote being 28 to 18.

Byers-Macondray Suit Begun.

San Francisco, March 22.—The long expected suit by Florence Bucklin Byers to compel Frederick L. Macondray to recognize her as his wife, has been commenced.

Fred Allen Gets Ten Years.

Albion, N. Y., March 22.—Fred Allen, convicted of assault upon Miss Etta Budd, was sentenced to ten years in Auburn prison yesterday afternoon.

Purity

of ingredients is essential in medicines, else they are apt to do more harm than good.

Allcock's Porous Plaster

is absolutely pure. It can do no harm. It is effective. As an external remedy for pains in the chest, back or side, it is unequaled.

Let no Solicitation induce you to accept a substitute. ALLCOCK'S is absolutely the best.

Allcock's Corn Shields, Allcock's Bunion Shields, Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.

Brandreth's Pills

may be taken by old and young. They simply assist nature.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION is called to the

Home Department

of Rockview School, 317 East Front street. Children received from

4 to 15 Years.

Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT, 25 Washington ave

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned Attention given to sanitary condition Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager. JONES & CO. Cesspools built, 9 18

H DeMOTT,

With livery attached, UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER, 176 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 98 7

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. I. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

Treasury Department

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

JAMES H. ECKELS, Comptroller of the Currency.

F. A. DUNHAM, Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort [Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va. [Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.

W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

in Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimens of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent, 118 West 5th st., Plainfield, N. J.

and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

A. W. BAKER, 200 Park Ave. B. G. YOUNG, 327 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 32 m

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer.

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing. Tonsorial Parlor, 306 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J. Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 18 t

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 22, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

BY THE WAY.

—The whist finals between the Park Club and Montclair will be played in about two weeks.

—The report of another paper that Spencer Conway is a deacon in Mt. Olive Baptist Church, is untrue.

—The water in the swimming pool at the Y. M. C. A. is changed twice a week, insuring absolute cleanliness.

—The Plainfield and Cranford bowling clubs will contest on the Board of Trade alleys next Tuesday evening.

—A meeting will be held Friday evening, March 29, at the Y. M. C. A. Building to organize a baseball team.

—This fine weather makes much work for Marsh, Ayers & Co. They have 26 men now busy doing painting and papering.

—Up to date, Physical Director MacPhie of the Y. M. C. A. has examined 142 men and 68 boys for gymnasium work.

—The next meeting of the representatives of the Y. M. C. A. State Athletic League will be held in Newark, Monday, April 1.

—A missionary entertainment will be given by the Junior Christian Endeavor society in the First Presbyterian Church this evening.

—South avenue, between this city and Westfield, was thronged with bicycle riders yesterday, owing to the fine condition of that thoroughfare.

—W. C. Smith of Grandview avenue has completed the foundation for his new house in Watchung Park, and also has broken ground for another on Verdon place.

—Look in the windows of Sebring the clothier, tonight, and see the great Welsbach gas burner, and then get Gavett to put one in for you on trial. You will keep it.

—The Fire Service Review has extended the fame of model Plainfield by reproducing from The Daily Press the cuts and description of the Fire Department Headquarters.

—Swain on East Front street has just received an elegant assortment of new small mouldings in gilt, white and gilt, silver, etc.; also some new etchings and photogravures.

—William Hand & Son yesterday moved Mr. Fleishbaok from East Front street to Netherwood, and J. E. Vanderhoff from East Sixth street to Voehl's Building on East Front street.

—Under the direction of F. J. Fitzhugh the First Baptist Church choir will render "The Story of the Cross", by Duddy Buck, Sunday evening, April 8. The rendition will occupy one hour.

—The day of publication of the Christian Endeavor and Epworth League columns, which have been a Saturday feature of The Daily Press, has been changed to Thursday in response to the request of members of those organizations.

—H. Hand the auctioneer has been engaged to conduct sales as follows: At Oradel, Bergen County, tomorrow; Tuesday next at Roycefield, Somerset County, at 9:30; and Finderne at 2:30 same day; at Two Bridges, Fanwood Township, Wednesday.

—Mrs. William Smalley, Sr., of Craig place met with a painful accident a few days ago. She was replenishing the kitchen fire, and put on coal upon which kerosene had been spilled. A fierce blaze shot out from the stove, and Mrs. Smalley in attempting to escape it fell heavily on the floor, bruising the left side of her face, and also injuring her left leg.

Madison Avenue Assessments.

The exclusive publication in The Daily Press yesterday, and in no other paper, of the official list of assessments in the Madison avenue widening project, was read with great interest by the public. The figures were much talked of, and it is likely that at the April meeting of the Council the matter will be freely discussed. The avenue certainly should be extended as well as widened.

Always

pure, wholesome,
sure,
full weight,
the same in quality,
reasonable in price,
a favorite where once tried.

Cleveland's Baking Powder

The best that money can buy.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., 81 Fulton St., New York.

DARKEST AMERICA.

GEN. BOOTH WRITES ABOUT OUR POVERTY AND DEGRADATION.

The Commander in Chief of the Salvation Army Puts a Blush Upon the Face of Fair Columbia by His Plain and Earnest Criticism of Her Shortcomings.

There is a Darkest New York. There is a Darkest America. It is not the same in appearance as Darkest England or Darkest London, but it is essentially the same.

Human nature is the same here; there is the same infusion of Anglo Saxon blood. All that is different is the mere outward look of things.

Here in New York the multitude live in tall structures much more crowded together than in London, but there is the same poverty, the same crime. Poverty begets crime, crime begets poverty. It is the revolving wheel.

You have the sweat shops as London has. You have the tramps. They say you have a million tramps. That is a great many. I fear nobody knows how many there really are. But a tramp is a man. Calling him an objectionable name does not excuse one's self of the responsibility for living in the same society in which he lives. There he is. He is a man, a redeemed soul, and of greater value than many sheep, of greater value than all material creation.

You have here the Darkest New York beside your tramp population, the criminals, gamblers, and all who live by the vices and infirmities of others; here they procreate and increase—like vermin, I was going to say. This is just as it is in Darkest England—in the east side of Darkest New York as well as in the east end of Darkest London.

Is there a way out for the submerged and the half submerged here, as in England?

Yes, I propose a way out—the only way that I can see. The socialism of Mr. Bellamy or of any other socialist is an angelic plan of government, for angelic men. New Yorkers are not angels any more than Londoners are. I am free to say that some of them are very near it, for I have been most kindly treated here.

But they say these people who find it so difficult to live are persons of defective organization. Their frames are feeble; their teeth are bad; their eyes are defective; they are scrofulous, consumptive, born thieves and rascals.

So much the more they call for the effort of the strong, the healthy, the clever those whose teeth and eyes are sound—they are the ones who should help the aged, the weak and the unfortunate—those whose environment and companionship have made them, if I may use the expression, inferior beings.

Nations borrow immense sums of money to wage war. You yourselves, who are at peace with the world and have not made a war for thirty years and may not have one for thirty years more, are spending millions upon a navy. You do that to protect your property. You argue that, even as insurance upon the commerce and the property of your seacoast towns, it is money saved rather than money spent.

Why should you not spend money to save money to defend your Government, your society against your expensive paupers and criminals?

You have hospitals here. If a man falls and breaks his legs, you take him to one, even if the fall is the result of his own bad conduct. He may have been drunk at the time; still you take him to the hospital. Why should there not be a hospital for a man when he has fallen and broken his nature, his will?

You have prisons—hospitals that don't heal. You break the man's will, and leave it as limp as a rag. The first man he meets coming out of jail leads him straight off in mischief.

Government should take him and say: "Do you want to work? Very good, you shall work. You shall earn your living. Oh, you don't want to work? But you shall work, anyhow."

Then turn him over to the Salvation Army, to the Darkest America reformation plan, which very likely will be started here on similar lines to those the Salvation Army has stirred up in other parts of the world.

Will it pay? We can save a girl for $16. That is counting all wreckage. We do this without legislative help. Those we have saved are repaying what they have cost. We keep them for three years, and after they had been with us so long and are tested, the past is buried and forgotten, and they go out into the world, nobody knowing their history, and become wives and mothers, beautiful women, for they are saved souls. The scheme for men will pay its own way.

In one of the prisons I went into here there were 640 men locked up. They cost the State $120,000 per annum to keep. Each man got about a pound of beefsteak a day. I said to myself:

"I can get thousands of people who will commit any reasonable crime for the sake of being fed like that." Give me those people and I will not only save the money but the men.

These are the hospitals which don't heal. I have been in prisons in this country, where the governors, or whatever you call them here, were respectful to the prisoners, bowed to them, treated them as equals. This was to build up their self respect and manhood.

I wouldn't do so. I would make them smart. I would say: "Oh, what a scoundrel you are! You want to be made over; you are a sinner. But His blood can make the vilest clean; His blood avails for you; now you've got a chance to make a man of yourself. Will you take it?"

Crime forfeits freedom. The man who offends against society must not only for society's sake, but for his own sake, be shown a more excellent way.

I have been disappointed in the American people. I expected to find them extremely wise politically. I don't think I ever saw so much humbug. There is so much claptrap, so much appealing to prejudice, so little of sound reasoning and calm decision in matters affecting public safety.

They don't believe in grace. They don't want grace. Grace is no good for backing. They want the backing of the Republican party, of the Democratic party, or Mr. Cleveland or somebody else. It is your ballot box, of which you are so proud, that is to be your undoing unless you wake up to what the situation is.

The millionaire is on top now, and the great crowd is struggling beneath in misery. They are the sans culottes—the breechless fellows. They see the millionaires having every comfort, while it is as much as they can do to make a living, and the poorhouse at the end when all is done. The next revolution will not be by force. It will be by your ballot box, which the breechless multitude has just begun to learn how to use.

One day they are going to turn things upside down. They are the many. The millionaires are the few. The millionaires will then be underneath, the breechless multitude on top.

It will be well if they stick to voting only. It would have been well in the French revolution if they had let the breechless multitude vote at the start.

It would have brought Napoleon nearer by a year or two. Isn't that an important thing to think of? Isn't it better to lose your money bags than your head?

Your problem here in Darkest America is no different from this problem in other parts of the civilized world. As I said before, it is the mere externals which are different. If the breechless multitude threatens here, it also threatens in the older countries, but you have so much more the advantage; your chimney has not been smoking so long. The conditions of life have not hardened so much. There is the enthusiasm which comes to one who has gone from ocean to ocean in your country—the enthusiasm of the realization of your grand possibilities.

I have the same feeling when I look upon the Salvation Army. It is not what it is, but what it is going to be; what it will be if it keeps in the lines on which it was started. Yours is the country meant to be free. Yours is a government instituted to guard every man's right to life and happiness. When it guards the right to life and happiness of every man and woman, the poor fellow in the tenement house as well as the millionaire, then there will be no Darkest America and no Darkest New York.—N. Y. World.

TWO MOUNTAIN MAIDS.

Georgia Amazons Who Proved to Be Too Much for the Bailiff.

Two miles east of Coosa is a mountain called Judy's mountain, at the foot of which live Betsy and Judith Lewis, generally called Bet and Jude for short. A merchant had a small bill against Bet and told a bailiff to levy on Ball, a large white faced steer which had cost Bet $150 buying him at bailiff's sale, beside the original purchase money. The bailiff declared he wouldn't go unless the merchant went along to point out the property. Then Joe Lewis, a man about town, but not related to Bet, concluded to go along to see the fun. The three rode up to the Lewis house and called for Ball. Bet said he was down in the field, but no living man could rope him. The party rode down through the field with Bet and Jude following them, heaping anathemas upon the head of the merchant and swearing he stole the shingles from them that were on his house.

When the bailiff and Lewis had passed through a gap in the cross fence Bet squared herself in the gap.

The merchant, who was on a very large horse, rode back about fifty yards and charged the gap, thinking Bet would step out of the way, but not not a bit did Bettie. She seized the horse by the bridle and set him down on his haunches like a setter dog. The bailiff then held Bet till the merchant passed through, she being too smart to resist an officer. When they came up with Ball the bailiff threw the line over his horns and Bet jerked it off, which was repeated several times. Finally Bet threw her arms around the steer's horns and blocked the game. When the bailiff told the merchant to hold Bet she made at him for a fight. He caught her by each arm and by a superhuman effort held her off at arm's length, while she squirmed and swore she would cut his heart out. At this juncture Bet's dog, concluding it was a free for all fight, grabbed the steer by the tail, whereupon Ball kicked loose from everything and started off on a dead run, head up and tail over the dashboard.—Rome (Ga.) Tribune.

A Modern Munchausen.

Here is a story of a colonel who was much addicted to traveling, and who once reached home when the house was full of his son's guests and stayed to dinner. One of the company, a notorious drawer of the long bow, told a story of his being off the Cape of Good Hope in an Indiaman, when a floating object was discovered which proved to be a cask, whereon a man was seated clinging to a small staff in the bunghole.

"Come on board?" retorted the ocean waif when hailed. "No, thank you, I'm very comfortable here. I'm bound for the Cape. Can I take letters there for you? Don't bother about me. I'm all right."

Then, amid the silence which followed this incredible yarn, Colonel G— arose and gravely addressed the narrator.

"Sir," said he, "for years I have been trying to find any one belonging to that ship to return thanks for the great courtesy shown to me on that occasion. At last I am enabled to do so, sir—I was the man on the cask."—Tit-Bits.

New York Politics.

"Some years ago," said the drummer in the smoking car, "I had a young friend in one of the interior counties who was a hustler in politics. He found the field too narrow after a little while, though, and went to New York city. There he caught on in time and in two years they sent him up to Albany."

"To the legislature or senate?" inquired a listener.

"Neither. To the penitentiary."

"Well, that's one of the peculiarities of New York politics," said the listener, not at all surprised. "Nobody can ever tell where it will land a man."—Detroit Free Press.

Criminal Investigation.

The prisoner has made the most ample confession. At the scene of the tragedy the details of the crime are being gone into.

Judge—Show us how the thing was done.

Prisoner (smiling)—With pleasure, your worship. Lie down on that bed and close your eyes as if you were asleep. Let the sum of ten thousand francs be placed in that desk; give me a knife, and let us two be left alone together.

The Real Difficulty.

"How long, oh Lord, how long?" he muttered.

He contemplated the woman in despair.

"How long?"

He could really get all the measurements for the bloomers she had ordered him to make for her with the exception of the length.—Detroit Tribune.

Her Soliloquy.

I love my little brother;
He's a cunning, rosy elf;
But I wish—somehow or other—
That he could rock himself:

—St. Nicholas

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R. VanZandt, of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Don't ruin your form wearing poor corsets.

Buy Your Corsets AT PECK'S.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block, 13-6-7

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Carpet Dep't.

Opening of New Spring Goods.

We quote only a few specials.
All-wool ingrains at.....49c
Tapestry Brussels, at.....53c 59c 65c
Body Brussels, Moquette, Axminister, Ishpahan, Agra, Kandahar, Art Squares, Rugs, Mattings, jointless, new patterns, 90c up.
Oil cloths, No. 1. 39c No. 3 at 25c No 4 at 19c
Linoleums at 37½c; Window shades 19c up; poles with fixtures 19c up.

The elegant new Laces in

Our Lace Dept.

will interest you.

Laces, Veilings and Lace Collars.

A large collection of fine laces and lace collars (by far the most comprehensive assortment in the city) we shall offer during the week at prices very much below real value, comprising Broderie Anglaise, Point de Gene, Point Venise, Chiffon, Chantilly and Point de Ireland Laces, now very desirable for spring trimmings. Our leader this week—Brussells Applique in match patterns of 3 widths—5 inch 19c; 6½ inch 23c; 8 inch 31c a yard.

Veilings

All-silk Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings 18x27 inches wide, in all colors, at 25 and 35c a yard; regular price 35 and 50c a yard.

Lace Collars

Point Venise and Point de Rene Collars (butter color now much in demand, regular $1.50 to $5 lines, special during the week at $1.25, $1.39, $1.93 and $3.28 each.

Silks

Illuminated Brocaded and Striped Taffeta Silks, 12 different combinations, 20 inches wide, will not cut, crush or slip in seams, choice designs, good value at 98c yard; special at 65c a yard 700 yards of Crepon Wash Fabrics, in all leading colorings, regular 10c goods; special for the week 7½c yard.

Housefurnishing and China Dept

Extra values at about half price. At half price, 1 lot English Majolica milk and water pitchers

Milk pitcher regular price 15c; special 8c.
" " " 19c; special 10c
Water " " 29c; special 18c
" " " 39c; special 24c

The above are assorted colors and strictly perfect.

50 dozen engraved goblets, all perfect, at 3c each: scrub brushes, regular 15c, at 10c each; japanned chamber pails, assorted colors, 23c; another lot japanned bread boxes at 27c; japanned fire screens, 4 fold bamboo frames, at 49c.

Grocery Department

TERMS CASH—Money refunded on all goods not entirely satisfactory. Goods open for inspection before purchasing. You will be surprised at the amount of money you can save in buying in this department.

SPECIAL SPECIAL

French sardines in pure olive oil, Martel brand at 10c can
Cook's flat salmon steaks, very fine, at 16c.
Very fine large olives, 32 oz bottle, 39c can.
Heinz's assorted Little Giant pickles 9c bottle.
Anderson's jams, all kinds. 1 pound tins, 12c.
FLOUR—Our White Seal Flour is in greater demand each day. The price and quality is right. ⅛ barrel 54c; ¼ barrel $1.07; ½ barrel $1.98; 1 barrel $3.95.

Special for Saturday Night Only

From 8 to 9:30.

500 yards of Point Venise, Bourdon, Appliqué and Valenciennes laces, 2 to 7 in. wide, 20c to 50c lines; special Saturday only at 10c, 18c, 20c, and 25c a yard.

1,000 yards of satin and gros grain ribbons in all leading shades, ¾ to 4 in. wide, reduced to 3, 5, 9, 12 and 20c a yard; regular price 5, 7, 12, 18 and 25c a yard.

EDSALL'S

DO YOU BUY YOUR Trunks and Bags in New York?

Do So No More.

You can now buy them just as cheap at the house of

Doane & Edsall.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

GRANT'S FALL AND RISE.

How He Lost His Place in the Army and How He Got Another There.

The majority of people who know much about the life of Grant are aware that he graduated from the Military Academy at West Point and remained in the army for some years, when he left the service, but later it again when his services were needed and troops were called out to suppress the rebellion, Gen. Grant was a captain in the Fourth Infantry at the time of his resignation, and his regiment was stationed in Oregon. Major R. C. Buchanan, also a graduate of the academy, who was a fine type of the old time soldier, was in command of the battalion in which Capt. Grant's company was attached.

"Old Buck," as Major Buchanan was generally called in the army, was rigid and unbending in his manner, and the sternest of disciplinarians. He took it into his head that Capt. Grant was drinking too much, and said so to him. At that time there was a good deal of drinking in the army. Finally, in the spring of 1854, "Old Buck" made Grant sign a pledge, which, with his resignation, he placed in Major Buchanan's hands. Grant meant to keep his word, but one cold morning he called upon a brother officer, who had just brought his wife to the post. Of course, there were refreshments, and among them eggnog, and Grant was invited by the bride to join her in a glass of this delicious drink, little thinking of the consequences, as she did not know of the captain's pledge, and he took one. "What possessed me I never could tell," Grant said brokenly to a brother officer as he told him the story, "but the first thing I knew I had broken my pledge." A few days after this Capt. Grant was sent for by Major Buchanan. Poor Grant knew what was coming as he walked across the parade ground to the office of the commanding officer, and when he entered the office several brother officers left. Major Buchanan nodded to his adjutant, who also left the office, leaving the poor captain to "face the music" alone. Holding two papers in his hand Major Buchanan said in his sternest manner:

"Capt. Grant, here are two papers you signed two months ago. One is your pledge, the other your resignation. Is it true that you have broken the former?"

Grant met his commanding officer's eye fearlessly. "Yes, sir, it is true," he said.

"What do you deem my duty in the matter of your resignation?" was the major's next question.

There was a moment's silence. Then Grant spoke: "You are an old soldier, Major Buchanan. You do not need instruction from me. But, since you have asked me the question, I will answer it. It is your duty to send in the resignation of any officer who breaks his pledge, and I know of no reason why an exception to the rule should be made in the case before you."

"That is all, sir," answered "Old Buck," as he rose and bowed poor Grant out. Two months later an official communication reached the post. It informed Capt. U. S. Grant that his resignation had been accepted, to take effect July 31, 1854. This was the end of it, and Capt. Grant ceased to be an army officer from that date. He packed up his goods and early one morning left for the East.

This is how Grant left the army for the first time. How he got back is told below:

In the spring of 1861 a captain of the regular army was ordered to repair to Springfield, Ill., and begin the duties of mustering officer. He found on his arrival at the Capitol that the adjutant-general of the State was a young man who knew very little of army matters and papers, and who was really of no assistance to him in making out the intricate muster rolls. He was told by the adjutant-general that he was authorized to hire a clerk. That same day, while he was working over a pile of muster rolls, the door of his office opened and a man, plainly clad and wearing a heavy brown beard, entered. Walking up to the desk he said:

"Why, don't you know me, Tom?"

"It's Sam Grant, isn't it?" replied the captain, as he rose and warmly shook hands with his comrade of West Point and the Mexican war days. He ran his eyes over Grant, and it was clear that he was not prosperous.

"I've come here to get something to do, but I've no influence and I'm getting discouraged. Can't you give me something to do?" Grant asked.

"I need a clerk to help me with these rolls," said the captain, "and if you will take the place at $100 a month I will be glad to have you."

Grant accepted at once, and hanging his not very new slouch hat on a peg he was soon hard at work. He gradually told his old comrade his story. He blamed no one but himself, and all he wanted was a chance to redeem the past—just one chance.

"If I can get that chance for you I will, Sam," answered the captain. "I'll try and get you a commission."

A few days later the chance arrived. News reached Springfield that Gen. Polk was on his way to Cairo with 20,000 men. The War department directed that every available man be sent to the front at once. There were 3,000 men in camp. The captain reported to the governor that he was ready to muster in three regiments. Uniforms and arms had been issued that morning. Nothing but the mustering in and the making out of the commissions for the field officers remained to be done.

"Governor, who are you going to appoint colonels and lieutenant-colonels of these new regiments?" inquired the captain. "I ask because if the news be true these regiments will be led into battle by those officers in forty-eight hours."

The room was full of candidates for these positions, and they listened uneasily to the reply.

"By Jove! I don't want my troops destroyed because their officers are untrained," answered the governor. "Have you any suggestions to make?"

"I have in my office," said the mustering officer, "an old soldier. He was at West Point with me and also served through the Mexican war. He knows his business. I recommend him for a commission as colonel or lieutenant-colonel of one of these regiments."

"I will give your friend the commission of colonel of the Twenty-first Regiment upon your recommendation. Make out his commission," said the governor, turning to his adjutant-general.

"What is his name, captain?"

"Ulysses S. Grant," said the captain.

Half an hour later the captain laid on the desk in front of his clerk, Sam Grant, his commission as colonel of the Twenty-first Regiment of Illinois Volunteers, saying:

"Here's your chance, Sam."

And so it was. The rest is history.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

CRIPPLING A BRAVE SERVICE.

Long Branch, March 22—All the captains of the forty-two life saving stations on the New Jersey coast, extending from Sandy Hook to Cape May, have been notified by Superintendent Kimball of the Life Saving Service that after April 30 the seventh man must be dispensed with. This will throw out of employment forty-two men on the Jersey coast, which will result in a saving of $2,730 to the department.

PARTICULAR MENTION

James Sisco of Newark was in town today on business.

Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson is severely ill at her home on LaGrande avenue.

Mr. Hyde and family of Sixth street and Madison avenue will remove to Massachusetts next month.

Miss Irene Van Sickle of High Bridge is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Randolph of West Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob V. Coles of Scotch Plains are quietly celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding today.

Edwin Varrey Phillips, Joe Jefferson's leading man, left today for Boston, to join the company, who open Monday night.

Mrs. Mulligan, wife of Col. James Mulligan of New York city, was the guest today of Mrs. F. M. Slater, Jackson avenue.

The Lady Cyclers met at the home of Miss Mary Brown of Park avenue yesterday afternoon to play whist. The first prizes were won by Mrs. Auguste Saltzman and Miss Arline, and the second prizes by Miss Marguerite Yerkes and Miss L. Hagan. A delightful afternoon was enjoyed by all.

An Evening of Pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Calvin Garey gave a full dress salmagundi party to 29 friends at their home on Craig place last night The rooms were decorated with potted plants, carnations and roses, pink being the dominant color. The first women's prize was won by Mrs. William Griffin, and the women's consolation prize by Mrs. Charles Boes; first gentlemen's prize, E. E Winkler and gentlemen's consolation prize by Dr. H. K. Carroll.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

Hope Chapel Victorious.

In the tournament last night Hope Chapel defeated Rahway at bowling, won 27 out of 28 checker games, and lost one game out of four at chess.

The bowling score:

HOPE CHAPEL.		RAHWAY.
Muir	112	Tobes	101
Gow	116	Schilling	106
Head	101	Bable	89
Page	94	Godfrey	96
Sutphen	104	Hoehle	98
	527		481

BY FRAMES.

Hope	41	94	143	195	247	312	372	417	472	527
Rahway	44	85	131	183	223	273	312	370	422	481

The checker score:

HOPE CHAPEL.	Games Won.	RAHWAY.	Games Won.
Manning	3	Kierstein	0
Crawford	5	VanSyckels	0
Madison	2	Blaich	0
Morning	5	Ritter	0
Brown	2	Kierstein	0
Muir	3	Blaich	0
Manning	2	Kierstein	0
Brown	3	Ritter	0
Morning	2	VanSyckels	1
	27		1

Young Hands at Whist.

Arthur W. Vail of Franklin place entertained a few of his associates at his home last evening. Most of the evening was spent in playing whist, which furnished a very exciting contest.

A cyclometer was first prize, and a very acceptable one for a boy, and was won by Allan Taylor. The booby prize, a pair of cuff-holders, was won by Rolland Tomlinson. After refreshments, the party broke up at about midnight.

Those who were present were; Rolland Tomlinson, Allan Taylor, Volney F. Green, Sydney R. Titsworth, Carl D Pfender, Horace E. Moore, and E. Frank Vail.

This gathering was the second of a series held during the Winter by these young men.

Constipation

is the most common form of Dyspepsia.

Dr. Deane's

Dyspepsia Pills

(white wrapper), one after each meal, cure the most obstinate cases. They contain no mercury, do not purge nor gripe, and impart a natural healthful tone to the stomach and bowels.

Ask your druggists. Send for free sample.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, New York.

—Fair and warmer tomorrow; increasing cloudiness, southeasterly winds.

—Felix Myers has purchased one of F. L. C. Martin's handsome new wheels.

—Two electric lights are being placed on Church street between Front and Second streets.

—The 7:41 train was delayed an hour last night by a tender wheel breaking near Philadelphia.

—Be up to date, and have a 'phone. You can arrange the price to suit, as announced in the ad today.

—Richard Vaux, ex-Mayor of Philadelphia, died at his home this morning from an attack of the grip.

—The biggest truckload ever carted in Plainfield was skilfully packed and hauled to Newark by L. B. Coddington today.

—The Y. M. C. A. will give a reception to all clerks Thursday, March 28, from 8:30 to 9 p. m., followed by a gymnastic exhibition.

—The Spring vacation begins next Friday, and some of the cyclists of the High School are planning a tour during vacation week.

—A despatch from Glasgow states that the new Valkyrie is narrower and has more draught than the Alisa and has a pronounced fin keel.

THE BRIDGE'S GREATEST CRUSH.

Weird Scene About the East River For on the Evening of January 21.

The great crush on the Brooklyn Bridge on the early evening of January 21 of this year was undoubtedly the most severe strain the bridge has ever received from dead weight. For nearly two hours there were fully 2,500 tons of people distributed along the structure at a given time. No greater strain from foot traffic will ever be known, probably, on the bridge. All the bridge authorities declared that it was the largest throng in its history.

A dense winter fog had fallen over the city and harbor. The ferryboats to Brooklyn for nearly an hour had ceased running. It was at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and thousands turned from the ferries to the quicker transit of the bridge. Accidents at either end of the bridge had completely suspended the service of the cars, and then the thousands and tens of thousands turned to the promenade and began a march that was slow and really as dangerous as transit by boats in the thickest weather.

Up around the New York tower the crowd turned and twisted. The women were pale; scores of men were laughing, half boisterously, as a boy whistles to keep up his courage, and there seemed to be a nervous dread akin to hysteria pervading the entire crowd. Out on the center of the bridge the throng was ominously silent. Really weird was the situation.

The crisis was reached at the Brooklyn tower. There the crowd had to go down a flight of steps, and there was the greatest danger of falling. Had one woman become hysterical there and fainted nothing could have prevented a trampling to death. That throng could not be stopped any more than a river can be stopped when anyone falls into it. No one did faint and no one fell.

I asked Superintendent Martin, of the bridge, whether he had made any special computation of the strain the bridge had undergone in those two hours from half past 5 o'clock until half past 7, and he said he had not, because there seemed to be no necessity for it. Each cable of the bridge is able to withstand a strain of 12,000 tons, and the strain from this crush, estimating the 40,000 persons on the bridge at one time at an average weight of 125 pounds, would be only 2,500 tons.

He said, however, that the conduct of the people illustrated wonderful self control, and he had no doubt that if the crush had come in the early days of the structure a panic would have resulted, and the loss of life would have been greater than on the opening day of the bridge

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 1c a dose; 25, 50c, $1 Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life; I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels; 75c. Sold by all druggists.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between George A. Moore of the city of Plainfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey, and Walter N. Martin of the Borough of North Plainfield, county of Somerset and State of New Jersey, under the firm name of Moore & Martin, was dissolved on the 21st day of March, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-five, by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by the said George A. Moore, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment.

GEORGE A. MOORE,
WALTER N. MARTIN.

Dated March 21, 1895 3 22 3 ow

MUSIC HALL.

Joseph Bohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 498,

TONIGHT

Canary & Lederer's newest New York production
THE

20th Century Girl.

75 people on the stage 75

The phenomenal cast introduces John T. Kelly, Dan Dooly, Hamlo Fisher, Beatrice Gerard, Edith Howe, Jennie Weatherby, Al H Wilson, Harry Kelly, Harry Standish, Catherine Quinard Lillian Thurgate, Cristi Carlyle and others. Everything bright, new, original and up to the time.

Prices 25, 50, 75c, $1 and $1.50.
Box office now open.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 cent a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany order.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

WANTED—A cheap work horse. Address D. care Press. 3 21 2

$5500—Buys a delightfully located dwelling in perfect order, 13 rooms and bath, electric light and all modern improvements; lot 80x175; $1,000 down; $3,500 bond and mortgage at 5 per cent.; balance $1,000 paid off in easy payments to suit purchaser. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

FOR SALE—Grocery store fixtures Apply 218 East Front st. 3 21 2

NEW parlor suit and house furniture for sale cheap. Address Arnold, 15 Grant avenue.

WANTED—A Girl for general housework, German or Swede perferred. Apply 78 Washington avenue.

DON'T let Saturday go by without calling at the office of Lyman and Petrie, and getting full particulars of the bargains we have to offer. 3 22 2

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 21 6

COLORED girl wants situation at housework. 417 East 5th. street.

FIFTY-FIVE hundred dollars; a new dwelling within 8 minutes walk of R R. station; rented until Oct. 1 for $35 a month. will trade for small property value $2500. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

EGGS for hatching from fine thoroughbred Plymouth Rocks, $1 per 13 Loizeaux, 1215 Putnam avenue. 3 22 3

FIVE room flat to rent. Inquire L M French, 36 Somerset street. 3 22 2

WILL trade nicely located lot 10 min from station, 50 x 225. For dwelling in easy walking distance of Front st. and Park ave, value about $3500. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

FOR RENT—Nice cottage, 9 rooms, $13. per month. Address J. A. Baker, Scotch Plains N. J.

A large house 17 rooms, suitable for a boarding house. Apply W. H. Rogers. Washingtonville, 3 21 4

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

WE have several well located dwellings with all improvements, for rent, $25 per month. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

FOR RENT.—Store in the Alberti Building, 121 East Front st; changes made if desired to connect two floors. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

FOR RENT—House 208 East 5th st., from April 1; $35 a month; modern improvements. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N J. 3 20 6

WE have bargains in dwellings in Washington Park, that if you buy now you can make $3 000 when good times come. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

WANTED—2 good canvassers; salary $3 a week and commission; good men can make from $15 to $20 a week. Address, stating experience and references, Canvasser, Box 100, care Press 3 20 3

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1 m

BEAUTIFULLY situated lots in all parts of the city for sale. Lyman & Petrie. 3 21 2

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

WATCHUNG PARK lots are increasing in price, get in on the ground floor, all houses occupied by owners, that is what makes desirable neigborhood for a home. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

MAN wants situation as coachman. Address Frederick Frederickson. Netherwood, N. J. 3 20 4

FOR SALE—Sideboard and sidetable. 243 East 9th st. 3 19 tf

HOUSES to rent in desirable locations, from $25 to $75 per month. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

HAVE a desirable house on Sanford ave. to rent, steam heat, all improvements, small conservatory. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

$500 TO LOAN on first bond and mortgage at 6 per cent. Address X. Y. Z., care Press. 3 18 tf

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them"

Horner's Furniture.

Reasons why you should buy it in preference to any other.

(1). Because this firm have long enjoyed the reputation of keeping only the best Furniture that can be produced, both in medium and finest grades; (2). Because their assortments are unequalled; (3). Because their prices are the lowest at which goods of standard quality can be sold.

Latest productions in Dining Room, Bedroom, Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Hall Furniture—Venetian Carved Furniture—Novelties in Imported Furniture—White and Gold Enameled Furniture—Enameled and Brass Bedsteads—English Brass Bedsteads (75 patterns); Maple and Bamboo Furniture—Restful Easy Chairs and Settees—Smoking and Billiard Room Furniture—Everything for city or country homes—Eight spacious floors—All prices in plain figures.

R. J. HORNER & CO.,
Furniture Makers and Importers,
61-65 West 23d St., N. Y.
(Adjoining Eden Musee.)

Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

DEATHS.

BROWER—In Millstone, N. J., Thursday, March 21, Mary, wife of Isaac V. Brower, in the 80th year of her age.

McIVER—March 20, 1895, Captain Annie McIver, of the Salvation Army.
Funeral services Friday, March 22, at 7:30 p. m., at Salvation Army Barracks, West 2d st.
Interment Saturday in Hillside Cemetery. 3

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 26 y

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street. Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS.

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

Grand

Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastefully trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on

Tuesday, March 25,
Wednesday, March 26,
Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing, but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.

10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.

10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 54 in. wide.

5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.

Our 49c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.

75c will buy a $1 00 skirt.
95c. " " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

LOSING MONEY.

You may think we are when you examine goods and prices. But we are not, neither are we making any. It's only giving you our profits for this month to make more business, to make more money in the future.

TRADE MAKERS

It takes place next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and we extend to you an invitation to come and see, to criticise or admire the many beautiful styles and designs of our spring

Millinery

Under a perfect north light you can make your own selection and such a difference in the price 30 to 50 per cent. in your favor, and no matter how many dresses you have you always want a black one. Cashmeres now 33c, were 50; serges 45 in wide 39c, former price 65; Jacquards 48c, worth 75. See our

Black Goods

How they sell! And why not? The prices are to your liking, so are the goods Crepon cloth at 6c, ducks at 5c, 30 in. percale 6c, 36 in percale at 10c, apron ginghams at 4½c. That's the way we are selling

Wash Stuffs

We had about 200 of them and sold all except about 25, and we want to close out the balance. The price was $1 65, but they go for $1.29. They are

Black Fur Rugs

Fashion says they will be used more this season and such an endless variety. No matter what you want we have it, and you can rest assured that our prices are right on

Laces

Nothing the matter with them except the color. Instead of black they are a dark navy blue. Perfectly fast and good to wear, but it makes a great difference in the price. 100 boxes, 6 pair in a box, 59c box, worth $1 40. They are men's

Half-hose

You would almost think the Japs work for nothing, our prices are so low on

Matting

WHITE of Plainfield.

Telephone Rates

IN PLAINFIELD.

$40 $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue, Plainfield.

3 22 2w-c 2

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 18, 1895.

Adams Miss Rosilia	McGowen Patrick
Allen Strom	Miles W T.
Brown Maggie	Moore & Co Wm W
Bayler T F	Nolan P
Burke James	Napenskv Adam
Coverly Fred	Pearce Herman S
Deloy Lucy	Post W
Eicke Lizzie	Preston H
Elder Harriet	Pentency Jinia
Fullom Lizzie	Randolph Mrs Louisa
Goepbel Mr	Russell J C
Gillispie & Son Wm	Seely E
Hanfield Phebe	Simpson Mrs Emily
Harben Jasper L	Sparks Louisa
Henley Mr	Sutphen Prime
Haney M A	Sumbom Roy
Hyatt Mrs Jennie	Truman Mrs W N
Hankerson A	Vail Ralph L
Jeroin Mrs	Washington Louisa
Jennings Annie	Wendell David
Jonrs Lewis	Williams C H
James Miss Ollie	Wells Lee
King James	Ward Ogle
Kimball Miss J	Watkins Mrs Florence
McDoland Mrs	Willoughby H
Michel Mr	Young Rev Dr W C

You may have many hours of comfort by not having worn a good reliable pair of Collier's Lost Glasses.

103 Park ave. Established 1869.

An Ordinance

governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "an ordinance governing plumbing drainage and ventilation" has been introduced and passed its first and second reading in the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield. The said ordinance passed its second reading on March 8 1895 and this notice is given pursuant to the requirements of the statute in such case made and provided. By order of the Board of Health.

H. O. NEWMAN
Secretary.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., March 16 1895.

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting and the low price is a genuine surprise.

The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

OUR MOTTO—Good work, good material at fair prices. 9 4 3

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIM ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C.

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS.

OFFICES—36 West Front street; 33 Park avenue Post Office Box 329.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 9 y

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON.

New No. 129., North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

HOUSE OF GOULD.

OF RECENT ORIGIN THOUGH OF ANCIENT LINEAGE.

The Founder and His Famous Invention of a Mouse Trap. Titles Made Possible by the Clever Foresight and Manipulation of a Pretty Little American Actress.

Told in the book of peerages the House of Gould is not so ancient as the House of Castellane by some centuries, though doubtless the ancestors of both, if one did but know it, went back to the ark and Eden. It is only something like half a century since the founder of the former house emerged from his obscurity and poverty, and laid the foundations of the fortune which makes possible the alliance of this winter.

There were no Goulds to speak of before the original Jay came down from the Catskills, where he was born, and where he was glad to do a piece of surveying for his dinner and a half dollar, and, with his patent mousetrap, began to lay his deep and wonderfully successful plans for the entrapping of mice and men. But in this country what boots it what your grandfather was? It is not the tale of blood that tells so much as the tale of brains and money, and as the Goulds have both in ample measure and the latter is stupendous, there is no reason why anyone should wonder that it is able to take the short cut to position—a something which it is popular to say that money cannot buy, but which the events of late years have proven to be as commercial a commodity as anything that sells on the exchanges or over the counters of the world.

Time was when the second generation had no chance to step into the rose colored precincts of society, no matter what its bank account. But that time is past. What William H. Vanderbilt failed to do, George Jay Gould has succeeded in accomplishing. Like his father before him, he has done the "impossible." And when the Goulds adopt their family crest, if they have not already got one, they should put "Veni, vidi, vici" upon it as a motto. They have certainly earned the right.

So long as Jay Gould lived there was no "family." Thousands and tens of thousands of columns were written about the Little Wizard of Wall street, whose schemes kept more than the nation on the qui vive, whose campaigns of aggression were Napoleonic in their extent and their successfulness, though he never quite found his Waterloo; but absolutely nothing was written about his family. It was known that he had one, and that was about all. Toward the end of his life it was known that the elder son, George, a quiet, steady lad, with a wonderful genius for hard work and a nature apparently as secretive as his father's, had been trained to take up the burden when the father laid it down, and was given a large say in the father's business. It was not known until after his death, however, that the father had given George a power of attorney with the widest possible scope.

He could have done what he pleased with the father's property, and as he had the combination to the safe deposit vaults in which Jay Gould kept his wealth of securities he might have walked off with millions and his father would have had no legal redress. Something was known about George, but comparatively little, and all of that had to do with his business life, save when he married an actress, and those that talked at all about such things said that the young man had destroyed all chances for social preferment. How little the prophets knew that that marriage with the beautiful and accomplished Edith Kingdon would be the first stepping stone toward the attainment of that "impossible" which the House of Gould had already reached, and that the deft hand and shrewd brain of the dark eyed beauty, belonging to a profession which society has ever sneered at, would point out the short cut across lots to the point at which society would bow down to the Goulds and blue blood would be glad to form a profitable alliance with one of its fair daughters.

The sunlight of publicity first fell upon the family of Jay Gould when Jay Gould died. There was a scurrying for information then, for the family had always been so secretive that little was known about it save that the eldest daughter had become somewhat famous for good deeds, and the second son, Edwin, had been heard of in a lively escapade or two. It was found that there were six children—George Jay, Edwin, Helen, Howard, Anna and Frank.

The mother, a good, generous hearted Christian lady, after whom Helen patterns, died a short time previous. And when the will was opened—the will which Jay Gould had given to George to keep before his death—it was found that each of these children was an equal sharer in the father's wealth, with the exception of $5,000,000 paid to George "for services rendered to his father" during the last years of his life. Then the sunlight of publicity began to beat fiercely upon these interesting orphans, some of whom were yet in their teens and charges upon their elder brothers and sisters.

The Utility of Flattery.

"Say," began Raggles, as he stopped the man on the street, "you see before you—"

"Oh, I know what you're going to say," interrupted the man. "Your wife is sick, your children are starving, your house leaks, and you yourself haven't had anything to eat for 36 hours. You can't get work, and—"

"You're on to me, ain't you?" returned Raggles.

"Well, I should say I was."

"Been round a good deal, ain't you?"

"That's what I have!" and he straightened out proudly.

"It's a pretty smart man that works you for a coin. I knowed that when I first seen you. I says to myself, that a man with sech an intelligent face as you has can't be fooled. But I goes against my better judgment and tries it, and now see what a fool I've made of myself. I humbly axes your pardon!" and Raggles made a humble obeisance.

"Oh, you needn't feel so bad about it," replied the man. "Here, take this," and he deposited a quarter in Raggles's uncalloused palm, and strode on with his head in the air.

"Flattery pays and it don't cost much," said Raggles to himself as he started to find his friend Dusty, and tell him to head off the soft and shining mark on the next block.—Indianapolis News.

Coogan (below)—Say, Murphy?
Murphy (above)—Pawat do yez want?
Coogan—Jist t'row me down a brick till Oi git me hod.—Schuylerville (N. Y.) Standard.

NOT ANY MORE OLD MAIDS.

The Bachelor Girl Lives so Happily the Sneer Is Lost.

New York has perhaps the largest quota of bachelor girls of any city, but all large cities have a goodly number of these young women who are fighting the battle of life bravely. As necessity is in most cases the cause which compels the girl to leave her own roof tree, her expenses must be kept down to the minimum, and thus it happens that the bachelor girl can seldom afford any more spacious quarters than the hall bedroom in a good boarding house in the metropolis. If she is blessed with superior talent she may command an income sufficient to support a suite of rooms in an apartment house or flat, but this is the rare exception, even in Gotham, where ability is better paid than anywhere else in this country.

It is the bachelor girl of small income whose life is most interesting, because it develops all of her womanly ingenuity to get the most out of a little. "Make every cent tell" is the motto of one of the brightest of these, and a peep into her sanctum proves her ability to live up to her maxim.

The room chosen by this young artist is in the gable of a well located east side boarding house. She rented it unfurnished, so as to give full vent to her artistic instincts, which, as some of us know, are seldom evinced in the average lodgings. On the floor, which had been previously stained a dark mahogany color, she spread a Japanese rug in which blue and gold predominate. On the light colored wall paper the water color pictures, crayons and a few pieces in oil show off with excellent effect. Her bed is a folding one, with a mantel top, and cretonne curtains concealing the mattress. Bits of her own china ornament the shelf, with a piece or two of deep blue Wedgewood, which contrasts happily with the more delicate royal Worcesters, Dresdens, etc.

A shoebox, upholstered in cretonne and piled up with cushions of various shapes and hues, serves for a couch and window seat combined.

The book shelves, also of home manufacture, contain, beside her favorite authors, such contributions as her friends have thought appropriate to the size and location of her quarters. Among these is "An Attic Philosopher," "A Journey Around My Room," "A Window in Thrums," etc., all of which she accepted good naturedly.

The one gable window is curtained prettily so as to throw the best light on the easel. A few potted plants give the touch which nothing but living green can supply, and the whole environment is one of refinement and good taste.

But to the bachelor girl herself the possibilities of her small, cylindrical gas stove count for as much as the beauty of the room, for this independent creature cooks her own breakfasts and luncheons on it, and, best of all, prepares little Bohemian suppers for the favored few who are bidden to her sanctum these cold nights. Sometimes it is a Welsh rarebit, served steaming hot on the pretty plates, which are kept in the hanging cabinet on the wall. Again it is a caramel stew or a taffy boiling.

On snappy afternoons the hot water kettle is kept singing on the hob, and if another bachelor girl chum happens in a pot of tea is brewed or a cup of beef tea is made from the little jar of extract always on hand in the closet.

Who can say the girl is not happy who can call such a snug spot her own, with its possibilities of cheerful, if not lavish, hospitality? The bachelor girl is happier than many women of large means, for her life is full of purpose, and while she has time for recreation she has none for idle repinings and vain longings.—N. Y. Herald.

Music Hath Charms.

1. Professor Scratcher reads that by playing a tune on the violin a canary bird can be taught to sing almost any air.

2. "After the Ball is over."

3. Dead Bird."

—N. Y. Herald.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For a Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S BELLADONNA PLASTER. 25c.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to [illegible]. Inhaler free.

Sold by all druggists. 8 14 y

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " " "
4,825 feet 10 " " "
20,605 feet 8 " " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
216 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
19 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
925 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1876.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,
307 Broadway, New York.
1 5 6m

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America
Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Plainfield as follows:

FAST LINE leave Philadelphia 12 20 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania

6 39 p. m. Western Express with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8 34 p.m.—SOUTH WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis Dining car Altoona to Richmond

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Pullman cars, Washington and the South—1 01 9 08, 9 36 a. m., 9 39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 03, 9 36 a. m., 9 42 p. m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 09, 5 04, 5 46, 6 37, 6 45, 7 07, 7 20, 7 40, 7 57, 8 06, 8 30, 8 39, 9 47, 9 37, 9 41, 9 48, 10 00, 10 38, 10 49, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 13, 1 20 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 2 45, 3 27, 3 47, 4 43, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 09, 6 27, 6 48, 6 58, 7 07, 7 26 7 39, 8 41, 9 10, 9 20, 10 03, 11 09 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 5 04, 7 56, 8 48, 9 50, 9 47, 10 19, 10 39, 10 49 a. m., 12 35, 1 46, 2 33, 2 45, 3 48, 4 26 5 34, 5 49, 7 06, 7 12, 7 28, 7 58, 8 20 9 15, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—7 01, 7 49, 7 19, 8 05, 9 26, 11 45, a. m., 1 08, 1 37, 3 22, 5 09, 6 36, 7 46, 8 49, 9 39 p. m. Sundays at 1 08, 3 22, 5 09, 6 36, 7 46, 8 49, 9 39 p. m. Express at 1 08, 3 22, 5 09, 6 36, 7 46, 8 49, 9 39 p. m. and 12 02 p. m. For days, 7 01, 8 39, 9 06, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 3 40, 7 47, 9 16 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 55 a m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 13, 5 44, 6 32, 7 16 7 20 9 54 p m., 12 27 night week-days Sundays 1 42, 10 26, 11 47 a. m., 10 34 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 55, 12 46, 3 20, 4 13, 5 44, 6 32, 7 20 7 36 9 54 and 12 27, Sundays, 1 43 10 25, 11 47 a m 10 34 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 36, 2 48 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 43 6 37, 10, 7 01 9 05, 9 26, 11 45 A. M., 1 08, 1 37, 2 48, 5 08 6 16, 7 46 8 49 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 08, 6 16, 7 46 8 49 9 39 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—9 39 A. M., 2 48 and 6 36 p. m., and 5.40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 39 A. M., 2 48 P. M.

For Freehold—7 39, 11 45 a. m., 4 28, 5 08 p.m., via Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 45 a. m., 4 28 and 5 08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 19 5 44 p. m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays

For Sea Side Park, Inland Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.

For Boston—2 46 p. m. daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 20, 7 00, 8 00, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 20 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 20, 3 00, 3 20, 4 00 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40, 7 00, 7 20, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 50 p. m., 12 15 night Sundays, 1 00, 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 6 00, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

P. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 5 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a. m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 10 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m
Mail closes at 5 15 p. m.

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KILINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE CRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 8 26 y

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place.

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 16 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.

H. B Gayle, No. 18 Vine St

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 7-21-tf

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 8 10 y

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. H. McCullough, Proprietor

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-11-tf

C. W. LINES & CO.,

Mason and Builders.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence 18 Elmwood Place.

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 14 tf

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 t

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 5 07, 6 02, 6 30, 7 30, 7 50, 8, 8 15, 8 37, 9 01, 9 45, 9 55, 10 30, 11 00, 11 19, A. M., 12 06, 1 16, 3 07, 3 30, 3 55, 4 30, 5 00, 5 34, 6 16, 7 03, 8 20, 9 32, 10 37, 11 32 P. M. Sunday—2 14, 5 07, 6 02, 8 03, 8 30, 10 30, 11 32 A. M., 12 32, 1 05, 3 30, 5 32, 6 34, 7 11, 8 03, 8 32, 10 17 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 30, 8 00, 9 28, 9 40, 9 10, 10, 11 45 A. M., 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 4 45, 4, 5 10, 6, 6 15, except Saturday, 6 30, 6 45, 6 15, 6 30, 7, 7 30, 8, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30 P. M., 12 15, 1, night. Sunday—4 30, 7 15, 8 00, 9 15 A. M., 12 M., 1, 3 15, 4, 8 30, 7, 9 00, 10 0 P. M., 12 30 night. 1 to M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 5 32, 6 32, 6 50, 7 28, 7 32, 8, 8 32, 9 32, 10 32, 11 32 A. M., 12 32 P. M., 2 32, 3 32, 4 32, 5 32, 6 32, 7 32, 8 32, 9 32, 10 32, 11 32 P. M. Sunday—8 32, 9 32, 10 32, 11 32 A. M., 12 32, 1 32, 2 32, 3 32, 4 32, 5 32, 6 32, 7 32, 8 32, 9 32, 10 32, 11 32 P. M.

Leave Newark 6 15, 7 15, 7 45, 8 15, 9 00, 10 00, 11 00 A. M., 12 00, 1 00, 2 00, 3 00, 4 00, 5 00, 6 00, 7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 00 P. M. Sunday—7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 00 A. M., 12 00, 1 00, 2 00, 3 00, 4 00, 5 00, 6 00, 7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 00, 7 10, 8 18, 9 04, 11 a.m., 12 00, 2 00, 3 22, 4 18, 5 06, 6 18, 7 34, 8 04, 10, 10 38, 11 22, P. M. 2 00 night Sunday—8 40, 9 30 A. M., 2 00, 8 22, 8 16, 8 58, 10 18, 11 14 P. M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 30, 7 00, 7 36, 7 55, 8 20, 9 08, 9 48, 11 40 A. M., 12 51, 1 48, 3 00, 3 25, 4 20, 5 28, 6 20, 6 57, 7 48, 8 17 00, P. M. Sunday 8 20, 9 48, 10 55 A. M., 12 06, 1 20 5 06, 6 48, 8 03, 8 06, 9 40? M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON

Leave Plainfield 6 46, 8 16, 9 54, A. M., 12 46, 3 03, 5 16, 7 22, P. M. Sunday—8 46, 9 30 A. M., 3 03, 8 07, P. M.

Leave Easton 6 05, 7 00, 8 53, A. M., 12 22, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sundays—7 15, 10 02, A. M. 6 40, 7 30, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p.m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 46 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Manch Chunk, Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 A. M. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Manch Chunk.

9 56 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D. L. & W. R. R., East Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Manch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 P. M. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 15 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Manch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Manch Chunk.

5 05 P. M., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

7 10 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Manch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

8 19 P. M. for Flemington.

8 55 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Manch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

9 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

8 46 A. M. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Manch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 3 22 P. M. Sundays for Easton, 9 08 P. M. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Manch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg. 8 55 P. M. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Manch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 27 a. m. 1 18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 8 27, 8, 10 27, a. m. 1.18, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—except Ocean Grove 9 03, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 27, 5 38, 8 10 27 a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 00, 5 54, 7 08 p.m. Sunday—8 03, p. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 27, 8, 10 27 a.m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 30 p.m.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK & LONG BRANCH R.R.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 6 46, 8 46, 10 46, a. m., 2 09, 5 36, 8 07, 9 21, 9 57 p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—6 46, 8 46, a. m., 2 09, 5 36, 8 07, 9 57 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 6 46, 8 46, 9 46, 10 46, a. m., 12 46, 2 09, 5 36, 8 07, 9 21, 9 57 p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday 6 46, 9 36, a. m., 2 09, 5 36 (8 p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 6 46, a. m., 2 09, 5 36 6 46 p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—9 46 a. m., 2 09, 5 36 6 46 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 36 p m. Sundays 5 36 p. m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week-days at 9 54 a. m., 3 22 p. m. Sundays 6 36 p. m.

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA, Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 20, 9 20, 11 25 a.m., 1 20, 3 20, 5 15, 6 04, 9 25 p.m. 12 10, night. Sundays—4 10, 9 20, 9 20, 12 25 a. m., 3 20, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night

From 24th and Chestnut—3 55, 7 55, 9 21, 11 10, 8 m. 3 25, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—3 55, 7 55, 12 19 p m, 3 25, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 55, 8 06, 10 25, a.m., 12 15, 2 10, 4 20, 6 55, 9 05 p. m Sundays—1 00, 4 55 9 05, 10 27 a. m., 1 15, 4 25 6 45, 9 05 p. m

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Nearly 100,000 Now in Use.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

EASY TERMS,—EXCHANGED.

Catalogue mailed on application.

110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

MONEY LOANED,

Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualification a write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1122 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 6m

E. H. HOLMES.

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD.

YARD—No. 238 Madison Avenue and office for coal orders with Woolston & Runyon, 145 North avenue.

Are You Reading

Those Interesting Monographs on

Napoleon

BY

John Clark Ridpath

IN THIS PAPER?

The Greatest Warrior

Described by one of

The Greatest Historians

They Are Published Saturdays.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

FASHION'S CZAR.

HE DECREED WHAT WOMEN SHOULD WEAR THE WORLD OVER.

Something of Worth, the Man Milliner of Paris. His Methods of Originating Fashions. He Regarded Americans as His Best Customers.

The death of Worth, the man milliner, closes a reign more despotic than that of a czar of all the Russias. A sovereign's rule is conterminous with his own territory; that of the Parisian arbiter of feminine fashions was irrespective of nationality. His influence was felt in every home in the civilized world from Tokio to San Francisco and back again the other way. It was he who decided whether the women of civilization should wear big sleeves or little sleeves, bell skirts or skirts that were straight; who decided what color should be the prevailing note, and who thus altered the appearance of our public places, theaters, ball rooms, the interior of churches on Sundays, the board walk of summer resorts and the sidewalks of our streets. His initiative spread from those who had the felicity of wearing his gowns to those who only had that ambition, and so on. His rule was a tribute to the constructive, artistic genius of man. It was strange that his tyranny never drew a protest from even the most modern of modern women.

M. Worth was born at Bourne, in Lincolnshire, in 1825, and the king of fashion was therefore not, as was generally supposed, a Frenchman, but an Englishman. He was employed for some time by a well known firm in Oxford street, London, and thence proceeded to Paris.

M. Worth has made dresses for all the queens of Europe, with the single exception of Queen Victoria, and for women of fashion all the world over.

At the present time his establishment employs about 1,200 persons and turns out between 6,000 and 7,000 dresses and between 3,000 and 4,000 cloaks a year.

"Who," asked a visitor recently, "are your best customers?"

"Well," replied Worth, "we send model dresses to all parts of the world, but I think Americans are the best clients."

"What is really the origin of a fashion, M. Worth?"

"Well, it is difficult to enter into all the details which influence changes of style; but briefly I may say that when a manufacturer invents any fabric or design he sends me a pattern, asking if I can make use of it. That fabric may require a severe style of dress, or, if light and soft, is adapted for draperies, puffings, etc. If the material pleases me I order a large quantity, to be specially made for me, and design my dresses accordingly.

"A purchase by a large firm of a great quantity of material influences other firms; and that material and the style it is best suited to becomes the fashion. Then again the stage has great influence over fashion."

M. WORTH.

"How do you arrange your designs?"

"All my models are first of all made in black and white muslin and then copied in the material and coloring which I select. Our silks are specially woven for us and our jet fringes cannot be got elsewhere."

Here is an account of a visit to Worth's establishment that appeared in a recent number of the Strand Magazine:

"The picturesque old veteran was deep in consultation when I entered. It must have been on a question of trousseau that he was laying down the law, for the group surrounding him consisted of an elderly lady, a pretty young one and a very bored looking young man. M. Worth was dressed in a dark, loose dressing gown, relieved with touches of blue, and the right hand side bottom corner was lifted up and drawn through a buttonhole a little above the waist; on his head he wore a miter shaped cap of black velvet. Sometimes his gown is richly trimmed with fur.

"The rooms where clients are received are many in number, but plainly furnished, with counters for measuring material and the floor is covered with carpet in imitation of tiger skin, in gray and black, with scarlet bordering.

"Several young women are dressed in the latest style of morning, visiting, dinner and reception toilets, and are paraded in turn, this way and that, before clients to enable them to judge of the effect of the garments when worn.

"A stranger would be specially struck with the constant, attentive supervision over all departments by M. Worth and his two sons, the unpretentious appearance of the reception and fitting rooms, the beautiful finish and refined daintiness of all the work, and the daring originality which every model exhibits, which only a creative, artistic mind could possibly think of. Above all, all the workrooms that I was freely permitted to visit, as well as the kitchen, where the food is cooked for the many employes, show the care and forethought of the master for those who work for him."

Not in the Libretto.

It was at a critical dramatic moment long ago that the prima donna heard the tenor warbling in Italian:

"Oh, my dear friend, what on earth shall I do? My coating is ripping up the back, and I dare not embrace you!"

Quick as lightning she warbled back: "Stand still, keep your back to the audience, and I will come and throw my arms around you."

'Tis told that she did so, and with a pin puckered the coat's wound together, and revived the tenor's courage to finish the scene.—Boston Evening Transcript.

A GEORGIA FOLK SONG.

Oh de rooster roos' on de henroos' high:
Chillen, cl'ar de way!
De preacher stop in de passin' by,
En' he never crow fer day!

He never crow fer day,
He never crow fer day;
De preacher stop,
En' his game back drap,
En' de rooster gone his way!

Oh, de turkey roos' in de tall pine tree;
Chillen, bar de do'!
De preacher rise like a bumble bee,
En' he never roos' no mo'!

He never roos' no mo',
He never roos' no mo';
He hear de word,
En' de turkey bird,
He gone whar de preacher go.

Oh de 'possum ketched in de fowlhouse trap
An' he squeal 'twell his mouth is so';
But he fall in de preacher bag, ker flap,
En' he never squeal no mo'!

He never squeal no mo',
He never squeal no mo';
He heard de work,
Like de turkey bird,
En' de preacher got him sho'!

—Atlanta Constitution.

DARK DAYS OF 1864.

July and August Were the Gloomiest Months of the Entire Year.

In the memory of men who lived in Washington during the months of July and August, 1864, those days will appear to be the darkest of the many dark days through which passed the friends and lovers of the Federal Union. The earlier years of the war, it is true, had been full of grief, despondency and even agony, but the darkness that settled upon us in the summer of 1864 was the more difficult to be endured because of its unexpectedness. The hopes so buoyantly entertained by our people when Grant opened his campaign in Virginia had been dashed. No joyful tidings came from the army now; a deadly calm prevailed where had so lately resounded the shouts of victory. In every department of the government there was a manifest discouragement. In the field of national politics confusion reigned.

When Congress adjourned on July 4, with the Wade-Davis reconstruction bill still unsigned, the turmoil inside of the Union Republican party was something terrific, and when, a month later, the Wade-Davis manifesto appeared the consternation of the Republican leaders was very great. Early's invasion of Maryland and dash upon Washington, which caused a good deal of panic in the country generally, occurred about the middle of July. Right on the heels of this event came the President's call for five hundred thousand men, which was issued July 18, and the placing of a new two million loan, which dropped upon the people about the same time.

Nor was the military situation any more cheerful. The awful fighting in the Wilderness and at Cold Harbor had fairly startled the country by the enormous loss of life sustained by the Army of the Potomac, apparently without any corresponding gain of position. The failure of the Petersburg mine, July 30, was another addition to the burden carried in the hearts of patriotic Americans. Chase's resignation of the secretaryship of the treasury and the muddle which Horace Greeley had succeeded in creating by his futile mission to the rebel emissaries at Niagara Falls had so worried the people that nobody appeared to know what was in the air—a compromise in the interest of peace or a more vigorous prosecution of the war.—Century.

STORIES OF THE DAY.

Two Strolling Negro Musicians Meet With a Surprise.

Two strolling negro musicians, one with a banjo under his arm and the other with a guitar, stopped in front of an Adams street undertaking establishment. They were looking for saloons where music, followed by a collection, would be allowed.

From an exterior view there is nothing about the place that would indicate the business carried on within. No small white casket rests in the show window, and there is an absence of wreaths and crosses done in wax. The windows are draped with silk curtains, after the fashion of first class buffets, and incandescent lights blazed invitingly as in a cheerful cigar store. That the place is an undertaking establishment no one would even guess. The negroes did not surmise it. They shifted their instruments from one arm to the other as they stood on the sidewalk, pondering whether they should go in or not. There was something about the place, after all, that did not look just right, but they did not know what it was.

"Looks like a saloon, any way," one was heard to say to the other, with an accent on the first word; so he stepped back a few paces and rested one end of his instrument case on the sidewalk. "Come 'long," he continued; "standing ons here in the cold ain't gwine to buy bread fo' de baby."

The negroes entered with smiling faces at the prospect of picking up a few dimes. One of them said to the undertaker, a man with fierce black whiskers:

"Say, boss, does yo' 'low music?"

"No," was the answer in a sepulchral tone that chilled the musicians' ardor. They were dumbfounded when they saw some coffins at the same moment. They quickly went out. When they reached the sidewalk they looked up at the place again. This time they noticed a sign over the door which said "undertaker and embalmer." They looked at each other in continued surprise. Then they looked up at the sign again, both reading the words aloud.

Two mouths opened slowly until they were stretched from ear to ear.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Chain of Persecution.

George—No matter how things go the poor always suffer.

Jack—Yes, the nabobs who own railroads think nothing of running over a poor man's horse.

"Yes, and the man who can afford to own a horse runs down a poor fellow on a bicycle."

"Just so. And the poor fellow on the bicycle runs down the poor fellow who has to walk."

"That's it. And the man who walks stumbles against the cripple who goes on crutches."

"That's the way. And the cripple on crutches spends most of his time in jamming his sticks down on other people's corns. It's really a selfish world."—Clipper.

A Local Desperado.

The terror of Hannibal is known as "Bull Kit," the Tamale Man.—St. Joseph Herald.

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10¾c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE.

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORE T MIR ES OPUBCFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts,
Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

SHAD! Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

THE SECOND PROMISE

By HOWARD FIELDING

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller]

CHAPTER V.

DARKNESS AND THEN LIGHT.

When Amy awoke she was lying in total darkness. There seemed to be a great weight upon her, and especially it pressed upon her face.

The most horrible thought that can be was the first that came to her. She believed that she had been buried alive. But the sound of a human voice drove away that terror. It was a woman's voice, and very gentle and sympathetic.

"You must lie still," it said. "Don't be frightened. You're in a hospital, but you're not much hurt."

"Why is my face covered?" she cried, in terror.

"Your eyes have been somewhat injured, but—"

"Blind! Was not death punishment enough?"

"No, my child, you are not blind, and your eyes will soon be as serviceable as ever they were. You were struck in the face by a jet of flame which might well have killed or blinded you. But it did neither. You will not even be disfigured."

"Does my husband know?"

"Yes."

"All?"

"I do not understand."

Amy was silent for a moment.

"Who told my husband?" she asked, at last.

"We have communicated with him," said the sister, for such was the nurse.

"Is Mr. Carroll here?"

"I do not know whether he is now in the hospital. He was here till early morning."

"Have I been unconscious all night?"

"It is now about seven o'clock."

Amy renewed her inquiries about Carroll. The sister left the room and returned immediately with the information that the young man was in the waiting-room, but that the hospital physician would not permit the patient to talk any more. If she would go to sleep, she could speak with Mr. Carroll when she woke. Having no alternative, and, being exhausted beyond measure, Amy went to sleep. It was a wonder to her, as her senses slipped away, that she could enjoy that blessing, for her body was racked with pain and every breath was agony, as a result of the smoke which she had inhaled.

She awoke much refreshed, a little after noon. The first question was whether any word had come from her husband. In reply the sister read a message full of loving sympathy. He would be beside her in spirit, he wrote, so long as she was called upon to suffer and to wait. Having heard this message twice, she renewed her request to speak with Carroll.

He came in response to the sister's summons. She asked anxiously if he had suffered any injury, and he replied jocularly that he had lost one eyebrow and a part of his hair, and considered himself exceedingly lucky.

She began to overwhelm him with thanks for having rescued her. He checked her.

"Don't make a hero out of me," he said. "I'm on the other side of the ledger. I'm one of the saved, as you are. It is true that I helped carry you out, but there was a time when I don't believe I'd have gone any further, if I hadn't had help. I'm breathing nothing but three-cornered files even now, and I was a mighty sight worse off then."

"How did you happen to be there?"

"I followed Chase," he said, with considerable hesitation.

She shuddered.

"What has become of him?" she asked.

"Heaven knows. He got out of the hotel all right, and then he skipped. You needn't say anything. I know why he has gone. He deserted you."

"How did you know that?"

"Oh, I understand his whole plot. I know how he got the information as to your hiding place. He bribed a letter-carrier after failing with all your servants. He got the postmark, of course, in that way. I learned what he was up to and watched him. It was none of my business, you know, as I told you that evening on the pier, but I was bound to do it."

"I shall thank you as long as I live."

"Don't think of it. Well, I found out that he was to leave town for Albany. I missed his train, but caught the next, and was only a little behind him. It wasn't very hard to trace him to the Delavan, but it took time. As soon as I saw 'Mr. and Mrs. Mason' on the register in his handwriting, I saw the whole game. He'd made an appointment for you in Mrs. Mason's name."

Carroll's voice trembled as he recalled his emotions at the moment of that discovery.

"Just as we—that is, just as I—" he continued.

"Was there some one with you?" cried Amy.

"Well, yes; I had a shrewd fellow with me, and he deserves most of the credit."

"A detective?"

"Oh, he's perfectly trustworthy. He has every reason for keeping this affair a profound secret. As I was saying, just as we made that discovery, the alarm was given. We lost precious time by not knowing the hotel better, but at last we fought our way to the foot of those stairs. There Chase dashed squarely into me, and pretty nearly broke me into two pieces. However, I had strength enough to pick him up and throw him down the next flight, which may have saved his life, for he was pretty badly used up after his collision with me.

"And then you appeared. I shall never live to see another such spectacle as was made by that flash of fire hissing through the partition beside you, and revealing you to us. The rest needs no telling. Here we are, thank heaven, and not much hurt, though I shall miss that mass of yellow curls for a time, and so will some one who has a better right. But I take the liberty of including myself in that remark as my sole recompense for helping to carry you out of that smoke and fire."

"It will not be your sole reward, if my gratitude and my friendship are worth anything."

Carroll choked as he strove to reply.

"You see my throat's pretty bad yet," he said. "And now let me put myself at your service. I know there is something I can do for you.'"

"I thought at first that there was," she said, "but now I see my duty clearer. I had intended to ask you to keep all this from him, but that would be a miserable mistake. I shall write him the whole story; the good sister will be my amanuensis."

"Gladly, my child," said the sister.

With many expressions of gratitude, Amy dismissed Carroll, and then she dictated a letter that was clearer than crystal. It revealed her heart from the very first moment when she had permitted her revolt against her husband's hard fate to alienate her from him. She confessed that she had taken her freedom gladly when he had given it to her; and that she had made wretched misuse of it. She wished for nothing better than to return to him and never leave him again. She commended Carroll to her husband as one who had proven a true friend.

She told Carroll that she had done this when he came next day, and he pretended that he could have asked for nothing more in the world.

"And, by the way," he added, "I ought to tell you now to be prepared for a considerable change when you see Dr. Lynde. I'm told you'll be able to see in a few days, and as soon as your eyes are all right you can go home at once."

"A change?"

"He is considerably improved."

"I thank God for it; but whether he is to regain his health or to remain a hopeless invalid, I shall never leave him again when once we are reunited. I believe that I have always had a deep feeling for the sacredness of the marriage tie; but I have a thousand times more now. If one wishes to know how holy it is, he must get a glimpse into the soul of one who is striving to break and dishonor it."

"I guess you've stated it rightly," said Carroll, thoughtfully. "I don't really know how such a fellow feels, but I'm dead sure of one thing—he doesn't love the woman."

Which is a very homely way of stating an important fact.

As Carroll spoke some one entered the room.

"Who is that?" cried Amy.

"It's the doctor," responded Carroll.

"He says that you may see to-day," said the sister, gently, "but it will only be for a little while."

"To see again!" cried Amy. "It seems years that I have been blind. How long must time have seemed to him," she added softly.

She was sitting in a great chair; and after the window had been somewhat darkened the doctor passed behind her, and proceeded to undo the bandage that covered her eyes.

In an instant she saw Carroll, curiously disfigured by the loss of his eyebrow and by the close cropping of his hair which symmetry had necessitated. Then she saw the sister; and a moment later, turning, saw the doctor.

LIGHT AT LAST.

It was Dr. Lynde.

They were alone in the room when she recovered from her surprise and looked around for the others.

Then they sat together for a long time while he told of his recovery. It appeared that his case from the first had been totally misunderstood. It had been a surgical, not a medical case, depending upon a direct injury to the spine, which, upon discovery, had been recognized as remediable. The soulless scientist from the fatherland had accomplished it.

Lynde had wished his wife to know nothing about this until he was fully restored, and for that reason had delayed her return to him.

The reader will not need to be informed that Lynde was the shrewd and discreet friend who had accompanied Carroll to Albany, and to whose indomitable courage the escape of all of them from the burning hotel was due.

Nor is there need to carry the fortunate conclusion of the story into detail, for it goes without saying that two persons whose lives had come so near to shipwreck would be just the very ones to "live happily ever afterwards."

[THE END.]

THE LETTER.

MAGIC FOR AMATEURS

CLEVER TRICKS THAT CAN BE PERFORMED BY THE CHILDREN.

How to Get Up a Wizard Performance That Don't Cost Anything. The Dancing Dogs, Burning Snow and Fire Writing All Explained.

If you wish to amuse and mystify your young friends, when all the familiar games have been played and the jollity lags a bit, here are a few tricks, simple enough when you know them, but very puzzling and interesting to the uninitiated. They are not particularly new, to be sure, but it is just possible they are so old the little folks of to-day may never have tried them before.

When there is any quantity of snow you might bring some of it into the house and show your small acquaintances how it can be burned. Of course, they will not believe it can be done, and they will be greatly astonished after you have made a little cone shaped mound and applied a lighted match to the apex, to see it blaze up and burn with a beautiful colored flame. When you are arranging the pyramid of snow you must manage to set a piece of camphor gum at the point. As it is the gum that burns, and not the snow, there is nothing so remarkable about the trick, after all. But to any one not in the secret it looks very mysterious, indeed, as do so many other things we do not understand.

Did you ever see any one write his name with flame on a piece of paper without burning anything? The fire seems to travel over the surface until the letters are all outlined, and then it goes out. It looks very weird, indeed, especially if the lights have been turned down and the performance has been preceded by a lot of stories about ghosts and other uncanny topics. But, like the wonderful snow, it's nothing but a trick, and any boy or girl can do it. What you need are a few cents' worth of saltpeter, which you can buy at any apothecary's shop, and some pieces of unsized paper. Drop the saltpeter into a bowl of water until no more will dissolve. Then take a wooden toothpick or any other sharpened stick, dip it in the saltpeter and write whatever you like on the paper. A regular little show might be arranged by a clever boy, or a girl, either, for that matter. It might better be both. The boy could be stage manager and tell a wonderful little tale about the way his star conjurer had been spirited away to some Rider Haggard land, where she had learned some of the mysterious powers over fire known only to the natives of the novelist's strange land. He will then introduce mademoiselle, the wizardess, who will proceed to do wonderful things with the fire. She will hold the paper and the match in her hand, and after saying the spell in the language of this strange "People of the Mist," the fire will begin to travel over the paper, perhaps spelling a motto or outlining some weird or familiar animal. Of course, if you got a good look at the papers you would see a pencil mark indicating where the match should be applied, but otherwise the paper would appear unmarked. The saltpeter dries quickly, and on unglazed paper will not show.

If the youthful showman wants another number on his programme he might bring on a small company of dancing dogs. A little more skill is required to construct the dancing dogs, but any ordinary boy or girl who has a little patience can do it. The materials are simple—some camphor gum, needles, cork, thin cardboard pictures of dogs and a shallow basin of water. First make sure that your hands are thoroughly clean and dry and that the cork is new. Old cork soaked with oil or some other substance will not answer. Having gathered your materials, cut a rather thin layer of the cork, lay it flat on the table and push two needles through it horizontally so that they will form a cross. On each of the four ends stick a bit of gum camphor. Try to get each piece of the gum as nearly the same size as the others as possible. Having fixed your floaters, as it were, look out for your dogs. Paste the pictures, which should represent dogs standing on their hind legs, on the pasteboard and cut out around them, leaving a small piece of the pasteboard attached to the feet. This should be bent at right angles to the figure and fastened to the cork with a bit of sealing wax. Now set your figures in the basin of water and they will float and gyrate in a perpetual waltz that is very funny indeed. After awhile, of course, the camphor will evaporate, but new pieces can be put on the needles for each performance, or whenever needed.

At a children's party not long ago a simple but amusing game was played which may be new to some of you. Each player was blindfolded in turn. But before the handkerchief was tied over his eyes he was told to look around the room and notice the objects in it and how they were placed. After being blindfolded he turned around three times and then said aloud what he expected to touch by walking straight ahead. And how the children laughed when the boy, who thought that wasn't any game at all, laid his hand upon the steam radiator when he said he was going to touch the china cabinet which was on the other side of the room! He was given the booby prize, a funny little colored doll with a great many red flannel petticoats that made a capital penwiper.—N. Y. World.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper.

1 21 tf-c

BAMBERGER'S

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in

Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts

will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes

in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons.

$1.98 to $27.50

NEW

Spring Jackets

in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from

$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from

49c to $7.50

NEW

Separate Skirts

of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles, lined and interlined, from

$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS

The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from

98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND

House Dresses

Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from

44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c.
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose	7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose	10c pair
" " " double knee	18c pair
" " " extra heavy	25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs	5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs	5c

210 West Front Street.

OU MAY BE HAPPY

—IN—

Hallock's Handsome Hats.

OUR $3 SHOES

are better than ever before. Better means

More reliable,
More wear,
More style.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue.

IF YOU WANT

ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE

Established 1841.

The Selection

of a

Carpet,

is not always an easy matter. One thing about buying here, we have plenty of stock, a wide range of patterns, and we never hurry a customer to a decision. Our salesmen are painstaking, and will gladly show you every pattern in stock if it will help you to decide. We are now exhibiting many new styles in

Royal Wilton
Bundhai Wilton
Velvets
Body Brusse's
Tapestry Brussels
and Ingrains.
Also Art Squares
Oilcloths
Linoleums, Etc.

Our recent importations of

Mattings!

are larger than ever. 200 pieces of choice Chinese and Japanese from $3 75 piece upward.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET,

Newark, N. J.

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System

used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N J

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 6 11

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit.

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Treaton Abbotoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 238 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

THE PRESS WAS RIGHT.

e Court Decides as It Held, in the Tingley-Runyon Case.

The Tingley-Runyon litigation apparently reached the final stage yesterday, when Judge McCormick handed down his decision that the verdict in the treepass case entitled Mrs. Tingley to costs of suit. The first suit was brought to recover a few inches of land. The case was tried in the Supreme Court and Mrs. Tingley was successful. The next case was brought in the Common Pleas Court for cutting some trees on those few inches of land and in that case Mr. Runyon called for a jury of view. The jury under the charge of the Sheriff came to Plainfield and inspected the premises and then heard the evidence and arguments of counsel and charge of the Court and decided in Mrs. Tingley's favor, fixing her damages at one hundred dollars.

The Press, in reporting the verdict, stated that it carried costs. Statements to the contrary appeared in other newspapers. The Press, as usual, was right, as the Court decided yesterday. It was the closest kind of a question and necessitated what was practically a third trial Yesterday Craig A. Marsh, the successful counsel in all three cases, was granted an order to enter up judgment in favor of Mrs. Tingley with all costs.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Not a Death Has Marred This Happy Family Circle.

The residence of Mr and Mrs W W Martin, East Fifth street, was the scene of a pleasant home gathering last evening, when Mr and Mrs Robert Radford, Sr, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, having been married fifty happy years.

All the children and grandchildren were present, not a death having occurred to break the circle.

The gifts, all gold, were placed in envelopes, and handed to Mr and Mrs Radford during the evening, and no one knew one another's gift.

Everyone joined in hearty congratulation for the many years of health and success enjoyed by Mr and Mrs Radford, and hoped they would see many more.

Excellent refreshments were served, after which the happy event was brought to a close.

THE RULE GRANTED.

Contesting the Accounts of the Conklin Estate.

The Orphans Court, after taking time to consider the matter, yesterday decided to grant a rule requiring Sarah Conklin's executor to appear and show cause why his account should not be reopened on the ground of alleged fraud. The papers were placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Moffett, and the hearing is to take place in Elizabeth April 12.

Mollie Is Irrepressible.

The familiar features of Mollie Stevens were in the City Court this morning. Last night Mollie met a friend from New York, who employed Hackman Michael Kennedy to drive them about the city, and out to Scotch Plains. Meanwhile Mollie and her friend became inebriated and quarreled. Mollie says her friend stabbed her in the hand, and she was badly cut, but what his name is she does not say. At 1 this morning Policeman Cooney found her snoring and drunk, lying in a disgraceful condition in a hallway on North avenue and arrested her.

For once in her life she did not deny the charge in the City Court, and Judge Coddington sent her to the county jail for 20 days.

Mollie is not yet 20 years of age.

Crack Marksmen.

Next Monday, at the Climax Gun Club grounds, a great team race will be shot between fifteen of the Climax Club and a like number from the crack Keystone League of Philadelphia; conditions, fifteen live birds per man. The Quakers number among their team many of the crack shots of the Riverton Gun Club, the swell club of Philadelphia.

T H Keller has selected a strong team to uphold the honors of Jersey, and they hope to win. The Plainfield boys will give them a good time, and entertain them to the best of their ability. Stages will meet them at 10 a m, on the arrival of the train from Philadelphia, and a caterer will serve a good luncheon in the clubhouse at noon.

—H. Hand today announces a chance for many bargains in the auction sale on Terrell road, Tuesday. Read the ad for particulars.

—Scotch Plains will have a ball team in charge of William Lee.

—The Plainfield Building and Loan Association will meet in annual session next Monday evening, in Liefke's hall, West Front street, for the election of officers and the reading of the annual report.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

THE CLARKSON WILL.

Endows the Jennie Clarkson Home for Children.

LIFE INTERESTS HELD IN TRUST.

Mayor Gilbert and Ex-Mayor Randolph Executors—$2,000 to Y. M. C. A. and $2,000 to Muhlenberg Hospital.

The will and codicil of William R. Clarkson, late of this city, were filed for probate in New York yesterday. Mr. Clarkson gives to the Baptist Home Society $5,000, to the Baptist Ministers' Home Society of West Farms $5,000, to the Young Men's Christian Association of Plainfield $2,000, to the Muhlenberg Hospital of Plainfield $2,000, and to Rev. Frank B. Morse, D. D., $2,000. He gives to his wife, Annie E. Clarkson, in trust one-half of the residue of his estate. The other half is to be held in trust for his sister, Mary V. Ayers.

The Jennie Clarkson Baptist Orphanage was incorporated in 1892. Mr. Clarkson directs that in case the name of this corporation is legally changed to the Jennie Clarkson Home for Children, it shall receive his residuary estate subject to the life estates of his wife and sister, half to be paid over upon the death of either the wife or sister, and the other half upon the death of the survivor. If the name is not changed the will provides that Rev. Frank B. Morse, D. D., Rev. Robert S. MacArthur, D. D., Lewis V. F. Randolph of Plainfield, Thompson E. F. Randolph, and Alexander Gilbert of Plainfield, perfect the organization of a benevolent corporation to be known as the Jennie Clarkson Home for Children, to receive all the residue of the estate, subject to the life estates of the testator's wife and sister. The executors are ex-Mayor Randolph and Mayor Gilbert.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—An Italian boy was killed by a Blue Line train in Westfield yesterday.

—Those stylish shapes in youths' and boys' soft and stiff hats are from Hallock. His styles are right.

—Henry Carr of Bound Brook, with a leg fractured by a runaway accident, was admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital today.

—Undertaker H. DeMott will break ground Monday for a complete undertaking parlor adjoining his new residence on Somerset street.

—Wm. Hand & Son today moved James Davis from 109 West Fourth street to 415 Orchard place, and John N. Anderson from 614 New street to 119 West Fourth street.

—Wm. Courtwright of Fifth street and Madison avenue fell from a woodshed yesterday and was badly jarred. Luckily no bones were broken. Dr. Gaston is attending.

—Robert Rushmore of Grant avenue has purchased a fine Hambletonian trotter with a strain of Trilby, and the boys of Club-car Evona hope her kicking propensities will be slight.

—Owing to the illness of the carpenter, the work on the carriers room in the postoffice has been somewhat delayed, and it will yet be several days before it is ready for occupancy.

—Wallace V. Miller and Wm. F. Trust last night attended Elizabeth City Lodge, No. 289, B. P. O. They carried applications for membership from Edward G. Pope and John Mortimer of this city.

—A generous-hearted gentleman who does not want his identity known, is having the gutters paved with blue-stone flags in front of Trinity Church property, and abating the nuisance of a mud hole so long an annoyance.

—Mr. Teller, special agent of the Orient Insurance Company, paid Edward Campbell the full amount of the policy on his furniture destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. The loss was paid by check in full, Friday. Lyman & Petrie were the agents.

—In the Spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, and at other seasons too he broods on that all things above; and if the Plainfield youth is wise, ere chance is on the wing, he "pops," and goes to Collier's for a charmed engagement ring.

—F. M. Masker, the plumber, met with another accident yesterday. His horse and wagon were standing on Putnam avenue while he was talking to a friend. He took the blanket off the horse and got in the wagon, and was just turning around to take his seat when the animal gave a plunge, running down the street at a breakneck speed. Mr. Masker was thrown over the dashboard into the street, but fortunately was not injured. The horse was caught on Kensington avenue.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

A WIT, A BISHOP.

Plainfield Profits by a Chatty Paper on Sydney Smith.

An intellectual audience was present in All Souls Church last night to hear the second paper of the series on five great humorists, read by Miss Edith R. Leonard, whose subject was Sydney Smith.

In opening she said that Smith was above all things a laugher, and diffused brightness wherever he went. His great achievements as a reformer must not be forgotten, but his humor lent flavor to a somewhat monotonous life.

Born in 1771, he spent the best portion of his life as an obscure country clergyman, obtaining church advancement and prosperity only late in life. Unlike some other men of talent, he was as delightful a companion in his home as before the world. His description of building a house and getting settled in Yorkshire, and the hardships he had to overcome, told of one of the events of his life.

She told how the little country girl, "Bunch", was made into the "best butler in the county"; and also of his clever devices, "rheumatic armor" and "universal scratcher". His fun was never practical joking, but sometimes became boyish frolic as in "parsonic deer".

He was probably not acting out his true destiny in becoming a clergyman, but having assumed church duties he performed them faithfully and energetically, and at the same time dispensed medicines with original names to his parishioners. His humor probably hindered his advancement in the church, because of the incongruity of making a noted society wit, a bishop. His character was shown in the boldness of criticising what seemed to him inconsistencies and abuses in the church.

An instance of his struggle for toleration was the "Letters of Peter Plymley". His frequent articles on political, social and ecclesiastical questions are not absorbingly interesting today, because they deal with dead issues, but display great thought. He was one of the most important contributors to the Edinburgh Review, of which he was one of the founders. Mrs. Jameson says that his wit almost always involved a thought worth remembering for its own sake, as in his description of dining out in the country. When in London he was greatly in demand, and his presence usually insured the success of any entertainment. Never coarse nor irreverent, he made fun of his friends without alienating their friendship.

In fact his friendships were warm and enduring, and some of them with interesting women. In closing, she said that perhaps he would not have been an acceptable conversationalist at the present day, but he was such a humorist as his age demanded, and left the world brighter, happier and better for his living in it.

At the conclusion of the paper, a general and open discussion followed, in which many interesting points were brought out.

St. Andrew's Brotherhood.

The young men in the Church of the Redeemer have organized a chapter of this brotherhood and received their charter. The chapter will be duly instituted tomorrow at the afternoon service. A cordial invitation is extended to all young men to be present at that service.

St. Andrew's Brotherhood was started in 1883 by twelve young men in St. James Church, Chicago. They met on St. Andrew's Day and agreed to pray daily for the spread of Christ's Kingdom among young men, and to make an earnest effort each week to bring at least one young man within the hearing of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. These two rules of prayer and service have throughout its history characterized the brotherhood, which has spread throughout the United States and Canada, and there are also chapters in England, Scotland, and Australia. It has been the means of bringing many young men not only into the church but making them active workers in it. Dr. Johnstone is very much pleased at the organization of this chapter and his address at the afternoon service will have special reference to the work of young men for Christ.

—Nothing helps a man's appearance like a new hat, clean shirt, and the right style of neckwear. U. B. Crane's, 120 West Front street, is a good place to buy them.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs and expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

HAS A GOOD EYE.

Detective Blackford Calculated a Man was a Thief, and He Was.

Detective John Blackford saw a man on East Third street this morning. He mentally calculated that the man was a tramp and was bent on evil doing. The detective kept an eye on the man's movements, and very soon after saw him stealing coal from a car on the Jersey Central railroad. Now the railroad company pays good money for its coal and doesn't like to dispose of it without recompense. Besides it's a crime to take coal without asking for it and without paying for it. Detective Blackford knew this and also knew that it was his duty to arrest the man. So he concealed himself where he could see the man but the man could n't see him. That's part of his duty as a detective. Pretty soon he saw the man descend from the car and help another man carry a bag of coal down to Cottage place. The other man was on the car all the time but the detective had not seen his face, so he could arrest no one whose face he could not identify. Therefore he only arrested the man who he calculated was the tramp. The tramp said his name was Wm. Barry. He also said that he did n't steal coal. The way he happened to be there, so he said, was that he saw the man struggling with the bag. It was too heavy for him. Then he offered to lend him a helping hand. When he attempted to make good his offer the detective arrested him.

The tramp did n't think it was right for him to be arrested for stealing coal. He did n't own a stove, and did n't live in Plainfield. The only thing he stole was a ride on the train.

Judge Coddington did n't respect his plea and sentenced him to pay a fine of $3 or go to jail for 20 days. He went to jail.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Fred Ross attended a party at South Branch last night.

Miss Annie Negley of Monroe, N. Y., is visiting friends in this city.

Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., returned today from a business trip to Buffalo.

Mrs. Julia Lytel and daughter of Newark are visiting relatives in Plainfield.

Rev. C. L. Goodrich will occupy Dr. Bradford's pulpit in Montclair tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jerolaman are the proud parents of a 12-pound girl born last night.

Henry Talmadge of Netherwood is registered at the Arlington Hotel, Washington.

Louis C. J. Randolph of Evona, who has been ill with the grip some time, is improving.

Mrs. Mabel VanBen Thuesen and Anna Valkwar of Brooklyn are visiting friends on Liberty street.

Andrew Milligan of Landsdown, Hunterdon County, is visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. Milligan of West Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stockton entertained about 20 friends at cards at their home on Central avenue last night from 8 to 11.

Frederick L. DuBois, son of L. H. DuBois of 1104 Putnam avenue, died Friday, March 22, at Thomasville, Ga. He was about 19 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Sr., charmingly entertained a number of friends at dinner at their home on Sycamore avenue last night.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Williams of Madison avenue went to Monroe, N. Y., today to spend Sunday at the home of Mrs. Williams's parents.

George Bedford of the Walter Scott Printing Machine Company has returned from an extended trip in the West, where he has been putting up presses.

Dr. Ard, the eye specialist of Watchung avenue, successfully performed a critical operation on the three-years-old daughter of W. B. Mosher of 416 East Front street.

The North Plainfield Whist Club was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Whitenack on Duer street last night. The first prizes were won by Mrs. L. B. Woolston and John Messersmith. Refreshments were served.

—At the regular meeting of the Royal Arcanum, next Monday evening, delegates from Bridgewater, Bound Brook, Cranford and Roselle Councils will be present. Fanwood Council, No. 744, will also be present with their team to exemplify their side degree on a number of candidates which are now ready. After the regular order of business the entertainment committee will provide an entertainment, out of the usual order, and something for the "inner man".

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

AN ARMY FUNERAL.

Plainfield Witnesses an Unusual Spectacle.

CAPTAIN ANNIE M'IVER AT REST.

Public Services in the Barracks, With Notable Officers Attending; and Parade to the Grave in Hillside Cemetery.

The funeral of Capt. Annie McIver of the Salvation Army in the West Second street barracks last night was attended by a vast concourse of people who filled every seat and left a large number standing in the rear of the hall. Curious to see the manner in which an army funeral was conducted, they witnessed a service that was very impressive, though devoid of the usual funereal solemnity, and which carried into the minds of those present the conviction that the army lads and lassies are possessed of some subtle influence which checks the flow of tears and represses the sorrowfulness of mind in a moment that all others seem to feel an affliction of grief. Convinced of their departed comrade's ascension to a place of eternal reward, they sang songs of joy and hopefulness, and with smiling countenances and blissful words told of their great love and work for the Redeemer.

In a word, the funeral services were nothing more than the regulation army meeting, augmented in interest by the attendance of a number of out-of-town officers. Perhaps the feeling of those who might be considered mourners was best expressed in the words of Staff-Captain McIver, who conducted the meeting, and said:

"We do n't feel that the Captain is dead. She has only fallen asleep to things that are unreal."

The remains of Captain McIver reposed in a black casket, covered over with white roses and lilies, while at the foot stood a floral cross, a tribute from the Plainfield barracks. On the casket also lay that distinguishing mark of membership—the plain black polk bonnet, with its little red band of ribbon sewed across the front of the hat on which was inscribed "Salvation Army". This was the bonnet which the departed comrade wore in her warfare out on the highways and among the hedges, and stood as a memorial to her sacrifice for humanity.

From the front of the platform the Army flag on the right and the Stars and Stripes on the left stood furled at half angle, with a white ribbon in the centre holding the emblems of Salvation and Liberty in place. Running back from the flags to the rear end of the platform the Army officers and recruits sat, the women on the right and the men on the left. Thrown over the shoulder of the women was a white sash, and around the left arm of each man a white band of ribbon was tied. Each one wore the regulation Army uniform.

The service was opened by the audience rising and singing "My Jesus I Love Thee," accompanied by piano, cornet and the beating of tune on the drums. Prayers were offered by Adjutant Sammons of Trenton, and Adjutant Wood of Morristown, after which Staff-Captain Keith of New York arose and said that Captain McIver had spent her life pleading for souls, and that now her spirit was there pleading with the unsaved sinner. She and Captain McIver had been together in the London Training School of the Army twelve years ago, and she knew the great sacrifice she was obliged to make to enter the work in which she died. Her parents forsook her when she joined the army, but when she came to this country she found a father and mother in Brigadier and Mrs. Evans, at whose home in Plainfield she died.

The remarks of the Staff-Captain were interspersed with fervent comments which are so characteristic of the army member, such as "hallelujah", "amen", etc. And when Mrs. Evans was referred to as "Mother Evans" some lasses said "God bless mother", at which there was an intermingling response of "yes, God bless mother", "Amen", "hallelujah". The Captain had not time to resume before another feminine voice cried out "and God bless father, too", "Amen", shouted the army.

After Ensign McKenzie had sung a solo, Captain Keith asked for testimony from those who had been benefited by the influence of Captain McIver or who had known of her good among others. One recruit in the rear of the stage arose and told what an inspiration she had been to him, and though he was not a fluent talker his earnestness impressed the audience.

Sergt-Maj Ferris a lawyer of Jersey City, who has charge of the legal business of the army, spoke of her great slumming work in Jersey City.

Ensign Evans, daughter of Brigadier Evans, said that Captain McIver had resided with them for nine years, and during all this time had practised at home what she had preached on the platform.

Ensign McKenzie read a few verses from the Bible and made a plea for souls, drawing an example from the dead Captain's life as an argument to take the first step. Her work in life, she said, had been to make hearts soft, tender and mellow, and she pleaded over her dead body for sinners to come forward and consecrate themselves to the work Captain McIver had left behind.

After prayer was offered the audience was permitted to view the remains, and for a half hour fully 1,200 people filed up the side aisles to where the casket lay, and then out through the centre aisle.

When the audience had mostly left the hall, the Army came down from the platform and took a last look at their departed comrade. Tears filled the eyes of some of the young women who commenced their Army work under the instruction of Captain McIver as they looked at her lifeless features, but restraining their emotion they passed on and gathered in groups to greet each other with their familiar "How do you do, God bless you".

Some as they passed caressed the dead woman's forehead, as though to give comfort to a suffering mind and body, but it was only to evince their great love for her. After all had passed before the casket bands were joined, and a parting song was rendered with a sympathetic and fervid feeling that made the scene pathetic, yet joyful.

At the close of the services the scene resembled more the breaking up of an entertainment in which all had become enthused with good fellowship, rather than the end of all that is earthly to a human being.

The visiting officers were as follows: Adjutant Dunham and wife, Ensign Damon, Capt. March and Capt. Taylor of New York; Capt. Watkins, Lieut. Sweet and soldiers from Bound Brook; Captain Shaw and Capt. Haverling of Brooklyn; Capt. Waldron and Lieut. Mills of Elizabeth; Adjutant Agnew of New York; Lieut. Morriston of Morristown.

A short service was held in the barracks this morning at 10, after which a procession was formed, and the remains were escorted to Hillside Cemetery, where the interment took place. The Army returned from the grave to the inspiring march by the band of "Onward Christian Soldiers".

A GREAT OPENING.

"The Event of the Season in Fine Merchandising."

That is what Edsall's annual Spring opening and great 10-day special sale is announced to be, in the mammoth advertisement occupying all of Page 5 in The Daily Press today.

The opening will begin next Wednesday, and will continue for the following ten days. Edsall says his buyers have searched the markets well for "specials", for the last few weeks; and have succeeded in securing many that will be a big saving to those who purchase them.

Each department throughout the whole store is fully represented, and no such array of elegant new seasonable goods has ever before been displayed in this part of the State. The store will be elaborately decorated and trimmed up in the most artistic manner, and will well repay a visit.

The newest fashions will be shown in seasonable goods and made-up garments.

A Free Race.

Every good citizen of Plainfield believes in the Watchung avenue extension, and hopes our city fathers will see that a beautiful avenue runs in the Fall from the hills to the mountains.

Love is doing all possible to bring business to that beautiful avenue by offering immense bargains in wall-paper which he sells as low as five cents, while some beautiful embossed gold papers are offered on the bargain counter at ten cents.

In fact Love says he will give his goods away to bring people there, and offers a fine Remington wheel to the largest purchaser of wall-paper, carpets, rugs, paints and oils before June 1. Why do n't you try to win the prize? It is a free race open to all.

DUNELLEN.

W Webber of Newark is in town on business.

Miss Gertrude Enander of Plainfield spent yesterday afternoon with her sister, Miss Elma Enander.

Harry Penoeryo of Newark is the guest of Duer Randolph.

Mrs Harold Tomlinson of Plainfield is visiting her mother, Mrs A Dunham.

Mrs W H Slape is in Salem.

Mrs Fred Nelson is entertaining friends from Brooklyn.

Mrs H Fields and son Clarence returned to their home in Bayonne City after spending several days pleasantly with friends in town.

LeRoye Jennings is somewhat better today.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.
Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10¾c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

Spring Curry Comb

Clock Spring Blade. Soft as a Brush. Fits every Curve. The Only Perfect Comb. Used by U. S. Army and by Barnum and Forepaugh Circuses, and Leading Horsemen of the World. Ask your Dealer for It. Sample mailed post-paid 25 cents. Give our name on the handle. SPRING CURRY COMB CO., 102 Lafayette St., South Bend, Indiana.

78t-1 9-t t

TO MAKE IT A PAY JOB

House of Commons Vote Salaries to Its Members.

Sir William Harcourt Upheld the Measure, But Mr. Goschen Said It Would Lower the Status of Parliament and Taint the Purity of Public Life—Carried by a Close Vote.

London, March 23.—William Allan, radical commoner for Gateshead, moved last evening in the house that the members receive payment for their services. He reminded the house that a similar resolution was passed in the session of 1893 with the government's approval, although no subsequent action had been taken. The country would not object, he said, to the small additional taxation necessary to cover members' salaries. Sir H. Stafford Northcote, conservative for Exeter, offered an amendment to the effect that further burdens should not be imposed on the nation.

Would Not Lead to Corruption.

Sir William Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, said the payment of members was the logical outcome of the extension of the suffrage. The house was too much of one class. He repudiated the suggestion that the payment of members would lead to corruption and the election of unfit men. Democracy might be trusted, he said, to prevent such evils. The proposal was wise and expedient, and its execution would conduce to the honor of the house. He promised to advance it in every way possible.

Would Taint Public Life.

Mr. Goschen, chancellor of the exchequer under Salisbury, opposed the motion. He was proud to be acquainted with the genuine labor members now in the house, he said, and he would welcome more, but the payment of members would lower the status of parliament and taint the purity of public life without increasing the number of workingmen in the commons. Sir H. Stafford Northcote's amendment was lost and Mr. Allan's motion was passed by a vote of 176 to 158.

IRENE ALL RIGHT.

The Story of Her Being Fired Upon Denied.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 23.—Philip Isaacs, of Port Myers, Fla., who is in the city, says that the statement that the American schooner Irene, of Key West, was fired upon last Saturday by the Spanish cruiser Infanta Isabel is untrue. Mr. Isaacs says that last Monday at 5 p. m. the steamer Electron, on which he was a passenger, passed within two hundred yards of the Irene, the schooner being under full sail, and all on board in good spirits. The schooner at the time was in San Carlos bay, a few miles north of James City, where the water is too shallow for the Spanish gunboat to follow.

FOUR GRANTED HIS REQUEST.

Prince Bismarck Congratulated at the End of His Decade.

Berlin, March 23.—In 1885 seven septuagenarians congratulated Prince Bismarck on the occasion of the anniversary of his birth. He then asked them to repeat the congratulations in 1895. Yesterday the prince received a congratulatory letter signed by four of the old men, the other three having died. Prince Bismarck telegraphed a reply to the letter, expressing his hearty thanks for what he termed their decade's perseverance. He added: "I have not the courage to bind myself to another decade.

MAY LOSE HIS EYESIGHT.

Danger of Raising an A. P. A. Flag at Lowell.

Lowell, Mass., March 23.—The children of Thomas Richardson, a section boss on the Boston & Maine railroad, raised a white flag inscribed "A. P. A." in the yard of their residence. Later Patrick Conroy threw two handsful of lime into Richardson's face saying: "Now will you take down your A. P. A. flag." Physicians think Richardson will lose the sight of one eye and that that of the other will be injured.

Last Honors to General Badeau.

Ridgewood, N. J., March 23.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Brigadier-General Adam Badeau were held from the Roman Catholic church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel yesterday. The funeral was private, only his brother and his two adopted children besides the pallbearers and a few neighbors attending it. A high mass was celebrated by Bishop Wigger of Newark.

Anti-Cigarette Bill.

Lincoln, Neb., March 23.—The senate has passed the anti-cigarette bill with an amendment forbidding cigarettes to be sold to all persons under 21 years of age. The bill passed by the house absolutely forbade the sale or making of cigarettes. The amendment will probably be concurred by the house.

Credited to Anti-Toxine.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 23.—The cause of the remarkably low death rate from diphtheria at the Indiana institute for feeble minded youth is attributed to the use of anti-toxine. Up to this time, out of forty cases, there have been only two deaths.

Dougherty Guilty of Murder.

New York, March 23.—George Dougherty, who had been on trial in the court of general sessions for several days past, charged with the murder of Edward Meyer, on July 6 last, was last night found guilty of murder in the second degree.

Unable To Form a Cabinet.

Madrid, March 23.—The Queen Regent received Senor Sagasta several times yesterday, but was unable to arrange with him for a new cabinet. She then summoned Canovas del Castillo.

For Speaker House of Commons.

London, March 23.—The Daily News says there is every reason to believe that after all, Leonard Courtney, the advance liberal commoner, will be the next speaker of the house.

Woman Constable at Middlesex, Ont.

Montreal, March 23.—The sheriff of Middlesex will appoint a woman constable to do duty at the assize court, which opens at London, Ont., next week.

HON. RICHARD VAUX DEAD.

The Ex-Congressman Passes Away at His Home in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 23.—Ex-Congressman Richard Vaux, after an illness lasting only since Sunday, died yesterday from grip at his residence in this city, in the 79th year of his age. The transition from life to death with him was like a child falling into a sleep. His eyes closed restfully, and even the doctors failed to distinguish the exact moment at which the final dissolution took place. At his bedside were his wife, his son J. Waln Vaux, his daughters Meta and Bessie Vaux, and his physicians. He was entirely conscious of his approaching end and talked about it rationally with the children at his bedside. He spoke calmly of the fact that his hour had come, and patiently awaited the end. The funeral of Mr. Vaur will take place on Monday morning next.

TEAMOH WAS WELCOME.

Boston Mercantile Committee Corroborates Darling's Statements.

Boston, March 23.—The committee on mercantile affairs of the legislature adopted the following in executive session at the state house: "The undersigned, members of the committee on mercantile affairs, who were present with Senator Darling during the visit to Richmond, takes this opportunity to emphatically corroborate all that our chairman has said in the interviews published in the Boston press. We further desire to express ourselves to the effect that the presence of Mr. Teamoh was in no way resented by the committee or any member thereof and that his company was in every way pleasant and agreeable to all. The committee makes this a positive and final statement in the matter."

ARSENIC IN THE SUGAR.

Uncle Sam May Find Few Bidders at a Coming Auction Sale.

Philadelphia, March 23.—Nearly one million pounds of beet-root sugar, mingled with which there is a quantity of arsenic said to be sufficient to poison the entire population of Philadelphia, are to be sold to satisfy the government. The sale is to take place on Friday morning at a bonded warehouse where the sugar, part of the cargo of the German steamship Remus, is stored. The announcement of the sale does not mention the fact that the sugar to be sold is mixed with arsenic, but an analysis shows the presence of a large quantity of the drug. The cargo, which has been abandoned to the government, came to be damaged in transit across the Atlantic and was mixed with a quantity of arsenic that was also in the ship's hold.

AILSA A GREAT BOAT.

Captain Jay Believes She Is the Finest Ship Afloat.

London, March 23.—The current number of the Yachtsman says: "The Mediterranean racing proves that, whether on the beat, the reach or the run, Ailsa sails like a witch. Captain Jay said to a Yachtsman reporter: 'You can twist and turn her as easily as a half-rater. I truly believe that her owner has got the finest ship afloat. She is a fine sea boat, too. We did not have overmuch time to get her out here and were required to drive her on the voyage. She makes a rare noise when she jumps into a head sea, but she is properly put together and is not going to shake herself to pieces in a hurry. During the bad weather we felt that the ship under us could laugh at any ordinary blow.'"

M'AULIFFE-GRIFFO MATCHED.

To Fight for $10,000 Before the Club Offering the Largest Purse.

New York, March 23.—Jack McAuliffe, lightweight champion of America, and Albert Griffits, better known as "Young Griffo," featherweight champion of Australia, have been matched to fight to a finish, with small gloves, for a stake of $10,000 a side, and before the club offering the largest purse. The gloves are not to exceed three ounces in weight and the men are to fight at 135 pounds or under, and are to weigh in at the ringside. The battle will take place about October 10, or as near the time Corbett and Fitzsimmons fight as possible.

Payments on Warships.

Washington, March 23.—Secretary Herbert to-day paid the Cramps of Philadelphia $179,880, of which $90,300 represented the tenth installment on the battleship Iowa, and $89,500 the 15th on the armored cruiser Brooklyn. These payments show that the Brooklyn is now fully one-half completed and that the Iowa is one-third finished.

New Field for Women.

Sacramento, Cal., March 23.—Governor Budd has decided to appoint a woman as his executive secretary, to the infinite disgust of the professional politicians. She is Miss Josephine Todman, a graduate of the Hastings law college.

Big Seizure of Short Lobsters.

Boston, March 23.—The district police have seized 5,000 more short lobsters, from Nova Scotia, consigned to Boston parties for reshipment to New York.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE. NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented. H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement

For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager

Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. P. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,

165 North ave. PLAINFIELD N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels,

R-I-P-A-N-S TABULES

act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 60 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8084, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 2 25 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front street.

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 88, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 2 26 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

Take In the Spring

Dr. Greene's Nervura

Blood and Nerve Remedy..

Guaranteed Purely Vegetable and Harmless.
It is the most Perfect Spring Medicine in the World.
The Discovery and Prescription of a Physician.

MRS. ADDIE I. CRAGG.

IT IS TRUE!

You Can Certainly Be Cured.

Here is the proof and evidence to perfectly settle all doubt.

Read the wonderful cure of Mrs. Addie I. Cragg, of 101 North Portland Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I had poor health for several years. Have been under the treatment of many doctors, but they did me no good. The more medicine I took the weaker I grew; was so bad at last that I could not eat or sleep, and had a cough that almost racked me to pieces. I had pains in my chest, which made breathing very difficult.

"As my father, brother, and sister had died with consumption, I thought my time had come. With much pleasure and gratitude I can now say that I have been entirely cured of my troubles by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"My appetite is excellent, food digests easily, sleep is refreshing, and altogether I feel restored to health once more.

"I most earnestly recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to all who are afflicted with obstinate chronic, nervous, or painful diseases. I have recommended it to many sufferers, and am pleased to say that it has given general satisfaction."

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy Cured Mrs. Cragg; It Will Cure You.

One of the Most Popular G. A. R. Veterans in the Country.

A wonderful thing and we know it to be true.

This is the experience of Past Commander David Noyes of Manchester, N. J. His story is interesting.

"For over 27 years, since the close of the late war, I suffered from dyspepsia, paid out hundreds of dollars, but got no relief.

"I suffered from heart disease for six years, was carried out of church and from my work three times, and for the past two years was unable to do any work whatever.

HON. DAVID NOYES.

"I was told by my physician that I never could get well.

"I was also paralyzed on the right side from my hip down, and suffered severely with lumbago and a trembling of the hands.

"I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and feel entirely cured of all these troubles, and feel like a well man.

"I could not sleep on my right side for years, now I can sleep well and eat anything.

"It has proved to be a wonderful remedy for me, and I am a living witness to testify to the truth of my statement. It is the grandest medicine ever made, and all my friends are amazed at the cure."

A Strange Experience.

One can scarcely credit it.

Almost Miraculous

"I began at first having trembling feelings of the heart," said Mrs. H. E. Skillin, of East North Yarmouth, Me., "and was very bad at times. Any little excitement would make it worse. I became languid, and felt constantly tired and worn, lost all my natural energy and ambition, and was consequently weak and nervous.

"Indeed I was so nervous at times I could not bear to hear anyone rock a chair. I had numbness in my right hand so it would seem apparently dead; and when it would come to its feeling there would be a deathly feeling at my stomach. I had a dull, tired feeling in my head.

"It was evident that there was a terrible diseased condition of my nerves and system which required immediate attention. I at once began taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and have taken four bottles.

"I now have a good appetite and have grown strong and recovered my old-time energy and ambition. I do not feel at all nervous. The dull feeling in my head is all gone, and I really feel as well as I have for a number of years.

"I consider these results remarkable in the comparatively short time I have been taking the remedy, and I cannot speak too highly of the good that it has done me.

"I hope others affected with nervous or chronic diseases will use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for after what it has done in my case it will surely cure them."

MRS. H. E. SKILLIN.

The Greatest of all Medicines.

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy

Take it now when you need a Spring Medicine.

For sale by all Druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. Greene, 35 West 14th St., New York City, can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

SPECIAL!

Gent's suits dyed	$2.25
Gent's suits cleaned	$1.50
Overcoat dyed	$1.50
Ladies' dresses cleaned	$1.50
" " dyed	$1.50
Lace curtains cleaned, a pair	50c
Blankets cleaned	$1.00

G. O. KELLER,

317 WEST FRONT ST.

☞Goods called for and delivered.

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

DIRECTIONS for using

CREAM BALM.

Apply a particle of the Balm well up into the nostrils. After a moment draw a strong breath through the nose. Use three times a day, after meals preferred, and before retiring.

ELY'S CREAM BALM opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Price 50c at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.

CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

NELLIE WILSON IS SAFE

Gov. Altgeld Refuses To Surrender Her.

Says There Is an Effort on the Part of the Boston Prosecutor To Use the Extradition Process for Improper Purposes—Believes the Girl Will Now Remain at Home.

Boston, March 23.—Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, has refused to honor extradition papers forwarded to that state for the return to Massachusetts of Nellie Wilson, alias White, alias Winters, alias Sheehan, who is under arrest in Chicago and is wanted in Boston for the alleged theft of $3,000 worth of diamonds. Governor Altgeld in his letter intimates that the party starting the prosecution had some other motive than the mere punishment of a crime.

Bought from Her Accuser.

He says the facts of the case show that the girl bought the alleged stolen property from the woman who charges her with stealing it, agreeing to pay a sum three or four times the value of the goods, the money to be paid from time to time as she earned it. She became ill in the house of this woman where she was living and was unable to pay; that when she left the house she took the property with her and pawned part of it. When she reached Montreal she sent back to the woman all of the property not pawned and sent word that she would send the money to pay the pawnbroker. Thereupon the woman demanded $300 which she claimed for board.

Blames the Prosecutor.

The governor states on the authority of the officer sent to him for extradition that the woman who claims to have been robbed paid the sum advanced by the pawnbroker, which she wouldn't naturally have done if the diamonds had been stolen. The governor then comes to the conclusion that there is an effort on the part of the prosecutor to use the extradition process for an improper purpose and that therefore the warrant should not issue in this case. The governor says: "It is shown also that the girl's parents live in Chicago and are respectable people. They hope to be able to keep their daughter at home hereafter, and many good citizens are interesting themselves in her behalf."

MERCHANTS DROP OUT.

Will No Longer Aid the Militia on New Orleans Levee.

New Orleans, La., March 23.—The committee of commercial representatives at a meeting came to the conclusion not to vote further supplies or money for the maintenance of the militia now doing duty on the levee. It was decided that the commercial bodies had done all they could be expected to do in the premises, and relied on Governor Foster being able to steer a clear course in the difficulty. The conclusions of the conference now leaves the entire matter in the hands of the governor. His excellency will not say whether he intends to continue to keep the military in active service or not. No one believes for a moment that he will remove the soldiers from the front until a settlement has been made of the existing differences.

GEO. C. GAY KILLS HIMSELF.

A Waterbury Doctor Baffles the Efforts of His Wife To Save Him.

Waterbury, Conn., March 23.—Dr. George C. Gay, 36 years old, a well known physician, shot himself through the heart on account of being unable to meet his debts. He returned from New York early in the afternoon and tried to shoot himself in his residence, but his wife stopped him. He ran out to the barn, she following. The doctor aimed at his temple, but she threw up his hand, when he aimed at his heart and fired, falling face downward in the hay. After calling help his wife grabbed the revolver and threatened to shoot persons flocking into the barn, but neighbors took the pistol from her. She then fainted.

HAVERHILL'S SHOE OUTPUT.

The Shipments for the Past Week Exceed Any Previous Record.

Haverhill, Mass., March 23.—The shoe shipments from this city for the past week go ahead of any previous record, being 10,075 cases, the largest previous record being for the week ending April 26, 1893, when the output was 10,026 cases. The nearest approach to this record for the corresponding week during the past ten years was in 1893 also, when the shipments amounted to 9,301 cases.

Railroad Sued for Damages.

Keene, N. H., March 23.—Daniel C. Howard, administrator for the estates of S. Bergeron, Charles Brooks and Miss E. E. Brooks, killed on the Fitchburg railroad crossing at Water street, Jan. 1, 1895, has brought suit against the Fitchburg railroad in the sum of $21,000, the full amount of liability under New Hampshire laws.

Strikers' Demands Granted.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 23.—The thirty-five hands in the skilled department of the New York Belting & Packing company's shop in Newton, who struck work Thursday for an increase of pay, have been notified that the increase will be granted on Monday.

Many Killed by a Landslide.

Rome, March 23.—The village of Bollara was overwhelmed yesterday by a landslide extending over two-thirds of a mile. It is believed that many were killed in the catastrophy.

More Police Indicted.

New York, March 23.—The extraordinary grand jury has returned another batch of indictments against police officials. Detectives are busy to-day serving the warrants.

Thielmann May Succeed Saurma.

Berlin, March 23.—The National Zeitung says that Freiherr von Thielmann, Prussian minister to Bavaria, will succeed Von Saurma in Washington.

Ex-Governor Carnes Dead.

Omaha, Neb., March 23.—Ex-Governor Edmund Carnes died yesterday at Seward. He was born in Butler, Pa., in 1844.

Boston, 3; Washington, 2.

Charleston, S. C., March 23—Washington, 2; Boston, 3.

AN ALL AROUND BIGAMIST.

Clark Seems To Have Beaten All Previous Records in That Line.

Baltimore, March 23.—Marshal Frey has received the following letter from chief of police inspector William B. Watts of Boston: "I see by the account in the papers that you have under arrest an old bigamist by the name of James Clark, and from the photograph that appeared in your papers we identified him here as a man known to us as James Taylor, alias Franklin Brown, who was brought from New York on April 12, 1893, pleaded guilty to adultery, and was sentenced May 13, 1893, to state prison for three years, and was discharged December 20, 1894. August 6, 1891, under the name of Charles D. Scott, he married Mrs. F. D. Pickering at Equality, Ill.; October 29, 1891, as Thomas Benton, he married Mrs. E. A. Walk at Pittsburg, Pa.; November 5, 1891, as Charles P. Benton, he married Miss Hornung at Sandusky, O.; November 21, 1891, as James C. Taylor, he married Henrietta Coste, in New York; December 10, 1891, as Franklin Brown, he married Hattie D. Gayne in Boston, and I am informed that there are several others that he married in the same way." Clark is 56 years old, hair and beard gray and his right arm is amputated below the elbow. He is now serving a sentence of five years for stealing trunks from a woman he hired as housekeeper to go to California with him. Under the name of James Lewis he married Mrs. Sarah Culleny at Boston on March 5.

OFFERED A $250 BRIBE.

A New Jersey Legislator Says He Was Approached.

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—Leader Steers arose in the legislature last evening and amid great excitement announced that he had been offered $250 to vote for a bill appropriating $8,000 toward the Trenton Battle Monument fund. The bill was defeated. Both houses passed a bill appropriating $100,000 for the erection of a reformatory, then the legislature adjourned to June 4, when the report of the senate investigating committing will be made, without taking any action upon the attempted bribery. Mr. Olcott, in an eulogistic speech, presented to Speaker Cross a valuable gold watch and chain and an ivory gavel on behalf of the members. Sergeant-at-Arms Watson was presented with a gold watch and chain.

SIKH COMPANY DEFEATED.

Lieut. Ross, Forty-six Soldiers and Eight Camp Followers Killed.

Calcutta, March 23.—News has been received here of the defeat of a Sikh company under Lieut. Ross by Chitralis. Lieut. Ross and sixty Sikhs were marching to reinforce the troops at Reshun. The natives, who were behind breastworks near Karagh, fusilladed them and forced them to retreat. They followed the company closely and eventually hemmed them in on all sides. There were about 1,000 natives, all firing steadily upon the Sikhs. Ross, forty-six Sikh soldiers and eight camp followers were left on the field. The rest of the force escaped. Another relief force will be started for Peshan with all haste.

A BILL TO TAX BACHELORS.

Men Over Sixty Who Have Been Jilted Three Times Exempted.

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—A bill to tax bachelors and establish an "old maids home," when the tax fund shall have reached $50,000 has been introduced in the house by Representative Wallock. The bill defines bachelors as single men of 32 years or over, who have never been married, and exempts men who have reached 65, who are physically unfit or who can prove to a board of unmarried women over 60 years that they have proposed marriage at least three times to marriageable females and been refused each time.

GREAT NATURAL GAS STRIKE.

Rich Discovery Near Ginger Hill, Washington County, Pa.

Pittsburg, March 23.—A monster natural gas well has been struck on the Hess farm at Ginger Hill, Washington county. Gas was found in the fifty foot sand. This opens up an entirely new field and is estimated to be the strongest natural gas well ever struck in this part of the country. An effort will be made to-day to case it and close it in, to prevent further waste, and to measure the pressure.

Still Voting for Higgins.

Dover, Del., March 23.—But one vote was taken for United States Senator Higgins yesterday. The declaration of the Higgins men that they would vote for a new man each day until a senator was chosen was not carried out. Representative Ball was absent, which accounts for the falling off of the Addicks vote. The ballot resulted as follows: Higgins 8, Addicks 5, Massey 4, Ridgely (dem.), 10, Bayard 1.

Religious Freedom's Setback.

Budapest, March 23.—The house of magnates, during the discussion of the ecclesiastical bills, by a vote of 126 to 118, adopted a proposal to eliminate from the ecclesiastical measure the whole chapter dealing with persons of no religious belief. By this vote the entire religious freedom of the bill is regarded as lost.

Prince Radolin's New Post.

Constantinople, March 23.—Prince von Radolin, German ambassador to the Porte, has been decorated with the German order of the Red Eagle, and has been appointed German ambassador to St. Petersburg, in succession to General von Werder, who has been recalled from that post.

Count Bismarck May Be Sent Here.

Washington, March 23.—The report from Berlin that Baron von Saurma-Jeltsch, the German ambassador here, is to be transferred to Constantinople, cannot be confirmed at the embassy. It is believed if a change is made that Count Herbert Bismarck will be sent to Washington.

Buchanan To Die April 22.

New York, March 23.—Dr. Robert W. Buchanan has been resentenced by Recorder Goff to be electrocuted at Sing Sing prison during the week of April 22.

Rev. A. P. Keating Dead.

New York, March 23.—The Rev. Andrew P. Keating, Greek professor at St. Peter's college, Jersey City, is dead. He was born in Boston.

Giants Go to Columbia, S. C.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 23.—The New York Giants have left this city for Columbia, S. C.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY

WITH EVERY ONE POUND bale OF

DUKES MIXTURE

for 35 cents

Every pipe stamped DUKES MIXTURE or ATC

2 OZ. PACKAGE 5¢

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Residence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

GEO. J. TOBIN.

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing,

Tonsorial Parlor, 326 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 19 3

HARPER'S

Toys, Games, Wagons, Velocipedes, Tricycles.

411 Park Avenue,

Plainfield, N. J.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

in the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

THE DAILY PRESS.

E. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH 23, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

PLAINFIELD'S GOOD HEALTH.

Sustaining Her Reputation for a Lower Death Rate Than the State's Average, Despite Her Being a Resort for Foreign Invalids.

The eighteenth annual report of the State Board of Health, for the year 1894, has just been issued, and contains very much information of great interest and value, including vital statistics and special articles giving many valuable suggestions for public and personal care of cleanliness and health.

The vital and mortuary statistics show some interesting facts. In the State the annual average number of marriages, births and deaths for fifteen years, 1878 to 1893, was: Marriages, 10,225; births, 26,843; deaths, 25,111.

Number of marriages, births and deaths, July 1, 1893, to July 1, 1894: Marriages, 16,245; births, 33,662; deaths, 30,004.

In Union County, from June 30, 1893, to June 30, 1894, there were 530 marriages, 1,765 births, and 1,436 deaths.

In Clark Township there were no marriages; Cranford, 6; Elizabeth, 285; Fanwood, 4; Linden, 12; New Providence, 4; Plainfield, 98; Rahway, 69; Springfield, 4; Summit, 21; Union, 9; Westfield, 8.

In Clark there were 5 births; Cranford, 32; Elizabeth, 1,071; Fanwood, 22; Linden, 21; New Providence, 16; Plainfield, 277; Rahway, 92; Springfield, 27; Summit, 90; Union, 25; Westfield, 87.

The deaths were: In Clark, 5; Cranford, 19; Elizabeth, 801; Fanwood, 20; Linden, 57; New Providence, 15; Plainfield, 228; Rahway, 137; Springfield, 20; Summit 48; Union, 32; Westfield, 54.

Of the deaths in the State, 2 213 were children under one month, of which 1,559 died in large cities. Of those dying under one year, 5,628 died in large cities. Of the 11,477 that died under five years, 6,333 died in the large cities. The total death rate from consumption, as compared with total deaths, 11,44. the deaths being 2,213 in cities, 1,220 outside. The death rate per 1,000 inhabitants in the State was 19.09.

In Union County, of 1,436 deaths, 129 were children under one month, 244 under one year, 161 one to five years, 96 five to twenty, 471 twenty to sixty, 333 over sixty.

The death rate per 1,000 inhabitants in Elizabeth was 18,95; Plainfield, 17 33, (considerably lower than that of any other city of its size in the State); Rahway, 18.76; Orange, 19.37.

In Plainfield, with an estimated population of 13,151, the deaths were: Under one month, 13; between one month and one year, 34; one to five, 20; five to twenty, 18; twenty to sixty, 78: over sixty, 65. Causes: Remittent fever, 3; enteric fever, 3; scarlet fever, 1; whooping cough, 2; diphtheria and croup, 14; diarrhoeal diseases of children, 27; consumption, male, 11, female, 17; acute lung diseases, 38; brain and nervous diseases of children, 9; diseases of heart and circulation, 25; renal and cystic diseases, 11; adult brain and spinal diseases, 19; digestive and intestinal diseases, 12; cancer, 5; acute rheumatism, 2; puerperal, 1; violent deaths, 12. The scarcity of contagious diseases is marked.

North Plainfield had 59 deaths, 18 from lung trouble; 3 from cancer; 3 violent: 15 from digestive and intestinal troubles, the balance diversified.

Dr. Westcott for Fanwood reports, "a little more malarial trouble than in former years, especially along the brook which is the boundary line of portions of Somerset and Union counties. Here the dry summers, in connection with deposits from mills and sewage from Glenside Park, have caused much trouble." Fanwood had 20 deaths, 10 from lung troubles; 3 violent.

Newark Trolley to Elizabeth.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new trolley line along the Newark boulevard to Elizabeth, and it is expected that cars will be running by April 15. There will be through cars from any point on the Broad street line to Elizabeth.

Relic of the Blizzard.

The ground covering the water main on Liberty street between Third and Fourth streets was excavated yesterday, and 15 barrels of wood was burned in the trenches to thaw out the pipes, which had been frozen since the blizzard.

An Appreciative Groom.

The editor of The Railroad Employe has been getting married, and in his paper's account of it says: "The bride is a beautiful woman, and her charms were enhanced."

—A beautiful assorment of Easter cards, booklets, etc., is to be found at Swain's, East Front street, and you are invited to call and see them.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

NEW APPOINTMENTS.

Ex-Senator Adrain Nominated to Be Prosecutor of Middlesex, and a Commission Appointed to Codify the Marriage Laws.

Governor Werts sent the following nominations to the Senate yesterday:

For President Judge of the courts of Middlesex County, J. Kearny Rice, reappointed; present term expires April, 1895.

Judge of the Inferior Court of Common Pleas of the County of Gloucester, Bowman Cox.

Prosecutor of the Pleas of the County of Middlesex, Robert Adrain.

Prosecutor of the pleas of the County of Gloucester, Austin H. Swackhamer.

Judge of the Inferior Court of Common Pleas of the County of Salem, William Newell.

Harbormaster for Hudson County, Peter H. Daly, reappointed.

Harbormaster for Elizabeth Harbor, John Driscoll, reappointed.

Commission to Codify Laws as to Marriage and Divorce, J. Frank Fort, of Orange; Frank Bergen of Elizabeth, and Joseph D. Bedle, of Jersey City.

Late in the afternoon an executive session was held at which all the nominations were rejected excepting Commissioners to examine the divorce and insolvency laws and for harbor masters, which which were confirmed. Among other confirmations was that of Judge J. D. Bartine.

—Waite's Comedy Company, which is booked for Plainfield in April, will play all next week in Trenton.

—A pleasure to visit, and a profit to patronize, is Johnson's homemade bakery, 41 Somerset street. The shop is as neat as wax, and the wares are as wholesome and good as mother used to make. Call.

—Members of the various fire companies will meet at the Department Headquarters tomorrow evening at 7, and thence march in a body to the First Presbyterian Church, where Rev. Charles E. Herring will deliver a sermon especially to them.

—No news item is of greater interest than the fresh announcement of a live Plainfield merchant. Edsall's full page ad is brimful of up-to-date information, and all the ads are good reading matter. At this season every Plainfielder is a shopper, and The Daily Press is his guide.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager

STONE ROAD BILL A LAW.

The Most Important Road Law on the Statute Book.

Governor Werts yesterday signed House 183, the Storrs Stone Road act, which is now a law. The new law is the most important act of legislation regarding roadway improvement ever enacted in this State. It has been enthusiastically supported by cyclists.

—The publication of the first instalment of Ouida's "Toxin", expected for today, is unavoidably deferred till Monday.

—The vacant lots below the Park Avenue Church are being leveled off with the earth excavated from the cellars of new houses which are being built in that section of the city.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

From Geneva, N. Y., Courier.

It is a pleasure for us to present to our readers the recommendation of so estimable a citizen as Elias Dolson of this place, knowing when he says that he was cured of rheumatism by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Remedy, it is so. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of acid in the blood, when it becomes settled in the joints the patient endures most excruciating pain; such as was Mr. Dolson's condition when he began the use of Favorite Remedy, and like many others who have followed the same treatment he was cured. How many poor sufferes there are to-day who would give their fortunes to be relieved from the terrors of this awful complaint, not knowing that this valuable preparation can be obtained of every dealer in medicine. Mrs. Dolson, as well as her husband has a good word for Favorite Remedy; says she, "I have been troubled for years with indigestion and palpitation of the heart, and I used Favorite Remedy and was entirely cured

One of our local physicians in speaking of this medicine, recently, said "Dr. David Kennedy has produced in Favorite Remedy the only antidote of uric acid, and the reason it cures such a variety of complaints is from the fact that it dissolves this acid, expelling it from the system, thereby curing the disease."

Favorite Remedy is a never failing specific in diseases of the skin, liver, kidneys and blood. It restores the disordered liver to a healthy condition, corrects the worst cases of habitual constipation. it is a certain cure for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women. It cures scrofula, salt rheum and erysipelas. For nervousness, loss of sleep or that worn out feeling it has no equal. In cases of rheumatism, dyspepsia, gravel, Bright's disease, diabetes and bladder troubles, it has cured where all else failed. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold at $1 a bottle or six bottles for $5, which brings a treatment at a moderate price.

HARK! HARK!

Do you hear those bells ringing? They are to warn you that Johnson's delivery wagon is near at hand, ready to supply you with the finest home-made bread in the land, pies, cake, buns and rolls, fresh every morning at 6 a. m.

Boston brown bread a specialty. Just give me a trial, my goods speak for themselves. All orders promptly attended to at shortest notice.

W. H. Johnson,
3 23 1w 41 Somerset Street.

BAMBERGER'S

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"

NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in

Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts

will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are, they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes

in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons.

$1.98 to $27.50

NEW

Spring Jackets

in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from

$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from

49c to $7.50

NEW

Separate Skirts

of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles, lined and interlined, from

$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS

The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from

98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND

House Dresses

Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from

44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly: they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R. VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Don't ruin your form wearing poor corsets.

Buy Your Corsets

AT PECK'S.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block,

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Grand

Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastely trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on

Tuesday, March 25,
Wednesday, March 26,
Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing, but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 54 in. wide.
5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.
Our 49c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.
75c will buy a $1 00 skirt.
95c. " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
Is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT,
25 Washington ave

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street. Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

LOSING MONEY.

You may think we are when you examine goods and prices. But we are not, neither are we making any. It's only giving you our profits for this month to make more business, to make more money in the future

TRADE MAKERS

It takes place next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and we extend to you an invitation to come and see, to criticise or admire the many beautiful styles and designs of our spring

Millinery

Under a perfect north light you can make your own selection and such a difference in the price 30 to 50 per cent. in your favor, and no matter how many dresses you have you always want a black one. Cashmeres now 33c, were 50; serges 45 in wide 39c, former price 65; Jacquards 48c, worth 75. See our

Black Goods

How they sell! And why not? The prices are to your liking, so are the goods Crepon cloth at 6c, ducks at 5c, 30 in. percale 6c, 36 in. percale at 10c, apron ginghams at 4½c. That's the way we are selling

Wash Stuffs

We had about 200 of them and sold all except about 25, and we want to close out the balance. The price was $1.65, but they go for $1.29. They are

Black Fur Rugs

Fashion says they will be used more this season and such an endless variety. No matter what you want we have it, and you can rest assured that our prices are right on

Laces

Nothing the matter with them except the color. Instead of black they are a dark navy blue. Perfectly fast and good to wear, but it makes a great difference in the price. 100 boxes, 6 pair in a box, 59c box, worth $1 40. They are men's

Half-hose

You would almost think the Japs work for nothing, our prices are so low on

Matting

WHITE of Plainfield.

Telephone Rates

IN PLAINFIELD.

$40, $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue, Plainfield.

3 22 2w-c 2

EDSALL'S ANNUAL SPRING OPENING and 10-DAY SPECIAL SALE

Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

We shall endeavor to make this opening the "event of the season" in merchandising in Plainfield. Don't fail to visit us during this sale.

Suits, Jackets, Capes, Separate Skirts and Silk Waists.

Beginning on Wednesday, March 27, we shall exhibit a beautiful line of all wool Cheviot and Serge tailor-made suits, new spring capes, jackets and separate skirts and silk waists in faultless styles in a variety of fine cloths, serges, crepons and silks.

Our all-wool tailor made suit with tight fitting riding habit basque in new style flare skirt, organ pipe back, in navy and black, is the greatest special of the season, manufactured to sell at $6.75; special for the opening $4 90.

Our new spring capes made up of Cheviot, Covert and Kersey Cloths, silk lined, braided, lace and jet, trimmed with satin, ruche collar, in black, navy and brown, in fact almost every modern style to select from.

For the opening the following extraordinary values—All wool cheviot cloth capes in black, navy and brown, trimmed with tinsel braid, manufactured to sell at $1.59 and $1 85; special for the opening $1.10 and $1 30.

All-wool Cheviot and Covert cloth capes in tan and black with excellent trimming, double cape, manufactured to sell at $4 65; special $3.85.

All-wool Cheviot Broadcloth Covert and Kersey Cloth Capes, embroidered in cream, satin ribbon trimmings, lace and jet, manufactured to sell at $5.85, $6 75 and $10; special at $4.85 $5 90 and $7.50.

An excellent Broadcloth Cape in black, navy, black and red, fashion's latest conceptions, satin lined, manufactured to sell at $10; a great special at $8 35 each.

Headquarters Leading Makes of Corsets

Warner's Corsets in short, medium and long waists at $1, $1.25, $1.50' $1 75; Warner's Corsets black satin $1 25; Thomson's glove fitting corsets, medium, in white and drab at $1; C P. corsets in white at $2, $2.50, $2 75: R & G. in white at $1; Warner's and Thomson's ventilating corsets from 50c to $1; an excellent corset in white and drab for 50c.

Ladies' muslin and cambric gowns, full sizes, best muslin and cambric, fine embroidery, 65c to $3 50 lines, special 49c to $1 85. Ladies' muslin and cambric drawers from 23c to 98c. Ladies' muslin skirts from 49c to $2.75. Cambric corset covers from 21c to 99c A specially good muslin corset cover during the opening for 13c.

Laces, Veilings and Neckwear.

Laces are on the top wave of fashion this season. In this department we are showing some rare designs of Point de Gene, Point de Brages, Brusselles, Applique, Chantilly, Venetian Point and Guipase de Venise.

Veilings in Tuxedo chenille dot, 27 in. and the now popular 18 in. width; also Maline chenille dot veiling, sewing silks and Grenadine veilings, all colors; neckwear in yokes, Princess floral stock collars and berthas. On our bargain tables are some very excellent designs in Valenciennes, Chantilly Applique and Point de Irlande laces (black, white and ecru) 15 to 50c lines, reduced to 10 and 25c a yard; 27 in and 18 in black Tilby and Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings, 35 and 48c goods, at 25 and 30c a yard; Princess stock collars in all leading colors from 25, 35 and 48c each; real Point Venise collars in butter color at 68c, 89c, $1 20, $1 30 and $1 75

Notions.

The under-mentioned goods constitute a few of our sterling values in this department—Pins from 1c to 10c paper; Fastenette hook and eye, a two dozen card for 10c; 36 yard piece of white, black or gray tape for 12c; extra quality S. H. & M. velveteen facing 47 yard bolts for 19 and 25c; extra quality dress shields, worth 9c, for 6c; extra strong scissors, all sizes, 35 and 50c grade, all at 25c pair; excellent assortment of shell side combs, 10c to 30c goods, for 7c, 10c, 15c and 20c; shell pins and combs 25c to 75c goods, at the opening 20c to 75c.

The Millinery Department will add much interest, especially to the ladies Miss B. Gayton, who has been spending a few months in a fashionable millinery establishment uptown on Broadway, New York, studying the latest New York and Foreign Fashions, is in charge, as heretofore

This department will exhibit the latest novelties and styles in this line at prices much below New York

We feel very confident that we can please the most fastidious in fine style quality and price

Men's Furnishings.

We show in this department complete lines of Neckwear, Collars, Cuffs, Suspenders, Gloves, Shirts, Night Shirts, Handkerchiefs and Underwear—Our opening specials comprise—120 dozen Utica Nonpareil unlaundried muslin shirts, 3 ply bosoms, cut 36 in long, double stitched all through gathered in back, linen bosom reinforced in front, all sizes 45c and 75c grades, at the opening 29c and 60c each; men's fine white dress shirts, laundried, well made, wide bosom, full length, 95c grade, to go at 75c; 50 dozen men's Percale shirts, 2 collars and cuffs, excellent designs, $1 30 grade for 99c; Men's fine neckwear in all silk tecks, four-in-hands and bows, light, medium and dark effects extra good value at 35c, opening price 25c; Men's celluloid collars, newest standing shapes, all sizes, a collar worth 25c, opening price 10c; Men's half hose in black, double heel and toe, positively fast black, 20c grade, opening price 15c pair; a good heavy half hose in gray, brown and tan mixtures, worth 15c pair, opening price 10c pair; excellent grades of fine half-hose in fast black and tan, actual value 30c. 45c and 60c, opening price at 25, 39 and 50c a pair; gentlemen's pocketbooks and bill books, collar and cuff boxes, traveling cases, etc., 75c to $1 90 lines, opening price 50c to $1 49.

Separate Skirts and Underskirts.

Our opening display of ladies' separate skirts in crepon, rough chevior, Moreen brilliantine, serges and satine, full sweep, organ pipe back, comprising the most favored adaptions of the recently imported models—something of interest to all lady shoppers

For the opening the under mentioned specials—Satin cloth under skirts with ruffle, $1.35 lines; special at 89c Cheviot cloth skirt, organ pipe back, good value at $4.25; special $3 48 All-wool serge in navy and black, new style, flare skirt, worth $6.50; special $5 25. Black Moreen underskirts, actual value $4; special $3 20. Our extra special all-wool Crepon skirt, new style, flare and organ pipe back, actual value $7 85 and $10; during the opening at $6 98 and $8 39

SHOE DEPARTMENT.

PARENTS ARE naturally interested in children and their shoes. We have never said much about our stock for boys and girls, little and big, but it's just as complete as in our men's and women's departments. We would make particular mention this week of our very large assortment of stylish, serviceable shoes for boys and little gents, heels and spring heels, pointed, medium and common sense toes, etc.

Housefurnishing and China Dep't.

We are well prepared in this department to furnish everything for household use. The lowest prices prevail and strictly first quality goods. We keep a complete line of Hammocks, Refrigerators, Window and Door Screens, Lawn Mowers, Ice Cream Freezers, Oil and Gas Stoves, Porch Screens, Tinware, Woodenware, Hardware, China, Glassware, Lamps and Bric-a-Brac.

The following special prices for our Spring Opening.

TINWARE

Japanned Bread boxes.....27c each
Painted Chamber pails all colors.....19c
No. 7 oval wash boilers copper bottom..59c
" 8 " " " " " 69c
Round tin " " tin " 19c
Oval foot tubs painted bottom.....17c
5 gal. galv'd iron oil cans with faucet..87c
Solid copper tea kettles No. 6 and 7....69c
" " " plated...69c
1 gal. glass oil cans tin body.....29c
1 gal. galvanized iron oil cans.....19c
Galvanized iron chamber pails.....29c
Japanned tin cuspidores all colors.....9c
Spades and shovels riveted shank.....39c
" " solid shank.....49c

Ansonia Nickel Clocks.

Warranted every one; without alarm..67c
With alarm.....78c

Table Lamps, Hall Lamps, etc.

Table lamps with shade complete neat decorations.....89,97c and up
Hall lamps all colors complete solid brass trimmings at.....97c each
Night lamps various styles starting at 24, 39, and 49c each.

WOODENWARE.

Clothes pins.....7c per hundred
Clothes line.....½cent per yard
Clothes baskets.....29 cents each
Hard wood tables, with four legs, ...29 cents each
Scrub brushes, good quality....10 cts each
Nail brushes, good quality.....3 cts each
Splash mats.....8, 9, and 10 cts each
3-panel wall pockets.....9 cts each
Wash boards....19, 23, 27 and 29 cts each
3-sewed parlor brooms.....12 cts each
3-sewed brooms, best quality..23 cts each
White wash brushes....23, 35, 43 cts each
Kalsomine brushes....49, 67, 79, cts each
Dust brushes.....15, 19, 24, 29 cts each
Feather dusters...9, 12, 14, 19 cts, upward
Wash boards, zinc tops.....12 cts

Dinner, Tea and Toilet Sets.

Dinner sets, 100 pieces, English Porcelain, decorated.....$5.98 per set
Dinner sets, 112 pieces, English porcelain, decorated.....$8.47 per set.
Tea sets, 56 pieces, best English porcelain.....$3.39 per set
Fine China tea sets, choice of several styles, decorated in flower and gold.....$5.98 per set
Toilet sets, 6 pieces, best English porcelain.....$1.39 per set
Toilet sets, all prices, from $1.39 per set and upwards.

Stationery and Books.

This department embraces a good line of Stationery, Easter Novelties Cards and Cloth and Paper Books. Our offerings in this department—Fine grades of linen and woven tablets from 6c to 20c; fine grades of linen paper in box from 10c to 25c; excellent assortment of Easter Cards from 3c to 20c; 500 cloth covered books, all popular titles, at 10, 15, 20 and 25c, worth 20 to 50c; 1,000 paper covered books, all popular titles, 10 and 15c lines—to open up this department we have decided to sell at 3c each.

Special on Priestley's

Black Silk Warp Henriettas.

For this sale only.

The $1 quality at 90c. The $1.25 quality at $1.12.
The $1.50 quality at $1.30. The $1.75 quality at $1.50.

Refrigerators.

We carry a full line of soft and hard wood. Best makes only at bottom prices.

No. 1	soft wood chest	$2 97
No. 2	"	$3 94
No. 3	"	$4 87
No. 4	"	$5 93
No. 1	soft wood upright	$5 87
No. 2	"	$6 93
No. 3	"	$7 94
No. 4	"	$8 97

Carpet Department.

China and Japan matting, all jointless, at 9, 12½, 15 and 19c.

Cotton and Linen Warp, plain and figured, at 19, 23, 27, and 35c.

Linoleum, all grades, 37½, 49, 65, 90c square yard.

Oilcloths, all grades and widths, at 19, 23, 25, 29, and 39c square yd

All-wool ingrain carpet at 49c, extra at 65c. Agra, Kandabar, Ispahan, Rag and Hemp Carpets.

Extra Tapestry Brussels Carpet, made, laid and lined at 65c.

Moquette Carpet at 69c. Body Brussels, Velvets and Axminster carpets.

Art Rugs 2½ yards, $3, $4.98; 3x3 at $6.39; 3x3½ at $7.39; 3x4 at $8.79.

Window Shades at 19c, 25c, 29c, 35c. Special prices and estimates furnished on orders for whole house or store shades.

Window Poles and Trimmings 19c complete and upwards.

Moquette Rugs, 27x54 inches, with fringe, at $1.49.

Smyrna Door Rugs 18x36 inches, with fringe, at 59c.

Sakai Rugs, a new fabric, 30x64, at $1.93.

" " 36x72, at $2.39.

Japanese Rugs and Smyrna Rugs in large variety, all sizes, at lowest possible prices.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Upholstery Department is now replete with new seasonable goods, and we offer some extraordinary inducements. 300 yards of

Normandy Plushes

in plain and floral designs, warranted not to fade when exposed to sunlight, 26 inches wide, superb colorings, positively one of the greatest specials of the season. Our opening prices for these goods

75, 90, 98c. $1.05 and $1.15

a yard; and 25 per cent. off regular value.

15 dozen Nottingham Lace Curtains 3¼ yards long, 40 inches wide, exquisite floral designs. Our price for these goods, 69c pair; heretofore 85c pair.

An excellent line of Portiere Curtains (Tapestry) floral designs. Opening price $3.49, $5.49 and $7 per pair—extra good value.

Perfumery and Toilet Department

This department has been completely reorganized and contains all that go to make up a well equipped perfumery department. These goods are marked on the close dry goods basis and represent the best value it is possible to get in this line of goods

The varied nature of the stock prevents giving many items. However, the undermentioned are extraordinary good values:

Bay Lavender smelling salts 45c; Florida water large bottle 48c; essence of White Lilac, essence of Napoleon Violet, essence of Jockey Club, 49c a bottle; triple extract of Heliotrope, triple extract of Persian Lilac, triple extract of Jockey Club, triple extract of White Rose, triple extract essence of Bouquet, 50c a bottle; Colgate's Cashmere Bouquet Toilet Water, 50c; Colgate's Florida Water, 29c a bottle; Colgate's fine Bay Rum, 50c a bottle; Buttermilk soap, 10c; Oatmeal soap, 10c; Pears' Glycerine soap, 20c; Cuticura soap, 20c; Strawberry soap, 25c; Cashmere Bouquet soap, 22c; Turkish bath soap, 5c; Bouquet soap, 4c.

Woolen Dress Goods.

This department is varied and choice You will be attracted if you visit this counter which comprises cheviots, hairline stripes, silk mixtures, crepons, heather mixtures, henriettas, serge and French cashmeres

OUR LEADERS!!

Along this line—300 yards crepon will be offered during the opening at the extremely low figure of 50c a yard, actual value 69c a yard

250 yards cheviot mixtures in variety of colorings at 39c a yard, heretofore 49c a yard

A lot of all-wool suitings 54 inches wide, choice range of colorings at 55c a yard, actual value 68c a yard

Hamburg Embroidery

A full line of Cambric and Nainsook embroideries in match patterns of various widths, embracing close and open work effects, deep work and wide margin of cloth 5c, 8c, 10c, 15c, and 20c lines, during our opening 3c, 5c, 8c, 13c, and 15c a yard

Grocery Dep't

TERMS CASH

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Special Prices for this Sale. Reliable Goods Only

French sardines in pure oil 10c a box
Lemon cling peaches very fine 17c can
Famous string beans 6c can
Very fine sweet sugar corn 7c can
Very fine Delaware tomatoes 7c can
Finest quality Mocha or Java coffee 34c pound
Good quality mixed tea 29c pound
Our regular 50c grade for 34c pound
Oyster Bay asparagus flat cans 18c can
Very fine Bahama sliced pineapple 13c can
Curtice Bros chicken soup 19c can
Babbitt's best soap 6 cakes for 24c
Full test ammonia Edsall's 9c bottle
Soda crackers 6 pounds for 25c
Heinz's Little Giant pickles 9c bottle
Cross & Blackwell's pickles all kinds 32c bottle
Andersons jams all kinds 12c can
Silexo scouring soap 2½c cake
Borax soap powder 3c cake
Very best quality Olive oil quarts 69c bottle
Very best quality Olive oil per gallon $1.95

Hosiery Dept

Some startling leaders in this department—Children's ribbed Spring and Summer weight, full seamless fast black cotton hose, 18c, 25c and 35c grades, reduced to 12½c, 20c and 25c a pair

Ladies' fine gauze fast black cotton hose 15c, 20c, 25c and 35c grades, special at 12½c, 15c, 20c and 25c a pair

Ladies' Richelieu ribbed Lisle thread hose warranted fast colors 69c grade, special at 49c

50 doz ladies' fast black cotton hose at 5c a pair, excellent value at 9c a pair

Boys' bicycle hose sizes 7 to 10, 30c grade now 25c

Children's double knee fast black stockings full seamless well worth 35c pair now 25c pair

LADIES' SILK WAISTS

One of the leading features of this department is a full line of the latest novelties comprising a profusion of dainty silks all exquisitely made in illuminated silk Taffeta, striped and fancy Japanese wash silks, light and dark effects, large sleeves, blouse front, shirred yokes and belts, specially adapted for separate skirts.

Our opening inducements comprise the following:

Figured changeable silk waists, large sleeves and belts, manufactured to sell at $3.50 and $4 25, for the opening $2 95 and $3 48

All-silk illuminated Taffeta silk waists; baloon sleeves, shirred yokes, blouse front, actual value $5.25 and $6 98, special $4 75 and $5.50.

Children's reefers in red and mixed cloth 2, 3 and 4 years, $5 50 goods to sell at $4 75

Children's white pique reefers $3 49

Children's white India silk coats, handsomely braided $5 49

Children's dresses in ginghams, seersuckers, lawns and dimity 75c to $2 50 goods for the opening 59c to $1 98

Children's white dresses trimmed with Irish Point embroidery for 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years, from $2 49 to $3 up.

Boys' Blouses—We shall offer for a few days during the opening about 25 dozen boys' calico blouses in pink, blue, navy and white; positively 60c goods; special 39c.

Wrappers, Shirt Waists, Underwear and Corsets.

The exhibit of wrappers and shirt waists, underwear and corsets made in all the choicest fabrics, will comprise more and richer styles than ever before shown in this city and will be especially worthy of a visit from every lady in Plainfield.

Special, 50 dozen striped and figured Cambric and Percale house wrappers, with full sleeves and watteau backs and large ruffle over the shoulder, manufactured to sell at 75c to $1.49. Special during our opening 59, 68, 83, and $1.10.

100 dozen ladies' laundried shirt waists with collars and cuffs an immense variety of patterns, large sleeves adapted for separate skirts, manufactured to sell at 35, 50, 75, 93. Special during the opening, 27, 39, 50 and 69c.

Ladies' gowns handsomely embroidered, reduced from $1.99 to $1.89, during the opening 99c.

CHILDREN'S HEADWEAR

We ask special attention to our choice and complete assortment of all that is pretty in children's headwear embracing silk and lace bonnets; hats, pokes, and close fitting caps at prices to suit all purses.

An Extraordinary Special along this line

A lot of well made caps worth 25c to go at 15c

50 doz lawn and silk caps actual value 65c to $1, during our opening 49c to 75c each.

RIBBONS

We are showing without a doubt the very nicest line of plain and fancy ribbons that have ever been displayed in this city. We ask all our patrons to visit us and see these goods during the coming week.

ON BARGAIN TABLES

5,000 yards gros grain and satin ribbons ⅜ to 4 inches wide, all newest colorings at 3c to 25c a yard positive value from 5c to 50c a yard

Handkerchiefs

30 doz ladies scolloped embroidered lawn handkerchiefs 15c grade to go at 12½c each

Wash Fabrics.

In this department we are showing a full line of ginghams, crepons, organdies, batiste, calicoes, cambrics, satines, dimities, percales, in plaids, stripes, sprays, dots and floral designs, in fact all manner of creations: The latest triumph in American printing.

Leaders!!

3,000 yards of printed calicoes, fast colorings, in endless variety of designs, 6½ cts goods, as long as they last 4 cts per yard.

500 yards of crepon wash fabrics, fast colors 12c goods at 7 1-2 cts per yard, for a few days.

1,200 yards of Amoskeag ginghams, 7½c grade, to go at 5 cts per yard.

3,000 yards of percales, exquisite designs, best quality manufactured, 16c grade; during our Opening 12 cts per yard.

White Goods AND Linen Department

This department embraces an excellent collection of Damasks napkins, dinner cloths, towels, lunch cloths and other housekeeping linens, also dimities, apron lawns, muslins and sheetings at great concessions from original prices. We propose to give our customers the full benefit of this saving and will inaugurate the largest sale of this kind ever held in this city.

What we are offering in this direction:

1000 yards 4 4 bleached muslins 7½c grade at 5½c a yard

1000 yards 4 4 unbleached muslin 6½c grade at 4½c yard

800 yards white check dimities 8c grade at 5½c yard

1200 yards 40-inch white apron lawns 12c grade at 8½c yard

A splendid 62 inch bleached Damask 75c grade at 45c yard

300 yards crash toweling 5½c grade at 4c yard

500 yards 27-inch all line check toweling suitable for butcher's aprons, 35c grade at 25c yd.

Black Dress Goods.

Here you will find serges, cheviots, cashmeres, henriettas and novelties including the ideal crepon

OUR LEADERS

500 yards black silk warp henriettas 45 inches wide at 65c, 85c, $1, $1.25, and $1 50 a yard, far below regular value

An excellent line of wide wale serges strictly all wool at 65c a yard, well worth $1 a yard

Lining Dep't.

We offer the undermentioned inducements in this department during the Opening!

15c French Percaline all colors	12c yd
16c Silesia all colors	12c yd
20c Taffeta watered Percaline	15c yd
50c Silk watered Moreen 27 ins wide,	39c
22c Linen canvas our price	18c yd
30c American haircloth, cotton	25c yd
15c India grass cloth	12c yd
12c Cross bar Crinoline	9c yd

Silk Dep't.

In this department we shall exhibit a beautiful line of foreign and domestic silks in plain and fancy weaves, including the latest fabrics and effects, comprising Plisse Crepons, illuminated and two-toned, heavy quality black figured Taffeta, Japanese wash-silks, black Peau-de-Soie, Satin Duchesse, Moire Francaise, Faille-de-Lyon and guaranteed Gros Grain, in a variety of new Spring designs.

OUR LEADERS

In this direction—Plisse Crepons, all choice combinations, 75c lines; reduced to 50c a yard. Black all-silk Taffeta, bright lustre in sprays, figures and dots, 98c goods at 73c a yard.

Illuminated double warp Taffeta 12 different combinations 85c lines at 65c a yard.

Standard quality Japanese wash-silks in the leading colors positively 40c goods, special at 29c a yard

Also our full lines of higher grade goods at proportionately low prices

Glove Dep't

Ladies' Foster hook kid gloves, good fit and splendid wearers in new shades of tan and black all sizes, $1, $1.50 and $1 75 lines, marked to 75c, $1, and $1 25 a pair

Ladies' 4-button kid gloves in black, modes, tan and gray all sizes $1 25 and $1.50 lines, special at $1 and $1 25 a pair

Our Spring purchases of Taffeta and all silk gloves are extensive in new shades of tan, grays and black all sizes perfect fitting at 25c, 39c, and 49c a pair

Ladies' 8-button length Mosquetaire Suede gloves in white, tan, gray and black, $1 50 and $1 75 lines, special at $1 35 and $1 50 a pair

Leather Goods

We are displaying an excellent collection of ladies' pocketbooks and shopping bags

OUR SPECIAL!

30 doz well made pocketbooks 20c grade to go at 13c each

50 doz assorted leather purses good clasps 7c, 10c, 15c grades to go at 5c, 8c and 10c

An Ordinance

governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation.

Board of Health Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An ordinance governing plumbing, drainage and ventilation" has been introduced and passed its first and second readings in the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield. The date when said ordinance passed its second reading is March 8 1895 and this notice is given pursuant to the requirement of the statute in such case made and provided. By order of the Board of Health. H. O. NEWMAN, Secretary.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., March 16 1895.

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.

The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

OUR MOTTO—Good work, good material at fair prices. 8 4 y

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned Attention given to sanitary condition Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built, 9 15

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated;

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS.

OFFICES—34 West Front street; 88 Park Avenue Post Office Box 220.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 27

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON,

New No. 122., North Ave., Plainfield.

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly 8

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

SOME DAY

men may find a positive cure for Consumption, but it is a great thing to be able to prevent it, and in its early stages even to cure it. The only remedy yet known to prevent, as well as to cure in the early stages of the disease, is Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda.

It acts in two ways—as a medicine destroying the germs which cause the disease, and as a food stopping the wasting (the consuming), and replacing the lost flesh and tissue.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 519 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 2 m

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-c

We have a few

Wall Pockets

odds and ends of two or three styles, in

Gilt, Enamel and Plain Frames

worth $1.25, now

89 Cents.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front st.

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue. Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,

175 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 9 8 y

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line,

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.

W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

in Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

MAY PASS IN THE NIGHT

Vessels To Enter New York Port at Any Hour.

Secretary Carlisle Visits the Metropolis and Consults with Customs Officials About Proposed Changes. Will Make New York Equal to Any Port in Europe.

New York, March 23.—Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle spent the day at the sub-treasury and custom house. He arrived at the sub-treasury at 11 o'clock, and had a short conference with J. Pierpont Morgan. He examined the sub-treasury to decide whether repairs and electric lights were necessary. In company with Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan he went to the custom house at about noon to discuss the question of a new custom house and the proposition submitted by Collector Kilbreth that steamships be allowed to pass quarantine after sundown. Mr. Carlisle lunched at Delmonico's with Collector Kilbreth, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hamlin, Surveyor Maguire and Commissioner of Immigration Herman Stump.

No Legislation Necessary.

The officials were all in accord on the subject, and after lunch the statutes were examined to ascertain whether any new legislation was required. Assistant Secretary Hamlin reported that Health Officer of the Port Doty also favored the proposition, and that, if the federal authorities decided to pass ships after dark, there would be no new legislation required at Albany. Collector Kilbreth stated that more inspectors would be required. Commissioner Stump suggested that the most serious feature, in such an event, was the handling of the immigrants who came up on ships at night. It was quite generally agreed that all difficulties could be overcome by careful regulations.

To Equal Any European Port.

Collector Kilbreth, when seen after his interview with Secretary Carlisle, said: "The conference has resulted in a thorough understanding between the treasury department and the customs official of this port. The treasury department is thoroughly in sympathy with any plan that will benefit the commerce of the port and we are about to make a change that will put us on an equal footing with all European ports." The collector further said that he was not absolutely certain that the change would be made, but that it was reasonably sure to take place in a short time. The proposed change will allow all ships to pass quarantine and proceed to their docks at any time of the day or night, there to unload cargo and have passenger luggage examined and passed.

THE NEW CUP DEFENDER.

Two Suits of Sails To Be Made for the Boat.

Bristol, R. I., March 23.—Arrangements have been made by the Herreshoff's with the National Indian Rubber company of Bristol for the lease of one of the large rooms at their factory, in which to make the sails for the new cup defender. The Herreshoff's are to make one suit of sails for the new boat and the syndicate will also have a suit made. The material of which the Herreshoff sails will be made is Ranice cloth. Work on the Gould 20-rater, Niagara, is being pushed along as rapidly as possible at the Herreshoff works, and the first week in April will set her on a trial spin. The 20-rater for the German Baron will be launched the middle of next week, and both boats will be given trials in Bristol harbor before they are towed to New York.

Montreal Cutting Down Expenses.

Montreal, March 23.—As a measure of economy the board of chairmen of civic committee have decided that the mayor's salary of $2,000 be omitted this year, that the allowance of $40 per annum to each alderman for cab hire be discontinued, and that a 10 per cent. reduction be made in salaries of civic employes.

Indians Leave Washington.

Washington, March 23.—The Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians, who have been in Washington for the past week with their agent conferring with the president, have left for their reservation in Oklahoma. The matter of paying them for their lands will be left for the Indians to decide by vote in council.

Germany's Income Tax.

Washington, March 23.—United States Consul Morris, at Chent, reports that over $29,000,000 was raised by income tax in Germany in 1894 and 1895. Over 21,000,000 persons were exempted because their income was less than 900 marks (about $214), or because of their foreign nationality.

Combined Against Labor.

Providence, R. I., March 23.—The owners of the several woolen and worsted mills in and around Olneyville have formed a combination to support each other in impending troubles occasioned by the demands of operatives for increase of wages or restoration of the old schedule.

"Col. West" Held for Trial.

Boston, March 23.—Daniel S. Ward, the swindler who impersonated "Col. West," of Atlanta, Ga., was in court yesterday afternoon on the charge of the forgery of a check, and was held in $2,000 for the April term of the superior court.

Pugilist Lindsay Sentenced.

Omaha, Neb., March 23.—Pugilist Lindsay, of this city, has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary at Plattsmouth for manslaughter in killing Fletcher Robinson, the prize fighter, last year.

Over 100 Men Thrown Out of Work.

Auburn, Ind., March 23.—By the burning of the Auburn Foundry and Machine works more than 100 men are thrown out of employment. The fire is a serious loss to Auburn.

Americans at Naples.

New York, March 23.—The Red Star line steamer Friesland, with 450 American excursionists on board, has arrived at Naples.

Duke of York Ill.

London, March 23.—The Duke of York has been confined to his room with a chill for three days.

An agreeable Laxative and NERVE TONIC. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO HO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U.S.A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures when all others fail. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will cure YOU, if taken in time. Price 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00.

Sold by all druggists. 8 14 y

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,284 feet 12 " "
4,925 feet 10 " "
80,605 feet 8 " "
108 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
179 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
825 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street. Solicitor and Master in Chancery. Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York. 1 5 6m

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 28 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.36 p.m—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 01 9.08, 9.36 a. m., 9.29 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 08, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p. m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 04, 6 46, 6 47, 6 45, 7 07, 7 20, 7 40, 7 57, 8 08, 8 28, 8 35, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 28, 10 40, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 15, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 2 48, 3 27, 3 47, 4 42, 5 15, 5 32, 5 42, 6 08, 6 27, 6 40, 6 58, 7 07, 7 20, 7 50, 8 41, 9 10, 9 50, 10 03, 11 05 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 5 04, 7 04, 8 46, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 38, 1 44, 2 39, 3 45, 6 08, 6 38, 8 24, 8 48, 7 08, 7 12, 7 28, 7 58, 8 30 9 15, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 01, 3 02, 5 04, 6 47, 7 19, 8 08, 8 28, 9 43, a. m., 1 08, 1 37, 3 32, 5 02, 6 26, 7 46, 8 42, 9 29 p. m. Sundays at 1 01, 3 02, 5 04, 6 47, 8 08, 8 28, 9 43, 10 41 a. m., 1 08, 6 26, 7 47 and 9 43 p. m.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY—

(2 15p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 50 a. m.

Cape May Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Delaware—1, 3 02 daily ex. Monday, 4 08, 6 46, 7 20, 7 50, 8 54, 9 46, 9 50, 10 39, 11 42 a. m., 12 46, 1 31, 2 37, 2 48, 3 20, 3 32, 3 50, 4 32, 4 52, 5 22, 6 02, 6, 8 06, 8 19, 9 27, 9 46, 10 42 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 1, 3 02, 6 09, 7 46, 9 49, 10 26, 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 56, 1 50, 2 47, 3 58, 4 50, 6 20, 6 49, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 58 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 47, 7 19, 7 59, 9 05, 9 36, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 38, 1 37, 2 48, 3 50, 4 28, 5 08, 5 40, 6 06, 6 45, 7 46, 9 39 and 11 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 09, 9 05, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 56, 1 50, 5 40, 7 47, 9 36, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 46, 9 46, 10 39 a. m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 44 p. m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays 1 43, 10 36, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 46, 9 46, 10 39, 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 36 9 44 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 36, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 38, 2 48 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 01, 5 37, 7 19, 7 59 9 05, 9 36, 11 43 a. m., 1 08, 1 37, 2 48, 5 08, 6 06, 7 46, 9 42, 9 39 p. m. Sundays at 1 01, 5 19, 9 08 9 36 10 43 a. m., 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 p. m.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 59 a. m., 2 48 and 6 06 p. m., and 5 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 59 a. m., 2 48 p. m.

For Freehold—7 59, 11 43 a. m., 4 38, 5 08 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 59 and 11 43 a. m., 4 38 and 5 08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 42 12 46, 4 12 5 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.

For Boston—3 02 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N.Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 2, 6 30, 7 20, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 30 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 6 30, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40 7 00, 7 20, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 30 p. m., 12 10 night. Sundays, 1 00 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 20, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10, 15 10 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

E. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 20, 9 40, 11 a. m., 2 20, 5, 5 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a. m., 1 45, 5, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 30 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 8 28 y

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 24 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 18 Vine St.

H. B Gayle, No. 18 Vine St.

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 7-22-tf

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 4th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 8 20 y

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. H. McCullough, Proprietor

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-11-t

C. W. LINES & CO.,

Mason and Builders.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence 18 Elmwood Place.

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 21

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 8 6 t

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 5 37, 6 30, 6 55, 7 30, 7 50, 7 55, 8 10, 8 30, 8 37, 8 51, 9 40, 9 55, 10 50, 11 19, A. M., 12 16, 1 16, 3 07, 3 32, 3 51, 4 10, 4 34, 5 04, 5 11, 5 35, 6 30, 9 32, 10 17, P. M. Sunday—2 14, 5 37, 7 00, 8 07, 8 40, 9 30, 10 50, 11 38, A. M., 12 38, 1 45, 3 30, 5 32, 7 00, 7 11, 9 32, 10 17 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 00, 8 00, 7 15, 8 40, 9 10, 10 15 45, A. M., 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, except Saturday, 5 30 5 45, 6, 6 15, 6 30, 7, 7 15, 8, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30 P. M. 12 15, 1 night. Sunday—1 00, 7 15, 8 30, 9 15, A. M., 12 15, 1 00, 1 30, 5, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00 P. M., 12 30 night. 1 A M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 6 30, 6 56, 8 00, 7 36, 8 00, 8 30, 9 32, 10 04, 10 50, A. M., 12 04, 1 15, 3 07, 3 30, 3 19, 3 57, 4 30, 5 04, 5 34, 7 09, 8 30, 10 12 11 20 P. M. Sunday—8 07, 9 32, 10 00, 11 30, A. M 12 37, 1 45, 3 31, 5 36, 7 11, 8 37, 9 32, 10 17 P.M.

Leave Newark 6 20, 7 10, 7 55, 8 30, 9 00, 10 00, 11 30 A.M., 1 10, 1 35, 2 20 Saturday only, 2 35, 3 05, 4 00, 5 00, 5 04, 5 34, 6 10, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 05, 10 05, 11 35 P.M. Sunday—7 00, 8 05, 9 25, 11 05, A. M., 1 10, 3 35, 4 10, 6 05, 7 20, 9 35, 10 20 P.M.

Passengers taking Newark cars at Elizabeth.

CLAIRVILLE AND SCHENEVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 00, 7 10, 8 26, 9 04, 11 03 A.M., 12 03 2 05, 3 22, 4 05, 5 05, 5 14, 5 54, 6 04, 8 15, 9 32, 11 30, 11 23 P.M. 12 30 night Sunday—8 45, 9 04, A.M., 3 03, 5 30, 6 24, 6 58, 10 10, 11 14 P.M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 37, 7 00, 7 22, 7 35, 7 45, 8 00, 9 03, 9 48, 11 40 A. M., 12 50, 1 45, 3 05, 3 25, 4 25, 5 25, 6 20, 7 17, 8 45, 11 05, P. M. Sunday 2 25, 3 45, 10 55 A. M., 12 05, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 12, 9 04, 9 40 P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 8 10, 9 54, A.M., 12 46, 3 03, 5 14, 7 00, 8 21 P. M. Sunday—8 45, 9 30 A. M., 3 03, 6 00, P. M.

Leave Easton 6 05, 7 00, 8 55, A.M., 12 22, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sunday—1 15, 10 00, A. M. 4 40, 7 30, P. M

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p.m

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 45 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m., for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 45 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 03 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Pottsville and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch

5 34 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 55 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

8 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

8 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 28 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 2 03 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6 55 p.m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 27 a. m. 1 18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 8 27, 9, 10 27, a. m 1 18, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 9 53, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 27, 8 28, 8 10 27 a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 7 08 p.m. Sunday—8 53, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 27, 8, 10 27 a.m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, p.m.

MIDDLESEX AND BOUND BROOK RAILROAD.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 45, 8 44 9 45, 10 45, a. m., 2 09*, 5 34* 8 44 8 21, 9 27* p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—5 45, 9 45 a. m., 2 09*, 5 14* 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 5 45, 8 44, 9 45*, 10 45, a. m., 12 45, 2 09*, 5 34*, 8 21, 9 27* p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday—5 45, 9 34, a. m., 2 09*, 5 14* 6 30 p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9 45, a. m. 2 09, 5 14* 6 45 p.m. 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 34 p m. Sundays 5 14 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week-days at 9 54 a m., 8 22 p. m. Sundays 6 35 p. m

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA.

Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 20, 9 50, 11 35 a.m., 1 20 3 00 5 15, 6 04, 8 25, p.m., 12 10, night.

Sundays—4 10, 8 20, 9 50, 12 35 a. m., 2 50, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—8 55, 7 53, 9 21, 11 19, a m. 2 50, 6 15, 8 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—8 55, 7 53, 12 19 p m., 2 50, 6 12, 9 10, 11 45 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 50 4 55, 9 06, 10 25, a.m., 12 15* 2 10, 4 20*, 5 54, 9 05 p.m Sundays—1 00, 4 55, 9 06, 10 27 a. m., 1 15*, 4 25 5 45*, 9 03 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Nearly 100,000 Now in Use.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

EASY TERMS.—EXCHANGED.

Catalogue mailed on application.

110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N.Y.

MONEY LOANED.

Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum. It affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1122 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 6m

E. H. HOLMES,

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD,

YARD—No. 720½ Madison Avenue. Also

Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle 145 North Avenue.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE.

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's,

129 East Front street.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORETMIRESOPUBCFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; so if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts,

Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c.
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

OUR $3 SHOES

are better than ever before. Better means

More reliable,
More wear,
More style.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue

SHAD! Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

TWO MEN AGAINST HER

Mrs. Horan's Lot for Committing Bigamy.

Husband No. 2, a Wealthy New York Lawyer, Locates Husband No. 1 in Jail Serving a Sentence for Drunkenness, Procures His Release and the Two Join Issues for Revenge.

Newark, N. J., March 23.—Two men called at the county jail yesterday and took away William H. Horan, of Orange, who was undergoing a sixty days' imprisonment for drunkeness, in default of the payment of a fine of $20. The fine was paid by the men who called for Horan. One of them said he was H. Levy, a lawyer, of New York. He wanted to take Horan to that city to testify against his wife, whom he is prosecuting for bigamy. He alleges that the accused woman is also Horan's wife. Horan is an actor. In 1882 he married a stunning blonde, who cut a dash in the Oranges. After a while he discovered she was erratic. She was in the habit of leaving him, to return again after several months' absence.

Took to Drink.

Horan took to drink to drown his sorrows, and his descent to habitual drunkenness was speedy. About three years ago his wife deserted him for the last time, and he has heard nothing about her whereabouts since then until to-day. Lawyer Levy came here from New York to find Horan. He finally located him at the Essex county jail. Confronting Horan, Lawyer Levy said:

Your Wife Is My Wife.

"My name is H. Levy. I am a New York lawyer and I will say to you that, strange as it may seem, your wife is my wife. I see now that she is an adventuress and a bigamist, and I want you to testify in the suit for divorce which I am going to bring against her, also in the case of bigamy to be preferred against her in the New York courts." When Horan heard the news about his wife he gave a low whistle, and then to the astonishment of the warden and the visitors, said: "Excuse me, gentlemen, for a few moments."

"Well, I Guess Yes."

Lying down on the floor he elevated his feet in the air, backed up against the office door, clapped his heels together and emitted one crow and then another. Lowering himself and rising to his feet, Horan said: "Gentlemen, this is the happiest moment of my life. I thank you for this grateful and welcome information. Will I go to New York and testify against her? Well, I guess yes." It was learned that the woman, after deserting her first husband, led a wandering life, posing either as a widow or a single woman. Being of fascinating appearance and quite queenly in her way, she attracted much attention from men. Among the latter was Levy, a wealthy lawyer of the metropolis, and he soon fell a victim to her charms. Soon the lawyer and the woman were married in great style.

Betrayed by Her Tongue.

The night of the wedding there was considerable wine drunk and the newly-made wife's tongue began to wag, much to her detriment. Lawyer Levy learned sufficient from her talk that night to arouse his suspicions. He hired a detective to trace the woman's career, with the result of finding Horan, her first husband.

JAPS STOPPED TELEGRAMS.

Her Cruisers, Too, Are Employed Now in Searching Traders.

Tien-Tsin, March 23.—Japanese cruisers have been hovering outside Taku for the last three days, searching trading vessels. Telegrams from the Chinese mission at Shimonseki to the Pekin government have been intercepted by the Japanese. The Japanese fleet, which has been off the Pescadore islands (Fishers' Island), between Formosa and the Chinese headland, has attacked those islands. Fighting, according to the latest advices, is still proceeding. As previously announced, it is the intention of the Japanese to make the Pescadore islands their base of operations against the island of Formosa.

A Victim of the Faith Cure.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—Mrs. Ella Sammis gave birth to a child two weeks ago. Her husband, a Christian scientist, summoned a practitioner of that belief, whose sole treatment consisted in praying for the young mother's recovery. The woman is dead, and the husband will be summoned before a coroner's jury.

Western Capital Coming East.

New Haven, Conn., March 23.—It is authoritatively stated that negotiations are in progress for the purchase by W. A. Clark, a wealthy mine owner, of Montana, of the Wallace company's wire mills at Ansonia, now in charge of trustees. The works are very extensive and have employed 1,000 hands.

Gave Their Ages Without Protest.

Cleveland, March 23.—Yesterday was registration day for women who will vote at the coming election for school commissioner. Notwithstanding much previous talk to the contrary, the ladies answered all questions put by the registrars and gave their ages without any protest in the least.

Mrs. Von Der Ahe Granted a Divorce.

St. Louis, Mo., March 23.—Chris Von Der Ahe, president of the St. Louis Baseball club, did not plead to his wife's petition for divorce, and Mrs. Von Der Ahe was awarded a divorce by default. She charged him with infidelity.

Spanish Troops for Cuba.

Havana, March 23.—The steamer Santo Domingo has arrived at Santiago with 900 Spanish troops. The steamers Alfonso XII. and Antonio Lopex, with Spanish troops for Cuba, arrived at Porto Rico.

Against the Theatre Hat.

Augusta, Me., March 23.—A bill was introduced in the house making it a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment for women to wear large hats at places of public amusement.

To Honor Bismarck.

Berlin, March 23.—The Berlin magistracy will send a birthday address to Prince Bismarck.

A STATESMAN'S INDORSEMENT.

The Hon. Wilbert D. Farnham, Jr., Tells How He Was Cured by Using Munyon's Remedies.

The Hon. Wilbert D. Farnham, Jr., whose name went before the voters of Massachusetts last November, as a candidate for Secretary of State on the Prohibition ticket, is one of the most prominent men in the E st. He resides at 82 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass. This is what he writes of Munyon's Homoopathic Remedies:

"I seldom write testimonials, but am glad to give this one. Of the many medicines I have tried to relieve the terrible distress of indigestion, I know of nothing equal to Professor Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure. I have suffered with this trouble for many years, and during an unusually severe attack last month a friend gave me a small bottle of Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure."

Munyon's Stomach and Dyspepsia Cure cures all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles such as constipation, rising of food, distress after eating, bloating of the stomach, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and all affections of the heart caused by indigestion. It soothes, heals and invigorates stomachs that have been weakened by over-eating, or where the lining of the stomach has been impaired by physic and injurious medicines. Price 25 cents.

Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Treasury Department

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2143 JAMES H. ECKELS, Comptroller of the Currency.

3 4 30

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given. That the account of the subscriber, administrator of Adele Feytel deceased will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the seventeenth day of April next.

CHARLES JOSEPH FEYTEL.

Dated February 11, 1895. 2 16 10

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Executor of Robert Palmer, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the Seventeenth day of April next.

JOHN S. McLEAN.

Dated February 11, 1895. 2 16 10

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 26 y

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D.H. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 19 t

You may have Lost many hours of comfort by not having worn A good reliable Pair of Collier's Glasses.

103 Park ave. Established 1869.

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,

118 West 5th st., Plainfield N. J.

and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW'S

Specials.

Ladies' fast black hose.....7c, 4 pair for 25c
Children's fast black seamless hose.....10c pair
" " " double knee.....15c pair
" " " extra heavy.....25c pair
Ladies' lace edge handkerchiefs.....5c
Men's white and colored border handkerchiefs.....5c

210 West Front Street.

OU MAY BE HAPPY

—IN—

Hallock's Handsome Hats.

IF YOU WANT

ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 18, 1895.

Adams Miss Rosilia	McGowen Patrick
Allen Strom	Miles W T
Brown Maggie	Moore & Co Wm W
Bayler T F	Nolan P
Burke James	Napensky Adam
Coverly Fred	Pearce Herman S
Deloy Lucy	Post W
Eicke Lizzie	Preston H
Elder Harriet	Pentency Jinia
Fullom Lizzie	Randolph Mrs Louisa
Goepbel Mr	Russell J C
Gillispie & Son Wm	Seely E
Hanfield Phebe	Simpson Mrs Emily
Harben Jasper L	Sparks Louisa
Henley Mr	Sutphen Prime
Haney M A	Sumbom Roy
Hyatt Mrs Jennie	Truman Mrs W N
Hankerson A	Vail Ralph L
Jeroin Mrs	Washington Louisa
Jennings Annie	Wendell David
Jonrs Lewis	Williams C H
James Miss Ollie	Wells Lee
King James	Ward Ogie
Kimball Miss J	Watkins Mrs Florence
McDoland Mrs	Willoughby H
Michel Mr	Young Rev Dr W C

A full assortment of Stationery !

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

O. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 27 Chatham street.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

30 BROADWAY, cor. 6th ST.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same [illegible]

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St., NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan.

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.

The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager,

1 6 tf Finderne, N. J.

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

6-12-1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET.

J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 489

BOCK BEER

all this week at

Charles Smith's Saloon.

Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Morgan and His Men Held Up.

March 20, 1863, Colonel Morgan and his doughty raiders met foemen worthy of their steel. With several mounted battalions, mustering 3,500 sabers, Morgan harassed the outposts of Rosecrans' army around Murfreesboro, Tenn. While scouting some miles beyond the lines, Colonel A. S. Hall's Union brigade discovered that, go which way they would, hostile troopers picketed the roads, and on the night of the 19th completely surrounded their bivouac. The morning of the 20th Hall formed his line on a crest known as Vaught's Hill. The ground occupied was only about five acres in extent, on the very hilltop, and there he posted his 1,300 men. A pike crossed the battlefield, and two Napoleon guns were placed so as to sweep it in both directions. Captain Harris of the Nineteenth Indiana battery handled the pieces, and swinging them as on a pivot raked the slopes on all sides. As Morgan's squadrons rode to their positions Harris' guns cut through their ranks. At 11 o'clock the skirmishing ended, and with four guns in position Morgan opened a terrific cannonade, showering the hilltop with grape, canister and shells. Fortunately for Hall, Morgan's guns carried over the narrow field, the shots doing more execution among friends than enemies. Nothing daunted, Morgan's troopers rode at the circle, trying to find a weak point. There was no weak point. Hall's men, from Illinois and Indiana, recalling Prescott's advance at Bunker Hill, held their fire until they could "see the whites of the eyes of the enemy." Every shot told, and one volley from a company of the Eighteenth Illinois cut down a whole company of Morgan's riders, steeds and all. The Confederate leaders battled valiantly. Morgan and all his colonels were wounded and several company commanders killed. The cavalry battle lasted over two hours; then Morgan rode off, carrying about 300 wounded and leaving the dead and mortally hurt lying where they fell.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

The Jaws of Death at Vera Cruz.

March 22, 1847, Captain Josiah Tattnall bombarded Vera Cruz with his wooden "Mosquito fleet." It was a deed worthy the future commander of the ram Merrimac. The fleet comprised the steamers Spitfire and Vixen and five gunboats under sail. Leaving one schooner at anchorage as a blind, Captain Tattnall took the others in tow of the steamers, and on pretense of getting to sea with them sailed down the channel. At a turning point, instead of going outside, he steamed up within 800 yards of Fort San Juan D'Ulloa and between that famous castle and Fort St. Jago. From that position his shots reached the city. As soon as the Mexican gunners in the forts got over their surprise at the Yankee audacity they concentrated a heavy fire of shot and shell upon the unprotected wooden ships. The water around the fleet was churned into foam, but the vessels had run inside the range of the Mexican guns, so that they did not make a single shot tell. After bombarding the city one hour Tattnall received an imperative signal from the commodore to withdraw for fear all would be lost. Pausing in his work to read the message, he exclaimed, "Ah, this may not make life longer, 'tis true, but it makes it a great deal broader."

CAPTAIN TATTNALL.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

Won the Fight In Fifteen Minutes.

On March 23, 80 years ago, Captain James Biddle, in the famous war sloop Hornet, battered the English sloop Penguin so that she couldn't float in an action lasting but 15 minutes. The Hornet left New York before peace was declared and sailed to the south Atlantic. Off Tristan d'Acunha she sighted the Penguin bearing down on her, and hove to to accommodate the blustering Briton. The ships closed at once, firing broadsides. The English captain threw his vessel afoul of the Hornet to board, but his men backed away when the chance was good. Biddle's men begged permission to give the enemy a lesson in boarding. "What is the use of wasting your lives on the deck of the Penguin?" said he. "We'll have her anyway." Just then the swell of the sea tore the ships asunder. The American fire was murderous. One shot dismounted a gun on the Penguin, amputated six legs of the crew working it and killed the powder boy. The port side of the vessel was literally broken in. Finally her foremast fell, covering the port guns, so that they were useless. Her captain received a mortal wound. After the mast fell Biddle thought he heard the enemy cry quits and boldly leaped upon the taffrail to order the American gunners to cease firing. While he stood there two British seamen fired at him, one ball taking effect in the neck. The crew of the Hornet became so incensed at the apparent treachery that they redoubled their fire. Some of them, taking deliberate aim, shot the fellows who had wounded their gallant commander dead in their tracks. In spite of his hurt, Biddle enforced the order to stop the fight, but with a broadside ready wore ship so as to bring the enemy under his guns. This accomplished, he hailed the Britons to surrender, and their flag came down. It was then 22 minutes after the action began, but the fighting lasted only 15 minutes. The Hornet was as good as ever for another round. The Penguin had lost her foremast and bowsprit, the mainmast toppled over, and Biddle gave orders that she be burned. She lost 38 killed and wounded, thrice the loss on the Hornet. Again the victory was with the ablest gunners.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Official Announcements for Worship in Plainfield Tomorrow.

[Matter intended for this department must be supplied fresh every week, not later than 10 a. m. Saturday to insure insertion.]

W. C. T. U. Rooms—9:15 a. m.; 4 p. m., Rev. Mr. Livermore will speak.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Meeting—C. T. Kissam will conduct the boys meeting at 4:15 p. m.

St. Joseph's Church—Masses at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school at 3, and Vespers at 8 p. m.

St. Mary's Church—Masses at 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; Vespers, 8 p. m.

Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest—Morning prayer and sermon, 11; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m.

Reform Hall—4 p. m. Gospel temperance meeting, led by A. G. Hill, from the Industrial Christian Alliance.

All Souls Church—Rev. Hobart Clark, pastor. Services at 10:45 a. m. with preaching by the pastor. Sunday-school, 11:45 a. m.

Y. M. C. A. Building—4:15 p. m. meeting. Rev. W. C. Kinsey will speak and sing. There will be cornet solos, and singing by male choir.

Swedish Meeting—Grace Church, 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Scandinavians welcome. Rev. Oscar Lindgren, from East Norwalk, Conn., will preach.

East Third Street Mission—The Gospel service at 8 p. m. will be conducted by Robert Clark. Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m. Christian Endeavor at 7.

Grace Church—Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector. Early Celebration of Holy Communion, 7:30; morning prayer and sermon, 11; Sunday-school at 3; evening service, 7:45.

Warren Chapel—Joseph Orr McKelvey, pastor. Services 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday-school, 2:30. Physical Director D. A. MacPhie will preach in the evening.

Church of the Holy Cross—Rev. T. Logan Murphy, rector. Celebration of the Holy Communion, 8 a. m. morning prayer and sermon, 11; Sunday-school, 3 p. m.; afternoon service, 4:30.

First M. E. Church—Rev. Dr. C. R. Barnes, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Subject of evening sermon, "A mean man's question". Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; Epworth League, 6:45 p. m.

St. Stephen's Church, Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector—Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45; morning prayer, litany and sermon, 11. Free stages from station at 10:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Trinity Reformed Church—Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor. 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., preaching by pastor. Evening theme—"To Shiloh". Sunday-school, 2:30; prayer-meetings 10 a. m. and 6:45 p. m.

Grace M. E. Church—Rev. Herbert F. Randolph, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m., with preaching by Rev. H. B. Munson; 7:45 p. m., by pastor, subject, "God's Masterpiece". Sunday-school, 2:30; Epworth League, 7.

Park Avenue Baptist Church—Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning theme, "Promptness versus Hesitancy"; evening, "The poor wife of an unfortunate husband". Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m.

Congregational Church—Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor. Morning service, 10:30, conducted by Rev. S. G. Shearman of Montclair, assistant pastor to Rev. A. H. Bradford, D. D. Sunday-school, 2:45 p. m. Christian Endeavor meeting, 7:30 p. m.

Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church Fourth and Liberty streets.—Rev. T. A. V. Henry, pastor. Preaching, 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Sunday-school, 3 p. m. Subject of special evening sermon, "The opening of the second and third seals". Rev. vi.

First Church of Christ (Disciples) Morris's Hall, 110 Liberty street—Open parliament led by Rev. B. W. Hand, 11 a. m.; Lord's Supper, 12 m.; Sunday-school, 2:45; Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m. Evangelist Humpstone will speak at the C. E. meeting and preach at 8 p. m.

Church of the Redeemer, Protestant Episcopal—Rev. Dr. Jocelyn Johnstone, rector. Celebration of the Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m. Morning service, 11:15; Sunday-school, 3 p. m.; evening service, 4:30, when Redeemer Chapter, St Andrew's Brotherhood, will be instituted.

First Presbyterian Church music—Morning—Prelude offertoire in A. Batiste; anthem, Sun of my soul, Berger; offertory, Cantique de Noel, Adam; postlude in C minor, Duncan. Evening—Prelude offertoire No. 2, Wely; anthems, "Teach me Thy way", Moir; "Sweetly breathe the lyres above", Chopin, Shelley; offertory cornet solo, "The Palms", Faure, Benj. LaVere; postlude, Torchlight March, Guilmant.

—Fair and warmer tomorrow; light showers by Sunday night.

—"March on, march on to victory". March is upon us now, and with it come brand-new goods at Peck's.

—All may rejoice today; the famous ice-cream soda is now obtainable again at Randolph's. A large number of people have availed themselves of the pleasure. Soda tickets are sold, 12 for 50 cents.

—The Stevens Indicator, the quarterly published by the Stevens Institute of Technology, will hereafter be found in the reading room of the Free Public Library. It is contributed by the editor.

Oil Strike Near Bath, N. Y.

Bath, N. Y., March 23.—There is great excitement at Pittsburgh over the striking of oil on the farm of Willard Merritt, a mile from the village.

May Continue Until 1915.

Washington, March 23.—The corporate existence of the Diamond National bank of Pittsburg, Pa., has been extended to March 22, 1915.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Trade on spots is fair but at weaker prices. No. 3 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 61½c.

Corn—Spot trade is dull and values doubtful. No. 2 steamer mixed, 51½c.

Oats—Trade on spot quiet and weaker. No. 2 white, 36½a36¾c. No. 2 mixed, 33½c.

Pork—Spot held firmly with fair trade. Extra prime nominal, $13.00a$15.50; mess, $12.75a$13.25.

Lard—Contracts are quiet but firm. May, $7.20.

Butter—Prices show a strong tone with fair demand. New butter, creamery, western extras, 20c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18c.

Cheese—Market remains firm. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; common to fair, 8a9½c.

Eggs—Prices show an advance of ½c. Western, fresh collections, firsts, 13c.

Potatoes—Desirable grades held steady. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $1.87a$2.12; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., $1.75a$2.00; and do common to fair, per 180 lbs., $1.50a$1.62.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

ON PEARY'S EXPEDITION.

Perfect Reliance Was Placed in Paine's Celery Compound.

"When I was selected by Lieut Peary to accompany him on his trip to the Arctic regions to try and find a way to the north pole," says Mr. James W. Davidson in The Fourth Estate, "it was partly because of my strong healthy constitution, and his belief that I could endure the fatigue and danger incident to the trip. I had been associated with him as his business manager on his lecturing tour, and was on terms of the greatest intimacy with him.

"When the ship Falcon left New York on her trip northwards it had among the stores several cases of Paine's celery compound. The reputation of that medicine was well established, so that it was the most natural thing in the world that the members of the party, and they comprised men from nearly every walk in life, from common sailors to men of science, should desire to use it.

"The record of our perilous trip to Camp Anniversary is too well known to need repetition. Once in camp we naturally took an inventory of our possessions, and I was exceedingly glad to find Paine's celery compound. The medicine chest was open to all, and we were free to take from it what we thought advisable. I, in company with several others, selected some of the compound, taking a bottle of it to my cabin, knowing that it would be handy when wanted. Nor was I mistaken, nor the excessive cold weather soon had its effects, and I began to be troubled in a number of ways. In every case whenever I felt the slightest indisposition, I used the compound, and found relief.

"One thing noticeable in the Arctic region was that the cold weather made us all exceedingly nervous. We became irritable and cross. Our nerves were all unstrung, and naturally it effected our health. I talked the matter over with some of the others, and made up my mind that possibly the celery compound would be beneficial, for I knew that it was used for nervous disorders at home. Well, sir, we tried it, and I must say that it helped every one of us.

When the long night of six months came on and we were in darkness, we found that the effects were very depressing. Imagine, if you can, living for six months in darkness such as occurs here every night, and you can readily understand how we are situated. It is a wonder that some of us did not go mad. We had not very much to divert our attention, and the effect was something like solitary confinement in a dark cell.

"I have used Paine's celery compound for a dozen ills such as a person is liable to have at any time, and especially in that desolate country. It has always helped me, and I should be pleased to have more of it should I go North again.

"I do not know of any one thing that I can say more of than Paine's celery compound. It certainly is a great medicine, and I am an advocate of it."

TOXIN OR ANTI-TOXIN?

There is no antidote without its bane, no good without its evil, no discovery of the angels that the devil may not use. The success of the new remedy for diphtheria, anti-Toxin, has suggested to the keen intellect of the queen of the writers of romance, a powerful and dramatic study of human passion, which she has entitled "Toxin".

OUIDA'S

most powerful novel will begin in The Daily Press, NEXT MONDAY, and be concluded in six days. It is the story of a physician and man of science, who has the care in illness of a rival in love and is tempted to administer to him, instead of a healing injection, a powerful poison. How the temptation was met, the reading of the tale will disclose. The use of hypnotism, so successful in Du Maurier's "Trilby", is here also resorted to with masterly skill.

Do n't miss the first instalment.

—Cranford has a baby three weeks old, measuring 13 inches long and weighing 3½ lbs.

—The customary Saturday monograph on Napoleon is omitted from this issue, to appear next week.

—Several Plainfielders expect to attend a reception at the Cranford opera house Easter week.

—The hand scraper is being used to good advantage by Street Commissioner Meeker's men on Park avenue.

—Henry Haurand's application for license will come up at the meeting of the Common Council Monday night.

—West Front street from DeKalb avenue to the city limits has been improved by the use of crushed stone on the roadbed.

—Howard Starrett, ventriloquist, caricaturist and shadowgraphist, with other artists, will appear at the Monroe Avenue Chapel entertainment Tuesday, April 2, at 8 p. m.

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Earl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c., and $1. Sold by all druggists.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Munford, broker. 2 1 tf

WANTED—A cheap work horse. Address D. care Press. 3 21 2

$5500—Buys a delightfully located dwelling in perfect order, 13 rooms and bath, electric light and all modern improvements; lot 80x175; $1,000 down; $3,500 bond and mortgage at 5 per cent.; balance $1,000 paid off in easy payments to suit purchaser. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

DON'T let Saturday go by without calling at the office of Lyman and Petrie, and getting full particulars of the bargains we have to offer. 3 22 2

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 24 6

FIFTY-FIVE hundred dollars; a new dwelling within 8 minutes walk of R. R. station; rented until Oct. 1 for $35 a month, will trade for small property value $2500. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

EGGS for hatching from fine thoroughbred Plymouth Rocks, $1 per 13. Loizeaux, 1215 Putnam avenue. 3 22 3

FIVE room flat to rent. Inquire L. M. French, 36 Somerset street. 3 22 2

WILL trade nicely located lot 10 min. from station, 50 x 225, For dwelling in easy walking distance of Front st. and Park ave., value about $3500. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

A large house 17 rooms, suitable for a boarding house. Apply W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 21 4

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

WE have several well located dwellings with all improvements, for rent, $25 per month. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

FOR RENT.—Store in the Alberti Building, 121 East Front st; changes made if desired to connect two floors. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

FOR RENT—House 208 East 5th st., from April 1; $35 a month; modern improvements. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

WE have bargains in dwellings in Washington Park, that if you buy now you can make $3,000 when good times come. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

WANTS AND OFFERS.

WANTED—2 good canvassers; salary $5 a week and commission; good men can make from $15 to $20 a week. Address, stating experience and references, Canvasser, Box 100, care Press. 3 20 3

SMALL houses to let, centally located, $9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

SEE—Jacob Voehl if you want a large house in a first class location, to purchase or rent, has all modern improvements, will sell on easy terms or rent right.

BEAUTIFULLY situated lots in all parts of the city for sale. Lyman & Petrie. 3 21 2

SIX-ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

SEE—Some people want a small house, Jacob Voehl has one he will sell, this is a chance to own your home, don't lose the opportunity.

COACHMAN—Understands the care of horses, harness and carriages, and is generally useful, good reference. Address C. B. care Press.

A lady desires an engagement as useful companion or private secretary. Is accustomed to old people and invalids. Address Home, care Press.

WATCHUNG PARK lots are increasing in price, get in on the ground floor, all houses occupied by owners, that is what makes desirable neigborhood for a home. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

NOW—A great many people prefer to live in the borough on line of Trolley, 2 min. from Front street, Jacob Voehl has a flat he can rent you with city water, only think of it, $10; call at once.

WANTED—Dish washer and assistant to cook. Apply McVey's restaurant.

BARN for sale or will trade for a horse and wagon. Address J. care Press.

MAN wants situation as coachman. Address Frederick Frederickson, Netherwood, N. J. 3 20 4

HOUSES to rent in desirable locations, from $25 to $75 per month. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. R. Force, 132 Park ave. boots and shoes. 3 23 6

FLAT to let, every convenience, Apply J. P. Taylor, 612 Park ave. 3 23 tf

WANTED—Small second-hand safe. Address Cash, care Press. 3 23 tf

BOARDERS and table boarders wanted in a private family, by the week, day, or meal. 130 North ave. 2nd. flat. 3 23 6

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

COLORED girl wants situation as chambermaid or waitress. 230 Park avenue.

GIRL wanted for general housework. Apply 421 Kenelngton ave. 3 23 2

HAVE a desirable house on Sanford ave. to rent, steam heat, all improvements, small conservatory. Lyman & Petrie. 3 22 2

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st 2 7 tf

$500 TO LOAN on first bond and mortgage at 6 per cent. Address X Y. Z., care Press. 3 18 tf

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

DIRT CHEAP—$1,300 will buy 6 acres good land house and barn, 2 miles from Plainfield. Wallace Vail, Babcock Building, room 211. 3 23 2

30 Acres good land to rent on shares. Apply P. C. Ohl. 3 23 6

DEATHS.

DU BOIS—At Thomasville, Georgia, Friday, March 22, Frederick L. son of L. M. and E. DuBois, of 1104 Putnam avenue, Plainfield.

STURTEVANT—In this city March 22, 1895, Ann E. wife of Austin Sturtevant, and daughter of the late Charles Roll, in her 61st year. Funeral services from her late residence, 125 Liberty street, Monday afternoon March 25, at 3. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. Newark and Paterson Sunday papers please copy.

AUCTION!

H. HAND, Auctioneer.

The undersigned having disposed of his farm will sell without reserve, on the premises situate on the Terrell road, (near Two Bridges) in Fanwood Township, commencing promptly at 1 P. M. on Tuesday, March 26, 1895.

2 horses, 1 cow, Chickens, Turkeys, Ducks, Guineas. Heavy farm wagon, nearly new 2 spring wagons, 2 buggies, 3-spring wagon, Jagger wagon, Sleigh, set double and single harness, 3 Mowing machines, one new, Threshing machine, Fanning mill, Cutting box, Sulky horse rake, Riding Cultivator 3 plows, harrows, Cornmarker, Grindstone, Hay, Cornstalks, Hoes, Forks, Shovels, Road scrapers, Household goods, etc. No postponement on account of the weather. Conditions made known at the sale.

A. J. BYNO.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 25 1m

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.

Hummer & Mulford, VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 1 11

HEATH & DRAKE

Established 1841.

COTTON DRESS FABRICS

Our stock of Cotton Dress Goods is exceedingly handsome, and includes the choicest novelities for spring and summer in the newest designs.

Dress Ginghams.....
6c., 10c. 12c. Yd.

Fancy Scotch Zephyr Ginghams in small figures stripes and checks.....
19c. and 24c.

Cotton Dress Foulards.....
18c. and 32c. Yd.

Fine Madras Cloths for Shirtings and Waists.....
18c. and 24c.

Fancy Jaconets.....
12½c. Yd.

Figured Cotton Duck.....
10c. and 12 1-2c.

Cotton Crepons in plain colors and fancy figures.....
12 1-2c. and 20c. Yd.

Imported Figured Dimities.....
24c. Yd.

Best American Prints.....
5 cents.

PLAIDS.

have become extremely popular again as well as leading in style. Our late arrivals are rich in colorings with large and small designs.

All-wool check cheviots
44c. yd.

All Wool Louisine Checks.....
44c. yd.

All Wool Plaids beautiful new styles in all the choice patterns at.....
49c., 69c., 84c., 95c. yd.

All Wool Small Check Goods in the different new colorings at.....
44c., 48c., 69c., 75c., 84c., 95c., and $1.00 yd.

New Plaid Taffeta Silks at.....
75c., 79c., $1.00 yd.

Plaid Louisine Silks.....
$1.25.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET, Newark, N. J

Annual Meeting

OF THE PLAINFIELD

BUILDING and LOAN ASS'N.

Monday Evening,

March 25, at 8.

AT LEIFKE'S HALL,

West Front st.

Election of officers for ensuing year and reading annual report.

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Soups, Etc.,

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit,

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Treating Abbottoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 228 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., MONDAY, MARCH 25, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

FIRE A GOOD THING.

Every Man Ought to Have It Within Him, Under Control—Sermon of Rev. C. E. Herring to the Plainfield Firemen.

Nearly every active and exempt fireman in both the city and borough attended the service in the First Presbyterian Church last night, at which Rev. Charles E. Herring delivered a sermon to the firefighters. He took his text from the third chapter of Corinthians.

Fire, he said, was a symbol of God's word, and Scripture relates many instances which show that there is more good in it than bad. It is the foundation of the architecture of today, because sheds were first built to protect fire, and from these improvements have been made for ages. It is the symbol of divinity and of our life; it is the indication of energy and enthusiasm, and these are the elements that make life successful. We want this fire in us, but we want it under control. Then there is the fire that purifies man and the one that throws out a warmth in welcome to the unfortunate and to the discouraged. These are things that make a Christian man God's gentleman.

PROTECTING CHILDREN.

This New Law Will Reach Cases in Plainfield.

Senate bill 275, which provides that where parents neglect or abuse children the Chancellor or Supreme Court may direct their custody, has passed both Houses of the Legislature and gone to the Governor. This is the bill which was drawn up by a Plainfielder at the request of the members of the Plainfield branch of the Union County Charities Aid Society and is intended to compel parents to allow their children to be sent to school and otherwise cared for, when they refuse to look after them themselves. Several cases of this kind are now occupying the attention of the charitable people in Plainfield.

TO MAKE THE WORLD BETTER.

Official Recognition of the St. Andrew Brotherhood.

A very interesting service was held in the Church of the Redeemer on Grove street yesterday afternoon, when Rev. Jocelyn Johnstone delivered a special sermon to the recently organized Brotherhood of St. Andrew, officially admitting the members to the society. The officers and members are: Maurice A. Audsley, director; G. T. Rhoads, secretary; Edmund Embury, treasurer; Edward A. Sprawl, Berthold Audsley, Chas. Dupee, Percival Brown, and Wm. R. Stahl.

Split a V.

F.C. Emil, a German whom no one could understand, was in the City Court this morning on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He wanted to go over the brook on a Somerset street car last night, but by mistake took a Front street car and rode to the car sheds, where he awoke the neighborhood with his angry jabbering. Policeman Hartpence was called, and conveyed him to the station-house. Judge Coddington fined him $2.50 this morning, which he paid.

Toxin Today.

Ouida's great new story begins in this issue of The Daily Press, instalments being published on Pages 6 and 8. The serial is like all those published in this paper, fresh from the pen of a master-hand, and copyrighted to Daily Press use. All the town is still discussing "The Second Promise", the dramatic tale published in The Press last week, and Ouida's "Toxin" is bound to be even greater as a literary sensation.

Helping Western Churches.

The Junior Society of Christian Endeavor of Trinity Reformed Church are getting ready for an entertainment to take place next Friday evening, March 29. The amount realized will be given to the Church Building Fund for the erection of churches in the far West. An offering of ten cents for adults and five cents for children will be accepted at the door.

Stimulating the Work.

A missionary service will be held in Trinity Reformed Church next Sunday evening, conducted by two students of Rutgers, members of the Volunteer Movement. The programme will be interesting, and mission work will be stimulated.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

SCHEPFLIN, SCHULTZ & CO., ASSIGN.

After Superhuman Efforts, They Forced to Close Business.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co., after almost superhuman efforts to avoid it, were compelled to make an assignment Saturday for the equal benefit of their creditors.

The assignment was made to J. Fred MacDonald. Elias B. Pope was unable to act as assignee, because of unavoidable absence from the State next month. Craig A. Marsh has been retained as counsel. The sympathy of the entire community will go out to Mr. Schepflin and his partners, for it is well known that they have made every possible self-denial in their efforts to pay their creditors in full.

UNLUCKY FRIDAY.

A Gift on That Day Brings Injuries to the Receivers.

An alcohol lamp, which Mrs. S. C. Baker was endeavoring to fill at her home on West Second street Saturday afternoon, exploded and set fire to the house, and in extinguishing the flames Mrs. Baker was badly burned about the right hand and arm.

The lamp was part of a hair-curling outfit, a birthday gift from Mr. Baker to his wife, presented the day before. At 3 in the afternoon she attempted to refill the lamp, but as she poured the alcohol from a bottle the fluid became ignited from a spark in the asbestoe pad which had been used as an extinguisher, and bursting in flames set fire to the lace curtains, and the blaze quickly spread to the woodwork and carpet.

Elwin Marsh, who was engaged at work across the street, saw the flames, and, rushing to the house, helped extinguish them, but not until Mrs. Baker had been severely burned. Dr. Berg was called and dressed the wounds.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

Plainfield Women to Discuss Them, and to Learn of Bacteria.

The study class of the Plainfield Alliance of Unitarian and Other Liberal Christian Women will hold its regular meeting in the lecture room of All Souls Church next Tuesday afternoon, March 26, at 3. All women interested will be welcome. The subject considered will be "Public Improvements and Public Works" in Plainfield, and papers will be given on the following sub-topics: Water supply and street lighting, Preservation of trees and care of streets, Parks and playgrounds, Public Library and Art Gallery, Means taken for the preservation of public health.

In connection with the last topic, a free illustrated lecture on "Bacteria and their work in the world" will be given by Stephen A. Krom, Thursday evening, March 28, in the same place. This lecture was recently delivered before the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, and was favorably criticised by the Brooklyn papers. The public are cordially invited to attend.

RUN OVER ON THE TRACK.

Mail Bags Opened Without Keys.

Three mail bags that had just been thrown off the 5:45 train at the North Avenue station yesterday morning on to the first track were caught up by an engine pulling a coal train, and one of them was carried through to Bound Brook on the pilot. The two others were dragged along under the trucks as far as Park avenue, the bag holding papers being torn into shreds, scattering the contents along the track in a promiscuous manner, and bespattering the papers with grease and dirt. The bag containing letters was of leather, and a slit in the top was the only damage done. A later train returned the missing pouch from Bound Brook. Such of the papers as were not in fragments were gathered up and sorted out in the postoffice.

Happenings Tomorrow.

The regular Spring opening of fine millinery under the efficient direction of Miss Daly takes place at White's tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday. The reputation of their millinery department needs no comment, as you well know that the richness and style of their productions in the millinery art stands at the head of all. They request your attendance.

To Discuss the Reduction.

It is expected that the recent reduction of wages in the Scott Press Works will be considered at a meeting of the International Association of Machinists Wednesday evening at their rooms corner of Park avenue and East Front street.

—Street Commissioner Meeker has repaired the culvert at the corner of Netherwood and North avenues, which has been in a dangerous condition.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

IMPERSONATED THE PRESS.

Plainfield's Favorite Newspaper Has Another Honor Publicly Bestowed.

The second presentation of the doll show in the Crescent Avenue Church, Saturday afternoon, drew out an audience that completely filled the lecture room. If anything, the show was funnier than when first presented. The sayings of Father Gander, represented by F. H. Andrews, and of his son Silas, portrayed by Will N. Runyon, were new and original, and, together with the ludicrous antics of the living dolls, caused great merriment among the spectators.

The Japanese and crying dolls were absent, and in their place the paper, china and fairy dolls made acceptable substitutes. The paper doll was impersonated by Miss Lottie Sutphen, and it was announced as representing The Daily Press, having been thus christened by the management out of compliment to the favorite local newspaper. The china doll was acted by Miss Etta Bush, who was announced as coming from Gavett's. The fairy doll, from Miss Mary Anderson Reinhart, was represented by Miss Mary Luckey.

BY THE WAY.

—Plainfield has 22 barber shops.

—Contractor McKillop completed Saturday the painting of the house and barn of Peter A. Emmons, Jackson avenue.

—Henry Wedemeyer, proprietor of Hotel Arlington, will give a grand opening about April 1, at his hotel, where his numerous friends will be cordially invited.

—Peter Cuff, colored, was arrested at 10:30 this morning by Sergeant Kiely for trespassing on the railroad and was sent to the County Jail for 20 days by Judge Coddington.

—William Hand & Son will remove the household goods of Mrs. Mary A. Crawford of Netherwood to one of the flats over Moy's drug store, Park avenue, Wednesday.

—William H. Smith, proprietor of the Martinville quarry, has received the contract to furnish all the brown stone trimmings on A. D. Thompson's house, Belvidere avenue, Netherwood.

—Lettercarrier J. W. A. Bauersache has purchased a 28-pound Palmer special bicycle, which he will use in delivering mail during the Summer. Mr. Bauersache is the third lettercarrier of the postoffice who rides a bike.

—The Y. M. C. A. Bicycle Club will meet Wednesday evening at 9, in the building to adopt rules and regulations. On Friday evening a meeting will be held to organize a baseball team. Everyone interested is invited to be present.

Parson Dan's Victory.

Probably the most exciting pigeon match that has been shot in this vicinity, was that which took place on the grounds of the Elizabeth Gun Club in Elizabeth on Saturday. Daniel Terry of this city and Frank Batsch of Elizabeth were the principals, and the skill and nerve of "Parson Dan", as he is familiarly called, in his uphill fight to victory, has endeared him to the hearts of his friends who witnessed the match.

Batsch set a hard pace from the start and scored his first 25 birds without a miss; Terry losing his first, fourth and twenty-fifth, ending the first half three birds to the bad. The birds had been running in favor of Batsch most perceptibly, Terry drawing hard, strong flyers at every turn of the score, but his superior work soon told on his rival, and at the twenty-fifth round he tied the score, and by several very brilliant shots he won out at the finish by a score of 46 to 44, a record he may well be proud of. T. H. Keller was selected by Batsch to act as referee, notwithstanding that he was a clubmate and personal friend of Terry's, and his decisions were unquestioned. Another source of satisfaction to "Tee Kay" was the fact that Terry was using the U. S. rapid shell, made by the United States Cartridge Co. whose traveling representative he is, they being loaded by Neaf Apgar who loads the shells of the crack shots of the country. At the conclusion of the match several sweepstakes were shot. Pigeons and crows being used as targets, in which Apgar, Keller and Woodruff carrying off the bulk of the honors.

—In three days last week Chas. Smith served 5 bbls. of sauerkraut and 600 lbs of buckwurst.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs and expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PARK CLUB A TRUMP.

Its Whisters Jump into Great Exaltation.

QUAKERS GIVE UP THE SILVER CUP,

And Championship of Nation—The Philadelphia Players Swell Get a Surprise Most Thorough, Amazed to Meet Such Smart Defeat from Jersey's Little Borough.

The whist championship of the United States is now held in Plainfield, the Park Club 4 having on Saturday afternoon and evening defeated the Hamilton Whist Club of Philadelphia in a challenge game for the trophy. This is a large solid silver loving cup, suitably inscribed, given by the American Whist League, the National Association of Whist Clubs, as a championship emblem to be contested for by the clubs constituting the League.

The Parks will hold the trophy until beaten by some challenging club. The Park Club 4 consisted of Messrs. Townsend, Howell, and McCuthen.

The American Whist League of the United States is composed of about 100 clubs of the strongest players known; and teams from Boston, Providence, Brooklyn, New York, Albany, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, SanFrancisco, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and North Plainfield, are included in its membership.

Last year a trophy, a solid silver cup, very handsome in design, and about twelve inches in height, was secured by the League. It bore the inscription "American Whist League Challenge Trophy" and was to be played for by the different clubs. The value of the cup was placed at $250, and considering the intense rivalry and the expertness of the players great honor has been attached to the club winning it.

This famous cup was first played for at the American Whist League Congress held in Philadelphia last June, and was won by the Minneapolis team, who under the rules governing the trophy held the same till October, after which date it was subject to challenge between October and January 1.

Many teams from the West, including Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee and San-Francisco, were in turn defeated by the Minneapolis team. The Minneapolitans then voluntarily surrendered it to the League directors, then in session in Indianapolis. The Chicago Club and Hamilton Club of Philadelphia, being next in turn, met in Indianapolis, and the Hamilton Club, which is without any exception the strongest aggregation of whist players in the United States, met and defeated the following teams: Baltimore, by 18 points; Brooklyn, by 12 points; Knickerbocker, New York, by 8 points; Newton, Mass., by 21 points.

It was only a short time ago that the Park Club of North Plainfield realized that they were in the League; and Geo. T. Rogers, who is captain of the whist team, thought that there was sufficient whist ability in the club to challenge the famous Hamiltons. Of course they did not expect to capture the handsome and much-prized trophy but thought it would be pleasant to meet some of the famous whist players of the country.

So a challenge was sent to the club in Philadelphia, about six weeks ago, and the date set for the game was last Saturday. In the morning, G. T. Rogers, S. St. John McCutchen, J. H. Howell and Samuel Townsend went to Philadelphia prepared to meet the Hamiltons. They were given a most cordial reception by the home team, who no doubt felt no apprehension in defending the trophy, which it had cost them $450 legitimate expenses to win.

The first half of the game was played in the afternoon, in about three hours, after which the Parks were taken to the Union League Club's elegant home and given an elaborate dinner by the Hamiltons.

In the evening play was resumed, and the last half of the game was finished. Not until the game was concluded did the teams know the score, and the excitement was intense. At times five minutes would pass before a card was played. At the close, the scores told the following story:

AFTERNOON PLAY.

PARKS.		HAMILTONS.
McCutchen and Howell		Remak and Ballard
Townsend and Rogers	1	Work and Mogridge	6
McCutchen and Rogers		Remak and Mogridge
Townsend and Howell	5	Work and Ballard	2
Rogers and Howell		Mogridge and Ballard
Townsend and McCutchen	5	Work and Remak	2
	11		10

EVENING PLAY.

PARKS.		HAMILTONS.
Howell and McCutchen		Remak and Ballard
Rogers and Townsend	7	Work and Ballard	5
McCutchen and Rogers		Remak and Mogridge
Townsend and Howell		Work and Ballard
Rogers and Howell		Mogridge and Ballard
Townsend and McCutchen		Work and Remak
Townsend and Howell	3	Work and Ballard	3
McCutchen and Townsend		Work and Remak
Howell and Rogers	3	Mogridge and Ballard	5
	13		13
Total	24	Total	23

It will be seen that the Parks won by one point, and the feelings of the four members from North Plainfield can better be imagined than described, while the disappointment felt by the home team was overwhelming.

The challenges still on the list unfilled will have to be taken up by the Park Club, the first one being Captain Kneff's team from the Philadelphia Whist Club, then the Albany Club, and then the Continental Club of New York city.

The first effort to take from the Park Club its trophy will be played next Saturday at the Park Club.

The trophy can be held 20 days, but the rule has been that since it cannot be played for after May 1, until the Whist Congress meets, which is this year in Philadelphia in June, that it is best to give all a chance to win it.

The trophy will be on exhibition all this week at the Park clubhouse.

The Parks have won not only the trophy, for a time at least, but also fame and honor; for the great game will be the talk of club circles from Boston to San-Francisco, and the Parks' achievement will accord them deserved distinction everywhere.

The following is the Hamilton team which played the Parks: Milton Work, Augustus Remak, E. Ballard and G. Mogridge.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

E. C. Pease is in Buffalo for a few days on business.

Rev. A. L. Hyde will remove to Massachusetts April 1.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell, who has been in Canada the past month, returned home Saturday.

Roswell G. Horr arrived home yesterday from his trip through Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Louis Waring, Roger Erickson and Lawrence Van Buren are in Boston for a few days.

Wm. Kuntz of Elizabeth spent yesterday with his oldtime friend, William Haverly Miller.

Rev. Dr. Lewis delivered a sermon in the Bound Brook Congregational Church yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanWinkle of Newark were the guests of Plainfield relatives yesterday.

Willard Case of Brown University is spending a few days with his mother on East Second street.

Mrs. W. H. Williams returned yesterday from Monroe, N. Y., with her daughter Lottie Montross.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett of Rahway spent Sunday with Mr. Bennett's parents in North Plainfield.

H. S. Phillips and family of Belvidere and South avenues, Netherwood, will move Friday to Scotch Plains.

Miss Fanny Vail of East Orange is a welcome guest at the home of Miss Emily Corlell on Church street.

Jacob R. VanWinkle and family have removed from 127 Park avenue to Elm place, next door to Councilman Bird.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sargeant of 455 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, returned to her home today after a pleasant visit among relatives in Plainfield.

Major Silby of Baltimore is visiting relatives in Plainfield for a few days. If a desirable place can be secured he will locate here permanently.

Mrs. L. H. Holloway and family, who have been guests at Hotel Grenada for several weeks, returned to their home in New York Saturday evening.

Miss Mamie Stahl who has been spending the past week with her sister, Mrs. Martin Coddington, Westfield, is expected at her home on Grove street today.

Physical director D. A. MacPhie of the Y. M. C. A. preached for Rev. Mr. McKelvey at Warren Chapel last evening. The latter was detained at home by illness.

Mrs. Anna Moraller, wife of Lewis Moraller, died in this city yesterday, aged 54 years. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from her late residence, 108 West Second street, at 9, and from St. Mary's Church at 9:30.

Judges Arnold, Dean and Mayer of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania visited Col. John F. Wilson yesterday. The income tax was the object. After several reliefs, entries, etc., it was decided the tax was in strict conformity with the constitution.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A regular meeting of the Legion of Honor will be held tomorrow evening.

—W. D. Murray will conduct his Bible study in the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening.

—The borough School Board meet this evening to organize and elect officers for the ensuing year.

—The Board of Governors of the Crescent Wheelmen held a conference session Saturday evening.

—Charles Graves is engaged in slating the roof of the house of Magistrate Crosley on Duer street.

—L. B. Woolston has sold his house on Westervelt avenue to H. O. Howell, the North avenue grocer.

—The Carpenters and Joiners Union hold a meeting tomorrow evening in their rooms on Park avenue.

—Lost—a string of opals. And thereby hangs a tale. Read it in "Toxin", by Ouida, in The Press today.

—The dance at New Market Wednesday evening will be attended by a number of Plainfield young people.

—Wetumpka Commandery, Knights of Honor, hold a regular meeting tonight in their rooms in Music Hall block.

—Several members of Somerset Council, No. 104, J. O. U. A. M., will visit Goodwill Council at New Brunswick this evening.

—"Toxin" will run through The Press till Friday, in which issue it will be concluded. Another splendid story is to succeed it.

—That excellent soap which Putnam & DeGraw are selling is going very rapidly, at three cakes for 10 cents, and all different perfumes.

—The Epworth League of Grace M. E. Church will give a reception tomorrow evening, a feature of which will be a display of tableaux.

—Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., hold their last meeting tonight preparatory to moving into their new rooms in the Babcock Building.

—Tonight at 8, the monthly consecration meeting of the Young People's Society of Trinity Reformed Church, takes place. The song service commences at 7:30.

—Paugh-Caugh-Naugh-Sinque Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, will celebrate their first anniversary Wednesday, April 10, in their rooms West Second street.

—Mrs. L. Adams, whose Spring millinery displays always attract and delight the bonnet-string sex, announces Wednesday, March 27, for her opening of new styles.

—A large number of contractors have been in Plainfield since Friday preparing to present bids to the Common Council this evening for constructing the 17 miles of new sewers.

—The Young Ladies Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue and First Presbyterian churches cleared about $80 from the repetition of the doll show Saturday afternoon.

—W. H. A. Cronkhite is no longer with Thatcher & Johnson's minstrel company as manager. The roster of the troupe has been greatly changed since their appearance in this city.

—The Memorial Day committees from the two G. A. R. posts and the Sons of Veterans will meet jointly Wednesday evening to make arrangements for the proper observance of the day.

—The house 210 Grove street, occupied by James Moran and family, is quarantined, owing to the serious illness of Mr. Moran's youngest daughter with diphtheria. Dr. Adams is in attendance.

—The regular meeting of the "Y's" will be held in their rooms, Watchung avenue, Tuesday, March 26, at 4 p. m. Subject: "On guard; over what and how", Ne. iv; 36. Leader, Miss Wyckoff.

—The new law offices of Harry Runyon in the Babcock Building will be furnished with antique oak desks, chairs and other furniture. The rooms are pleasantly situated on the third floor looking out on West Front street.

—A popular talk free to all men will be given by Charles Bullman tomorrow evening at 8 in the Y. M. C. A., on the subject "A trip to Choco, Colombia—The manners, customs and habitations of its natives; the scenes of the labors of Humboldt and Bousingault revisited by an American; gold and platinum mining, and the raising of sugar cane, cocoa, and rubber; the commerce of El Choco, and its value to America."

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: 'I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

LI HUNG WOUNDED

Attempt To Assassinate the Chinese Viceroy.

Shot in the Face in a Street of Simonoseki by a Young Japanese—The Mah Seized and Disarmed by the Police—Li's Wound Said To Be Not Dangerous.

London, March 25.—The Central News correspondent in Tokio says that an attempt was made to assassinate Li Hung Chang in a street of Simonoseki yesterday afternoon. Li was returning from the peace conference, in which he conducts negotiations in behalf of the Chinese mission, and was accompanied by several of his suite. When he was a short distance from his apartments a young Japanese ran up to him and fired a pistol in his face. The young man was seized and disarmed at once by the police. At the station house he gave his name as Koyama and his age as 21. According to the short report received in Tokio, Li's wound is not dangerous.

Regret on Every Side.

The attempt to assassinate the representative of the emperor of China caused the most intense excitement, and on every side there were expressions of deep regret. Count Ito, the prime minister, has visited Li Hung Chang and expressed to him his sympathy and regret. The peace negotiations which were conducted here were only opened after Japan had dismissed the first emissaries sent by China on the ground that they were not vested with full powers. China then sent Li Hung Chang to Japan with credentials that were amply satisfactory to her enemy. The sitting opened Saturday and Prime Minister Ito and Foreign Minister Mutsu were on hand to represent the Mikado.

Much Excitement in Yokohama.

Yokohama, March 25.—The news of the attempted assassination of Li Hung Chang created much excitement here. The emperor and empress will send a messenger to Shimonoseki to express to the distinguished Chinese statesman their regrets at the most unfortunate occurence.

The News in Washington.

Washington, March 25.—The news of the attempt upon the life of Li Hung Chang created a profound sentation here. Diplomatic circles were so stirred up about it that the various troubles which have lately beset the state department were wholly lost sight of. On every hand profound regret was expressed that Japan's progress should be checked in such an unfortunate manner, particularly at this time. There seems to be no doubt, according to several state department officials, that the attempts at assassination will hurt Japan and help China accordingly. The person of the envoy of China's emperor was sacred, and such an attack upon him is a most heinous offense in diplomatic eyes. It matters little whether it be the result of a man's disordered brain or not, Japan must answer for it not alone to China but to the other nations to whom China is most certain to appeal.

PLOT TO RELEASE GOMEZ.

Only Prompt Action Narrowly Averted an Uprising in Havana.

New York, March 25.—A special from Key West, Fla., says: A passenger from Havana, who has just arrived, says that only by prompt action Captain General Calleja narrowly averted a serious uprising in Havana. Since the imprisonment of Juan Gualherto Gomez, the negro leader, his sympathizers have been very much dissatisfied. This dissatisfaction gradually evolved a comprehensive scheme to attack the palace. The time chosen for this attack was Friday night. By some means the government learned of the impending trouble. The captain general called the officers together and instructed them to use every possible precaution. The guards around the palace were quadrupled, and one hundred soldiers were stationed inside. The city patrol was heavily increased. Orders were given that anybody that shouted "Cuba Libra" should be shot on the spot. Negroes, hearing of these precautions, gave up the scheme. It is said that the scheme was for the sole purpose of releasing Gomez

New York Legislature.

Albany, March 25.—There are not many measures scheduled for consideration this week by the legislature or in the committees. The consideration of the daily calendars in the two houses will be closely adhered to except for the special orders which may be made of measures likely to arouse more or less discussion.

Consul Bruwaert Arrives.

New York, March 25.—On the French line steamer La Champagne, which arrived yesterday from Havre, was the French consul general in this city, Francois E. Bruwaert. His district will include the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

May Lose Many Assessments.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 25.—Senator Pettigrew has begun an action in the courts to have set aside an assessment on his land here on a mere technicality. Should the court sustain the point taken nearly every assessment in the county would be knocked out and the loss sustained would be enormous.

Death of Capt. Bellaires.

St. Louis, March 25.—Captain C. W. Bellaires died at his home in this city last evening of erysipelas, aged 63. Deceased earned his title by nineteen years' service in the English army in China, India and Egypt.

Where We Excel Englishmen.

London, March 25.—General Booth in a written interview on "Darkest America," expresses the opinion that native Americans are far superior as a class to native English in religious work.

Governor Marvil Improving.

Laurel, Del., March 25.—Governor Marvil continues to improve. He was allowed by his physicians to take a short walk out of doors yesterday.

Sullivan's Condition Improved.

Boston, March 25.—John L. Sullivan's condition is much improved and he is progressing nicely.

FAELTON'S SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Baltimore Music Circles Astounded at the News.

Baltimore, March 25.—The charges of unfaithfulness made by Prof. Reinhold Faelton in his suit for divorce against Mrs. Annie Faelton have caused a sensation in musical circles of this city. Prof. David Melamet, the composer of the Columbus cantata will, it is said, be made the corespondent. There are four children in the Faelton family, but the husband asks only for the custody of the two first born, as he claims, in his bill, that his wife has informed him that the other two, Carl Melamant Faelton and another son not yet named, did not belong to him. Prof. Faelton is now connected with the conservatory of music at Boston and has the two older children in his custody. Mrs. Faelton has been living at the Hotel Rennert but could not be found there after the proceedings were begun. She is a distinguished musician and was born in Cape Town, Africa, thirty years ago. She was educated in Germany and developed phenomenal musical ability. She came to America to take the position as instructress at the Peabody institute in this city.

YELLOW FEVER FEARED.

One Danger of the Importation of Spanish Troops Into Cuba.

Washington, March 25.—The insurrection in Cuba may be of much moment as affecting the interest and welfare of the United States in a direction to which public attention has not been heretofore directed. It has, however, not escaped the vigilance of the officials of the marine hospital service, who are much concerned over one aspect of the matter. Said Surgeon General Wiman: "The prospects for the coming season, in a sanitary point of view, are most encouraging. We shall probably go through the summer without experiencing an epidemic of any sort. The only point of danger is Cuba. If Spain sends 8,000 unacclimated troops to that island, as the dispatches indicate may be done, then we shall have to look out for yellow fever. It will inevitably strike among those raw troops and the fever will rage with unusual violence in Havana. From there to the United States is but a night's ride, and only the most rigorous precautions and the excerise of the utmost vigilance will keep it out of our borders.

FULL SUFFRAGE TO WOMEN.

The Bill Passed by the Australian Parliament Now a Law.

New York, March 25.—Hamilton Wilcox, the well known woman suffragist, has received a cable dispatch from the agent general of South Australia at London announcing that Queen Victoria has given her consent to the bill passed by the parliament of South Australia, relieving women entirely from disfranchisement, and securing them the same suffrage and on the same terms with their brothers and that this bill is now a law. This act, Mr. Wilcox states, commits to full woman suffrage the government of a territory much larger than the United States from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi river, and from the Canada frontier to the Florida keys.

FATAL STORM IN ENGLAND.

People Killed in London and Others Drowned on the Thames.

London, March 25.—A severe gale swept the south of England all last night. Many houses were unroofed. In London three persons were killed and three others injured severely by falling walls. A race boat on the Thames was upset and its two occupants were drowned. Many isolated cases of death in the storm have been reported from the provinces. Several of the ancient and historic trees at Rugby and Oxford have been uprooted. Three of them were between twenty-seven and thirty feet each in circumference.

ITS 150TH ANNIVERSARY.

Second Parish at South Hingham Celebrates the Occurrence.

South Hingham, Mass., March 25.—The 150th anniversary of the formation of the Second parish (Unitarian) at South Hingham was observed by the society last evening with very appropriate services. This parish was set off from the First parish in 1745. The society's meeting house was erected in 1742 and a large part of the original structure is still in use. Rev. Minot J. Savage of Boston and ex-Governor John D. Long made addresses.

Cockfighters Raided.

Waterbury, Conn., March 24.—At 1:30 Sunday morning Chief of Police Arms of Bristol and a posse of officers raided some cockfighters at Godwin place near Plymouth line. The officers took the names of seventy-four persons from Naugautuck, Waterbury, Thomaston, Torrington, Newbritain, Plainville, Bristol, Forestville, Meriden and Springfield. About twenty men jumped from the windows.

Passed a Spanish Man-of-War.

New York, March 25.—Captain F. Henderson, of the Pacific mail steamer Colombia, just arrived from Colon, reports that when his ship passed Cape Maysi on March 19 at 3:35 p. m. he saw a Spanish man-of-war, schooner rigged and painted black, standing off and on about a mile and a half off the coast. The Spaniard did not hoist any signals nor salute the Colombia.

Delia Keegan Goes to Jail.

New York, March 25.—Miss Delia Keegan, aged 50 years, was sentenced to ten days' imprisonment in the Yorkville court yesterday on the charge of intoxication. This is the woman servant who sued Russell Sage, the financier, for $50,000 for breach of promise.

Japs Occupy Pescadores.

London, March 25.—The Daily Graphic has this dispatch from Yokohama: "The Japanese newspaper Jiji says that on the 21st the Japanese occupied the main island of the Pescadores without any opposition.

Dined with the Sultan.

Constantinople, March 25.—Sir Philip Currie, British ambassador, dined with the sultan at the palace yesterday, and afterward talked with him two hours on Armenian affairs.

Bell Telephone Rival.

Laporte, Ind., March 25.—The Elkhart Telephone company, which will be a competitor of the Bell corporation, has been organized under the laws of Indiana.

Cholera Deaths in Moji.

Yokohama, March 25.—There were ten deaths from cholera in Moji, opposite Simouseki, in the week ending yesterday.

JAPAN IS FOR PEACE

Willing at Last To Grant Terms to the Chinese.

Fear the Result of a Public Announcement of the Fact—The Common People Still Insane Over War Report of a Compact With Russia Japan May Defy England.

Washington, March 25.—A special from Yokohama says: From officials of the state department it is learned that Japan has decided on peace, although military and naval preparations go on as though the original plan of marching on Peking was still unaltered. Both the emperor and Count Ito fear the effect of any announcement that the government is willing to grant peace. The common people are still insane over the war, and they will be satisfied with nothing short of the mikado dictating terms of peace at Peking. The emperor also still keeps up the fiction of a proposed journey to the front, although he has really abandoned all idea of accompanying the army. A fine house has been built for him at Port Arthur, but this will never be occupied.

Compact with Russia.

The most important recent occurrence here is the alliance between Russia and Japan. The terms of this compact cannot be given definitely, though they are, broadly, that Russia will not oppose any cession of Chinese territory to Japan and that Japan, in return, will permit Russia to occupy one Corean port, with right of way to the trans-Siberian railway, and the use of Japanese dockyards and coaling stations.

England Put at Defiance.

If this alliance has been formed, as good authorities believe, it puts Japan in position to defy England and refuse any British suggestion during peace negotiations. One thing which bears it out is the great friendliness of the highest Japanese officials for Col. Wogack, the Russian military agent. The favors shown him have excited comment, as the Japanese have treated coldly the British military attaches.

THEY SWINDLED UNCLE SAM.

So Now the Jamaica Coal Dealers Have an Overstock on Hand.

New York, March 25.—The steamer Jason brings news that the United States government has arranged to supply the white squadron with coal at Kingston, Ja., without patronizing the local dealers. Four schooner loads of coal have been shipped from this country and two of the schooners, the Golden Sheaf, of Portland, Me., and the Jennie Butler, of Bath, Me., arrived in Kingston on March 18. The reason for this move on the part of the war department is that the price charged by the local dealers was exorbitant in the extreme. When the cruiser New York was at Kingston she required a large quantity of coal and was charged $11.50 a ton for it. Anticipating the return of the North Atlantic squadron the local dealers have laid in a large supply of coal which is now on their hands and which will be difficult to dispose of.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

The Situation at Little Rock Improving—125 Cases to Date.

Little Rock, Ark., March 25.—R. C. Jennings, secretary of the state board of health, reports that at Hot Springs, the total number of smallpox and varioloid cases admitted to date is 59; total deaths at hospital to date, 18; total number of cases of smallpox and varioloid in city to date, 125; total number of deaths in city to date, 93. The situation is improving every day and a decidedly brighter and a more cheerful feeling prevails throughout the entire city.

ALL BUT ONE RECOVERED.

Thirty-two of the Alma Mine Victims Were Mormons.

Evanston, Wyo., March 25.—Searching parties in the Alma mine have recovered all the bodies except that of Walter Miller. Of the number killed thirty-two were members of the Mormon church. The president, Joseph Smith, and Seymour B. Young and others came here from Salt Lake to attend the funeral which was held yesterday.

Fishing Boat Run Down and Sunk.

London, March 25.—The steamship Berlin, which sailed for New York yesterday, reported at Southampton that while near the Eddystone lighthouse on her eastward voyage she ran down and sank the Plymouth trawler Delight. She picked up twenty-two of the Delight's crew of twenty-four. The remaining two were lost. There was a dense fog at the time of the collision.

Scored the General Assembly.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 25.—Just before the general assembly adjourned sine die Governor Stone transmitted a scorching message, criticising the assembly for not enacting a fellow-servant law applicable to railroads, and for refusing to amend the election laws relating to St. Louis and Kansas City so as to prevent frauds.

One Fatally, Two Seriously Burned.

Philadelphia, March 25.—While trying to effect their escape from a fire in the two story house at No. 411 Catherine street yesterday, Minnie Witt, aged 17 years, and Frank, her brother aged 9, were severely, and Mrs. Wommin Kissman, the grandmother of the two children, was fatally burned.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MERITED REWARD.

SALES OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Unequalled in the History of Medicine. Honesty, Excellence, Faithfulness Fitly Rewarded.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by Lydia E. Pinkhams Vegetable Compound and never in the history of Mrs. Pinkhams wonderful Compound has the demand for it been so great as it is today. From Maine to California, from the Gulf to the St. Lawrence, come the glad tidings of woman's suffering relieved by it; and thousands upon thousands of letters are pouring in from grateful women, saying that it WILL and does positively cure those painful Ailments of Women.

It will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

Every time it will cure

Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhœa by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick-headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is frequently found of great value for local application. Correspondence is freely solicited by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., and the strictest confidence assured. All druggists sell the Pinkham's remedies. The Vegetable Compound in three forms, — Liquid, Pills, and Lozenges.

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St., NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads. The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager, Finderne, N. J.

1 0 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

6-12-1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET

J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 463

BOCK BEER

all this week at

Charles Smith's Saloon.

Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. L. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 19 t

CLEANED COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

80 BROADWAY, cor. 45th ST.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND ROBERTSBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

6-12-

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented. H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager

Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank.

is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate — Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON.

263 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels,

R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES

act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 50 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 12 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 5094, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 25 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 142, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front street

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 88, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 2 16 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

A GHASTLY DISEASE.

Different Doctors Give It Different Names.

The Result Always the Same.—Speedy Death.—Until Recently, Considered Hopeless.—Now, New Methods. Salvation.

Nothing is more alarming than diseases of an ulcerous nature. A continual gnawing away of life-generating tissue, until a vital spot is reached, an artery is severed, or from sheer weakness death ensues.

Especially in Gastritis—ulcers of the stomach—is terrible suffering experienced. The symptoms, though not at first alarming (seemingly a slight attack of indigestion), gradually become worse, so that no nourishment can be retained on the stomach, and unless the troublecausing ulcer produces death by perforation, the patient

Dies of Starvation.

In Consumption, where the ulcers attack the lungs, the termination is very similar, as it is, in fact, in any of the wasting diseases to which are given various names, according to the organs affected.

By the methods of physicians of to-day thousands of lives are being saved in cases that a few years ago were considered hopeless. The first step now taken to effect a cure is to make new blood and tissue, give the patient strength, and keep him "on the gain" by administering Bovinine.

Bovinine is not a medicine, but a greatly concentrated extract of the most vital elements of lean raw beef. The life-maintaining qualities of this wonderful preparation are simply marvellous. Dr. A. M. Cook, of New Castle, Pa., states that he maintained life in his wife, while suffering from gastric ulcers, for three weeks without giving her anything through the mouth, injecting Bovinine instead.

With such results as this, it is not to be wondered at that Bovinine is indorsed by physicians everywhere, and has become recognized as the greatest factor in saving life, hastening recovery from sickness, and warding off disease, ever given to man.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75
BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE. W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the
W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes
All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole.
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

A. WILLETT & SON.

A LADY'S TOILET
Is not complete without an ideal
COMPLEXION POWDER
POZZONI'S
Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.
Insist upon having the genuine.
IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

You may have Lost
many hours of comfort by not having worn good reliable A Pair of Collier's
Glasses.
103 Park ave. Established 1869.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.
To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

AFTER A LONG CRUISE

The Gallant Cruiser Chicago Home Again.

Many Months of Service in European Waters—Homeward Pennant Nearly Four Hundred Feet Long—Where the Cruiser Has Been—Jonah Thrown Overboard.

New York, March 25.—After an absence of one year and nine months as flagship of the European station, the United States steamer Chicago has returned to New York, having been relieved in the Mediterranean by the United States steamer San Francisco, to which vessel Rear Admiral Kirkland transferred his flag on February 16 last. The orders to Captain Mahan, detaching him and his crew from service on the European station and directing the return of the Chicago to the United States, were received at Algeirs, Algeria, and on February 21 the homeward bound pennant, 380 feet long, was hoisted at the main truck of the great white cruiser.

"Homeward Bound."

Only those who have been on board a man-of-war on such occasions, when the decks echo and re-echo the glad refrain, "Homeward Bound," and happy faces are apparent everywhere, know what it really means to "break" the homeward bound pennant. Although actually prepared for the return home, a score of things may step in to delay departure or change destination, but when sailing orders are really received, and the gay homeward pennant is streaming away from the masthead to far astern, the final preparations are made for the return home.

Preparations for the Start.

Be the passage long or short, the conditions of everything rapidly change; the last few desirable curios and trinkets for the "best girl" are purchased; there is a premium on pens, ink and letter paper among the blue jackets; men who are not quite "short timers" are fearing transfer to the "new flagship" to be left behind on the station, while others, without any apparent reason, actually solicit transfer. The best of good temper mostly prevails—all due to the homeward bound pennant at the masthead, which, by the way, is always purchased by a subscription among the ship's company, sometimes representing a very handsome sum.

Departure from Algiers.

Rear Admiral Kirkland directed that the Chicago should start on her homeward trip from Algiers on Feb. 21, and that at the same time the San Francisco should leave the harbor for Alexandria, Egypt. At 2 o'clock that afternoon the Chicago stood out of the port, quickly followed by the new flagship. When the two ships drew together, side by side, the men of both vessels mounted the rigging, lusty cheers were exchanged and a couple of hundred caps were flung from the Chicago in the direction of the San Francisco, a customary farewell compliment when ships part company on such occasions.

Jonah Went Overboard.

When the last cheers sounded from the men of the Chicago, a figure "very like a man," was seen to fall overboard from aloft out of the forerigging, but it was only a dummy cast into the sea, symbolizing the throwing of Jonah into the deep, to propitiate the storm fiends and invoke a season of fair weather for the homeward bound ship. At 3 o'clock the San Francisco was out of sight astern.

Where the Chicago Has Been.

During the cruise in Europe the Chicago entered forty-four ports in Ireland, England, France, Portugal, Morocco, Spain, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Syria, Egypt, Algeria, Belgium and Gibraltar, besides visiting harbors in the islands of Malta, Minorca and Madeira. Cowes roadstead, the gayest of all places in the English yachting season; Havre, Tangier, Malaga, Barcelona, Marseilles, Genoa and Algiers were visited twice in the cruising routine; Southampton, England, and Lisbon, Portugal, three times, while Gibraltar, that interesting and always mysterious fortification, was visited on five different occasions as the Chicago passed in and out of the Mediterranean.

Attempted Suicide or Accident.

Pittsburg, March 25. — Cyrus L. Rose, a member of the carpet firm of Bovard, Rose & Co., fell or jumped into the Allegheny river from the Sixth street bridge yesterday. He was rescued before drowning. Mr. Rose says that his hat blew off and in an effort to recover it he jumped up on the guard rail, lost his balance and fell. His hat, however, was picked up from the foot walk of the bridge where it had fallen from his head.

For the Sale of a Railroad.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—Donald McIntosh and John McIntosh, contractors of this city, have filed a complaint in the United States court at South Bend, Ind., asking for the sale of the Illinois, Indiana & Iowa railway on mechanic lien foreclosure proceedings to satisfy a claim of $125,000.

Wanted in Philadelphia.

Augusta, Me., March 25.—On information from Philadelphia the police have arrested a negro giving his name as Joseph Brown and his age as 26. He is supposed to be John B. Pitts of Philadelphia and wanted there for larceny, embezzlement and arson.

Honor for Ex-Governor Pillsbury.

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—Both houses of the legislature have passed a bill making ex-Governor John B. Pillsbury an honorary life member of the board of regents of the state university, and it will be signed at once by Governor Clough.

Augusta Victoria Passes Gibraltar.

Gibraltar, March 25.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Augusta Victoria, with the American Oriental excursion party aboard, passed here yesterday for Southampton.

Crispi Sends Bismarck Wine.

Rome, March 25.—Premier Crispi has sent to Friedrichsruh five huge casks of wine from his Sicilian estates.

Cunard Steamship Earnings.

London, March 25.—The report of the Cunard Steamship company for 1894 shows a profit of $474,500.

ALL ON BOARD HELD UP.

Train Robbers Make a Clean Sweep in Colorado.

Victor, Col., March 25.—Florence and Cripple Creek railroad train No. 60, south bound, leaving Victor at 9.50 p. m., was "held up" by five masked robbers just outside the city limits. The bandits then went through the mail and express car, but found nothing valuable. They then compelled the express messenger to take the lead, and going through the coaches they "held up" the passengers, taking two or three gold watches and some money. No one was injured. Two of the thieves boarded the train at Victor. One entered the sleeper and commenced immediately to wake up the passengers, relieving them of $500 and watches. The other robber got on the "blind baggage" at Victor and climbed over the tender into the engine, holding the engineer and fireman up and compelling them to stop the train at a point one and a half miles south of Victor, where four or five other robbers were in waiting. The latter commenced the work on the mail and express cars and soon had them open. The robbers were jovial in their treatment of the trainmen, but hurried through with their work, enforcing their commands with a display of firearms. About noon yesterday the famous bloodhound from Walsenburg arrived on a special train and he was immediately placed on the trail and followed it from the track to a small log cabin located near the Strong mine. A crowd of 2,000 people followed the dog. Inquiry was made as to who occupied the cabin and Bob Taylor, ex-deputy sheriff and ex-deputy United States marshal, and Frank Wallace were arrested. Trainmen identified Taylor as being one of the men who went through the cars and relieved the passengers of money and jewelry. The names and location of the other three men are known to the officers.

SAYS FAIR WAS LURED AWAY.

Miss Phoebe Couzins Declares She Was Betrothed to Him.

San Francisco, March 25.—According to a morning paper the late Senator James G. Fair and Miss Phoebe Couzins, the well known woman's rights advocate, were engaged to be married, and only the death of the millionaire prevented the wedding. Miss Couzins is at present in San Jose, and to a reporter she talked of the affection which existed between the late senator and herself. Miss Couzins said she first met Mr. Fair in the Riggs house, Washington, in 1883, and took a liking to him at once. During the period of her trouble with the world fair's board of lady managers, she applied to Fair for political assistance, and while he said he had no such influence, he desired her to correspond with him. In April, 1893, she received a letter from Fair stating that he was going to Chicago with serious intentions of asking her hand and heart in marriage. Fair arrived in Chicago May 7, and was taken ill. Miss Couzins nursed the senator and ministered to his wants in spite of the objections of his secretaries. Upon his recovery Fair asked her to be his wife, and she consented. As he was more or less ill the marriage was put off. One evening Fair proposed a trip to the exposition together the next day, and that was the last time they were together. "On the following day," Miss Couzins said, "Mr. Fair was whisked out of Chicago as if he had been a prisoner or a fugitive from justice." She received a letter from him after he returned home, and answered it, but never received another. She asserts that their correspondence was intercepted.

GEN. GREENLAND DEAD.

Preparations for a Military Funeral Begun at Harrisburg.

Clarion, Pa., March 25.—Ex-Adjutant-General Walter W. Greenland is dead after a lingering illness. General Greenland was adjutant-general during Governor Pattison's last administration. The funeral will take place next Wednesday morning.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 25.—When the news of the death of Gen. Greenland of Clarion, Pa., was received here Gov. Hastings communicated with Adjutant General Stewart at Norristown in reference to making preparations for a military funeral on Wednesday.

LYCURGUS DALTON DEAD.

He Was Postmaster of the House of Representatives.

Washington, March 25. — Lycurgus Dalton, postmaster of the house of representatives, died last night at his residence in this city of bronchial trouble at 10.15 o'clock. Mr. Dalton was a native of Bedford, Ind., and a prominent democrat in politics, and has held the position of postmaster of the house through a number of administrations. He has been in bad health for some time. Mr. Datlon leaves a family.

Confesses to the Robbery.

Olean, N. Y., March 25.—John Maybee, one of the four negroes arrested at Carrollton for the robbery of Merritt Childs and wife near Smathport, Pa., has made a confession to the effect that the crime was planned by Bera Blanchard, a white man who is still at large, and that he was helped by John Maybee's brother "Bill" and Graton Wilson, both colored.

Chinese Gamblers Raided.

New Haven, Conn., March 25.—The police yesterday gathered in twenty-six Chinamen fan tan gamblers. All were released on bond, each man giving up $50 cash for his appearance in the city court to-day. A large quantity of gambling tools was captured by the police.

Run Over by a Train.

Woonsocket, R. I., March 25.—Peter F. Boyd, aged 30, of Phoenixville, Pa., while attempting to board a moving freight train at North Smithfield last evening was run over and his right arm crushed at the shoulder. No hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A Chicago Theatre Burned.

Chicago, March 25.—The United States theatre, known until lately as Sam T. Jack's Empire, at 144 West Madison street, was destroyed by fire last evening. Loss about $50,000.

Death of an Old Editor.

Manchester, N. H., March 25.—Henry H. Everette, a veteran newspaper man, for many years attached to the staff of the Manchester Union, died yesterday of pneumonia, aged 54 years.

A Wonderful Race.

London, March 25.—The Times correspondent in Nice says that the Ailsa sailed a really wonderful race Saturday.

A NATIONAL DISGRACE

Views on Saturday's Action of the Reichstag.

The Kaiser Declares It Is a Reflection on Himself, the Government and All the Authorities Who Will Unite in Honoring Bismarck—The ex-Chancellor's Admirers Warned.

Berlin, March 25.—The loss of an army bill could not have excited Germany more than the reichstag's refusal to congratulate Bismarck. The moment the result of the vote was known, Dr. von Boetticher hurried to the telephone and told the emperor who was waiting the news in the Old Castle. Herr von Lucanus, chief of his majesty's civil cabinet, went directly from the imperial box to the castle and described to the emperor the scenes of tumult in the reichstag. He must have given a very vivid picture, for when the emperor drove out Unter den Linden between 3 and 4 o'clock he looked unusually sullen.

The Kaiser Greatly Disturbed.

All officials likely to know the emperor's feelings agree that he was intensely disturbed by the reichstag's exhibition of itself. He is understood to have exclaimed at the end of Lucanus's narrative: "It is scandalous. The vote is a reflection on me, the government and all the authorities and societies who will unite in honoring Bismarck."

Had Ample Warning.

A peculiar feature of the whole affair is the apparent indifference or ignorance with which the emperor and the ministers, despite all unmistakable warnings, again steered straight into defeat. The emperor could hardly have been ignorant of what everybody else knew. He must have been informed that on Thursday the socialists, Catholics, Richter radicals and Poles had formed a coalition to reject Levetzow's motion.

Regret Their Action.

The relations of the parties have been more embittered by Saturday's vote than by any purely political differences since the close of the kulturkampf. Several deputies who favored the motion regard the reichstag's decision as a personal affair and have approached the ministers privately to urge a temporary suspension of the session looking to a disolution in the near future. Already the Bismarckians have been joined by other deputies who apparently regret their course in Saturday's proceedings and are anxious to efface the stigma by taking part in a demonstration at Friedrichsruh.

Must Not Go Too Far.

The government's attitude toward demands for a dissolution is distinctly passive. A general election with "Bismarck" for the rallying cry would commit the government body and soul to the agrarian programme and several other points of Bismarckian policy for which the emperor and his minister have little liking. Among the passionate appeals and denunciations with which the newspapers have been loaded since Saturday, there is one calm and carefully reasoned article which warns the admirers of the old chancellor not to go too far in their indignation, for "the storm now let loose may bring to the front again Prince Bismarck's powerful personality, working to the ends which most of the parties cannot approve."

Meetings of Protest.

The students and citizens in Jens are organizing meetings to protest against the reichstag's action. Similar meetings are to be held in Augsburg near Munich and throughout Swabia and Thuringia. After the emperor had attended service with the empress in the garrison chapel yesterday he had a long consultation with the grand duke of Baden and Chancellor Prince Hohenlohe. The wires have been kept busy between Berlin and the south German capitals. The messages concerned the reichstag's action and the course to be adopted by the government.

Every German Must Blush.

The Post, conservative, says: "The emperor's dispatch to Prince Bismarck expresses the feelings of the nation. Every German must blush at the reichstag's disgraceful action. The parliamentary fruit brought forth by universal secret suffrage is still unripe. The reichstag is rapidly filling up its measures."

Shipwrecked Captain in Port.

New York, March 25.—Captain Sturrett, of the British schooner Granville, which was abandoned at sea on Feb. 12, arrived on the steamer Hubert from Barbadoes. The Granville was on a voyage from Annapolis, N. S., for Cardenas and met with a hurricane on the 6th which dismasted her. All hands were saved by the brig Sullivan and landed in Barbadoes.

Killed by the Tittel Landslide.

Budapest, March 25.—A variety show was in progress when the inn on the Theiss at Tittel was buried by a landslide on Friday. Six dancing girls, the mistress of the house and her four children were killed. All but four or five of the audience escaped.

Patterns Went Up in Smoke.

Amsterdam, N. Y., March 25.—A fire at the foundry of the Perkins company in this city yesterday destroyed a collection of patterns valued at $10,000 on which there was no insurance. The building was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

Death of a New York Pioneer.

Fredonia, N. Y., March 25.—Judge Emory Warren, a well-known pioneer of western New York, is dead, aged 84. Mr. Warren was a resident of Chautauqua county since 1819. He was a member of the state legislature in 1841-'42.

Summer House Burned.

Littleton, N. H., March 25.—Oak Hill house, one of the most popular summer hotels in the White mountains, was burned yesterday. The fire caught in the boiler room. About one half of the contents of the house were saved.

Quarantined Against Drummers.

Little Rock, Ark., March 25.—Every city of note on the line of the railroads in this state except Little Rock has quarantined against all commercial travelers.

Weng-Chi-Cheng Visits Krupp.

Berlin, March 25.—Weng-Chi-Cheng, the Chinese envoy, visited the Krupp gun foundry in Essen yesterday.

Purity
of ingredients is essential in medicines, else they are apt to do more harm than good.
Allcock's Porous Plaster
is absolutely pure. It can do no harm. It is effective. As an external remedy for pains in the chest, back or side, it is unequaled.
Let no Solicitation induce you to accept a substitute. ALLCOCK'S is absolutely the best.
Allcock's Corn Shields,
Allcock's Bunion Shields,
Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.
Brandreth's Pills
may be taken by old and young. They simply assist nature.

Granite Iron Ware.
Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.
Stoves at reduced prices.
Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.
Plumbing and Heater Work.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
119 East Front St.

H. Hand,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER.
15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.
esidence and postoffice address
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

GEO. J. TOBIN,
187 North avenue.
Practical Plumber
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer
TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

The sign on the windows reads
Woolston & Buckle,
Paper Hangers.
We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.
Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE
MOVING
Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.
HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial Parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cuing a specialty. 10 19 t

HARPER'S
Toys, Games,
Wagons,
Velocipedes,
Tricycles.
411 Park Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
CHOICE MEATS
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.
203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb
V. L. FRAZEE,
151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in
Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.
LOCK BOXES
From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.
Superior quality of
LEHIGH COAL.
No. 2 Coal Only $3.75
In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.
Yard and office, 763 South Avenue.
Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Short Vacations
For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the
Old Dominion Line.
To Old Point Comfort
[Hygeia Hotel]
Or Virginia Beach, Va.
[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for
$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17
INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE
of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.
These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.
Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.
Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to
Old Dominion S. S. Co.,
Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

Wm. Hand & Son.
MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS,
for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and al-ights for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

M. M. DUNHAM,
Real Estate and Insurance.
7 East Front Street.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. G. YOUNG, 237 Watchung Ave.
Baker & Young,
Carpenters and Builders.
Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 m

Prof. A. Wehner,
TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.
ALSO VOICE CULTURE.
Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.
References given and required.
Address letters to the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-c

We have a few
Wall Pockets
odds and ends of two or three styles, in Gilt, Enamel and Plain Frames worth $1.25, now
89 Cents.
R. C. RAND,
140 West Front st.

Geo. O. Stevens,
COAL AND WOOD.
Yard—Front street and Grant avenue.
Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

H. DeMOTT,
With livery attached,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
178 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 66 y

L. L. MANNING.
Marble and Granite Works
Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.
Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue.
Sewers, pavements and road improvements.
Publisher of city map and atlas.

TOWNSEND'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 9 4 y

Jones & Co., Excavators,
Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
JONES & CO.
Cesspools built, 9 18

Joseph E. Mosher,
Agent for
H. J. Havden & Co.,
WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C.
All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.
Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars.

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.
NO.
BUT FULL VALUE.
C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 27 Chatham street.

N. E. KING,
High Grade Portraits
in Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors,
483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.
Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimens of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 25, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE

COMEDY-DRAMA IN COURT.

A Mountaineer Who Would n't Have His Folks Say He Was Afraid of Anyone in Plainfield.

Henry and Peter Burnett, farmers from over the mountain Wm. Waldron, fireman in the electric-light plant over the brook, Patrick Kiely, Sergeant of the police, and George DeMeza, lawyer, were the principal actors in the one-act comedy-drama before Judge Coddington in City Court this morning, in which the story of a Saturday fracas was told.

Peter Burnett came to town Saturday afternoon with a load of hay and a little bunch of whiskers on his chin. His brother, Henry, also came to dispose of farm produce, and after both had completed their business, repaired to the horse sale in the rear of Blimm's hotel on Somerset street. Here they were discussing respective merits of the horses on sale, when Waldron, who had been drinking himself drunk, approached and commenced to abuse them, finally drawing as straight a line in the dirt as his unsteady feet would permit, and daring either one to step up to it. They paid but little attention to his threats, and went into the bar room. Waldron followed them in and became more and more abusive, threatening to wipe the floor with Henry. Mr. Blimm finally ejected Waldron from the place, but on his promise to keep quiet, was permitted to come in again. He resumed the quarrel and very soon made a rush as though to strike Henry. Mr. Blimm caught hold of him, however, before he accomplished his intention, and Burnett struck him in the face so as to bring a copious flow of blood from the nose. Sergeant Kiely was sent for, but before he arrived both of the Burnetts left, and Waldron was arrested and taken to the station house. Returning with Policeman Frederickson the Sergeant arrested the two brothers in Smith's saloon and conveyed them to a cell also.

In court this morning the two Burnetts were represented by Lawyer DeMeza, and a dozen or more witnesses examined.

The star witness was Peter Burnett who told his story with such candidness that Judge Coddington afterwards complimented him on it. Peter said he was brought up among the cattle, and did n't like these cities much. He did not care to have any trouble, but if he went home and his friends heard that he was afraid of a city chap they would make fun of him. He said, though, he would receive a licking another time before he got in such a hole, because he would rather have them laugh about his being licked, than about his being arrested.

Waldron had nothing to say in extenuation of his acts except that he was drunk, and did not know what he was doing.

Henry Burnett, who struck him, said that he did so in self-defence, and after he had been provoked beyond endurance.

The Burnetts were fined $5 apiece and Waldron $10, the Judge stating that if the former had whipped Waldron before Blimm had caught hold of him, he should have discharged both.

SEBRING WAS ELECTED.

Under the New Law, He Takes the Office Which R. M. Fountain Vacates.

As has already been told in The Press, a law was passed by the Governor a few days previous to the late township election in North Plainfield which legislated all members out of the office of Town Committeeman who resided in boroughs. This law legislates Robert M. Fountain out of office in North Plainfield, and it now transpires that therefore he will be succeeded by Charles P. Sebring, who ran on the Republican ticket but was defeated by Frank Mobus who ran on a citizens ticket. Mr. Fountain was elected as treasurer immediately upon the organizing of the committee just after election.

Peter H. Smith, a member of the Bridgewater Town Committee who resides in the Bound Brook borough, suffers the same fate as Mr. Fountain.

—Carpenters are today fixing the wheel room at the Y. M. C. A. Building. When completed it will be a great convenience to those privileged to use it.

—The next attraction in Music Hall is "Uncle Tom's Cabin", March 30.

—The horse belonging to Nelson Bros., grocers of North Plainfield, ran away Saturday afternoon. The wagon was damaged, the shaft and harness were broken. After considerable difficulty the animal was caught.

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 10 a dose; 25, 50c, $1 Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life; I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels; 75c. Sold by all druggists.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Fred Dunavan of Plainfield avenue is kept at home suffering with a sore throat.

Miss Baker of Brooklyn was the guest of Miss Etta Krymer West Second street yesterday.

Rev. W. E. Honeyman and family of Somerset street moved Saturday to 56 Emily street.

Miss May Williams of West Front street has entirely recovered from an attack of the grip.

A. V. Lunger and family will move from their residence on East Front street to Manning avenue tomorrow.

H. C. Johnstone of Passaic moved Saturday into the house he leased through William D. Thickstun, on Central avenue.

J. P. Northup of Crescent avenue has leased the house of Mrs. F. H. Gardner, 34 Sycamore avenue, where he will move about April 1.

Miss Julia Carling of Jersey City has returned home after an enjoyable visit with her cousin Miss Grace Rowland of East Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Allen of Springfield, Union county, was the guest yesterday of Mr. Allen's sister, Mrs. Warren Squires of Harmony street.

Mrs. F. H. Gardner of Sycamore avenue having leased her house will reside temporarily at 7 Grove street, until she takes up her residence in Asbury Park for the Summer.

Ex-letter carrier Peter V. Weaver made a fraternal visit at the Plainfield postoffice Saturday to admire the new quarters. He particularly admired the carriers' home.

James Johnson, formerly a resident of this city, who was at one time in partnership in the barber business with the late William Doyle, is spending a few days with friends here.

John C. VanDyke of East Front street has been suffering for the past few days with an abscess, which formed on the inside of his right cheek. The crisis was reached yesterday and he is now very much improved.

Miss Grace Howard Petrie of East Sixth street, who is a student at the Elmira College, Elmira, N. Y., is at home for the Easter vacation. The Misses Taylor of Michigan, also students in the same college, accompanied her home as guests.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Fletcher were called yesterday to Jersey City, where Mrs. Fletcher's mother is very ill.

Elmer Giddis attended a dance at Mt. Horeb Saturday night.

The house recently vacated by F. P. Haffner has been rented to a New York party.

Mr. Brown of Evona is very ill, and had a bad spell Sunday night.

Electric bells are a new addition at Taylor's Hotel.

Mrs. Neal Taylor and young daughter were guests of Mrs. John Cramer Sunday.

Miss May Hubbard of Plainfield is spending the day with her mother, Mrs. John Hubbard.

Mrs. Fred Nelson spent Saturday at Plainfield.

Miss Blank is being pleasantly entertained by Mrs. John Smalley.

Mrs. Wm. VanMiddlesworth and daughter Minnie are spending the day at Plainfield.

Miss Laura Everitt of Westfield is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Amos Vail of Greenbrook.

Miss Ruth Fenner of Pluckamin is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Swackhamer.

Joseph Thomas of Princeton is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thomas.

Another Great Press Serial.

"The Chronicles of Martin Hewitt", which succeeed "The Adventures and Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes" in The Strand Magazine, have won for their author fame that is nearly worldwide.

The Press has therefore secured a brand-new detective story by Martin Hewitt, and has scheduled it for publication commencing April 6, and running six days.

Republic Loan.

The following board of directors was elected at the last meeting of the Republic Savings and Loan Association J A Hubbard, A M Griffen, W B Grannatt, Jr., F J Pope, J J Heidloff, T R VanZant F S Runyon, J B Coward, D W Littell, H N Spencer, R H McCullough, J D Spicer, L G Timpson, Alex Thorn, A V D Honeyman, J L Blackford, N B Smalley, J P Homan, and Frank Bowley. They will meet Thursday evening to elect officers —S. P. Wheeler loaded a palace horse-car today with horses and cattle, and another car with poultry, which he shipped to Amsterdam, N. Y., where he will stock a farm.

HARK! HARK!

Do you hear those bells ringing? They are to warn you that Johnson's delivery wagon is near at hand, ready to supply you with the finest home-made bread in the land, pies, cake, buns and rolls, fresh every morning at 6 a. m.

Boston brown bread a specialty. Just give me a trial, my goods speak for themselves. All orders promptly attended to at shortest notice.

W. H. Johnson,
3 23 1w 41 Somerset Street.

BAMBERGER'S

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in

Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts

will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are, they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes

in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons.

$1.98 to $27.50

NEW

Spring Jackets

in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from

$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from

49c to $7.50

NEW

Separate Skirts

of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles, lined and interlined, from

$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS

The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from

98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND

House Dresses

Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from

44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street Newark, N. J.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J.

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Don't ruin your form wearing poor corsets.

Buy Your Corsets

AT PECK'S.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block, 12-6

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Grand

Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastefully trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on

Tuesday, March 25,
Wednesday, March 26,
Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season. We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing, but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 54 in. wide.
5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.
Our 49c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.
75c will buy a $1 00 skirt.
95c. " " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT,
25 Washington ave

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

SPRING OF 1895.

Our Spring Opening of

FINE MILLINERY,

takes place

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday,

under the direction of

Miss Kittie Daly

who respectfully requests your attendance.

EDWARD WHITE

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

Telephone Rates

IN PLAINFIELD.

$40, $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue, Plainfield.

3 22 2w-c s

EDSALL'S ANNUAL SPRING OPENING and 10-DAY SPECIAL SALE

Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

We shall endeavor to make this opening the "event of the season" in merchandising in Plainfield. Don't fail to visit us during this sale. Wagon delivery in Plainfield, Dunellen, Westfield and Scotch Plains. Goods delivered, prepaid, to any part of the State, on purchases of $5 and over.

Suits, Jackets, Capes, Separate Skirts and Silk Waists.

Beginning on Wednesday, March 27, we shall exhibit a beautiful line of all-wool Cheviot and Serge tailor-made suits, new spring capes, jackets and separate skirts and silk waists in faultless styles in a variety of fine cloths, serges, crepons and silks.

Our all-wool tailor made suit with tight fitting riding habit basque in new style flare skirt, organ pipe back, in navy and black, is the greatest special of the season, manufactured to sell at $6.75; special for the opening $4 90.

Our new spring capes made up of Cheviot, Covert and Kersey Cloths, silk lined, braided, lace and jet, trimmed with satin, ruche collar, in black, navy and brown, in fact almost every modern style to select from.

For the opening the following extraordinary values—All wool cheviot cloth capes in black, navy and brown, trimmed with tinsel braid, manufactured to sell at $1.59 and $1 85; special for the opening $1.10 and $1.30.

All-wool Cheviot and Covert cloth capes in tan and black, with excellent trimming, double cape, manufactured to sell at $4.65; special $3.85.

All-wool Cheviot Broadcloth Covert and Kersey Cloth Capes, embroidered in cream, satin ribbon trimmings, lace and jet, manufactured to sell at $8.85, $6.75 and $10; special at $4.85, $5 90 and $7.50.

An excellent Broadcloth Cape in black, navy, black and red, fashion's latest conceptions, satin lined, manufactured to sell at $10; a great special at $8.35 each.

Headquarters Leading Makes of Corsets

Warner's Corsets in short, medium and long waists at $1, $1.25, $1.50' $1.75; Warner's Corsets black satin $1.25; Thomson's glove fitting corsets, medium, in white and drab at $1; C P. corsets in white at $2, $2.50, $2 75; R. & G. in white at $1; Warner's and Thomson's ventilating corsets from 50c to $1; an excellent corset in white and drab for 50c.

Ladies' muslin and cambric gowns, full sizes, best muslin and cambric, fine embroidery, 65c to $3 50 lines, special 49c to $2 85. Ladies' muslin and cambric drawers from 23c to 98c. Ladies' muslin skirts from 49c to $2.75. Cambric corset covers from 21c to 99c. A specially good muslin corset cover during the opening for 13c.

Laces, Veilings and Neckwear.

Laces are on the top wave of fashion this season. In this department we are showing some rare designs of Point de Gene, Point de Brages, Bruxelles, Applique, Chantilly, Venetian Point and Guipase de Venise.

Veilings in Tuxedo chenille dot, 27 in. and the now popular 18 in. width; also Maline chenille dot veilings, sewing silks and Grenadine veilings, all colors; neckwear, in yokes, Princess floral stock collars and berthas. On our bargain tables are some very excellent designs in Valenciennes, Chantilly, Applique and Point de Irlande laces (black, white and ecru) 15 to 50c lines, reduced to 10 and 25c a yard; 27 in and 18 in black Trilby and Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings, 35 and 48c goods, at 25 and 30c a yard; Princess stock collars in all leading colors from 25, 35 and 48c each; real Point Venise collars in butter color at 68c, 89c, $1 20, $1 30 and $1 75.

Notions.

The under-mentioned goods constitute a few of our sterling values in this department—Pins from 1c to 10c paper; Fastenette hook and eye, a two dozen card for 10c; 36 yard piece of white, black or gray tape for 12c; extra quality S. H. & M. velveteen facing 47 yard bolts for 19 and 25c; extra quality dress shields, worth 9c, for 6c; extra strong scissors, all sizes, 35 and 50c grade, all at 25c pair; excellent assortment of shell side combs, 10c to 30c goods, for 7c, 10c, 15c and 20c; shell pins and combs 25c to 75c goods, at the opening 20c to 75c.

The Millinery Department

will add much interest, especially to the ladies. Miss E. Gayton, who has been spending a few months in a fashionable millinery establishment uptown on Broadway, New York, studying the latest New York and Foreign Fashions, is in charge, as heretofore.

This department will exhibit the latest novelties and styles in this line at prices much below New York.

We feel very confident that we can please the most fastidious in fine style, quality and price.

Men's Furnishings.

We show in this department complete lines of Neckwear, Collars, Cuffs, Suspenders, Gloves, Shirts, Night Shirts, Handkerchiefs and Underwear—Our opening specials comprise—120 dozen Utica Nonpareil unlaundried muslin shirts, 3 ply bosoms, cut 36 in long, double stitched all through, gathered in back, linen bosom, reinforced in front, all sizes 45c and 75c grades, at the opening 29c and 60c each; men's fine white dress shirts, laundried, well made, wide bosom, full length, 95c grade, to go at 75c; 50 dozen men's Percale shirts, 2 collars and cuffs, excellent designs, $1 30 grade for 99c; Men's fine neckwear in all silk tecks, four-in-hands and bows, light, medium and dark effects extra good value at 35c, opening price 25c; Men's celluloid collars, newest standing shapes, all sizes, a collar worth 25c, opening price 10c; Men's half-hose in black, double heel and toe, positively fast black, 20c grade, opening price 15c pair; a good heavy half hose in gray, brown and tan mixtures, worth 15c pair, opening price 10c pair; excellent grades of fine half-hose in fast black and tan, actual value 30c, 45c and 60c, opening price at 25, 39 and 50c a pair; gentlemen's pocketbooks and bill books, collar and cuff boxes, traveling cases, etc., 75c to $1 90 lines, opening price 50c to $1 49.

Separate Skirts and Underskirts.

Our opening display of ladies' separate skirts in crepon, rough cheviot, Moreen brilliantine, serges and satine, full sweep, organ pipe back, comprising the most favored adaptions of the recently imported models—something of interest to all lady shoppers.

For the opening the under mentioned specials—Satin cloth under skirts with ruffle, $1.35 lines; special at 89c. Cheviot cloth skirt, organ pipe back, good value at $4.25; special $3.48 All-wool serge in navy and black, new style, flare skirt, worth $6.50; special $5.25. Black Moreen underskirts, actual value $4; special $3 20. Our extra special all-wool Crepon skirt, new style, flare and organ pipe back, actual value $7.85 and $10; during the opening at $6 98 and $8.39

SHOE DEPARTMENT.

PARENTS ARE naturally interested in children and their shoes. We have never said much about our stock for boys and girls, little and big, but it's just as complete as in our men's and women's departments. We would make particular mention this week of our very large assortment of stylish, serviceable shoes for boys and little gents, heels and spring heels, pointed, medium and common sense toes, etc.

Housefurnishing and China Dep't.

We are well prepared in this department to furnish everything for household use. The lowest prices prevail and strictly first quality goods. We keep a complete line of Hammocks, Refrigerators, Window and Door Screens, Lawn Mowers, Ice Cream Freezers, Oil and Gas Stoves, Porch Screens, Tinware, Woodenware, Hardware, China, Glassware, Lamps and Bric-a-Brac.

The following special prices for our Spring Opening.

TINWARE

Japanned Bread boxes	27c each
Painted Chamber pails all colors	19c
No. 7 oval wash boilers copper bottom	59c
" 8 " " " " "	69c
Round tin " " tin " "	19c
Oval foot tubs painted bottom	17c
5 gal. galv'd iron oil cans with faucet	87c
Solid copper tea kettles No. 6 and 7	69c
" " " " plated	69c
1 gal. glass oil cans tin body	29c
1 gal. galvanized iron oil cans	19c
Galvanized iron chamber pails	29c
Japanned tin cuspidores all colors	9c
Spades and shovels riveted shank	39c
" " solid shank	49c

Ansonia Nickel Clocks.

Warranted every one; without alarm	67c
With alarm	78c

Table Lamps, Hall Lamps, etc.

Table lamps with shade complete neat decorations ..... 89,97c and up
Hall lamps all colors complete solid brass trimmings at ..... 97c each
Night lamps various styles starting at 24, 39, and 49c each.

WOODENWARE.

Clothes pins	7c per hundred
Clothes line	½cent per yard
Clothes baskets	29 cents each
Hard wood tables, with four legs,	29 cents each
Scrub brushes, good quality	10 cts each
Nail brushes, good quality	3 cts each
Splash mats	8, 9, and 10 cts each
3-panel wall pockets	9 cts each
Wash boards	19, 23, 27 and 29 cts each
3-sewed parlor brooms	12 cts each
3-sewed brooms, best quality	23 cts each
White wash brushes	23, 35, 43 cts each
Kalsomine brushes	49, 67, 79, cts each
Dust brushes	15, 19, 24, 29 cts each
Feather dusters	9, 12, 14, 19 cts, upward
Wash boards, zinc tops	12 cts

Dinner, Tea and Toilet Sets.

Dinner sets, 100 pieces, English Porcelain, decorated	$5.98 per set
Dinner sets, 112 pieces, English porcelain, decorated	$8.47 per set.
Tea sets, 56 pieces, best English porcelain	$3.39 per set
Fine China tea sets, choice of several styles, decorated in flower and gold	$5.98 per set
Toilet sets, 6 pieces, best English porcelain	$1.39 per set
Toilet sets, all prices, from $1.39 per set and upwards.

Special on Priestley's Black Silk Warp Henriettas.

For this sale only.

The $1 quality at 90c. The $1.25 quality at $1.12.
The $1.50 quality at $1.30. The $1.75 quality at $1.50.

Refrigerators.

We carry a full line of soft and hard wood. Best makes only at bottom prices.

No. 1	soft wood chest	$2 97
No. 2	"	$3 94
No. 3	"	$4 87
No. 4	"	$5 93
No. 1	soft wood upright	$5 87
No. 2	"	$6 93
No. 3	"	$7 94
No. 4	"	$8 97

Stationery and Books.

This department embraces a good line of Stationery, Easter Novelties Cards and Cloth and Paper Books. Our offerings in this department—Fine grades of linen and woven tablets from 6c to 20c; fine grades of linen paper in box from 10c to 25c; excellent assortment of Easter Cards from 3c to 20c; 500 cloth covered books, all popular titles, at 10, 15, 20 and 25c, worth 20 to 50c; 1,000 paper covered books, all popular titles, 10 and 15c lines—to open up this department we have decided to sell at 30 each.

Carpet Department.

China and Japan matting, all jointless, at 9, 12½, 15 and 19c.

Cotton and Linen Warp, plain and figured, at 19, 23, 27, and 35c.

Linoleum, all grades, 37½, 49, 65, 90c square yard.

Oilcloths, all grades and widths, at 19, 23, 25, 29, and 39c square yd

All-wool ingrain carpet at 49c, extra at 65c. Agra, Kandabar, Ispahan, Rag and Hemp Carpets.

Extra Tapestry Brussels Carpet, made, laid and lined at 85c.

Moquette Carpet at 69c. Body Brussels, Velvets and Axminster carpets.

Art Rugs 2½ yards, $3, $4.98; 3x3 at $6.39; 3x3½ at $7.39; 3x4 at $8.79.

Window Shades at 19c, 25c, 29c, 35c. Special prices and estimates furnished on orders for whole house or store shades.

Window Poles and Trimmings 19c complete and upwards.

Moquette Rugs, 27x54 inches, with fringe, at $1.49.

Smyrna Door Rugs 18x36 inches, with fringe, at 59c.

Sakai Rugs, a new fabric, 30x64, at $1.98.

" " 36x72, at $2.39.

Japanese Rugs and Smyrna Rugs in large variety, all sizes, at lowest possible prices.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Upholstery Department is now replete with new seasonable goods, and we offer some extraordinary inducements. 300 yards of

Normandy Plushes

in plain and floral designs, warranted not to fade when exposed to sunlight, 26 inches wide, superb colorings, positively one of the greatest specials of the season. Our opening prices for these goods

75, 90, 98c, $1.05 and $1.15

a yard; and 25 per cent. off regular value.

15 dozen Nottingham Lace Curtains 3¼ yards long, 40 inches wide, exquisite floral designs. Our price for these goods, 69c pair; heretofore 85c pair.

An excellent line of Portiere Curtains (Tapestry) floral designs. Opening price $3.49, $5.49 and $7 per pair—extra good value.

Grocery Dep't

TERMS CASH

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Special Prices for this Sale. Reliable Goods Only

French sardines in pure oil 10c a box
Lemon cling peaches very fine 17c can
Famous string beans 6c can
Very fine sweet sugar corn 7c can
Very fine Delaware tomatoes 7c can
Finest quality Mocha or Java coffee 34c pound
Good quality mixed tea 29c pound
Our regular 50c grade for 34c pound
Oyster Bay asparagus flat cans 18c can
Very fine Bahama sliced pineapple 13c can
Curtice Bros chicken soup 19c can
Babbitt's best soap 6 cakes for 24c
Full test ammonia Edsall's 9c bottle
Soda crackers 6 pounds for 25c
Heinz's Little Giant pickles 9c bottle
Cross & Blackwell's pickles all kinds 32c bottle
Andersons jams all kinds 12c can
Silexo scouring soap 2½c cake
Borax soap powder 3c cake
Very best quality Olive oil quarts 69c bottle
Very best quality Olive oil per gallon $1.95

Hosiery Dept.

Some startling leaders in this department—Children's ribbed Spring and Summer weight, full seamless fast black cotton hose, 18c, 25c and 35c grades, reduced to 12½c, 20c and 25c a pair

Ladies' fine gauze fast black cotton hose 15c, 20c, 25c and 35c grades, special at 12½c, 15c, 20c and 25c a pair

Ladies' Richelieu ribbed Lisle thread hose warranted fast colors 69c grade, special at 49c

50 doz ladies' fast black cotton hose at 5c a pair, excellent value at 9c a pair

Boys' bicycle hose sizes 7 to 10, 30c grade now 25c

Children's double knee fast black stockings full seamless well worth 35c pair now 25c pair

Perfumery and Toilet Department

This department has been completely reorganized and contains all that go to make up a well equipped perfumery department. These goods are marked on the close dry goods basis and represent the best value it is possible to get in this line of goods

The varied nature of the stock prevents giving many items. However, the undermentioned are extraordinary good values:

Bay Lavender smelling salts 45c; Florida water large bottle 48c; essence of White Lilac, essence of Napoleon Violet, essence of Jockey Club, 49c a bottle; triple extract of Heliotrope, triple extract of Persian Lilac, triple extract of Jockey Club, triple extract of White Rose, triple extract essence of Bouquet, 50c a bottle; Colgate's Cashmere Bouquet Toilet Water, 50c; Colgate's Florida Water, 29c a bottle; Colgate's fine Bay Rum, 50c a bottle; Buttermilk soap, 10c; Oatmeal soap, 10c; Pears' Glycerine soap, 20c; Cuticura soap, 20c; Strawberry soap, 25c; Cashmere Bouquet soap, 22c; Turkish bath soap, 5c; Bouquet soap, 4c.

Woolen Dress Goods.

This department is varied and choice You will be attracted if you visit this counter which comprises cheviots, hairline stripes, silk mixtures, crepons, heather mixtures, henriettas, serges and French cashmeres

OUR LEADERS!!

Along this line—300 yards crepon will be offered during the opening at the extremely low figure of 50c a yard, actual value 69c a yard

250 yards cheviot mixtures in variety of colorings at 39c a yard, heretofore 49c a yard

A lot of all-wool suitings 54 inches wide, choice range of colorings at 55c a yard, actual value 68c a yard

Hamburg Embroidery

A full line of Cambric and Nainsook embroideries in match patterns of various widths, embracing close and open work effects, deep work and wide margin of cloth 5c, 8c, 10c, 15c, and 20c lines, during our opening 3c, 5c, 8c, 13c, and 15c a yard

LADIES' SILK WAISTS

One of the eading features of this department is a full line of the latest novelties comprising a profusion of dainty silks all exquisitely made in illuminated silk Taffeta, striped and fancy Japanese wash silks, light and dark effects, large sleeves, blouse front, shirred yokes and belts, specially adapted for separate skirts.

Our opening inducements comprise the following:

Figured changeable silk waists, large sleeves and belts, manufactured to sell at $3.50 and $4.25, for the opening $2 95 and $3.48

All-silk illuminated Taffeta silk waists; baloon sleeves, shirred yokes, blouse front, acrual value $5.25 and $6 98, special $4 75 and $5.50.

Children's reefers in red and mixed cloth 2, 3 and 4 years, $5.50 goods to sell at $4 75

Children's white pique reefers $3.49

Children's white India silk coats, handsomely braided $5 49

Children's dresses in ginghams, seersuckers, lawns and dimity 75c to $2 50 goods for the opening 59c to $1 98

Children's white dresses trimmed with Irish Point embroidery for 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years, from $2 49 to $3 up.

Boys' Blouses—We shall offer for a few days during the opening about 25 dozen boys' calico blouses in pink, blue, navy and white; positively 60c goods; special 39c.

Wrappers, Shirt Waists, Underwear and Corsets.

The exhibit of wrappers and shirt waists, underwear and corsets made in all the choicest fabrics, will comprise more and richer styles than ever before shown in this city and will be especially worthy of a visit from every lady in Plainfield.

Special, 50 dozen striped and figured Cambric and Percale house wrappers, with full sleeves and watteau backs and large ruffle over the shoulder, manufactured to sell at 75c to $1.49. Special during our opening 59, 68, 83, and $1.10.

100 dozen ladies' laundried shirt waists with collars and cuffs, an immense variety of patterns, large sleeves adapted for separate skirts, manufactured to sell at 35, 50, 75, 93. Special during the opening, 27, 39, 50 and 69c.

Ladies' gowns handsomely embroidered, reduced from $1.99 to $1.89, during the opening 99c.

CHILDREN'S HEADWEAR

We ask special attention to our choice and complete assortment of all that is pretty in children's headwear embracing silk and lace bonnets; hats, pokes, and close fitting caps at prices to suit all purses.

An Extraordinary Special along this line

A lot of well made caps worth 25c to go at 15c

50 doz lawn and silk caps actual value 65c to $1, during our opening 49c to 75c each.

RIBBONS

We are showing without a doubt the very nicest line of plain and fancy ribbons that have ever been displayed in this city. We ask all our patrons to visit us and see these goods during the coming week.

ON BARGAIN TABLES

5,000 yards gros grain and satin ribbons ¾ to 4 inches wide, all newest colorings at 3c to 25c a yard positive value from 5c to 50c a yard

Handkerchiefs

30 doz ladies scolloped embroidered lawn handkerchiefs 15c grade to go at 12,c½ each

Wash Fabrics.

In this department we are showing a full line of ginghams, crepons, organdies, batiste, calicoes, cambrics, satines, dimities, percales, in plaids, stripes, sprays, dots and floral designs, in fact all manner of creations: The latest triumph in American printing.

Leaders!!

3,000 yards of printed calicoes, fast colorings, in endless variety of designs, 6½ cts goods, as long as they last 4 cts per yard.

500 yards of crepon wash fabrics, fast colors 12c goods at 7 1-2 cts per yard, for a few days.

1,200 yards of Amoskeag ginghams, 7½c grade, to go at 5 cts per yard.

3,000 yards of percales, exquisite designs, best quality manufactured, 16c grade; during our Opening 12 cts per yard.

White Goods AND Linen Department

This department embraces an excellent collection of Damasks napkins, dinner cloths, towels, lunch cloths and other housekeeping linens, also dimities, apron lawns, muslins and sheetings at great concessions from original prices. We propose to give our customers the full benefit of this saving and will inaugurate the largest sale of this kind ever held in this city.

What we are offering in this direction:

1000 yards 4-4 bleached muslins 7½c grade at 5½c a yard

1000 yards 4-4 unbleached muslin 6½c grade at 4½c yard

800 yards white check dimities 8c grade at 5½c yard

1200 yards 40-inch white apron lawns 12c grade at 8½c yard

A splendid 62 inch bleached Damask 75c grade at 45c yard

300 yards crash towelling 5½c grade at 4c yard

500 yards 27-inch all line check towelling suitable for butcher's aprons, 35c grade at 25c yd.

Black Dress Goods.

Here you will find serges, cheviots, cashmeres, henriettas and novelties including the ideal crepon

OUR LEADERS

500 yards black silk warp henriettas 45 inches wide at 65c, 85c, $1, $1.25, and $1.50 a yard, far below regular value

An excellent line of wide wale serges strictly all wool at 65c a yard, well worth $1 a yard

Lining Dep't.

We offer the undermentioned inducements in this department during the Opening!

15c French Percaline all colors	12c yd
16c Silesia all colors	12c yd
20c Taffeta watered Percaline	15c yd
50c Blk watered Moreen 27 ins wide,	39c
22c Linen canvas our price	18c yd
30c American haircloth, cotton	25c yd
15c India grass cloth	12c yd
12c Cross bar Crinoline	9c yd

Silk Dep't.

In this department we shall exhibit a beautiful line of foreign and domestic silks in plain and fancy weaves, including the latest fabrics and effects, comprising Plisse Crepons, illuminated and two-toned, heavy quality black figured Taffeta, Japanese wash-silks, black Peau-de-Sole, Satin Duchesse, Moire Francaise, Faille-de-Lyon and guaranteed Gros Grain, in a variety of new Spring designs.

OUR LEADERS

In this direction—Plisse Crepons, all choice combinations, 75c lines; reduced to 50c a yard. Black all-silk Taffeta, bright lustre in sprays, figures and dots, 98c goods at 73c a yard.

Illuminated double warp Taffeta 12 different combinations 85c lines at 65c a yard.

Standard quality Japanese wash-silks in the leading colors positively 40c goods, special at 29c a yard

Also our full lines of higher grade goods at proportionately low prices

Glove Dep't

Ladies' Foster hook kid gloves, good fit and splendid wearers in new shades of tan and black all sizes, $1, $1.50 and $1 75 lines, marked to 75c, $1, and $1.25 a pair

Ladies' 4-button kid gloves in black, modes, tan and gray all sizes $1 25 and $1.50 lines, special at $1 and $1.25 a pair

Our Spring purchases of Taffeta and all silk gloves are extensive in new shades of tan, grays and black all sizes perfect fitting at 25c, 39c, and 49c a pair

Ladies' 8-button length Mosquetaire Suede gloves in white, tan, gray and black, $1 50 and $1 75 lines, special at $1 35 and $1 50 a pair

Leather Goods

We are displaying an excellent collection of ladies' pocketbooks and shopping bags

OUR SPECIAL!

30 doz well made pocketbooks 20c grade to go at 13c each

50 doz assorted leather purses good clasps 7c, 10c, 15c grades to go at 5c, 8c and 10c

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER I.

"Oh! my necklace!" cried a fair woman as she leaned over the side of her gondola.

A string of opals, linked and set in gold, had been loosened from her throat, and had slid down into the water of the lagoon, midway between the Lido and the city of Venice. But the gondola was moving swiftly under the impulsion of a rower fore and aft, and, though they stopped a few moments after at her cry, the spot where it had fallen was already passed and left behind. She was vexed and provoked. She had many jewels, but the opal necklace was an heirloom, and of fine and curious workmanship. The gondoliers did their best to find it, but in vain. They were in the deeper water of the sailing roads, which were marked out by the lines of poles, and the necklace, a slight thing, had been borne away by the current setting in from the open sea.

Neither of the men could swim; many Venetians cannot; but they got over the side, and waded up to their waists in the water, and with their oars struck and sounded the sandy bottom; but the lagoon, which has been the grave of so many, kept the drowned opals.

"We will go back and send divers," she said to her men who, wet to their waists, were well content to turn the head of the gondola back to the city.

They wore white clothes with red sashes and red ribbons round their straw hats; they were in her private service; they steered quickly home again over the calm waterway, and in and out the crowded craft by the schiavone past the customs house, and S. Giorgio and the Salvature, until they reached a palace on the Grand canal, which was their mistress' residence, with poles painted red and white, with coronets on their tops, marking the landing stairs in the old Venetian fashion.

"I have lost my opals in the water!" she cried to a friend who was on one of the balconies of the first floor.

"I am glad you have lost them," replied her friend. "They are pierres de malheur."

"Nonsense! They were beautiful, and they were Ninetta Laranigra's, poor Carlo's great-great-grandmother; they were one of her nuptial presents a hundred years ago. Her portrait hangs in the Belle Arte. She was beautiful, and had a tragic fate. I must have the men dive and dredge till they are found. The water is so shallow. I cannot think how they have vanished so completely in such a moment of time."

On the morrow, when it was known through Venice that the rich and generous Countess Laranigra had lost her jewels, all the best divers hurried to the place where it had dropped and worked sedulously from daybreak to find it, sailors and fishermen and boatmen all joining in the search, in hope to merit the reward she promised. But no one of them succeeded. Their efforts were useless. The tenacious water would not yield up its prey. The opals were gone, like spindrift.

In the hollow of an old oak pile the opals remained all winter long, lying like bird's eggs in a nest, whilst the restless waters washed and swirled above its sanctuary. The worn stump of the wood had kept its place for centuries, and many a corpse had drifted past it outward to the sea in days when the white marbles of St. Mark's city had run red with blood. It had once been the base of a sea shrine, of a madonna of the waters to whom the boatmen passing had invoked the Stella Maria Virginis so dear to fishermen and sailors.

But the painted shrine had long disappeared, and only the old piece of timber, down underneath the waters,

"I'VE LOST MY OPALS IN THE WATER."

rooted in the sand amongst the ribbon weed and mussels, had had power to resist the forces of the tide and tempest.

All the winter long the old pile kept the opals safe and sound.

But one day, when the peach and pear and plum trees had in turn burst into blossom on the isles, and the flocks of gulls who had survived the stress of famine and cold had returned to their feeding places on the outer lagoons, a large iron ship coming from the Black sea gave a rude shock in passing to the old oak pile; the top of it under the blow parted and fell asunder; the necklace was washed out of its hiding place, and, carried in the heavy trough of the steamer's path, was floated ashore up the creeks into the long grasses and reeds beneath the Devil's bridge at Torcello. The yellow water iris was then flowering, and two little reed warblers were nesting amongst the flags, as the opals were drifted up under some hemlock leaves and there rested.

"I think they are eggs, but they are all strung together," said the warbler to his mate.

"They look more like the spawn of a fish," said the little winged lady, with scorn.

A water rat came up and smelt at them, then went away disdainfully—they were not good to eat. For birds and beasts do not care for jewels; it is only humanity, which thinks itself superior to them, which sees any value in stones, and calls such toys precious.

There is nowhere in the world any grass richer than that of Torcello, and forget-me-nots, huneysuckles, and wild roses grow down to the water's edge and around the hoary stones of the deserted isle.

"What a God-forgotten place!" said a young man as he sprang from a boat on to the bank by the bridge.

"Torcello was the mother of Venice; the daughter has slain her;" replied an older man as he laid down his oars in the boat, and prepared to follow his companion.

His foot trod amongst the hemlock leaves and was entangled by them; he stooped, and his eyes, which were very keen, caught sight of the string of opals.

"A woman's necklace!" he said, as he drew it from under the salt seaweed and the dewy dock leaves. It was discolored, and had sand and mud on it, and bore little traces of its former beauty, but he recognized that it was a jewel of worth; he perceived, even dulled as they were, that the stones were opals.

"What have you there?" cried the younger man from above on the bank. "The skull of an archimandrite?"

The other threw the necklace upon the grass.

"You would have been a fitter finder of a woman's collar than I."

"Opals! The stones of sorrow!" said the younger man, gravely, as he raised it and brushed off the sand. "It has been beautiful," he added. "It will be so again. It is not really hurt, only a little bruised and tarnished.

"Lend me your glass," said the younger man. The glass was of strong magnifying power. When it was handed to him he looked through it at some little marks on the back of the clasp of the opal collar. "Laranigra, 1775," he read aloud. "Laranigra, is a Venetian name.

"There is a Ca' Laranigra on the Grand canal. It is next to the Laredan. You admired its Moorish windows on the second story this morning. Carlo Laranigra died young. He has a widow who is only twenty now. She was a daughter of the duke of Monfalcone, a family of the Trentino, but pure Italians in blood. Their place is in the mountains above Garizia. It must be she who owns this necklace, an heirloom, probably."

"Take it to her," said the finder of it, with indifference. "I cede you my rights."

The younger laughed.

"Ah! who knows what they may become?"

"Whatever they may become they are yours. I do not appreciate that kind of reward."

"Really?" said the younger man. "If so I pity you!"

"Nay; I pity you," said the elder.

The young man still stood with the opals in his hands; with a whisp of grass he had cleared the sand in a measure off them; the pearly softness and the roscate flame of the stone began to show here and there; two alone of their number were missing.

"Come," said his companion, with impatience. "Put that broken rubbish in your pocket and let us go and see the cathedral and S. Fosca, for it will soon grow dark."

They went, without visiting the basilica, back to Venice in the twilight which deepened into night as they drew near the city; the moon was high and the air still. They dined in the spacious rooms set aside in the hotel for Andreis. When the dinner was over he rose.

"Will you come?" he asked.

"Where?" asked Damer.

"To the Ca' Laranigra," said Andreis, with a boyish laugh.

"Not I," replied Damer.

"A rivederci, then," said Andreis.

But he lingered a moment.

"It will not be fair to you," he said, "for me to take the credit of having found this necklace."

"Whatever honor there may be in the salvage I cede it, I tell you, willingly."

"Of course I shall tell her that it was you."

"There is no need to do so; I am not a squire of dames. She will prefer a Sicilian prince to a plain man of science. However, you must find the lady first. The true owner lies under some moss-grown slab in some chapel crypt, no doubt."

"Why will you speak of death? I hate it."

"Hate it as you may, it will overtake you."

He looked at his companion as he spoke, and thought what he did not speak:

"Yes; strong as you are, and young as you are, and fortunate as you are, you too will die like the pauper and the cripple and the beggar!"

The reflection gratified him; for of the youth, of the beauty, of the fortune, he was envious, and with all his scorn of higher intellect he despised the childlike, happy, amorous temperament, and the uncultured mind, which went with them.

"If I had only his wealth," he thought often. "Or if he only had my knowledge!"

The sun was setting behind the Istrian hills, and they depended on their own oars to take them back to Venice in the rose-hued dusk, and a few seconds later the splash of the canal water beneath the balcony told his companion that the gondola was moving.

It was twelve o'clock when into the empty brilliantly lighted room Andreis entered and came across it to where Damer sat on the balcony.

"I have found her!" he said, with joyous triumph. The moonlight shone on his dark, starry eyes, his laughing mouth, his tall figure, full of grace and strength like the form of the Greek Hermes in the Vatican.

Damer laid aside his papers with impatience.

"And she has welcomed you, apparently? It is midnight and you look victorious."

Andreis made a gesture of vexed protestation.

"Pray do not suspect such things. I sent in my card and begged her majordomo to say I had found her necklace. She sent word for me to go upstairs that she might thank me. Of course my name was known to her. She had a duenna. It was all solemn and correct. She was enchanted to find her necklace. It was an heirloom which Laranigra gave her. He was killed in a duel, as I told you, two years ago. She is very beautiful and looks twenty years old, even less. I was very honest; I told her that an Englishman who was traveling with me had had the honor of finding the opals; and she wishes to see you tomorrow. I promised to take you in prima sera; you surely ought to be grateful."

Damer shrugged his shoulders and looked regretfully at his papers and pencils.

"WHY WILL YOU SPEAK OF DEATH?"

"Women only disturb one," he said, ungraciously.

Andreis laughed.

"It is that disturbance which perfumes our life and shakes the rose leaves over it. But I remember, to attract you a woman must be lying, dead or alive, on an operating table."

"Alive by preference," said Damer. "The dead are little use to us; their nervous system is still, like a stopped clock."

"A creature must suffer to interest you?"

"Certainly."

Andreis shuddered slightly.

"Why did you save me?"

Damer smiled.

"My dear prince, it is my duty to save when I can. I should have preferred to let you alone and study your natural powers of resistance in conflict with the destruction which was menacing them. But I could not follow my preferences. I was called in to assist your natural powers by affording them artificial resistance; and I was bound to do so."

Andreis made a grimace which signified disappointment and distaste.

"If my mother knew you looked at it in that way she would not adore you, my friend, as she does."

Continued on Page 8.

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2143 JAMES H. ECKELS, Comptroller of the Currency.

M 4 30

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

L. A. HUMMER. E. B. MULFORD

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Telephone call, 20 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 11

CURE THAT COUGH WITH SHILOH'S CURE

TAKE THE BEST

25cts., 50cts. and $1.00 Bottle. One cent a dose.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For a Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S BELLADONNA PLASTER. 25c.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price, 50 cts. Injector free.

Sold by all druggists.

S 14 y

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Sewers

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held March 4, 1895, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, March twenty-fifth, 1895, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portion of the sewer contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council March 4, 1895, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon the receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $2,000, payable to the treasurer of the city of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

1,067 feet 24 inch pipe sewer,
2,224 feet 12 " "
4,925 feet 10 " "
80,605 feet 8 " "
109 feet 8 to 12 inch cast iron pipe sewer,
116 manholes,
28 drop connections at manholes,
109 lampholes,
68 flush tanks,
4,141 Y branches,
875 extension connections on Y branches,
5,735 feet underdrains.

Duplicate plans may be examined and forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, &c., may be obtained at the office of A. J. Gavett, constructing engineer, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's

LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 38 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

9.34 p.m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Pullman cars, Washington and the South—1 01, 9.08, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 08, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 24, 5 46, 6 17, 6 45, 7 07, 7 20, 7 45, 7 57, 8 06, 8 28, 8 38, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 38, 10 49, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 13, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 45, 3 57, 4 47, 5 48, 6 15, 6 30, 6 48, 6 02, 6 27, 6 42, 6 58, 7 07, 7 27, 7 39, 8 47, 9 20, 9 50, 10 03, 11 03 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 5 24, 7 54, 8 48, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 38, 1 44, 2 32, 3 45, 5 48, 6 38, 8 54, 9 48, 7 05, 7 12, 7 25, 7 58, 8 30, 9 25, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 50, 4 37, 7 10, 9 05, 9 30, 11 40, a. m., 1 05, 1 37, 3 02, 5 09, 6 32, 7 45, 9 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 50, 4 37, 9 05, 9 30, 10 41 A. M., 3 47, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 42 P. M.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 8 50 a. m.

Cape May Per Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p.m. weekdays.

For Delaware—1, 2 43 daily ex. Monday, 4 05, 6 44, 7 10, 7 50, 8 54, 9 46, 9 50, 10 50, 11 43, a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 2 37, 2 43, 3 20, 3 29, 3 50, 4 28, 4 53, 5 22, 5 50, 6 06, 6 12, 6 37, 6 45, 6 52, 6 59, 7 20, 7 46, 8 14, 8 50, 9 54, 11 02, 11 45 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 1, 2 43, 3 50, 4 43, 9 49, 10 28, 10 43 and 11 47 a. m., 12 05, 1 50, 2 47, 3 29, 4 50, 5 50, 6 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 4 37, 7 10, 7 50, 9 07, 9 30, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 35, 1 37, 2 43, 3 50, 4 28, 5 05, 5 40, 6 06, 6 45, 7 46, 9 39 and 11 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 5 39, 9 00, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39 a.m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 6 46, 7 20, 9 44 p m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 36, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39, 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 36, 9 44 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43, 10 36, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 20 a. m., 12 35, 2 43 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 (6 & 8 57, 7 10, 7 50, 9 05, 9 36, 11 43 a. m., 1 05, 1 37, 2 43, 5 08, 6 06, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 05, 4 (6, 9 (6 9 36, 10 49 A. M., 5 40, 6 06, 7 47 and 9 42 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 50 A. M., 2 43 and 6 36 p. m., and 5 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 50 A. M., 2 43 P. M.

For Freehold—7 50, 11 43 a. m., 4 36, 5 08 p.m., via Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via Monmouth Junction—7 50 and 11 43 a. m., 4 36 and 5 08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46, 12 46, 4 12 5 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.

For Boston—5 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 30, 7 25, 8 10, 8 20, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 20, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 20, 3 00, 3 20, 4 00, 4 10, 4 20, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 25, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40, 7 00, 7 20, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 20 p. m., 12 10 night. Sundays, 1 00 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 20, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10 15, 10 30 p. m., and 12 15 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass Agent

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 8 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 10 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 8 28 y

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place.

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 14 y

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.

E. B Gayle, No. 18 Vine St.

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 7-21-12

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 8 19 y

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. H. McCullough, Proprietor.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-11-1

C. W. LINES & CO.,

Mason and Builders.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence 18 Elmwood Place.

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 14

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 8 5 t

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 3 24, 7 07, 8 02, 8 03, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00, 11 30 a.m., 12 00, 12 30, 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 p. m. Sunday—3 24, 8 07, 8 02, 8 03, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00, 11 30 A. M., 12 00, 12 30, 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street, 6 00, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 40, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00 A. M., 12 00, 12 30, 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00, 11 30, 12 00, 12 30, 1, night, Sunday—6 00, 7 00, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00, 11 30 A. M., 12 00, 12 30, 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30 P. M., night, 1 00 A. M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 8 30, 6 10, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00, 11 30 A. M., 12 00, 12 30, 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 30 P. M. Sunday—7 00, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00, 11 30 A. M., 12 00, 12 30, 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

"LAIDLEY DAN SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 40, 7 10, 7 16, 8 04, 11 a.m., 12 05, 2 00, 2 25, 3 45, 4 30, 5 05, 5 14, 5 54, 6 04, 6 30, 7 08, 8 00, 10 55 p. m. Sunday—8 00, 8 21, 10 16, 11 23, 1 p. m. Night Sunday—6 40, 9 24, a. m., 2 05, 3 30, 5 14, 6 45, 8 10, 10 55, 11 14 P.M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 30, 7 00, 7 26, 7 36, 7 56, 8 20, 9 00, 9 46, 11 40 A. M., 12 50, 1 46, 3 05, 3 25, 4 26, 5 20, 6 12, 6 47, 8 45, 11 00, P. M. Sunday 8 20, 9 46, 10 55 A. M., 12 00, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 05, 9 40, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND BARTON

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 8 16, 9 54, A. M., 12 45, 2 26, 4 16, 6 21, 8 21, P. M. Sunday—8 45, 9 37 A. M. 8 21, P. M.

Leave Barton 6 05, 7 00, 8 55, A. M., 12 37, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sunday—1 15, 10 02, A. M. 6 40, 7 20, 8 21 P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

8 45 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Wauch Chunk, Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

5 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Wauch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D. L. & W. R. R., Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Wauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Tamaqua, Penticoke, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 44 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 08 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Wauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Wauch Chunk.

5 08 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch.

6 16 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Wauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 58 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Wauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

9 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

5 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Wauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 28 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 2 08 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Wauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6 58 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Wauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 37 a. m., 1 18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 8 37, 9, 10 27, a. m. 1 18, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 8 37, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 37, 8 58, 9 10 27 a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 5 54, 6 50, 7 08 p.m. Sunday—8 37, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 37, 8, 10 27 a.m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50 p.m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 45, 8 45, 10 45, a. m., 2 05, 5 10 8 21, 9 37 p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—5 45, 8 45, a. m., 2 05, 5 10, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 5 45, 8 45, 9 40, 10 45, a. m., 12 05, 2 05, 5 10, 6 30, 8 21, 9 37 p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday—5 45, 9 34, a. m., 2 05, 5 10 6 30 p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9 45, a. m., 2 05, 5 10, 6 45 p. m. 1 12, night. Sundays—9 45 a. m., 2 05, 5 10, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 34 p m. Sundays 5 15 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, weekdays at 9 54 a m., 6 23 p. m. Sundays 6 35 p. m.

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA, Reading terminal, 4 10, 9 30, 9 50, 11 35 a.m., 1 30 2 00, 5 15, 6 04, 9 25, p.m., 12 10, night. Sundays—4 10, 9 30, 9 50, 12 25 a. m., 8 50, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—2 55, 7 58, 9 21, 11 10, a.m. 2 00, 6 12, 9 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—2 55, 7 58, 12 19 p m, 8 50, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 00, 9 06, 10 26, a.m. 12 15, 2 10, 4 20, 5 54, 9 03 p.m Sundays—1 00, 4 00, 9 06, 10 27 a. m. 1 10, 4 19 6 49, 9 03 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN. Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt, answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Nearly 100,000 Now In Use.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO

EASY TERMS, — EXCHANGED.

Catalogue mailed on application.

110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y

MONEY LOANED.

Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1129 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 3m.

E. H. HOLMES,

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD,

YARD—No. 220 Madison Avenue. Also office for coal orders with Woolston & Pudin 165 North Jersey ave.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE.

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's

129 East Front street.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORETMIRESOPUBCFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats. Dress Shirts.
Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 189 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

OUR $3 SHOES

are better than ever before. Better means

More reliable,
More wear,
More style.

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, [illegible] each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany all.

Additional Wants and Offers appear today on Page 8.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 3 1 tf

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 24 6

EGGS for hatching from fine thoroughbred Plymouth Rocks, $1 per 13. Lozeaux, 1215 Putnam avenue. 3 23 3

A large house 17 rooms, suitable for a boarding house. Apply W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 21 4

TO RENT—Furnished, The Gables, Netherwood. For particulars apply on premises. 3 16 6

FOR RENT.—Store in the Alberti Building, 121 East Front st; changes made if desired to connect two floors. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

FOR RENT—House 208 East 5th st., from April 1; $35 a month; modern improvements. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

SMALL houses to let, centally located, $9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

SOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

MAN wants situation as coachman. Address Frederick Frederickson. Netherwood, N. J. 3 20 4

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No 115 Church st, between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. R. Force, 132 Park ave., boots and shoes. 3 23 6

FLAT to let, every convenience. Apply J. P. Taylor, 612 Park ave. 3 23 tf

WANTED—Small second-hand safe. Address Cash, care Press. 3 23 tf

BOARDERS and table boarders wanted in a private family, by the week, day, or meal. 130 North ave. 2nd. flat. 3 23 9

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

GIRL wanted for general housework. Apply 421 Kensington ave. 3 23 2

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

DIRT CHEAP—$1,300 will buy 6 acres good land house and barn, 2 miles from Plainfield. Wallace Vail, Babcock Building, room 211. 3 23 2

30 Acres good land to rent on shares. Apply P. C. Ohl. 3 23 6

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 18, 1895.

Adams Miss Rosilia	McGowen Patrick
Allen Strom	Miles W T
Brown Maggie	Moore & Co Wm W
Bayler T F	Nolan P
Burke James	Napunsky Adam
Coverly Fred	Pearce Herman S
Deloy Lucy	Post W
Eicke Lizzie	Preston H
Elder Harriet	Pentency Jinia
Fullom Lizzie	Randolph Mrs Louisa
Goepbel Mr	Russell J C
Gillispie & Son Wm	Seely E
Hanfield Phebe	Simpson Mrs Emily
Harben Jasper L	Sparks Louisa
Henley Mr	Sutphen Prime
Haney M A	Sumbom Roy
Hyatt Mrs Jennie	Truman Mrs W N
Hankerson A	Vail Ralph L
Jeroin Mrs	Washington Louisa
Jennings Annie	Wendell David
Jones Lewis	Williams C H
James Miss Ollie	Wells Lee
King James	Ward Ogle
Kimball Miss J	Watkins Mrs Florence
McDoland Mrs	Willoughby H
Michel Mr	Young Rev Dr W C

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1 50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.

128 NORTH AVENUE.

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY.

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.

The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½
Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.
Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.
We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

QUEEN & CO. —OF— PHILADELPHIA, SEND THEIR EYE SPECIALIST TO PLAINFIELD

Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street,

Dunham's Real Estate Office,

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS.

OFFICES—56 West Front street; 10 Park avenue. Post Office Box 238.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 9t

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON.

New No. 122, North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

Blauvelt Will Ride

THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue

OU MAY BE HAPPY

—IN—

Hallock's Handsome Hats.

IF YOU WANT

ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Continued from Page 6.

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER II.

Veronica Laranigra was charmed to find her necklace; she was still more charmed to find an adventure through it.

This beautiful youth with his starry eyes, soft with admiration, who had brought her back the opals, looked like a knight out of fairyland. She was young; she was weary of the seclusion of her widowhood; she was kept in close constraint by those who had authority over her; she was ready to reenter life in its enjoyments, its amusements, its affections, its desires. The tragic end of her husband had impressed and saddened her, but she had recovered from its shock. The marriage had been arranged by their respective families, and the hearts of neither had been consulted. Laranigra, however, had become much in love with her, and had left her all which it was in his power to leave, and that had been much.

"How clever it was of you to see my opals under the grass and the sand!" she said, a few minutes later, as Andreis presented Damer in the long, dim room hung with tapestries and rich in bronzes, marbles, pictures and mosaics.

She was like a picture of Caterina Cornaro as she stood on the balcony of her house; her gold hair was enclosed in a pearl-sown net, and her cloak of red satin, lined with sables, lay on her shoulders and fell to her feet like the robes of a Dagaressa; for her dead lord she had felt no regret. The balcony was filled with spiræa, whose white blossoms were like snow about her in the starlight and lamplight as the gondola which brought Andreis and his companion to her palace paused below at the water-stairs. She threw her cloak on a couch as she spoke; she was dressed in black, but the gauze sleeves of the gown showed her fair arms, and the bodice was slightly open on her bosom; her face was bright like a rose above the deep shadow of the gown. her hair had been a little ruffled by the wind of the evening as she had stood on the balcony.

"Madam," said Damer, as he bowed to her with a strange and unwelcome sense of embarrassment, "Prince Andreis should not have told you that I had such good fortune. I am no fit squire of dames; he is."

She did not catch his meaning. She turned from him a little impatiently, and addressed Andreis.

She spoke of music. Andreis was accomplished in that art; there was a mandolin lying on the grand piano; he took it up and sang to it a Sicilian love-song; she took it from him and sang Venetian barcarolle and stornelli; then they sang together, and their clear, youthful voices blent harmoniously. People passing on the canal stopped their gondolas under the balcony to listen; some Venetian professional musicians in a boat applauded. Damer sat in the shadow and listened, and looked at them. Music said little or nothing to him; he had scarcely any comprehension of it; but something in the sound of those blended voices touched a chord in his nature—made him feel vaguely sad, restlessly desirous, foolishly irritated. The light fell on the handsome head of Andreis, on the carnations at the lady's throat, on the rings on their hands which touched as they took the mandolin one from the other; behind them was the open casement, the balcony with its white spiræa, the lighted frontage of a palace on the opposite side of the canal. As they ceased to sing the people below on the water applauded again, and cried: "Brava! brava! brava!"

THEY SANG TOGETHER.

"Prince Andreis is a poet," said Damer, with a harsh tone in his voice.

"Who never wrote a verse," said Andreis, as he handed a cup of coffee to his hostess.

Through the closed windows the sounds of a chorus sung by the strolling singers below came faintly and muffled into the room; the lamplight shone on the white spray of the spiræa, which looked like a crystal of snow.

"If I had found the opals I should have been inspired by them," he added. "As it is, I am dumb and unhappy."

Veronica Laranigra smiled.

"If you are dumb, so was Orpheus."

"And if you are unhappy," added Damer, "you are only so out of wantonness because the gods have given you too many gifts."

"Or because he has stolen a piece of spiræa," said Veronica.

"I may keep my theft?" asked Andreis.

"Yes. For you brought back the opals, though you did not find them."

Soon after they took their leave of her and went down to the waiting gondola. The boatload of musicians had drifted upwards towards Rialto, the colors of their paper lanthorns glowing through the dark. There was no moon. They did not speak to each other in the few minutes which carried them to their hotel. When they reached it they parted with a brief good night. Neither asked the other what his impressions of the evening had been.

When the young Sicilian prince, Lionello Andreis, head of an ancient Hispano Italian family, had met with a hunting accident and the tusks of an old boar had brought him near to death, an English surgeon, by name Frederic Damer, who was then in Palermo, did for him what none of the Italian surgeons dared to do, and, so far as the phrase can ever be correct of human action, saved his life. A year had passed since then; the splendid vitality of the Sicilian had returned to all its natural vigor; he was only twenty-four years of age and naturally strong as a young oak in the woods of Etna. But he had a mother who loved him, and was anxious; she begged the Englishman to remain awhile near him; the Sicilian laughed but submitted; he and Damer had traveled together during several months, and were now about in another month to part company; the Sicilian to return to his own people, the Englishman to occupy a chair of physiology in a town of northern Europe. Their lives had been briefly united by accident and would have parted in peace; a collar of opals was by chance washed up amongst the flags and burdocks of Torcello and the shape of their fate was altered.

Damer was the son of a country physician, but his father had been poor, the family numerous, and he, a third son, had been sent out into the world with only his education as his capital. He practiced surgery to live; he practiced physiology to reach through it that power and celebrity for which his nature craved and his mental capacity fitted him. But at every step his narrow means galled and fretted him, and he had been a demonstrator, an assistant, a professor in schools, when his vast ability and relentless will fitted him for the position of a Helmholtz or a Virchow in that new priesthood which had arisen to claim the rule of mankind, and sacrifices to itself all sentient races.

In Andreis he saw all the powers of youth and wealth concentrated in one who merely used them for a careless enjoyment and a thoughtless good nature which seemed to himself as senseless as the dance in the sun of an amorous negro. Andreis and the whole of his family had shown him the utmost gratitude, liberality and consideration, and the young prince bore from him good-humoredly sarcasms and satires which he would not have supported from an emperor; but Damer in his turn felt for the Sicilian and his people nothing but the contempt of the great intellect for the uncultured mind, the irritation of the wise man who sees a child gayly making a kite to divert itself out of the parchments of a treatise in an unknown tongue which, studied, might have yielded up to the student the secret of perished creeds and of lost nations. There is no pride so arrogant, no supremacy so unbending, as those of the intellect. It may stand, like Belisarius, a beggar at the gate; but, like Belisarius, it deems itself the superior of all the crowds who drop their alms to it, and while it stretches out its hand to them its lips curse them.

"I wish I had lived when this collar was new," Veronica Laranigra said, when her jewelers returned to her the opals restored to their pristine brilliancy. "Life in Venice was one long festa then. I have read of it. It was all masque and serenade and courtship and magnificence. People were not philosophical about life then; they lived—Mina Laranigra was a beautiful woman. They have her portrait in the Belle Arte. It is by Lucchi. She holds a rose to her lips and laughs. She was killed by her husband for an amour. She had these opals on her throat when he drove the stiletto through it. At least so Carlo used to tell me. But perhaps it was not true."

"Do not wear them," said Andreis, to whom she was speaking. "Do not wear them if they are blood-stained, You know they are pierres de malheur."

She laughed.

"You Sicilians are superstitious. We northerners are not. I like to wear them for that very reason of their tragedy."

She took up the necklace and clasped it round her throat; some tendrils of her hair caught in the clasp; she gave an involuntary little cry of pain; Andreis hastened to release her hair from the clasp. His hand trembled; their eyes met, and said much to each other. Damer, who was near, drew nearer. She was silent, looking at him with that mixture of curiosity, interest and vague apprehension which he always aroused in her. She was not very intelligent, but she had quick susceptibilities; there was that in him which alarmed them and yet fascinated them.

"He awes me," she said later in the day to Andreis. "So often one cannot follow his meaning, but one always feels his reserve of power."

It was a grave speech for a light-hearted lover of pleasure. Andreis heard it with vexation, but he was loyal to the man who had saved his life.

"He is a person of great intellect," he answered; "we are pigmies beside him. But—"

"But what?"

"He used his brains to save my body. So I must not dispute the virtue of his use of them. But sometimes I fancy that he has no heart. I think all the forces in him have only nourished his mind, which is immense. But his heart, perhaps, has withered away, getting no nourishment. He would say I talk nonsense; but I think you will understand what I mean."

"I think I understand," said Veronica, thoughtfully.

She had thought very little in her careless young life. She had begun to think more since these two men had come into it.

"Andreis merits more than you give him," said her duenna to her. "How long will you keep him in suspense? You ought to remember 'what hell it is in waiting to abide.'"

"A hell?" said Veronica, with the color in her face. "You mean a paradise."

"A fool's paradise, I fear," replied the elder woman. "And what does that other man do here? He told me he was due at some university in Germany."

"How can I tell you why either of them stays?" said Veronica, disingenuously, as her conscience told her. "Venice allures many people, especially in her spring season."

"So does a woman in her spring," said the elder lady, dryly, with an impatient gesture.

"You are angry with me."

"No, my dear. It is as useless to be angry with you as to be angry with a young cat because in its gambols it breaks a vase of which it knows nothing of the preciousness."

Veronica Laranigra did not resent or reply. She knew the vase was precious. She did not mean to break it; but she wanted to be free awhile longer. Mutual love was sweet, but it was not freedom. And what she felt ashamed of was a certain reluctance which she felt to allow Damer to see or know that she loved a man of so little intellectual force as Andreis, a man who had nothing but his physical beauty and his gay, glad temper and kind heart.

"I LIKE TO WEAR THEM FOR THE REASON OF THE TRAGEDY."

"Do you want nothing more than these?" the gaze of Damer seemed in her imagination to say to her.

Andreis was delightful to her; his beauty, his gayety, and his homage were all sympathetic to her. She knew that he loved her, but she prevented him telling her so; she liked her lately acquired liberty; she did not want a declaration which would force her to decide in one way or another what to do with her future. And she was affected without being aware of it by the scarcely disguised contempt which his companion had for him. It was seldom outspoken, but it was visible in every word of Damer, in every glance.

"He is beautiful, yes," he said once to her. "So is an animal."

"Do you like animals?"

"I do not like or dislike them. The geologist does not like or dislike the stones he breaks up, the metallurgist does not like or dislike the ore he fuses."

"You are what they call a physiologist?" she said once, suddenly.

"I am," replied Damer.

She looked at him under her long silky lashes as a child looks at what it fears in the dusk of a fading day. He attracted her and repelled her, as when she had herself been a child she had been at once charmed and frightened by the great ghostly figures on the tapestries, and the white and gray busts of gods and sages on the grand winged staircase of her father's house in the Trentino. She would have liked to ask him many things, things of mystery and of horror, but she was afraid. After all, how much better were the sea, the sunshine, the dog rose, the bar carolle, the laughter, the lute!

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

—The commuters' attempt to petition for faster time on the 7:58 train has been abandoned.

—Artist William Mullon has completed a handsome gold sign on the the plate glass windows of F. S. Taylor's music store in the Schepflin block on West Front street.

—The radiators for the fourth floor of the Babcock Building have arrived and are being placed in position by steamfitters from New York, who have the contract for all the steamfitting in that building.

—The Cranford and Plainfield Bowling clubs will bowl a game on the Board of Trade alleys tomorrow night in the Elizabeth Journal League.

—H. N. Spencer and Jacob Voehl as appraisers of the property of the late Daniel Cory finished their work last week. The personal property appraised is valued at $50,500.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

WE TAKE THE RISK, and don't ask any one to take our word for it that

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills

cure dyspepsia, indigestion, habitual constipation, and sick headache. We want to send you a free sample. Then you can tell whether you want to buy them or not. Address

DR. J. A. DEANE CO.,
Kingston, New York.

They are for sale at all druggists. 25 cents.

Mrs. Dr. Endicott has gone on a visit to White Plains.

Frank Putnam will remove from Orchard place to 133 East Fifth street.

L. L. Manning left for Boston this afternoon, on a business trip for two or three days.

The death of Julia Donahue, aged 55 years, occurred at her home on East Second street yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Q. Lawson expect to return to their residence on West Seventh street, the middle of May.

Rev. Dr. Murray, Dean of Princeton College, and father of Dr. Murray of this city, preached two very effective sermons in the Crescent Avenue Church yesterday.

The farewell reception to be tendered Rev. Herbert B. Munson in Monroe Avenue Chapel Wednesday evening, is under the auspices of all the societies of the chapel.

Clarence M. Smith of New York, formerly of Plainfield and a member of the Class of '95 in the High School, has been spending a few days with H. Oscar Nightingale of Sandford avenue.

—Fair tomorrow; westerly winds.

—The Y. M. C. A. Cyclers, already numbering 36, will meet Wednesday, March 27, at 9 p. m.

—F. R. Stevens of South avenue has contracted with Wm. Hand & Son to remove his furniture to one of the flats in the Hart Building at Park avenue and Fourth street, tomorrow.

—J. Fred McDonald, the hustling uptown grocer, has started an opposition to the Plainfield postoffice, by having a glass sign placed over the letter box in front of his store which reads "Postage stamps and postal cards for sale in the store".

Dinner and Dance.

A dinner followed by an informal dance was given by H. Oscar Nightingale to a few of his friends at his home on Sandford avenue Friday evening. The decorations were very artistic and the entire evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Those present were Misses Franc Bailey and Josephine Whiting of Bound Brook, Misses Elizabeth Cornwell, Nora Williams and Clarence M. Smith of New York, Edgar I. Serrell and Albert Woltmann.

—Douglass Martin, 8½-year-old brother of F. L. C. Martin, has scarlet fever. The house is quarantined.

Spain's New Ministry.

Madrid, March 25.—The cabinet is not yet in working order, as several of the new ministers are absent. It will thus order secretaries and prefects are offering their resignations. The general opinion is that the deputies will vote the budget and nothing else.

$700,000 Fire at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., March 25.—Fire, which started from unexplained causes, destroyed the greater portion of Reed Bros'. packing house in Armourdale last evening, involving a loss of fully $700,000.

Ponsonby in a Moribund State.

London, March 25.—Sir Henry F. Ponsonby, private secretary to Queen Victoria, and keeper of the privy purse, is said to be in a moribund state.

My neighbor's jackass made more noise
Than all the hens in my back lot.
The jackass' bray was nothing worth,
But each day found eggs in my pot.
To tell the town of his new store
My neighbor scattered posters wide,
I used The Press—a page or more;
My store was filled; my neighbor—died.

QUEENSBERRY INDICTED.

London, March 25.—The Grand Jury today presented a true bill against the Marquis of Queensberry for libelling Oscar Wilde.

Sewer Bids.

The employes of the city engineer's office have furnished 75 copies of sewer specifications to contractors all over the country who will furnish bids at the Common Council meeting tonight. Each contractor will have to deposit $2,000 with the City Clerk when he files his bid as a forfeit if he should fail to comply with its provisions.

Three Months for $14.

John Filmore, who was held for the Grand Jury before Justice Newcorr, on the charge of burglary, preferred by his sister, Mrs. Frank Hallenbeck, pleaded guilty to the charge before the Court of Sessions in Elizabeth, and was sentenced to the county jail for three months. The property which he stole was 200 pounds of copper, valued at $14.

Lena Smalley of Somerset street has recovered from her recent illness.

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them"

Can readily be ascertained by visiting

HORNER'S

Great Furniture Emporium

where everything is of the best quality, artistic excellence, and moderate in price. No such assortment of reliable goods can be seen in America.

Over two hundred and fifty distinctly different Bedroom Sets in all the various woods, Brass Bedsteads in over seventy patterns, as well as endless lines of Parlor, Drawing-Room, Library and Dining-Room Furniture.

Hundreds of Imported Novelties particularly suitable for presents, or home use and decoration.

All prices in plain figures.

R. J. HORNER & CO.,

Furniture Makers and Importers,

61-65 W. 23d St., New York,

Adjoining Eden Musee.

Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Additional Wants and Offers appear today on Page 7.

SIDE-BAR surrey, phaeton top; price $160. Inquire at 740 West 3d st. 3 25 6

TO LET—Double house, corner La-Grande ave. and Franklin place, all improvements, first class order, large lawn. Apply Mulford, Vail, or VanBuren, brokers North ave. 3 25 4-m t m t

COLORED girl wants situation as ch mbermaid or waitress. 230 Park ave. 3 25 6

FOR SALE—Two St. Bernard dogs, male and female. Can be seen at Blimm's hotel, Somerset st., Wednesday March 27, between 10 and 12 a. m.

WANTED—Walnut extension table, square ends, not less than 10 feet. Address P. O. Box 612.

FOR SALE—Horse, wagon and harness, $40. Call 1325 Lake st. 3 25 3

HOUSE and building lots for sale in Westfield, N. J., high ground, good neighborhood, convenient to depot. Address box 104 Westfield N. J. 3 24 6-3 28 4 e

CORNER flats to let, improvements, steam heat, corner store. Miller 339 Park ave. 3 25 6

FOR SALE—7 or 8 good loads of manure. Apply 452 West 2nd st.

BARN for sale or will trade for a horse and wagon. Address J. care Press.

AN experienced middle aged double entry bookkeeper desires a position; Plainfield or New York; highest reference. Address Experience, care Press.

WANTED—A situation to take care of horses and lawn. Address 209 W. Front st. 3 25 2

YOUNG lady wanted in office to do copying; must be a good writer. Address, stating salary expected, J. E. P., care Press. 3 25 3

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams	10¼c pound
Fine butter	25c pound
Lard	9c pound
New can peas	10c
3 cans new tomatoes	25c
2 pound citron	25
3 pound raisins	25
Granulated sugar	4½c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

A CLEAN WASH! SOAP, SOAP.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW

only hope that you will embrace this opportunity and purchase an elegant box containing three cakes of fine toilet soap for 10c.

Lavender Salts, bottle	25c.
Royal Talcum Powder, box	10c.
Layons Tooth Powder, box	18c.
Box of O. C. O. Complexion Powder and bottle of Perfume, special	10c.
Extra quality ½ hose, 15c. pair, 2 for	25c.
Men's medium weight underwear	39c.

Warner Bro's. CORSETS.
Thompson's "Glove Fitting"

HEATH & DRAKE

Grand Opening

New Spring

CARPETS!

on

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY

March 27 and 28,

at which time we will have on exhibition the choicest and most exclusive line of Carpets ever exhibited in this State.

Royal Wilton from $1 50 up.
Axminster from $1 yd up.
Body Brussels from 90c yd up.
Tapestry Brussels from 60c yd up.
Ingrain carpets from 40c yd up.
Linoleums from 50c yd up.
Oilcloth from 25c yd up.
Mattings from $3 75 per roll.

Splendid new line of Rugs, Art Squares, etc., at moderate prices.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend this opening and inspect the goods, whether they want to purchase or not.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET,

Newark, N. J

DEATHS.

MORALLER—In this city March 24, 1895, Anna wife of Lew's Moraller, aged 54 years. Funeral services from her late residence, 109 West 2d street, Tuesday, March 26, at 2 p. m., and from St. Mary's R. C. Church at 2:30.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 26 y

SPRING MILLINERY DISPLAY,

Wednesday, March 27, of all the latest novelties in Hats, Bonnets, Dutch Bonnets, Napoleon and 20th Century Turbans, Flowers, Ribbons, and all the accessories in Trimmings that complete the newest styles.

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., under First National Bank

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System

used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

AUCTION!

H. HAND, Auctioneer.

The undersigned having disposed of his farm will sell without reserve, on the premises situate on the Terrell road (near Two Bridges) in Fanwood Township, commencing promptly at 1 P.M. on Tuesday, March 26, 1895.

2 horses, 1 cow, Chickens, Turkeys, Ducks, Guineas. Heavy farm wagon, nearly new 2 spring wagons, 2 buggies, 3-spring wagon, Jagger wagon, Sleigh, set double and single harness, 3 Mowing machines, one new, Threshing machine, Fanning mill, Cutting box, Sulky horse rake, Riding Cultivator 3 plows, Harrows, Cornmarker, Grindstone, Hay, Cornstalks, Hoes, Forks, Shovels, Road scrapers, Household goods, etc. No postponement on account of the weather. Conditions made known at the sale.

A. J. RYNO.

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit.

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton abattoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 208 Liberty street.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

FILLING UP ON WATER.

Plans of a Wealthy Syndicate to Make Lakes in New Jersey.

According to reports circulated in Somerville, a party of wealthy residents of New Jersey are about to form two great lakes in the hills, one in Hub Hollow, near their summer houses in Bernardsville, and the other in the Den Valley in the vicinity of Mount Tabor. Among those mentioned are George B. Post of New York, Edward Talmadge of Brooklyn, and George Ballentine of Newark, who have through their counsel, A. Wright Post, purchased 366 acres of land for $27,000 in Hub Hollow. The mountain streams which now course through the Hollow will be checked by a dam of solid masonry thirty-three feet in height in order to form a lake, to be known as Pleasant Valley Lake, which will cover over 100 acres. The shores of the lake are to be cleared of old trees and otherwise beautified. It is expected that it will be formed before midsummer.

Howell Brothers, who own a large tract of land at Den Valley, are preparing to build a dam which will confine several mountain streams forming a lake one and one-half miles long and a half-mile wide. This body of water will be within easy walking distance of Mount Tabor.

ADMIRE THEIR CONQUERORS.

Quaker City Whisters Salute the Champion Park Club 4 as Foemen Worthy of Their Deal.

(From The Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

The crack Hamilton four that have won American Whist League trophy matches from the whist celebrities of Chicago, New York, Boston, Brooklyn and Baltimore, had their colors lowered for the first time on Saturday, being beaten by the hitherto unknown (to whist fame) Park Club of Plainfield, by one point. The visitors played a very strong, heady game of whist, sticking closely to the rules. They never played or were fooled by false cards, and believe in the wise policy of always taking all the tricks in sight.

The Hamiltonians played about their average game, but were especially unfortunate in their system of opening the fourth best with ace and four others in suit. The visitors made the book opening, and the situation occurred frequently, and always, as the cards happened to be, worked in favor of the ace lead.

There was another point in system in which the visitors got much the best of it. With four trumps and three short suits the visitors always opened trumps, even with an honor turned; the Hamiltonians do not believe in this. The position of the cards, however, made it winning play.

The Park Club deserves hearty congratulations for its achievement in defeating so strong a team in its debut in first-class whist, and is unquestionably destined to play a most prominent part in the future important whist matches of the country. Henceforth the Plainfield players must rank among the leaders of American whist, and Eastern players should unite in urging the Park Club management to send its four to Minneapolis next June.

A Secretary Resigns.

On account of removal from the city, Miss Nellie Crawford resigned last night from the office of recording secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed Church.

The society regretfully accepted the resignation and unanimously elected Miss Ella Gardner to fill the unexpired term. The corresponding secretary was instructed to write a letter to Miss Crawford expressing the society's regrets at her departure, and thanking her for her valued services.

Appointments By Gov. Werts.

Gov. Werts has made the following ad interim appointments of persons whose nominations were rejected by the Senate last week: For law judge of Middlesex County, J. Kearney Rice; for prosecutor of Middlesex County, Robert Adrain; for prosecutor of Gloucester County, A. H. Swackhamer; for lay judge of Gloucester County, S. Bowman Cox; for lay judge of Salem County, William Newell.

—The two electric lamps on Somerset street between Chatham street and Craig place have been out of light the past three nights.

—Contractor Jacob Gulick has commenced the mason work on the foundation of the Watson J. Tunison house, South avenue, Netherwood.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

ANOTHER CONQUEST.

Plainfield's Second Defeat of the Quaker City.

THE CLIMAX GUN CLUB INVINCIBLE.

Terry Distinguished Himself—The Keystone Shooting League of Philadelphia Enjoy a Day of Sport with Plainfielders and Go Home Defeated—The Day Was Unpropitious, but Parson Dan Got There, Just the Same.

Following close on the victory of the Park Club at whist, the conquest of the Climax Gun Club of this city over the Keystone Shooting League of Philadelphia on the former's grounds at Fanwood yesterday would seem to indicate that the Plainfielders are too fast for the Quakerites at all the contests in which they engage. The Keystones are classed as the best shooters in Pennsylvania, but the Climax boys were invincible and easily carried away the honors of the match.

The visiting team arrived from Philadelphia at 10:08 yesterday morning and were met at the North avenue station by a delegation of local sportsmen, who immediately conveyed them to the club grounds in stages.

The original conditions of the match were that each team should consist of 15 men and each man to shoot 15 birds. The Philadelphians, however, were unable to bring more than 13 men, and the Plainfielders agreed to shoot with an equal number.

Soon after their arrival at the traps the contest was started, and finished at 5 in the afternoon. The inclemency of the weather made good scores a difficult thing to attain on account of the irregular flight of the birds and the constant changing sky reflection, but Parson Dan Terry got there just the same with a straight fifteen—the only one to make the score. The score follows:

CLIMAX.		KEYSTONE.
Dan Terry	15	B. Landis	14
Scott Terry	14	W. M. Pack	14
A. Woodruff	14	W. H. Wolstencroft	13
N. Apgar	14	F. W. Budd	13
Capt. Morey	14	J. Wolstencroft	13
C. Smith	14	W. Wilson	13
F. Van Dyke	13	A. Janner	13
P. Jay	13	Joseph Leaming	12
T. H. Keller	12	John Rothacker	12
E. M. Cooper	12	H. Thurman	12
C. Zwerlein	12	W. H. Pack	12
W. Zeglio	12	J. W. Wolstencroft	11
Total	159	Total	153

In conjunction with the team match an optional sweep stakes was shot in which all participated, except Scott Terry and W. H. Pack. The purse was $5 a man, divided into four moneys. The first money of $16, was, of course, captured by "Parson Dan". The fourteens got second money, the thirteens third money and the twelves fourth money.

At the conclusion of the shoot three cheers were given by the Climax members to the visiting contestants, which were returned with an enthusiasm that gave evidence that the visit had been a pleasant one. During the noon hour a cold lunch was served by Max Wiertz.

The return game will be shot on the grounds of the Keystone Club at Holmesberg Junction near Philadelphia on Tuesday, April 16, when 15 men will constitute the team. The Climax Club believe that they are stronger with their number of men, and therefore feel confident of again carrying away the honors on that date.

The shoot was arranged by T. H. Keller and much credit is due him for the successful manner in which the affair was carried off—a noticeable feature being the absence of the rougher element who have heretofore attended and attached an odium that caused a false impression as to the sport to permeate the mind of outsiders.

A Successful Journal.

That old beacon-light of the northern New Jersey Democracy, The Warren Journal, owned and published by John M. Simerson in Belvidere, the county-seat of Warren, has been strengthened by Mr. Simerson's taking into partnership with him William O'Niel of Belvidere, who for the past ten years has been surrogate of that county. A new four-story building, heated by steam, lighted by electricity, and furnished with all the modern appliances, is to be erected, and as the paper has always been a paying institution there is no doubt of its future being made even more successful by the genial Mr. O'Niel.

Fourth Anniversary.

The Washingtonville Society of Christian Endeavor will celebrate its fourth anniversary tonight in the Wilson Memorial Chapel. Rev. C. E. Herring will make an address and an interesting programme has been arranged. A cordial invitation is extended to all Endeavorers to attend.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Nettled at Plainfield's Victory, Rahway Wheelmen Spitefully Arrange for Competition.

The Union County Roadsters, who were defeated by the Plainfield Crescent Wheelmen in the battle for the Decoration Day sanction, have decided to have their race meet on May 30 without the necessary sanction from the racing board. It is difficult to see how enough entries can be obtained, as any one competing in an unsanctioned meet will receive anywhere from three to six-months suspension, which would prevent them from competing in any races during the Summer.

It is understood that Chairman Gideon of the racing board favors the creating of a third class, to be known as the cash prize class. The League of American Wheelmen is just beginning to get out of difficulties which the makers' amateur or semi-professional class got it into before the adoption of Class B. Cash prize racing has not been successful in one instance, and has done much to lower the sport.

COLLIS POND INVESTS.

A Plainfielder's Interest in a Quarter-Million Concern.

The Elizabeth Chemical Company filed articles of incorporation with the County Clerk in Elizabeth yesterday, with a capital of $250,000. The incorporators are Collis Taylor Pond, of Plainfield and Adolph R. Frank and Samuel H. Guggenheimer, of New York city. The plant will be situated in the lower part of Elizabeth.

Plainfield Schools Should Have This Drill.

The value of level-headed teachers and a perfect fire drill was demonstrated in Public School No. 4, Jersey City, last week. Miss Julia C. Minihan is the principal of the primary department of the school. She was opening the school for the morning session when Janitress Walsh entered and whispered to her that there was a fire in the cellar. The place is in the left wing and directly under the room in which were seated fully two hundred little pupils. Miss Minihan quietly called to the teachers—Misses Ginnochia, Ward, Quidore, Dougherty and Talson—and told them to get the children in line. By this time considerable smoke was in the room, but with teachers to lead the children out just as they had done at fire drills in a few minutes the primary department was empty. The children were marshalled in line in the playground and the teachers carried out their clothing. Principal Wakeman, of the grammar department, finding there was no danger so far as his part of the building was concerned, started his pupils singing patriotic songs. There was no excitement whatever, and the firemen extinguished the blaze without the slightest difficulty.

A Fortunate Escape.

Friends of Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff of Duer street are congratulating her on her fortunate escape from serious injury in what was a dangerous accident.

Mrs. Woodruff was putting away two flatirons in a closet. The shelf on which she placed them sloped, and as she turned away one of them fell off. She stooped to pick it up, and as she was rising again the other flatiron fell, striking her a cruel blow on the head. The pain continued so severe that Dr. Davis was called, and under his excellent care serious results were averted. Fortunately Mrs. Woodruff had risen almost to standing posture when the blow came. Had she been stooping lower the distance would have increased the force so that her skull would likely have been crushed.

This Has Too Long Been a Nuisance.

For years (and why is far beyond the understanding of the public) there has been permitted to remain unpaved by flagging a stretch of about ten feet of the sidewalk on the northwesterly side of Somerset street, about 100 feet west of Front street. During nearly all seasons of the year it is almost impossible to cross that place without wading in deep mud made by surface drainage that nearly always flows from the lane. The Street Committee should see that this nuisance is forthwith abated.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs and expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PRESIDENT M'CUTCHEN.

North Plainfield School Board Reorganizes and Accepts a Flag.

The Board of Education of North Plainfield met last evening, pursuant to the law which requires them to meet within ten days of election to organize.

The Board elected S. St. J. McCutchen president, and S. B. Joseph district clerk.

A communication was presented from Somerset Council, No. 104, J. O. U. A. M., offering to donate to the school a United States flag.

This offer was accepted with the thanks of the Board.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Lawyer J. H. Powers is in Newark today on business.

Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson is severely ill with erysipelas.

Alexander Gee of Bayonne is the guest of Plainfield friends.

Miss May Rodman of La Grande avenue is visiting friends in Montclair.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Bartlett, Jr., will remove April 1 to 63 Westervelt avenue.

Mrs. Charles Delahunt of Grove street is slowly improving from a severe illness.

Wm. H. Rockfellow and family of Somerset street will move April 1 to Orange.

A. W. Fulper and family have moved from 339 Somerset street to East Second street.

Miss Clara Herold of Brooklyn has been visiting Miss Etta Blatz of Somerset street.

Ex-Assemblyman George Crammer of Somerset County was visiting friends in town today.

Miss Jennie McKillop of Westervelt avenue returned yesterday from a visit to New York.

Miss Annie Negley has returned to her home in Monroe, N. Y., after a visit with friends in town.

David Rushmore of Cornell University is at his home on Grove street for his Spring vacation.

Miss Sophia Budd will entertain a few friends at her home on Clinton avenue Wednesday evening.

Mrs. S. C. Peck of West Front street is visiting at the home of Mr. Peck's parents, Milford, Conn.

Letter carrier Robert H. Loughlin and family today moved from Watchung avenue to the Voehl flats.

James Pennoyer of Brooklyn was in town yesterday visiting Thaddeus J. F. B. Doage on East Fifth street.

Frank VanWinkle and family returned today to their home in Newark, after a two-weeks visit with relatives in the city.

Harry L. Day, who is ill at his home on Rockview avenue with typhoid fever, showed no signs of improvement yesterday.

Hattie V. Swackhamer of White House, Hunterdon county, has been visiting her brother, H. H. Swackhammer on Park avenue.

Miss Sadie Blimm pleasantly entertained a number of friends at cards and dancing at her home, Somerset street last night.

The Misses Martha and Mildred Walker returned to New Milford, Conn., today, after a visit to their father at his home, Grove street.

Stephen Haff of Evona has been engaged by J. Howard Leggett the druggist, and will learn the business under his careful instructions.

Miss Clyde Slater of Jackson avenue, who has been spending the past week with Col. and Mrs. J. B. Mulligan of New York city, will return to her home today.

The funeral services of Mrs. Austin Sturtevant were held from her late home on Liberty street yesterday afternoon. The interment was in the Methodist cemetery.

T. J. McGann was engaged all day yesterday removing three large cherry trees which interfered with the building of Joseph Blatz's new home on Somerset street.

George B. Titsworth of Madison avenue, who has been recuperating at Walter's Park Sanitarium, Warnersville, Pa., the past few weeks, after a five-months illness with typhoid fever, resumed work in the Potter Press Works yesterday.

Mrs. J. H. Cundy and her mother, Mrs. Green, will leave their home on Johnston avenue this afternoon to take the steamship Majestic which sails early Wednesday morning for Liverpool. Mrs. Green will reside there permanently. Mrs. Cundy will be absent a year.

—The Township Committee of North Plainfield will meet this evening at Demler's hotel.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

LOW BID FOR SEWERS.

Only $42,000 Wanted for the 17 Miles.

HONAN & SONS OF CHESTER, PA.

Their Figure the Lowest, and They Are Likely to be Given the Contract—Common Council Adopts the New Building Ordinance, and Does Much Other Work—Street Railway Consents Withdrawn.

Under suspension of the rules, the first business of the Common Council last night was the opening of bids for sewer construction. Clerk MacMurray unsealed the envelopes and announced the figures; he was assisted by Councilmen Fisk and Ginna. The lobby was filled with contractors and pipe-supply men, and there was much computation among them to reach the totals of the bidders in an effort to see who would likely get the contract. All of the bids were in detail, and the aggregate had to be found by many multiplications and additions.

The bidders were as follows: Bernard Brady, Plainfield; Thos. Redling, Perth Amboy; Honan & Sons, Chester, Pa.; James J. Cogan, Bayonne; Thos. F. Moore, Buffalo; William H. Watters, Bayonne; George W. Rueb, Philadelphia; P. H. Harrison & Sons, Newark; Thos. Siddall, Trenton; Patrick T. Plunkett, Jersey City; Bogert & Farrell, Brooklyn; Rehill & Nelson, Dunellen; Dodge & McGregor, Buffalo; McGuire, McKnight & Co., East Orange; Gardner & Barnett, Akron, Ohio; James F. Gillem, Brooklyn; Prout & Love, Plainfield; John Marsden, Utica.

The pipe-men figured at once that Honan & Sons of Chester, Pa., were likely the lowest bidders, and today it was found that their bid was less than $42,000 for the entire 17 miles. This is an unusually low figure, in face of the fact that the price of pipe has gone up ten per cent. The next lowest bidders are Thomas F. Moore of Buffalo, and Bogert & Farrell of Brooklyn.

The successful bidder will be announced at the April meeting of the Council. The original estimate of the cost of the sewers was $90,000 for 20 miles. The five miles already laid cost less than $19,000, and the 22 miles will therefore cost only about $60,000.

After the sewer bids were read there was an exodus of the contractors army. The long, important ordinance concerning buildings was adopted on second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised, as was also that establishing the office of inspector of buildings.

At 10:10 the regular order of business was taken up.

An impudent letter from a disgruntled foreign contractor, who charged that a small piece of business was done in discriminating in favor of those bidders who could give bonds in Union County, was received and filed.

Licenses were granted as follows: Cartmen—John A. Scott, A. Parsons, Moses Carey, L. J. Combs, Wm. Phillips. Peddler—K. Sachar, Edward Cline, John J. Goff, Wm. Pizie. Truckmen—William Hand & Son, Thomas Finney. Stage—G. A. Schenck. Auctioneer—Wm. Hand.

Petitions were received and referred to the proper committees as follows: For a sidewalk on West Fourth street from Plainfield avenue to Grant avenue; an extension of Fred Caspar's East Front street building; for repairs to the building of E. H. Holmes at 303 West Second street; from the Y. M. C. A. for the extension of Watchung avenue; for the erection of a frame building by Thaddeus C. Smith at 417 Madison avenue; from J. A. Smith & Bro. for the construction of the big box sign already up surrounding their awning; for crosswalks at Plainfield avenue and Short Second street, and East Sixth street and Franklin place.

Mr. Frazee said that the sign of the Smiths was an improvement, and ought to be permitted to remain up. Mr. Fisk said it was distinctly against the ordinance, and that many other signs would have to come down.

The joint memorial detail of the two G. A. R. posts was granted $100 for the decoration of the soldiers' graves.

The Public Library tax was fixed at $3,400.

The following property-holders announced that they had withdrawn their consents for the proposed Madison avenue route of the street railway: Elizabeth Brandt, E. E. Runyon, Mary B. Voorhies, estate Rhoda Moore, S. H. C. Dunshee, Jeremiah Moore, C. F. Randolph, T. C. Smith, J. Elizabeth Titsworth, Elizabeth Runyon, A. M. Runyon, Marietta Rogers, B. Rogers, Frank Bushnell. Twenty-five dollars was advanced to the Chief of Police for witnesses' fees and traveling and similar expenses.

The bonds of Delinquent Collector Nash and R. A. Meeker were ordered recorded.

Mr. Ginna presented the anti-license petition of the W. C. T. U., which has already been published in The Press. It had been addressed to him personally, and had not reached him till two days after the Council meeting.

The saloon license of Henry Haurand at 115 East Front street was granted, Messrs. Ginna and Stockton voting No.

Council adjourned.

ROYAL GOOD FELLOWS.

Accession of the 200th Member Occasions a Jolly Time Among Arcanumites.

The accession of the two-hundredth member to the rolls of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, last night, was the occasion of a time when good fellowship predominated among all who attended the session, and every one could be termed a royal good fellow.

The meeting was attended by 150 visitors from Bound Brook, Westfield, Fanwood, Roselle and Somerville.

From 8 to 10:30 the session was secret, during which the initiatory degree was exemplified on Josiah Brown, E. A. Low, Elwell Leland and W. M. McGee. An instructive and entertaining portion of the lodge meeting was the working of the side degree by the Fanwood Indians, the performance of which was elevating to the Arcanumites.

After the regular business had been disposed of a collation was served, affording an opportunity for the members from different lodges to become acquainted with one another. When the inner man had been satisfied, cigars were passed and an entertainment opened by the Sherman Quartette of Brooklyn singing a Negro medley. The quartette is composed of C. W. Nallor, Wm. B. Clark, C. A. Dwyer and C. F. Medd, whose voices blended harmoniously to make such music as to require them to sing an encore.

A violin duet was then rendered by Jos. Sattelle and M. A. Korff, accompanied by W. E. MacClymont on the piano; their music was rewarded with enthusiastic applause.

A number of visitors were called on for speeches, and the following responded: Rev. Frank Smith of Somerville, Past Regent Rogers of Cranford; John B. Green of Westfield. Dr. Marsh Smith, who was a charter member of Plainfield Council, told a ludicrous pie story, which convulsed his hearers with laughter. Past Regent Noble of Fanwood, related how the inspiration for an Indian degree had been received from Plainfield Council and after he had concluded three cheers and a tiger were given to the Fanwood member, this closing the exercises.

Among those present from out of the city were: John B. Green of Westfield; Past Regent Frech of Roselle; Past Regent Hooley of Somerville; Past Regents Rogers and Ferguson of Cranford; Past Regent Lightfoot of Westfield; Past Regents Noble, Treadwell, Robinson and Cooper of Fanwood.

The Great Opening Tomorrow.

The Spring opening and great ten-day special sale at Edsall's Commercial Palace will begin tomorrow. A great amount of labor has been spent in trimming the store, and the decorations are by far the most elaborate ever attempted by this house. They alone will repay a visit. The entire large store will present an appearance resembling a mammoth fair or bazar. Edsall says his buyers have searched the markets well for specials, and succeeded in securing a large variety of seasonable articles which will be offered much below the usual price during the special sale. Every department is just brimful of elegant new goods, and a general invitation is extended to visit the opening.

They're After Him.

A few days ago a young man while intoxicated entered the house of his grandmother and stole several dollars which she had saved by economy, and afterwards skipped the town. The police are looking for him.

—District Deputy Patterson will visit the Knights of Pythias Lodge at Scotch Plains, Thursday evening, April 4, where he will install officers. A delegation of Pythians from Perseverance Lodge will also attend the meeting.

—The residents in the vicinity of Howard street are complaining very much about a neighbor who persists in getting out at an early hour every morning and discharging a gun. The man is known and if he does not stop steps will be taken to make him abate the nuisance.

Perils of Sabbath Observance.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Lounsbury and son and Arthur Crane went to Mt. Pleasant in a two-seat wagon Sunday evening to conduct the religious service in the schoolhouse.

After the meeting they started for home. They had not gone very far over the poor roads when the wagon broke down. They had no lantern and could not see the condition of their surroundings. Finally one of the party went back to Mr. Potter's house, explaining the situation, and he brought them to Plainfield with his own horse and wagon.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

A FALL

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.

The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The

BEE HIVE

keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½.
Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.
Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.
We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET,

(Estate D. L. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS

OFFICES—94 West Front street; 69 Park avenue Post Office Box 329.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 9t

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World,

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON,

New No. 122, North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE.

Premonitory Symptoms of Imperial Impetuosity.

DISMISSED FROM THE SERVICE

Participation In the Corsican Uprising Costs His Commission In the French Army — Imbued With Revolutionary Ideas—Vagaries of a Genius.

[Copyright, 1895, by John Clark Ridpath.]

VI.—GENIUS IN A QUANDARY.

At this stage, rapidity becomes the chief characteristic of Bonaparte. He darts from place to place with astonishing celerity, and in many instances with insufficient or undiscoverable motives of transit.

His flights are like those of a bird; say, an eagle's. Thus during his stay in Corsica he suddenly springs off, in October of 1787, and is at Paris for more than a month. But at Christmas he is back at Ajaccio with an extension of his leave of absence. Again, during his stay at Auxonne, he speeds away for fifteen days to Seurre, in command of a small detachment to suppress a riot. These movements are premonitory of those extraordinary Imperial flights with which he subsequently startles all Europe and the world.

The stay at Auxonne extended with the brief interruption referred to, from May of 1788 to September of 1789—a period of fifteen months. His occupations at that place were much like those at Valence and Ajaccio. He performed his military duties in a desultory way, but with more exactitude than the French code of military ethics at that time required. But military duty demanded only a fraction of his time; the rest was given to that intense but fragmentary study by which his mind was trained and supplied with a wide range of information.

NAPOLEON BY APPIANI.

The ambition of Napoleon to be an author did not for the present subside. At one time he was on the eve of bringing out at Paris his "History of Corsica." A publisher agreed to do the work on condition of share-and-share-alike in the proceeds. But just at that juncture Monseigneur Marbœuf, Bishop of Sens, to whom the work was dedicated, was deposed from his see in disgrace. Here was a state of things indeed, to dedicate a great work to a disgraced ecclesiastic! The publication was accordingly postponed, and the manuscript recast, with an inscription to Paoli. This was a plain indication that the author's mind, as between French despotism and Corsican independence, was strongly tending to the latter.

The winter of 1788-89 was passed by Bonaparte in his quarters at Auxonne. In the following April that disturbance occurred at Seurre which called forth a half-month's petty campaign from Napoleon's company, and ended in nothing. It was like the episode at Lyons, but less important. As yet, Lieutenant Bonaparte had never as a soldier drawn blood, or seen it drawn by others. His restlessness now bore him rapidly on to action. His passion for doing something and for "following his destiny"—a fiction which he was always dwelling upon—led him to commit himself (ambiguously) to the Corsican patroits. His adroitness was such, however, that he kept ever a cord to his purposes whereby he might recover himself for France. In fact, he knew not what thing he would be called to do, or in what cause his sword should first be actually unsheathed. His nature was always to avail himself of the first contingency. Napoleon is doubtless—such was his sleepless vigilance—the only great man of history who never lost an opportunity!

Bonaparte was with his regiment, so-called "of Iron," at Auxonne, when the great Revolution in France began. Within a month from the trifling event at Seurre, the States-General assembled at Versailles. There, on the 5th of May, 1789, the most remarkable political body of modern times went into session, on the condition of France and mankind. There was a procession of great men; a gathering to their seats in the Hall of Menus; a seating of six hundred representatives of the people; a looking down from the gallery of the young Baroness de Stael-Holstein on the heads of Riquetti de Mirabeau, the philosophic Volney, the lean Jean Paul Marat, the big young Danton of Arcis-sur-Aube, the lithe Camille, the Sea-green Robespierre, and the rest. It was the beginning of the end of much—the opening of a small crevasse in the great dyke whereby a feudal civilization had walled in the destinies of mankind for centuries. Outside that ancient wall lay the roaring ocean, soon to rush in wave on wave, till the deluge, flecked with blood, should rise to the pinnacles of all palaces, and splash the domes of all cathedrals.

The brut of the great event reached the towns and cities and people of France. Men wot not the thing they did. None knew that the ancient order was rushing on to doom. None imagined that the French monarchy itself was going headlong down to Orcus and eternal night. All stood together on the crumbling verge of the chasm, and supposed that they would easily bridge it over with some new card-boards of finance and paper billets legislating bread for men. Vain delusions of an awful hour! Surely salvation for France and for mankind lies not that way, O Representatives of the People!

The effects of the extraordinary movement thus begun for the reform of the French nation were strikingly diverse in the different parts of the kingdom. France was as yet homogeneous in nothing. The towns of the South, under the loyal sentiments of the old Provencal race, received the news in one spirit, and the towns of the North in another. They of the Gironde in the far southwest heard the tidings as a proclamation of good news to men; while they of Lyons and Montpellier and Marseilles and Toulon and Nice, in the far southeast, caught the intelligence with doubt and animosity.

On men themselves the news fell from week to week with varying effects according to their personal characters and prejudice of race. In general, they who had imbibed the principles of the new French philosophy either went after the Revolution or ran before it waving a flag. Such a mind was Bonaparte's. No doubt he was a born revolutionist—provided always he could himself control the revolution. His nature was fitted in every part for that state of fruitful anarchy which tends again to order. He was essentially a man for the storm and hurricane, but suited best the after stages of the tempest.

Would not this revolutionary fire in France leap the sea and kindle itself in Corsica? Does not occasion now offer for the recovery of Corsican independence? Does not the path of destiny open by way of Ajaccio rather than by way of Paris? Or if the cause indeed lies by way of Paris, does it not first extend through the native island? The patriot Paoli resides in English exile; perhaps he may return to Corsica, and we as his lieutenant-in-chief may yet lead the patriots to independence and glory. To sum up all, Napoleon at this stage was whirled along by the coming storm; but he cautiously kept his bearings, became practical rather than theoretical, and impatiently awaited the opportunity to become great.

Lieutenant Bonaparte remained with his regiment at Auxonne until the 15th of September, 1790. The Revolution had now been in progress a year and four months. The movement had become more and more portentous at every step. The ruined Bastile was already a hateful, but glorious, reminiscence. At this time Corsica was represented in the National Assembly by two moderate patriots, named Salicetti and Colona. The royal delegate from the island was that Buttafuoco whom Choiseul had used in establishing the French protectorate in Corsica.

The people of the island were divided into several hostile factions. First of all, there was a royal faction, very few in number, composed of the petty Corsican nobles and the higher ecclesiastics. These virtually constituted the insular "government." Secondly, there was a moderate party favorable to liberalism, but supporting the French protectorate. In the third place, there was a powerful revolutionary party, favoring absolute independence, and seeking by the recall of Paoli to overthrow all foreign authority. This condition of affairs, as well as the deplorable state of his family, induced Napoleon to obtain another leave of absence, and to return to his native country.

On his way homeward, he stopped at Aix; and there he found his brother Lucien. That obstinate personage had withdrawn from the military academy at Brienne, but had failed to secure admission to the theological school at Aix. There he was in poverty and hopelessness, when Napoleon came and conducted him back to Ajaccio. The latter, at Marseilles, visited the Abbe Raynal; but there is no record of what occurred. Once at home, the young French officer was recognized as a man of importance; for he was the only Frenchman in the island possessing a thorough military education.

The project was now on for the organization of the Corsican militia; and Napoleon was necessary for success. He entered into the revolutionary intrigues of the day, moving obscurely and dangerously among the popular leaders, wholly distrusted by the few aristocrats, and identified with the moderate liberals only at the risk of his commission as an officer in the French army. That army was still the King's army; but the officers were nearly all, like Napoleon, infected with revolutionary sentiments to the extent that almost every sword might be said to have Republique dimly etched on the blade.

The history of this period at Corsica is small, treacherous, chaotic. From September of 1790 to the 1st of June, 1791, Napoleon remained in the island, committing himself more and more (but ever cautiously) to the motions of upheaval. Had it not been for the universal dissolution he must at once have suffered arrest and dismissal from the army. From the middle of October until the following February, he overstaid his leave of absence, working all winter at the various intrigues which were rife among his turbulent countrymen. He then devised a plausible excuse which was accepted at headquarters, and the next day procured another extension of his leave! Nor did he cease to flourish among the agitators of Ajaccio until his final departure to rejoin his command in May of 1791.

Such had been the shifting connection of Lieutenant Bonaparte with the Iron Regiment that he was almost an unrecognized force in his own division of the army. His absences from the command had far exceeded in duration his presence with it. On returning to France, he was assigned to the Fourth Regiment of artillery, stationed at Valence. His irregularities as an officer had not so far prevailed over the opinion of his great abilities and solid acquirements as to prevent his promotion at this time to the rank of lieutenant-en premier.

On the political side, Napoleon was now drawn with great force towards the Revolutionary party in France. Perhaps the notion dawned in him that with the success of the Revolution and the rebuilding of the nation on a new republican basis, Corsica herself, by like revolt and renovation, might join in the common movement to greater advantage than could be gained by naked rebellion. This sentiment was fanned by a proposition made at this time in the Assembly to enlarge the titles of the "King of the French" by adding the names of the Navarrese and Corsicans formally to the list of his subjects. All such intermediary projects came to naught with the onrushing of the Revolution. They were soon swallowed up with the King himself and all kingly things in the deep hell-throat that opened.

But ever and anon the Corsican trend was strong on Lieutenant Bonaparte. Hardly had he got his place in the Fourth Regiment, at Valence, until he broke away again for his native island. There the stage of actual tumult had come. Napoleon was elected lieutenant-colonel of the Second Battalion of the Corsican army. He cautiously accepted the post, but at the same time kept his eye fixed on France. Then, after holding his place in the army of insurgents for less than a month, he suddenly sped away to his regiment on the Rhone. Arriving, he found himself dismissed from the service!

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH.

The Submarine Indicator.

The submarine indicator used in searching for wrecks on the sea bottom has a metallic sinker, which is trailed along near the bottom. When it approaches a mass of metal, the indicator on the searching ship is electrically disarranged, and a bell is rung. The Hughes induction balance suggested the plan of the apparatus

An agreeable Laxative and NERVE TONIC. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 60c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO NO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U.S.A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU, if taken in time. Price 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00.

Sold by all druggists.

6 14 y

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2M3 JAMES H. ECKELS,
3 4 30 Comptroller of the Currency.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

You may have

Lost

many hours of comfort by not having worn

A

good reliable

Pair

of Collier's

Glasses.

103 Park ave. Established 1869.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Plainfield as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 28 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.56 p m—SOUTH WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Atlanta to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—3 58 9.06, 9.26 a. m. 9.29 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 06, 9 26 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 3 34, 5 46, 6 17, 6 45, 7 00, 7 20, 7 49, 7 57, 8 06, 8 20, 8 28, 9 47, 9 57, 10 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 38, 10 49, 11 02, 11 48 a. m., 1 13, 1 20, 1 56, 224, 2 40, 2 45, 3 27, 3 47, 4 48, 5 15, 5 30, 5 45, 6 07, 6 27, 6 45, 6 58, 7 07, 7 26, 7 59, 9 41, 9 10, 9 50, 10 03, 11 03 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 3 34, 7 54, 8 46, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 35, 1 44, 2 59, 3 45, 5 46, 6 28, 6 34, 8 46, 7 05, 7 15, 7 35, 7 55, 8 30, 9 15, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—3 02, 6 37, 7 19, 9 03, 9 26, 10 42 a. m., 2 03, 3 37, 3 29, 5 02, 6 26, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 p. m. Sundays at 3 02, 6 37, 9 03, 9 26, 10 42 a. m., 4 03, 5 02, 9 26, 10 41 a. m. and 12 27 night. week-days Sundays, 1, 43, 6 39, 9 43, 9 49, 10 28, 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 56, 1 56, 2 47, 3 29, 4 50, 5 20, 6 49, 7 21, 7 27, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 7 39, 9 06, 9 26, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 26, 1 57, 2 46, 3 39, 4 29, 5 06, 5 40, 6 06, 6 45, 7 46, 9 39 and 11 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 39, 9 06, 9 26 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 56, 1 56, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39 a. m., 12 46, 3 10, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 34 p m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 26, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 39, 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 26 9 34 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 26, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 26, 2 43 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—3 44, 8 07, 7 10, 7 39 9 06, 9 26, 11 43 a. m., 1 56, 3 07, 2 43, 5 00, 6 26, 7 46, 9 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 3 02, 6 37, 9 03, 9 26, 10 43 A. M., 8 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 39 A. M., 2 43 and 6 36 p. m., and 8 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 39 A. M.; 2 43 P. M.

For Freehold—7 39, 11 43 a. m., 4 38, 8 08 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 43 a. m., 4 38 and 8 08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 12 5 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.

For Boston—8 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—3 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 30, 7 35, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 30, 12 35, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 50, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40 7 00, 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 40 p. m., 12 15 night. Sundays, 1 00, 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND RARITAN MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.

Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m.

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS,

Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE GRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 3 29 3

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.

E. E. Gayle, No. 13 Vine St.

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 9-22-tf

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 5 20 3

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,

11 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. H. McCullough, Proprietor.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-21-1

C. W. LINES & CO.,

Mason and Builders

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence 18 Elmwood Place.

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 12 4t

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 6 t

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 3 36, 7 27, 8 32, 9 59, 10 59, 11 59 a. m., 12 59, 1 59, 3 29, 4 29, 5 29, 6 29, 7 29, 8 29, 9 29, 10 29, 11 59 p. m. Sundays—3 36, 7 27, 8 32, 9 59, 10 59, 11 59 a. m., 12 59, 1 59, 3 29, 4 29, 5 29, 6 29, 7 29, 8 29, 9 29, 10 29, 11 59 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street, 4 00, 5 00, 7 25, 8 40, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 a. m., 12 30, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 4 30, 5 30, 6 30, 7 30, 8 30, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 p. m. Sundays—4 00, 5 00, 7 25, 8 40, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 a. m., 12 30, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 4 30, 5 30, 6 30, 7 30, 8 30, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 p. m.

Leave Plainfield and Elizabeth, 4 30, 5 30, 6 30, 7 30, 8 30, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 a. m., 12 30, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 4 30, 5 30, 6 30, 7 30, 8 30, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 p. m. Sundays, 5 30, 6 30, 7 30, 8 30, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 a. m., 12 30, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 4 30, 5 30, 6 30, 7 30, 8 30, 9 30, 10 30, 11 30 p. m.

Leave Somerville, 6, 8 00, 7 00, 7 30, 7 55, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 25, 11 40 a. m., 12 30, 1 05, 2 25, 4 20, 5 28, 6 25, 6 47, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sundays, 8 30, 9 00, 9 25, 11 40 a. m., 12 30, 1 05, 2 25, 4 20, 5 28, 6 25, 6 47, 8 45, 11 05 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND BOUND BROOK.

Leave Plainfield 6 46, 8 36, 9 56, a. m., 12 46, 3 06, 5 14, 7 01, 9 21 p. m. Sundays—8 46, 9 36 a. m., 3 06, 5 14, 7 01, 9 21 p. m.

Leave Bound Brook 7 30, 8 30, 10 30 a. m., 12 30, 2 30, 4 30, 6 30, 8 30, 10 30 p. m. Sundays—8 30, 10 30 a. m., 12 30, 2 30, 4 30, 6 30, 8 30, 10 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND PHILADELPHIA.

Leave Plainfield 8 07, 8, 10 27 a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 7 08 p.m. Sundays—8 07, 10 27 a. m., 3 51, 5 54 p. m.

For Philadelphia, 8 07, 8 10 27 a. m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 7 08 p.m. Sundays—8 07, 10 27 a. m., 3 51, 5 54 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 46, 8 46, 9 46, 10 46, p. m., 2 08*, 5 14* 8 21, 9 27* p. m., 12 night. Sundays—5 46, 9 46, a. m., 2 08*, 5 14*, 8 46 p. m., 12 night.

For Trenton 5 46, 8 46, 9 46*, 10 46, a. m., 12 46, 2 08*, 5 14*, 8 46*, 9 27* p.m., 12 night. Sunday—5 46, 9 46, a. m., 2 08*, 5 14* 8 46 p. m., 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 5 46, a. m., 2 08, 5 14* 8 46, p. m., 12 night. Sundays—9 46 a. m., 2 08, 5 14* 8 46 p. m., 12 night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 34 p m. Sundays 5 14 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week-days as 9 54 a m., 8 23 p. m. Sundays 6 36 p. m

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA,

Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 30, 9 50, 11 35 a.m., 1 30 3 40 5 15, 6 04, 8 35 p.m., 12 10, night.

Sundays—4 10, 8 30, 9 50, 12 25 a. m., 3 50, 6 00, 8 30 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—3 55, 7 58, 9 21, 11 12 a.m. 2 05, 5 12, 6 12, 11 46 p. m. Sunday—3 55, 7 58, 12 19 p m, 3 50, 6 12, 8 10, 11 46 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 50 4 56, 9 06, 10 25, a.m. 12 15*, 2 10, 4 29*, 8 54, 9 01 p. m. Sundays—1 00, 4 55, 9 06, 10 27 a. m., 1 10*, 4 29 8 45*, 9 03 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Nearly 100,000 Now in Use.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO

EASY TERMS, — EXCHANGED.

Catalogue mailed on application.

110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

MONEY LOANED.

Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum. It affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1122 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 6m

E. H. HOLMES,

DEALER IN

COAL and WOOD,

YARD—No. 1208 Madison Avenue. Also

Office for coal orders, with Woolston & Parker, 145 North Avenue.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE.

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's

129 East Front street.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORE T MI R ES OPUBCFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats. Dress Shirts,
Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

WE HAVE GOT THOSE HAMS

YOU WERE ASKING ABOUT.

Hams.....10¾c pound
Fine butter.....25c pound
Lard.....9c pound
New can peas.....10c
3 cans new tomatoes.....25c
2 pound citron.....25
3 pound raisins.....25
Granulated sugar.....4⅞c

J. F. MacDonald, 180 East Front St.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

Notice of Order to Limit Creditors.

Somerset County Surrogate's Office.

Estate of Daniel Cory deceased.

Notice is hereby given that on the eleventh day of March A. D. 1895 on the application of the undersigned, as administrator of Daniel Cory deceased; an order was made by the Surrogate requiring the creditors of Daniel Cory deceased, to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the said decedent, under oath or affirmation and present the same to the subscriber within nine months from the date of said order; and in default thereof any such creditor should be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the subscriber.

JOHN CORY
3 15 9-osw Administrator.

Co-partnership Notice.

Notice is hereby given that J. Augustus Smith has associated with him, as co-partner, Frederick R. Smith, and that the general grocery business formerly conducted by him at No. 125 West Front street, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, is now conducted and will hereafter be conducted by the subscribers as co-partners under the firm name and style of J. Augustus Smith & Bro.

J. AUGUSTUS SMITH,
FREDERICK R. SMITH.
3 7 4-osw

NOTICE

Estate of Elizabeth R. Vandenbergh, Deceased

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the County of Union, made, on the application of the undersigned, administratrix of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from the fifteenth day of March, 1895 or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscriber.

GERTRUDE VANDENBERGH,
3 21 10-o a w Administratrix.

Dissolution Notice

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between George A. Moore of the city of Plainfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey, and Walter N. Martin of the Borough of North Plainfield, county of Somerset and State of New Jersey under the firm name of Moore & Martin, was dissolved on the 21st day of March, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-five, by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by the said George A. Moore, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment.

GEORGE A. MOORE,
WALTER N. MARTIN.
Dated March 21, 1895 3 23 3 os

ELY'S Cream Balm CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

Is quickly absorbed. Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation. Heals the Sores, Protects the Membrane from Additional Cold. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

IT WILL CURE. A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50c. at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 2 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbotsford city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 208 Liberty street.

ADVERTISED LETTERS,

Plainfield post-office, March 18, 1895.

Adams Miss Rosilla	McGowen Patrick
Allen Strom	Miles W T
Brown Maggie	Morre & Co Wm W
Bayler T F	Nolan P
Burke James	Napensky Adam
Coverly Fred	Pearce Herman S
Deloy Lucy	Post W
Eicke Lizzie	Preston H
Elder Harriet	Pentency Jinia
Fullom Lizzie	Randolph Mrs Louisa
Goepbel Mr	Russell J C
Gillispie & Son Wm	Seely E
Hanheid Phebe	Simpson Mrs Emily
Harben Jasper L	Sparks Louisa
Henley Mr	Sotphen Prime
Haney M A	Sumbom Roy
Hyatt Mrs Jennie	Truman Mrs W N
Hankerson A	Vail Ralph L
Jeroin Mrs	Washington Louisa
Jennings Annie	Wendell David
Jonrs Lewis	Williams C H
James Miss Ollie	Wells Lee
King James	Ward Ogle
Kimball Miss J	Watkins Mrs Florence
McDoland Mrs	Willoughby H
Michel Mr	Young Rev Dr W C

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY.

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

Stonewall Jackson's Unlucky Day

March 23, 1862, early in the morning, Stonewall sent this message to his chief, General Joseph E. Johnston: "With the blessing of an ever kind Providence I hope to be in the vicinity of Winchester this evening." He was in that vicinity, but with his face turned the other way, however. Stonewall's force of about 5,000 men was pushing north toward Winchester to drive out General James Shields' division, suddenly left alone to guard the important point. On the 22d Shields was disabled and turned over the chief command to Colonel Nathan Kimball. On the morning of the 23d Shields ordered Kimball to move up the Valley pike and attack anything in sight. Reaching Kernstown, five miles from Winchester, Kimball met enough opposition to justify a halt. Planting his lines and batteries, he held off Ashby's cavalry, which Stonewall made use of for a blind to cover the march of his main army around the Union right flank. Leaving Ashby and one battery to keep up display in front, Stonewall moved the remainder of his force by a concealed route to the left to seize a height overlooking Kimball's position. Although Ashby made a bold feint, Kimball was not deceived. Ordering his slender reserves to the height to tackle Jackson's advance, he turned the tables on Ashby's troopers, and getting them on the run drew his regiments out of the line one by one, marching them to the right to back up the reserves. Jackson and his brigadiers were fairly outgeneraled. When Kimball's "fresh troops," as the Confederates called them, marched up under flying colors, cheering wildly, Jackson's men couldn't believe that the enthusiastic newcomers were the same fellows who had wrestled all day with Ashby's troopers at the other end of the battlefield. They gave way to panic from which Stonewall was unable to rally them. The next day, while retreating southward, Jackson sent a pathetic appeal to Richmond for more men to help stand off Kimball and added, "I will try and remain on this side Strasburg." Strasburg is 20 miles south of Winchester.

COLONEL KIMBALL.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

The Hero of Gordon's Sortie.

March 25 is the thirtieth anniversary of the only sortie made by the Confederates during the long siege of Petersburg. Before daylight Gordon, with 12,000 men, breached Grant's lines at Fort Stedman. The Union batteries on the flanks of the breach and in the rear, aided by the fire of the infantry which rallied to expel the intruders, made the captured lines so hot that Gordon sounded "Retreat!" But the getting out of a trap is the hardest part of it. Our Union batteries raked the ground between the old lines and cut down the retreating columns with awful slaughter. During that crisis I was treated to the grandest sight of my war experience—a leader riding at the blazing cannon full tilt. I stood near a gun in Fort Haskell, which was doing more than its share of slaughter, when the commander of the battery called out to a knot of us, part of a rifle company, "Shoot the man on the white horse!" One after another our best marksmen squeezed in between the gun and the parapet wall and took aim through the embrasure. After several had put in their shots the orderly sergeant tried it and came back crestfallen. Handing me his rifle, he exclaimed, with a laugh: "Here, you vet. Fetch down the man on the white horse." With a reputation to sustain, I accepted the challenge. When I drew bead on the gallant horseman, I saw that he was leading a band of men back from the enemy's main line direct upon our gun. Shells tore the ground in front of him or exploded overhead, and invisible case shot cut down his followers, but he held his seat like a statue of war, and the horse plunged and reared as though moving to the wild music of the guns. Twice I lowered my piece, charmed with that man's matchless courage, but raised it a third time for the sake of my reputation. The touch of a little spring might have sent him to eternity, but I thought he was too grand to die so. Firing at random, I crawled back, handed the sergeant his rifle and said: "He is too brave. Let him go." The hero lived in that whirlpool of battle at least an hour and was finally shot dead by a bullet through the temple within 30 yards of our fort.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

Putnam's Ride at Horseneck Hill.

March 26, 1779, was the date of Putnam's wild gallop down the rocky height of Horseneck to give the British the slip when surrounded. He was visiting the outposts of his army, and while shaving himself saw the reflection of a body of redcoats in the glass before him. Only half shaven, he grasped his sword, leaped into the saddle and called his patriot band to arms. There were but 150 of them, and the British turned out to be a full brigade. Two old fieldpieces were got into position to make a bold front, and the enemy, on coming within musket shot, halted to deploy their lines and surround the little party. That was Putnam's chance. He ordered his men to give the redcoats a few volleys, then scatter and save themselves individually by flight. Waiting in the smoke of the guns until his soldiers were well out of the way, he drew the enemy to the spot in a mad rush, then wheeled his horse and disappeared over the brow of the precipice behind. A flight of 70 stone steps spanned the sharpest part of the declivity, and down them the horse plunged zigzag to the bottom.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

Blauvelt Will Ride THE CZAR.

Will you? Strongest and handsomest wheel made. Weight, road wheel, 20 pounds. Come and see it. Also the Phoenix and P. & G. Special. Second hand wheels.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue

IF YOU WANT ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

Spring Curry Comb

Clock Spring Blade. Soft as a Brush. Fits every Curve. The Only Perfect Comb. Used by U. S. Army and by Barnum and Forepaugh Circuses, and Leading Horsemen of the World. Ask your Dealer for It. Sample mailed post paid 25 cents. See our name on the handle. SPRING CURRY COMB CO., 102 Lafayette St., South Bend, Indiana.

781-1 9-1 t

THE DAILY PRESS.

E. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.

WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH 26, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE

President Barkalew.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association was held at Henry Liefke's home, West Front street, last evening. After the various reports were read which showed excellent growth in the several series that are now running, the board of directors were elected as follows: L. E. Barkalew, Henry Liefke, W. R. Codington, E. W. Titsworth, Jacob Voehl, W. A. Woodruff, Lewis Kline, A. L. Force, John Hickey, B. Frank Coriell, J. P. Homan, and J. E. Flannery.

The directors then met and elected the following officers: President, L. E. Barkalew; Vice-president, Henry Liefke; Treasurer, W. R. Codington; Secretary, B. Frank Coriell; Finance Committee, W. A. Woodruff, J. P. Homan, Jacob Voehl.

Tried to Emulate Budd Doble.

Adam Blair, proprietor of the Metropolitan livery stable on North avenue this morning commenced an action, in tort, against E. T. Douglass for damages to a horse and sleigh which the latter hired of him last January. Douglass, 'twas said, was driving about the city in a fast and careless manner, and while endeavoring to turn a street corner, tipped the cutter over, with the result of the horse running away and doing considerable damage. He refused to settle and the action was instituted by Mr. Blair's attorney, Reed & Coddington.

A Legion of Benefit.

An open meeting of the Catholic Beneficial Legion was held in C. Y. M. L. hall last night, which was well attended and productive of much good for the order. A. V. Harding, of New Brunswick, a representative of the Supreme Council, was present and delivered an address on the work of the organization, its accomplishments, and the benefits to be derived by the individual member. Organizer A. E. Kenney and Rev. Father Murphy were also present and made remarks.

How He Held The King.

"Toxin," the new story by Ouida now running in these columns, is a most fascinating tale, but even a greater is coming, and that is "How the Brigadier Held the King." It is by that masterhand Conan Doyle, and is a continuation of the adventures of Brigadier Gerard so naively related in The Press some time back. Publication will be begun Saturday, April 30.

Mobbed Corporal Moore.

Deputy-Street-Cleaning Commissioner Moore of New York, was seizing trucks on West Twenty-sixth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, Monday, when he was mobbed by a gang of angry truckmen. They were preparing to beat him with wagon staves when the police arrived and drove the crowd away.

—A regular meeting of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., will be held this evening.

—The residence of C. B. Corwin on East Ninth street is receiving a coat of paint.

—Fred Casper contemplates enlarging his hotel on East Front street by enclosing the alley on the side.

Methodist Trustees.

The annual election of trustees was held last evening in the Methodist Episcopal Church. The result was as follows: P. M. French, I. W. Pangborn and G. W. Cornwell re-elected for three years; and C. H. Rugg for two years, in the place of G. H. Burgess, deceased.

Fountain Stays In.

Announcement was made this morning in Trenton that Gov. Werts had signed the bill restoring to office the township officials legislated out of office by the new borough law. Therefore Committeeman Fountain stays in in North Plainfield.

The Bowery.

Mrs. Sarah L. Bird, who is doing a remarkable work in a Bowery mission, will speak in the Congregational Church tomorrow evening on work among the lodging house men. No one can fail to be deeply interested by the story she has to tell.

Whipping-Post Needed.

Judge Coddington this morning issued a warrant for the arrest of Jeremiah Griffin, on the charge of assault, preferred by his wife, whom he is accused of whipping last night.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

CRESCENT TRACK A MODEL.

Hazelton Athletics Visit It and Admire Its Construction.

J. Potter Clark, Charles E. Jenkins and E. W. Engle, a committee from Hazelton, Pa., Athletic Association, arrived in the city this morning on the 10:08 train and in company with W. H. Rogers and Capt. J. A. Haines rode to the track of the Crescent Wheelmen, where they thoroughly inspected its construction and advantages.

The Hazelton association expect to build a track this Summer and these gentlemen are the committee who have charge of the matter. Tomorrow they visit the track at Riverton, and it is between these two that they will model their course after.

Messrs. Clark, Jenkins and Engle were seen by a Press reporter this afternoon, and stated that they were very much pleased with the Crescent property and it was likely that they should select this for a model.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Crescent Division, U. R. K. of P., hold a regular meeting tonight.

—Unity Lodge, K. of P., hold a regular meeting tomorrow evening.

—Fair tomorrow; slightly cooler and brisk to high westerly winds.

—The Sons of Temperance hold their regular weekly meeting tonight.

—J. P. Laire will on April 1 personally succeed the firm of Laire Bros.

—Anchor Lodge, F. & A. M., meets in regular session in Masonic hall tonight.

—H. F. Bower has rented through W. D. Thickstun the flat, 327 West Front street.

—Dainty and exhilarating is the fairy drink which Leggett serves, by name New Cream Mist.

—N. T. Pike has not sold his property on East Front street as reported last night in another paper.

—Tier's confectionery and ice-cream parlors on Park avenue are being brightened up by varnishing.

—Civil engineers are now engaged in surveying East Second and Third streets for the new sewer pipes.

—The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church will elect officers tonight.

—Henry DeMott, the undertaker and embalmer, moved his business yesterday from 175 to 59 Somerset street.

—Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., have leased the use of the Exempt Fireman's rooms in the Coward Building for another year.

—The First National Bank will move into the Clarkson Building May 1, to stay during the time that their own building is being repaired.

—The Junior Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian Church will give an entertainment and lecture in the church parlors Friday evening.

—The Christian Endeavor Local Union expect to have a grand union meeting Thursday evening, April 11, in one of Plainfield's biggest churches.

—Bishop B. T. Tanner, D. D., of Philadelphia, will preach in Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church next Sunday, at 3 and 7:45 p. m. He also will lecture Monday night.

—Perseverance Lodge No. 74, K. of P., received one proposition for membership on Friday night. Candidates will receive the first degree in Pythianism April 3.

—Speaking about stockings reminds us that Peck is stocking up with a fine assortment of ladies and children's hosiery in all the Spring and Summer weights.

—The entries for the two-men team bowling tournament at Taylor's hotel, Dunellen, close tonight, when the first game in the tournament will be played.

—The following are the Plainfield bowlers who will contest with Cranford tonight on the Board of Trade alleys: Messrs. Van Emburgh, Van Alstyne, Wilbur, Maltby, and Vail. One game after this will finish the series with Plainfield.

High Court Prizes.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, at their next meeting Friday night, will have a presentation of High Court prizes, and entertainment of vocal and instrumental music. High Chief Ranger Bingham of Elizabeth will be present and other officers from the High Court, and make addresses. The members each have the privilege of bringing one male friend. A collation will be served in the lodge room will end the ceremonies. That night the Court will open at 7:30 for ordinary business, and at 8:30 will be closed and reopened for the members and their friends. A large attendance is desired.

HIRAM HORNISH'S WILL.

Personal Property Bestowed on Kindred and Friends.

The will of the late Hiram Hornish, the veteran nurse, was offered for probate in the Surrogate's office, Elizabeth Monday, when L. W. Randolph and M. C. Dobbins were sworn in as executors.

Of the decedent's personal property the following disposition was made:

To his sister, Mrs. Mary Funk of Easton, $500, his clothing and furniture, and all that is left after settlement.

To his nephew, William Transeau, $500.

His cabinet, curiosities, watch, clock and a number of small things are left to L. W. Randolph, M. C. Dobbins, Dr. J. T. Fritts and Frank W. Campbell of New York.

The executors are given three months in which to make a settlement.

Last Prayer Meeting.

The last prayer meeting of the present conference year will be held in Vincent Chapel tomorrow evening. The meeting will be one of praise and testimony, and all the members of the church are urged to be present.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf. used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

Telephone Rates

IN PLAINFIELD.

$40, $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue Plainfield.

3 22 2w-e 2

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS

Post-office, Plainfield, N. J., March, 25, '95

[Officially furnished weekly for publication in THE DAILY PRESS.]

Anderson Mrs H	Kane Susie 2
Blackford David	Lutman A
Bacon Henry	Lyman Mrs
Pilyeu Jeremiah L	Ludlow Miss
Burn Rev Jno B	Lee Samuel
Burgess Lewis W	Lynch Bessie
Batholomon Mr	Model Heating Co
Clarke C E	Perry Celina
Conly Patrick	Park J B
Connolly Mrs	Parilla Pietro
Dunn L A	Preston Mrs H A
Fabian F	Power Mrs G H
Higbie A L	Quinn Miss
Hopple F W	Reid Lizzie F
Hill I	Richardson E C
Hill J.	Randolph R
Hedden Eugene D	Smalley Isaac
Huff Mrs Fred E	Sherow A N
Howard Jos C	Stutts C C
Henihan Mary	Sheriff Miss
Humer Gillis	Smith Ma
Harris Caroline	Troy Thomas
Henshaw T	Tingmann Peter
Johnson Bell	Terry Jacob Wm
Johnston Jos	TenEyck Geo
Jones Lewis	Thorn Hon Frank
James Oliver	The Tabor M'f'g Co
312 East 2d st	Wright Mrs L. C
524 West 4th st	Williams S P
	Zaremba Albert

HARK! HARK!

Do you hear those bells ringing? They are to warn you that Johnson's delivery wagon is near at hand, ready to supply you with the finest home-made bread in the land, pies, cake, buns and rolls, fresh every morning at 6 a. m.

Boston brown bread a specialty. Just give me a trial, my goods speak for themselves. All orders promptly attended to at shortest notice.

W. H. Johnson,

3 23 1w 41 Somerset Street.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lichthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE, Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN, 214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R. VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT, 304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Don't ruin your form wearing poor corsets.

Buy Your Corsets

AT PECK'S.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block, 134-7

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Grand Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastely trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on Tuesday, March 25, Wednesday, March 26, Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season. We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 54 in. wide.
5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.
Our 49c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.
75c will buy a $1 00 skirt.
95c. " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION is called to the Home Department of Rockview School, 317 East Front street. Children received from 4 to 15 Years. Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT, 25 Washington ave

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

SPRING OF 1895.

Our Spring Opening of

FINE MILLINERY,

takes place

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday,

under the direction of

Miss Kittie Daly

who respectfully requests your attendance.

EDWARD WHITE

BOCK BEER

all this week at

Charles Smith's Saloon.

Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SAIL BOATS

—IN—

Sloops and Schooners,

—FROM—

25c. to $1.25.

R. C. RAND.

140 West Front st.

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit.

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS.

EDSALL'S ANNUAL SPRING OPENING and 10-DAY SPECIAL SALE

Commercial Palace, Babcock Building.

☞ We shall endeavor to make this opening the "event of the season" in merchandising in Plainfield. Don't fail to visit us during this sale. ☜
Wagon delivery in Plainfield, Dunellen, Westfield and Scotch Plains. Goods delivered, prepaid, to any part of the State, on purchases of $5 and over.

Suits, Jackets, Capes, Separate Skirts and Silk Waists.

Beginning on Wednesday, March 27, we shall exhibit a beautiful line of all-wool Cheviot and Serge tailor-made suits, new spring capes, jackets and separate skirts and silk waists in faultless styles in a variety of fine cloths, serges, crepons and silks.

Our all-wool tailor-made suit with tight fitting riding habit basque in new style flare skirt, organ pipe back, in navy and black, is the greatest special of the season, manufactured to sell at $6.75; special for the opening $4 90.

Our new spring capes made up of Cheviot, Covert and Kersey Cloths, silk lined, braided, lace and jet, trimmed with satin, ruche collar, in black, navy and brown, in fact almost every modern style to select from.

For the opening the following extraordinary values—All wool cheviot cloth capes in black, navy and brown, trimmed with tinsel braid, manufactured to sell at $1.59 and $1 85; special for the opening $1.10 and $1 30.

All-wool Cheviot and Covert cloth capes in tan and black with excellent trimming, double cape, manufactured to sell at $4 65; special $3.85.

All-wool Cheviot Broadcloth Covert and Kersey Cloth Capes, embroidered in cream, satin ribbon trimmings, lace and jet, manufactured to sell at $5.85, $6.75 and $10; special at $4.85, $5 90 and $7.50.

An excellent Broadcloth Cape in black, navy, black and red, fashion's latest conceptions, satin lined, manufactured to sell at $10; a great special at $8 35 each.

Headquarters Leading Makes of Corsets

Warner's Corsets in short, medium and long waists at $1, $1.25, $1.50 $1 75; Warner's Corsets black satin $1 25; Thomson's glove fitting corsets, medium, in white and drab at $1; C P. corsets in white at $2, $2.50, $3 75; R. & G. in white at $1; Warner's and Thomson's ventilating corsets from 50c to $1; an excellent corset in white and drab for 50c.

Ladies' muslin and cambric gowns, full sizes, best muslin and cambric, fine embroidery, 65c to $3 50 lines, special 49c to $1 85. Ladies' muslin and cambric drawers from 23c to 98c. Ladies' muslin skirts from 49c to $2.75. Cambric corset covers from 21c to 99c. A specially good muslin corset cover during the opening for 13c.

Laces, Veilings and Neckwear.

Laces are on the top wave of fashion this season. In this department we are showing some rare designs of Point de Gene, Point de Brages, Bruxelles, Applique, Chantilly, Venetian Point and Guipase de Venise.

Veilings in Tuxedo chenille dot, 27 in. and the now popular 18 in. width; also Maline chenille dot veilings, sewing silks and Grenadine veilings, all colors; neckwear, in yokes, Princess floral stock collars and berthas. On our bargain tables are some very excellent designs in Valenciennes, Chantilly Applique and Point de Irlande laces (black, white and ecru) 15 to 50c lines, reduced to 10 and 25c a yard; 27 in and 18 in black Tilby and Tuxedo Chenille dot veilings, 35 and 48c goods, at 25 and 30c a yard; Princess stock collars in all leading colors from 25, 35 and 48c each; real Point Venise collars in butter color at 68c, 89c, $1 20, $1 30 and $1 75.

Notions.

The under-mentioned goods constitute a few of our sterling values in this department—Pins from 1c to 10c paper; Fastenette hook and eye, a two dozen card for 10c; 36 yard piece of white, black or gray tape for 12c; extra quality S. H. & M. velveteen facing 47 yard bolts for 19 and 25c; extra quality dress shields, worth 9c, for 6c; extra strong scissors, all sizes, 35 and 50c grade, all at 25c pair; excellent assortment of shell side combs, 10c to 30c goods, for 7c, 10c, 15c and 20c; shell pins and combs 25c to 75c goods, at the opening 20c to 75c.

The Millinery Department

will add much interest, especially to the ladies. Miss E. Gayton, who has been spending a few months in a fashionable millinery establishment uptown on Broadway, New York, studying the latest New York and Foreign Fashions, is in charge, as heretofore.

This department will exhibit the latest novelties and styles in this line at prices much below New York.

We feel very confident that we can please the most fastidious in fine style, quality and price.

Men's Furnishings.

We show in this department complete lines of Neckwear, Collars, Cuffs, Suspenders, Gloves, Shirts, Night Shirts, Handkerchiefs and Underwear—Our opening specials comprise—120 dozen Utica Nonpareil unlaundried muslin shirts, 3 ply bosoms, cut 36 in long, double stitched all through, gathered in back, linen bosom reinforced in front, all sizes 45c and 75c grades, at the opening 29c and 60c each; men's fine white dress shirts, laundried, well made, wide bosom, full length, 95c grade, to go at 75c; 50 dozen men's Percale shirts, 2 collars and cuffs, excellent designs, $1 30 grade for 99c; Men's fine neckwear in all silk tecks, four-in-hands and bows, light, medium and dark effects extra good value at 35c opening price 25c; Men's celluloid collars, newest standing shapes, all sizes, a collar worth 25c, opening price 10c; Men's half hose in black, double heel and toe, positively fast black, 20c grade, opening price 15c pair; a good heavy half hose in grey, brown and tan mixtures, worth 15c pair, opening price 10c pair; excellent grades of fine half-hose in fast black and tan, actual value 30c, 45c and 60c, opening price at 25, 39 and 50c a pair; gentlemen's pocketbooks and bill books, collar and cuff boxes, traveling cases, etc., 75c to $1 90 lines, opening price 50c to $1 49.

Separate Skirts and Underskirts.

Our opening display of ladies' separate skirts in crepon, rough cheviot, Moreen brilliantine, serges and satine, full sweep, organ pipe back, comprising the most favored adaptions of the recently imported models—something of interest to all lady shoppers.

For the opening the under mentioned specials—Satin cloth under skirts with ruffle, $1.35 lines; special at 89c. Cheviot cloth skirt, organ pipe back, good value at $4.25; special $3 48 All-wool serge in navy and black, new style, flare skirt, worth $6.50; special $5.25. Black Moreen underskirts, actual value $4; special $3 20. Our extra special all-wool Crepon skirt, new style, flare and organ pipe back, actual value $7 85 and $10; during the opening at $6 98 and $8.39

SHOE DEPARTMENT.

PARENTS ARE naturally interested in children and their shoes. We have never said much about our stock for boys and girls, little and big, but it's just as complete as in our men's and women's departments. We would make particular mention this week of our very large assortment of stylish, serviceable shoes for boys and little gents, heels and spring heels, pointed, medium and common sense toes, etc.

Housefurnishing and China Dep't.

We are well prepared in this department to furnish everything for household use. The lowest prices prevail and strictly first quality goods. We keep a complete line of Hammocks, Refrigerators, Window and Door Screens, Lawn Mowers, Ice Cream Freezers, Oil and Gas Stoves, Porch Screens, Tinware, Woodenware, Hardware, China, Glassware, Lamps and Bric-a-Brac.

The following special prices for our Spring Opening.

TINWARE

Japanned Bread boxes.....27c each
Painted Chamber pails all colors.....19c
No. 7 oval wash boilers copper bottom..59c
8 " " " " " 69c
Round tin " " tin " 19c
Oval foot tubs painted bottom.....17c
5 gal. galv'd iron oil cans with faucet..87c
Solid copper tea kettles No. 6 and 7....69c
" " " " plated...69c
1 gal. glass oil cans tin body.....29c
1 gal. galvanized iron oil cans.....19c
Galvanized iron chamber pails.....29c
Japanned tin cuspidores all colors.....9c
Spades and shovels riveted shank.....39c
" " solid shank.....49c

Ansonia Nickel Clocks.

Warranted every one; without alarm..67c
With alarm.....78c

Table Lamps, Hall Lamps, etc.

Table lamps with shade complete neat decorations.....89,97c and up
Hall lamps all colors complete solid brass trimmings at.....97c each
Night lamps various styles starting at 24, 39, and 49c each.

WOODENWARE.

Clothes pins.....7c per hundred
Clothes line.....½cent per yard
Clothes baskets.....29 cents each
Hard wood tables, with four legs, ...29 cents each
Scrub brushes, good quality....10 cts each
Nail brushes, good quality.....3 cts each
Splash mats.....8, 9, and 10 cts each
3-panel wall pockets.....9 cts each
Wash boards....19, 23, 27 and 29 cts each
3-sewed parlor brooms.....12 cts each
3-sewed brooms, best quality..23 cts each
White wash brushes....23, 35, 43 cts each
Kalsomine brushes....49, 67, 79, cts each
Dust brushes.....15, 19, 24, 29 cts each
Feather dusters...9, 12, 14, 19 cts, upward
Wash boards, zinc tops.....12 cts

Dinner, Tea and Toilet Sets.

Dinner sets, 100 pieces, English Porcelain, decorated.....$5.98 per set
Dinner sets, 112 pieces, English porcelain, decorated.....$8.47 per set.
Tea sets, 56 pieces, best English porcelain.....$3.39 per set
Fine China tea sets, choice of several styles, decorated in flower and gold.....$5.98 per set
Toilet sets, 6 pieces, best English porcelain.....$1.39 per set
Toilet sets, all prices, from $1.39 per set and upwards.

Special on Priestley's

Black Silk Warp Henriettas.

For this sale only.

The $1 quality at 90c. The $1.25 quality at $1.12.
The $1.50 quality at $1.30. The $1.75 quality at $1.50.

Refrigerators.

We carry a full line of soft and hard wood. Best makes only at bottom prices.

No. 1 soft wood chest.....$2 97
No. 2 " $3 94
No. 3 " $4 87
No. 4 " $5 93
No. 1 soft wood upright.....$5 87
No. 2 " $6 93
No. 3 " $7 94
No. 4 " $8 97

Carpet Department.

China and Japan matting, all jointless, at 9, 12½, 15 and 19c.

Cotton and Linen Warp, plain and figured, at 19, 23, 27, and 35c.

Linoleum, all grades, 37½, 49, 65, 90c square yard.

Oilcloths, all grades and widths, at 19, 23, 25, 29, and 39c square yd

All-wool ingrain carpet at 49c, extra at 65c. Agra, Kandabar, Ispahan, Rag and Hemp Carpets.

Extra Tapestry Brussels Carpet, made, laid and lined at 65c.

Moquette Carpet at 69c. Body Brussels, Velvets and Axminster carpets.

Art Rugs 2½ yards, $3, $4.98; 3x3 at $6.39; 3x3½ at $7.39; 3x4 at $8.79.

Window Shades at 19c, 25c, 29c, 35c. Special prices and estimates furnished on orders for whole house or store shades.

Window Poles and Trimmings 19c complete and upwards.

Moquette Rugs, 27x54 inches, with fringe, at $1.49.

Smyrna Door Rugs 18x36 inches, with fringe, at 59c.

Sakai Rugs, a new fabric, 30x64, at $1.93.

" " 36x72, at $2.39.

Japanese Rugs and Smyrna Rugs in large variety, all sizes, at lowest possible prices.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Upholstery Department is now replete with new seasonable goods, and we offer some extraordinary inducements. 300 yards of

Normandy Plushes

in plain and floral designs, warranted not to fade when exposed to sunlight, 26 inches wide, superb colorings, positively one of the greatest specials of the season. Our opening prices for these goods

75, 90, 98c. $1.05 and $1.15

a yard; and 25 per cent. off regular value.

15 dozen Nottingham Lace Curtains 3½ yards long, 40 inches wide, exquisite floral designs. Our price for these goods, 69c pair; heretofore 85c pair.

An excellent line of Portiere Curtains (Tapestry) floral designs. Opening price $3.49, $5.49 and $7 per pair—extra good value.

Grocery Dep't

TERMS CASH
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Special Prices for this Sale. Reliable Goods Only

French sardines in pure oil 10c a box
Lemon cling peaches very fine 17c can
Famous string beans 6c can
Very fine sweet sugar corn 7c can
Very fine Delaware tomatoes 7c can
Finest quality Mocha or Java coffee 34c pound
Good quality mixed tea 29c pound
Our regular 50c grade for 34c pound
Oyster Bay asparagus flat cans 18c can
Very fine Bahama sliced pineapple 13c can
Curtice Bros chicken soup 19c can
Babbitt's best soap 6 cakes for 24c
Full test ammonia Edsall's 9c bottle
Soda crackers 6 pounds for 25c
Heinz's Little Giant pickles 9c bottle
Cross & Blackwell's pickles all kinds 32c bottle
Andersons jams all kinds 12c can
Silexo scouring soap 2½c cake
Borax soap powder 3c cake
Very best quality Olive oil quarts 69c bottle
Very best quality Olive oil per gallon $1.95

Hosiery Dept.

Some startling leaders in this department—Children's ribbed Spring and Summer weight, full seamless fast black cotton hose, 18c, 25c and 35c grades, reduced to 12½c, 20c and 25c a pair

Ladies' fine gauze fast black cotton hose 15c, 20c, 25c and 35c grades, special at 12½c, 15c, 20c and 25c a pair

Ladies' Richelieu ribbed Lisle thread hose warranted fast colors 69c grade, special at 49c

50 doz ladies' fast black cotton hose at 5c a pair, excellent value at 9c a pair

Boys' bicycle hose sizes 7 to 10, 30c grade now 25c

Children's double knee fast black stockings full seamless well worth 35c pair now 25c pair

Perfumery and Toilet Department

This department has been completely reorganized and contains all that go to make up a well equipped perfumery department. These goods are marked on the close dry goods basis and represent the best value it is possible to get in this line of goods

The varied nature of the stock prevents giving many items. However, the undermentioned are extraordinary good values:

Bay Lavender smelling salts 45c; Florida water large bottle 48c; essence of White Lilac, essence of Napoleon Violet, essence of Jockey Club, 49c a bottle; triple extract of Heliotrope, triple extract of Persian Lilac, triple extract of Jockey Club, triple extract of White Rose, triple extract essence of Bouquet, 50c a bottle; Colgate's Cashmere Bouquet Toilet Water, 50c; Colgate's Florida Water, 29c a bottle; Colgate's fine Bay Rum, 50c a bottle; Buttermilk soap, 10c; Oatmeal soap, 10c; Pears' Glycerine soap, 20c; Cuticura soap, 20c; Strawberry soap, 25c; Cashmere Bouquet soap, 22c; Turkish bath soap, 5c; Bouquet soap, 4c.

Woolen Dress Goods.

This department is varied and choice You will be attracted if you visit this counter which comprises cheviots, hairline stripes, silk mixtures, crepons, heather mixtures, henriettas, serge and French cashmeres

OUR LEADERS!!

Along this line—300 yards crepon will be offered during the opening at the extremely low figure of 50c a yard, actual value 69c a yard

250 yards cheviot mixtures in variety of colorings at 39c a yard, heretofore 49c a yard

A lot of all-wool suitings 54 inches wide, choice range of colorings at 55c a yard, actual value 68c a yard

Hamburg Embroidery

A full line of Cambric and Nainsook embroideries in match patterns of various widths, embracing close and open work effects, deep work and wide margin of cloth 5c, 8c, 10c, 15c, and 20c lines, during our opening 3c, 5c, 8c, 13c, and 15c a yard

Stationery and Books.

This department embraces a good line of Stationery, Easter Novelties, Cards and Cloth and Paper Books. Our offerings in this department—Fine grades of linen and woven tablets from 6c to 20c; fine grades of linen paper in box from 10c to 25c; excellent assortment of Easter Cards from 3c to 20c; 500 cloth covered books, all popular titles, at 10, 15, 20 and 25c, worth 20 to 50c; 1,000 paper covered books, all popular titles, 10 and 15c lines—to open up this department we have decided to sell at 30 each.

LADIES' SILK WAISTS

One of the leading features of this department is a full line of the latest novelties comprising a profusion of dainty silks all exquisitely made in illuminated silk Taffeta, striped and fancy Japanese wash silks, light and dark effects, large sleeves, blouse front, shirred yokes and belts, specially adapted for separate skirts.

Our opening inducements comprise the following:

Figured changeable silk waists, large sleeves and belts, manufactured to sell at $3.50 and $4 25, for the opening $2 95 and $3 48

All-silk illuminated Taffeta silk waists; baloon sleeves, shirred yokes, blouse front, actual value $5.25 and $6 98, special $4 75 and $5.50.

Children's reefers in red and mixed cloth 2, 3 and 4 years, $5.50 goods to sell at $4 75

Children's white pique reefers $3.49

Children's white India silk coats, handsomely braided $5 49

Children's dresses in ginghams, seersuckers, lawns and dimity 75c to $2 50 goods for the opening 59c to $1 98

Children's white dresses trimmed with Irish Point embroidery for 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years, from $2 49 to $3 up.

Boys' Blouses—We shall offer for a few days during the opening about 25 dozen boys' calico blouses in pink, blue, navy and white; positively 60c goods; special 39c.

Wrappers, Shirt Waists, Underwear and Corsets.

The exhibit of wrappers and shirt waists, underwear and corsets made in all the choicest fabrics, will comprise more and richer styles than ever before shown in this city and will be especially worthy of a visit from every lady in Plainfield.

Special, 50 dozen striped and figured Cambric and Percale house wrappers, with full sleeves and watteau backs and large ruffle over the shoulder, manufactured to sell at 75c to $1.49. Special during our opening 59, 68, 83, and $1.10.

100 dozen ladies' laundried shirt waists with collars and cuffs, an immense variety of patterns, large sleeves adapted for separate skirts, manufactured to sell at 35, 50, 75, 93. Special during the opening, 27, 39, 50 and 69c.

Ladies' gowns handsomely embroidered, reduced from $1.99 to $1.89, during the opening 99c.

CHILDREN'S HEADWEAR

We ask special attention to our choice and complete assortment of all that is pretty in children's headwear embracing silk and lace bonnets; hats, pokes, and close fitting caps at prices to suit all purses.

An Extraordinary Special along this line

A lot of well made caps worth 25c to go at 15c

50 doz lawn and silk caps actual value 65c to $1, during our opening 49c to 75c each.

RIBBONS

We are showing without a doubt the very nicest line of plain and fancy ribbons that have ever been displayed in this city. We ask all our patrons to visit us and see these goods during the coming week.

ON BARGAIN TABLES

5,000 yards gros grain and satin ribbons ½ to 4 inches wide, all newest colorings at 3c to 25c a yard positive value from 5c to 50c a yard

Handkerchiefs

30 doz ladies scolloped embroidered lawn handkerchiefs 15c grade to go at 12½c each

Wash Fabrics.

In this department we are showing a full line of ginghams, crepons, organdies, batiste, calicoes, cambrics, satines, dimities, percales, in plaids, stripes, sprays, dots and floral designs, in fact all manner of creations: The latest triumph in American printing.

Leaders!!

3,000 yards of printed calicoes, fast colorings, in endless variety of designs, 6½ cts goods, as long as they last 4 cts per yard.

500 yards of crepon wash fabrics, fast colors 12c goods at 7 1-2 cts per yard, for a few days.

1,200 yards of Amoskeag ginghams, 7½c grade, to go at 5 cts per yard.

3,000 yards of percales, exquisite designs, best quality manufactured, 16c grade; during our Opening 12 cts per yard.

White Goods AND Linen Department

This department embraces an excellent collection of Damasks napkins, dinner cloths, towels, lunch cloths and other housekeeping linens, also dimities, apron lawns, muslins and sheetings at great concessions from original prices. We propose to give our customers the full benefit of this saving and will inaugurate the largest sale of this kind ever held in this city.

What we are offering in this direction:

1000 yards 4-4 bleached muslins 7½c grade at 5½c a yard

1000 yards 4-4 unbleached muslin 6½c grade at 4½c yard

800 yards white check dimities 8c grade at 5½c yard

1200 yards 40-inch white apron lawns 12c grade at 8½c yard

A splendid 62-inch bleached Damask 75c grade at 45c yard

300 yards crash towelling 5½c grade at 4c yard

500 yards 27-inch all line check towelling suitable for butcher's aprons, 35c grade at 25c yd.

Black Dress Goods.

Here you will find serges, cheviots, cashmeres, henriettas and novelties including the ideal crepon

OUR LEADERS

500 yards black silk warp henriettas 45 inches wide at 65c, 85c, $1, $1.25, and $1 50 a yard, far below regular value

An excellent line of wide wale serges strictly all wool at 65c a yard, well worth $1 a yard

Lining Dep't.

We offer the undermentioned inducements in this department during the Opening!

15c French Percaline all colors	12c yd
16c Silesia all colors	12c yd
20c Taffeta watered Percaline	15c yd
50c Blk watered Moreen 27 ins wide,	39c
22c Linen canvas our price	15c yd
30c American haircloth, cotton	25c yd
15c India grass cloth	12c yd
12c Cross bar Crinoline	9c yd

Silk Dep't.

In this department we shall exhibit a beautiful line of foreign and domestic silks in plain and fancy weaves, including the latest fabrics and effects, comprising Plisse Crepons, illuminated and two-toned, heavy quality black figured Taffeta, Japanese wash-silks, black Peau-de-Sole, Satin Duchesse, Moire Francaise, Faille-de-Lyon and guaranteed Gros Grain, in a variety of new Spring designs.

OUR LEADERS

In this direction—Plisse Crepons, all choice combinations, 75c lines; reduced to 50c a yard. Black all-silk Taffeta, bright lustre in sorays, figures and dots, 98c goods at 73c a yard.

Illuminated double warp Taffeta 12 different combinations 85c lines at 65c a yard.

Standard quality Japanese wash-silks in the leading colors positively 40c goods, special at 29c a yard

Also our full lines of higher grade goods at proportionately low prices

Glove Dep't

Ladies' Foster hook kid gloves, good fit and splendid wearers in new shades of tan and black all sizes, $1, $1.50 and $1 75 lines, marked to 75c, $1, and $1 25 a pair

Ladies' 4-button kid gloves in black, modes, tan and gray all sizes $1 25 and $1.50 lines, special at $1 and $1.25 a pair

Our Spring purchases of Taffeta and all silk gloves are extensive in new shades of tan, grays and black all sizes perfect fitting at 25c, 39c, and 49c a pair

Ladies' 8-button length Mosquetaire Suede gloves in white, tan, gray and black, $1 50 and $1 75 lines, special at $1 35 and $1.50 a pair

Leather Goods

We are displaying an excellent collection of ladies' pocketbooks and shopping bags

OUR SPECIAL!

30 doz well made pocketbooks 20c grade to go at 13c each

50 doz assorted leather purses good clasps 7c, 10c, 15c grades to go at 5c, 8c and 10c

BIG SHORTAGE FOUND

Sensational Outcome of the Whiskey Trust Inquiry.

Alleged Misuse of Nearly $2,000,000 in the Stock The Matter Charged to the Manipulations of the Officers and Directors of the Company—What the Receivers Have Learned.

Chicago, March 26.—A sensational report was submitted to Receiver McNulta, of the whiskey trust, by the experts who for a month have been examining the books of the Greenhut management of the concern. Charges of juggling accounts, "doctoring" books and similar work are made, and the report asserts that the former directors and officers by disposing of stock to themselves have left a discrepancy of $1,924,120.

Sold Stock to Themselves.

The report states that 34,498 shares of stock were sold by the officers and directors to themselves at forty-five cents on the dollar, and that consequently more than $2,000,000 is due from them to the stockholders of the Distilling and Cattle-feeding company. Whether or not any action to recover the amount said to be due will be taken is as yet undecided. Gen. McNulta has called a conference of interested parties to consider the matter, and what the decision will be is a question, but there is little doubt that the expert's report will result in a hot fight between the present management and the Greenhut men.

Alteration of the Books.

The charges of the alteration of the books to cover the alleged discrepancy arising from the sale of stock is elaborated in a portion of the experts' report as follows: Balance sheet, March 31, 1894: Original construction account, $50,786,510.62; treasury stock, $3,498,400. Balance sheet March 31, 1892: Original construction account, $30,786,510.92; treasury stock, sale of 34,984 shares at $45 per share, $1,674.280. Difference on 34,984 shares of stock as stated on the books to have been sold at $45 per share $5 per share, $1,924,120.

HASWELL IS DEAD.

The Dental Student's Attempt at Suicide Was Successful.

Baltimore, March 26.—James F. Haswell, the Westerly, R. I., dental student, who ten days ago swallowed a quantity of corrosive sublimate and leaped from a window of his apartments, died last night at the Good Samaritan hospital from the effects of his injuries. His father, F. F. Haswell, arrived last night and will take the remains to Westerly for interment. Three weeks prior to his determined effort to end his life, Haswell led to the altar Miss Annie Pine of Charleston, W. Va., who is prostrated by the sad ending of her short honeymoon.

HEAVY PENALTY FOR ROBBERY

Cody Sentenced at Boston to Imprisonment for Life.

Boston, March 26.—Robert J. Cody, alias Davin, alias Dalton, was found guilty of robbery and of being armed in the superior court here. The punishment is life imprisonment. On November 23, 1893, Cody robbed A. E. Chadbourne of this city of $117. Cody has served ten years in prison, having been sentenced in 1878 from Salem, Mass., and in 1888 from New Haven, Conn.

QUEENSBERRY INDICTED.

A True Bill Against the Marquis for Libelling Oscar Wilde.

London, March 26.—The grand jury has presented a true bill against the Marquis of Queensberry for libelling Oscar Wilde. The judge said in his charge that if the marquis wrote the words which it is claimed he did upon the card produced, whether he was justified or not in so doing, it constituted a libel. Moreover the defendant intended to plead justification as his defense.

Will Call an Extra Session.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 26.—Gov. Stone has decided upon calling the legislature in extra session. For the first time in twenty years the republicans have a majority in one branch and a blockade to certain measures existed.

Death of an Old Skipper.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 26.—Captain Albert Cooper, of Boston, Mass., is dead at the Inn, Lookout Mountain, aged 54, from a complication of diseases. He was an old sea captain and an influential citizen of Boston.

No Military Funeral for Greenland.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 26. — Gov. Hastings and staff will attend the funeral of Gen. W. W. Greenland at Clarion. At the request of the family there will be no military funeral.

Congressman Mosely Wed.

Dexter, Mo., March 26.—Hon. A. N. Mosely, congressman from the 14th Missouri district, and the youngest member of congress, was married here yesterday to Miss Effie Smith.

Postmasters Named.

Washington, March 26.—The president has appointed the following named postmasters: Charles B. Mason, at Danbury, Conn., and C. L. Shimer, Bethlehem, Pa.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—The spot market is dull, but prices are firmer. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 62½c.

Corn—Spot trade quite, but prices held firmly. No. 2 steamer mixed, 51½c.

Oats—Spot inactive but held strongly. No. 2 white, 37½c.; No. 2 mixed, 33½c.

Pork—Spot held firmly but inactive. Extra prime nominal, $13.00a$15.50; mess, $12.75a$13.25.

Lard—Contracts are quiet but firmer. May, $7.47.

Butter—Prices are strong but receipts continue light. New butter, creamery, western extras, 20½a21c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18c.

Cheese—Market remains quiet. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; common to fair, 8a9½c.

Eggs—Prices show a slight falling off. Western, fresh collections, firsts, 12c.

Potatoes—Prices are well sustained. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $1.87a$2.12; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., $1.75a$2.00; and do common to fair, per 180 lbs., $1.50a$1.62.

VIOLATED QUARANTINE LAW.

Secretary Carlisle's Son Taken from a Steamer Before Inspection.

Quarantine, S. I., March 26.—When the steamer Paris arrived at quarantine last Saturday, Deputy Health Officer L'Hommedieu was busy attending to the steamers that had arrived prior to the arrival of the Paris. Before he boarded the Paris the revenue cutter Hudson, having on board Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle, ran alongside the huge liner, and Mr. Carlisle's son, Wm. K. Carlisle, who was a passenger on the Paris, was taken on board the cutter and transferred to the city. The deputy health officer reported this violation of the quarantine law to his chief. Dr. Doty, when interrogated this morning, said: "My deputy reported the facts to me. I called the attention of the collector of the port to the matter in a communication addressed to him, on Saturday last, and am now expecting a reply. I think the whole fault lies with the customs house inspector in charge of the party on the cutter, who certainly should and, I believe, does know the law for such cases."

THE NICARAGUA INCIDENT.

The Claim for $75,000 Damages To Be Passed by England.

London, March 26.—The parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, Sir Edward Grey, in the house of commons, replying to Charles Howard Vincent, member of parliament for the central division of Sheffield, who questioned the government regarding the situation of affairs in the dispute between Great Britain and Nicaragua, said that the British minister to Central America, A. Gosling, had been granted leave of absence from his post, and would leave Central America in May. Mr. Roberts, the British consul in Guatamala, would succeed Mr. Gosling with the rank of charge d' affaires and that he would press the claim of Great Britain for $75,000 damages asked for as a result of the arrest of Mr. Hatch, the British consular agent at Bluefields.

REBEL BANDS DISPERSED.

Fifteen Killed and Many Wounded by Government Troops in Cuba.

Havana, March 26.—Col. Santoscildes, who commands the Government force at Manzanillo, reports that yesterday troops under Col. Araoz attacked and dispersed rebel bands at Juraguana and Cayo Camacho. The bands were 500 strong and were commanded by Guerra Guardia Reitor. Fifteen rebels were killed and many others were wounded. The government force lost one officer killed and two privates wounded. The rebels left behind a large quantity of ammunition and small arms. The same government troops also dispersed a party of rebels at San Ramon on March 22, losing one officer killed and three privates wounded.

MAY BE MURDERERS YET.

The Negroes Who Tortured Mr. and Mrs. Childs Held To Answer.

Bradford, Pa., March 26.—At Smithport, Justice Knapp has held Gratton Wilson, Fred Mabee and William Mabee for trial, on the charge of torturing and robbing Mr. and Mrs. Kerritt Childs, at Palmer's Mills, last Wednesday night. Elmer Fields, one of the accused, was discharged. Mrs. Childs was very roughly handled by the miscreants. Her condition is very critical and it is thought she may die. The three negroes may have to answer to a charge of murder.

TRIED TO GET A NEGRO OUT.

A Savannah Postoffice Clerk Arrested for Conspiracy.

Savannah, Ga., March 26.—Delivery clerk Eliott S. Payge of the Savannah postoffice has been suspended on a charge of conspiracy, and a report of the case has been forwarded by Postmaster Haines to the postoffic department. The charge was made that he attempted to influence a number of white clerks to combine to report errors of a colored delivery clerk and to protect themselves, the purpose being to secure the negroes' dismissal.

ACCEPT ONE-TH RD REDUCTION.

After a Year's Idleness, Trenton Sanitary Pressers Will Resume Work,

Trenton, N. J., March 26.—The skilled sanitary pressers of the city who have been out of employment nearly a year owing to their refusal to work at the reduced list prices have agreed in conference to a reduction of 33 1-3 per cent. This will lead to their reinstatement in the syndicate potteries and the release of the unskilled men who have had their places.

The Harvard Football Decision.

New Haven, March 26.—In a communication from the Harvard Crimson to the Yale News it is stated that unless the Harvard corporation interferes actively with the faculty decision on football, the game, as regards all intercollegiate contests, will end at Cambridge.

Convict Ruth Is a Murderer Now.

Buffalo, March 26.—John Grant, who was stabbed at the penitentiary tailor shop March 19, by John Ruth, a fellow convict, is dead. Ruth is serving an eighteen months' sentence and as soon as it expires a charge of manslaughter will be preferred against him.

Off for His Post of Duty.

Washington, March 26.—William M. Springer, the newly appointed United States judge in the Indian territory, left Washington last night for Muscogee, to make preparations for opening the court in May.

His Identity Disclosed.

Baltimore, March 26.—The identity of the man run over and killed on the B. & O. railroad near this city Sunday has been disclosed. His name was Leonard Kerr and his home was in Port Jervis, N. Y.

Ouida's Property in Italy Sold.

London, March 26.—The Sun says that all of the property in Italy of Ouida (Louisa de la Ramee), the English author, has been sold to pay her debts, and she is described as being almost penniless.

Baseball in the South.

Augusta, Ga., March 26.—Pittsburg, 11; Brooklyn, 5.

Savannah, Ga., March 26.—Boston, 13; Washington, 7.

Scratching of an English Racehorse.

London, March 26.—Cloister, a favorite for the grand natal steeplechase, which is to be run on Friday next at the Liverpool meeting has been scratched.

To Meet at Dover Next Year.

Smyrna, Del., March 26.—The Wilmington M. E., conference has decided to meet at Dover next year.

LI HUNG'S CONDITION

Contradictory Reports as to the Envoy's Wound.

One Report Says He Is Dangerously Injured, While Another, and the One Most Generally Believed, Declares That He Is in No Danger—Mr. Foster's Friends Anxious.

London, March 26.—A Central News dispatch from Tokio says that the wound received by Li Hung Chang from a Japanese assailant is much more serious than the first reports indicated. The bullet entered the cheek below the eye and the physicians have not yet been able to extract it. The condition of the Chinese envoy is critical. A dispatch from Tokio to the News says that Dr. Sato, the surgeon in attendance upon Li Hung Chang, has telegraphed to the emperor that the Chinese envoy's wound is in good condition, and that there is no cause for anxiety regarding the result. This report is generally believed Li Hung Chang's assailant, the dispatch further says, is believed to be insane.

Emperor's Surgeons Sent.

A dispatch to the Westminster Gazette announces that the Japanese parliament has passed resolutions deploring the attempt to assassinate Li Hung Chang. A Central News dispatch from Tokio announces that immediately upon hearing of the attack upon Li Hung Chang the emperor sent two of his principal surgeons to attend the Chinese envoy, and also sent his personal aide-de-camp with messages from the empress and himself. A dispatch from Shimonoseki to the Pall Mall Gazette states that Li Hung Chang will refuse to cede any territory to Japan, but instead will offer a greatly increased sum of money as indemnity.

Deep Regret in Washington.

Washington, March 26.—No official confirmation of the attempted assassination of Li Hung Chang has been received at either the Chinese or the Japanese legations. The general feeling here is one of profound regret that this venerable Chinese diplomat should have fallen a victim to a fanatic's bullet. Its effect upon the peace negotiations cannot be determined, for much will depend upon the result. Should Li recover after a short illness, the only result, it is believed, would be to delay a settlement of peace. Should he die a postponement of the peace negotiations for a number of weeks is regarded as inevitable.

Punishment for the Miscreant.

If Li should die as a result of the attack upon him, his assassin will be punished by death, which in Japan, takes the form of hanging. Even should Li recover, it is regarded as probable that Loyama will be condemned to death as a warning to his fellow countrymen. The Japanese government was greatly mortified at the attempt upon the life of the Russian George in that country a few years ago. Since then foreigners of distinction visiting the empire have had special guards detailed for their protection so long as they remained in Japan.

Mr. Foster's Friends Alarmed.

The friends of Mr. John W. Foster in this city are greatly disturbed over the shooting of Li Hung Chang, since it is feared that he may have met a similar fate. The absence of any dispatches to this effect, however, would indicate that no attempt has been made upon his life and the stringent measures which the authorities will adopt from now until the conclusion of the peace negotiations negative the belief that any injury may result in the future to Mr. Foster or to the members of Li's suite.

BRITISH SAILORS MISSING.

Four Out of Twenty Members of the Belfast Crew Brought to Port.

Glasgow, March 26.—The British steamer Durham City, Capt. Thompson, from Newport News March 8 for Glasgow, arrived at Greenock and landed four seamen of the British steamer Belfast, Capt. Brown, which sailed from Darien, Ga., on March 2 for Belfast, and was wrecked on Iona island, off the coast of Scotland. Eighteen others of the crew are missing.

Bank of Dubois Affairs.

Dubois, Pa., March 26.—A trust judgment in the sum of $100,000 has been filed at Clearfield in favor of Austin Blakeslee, of Coal Glen, by the stockholders of the bank of Dubois, and Hugh McCullough, of Dubois, has been appointed receiver. It is now certain depositors will receive at least 75 cents on the dollar.

Dropped Her Child in a Well.

Indiana, Pa., March 26.—Mrs. John F. Core, of Marion, took her 2-year-old child to a well last night and dropped it in and the infant was drowned. Mrs. Core is slightly demented. Another child, 6 years old, tried in vain to prevent the mother's action.

Will Resist a Wage Cut.

Springfield, Ill., March 26.—The miners of the Springfield sub district at a meeting held yesterday determined to resist the cut made by the operators reducing their pay from forty-five to thirty-five cents per gross ton.

Combined To Keep Open on Sundays.

New York, March 26.—Billiard and pool room proprietors have taken united action for the purpose of preventing Superintendent Byrnes from interfering with them in carrying on their business on Sunday.

Good News for 400 Miners.

Delano, Pa., March 26.—The Primrose colliery, east of this place, will shortly resume operations, after having been idle nearly a year. The colliery will give employment to 400 men and boys.

Brooklyn Trolleys' 104th Victim.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 26.—Frederick Conright, a newsboy, 9 years old, was the 104th victim of the trolley cars in this city. He was run down last evening.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

MUNYON'S COLD AND COUGH CURE.

Guaranteed to Check a Cold in a Few Hours and Prevent Grip and Pneumonia.

Colds lead to coughs, coughs to grip, pneumonia and consumption; therefore, it is all important to check a cold before it reaches the lungs. Munyon's Cold Cure will positively break a cold inside of 24 hours if taken as soon as the cold manifests itself. When the cold reaches the lungs or bronchial tubes the Cough Cure should be used alternately every half hour with the Cold Cure. The Cold Cure is guaranteed to prevent pneumonia if used in the beginning of a cold. Pneumonia, or inflammation of the lungs, can be controlled by the use of these two cures

The Cough Cure positively cures bronchitis, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, loss of voice, soreness of the chest, difficulty in breathing, hacking cough and all pulmonary diseases where the lungs are not too far decomposed or covered with tubercles.

If you are ailing step into the nearest drug store and get a 25c vial of one of Munyon's Remedies. No matter what your disease, or how many doctors have failed to cure, it will give you relief.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St., NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.

The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager.
Finderne, N. J.
1 9 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue

Now open for the reception of guests under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

5-12-1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET

J. B. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 45

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with QUEEN & CO. OF PHILADELPHIA, SEND THEIR EYE SPECIALIST TO PLAINFIELD Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street.

Dunham's Real Estate Office

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Agt.

80 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best and shortest notice.

5-23-

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

106 East Front Street——NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	30c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
All goods warranted as represented.		Lard	8c

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street, near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank. is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,

163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Bad Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

R-I-P-A-N-S TABULES act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 50 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

RIPANS TABULES

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,
197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc. in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 213 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 26 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 5034, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 109 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 28 tf

Amber Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front street

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 36, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 2 26 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

A DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE.

What He ys About Medicine and Cures.

HE TELLS WHAT HE CONSIDERS THE BEST OF ALL MEDICINES.

There is One Remedy Which He Knows Will Do All It Claims.

A doctor's evidence regarding medicine and disease is always considered the highest authority. Every court in the world accepts his judgment as positive and indisputable evidence. Therefore, what he says about a certain remedy cannot be doubted.

Dr. J. W. Minkler, of Bath, N. H., suffered for a long time with that terrible disease, asthma. All the doctors and medicines he tried could do nothing for him till he found the one remedy which he now knows to be the best remedy in the world for asthma, and all diseases of the nerves and blood. Read the doctor's convincing words:

"I had the asthma," he said, "the worst of any man I ever heard of that lived. I have paid out more than $500 for medicines, without ever receiving the slightest benefit.

"I was obliged to leave New York because I could not live there, and went into the country thinking it might help me, but it did not. I was so bad off I did not expect to live. It would come upon me suddenly, in the midst of conversation and stop me instantly, as quickly as though I had dropped dead.

DR. J. W. MINKLER.

"Sometimes I would be taken with strangling in bed, and had a window fixed so that I could touch a spring and throw it open quickly to put my head out to breathe. One day a friend asked me to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I did so and it helped me. I continued using it, and after taking two bottles was completely cured and have had no return of it since.

"Ten thousand dollars would not tempt me to return to the condition I was in before taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, if I could get no more of that wonderful medicine. It saved my life, and I don't know how it is possible for mortal man to give a stronger testimonial than this. I will gladly answer any questions regarding my case. I am satisfied that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the most remarkable medicine in existence."

Mr. Charles Childs one of the leading citizens of Bath, N. H., says:

"I was aware of Dr. J. W. Minkler's condition from asthma, and of his wonderful cure by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy."

Everyone knows that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy gives health and strength to all who use it. Everybody needs a spring tonic and restorative, and this is the best spring medicine in the world. Convince yourself by trying it.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and his grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

SHE WANTS $125,000

Anna Dickinson's Damage Suit on at Scranton.

The Once Famous Lecturer Seeking Satisfaction for False Detention in an Asylum—She Gives an Eloquent Description of Her Interesting Career on the Witness Stand.

Scranton, Pa., March 26.—The once famous lecturer from Philadelphia, Miss Anna Dickinson, who four years ago was imprisoned as a lunatic in the Danville insane asylum, is here as a witness in the United States circuit court in her action to recover damages amounting to $125,000. There are three cases arising out of the alleged conspiracy, the defendants being John Courtright, George B. Thompson, Allen Eggelston, John Hiltman, Dr. Gideon Underwood and Henry Bryden, from whom she seeks $50,000 damages.

What Miss Dickinson Claims.

Dr. Underwood is a separate defendant in action for the same amount of damages and Dr. Oglesby, of Danville, is also a separate defendant in $25,000 damages. Miss Dickinson claims that on Feb. 21, 1891, six men entered her room at West Pittston assaulting and seizing her, and without suitable clothing bearing her away to the asylum where she was held a prisoner for five weeks.

Earned $48,000 in One Year.

Miss Dickinson testified that she was born in Philadelphia. When 17 years old, she said, she first appeared as a public speaker in Philadelphia. At that time she entered the Progressive Friends club in that city. She first spoke on "Woman's Rights and Wrongs." She gave an eloquent description of her life and of her success and fame and of the earnings of her genius, which ran as high as $48,000 in one year. The complaint of Miss Dickinson is that she was not insane when sent to the asylum.

AUGUST S. BARBER DEAD.

He Was the Oldest Newspaper Man in New Jersey.

Woodbury, N. J., March 26.—August S. Barber, the oldest newspaper man in New Jersey, died at his home here yesterday, aged 85 years. He was a native of Chambersburg, Pa., where he learned the printing trade, and in 1834 removed to Woodbury and established the Constitution as an advocate of the whig party. It has since been strongly republican in politics. Mr. Barber was active in the managemet of his paper until four years ago, when he transferred it to his son, the present proprietor.

REINA REGENTE NOT FOUND.

So the Official Reports to the Spanish Government Declare.

Madrid, March 26.—The government is officially informed that all reports that the warship Reina Regente has been found submerged in the straits are wholly without foundation, and also that neither wreckage nor bodies from the ship have been washed ashore. The newspapers now say that it is untrue that the wreck of the Reina Regente has been found.

EMMA ELLERY DEAD.

The Bullet Wounds Inflicted by Thomas Horsey Proved Fatal.

Newburyport, Mass., March 26.—Miss Emma Ellery died last night at her home on School street. On Monday evening January 21, Thomas F. Horsey fired two shots into Miss Ellery's face and then shot himself. She has lingered along, it being impossible to extract the bullets which were imbedded in her neck, blood poisoning setting in which caused death.

GRIP WIPES OUT A FAMILY.

Father, Mother and Daughter Die a Few Hours Apart.

Norwich, Conn., March 26.—News reached here last night that the grip had stricken a family in Pomfret, all of whom were dead. The news was speedily confirmed. James Clapp, aged 72, died Friday; his wife, aged 69, died Saturday, and his daughter, Mary Clapp, aged 40, died Sunday. They will be buried to-day.

Cramps Greatly Disturbed.

Philadelphia, March 26.—The Cramps are greatly disturbed over the failure to launch the St. Paul yesterday. Not since 1873, when the steamship Pennsylvania stuck on the ways, has there been a hitch in a launch at Cramps's ship-yard until yesterday. The disappointment of 25,000 people was the result of yesterday's failure. When the launch will take place it is impossible to say. The failure was caused by the poor quality of tallow that was used on the ways.

Republicans Carry Danbury.

Danbury, Conn., March 26.—The city election resulted in the republicans electing their ticket by 290 majority. G. Mortimer Rundle was elected mayor. Frank A. Bouton was elected city clerk. The republicans control the councils.

Will Accept Houben's Challenge.

New York, March 26.—Arthur Zimmerman, the champion bicyclist of America, has decided to accept the challenge recently issued by Hubert Houben, the Belgian wonder, to a series of three races for 25,000 francs a side.

Gives Up the Speakership Fight.

London, March 26.—Leonard Courtney has withdrawn positively his candidacy for the speakership owing to the unionist resolution not to oppose the conservative nominee, Sir Matthew Ridley, Lord Tweedmouth's brother-in-law.

Oleomargarine Law Violations.

Washington, March 26.—The treasury department is keeping a sharp lookout for violators of the oleomargarine law and four dealers have just been heavily fined for violation of the law.

New Job for Prof. Ahlers.

Colorado Springs, Col., March 26.—Prof. Louis A. E. Ahlers of the Harvard graduate school has been appointed to the chair of modern languages of Colorado college.

Allegheny Free of Ice.

Kittanning, Pa., March 26.—The immense ice gorge in the Allegheny river has broken and passed out, doing no damage whatever.

DIES FAR AWAY FROM HOME.

Reuben E. Fenton, Son of ex-Gov. Fenton, Passes Away at Naples.

Jamestown, N. Y., March 26.—Reuben Earle Fenton, only son of ex-Governor R. E. Fenton, died yesterday at Naples, Italy, aged 30 years. The first intimation of Mr. Fenton's illness was received Thursday, when a cablegram announced that he was ill of fever. A second dispatch Friday stated that he suffered a hemorrhage and another Sunday said his condition was very critical. Yesterday a cablegram announced his death. Mr. Fenton was a brilliant young man and very popular in Jamestown and vicinity. Several years ago Mr. Fenton was married to Miss Hayden of Columbus, O. As soon as the news of his death was received the flag of the armory was set at half mast.

MAY COME IN UNDER BOND.

Secretary Carlisle Decides To Admit the Diamond Cutters.

Washington, March 26.—Secretary Carlisle sent a telegram to Commissioner Senner at New York instructing him that bonds with good security could be accepted for the immigrants who came on the Majestic and who were finally barred, as likely to become public charges. The immigrants referred to are the Holland diamond cutters. A telegram earlier in the day stated that it could not be proven that the diamond cutters came to this country under contract. The allegation that they were likely to become public charges seemed absurd, in view of the fact that the head man of the party is worth $100,000 and the others are all more or less men of means. A fight with labor organizations will probably follow.

TERESA DE CEVERA IN MEXICO.

Released from Jail by a Mob of Infuriated People.

El Paso, Tex., March 26.—Teresa de Cevera is again giving trouble to the Mexican government. She was the cause of a revolt at Tomechie fourteen months ago, which resulted in the Mexican authorities making the woman leave the country. She crossed to Nogales, Ariz., where, it is said, she performed wonderful cures. She disappeared from Nogales, and two weeks ago made her appearance in the village of Elpolovo, and succeeded in stirring up the people there. She was arrested and confined in jail, but was released by a mob of infuriated people, who believed the woman to be a saint.

IRWIN PURGED OF CONTEMPT.

The Pool Operator's Books Surrendered for Inspection.

Pittsburg, March 26.—George M. Irwin, the discretionary pool operator, has purged himself of contempt by surrendering his books and papers to the union trust, where they will be accessible to the receiver and his own attorneys. Judge Ewing several weeks ago declared Irwin in comtempt for refusing to surrender the books, but the supreme court suspended the order and released Irwin from jail until after the trial of a criminal suit then pending against Irwin, which resulted in his acquittal.

BAD FEELING AT MADRID.

Strong Public Resentment on Account of the Officers' Riots.

London, March 26.—The Central News correspondent in Madrid says: Strong public resentment is felt still on account of the officers' riots. Officers are hissed frequently when they enter cafes or music halls. The whole affair has had a bad influence on the ranks. The noncommissioned officers and privates are returning late from their furloughs and are inclined to be defiant.

THE DELAWARE SENATORSHIP.

Efforts for a Compromise Expected To Succeed.

Dover, Del., March 26.—Strenuous efforts are making to effect a compromise between the Higgins and Addicks factions, and it is confidently expected that a United States senator will be chosen this week. One ballot was taken yesterday. It resulted as follows: Higgins 8, Addicks 5, Massey 3, Ridgely 10, Tunnel 1.

Appointments by Gov. Werts.

Trenton, N. J., March 26.—Gov. Werts has appointed ad interim several persons whose nominations were rejected by the senate last week. J. Kearney Rice was appointed law judge of Middlesex county and ex-senator Robert Adrain was reappointed prosecutor of that county; A. H. Swackhamer was made prosecutor of Gloucester county and S. Bowman Cox, lay judge.

Used the Mails Fraudulently.

New York, March 26.—Mrs. Minnie E. Nichols, of Moriches, L. I., who was on trial in the United States court in Brooklyn, charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes, was found guilty by the jury, and will have to pay a fine of $100 and spend a day in jail for the offence.

For Threatening Crispi.

Rome, March 26.—Premier Crispi recently received a letter from an anarchist who threatened him with vengeance for the ill treatment of anarchists in government prisons. The sender has been arrested with six of his comrades.

Missing Man Found.

Hartford, Conn., March 26.—R. Ensign Abbe, the Thompsonville apple merchant who has been missing since March 6, was found in this city yesterday afternoon. He can give no account of his wanderings.

In Behalf of Armenian Prisoners.

London, March 26.—Lord Kimberley, secretary of the foreign office, will receive on March 29 a deputation of peers, commoners and clergymen interested in the Armenian exiles and prisoners.

To Enlarge a Yale Society House.

New Haven, March 26.—The Yale Junior society of Psi Upsilon has decided to enlarge greatly its society building on High street, elevate it and give it a new front.

New York City Police Bill.

Albany, March 26.—The New York city police magistrates bill passed the assembly by a vote of ayes, 85, noes, 19.

Their Resignations Accepted.

Madrid, March 26.—The government has accepted the resignations of the ministers at London and Washington.

Pope Leo III.

Paris, March 26.—A private dispatch from Rome says the pope is suffering with a severe cold.

BISMARCK BROKE DOWN

Cried Bitterly When Speaking of William I.

Celebration of the ex-Chancellor's Eightieth Birthday Begun—Deputations from the Landtag and Reichstag Visit Friedrichsruhe—The Kaiser To Call To-day.

Friedrichsruhe, March 26.—The celebration of the eightieth anniversary of the birth of Prince Bismarck, which occurs on April 1, may be said to have begun. Three hundred and ninety-two members of the reichstag and the Prussian diet came here yesterday afternoon to congratulate the great ex-chancellor. Replying to the congratulation of the Prussian landtag, Prince Bismarck said:

Cried Bitterly.

"Accept my warmest thanks for the honor you have rendered me. It is to me the highest distinction to see such a noble assembly united here. I should be ashamed if the honor was not for the work I have done, not for my person only. The credit for the political results achieved I shared with those co-operating with me, who are now dead, and above all with my greatly worshipped good master under whom I worked so long." Here the aged ex-chancellor stopped speaking and cried bitterly, the assembly in the meantime being greatly affected.

Praise for Prussia.

Regaining his composure somewhat, the prince resumed his remarks in a voice choked with emotion. "What," he said, "could I have done without his aid and that of his powerful army? I would have stuck in the same bog that frustrated all previous attempts at German unity. Our dynasties, thank God, are still powerful in their countries (cheers), and especially the king of Prussia is able to put a powerful army into the service of national interest. This was my aim at Frankfort-on-the-Main and I have always followed it since.

Best for the People.

"Thanks to our Emperor William I., and his federated sovereigns, more was done than any diplomat could do. If the emperor had not ordered the mobilization of the armies in 1866-70, what would have become of Germany? The dynasties fought harder with each other than any of the parliamentary factions fought. Among the parliamentary factions the discussion is deeper and more heated, and common action seems excluded. Federal governments prove to be better for the people than parliamentary factions. With federated governments national interests are always above all other considerations."

The Emperor's Visit.

The emperor's visit to Prince Bismarck to-day will assume the character of a special military honor to the old chancellor. His majesty has ordered a company of infantry, a company of pioneers, a squadron of the Wandsbeck hussars, and a battery of artillery, all with colors and bands, to be in readiness. They are to assemble at Friedrichsuhe. The emperor will alight from his special train at Anmeuhle and place himself at the head of the troops, which will march to the castle. The emperor will be accompanied by Gen. Bronsart von Schellendorf, minister of war, and the members of the military household.

BLOW AT OUR CATTLE TRADE.

Argentina Getting in Shape To Become a Dangerous Competitor.

Washington, March 26.—In addition to having our cattle barred out of several European countries, it appears from information received by Secretary Morton that the Argentine republic is fast shaping its affairs so as to become one of our principal competitors in this business. A private letter just received by Secretary Morton from United States Minister Buchanan, says the cattle shippers are looking to a development of their trade in both Great Britain and Germany, and that their trade is unquestionably growing and rapidly, too.

Condition of New York Banks.

Washington, March 26.—The national banks of New York state, exclusive of New York city, Albany and Brooklyn, had, on March 5 last, $96,285,000 in loans and discounts; $8,719,000 in lawful money reserve; $4,954,000 in gold, and $91,126,000 in individual deposits. The average reserve was 26.60 per cent.

Towed Into Fort Monroe.

Fort Monroe, Va., March 26.—The steamer City of Para, with about forty passengers aboard from New York for Colon, lost her propeller March 21st, about five hundred miles out. Shortly afterwards the steamer Prince William the Fourth came along and took the Para in tow, arriving here last night.

Severe Electric Storm at Reading.

Reading, Pa., March 26.—This section was visited by a severe thunder storm yesterday. The Evangelical church at Bernville was struck by lightning and the steeple and building damaged. In some places the shocks were so severe as to shatter panes of glass in dwellings.

Mary Delaney Undoubtedly Insane.

Washington, March 26.—Mary Delaley, the woman under arrest charged with attempting to burn two Catholic churches in this city last week, is undoubtedly insane, and she will probably be sent to an insane asylum. She is very violent.

Discredited the Report.

Washington, March 26.—Officials of the Indian bureau here discredit the report that the Puyallup and Nisqually Indians of Washington are going on the war path on account of the killing of a medicine man.

Will Investigate Renton's Death.

Washington, March 26.—Honduras has given assurance to the United States that it will promptly act concerning the murder of Mr. Renton, the American who was assassinated in that country.

A French Lottery Loan.

Paris, March 26.—The government has sanctioned a proposal to allow the Credit Foncier to issue a lottery loan of 250,000,000 francs.

More Troops Landed at Havana.

Havana, March 26.—The cruiser Alfonso XII. has arrived, having on board 1,300 government troops.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY

WITH EVERY ONE POUND bale OF

DUKES MIXTURE

for 35 cents

Every pipe stamped DUKES MIXTURE or

2 oz. PACKAGES 5¢

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.
Stoves at reduced prices.
Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.
Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

esidence and postoffice address
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer
TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.
Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.
HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial Parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 19 tf

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey porkand poultry a specialty.
203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES
From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue.
Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort
[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.
[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS,

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 m

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.
References given and required.
Address letters to the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-c

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System

used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue.
Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
178 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 82 7

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 9 4 y

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
JONES & CO.
Cesspools built. 9 15

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for
H. J. Hayden & Co.,
WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D. C.
All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.
Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—20.—

BUT FULL VALUE.
C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 27 Chatham street.

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER III.

She turned to Andreis, who at that moment came along the sands of the beach, his hands filled with spoils from the blossoming hedges—turned to him as when, a little child on the staircase in the dusk, she had run to reach the shelter of a warmed and lighted room. He was of her own country, her own age, her own temperament; he carried about him a sense of gladness, an atmosphere of youth; he was of her own rank; he was as rich as she and richer. There was no leaven of self-seeking in the love he bore her; the passion she had roused in him was pure of any alloy; it was the love of the poets and the singers. If she accepted it, her path, from youth to age, would be like one of those flowering meadows of his own Sicily, which fill the cloudless day with perfume.

She knew that; her foot was ready to tread the narcissus-filled grass, but by an unaccountable indecision and caprice she would not let him invite her thither. She continually evaded or eluded the final words which would have united them or parted them.

SHE TURNED TO ANDREIS.

"Have you given up your appointment?" he asked once, directly.

Damer merely answered: "No." He did not offer any explanation; but he continued to stay on in Venice, though he had removed from the fine apartments occupied by his friend to a house on the Fondamente Nuovi, where he had hired two chambers.

Andreis, who was very generous and had always a grateful and uneasy sense of unrepaid obligation, vainly urged him to remain at his hotel. But Damer, somewhat rudely, refused.

"I cannot pursue any studies there," he replied.

The house he had chosen was obscure and uninviting, standing amidst the clang of coppersmiths' hammers and the stench of iron foundries in what was once the most patrician and beautiful garden-quarter of Venice, and which is now befouled, blackened, filled with smoke, and clamour, and vileness, where once the rose terraces and the clematis-covered pergole ran down to the lagoon and the marble stairs were white as snow under silken awnings.

"What do you do there?" Veronica wished to ask him; but she never did so; she felt vaguely afraid as a woman of the middle age would have feared to ask a magician what he did with his alembics and his spheres.

Although the eyes of lovers are proverbially washed by the collyrium of jealousy, those of Andreis were blind to the passion which Damer, like himself, had conceived. The reserve and power of self-restraint in Damer were extreme, and served to screen his secret from the not very discerning mind of his companion. Moreover, the pride of race which was born and bred in Andreis rendered it impossible for him to suspect that he possessed a rival in one who was, however mentally superior, so far socially inferior, to himself and to the woman he loved.

That a man who was going to receive a stipend as a teacher in a German university could lift his eyes to Veronica Laranigra would have seemed wholly impossible to one who had been reared in patrician and conservative tenets. He never noticed the fires which slumbered in the cold, wide-open eyes of his friend and monitor. He never observed how frequently Damer watched him and her when they were together, listened from afar to their conversation, and invariably interrupted them at any moment when their words verged on more tender or familiar themes. He was himself tenderly, passionately, romantically enamoured; his temper was full of a romance to which he could not often give adequate expression; his love for her had the timidity of all sincere nascent passion; he was pained and chafed by the manner in which she avoided the definite declaration of it, but he did not for a moment trace it to its right cause—the magnetic influence which Damer had upon her, the hesitation which was given her by vague hypnotic suggestion. If any looker-on had warned him he would have laughed and said that days of magic were past.

Damer read the young man's heart like an open book and he knew that it was wholly filled with the image of Veronica. He had never liked Andreis; he had no liking for youth or for physical beauty, or for kindliness and sweetness and simplicity of character. Such qualities were not in tune with him; they were no more to him than the soft, thick fur of the cat in his laboratory, which he stripped off her body that he might lay bare her spinal cord; the pretty, warm skin was nothing to science.

He had saved the life of Andreis because it had interested him and recompensed him to do so; he had traveled with him for a year because it suited him financially to do so; but he had never liked him, he had never been touched by any one of the many generous and delicate acts of the young man, nor by the trust which the mother of Andreis continually expressed in her letters to himself. Where jealousy sits on the threshold of the soul, goodness and kindness and faith knock in vain for admittance. Envy is hatred in embryo and only waits in the womb of time for birth.

One day Veronica asked him to go and see an old servant of the Laranigra household who was very ill and in hospital; they had begged him not to go to the hospital, but he had wished to do so, and had been allowed to fulfill his wish. Damer went to see him. He found the man at death's door with cancer of the food and air passages.

"If he be not operated on he will die in a week," said Damer.

None of the hospital surgeons dared perform such an operation.

"I will operate if you consent," said Damer.

The surgeons acquiesced.

"Will Biancon recover?" asked Veronica, when he returned and told her on what they had decided.

"In his present state he cannot live a week," replied Damer, evasively.

"Does he wish for the operation?"

"He can be no judge. He cannot know his own condition."

"But it will be frightful suffering."

"He will be under anæsthetics."

"But will he recover?"

"Madame, I am not the master of fate."

"But what is probable?"

"What is certain is that the man will die if left as he is."

He performed the operation next day. The man ceased to breathe as it was ended; the shock to the nervous system had killed him. When Veronica heard that he was dead she burst into tears.

"Oh! why, oh! why," she said passionately to Damer, later in the day, "if you knew he must die, did you torture him in his last moments?"

"I gave him a chance," he replied, indifferently. "Anyhow he would never have survived the operation more than a few weeks."

"Why did you torture him with it then?" said Veronica, indignantly.

"It was a rare and almost unique opportunity. I have solved by it a doubt which has never been solved before and never could have been without a human subject."

She shrank from him in horror.

"You are a wicked man!" she said, faintly. "Oh, how I wish, how I wish I had never asked you to see my poor Biancon! He might have lived!"

"He would most certainly have died," said Damer, unmoved. "The life of a man at sixty is not an especially valuable thing, and I believe he did nothing all his life except polish your palace floors with beeswax or oil; I forget which it is they use in Venice."

She looked at him with a mixture of horror and fear.

"But you have killed him!—and you can jest."

"BUT YOU HAVE KILLED HIM!"

"I did not kill him. His disease killed him," replied Damer, with calm indifference. "And his end has been a source of knowledge. I should wish my own end to be as fruitful."

She shuddered, and motioned to him to leave her.

"Go away, go away, you have no heart, and no conscience."

Damer smiled slightly.

"I have a scientific conscience; it is as good as a moral one, and does better work."

Andreis began to desire the exile of his companion, though his loyalty withheld him from trying to obtain it by any unfair means or unjust attack. He began to perceive that Damer had an influence on Countess Veronica which was contrary to his own, and adverse to his interests. He did not attach importance to it, because he saw that it was purely intellectual; but he would have preferred that it had not existed. So would she.

"Pierres de malheur! Pierres de malheur!" she said, as she looked at the opals that night. "Why did you bring that cruel man into my life?"

She might banish him, as Andreis had said, but she felt that she would never have courage to do it. Damer awed her. She felt something of what the poor women in the salpetiere had felt, when he had hypnotised them and made them believe that they clasped their hands on red-hot iron, or were being dragged by ropes to the scaffold. She strove to resist and conquer the impression, but she was subjugated by it against her will.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

You will ride a Bicycle

Of course you will ride. All the world will—fashion, pleasure, business — men, women, children. It takes a while sometimes for the world to recognize its privileges, but when it does it adapts itself promptly. Therefore, you who are in the world will ride a bicycle—a bicycle if you desire the best the world produces; a Hartford, the next best, if anything short of a Columbia will content you.

COLUMBIA

Columbias, $100; Hartfords, $80 $60; for boys and girls, $50.

POPE MFG. CO., Hartford, Conn.

Boston, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Providence, Buffalo.

A Catalogue—comprehensive, beautiful—at any agency free, or by mail for two 2-cent stamps. The book tells of all the new Columbias and Hartfords

BY THE WAY.

—All bills against the city should be in the hands of the City Clerk by Thursday night.

—Seely Edsall will talk on higher life at the meeting of the Christian Alliance at 317 East Front street this evening at 7:30.

—The third degree was worked on two candidates by Queen City Lodge, I O O.F., last night. One application for membership was received.

—Two little colored boys, with blue suits and brass buttons, took up their station in Edsall's this morning, to open the doors for patrons.

—Mayor Hegeman last night administered the oath of office to H. N. Spencer, collector, Dr. J. E. Cooley, assessor, and John W. Van Horn, marshal.

—The arrangement of the bonnets in Boehm's display window today is very attractive to the feminine eye, and announces the opening of their Spring millinery.

—George Johnson, Edward L. Hand, Louis Frentz, Charles Frentz, Joseph Smith, William Buckley, William Lee and the Brown brothers have already taken an active interest in the Scotch Plains ball team. The building at the corner of Park and Bartle avenues will be used as a club house.

—Jacob R. Johnson has his fourth auction sale of Western horses Saturday of this week at Taylor's Hotel, Dunellen. His reputation for selling good stock is without question and any one contemplating purchasing a horse will do well to attend his sale. His advertisement appears in this issue.

—James Cashman, drunk and disorderly, was sent to the county jail for 10 days by Magistrate Crosley in the borough this morning.

—Wm. Hand & Son moved today F. R Stevens from South avenue to 403 Park avenue, and Mrs. Benedict from South avenue to 403 Park avenue.

—The annual session of the Newark Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will begin Wednesday, April 3, in the Bethel Church, Tottenville, S. I.

—Evangelist Lester Leggett, formerly of Plainfield and a brother of the late Charles P. Leggett, will conduct the Young Men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Sunday at 4:15 p. m.

—Wm. Hand & Son yesterday moved Clarence Leland from Prospect avenue to Elmwood place, and Mrs. Vermeule from West Fifth street to the corner of Second and New streets.

Weave... Jamestown, ... hundred weavers ... worsted mills are on ... crease in pay.

Spanish Ambassador Recalled.

Paris, March 26.—Leoney Castillo, Spanish ambassador, has been recalled. The Duke of Mandas will succeed him.

JOHNSON'S FOURTH
Auction Sale
for 1895
OF HORSES,
At TAYLOR'S HOTEL, Dunellen,
Saturday, March 30
at 1 o'clock, rain or shine.
One Car Load of Western Horses,
suitable for all purposes. Also a number of Jersey Horses and Mares, suitable for farm or road.
Usual credit and guarantee given to every purchaser. 3 26 4-c 1

Telephone 58

Ring it up when you want good coal, and talk to

Geo. O. Stevens

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

BAMBERGER'S
THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE
NEWARK, N. J.
Whatever fashion favors in
Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts
will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are, they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes
in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons.
$1.98 to $27.50

NEW
Spring Jackets
in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from
$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from 49c to $7.50

NEW
Separate Skirts
of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles lined and interlined, from
$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS
The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from 98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND
House Dresses
Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from 44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,
147 and 149 Market Street,
Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c, and $1. Sold by all druggists.

TERRILL & COLE,
Undertakers and Embalmers
200 West 2d street.
Next to Trinity Reformed Church.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 26 y

WANTS AND OFFERS.

Advertisements under this heading, 1 ct. a word, each insertion. (Less than ten words, ten cents.) Cash must accompany ads.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 24 6

WANTED—2 first-class painters. Call between 5 and 6 this evening, Marshall, 167 North ave.

FOR RENT—Nice cottage, 9 rooms; $13 per month. Address J. A. Baker, Scotch Plains, N J.

FOR SALE—New six-room house in good neighborhood; terms easy. Call 196 Somerset st. 3 26 3-eod

WANTED.—By a good laundress, washing; will go out by the day. Call 325 Cottage place.

WANTED—A good gentle horse; good and kind, for ladies to drive. Address Box 335, city. 3 26 4

FURNISHED rooms with board; home comforts; all improvements. 403 Central avenue. 3 26 3

A large house 17 rooms, suitable for a boarding house. Apply W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville, 3 21 4

30 Acres good land to rent on shares. Apply P. C. Ohl. 3 23 6

FOR RENT.—Store in the Alberti Building, 121 East Front st; changes made if desired to connect two floors. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

FOR RENT—House 208 East 5th st., from April 1; $35 a month; modern improvements. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

SIDE-BAR surrey, phaeton top; price $160. Inquire at 740 West 3d st. 3 25 6

COLORED girl wants situation as chambermaid or waitress. 230 Park ave. 3 25 6

FOR SALE—Horse, wagon and harness, $40. Call 1325 Lake st. 3 25 3

HOUSE and building lots for sale in Westfield, N. J., high ground, good neighborhood, convenient to depot. Address box 104 Westfield N. J. 3 24 6-3 28 4 c

CORNER flats to let, improvements, steam heat, corner store. Miller 339 Park ave. 3 25 6

WANTED—A situation to take care of horses and lawn. Address 209 W. Front st. 3 25 2

YOUNG lady wanted in office to do copying; must be a good writer. Address, stating salary expected, J. E. P., care Press. 3 25 3

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

WANTS AND OFFERS.

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

SIX ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. B. Force, 132 Park ave, boots and shoes. 3 23 6

FLAT to let, every convenience, Apply J. P. Taylor, 612 Park ave. 3 23 tf

WANTED—Small second-hand safe. Address Cash, care Press. 3 23 tf

BOARDERS and table boarders wanted in a private family, by the week, day, or meal. 130 North ave, 2nd. flat. 3 23 6

HEATH & DRAKE
Grand Opening
New Spring
CARPETS!
on WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
March 27 and 28,
at which time we will have on exhibition the choicest and most exclusive line of Carpets ever exhibited in this State.

Royal Wilton from $1 50 up.
Axminster from $1 yd up.
Body Brussels from 90c yd up.
Tapestry Brussels from 60c yd up
Ingrain carpets from 40c yd up.
Linoleums from 50c yd up.
Oilcloth from 25c yd up.
Mattings from $3 75 per roll.

Splendid new line of Rugs, Art Squares, etc., at moderate prices.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend this opening and inspect the goods, whether they want to purchase or not.

HEATH & DRAKE,
777 and 779 BROAD STREET,
Newark, N. J.

SPRING MILLINERY DISPLAY,
Wednesday, March 27, of all the latest novelties in Hats, Bonnets, Dutch Bonnets, Napoleon and 20th Century Turbans, Flowers, Ribbons, and all the accessories in Trimmings that complete the newest styles.
Mrs. L. Adams,
111 East Front st., under First National Bank

Why Pay $5.00 for Flour
when you can get a good barrel for $3.75 at
J. F. MacDonald's, 186 E. Front St.
All goods of the finest quality and guaranteed.

N. O. molasses	35c	2 quarts Cal. limas	25c
Fine butter	22c	4 cans corn	25c
5 pounds raisins	25c	3 cans ex. fine tomatoes	25c
3 pounds fr prunes	25c	3 cans E. J. peas	25c
2 pounds dry peaches	25c	2 cans peaches	25c
2 pounds evaporated apricots	25c	2 cans apricots	25c
4 pounds rice	25c	2 cans salmon	25c
3 quarts beans	25c	3 cans string beans	25c

LADIES' $2 OXFORDS
Black and Russet.
Common Sense and Opera Toe; all new Spring goods!
ALEX. WILLETT & SON,
107 Park avenue
Come and see them!

TRUNKS.
New stock in today. Any trunks left over from last year go at cost.
We have re-tagged them. You see old price and new; good trunks they are, too—mostly big sellers. Prices $2.50 to $10.50. Quick if you want one.
Front street, opp Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.
Hallock

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,
177 North Avenue.

A CLEAN WASH! SOAP, SOAP.
PUTNAM & DeGRAW
only hope that you will embrace this opportunity and purchase an elegant box containing three cakes of fine toilet soap for 10c.

Lavender Salts, bottle	25c.
Royal Talcum Powder, box	10c.
Layons Tooth Powder, box	15c.
Box of O. C. O. Complexion Powder and bottle of Perfume, special	10c.
Extra quality ½ hose, 15c. pair, 2 for	25c.
Men's medium weight underwear	39c.

Warner Bro's. CORSETS.
Thompson's "Glove Fitting"

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

BE SURE TO READ IT.

PLAINFIELD'S NEW ORDINANCE.

It Affects Every Building in the City.

Occupying Page 2 and a portion of Page 3 of The Press today, is the new building ordinance, now published for the first time.

It is most important legislation, and every owner of a building in Plainfield is affected by it. Even to the location of ash-pits, the placing of zinc under stoves, and the mixing of mortar, every detail of building is affected by this ordinance. It should be read thoroughly by every householder. Its requirements are strict, and will be enforced.

The ordinance will come up for final passage and adoption in April.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

H. S. Thomas is confined to his room with an attack of lumbago.

John Schenck of the borough has recovered from an attack of grip.

Mark Schoetlin has moved from Somerset street to 16 Linden avenue.

Editor D. D. Clark of The Dunellen Call was in town today on business.

Dr. Charles R. Thiers is confined to his home on Grove street with the grip.

Rev. Hobart Clark will take up his residence on East Sixth street April 1.

Mrs. E. H. Hannigan of 15 Prospect place moved yesterday to 8 Craig place.

Lewis Brown of Prospect place has changed his residence to 25 Craig place.

Johnston Barber of Fanwood will move Thursday to Netherwood avenue.

Editor Hugh Boyd of the New Brunswick Home News was in town yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Miller of Brooklyn will deliver a sermon in Holy Cross Church tonight.

John Fellows and family of Grove street will move tomorrow to 1108 Putnam avenue.

John Henry Ross of North Branch has leased the house 29 Park place, where he will move April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Vezeey have returned to this city from a pleasant trip through the South.

E. C. Searing and family yesterday removed from Hart's flats on Park avenue to 520 West Fifth street.

Miss Anna Searing is confined to her home on Madison with an attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

J. A. Hasbrouck will move Friday from 19 to 128 Grove street into the house now occupied by John Fellows.

Fred Moffett of 4 Mercer avenue will move Friday to 26 Duer street, into the house just vacated by J. C. Martin.

Miss Julia Lytel returned yesterday to her home in Newark, after a visit with Mrs. George Vroom of Somerset street.

Albert Johnston of Scotch Plains has moved to 110 Netherwood avenue into the house formerly occupied by Walter C. Williams.

Hon. E. R. Pope and wife and Mulford Estil are booked for Honeyman's 41-day tour in California, which starts Thursday, April 11.

Brereton Clapp of Waynewood place wears a smile on his countenance today over the advent of a little brother into his family last night.

William P. Reed of Newark was the guest yesterday of his brother-in-law, F. M. Masker. He likes Plainfield so well that he is thinking of settling here.

On account of the illness of Wm Stewart of West Fifth street the contemplated removal of Mr. Stewart and his mother to Somerville has been postponed till April 1.

The marriage of George Gray and Fannie Westphal will take place this evening at the home of the bride, 1001 South Second street. Rev. G. Kennedy Newell will perform the ceremony.

Rev. T. Logan Murphy last night lectured in Trinity Chapel, Elizabeth, on Ireland. The lecture was diversified with Irish witticisms and historical events, and illustrated by stereoopticon.

Pierre Mali and family of Plainfield and New York were among the cabin passengers on the steamship Majestic, which sailed yesterday for Liverpool. They intend making a short European tour, and will return June 1 to their country-seat, East Front street, where they will spend the balance of the Summer. Mrs. Mali is the daughter of the late John Taylor Johnston.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

HYMENEAL.

Adams—Kurzhals.

A charming home wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kurzhals, 110 West Second street, when their daughter, Miss Emma Kurzhals, was married to Arthur G. Adams.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis at 7:30. The bride was gowned in white silk crepon, trimmed with white moire ribbons, and the bridemaid wore a gown of white trimmed with white satin ribbons.

Harvey Thorne was best man, and Miss Anna Kingston bridemaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams received a large number of handsome and useful presents, one of which was a dining room set of furniture from the groom's friends in the Jersey City office of the Jersey Central Railroad, where the groom has an excellent position.

Among those who witnessed the ceremony were the following: Mr and Mrs F J Sauermann and family, Bayonne; Mr and Mrs Decker, Elizabeth; Mrs Loquay, German Valley; Mrs Klaffer and Miss Shultz, Long Island; Mr and Mrs H B Kurzhals, Westfield; John Porr, New York city; Mrs Kershaw, Greenville; Mr and Mrs P A VanFleet, Miss May VanFleet, Mr and Mrs Kingston and family, Mrs. Zeisz and family, Mr and Mrs Kesselring and family, the Misses VanDeventer, E H Clevely, Mr and Mrs Samuel C Terry, Sr, J H Adams, Samuel C Terry, Jr, Miss Rosa Adams, Mr and Mrs Ackerman and family, Theodore A Kurzhals, Jr, and others.

Mr. and Mrs Adams left on the 9:37 train for Washington and the South. They will probably visit Richmond before their return.

FOUNTAIN STAYS IN.

North Plainfield Town Committee Getting Down to Business.

Frank Mobus, chairman, R. M. Fountain, treasurer, Elias Allen, and Clerk H. J. Martin, North Plainfield Township Committee, met at Demler's Hotel last evening.

R. M. Fountain qualified as treasurer, and it was decided that according to the last law passed he was entitled to his seat in the Township Committee, as was stated in The Press yesterday.

The Commissioners of Appeal, Charles Mooney, Philip H. Ackor, and Amos Vail, also qualified; and the bonds of the treasurer and Constables G. N. Stewart and J. W. Van Horn were accepted.

The bonds of the collector were reduced from $15,000 to $5,000; treasurer, from $7,500 to $3,000; and overseer of poor from $500 to $300. The constables' bonds remain the same, $500.

W. B. Codington was chosen township counsel. The committee adjourned to meet Saturday evening at 8, at the same place.

The Best in Headwear, at Edsall's.

Edsall's millinery department, in charge of Miss Gayton, had its Spring opening this morning, and the gentler sex all say that is the place to patronize if one wants to be pleased both in designs and price.

The tasteful array of hats and bonnets for women's wear is enough in itself to please the most fastidious, but when one views the dainty trifles for the little ones, one longs to be young once more—so tempting is the arrangement of delicate tulle, flowers, laces and ribbons.

For Foreign Missions.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. Church was held yesterday afternoon, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Edward Winter.

Vice-presidents—Mrs. C. R. Barnes, Mrs. Anson Sperry.

Recording Secretary—Miss M.B Sharp.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Rachel A. Day.

Treasurer—Miss Susie E. Jackson.

A Newsboy with Whiskers.

James H. Davis, minus one leg, is about the city today soliciting alms by presenting a piece of poetry termed "The Newsboy's Appeal". The "newsboy" has whiskers on his chin, and says he wants to engage in business in Plainfield.

—George Lunger has engaged in the trucking business.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

TOWN IMPROVEMENT.

Plainfield Men and Women Discuss Public Ways.

FACTS AND IDEALS MINGLED.

Dr. Murray Points Out the Need of a Pesthouse and Health Inspector—Suggests Less Gilt-Edge and More Practical Utility—The Farmer Orator Wants Trees on the Business Streets—Playground for the Poor Suggested.

The progressive women members of the Plainfield Branch Alliance listened to paper on public improvements and public works, at their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in All Souls Church The first paper was read by Dr. W. H Murray on "Means taken for the preservation of public health". Dr. T. H Tomlinson was to have furnished the paper, but owing to his wife's illness was unable to do so, and Dr. Murray at the last moment took what notes he had made on the subject, added some to them, and presented a very interesting talk on but brief preparation.

He said that health was a great preservative of the city's welfare, and it was the duty of its citizens to foster it by preventing disease rather than curing it. The local Board of Health has plenty of ordinances seeking that end, but it was impossible to enforce them properly because of the lack of funds to employ a skilled inspector. This is an officer, he said, that is greatly needed, but private citizens as well as public officials display great indifference to this portion of municipal government. Such a person could not be employed for less than $1,500 a year, he stated, but it would be an economical expenditure for the city. The construction of a pest-house was delayed because of the inability to purchase ground on which to erect it—owners fearing that it would decrease the value of surrounding property. As yet the city has had no occasion to use such a house, but a contingency was liable to arise at any time, and it is always well to be prepared.

In closing he urged that the burning of rubbish and leaves in the street be prohibited, and suggested that gilt-edge hose-carts might be disposed of. The money expended thereon might be invested to better advantage by the city in purchasing anti-toxine to be distributed among such families as may be afflicted with diphtheria and unable to purchase the remedy themselves—a single prescription costing $12.

Mrs. Alexander Gilbert followed with an exhaustive paper on "Water supply and street lighting—how managed".

She first took up the water supply, and recited the circumstances under which the water company secured its charter. A very interesting portion of her paper was a description of the source of the water supply coming from the "underground river", which receives the water shed from an area of 10 miles. She concluded her paper with a sketch of the introduction of electric lights into Plainfield, and the change from 60 arc lights to 670 incandescents, the latter illuminating four times the area at an increase of only 50 per cent. in cost.

A paper on "Preservation of trees and care of streets", prepared by James E Martine, was read by Mrs. Brown, in which the writer advocated the setting of trees on all thoroughfares—business as well as residence. He considered the maple preferable for shade trees, because if fruit trees were permitted to grow the lads were quite liable to violate the Eighth Commandment and the owners the Third.

Mrs. Brown also made suggestions, and spoke in favor of the establishment of a playground for the children of the poor who have not proper romping-places at their own homes.

The programme of the afternoon was closed by Miss E. L. Adams, who told of the work of the Public Library and Art Gallery.

She said that the Library endeavored to educate the taste of those who used it, to read books that would elevate them As a rule the middle class drew more substantial books than any other portion of the community. In the circulating department, she said, books of fiction were in the greatest demand. What was needed to extend the influence of the Library was the co-operation of the outside public.

Dreier-Krone.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Sarah Krone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abr. Krone of Brooklyn, to Garrett Dreier of this city. The ceremony will take place Tuesday afternoon, April 2, at 5, at Poach Gallery, 345 Clinton avenue, near Greene avenue, Brooklyn. A reception will be held in the evening at 8

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

A PALACE OF BARGAINS.

Plainfield's Biggest Mercantile Show Opened to the Public.

For the past week the employes of Edsall's Commercial Palace have been constantly at work arranging for the opening of their annual Spring sale, and this morning the scene presented at the store was one of activity and beauty. A Daily Press reporter visited this establishment at noon today, and wending his way through the various departments was struck with the enterprise of its proprietor in providing such opportunities as are usually only found in metropolitan stores.

The three large display windows, filled with cut glass, bric-a-brac, dress goods, spring novelties and shoes are arranged with such taste as to attract the eye of all passers-by. Entering the store, with two little colored boys in blue suits and brass buttons to open the doors, the vision is greeted with two large lace arches, trimmed with a combination of Japanese lanterns and flowers. Turning to the right one meets the perfumery counter, the contents of which diffuse a fragrance all through the store. Going from here down through the main centre aisle, by picking your way through the crowds of customers that have been attracted there by the full-page advertisement published exclusively in The Press, the visitor's eyes see a profusion of varied colored bunting and ribbons strung across from counter to counter, the side decorations being a display of goods from the department which they front.

The grand staircase leading to the lower floor is arched over with bunting, supplemented with palms and lanterns. Two arches at the entrance of the underwear and suiting department composed of red, white and blue bunting, effect to make a pretty scene, while on the other side of the stairway lace curtains, silks and velvets set off the upholstery department to good advantage. Adjoining is the white goods department, and with its bright tints of wash goods relieves the sombre colors of the woollen goods.

The millinery department is resplendent with Easter bonnets, trimmed in a manner that pleases the feminine visitor.

Having viewed the first floor the visitor descends to the basement, and the first thing he views is a glittering spectacle of Bohemian cut glass, of fancy colors, arranged in a pyramid at the foot of the steps and shown off by lighted lamps.

In the grocery, woodenware and carpet departments everything is arranged with a neatness and novelty that completes the dazzling scene observed on the floor above.

The decorations were made under the supervision of Sidney Wrentmore, who is the buyer for all departments on the first floor.

LAST CHANCE GONE.

Plainfield Bowlers Will Not Get the County Championship.

The bowling game between Plainfield and Cranford last night on the Board of Trade alleys was devoid of particularly good playing, though the bowlers were considerably enthused over the games. The first game was won by Plainfield by 20 points and the second by Cranford by 13 points.

In the absence of Capt. VanEmburgh, James Petrie bowled in his stead.

The loss of one of these games practically ends the chances of the Plainfield bowlers to finish first in the county section of the Elizabeth Journal League, the winner of which is to play the winner of the Elizabeth city section, and the county championship decided on the play off From present prospects Roselle will probably finish first in the county section.

The score follows:

FIRST GAME.

PLAINFIELD.		CRANFORD.
Petrie	137	Sharp	154
VanAlstyne	171	Wilber	144
Wilbur	161	Rogers	155
Maltby	148	Pare	133
Vail	162	Cox	154
	779		750

SECOND GAME.

PLAINFIELD.		CRANFORD.
Petrie	141	Sharp	124
VanAlstyne	157	Wilber	133
Wilbur	148	Rogers	188
Maltby	126	Pare	149
Vail	172	Cox	152
	743		756

A Suit Dismissed.

Before Justice Nash yesterday afternoon the case of Sebring against Moore, on contract, was dismissed. The suit was for rent of offices used by the water-works company in the Sebring building on North avenue in 1891, the plaintiff claiming that the defendant was responsible for the rent. Corporal Moore left his street-cleaning work in New York and came to Plainfield to state that he only represented the company, and on these grounds a non-suit was granted.

Miss Elizabeth McCuen of Connecticut is the guest of Miss Evelyn Benton of Rahway road.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

FOUR YEARS OLD.

C. E. Society Has a Birthday Celebration.

WASHINGTONVILLE WIDE-AWAKE.

Plainfield Societies Send Greetings to Their Sister Over the Mountain—Interesting Reports and Promising Outlook.

Four years ago a Christian Endeavor society was organized at Washingtonville, and since that time its growth spiritually as well as in numbers has been a source of much gratification and encouragement to all. Last evening the society celebrated its fourth anniversary in the pretty chapel on the hill, when not only the Senior but the Junior society was present, as were also representatives from the Park Avenue Baptist, Trinity Reformed, Warren Chapel and First Baptist Church societies.

The service opened with a song service which was followed with a report of the society read by the president, Miss Nettie Beeching. It was a very interesting one and all Christian Endeavorers might learn many points of advantage to them. It was as follows:

Our society has turned another leaf in its book of life, and we find ourselves tonight just four years old.

In looking over the past year's work we see many mistakes, many opportunities neglected, but we also see much that encourages us.

Our Prayer Meeting Committee have earnestly labored to elevate the standard of our prayer meetings, and many of us can testify of the blessings we have received from week to week, and we feel we have grown stronger in our Spiritual life. Open air meetings were held during the month of August, and attended with a great deal of interest.

Our Lookout Committee have been active, and report the whole number attending through the year of 1,794, averaging at each meeting 34.5.

Through the efforts of our Missionary Committee we have been brought into closer sympathy with the Master's work in foreign fields. We send our money to China, and at our last meeting souvenir cards containing the active members pledge in Chinese were given to all the members.

Our Temperance Committee have been busy. Two pleasing programes of bright music and earnest addresses were given which have enthused us with greater zeal for this branch of Christian Endeavor work. Temperance leaflets have also been freely distributed.

As we look upon this new page so clean and white we naturally wonder what it will tell at the end of the year. We know that the greater part of the responsibility rests with us whether we will make use of the opportunities, whether we are willing to be used by God to do His will, we know His strength is sufficient that if if we abide in Him and His word abides in us we may ask whatsoever we will and He will give it to us. So we start out trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength, praying that we may be more useful, more earnest, and that the influence we are exerting may tell upon the hearts and lives of all those with whom we come in contact and advance Christian Endeavor for Christ and the Church.

E. E. Anthony of the Trinity Society was then called on by John Bicknell who presided, and made a most helpful address on Christian work. Many very interesting points were given that all thoroughly enjoyed, and that will prove a benefit to workers in the society.

Miss Bessie Blair then sang a pretty solo, "Come Unto Me", accompanied by Rev. C. F. Herring on the organ.

Mr. Herring was introduced and gave a talk on the Christian Endeavor pledge, dividing it into five parts and giving a brief explanation of each. He said the Christian Endeavor pledge was a most wonderful thing and was perfect in every respect, and there was nothing in it that any Christian could not take. In fact, a person who could not take the pledge could not be a Christian.

In speaking about different methods of praying, Mr. Herring said that he liked to walk back and forth in his study when alone and pray, that he felt a nearness to God which was not experienced in any other way.

The pledge was thoroughly analyzed, and the very best thoughts were given to the Endeavorers.

At the close of Mr. Herring's remarks, the Junior Society sang a very pleasing selection.

Miss Nettie Beeching, who has had charge of the Junior Society, then read the following report:

What is more pleasant to the eye than to see a company of Junior Endeavorers, boys and girls interested in doing the Master's work while in their youth. Our Juniors are very enthusiastic, and our committees very faithful. The members when unable to be present send their excuse, not only to the consecration meetings but all the others, setting an example that the Seniors might follow. Our Missionary Committee reports $5 20 sent to foreign missions. Our secretary reports a membership of 41, 30 active and 11 associate members, 20 of whom are boys. The number attending for the year is 1,462, giving us an average of 28. The Social Committee left many pleasant remembrances. We recall the pleasant afternoon we spent in the woods picking the beautiful hepaticas and arranging them in small bouquets for the sick in Muhlenberg Hospital. We also remember another day in the woods, when our society enjoyed a basket picnic with lots of good things to eat, and swings, hammocks and games adding to our pleasure. Among the new features of our work is the Scrapbook Committee. Short interesting stories are brought in once a month and are placed in envelopes to be sent to the children's wards in various hospitals. We have also added the "Golden Circle", each member who wills giving one-tenth of what they earn to the Lord, the money to be used for any of the members who may be sick or needy. And last, but not least, is the memory-work. Each week the Juniors have been asked to find something of interest or to learn a verse or date, and we trust the seed sown may bring forth fruit a hundred fold for Christ and the church.

Miss Beeching as president of the Senior society made a few remarks that were full of precious thoughts, and will be helpful to the members this coming year. She asked for the hearty support of all to carry on the work of the society. The services closed with a prayer by Mr. Bicknell.

A short time was spent after the services in sociability and getting acquainted with one another, during which time the members served coffee and cake in abundance.

The fourth milestone in the history of this society will be a memorable one to all.

White's Millinery Opening.

The opening of the Spring styles of millinery always interests every woman, and many took advantage yesterday to admire the many beautiful styles of the latest in the millinery art that was displayed by Miss Daly. Their millinery department has been enlarged to twice its original size, but even with the increased room there is none too much. All the women expressed the same opinion that the different styles, unique trimmings, and the moderate prices asked were much lower than other houses asked for inferior work.

A description of some of those most admired would not be amiss. Among them was a Dutch bonnet of shaded green straw, bow of bluet ribbon with steel buckle in front and black violets; another a small yellow hat trimmed with black roses, straw ears, rhinestone buckles and egrets; another one much admired was a small bonnet of patent-leather braid, trimmed with black wings, black egrets and black velvet ribbons. They are all on exhibition in the show window.

Tantalizing Hoodlums.

Considerable excitement was rife on Madison avenue near Front street last night at 7, when two young hoodlums broke the street sign of A. Wolf, a Hebrew tailor, and otherwise tantalized the homeless foreigner so that he gave chase and finally caught the youngest. As soon as he grabbed hold of him the captive's comrade struck Wolf a terrible blow on the side of the face, with the result of both escaping and making their disappearance.

A gang of hoodlums have for some time taken particular delight in making as much trouble as possible for Wolf, who conducts his business in a peaceable manner in a small building on Madison avenue, between Front and Second streets, by breaking windows, tearing down signs, etc. If caught by the police they will doubtless be dealt severely with.

Fire in Rear of Edsall's.

A still alarm was sent in to the fire department yesterday afternoon at 4:45 from Edsall's Commercial Palace, where a small blaze had been started among empty boxes and rubbish in the rear of the store by some boys. The Alert hose wagon quickly responded, and the use of two hand extinguishers served to quench the flames.

Wouldn't Trust the Jury.

The case of Brokaw against Burnett, in tort, which was to have been tried before Justice Newcorn yesterday afternoon, was discontinued on the motion of W. R. Codington, attorney for the plaintiff. The jury empaneled was so unsatisfactory that Lawyer Codington refused to let the case go before them.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dismondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size, 50c, and $1; our price 45c, and 90c.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., March 25, 1895.

AN ORDINANCE

Relating to the Construction of Buildings.

Section 1. Before the erection, construction, removal or alteration of any building or structure, or any part thereof, or any platform, staging or flooring to be used for seating or standing purposes is commenced within the City limits, the owner or his agent or architect, shall submit to the Inspector of Buildings such drawings as may be necessary to show the construction of the building or structure, and a traced copy, or sun print on cloth, of all plans of such proposed work, and a detailed statement, in duplicate, of the specifications, on appropriate blanks to be furnished by the Inspector, giving also the location, the proposed use of the building or structure, which shall be accompanied with a statement in writing, sworn to before any person authorized by law to administer an oath, giving the full name and residence of the owner, or of each of the owners of said building or proposed building, staging or flooring.

If such operation is proposed to be made by any other person than the owner or owners in fee, the person or persons intending to make such erection or alteration shall accompany the aforesaid plans and detailed specifications with sworn affidavit, giving the full name of the owner or owners of the land, and also of every person interested in said building or proposed building, either as owner, lessee or in any representative capacity.

Such statement may be made by the agent or architect of the person or persons hereinbefore required to make the same, and any notice served upon such agent or architect shall be binding upon the principals.

Said sworn statement and copy of application and plans shall be kept on file in the office of the Inspector, and the said operation or any part thereof shall not be commenced or proceeded with until said statement and plans shall have been so filed and approved by the Inspector in writing.

A permit may be granted for the erection or construction of any part of a building, when accompanied by a statement and plans of said portion, before the entire plans and detailed statements of said building have been submitted.

Ordinary repairs may be made without notice to the Inspector, but such repairs shall not be construed to include the cutting away of any constructional support, whether wall, pier, column, girder or beams, or the removal, change or closing of any staircase or exit.

All permits to construct or alter any building shall be valid for one year from the date thereof and no longer.

Permits for removal shall specify the time within which the removal shall be made.

As herein used, the term "removal" means to change the location of building or structure.

To take down and remove shall be termed "demolition."

Section 2. No wall, structure, building or part thereof shall hereafter be built, removed, constructed, altered or repaired in the city of Plainfield except in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance.

No building already erected, or hereafter to be built, in said city shall be raised, altered or built upon in such manner that, were such building wholly built or constructed after the passage of this act, it would be in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance.

FRAME BUILDINGS OUTSIDE OF FIRE LIMITS.

Section 3. Outside of the fire limits prescribed herein, buildings of frame or wood may be erected subject to conditions hereinafter prescribed for chimneys, flues, hearths, steam or heating flues, electric wiring or any fire-causing factor of construction.

Frame buildings to be occupied or used as a stable, workshop or manufactory shall not be built or so used if more than two stories or twenty-five (25) feet in total height.

No frame or wood dwelling house hereafter erected shall exceed three (3) stories or fifty (50) feet in height to highest point on main roof.

In no case shall a wooden building be erected within three (3) feet of any inside line of a lot, unless the space between the studs of any and every such side be filled in solidly with not less than four (4) inches of brick or other hard fireproof material.

When two (2) or more frame houses are built continuous the dividing wall between each house is to be of brick not less than eight (8) inches thick above foundation wall to a point everywhere twelve (12) inches above roof.

This wall to be coped with stone or terra cotta. The ends of floor beams resting on such wall to be separated by at least four (4) inches of brickwork between in every case.

No spire or tower of wood shall be built or rebuilt within the city limits to a greater height than sixty (60) feet.

Section 4. All excavations to be made

Section 5. All cellar or basement walls for frame buildings, outside of the fire limits, shall be not less than eight (8) inches thick, if of brick, to a depth of eight (8) feet below grade on street; and to be not less than eighteen (18) inches thick and well bonded if of stone. If of greater depth than above, or if carried up eight (8) feet or more above grade to frame, the foundation wall is to be not less than twelve (12) inches thick if of brick, and not less than twenty (20) inches thick and well bonded if of stone.

All foundations below grade to be laid in good lime and cement mortar mixed with sharp sand.

Section 6. All frame or wooden buildings exceeding a height of fifteen (15) feet shall be built with sills, posts, inter-ties or ribbon strips, plates and rafters, all of suitable and sufficient size, to be properly braced and framed, and with suitable studs set at proper distances apart, with approved fire cut-off at each floor. The floor beams shall not be less than two (2) inches in thickness and ten (10) inches in depth, well bridged.

Whenever frame construction is of wood, even if partially or wholly covered with veneer of brick or stone, it shall be deemed a frame building, and no such building shall be constructed unless the outside walls, if of brick, shall be at least eight (8) inches thick, and, if of stone, shall be at least sixteen (16) inches thick, and well bonded.

Section 7. All flat roofs, or roofs of an angle less than thirty (30) degrees are to be covered with metal, clay tile, or slate. All roofs over thirty (30) degrees' angle of inclination may be covered with slate, metal or shingles.

Section 8. The removal of any wooden building or structure from without to within the fire limits is absolutely prohibited, and if accomplished before discovery the common council may, at its discretion, order its return or demolition within twenty-four hours after notice, at the expense of owner or owners of said building.

FIRE LIMITS.

Section 9. The fire limits of the City of Plainfield are hereby established so as to include all that district of said City contained within the following boundaries, and also within the space of one hundred and fifty (150) feet beyond and parallel to the centre lines of the streets or avenues constituting the said boundaries:

Beginning at the point of intersection of the centre line of Washington Avenue with the City line in Green Brook; thence along the centre line of Washington Avenue to the centre line of West Front Street; thence along the centre line of West Front Street to the centre line of New Street; thence along the centre line of New Street to the centre line of West Fifth Street; thence along the centre line of West Fifth Street and East Fifth Street to the centre line of Washington Street; thence along the centre line of Washington Street to the centre line of East Front Street; thence along the centre line of East Front Street to the centre line of Elm Place; thence along the centre line of Elm Place to its intersection with the City line in Green Brook; thence along the City line in Green Brook to the place of beginning.

FRAME BUILDINGS WITHIN FIRE LIMITS.

Section 10. Every wooden or frame building, with a brick or other front within the fire limits, which may hereafter be damaged by fire, the elements or otherwise, to an amount not greater than one-half the total immediately previous value thereof, may be repaired or rebuilt pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance.

But, if such damage shall amount to more than one-half such value, then such building shall not be repaired or rebuilt, but shall be demolished.

Section 11. Should the decision of the Inspector or Appraiser as hereinafter prescribed permit of the repair or restoration of any building, every damaged wall or part thereof shall be repaired or restored to its full original strength, but only within the limits of its original height and other dimensions and uses.

Section 12. The previous value of such building and the proportion of such damage, the extent of re-use of any wall or walls or parts without repair, and the amount of repairs or restoration may be determined by the Inspector, subject to appeal as hereinafter provided.

Upon the written demand of the owner or owners of such premises, to be sent to the Mayor, he shall appoint one appraiser and one appraiser shall be selected by said owner or owners.

They shall at once examine the said premises, and if they agree their decision is to be stated separately in writing and sworn to, and shall be final and conclusive.

Should these two appraisers not agree, they shall select a third appraiser or umpire to take part in such impartial and disinterested examination and verdict.

The joint decision of any two of them is to be stated separately in writing and sworn to, and shall be final and conclusive.

Each appraiser is to receive ten ($10) dollars for such service, to be paid by the owner or owners of said building before said report is filed, and no repairs or alterations except to the extent necessary to make safe as directed by the Inspector shall be made or begun until said report is filed and permit obtained.

Said report is also to include a separate detailed statement in writing as to causes or probable causes of damage, and of the general or special conditions making favorable thereto in each case, and may also include the suggestions of the appraisers as to effective future remedy and prevention.

These reports are to be kept carefully filed by the Inspector in a special docket to be known as the Fire Inquest Docket.

WOOD CONSTRUCTION WITHIN FIRE LIMITS.

Section 13. Temporary one-story frame buildings may be erected for the use of builders within the limits of lots whereon or adjacent to where buildings are in course of erection, upon permit of Inspector, said structure to be used only for the purpose specified.

Temporary stagings, platforms or floorings for seating or standing purposes may be constructed of wood, upon filing of plans and permit from Inspector.

All temporary structures of wood are to be demolished by owners upon the completion of purpose specified.

Fences of wood shall not be over ten (10) feet in total height.

Signs of wood shall not be erected over two (2) feet high on any building.

Piazzas or balconies of wood, not more than twelve (12) feet in width and to extend in height not more than three (3) feet above the second story floor beams, may be erected upon not more than two faces or sides of any detached dwelling house, occupied by not more than three (3) families.

One wooden bay or oriel window may be built of wood upon any face or front of any building, if but one (1) story in height and not more than one-third of the width of said face or front.

If but two stories in height and of said proportionate width, it may be constructed of wood, but shall be covered with metal, slate or tile.

If of any greater height or dimensions, or more than one is desired on any one side or face, it or they shall be wholly built of fireproof material.

The roofs of all permanent new wooden constructions are to be covered with metal, clay tile or slate.

Existing shingle roofs may only be repaired or renewed on old lines and heights.

If altered or reconstructed in any way, a metal, clay tile or slate roofing is to be substituted.

Sheds of wood not over fifteen (15) feet to highest point of roof, and constantly open on at least one side, with the closed sides and roof thereof covered with metal, clay tile, or slate, may be built on permits from the Inspector, but no fence shall be used as any side of such shed.

Exterior privies, wood or coal houses not exceeding one hundred and fifty (150) square feet in superficial area and not over eight (8) feet in height, may be built upon permit from the Inspector, with roofs only, covered with metal, clay tile, or slate.

Section 14. Lumber or other combustible material shall not be piled at any lesser distance from the nearest division fence, or to adjacent building, than the height of such pile.

Storage up to fences of street lines will be allowed.

NEW BUILDINGS WITHIN THE FIRE LIMITS.

Section 15. The walls of all buildings other than frame buildings and constructions herein authorized, shall be constructed of stone, brick, iron or other hard incombustible material, and the several component parts of such buildings shall be as hereinafter provided.

Every brick, stone or iron building, hereafter erected within the city limits, shall also be constructed as required for buildings within the fire limits.

The height of all walls shall be measured from the curb level at the centre of the building, to the top of the highest point of roof beams on flat roofs, or to the average or middle height of gable for all high pitched ridge roofs having no deck.

When the walls of a structure are twenty-five feet or more distant from every street line, then the average level of the grades at walls may be taken instead of curb.

If the wall is practically entirely carried on iron girders supported by masonry piers or iron columns, the measurements as to height, may be taken from the top of such girder, for such wall only.

The width of buildings for the purposes of this ordinance shall be construed by the direction in which the beams are placed, the length wise of the beams to mean the width wise of the building, and the bearing walls are those on which the beams are carried.

Section 16. All excavations shall be properly guarded and protected by the person or persons causing the excavation to be made, so as to prevent the same from becoming dangerous to life and limb; and shall be sheet piled where necessary, to prevent caving in of adjoining earth.

Whenever an excavation for building or other purposes shall be intended to be, or shall be, carried to a depth of more than ten (10) feet below the street curb, the person or persons causing such excavation to be made shall, at all times, from the beginning to the completion thereof, at his or their expense, preserve any adjoining or contiguous wall or walls from injury, and support the same by proper foundations, so that the said wall or walls shall be, and remain practically as safe as before such excavation was begun, whether the said adjoining or contiguous wall or walls are down more or less than ten feet below the street curb.

If such excavation shall not be intended to be, or shall not be, carried to a depth of more than ten (10) feet below the street curb, the owner or owners of such adjoining or contiguous wall or walls shall preserve the same from injury, and so support the same by proper foundations to full depth of such excavation that it or they shall be and remain practically as safe as before such excavation was begun, and for that purpose shall be permitted to enter upon the premises where such excavation is being made, when necessary, and shall complete the same within reasonable time.

If in either case entry at reasonable times is refused, the Inspector may determine such difference, or prescribe the best and most practicable way of making safe as herein required.

If an adjoining party wall is intended to be used by the person or persons causing the excavation to be made, and the use of such wall is approved by the Inspector, then the said person or persons causing the excavation to be made shall at his or their expense amply protect and secure such party wall by proper foundations as before described.

If the person or persons whose duty it shall be to preserve or protect any wall or walls from injury shall neglect or fail so to do, after having had twenty-four hours' notice from the Inspector, then the Inspector may enter upon the premises and make same secure and safe at the expense of the person or persons last herein referred to.

Section 17.—Except on rock bottom all foundations shall have footing courses, and all footing or base courses under foundation walls shall be laid not less than three (3) feet below the permanent surface of the ground, on a good solid bottom; and in case the nature of the earth and the character of the building shall require it, on a bottom of driven piles or laid timber, of proper kind and sufficient size and thickness, or such other approved foundation as the Inspector and the nature of the case may require, to keep and maintain the walls firm and secure.

All piers, columns or posts, resting on the earth, shall be set upon a solid bottom, in the same manner as required for the foundation walls.

Except in the case of adjacent excavations as hereinbefore provided, should any grade be lowered the foundational supports shall be also carried down to the depth above prescribed.

The footing or base course under all the foundation walls, and under all piers, columns or posts resting on the earth shall be of stone or concrete, and if under a foundation wall shall be at least six (6) inches wider than the bottom width of the wall; and if under piers, columns or posts, shall be at least six (6) inches wider on all sides than the outside bottom lines of said piers, columns or posts.

The thickness of all footing courses shall be not less than one-third their width, but no concrete footing course shall be less than six (6) inches thick.

All base stones shall be well bedded and laid crosswise, edge to edge.

Section 18. In buildings where the space under the sidewalk is utilized, a sufficient stone or brick wall shall be built to retain the roadway of the street, and the side, end or party walls of such building shall extend under the sidewalk, of sufficient thickness, to such walls.

The roofs of all vaults shall be of incombustible material.

Openings in the roofs of vaults for the admission of coal or light shall be covered with lights of glass in iron frames, or with iron covers having a rough surface, and rabbeted flush with the sidewalk; these lights shall not be more than four inches square.

When areas are covered, iron, iron and glass combined, stone or other incombustible materials shall be used, and sufficient strength in such covering shall be provided to insure safety to persons walking on the same and to carry the loads which may be placed thereon.

Open areas shall be properly protected with suitable railings.

Section 19. Foundation walls shall be construed to include all walls and piers below the curb level or tier of beams nearest to the curb level, intended to serve as supports for all superimposed weights.

All foundation walls shall be built of stone or brick.

If built of stone, they shall be at least eight (8) inches thicker than the wall resting upon it, to a depth of not more than ten (10) feet below curb.

If built of brick, they shall be at least four (4) inches thicker than the wall resting upon it, to a depth of not more than ten (10) feet below curb.

All stone walls shall have at least one header extending through the wall in every three (3) feet each way, of good flat stones.

All stone to be laid on its natural bed, to be built flush and true on both sides with struck joints, and all foundations below grade to be laid in good lime and cement mortar.

Section 20. When walls herein prescribed are of diminishing thickness upwards, the said decrease of thickness shall be construed to mean at the top line of tier of beams nearest to the height specified.

The ends of all wooden beams in all walls, especially in all party walls, are to be separated by at least four (4) inches of brick work.

And in eight (8) inch walls, to be strapped together on the tops of every fourth beam strongly spiked, for cross tie.

As many stories as desired may be placed within the given total heights.

If a greater height than seventy-five (75) feet is desired for the walls of any building, the entire building must be built of approved fire-proof construction.

If any tower or part of any building or structure is to be built of a greater height than seventy-five (75) feet above curb, it shall be built of fire-proof materials as approved by the Inspector.

OUTSIDE WALLS OF DWELLINGS.

Section 21. All outside walls of dwelling houses within the city limits shall not be less than eight (8) inches thick, if under and not more than twenty (20) feet above curb level.

If over twenty (20) feet and not over fifty (50) feet above curb level, the walls shall not be less than twelve (12) inches thick.

If over fifty (50) feet and not over sixty (60) feet high, the walls shall be sixteen (16) inches thick to the height of fifteen (15) feet above curb level, and not less than twelve (12) inches thick from thence to top.

If over sixty feet (60) feet and not over seventy-five (75) feet high, the walls shall be sixteen (16) inches thick to the height of twenty-five (25) feet above curb level, and not less than twelve (12) inches thick from thence to top.

PARTY AND INTERIOR WALLS OF DWELLINGS.

Section 22. All party and interior brick walls twenty-five (25) feet high, and not over forty (40) feet high, shall be not less than twelve (12) inches thick to the height of fifteen (15) feet above curb level, and not less than eight (8) inches thick from thence to top.

All party and interior walls over forty (40) feet high, and not over fifty (50) feet in height above curb level, may be built twelve (12) and eight (8) inches respectively in thickness, but no such wall shall have a vertical portion eight (8) inches thick more than twenty-five (25) feet in height.

All party and interior walls over fifty (50) feet high, and not over sixty (60) feet in height, may be built twelve (12) and eight (8) inches respectively in thickness, but no such wall shall have a vertical portion eight (8) inches thick more than twenty-five (25) feet in height.

All party and interior walls over sixty (60) feet high, and not over seventy-five (75) feet in height, shall be not less than sixteen (16) inches in thickness to the height of fifteen (15) feet, and from thence upward twelve (12) and eight (8) inches respectively in thickness, but no such wall shall have a vertical portion eight (8) inches in thickness more than fifteen (15) feet in height.

Section 23. Excepted from the requirements of previous sections are all dwelling houses built in continuous blocks of two (2) or more, when each is not more than twenty-two (22) feet wide, forty-five (45) feet deep, and thirty-five (35) feet in height, which may have interior and party walls only, of brick, not less than eight (8) inches thick above foundations. And also:

All the walls of dwellings not more than twenty-two (22) feet wide, forty-five (45) feet deep, and not more than twenty-five (25) feet or two (2) stories in height, may be built not less than eight (8) inches thick above foundation.

One-story structures not over twenty (20) feet wide, thirty-five (35) feet deep, and fifteen (15) feet in height, may be built with all the walls not less than eight (8) inches in thickness.

Section 24. In dwellings where the distance between the bearing walls is not over thirty-three (33) feet, and no clear span is over twenty-six (26) feet, brick partition walls not less than eight (8) inches thick, nor more than thirty (30) feet high, may be built to support the floors.

Over any room with a clear span of more than twenty-six (26) feet, proper supports of iron or masonry, of approved sizes and strength, may be used to support walls or floors, inclusive of support from overhead trusses or girders, but in every such case the bearing walls shall be increased four (4) inches in thickness for every twelve and one-half (12½) feet or part thereof that said span is over twenty-six (26) feet.

Where dimensions of buildings are given in the preceding sections, the width or depth may be changed, providing the area is not increased and additional inside walls are added if deemed necessary by the Inspector.

WAREHOUSE WALLS.

Section 25. No outside or party wall of buildings other than dwellings, shall be less than twelve (12) inches thick, if under and not more than forty (40) feet above curb level.

If over forty (40) feet and not over sixty (60) feet in height, the walls are to be sixteen (16) inches thick to the height of twenty-five (25) feet, and not less than twelve (12) inches thick from thence to top.

If over sixty (60) feet and not over seventy-five (75) feet in height, the walls are to be twenty (20) inches thick to the height of twenty-five feet, and from thence sixteen (16) inches thick to a height of fifty (50) feet above curb, and from thence twelve inches thick to top.

Front and rear non-bearing and intermediate bearing walls may be four (4) inches less in thickness than is above given, in buildings not more than twenty-five (25) feet clear span between walls, provided none are less than twelve (12) inches thick, and piers or columns supporting ends of girders are of sufficient strength.

When bearing walls are less than twenty-five (25) feet apart, or are intersected by cross walls, or strengthened by piers of sufficient size, the Inspector may permit the reduction of thickness of interior walls in just proportion to such added strength, except on walls less than forty (40) feet in height.

Where the clear span exceeds twenty-five (25) feet in any part of a building the walls supporting said span shall be four (4) inches more in thickness than is in this section specified, for every twelve and one-half (12½) feet or fraction thereof, that said span exceeds twenty-five (25) feet.

Where any bearing wall or part thereof shall in its horizontal section or plan be weakened by excess of flues or openings, or at any other point not herein provided for, the inspector shall require its amendment to a sufficient total bearing thickness.

Section 26. In all buildings over twenty-five (25) feet in width between walls there shall be partition walls of masonry, or girders supported on iron or wooden columns or piers of masonry, the said supporting walls or girders shall be spaced not more than twenty-five (25) feet apart on longitudinal centres, and the columns, girders or piers shall be of sufficient strength, spacing and size to bear safely the weight and any strain to be imposed upon them.

Section 27. The walls of churches, theatres, foundries, machine shops and other buildings of a public character shall in no case be less than is in this ordinance specified for warehouses; and said buildings shall have in addition thereto such piers or buttresses as in the judgment of the Inspector may be necessary to make a safe and substantial building for its purpose.

In all buildings of a public character, such as hotels, churches, theatres, restaurants, railroad depots, public halls and other buildings used or intended to be used for purposes of public assembly, amusement or instruction the halls, doors, stairways, seats, passageways and aisles and all lighting and heating appliances and apapratus shall be arranged as the Inspetor of Buildings shall direct, to facilitate egress in case of fire or accident, and to afford the requisite and proper accommodation for the public protection in such cases.

All aisles and passageways in said buildings shall be kept free from camp stools, chairs, sofas and other obstructions, and no person shall be allowed to stand in or occupy any of said aisles or passageways during any performance, service, exhibition, lecture, concert, ball or any public assemblage.

The Inspector of Buildings may at any time serve a written or printed notice upon the owner, lessee or manager of any of said buildings, directing any act or thing to be done or provided in or about the said buildings and the several appliances therewith connected, such as halls, doors, windows, seats, aisles, firewalls and fire-escapes, so as to afford such security to the public in the uses to which they may be severally applied as he may deem necessary.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or require any other alterations to existing theatres than are specified in this section.

Upon report to the mayor of said city by the Inspector of buildings that any order or requirement of this ordinance in regard to theatres or places of public amusement has been violated or not complied with in any such building, the said mayor may, in his discretion, revoke the license of such theatre or place of public amusement and cause the same to be closed.

WALLS AND PIERS.

Section 28. In all walls the same amount of materials herein required for walls, may be in part used in piers or buttresses, provided the wall or bars between shall be of a thickness approved by the Inspector.

The inside four (4) inches of all walls may be built of hard burnt hollow clay or porous terra cotta blocks, if laid at the same time with brick work and properly bonded into the walls, and of the same dimensions as the brick used.

In all walls that are built hollow, the separating space shall not be counted in the total thickness of wall, but the same quantity of material shall be used as if it were built solid as herein provided. No such hollow space shall exceed four (4) inches in width, nor shall such walls be built unless the parts of same are strongly bonded together by proper ties either of brick, stone or iron, placed not over twenty-four (24) inches apart each way.

Recesses may be left in the foundation or walls of lower stories, but in no case shall these walls be of less thickness than the walls of third story, or less than eight (8) inches.

No recess for alcoves, water or other pipes shall reduce to less than eight (8) inches in thickness at that point.

If it is desired to increase the height of any existing party or independent wall, when said wall is less in thickness than is herein required, it shall be done by a lining of brick work to form a combined thickness with the old wall of not less than four (4) inches more than is required for a new wall at total height desired, and no lining shall be four (4) inches thick for more than one story or fifteen (15) feet.

Said lining is to be supported on proper foundations, and whenever four (4) inches thick is to be applied only to firm, cleaned wall and thoroughly anchored by wrought iron anchors driven into the old wall.

No existing wall shall be used for party wall or other purposes unless approved by the Inspector, and all supports of walls shall be only of brick, stone or iron.

The walls of each story shall be built up to the full thickness to top of beams.

All walls shall be carried up to all roof sheathings, and to top lines of all cornices, and all party walls shall be built twelve (12) inches above the roof and coped with stone, iron or terra cotta.

No coping wall shall be less than eight (8) inches thick.

In all buildings occupied by three (3) or more families over a lower portion used for any other purpose than a dwelling, the hall partitions of first story and basement shall be of brick or other fire-proof material and underside of staircases covered with metal lathing and plaster.

All walls shall be properly bonded together, or anchored to each other by tie anchors built not less than sixteen (16) inches into side walls every six (6) feet in height, anchors to be not less than one and a half by three-eighths of an inch in size.

All walls shall be anchored to each tier of beams with iron anchors not more than eight (8) feet apart, and extending to within at least four (4) inches of the outside face of the wall; between all openings there shall be at least one anchor, and where beams with anchors rest on partition or girders, in two or more lengths across the building they shall be strongly bolted or strapped together to obtain cross tie.

All walls to be strongly braced during their construction from the beams of each story, and when required and necessary shall also be braced from the outside until the building is enclosed.

All piers shall be built of stone or brick laid in cement mortar; all isolated stone piers to carry girders supporting walls, or columns or posts over, shall be well bonded and well covered on all exposed sides.

Isolated brick piers shall not in height exceed twelve (12) times their least dimensions.

Every brick pier less than nine (9) superficial feet in area at its base, supporting any beam, girder, arch or column on which a wall rests, or lintel spanning an opening over ten (10) feet and supporting a wall, shall at not greater intervals than thirty (30) inches apart have built into it a bond stone not less than four (4) inches thick, or a cast-iron plate of sufficient strength, and of the full size of the pier.

Under all iron beams, girders, trusses, columns of posts, there shall be a cap or template of sufficient size and thickness, of stone or iron.

Ashlar shall not be counted as a part of the thickness of walls as herein provided, unless built and bonded as prescribed for foundations, and the walls so faced laid with, and ashlar bedded in, cement mortar.

All stone used for the facing of any building or part thereof shall not be less than four (4) inches in thickness, to be strongly bonded or anchored to the backing.

Section 29. The brick used in all buildings shall be good, hard, well-burnt brick, every sixth course to be a header course; all to be laid wet except in freezing weather, with closely filled joints, to be built to true lines and carried up plumb.

Where walls are faced with brick in running bond every sixth course shall be bonded with whole brick, diagonal bonders, or by splitting the face brick into halves and backing the same with a continuous row of headers.

The sand used in all buildings shall be clean, sharp-grit sand of the best kind obtainable.

All mortars to be thoroughly mixed by careful and persistent working.

Cement mortar shall be made of sand and cement in the proportion of not more than three (3) parts of sand to one (1) part of cement, and shall only be used immediately after being mixed.

Lime mortar shall be made of not more than four (4) parts of sand to one (1) part of lime, and shall not be used until thoroughly slaked.

Cement and lime mortar shall be made of three (3) parts of sand, one (1) part of cement, and one (1) part of lime.

Concrete for foundations shall be made of two (2) parts of sand, one (1) part of cement, and not more than five (5) parts of small, clean broken stone or good, sharp gravel, all to be carefully mixed immediately before using.

Section 30. All openings for doors and windows in all buildings shall have a good and sufficient arch of stone or brick, well built and keyed and with sufficient abutments, or a lintel of iron of sufficient strength, or of stone not less than four (4) inches thick, with a bearing not less than four (4) inches at each end.

When the lintel is of less thickness than the wall to be supported, there shall also be a good timber lintel with bearings of not less than three (3) inches, and a double rowlock or bonded arch turned over same.

Section 31. In computing the weight of walls:

Brick work shall be estimated at 115 lbs. per cu. ft.

Facing stones shall be estimated at 160 lbs. per cu. ft.

The safe bearing load for good brick work shall be estimated at:

8 tons per su. ft. when laid in good lime mortar.

11 1-2 tons per su. ft. when laid in good cement and lime mortar.

15 tons per su. ft. when laid in good cement mortar.

The strength of floors to be estimated for in buildings, in addition to the weight of materials, is to be not less than:

For dwellings, 75 lbs. upon every su. ft. of surface.

For office purposes, 100 lbs upon every su. ft. of surface.

For public assembly, 120 lbs. upon every su. ft. of surface.

For stores, warehouses, etc., 150 lbs. upon every su. ft. of surface.

For all roofs, 50 lbs. upon every su. ft. of surface.

Section 32. Every iron column, post or other vertical support, and all trusses, beams and girders shall be of sufficient strength to bear safely its intended total load, and if of iron, the manufacturer or contractor shall cause to be plainly marked upon said girder or column the weight it will safely sustain; and no greater weight shall be imposed thereon. All beams and girders to have ample bearings upon sufficient cap stone or templates of stone or iron.

Iron supports to walls, whether beam, girder or column, shall, if required, be thoroughly encased with brick or other approved fire-proof material.

Section 33. No wooden floor beam shall be less than two (2) inches in thickness and ten (10) inches in depth.

All header and trimmer beams shall be double, or one inch thicker than the beams, and where more than five (5) feet long shall be hung in stirrup irons.

All floor and roof beams to have bearings of not less than four (4) inches at ends, and where they rest upon brick or stone walls, shall be cut to a bevel of three (3) inches on their depth.

All wooden beams shall be framed away from all and every kind of flue in walls and chimneys, the trimmer beam to be at least eight (8) inches from the inside of any flue in a straight way, and four (4) inches away from the outside of a chimney breast, and the header not less than two (2) inches from brickwork.

All tiers to be strongly bridged with sufficient rows of continuous herringbone bridging, well nailed, for every ten-foot span.

Each tier of beams to be anchored to all walls every six (6) feet with one and one-half by three-eighths inch wrought iron anchors well secured to side of beams.

All timbers and wooden beams to be free from weakening imperfections, and of full strength of dimension and kind.

Stud partitions are to be continuous wherever practicable, that is, to run down between the beams and rest on the plate of the partition below.

All wooden girders supporting beams shall be carried by brick piers, or iron, locust or other suitable hard wood posts of sufficient strength, on proper foundation.

Section 34. Every hoistway opening is to be provided on each story with a substantial railing, and strong battened trap door securely hinged, such railings and doors to be kept closed at all practical times, except when in actual use by occupants of buildings, but especially to be carefully closed each and every day at the completion of business.

Any failure to provide such trap doors, and for every neglect to close the same as herein prescribed, the owner or occupant of said building shall be respectively liable for the violation of this ordinance.

The interior of all elevator or dumbwaiter shafts to be lined with metal or covered with metal lathing and plaster. The doors at each story to be covered with metal on the inside.

Section 35. If a mansard or any other roof having a pitch of over sixty (60) degrees be placed upon any building, the rafters shall be filled in flush with top with approved asbestos or fireproof block, not less than three inches thick, and covered with metal, slate or tile; and said roof shall not exceed twenty (20) feet in total height, from cornice or eaves; and all sides or party walls shall be carried through roof on slope and flat to a height of twelve (12) inches above roof, and be coped with stone, iron or terra cotta.

If such roof is built of any greater height than twenty (20) feet, or is used to form any side or part of a story as a substitute for walls, it shall be built wholly of fireproof material.

In the fire limits, all roofs and cornices, the tops and sides of all dormers and gables, all balustrades, pediments and details generally, both constructional and ornamental, shall be of slate, metal or terra cotta.

All cornices and other metal features to be secured to brick work with iron anchors.

The roof sheathing of every building shall in no case be extended across the front, side or end of any party wall.

All buildings shall be provided with metallic gutters and water leaders, the latter in no case to discharge upon the sidewalk.

The roofs of all buildings within the fire limits, shall have a scuttle or bulkhead, covered with approved fireproof material, with fixed ladders or stairs of iron leading thereto. No scuttle is to be less than two by three feet in size, and the frames of all bulkheads are to be filled with brick or fireproof block.

All skylights shall be made only of metal and glass.

Section 36. No chimney shall be built upon any floor or be supported in whole or part with wood, but shall be wholly supported on stone, brick or iron.

Corbelling out a chimney shall not exceed eight (8) inches, in not less than six (6) courses of brick, and if supported by piers, said piers shall not be less than twelve (12) inches on the face, and be properly bonded into the wall.

All fireplaces shall have hearts of brick, stone, slate or tile, not less than eighteen inches in width, to be supported on arches of brick or stone, and under all portable ranges such hearths shall be at least sixteen (16) inches wider on front than depth of range.

All floors under kitchen cook stoves and other stoves shall be covered with metal, the same to extend at least one (1) foot on all sides beyond base of said stoves.

All stud partitions back of portable kitchen ranges shall be framed sixteen (16) inches higher than smoke pipe opening, and one (1) foot wider each side of range, and the opening filled in with brick or fireproof blocks. No stove shall come within two (2) feet of any wooden partition. No wood work shall cross the brick breast of any portable range.

All ash holes, ash houses or ash depositories of any kind, shall be built wholly of brick, stone, iron or fireproof material.

All smoke flues with walls less than eight inches thick shall be lined on the inside with cast iron or fireproof terra cotta pipe, to be built in with brick work, from the bottom of the flue or from the throat of the fireplace, and shall be carried up continuously to the extreme top of chimney, which is to be not less than three (3) feet above the roof, to be coped with stone, terra cotta or iron.

All smoke flues for manufacturing or steam power boilers hall be built with double walls, with an air space between, the inside four (4) inches to be of fire brick or fire clay slabs or blocks laid in fire mortar, to the height of twenty-five (25) feet from the bottom.

All such flues to extend at least ten (10) feet above the highest point of any roof within a radius of fifty (50) feet, and be covered on top with a heavy wire netting.

The fire backs of all fireplaces shall not be less than eight (8) inches thick of solid masonry.

The brickwork on outside faces of all fireplace flues shall not be less than eight (8) inches, unless lined with tile.

All blind and dead flues to be shut off at the underside of the beams of each story.

Section 37. No wooden casing, furring or lath shall be placed against or cover any smoke flue or metal pipe used to convey hot air or steam.

All such flues to be covered with metal lathing, and all flues to be left smooth and clear on the completion of building.

No stovepipe shall pass through any floor or roof of any building or through any woodwork or partitions, unless protected by a double collar of metal or terra cotta with holes for ventilation, and not less than three (3) inches of air space between.

All stovepipes shall in all cases be kept twelve (12) inches away from all beams or unprotected woodwork; if protected by metal work the least distance from woodwork shall be six (6) inches.

All smokepipes from laundry stoves or any kind of heating surface, or boiler must be kept at all points not less than eighteen (18) inches from all unprotected woodwork.

If protected by metal the least distance from the woodwork shall be six (6) inches.

Where such pipe passes through any woodwork or partition it shall be protected by an iron thimble with at least eight inches of brick work around it, or a double collar of metal or terra cotta with holes for ventilation and not less than six (6) inches of air space between.

Section 38. All brick set hot air furnaces shall have two covers, with an air space of at least four (4) inches between, the top to be of brick or metal supported by iron bars, to be made perfectly tight, and there shall not be less than four (4) inches of space between the ceiling or floor beams and top.

All brick set furnaces except hot water furnaces shall have two four (4) inch well bonded brick walls with a not less than three (3) inch air space between. In every case to be built at least four (4) inches from all woodwork.

All portable hot air furnaces shall be kept at least two (2) feet away from any unprotected woodwork or ceilings (plaster not inclusive), and when protected by metal lining the distance shall not be less than one (1) foot.

No furnace shall be placed upon a wooden floor, but if such floor is adjacent thereto the furnace must in every case be set upon brick or stone base of full size of furnace, and to extend not less than two (2) feet beyond the furnace in front of the ash-pan.

Section 39. All hot air flues or shafts in stone or brick work to be lined with metal or burnt claypipe.

All hot-air flues in stud partitions shall be made double, with not less than one-half inch air space between, the back and sides of said channel and all other contiguous beams or woodwork to be lined with metal.

The outer faces of all hot-air flues to be covered with metal lathing.

Horizontal hot-air pipes shall not be less than three (3) inches below plaster ceilings, and where carried through wood partitions or floors they shall be guarded by either a double collar of metal with two (2) inches of air space and with ventilating holes, or be surrounded by brickwork at least four (4) inches in thickness.

Section 40. Registers shall not be located within four (4) feet distant horizontally from the furnace. When registers for hot-air furnaces are placed in any woodwork or combustible floors the sides shall be lined with tin. All register boxes to be made of tin plate with flange, the register to rest upon the same, the sides of boxes to be not less than two (2) inches from all woodwork.

All indirect radator boxes and all wooden boxes and casings enclosing steam pipes shall be lined with iron or tin.

Section 41. No steam pipe shall be placed within two (2) inches of any timber or woodwork unless same is protected by a metal covering, when the distance shall not be less than one (1) inch.

All steam or hot water pipes passing through floors and ceilings and plastered partitions shall be fully protected by a metal tube one (1) inch larger in diameter than the pipe, and the space filled in with mineral wool, asbestos or other approved non-combustible material.

All cutting of beams for gas, water or other pipes shall be not more than three (3) feet from bearing of beams, and shall be not more than two (2) inches in depth in any case.

Section 42. Every electric wire for furnishing light, heat or power, led into any building from the outside thereof, shall have proper and sufficient appliances to cut off the current where it enters the building.

All inside wires shall be properly insulated and all work throughout be in accordance with the rules and requirements of the Underwriters' Association of this Department, a copy of which said rules and requirements shall be kept on file in the office of said Inspector.

Section 43. No gas burner, unless protected by a bell, shall be placed less than three (3) feet below any ceiling or wood work, and all side lights and swinging brackets shall be so placed as not to endanger any wood work, curtains or other combustible material.

Section 44. Every dwelling house occupied by three or more families above the first story, and every building already, or to be erected, occupied or used as a hotel, lodging or boarding house, school, theatre, or place of public assembly, and every factory, mill, manufactory or workshop, hospital, asylum or institution, or office building, shall be provided with suitable strong iron fire escapes as may be determined by the Inspector, to be constructed in such manner as he may direct and approve.

The owner or owners of any building upon which any fire escape may be erected is to keep the same in good repair, and no person shall at any time place any encumbrance whatsoever thereon, or remove or disturb any part thereof without committing a violation of this ordinance and incurring penalty and fine thereof.

VIOLATIONS AND PENALTIES.

Section 45. That the owner or owners of any building or structure or part thereof, upon which any violation of this ordinance in any part or section may be placed, or shall exist, and any architect or building trade mechanic or employer or other person who shall assist or direct in the commission of any such violation, or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements and provisions of this ordinance in each and every particular, or any order or regulation made thereunder, or who shall in any degree depart from the conditions of the detailed specifications and plans submitted, or of any permit issued thereunder, shall severally be deemed to have violated this ordinance, and upon conviction shall, for each and every violation, respectively, be punished by a fine not exceeding Twenty (20) dollars, provided that the penalties provided by this section shall not apply to the next succeeding section of this ordinance.

Section 46. That any and all of the aforementioned persons who after service of due and proper notices as hereinafter prescribed, shall fail to comply with said notice within ten (10) days after such service, or who shall continue to violate any requirement of this ordinance in the respect named in said notice, shall on conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding One hundred (100) dollars.

Said notice of violation shall contain a description of the building, premises or property upon which said violation shall have been put, or may exist, or which may be deemed dangerous or unsafe, or to which said notice shall refer; shall specify the dangerous or unsafe condition or other violation of the ordinance complained of, and require removal of any dangerous or unsafe conditions, and strict compliance with the ordinance; and may be served personally upon the person or persons liable for violation, or by leaving said notice at the residence or place of business of such person or persons, or by leaving said notice with a member of the family of such person or persons over sixteen years of age, informing such person with whom said notice is left of its contents.

If the person or persons or any of them to whom the said notice is addressed do not reside in said city or State, and cannot by diligent search be found there n then the said notice may be served by posting a copy of the same in a conspicuous place upon the premises, and by also depositing a copy thereof in the postoffice of said city, enclosed in a sealed wrapper addressed to the said person or persons at his or their last known place of residence, with the postage paid thereon; and said posting and mailing of a copy of said notice shall be equivalent to a personal service of said notice.

The Common Council may in its discretion, good and sufficient cause being shown therefor, remit any fine or fines, penalty or penalties, which any person or persons may have incurred, or may hereafter incur under any of the provisions of this section; but no fine or penalty shall be remitted for any such violation until the act or omission constituting such violation shall have been satisfactorily corrected.

Section 47. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

CURE THAT COUGH WITH SHILOH'S CURE

TAKE THE BEST

25cts., 50cts. and $1.00 Bottle. One cent a dose.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For a Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S BELLADONNA PLASTER. 25c.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price, 50cts. Injector free.

Sold by all druggists

8 14 y

IF YOU WANT ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J.

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

A BRILLIANT WITNESS

Difficult Work Cross-examining Miss Dickinson.

Many Sensational Questions Put to the Witness—She Refuses To Recognize Her Sister—As Many as One Thousand Applications Ahead at One Time for Lectures.

Scranton, Pa., March 27.—Miss Anna Dickinson, who is suing C. B. Thompson and others for damages in the United States circuit court for imprisoning her in the Danville insane asylum in 1891, was on the stand until 4 o'clock undergoing cross-examination. She was the most brilliant witness ever on the stand in this city, and by her evasions baffled the skill of the opposing counsel, Major Everett Warren.

Sister Only in Flesh and Blood.

There were a great number of sensational features, due mostly to Miss Dickinson's marked peculiarities. The greatest sensation of the day was caused when she refused to recognize Miss Susan Dickinson, who sat at the defendant's table, as her own sister. She was finally compelled to admit that she was her own mother's daughter, but they were sisters in flesh and blood only, she said. From 1863 to 1875 she had as many as 1,000 applications ahead for lectures. She could deliver only from 160 to 180 lectures a year, for which she received from $150 to $1,000 a night. She worked hard, but did not overwork herself.

Played Hamlet Two Hundred Times.

She played Hamlet 200 times before American audiences. She told more in detail what she had the day before given in general. She denied that she had ever suffered from nerve exhaustion or nerve trouble. She said she was not troubled with insomnia and that she never was compelled to use artificial means to procure sleep or rest for her nerves. She said that in 1890 her general health was as good as it had been and, indeed, better than it had been during the three or four preceding years.

Made It Interesting for the Lawyer.

Miss Dickinson insisted on understanding the meaning of every word in a sentence before she would attempt to answer it, and she plied the opposing counsel with questions as to what each chief word in his sentences meant till it was evident that the lawyer was more the subject of the cross-examination than the witness. At the afternoon session she was asked most sensational questions to all of which she answered no, but in several instances she qualified her negative.

Many Sensational Questions.

She was asked if she hadn't gone riding with a man named Eggleston and if she had not pinched his leg and asked him to pinch her toe; asked if she had not once on a certain occasion rolled on the floor and kicked up her heels in an indecent manner; asked if she had not indulged in the use of intoxicants at times to excess; if she had not been profane and blasphemous; if she had not stabbed her sister in the hand with a pair of scissors; if she had not run into the street indecently clad with a knife in her hand after her cook and if she had not imagined that every one from the president of the United States down was conspiring against her and attempting to poison her. The case for the plaintiff closed and the defense is now on.

THAT POISONED SUGAR.

It Will Be Given a Chemical Analysis Before Being Offered for Sale.

Philadelphia, March 27.—The cargo of sugar mixed with arsenic from the steamship Remus which is to be sold Friday by the federal authorities will be subjected to chemical analysis by both government and state authorities and the result of the examination will be announced to any prospective bidders who may turn up at the sale. The sugar was damaged in a voyage from Hamburg by becoming mixed with arsenic that was also among the cargo in the vessel's hold. The sugar damaged amounts to 991,000 pounds and was abandoned to the government by the consignees on account of its condition.

A Young Woman Commits Suicide.

Dansville, N. Y., March 27.—Miss Nora Levers, of Oak Hill, aged 20 years, committed suicide at the hotel Livingston yesterday by taking a quantity of morphine. She was a bright and intelligent young woman. The cause of her rash act is shrouded in mystery.

Business Good at Worcester.

Washington, March 27.—Postmaster Green of Worchester, Mass., called at the post office department yesterday and asked for additional force of clerks and letter carriers for his office, made necessary, he said, on account of the increase of business.

Consul Smithers Dies at Hiogo.

Washington, March 27.—The department of state has been notified by cablegram from Osaka, Japan, of the sudden death at Hiogo, Japan, of Consul Enoch J. Smithers. Mr. Smithers was appointed from Delaware July 1, 1889.

Big Blaze in Chicago.

Chicago, March 27.—The "Bell" clothing store at Quincy and State streets was gutted by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss, $50,000. Several of the employes jumped from the windows during a panic, but escaped with slight injuries.

Former Pullman Men at Work.

Hiawatha, Kan., March 27. — The thirty-two former Pullman workmen brought here last fall have succeeded in interesting enough capital to start them in the manufacturing business.

$27,000 Fire at Dover, N. H.

Dover, N. H., March 27.—A fire last night destroyed the two upper stories in a block owned by the Martha S. Tash estate and occupied by business houses. Loss $27,300.

To Relieve Nebraska Farmers.

Lincoln, Neb., March 27.—Governor Holcomb has signed the bill appropriating $200,000 for the purchase of seed grain and food for drouth-stricken farmers of western Nebraska.

Receiver for Bank of Dubois.

Dubois, Pa., March 27.—Hugh McCullough, ex-councilman, has been appointed receiver for the defunct bank of Dubois. A better feeling now prevails.

Purity

of ingredients is essential in medicines, else they are apt to do more harm than good.

Allcock's Porous Plaster

is absolutely pure. It can do no harm. It is effective. As an external remedy for pains in the chest, back or side, it is unequaled.

Let no Solicitation induce you to accept a substitute. ALLCOCK'S is absolutely the best.

Allcock's Corn Shields,
Allcock's Bunion Shields,

Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.

Brandreth's Pills

may be taken by old and young. They simply assist nature.

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

esidence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

GEO. J. TOBIN,

187 North avenue.

Practical Plumber

Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer

TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial Parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J. Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 18 t

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

Fred Eudress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey porkfand poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $15 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS,

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 514 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stores and stables for pianos and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 m

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to, the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-c

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System

used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue. Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,

178 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 9 2 y

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 9 4 y

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built, 9 18

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D.C

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

NO.

BUT FULL VALUE.

C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 37 Chatham street.

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH 27, 1895

A GREAT LOCOMOTIVE.

New Haven & Hartford Road Tests One of Its New Engines.

New London, Conn., March 27.—One of the big locomotives just received by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was put to test yesterday when it started from Harlem river for Boston with 1,000 tons of railroad iron. The train was made up of fifty-one cars and a caboose, each car having 40,000 pounds capacity. The locomotive had a hard struggle over the trestle from Shaw's cove across the Thames river bridge, where the grade is steep and the curves well-defined and long, but the engine pulled the train, which was nearly half a mile long, without a stop. A great crowd watched the progress of the train over the bridge from all the wharves along the water front.

WOULD KILL HIM IN OREGON.

An A. R. U., Leader Says Egan Would Not Be Safe in That State.

Omaha, Neb., March 27.—James Casey, one of the charter members of the American Railway union and a delegate from Grand Junction, Col., at the Chicago convention, said concerning John M. Egan, the applicant for the receivership of the Oregon Short line: "I do not speak from the inside but only as an observer. I know, as does every other western railroad man of experience, that Egan's life would be insecure if he stopped in Oregon. I predict that if he stays there as receiver he will be killed within a few months. There are men walking this earth to-day who believe Egan represents in his personality all that has brought them to want and woe."

CABINET BEFORE THE CAMERA.

The President and His Advisers Photographed.

Washington, March 27.—A photographer was a privileged visitor at the cabinet meeting yesterday, and as soon as Postmaster General Bissell entered, took a photograph of the president and the entire group of his cabinet advisers. It is Mr. Bissell's intention to retire from office on Saturday next. His successor, Hon. William L. Wilson, will assume the duties next Monday morning. The picture made is intended as a companion to the one taken just before the retirement of Daniel Manning from Mr. Cleveland's first cabinet.

DOUGLASS HEIRS AT WAR.

Beginning of What Is Believed Will Be a Bitter Fight Over the Estate.

Washington, March 27.—Mrs. Rosetta D. Sprague, eldest child of the late Frederick Douglass and wife of Fathan Sprague of this city, has filed a petition in the probate court in which she charges Mrs. Helen Douglass, her stepmother, and Lewis H. Douglass, her brother, with unlawfully retaining possession of her father's property, and requests the court to grant her letters testamentary upon the estate. This is thought to be the beginning of a bitter contest between members of the family over the division of the estate.

ROUGH ON THE RAILROADS.

Two Big Verdicts for Damages Sustained by Supreme Court.

Youngstown, O., March 27.—William Bycroft, an engineer on the Lake Shore road, was crippled for life in a collision and brought suit here against the Lake Shore for $75,000. The jury awarded him $18,357. The supreme court has affirmed the verdict. In the case of Robert Flenner, against the Pittsburg & Western railroad, who was awarded $2,500 damages, the supreme court decided in favor of Flenner.

Secretary J. H. Manning of the Y. M. C. A. attended a Y. M. C. A. conference in Philadelphia yesterday. He returns home today, stopping for a short time in Trenton.

The personal and professional regard in which W. B. Codington is held is shown in the fact that he is now chosen town counsel for Piscataway, Fanwood and North Plainfield.

—Samuel H. P. Meigs, who dropped dead in New York Monday, formerly lived on West Fifth street, Plainfield.

—Charles Matthews is having his driveway covered with crushed stone, and is making other improvements on his property, corner of Grove street and Prospect place.

—Contractor M. Uhdal is doing a very creditable piece of work in the grading of Martine avenue and Martine court. He thoroughly understands his business, and never fails to fulfil his contracts to the letter. During his many years of residence in Plainfield he has done a large amount of grading and landscaping, all of which are a credit to him.

Success has come to Cleveland's baking powder, because
It is a pure cream of tartar powder.
Only a rounded spoonful is required, not a heaping spoonful.
It never fails.

The best that money can buy.
Cleveland's Baking Powder
It is Pure and Sure.

Bread and cake made with it keep their natural freshness and flavor.
It is full weight, and full strength until all used.
Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York, Successor to Cleveland Brothers.

MAY NOT COME BACK

Minister Thurston To Leave for Honolulu To-day.

Certain That He Will Not Make Adieus at the State Department—May Enter the Hawaiian Cabinet and "Get Even" by Sending Mr. Willis Home.

Washington, March 27.—The state department professes to have received no intimation from Minister Thurston or any one authorized to speak for him that he will leave Washington to-day to return to Honolulu. This is not entirely an unusual proceeding, althought some notification is generally given the department of the departure of a foreign minister.

Will Not Bid Adieu.

It is likely that in the course of a day or two Mr. Hastings, the secretary of legation, will inform Secretary Gresham that he will be in charge of the Hawaiian affairs in Washington during the absence of his chief. It is certain that Mr. Thurston will not call at the state department to make his adieus.

A Reply May Come To-day.

A steamer from Honolulu is due in San Francisco to-day, and she is expected to bring the answer of the Hawaiian government to the demand for Mr. Thurston's recall. What this reply will be can only be a matter for conjecture, for although such demands are always complied with, unless the person whose recall is asked is charged with an offense of which he is proved innocent, the course of diplomatic procedure is so slow that Mr. Thurston may be in Hawaii before his government has sent its formal acquiescence to Mr. Gresham's request.

May "Get Even" on Willis.

There is said to be some possibility that Mr. Thurston may become minister of foreign affairs in the Hawaiian cabinet. In such an event it is highly probable that Minister Willis would be found persona non grata to the Hawaiian secretery, and in this way the Hawaiian diplomat would be able to return a Roland for an Oliver. Mrs. Thurston will not accompany her husband to Honolulu, but will leave him en route to San Francisco and visit friends in Michigan.

PUBLICLY RAWHIDED.

A Prominent Palmyra Man Severely Lashed by an Enraged Mother.

Palmyra, N. Y., March 27.—James Lamsden, a boot and shoe dealer, and prominent here, Monday insulted the young daughter of Mrs. James Willis. Last night as Lamsden was boarding a train for the east Mrs. Willis stopped him and crying out: "You are the man I am looking for," began lashing him over the head and face with a rawhide she had concealed under her cloak. He tried to dodge the blows, but it was no use. He then tried to escape into the shanty at the crossing but the gate tender would not let him. The bystanders lent Mrs. Willis all the encouragement possible and howled derisively at Lamsden as the train pulled out.

MAGGIE TILLER TO BE HANGED.

First Woman Ever Found Guilty Under the Death Penalty in Chicago.

Chicago, March 27.—Magge Tiller, who, in a fit of jealously, shot and killed Charles Miller, on Dec. 14, 1894, was found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death by a jury in Judge Clifford's court yesterday. She is the first of her sex in Cook county against whom the penalty of death has been found by a jury.

Baseball in the South.

Savannah, Ga., March 27.—Washington, 12; Boston, 20.

Charlottesville, Va., March 27.—University of Virginia, 0; New York Giants, 12. The university team is considered a strong club.

Augusta, Ga., March 27.—Pittsburg, 15; Brooklyn, 5.

Newspaper Change at Winsted.

Winsted, Conn., March 27.—The Citizen Printing company, publishers of the Daily Citizen and Weekly Leader, have purchased the Winsted Daily and Weekly Herald. The Citizen company will discontinue the Daily Herald, but will issue the Weekly Herald.

Croker Going Abroad.

New York, March 27.—Richard Croker, accompanied by Mrs. Croker and two of their younger sons, will sail for Europe to-day for the purpose of supervising the work of managing the string of racers which he recently sent over there.

Washington Residence Burned.

Washington, March 27.—About 6:30 last night servants in the residence of Dr. Edmund K. Goldsborough, 1331 K street, northwest, discovered the parlor in flames. In less than ten minutes a loss of $25,000 had been entailed.

Handicapper for New York State.

Buffalo, March 27.—Chairman Gideon of the League of American Wheelmen racing board has been appointed league handicapper for New York state. He will make his headquarters in New York.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Prices are steady with fair trade. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 62c.

Corn—Spot quite and easier. Sample white f. o. b. afloat, 35½c.; steamer mixed f. o. b. afloat, 52½c.

Oats—Spot dull and easier. No. 2 white, 37a37½c.; No 2 mixed, 33½c.

Pork—Spot held higher checking trade. Extra prime nominal, $13.25a$13.50; mess, $13.50a$13.75.

Lard—Contracts are quiet and easier. May, $7.45.

Butter—Prices are generally steady, but uncertain. New butter, creamery, western extras, 21c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18½a19c.

Cheese—Market in fair demand. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; common to fair, 8a9½c.

Eggs—The market closed firm with holders refusing to sell fine western below 12c.

Potatoes—The demand light, but holders firm, owing to the moderate receipts. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $1.87a$2.12; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., $1.75a$2.00.

READY TO FIGHT THE MINERS.

Railroad Coal Operators Meet and Adopt Plans for Trouble.

Pittsburg, March 27.—The railroad coal operators of the Pittsburg district have made preparations for the fight with the miners after April 1 by adopting a lower rate than that demanded by the men. The executive committee reported in favor of sixty cents per ton for one year beginning April 1, and the association ratified the action of the committee. Many of the operators were in favor of reaffirming the fifty-five cent rate, but the decision for sixty cents was finally agreed to in order to make the price of mining equal with that of Ohio. The matter of resuming operations was left in the hands of a special committee. This committee is to assist individual operators in getting miners in case the old men refuse to accept the rate adopted. A meeting of the miners of the Penn & Westmoreland Gas Coal companies, numbering about 2,000, will be held at Irwin to-day, the main purpose of which is said to be to make a demand for the reinstatement of sixty-five of their number who were discharged last week.

GREAT FIRE AT MILWAUKEE.

Over $1,000,000 Worth of Property Destroyed This Morning.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 27.—Fire, which broke out about midnight at the corner of Grand avenue and Fourth street, destroyed the Tanner Furniture company's building, the Laudauer & Co.'s dry goods store, Barling & Withbold's clothing house, a row of tenement houses on Grand street, the library building with all the books, Y. M. C. A. building, the finest structure in the city, art store of Roelsen & Reinhardt, the five-story brick building occupied by Au Bon Marche Shoe company, the James Morgan building. The fire was not declared out until 6.30 o'clock this morning. Loss over a million dollars.

NO LACK OF CANDIDATES.

New Jersey Republicans Who Aspire to Governor Werts' Shoes.

Trenton, N. J., March 27.—Senator Maurice Rogers of Camden, has formally announced his candidacy for the republican gubernatorial nomination. The full list of republican candidates for the succession to Governor Werts is as follows: ex-Congressman John Kean, jr., of Union county; Senator Foster M. Voorhees of Union county; ex-Senator John W. Griggs of Passaic county; Franklin Murphy of Essex county; Frank A. Magowan of Mercer county, and Senator Rogers as above named. It is likely that other candidates will spring up as the time of the convention draws near.

GOV. M'KINLEY CONVALESCENT.

He Gets Over an Attack of the Grip and Leaves for St. Augustine.

Savannah, Ga., March 27.—A special from Thomasville says: "Gov. McKinley has about recovered from a slight attack of the grip which caused him to spend several days more in Thomasville than he originally intended, and he leaves here to-day for St. Augustine. When shown a paper which quoted him as saying that if the republican party declared for free silver he would not accept the nomination for president, the governor shrugged his shoulders and smilingly said: 'Why, that's absurd.'"

LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE.

An Important Victory Won by the Society at New Haven.

New Haven, March 27.—The local law and order league has won an important victory by defeating the application of John H. Moore, a member of the board of aldermen, for a license. Moore was accused of selling liquor illegally. The secretary of the league here states that fines, bonds, and costs inflicted in the various Bridgeport liquor cases already amount to about $6,000.

MRS. STOWE NOT INSANE.

A Sensational Newspaper Story Denied by Her Physician.

Hartford, Conn., March 27.—In refutation of a sensational story in a New York paper to the effect that Harriet Beecher Stowe had become violently insane, her physician, Edward Beecher Hooker, has issued a card stating that Mrs. Stowe is in better health than usual and spends much of her time visiting freely her friends and neighbors.

Woolen Mill Strike Ended.

Providence, R. I., March 27.—The Manton woolen mill strike is ended, and the operators will return to work Thursday morning. They have been out about three weeks. The only concession they have gained is an "extra" of three mills per shuttle for all shuttles over four.

Horse Dealer Kills Himself.

Washington, March 27.—Hunter Ware, a horse dealer, shot himself through the heart last night in Dodge's livery stable, Anacostia. Death was instantaneous. Ware was conversing with his sweetheart a few minutes before he killed himself. No specific reason is assigned for the act.

The Debs Case.

Washington, March 27.—A decision by the court in the Debs case will probably be reached at an early date, and may, owing to the issues of personal liberty involved, ante-date other important cases engaging the attention of the supreme court judges.

Where the Duke Must Wed.

London, March 27.—The members of the Orleans family insist that the marriage of the Princess Helene to the duke of Aosta shall take place at Stowe house, near London, the home of the Duc d'Orleans.

Victim of Football Brutality.

Washington, March 27.—George D. Bahen, the Georgetown university football player, who was injured in the last Thanksgiving Day football game with the Columbia athletic club team, is dead at the Emergency hospital.

Work Begun on Boston's Subway.

Boston, March 27.—Ground was broken yesterday just beyond Church street, inside the public garden, for the construction of the first section of Boston's subway.

A Chinese Plague Outbreak.

London, March 27.—A dispatch from Hong Kong says that the plague has broken out at Kowloon in a virulent form.

The Colt Beresford Sold.

Lexington, Ky., March 27.—Gil Curry has sold to E. F. Weaver the 5-year-old trotting colt Beresford by Bermuda, 2:20½.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lichthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J.

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Don't ruin your form wearing poor corsets.

Buy Your Corsets

AT PECK'S.

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue. Packer's Block.

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

SPRING OPENING

AND

10-DAY SPECIAL SALE

now going on. The decorations and display of elegant New Goods the most profuse and attractive ever shown in this part of the State. Come and see.

Specials

in every department. These are a few samples:

For the opening the following extraordinary values—All-wool cheviot cloth capes in black, navy and brown, trimmed with tinsel braid, manufactured to sell at $1.59 and $1 85; special for the opening

$1.10 and $1.30

All-wool Cheviot and Covert cloth capes in tan and black, with excellent trimming, double cape, manufactured to sell at $4.65;

Special $3.85

All-wool Cheviot Broadcloth Covert and Kersey Cloth Capes, embroidered in cream, satin ribbon trimmings, lace and jet, manufactured to sell at $5.85, $6.75 and $10; special at $4.85, $5 90 and $7.50.

An excellent Broadcloth Cape in black, navy, black and red, fashion's latest conceptions, satin lined, manufactured to sell at $10; a great special at

$8 35 Each

Grocery Department.

AT 6 Cents CAN	75 more cases fresh Canned Goods just received. 25 cases Farrow's string beans, 25 cases cold packed Pride of Sussex tomatoes, 25 cases sweet corn. The above open for inspection; as long as they last 6c can.	AT 6 Cents CAN
Boston Chips 10c Box	300 boxes Boston potato chips, just received from the factory fresh. While they last at 10c a box	Boston Chips 10c Box

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

At 3 Cts EACH	250 doz ironstone china plates, all sizes at 3c each. 200 doz ironstone china tea cups and saucers. The above is John Edwards's best English ware.	At 3 Cts EACH

New Cut Glass, new Bouquet Holders, new Bohemian Glass Salad and Fruit Dishes just opened.
Look out for genuine bargains.

Edsall's.

THE CZAR,

The Handsomest Wheel Ever Produced

HIGHEST GRADE MADE.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Short Stories of Heroism from Real Life.

The Last Texan Martyr.

March 27, 1836, was the date of the last horror perpetrated by Santa Anna upon the struggling Texans before the sword of vengeance fell at San Jacinto. The garrison of Goliad, led by Colonel James W. Fannin, had been overpowered and captured while trying to cut their way through to relieve Major Travis at the Alamo. Fannin was severely wounded in the fight. At dawn on Palm Sunday the prisoners were marched out under pretext of being counted and butchered by bands of Indians, specially chosen for the work. The wounded were reserved for the last, and Fannin the last of all. He asked his executioners to aim at his heart and not his head, seated himself in a chair fronting the rifleman, tied a handkerchief over his eyes and bared the target for the fatal volley.

Fannin was a North Carolinian by birth and was 36 years old. He had been in the field since the beginning of the struggle for Texan independence.

Sam Houston as an Indian Fighter.

March 27, 1814, General Jackson whipped the Creeks at the Horseshoe. After battering their log breastworks with cannon balls for two hours his storming parties dashed forward and made a gallant fight around the portholes, but could not breach the line. Major Montgomery leaped upon the works and instantly fell back with a bullet through his head. By his side stood Ensign Houston, with a barbed arrow in his thigh, and maddened with pain and the fall of his leader he jumped down among the savages, followed by his company. Tennesseeans and savages fought like tigers, but the bayonets were too much for tomahawks, and the Creeks broke for the timber in the rear, where they would be more at home. Houston sank down inside the breastworks and called one of his Tennesseeans to draw the terrible arrow from his wound. Two vigorous jerks failed to bring it out. Raising his sword, Houston shouted, "Try it again, and if you fail I'll cut you to earth." Putting all his strength to the work, the soldier tore the barb loose from the tendons, causing a wound that bled furiously. While a surgeon was stanching the blood Jackson rode near, and recognizing Houston told him not to go into battle again. Late in the day there was a call for volunteers to storm the last refuge of the Creeks, which was a portion of the breastworks sheltered by a wooded knoll, where the trees had been felled for better defense. No one responded to the call. Houston was with his company looking on. Ordering the men to follow, he dashed ahead without glancing around until he reached the crest of the ravine. Before his men caught up with their valiant leader he was shot down with two bullets in his right shoulder.

SAM HOUSTON.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

An Evening Spent in El Choco.

Last evening the Y. M. C. A. placed before the men of Plainfield another of its advantages. Mr. Bullman of Plainfield, a mining engineer who has traveled extensively in South America, gave a most interesting talk, descriptive of his adventures in the Republic of Colombia. He was stationed in a province of Colombia about twice the size of New Jersey, amid almost tropical vegetation, and among a population consisting chiefly of uncivilized Indians and Negroes.

Among the many relics which Mr. Bullman brought from places he visited was a blowgun used by the Indians, which projected a poisoned arrow from 150 to 200 feet with sufficient force to kill even the larger beasts of the forest. Many interesting facts about the habits of the natives were brought to light, and their costumes, which were simple and scanty in the extreme, were exhibited.

At the close of his address Mr. Bullman gave an opportunity to ask questions. Many took advantage of the offer and were given a clearer description of this interesting people. All those present gave expression of their appreciation to Mr. Bullman and their pleasure in having had such a delightful evening.

—To manufacture vanilla and peptone is the purpose of the Elizabeth Chemical Company of which Colles T. Pond of Plainfield is an incorporator.

—Gavett's is the only place in Plainfield to buy the greatest gas burner ever invented, the Welsbach. If you give him an order to put one in your library you will not let him take it out. Call and see it burning at his crystal palace, East Front street.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

TELEGRAPH TICKS.

A $1,000,000 fire in Milwaukee today wrecked many stores and damaged the Y. M. C. A. building and Public Library.

The Britannia today beat the Alisa, by nine minutes and took the Nice Town prize.

Extend It!

Now that the frost is out of the ground, the several teamsters who haul cracked stone from the Smalley stone crusher to the different parts of the city and borough come by the way of Grove street instead of Somerset, thus avoiding the trolley tracks. Grove street would make a splendid thoroughfare to the mountains, if the borough would have the upper end of the street macadamized, which could be done at small expense.

—A special business meeting of the W. T. A. S. will be held in Reform Hall tomorrow afternoon at 3.

—Wm. H. VanWinkle of Park place never gets left on raising early vegetables. He planted his pease last Saturday.

—A useful ornament adorns the wall of the ladies' private sanctum in the postoffice, one of the pretty calendars, with fire-alarm box locations, issued by The Daily Press.

—Wm. Hand & Son today moved C. D. Purdy from Westervelt avenue to 198 North avenue; Rev. Cornelius Schenck from East Second to his new house on West Front street; and R. O. Howell from East Third street to Westervelt avenue.

—The letter-carriers room in the Plainfield postoffice is now ready for occupancy during the carriers' leisure moments. All the furnishings of the room were donated by merchants of this city, and thanks to their generosity the carriers have very comfortable quarters.

REV. Daniel F. Warren, D. D., Rector Holy Trinity Church, Jersey City Heights, says:

"Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills

are unquestionably good. They are, in my opinion, all they claim to be. I have tried them and found in them what I needed. I believe they will cure Dyspepsia, and that is saying much for any medicine. I am glad, therefore, to give my testimony."

At all druggists', 25 cents. Send to us for a free sample

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., New York

HARK! HARK!

Do you hear those bells ringing? They are to warn you that Johnson's delivery wagon is near at hand, ready to supply you with the finest home-made bread in the land, pies, cake, buns and rolls, fresh every morning at 6 a. m.

Boston brown bread a specialty. Just give me a trial, my goods speak for themselves. All orders promptly attended to at shortest notice.

W. H. Johnson,

3 23 1w 41 Somerset Street.

—Fair and warmer tomorrow.

—The Master Plumbers Association meet in Red Men's hall tonight.

—The Lenten sermon in the usual course in St. Mary's Church will be given this evening by Rev. Eugene Carroll of Elizabeth.

—Pharmacist Leggett has provided a most complete and convenient junior postoffice in his drug store, Park avenue and Front street.

—The boys connected with the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium will hereafter meet Thursday afternoons in addition to the other afternoons.

—A meeting of all boys interested will be held in the small hall of the Y. M. C. A. Building, Saturday morning at 9, at which time a Junior Bicycle Club will be formed. Officers will be elected. A full attendance is desired.

—A rich treat is offered the lovers of high-class entertainment in the series of Shakespearean, Dickens and Sheridan recitals announced by the Circle of King's Daughters (young daughters of the King, Washington Park) to be given by Charles F. Underhill, who excels as a monologue impersonator. He gives condensations of whole plays, entirely from memory, with dramatic force

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager

Telephone Rates

IN PLAINFIELD.

$40 $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue Plainfield.

3 22 2w-c 2

—Father Miller will lecture in St. Joseph's Church tonight.

—S. P. Wheeler yesterday sent three pointer dogs to millionaire George Gould.

—The store on West Front street occupied by the Sherman Outfitting Company is receiving a coat of paint.

—G. B. Naylor is erecting a house at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Berckman street. F. M. Masker is doing the plumbing and tinning work.

—Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., will move this week from their present rooms on Second street to the Babcock Building. The preparatory work commenced yesterday.

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 1c a dose; 25, 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life; I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels; 75c. Sold by all druggists.

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them."

'Horner's Furniture'

The Best in the Market.

All who desire to buy reliable Furniture in moderate priced or more costly grades will find our stock the most advantageous to select from for these reasons: It represents the productions of the best makers only, and is the largest and most varied in America.

The completeness of our assortments can best be understood from the fact that we exhibit more than two hundred and fifty different Bedroom Sets in every variety of wood, over 70 patterns of Brass Bedsteads, as well as endless lines of Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Dining Room Furniture of the most artistic styles, and ranging from the modest and inexpensive to the most elaborately carved and inlaid.

In a word, every article required for use, comfort and adornment in the household can be had with its plainly marked moderate price at our

GREAT FURNITURE EMPORIUM,

61-65 West 23d St., N. Y.

(Adjoining Eden Musee.)

Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

Grand

Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastefully trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on

Tuesday, March 25,
Wednesday, March 26,
Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season. We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 51 in. wide.
5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.
Our 40c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.
75c will buy a $1 00 skirt.
95c. " " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

DON'T SKIP AN ITEM.

It means money saved on all your wants. No difference what—dry goods, hosiery, notions or house furnishings it's the same story on all, close quick prices that sells us so many goods.

A FEW ITEMS

It's dress goods every piece worth half as much again. 36 inch Fancies 27c instead of 50. 40 inch changeable effects 42c good at 70. Same way in black goods. The prices do not tell half. You want to see the goods to appreciate their worth.

10c outing flannels at 7c.
12c dress ginghams at 8c.
36-inch percales at 7½c instead of 13c.
30 inch percales at 6c.

5 000 pieces—almost as many patterns of cambric embroideries 3c and 4c yard, instead of 8 and 10.

If it's dotted Swiss or curtain drapery, ours will suit. Quality and price both right. 40 inch dotted Swiss 17c; value 25c.

New Hats, Capes, Jackets, Shirt Waists, all on sale this week.
Ladies' Capes blue and black broadcloth, $2 98.
Ladies' box coats $3.98
Ladies' percale wrappers 98c.

One of the many good values in matting is the seamless Jap, inserted pattern, $2 49 a roll of 25 yards.

WHITE of Plainfield.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Afternoon Class for Young Ladies

Three times per week. Higher English Branches, French and Music. For terms apply MISS FAWCETT, 25 Washington ave

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

SAIL BOATS

—IN—

Sloops and Schooners,

—FROM—

25c. to $1.25.

R. C. RAND.

140 West Front st.

JOHNSON'S FOURTH
Auction Sale
for 1895
OF HORSES,
At TAYLOR'S HOTEL, Dunellen,
Saturday, March 30
at 1 o'clock, rain or shine.
One Car Load of Western Horses,
suitable for all purposes. Also a number of Jersey Horses and Mares, suitable for farm or road.
Usual credit and guarantee given to every purchaser. 3 26 4-c f

BOCK BEER

all this week at
Charles Smith's Saloon.
Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit.

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

JAMES T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., March 25, 1895.

AN ORDINANCE

To Create the Office of Inspector of Buildings and to Define his Powers, Duties and Compensation.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That there shall be appointed by the Common Council within thirty days after the approval or final adoption of this ordinance, and annually thereafter, on the first Monday of February in each year, an officer to be known as Inspector of Buildings, who shall be either an architect, carpenter, mason, or other mechanic. The term of office of every person so appointed shall expire on the first Monday of February following the month of his appointment. His duties shall be such as devolve upon him as Inspector of Buildings by the laws of this state, and this and other ordinances of the City of Plainfield, and his compensation shall be the sum of five hundred dollars per annum. For brevity, said officer is hereinafter designated as Inspector.

Sec. 2. That the said Inspector is hereby charged with the performance of all services necessary to insure the strict enforcement of the ordinances of the city now existing, or that may be hereafter adopted, relating to the erection, construction or alteration of buildings therein. He shall keep a record of all applications for permits and a copy of such drawings as may be necessary to show the construction of the buildings or structures, and a traced copy, or sun print on cloth, of all plans on which permits shall be granted.

Sec. 3. That after any permit shall have been granted as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the said Inspector diligently to inspect said building while in course of erection, and to see that it is constructed in conformity with the ordinances of the city relating thereto. The said Inspector shall also keep a full and complete record of all buildings in course of erection or alteration, their style and proposed uses, and make a report of the same in writing once a month to the Common Council.

Sec. 4. That for the purpose of ascertaining all violations of ordinances designed for the more effectual prevention of fires, it shall be lawful for him, the said Inspector, whenever he shall have good and sufficient reason to believe that any of such such ordinances are being violated, to enter into or upon any lands or building for the examination of hoistways, trap-doors, fire-places, hearths, chimneys, stoves and pipes thereto, receptacles for ashes, ovens, boilers, heaters and chemical apparatus, which may be dangerous as tending to cause or promote fires; and it shall be his duty to direct the owner or occupant of any defective building, by notice signed by said Inspector, to alter the same in such manner and within such reasonable time as he may deem necessary. He shall also examine, at reasonable hours in the daytime, and it shall be lawful for him for that purpose to enter into and upon all buildings and places where any gunpowder, saltpetre, hemp, flax, tow, hay, rushes, firewood, boards, shingles, shavings, or other combustible materials may be lodged; and whenever he shall discover any violation of any of such ordinances, or anything that is deterimental to public safety, he shall notify in writing the owner or occupants of the building wherein such unlawful or unsafe conditions exist to immediately cause the same to be corrected, and it shall be the duty of the person so notified to comply with such notice. And in case of the neglect or refusal of the owner or occupant of such building, or the possessor of such combustible materials to correct said unlawful or unsafe conditions and to alter, remove or secure the same within the time and in the manner directed in said notice, the person offending shall on conviction thereof pay a penalty of five dollars for each and every day after the expiration of the time in such notice stated he shall neglect or refuse to comply, not exceeding one hundred dollars in any one suit.

Sec. 5. That in case the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of said city shall be either an architect, carpenter, mason or other mechanic, he may be appointed to said office of Inspector of Buildings, and hold both offices at the same time, and in that case, he shall devote all his time to the performance of the duties of said offices.

Sec. 6. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS.

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.

The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. L. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated;

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

---

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS

OFFICES—36 West Front street; 48 Park avenue Post Office Box 829.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 6t

---

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

Contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK.

General Agent,

218 West 5th st., Plainfield N. J.

and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

J. W. VAN SICKLE,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salt Meats

GAME IN SEASON,

New No. 122, North Ave., Plainfield.

Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

---

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented. H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement

For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager

Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

$500 DOWN

Buys One of Those New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

---

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank, is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,

163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

R-I-P-A-N-S TABULES act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 60 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc. in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 19 tf

---

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 213 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

E. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 5024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Fiyan, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 25 3

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 36, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yenger, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park Avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed 9 26 tf

---

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

A LADY'S TOILET

Is not complete without an ideal

COMPLEXION

POWDER.

POZZONI'S

Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.

Insist upon having the genuine.

IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Treasury Department

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1 1915

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2243 JAMES H. ECKELS, Comptroller of the Currency.

S 4 30

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

You may have

Lost

many hours of comfort by not having worn

A

good reliable

Pair

of Collier's

Glasses.

103 Park ave. Established 1869.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's

LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1876.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

BAR-LOCK

VISIBLE WRITING

TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,

307 Broadway, New York.

1 5 6m

Creating a

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,

141 East Front st.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Plainfield as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 38 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.34 p m—FORT WAYNE EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00 9.08, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 08, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—2 02, 5 34, 6 46, 8 17, 9 46, 7 07 7 20, 7 49, 7 57, 8 06, 8 20, 8 30, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 28, 10 40 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 15, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 45, 3 57, 5 47, 6 43, 6 55, 8 26, 8 48, 9 08, 9 37, 9 46, 9 58, 7 07, 7 26 7 39, 9 41, 9 10, 9 20, 10 03 11 02 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 5 34, 7 54, 8 46, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 36, 10 49 a. m., 12 36, 1 54, 2 32, 2 46, 3 46, 4 38 5 34, 6 48 7 06, 7 12, 7 36, 7 56, 8 30 9 15, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 00, 5 47, 7 10, 9 00, 9 36, 11 48 a. m.; 3 08, 3 37, 3 38, 5 09, 6 36 7 46, 8 49, 9 29 p. m. Sundays at 3 00, 5 09, 9 36, 10 41 a. m.; 5 46, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 p. m.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 59 a. m.

Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Delaware—3,1 43 daily ex. Monday 4 08, 6 44, 7 10, 7 39, 9 54, 9 46, 9 56, 10 39, 11 49 a. m., 12 46, 1 11 1 37, 2 48 3 20, 3 39, 3 59, 4 38, 5 22, 5 40, 6, 6 05 6 12, 6 17, 6 27, 6 45, 6 52, 8 59, 7 20, 7 46, 8 14, 8 55, 9 34, 11 02 11 45 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 1, 1 43, 5 39, 7 48, 9 49, 10 26 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 2 47, 3 20, 4 50, 5 20, 5 40, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 9 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 37, 7 10 7 39, 9 05 9 36, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 35, 1 37, 2 48, 3 59, 4 38, 5 05, 5 47, 6 06, 6 45, 7 46, 9 59 and 12 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 5 39, 9 05, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59 a. m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 43, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 54 p m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays 1 43, 10 56, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59, 12 46 3 20, 4 43, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 36 9 54 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 25, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 35, 2 48 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 43 a m, 6 37, 7 10, 7 39 9 05, 9 36, 11 49 a. m.; 3 08, 3 37, 5 48, 6 09 6 36, 7 46, 8 49, 9 39 P. M. Fridays at 3 00, 4 59, 9 06 9 36, 10 47 a. m.; 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 39 A. M., 2 48 and 6 36 p. m., and 5 40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 39 A. M. 2 48 P. M.

For Freehold—7 39, 11 49 a. m., 4 38, 5 08 p. m., via Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 49 a. m., 4 38 and 5 08 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 12 5 44 p. m., 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 10 25 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.

For Boston—5 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 20, 7 20, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 30 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 20, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40 7 00 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 30 p. m., 12 15 night Sundays, 1 00, 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10 15, 11 00 p m., and 12 15 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager

J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 5 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a. m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 10 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m

Carpenters and Builders

UTZINGER & KLINE,

CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. G. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

THEODORE CRAY,

MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 3 28 3

JOHN P. EMMONS

—Mason and Builder.—

Washington avenue and Prospect place

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to 11 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,

Carpenters and Builders.

RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.

E. B Gayle, No. 18 Vine St.

ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO 7-21-tf

JOHN T. ODAM

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL

Slate Roofer and Repairer

Residence, cor. Arlington ave. and 6th st. Yard, near Freight House. P. O. Box, Plainfield, N. J. New work warranted for one year. Slating over shingles. 9 20 3

GEO. W. STUDER,

CARPENTER AND BUILDER,

985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

---

McCullough's Steam Mill,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.

E. H. McCullough, Proprietor

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-11-t

---

C. W. LINES & CO.,

Mason and Builders.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Residence 18 Elmwood Place.

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to 13 6t

Jno. J. Shotwell,

Wood Mantels,

Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.

221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 t

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 34, 7 07, 8 39, 8 03, 9 39, 9 56, 7 20, 7 46, 8, 8 32, 9 57, 8 46, 9 15, 10 04, 10 39 11 19, A. M., 12 04, 1 18, 3 07, 3 20, 3 39, 3 55, 4 03, 4 04, 4 24, 5 04, 5 23, 5 39, 6 04, 6 20, 6 39, 7 03, 7 20, 7 39, 8 04, 8 39, 9 39, 10 39, 11 39 P. M. Sundays—3 34 7 07, 8 03 9 13, 9 35, 10 39, 11 39 A. M., 12 39, 1 45, 3 10, 5 20, 6 39, 7 11, 8 04, 8 31, 10 17 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4 00, 8 00, 7 10, 8 40, 9 10, 10, 11 40, A. M., 1 30, 2 00, 3 00, 3 40, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 8 00, 9 00, 10 00, 11 00 P. M. Sundays, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00 P. M. Sundays, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 00, 9 30, 10 00, 10 30, 11 00 P. M. Night, 1 00, 1 30, 2 00, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price, complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5 00.

Gavett's

129 East Front street.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORE T MI RES OPUBOFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts, Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 225 1m

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

60 BROADWAY, cor. 46th ST.,

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL, in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and at short notice.

6-13-1

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

TO PLAINFIELD

Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street.

Dunham's Regl Estate Office

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

MANY WOMEN SUFFER

FROM LACK OF INFORMATION.

Doctors Are Too Reserved. A Woman Should Be Dealt With Openly.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Women are often allowed by their physicians to suffer much from lack of information and anxiety.

Many medical men are vain, and it is a struggle for them to acknowledge that they do not understand acase. Women do not investigate; they have faith in their doctor, and often wreck their lives through this unfortunate confidence.

In the treatment of female diseases men work from theory; and it is not to be expected that they can treat as intelligently those complaints from which they have never suffered, as a woman can who has made the organism and diseases of her sex a life study.

Women afflicted with female diseases are wise in communicating promptly with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Their distressed condition is due to womb trouble, and their symptoms tell the story.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one remedy that removes the cause, and restores health, courage, and happiness. The druggists sell more of it than all other female medicines. Why?

The following short letter speaks for itself, Mrs. Parker is a very young wife; only twenty-one years old. She was suffering untold misery when she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. See the result.

Can evidence be stronger than this?

"I deem it my duty to announce the fact to all my fellow-sufferers of all female complaints that your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me of all the pains and suffering I was enduring when I wrote you last May. I followed your advice to the letter, and the result is wonderful." —MRS. CHAS. PARKER, Little Falls, Minn. Any druggist has it.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS

Post-office, Plainfield, N. J., March, 25, '95

[Officially furnished weekly for publication in THE DAILY PRESS.]

Anderson Mrs H	Kane Susie 2
Backford David	Lutman A
Bacon Henry	Lyman Mrs
Bilveo Jeremiah L	Ludlow Miss
Burn Rev Jno B	Lee Samuel
Burgess Lewis W	Lynch Bessie
Batholomon Mr	Model Heating Co
Clarke C E	Perry Celina
Conly Patrick	Park J B
Connolly Mrs	Parilla Pietro
Dunn L A	Preston Mrs H A
Fabian F	Power Mrs G H
Higbie A L	Quinn Miss
Hoppie F W	Reid Lizzie F
Hill I	Richardson E C
Hill J	Randolph R
Hedden Eugene D	Smalley Isaac
Huff Mrs Fred E	Sherow A N
Howard Jos C	Stutts C C
Henihan Mary	Sheriff Miss
Humer Gillis	Smith Ma
Harris Caroline	Troy Thomas
Henshaw T	Tingmann Peter
Johnson Bell	Terry Jacob Wm
Johnston Jos	TenEyck Geo
Jones Lewis	Thorn Hon Frank
James Oliver	The Tabor M'f'g Co
312 East 2d st	Wright Mrs L. C
524 West 4th st	Williams S P

Zaremba Albert

Telephone 58

Ring it up when you want good coal, and talk to

Geo. O. Stevens

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

IS IT PERSECUTION?

Extradition Case Against Emma Parkhurst.

Efforts of Her Brother To Have Her Brought Back to New York for an Alleged Theft of a Ring—Her Sister Appears Before the Governor in Behalf of the Defendant.

Boston, March 27.—Governor Greenhalge gave a hearing on the request from New York for the return to that state of Emma Parkhurst of Boston, who is charged with grand larceny in the second degree. The fact that the charge was made by her brother, Charles Parkhurst of New York, and that the affidavits were all signed by the latter's wife, as has been previously published, gives the case a peculiar aspect, and has attracted much attention.

Effort To Frustrate Evil Designs.

Judge Bennett called to the stand a sister of the accused, Mrs. Hamlin of New York. She told the governor that she had come on from New York to do what she could to frustrate the evil designs of her brother, fully believing that it was a case of most unjust persecution of an innocent woman. She said: "My sister Emma came to my house on the 11th of March and told me that she was going to see Charles in order to get some money which he owed her.

Deaf to His Mother's Prayers.

"I knew that he owed her the money, and she has numerous letters from him in which he admits his indebtedness. What happened at the other house I do not know, as I was not present. But when I heard that a charge had been preferred against my sister, and that my brother and his wife were trying to have her brought back for the purpose of criminal prosecution I went to find out what it all meant. My aged mother had gone there before I did, but even to her prayers they were deaf. They insisted that they would prosecute Emma to the very end.

Glad To See His Sister Hanged.

"I myself then pleaded with them but was told by Charles that he would prosecute her. If hanging was the result, he said, he would be glad to see her hung, and if it was state prison he would be glad to send her there. For my mother's sake I begged him to give over the charge. All my prayers had no effect. I then inquired about the ring—and I will say right here that I never knew Mrs. Parkhurst to have any diamond ring at all and do not think their circumstances would allow them to have diamond rings. Many, many times Charles has borrowed money of me and has admitted his poverty more than once.

A Female Shylock.

"Mrs. Parkhurst told me, however, that she had a diamond ring and that she had left it in a box on the bureau. It was worth $80, she said. I asked to see the bill of sale, but they did not have it. Charles said he thought he might get another bill of sale. I told him that whether Emma was guilty or not I would endeavor to raise the money, even if I had to sell everything I owned, and give him the money, rather than have the prosecution continued. He replied that if I brought him $75 he thought he would discontinue the case. His wife, however, insisted that she would prosecute Emma in spite of the $75."

A Case of Persecution.

Questioned as to certain affidavits made by Mrs. Charles Parkhurst, the witness replied that she would not believe that woman under oath. In conclusion she addressed herself to the governor saying: "I will say that, to my mind, from a knowledge of both parties in this case, that this is purely and simply a case of persecution and the result of spite." The hearing was then continued, the date to depend upon the condition of the defendant, who is sick at her home.

BELFAST A TOTAL LOSS.

The Eighteen Missing Members of the Crew Are Safe.

Glasgow, March 27. — The British steamer Belfast, which, as before reported, went ashore on Iona island, off the coast of Scotland, while on a voyage from Darien for Belfast, will prove a total wreck. Eighteen of the crew, who were reported by the steamer Durham City as missing, have been landed at Colonsay island, south of Iona island.

A Maine Medical Registration Bill.

Agusta, Me., March 27.—The senate has passed in concurrence with the house a medical registration bill, by which all practitioners must pass an examination before a board of six professional men.

Von der Ahe Must Pay Alimony.

St. Louis, March 27.—The decree of divorce granted to Mrs. Chris Von der Ahe, wife of the baseball magnate, has been signed. He is ordered to pay her the sum of $3,150 as alimony.

Alleged Cure by Prayers.

Pittsburg, March 27. — Mrs. Jennie Stamates, of Braddock, a widow, aged 65 years, has just recovered her speech after having been dumb for three years. The cure is credited to the prayers of two revivalists.

Won by Republicans.

Yonkers, N. Y., March 27.—This city went republican at the election yesterday for the first time in years. New Rochell was also brought over to the republican column.

Li Hung Chang Stronger.

Shimonoseki, March 27.—The condition of Li Hung Chang is favorable. It is reported that he has now consented to the extraction of the bullet in his face.

Female College Burned.

Carlisle, Pa., March 27.—The Wilson female college at Chambersburg took fire yesterday. The third story and the tower of the college were wrecked.

Fast Day in Connecticut.

Hartford, Conn., March 27.—Governor Coffin has issued his proclamation in which he names Friday, April 12, as Fast Day.

Fast Day in New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., March 27.—The governor and council have appointed Thursday, April 18, as Fast Day.

FOR A NEW CHANCELLOR

The Kaiser Says Waldersee Will Succeed Hohenlohe.

He Is Determined To Dissolve the Reichstag—Bismarck To Be Consulted — Announcement Made at the Birthday Luncheon—The Emperor's Visit a Grand Event.

Berlin, March 27.—It is learned that the kaiser, during the luncheon at Friedrichsruhe yesterday, referred to the political situation. He said that he was firmly determined to dissolve the reichstag, and that Count von Waldersee would become chancellor shortly. His majesty has ordered Count von Waldersee to confer with Prince Bismarck regarding the line of policy to be followed.

HONORS TO PRINCE BISMARCK.

Emperor William's Visit to the Aged ex-Chancellor.

Friedrichsruhe, March 27.—Emperor William left his special train near the village of Aumeuhle, where he mounted a horse, and, attended by a brilliantly uniformed staff, rode to the spot selected for the assembling of the troops who had been detailed to accompany him to do honor to Prince Bismarck. The troops consisted of a squadron of the Haelberstadt cuirassiers, of which regiment Prince Bismarck is honorary colonel; the seventy-sixth infantry regiment, a squadron of the fifteenth hussars, all with their regimental bands, and a battery of the Holstein artillery regiment.

At the Head of the Troops.

With the emperor at its head, this force was marched to an open space in Prince Bismarck's park and deployed in parade order. Prince Bismarck then drove to the ground in an open carriage, wearing the uniform of the Haelberstadt cuirassiers. The officers saluted, the troops presented arms and the bands played patriotic airs. The rain fell heavily, but the kaiser sat upon his horse and Prince Bismarck stood by the side of his carriage within the curve of the military crescent. The emperor saluted Prince Bismarck and addressed him as follows:

The Emperor's Address.

Your Serene Highness: Our entire fatherland is preparing to celebrate your birthday, in which celebration I have the honor to take part to-day at the head of the army to which your grace belongs. The troops here assembled are a symbol of the entire army. Each field sign is represented and I recognize that behind these troops is the militia, comprising all the German people united. This is the field sign of the elector of Brandenburg's field of successes.

Presented with a Sword.

I could not find a better present for you than a sword, a symbol of the instrument which you helped my grandfather to forge, sharpen and wield. It is the symbol of the historic time of blood and iron. It is that means which never fails in the hands of kings and princes, also against home foes, and, as has been tested, against foreign enemies. In memory of that memorable time you will recognize the arms of Alsace-Lorraine, which form the end of a chapter of history of twenty-five years. With the remembrance I call upon the soldiers to present arms. Prince Bismarck, hurrah!

Kissed the Kaiser's Hand.

As the troops presented arms the band played, the soldiers shouted, and Prince Bismarck cried. Recovering his composure the ex-chancellor said: "I am unable to thank your majesty for this unparalleled honor." He then kissed the kaiser's hand, his majesty then urged him to mount his carriage, which Prince Bismarck only did when the crown prince had first entered the vehicle and taken a seat to the right. Then the ex-chancellor, escorted by the emperor, drove in front of the troops, and after the rounds had been made, the troops filed past Prince Bismarck, the emperor personally leading Bismarck's cuirassiers.

Count Bismarck Presented.

After the review the cuirassiers mounted guard at the castle. Prince Bismarck begged permission to present the members of his household, Count Herbert and William Bismarck and Count and Countess von Hantzua, to the emperor. The kaiser, who had dismounted, seized Herbert Bismarck's hand and asked: "Wei ghets du?" Luncheon was served shortly afterward, and then the emperor proposed Prince Bismarck's health, the artillery fired a salute of twenty-one guns. During the luncheon two bands played at the dining room windows. The emperor left for Berlin by special train at 3 o'clock. The weather improved before his departure.

Roses from the Empress.

Berlin, March 27.—The empress sent to Prince Bismarck by her son, the crown prince William, a basket of exquisite roses and a letter of congratulation. The crown prince handed the basket to Bismarck, simply saying "from mamma."

The Matter with Yale.

New Haven, Conn., March 27.—The Yale News in a long editorial complains that the newspapers and the alumni meetings of the university give almost exclusive attention to athletic matters, and do injustice to the intellectual progress of the institution.

Major McDonough's Sentence.

Boston, March 27.—Major McDonough, ex-superintendent of letter carriers in the Boston postoffice, who was convicted of taking letters from the mails about two months ago, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the state prison.

Fight With Haytian Rebels.

Kingston, Jamaica, March 27.—It is reported that a fight has occurred between Hyppolite's army and a strong band of rebels in the north of Hayti. The rebels are said to have been beaten.

Democratic Victory at Catskill.

Catskill, N. Y., March 27.—The charter election here resulted in a democratic victory, that party gaining control of the village government for the first time in a dozen years.

American Gold Coming Back.

Liverpool, March 27.—The steamship Teutonic, which sails from this port today for New York, carries £500,000 of American gold coin.

DIPHTHERIA

Too many homes bear this fear-inspiring placard, denoting the prevalence of that most insidious and dreaded of all diseases—Diphtheria.

It is to-day a recognized fact among the best practitioners that nine out of ten cases formerly considered hopeless may be brought to a happy termination by the use of that great original raw food product,

Bovinine.

This great blood-generating, life-maintaining, strength-developing, and flesh-producing product of lean, raw meat, contains the greatest amount of life-preserving qualities in the least possible bulk of any preparation known.

In cases of Diphtheria, Bovinine has special advantages. In this disease, as in others, the rapidity with which it is assimilated gives to it a preference over all other foods, passing, as it does into the system immediately, without causing the digestive organs to perform any labor. And considering the fact that the lesions in the throat prevent the swallowing of solid food, it becomes an absolute necessity. In the worst cases, where even liquids cannot be taken by the mouth, Bovinine by being used as an injection. Above all, Bovinine is in itself a germicide, and in all such diseases as Diphtheria, caused by microbes, it not only performs its greatest mission of maintaining life, but antidotes the existing bacilli.

Saves Life

Bovinine has done wonders in thousands of cases of Diphtheria. When your doctor uses it you may cease to worry, and be assured of a speedy recovery. To neglect its use may mean years of remorse in the feeling that some loved one might still be with you if everything possible had been done. Bovinine is sold by all Druggists.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES. $3. $2.50 $2. $1.75 BEST DONGOLA.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE. W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory

They give the best value for the money. They equal custom shoes in style and fit. Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed. The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole. From $1 to $3 saved over other makes. If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

A. WILLETT & SON.

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St, NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan.

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth ave. nue elevated railroads. The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager, Finderne, N. J.

1 9 tf

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

6-12-1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET.

J. R. BERRDOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 48 f

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbattoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 204 Liberty street.

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 2 days notice satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 3m

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Cigars, Etc.

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,

10 CENTS A QUART.

I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER IV.

After the death of the servingman Biancon the name of the English scientist and surgeon became known and revered amongst the persons of his profession in Venice. The poor man had died certainly from the shock to the nerves, but that was of small moment. The operation had been eminently successful, as science counts success. It had been admirably performed, and had, as he had said to Veronica, cleared up a doubt which could not, without a human subject, have been satisfactorily dissipated. His skill, his manual dexterity, his courage, were themes of universal praise, and more than one rich person of the Veneto entreated his examination, and were submitted to his treatment.

Andreis saw but little of him in the daytime, but most evenings in prima sera they met in the Palazzo Laranigra. Then Damer spoke little, but he spoke with effect; and, when he was silent, it seemed to this young mistress of the house that his silence was odiously eloquent, for it appeared always to say to her: "What a mindless creature you are! What a mindless creature you love!"

"You play with your happiness," said her duenna, angrily, to her.

"I do not play, indeed," she answered, seriously, but said no more.

Even in broad daylight, and on the sunlit waters of the lagoon, as she saw in the distance the foundry flames and factory smoke of the Fondamente, where Damer's tower stood, she shuddered in the hot midsummer noon. It seemed as if even from that distance the eyes of the strange Englishman could see her and lay silence on her lips and terror on her heart. It was but a morbid fancy—she knew that; but she could not shake off the impression. Even when far out on the green waves of the Adriatic, when Venice had long dropped away out of sight, the chilliness and oppression of the hallucination remained with her.

As summer drew on Andreis decided if he could not persuade her to promise herself to him in Venice he would follow her to the hills above Cadara, and there decide his fate. He had little doubt that he would succeed before the summer should have wholly fled.

He went out one day to make some purchases of glass and metal work for which one of his sisters had written him. He thought that when they were completed it would be but courtesy to go and tell Damer that he himself was about to leave the city, and offer him his yacht to go in, if he desired it, to Trieste. The indulgent kindliness of Andreis made him wish to part friends with a man to whom he considered that he owed his life.

He bade his gondolier steer northwards to the Fondamente. In passing the Ponte del Paradiso, a sandalo, in which there was one person alone, fouled his own in the narrow channel, and that solitary person was Damer.

"I was just going to your apartments," cried Andreis, while his gondolier swore as his prow grazed the wall of Palazzo Narni.

"I am going to the hospital, and shall not be at home till dark," replied Damer, ungraciously.

"I was coming to tell you that I am about to leave Venice."

"And are going to Goritz, no doubt," said Damer, with a dark, brief smile.

"I may be and I may not," replied Andreis, in a tone which implied that wherever he chose to go was no business of anyone's. "Anyhow, I am led to say that the schooner is entirely at your disposition if you remain here or if you cross to Trieste."

"Thanks. Yachts are rich men's toys for which I have no use," answered Damer, without saying where he was going or what he intended to do. "Send yours to her docks in Messina, if you do not require her yourself."

"You might be a little more polite," said Andreis, half angrily, half jestingly. "I should be glad to do you any services."

"Poor men cannot accept such services."

"Why do you constantly speak of your poverty? You have intellect; that is much rarer than riches."

"And much less esteemed," said Damer, with that brief, dull smile which always depressed and troubled Andreis. "I fear I cannot stay to gossip," he added. "I am already rather late for a conference at the hospital."

They were about to part—Damer to pass underneath the bridge, Andreis to pursue his way to a coppersmith's workshop, when a weak, infantine cry smote on their ears, echoed by other shriller childish voices.

Some children were playing on the black barges which were laden with firewood and coal. They were small creatures, half naked in the warm air and sportive as young rabbits. They ran, leaped, climbed the piles of fuel, caught each other in mimic wrestling and screamed with glad laughter. There was only one who did not join in the games, a little boy who lay languidly and motionless on some sacks, and watched the others with heavy eyes.

As their gondola passed under that wall the sporting children, growing wilder and more reckless, rushed in their course past and over the little sick boy, and jostled him so roughly that they pushed him over the edge of the barge, and he fell, with a shrill cry, into the water. The others, frightened at what had befallen them, gathered together, whimpering and afraid, irresolute and incapable. The fallen child disappeared. The water hereabouts is thick and dark, and sewage flows unchecked into it. It was in that instant of his fall that his cry, and the shrieks of his companions, rose shrilly on the morning silence. In a second Andreis had sprung from the gondola, dived for the child, who had drifted underneath the barge, and brought him up in his arms. He was a child of some five years old, with a pretty pale face and naked limbs; his small, curly head fell in exhaustion on the young man's shoulder, his ragged clothes were dripping.

Damer looked at him with professional insight. "That boy is ill," he said to Andreis. "You had better put him out of your arms."

"Poor little man!" said Andreis, gently, holding the child closer. "What shall we do with him? We cannot leave him here with only these children."

"You are wet through yourself. You must go to your hotel," said Damer.

Andreis was still standing in the water. At that moment a woman rose up from the cabin of the farthest barge

"POOR LITTLE MAN!" SAID ANDREIS.

and came leaping wildly from one barge to another, screaming: "The child! the child! my Carlino!"

She was his mother. Andreis gave him to her outstretched arms and slipped some money into the little ragged shirt.

"I will come and see how he is in an hour," he said to her, amidst her prayers and blessings. "He is not well. You must take care of him—not leave him alone."

The child opened his eyes and smiled. Andreis stooped and kissed him.

"Go home by yourself. I will stay and see what is the matter with him," said Damer. Andreis went. Damer, bidding the woman go before him, walked over the barges until he reached the one in which she had a sort of rude deck-house or cabin, in which she and five children lived. There he examined the little boy.

"A sore throat," he said, simply. "I will bring you remedies."

He hailed a passing gondola and went to his house in the Fondamente.

"What is amiss with him?" said Andreis, later in the day.

"You would have done better to leave him in the canal water," replied Damer. "He is a weak little thing; he has never had any decent food; he will never recover."

"But what is it?"

"A sore throat," replied Damer as he had replied to the mother.

The went both to the Ca' Laranigra that evening. There were several people there; the night was very warm; the tall lilies and palms on the balcony glistened in the light of a full moon; there was music. Veronica held out the lute to Andreis.

"Will you not sing with me tonight?"

"Alas! You must forgive me. I am rather hoarse. I have no voice," he answered, with regret.

"I heard of what you did this morning," she murmured, in a low tone. "Your gondolier told mine. Perhaps you have taken a chill. I will go and see the little child to-morrow."

"We will go together," he replied, in the same soft whisper, while his hand touched hers in seeming only to take the lute. Damer saw the gesture where he sat in the embrasure of a window speaking of a frontier question of the hour with a German minister who was passing through Venice.

When they left the house two or three other men accompanied them on to the water-steps. Warm though as the night was, Andreis shivered a little as he wrapped his overcoat round him. "I could bear my sables," he said, as he descended the stairs. Damer looked at him in the moonlight, which was clear as the light of early morning.

"You should not plunge into sewage water and embrace little beggars," he said, coldly, as he accompanied one of the Venetian gentlemen whose palace was near the Fondamente, and who had offered him a seat in his gondola.

Andreis, refusing the entreaties of his companions to go and sup with them at Florian's, went to his rooms at the hotel. He had a flood of happiness at the well-springs of his heart, but in his body he felt feverish and cold.

"It is the sewage water. It got down my throat as I dived," he thought, recalling the words of his friend. "I shall sleep this chill off and be well again in the morning."

But he did not sleep; he drank some iced drinks thirstily, and only fell into a troubled and heavy slumber as the morning dawned red over the roofs of Venice, and the little cannon on the Giudecca saluted a new day.

He felt ill when he rose, but he bathed and dressed, and, though he had no appetite for breakfast, went down to his gondola, which he had bidden to be before the hotel at nine o'clock.

At parting from her he had arranged with Veronica that they should go at that hour to see the little child of the Bridge of Paradise.

As he stood on the steps and was about to descend Damer touched him on the arm.

"You are going to take the Countess Laranigra to the sick boy?"

"Yes," said Andreis, with a haughty accent; he did not like the tone of authority in which he was addressed.

"I forbid you to do so, then," said Damer. "She would only see a dead body, and that body infectious with disease."

Andreis was pained.

"Is the little thing dead?" he said, in a hushed voice. "Dead already?"

"He died twenty minutes ago. He had been ill for three days."

"Poor little pretty thing!" murmured Andreis, "I am sorry. I will go to the mother."

"You had better go to your bed. You are unwell. You did a foolish act yesterday."

"I am quite well. When I require your advice I will ask it," said Andreis, impatiently, as he entered his gondola and went to the house of Veronica. Damer, standing on the steps of the hotel, looked after him with a gaze which would have killed him could a look have slain.

Her house was bright in the morning radiance, the green water lapping its marbles, the lilies and palms fresh from the night's dew, the doors standing open showing the blossoming acacias in the garden behind.

She came to him at once in one of the smaller salons.

"I am ready," she said, gayly. "Look! I have got these fruits and toys for your little waif."

Then something in his expression checked her gladness.

"What is it?" she asked.

"The child is dead," said Andreis.

"Oh, how sad!" She put down the little gifts she had prepared on a table near her; she was tender-hearted and quickly moved; the tears came into her eyes for the little boy whom she had never seen.

Andreis drew nearer to her.

"Mia cara," he murmured. "Do not play with me any longer. Death is so near us always. I have told you a hundred times that I love you. I will make you so happy if you will trust to me. Tell me—tell me—"

She was softened by emotion, conquered by the answering passion which was in her; she did not speak, but her breast heaved, her lips trembled; she let him take her hands.

"You will be mine—mine—mine!" he cried, in delirious joy.

"I love you," she answered, in a voice so low that it was like the summer breeze passing softly over the lilies. "Hush! Leave me! Go now. Come back at three. I shall be alone."

The doors were open and the windows; in a farther chamber two liveried

"YOU WILL BE MINE—MINE—MINE!"

servants stood; approaching through the ante-room was the figure of the major-domo of the palace.

Andreis pressed her hands to his lips and left her. He was dizzy from ecstasy, or so he thought, as the busts and statues of the entrance hall reeled and swam before his sight, and his limbs felt so powerless and nerveless that, if one of his gondoliers had not caught and held him, he would have fallen headlong down the water-steps.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

The press is the best instrument for enlightening the mind of man and improving him as a rational, moral and social being.—Thomas Jefferson.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Chu ch.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153. 11 28 y

BAMBERGER'S

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"

NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in

Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts

will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are, they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes

in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons

$1 98 to $27.50

NEW

Spring Jackets

in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from

$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from

49c to $7.50

NEW

Separate Skirts

of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles lined and interlined, from

$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS

The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from

98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND

House Dresses

Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from

44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

MARRIAGES.

ADAMS—KURZHALS—At the home of the bride's parents 110 West Second street on the evening of March 26, 1895, by Rev. A. H. Lewis, D. D., Mr. Arthur Gilbert Adams, to Miss Emma Kate Kurzhals.

WANTS AND OFFERS.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 24 6

WANTED—A good gentle horse; good and kind, for ladies to drive. Address Box 335, city. 3 26 4

FOR SALE—About 20 loads of soil, also cord wood. Leave orders at City Mills, French Bros. 3 27 2

FOR SALE—On Installments, six-room house, 745 East Second street, or to let. Inquire of Jacob Voehl. 3 27 6

A COMPETENT woman with good references wants situation as general housekeeper or cook. Apply at Mrs. Corwin's intelligence office, 315 Park ave.

KALSOMINING, white washing, house cleaning, carpet shaking, grading and general utility man. Leave orders at 171 North ave. Major Selby.

WANTED—Man to work a farm on shares. Address Jones, care Press.

WANTED—Girl for general housework in small family where two are kept. 734 Watchung avenue.

WANTED—Two young men boarders. Terms reasonable. Three minutes walk from depot. Address L B. W., care Press. 3 27 2

WANTED—An apprentice to learn dressmaking. 316 Park ave.

COLORED girl wants general housework. Apply 417 East 5th st.

TO LET—House, 8 rooms, corner Greenbrook road and Harrison avenue, North Plainfield. Inquire on premises.

FURNISHED rooms with board; home comforts; all improvements. 403 Central avenue. 3 26 3

AGENTS make $5 daily; marvelous invention; retails 25c; 2 to 6 sold in a house; sample mailed free. Forshee & McMakin, Cincinnati, O. 1 2 y-w

A large house 17 rooms, suitable for a boarding house. Apply W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 21 4

30 Acres good land to rent on shares. Apply P. C. Ohl. 3 23 6

FOR RENT.—Store in the Alberti Building, 121 East Front st; changes made if desired to connect two floors. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

FOR RENT—House 208 East 5th st., from April 1; $35 a month; modern improvements. Address A. A. Titsworth, New Brunswick, N. J. 3 20 6

SIDE-BAR surrey, phaeton top; price $160. Inquire at 740 West 3d st. 3 25 6

COLORED girl wants situation as chambermaid or waitress. 230 Park ave. 3 25 6

FOR SALE—Horse, wagon and harness, $40. Call 1325 Lake st. 3 25 3

HOUSE and building lots for sale in Westfield, N. J., high ground, good neighborhood, convenient to depot. Address box 104 Westfield N. J. 3 24 6-3 28 4 e

CORNER flats to let, improvements, steam heat, corner store. Miller 339 Park ave. 3 25 6

YOUNG lady wanted in office to do copying; must be a good writer. Address, stating salary expected, J. E. P., care Press. 3 25 3

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

WANTS AND OFFERS.

TO LET—8 room house and barn; 45 Prospect place, North Plainfield. 3 16 7

YOUNG married man wants position as coachman; good references. Call at 230 Park ave., upstairs. 3 16 tf

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

SMALL houses to let, centally located, 9 and 10 dollars. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 2 28 1m

SIX ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. R. Force, 132 Park ave. boots and shoes. 3 23 6

FLAT to let, every convenience. Apply J. P. Taylor, 612 Park ave. 3 23 tf

WANTED—Small second-hand safe. Address Cash, care Press. 3 23 tf

BOARDERS and table boarders wanted in a private family, by the week, day, or meal. 130 North ave. 2nd. flat. 3 23 6

HEATH & DRAKE

Grand Opening

New Spring

CARPETS!

on

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY

March 27 and 28,

at which time we will have on exhibition the choicest and most exclusive line of Carpets ever exhibited in this State.

Royal Wilton from $1 50 up.
Axminster from $1 yd up.
Body Brussels from 90c yd up.
Tapestry Brussels from 60c yd up
Ingrain carpets from 40c yd up.
Linoleums from 50c yd up.
Oilcloth from 25c yd up.
Mattings from $3 75 per roll.

Splendid new line of Rugs, Art Squares, etc., at moderate prices.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend this opening and inspect the goods, whether they want to purchase or not.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET,

Newark, N. J.

SPRING MILLINERY DISPLAY,

Wednesday, March 27, of all the latest novelties in Hats, Bonnets, Dutch Bonnets Napoleon and 20th Century Turbans, Flowers, Ribbons, and all the accessories in Trimmings that complete the newest styles.

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., under First National Bank

Why Pay $5.00 for Flour

when you can get a good barrel for $3.75 at

J. F. MacDonald's, 186 E. Front St.

All goods of the finest quality and guaranteed.

N. O. molasses	35c	2 quarts Cal. limas	25c
Fine butter	22c	4 cans corn	25c
5 pounds raisins	25c	3 cans ex. fine tomatoes	25c
3 pounds fr prunes	25c	3 cans E. J. peas	25c
2 pounds dry peaches	25c	2 cans peaches	25c
2 pounds evaporated apricots	25c	2 cans apricots	25c
4 pounds rice	25c	2 cans salmon	25c
3 quarts beans	25c	3 cans string beans	25c

LADIES' $2 OXFORDS

Black and Russet.

Common Sense and Opera Toe; all new Spring goods!

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue.

Come and see them!

TRUNKS.

New stock in today. Any trunks left over from last year go at cost.

We have re-tagged them. You see old price and new; good trunks they are, too—mostly big sellers. Prices $2.50 to $10.50. Quick if you want one.

Front street, opp Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

Hallock

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

A CLEAN WASH! SOAP, SOAP.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW

only hope that you will embrace this opportunity and purchase an elegant box containing three cakes of fine toilet soap for 10c.

Lavender Salts, bottle	25c.
Royal Talcum Powder, box	10c.
Lavons Tooth Powder, box	18c.
Box of O. C. O. Complexion Powder and bottle of Perfume, special	10c.
Extra quality ½ hose, 15c. pair 2 for	25c.
Men's medium weight underwear	39c.

Warner Bro's. Thompson's "Glove Fitting" CORSETS.

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

EVENING RECITALS.

Young Daughters of the King Prepare a Charming Series.

As already mentioned in The Press, Charles F. Underhill is to give a series of three evening recitals in the Casino, as follows:

Thursday, April 4—Shakespeare's "A Midsummer-Night's Dream", with the Mendelssohn music.

Monday, April 22—Charles Dickens's masterpiece "David Copperfield".

Thursday, May 2—Sheridan's great comedy "The Rivals".

These will be under the auspices of the Circle of King's Daughters, Young Daughters of the King, Washington Park.

The patronesses are Mrs M S Ackerman, Miss Isabel S Arnold, Mrs A C Baldwin, Mrs Irving H Brown, Mrs Frank Bushnell, Mrs George A Chapman, Mrs Edward B Clark, Mrs Susan L Clapp, Miss B A Day, Mrs E Eben Dorman, Mrs Geo C Evans, Mrs John G Foster, Mrs A E Faber, Mrs A E Faber, Jr, Mrs A J Gavett, Miss Louise K Green, Mrs Alexander Gilbert, Miss E T Ginna, Mrs Frank O Herring, Mrs B Arrowsmith Hegeman, Jr, Mrs Samuel Huntington, Mrs John F Harman, Mrs W W Howland, Mrs A W Haviland, Mrs J J Henderson, Miss Nettie Haviland, Mrs James B Joy, Miss E E Kenyon, Mrs Charles Lawson, Mrs W E Lowe, Mrs J Kirtland Myers, Mrs Geo P Mellick, Mrs H M Maxson, Mrs Chas. W McCutchen, Mrs Sam'l St J McCutchen, Mrs Walter McGee, Mrs W D Murray, Mrs H Raymond Munger, Mrs Isaac L Miller, Miss Anna C Marsh, Mrs James C Peck, Mrs Aaron M Powell, Mrs L V F Randolph, Mrs J Frank Raymond, Mrs William J Roome, Mrs W L Saunders, Mrs H A Schuyler, Mrs B J Shreve, Mrs Harry M Stockton, Mrs J Evarts Tracy, Mrs D L Thompson, Mrs T H Tomlinson, Mrs Mason W Tyler, Mrs Deuse M Van-Vliet, Mrs Aug VanDeventer, Mrs A C Vail, Mrs Francis Wood, Mrs Edward J Waring, Mrs John Weir, and Mrs Henry B Wells.

Memorial Address by Horr.

At the meeting of the joint committees from the G. A. R. posts, Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans, held last evening. A partial arrangement for the observance of Decoration Day was made.

It was decided to extend invitations to Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., Somerset Council, 104, J. O. U. A. M., and the Patriotic Order Sons of America to participate in the exercises. An effort will be made to secure Roswell G. Horr to make the address in Music Hall.

Appropriate ceremonies will be held at the different cemeteries and also at Scotch Plains where is buried John Hand after whom the Sons of Veterans named their Camp.

It is probable that the Independent Fife and Drum Corps will assist that day in the celebration. The next meeting of the committees will be held Wednesday evening, April 10.

Deacons Re-elected.

A business meeting was held last evening in the First Baptist Church after the prayer meeting at which time Dr. J. B. Probasco and R. K. Case were re-elected deacons for five years.

It was the intention to have reports from all the societies connected with the Church but it could not be arranged for last evening. During the coming year the matter will be so planned that at the annual meeting all branches of churches work will be heard from.

Champions of the World.

(From The Elizabeth Journal.)

As an illustration of the growth of whist enthusiasm and ability throughout New Jersey, heralded from time to time in these columns, the defeat of the Hamilton Club's crack four in Philadelphia on Saturday may be cited with a feeling of pride and gratification.

To Plainfield belongs the credit of accomplishing the defeat of the champion four of the United States, and, in fact, of the world, for America is now far ahead of England in average and individual ability in this game of games.

Lecturer Powell of Plainfield.

A. M. Powell of this city has returned from a busy lecturing trip. While away he gave his lecture on Wendell Phillips, in Swarthmore College and at Buckingham, and spoke at Carversville, Pa., Washington and Baltimore.

At Washington he addressed the students of Howard University, by invitation of President Rankin, on the subject of purity and the white cross.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

THE SEWER BIDDERS.

As The Press First Stated, Honan & Sons Are Lowest.

Following is the correct list of sewer bids submitted at the Council meeting Monday night:

Patrick T. Plunkett, Jersey City	$54,324 11
Rehill & Nelson, Dunellen	57,072 19
Dodge & MacGregor, Buffalo	54,824 58
Maguire, McKnight & Co., E. Orange	51,810 55
Gardner & Barnett, Akron, Ohio	50,031 88
J. H. Hurley, Trenton	49,244 16
Thos. T. Moore, Buffalo	43,315 00
Bogert & Farrel, Brooklyn	56,093 06
Bernard Brady, Plainfield	58,824 21
Thos. Redling, Perth Amboy	66,866 80
Michael Honan & Sons, Chester, Pa.	41,827 92
James J. Cogan, Bayonne	47,144 65
Wm. H. Walters, Bayonne	58,330 37
Geo. W. Buch & Co., Philadelphia	56,768 67
P. H. Harrison & Sons, Newark	49,318 25
Thos. Siddall, Trenton	48,623 20
Jas. F. Gillen, Brooklyn	74,074 90
Prout & Love, Plainfield	51,381 56
John Marsden, Utica, N. Y.	46,097 24

The engineering department is busy locating monuments and getting ready for active work.

GENTLEMEN SPORTSMEN.

Park Club Consents to a Battle Royal with the Philadelphians.

(From The Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

The announcement in Monday's Ledger that the famous Hamilton four had been defeated by the team representing the Park Club, of Plainfield, for the A. W. L. trophy, created general surprise in whist circles everywhere. That a team unknown and untried could turn up and in its first match defeat the veteran and hitherto unbeaten quartette of the Hamilton Club is indeed sufficient cause for wonder and exemplified in the most pointed way the glorious uncertainties of duplicate whist.

The Plainfield players will soon have a chance to demonstrate to the whist world that their victory was not a "fluke", as they have most courteously and with the true spirit of the sportsman agreed to waive the time limit, and on Saturday next will meet the next challenger, the Philadelphia Whist Club, for the trophy. The local players will do their best to retrieve the lost laurels of the Quaker City, while the Jerseymen will exert all their energies to retain their emblem of whist supremacy. It should be a battle royal, and the whist players of America will watch it with the keenest interest.

Told of Her Rescue Work.

In the Congregational Church last evening, Mrs. Sarah Bird of Upper Montclair spoke to a deeply interested audience of her rescue work among the lodging-house men of New York. For six years she has devoted herself to this work, and has been very successful in it. Every Sunday morning she holds a service in the Bowery Mission; first comes a two-hour musical service, then a light lunch, which, Mrs. Bird is careful to tell the men, is a hospitality, not a charity; then a testimony meeting. Another service is held every Thursday evening. Many have been converted through these meetings, and Mrs. Bird's only assistants in her work are these converted men, who are now intensely eager to have others helped as they have been.

These men are, many of them, from the higher walks of life, college graduates, professional men, who have drifted into sin and then sunk lower and lower. The organist at Mrs. Bird's services is a young man of wonderful musical ability, who first entered the Mission as one of the most degraded looking of them all. Now he has been sought as organist by several large churches, but will not leave the mission work in which his whole heart lies.

After Mrs. Bird's talk, nearly all present pressed forward to shake the hand of the of the noble woman who is doing such a grand work in "Darkest New York."

Joseph Case Resigns.

Joseph Case has resigned as night-baggagemaster of the Central Railroad at the North Avenue station, to take effect tomorrow. He will be succeeded by James Wagener. His retirement is the result of the destruction of the mail pouches Sunday morning by a coal train running over them, and for which the railroad company held him responsible. After a report had been sent to headquarters and the circumstances investigated, Mr. Case's resignation followed.

—Deputy Grand Chancellor Patterson made stirring remarks at the meeting of Unity Lodge, K. of P., last night.

—At the meeting of the Machinists Union last night 8 new members were initiated and 10 propositions for membership were received.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Frederick Schrimer of West Sixth street is very ill at his home.

George F. Brown of Grove street is again ill with a heavy cold.

Mrs. R. S. Garreteon of Middlebush is visiting friends in Plainfield.

Charles Graves, Sr., of Liberty street, is improving from a severe illness.

Miss Ida Lanning of Central avenue has fully recovered from an attack of grip.

Mrs. Page of the West End will take up her residence on Elmwood place in a few days.

F. G. Hebard has moved from Richmond street to Washington and Sixth street.

Miss Sophia Rudd entertained a party of friends at her home on Clinton avenue last night.

Police Captain Grant will remove April 1 to the corner of Arlington avenue and Fifth street.

Mrs. J. W. Jackson of Crescent avenue is spending a few days in New York visiting friends.

Mrs. Kershaw of Jersey City is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Peter VanFleet on East Third street.

Mrs. Mary E. Sweeny, age 52, died yesterday. She was a half sister of Mrs. Charles Farlee.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Mulford left at 2:30 this afternoon for Ashville, N. C., for Mr. Mulford's health.

Manager Meyer Leichentritt of the Sherman Outfitting Company, with his family, moved yesterday to Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Berry Thorn will move into the flat over his store on Somerset street, in the Ryerson Building.

Peter Johnson and family, who have been living on West Fifth street, moved to their Summer home at South Plainfield yesterday.

Miss Mary Hines of Liberty street left this morning for East Stroudsburg, where she will resume her studies after a short visit with her parents.

George Butche, formerly driver for No. 2 Engine-house, and now with Slate-roofer J. T. Odam, will remove Monday to Kansas City. He will be missed by a host of friends.

Besides O. J. Walter and C. G. Mallory, members of Rutgers College, Plainfield's William D. Murray will make a fifteen-minute address in the Trinity Reformed Church, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson Michael of Baltimore have been visiting Mr. Michael's uncle, Samuel Wallace of Grove street. Mr. and Mrs. Michael were on their wedding trip, and were delighted with this their first visit to Plainfield.

Street Commissioner Robert A. Meeker is about to identify himself with the Fourth ward. He has traded his property on East Second street for Alfred A. Marsh's at Front street and Lafayette place. The mutual move will be made April 8.

A progressive whist and smoker party was given in the Camera club rooms by Harry Coward last night to twenty friends who enjoyed themselves hugely. The first prize was won by C. E. Teel; second, Garry Wood; third, Harvey Thorne; and consolation, C. E. Vail. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Havell of Netherwood gave a very pleasant party to a number of friends at their home last night. Among those present were Messrs Stillzer, H. Williams, King, Collins, Johnson, Cole, the Misses Meeker, Riegal, Stillzer, Cole, Raymond, Vail, Mr. and Mrs. Haberle.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell, after zealous ministerial labors in Plainfield, is about to return to his old charge, Toronto, Canada where for six years his flock prospered. He has just come to Plainfield after a visit there, and has accepted a unanimous call to return. He will go before Easter Sunday, and Emanuel Baptist Church will lose a faithful pastor.

The following Plainfielders represented local churches at the annual meeting of the Missionary Union of the Newark Classis, in Newark yesterday: From Trinity Church—Mrs C P Leggett, Mrs P A Emmons, Mrs L C Sheppard, Mrs H W Marshall, Mrs George L VanEmburgh, Mrs Robert Clark, Mrs J T MacMurray, Mrs O W Dunham, Mrs A L Force, Miss Jennie Quick. German Reformed—Mrs V Utzinger.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

GOODBYE TO THE PASTOR

Farewell Meeting of Monroe Avenue Methodists.

REV. H. B. MUNSON LEAVES TOWN.

Much Regret Evinced at His Departure—Mr. McGee Makes a Speech, and Mr. Batson Reads a Poem.

The farewell reception given to Rev. Hubert B. Munson last night in Monroe Avenue Chapel was attended by a large number of his friends, who made this last meeting an occasion to express regret at his leave-taking after a pastorate of two years, and also to express appreciation for his effective work in bringing to the chapel much of its present success.

The exercises in the early part of the evening were composed of piano solos by Miss Isabelle, singing by George Stevens, cornet solos by Raymond McGee, solos by L. S. Bond, and recitations by May Palmer. The various numbers were received with marked appreciation, and each entertainer was recalled.

At the close of the literary and musical features, Henry McGee delivered the farewell address on the part of the chapel to Rev. Mr. Munson. He said that whatever might be the history or success of the chapel in the future, its beginning of growth was during the ministry of the pastor who was about to leave for broader fields of labor. But in saying goodbye it was meant that the work which he had instituted would be carried on to accomplishment by the friends and co-workers he would leave behind. His work here in Plainfield had been largely successful because of the confidence which people felt in his endeavors.

In closing, he offered words of encouragement to Mr. Munson in the new field which he was about to enter.

Mr. Munson replied very feelingly, and tears filled his eyes at the close of his response, which attested better than anything else the regret which he felt in terminating the close acquaintances and friendships which he has enjoyed during his two-years pastorate in Plainfield. The most pleasant thought, he said, which he would carry with him, was the knowledge that the work he had commenced would be perpetuated and carried into its natural consequences.

At the conclusion of the response L. C. Batson read an original poem, in which he told a story of Mr. Munson's work in the chapel and of the mingled regret and pleasure which were aroused by his resignation.

During the serving of light refreshments, those present freely indulged in social chat, and nearly all as a finale to the reception gave Mr. Munson a parting handshake, and bade him success in his new work.

Captain Cuming.

At a regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Bicycle Club held in the small hall last evening, the executive committee formulated a constitution and by-laws for the club, which were unanimously adopted by the club. The following officers were elected: Captain, T. A. Cuming; First Lieutenant, R. A. Meeker; Second Lieutenant, Robert Love; Sergeant, A. V. Searing; Color Bearer, Edgar Sheppard; Bugler, George A. Horne.

A Lookout Committee was appointed by the president, as follows: C. J. Robertson, E. G. Sheppard.

Clerks Received Tonight.

This evening from 8:30 to 10 a reception will be given to all the clerks of the city of Plainfield, in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

A gymnastic exhibition will be given at 9, consisting of dumb-bell drill, parallel bar, horizontal bar, horse and buck work, and Indian-club swinging.

A special feature of the exhibition will be a tug-of-war by selected teams, consisting of the heavy weights in the gymnasium.

All clerks are cordially invited.

Will Please Commuters.

When the Summer change of timetable on the Jersey Central takes effect, which will be in May or June, a faster train will probably be added to the schedule, to leave Plainfield about 8 in the morning, affording better service for commuters.

To Publish the Laws.

The Constitutionalist, the weekly issue of The Daily Press, was again selected by the Governor and Comptroller yesterday as an official paper to publish the laws of New Jersey.

—The question of a church choir was thoroughly discussed at the meeting called for that purpose in the Crescent Avenue Church last evening, and the matter was finally left with the elders and deacons to do as they thought best in regard to the musical part of the church services.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

HYMENEAL.

Gray—Westphal.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at 8 at the home of the bride, 1001 South Second street, when Mr and Mrs. Charles Westphal gave their daughter, Miss Fanny Agnes Westphal, in marriage to George Gray.

Mrs. J. H. Buckley played the wedding march, while the bride entered the room leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was married with a ring.

Miss Lucy Annis Westphal, sister of the bride, was the bridemaid, and William Gray the best man.

The bride wore a gown of white silk, trimmed with lace and white ribbon; The bouquet of the bride was white roses. The bridemaid also was gowned in white silk.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Gray received the hearty congratulations of those present, the immediate families of the bride and groom.

The many handsome and useful presents received gave evidence of the esteem in which the bride and groom are held by their many friends.

The decorations were of a light blue tint, and flowers were arranged with pretty effect. At the end of the parlor was an arch of white roses, beneath which the ceremony was performed.

After the ceremony congratulations were in order and a reception followed.

At 8:40 the bride and groom led the promenade to supper, which consisted of an elaborate menu.

The bridal couple amid a shower of rice and best wishes left at 11 for New York, whence they will start for Washington to spend a week. On their return they will reside at 709 Whythe avenue, Brooklyn.

In the list of wedding gifts were many handsome and costly articles, as tokens of esteem from their many friends. Among the gifts was a good-sized check from both the bride's and groom's fathers.

The guests present included Mr and Mrs Edwin Skinner of Denver, Col; Mrs John Haskard, Arthur Haskard, Mrs Jas Haskard of Scotch Plains; Mr and Mrs A Gee, Misses Amy and Elizabeth Gee of Bayonne; Mr and Mrs William Gray, F Westphal, Mr and Mrs William Westphal, Mr and Mrs James McInnes, Mr and Mrs John Haskard, Fred Schomp, William Gray, Jr., David Gray, Misses Anna Gray, Agnes and Mary McInnes, Jane Gow, John and James Gray, and James McInnes.

STATES AND CAPITOLS.

Entertaining Way of Choosing Partners at a Church Sociable.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church gave a sociable last evening in the church parlors, at which a most enjoyable time was spent. The first number on the programme was a piano solo by Miss Helen Hasbrook. A selection from Charles Dudley Warner was next read by D. E. Titsworth. It was entitled "The Fire on the Hearth" and told in a humorous manner of the cheerfulness of an old country fireplace and of the memories it brings back. Another selection by Miss Helen Hasbrook followed.

Cards were then distributed, one bearing the name of a State to the men and one bearing a capitol city to the women. The "States" were to seek their "Capitols" and escort them into supper. In the next room supper, consisting of chocolate and wafers, was served. The novel manner of selecting a partner was the occasion for much laughter and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The refreshments were under the control of Mrs. J. G. Miller.

A candy table was arranged in the shape of a triangle in the centre of the supper room. Pink and white bunting was tastefully draped about it while ferns and potted plants assisted in the artistic effect. Miss Bessie E. Titsworth and Miss Lou Clawson in pretty costumes, attended to the wants of the purchasers. Over thirteen dollars was realized at this table and the profit might have been more had not the supply run short.

The committee, under whose direction this delightful evening was arranged, consists of Miss Ida Randolph, chairman, Miss Bessie E. Titsworth, Mrs. J. G. Miller and Frank J. Hubbard.

—A large and handsome maple tree standing in front of the East Third street was blown to the ground this morning by the heavy wind.

—Oscar Brambeg was arrested this morning on the charge of assault preferred by his wife, and held for the grand jury in $50 bail by Justice Nash. Brambeg is employed in the riding academy and because his wife didn't get breakfast quick enough, he struck her in the eye.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S Armstrong, manager.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Franklin Council hold their regular meeting tonight.

—The Reform Club meet in their hall on West Second street tonight.

—A meeting of Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., will be held tomorrow evening.

—Locomotive sparks burned a section of the bushes by the Netherwood station this morning.

—The regular meeting of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., will be held this evening.

—The mail-carriers expect to have a formal opening of their room in the Babcock Building Saturday.

—The plumbers ordinance will come up for action at the meeting of the Board of Health Saturday night.

—A powerful sermon was delivered in St. Mary's Church last night by Rev. Eugene Carroll of Elizabeth.

—About 400 games have been bowled in the one-man tournament on the alleys of the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum.

—A reception will be given to the Grand Army and Sons of Veterans in the W. C. T. U. rooms Thursday evening, April 11.

—Frank Hedden yesterday purchased at New Brunswick a beautiful gray saddle horse, which is harbored at his East Fourth street stables.

—The Plainfield Bowling Club bowls their last game in the Elizabeth Journal League with the Westfield Club on the Westfield alleys tonight.

—The Junior Christian Endeavor superintendents of Union county will hold an important meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Building, this city, this evening.

—A. M. Griffin, the hardware dealer, has on sale an excellent rat trap. It was put to a test in a North Plainfield barn last week, and succeeded in capturing ten.

—The missionary entertainment of the Junior C. E. society of the First Presbyterian Church which was postponed from last Friday evening will be held tomorrow night.

—The store of J. F. MacDonald, the uptown grocer, is a convenient place for eastsiders to get postage stamps and postal cards, and there is a letter-box right in front.

—Principal C. E. Boss of the North Plainfield public school has joined the business men's class at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, which meets Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 5 to 6 p. m.

—Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis will preach a sermon in the Seventh Day Baptist Church the Sunday evening before Memorial Day, to the Grand Army and Sons of Veterans, who will attend in a body.

—John French will erect two dwelling-houses on the property on West Third street which he recently purchased from the estate of Manning Vermeule. J. D. Smith has the contract for the excavation of the cellars.

—While standing untied in front of French's feed store on East Fourth street last night the team of W. J. Tunison, the Watchung avenue feed dealer, started to run away, but were caught by the driver before proceeding far.

—Miss Louise Sheppard, a prominent and active worker in Christian Alliance circles, will address a meeting at 210 East Eighth street in the afternoon, Tuesday, April 2, and the evening of the same date at 317 East Front street.

—George W. DeForrest, vice-president of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor local union, will lead the young people's meeting in Trinity Reformed Church next Monday evening, and make an address on the subject of temperance.

—The birthday party of the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational Church to be held tomorrow evening is to secure funds to buy a new carpet for the church. A very enjoyable programme has been arranged, including a selection by the Ladies Orchestra.

—The Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist Church will hold a tea and musicale at the residence of Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Orchard place, tomorrow from 4 to 7. A very entertaining programme has been prepared, and a most enjoyable time is assured. 25 cents will be received at the door.

—Man has been defined as the creature that laughs. The truth of that is realized on noticing the people coming out of Love's corner of North and Watchung avenues. To see the prices at which Love is selling lots of fine wall paper is enough to make the bargain-seeker smile with content. Five cents is the price; Love's is the corner; and that's where the laugh comes in.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dismondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size, 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c

IT WAS A GREAT STEAL

Further Light on Whiskey Trust Transactions.

Latest Disclosures Said To Reveal a State of Affairs as Disgraceful as Anything Which Has Yet Appeared—Salary Accounts Juggled. Speculated in Their Own Stock.

Chicago, March 28.—It was thought that the abstract of the report of the experts appointed to examine the financial affairs of the whiskey trust, which was issued Monday, covered all the alleged questionable transactions of the men in control in 1891 and 1892, but the full report for the same length of time, which came from the printers last evening, shows a state of affairs which is openly said by those in control now to be as disgraceful as anything which has yet appeared.

Gross Corruption.

Charges are made that the money of the stockholders was used on several occasions for stock jobbing transactions and the Illinois law which restrains directors of a corporation from purchasing stock for themselves is repeatedly violated in both spirit and letter. Under the guise of managers of distilleries it is alleged the directors ordered to be paid to themselves large sums, besides drawing a regular stipend for doing their duty by the stockholders.

Salary List Over $314,000.

With the report of the experts is issued a table of much interest to those who are on the inside, showing the total receipts and expenditures. Such indefinite items as "statistics," "traveling expenses," "sundry expenses" all amounting to large sums, or what are considered large sums for the purposes specified, are plentifully scattered throughout the statement. During 1891 alone the salary list amounts to over $314,000. Of this sum only a little over $63,000 is put down as salaries proper, $251,000 is charged up on the books as compensation for managers of distilleries under the five year contract.

An Enormous Sum Expended.

It is known that the directors appointed themselves managers and drew these salaries themselves. As the report only covers a period of two years carrying the affairs of the company to March 31, 1892, the end of the fiscal year, it will be seen from this estimate of one year's "compensation to managers" that an enormous sum had been expended for this purpose up to the time the receivers took charge of the property and began to put it on a paying basis.

Speculated in Stock.

One of the most sensational items on the table of expenditures for 1891 appears under the caption: "Rebate investment account—purchase of D. & G. F. company's stock $190,673.90," and coupled with this is the entry: "Loans to Moore & Schley, Nelson Morris and Woolner & Gibson, $246,144.53;" the total being $436,918.43, all of which, it is charged, was used by the directors for speculation in their own stock.

Greenhut Not Worried.

Peoria, Ill., March 28. — President Greenhut, who was at the trust headquarters in consultation with Manager Barker of the Peoria distilleries, spoke contemptuously of the charges made against him in connection with the report of the experts, and said he was not worried by anything that had been published

ITALIANS IN AFRICA.

Progress of Gen. Baratieri's Campaign Against the Abyssinians.

Rome, March 28.—A dispatch received here from Massowah, Egypt, says that Gen. Baratieri, the commander of the Italian forces, occupied Adigrat on Monday last. He is now fortifying that place and has sent a flying column against Ras Mangascia, the Abyssinian chief who has been causing much trouble to the Italians. Ras Mangascia is assisted by another famous chief, Ras Aloula.

Nominations Confirmed.

Hartford, Conn., March 28.—The senate in executive session confirmed Governor Coffin's nominations as follows: Samuel B. Horne, of Winchester, to be labor commissioner; William O. Seymour, of Ridgefield, to be railroad commissioner; Sidney W. Crofut, of Killingly, to be bank commissioner; George L. McLean, of Ellington, to be inspector of factories.

Body of an Escaped Prisoner Found.

Lambertville, N. J., March 28.—The body of a man wearing the garb of a prisoner in the Mercer county workhouse, near Lambertville, was found in the bushes yesterday. It is supposed that the dead body is that of one of the prisoners who escaped Tuesday and were pursued and fired on by the guards.

Granite Quarries Busy.

Middletown, Conn., March 28.—Bennevue quarry, at Maromas, has a contract for all the granite it can quarry. Five quarries have been opened with a big force. It is said their contract is worth half a million dollars.

The Plague at Kowloon.

London, March 28.—The colonial office has received official confirmation of the reported plague in Kowloon, near Hong Kong.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Spot dull, but held strongly. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 62½c.

Corn—Spot dull but scarce and held higher. Steamer mixed, 62½c. afloat.

Oats—Spot firm with fair demand. No. 2 white, 37c.; No 2 mixed, 33½c.

Pork—Spot held firmly but inactive. Extra prime nominal, $13.25a$15.50; mess, $13.50a$13.75.

Lard—Contracts are quiet and easier. May, $7.35.

Butter—Feeling is generally firm with fair demand. New butter, creamery, western extras, 21c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18½a19c.

Cheese—Market in fair demand. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; common to fair, 8a9½c.

Eggs—Stock held firmly in spite of excessive arrivals. Western, fresh gathered, firsts, 12c.

Potatoes—Holders are asking full former figures, but the dividend is only fair. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $2.00a$2.25; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., $1.75a$2.12.

CALLS ON BISMARCK.

Hohenlohe Pays His Respects to the Old Statesman.

Friedrichsruhe, March 28.—The Halberstadt cuirrassiers, with the regimental band, marched to the railway station to await the arrival of Prince Hohenlohe. The chancellor arrived at noon and was received by Prince Bismarck, who wore the uniform and helmet of the cuirrassiers. The chancellor conveyed the congratulations of the ministry to Prince Bismarck. Prince Bismarck received a large number of distinguished visitors yesterday, among them Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the emperor, and his young son, Prince Waldemar; the grand duke of Baden, Prince Alexander von Hohenlohe, son of the chancellor; Count von Wilmonski, chief of the imperial chancellery, and the members of the Baden ministry.

New Reichstag Officers.

Berlin, March 29.—The reichstag voted for a new president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Herr von Levetzow. Baron von Buol-Berenberg, first vice-president, was chosen, receiving 183 votes. The conservatives and national liberals handed in 105 blank votes. Herr Schmidt, progressist, was elected first vice-president, and Herr Spahn, centrist, second vice-president. As in the case of the election of president, the conservatives and national liberals refrained from voting.

Bismarck's Sword.

London March 28.—The Daily News correspondent in Berlin says: "The sword presented by the emperor to Bismarck is a masterpiece of art. The hilt is entirely of gold, and is surmounted with a cameo portrait of the emperor. The sheath is of nickel with gold rings. On one side of the blade is inscribed: 'To Prince Bismarck, Duke of Lauenburg, on the completion of his eightieth year.' The emperor's and empire's arms are on the same side. On the other side are Bismarck's and the Reichsland's arms together with Bismarck's famous works: 'We German's fear God, but nothing else in the world.'"

The Pope and Bismarck.

London, March 28.—The Daily Chronicle's Rome correspondent says that the pope originally intended to send Bismarck a telegram or letter of congratulation, but in view of the clerical party's attitude it is believed he will merely instruct Cardinal Kopp to communicate his best wishes to the old chancellor.

MINERS MEET AT DUBOIS.

Will Demand an Advance of Ten Cents Per Ton—Strike Expected.

Dubois, Pa., March 28.—Delegates representing the miners of district No. 2, of the United Mine Workers' association, met in convention here yesterday. A total of from fifteen to twenty thousand miners were represented from parts of Clearfield, Jefferson, Elk and Cambria counties. President Bradley presided. All newspaper men were excluded from the meeting. It is understood the demands to be made will be for an advance of ten cents per ton and up, according to the height of coal in the various mines. The scale of prices will be based upon the scale demanded in the Pittsburg region, and it is intimated that there will be a general strike if the demands of the men are not conceded. It is understood that unless the employers and the men arrive at a satisfactory understanding soon, a strike will be ordered on May 1.

THEY WANT TO JOIN US.

A Demonstration Against Union with Canada at St. Johns.

St. Johns, N. F., March 28.—A delegation consisting of the Hon. R. Bond, colonial secretary; the Hon. E. P. Morris, the Hon. G. H. Emerson and W. H. Horwood, sailed yesterday for Ottawa to ask aid of Canada. At an early hour yesterday a crowd began to gather at the rooms of the anti-confederate league until they numbered 8,000 voters. A procession was formed, carrying flags and banners inscribed with "No Confederation with Canada" and "Welcome Annexation with the United States," and carrying the pink, white and green flag of the colony, draped with crape.

TO MOBILIZE BELGIAN TROOPS.

A Precaution Against Political Agitation in Industrial Centres.

Brussels, March 28.—At a cabinet council it was decided to mobilize immediately 7,000 soldiers of the army reserve. This step has been determined upon on account of the danger arising from political agitation in industrial centres.

Baseball Games.

Memphis, Tenn., March 28.—Cleveland, 6; Memphis, 5.

Savannah, Ga., March 28.—Washington, 15; Boston, 5.

Princeton, N. J., March 28.—Princeton, 7; Columbia, 1.

Washington, March 28.—Columbian, 12; Vermont, 5.

New Orleans, March 28.—Baltimore, 15; New Orleans, 4.

Atlanta, Ga., March 28.—Atlanta, 4; St. Louis, 2.

Augusta, Ga., March 28.—Brooklyn, 8; Pittsburg, 7.

Killed by an Engine.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 28.—Mrs. Eliza Burling, 60 years old, while attempting to cross the Long Island railroad tracks, at Utica and Atlantic avenues, yesterday afternoon, was struck by a passenger engine. She was so badly injured that she died before the ambulance reached the scene.

Prof. James E. Oliver Dead.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 28.—Professor James E. Oliver, the distinguished mathematician, who has been connected with the Cornell university faculty since 1871, died yesterday after an illness of three months duration. He was the author of a number of standard mathematical works.

The Sugar Not Poisoned.

Philadelphia, March 28.—Dr. W. E. Dickerson, the government chemist, connected with the United States appraisers department of the customs service, has made an official report referring to the cargo of poisoned sugar. He finds there is no arsenic in it.

Archbishop Ireland's Mother Dead.

St. Paul, Minn., March 28.—Mrs. Julia Ireland, the mother of the Roman Catholic archbishop of this diocese, died at her home in this city yesterday aged 87 years.

Master of the Kaiser's Yacht.

London, March 28.—The Yachting World says that James Rouse, of Gosport, has been appointed master of Emperor William's new racing yacht Vineta.

NEVER TALKS TO ANNA

Susan Dickinson Says She Avoids Her Sister.

Testifies Against Her—Interesting Evidence Brought Out in the Trial at Scranton—Contributions from Ben Butler and Others—Gave Little To Support the Family.

Scranton, Pa., March 28.—Miss Susan E. Dickinson, sister of Anna B. Dickinson, the plaintiff in the suit for damages for false detention in an asylum, was on the stand all the afternoon. She testified to certain facts relative to her sister's disposition and of her highly nervous temperament. She also contradicted Miss Anna's testimony relative to her earning capacity and the money she provided for the support of her mother and her sister.

Contradicts Her Sister.

She particularized instances to show that her sister contributed little to the support of the house. The witness earned money with her pen, not only to provide for both but to pay the medical bills of the plaintiff. The plaintiff was three times attacked with grip in 1890 and 1891. Her temperament was very irritable and she found fault with her friends, neighbors, relatives and servants. In 1890 and 1891 she declared the republican party ungrateful and the grand army had not treated her as she deserved.

Some of Her Hallucinations.

She said that her name had been intentionally left out of histories of the war; that though she was the greatest woman of the century, Frances E. Willard, Mary B. Livermore and Susan B. Anthony had felt themselves dwarfed beside her and had tried to thrust her aside. She declared also that several authors and newspaper writers had plagiarized her writings.

Used Drugs To Quiet Her Nerves.

In 1891 Anna complained of severe pains in her head and her hearing was affected. The witness told of her sister's strange actions in hammering on the wall with her fists, and of peculiar expressions uttered by Miss Anna. Anna followed the girl Martha out in the street crying: "You little devil, I'll fix you." Anna complained of insomnia. She used chloroform and other drugs to quiet her nerves that she might go to sleep. The week before going to the asylum her sister refused to take food which she regarded as unsafe to eat.

Whiskey Breath Was Frequent.

Once Anna seized her by the throat. It became necessary to have men stay in the house to protect the witness. On February 25 her sister was so far out of her right mind as to be dangerous to the witness and was starving herself to death because she feared she was being poisoned. The witness detailed the particulars of Anna's attack on her with the shears, said the smell of whiskey was frequently on Anna's breath and in 1891 brought with her from Philadelphia a man who was a guest in the house for five weeks.

Big Checks Received.

On cross-examination the witness said that she had not spoken to Anna since the Danville incident, had not recognized her and never would. She for the first time disclosed the fact that Anna during her illness received several checks from Gen. Butler for $500 and three for $250, that the Actor's Fund had sent her $280 and Mr. Barnes of New York $250. Gen. Allison also sent contributions.

CASE OF THE DIAMOND CUTTERS

Again Declared Contract Laborers and Their Deportation Ordered.

New York, March 28.—Franz Van Reeth and the thirteen diamond cutters who accompanied him here on the steamer Westernland a week ago, and who were granted a rehearing by the immigration authorities at Ellis island, have been again declared contract labor violators and will be deported. Van Reeth, who was paroled in the custody of the Belgian consul on Tuesday, returned to Ellis island and will appeal the case through his counsel, Judge Howland. The matter will be put before the treasury department at Washington and the men will be detained at Ellis island pending final decision. Van Reeth is said to be worth over $100,000.

The Lime-Thrower Surrenders.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 28.—A man who gave his name as Patrick Conroy, and who said he was wanted by the Lowell police, surrendered himself to the authorities here. He was locked up and Lowell was telephoned to. Word was received that Conroy was wanted for having thrown lime into the eyes of Thomas Richardson, an employe of the Boston & Maine road. The trouble grew out of a discussion over religion.

For Running Down His Wagon.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 28.—In the superior court Peter Farrell was awarded a judgment of $1,000 and costs in his suit against the Bridgeport Traction company. Farrell's wagon collided with a car of the company and suit was brought, alleging negligence on the part of the company.

Norton and Quinn Acquitted.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 28.—President Norton and Superintendent Quinn, of the Atlantic avenue railroad company, who have been on trial in the court of sessions the past two days on the charge of violating the ten hour law have been acquitted by the jury.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

What Munyon's Remedies Did for a Prominent Ohioan.

He Could Eat But Little and Was in Constant Pain—Cured With One Bottle.

W. T. Loffer, a well-known resident of Kent, Ohio, says that Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure undoubtedly saved his life. In relating his experience he said: "For a long time I have been afflicted with dyspepsia, I could eat scarcely anything and was in constant pain. The gas on my stomach distended it greatly and my heart became affected. I was troubled with short breathing, fluttering and irregular breathing of the heart and often the pain was so great I thought I was going to die. My friends wanted me to try Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure, but I had tried so many different medicines without being benefited that I thought this would be only one more fruitless effort. Finally I began using it and the result was wonderful. After the first bottle I could eat without discomfort, and am now thoroughly cured.

Munyon's Stomach and Dyspepsia Cure cures all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles such as constipation, rising of food, distress after eating, bloating of the stomach, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and all affections of the heart caused by indigestion. It soothes, heals and invigorates stomachs that have been weakened by over-eating, or where the lining of the stomach has been impaired by physic and injurious medicines. Price 25 cents.

Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS

Post-office, Plainfield, N. J., March, 25, '95

[Officially furnished weekly for publication in THE DAILY PRESS.]

Anderson Mrs H	Kane Susie 2
Blackford David	Lutman A
Bacon Henry	Lyman Mrs
Bilyeu Jeremiah L	Ludlow Miss
Burn Rev Jno B	Lee Samuel
Burgess Lewis W	Lynch Bessie
Batholomon Mr	Model Heating Co
Clarke C E	Perry Celina
Conly Patrick	Park J B
Connolly Mrs	Parilla Pietro
Dunn L A	Preston Mrs H A
Fabian F	Power Mrs G H
Higbie A L	Quinn Miss
Hopple F W	Reid Lizzie F
Hill I	Richardson E C
Hill J	Randolph R
Hedden Eugene D	Smalley Isaac
Huff Mrs Fred E	Sherow A N
Howard Jos C	Stutts C C
Henihan Mary	Sheriff Miss
Humer Gillis	Smith Ma
Harris Caroline	Troy Thomas
Henshaw T	Tingmann Peter
Johnson Bell	Terry Jacob Wm
Johnston Jos	TenEyck Geo
Jones Lewis	Thorn Hon Frank
James Oliver	The Tabor M'f'g Co
312 East 2d st	Wright Mrs L. C
524 West 4th st	Williams S P

Zaremba Albert

Telephone 58

Ring it up when you want good coal, and talk to

Geo. O. Stevens

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 203 Liberty street.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement

For walls and ceilings.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

106 East Front Street——NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented.

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank. is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance
VAN BUREN & TIMPSON,
163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC MEDICINE
For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.
R·I·P·A·N·S TABULES
act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail.
Price 50 cents a box. Address
RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

E. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 25 7

Anchor Lodge, No. 169, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 28, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 26 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

THE TIME HAS COME.

It Has Been Neglected Far Too Long.

THE SPRING IS THE TIME FOR YOU TO LOOK OUT FOR YOURSELF.

Symptoms at This Season You Must Heed to Keep Well.

Most serious are those diseases affecting the liver and kidneys. The very thought of them sends a thrill of horror through the body. When the kidneys cannot work death must result.

The symptoms pointing to weak or diseased kidneys are headache, pain or weakness in the back, bloating, changes in the water, tired feeling, loss of appetite, gas in the stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, dimness of vision, changes in the skin, sleeplessness and nervousness.

Here is a most remarkable cure of liver and kidney disease.

Mrs. C. B. Joyner, who resides at 10 Chapel st., Westfield, Mass., states:

"I was troubled with severe kidney trouble and indigestion, that gave me a nervous, trembling feeling, and I could not sleep very well. I used to wear plasters to relieve that miserable weakness in my kidneys. My liver was also in a bad condition.

"Early in the spring I was feeling so miserable that I decided to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Up to this time I have taken two bottles, and it has done all for me that I represent, and no one who sees and knows me, will doubt a word of what I say. I have lived in this town 30 years.

"Now my health and strength are restored, as I do not have one pain about me. I can eat anything I wish, and am not bothered with gas in the stomach. I don't even wear a plaster now, and don't have that tired, heavy feeling in going up stairs, and to express myself, can almost skip up and down, and am very thankful, for few can say it who have past their 70 years.

"I think that I came near Bright's disease.

"Some people will not take one thing long enough to give it a trial, and do not know whether it will help them or not.

"Now I feel first rate, and I give Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy all the praise, and I recommend the Nervura to all."

MRS. C. B. JOYNER.

This great world-renowned preparation Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, goes directly to the weakened or diseased organs and cures them. Its curative action on the liver and kidneys is quick and certain. It makes strong nerves and pure, rich blood, which is just what you most need.

Now in the spring, is the very best time to take it because liver and kidney diseases as well as nearly all other affections, are more easily and quickly cured now than at any other season. The liver and kidneys are always inactive in spring, after the long cold winter, and to keep perfectly well everybody should use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy as a spring medicine.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and his grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET.

(Estate D. H. Smalley.)

94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.

GEO. EGEL, Manager.

We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,

118 West 5th st., Plainfield, N. J.

and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.

Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS.

OFFICES—24 West Front street; 28 Park avenue. Post Office Box 828.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 8 t

IS IT BUNCO O'BRIEN?

An Arrest in Paris Causes Excitement in New York.

Detectives in a Flurry Over the Shooting of an American by His Pal, Whose Name Is Said To Be O'Brien—The Man Wanted Here Is Now on the Continent.

Paris, March 28.—A man named Thos. O'Brien, described as an American, was arrested here yesterday for shooting a companion, Wedel, whose name is also given as Wendel Read, an American also. O'Brien shot Wedel six times with a revolver at the Gare du Nord (Northern railroad station). Wedel is not dangerously hurt, it is said. After his arrest O'Brien declared that Wedel had frequently threatened to kill him. Both men are supposed to be bookmakers.

O'Brien Roughly Handled.

It has been learned that Wedel or Read had been warned that O'Brien had been tracking him for several days armed with a revolver and bowie knife. Read, however, ignored the warning. After the assault the public porters and the police set upon O'Brien and beat him with umbrellas and sticks. His clothes were torn off of him and he had a very narrow escape from being lynched. Read has two bullets in his back and two in his chest.

New York Detectives Excited.

New York, March 28.—The news of the arrest of Thomas O'Brien stirred up the detective bureau in Mulberry street, as the name Tom O'Brien is a very familiar one there. Tom is badly wanted in this state for a little trick of bunco which he played some three years ago with the assistance of man named Post. Post is doing a term in state prison, but O'Brien, after being extradited from Europe, managed to evade the law in Utica, and skipped to South America.

Would Not Surprise Byrnes.

Superintendent Thomas Byrnes, when seen this morning, was very reticent when spoken to about the arrest of O'Brien, but he finally acknowledged that he was aware of O'Brien's being on the continent for the last four months. "Do you think that the man arrested in Paris yesterday is Tom O'Brien?" asked the reporter. "It would not surprise me," he answered, "if this were the same Thomas O'Brien, because he was the toughest of the tough, and nothing seemed to be too hot or heavy for him."

Supposed Name of the Victim.

In the fall of 1892 Detective-Sergeant Phil Reilly was called upon, during a short stay in London, to identify a man who was in the custody of Detective Frank Frost, of Scotland Yard. He immediately recognized the prisoner as Tom O'Brien, a well known Chicago crook, bunco man, gold brick agent and all around "con" man. It is generally believed that the man who he shot in Paris is none other than one O'Dell, who used to work with him.

ONLY A FLESH WOUND.

Definite Information Regarding Li Hung's Injuries.

Washington, March 28.—The Japanese legation were able to give the state department to-day positive assurances that the injury received by Li Hung Chang, the Chinese envoy, was only a slight flesh wound, not likely to produce serious results, even in one so advanced in years as the Chinese envoy, unless blood poisoning should set in. Every precaution has been taken to prevent that result, which in fact is rendered much less likely to occur than in the case of an ordinary full blooded patient, by reason of the enforced abstenious living which Li Hung Chang has for some years been compelled to pursue.

Li Shot in the Jaw.

London, March 28.—The Times correspondent in Simenoseki says: "I visited Li Hung Chang and found him calm, collected and without fever. The bullet pierced his upper jaw making a direct wound. The antiseptic treatment is perfect. The surgeons have ceased to probe for the bullet and will not make an incision at present."

Great Loss to Nantucket.

Nantucket, Mass., March 28.—The death of W. S. Kimball, the tobacco king, at Virginia beach yesterday, will be a sad loss to Nantucket. Mr. Kimball took great interest in the island, and owned a fine villa at the Cliff and other real estate here. He introduced quail, jack rabbits and other game that are breeding finely and will add to Nantucket's attractiveness for sportsmen.

Sullivan To Re-enter the Ring.

Boston, March 28.—John L. Sullivan, who is rapidly recovering from his recent illness and is now able to be out, is said to have informed his relatives and immediate friends on Sunday that he had determined to positively abstain from alcoholic stimulants henceforth and begin at once to build up his health and strength, with a view to showing that he can still box and fight a bit.

Arrested for Arson.

Hartford, Conn., March 28.—Dr. Malcolm R. Griswold, a dentist, was arrested last evening for arson on two counts and for defrauding several insurance companies. He was unable to secure bonds, as $10,000 or more would be required. He was in the legislature from Stafford in 1882, and in 1888 was candidate for comptroller.

Armenian Massacres.

London, March 28.—The Times correspondent in Vienna says that the report of the commission of inquiry on the Armenian massacres is likely to confirm the most ghastly accounts that have been published.

Life Saver Promoted.

Washington, March 28. — Secretary Carlisle has promoted and appointed R. S. Ludlam keeper of the Tathams, N. J., life saving station, vice Swain, transferred to the Avolon station.

Pennsylvania Brewer Fined.

Washington, March 28. — Secretary Carlisle has fined Henry A. Kleutzing of the ninth Pennsylvanian district, $300 for removing unstamped packages of beer from his brewery.

Hebrews Expelled from Russia.

Vienna, March 28.—It is reported that almost 200 Hebrews have been expelled from Kieff, Russia, since March 15.

SPAIN IS ALARMED.

Cuban Insurrection Has Spread to Alarming Proportions.

Madrid, March 28.—The premier addressed the senate yesterday afternoon. He prefaced his statement with the remark that he had come before the chambers under unusual circumstances. He proposed to deal only with the financial questions raised by the expedition to Cuba. He then read a despatch from Captain General Callejas saying that a detachment of Spanish troops had been defeated by insurgents at Campochulos. The commander had been summoned before a court martial, the despatch added. The cabinet's decision to send reinforcements was the result of the address. It is said that 9,700 troops will be dispatched as soon as possible.

7,000 Rebels in the Field.

Private reports from Havana indicate that the number of insurgents now in the field is about 7,000. The government believes that the filibusters who left Costa Rica under Maceo on an English vessel for Jamaica, were transferred to an American ship.

Will Spare No Expense.

In the senate Premier Canovas del Castillo said to-day that 5,000,000 pesetas had been spent already in fighting the Cuban insurgents, and the government was prepared to make any further sacrifice that might be demanded. A minister, whose name is withheld, said that 10,000,000 pesetas would be placed at Campo's disposal at once. Several steamers are fitting out to embark troops at Barcelona, Cadiz and Carthagena for Cuba.

SMALLPOX AT PITTSBURG.

A Colored Man Suffering from the Disease Taken from a Train.

Pittsburg, March 28. — The health bureau has placed Homeopathic hospital under quarantine because smallpox has developed in a patient who was there from Sunday until last night. The man who has the disease is Luther Robinson, colored, of Cincinnati, who was taken from a train here Sunday because he was so ill he could go no further. The colored man who accompanied him proceeded to Baltimore, and has no doubt contracted the disease. Robinson was vaccinated in Cincinnati about four weeks ago.

HARD FIGHTING IN COLOMBIA.

Heavy Losses in the Victory Over Rebel Forces on March 15.

Colon, March 28.—A great battle was fought at Ensiso on March 15 between the government forces under Gen. Reyes and the rebels. The latter were defeated after a struggle of ten hours, although 1,500 of the government troops died while on the march. The rebels, who numbered 2,500 men, were completely routed, and the town was captured. The government forces lost 700 men during the battle, and the rebel loss amounted to 1,200. Two thousand rebels surrendered.

TO MEET EASTERN TEAMS.

California State University Athletes Will Cross the Continent.

San Francisco, March 28.—The California State university will enter into competition in athletics this year with eastern colleges. The students have raised a fund of over $1,000 and their athletic term will meet Princeton May 11, University of Pennsylvania May 18, Harvard June 1 and Yale and Chicago at other dates not yet fixed. They will also take part in the intercollegiate games at Mott Haven on May 26.

HER EXPERIENCE IN RUSSIA.

Mrs. Kennan Delivers an Interesting Reading at Washington.

Washington, March 28.—Mrs. Emeline Rathbun Weld Kennan, wife of Mr. George Kennan the well-known Siberian traveler, delivered an interesting reading here last night under the auspices of the Washington Wellesley association, descriptive of her personal experiences in Russia. Mrs. Kennan was well received. She wore the holiday dress of a Russian peasant, and a steaming samovar was conspicuous among the stage-settings.

CLEVELAND FAVORS THE TAX.

Once Opposed to the Income Measure, He Now Says It Is Just.

Washington, March 28. — President Cleveland said in conversation with a Wyoming visitor: "I used to be opposed to an income tax. I am now convinced that it is a wise and just plan of taxation."

Lived to 104.

New York, March 28.—Mrs. Sarah Harris died at her home in Monticello, N. Y., yesterday evening of general debility, aged 104 years. She was the oldest woman in Sullivan county, and was familiar with the history of her country, and was well versed in the events of colonial times. She twice was blind, but sometime before she died her eyesight was restoted, and was as keen as in her girlhood days.

Oil on a Poor Farm.

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 28.—Telegrams from Elizabeth, Wirt county, state that oil in large quantities was struck on the poor farm there yesterday afternoon at a depth of 2,600 feet. The well, which was abandoned as a duster many years ago, was recently included in a lease purchased by Mrs. W. I. Jackson, Pittsburg's "Oil Queen" who ordered it drilled deeper.

Rewards a Sea Captain.

London, March 28.—President Cleveland has given to the captain of the British steamship Durham City a pair of marine glasses, with a suitable inscription in recognition of his services in rescuing the crew of the American schooner Alice T. Boardman in last October.

Orange Trees for Africa.

San Francisco, March 28.—The state board of horticulture will make a shipment of young orange trees to Cape Town, Africa, in a few days. The trees have been ordered by the Cape Colony government for experimental purposes.

Horses and Carriages Burned.

New London, Conn., March 28.—The stables of the Manhanset hotel, at Shelter island, were destroyed by fire late Tuesday night. Six horses and seventy carriages were burned.

Will Meet in the Ring.

London, March 28.—Dick Burge, the pugilist, will accept the challenge issued by Tom Ryan, of Chicago.

Fast Day in Maine.

Augusta, Me., March 28.—The governor designated Thursday, the 25th day of April as Fast Day.

THURSTON WAS CURT

He Notified Mr. Gresham of His Departure.

The Note Contained No Reference to a Leave of Absence or Any of the Customary Courteous Explanations—Latest News Received from Honolulu.

Washington, March 28. — Minister Thurston who left last evening for San Francisco where he will sail for Honolulu will not go direct to the Pacific coast but will travel by a circuitous route in order to give his personal attention to a few private matters, and will reach San Francisco on April 3 in time to sail on the following day. He goes from here to Boston and from Boston, it is said, will go to Michigan where his wife's relatives reside.

Brief to the Point of Curtness.

Minister Thurston's formal note to Secretary Gresham, announcing his intended departure from Washington, which reached the secretary only a few hours before the former's departure, is understood to be brief almost to the point of curtness. It contained no reference to a leave of absence or cause of departure, but, under yesterday's date, simply stated that he intended to depart for Honolulu that afternoon, leaving Secretary Hasting in charge of the Hawaiian legation. The note is said by those familiar with diplomatic communications of its class, to have been remarkable for its omission of the customary courteous explanations and failure to announce whether his government had or had not given him leave of absence.

ADVICES FROM HAWAII.

No Reference as to the Recall of Mr. Thurston.

San Francisco, March 28.—The steamship Australia arrived yesterday from Honolulu. The latest Hawaiian advices contain no references to the demand made by Secretary Gresham for the recall of Minister Thurston, and it is evident that no knowledge of this latest diplomatic incident has reached the Hawaiian people. Whether the Hawaiian government has any knowledge of the state of affairs at Washington is simply a matter of conjecture.

Working Out Their Sentences.

Martial law was declared off March 18. The military commission has been adjourned and the larger part of the 190 prisoners brought before this body are now working out their sentences in quarries or on roads. Interest the past few days has centered principally in the advisory council, which has been passing laws bearing directly upon the recent rebellion.

Will Bar Out Criminals.

A law of no little interest to the deported contingent makes it unlawful for any person to land in the Hawaiian islands from any vessel arriving from a foreign port who is a criminal or a refugee from justice, or who has been convicted of crime, or been under arrest for a criminal offense, and has departed or escaped from the Hawaiian islands in order to avoid trial, or who has been deported from the Hawaiian islands by order of the president or marshal in time of martial law, or who has been banished by sentence of any court, unless such person shall have received permission from the minister of foreign affairs so to land.

Big Influx of Japanese.

The arrival of nearly 1,000 Japanese laborers by the German steamer Independent has given rise to the usual rumors concerning the Japanese. Out of 900 passengers, 125 were "free laborers," nearly all of whom have served in the Japanese army. The English man-of-war Nymph arrived Sunday, but will soon proceed to the South seas.

Ex-Queen's Case Disposed of.

The question of the disposition of ex-Queen Liliuokalani is causing rumors, but the government officials state nothing has been done or suggested other than is already in force. Attorney General Smith, on being asked what disposition was to be made of the ex-queen, said: "She's already disposed of. No advances have been made to the government on her part. She will be kept where she is."

Thrown Out of Court.

Tonawanda, N. Y., March 28.—The criminal action against W. J. Kage, ex-treasurer of Norrh Tonawanda, was suddenly terminated at Lockport yesterday by Judge Van Dusen of Chautauqua county, who refused to allow the case to go to the jury, dismissing the indictment.

Victory for Strikers.

Sandy Hook, Conn., March 28.—The employes of the New York Belting and Packing company, who have been on strike since Saturday, reached an agreement with the company and went to work this morning. The wage increase and other demands made will be acceded to.

Yale Wheelman Injured.

New Haven, Conn., March 28.—Robert Capen Gilmore, of Rutland, Vt., Yale, '97, was severely injuried yesterday afternoon by a fall from a bicycle at Woodbridge. His injuries are confined to his head. Mr. Gilmore is a member of the editorial board of the Yale News.

Fatal Duel with Swords.

Algiers, March 28.—The civil engineers Masson and Soubeyre fought a duel with swords on the outskirts of Constantine yesterday. Soubeyre received a thrust in the lungs and died before night.

Tupper Leaves the Cabinet.

Boston, March 28.—A special from Ottawa says: Sir Charles H. Tupper has withdrawn from the Dominion cabinet on account of the action of his colleagues on the Manitoba school question.

British Steamer Wrecked.

London, March 28. — Advices from Montevideo says that the British steamer Dunkeld, from Barry February 23 for Buenos Ayres, has been wrecked on English bank.

Prof. Huxley Seriously Ill.

London, March 28.—Professor Huxley, who has been at Eastbourne some time recovering from a long attack of influenza, has had a rather serious relapse.

An agreeable Laxative and Nerve Tonic. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO NO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will cure you, if taken in time. Price 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00.

Sold by all druggists. 8 14 7

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-Iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

esidence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.

Tonsorial Parlor, 204 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J. Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 18 t

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey porkjand poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb

Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

[Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A[No.1 Kindling]Wood.]

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

O. D.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort

[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.

[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.

W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS,

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 2 14 m

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 pm

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipsic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to, the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-c

MRS. L COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System

used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue. Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,

59 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 98 7

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 9 4 y

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built. 9 18]

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Havden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D. C.

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

C. B. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 27 Chatham street.

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.

WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH 28, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

BY THE WAY.

—Two lodgers were accommodated in the station-house last night.

—An inviting display of Summer fabrics at inviting prices can be seen if you accept Peck's invitation to call.

—An important meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association will be held tonight for the nomination of officers.

—An entertainment for the benefit of the Sunday school will be given in the German Reformed church tonight.

—The portraits of five prominent citizens attract great attention in Van Emburgh's window. They are samples of what the Two Vans give away to all purchasers of $10 worth of goods by the ticket system.

—Owing to a scarcity of meat the price has advanced 25 per cent. and there is not much prospect of it's being reduced for the next three months. The beef houses in this city have a good stock on hand, but the supply is small and the demand still smaller. This being the case the price did not go up as soon as in other places.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. H. Powers is in Trenton today on business.

Ira Huff of East Front street is sick with typhoid fever.

Miss Allen, of Hackensack, called on friends in the city yesterday.

Miss Lottie Raymond has returned from a two-weeks visit in Canada.

George Squiers of Harmony street is about again after a fortnight of illness.

The weather indications for tomorrow are slightly colder, with high northwest winds.

Miss Lottie Ryno of Dunellen is the guest of Mrs. Jennings of West Second street.

Charles W. McCutchen has just started underpining walls for a new barn on Linden avenue.

J. H. Cox, of Netherwood, has invented a slide rest for a lathe machine which is very practical.

John V. Beekman is stopping for a few days in Portland, Oregon, on his way to lower California for his health.

Garrett W. Wood has accepted a position with the dry-goods house of J. W. Goddard & Son, 98 and 100 Bleeker street, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Shutt of Bay Shore, Long Island, are visiting H. H Shutt of Leland avenue, Netherwood. Mr. Shutt contemplates investing in real estate in this city.

Abram C. Coriell, well known in this section, is hopelessly ill at his home on Greenbrook road. Dr. Brakeley of Dunellen is the attending physician. He is suffering with a stroke of paralysis.

The marriage of Miss Gussie Quass of West Second street to Charles Johnson took place yesterday afternoon at 4 at the groom's home in Dunellen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C Kinsey.

Good Things for Breakfast.

Cleveland's Baking Powder

Makes delicious

Muffins, Griddle Cakes,

Waffles, Corn Bread, &c.

Cleveland's, the best that money can buy.

There are 80 different recipes for breakfast breads in our cook book. A copy mailed free on receipt of stamp and address. Cleveland Baking Powder Company, 81 Fulton St., New York.

A CITY WITHOUT GOVERNMENT.

Humboldt, Kan., Is Without Legal Officers and Cannot Be Sued.

Municipal officers, with all the accompanying red tape, do not appear to be absolutely necessary for the proper and successful management of a city, which is proved by the present prosperity of Humboldt, a city of 1,700 inhabitants, in Kansas. This city has been without legally qualified officers for sixteen years, and promises to remain so for at least two years longer.

The citizens of Humboldt wanted to place their little city beyond the reach of the courts, so as to avoid what they believe, would be an unjust payment of $200,000 of bonds.

It appears that in April, 1870, a railroad was projected from Junction City to Parsons, and many towns between were anxious to secure it. Among the ambitious towns was Humboldt, which expected a great boom if the railroad was built; and in its enthusiasm voted and issued bonds to the amount of about $175,000.

The work was started and the railway bank constructed. That is all. It stands there to-day, bare of rails and ties, never having borne a locomotive engine, and looks like a long rampart of defense for the little city, serving only the purpose of reminding the people of their folly, and nerving them to continue the fight against the bonds.

When the people found that they had a barren grade and a debt of $200,000, they devised a unique line of fight—they would place the city beyond the reach of a summons by having no legal city officer to serve.

This line of action was a surprise to legal functionaries. Interest on the bonds matured and was not paid. Suit was brought. The court sent an officer to Humboldt to serve papers on the Mayor and Council. He couldn't find them. The city had no legal existence. There was no one found on whom the papers could be served so as to get the city in court. He returned and reported that he had found an apparently prosperous city full of happy inhabitants, but no legal officers to serve.

Humboldt has a Mayor and Council and the necessary subordinate officers—at least the people accept the fact that certain persons hold these offices, whether they do or not. As a matter of law they do not, because not one man who exercises the functions of a municipal office in Humboldt has taken the required oath.

Every spring the formality of an election is gone throug with, and frequently there is a hot fight, for lines of party and favoritism are sharply drawn.

Ordinances are passed and the people live up to them. Taxes are levied and the people pay them. The illegal Mayor makes appointments in the executive department and the people accept of them. The present Mayor is W. T. McElroy, editor of the Humboldt Union. He has never qualified as Mayor but he is Mayor because the people say so. He is a good Mayor, and all agree that the city is well governed. It is economically governed and red tape is hardly known. There are no sinecures. The city is managed on strict business principles and those interested are satisfied.

The bondolders are waiting for their money and have not yet received one cent of either principal or interest.

The citizens of Humboldt say they wish to wrong no one, and desire that innocent purchasers of the bonds shall have all that is right, and they say that they are willing, as they have been willing all through the litigation, to pay exactly what the purchases gave for the bonds, which is said to be twenty-five cents on the dollar. This proposition the bondholders reject, and so the fight against the officerless city goes on.

MISS FIELD'S DINNER BELL.

She Scared Thieves Away With It and Roused the Neighborhood.

Armed with an old dinner bell, Miss Louisa Field, who lives in the old Field homestead in Wall street, Huntington, L. I., put several sneak thieves to flight the other night.

She was the only one in the house at the time, and was aroused from her sleep by the sound of voices in an adjoining room. She was badly frightened, but, knowing there was no help at hand, she slipped out of bed and cautiously making her way to a disused closet brought out an old time dinner bell that was once used to call in the farm hands from the field.

Then, leaning out of an open window, she set the bell going. At the first few clangs there was a scampering in the house and two shadowy figures shot down the stairs and out into the darkness. But Miss Field kept on ringing until she had aroused all the near by residents, who came flocking to the house.

She was finally persuaded that the danger was over, and she put the bell away. Several neighbors remained in the house the rest of the night and the other portion of the disturbed community sought their beds again.

American Canned Goods.

For many years the English looked with deep suspicion at American canned goods, believing them to be a purely Yankee notion born of an insane longing to eat things out of season; a longing pardonable enough in the millionaire who had hot houses, but dark error on the part of his poorer neighbor.

They did not know, nor indeed is it generally known, that canning really began two thousand years and more ago, but it is none the less a Yankee discovery or rediscovery; for it was a party of Cincinnatians who, visiting Pompeii when the excavations were just beginning many years ago, found in the pantry of a house just uncovered many jars of preserved figs. One was opened and they were found to be perfectly fresh and good.

Careful examination showed that the figs had been put into the jars while hot, an aperture left for the steam to escape, and the hole sealed with wax. A wise man took the hint and the next year canning was introduced into the United States and has grown into the enormous industry it now represents.

Earth Has Shifted Her Ballast.

A Rockland, Maine, man has a unique theory to account for the winter's growing warmer in this vicinity. He says that so much granite has been moved South from the quarries of the North that the world has been tipped thereby toward the sun.

In the Hands of the Philistines.

Head of the house—Why, Bridget, these fritters are not fit for a pig to eat!

Bridget—Well, you don't have to ate

You will ride a Bicycle

Of course you will ride. All the world will—fashion, pleasure, business—men, women, children. It takes a while sometimes for the world to recognize its privileges; but when it does it adapts itself promptly. Therefore, you who are in the world will ride a bicycle—a bicycle if you desire the best the world produces; a Hartford, the next best, if anything short of a Columbia will content you.

COLUMBIA

Columbias, $100; Hartfords, $80 $60; for boys and girls, $50.

POPE MFG. CO., Hartford, Conn.

Boston, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Providence, Buffalo.

A Catalogue—comprehensive, beautiful—at any agency free, or by mail for two 2-cent stamps. The book tells of all the new Columbias and Hartfords

SPRING CLOTHING.

Over Sacks, Dress Suits, Business Suits, Boys' Clothing, and Extra Pantaloons that Watson & Co., Show in all their Broad and Market street Windows.

The great display that Watson & Co., make of new Spring goods attracts all who pass the corner of Market and Broad streets, as it surpasses any former showing of this enterprising firm. In the first place samples are shown of all the goods they are using in both their ready-made and custom departments, and also the garments in all stages of making. In all windows a special display is made of the new styles of

SPRING OVERCOATS

including the short strapped seam Coverts and Crep de Chene dress worsted, all lined with pure dye silk or satin and marked from $10 to $18. Then follow long lines of made from the new styles of flat worsteds, all with extra pantaloons, in beautiful Spring shades, which you can buy complete at $15, $15.50, $16, $18, $20, $21, $22, $24 and $25.

DRESS SUITS

Next comes the

BUSINESS SUITS

from $10 to $20 in a hundred new colors, and then the boys' suits and extra pantaloons in which Watson & Co., show more perfect fitting garments than all the rest of the houses combined.

Try Watson & Co., this Spring and see how their will improve your dress appearance, and remember it is fully 20 per cent. in your favor to buy your clothing direct from the makers.

PERFECT FITTING GARMENTS

Just now you can walk into any of their departments and select a suit from the racks on which they are hung as soon as finished, that cannot be told when worn from the most expensive custom-made work, as they have every choice pattern made up that merchant tailors use and many handsome styles that you cannot find elsewhere, which you should see before you buy, or somebody will get better clothing than you and pay less for it.

—Fred. Moore is now barkeeper at the City Hotel.

—Mrs. E. J. McCarthy yesterday shipped her live stock and wagons to her future home in Amsterdam, N. Y.

—Thomas M. Reid has started a monthly called the Plainfield Argus. Its office is 1007 South Second street. It is printed in New York.

—Loving tributes to the dead take substantial form in monuments and headstones, and the place to get one's wishes fulfilled in this respect is L. L. Manning's, West Front street, who has a splendid stock and offers selections at low prices.

—Remember the little Junior Endeavorers of Trinity Reformed Church tomorrow afternoon in their entertainment for the purpose of raising money to help build churches in the far West. An offering of 10 cents placed in the basket at the door on entering will be thankfully received.

—Every Plainfield householder was greatly interested in the new building ordinance published for the first time and exclusively in The Daily Press yesterday. This important piece of legislation is being thoroughly discussed since its appearance in these columns. It will be republished by authority of the Common Council in The Press next Wednesday.

JOHNSON'S FOURTH
Auction Sale
for 1895
OF HORSES,
At TAYLOR'S HOTEL, Dunellen,
Saturday, March 30
at 1 o'clock, rain or shine.
One Car Load of Western Horses,
suitable for all purposes. Also a number of Jersey Horses and Mares, suitable for farm or road.
Usual credit and guarantee given to every purchaser. 3 26 4-c 1

THEODORE GRAY,
MASON AND CONTRACTOR.
Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 8 28 1

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,

Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Do you want Laces?

Come to Peck's

Do you want Embroideries?

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block,

VAN EMBURGH & SON

1 lot boy's bicycle stockings, 8½ and 9, 18c.....value 25
1 lot ladies' Castor Suede gloves 17c.....value 35
1 lot men's seamless half hose, colored, 12c.....value 18
1 lot box paper and envelopes 5c.....value 10
1 lot men's seamless half hose, black, 10c.....value 20
1 lot Gloria umbrellas, 26 inch Paragon frame, fancy handles, extra cheap, 73c—no price at all.
1 lot men's unlaundried shirts, 14 to 16½, 29c.....value 40
1 lot figured India silk 25c.....value 35

Fibre chamois, all-wool Moreen, hair cloth, Taffeta Lining, imitation hair cloth, grass cloth and dressmakers' furnishings in full.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

SPRING OPENING

AND

10-DAY SPECIAL SALE

now going on. The decorations and display of elegant New Goods the most profuse and attractive ever shown in this part of the State. Come and see.

Specials

in every department. These are a few samples:

For the opening the following extraordinary values—All-wool cheviot cloth capes in black, navy and brown, trimmed with tinsel braid, manufactured to sell at $1.59 and $1 85; special for the opening

$1.10 and $1.30

All-wool Cheviot and Covert cloth capes in tan and black, with excellent trimming, double cape, manufactured to sell at $4.65;

Special $3.85

All-wool Cheviot Broadcloth Covert and Kersey Cloth Capes, embroidered in cream, satin ribbon trimmings, lace and jet, manufactured to sell at $5.85, $6.75 and $10; special at $4.85, $5.90 and $7.50.

An excellent Broadcloth Cape in black, navy, black and red, fashion's latest conceptions, satin lined, manufactured to sell at $10; a great special at

$8 35 Each

Grocery Department.

AT 6 Cents CAN — 75 more cases fresh Canned Goods just received. 25 cases Farrow's string beans, 25 cases cold packed Pride of Sussex tomatoes, 25 cases sweet corn. The above open for inspection; as long as they last 6c can. — AT 6 Cents CAN

Boston Chips 10c Box — 300 boxes Boston potato chips, just received from the factory fresh. While they last at 10c a box. — Boston Chips 10c Box

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

At 3 Cts EACH — 250 doz ironstone china plates, all sizes at 3c each. 200 doz ironstone china tea cups and saucers. The above is John Edwards's best English ware. — At 3 Cts EACH

New Cut Glass, new Bouquet Holders, new Bohemian Glass Salad and Fruit Dishes just opened.

Look out for genuine bargains.

Edsall's.

LADIES' $2 OXFORDS

Black and Russet.

Common Sense and Opera Toe; all new Spring goods!

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue.

Come and see them!

JOHNNY'S SMALL FORTUNE.

He Goes Right On Selling Papers Though He Has $5,000.

Fortune has not turned the head of Johnny Moffatt, the New York newsboy who has recently come into possession of some money left him by his mother. Mrs. Ann Moffatt was for years scrub woman in the building at 14 Maiden Lane and by one of those marvelous instances of frugality and energy occasionally found among the poor she contrived on the pittance she received to put money in the bank and have her life insured, so that at her death her son Johnny found himself the heir to $5,000.

At this time he was selling papers in front of 30 Cortlandt street, but when his riches were made know to him he decided to get some education, and with that idea attended St. Peter's school at 101 Trinity Place. But the restraint was ill suited to his disposition, and he soon went back to the old free life of the streets. A reporter who went to find him a few days ago had no difficulty in locating him at the old stand.

Johnny is a short, broad shouldered, thick set boy, who looks to be 12 years old, but is two years older. What would otherwise be a very ordinary face is lighted up by a pair of bright eyes under bushy eyebrows.

"Oh, I'm goin' to keep right on sellin' papers," said he in answer to the reporter's inquiry. "I'll sell papers all my life, I guess. It's a pretty good business as far as I've got, an' I guess it's good enough for me any time."

"But what are you going to do with the $5,000?" asked the reporter.

"Ain't goin' to do nothin'. Can't get it till I'm 21. It's over in the Emigrants' Industrial Savin's Bank in soak an' drawin' int'rest, an' I wouldn't get it out if I could."

"Then you have got all the money you want, have you?" inquired the reporter.

"Well, I don't s'pose no feller's got all he wants," replied the boy philosophically. "But I got all I need, an' I can live all right on it. I make three or four or five dollars a day sellin' papers, an' Sundays sometimes I make 's much 's ten. That's all I need to get along on."

"Doesn't it cost you that much to live?"

"Well, y' see I got the rooms down in 51 Wash'n'ton street to pay for, an' then I put some money one side, but I don't put none in the bank. What I put one side I use up every oncet in a while. Then there's my brother, I kinder look after him."

"So you've got a younger brother to support?"

"No, he ain't younger. He's older; 22 I guess. He's in hard luck. Didn't get no money left to him, so I kinder try to square things by lookin' after him a little. He useter work over in the station house runnin' errands, an' he got $36 a month, but he lost that job. Now when he wants anythin' he tells me and I go an' buy it fer him."

"I'm the business man of the fam'ly," he continued, proudly. "I've bin in business for myself since I was a kid, an' I guess I ain't goin' to let no $5,000 make me quit. Oncet I did quit an' tried goin' to school, but I soured on that quick. There's too many bosses round for a kid that's bin used t' bein' his own boss."

While the interview was going on a circle of street urchins had formed around the inheritor of fortune, and they now proceeded to give their ideas as to the proper disposition of the windfall. A red headed youngster started the ball rolling with.

"Johnny, watcher goin' 't do wid th' stuff?

"Ain't goin' to do nothin' with it," returned Johnny stolidly.

"You're a looloo, you are," returned the red haired boy disgustedly; "f I had it I wouldn't do a thing but blow it in all th' rest of me life."

"Tell y' what I'd do," piped a very small fragment of humanity. "I'd buy a theaytre an' set in the door wid a big dimont in me shirt an' take tickets until de show started an' I'd have a different show every night, so's I wudn't git sick of it."

"Oh, y' can't buy no theaytre fer fi' thousan' plunks," put in another boy. "I'd git a horse an' a boat an' be a swell."

"Gimme a good peanut 'n' fruit stan' an' dats all I'd want."

"Ah, youse fellers make me sick. I'd get inter pollytics. Look at all th' votes y' c'n git fer fi' thousan' plunks. I'd be boss of th' city 'f I had it."

"Well, you ain't none of you got it, an' I ain't got it for four years, an' when I do get it I'll leave it where it is," said the owner of the coveted sum, conclusively. "I ain't buyin' no theaytres nor horses, nor peanut stan's nor votes. Get out the way, here's a gent wants a paper."

And Johnny added the modest sum of one cent to his fund with just as much satisfaction as if he weren't worth $5,000.

Senatorial Courtesy in Missouri.

If an official report of the Missouri Senate had been accurately kept this afternoon, among other things the journal would have contained what follows:

Senator Walker—Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The President—The Senator from Stoddard will proceed.

Senator Walker—The president is smoking, and it is very offensive to the Senator from Stoddard, unless the president has an extra cigar, which will permit the Senator from Stoddard to be sociable.

The president summoned his page.

The President—The chair always endeavors to treat Senators with due courtesy, and now presents his compliments to the Senator from Stoddard.

The Senator from Stoddard lights his cigar and the Senate proceeds to a discussion of legislative appropriations.

The Effects of a Sermon.

Once, when Cardinal Manning was preaching in Rome, he recognized John Bright among his listeners. On the instant he determined to preach to him, and dwelt with as much force and effect as he could on the claims of the Blessed Virgin to our veneration.

Two or three years later he met him, and reminded him of this incident.

"I remember it perfectly well," said John, "and I shall never forget it. I was delighted with everything that morning"—a gratified smile came on the Cardinal's face—"excepting your sermon."

John Fox, of Zeeland, Mich., is totally blind, but makes a business of repairing sewing machines.

There are about 12,000,000 houses in this country, with less than six people to each

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

LIFE AMONG THE SHAKERS.

The Strange People of the Kentucky Settlement Are Fast Growing Fewer.

They pray, work and live. They have banished all passions. They know not the parental sentiment. Father and mother are names strange to their lips. Each man is a brother; each woman a sister.

Their town of Pleasant Hill, Ky., is without a tavern. They speak with a yea and nay. Strangers are barred from their community; visitors are seldom welcome. Indeed, these Shakers are queer and unintelligible people—"a small company striving to live the celestial life; the pure, virgin, celibate life of Christ, and who fully indorse the communistic principle of the Pentecostal Church.

They live in communities called families. The Central is the largest, and is the pioneer family of the settlement. About midway in the one street of the town stands a large, heavily built stone building. This is the home of the Central family. It was built in 1824 and has two entrances, one for the men and one for the women. Some improvements have since been added, and it now includes, besides the sleeping and meeting rooms, a cookery, bakery and dining hall. All of the apartments are roomy and scrupulously clean. The men's apartments are on the opposite side of the hall from the women's. The two sexes eat apart, at tables on opposite sides of the dining hall. This division is carried out through the entire village.

The meeting room is on the second floor. A few benches are scattered about. At worship there is usually one person in the congregation who leads in the singing and speaking. At intervals they are visited by an elder. Because of a few ill-mannered people who have dared to enter the sanctuary and ridicule the worshipers strangers are excluded from the Shaker Church. The old time Shaker dance is seldom used. Some members who still cling to the idea take part in the shuffle, but many of them are growing too old and feeble for the exertion.

All of the buildings are constructed on the same style, but are smaller than the Central House. They have their winding stairs, large rooms, wide corridors and verandas.

The postoffice is in the yard of a building built in 1839 for the tavern. At the opposite end of the town is the broom factory. It is an old fashioned brick building, which, with its surroundings, presents a primitively picturesque appearance. Here, as everywhere, order is thd sign. The men work on hour after hour, saying but little, cutting, binding and sewing their brooms.

There are less than 100 inhabitants, but these carry on the work co-operatively and successfully. The town bell is the power which regulates all life and rest in the community. At 4 o'clock in the morning during the week, and at 5 o'clock on Sundays, the great bell awakens every sleeper. The women look after the house, doing the sewing, mending, laundry and dairy work, the men go out upon the farms to earn the dollars which support the society. At 12 o'clock the bell calls them to their noonday meal; at eventide it commands them to leave their labors. At 8 o'clock but few are stirring, and scarcely a light is to be seen.

A pretty story illustrates the veracity of these Shakers. One of the brothers, on returning from a business trip, reported having sold a horse for a certain amount. His companion remonstrated, saying the horse was not worth the amount by $50. At once the trader returned the $50 to his customer, begging his pardon and asking him to accept the money.

One is led to wonder why the societies are disappearing. This steady decline is not because the good, old people are deserting the ranks, but because the younger members, daughters of widows or adopted orphans, on reaching the age of discernment, become discontented with the quiet life of the village. There is no marrying or giving in marriage, for they are strict followers of Christ. Living thus, the young people dream of love, courtship, romance, the round of pleasure and glory that the world offers, until, in their solitude and reveries they can no longer endure the Shakers' somber existence and fly to the world again.

THE BENEFITS OF SCIENCE.

The Small Boy Utilizes the Telephone to His Advantage.

The small boy had broken the parlor window. Of course it wasn't really the small boy who was the offender; it was his ball that actually committed the crime, the small boy having merely tried to see how many times he could hit the wall of the house without striking the window. And the ball perversely hit the window, smashing right through the pane and sending splinters of glass in every direction. That was the condition of things when the small boy's mother happened to enter the parlor a few moments later. But of the small boy and the offending ball nothing was to be seen. Before long the small boy entered the house. He came into his mother's presence with a brisk and cheerful step, smiling pleasantly as though a disagreeable load had been lifted from his mind.

"Oh, Tommy," cried the small boy's mother; "to think of your smashing the parlor window like that. How often have I told you not to play ball near the house. It was very, very naughty of you, Tommy. And just think what papa will say."

"Oh, it's all right about papa," replied the small boy. "I went straight and told him all about it," virtuously.

"Well, you were a good boy to do that, any way. Yes, that was very right and brave in you. Did you go all the way down to the office, Tommy, dear? And what did papa do?"

"Well, he didn't do much," answered the small boy, "because, you know, he couldn't. I didn't go down to the office to tell him I broke the window. I just went to the drug store and telephoned him."

The press is the best instrument for enlightening the mind of man and improving him as a rational, moral and social being.—Thomas Jefferson.

Christian Women.

Women from the various churches interested in Y. M. C. A. work met at the Association Building Monday afternoon at which time the following officers and committees were chosen to assist in carrying on the work: Mrs. Maxson Chairman; Mrs. Nelson Vice-chairman; Mrs. E. H. Bird secretary; Mrs. J. H. Manning treasurer.

Social—Mrs. J. W. Gavett, Mrs. Frank Clawson, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. J. H. Manning.

Boys Committee—Miss Ramsay, Mrs. S. R. Struthers, Mrs. A. F. Taft, Mrs. T. E. Hazell.

Rooms—Mrs. Henry McGee, Mrs. F. O. Herring, Mrs. Nelson Runyon, Mrs. Dewitt Brokaw.

Visitation and Sick—Mrs. J. M. Bettman, Mrs. M. E. Dwight, Miss Embury, Mrs. W. B. VanAlstyne.

Flower—Mrs. O. B. Leonard, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mrs. E. H. Bird, Mrs. V. Utzinger.

Library—Mrs. John Valiant, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Mrs. C. E. Bond, Mrs. W. T. Pelletier.

Home Wedding.

At the home of the groom's parents, 111 Elmwood place, last evening, Richard Bittle and Miss Mary E. Kahill, both of Plainfield, were united in matrimony. Elder Hand of the Liberty Street Mission officiated. The happy couple will make their home on Elmwood place.

—Frank Hope was in town today arranging for the production of "Ole's Luck" in Music Hall April 4.

—The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed Church will give an entertainment in the lecture room of the church this evening.

—A meeting of the citizens of Warren Township will be held at Mt. Bethel Hall, March 30, at 7 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the subject of purchasing a stone crusher for the township.

—E. Frank Vail of 177 North avenue, agent for the celebrated Czar bicycle, one of the lightest and most beautiful wheels on the market, is also selling the best cyclometer made; it is called the Crown. If you are about to purchase, look at it before buying any other style.

—The Baglan residence on East Front street has been repaired and newly painted.

—William Bamberger and R. J. Shaw of this city will bowl in Taylor's two men tournament at Dunellen tonight.

—William Bamberger, who has been in the employ of Fred Hui's barber shop, will soon engage in business for himself on East Front street.

The Metropolitan Raised.

New London, Conn., March 28.—The propeller Metropolitan of the Central Vermont line, which collided with the tug T. A. Scott Tuesday off Bartlett's, and was run upon the flats in this harbor to prevent sinking, has been raised.

Big Catch of Seals.

Halifax, N. S., March 28.—The steamer Aurora, the first arrival from the sealing grounds, has reached St. Johns, N. F., with 30,000 seals.

Liege Strike Extending Rapidly.

Brussels, March 28.—The miners' strike at Liege is extending rapidly. The government has called out the militia reserves.

Atalanta To Be Sold.

Southampton, March 28.—It is rumored here that George Gould's steam yacht Atalanta is to be sold.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

My neighbor's jackass made more noise
Than all the hens in my back lot.
The jackass' bray was nothing worth,
But each day found eggs in my pot.
To tell the town of his new store
My neighbor scattered posters wide.
I used The Press—a page or more;
My store was filled; my neighbor—died.

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c. and $1. Sold by all druggists.

MUSIC HALL.

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 49B.

Saturday, Mch 30

Matinee and night.

John P. Smith's own version of Mrs. Stowe's great work

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The same as played by this company at the Boston Theatre, Grand Opera House and Niblo's Theatre, New York. New and beautiful scenery. The Gates Ajar and Mississippi river at night. The great Steamboat Race. Splendid company.

Matinee prices—Adults 25c; reserved seats 30 and 50c. Prices at night 25, 35, 50 and 75c. Box office now open.

CHATTEL MORTGAGE SALE!

Friday, March 29,

at 2 p. m. at 201 West Sixth street, cor. Arlington avenue. Hair parlor suit, Oak bedroom suit, Writing desk, Easy chairs, Stands, Tables, Pictures, etc., Bedroom suits, Bed, Bedding, etc., Stoves, Window shades and lace curtains, Kitchen utensils, 4 mattresses, 9 yards stair carpet, Lounge, wash tubs, tools, etc.

AMOS MOFFETT,
Agent for Mortagee.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS.

DEATHS.

SWEENY—In this city March 27, 1895, Mary E. Sweeny, aged 52 years.

Funeral services from the residence of Edward Connors, 553 West Third street, Saturday morning at 9 from the house and 9:30 from St. Mary's Church. Friends and relatives are invited to attend. 2

THE CIRCLE OF

King's Daughters,

Young Daughters of the King, Washington Park Plainfield, N. J., announce a series of three evening recitals by

MR. CHAS. F. UNDERHILL,

At The Casino.

Mason & Hamlin "Liszt" organ will be used.

Thursday, April 4, Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," with Mendelssohn music.
Monday, April 22, Charles Dickens' masterpiece, "David Copperfield."
Thursday, May 2, Sheridan's Great Comedy, "The Rivals."
Tickets for the series, $2, at the usual places. Single recitals 75c. 3 28 6

WANTS AND OFFERS.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 24 6

WANTED—A good gentle horse; good and kind, for ladies to drive. Address Box 335, city. 3 26 4

SITUATION wanted as chambermaid and waitress, by girl with experience and good references. 340 E. Third st. 3 28 2

100 loads of soil given away, must be taken at once. Duer street near Linden avenue.

TO LET—2 new, attractive dwellings, 12 rooms each; all modern improvements; expensive decorations; Belvidere ave., opp. Hotel Netherwood; Woodland ave., near LaGrande; will sell; inspection invited. Call or address Alfred Cocks, 728 Woodland avenue, near Netherwood station, or Plainfield brokers. 3 T & S

BUY your home. Don't pay rent. 8 room house on fine residence street, convenient to street railway $2 300. Small amount of cash paid down and the balance to be paid in monthly payments of about $1,500. Also house to let. Address J. E. P. care Press.

PROTESTANT girl wants situation as upstairs girl, nurse girl, or at general housework. Call 306 E. 2d. st.

SHOATS for sale, Cheshire and Chester white stock. Enquire C. J. Ackerman Clinton ave. 3 28 3

40 Acre farm to let, also 3 rooms. Address 131 New street. 3 28 3

FOR SALE—New 2-seat surrey, cheap. Also pony phaeton. Enquire Frank Hedden's livery, 118 E. 4th st. 3 28 tf

HOUSE and building lots for sale in Westfield, N. J., high ground, good neighborhood, convenient to depot. Address box 104 Westfield N. J. 3 24 6-3 28 4 e

FOR SALE—About 20 loads of soil, also cord wood. Leave orders at City Mills, French Bros. 3 27 3

For SALE—On Installments, six-room house, 748 East Second street, or to let. Inquire of Jacob Voehl. 3 27 6

WANTED—Two young men boarders. Terms reasonable. Three minutes walk from depot. Address L. B. W., care Press. 3 27 3

FURNISHED rooms with board; home comforts; all improvements. 403 Central avenue. 3 26 3

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

SIX ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

TO LET—Double house, corner LaGrande ave. and Franklin place, all improvements, first class order, large lawn. Apply Mulford, Vail, or VanBuren, brokers North ave. 3 25 4-m t m t

FOR SALE—New six-room house in good neighborhood; terms easy. Call 196 Somerset st. 3 26 3-eod

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. B. Force, 132 Park ave. boots and shoes. 3 23 6

FLAT to let, every convenience, Apply J. P. Taylor, 612 Park ave. 3 23 tf

BOARDERS and table boarders wanted in a private family, by the week, day, or meal. 130 North ave. 2nd. flat. 3 23 6

30 Acres good land to rent on shares. Apply P. C. Ohl. 3 23 6

SIDE-BAR surrey, phaeton top; price $160. Inquire at 747 West Front st. 3 25 6

COLORED girl wants situation as chambermaid or waitress. 230 Park ave. 3 25 6

CORNER flats to let, improvements, steam heat, corner store. Miller 339 Park ave. 3 25 6

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

Grand

Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastely trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on

Tuesday, March 25,
Wednesday, March 26,
Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season. We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing, but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 54 in. wide.
5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.
Our 49c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.
75c will buy a $1 00 skirt.
95c. " " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Miss Fawcett's School,
25 Washington Ave
Department for boys to the age of 12
" girls and kindergarten
Girls prepared for college.
Re-opened September 13.

SAIL BOATS
—IN—Sloops and Schooners,
—FROM—
25c. to $1.25.

R. C. RAND.
140 West Front st.

BOCK BEER
all this week at
Charles Smith's Saloon.
Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Prospect Hill For Sale,
26 acres, or in plots to suit.
Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.
L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

GEO. J. TOBIN,
187 North avenue.
Practical Plumber
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer
TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

J. W. VAN SICKLE,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salt Meats
GAME IN SEASON,
New No. 122, North Ave., Plainfield.
Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

DON'T SKIP AN ITEM.

It means money saved on all your wants. No difference what—dry goods, hosiery, notions or house furnishings it's the same story on all, close quick prices that sells us so many goods.

A FEW ITEMS

It's dress goods every piece worth half as much again. 36 inch Fancies 27c instead of 50. 40 inch changeable effects 42c good at 70. Same way in black goods. The prices do not tell half. You want to see the goods to appreciate their worth.

10c outing flannels at 7c.
12c dress ginghams at 8c.
36-inch percales at 7½c instead of 13c.
30-inch percales at 6c.

5,000 pieces—almost as many patterns of cambric embroideries 3c and 4c yard, instead of 8 and 10.

If it's dotted Swiss or curtain drapery, ours will suit. Quality and price both right. 40 inch dotted Swiss 17c; value 25c.

New Hats, Capes, Jackets, Shirt Waists, all on sale this week.
Ladies' Capes, blue and black broadcloth, $2.98.
Ladies' box coats $3.98.
Ladies' percale wrappers 98c.

One of the many good values in matting is the seamless Jap, inserted pattern, $2.49 a roll of 25 yards.

WHITE of Plainfield.

HARK! HARK!

Do you hear those bells ringing? They are to warn you that Johnson's delivery wagon is near at hand, ready to supply you with the finest home-made bread in the land, pies, cake, buns and rolls, fresh every morning at 6 a. m.

Boston brown bread a specialty. Just give me a trial, my goods speak for themselves. All orders promptly attended to at shortest notice.

W. H. Johnson,
3 23 1w 41 Somerset Street.

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.
The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,
206 West Front st.

THE BABY'S SOLILOQUY.

I've done my best to learn to walk,
But find it very hard.
And when I'm standing on my feet
I'm always on my guard.

Because—perhaps you've noticed this
If I happen to forget
When I'm thinking then of other things
That I'm not sitting yet.

The floor is apt to rise up quick
And hit me quite a blow,
Which makes me feel I'd like to That's why I'm sitting now.
—N. Y. World.

A TWELVE YEAR OLD TEACHER.

Mollie Massopust, Still in a Pinnafore, a Successful Instructor.

The youngest school teacher in New Jersey is Mollie Massopust, who assists Charles Dietz, principal of Public School No. 3 in Maurer. She is 12 years old. In speaking of his assistant to a reporter Principal Dietz said:

"We can't afford to have another teacher so I've been having the older girls assist me with the young children. I found that these little teachers varied so in their methods that I concluded to turn the beginners over to Mollie entirely. She is a remarkably bright girl and I want you to see how she conducts her classes."

The principal rang the assembly bell vigorously and seventy children came trooping into the classroom from the playground. Their cheeks were rosy and their eyes sparkling. With the usual facility of children for finding out things they had learned that somebody from the city had come to see Mollie. Just as they got settled the door opened and a fragile looking little girl entered.

"There's Mollie! There's Mollie!" went up a shout from seventy throats. Mollie looked somewhat surprised but did not lose her self possession.

"You are going to put something in the paper about me?" she asked. "Well, I suppose I must tell you about myself. My parents came from Germany seven years ago. We lived two years in Brooklyn, and then moved her, to Maurer. I couldn't speak English then, but in a little while this school was opened and I came to it, and, oh, I learned your English in a hurry. We had Germans, French, Italians, Poles, Hungarians, everything almost except Turks, in school, and none of us could speak English, but Mr. Dietz soon had us so that we could speak it all right. Last year I finished the course here, but my family thought I was too young to go up so I stayed on. I'll be twelve years old on May 18, and will go to a higher school next year."

"What have you studied?"

"Oh, I've been through the fifth reader, have finished geography and arithmetic, and I'm a splendid speller."

"Do you like to teach?"

"I love it," she replied enthusiastically. "I'm going to be a teacher. My mamma says not. She's says I'm not strong enough, but I'll grow big, I think. I'm very small for my age, but I think I'll take a running start, don't you? Some girls and boys do that and get very large. It's time for me to begin work now," she added, tripping to the lower end of the schoolroom. With a graceful wave of the hand she turned to a dozen children from four to eight years of age and said:

"Now we'll have a lesson that we all like, children."

She turned to an illustrated chart and said:

"What's this, Joseph?"

"It's a boy," replied Joseph.

"What has he on his shoulder, Carl?"

"A gun," shouted a fair haired little German.

"That's right. What has he in his hands, Mary?"

"A drum."

"Are his hands clean, children?"

"Yes," came the answer in chorus.

"That is right," said the preceptress.

"Are your hands clean? They should be. What has he on his feet?"

"Shoes," all sang out.

"Right again. And what has he on his legs?"

"Stockings."

"Have the boy's stockings any holes in them?"

"No, no holes."

"Well, you see now, children, the boy has clean hands and a clean face, his clothes are clean and he has no holes in his stockings, and he is a nice boy. That's the way you all must come to school."

With this lesson on neatness the teacher dismissed the pupils, and turning to the visitor said:

"I hope you are not tired, I am going to work my arithmetic, now. Would you like to watch me? If you put me in the paper say that I've been teaching since last fall and am going to teach till school is out."

"Do you get any pay for your work as teacher?"

"Oh, no! I don't want any pay. Teacher has more than he can do and I like to help him."

Principal Dietz accompanied the visitor to the gate and said:

"Mollie takes charge of the whole school when I am absent."

The Era of Combination.

Consolidation is the rule of the day. Senator Lodge shows how the large cities are absorbing the suburbs. It is the same way in business and in some of the professions. The big stores are eating up the little stores. Trust companies attend to a man's affairs while he lives and settle up his estate after he dies, and the time may come when a representative may be at the bedside to soothe the dying man with the comforting assurance that, however he gets along in the next world, he may rest satisfied that his assets will be well taken care of in this. The question is, "Where will this consolidation tendency lead?"

Doesn't Want a Husband.

A maiden lady in Newburg keeps a parrot which swears and a monkey that chews tobacco. She says between the two she doesn't miss a husband very much.—Southern Uister.

THE SUN'S FASHIONS.

BUT HOW THE SUMMER GIRL OF '95 WILL BLOSSOM FORTH.

Sleeves Growing Rather Than Diminishing in Size. The Latest Skirt Exceedingly Wide. New Gowns Described. Effective Combinations of Materials.

Fashion in dress does not seem so uninteresting and frivolous a subject since it has so recently served a worthy and practical purpose in the cause of charity, and its varied phases of development, during a period of several hundred years, take on a new meaning, while the study of a fashionable gown becomes exalted to a dignity far beyond the touch of vanity. It is curious to notice how grotesque forms and vagaries of fashion reappear from time to time, yet never repeat themselves exactly on the old lines.

Many of the present modes of dress are similar to those of fifty years ago, when capes and fur boas, hats with windmill bows, gigot sleeves, and gauzy materials not unlike our chiffon were worn. But the modern treatment of old time ideas is invariably an improvement from an artistic standpoint as well as in all the details of dress. So the most modern gowns were the most attractive at the costume exhibition and of surpassing interest because of the many practical ideas presented for immediate use.

In materials for spring dresses there are crepon galore of every kind, color and price imaginable, pretty tweeds, and all sorts of mixtures of silk and wool. Cotton goods, too, are in great variety and very pretty, and one of the novelties is a cotton grenadine with a cream ground, spotted with tiny rosebuds of silk and dainty flowered stripes. It is of double width and costs $2.25 a yard.

Sleeves have grown rather than diminished in size, but they are so often pressed down by epaulets or shoulder frills of various kinds, or caught down on top with rosettes or bands of jet in butterfly fashion, that the extra fullness is not so noticeable. The mutton leg shape is still the favorite sleeve and it is usually finished at the wrist with a narrow turn over cuff, which is often supplemented by another of white batiste edged with narrow Valenciennes lace; or the sleeve is sometimes trimmed with folds of silk or lace insertion put on in rows the entire length, from armhole to wrist. There is a hint of an old time flowing sleeve in a model which flares a little at the wrist, displaying a dainty under sleeve of lace and satin.

The latest skirts are exceedingly wide, measuring fully eight yards around, but there is some comfort in the fact that many of them are made without the haircloth interlining, except as a facing at the bottom, and an occasional skirt of light wool is made without any lining and has simply a facing of crinoline and silk.

Capes display a tendency to multiply in style and fullness, and are unmistakably the garment most adapted and most useful for spring wear. Naturally they are shorter than those worn in the winter, and they are made of all sorts of materials, such as serge, smooth faced cloths, perforated cloth over a darker shade and bright color, satin and velvet. Those of more dressy and summery description, with beauty, not warmth, to recommend them, have a deep yoke of velvet embroidered with jet, or one of silk thickly covered with spangles and double frills of chiffon or lace around the edge.—N. Y. Sun.

In the Clothing Store.

Salesman—Now, if you want something stylish, here's a very pretty check that is worn a great deal.

Si Haymow—I don't want nothin' that's worn—ef you got a bran new pair with that figger in, I'll take 'em.—Great Divide.

ENDURANCE OF THE CHINESE.

They Don't Mind Pain, But They Do Object to Caucasian Surgery.

"Remarkable though the statement is concerning the endurance of Chinese soldiers, I can quite understand it," said an ex-police surgeon of San Francisco. "The correspondent says that, though the men in question were shot through the chest and the head, they walked great distances; in one case, if I remember aright, it was a 100 miles,

"During four years of service as police surgeon in San Francisco I saw some pretty severe cases of wounded Chinamen—yes, and China women, too—and I declare their insensitiveness to pain seemed absolute. Part of it, I have no doubt, is due to racial, inherent stoicism; but I am also inclined to the opinion that the Chinese do not feel pain as we do. Now, I remember the case of a woman who was brought down to the city prison ward from Chinatown with her head literally split open in five places by the highbinders' hatchet men. From the very first to the last—I think she died—she gave no indication of pain, and did not even refer to her injuries.

"The Chinese dislike our surgical appliances, our knives and saws, not, however, because of the pain they produce, but because that sort of treatment is foreign to their ideas. Let one of their doctors put a pitch plaster over an injury, no matter if it be a broken leg, a lost nose, or a hole through the lungs and the man will be perfectly satisfied, and will accept whatever may come without a word of suffering or complaint. They're certainly a queer people."

Wine or Mineral Water.

"We have stopped charging guests the item 'Wines and liquors' on the bill," said a hotel clerk. "Formerly everything a customer had to drink was put down under that head, but we got into trouble through it and we have changed our methods.

"A temperance lecturer, a woman, stopped here not long ago. She ran up an enormous bill for mineral waters, and when her husband, who came from Chicago to take her West, found the item 'Wines and liquors, $38.15,' on the bill he kicked up a terrible row, thinking that she had been on a colossal spree in his absence. They had a heated debate and it required the production of the liquor cards to satisfy him of her innocence.

"After she had argued it out with him she descended upon us like an avalanche and threatened to have us all arrested for libel. Since then we have put on bills simply 'Mineral waters.'

"Some guests don't understand the item. A man will come and tell us that he drank sixty-three cocktails, but that he had no mineral waters, and want to know why he is charged with something he didn't drink, and why he isn't charged with something he did drink. Then I explain to him that it is our custom, and point out also that the mineral water bill would be a good thing to show his wife when he gets home, and this usually strikes him as a good idea and he puts it in his pocket chuckling.

"But there are men who won't have it at all. 'No sailing under false colors for me,' they will say. 'Young man you've got to change that bill to whisky and gin fizzes,' and I make the change. They declare that they aren't hypocrites or Pharisees, and that they are willing to take all the responsibility for what they have done.

"But the mineral water item generally makes a hit. As Shakespeare says, 'All the world's a bluff and all the men and women merely bluffers.'"

SHE WON'T PLAY IN YOUR YARD.

"I don't want to play in your yard,
I don't like you any more.
You'll be sorry when you see me
Sliding down our cellar door.
You can't stand in my pa's hat,
You can't sit upon his knee;
I don't want to play in your yard
If you won't be good to me.
—N. Y. Recorder.

HAM AND EGGS.

A Complaint That This Dish Is No Longer What It Used to Be.

"I don't know how it is," said the old fashioned man, "but I don't seem able to get any more good ham and eggs. I'll amend that, however. The eggs are all right, but it's the ham that doesn't come up to the mark. I've ordered it at a dozen restaurants up and down town, but in every case without success. Either it is too salty and hard or else it is tender enough, but has no more flavor than a primrose pudding.

"I know what's the matter with that tasteless ham; it is boiled before being fried. The restaurant keepers say no, but I know it is twice cooked ham, and you cannot possibly expect anything very savory or flavory after that bi-process.

"Even when I know that the ham has not been boiled or parboiled, but is cut fresh from the joint, I miss the rich, smoky flavor that used to be the peculiar characteristic of the meat. I once asked a negro waiter why it was that he could not bring me just what I wanted, and he replied, 'Dey don' maik no mo' good ham sah,' and by George, I think he is right.

"I remember reading somewhere that they don't smoke and cure hams the same as they used to, by the legitimate means of cedar chips and New Orleans molasses, but that they use a lot of chemicals which turn pig into ham while you are saying Jack Robinson. I don't know whether that is so or not," concluded the old fashioned man, "but I do know that I do not seem able to get a slice of decently cooked, tender, full flavored, well smoked ham."

No, Never.

Physicians have never been able to prescribe any other emulsion of Cod-liver Oil which would bring as satisfactory results as Scott's Emulsion.

The reasons for this are the absolute purity of its components and the superior process of its manufacture. Nobody has ever been able to imitate it. Imitations are always inferior to the real thing.

Remember that Scott's Emulsion is the great food for wasting in adults and children.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2243 JAMES H. ECKELS,
Comptroller of the Currency.

$4 30

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,

Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.

Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets

E. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD

Hummer & Mulford,

VARIETY MARKET,

Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.

220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J

Telephone call, 29 A.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 11

You may have

Lost

many hours of comfort by not having worn

A

good reliable

Pair

of Collier's

Glasses.

103 Park ave. Established 1869.

W. K. McCLURE,

Counselor-at-Law.

SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.

First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's LAW OFFICES,

Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.

ADDIS & SON,

PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.

Have your plumbing system tested with the Smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.

Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.

Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,
307 Broadway, New York.
1 5 6m

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.

Marsh, Ayers & Co.,
141 East Front st.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 25 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.57 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo. Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.34 p.m—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago, and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00 9.06, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 05, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 07 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 34, 6 46, 6 47, 6 46, 7 07, 7 20, 7 40, 7 57, 8 06, 8 28, 8 52, 9 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 38, 10 42, 11 07, 11 45 a. m., 1 13, 1 23, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 45, 3 57, 5 47, 6 46, 6 15, 6 38, 6 46, 6 56, 6 27, 6 46, 6 58, 7 07, 7 26 7 59, 8 a. m., 9 10, 9 30, 10 03, 10 03 and 11 56 p. m. Sundays 3 02, 5 34, 7 54, 8 46, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 42 a. m., 12 38, 1 44, 3 22, 3 46, 5 46, 6 26, 5 34, 6 46, 7 05, 7 12, 7 25, 7 58, 8 30 9 16, 10 24, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 20 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 00, 6 07, 7 12, 7 05, 9 38, 11 46, a. m. 1 06, 1 37, 3 22, 5 06, 6 20 7 05, 8 42, 9 30 p. m. Sundays at 1 00, 6 20, 9 05, 9 38, 10 41 a. m., 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 p. m.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY—(2.25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 50 a. m.

Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.

For Rahway—1, 1 42 daily ex. Monday, 4 06, 6 44, 7 20, 7 50, 9 54, 9 46, 9 50, 10 50, 11 46, a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 1 37, 2 46, 3 20, 3 39, 5 39, 4 38, 4 53, 5 22, 5 46, 6, 6 06 6 12, 6 17, 6 27, 6 45, 6 52, 6 59, 7 20, 7 46, 9 14, 9 56, 9 54, 11 02 11 46 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days Sundays, 1, 1 43, 9 00, 9 45, 9 49, 10 26 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 2 47, 3 26, 4 50, 6 20, 6 46, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 9 14, 9 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 56 p. m.

For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 07, 7 10, 7 59, 9 05 9 56, 9 50, 11 46 a. m., 12 56, 1 37, 2 46, 3 20, 4 38, 5 04, 6 06, 6 46, 7 46, 9 09 and 11 03 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 52, 9 05, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 46, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.

For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59 a.m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 54 p.m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 26, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.

For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59, 12 46 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 56 9 54 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 26, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.

For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 26, 2 46 and 6 40 p. m., week-days.

For Trenton—1 00, 3 57, 7 10, 7 56, 9 05, 9 36, 11 46 A. M.; 1 06, 1 37, 2 46, 5 06, 6 52, 7 46, 9 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 6 52, 9 05, 9 36 10 41 A. M.; 5 40, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 09 A. M., 2.46 and 6.36 p. m., and 6.40 p. m. Sunday.

For Flemington—7 09 A. M.; 2 46 P. M.

For Freehold—7 09, 11 46 a. m., 4 36, 5 06 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.

For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 09 and 11 46 a. m., 4 36 and 5 06 p. m., week days.

For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 13 5 46 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 26 a. m., and 5 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.

For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p. m.

For Boston—5 46 p. m., daily.

For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.

Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 8 30, 7 20, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 30, 13 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 20, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 20, 6 40, 7 00, 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 30 p. m., 12 15 night. Sundays, 1 00 8 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00, 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10, 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7 20, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 20, 5, 5 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 5, and 7 30 p. m

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 10 a.m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m.

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.

Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.

HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.

(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.

A. E. WHITE, Manager.
1 9 tf Finderne, N. J.

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.
Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. G. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

JOHN P. EMMONS
—Mason and Builder.—
Washington avenue and Prospect place
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to 11 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.
E. B Gayle, No. 13 Vine St.
ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO
1-21-tf

GEO. W. STUDER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,
21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.
H. H. McCullough, Proprietor.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-11-1

C. W. LINES & CO.,
Mason and Builders.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence 18 Elm Place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to 12 28

Jno. J. Shotwell,
Wood Mantels,
Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.
221 Park Avenue, upstairs. 3 5 1

Central Railroad of New Jersey

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring clean linen and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 2 14, 8 27, 6 30, 6 08, 8 30, 9 10, 9 30, 9 50, 10 08, 8 15, 8 27, 8 51, 9 45, 9 02, 10 04, 10 11 15, A. M., 12 00, 1 16, 2 07, 2 30, 3 13, 3 50, 4 00, 4 50, 5 04, 7 09, 8 30, 9 32, 10 17, 11 02 P. M. Sunday—2 14, 3 27, 5 05, 6 01, 8 03, 10 05, 11 28 A. M., 12 30, 1 45, 5 30, 6 20, 8 56, 7 11, 8 30, 10 17 P. M.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street, 4 20, 6 00, 7 15, 8 40, 9 10, 10, 11 45, A. M., 1, 2 00, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4, 4 30, 5, 5 15, except Saturday, 5 30, 5 45, 6, 6 15, 6 30, 7, 7 30, 8, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30 P. M., 12 15, 1, night. Sunday—4 30, 7 15, 8 30, 9 15, 10 30, 11 30 P. M., 12 M., 1, 2 15, 4, 5 30, 7, 8 00, 10 00 P. M., 12 30 night. 1 A M.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 6 30, 8 20, 6 08, 7 20, 8 00, 8, 9 00, 9 22, 10 04, 10 27, A. M., 12 05, 1 15, 2 07, 2 30, 3 13, 3 50, 4 00, 4 50, 5 04, 6 54, 6 04, 7 09, 8 30, 9 32, 10 17, 11 02 P. M. Sunday—7 30, 8 45, 9 25, 11 00, 11 28 A. M., 1 15, 1 35, 2 20 Saturday only, 2 35, 3 05, 4 00, 4 40, 5 04, 6 54, 6 04, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 05, 10 05, 11 25 P. M. Sunday—7 30, 8 45, 9 25, 11 00, A. M., 1 10, 2 07, 6 10, 6 40, 7 20, 9 26, 10 20 P. M.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 04, 11 a.m., 12 02, 2 02, 3 22, 3 48, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 54, 6 04, 6 13, 6 38, 7 12, 8 23, 10 26, 11 23 P. M. 12 38 night Sunday—6 48, 9 04, A. M., 2 02, 3 28, 6 14, 6 36, 10 14, 11 14 P. M.

Leave Somerville, 6, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 35, 7 50, 8 20, 9 05, 9 45, 11 40 A. M., 12 50, 1 45, 3 05, 3 25, 4 25, 5 25, 6 25, 6 55, 7 05, 7 55, P. M. Sunday 8 25, 9 45, 10 55 A. M., 12 05, 1 20 5 05, 6 45, 8 05, 9 40, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 6 45, 8 16, 9 54, A.M., 12 45, 3 03, 5 14, 6 30, 8 21 P. M. Sunday—6 45, 8 16 A. M., 3 03, 6 30, P. M.

Leave Easton 6 05, 7 00, 8 50, A.M., 12 25, 4 04, 7 00 P. M. Sundays—7 15, 10 02, A. M., 5 40, 7 30, P. M.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 9 54, a. m., 5 05 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

6 45 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 04 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 45 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 06 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 06 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch.

5 14 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 33 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

9 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

8 45 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 26 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 2 06 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6.36 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 37 a. m. 1 16 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 8 37, 8, 10 37, a. m 1.16, 3 51, 5 54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 8 03, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 37, 8 03, 8 10 37 a. m., 1 16, 3 51, 4 50, 5.54, 7 03 p.m. Sunday—8 03, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 37, 8, 10 37 a.m., 1 16, 3 51, 4 50, p.m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 3 45, 6 45, 10 45, a. m., 2 00*, 5 24* 6 31, 8 37* p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—3 45, 8 45, a. m., 2 00*, 5 24*, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 3 45, 6 44, 8, 40*, 10 45, a. m., 12 05, 2 00*, 5 24*, 6 30*, 8 31, 9 37* p.m., 1 12 night, Sunday—3 45, 8 54, a. m., 2 00*, 5 14* 7 35 p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9 46, a. m., 2 00, 5 24* 6 45 p. m. 1 12, night. Sundays—9 46 a. m., 2 00, 5 14* 6 46 p.m. 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 24 p m. Sundays 5 14 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week-days at 9 54 a m., 8 22 p. m. Sundays 6 35 p. m

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA, Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 30, 9 50, 11 35 a.m., 1 20 3 20 5 15, 8 04, 9 25 p.m. 12 10, night. Sundays—4 10, 8 30, 9 50, 12 35 a. m., 3 50, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—3 55, 7 58, 9 21, 11 10, a. m. 3 30, 6 15, 9 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—3 55, 7 55, 12 19 p m, 3 30, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 05, 8 05, 10 25, a.m. 12 15*, 2 10, 4 20*, 5 54, 9 05 p.m. Sundays—1 00, 4 05, 9 05, 10 27 a. m. 1 15*, 4 22 5 45*, 9 05 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS
COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.
ESTABLISHED 1840.
Nearly 100,000 Now in Use.
RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO
EASY TERMS, — EXCHANGED.
Catalogue mailed on application.
110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N.Y.

MONEY LOANED.
Local Representatives Wanted.

Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. S. Robertson, President, 1128 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 3m

E. H. HOLMES.
DEALER IN
COAL and WOOD,
YARD—No. 720 Madison Avenue. Also
Office for coal orders, with Woolston & Runkle 145 North Avenue.

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price complete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5.00.

Gavett's

129 East Front street.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver.)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORETMIRESOPUBCFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts,
Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 3 26 1m

CLEANER COAL.

L. A. Rheaume, Ag't.

30 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.

Invites the public to inspect the operation of his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening.

UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL, in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.

ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.

He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same in the best manner and short notice.

H. A. STILES,

of Leech, Stiles & Co., the Philadelphia Eye Specialists, formerly with

QUEEN & CO. —OF— PHILADELPHIA, SEND THEIR EYE SPECIALIST TO PLAINFIELD

Every Thursday.

He will be found at

No. 107 East Front Street,

Dunham's Real Estate Office,

From 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 31. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Nazarite.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Num. vi, 1-8; Acts xviii, 18; Gal. v, 24.

The term Nazarite comes from a word meaning to separate. It was applied to those who, separating themselves in certain respects from other persons or denying themselves certain things, had made special consecration to God. They were to be "holy unto Jehovah," in a peculiar sense higher than even the priesthood. That separation and holiness came from bodily descent, but the Nazarite's was by personal consecration.

Three items were marked in this separation. First was total abstinence from all wine and every product of the vine; second, he was not to touch or come near any dead body, even of the nearest relative; thirdly, the hair was to be allowed to grow during the period of the vow. There were perpetual or lifelong Nazarites as well as those for a limited period. Such were Samson, Samuel and John the Baptist.

At the expiration of the vow the head was shaved and the hair brought to the temple to be burned in the fire which cooked the flesh of the peace offering. Sacrifices were to be offered for a burnt offering, a sin offering and peace offerings.

The custom of vowing fell into gross abuse among the Israelites before the time of Christ and drew from some severe rebukes.

The spirit of Christ is that of absolute consecration of all powers and possessions for God's service and the continual repression of all evil tendencies of mind, spirit and body and cultivation of all virtues. Christians are to be perpetual Nazarites in a very deep and broad sense, separated from the world in its spirit and lusts and devoted wholly to God.

The General Secretary.

Dr. E. A. Schell, the general secretary of the Epworth League, was elected to the office in November, 1892. A young man of fine presence, with versatile talents, deep and genuine devotion to God and abundant energy, he has won for himself a high place in the affection and confidence of the church and League. He has traveled extensively through the country and spoken at many conventions, keeping in touch with the work of the society as well as directing affairs from the office.

REV. EDWIN A. SCHELL.

Extension.

During the year 1894, in May, the Methodist Episcopal Church South perfected its league organization, but little different in form from that of our own church. Its organ is The Epworth Era, published at Nashville, with Dr. S. A. Steel, the general secretary, as editor. It is one of the ablest in matter and most attractive in mechanical makeup of the young people's papers of the land.

In September, 1894, the Methodist church of Canada adopted the League and arranged for the appointment of a secretary. The name of its paper is Onward. Dr. W. H. Witheow is editor, and it is published in Toronto.

The Wesleyans of England are considering the matter and will doubtless very soon swing into line. The time is near at hand when the League will girdle the globe.

The Saloon.

Dr. Gilbert of Cleveland well says: "Against it is nature with her inviolable laws. Against it is society with all its prophecies of future progress. Against it is humanity with its vast destinies. Against it is man with his physical, mental and moral constitution. Against it is woman with all her love and tenderness. Against it is home with all its sanctities. Against it is the nation with all its grand traditions and hopes for coming years. Against it is heaven with its righteousness. Against it is God with all his holiness. The saloon must go!"

Help Put It Out.

O ye who love the portals of home more than the lintels of the saloon, the laughter of children more than the hiccough of the drunkard, the desk of the schoolhouse more than the vat of the brewery, the church of God more than the synagogue of satan, the chime of Sabbath bells more than the clink of whisky glasses, the stripes upon your country's flag more than the coil of the still, look about you at this leering monster whose drink is the blood of men and the tears of women, and then, like St. George with the dragon, strike home!

A New Literature.

John Wesley found the common people destitute of books in all departments of literature. He wrote, translated, printed, published and circulated good books and created a new literature. He originated the modern cheap book movement. The needs of the young people are awakening attention, and a new literature is springing up which gives promise of golden fruitage. No one need now be ignorant or read trash. Let the literary department be enthused with new life, and it will aid all others.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 31. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Christ's yoke.—Math. xi, 28-30; John xiv, 14, 15.

A yoke represents a burden, and we are all born under or willingly take on some kind of a yoke. We are all carrying some kind of a load or burden. The Jews to whom Christ spoke the words in Math. xi, 28-30, were under the burden or yoke of the law. But a hard yoke it was. It required much of them, but gave them no strength or assistance in their burden bearing. Christ, therefore, called upon them to give up the yoke of the law, to become His disciples and to take His yoke upon them. To all wearing yokes, whether the yoke of the law, the yoke of pride, of sensuality, of worldliness, of ambition or self indulgence, Christ comes with the same request to give up these yokes and take His yoke upon them.

Christ's yoke is obedience to His commandments. He does not try to allure us into discipleship by telling us that as Christians we shall have no burdens to bear. Indeed Christ is very careful always to guard against such a false impression. He founded His kingdom upon a cross. He said, "If any man will come after Me, let him take up his cross and follow Me." He urged those to whom He appealed to become His disciples to count the cost before they did so, because it might be necessary as His followers to suffer much in the world. Christians have burdens to bear and yokes to wear as well as those who are not Christians, but with this difference: Christ's yoke is easy, and the others are not.

Christ's yoke is easy. This is Christ's own testimony. "My yoke is easy, and My burden is light." The Christian's yoke is easy because Christ helps him to wear it. He gives him strength and grace to obey His commandments. The yoke is often a cross, and yet it is light, for Christ Himself always bears the heavier end of it, as He did on the way to Golgotha, when Simon was compelled to assist Him. Christ's yoke is easy because it is a labor of love. Love lightens burdens always. To obey those we love, to bear burdens for them is a pleasure. It is not a hardship or a difficulty, be the burden ever so heavy or the way ever so long. Christ's yoke is easy, too, in the light of what it brings to us. No cross, no crown. It is through tribulation that we win heaven. It is through the light afflictions of the present that we obtain glory hereafter. Christ's yoke is indeed "like the plumage of the bird, an easy weight, enabling it to soar heavenward."

Wearing the yoke of Christ is the test of our love to Him. "If ye love Me, keep My commandments" (John xiv, 15). Obedience is, therefore, the test of love. Let us, therefore, obey His commandments, let us take His yoke upon us that we may prove our love to Him who first loved us.

Bible Readings.—Deut. vi, 2; x, 12, 13; Eccl. xii, 13, 14; Isa. ix, 2-4; x, 27; Ps. xix, 8-10; cxix, 127, 143; Mark ix, 41; Gal. vi, 9; Eph. vi, 2, 3; Phil. iv, 3, 4; Heb. xii, 1, 2; I John v, 3, 4; II John vi; Rev. ii, 10; vii, 13-17.

Memorial For Rev. Dr. Gordon.

At the first meeting after the death of their beloved pastor, Rev. A. J. Gordon, D. D., his Christian Endeavor society decided, upon the recommendation of their foreign missionary committee—for the society has two missionary committees, home and foreign—to attempt to raise $200 as the nucleus of a special memorial fund to Dr. Gordon. This was to be in addition to the $600 already pledged for the support of their missionaries. None but the young people was present in the room, and yet at once more than $400 was raised for this purpose. A debt of $200,000 rests heavily upon the American Baptist Missionary union. It is the splendid purpose of these Endeavorers of the Clarendon Street Baptist church of Boston to arouse the Baptist young people of the land to pay off this debt. They hope their $425, which will doubtless soon become $500, will be added to by every Baptist young people's society in the United States, in proportion as God has blessed the members. In no better way could they honor the memory of the noble Christian minister and missionary worker who has gone. It is not too much to hope that with the earnest and prompt co-operation of all Baptist young people even so large a sum as $200,000 can speedily be raised. Were all the societies to do only a tenth as well as Dr. Gordon's Endeavorers, the task would be accomplished.

New York City Churches.

According to latest returns, there are in the city of New York 522 churches, of all denominations. These afford a seating capacity of 400,000. The most numerous churches are Episcopalian with 103 church edifices. Then come the Roman Catholics with 84; the Presbyterians follow with 70; the Methodists have 65 and the Baptists 50; the Jews have 46, and the Congregationalists only 7. The Roman Catholics have increased the most rapidly during the last 20 years, having more than doubled in that time. But only a small part of the inhabitants of the city attend church at all.—Journal and Messenger.

Tripping Into Town.

A little lass with golden hair,
A little lass with brown,
A little lass with raven locks,
Went tripping into town.
"I like the golden hair the best,"
"And I prefer the brown,"
"And I the black," three sparrows said,
Three sparrows of the town.

"Tu-whit, tu-whoo!" an old owl cried
From the belfry in the town.
"Glad hearted lassies need not mind
If locks be gold, black, brown.
Tu-whit, tu-whoo, so fast, so fast,
The sands of life run down!

"And soon—so soon—three white haired dames
Will totter through the town.
Gone then for aye the raven locks,
The golden hair, the brown.
And she will fairest be whose face
Has never worn a frown."

—Selected.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY

WITH EVERY ONE POUND bale OF

DUKES MIXTURE

for 35 cents

Every pipe stamped DUKES MIXTURE or ATC

2 oz. PACKAGES 5¢

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

BEE HIVE

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½

Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.

Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.

We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,

222 West Front st

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St., NEW YORK.

$3 per day and up. American Plan.

Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.

The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.

H. M. CLARK, Prop.

Passenger elevator runs all night.

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.

Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.

5-13-1

CITY HOTEL.

Plainfield, N. J.

COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET.

J. R. BERRDOWER, Proprietor.

With stables attached. 453

Central Employment Office

213 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 2m

REMOVAL.

I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to

142 North Avenue

Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.

CALEB DICKINSON

L. PAOLI & CO.,

Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Segars, Etc.,

128 NORTH AVENUE,

FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,

10 CENTS A QUART.

"I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

IF YOU WANT

ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c.
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER V.

When three of the clock chimed from the belfries of St. Mark she awaited him alone in her favorite room, clothed in white with a knot of tea-roses at her breast; she was full of gladness; she looked at herself in the many mirrors and saw that she was as fair as the fair June day.

"How beautiful our lives will be!" she thought. "Poor little dead child! It was his little hands joined ours. Perhaps he is an angel of God now, and will be always with us!"

She heard the swish of oars at the the water-stairs below; she heard steps ascending those stairs; she heard the voice of her head servant speaking. It was he! She put her hand to her heart; it beat so wildly that the leaves of the roses fell; she crossed herself and murmured a prayer; such happiness seemed to merit gratitude.

Through the vista of the ante-chambers came the figure of a man. But it was not that of Andreis."

Damer came up to her with his calm, expressionless face, his intent eyes, his hair of authority and of indifference.

"You expected the Prince Andreis," he said to her. "I regret to tell you, madame, that he is unable to keep his appointment with you. He has taken the disease of which that child on the barge died this morning. He has what the vulgar call diphtheria."

Andreis lay in the large salon where they had dined together in the evening after finding the opnal necklace. Damer had caused a bed to be taken into it and placed in the center of the room, as affording more air from the four large windows than was to be obtained from the inner bedchamber adjoining. He did not give the true name to the disease in speaking to the people of the hotel; he spoke merely of cold and fever from a plunge in the hot noonday into foul canal water; on the local doctor, whom he paid the compliment of calling in, he enjoined the same reserve.

"The prince is very rich," he said, "he will pay for any loss which may be incurred, any renewal of furniture and of draperies."

From Andreis he did not conceal the truth.

Indeed, Andreis himself said, in a hoarse, faint voice: "I have the disease which the child had. Cure me if you can, for—"

He did not add why life was more than ever beautiful to him, but the tears rose into his eyes; the other understood what remained unspoken.

When three in the afternoon sounded from the clock-tower on the south side of the hotel he raised his head, and, with a despairing gesture, said to Damer: "She expects me. Go and explain to her; say I am ill. Tell her I would get up and keep my tryst if I died at her feet, but I fear—I fear—the contagion—for her."

"Lie where you are, and you will probably be well in a few days," said Damer. "I will leave Stefanio with you and take your message. I shall soon return. Meanwhile your man knows what to do."

Stefanio was the valet.

The eyes of Andreis followed him from the room with longing and anguish. He was not yet so ill that the apathy of extreme illness dulled his desires and stilled his regrets. Both were intense as life still was intense in him. He would have risen and dragged himself to the Ca' Laranigra; but as he had said he feared the infection for her which would be in his voice, in his touch, in his breath, in his mere presence.

"She loves me, she loves me," he thought, and he like a coward, like a knave, must be untrue to the first meeting she had promised him!

"Why is it," he thought, as the tears welled up under his closed eyelids, "that our better, kinder impulses always cost us so much more heavily than all our egotisms and all our vices?"

If he had left the little child underneath the barge to drown, would it not have been better even for the child? The little thing had only suffered some eighteen hours longer through his rescue.

"What did you tell her?" he asked, breathlessly, when Damer at last returned.

"I told her the truth," replied Damer, as he placed the thermometer under the sick man's armpit. "You have worried and fretted; your fever has increased."

"What did she say? She is not angry—offended?"

"Who can be so at the misfortune of disease? Of course she knows that you have incurred this misfortune through your own folly."

"Did she say so?"

"No; I am not aware that she said so. But she no doubt thought it. She bade me tell you not to agitate yourself."

"Was that all?"

"She added—for her sake," said Damer, with a cold, slight smile. He was truthful in what he repeated; he scorned vulgar methods of misrepresentation and betrayal. The heavy eyes of Andreis gleamed and lightened with joy.

"Thanks," he said softly, and his hot hand pressed that of his friend.

"I will write to her," he added. "You can disinfect a note?"

"Yes. But do not exert yourself. Try to sleep."

He crossed the room and closed the green wooden blinds; he gave an order to Stefanio, and dipped his hands in a disinfecting fluid; then he sat down and took up a book. But he could not read. He saw before him that blanched, frightened face, which a little while before had been raised to his as the voice of Veronica had cried to him: "Save him! You will save him? You have so much knowledge, so much power. You will save him for my sake!"

He had promised her nothing; he had only said briefly, in the language of people who were fools, that the issue of life and of death was in the hands of Deity. He had promised her nothing; in his own way he was sincere. Up to that time he had done everything which science and experience could suggest to combat the disease.

He called in a second medical man of the town and two sisters of charity to replace Stefanio, who grew alarmed for his own safety and would no longer approach the bed.

"Send for my mother," said Andreis, in his choked voice.

"Certainly," answered his friend; but Damer telegraphed only to the Andreis' palace in Palermo, and he knew that it was unlikely she would be in that city in the summer heats of the end of June.

It might be forwarded or it might not; Italian households are careless in such matters.

The disease which had fastened on Andreis was not one which waits. But when he murmured once and again. "Send for my mother!" Damer could, with a clear conscience, reply: "I have telegraphed."

The day wore into night, and the night waned into dawn. All the animation of Venetian life began again to awake with the whirr of the pigeons taking their sunrise flight from dome and cupola and pinnacle and gutter. To the sisters of charity their patient seemed better; to the surgeons of the city also; Damer said nothing.

Andreis drew his pencil and paper to him and wrote feebly: "Veronica?"

Damer read the name.

"She came to see you an hour or two ago," he answered. "But I could not allow it. Your illness is infectious."

He spoke in his usual brief, calm, indifferent manner. Andreis sighed, but it was a sigh of content; he was half asleep; he turned on his pillows and drew the little note which he had hidden under them once more against his cheek.

"He will sleep himself well," said the nun.

"Let us hope so," replied Damer; but she heard from his tone that he did not share her belief.

It was now eleven o'clock.

"Go and rest," he said to her. "You need it. I and his servant will watch to-night. If there be any necessity I will summon you."

"Will his mother soon be here?

"WILL HIS MOTHER SOON BE HERE?"

asked the sister, whose heart was tender.

"I believe so," replied Damer.

He lit a candle and approached the bed. Andreis smiled faintly. He could not speak.

"Let me see your throat," said Damer.

He saw that the nun had spoken truly; the fungus growth was wasting, the false membrane was shrinking; there was a healthier look on the tongue. He set the lamp down and said nothing.

"Is he not better?" said the sister, anxiously.

"Perhaps," he replied. "If there be no re-formation of the false membrane he may be saved. Go, my good woman, and rest while you can."

She went, nothing loth, to her supper and her bed. Damer was alone with the man who trusted him and whose mother trusted him.

"Man cannot control circumstances," he thought, "but the wise man can assist circumstances, the fool does not."

Once it had suited him to save that young man's life; now it suited him to end it.

One action was as wrong or as righteous as the other. It was an exercise of power, as when the monarch grants an amnesty or signs a death warrant. Who blames the monarch who does but use his power? The prerogative of superior reason is higher than the prerogative of a monarch

His professional conscience would have shrunk from giving the disease, but it did not shrink from making death certain where it was merely possible. He did but add a stronger poison to that which nature had already poisoned.

Men slew their rivals in duels and no one blamed them; who should blame him because he used the finer weapon of science instead of the coarser weapon of steel? He did but carry out the doctrine of the laboratory to its just and logical sequence.

What he felt for Veronica was not love, but passion, and not passion alone, but the sense of dominion. He knew that the fair creature shrank from him, but submitted to him. All the intense instinctive tyranny of his nature longed to exercise itself on her, the beautiful and patrician thing, so far above him, so fragile and so fair. He knew that he would never possess her or command her except through fear; but this would suffice to him. The finer and more delicate elements of love were indifferent to him, were, indeed, unknown. They had existed in Andreis, whom he had despised; but in his own temperament they could find no dwelling-place.

Late at night and early at dawn messengers came from the Ca' Laranigra. Damer replied to all inquiries: "It is impossible to say what turn the disease may take."

Andreis had written at intervals various penciled notes to her; indistinct, feebly scrawled, but still coherent. He pointed to each when it was written and looked at his friend with supplicating eyes. He could not speak, for the false membrane filled his throat. Damer had taken each note.

"To Countess Laranigra?" he had asked.

Andreis gave mute assent. Damer had carried each note to the next room, read it, then disinfected it, then sent it to its destination. He was of too proud a temper to use the usual small arts of the traitor.

Once she wrote in reply.

"I cannot see, my eyes are too weak," Andreis scrawled on a scrap of paper. "Read it to me."

Damer opened and read it aloud. It was short, timid, simple, but a deep love and an intense anxiety spoke in it. Andreis took it and laid his cheek on it with a smile of ineffable peace. It seemed to give him firmer hold on life.

Damer sat by the bedside and watched him.

He believed that he would recover.

Andreis slept, his cheek on the little letter, as a child falls to sleep with a favorite toy on its pillow.

In the dark Damer was told that a lady who was below in her gondola desired to see him. He descended the stairs prepared to find Veronica Laranigra. She was veiled; he could not see her features, but he knew her by the turn of her head, the shape of her hand, before she spoke.

"You come for news of the prince?" he said, coldly and harshly. "I can give you none. The disease is always uncertain and deceptive."

"Let me see him! oh, let me see him!" she murmured. "I came for

"LET ME SEE HIM! OH! LET ME SEE HIM!"

that. No matter what they say. No matter what danger there be. Only let me see him!"

"That is wholly impossible," replied Damer, in an unchanged tone. "Why do you come on such errands?"

"Who should see him if not I? Who are you that you should keep me from him?"

"I am a man of science whose duty it is to protect you from yourself. Go home, madame, and pray for your betrothed. That is all that you can do."

"Why does she love him?" thought Damer. "Like to like. Fool to fool. Flower to flower!"

From his soul he despised her, poor, lovely, mindless, childlike creature! But her voice turned his blood to flame; the sound of her weeping deepened his scorn to hate; the touch of her ungloved hand was ecstasy and agony in one. He loved her with furious, brutal, unsparing passion, like lava under the ice of his self-restraint. He stood in the twilight and looked after the black shape of the gondola.

"He shall never be yours," he said in his heart. "Never—never—never! unless I die instead of him to-night."

[TO BE CONCLUDED.]

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church. First-class livery attached. Telephone 153. 11 26 y

ELY'S Cream Balm CATARRH

Is quickly absorbed. Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation. Heals the Sores, Protects the Membrane from Additional Cold. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

COLD IN HEAD

IT WILL CURE. A particle is applied into each nostril and is a greeable. Price 50c, at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren st., New York.

BAMBERGER'S

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in

Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts

will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are, they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes

in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons,

$1.98 to $27.50

NEW

Spring Jackets

in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from

$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from

49c to $7.50

NEW

Separate Skirts

of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles, lined and interlined, from

$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS

The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from

98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND

House Dresses

Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from

44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J.

Why Pay $5.00 for Flour

when you can get a good barrel for $3.75 at

J. F. MacDonald's, 186 E. Front St.

All goods of the finest quality and guaranteed.

N. O. molasses	35c	2 quarts Cal. limas	25c
Fine butter	22c	4 cans corn	25c
5 pounds raisins	25c	3 cans ex. fine tomatoes	25c
3 pounds fr prunes	25c	3 cans E. J. peas	25c
2 pounds dry peaches	25c	2 cans peaches	25c
2 pounds evaporated apricots	25c	2 cans apricots	25c
4 pounds rice	25c	2 cans salmon	25c
3 quarts beans	25c	3 cans string beans	25c

THE CZAR,

The Handsomest Wheel Ever Produced.

HIGHEST GRADE MADE.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue

TRUNKS.

New stock in today. Any trunks left over from last year go at cost.

We have re-tagged them. You see old price and new; good trunks they are, too—mostly big sellers. Prices $2.50 to $10.50. Quick if you want one.

Front street, opp Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

Hallock

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

A CLEAN WASH! SOAP, SOAP.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW

only hope that you will embrace this opportunity and purchase an elegant box containing three cakes of fine toilet soap for 10c.

Lavender Salts, bottle	25c.
Royal Talcum Powder, box	10c.
Lajons Tooth Powder, box	18c.
Box of O. C. O. Complexion Powder and bottle of Perfume, special	10c.
Extra quality ½ hose, 15c. pair, 2 for	25c.
Men's medium weight underwear	39c.

Warner Bro's. Thompson's "Glove Fitting" CORSETS.

HEATH & DRAKE

Grand Opening

New Spring

CARPETS!

on

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY

March 27 and 28,

at which time we will have on exhibition the choicest and most exclusive line of Carpets ever exhibited in this State.

Royal Wilton from $1 50 up.
Axminster from $1 yd up.
Body Brussels from 90c yd up.
Tapestry Brussels from 60c yd up.
Ingrain carpets from 40c yd up.
Linoleums from 50c yd up.
Oilcloth from 25c yd up.
Mattings from $3 75 per roll.

Splendid new line of Rugs, Art Squares, etc., at moderate prices.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend this opening and inspect the goods, whether they want to purchase or not.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET, Newark, N. J.

SPRING MILLINERY DISPLAY,

Wednesday, March 27, of all the latest novelties in Hats, Bonnets, Dutch Bonnets, Napoleon and 20th Century Turbans, Flowers, Ribbons, and all the accessories in Trimmings that complete the newest styles.

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., under First National Bank

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street, Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

Telephone Rates

IN PLAINFIELD.

$40, $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue Plainfield.

3 22 2w-c 2

Corporation Notice.

The undersigned commissioners heretofore appointed by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield to make an estimate and assessment of damages that any owner or owners of land will sustain by the widening and laying out of Madison avenue from the Southeasterly side line of West Front street to the Northwesterly line of the right of way of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, pursuant to the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to widen Madison avenue from the Southeasterly side line of West Front street to the Northwesterly line of the right of way of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey," approved June 5th, 1893, and also to ascertain the amount of damages that shall be assessed as aforesaid and of all necessary expenses incident to such widening and laying out, and to make a just and equitable assessment thereof among the owners and occupants of the lands, tenements and real estate benefited thereby in proportion to the benefits each shall be deemed to acquire, said assessment to be made pursuant to the valid laws now in force in the State of New Jersey governing such assessments, any unconstitutional provisions of the City Charter to the contrary notwithstanding, hereby give notice that they have this day filed their report and assessment in the office of the City Clerk and that the same is open to inspection of the public and will be presented to the Common Council at the meeting of that body to be held at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, on Monday the first day of April, eighteen hundred and ninety five, at eight o'clock P. M.

Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March 20th, 1895.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,
WM. M. SANDFORD,
J. FRED MAC DONALD,
Commissioners.
3 21 2-c th

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

THOUGHT THE BUILDING ON FIRE.

But the Smoke Was Only Caused by a Back Draft.

A great flurry of excitement was caused at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in their quarters in the Crescent building on the corner of Watchung avenue and East Fourth street, when in the midst of the session the rooms commenced to fill with suffocating smoke. The women rushed out and a still alarm to the fire department was sent over the telephone from Tunison's feed store, and Chief Doane sent No. 2's hose wagon in answer to the call.

By the time the firemen arrived the tenants came down from the flats saying that their rooms were full of smoke, and for a few minutes every body thought the mammoth building would soon be in flames. After considerable investigation the smoke was found to be coming from the boiler room in the cellar, caused by a back draft in the furnace, which fireman George Frazee had a few minutes before filled with pine wood.

The smoke finally disappeared and quiet reigned on the block.

This, a Good Programme.

The following admirable programme has been arranged for the musicale to be given by the Charity Circle of King's Daughters, in the Casino, Monday evening, April 1:

PART I.

Song—Old English.....Purcell
Oscar Franklin Comstock.

Piano—
a. Album Blatter. } Schumann
b. Romanza. }
Mrs. Lewis Sayre Burchard.

Songs of Life—
a. Cradle song.....Wagner
b. Child's song.....Nevin
c. I love thee.....Grieg
d. O come my bride.....Grieg
e. When the heart is old...Buck
Mrs. Wm. Burger Boorum.

Violin—Spanish Dance.....Sarasate
Miss Bertha S. Bucklin.

PART II.

Piano—
a. Etude Mignonne.....Schutt
b. Hungarian Dance.....Brahms
Mrs. Burchard.

Song—Die Loreiei.....Liszt
Mrs. Boorum.

Violin—
a. Cradle song.....Grieg
b. Spinning song.....Hollander
c. Kuyaviak.....Wieniowski
Miss Bucklin.

Songs—
a. Ideale..... } Tosti
b. Serenata..... }

Song—Spring Flowers.....Reinecke
Mrs. Boorum.
With violin obligato by Miss Bucklin.

Tickets, $1, are on sale at Randolph's and Reynolds's pharmacies, and Estil's bookstore.

Entre Nous Whist Club.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McClintock of East Fifth street entertained the Entre Nous Whist Club last evening at their bright and cosy home.

There were three tables to enjoy the game progressively, and the scores made were the highest yet. The playing ceased at 11, when all partook of ice-cream, cake and coffee, charmingly served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Coddington.

Before breaking up, a recitation by Mrs. Waldorf, and a vocal solo by Mr. Cutter, were greatly enjoyed.

The first prize, a handsome crystal vase and silver-mounted cane, were captured by Mr. and Mrs. Will Williams, the consolation prizes falling to Mrs. M. E. McClintock and Mr. Cutter.

Those present included Mr and Mrs J E McClintock, Mr and Mrs Waldorf, Judge and Mrs Coddington, Mr and Mrs Fred S Cutter, Mr and Mrs Armstrong Mulford, and Mr and Mrs Will Williams.

A Battle at Whist.

The Philadelphia Whist Club will arrive here tomorrow afternoon at 1 from the City of Brotherly Love, and will be be met by the whist players of the Park Club, with whom they are to play for the American championship trophy, and taken to the clubhouse of the Union County Country Club, where a lunch will be served. After the lunch the games will be commenced, which will probably be one of the most scientific contests at whist that has ever taken place.

Preparing for Church Membership.

The following confirmation class will be examined by Rev. Edward Kionka in St. Peter's Church on Grove street next Sunday: Martha Borsum, Lena Meyer, Auguste Yaeger, Freda Fickle, Lena Fickle, Oscar Schmitt, of Plainfield; Bertha Glutas and Fritz Klopf of Scotch Plains; Emil Porst of Westfield.

Can Ride as Well as Play.

Mr. Lindsay, who is distinguished for his act of playing musical instruments with his mouth, hands and feet all at the same time, gave a free exhibition of fancy bicycle riding in front of The Daily Press office yesterday afternoon.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

PLAINFIELD'S YOUNG SAMSONS.

They Give a Show of Their Strength and Agility in the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium.

The first public exhibition of the evening class at the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium took place last evening, under the direction of Physical Director D. A. MacPhie.

Fifty young men were in the class, and the work accomplished was exceedingly meritorious.

The exhibition was made the occasion of a reception to the clerks of the city, and a committee headed by Wm. Oliver, Charles Belknap, and John A. Powlison, received all visitors and made everyone welcome to the handsome home for Plainfield's young men.

The gallery and running track were filled with admirers of athletics who watched with considerable interest the different branches of work.

The class first marched into the Gymnasium in thorough military style, and were given a drill with the dumb-bells. In this much proficiency was shown, their precision and accuracy being a marked feature.

Director MacPhie then divided the class into three sections. The horizontal and parallel bars, the vaulting horse, and the buck were used; and the way in which the young men performed their different parts brought forth the admiration and applause of the visitors.

It is hard to specify any particular feature of the exhibition, for there was a marked uniformity of excellence, and Director MacPhie certainly deserves much praise for his earnest and thorough work, and for the carefulness that is a characteristic of this department.

That the members have developed along the lines of physical culture was clearly perceptible, and their manner clearly evidenced excellent deportment and a willingness to do the very best.

At the close of the gymnasium work, a very exciting tug-of-war took place. The first pull was a tie, and the last two were won by Raymond McGee's team. As will be seen by the following, there was only two pounds difference in the weight of the two teams. The winning side was accorded loud applause by their admirers. The tug-of-war teams:

	Weight, lbs.
Raymond McGee	160
R. M. Davis	161
J. G. McLaughlin	156
A. V. Scaring, Jr.	145
J. J. Brower	144
Bert Tallamy	155
H. Williams	145
Geo. Sterling	144
Chas. Dupee	143
Thos. Cumming	145
	1448

	Weight, lbs.
Herbert Overbaugh	169
A. R. Sampson	167
J. H. Case	151
Edwin Cook	145
W. G. McClure	144
V. H. Schuyler	145
J. M. Lewis	144
Frank Hyde	143
H. C. Wyckoff	140
J. N. Burns	146
	1436

Mr. MacPhie in conclusion thanked all for their interest in attending the exhibition, and invited all to inspect the Gymnasium.

WHY HE IS AN AUXILIARY.

Dr. Richards States His Position Towards the Salvation Army.

In the April number of The Conqueror, a monthly magazine devoted to the Salvation Army, Rev. Dr. Wm. R. Richards of Plainfield's Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church contributes an interesting and an able article under the caption of "Why I am an Auxiliary". He believes in the Army work, and lends what aid he can, because they undertake a skirmishing work which is of great importance, and which, for the present, the regular church battallions do not undertake. He writes that there is one matter in the management of the Army about which, personally, he has never concealed his anxiety, and that is their attitude towards the sacraments appointed by the Lord. Their spirit, he says, has been an inspiration, their success a joy, and their practical wisdom a lesson to him.

Ho for Asbury Park.

David Bodine, C. I. Young, T. A. Kurzhals, Jr., H. M. Cooke, and Firman Long were appointed a committee at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., last evening, to arrange for an excursion of the Council to Asbury Park this Summer. There were two propositions for membership, and the Orient degree was worked on two members.

—The Daughters of Liberty will be instituted Tuesday evening, April 9, in Red Men's Hall. A dance and collation will follow the ceremonies.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

MUSIC AND TABLEAUX.

Delightful Evening of Pleasure at the German Reformed Church.

English and German were used in the entertainment given by the Sunday-school of the German Reformed Church last evening, in the church on Craig place. The room was crowded, and all present were thoroughly satisfied that they had received more than the worth of their money.

The entertainment opened with an organ solo by M. Schweder, which was followed by an English dialogue, "Uncle Rapsay". Those taking part were Miss Kreitling, Miss Sadie Blimm, Miss Freda Sutterlin, Miss Anna Doeringa and August Wolf. The roles were well acted, and called forth vigorous applause.

Next on the programme was a German recitation by Mr. Schoettlin, and Miss Charlotte Happy recited "The Inventor's Wife". A vocal solo was artistically rendered by Miss Kreitling, after which another German recitation was given by H. Klinsmann. Miss Happy gave another recitation in her usual excellent manner, and after a selection on the organ by Mr. Schweder the most important part of the programme commenced. This was a German play whose title translated is "He is not jealous". The acting in this was excellent, and was much enjoyed. Those taking part were Miss Freda Sutterlin, August Wolf, Howard Postler and Mr. Schoettlin.

Following this came a number of tableaux, the effect of which was heightened by colored fire. The first one was "Adam and Eve" in miniature, represented by Miss Florence Wolf and Willie Vanderweg. "In Love" was the next, and no one in the audience blamed Fred Bach for losing his heart to Miss Josie Fritz, who certainly looked very pretty. The "Last Souvenir" was represented by Miss Bertha Elemann. The closing and most effective of all was "The Guardian Angel", given by Miss Josie Fritz and Miss Florence Wolf.

The management of the affair certainly deserve great credit for the successful way in which everything was arranged.

THE DEADLY MICROBE.

A Plainfield Lecturer Explains Bacteria and Makes a Prediction.

A thorough acquaintance with his subject of "Bacteria and their work in the world" enabled Stephen A. Krom to deliver a highly instructive lecture to his audience in All Souls Church last night. Though the study of bacteria is but little understood by those outside of the medical profession, Mr. Krom's conversation and manner of explaining points were so lucid that his hearers gained a very clear conception of this portion of scientific study.

He said that the discovery of the microbe dispelled many false theories as to heterogeneousness, and put a quietus on the argument of spontaneous generations. In physical life the microbe had become an important factor in assisting nature in performing its functions and reaching its natural consequences. Without some species of bacteria,—he said,—society could not exist, though there were some death-dealing species, and it was this latter class that the medical profession were endeavoring by scientific discoveries and processes to prevent from afflicting the human race. The detection of a bacteria which was the cause of influenza, he considered to be one of the accomplishments which had been brought about by centurier of study and experiment.

In closing, he spoke of the tubercules of consumption, which found victims mainly through the carelessness of those already afflicted. Innoculation of this deadly bacteria could only be prevented, Mr. Krom stated, by the enactment of laws regulating the expectoration of infected mucous and larynx secretions. It is only a matter of time,—he predicted,—when all churches will use individual communion cups to avoid this contamination.

How They Earned Their Dollars.

An experience social will be given by the women of the Scotch Plains Public Library in the chapel of the Baptist Church Saturday evening. The admission will be 10 cents, and it will be worth that much to hear the women tell how each earned a dollar. Besides there will be a programme of vocal and instrumental music.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it," Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

THE TROLLEY COMING.

Fanwood Township Adopts the Ordinance.

COMPANY'S ACCEPTANCE AWAITED.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Limit the Franchise to 50 Years—Old Feltville Road to Be Opened.

The Fanwood Township Committee met at the rooms in Excelsior Hall last evening to consider the trolley matter. Chairman Terry called the meeting to order. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and on motion the trolley ordinance was taken up and gone through in sections by the Committee and Mr. Gaddis, the representative of the trolley company. Few changes were made, as the Committee had been over the ordinance at their previous meeting. The Town Committee wished to place a limit of 50 years on the ordinance. Mr. Gaddis objected to having the limit placed. He said the power to do so lay with the Committee, but he hoped they would not put it in the ordinance.

Mr. Gaddis objected to the section relating to the right of way at crossings, the ordinance reading "The public shall have the first right of way at crossings, whether on foot, horseback or in vehicle". The Committee would not change the section as it served as a protection to the public using the crossings. Mr. Gaddis made several other objections during the reading, but the objections were overruled by the Committee. After the reading of the ordinance Mr. Nichol asked Mr. Gaddis if the ordinance as read, (if passed), would be accepted by the company. He said he could not say, as they submitted all ordinances before accepting, to legal advice. He wished the committee would reconsider the 50-year limit in the ordinance, as it would hurt the company if they wished to put a mortgage on their franchises. Mr. Nichol moved that the clause be stricken out of the ordinance, and the motion was carried.

Mr. Nichol then moved that the ordinance as read be passed. The motion was carried unanimously, and Mr. Gaddis was given a copy to present to the legal advicer of the company for his approval.

When this is secured, a long fought battle will have been ended with Scotch Plains on top, with a good strong ordinance protecting the township and public in every way. The Committee deserve a great deal of praise for the stand they have taken in the matter from beginning to end.

The petition for opening the old Feltville road was taken up. Mr. Miller moved that the Committee employ surveyors to survey and open up the road. His motion was carried.

Bills were read and ordered paid, the treasurer's report was read and accepted, and the Committee adjourned.

DEATH OF ABRAHAM C. CORIELL.

He Was a Member of the Legislature in 1866 and 67.

The death occurred at his homestead in Greenbrook, at 11:30 last night, of Abraham C. Coriell. He would have completed his 76th year June 27, 1895.

Abraham C. Coriell was born at the old homestead near the present Dunellen station. The house in which he was born was moved to Front street when the station was built, and is now occupied by W. S. Stevens. He lived where he died, the past 18 or 20 years, and of late Jonathan Doty had farmed the place for him, and he and Mrs. Doty faithfully cared for him.

Four years ago Mr. Coriell had a stroke of paralysis, and had been unwell ever since, though able to be about. Another stroke came last night, and he was found helpless in his bed Saturday morning.

Mr. Coriell never married. He was always a strong Democrat, and served the State as a member of Assembly in 1866 and '67. He was a brother of W. McD. Coriell of Clinton avenue.

Rev. Mr. Martine will conduct the funeral services from the Greenbrook homestead Sunday afternoon at 2. The pall-bearers will be Masons, decedent having been a member of Jerusalem Lodge, F. and A. M.

Mr. Coriell was one of Dunellen's oldest residents, and was the youngest son of Ephraim and Sarah Coriell, who inherited most of the land which is now Dunellen. After the death of his parents the bulk of the property was sold to the Land Improvement Company, a town site was laid out, and some lots were sold at auction in 1866.

—Chas. C. Lister of 134 North avenue will reopen his shooting gallery tomorrow.

—It is likely that a delegation from Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., will go to Scotch Plains this evening to visit the Council at that place.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A. Lusardi is out again after an attack of illness.

Louis Coombs is home on a visit from Allentown, Pa.

William Morrison of New York is visiting relatives in town.

Fred Brown is confined to his home on Duer street with illness.

William H. Vail has removed from North Branch to Dunellen.

James Pope and family remove today from 145 to 157 Duer street.

D. J. Fitzpatrick of Jersey City was in town yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett of Elizabeth have been visiting Plainfield friends.

James Perine of Brooklyn was in town yesterday looking after his real estate.

Frank Krewson will remove Monday from Grandview avenue to Pearl street.

L. M. Dunavan is ill at his home on East Third street, suffering with pinkeye.

W. H. Wilcox and family remove today from 56 Manning avenue to Fairview avenue.

G. S. Martin and family removed yesterday from 157 Duer street to LaGrande avenue.

Charles L. Force and family will remove Monday from Grandview avenue to Pearl street.

J. VanEps removes tomorrow from East Fifth street to the Clifton flats on Park avenue.

Theo. Marsh and family removed yesterday from 189 North avenue to 112 Lafayette place.

Randolph Stelle of Central avenue leaves tomorrow on a business trip to Southern Missouri.

Miss Mabelle Force of West Fourth street will spend her Easter vacation with relatives in Brooklyn.

Miss Harriet Loomis of New York is spending a few days with Miss M. G. Morse of Franklin place.

J. Beekman and family have removed from East Front street to the corner of East Third and Washington.

Edward Rider will remove in a few days to the house which he has been remodeling on Central avenue.

Stephen Rushmore of Park avenue has returned from Amherst College to spend his Spring vacation in Plainfield.

The Watchung Whist Club meet this evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. Woodruff on Westervelt avenue.

Miss Mabel Ladd and Miss DeGolyer will be at home to their friends, 20 Willow avenue, Saturday, April 6, from 4 to 7.

Miss Irene VanSickle and Miss Blanche Briant of High Bridge are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Randolph, 442 West Front street.

A. B. Clemens, assistant State secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with headquarters in Newark, was in town yesterday and today.

Mrs. Westervelt and child are about to return to her home in New York State after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Radford.

Lucian Boyer, an attache of the L. V. R. R. Co., at Perth Amboy, visited his aunt, Miss Loree, and cousin Mrs. Coutin, on North avenue yesterday afternoon.

William Smalley, Sr., of Craig place, who has been quite ill with the grip, is much improved. Mrs. Smalley also is improving from her recent accident.

One of Plainfield's popular young men, John C. Whiting, has returned from Amherst College to his home on East Sixth street, where he will spend his Spring vacation.

SWORE AT A POLICEMAN.

Then Made Life Miserable for Sergeant Kiely and Family.

With his hair combed pompadour, Thos. Loughnam pleaded his own case in the City Court this morning, when arraigned on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Besides being drunk on West Front street at 1 this morning, he also replied profanely to Policeman Frederickson, when told to go into the house.

The policeman decided that if he would n't go in the house he would go into a cell in the station-house, and there he went.

After he got there he made life miserable and sleep impossible for Sergeant Kiely and family, who reside on the upper floor, by howling like a dervish and otherwise acting in an uncomplimentary manner to Morpheus.

Judge Coddington fined the culprit $5 or 20 days.

—The high wind wrecked one of the large windows in the old Seventh-Day Baptist Church on Madison avenue.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S Armstrong, manager.

JUNIOR ENDEAVORERS.

Conference of County Leaders, Held in Plainfield.

A meeting was held in the small hall of the Y. M. C. A. Building, last evening, called by Mrs. Wheaton Lowry of this city, president of the Union County Junior Christian Endeavor Union.

The various societies of the county were represented, as follows:

Park Avenue Baptist—Mrs. Wheaton Lowry; Congregational—Rev. C. L. Goodrich; Trinity Reformed—Miss Susie Berg; Seventh-Day Baptist — Mrs. Maxson, Mrs. Titsworth; Warren Chapel—Mrs. E. B. Taylor; Third Presbyterian, Elizabeth — Mrs. J. D. Lowden; East Baptist, Elizabeth—Mrs. Louise Williams; First Baptist, Rahway—A. B. Wilson; Roselle Baptist — G. G. Teller; First Presbyterian, Springfield—Miss Stiles.

Mrs. J. D. Lowden and Miss Stiles read two very interesting papers on "What Constitutes a Successful Junior Meeting", and Rev. C. L. Goodrich gave a most helpful talk on "Hints on Junior Work".

The conference was profitable, and will develop more aggressive work along the line of Junior Endeavor. Sought-for results will no doubt be fully realized in every society, through the efforts of such capable leaders.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A meeting of the Camera Club will be held Tuesday evening.

—Two lodgers found a resting-place in the station-house last night.

—A meeting of Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., will be held this evening.

—Prayers will be held tonight and tomorrow night in Holy Cross Church.

—The walk in front of the Allen estate on Somerset street is in a dangerous condition.

—The two-men team bowling tournament at the Park Club is about half finished.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Fire and Building Committee will be held this evening.

—Police Sergeant Kiely was body guard of the bowling team on their visit to Westfield last night.

—The score of 181, made by George Horne, is the highest yet made on the Y. M. C. A. bowling alleys.

—A meeting of the Ladies Parish Auxiliary society of Holy Cross Church is being held this afternoon.

—Scott Terry will shoot against Mr. Ross at Marion tomorrow for a purse of $100. The contest will be over 50 birds.

—The Ancient Order of United Workmen last night held their regular meeting, and transacted considerable routine business.

—Prof. Josiah Royce, Ph. D., will deliver a lecture on "The Psychology of Imitation" before the Monday Afternoon Club next Monday.

—A number of the members of the Riding Academy went through the regular weekly drill last night, under the direction of Capt. Holly.

—Complaint was made to Chief Grant this morning concerning the nuisance of dumping refuse on Hillside avenue. It will be investigated and abated.

—Somerset Council, No. 104, J. O. U. A. M., will hold their last meeting in the Elkwood Building tonight preparatory to moving into the Babcock Building.

—Easter tokens in full supply are to be found at Rand's, 140 West Front street. Cards, booklets and novelties are there in abundance, and you can take your choice.

—Messrs. John Daly and Walter Gibson are engaged in putting a system of electric bells in Titsworth's new restaurant opposite The Press office on North avenue.

—D. S. Dunavan moved his workshop from East Front street to the second floor in the building over Laire Bros. store, West Front street, yesterday. He will retain his office at his former place.

—The meetings at the Liberty Street Mission are increasing in interest each night. Last night Rev. Mr. Humpstone, who is conducting the meetings, spoke from the subject of "How Regeneration is Accomplished".

—Through the agency of T. M. Paff, the Scotch Plains real-estate agent, Peter Frazee sold his large lot on Westfield avenue to Charles Eller. Mr. Paff also leased the cottage of W. H. Riley to Lawyer Charles S. Beardley of New York city. The cottage is known as "Roughwood", and is situated on the mountains back of Scotch Plains.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; our price 45c and 90c.

THREAT TO UNCLE SAM

One Clause in the English Nicaraguan Ultimatum.

A Menace to the Construction of the Canal and a Direct Assault Upon the Monroe Doctrine—Feeling of Indignation and Resentment at Washington.

Washington, March 29.—The full text of Great Britain's ultimatum to Nicaragua was read with intense interest by such senators and representatives as are especially familiar with foreign affairs and who still remain in this city. The prevailing tone of all the comments made was one of indignation and resentment. It was asserted that the ultimatum, though nominally addressed to Nicaragua, was evidently intended for every American state and, most directly for the United States.

A Threat to the United States.

No mere technical denials of an intended affront to the United States by the clause excluding any American state from the arbitration commission, it was claimed, could stand in view of the language of the demand itself. That stipulation was construed as a studied threat to this government; a direct assault upon the doctrine of President Monroe, and a menace to the construction of the Nicaragua canal.

Where She Was Balked.

"If the government of Great Britain," said one distinguished senator, "ever had any claim against the Nicarauguan people for damages of this sort, that claim should have been brought forward at the time this question was settled by Mr. Bayard through the negotiations pursued under the administration of Secretary Gresham. It is clear to me that Great Britain only surrendered her claim in this matter because she imagined she saw a better opportunity to grasp a partial control of the Pacific by her proposed cable between Vancouver and Australia via the Hawaiian islands, by the occupation of Neckar island. In this matter, however, the consent of the United States senate was not obtained and England was balked.

What England Is After.

"Now England comes back upon Nicaragua to secure a lodgement that will give her a foot hold in the Pacific. Her claim is clearly one that cannot be endorsed by the United States, still less her proposed method of enforcing it. Should England send a warship to Greytown for the purpose of collecting the revenues of the Nicaraguan government in liquidation of the $75,000 fine assessed against that little republic and the United States were to acquiesce in this procedure, it would be within the power of England to so arrange matters as to prohibit the trade and commerce of the United States from entering that country entirely, and what is vastly more important, to practically stop all operations with regard to the canal."

Hope for a Way Out.

The hope and anticipation were expressed that the administration would be able to see its way clearly in this matter, and that vigorous steps would be taken to preserve the rights of Americans in Nicaragua.

SIR PATRICK GRANT DEAD.

He Was the Oldest Army Officer in the British Service.

London, March 29.—Field marshal Sir Patrick Grant, governor of Chelsea hospital, and the oldest army officer in the British service, is dead. On the death of Gen. Anson in 1857 Sir Patrick Grant went to Calcutta as acting commander-in-chief of Bengal. At the close of the Indian mutiny he was rewarded with the grand cross of the bath, and in March, 1867, he was appointed to the governorship of Malta. In 1883 he was appointed field marshall in the British army, the highest title to be had.

Our New Consul at Prague.

Washington, March 29.—Carl Bailey Hurst, appointed consul at Prague yesterday, is a son of Bishop Hurst, of the American Methodist university. He has been in the consular service since July 22, 1892, when President Harrison appointed him consul at Catania, Italy. In 1893 he was transferred to Crefeld, Germany, and is stationed there at present.

Missing Yale Men Heard from.

New Haven, Conn., March 29.—Captain Austin, whose sail boat five Yale students took Saturday and have not returned, says he has heard from the students at Greenport, where they are stalled. The absence of the Yale men from college caused considerable apprehension to their friends.

Big Execution Issued.

Lancaster, Pa., March 29.—An execution for $100,000 has been issued against John B. Bachman of Columbia at the instance of S. S. Detwiller, trustee for creditors. Mr. Bachman was an extensive lumber dealer and failed sometime ago.

Relieved from Old Colony Taxes.

Hartford, Conn., March 29. — The house has passed the bill relieving the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad from payment of the taxes for 1893 and 1894 and thereafter on the stock of the Old Colony road owned by it. The amount involved was $103,850.

An Old Physician Killed.

Baltimore, March 29.—Dr. Hiram Hall, a prominent physician of the northeastern section of the city, fell down the stairway of his home yesterday and was instantly killed. He was 65 years old.

No Contagion Among Western Cattle.

Washington, March 29.—Dr. Devoe, who inspected the alleged outbreak of contagious pleuro-pneumonia in Kansas, has again wired the agricultural department positive information that there was no contagion among western cattle.

Secretary Carlisle's Brother Ill.

Washington, March 29. — Secretary Carlisle has gone to Covington, Ky., to be in attendance at the bedside of his brother George, who is critically ill.

Anti-Nudity Bill.

Albany, March 29.—There will be a hearing on next Thursday afternoon before the senate judiciary committee on Senator Mullin's anti-nudity bill.

NEW LAW FOR THE INSANE.

Important Measure Just Signed by Governor Morton.

Albany, March 29.—Governor Morton has just signed one of the most important acts of the session, relating to the discharge of the insane from the state hospitals—a measure recommended by the state commission in lunacy. Heretofore it has been exceedingly difficult to procure the discharge of a patient, unless the superintendent was willing to certify that he was absolutely harmless, which generally he would be unwilling to do, as it is difficult to say that any insane person is harmless.

The New Statutes.

No patient could be otherwise discharged unless he was absolutely recovered or his friends or relatives were willing to give a bond to insure his maintenance outside the institution and guarantee that he would be harmless. The new statute provides that the managers may discharge a patient when the public interest will not be injuriously affected, and, if they decline to do so, a judge of a court of record may discharge the patient, but, in order that the public may be fully protected, the superintendent must be heard and the patient's history read before such action can be taken.

Both Sides Protected.

This law will fully protect the public and will enable a large number of quiet and inoffensive lunatics to return to their homes and friends to remain as long as their condition justifies it.

CYCLIST JOHNSON ARRESTED.

Injunction Proceedings To Compel Him To Ride the Stearns Wheel.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 29.—John S. Johnson, the famous cyclist, was arrested in this city at noon on injunction proceedings brought by E. C. Stearns & Co., makers of the Stearns bicycle, to prevent him from leaving this country to ride in France, as he meditated doing, and also prevent him from riding any other wheel than Stearns make. The injunction papers stated that Johnson had signed a contract with the Stearns people a short time ago to ride the Stearns wheel and no other between May 1 and October 1, 1895. It further stated that he had been secretly negotiating with other firms since he signed the contract to ride their wheels in Europe. Johnson denies that he has ever negotiated with other firms, and states that the reason he wants to ride in France is because he is a professional now, and there is no professional riding in this country. He must ride in France or not at all. He is willing to ride for Stearns in France, if they will pay him enough, but they only offer him $1,000 while he asks $3,000. He acknowledges the other contract.

GALE IN NEW YORK.

Shipping Damaged and Men and Women Bowled Over the Streets.

New York, March 29.—All wind records were broken yesterday by the howling gale which swooped down upon the city. Shortly before 1 o'clock the wind had worked itself up to seventy-five miles an hour—just three miles beyond the previous record of March, 1876, which had stood untouched for nineteen years. Shipping down the bay was paralyzed, and much damage was done to property. There was trouble all day in the harbor. Small craft dragged their anchors and were saved by tugs from going ashore. The tug boat Packer was sunk off Governor's island and a deckhand drowned. Pedestrians were bowled over in Exchange place between New street and Broadway and several men were considerably bruised by being thrown to the pavement. One woman was picked up unconscious. The high wind caused trouble on unfinished buildings and many trifling accidents occurred in different parts of the city.

WITH HER OWN BLOOD.

An Insane Woman Covers the Walls with Scriptural Texts.

Rochester, N. Y., March 29.—Mrs. John Gute committed suicide yesterday by cutting her throat with knives and a bit of looking glass. She was insane upon the subject of religion. The woman made the first gash in her throat early in the forenoon while alone in the house with her 3-year-old daughter. She lingered until late in the afternoon and died only after making several more gashes. In her dying frenzy Mrs. Gute wandered about the house and with her bloody fingers covered the walls of the room in which she died with scriptural texts and religious exhortations. She is survived by a husband and five children.

He Was Too Enthusiastic.

Tonawanda, N. Y., March 29.—John Goerke, a member of the volunteer fire department, has been sentenced to six years and eight months imprisonment in Auburn prison for setting fire to various buildings in North Tonawanda. The only motive discovered for the crime was the hope of getting the tongue of his company's hose cart first to the fires.

Challenge for English Athletes.

Philadelphia, March 29.—S. Murdoch Kendrick, of this city, president of the inter-collegiate athletic association, has mailed to England a challenge for a track and field sports meeting this summer in England with the combined strength of Oxford and Cambridge universities.

Lord Rosebery's Condition.

London, March 29.—The British Medical Journal says Lord Rosebery is sleeping better and without the aid of narcotics.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Prices are firm on spot, but trade is dull. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 62½c.

Corn—Spot trade exceedingly slow and values doubtful. No. 2 nominally 56c. in store; steamer mixed, 52c. afloat.

Oats—Spot firm with fair inquiry. No. 2 white, 37a37½c.; No 2 mixed, 33½c.

Pork—Spot firm but demand moderate. Extra prime nominal, $13.25a$15.50; mess, $13.50a$13.75.

Lard—Contracts are quiet and firmer. May, $7.40.

Butter—Prices are generally firm with fair demand. New butter, creamery, western extras, 21c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18½a19c.

Cheese—Market remains firm. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; common to fair, 8a9½c.

Eggs—The arrivals are large, but the market remains firm. Western, fresh gathered, firsts, 12½c.

Potatoes—All desirable grades firm and in good demand. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $2.00a$2.25; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., $1.75a$2.12.

THEY CAN COLLECT IT

Income Tax Not Bothering Treasury Officials.

Any General Movement Not To Pay, Should the Law Be Declared Constitutional, Would Only Result in Swelling the Receipts—Aliens Cannot Dodge It.

Washington, March 29.—Treasury officials express no concern whatever about their ability to collect the income tax, should the supreme court declare the law constitutional. Assessment of the tax by the commissioner empowers collectors of internal revenue to distrain property, sell the same under such distraint for taxes due, penalties, interest and costs attached. The assessment is equivalent to an execution issued on a judgment in court.

Would Only Swell Receipts.

"Should there be," said an official who is entirely familiar with the law, "any general movement not to pay the income tax, the result would be to swell the receipts from this source $10,000,000 to $12,000,000, on account of penalties attached, for the reason that the tax can be collected as easily as the whiskey tax. Men who are subject to the income tax, as a rule have property in sight which can be distrained upon."

Aliens Must Pay.

The contention in some quarters that the tax on the property of aliens cannot be collected because of its intangible character, is pronounced untenable. If the law operated in that way its effect would be to place aliens in a better position than United States citizens. There will be no more difficulty in the one case than in the other.

WARNING TO FRANCE.

Invasion of the Upper Nile Discussed in the Commons.

London, March 29.—The complaint of the Royal Niger company that two French pseudo exploring expeditions had invaded territory in the upper Nile valley that is under British protection came before the house of commons last night. Sir Edward Grey, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, reading from carefully written notes, warned the house against placing credence in mere rumors. He counselled waiting for an explanation from France, because any such advance as that complained of by the Royal Niger company would be an unfriendly act, and, he added, it was well known to France that Great Britain would so regard it. Henry Labouchere, the radical leader, complained of Sir Edward Grey's menacing language, which, he said, amounted almost to a quasi declaration of war against France. Joseph Chamberlain, the liberal-unionist leader, declared that he approved of the statements made by Sir Edward.

TO STARVE OUT PEKIN.

Japanese Make a Move To Shut Off Supplies by the Grand Canal.

London, March 29.—A Central News dispatch from Shanghai says that on Sunday last the Japanese landed at Hai-Chow, on the coast of the province of Kiang-Tsu, 170 miles northwest of Nanking. The Chinese opposed the landing and 300 of them were killed in the fight. It is believed that the Japanese intend to march overland to Fanking, thus avoiding interference with the traffic of the Yang-Tse-Kiang. This move will enable the Japanese to block the Grand canal and prevent supplies from going through it to Pekin. As their fleet holds the gulf of Pe-Chi-Li, this gives the Japanese two lines upon which to advance to Pekin.

HIS BLOOD FOR PEACE.

A Statement of Li Hung Chang's Which Has Produced Good Effect.

Paris, March 29.—The European edition of the Herald will print to-day a despatch from its correspondent in Simonoseki, who quotes Li Hung Chang as saying on his sick bed: "If my blood can aid in bringing about peace, I give it cheerfully." "This sentiment has produced a good effect," says the Herald correspondent. "There are certainly better prospects of peace. All Japan feels the shock of the outrage, and the condemnation of the police is general among all classes. It is understood that Li's assailant will be condemned to penal servitude for life."

Bessie May Be Bailed.

New York, March 29.—Bessie Fairbanks, who on March 6 shot Isaac A. Cochran, was again arraigned in the Yorkville police court. Counsel for the girl asked that bail be reduced from $5,000 to $2,000. Justice Ryan asked for further information regarding Cochran's condition before granting the request.

Blythe Heir Dead.

Utica, N. Y., March 29.—Humphrey Hughes, a nephew of Blythe, the California millionaire, is dead at Frankfort, Herkimer county. He was a workman on the West Shore road and his death resulted from injuries received in an accident a year ago. He spent considerable money in attempting to secure recognition as an heir to the Blythe estate.

She Slept in a Coffin.

Oshkosh, Wis., March 29.—Mrs. Resch, many years an eccentric character of this city, was buried yesterday in the cemetery near the poor farm. She was 100 years old. Twenty years ago she purchased a coffin and at her own request she was buried in it after she had used it a score of years for a bed.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SLOWLY STARVING.

Surrounded by Plenty, but Dying for Food.

An Every-day Occurrence.—Our Friends Perishing Before Our Eyes.

A terrible experience for any one to go through, that of seeing some beloved friend actually wasting away before our eyes, unable to derive sufficient nourishment from their food to sustain life.

Medicine naturally becomes of little avail, and the various organs of the body, debilitated from a lack of nourishment, take on themselves the disease that was originally the cause of the "breakdown," and help hasten the end.

Such cases, though too prevalent, are happily becoming less frequent. The prominent physicians of to-day do things differently from those of twenty years ago. They first put the patient in a condition to stand the "siege," then enrich his blood, create for him new strength, and "build him up" generally. The patient is then in a condition to derive benefit from his medicine.

This is done by the use of Bovinine, the original raw food. It is an extract that contains the greatest amount of the life-sustaining and tissue-building properties of lean, raw meat, concentrated in the least possible bulk.

The advantage of this is obvious. A patient already greatly weakened by disease, needs to husband every particle of strength. A few drops of Bovinine will impart as much nourishment to the body as would be derived by a well person from an ordinary meal; and, in getting this nourishment, the stomach has been forced to do the least possible amount of work.

Bovinine, continued throughout an illness, greatly hastens recovery. Taken at the beginning of a wasting disease, it diverts the cause of the trouble by toning up the various organs, and getting them in a normal condition.

Bovinine is indorsed by 25,000 doctors. Its action is always beneficial, as a single trial will convince the most sceptical.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS

Post-office, Plainfield, N. J., March, 25, '95

[Officially furnished weekly for publication in THE DAILY PRESS.]

Anderson Mrs H
Blackford David
Bacon Henry
Pilyeu Jeremiah L
Burn Rev Jno B
Burgess Lewis W
Batholomon Mr
Clarke C E
Conly Patrick
Connolly Mrs
Dunn L A
Fabian F
Higbie A L
Hopple F W
Hill I
Hill J
Hedden Eugene D
Huff Mrs Fred E
Howard Jos C
Henihan Mary
Humer Gillis
Harris Caroline
Henshaw T
Johnson Bell
Johnston Jos
Jones Lewis
James Oliver
312 East 2d st
524 West 4th st
Kane Susie 2
Lutman A
Lyman Mrs
Ludlow Miss
Lee Samuel
Lynch Bessie
Model Heating Co
Perry Celina
Park J B
Parilla Pietro
Preston Mrs H A
Power Mrs G H
Quinn Miss
Reid Lizzie F
Richardson E C
Randolph R
Smalley Isaac
Sherow A N
Stutts C C
Sheriff Miss
Smith Ma
Troy Thomas
Tingmann Peter
Terry Jacob Wm
TenEyck Geo
Thorn Hon Frank
The Tabor M'f'g Co
Wright Mrs L. C
Williams S P
Zaremba Albert

Telephone 58

Ring it up when you want good coal, and talk to

Geo. O. Stevens

Central Employment Office

218 Liberty st. Gibson & Cable, agents.

All kind of help furnished on short notice. We have first-class help always on hand or can be had on 3 days notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. 1 19 3m

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton Abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 203 Liberty street.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement For walls and ceilings.

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c.
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

SHAD! Rogers 232 W. 2d. St.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either, we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

$500 DOWN

Buys One of These New Houses

on Duer street near Linden avenue; the balance on easy payments. F. H. Martin, 61 Sandford ave., or agents. 2 13 m

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank, is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.

BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

Real Estate Insurance
VAN BUREN & TIMPSON.
163 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE
For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.
R·I·P·A·N·S· TABULES
act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail.
Price 50 cents a box. Address
RIPANS CHEMICAL CO., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,

Real Estate and Insurance,

197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS.

INSURANCE.

Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,

Insurance Agents,

NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET

Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS

Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., a bunches, bouquets or design.

MILES,

Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 2 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.

E. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 5024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.

Samuel J. Flyan, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Langer, Fin. Sec. 9 25 f

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree

C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.

D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.

P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,

97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Trucking of All Kinds Done.

Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 20 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.

30 PARK AVE.

He Manufactures Them

Acute

pains require prompt relief. The best remedy is one that can be used immediately and by anybody.

Allcock's Porous Plaster

meets the case exactly, for all sorts of pains and aches, as sprains, strains, lameness of the back or limbs.

When you Buy Allcock's you obtain the best plaster. Don't be duped into taking any other.

Allcock's Corn Shields,
Allcock's Bunion Shields,
Have no equal as a relief and cure for corns and bunions.

Brandreth's Pills

purify the system, and thus remove the cause of many diseases.

A LADY'S TOILET
Is not complete without an ideal
COMPLEXION POWDER.
POZZONI'S
Combines every element of beauty and purity. It is beautifying, soothing, healing, healthful, and harmless, and when rightly used is invisible. A most delicate and desirable protection to the face in this climate.
Insist upon having the genuine.
IT IS FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.
$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75
BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE.
W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the
W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes
All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole.
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by
A. WILLETT & SON.

HOSIERY.

You should always buy your hose at a regular hosiery store. The
BEE HIVE
keeps a full line of ladies', men's and children's hose. We will quote a few prices.

Ladies fast black hose, seamless, 10 and 12½
Ladies' fast black Hermsdorf sold in town at 21c our price 15c.
Men's Hermsdorf black socks 2 pair for 25c.
We also received all numbers in Clark's crochet cotton on spools at 5c.

The "Cast-iron" shirt made of good muslin, heavy linen bosom, reinforced front and double back, at 38c.

LOUIS CALLMAN,
222 West Front st

MOSLER SAFE CO.,
contractors to the United States Government
Mosler Patent Safes.
(fire and burglar-proof) in general use
All Over the World.
Lowest prices. Drop a postal to
S. W. CLARK,
General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield. N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.
Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

H. Eggerding.
121 PARK AVENUE.
Manufacturer of the celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR
The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 9t

CODDINGTON'S
FURNITURE AND FREIGHT
EXPRESS.
OFFICES—36 West Front street; 38 Park avenue
Post Office Box 328.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trunks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11 7

ANNA'S QUEER DOINGS

Sensational Testimony in the Dickinson Case.

One Witness Tells of Having Pulled the Plaintiff's Fingers and Toes at the Latter's Request Her Use of Intoxicants and Profanity—Insane or a "Jag."

Scranton, Pa., March 29.—At the trial of the suit of Anna Dickinson for damages for false detention in an asylum, Conductor Baldwin, of the train which conveyed Miss Dickinson to the Danville asylum, testified as to the woman's peculiar actions on the train and her persistent desire to have telegrams forwarded to Jay Gould, United States Senator Quay, General Butler and Gov. Pattison, but which he was told to ignore by Dr. Hileman, who told him of the woman's condition. A servant in the employ of the Dickinson household and several neighbors corroborated the evidence of Susan Dickinson as to Anna's virulent temper, her abusive language, her assault upon her sister, and to the use of intoxicants and profanity.

Wanted Her Toes Pulled.

The most sensational testimony of the day was by Mrs. Stanton, a dressmaker of Pittston, who said Anna first began to appear strange in August of 1890. She told Mrs. Stanton that she had a severe pain and asked to have remedies applied, and had the witness pull her fingers and toes. "In a short time she threw herself on the floor on her stomach and kicked hard and furious. She laid there over an hour."

A Violent Temper.

Frequently she came to the witnesses house and acted very curious. "She would sometimes come to my house and if the dresses did not suit her she would rip off the trimmings and say 'd—n the thing.' She came to my house again and loosened some of her clothing and showed me a scar on her right thigh saying, 'the d—n doctors cut me all up.'" Witness got very excited and indignant under Mr. McLean's cross-examination, and insisted that her story was not fixed up for the occasion.

Insane or a "Jag."

"Did not she ask you to get a woolen cloth and put it on her when she was on the floor in such pain?" "No, she did not," exclaimed the witness, "and she knows it if she knows anything." The witness was of the opinion that she was crazy drunk. This witness was corroborated by her daughter, Mrs. Iva Marcy and Miss Nellie Ellsworth. Allen Eggleston, who later helped Miss Dickinson from the room in which she locked herself, said that she was either insane or had a "jag" on.

Her Conduct in the Asylum.

Mrs. Mary J. Marsh, now of Tioga county, formerly supervisor of the female department at Danville asylum, described Anna's peculiar conduct, and said that she had no doubt that Anna was insane. She said that Anna selected as her one intimate friend in the institution an old woman whose mind was completely gone and who was as silly as a three-year-old child. For this infirm old creature Anna manifested a great affection and would walk up and down the corridors with her arms about the old woman's neck.

Will Address the Jury.

Somewhat of a stir has been created by the report that when the case goes to the jury, which will probably be to-morrow, Anna will make a speech in her own behalf.

THE DELAWARE SENATORSHIP.

Failure of Another Attempt To Break the Addicks Forces.

Dover, Del., March 28.—The Higgins men sprang a new candidate yesterday in Charles F. Richards of Georgetown, but the Addicks followers refused to desert their man and cast their regular quota of votes for him in both ballots that were taken. It now seems as if the breach between these two factions is so wide that it cannot be healed. The two ballots taken resulted as follows: Higgins 2, Addicks 5, Charles F. Richards 6, Massey 4, Ridgeley 7, E. L. Martin 1.

WAS THE QUEEN'S FRIEND.

Dowager Duchess of Buccleuch Passes Away in England.

London, March 29.—The dowager duchess of Buccleuch is dead. Lady Charlotte Ann Thynne, dowager duchess of Buccleuch, was born in 1811. She was a daughter of the second marquis of Bath and married, in 1829, the fifth duke of Buccleuch. From 1841 to 1846 she was mistress of the robes, and was a close personal friend of Queen Victoria.

He Stole for Amusement.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 29.—Robert Joyce, a clerk at the Atlantic hotel, was arrested yesterday for numerous thefts. The accused is a kleptomaniac. He would steal almost anything and return it in a few days. He was wearing Head Clerk Smith's hat around the hotel while they were looking for the fellow who stole it. The prisoner's friends will make good all losses.

Hagenbeck's Animals Attached.

Chicago, March 29.—Carl Hagenbeck, the famous German menagerie owner and animal trainer, has confessed judgment in the circuit court for $4,695 in favor of Edward Dreverling, an animal trainer for Hagenbeck, who claims that sum for services rendered and money loaned to pay for the maintenance and care of the animals while the show has been on the road.

One Supposed Elbe Victim Safe.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 29.—A letter has been received here from John Brunsen, who was believed to have been lost with his sister Ida on the ill-fated steamer Elbe. John Brunsen was to have sailed on the Elbe, but at the last minute changed his mind. He is now at his home in Denmark.

Crooked County Officials.

Crystal Falls, Mich., March 29.—Five members of the board of Iron county have been arrested, charged with robbery of the county and conspiracy.

Dr. Whitten Denied Habeas Corpus.

New Haven, Conn., March 29.—Judge Townsend has denied the application for a writ of habeas corpus in the Dr. Whitten case.

FIGHTERS FOUND GUILTY.

Jury's Verdict Likely To Put a Stop to Boxing in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 29.—A verdict of guilty was rendered by a jury in the Quarter sessions court in the cases against Charles "Bull" McCarthy, Charles McKeever and Jack Fogarty, who, with Horace Leeds, were indicted for aiding, abetting and taking part in a prize fight. Unless the convicted pugilists appeal the case and succeed in getting the decision reversed in the supreme court, boxing in this city will soon be a thing of the past. McCarthy, McKeever and Fogarty were ordered to give $1,000 security each to appear before the court when wanted. In withholding a sentence of imprisonment, Judge Gordon said that if the men should again fight in this jurisdiction, or in any other, that he would call them before him and impose the severest penalty of the law. In conclusion the judge stated that the verdict will be a warning to clubs where boxing is held and to persons hiring public halls for the purpose of giving such exhibitions, that they will be committing a crime and will be liable to arrest and punishment. He hoped that the conviction would have the effect of stopping the enterprises at once.

MEMBERS COME TO BLOWS.

Disgraceful Scene in the Nebraska Senate Last Evening.

Lincoln, Neb., March 29.—The senate chamber was the scene of a personal encounter last evening just before adjournment between Senator Stewart, a populist, and the sergeant-at-arms, which involved several of the members in a hand to hand conflict. While speaking against a bill Stewart was interrupted on a point of order by Noyes, of Douglas. Contrary to precedent Stewart ignored the point of order and also the presiding officer when he asked him repeatedly to be seated. The sergeant-at-arms was directed to quiet the speaker, but Stewart resisted. The two men clinched and fought up and down the aisle. Dale, another populist, sprang to assist his colleague, but was roughly thrown to the floor by two republican members. Jeffreys, also a populist, started for the combatants, shouting loudly that he could whip any man on the floor. The presiding officer rushed down the aisle, parted the two original combatants and finally brought about order.

WHISKEY TRUST AFFAIRS.

Stockholders Now Said To Have Been Robbed in the Cattle Feeding.

Chicago, March 29.—In addition to the suits which will probably be brought by the receivers of the whiskey trust to recover from the old directory nearly $2,000,000 on the difference in the price of the par value of 34,984 shares of stock and $45, the price paid for it by the directors, there will be brought the first of next week suits in the name of the receiver, Gen. McNulta, to recover a large sum on cattle feeding contracts, let by President Greenhut and his friends to himself and Nelson Morris. These contracts cover an extended period. The charge will be made that the contracts were let at a much lower figure than the market price and that the stockholders therefore are the losers by a large amount.

SASSOON MASSACRES.

A Turkish Soldier Who Gloried in His Deeds of Brutality.

London, March 29.—The Daily News will print to-day another four-column account of the Sassoon massacres as narrated to its special correspondent by a Turkish soldier who shared in it. The soldier gloried in his deeds and laughed over the worst acts of brutality. He was utterly untroubled by remorse and said he would be delighted to join another similar expedition. The correspondent adds: The soldier declared that not fewer than 5,000 Armenians were slain and but for the coming of the Mushir to stop the slaughter the soldiers would have destroyed every Christian village in the Sassoon district and not one Christian would have been left.

HE SOLD RUSSIAN SECRETS.

Col. Gregorieff Sentenced to Eight Years' Servitude in Siberia.

London, March 29.—A dispatch from Odessa says that Col. Gregorieff, who was arrested in February, 1894, at Kishineff, charged with selling Russian military secrets to the Austrian government, has been sentenced to eight years' penal servitude in Siberia. It was proved that Gregorieff received a salary of $6,000 a year for several years from the Austrian government.

THE PRESIDENT REFUSED.

Would Not Put the Motion on the Kaiser's Bismarck Message.

Berlin, March 29.—Baron von Buol-Berenberg, in the reichstag, decided that the proposed resolution asking the chamber to take some action in regard to the emperor's telegram to Prince Bismarck would be contrary to order. Consequently he refused.

Always Feared Bigelow.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 29.—Mrs. Thill, the mother of the actress Amy Thill, who was murdered in New York Wednesday by John Bigelow, said to-day that the double crime of murder and suicide was committed by a maniac, and that her daughter often expressed to her a fear of Bigelow, because it was known to the family that he had been confined twice in an asylum. Bigelow was an old family friend.

Escaped Murderer Arrested.

Williamsport, Pa., March 29.—George Stewart, who while insane killed his father at Hermon, N. Y., six years ago and was committed to the Ovid insane asylum and escaped soon afterwards, has just been arrested in the woods of Potter county, this state, where he has been working as a logger and farm hand. His identity was disclosed by a letter from his sister.

Killed by the Cars.

Westfield, Mass., March 29.—Patrick Kelly, aged 25, of Southampton was killed by the cars here last night. He was on the train leaving here at 8.16 p. m., seeing his brother off, and did not try to leave the train till after it was in motion.

No Cholera at Port Arthur.

London, March 29.—The Central News correspondent in Hiroshima says the report of cholera at Port Arthur is denied officially.

The Horse Wilkes Golddust Dead.

Utica, N. Y., March 29.—The trotting horse Wilkes Golddust, record 2.17½, died last night of spinal meningitis.

MRS. DRAYTON AHEAD

Her Counter Suit Must Be Tried Separately.

Her Husband's Answer Is Lengthy, and It Is Understood He Will Not Oppose Her Divorce—Will Fight to the Last, However, for the Custody of the Children.

Trenton, N. J., March 29.—There has just been filed with the clerk of the chancery court the answer of J. Coleman Drayton to the petition presented by his wife a few weeks ago praying that she be granted a divorce. The answer now completes the case so far as the preliminaries are concerned. Mr. Drayton sued his wife for divorce, and in addition to her answer to his suit she brings a counter suit, to which he now answers. The cases must now be tried on their merits.

Desertion the Grounds.

In the suit brought by Mr. Drayton he accuses his wife of being unfaithful to her marriage vows, and names Hallett Alsop Barrowe as the co-respondent. He specifies the time and places when and where the alleged illegal unlawful acts were committed. Mrs. Drayton's reply is a complete denial of the allegations of her husband. Desertion, brought about by Mr. Drayton's unjust suspicions of her marital fidelity, is the ground on which Mrs. Drayton asks release from her marriage tie.

Mrs. Drayton Has the Best of It.

Thus, while the suits are akin and one is meant to affect the other, they are brought in such a manner that the allegations brought forward by Mrs. Drayton to support her claim for a divorce are not materially affected by the allegations of her husband. It would appear that Mrs. Drayton's counsel had forestalled Mr. Drayton, and the best position is now held by Mrs. Drayton. Had the suit by Mrs. Drayton been brought as an answer to the suit of the husband, the issues could and would have been joined, and the two cases would have been tried together. Instead of this, Mrs. Drayton's suit must now be tried first and independently of that brought by Mr. Drayton.

He Will Fight for the Children.

It is understood now that Mr. Drayton will not prevent his wife obtaining the divorce, and will enter no defense except so much as is necessary to protect himself and his reputation as a husband and a father. It is known, too, that if Mrs. Drayton can obtain the decree on the ground of desertion after he is done defending his character, he will make no objections, provided (and right here the only possible hitch will occur) he is given the custody of all of the children, forever and absolutely. He will not compromise on this point.

Anxious To Avoid Publicity.

If Mrs. Drayton fails to obtain a decree on the ground chosen by her to secure it, Mr. Drayton will then proceed at once to press his suit to trial. There seems to be a desire on both sides to prevent the facts and alleged facts becoming a matter of public record. Lawyers Alva Clark and R. V. Lindabury have agreed to settle the case, if possible, through Mrs. Drayton's suit.

TOURISTS BURNED OUT.

Forty-six Residences and Stores Destroyed at St. Augustine, Fla.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 29.—Fire which broke out yesterday afternoon in a blacksmith shop on Charles street destroyed forty-six residences, stores and many other buildings rendering in the space of four hours about a hundred families homeless and leaving many boarders to seek shelter elsewhere, many of them with only the clothing which they had on. The loss will aggregate $200,000. The firemen, citizens and tourists, women and children were all hard at work removing household effects to places of safety and fighting the fire.

DESIRES NO CONFLICT.

Spain Satisfied with Our Position Towards Cuban Affairs.

London, March 29.—Premier Canovas del Castillo said in an interview with the Standard's Madrid correspondent last evening that the government was satisfied with the attitude of the United States toward Cuban affairs and that orders had been given to Spanish cruisers and colonial officials to observe international usages regarding maratime jurisdiction and the right of search with a view to avoiding a conflict with the United States or other powers.

Our Naval Fleet at Colon.

Washington, March 29.—The cruiser Columbia has reached Kingston, Jamaica, after an uneventful and not very speedy run from New York. It is Admiral Meade's intention to sail for Colon to-morrow and on arriving there his fleet will consist of the New York, Minneapolis, Columbia, Atlanta, Raleigh and Cincinnati, and unless present plans are changed, the Montgomery will join these vessels at Havana in about three weeks.

Gilmore's Condition Very Critical.

New Haven, Conn., March 29.—The condition of Robert C. Gilmore, the Yale sophomore, who received a probable fatal injury by being thrown from his bicycle Wednesday, is unchanged. It is very critical, however, as he has lain unconscious for over thirty hours and the surgeons do not care to operate under these circumstances.

Two Women Arrested for Murder.

Desmoines, Ia., March 29.—Mrs. Ella Scoville-Lederer of this city and Miss Cora Smith of Omaha were arrested yesterday charged with murder. It is alleged they poisoned Michael Smith, the blind ex-Rock Island engineer, and then falsely swore his wife into the penitentiary at Anamosa for life.

Sympathetic Strike at Buffalo.

Buffalo, March 29.—About two-thirds of the force of boiler makers at the Lake Erie Engineering works have quit work. They are satisfied with their wages and conditions, but refuse to work on boilers shipped from the Cleveland, O., shops where the men are on strike.

Boomed Thomas B. Reed.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 29.—At the republican banquet here last night Senator Frye of Maine drifted into prophecy and incidentally boomed Thomas B. Reed.

CURE THAT COUGH WITH SHILOH'S CURE
TAKE THE BEST
25cts., 50cts. and $1.00 Bottle. One cent a dose.
THIS GREAT COUGH CURE promptly cures where all others fail, Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough and Asthma. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will CURE YOU if taken in time. Sold by Druggists on a guarantee. For a Lame Back or Chest, use SHILOH'S BELLADONNA PLASTER. 25c.
SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY.
Have you Catarrh? This remedy is guaranteed to cure you. Price, 50 cts. Injector free.
Sold by all druggists. 9 14 y

Granite Iron Ware.
Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.
Stoves at reduced prices.
Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.
Plumbing and Heater Work.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
119 East Front St.

H. Hand,
LICENSED AUCTIONEER.
15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.
esidence and postoffice address
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

—AT—
NEUMAN BROS.,
—THE—
Watchung Ave. Grocers,
will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

The sign on the windows reads
Woolston & Buckle,
Paper Hangers.
We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.
Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE
MOVING
Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.
HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD
Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial Parlor, 304 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 19 t

A full assortment of Stationery!
AT
HARPER'S,
411 Park ave.

Fred Endress,
Dealer in all kinds of
CHOICE MEATS
Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.
203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb
V. L. FRAZEE,
151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in
Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.
LOCK BOXES
From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.
Superior quality of
LEHIGH COAL.
No. 2 Coal Only $3.75
In the yard A No. 1 Kindling Wood.
Yard and office, 763 South Avenue.
Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Short Vacations
For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the
Old Dominion Line.
To Old Point Comfort
[Hygeia Hotel]
Or Virginia Beach, Va.
[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for
$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17
INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE
of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.
These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.
Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.
Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to
Old Dominion S. S. Co.,
Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

Wm. Hand & Son.
MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS,
for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m

M. M. DUNHAM,
Real Estate and Insurance.
7 East Front Street.

A. W. BAKER, 206 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.
Baker & Young,
Carpenters and Builders.
Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 1m

Prof. A. Wehner,
TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.
ALSO VOICE CULTURE.
Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipzic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.
References given and required.
Address letters to, the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-c

MRS. L. COLES,
FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,
Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

Taylor's French System
used. Suits $6.00 and upward.
2 2 tf

Geo. O. Stevens,
COAL AND WOOD.
Yard—Front street and Grant avenue.
Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

H. DeMOTT,
With livery attached,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
59 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J. 92 y

L. L. MANNING.
Marble and Granite Works
Cor. Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.
Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

F. A. DUNHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue.
Sewers, pavements and road improvements.
Publisher of city map and atlas.

TOWNSEND'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
SOMERSET STREET.
Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 6 4 y

Jones & Co., Excavators.
Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary condition. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.
JONES & CO.
Cesspools built. 9 18

Joseph E. Mosher,
Agent for
H. J. Hayden & Co.,
WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D. C.
All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.
Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.
—SO.—
BUT FULL VALUE.
C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 27 Chatham street.

N. E. KING,
High Grade Portraits
In Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.
483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimen of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.

WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH 29, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

BY THE WAY.

—Robert Cook rides a new Columbia.

—Eugene Hoerster's store on Somerset street is rapidly nearing completion.

—The next meeting of Gazelle Engine Company will be held Wednesday night.

—J. A. Karet moved his millinery parlors from Park avenue to the Babcock Building yesterday.

—Get a first-class bicycle, fully guaranteed, for $65, the celebrated Apollo, sold by Chas. C. Lister, 137 North avenue.

—Captain William Hand will be the marshal for Decoration Day in the parade of the Grand Army Posts and Sons of Veterans.

—Owing to illness, Reuben Ray is unable to push his famous three-wheel red mailcart, and in his place James Frisby is doing the work.

—J. A. Karet has received a case of French hats for women, and will display them at his millinery opening in the Babcock Building next Tuesday.

—An adoption of one paleface will take place at the meeting of Miantonomoh Tribe of Red Men tonight. The report of the entertainment committee will also be made.

—Prices dropped again yesterday at the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Company store, 106 East Front street, and the list published in The Press today is a sample of the many great bargains there to be found.

—Augustus Frazee of Watchung avenue was out early this morning exercising his dog. While on East Front street the animal performed some clever tricks which frightened the owner, much to the amusement of several passersby.

—Edsall's Commercial Palace will be brilliantly illuminated tomorrow night with both gas and electricity, in addition to the magnificent decorations and trimmings, which will present a gorgeous display, and will repay a visit. See the advertisement for specials.

—The case of Lent against Cahill, on contract, before Justice Newcorn, has been adjourned to next Thursday, on account of the delay in taking the testimony of the defendant by deposition at his home in Roselle, where he is confined with illness. Reed & Coddington are attorneys for the plaintiff.

—The musical and literary entertainment given by the Patriotic Order Sons of America, Washington's Birthday, will be repeated by request Friday evening, April 5, under the management of E. M. Odam, for the benefit of W. W. Stratton. Lester and Ferris, specialists of Elizabeth, have offered their services.

—Wm. Hand & Son moved yesterday Gilbert S. Martin from 157 Duer street to 617 La Grande avenue, Mr. Machada from 409 East Second street to 337 Kenenington avenue, Mrs. Malin from 24 Summit avenue to 36 Jackson avenue, Charles Lister from 130 North avenue to Orchard place, and Mrs. Smith from 31 Westervelt avenue to East Front street.

In every receipt requiring a leavening agent use

Cleveland's Baking Powder

It does the most work and the best work and is perfectly wholesome.

Our cook book mailed free on receipt of stamp and address.
Cleveland Baking Powder Co.,
81 Fulton St., New York.

EDISON HAS HIS EYE ON ARGON.

Electric Lamps Show There's Something in Air Besides Nitrogen and Oxygen.

Thomas A. Edison has recently been reading up on argon, the newly discovered gaseous constituent of the atmosphere, and on the experiments of Lord Rayleigh and others abroad. He said yesterday that he intended to do some experimenting himself as soon as he could get around to it.

"That will probably not be before next summer," he added, "as I am still very busy with my mining operations. I do not know of any investigation into the nature of argon having been made in this country, but doubtless experiments will soon be made all over the world. They will look for argon and it is quite likely that in looking for it they will find other new elements in the atmosphere.

"The discovery of argon is a fresh evidence of how very little we really know. Here is a constituent existing in the atmosphere to a considerable percentage, and yet the air has been analyzed and analyzed for more than fifty years without its presence being suspected. The investigators would withdraw the carbonic acid and the oxygen and say that what was left was nitrogen. Somebody finally noticed that this nitrogen possessed slightly different properties from pure nitrogen obtained in other ways and the result was that argon was discovered.

"My investigations will be made in connection with my incandescent lamp. Phenomena take place in the lamps which cannot be explained except on the hypothesis of a new element in the atmospheric residuum left in the bulb. Whether argon is responsible for them or not I don't know, but I shall try to find out. It seems from investigations already made that argon is a perfectly inert gas. It has not been found to unite with anything, I believe. It is possible, however, that it may unite with incandescent carbon. If it isn't argon that attacks the filament it may be something else which hasn't been discovered yet."

Mr. Edison has also been working recently on the combination phonograph and kinetoscope.

"The only trouble," he said, "is a purely mechanical one. The jar of the machinery impairs the image. When the picture is thrown on a screen the jar is magnified as much as the image. We intend to have a life size portrait of a man speaking which will show the action while the phonograph supplies the words. Then we can have an orchestra playing, with the music and the motions shown by the combination. We'll have it pretty soon, too."

FARMER DUNN'S QUARTERS.

Where the Weather of the Eastern States is Made.

Observer Elias B. Dunn, chief of the United States weather bureau, occupies quarters in the Manhattan Life Building, at 66 Broadway, New York.

The weather bureau occupies the four upper floors of the tall tower, which are known as the twenty-first to the twenty-fourth stories. Various instruments used in making observations take up the second and third floors, while the fourth or upper story is utilized for taking tests and other scientific work.

Above this is the red glass enclosed signal lamp of 20,000 candle power, and immediately above it and next to the dome of the tower is the white light signal room with a 12,000 candle power lamp. The new 12,000 candle power search light, which can be seen as far as Asbury Park, is on the fourth floor.

The office is 384 feet above sea level, being the tallest habitable building in the world, and it is 360 feet above the street level.

Instead of having to use gas, as in the old quarters, they will now have control of an electric current of 44,000 candle power, which can be distributed throughout their rooms at will from a switchboard designed expressly for this bureau.

The signal lights, which are seen as far as Sandy Hook, are for use in warning mariners of impending storms and gales.

From the new observatory it will be possible to measure the exact velocity of the wind, the old observatory having been shielded some by the many high buildings in the vicinity.

Mixed Drinks His Downfall.

Down in Kentucky moonshiners and whiskey are prevalent, but mixed drinks are practically unknown. At least so says Mr. W——, a friend who occasionally visits the smaller towns of Kentucky. Two years ago he stayed overnight at a small country inn and being at a loss to while away the evening he spent it teaching the landlord to make mint juleps. The landlord was delighted with the gorgeous mixture of ice, liquor and mint, and the two swore eternal friendship. Naturally, when two months ago Mr. W—— revisited that region he went out of his way to stay overnight with his friend of the mint juleps. But he found the place under a new landlord, who apparently had no interest in mint juleps. Still the evening brought them closer together and finally Mr. W—— ventured an inquiry as to the whereabouts of the old landlord.

"Bill?" queried the reformed moonshiner, lifting to his lips a whisky straight. "Bill's dead. He was a good man till a feller from Boston came here and taught him to mix grass with his liquor."—Boston Budget.

The William Penn Tree.

The site of the great elm tree that marked the place where William Penn signed his famous treaty with the Indians has been marked by another elm, practically a part of the original tree. When the old elm fell in 1810 the owner of the ground took one of the offshoots that grew from its trunk and transplanted it to Fort Hamilton, N. Y. From Fort Hamilton it was removed bodily to Wilkesbarre, where it is still flourishing. An offshoot of this tree has been taken to Philadelphia and planted in the park that marks the former location of the treaty tree.

A Child's Collection.

The child collector of wishbones, has, I think, been distanced.

"Please, grandpa," said a little friend of mine recently, "please tell me what you said to grandma when you proposed to her?"

"Not I, my boy. That's a thing they'll never know," drawled out the old Quaker.

"Oh, do tell me!" pleaded the child. "Papa has told me how he proposed and Tom Rutherford's father and Uncle Jack. Please, do, grandpa, I'm making a collection of pops and I want you to be in it."—Critic.

At War Over Canines.

Several complaints have been made against a resident of Somerset street who persists in shooting dogs belonging to neighbors. His own dog, however, has become a nuisance by his nightly barking and invasion of other people's yards. Owners of other dogs say that unless he stops the shooting action will be brought against him.

Sunday-school Officers Elected.

The annual election of officers of Grace M. E. Church was held last night, at which the result was as follows: Superintendent, John Valiant; assistant superintendent, A. A. Taft; treasurer, F. W. Powell; secretary, W. H. Griffin; librarian, E. A. Sebring; assistant librarian, F. Schuck.

To Stop the Music.

The curve of the street railway tracks at the corner of East Front street and Watchung avenue has become very musical, and Superintendent Adleman has asked Surveyor Nelson of Dunellen to examine the tracks and see if the difficulty cannot be remedied. Mr. Nelson says it can. He finds there is fault in the guage, and if that is changed the noise will cease.

After Business, Pleasure.

A largely attended meeting of Central lodge, A. O. U. W., was held last night, at which Representative W. H. Brokaw made his report of the grand council proceedings in Trenton. At the conclusion of the regular business Salmon C. Baker related humorous anecdotes, C. H. Randolph gave a choice reading, and Joseph Kingston, T. E. Smith, Edward Mosher and E. W. Clark made remarks. Resolutions of condolence to Austin and Charles Sturtevant on the occasion of the death of Mrs. Austin Sturtevant, were adopted.

Death of Mrs. Frank Probasco.

The death of Mrs. Laura A. Probasco, wife of Frank Probasco, occurred last evening at her home, 119 Liberty street, from consumption.

Decedent was 20 years old. Her illness was only considered serious for the past three weeks.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 from Hope Chapel.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

Telephone Rates
IN PLAINFIELD.

$40, $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue Plainfield.

3 22 2w-c 2

JOHNSON'S FOURTH
Auction Sale
for 1895
OF HORSES,
At TAYLOR'S HOTEL, Dunellen,
Saturday, March 30
at 1 o'clock, rain or shine.
One Car Load of Western Horses,
suitable for all purposes. Also a number of Jersey Horses and Mares, suitable for farm or road.
Usual credit and guarantee given to every purchaser.
3 26 4-c 1

THE Bee Hive.

"KIDS."

Ladies' 4 button kid gloves in tans and slates 65c.

Foster hook kid gloves in all the new shades, the 98c quality, 75c.

Children's kid gloves, a good glove, 69c.

Men's kid gloves, every pair warranted, $1.

MEN'S CAMBRIC SHIRTS.

Men's cambric shirts, laundried, collar and cuffs attached, 50c.

Men's laundried shirts, white body and fancy bosom, 48c.

Men's laundried shirts, white body and colored bosom and cuffs 65c.

Louis Callman,

222 West Front st.

THEODORE GRAY,
MASON AND CONTRACTOR.
Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave.
3 29 1

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Pietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE,
Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN,
214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,
of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave.,
Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,
304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Do you want Laces?

Come to Peck's

Do you want Embroideries?

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block.

134

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Special

For Saturday night's needs from 8 to 9:30 (if they last.

85c. 1 lot Capes, good quality, 85c

48c 1 lot ladies' wrappers, large sleeves, 48c

30c 1 lot boys' blouse waists, well made, 30c

7c Gold band china tea cups and saucers, imported, 7c

SPRING OPENING
AND
10-DAY SPECIAL SALE

now going on. The decorations and display of elegant New Goods the most profuse and attractive ever shown in this part of the State. Come and see.

Specials

in every department. These are a few samples:

For the opening the following extraordinary values—All-wool cheviot cloth capes in black, navy and brown, trimmed with tinsel braid, manufactured to sell at $1.59 and $1 85; special for the opening

$1.10 and $1.30

All-wool Cheviot and Covert cloth capes in tan and black, with excellent trimming, double cape, manufactured to sell at $4.65;

Special $3.85

All-wool Cheviot Broadcloth Covert and Kersey Cloth Capes, embroidered in cream, satin ribbon trimmings, lace and jet, manufactured to sell at $5.85, $6.75 and $10; special at $4.85, $5.90 and $7.50.

An excellent Broadcloth Cape in black, navy, black and red, fashion's latest conceptions, satin lined, manufactured to sell at $10; a great special at

$8 35 Each

Grocery Department.

AT 6 Cents CAN — 75 more cases fresh Canned Goods just received. 25 cases Farrow's string beans, 25 cases cold packed Pride of Sussex tomatoes, 25 cases sweet corn. The above open for inspection; as long as they last 6c can. — AT 6 Cents CAN

Boston Chips 10c Box — 300 boxes Boston potato chips, just received from the factory fresh. While they last at 10c a box. — Boston Chips 10c Box

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

At 3 Cts EACH — 250 doz ironstone china plates, all sizes at 3c each. 200 doz ironstone china tea cups and saucers. The above is John Edwards's best English ware. — At 3 Cts EACH

New Cut Glass, new Bouquet Holders, new Bohemian Glass Salad and Fruit Dishes just opened.

Look out for genuine bargains.

Edsall's.

THE FEET

are very sensitive. Why not give them comfort in a pair of our $3.00 Welted Shoes? We have them in all styles from the Kahler to the Razor Toe; sizes 2 to 8, widths AA to E.

Doane & Edsall.

We make a specialty of repairing | CHARLES C. LISTER, | Wheels to hire; storage by the day, week or month.

134 NORTH AVE.

AGENT FOR

The Eagle and Keating Bicycles.

The Apollo, a first-class, fully guaranteed wheel, 23 pounds, for $65.
Nothing to equal it for the money

Second-hand wheels, pneumatic tires, from $15 up. Big cut in prices for sundries.

3 29 6m

HIGH SCHOOL NOTEBOOK.

The prize essays on "Tobacco" have finally been heard from and at the close of morning exercises Mrs. J. J. Coard, representing the W. C. T. U., presented the prizes. The judges in the contest were Dr. Tomlinson, Dr. Jenkins and Rev. W. E. Honeyman, and they awarded the prizes as follows: Senior class, George A. Horne; Junior class, Charles Noble; Third class, Miss Helen M. Hyde; Fourth class, William Morgan. Each of the above received an envelope containing a check for $3.

There were a number of visitors present during the morning among whom were graduates Miss Leslie Hyde '93, John C. Whiting '93, Stephen Rushmore '93, Fred W. Goddard '93, and John W. Kirkner '95.

The pupils were also glad to welcome back Miss Sherwin who spent part of the morning with her former classes.

Vacation commences with the close of today's session and lasts until a week from Monday.

The joint committee on school pin selected a design: a small flag, dark blue and red, with the letters P. H. S. on it. A sample pin will be on exhibition at the close of vacation, and those wishing one may secure it through the committee.

Officers for Exempt Firemen.

The following officers were placed in nomination by the Exempt Firemen's Association last night to be voted on at the annual election April 29: President, A. Saltzman; vice-president, J. E. Flannery; corresponding secretary, G. Thorn; financial secretary, E M. Laing, trustees, D. W. Littell, E. M. Laing, Wm. Woodruff, Joseph A. Hubbard, G. W. Clark and E. A. Vermeule; representative to relief association, A. Saltzman and G. Thorn; representative to State association, D. W. Littell, J. F. Flannery, Wm. Woodruff, Thos. Carty, E. M. Laing, S. J. Robinson.

A Famous Old Bell.

The old bell of Gazelle Engine Company, No. 1, that has been doing duty in Jerusalem Lodge for over 16 years, is now back in the possession of E.P.Thorn, the owner.

John Chandler took it down this morning. It did many years duty as the only fire bell on the old engine house on Park avenue, now owned by the estate of Levi Hetfield. When Mr. Hetfield claimed it as a part of his property, somebody stole it for Gazelle, and to end the dispute Mr. Thorn bought it.

Death of E. B. Cornwell.

E. B. Cornwell, a charter member of Pugh-Caugh-Naugh-Sinque Tribe of Red Men, died at the Prospect House, Southern Pines, North Carolina, yesterday. The remains will be interred on Long Island, and it is expected that a delegation of Red Men will meet the remains on their arrival from the South.

—It is not R. J. Shaw the druggist, but another Shaw, who was recorded yesterday as a bowler.

—U. B. Crane, hatter and furnisher, has the latest novelty in bicycle caps. The visor is transparent, and is a protection for the eyes against dust and sun. He invites you to inspect his stock, whether you wish to purchase or not.

—Remember the little Junior Endeavorers of Trinity Reformed Church tonight in their entertainment given for the purpose of raising money to help build churches in the far West. An offering of 10 cents placed in the basket at the door on entering will be thankfully received.

Plainfield Out of It.

The Plainfield Bowling Club won one and lost one game with Westfield last night on the alleys of the latter club. The first game was Plainfield 739, Westfield 853; second game, Plainfield 739, Westfield 723. This was the last game of the Elizabeth Journal League. Roselle wins the county series and will bowl with the winner of the city section to decide the championship of the county.

—It is thought that A. E. Baldwin, who left his home and family so suddenly in Dunellen last week, is in Texas. His little girl, who was taken dangerously ill a few days after his departure, has nearly recovered.

—The Potter Press Works Fishing Club will hold their annual meeting tonight to elect officers, fill vacancies, hear reports from delegates, and generally to have a talk over the fishing prospects for the coming season. The question of bait will receive due attention at the session.

—Members of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, are again reminded of the presentation of Court prizes by the High Court officers in their room tonight. The committee have prepared a programme of vocal music, banjo, guitar and mandolin solos, step dancing, German and Irish specialties. Foresters have each the privilege of bringing one male friend, and are assured of a very pleasant evening's entertainment. A large turnout is therefore desired.

I AM

A WORKING GIRL.

I Stand Ten Hours a Day.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

"I have suffered terribly with bearing-down pains, giddiness, backache, and kidney trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I recommend it to all." — MAGGIE LUKENS, Thirteenth and Butte Streets, Nicetown, Pa.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

PARKHURST APHORISMS.

The Doctor Says There is a Whole Menagerie of Wild Beasts to Slay.

Dr. Parkhurst told the people of Orange recently something about municipal and moral reform, with many references to the work accomplished by his society and what it proposed to do. These are some of the things he said:

"Replacing a bad policeman or a mercenary judge will not embarrass the system of corruption. They can be replaced by bad men just as rapidly as they can be gotten rid of."

"All the cartoons of dead tigers with which the illustrative journals have fooled their readers since last November have been only the products of overheated imagination. Even if the tiger had been killed there is a whole menagerie of other beasts just as bloodthirsty and keeping their incisors in good order. Just now we are gunning in New York for another beast, more respectable, but just as hungry and ten times as foxy. Of course, we don't mention any names on this side of the river."

"I would have gone into hell to get facts after that, and I went and got my facts, and then they swore at me for knowing what I was talking about."

"Once a week I sharpened my pen, mixed up a compound of alkali and vitriol, and sent it to the mayor, official boards, the newspapers, and that is what did it."

"Finally the people got tired of being governed by a brood of bandits which would not be tolerated in Turkey, and a brood of libertines which would have disgraced Sodom and Gomorrah."

"The present Mayor of New York has made some clean sweeps in politics and politicians, and he will keep it up."

"The slates were made up by the bosses last summer. The fall came and the people called them down, and the new mayor is running New York in the interest of decency and the stockholders."

"If you want to make a reform movement successful in Orange you must start at the bottom. Too much respectability is fatal."

"If there is anything that makes me wish I could write a dictionary that would contain words that would express my feelings it is when the official classes spurn my interference."

"Superintendent Byrnes was on to every move my officers made."

"The hardest lesson I had to learn was the damnable dangerousness of the professional politician. They are the people's enemy and it would make them dizzy to walk a straight line."

"The Ten Commandments may seem to you ethical chestnuts, but they laid out Tammany Hall."

"The world should not go to the church, but the church should come back to the world and fulfill its mission. Politicians will resent it, but it is far better to see the retreat of the politicians down the middle aisle and the fresh access of worshipers in the gallery."

JUDGE MOORE ON STRIKES.

Tells a Jury What He Thinks of Men Who Prevent Others from Earning a Living.

Judge Moore expressed himself in unmistakable language in addressing a Brooklyn jury regarding the rights of those who took the place of strikers during the recent railroad strikes.

"This is one of the cases that grew out of the late strike. We know that lawlessness, destruction of property and assaults upon persons prevailed long in the city to its disgrace. It seems from the testimony that the mob, without any excuse or justification in law, had dragged from their cars several of the motormen who had just as good a right to make their living by running the cars as the men who struck. The doctrine that no man shall be permitted to earn a living in this country unless he earns it according to the terms prescribed at the beck and dictation of some other man is a doctrine that can never be tolerated. It cannot be permitted. We are men! We have a right to earn an honest living. There is no right that God has given a human being above the right to earn an honest living by honest labor, and there is no organization, whether a labor organization or any other, that has the right to say to you or to me we shall not earn that living unless we submit ourselves to their wishes and dictations. That is worse than Southern slavery ever was."

—A fresh lot of Huyler's came to Leggett's today. Now buy.

Shiloh's cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures incipient consumption; it is the best cough cure, only 1c a dose; 25, 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation; 25c 50c, $1. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life; I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels; 75c. Sold by all druggists.

For the Bean Murder.

Easton, Md., March 29.—Otto Fluesner, a tramp, has been arrested at Cordova. He is supposed to be the murderer of Miss Sallie Bean, at Harmony, Caroline county, on Tuesday. It is not known what evidence the authorities have against the man.

Wreckage from the Regente.

London, March 29.—The Morning Post learns from Madrid that part of a wrecked steam launch from the lost cruiser Reina Regente, was seen off the south Spanish coast near Couil yesterday.

To Increase Its Capital Stock.

New York, March 29.—The Postal Telegraph company has voted to increase its capital stock from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

The press is the best instrument for enlightening the mind of man and improving him as a rational, moral and social being.—Thomas Jefferson.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Probasco, wife of Dr. J. B. Probasco, is worse today.

George R. Cornwell today received the sad intelligence of the death of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth L. Cornwell, in Scarsdale, N. Y., at the ripe age of 82

—All interested in baseball are urged to be present at the Y. M. C. A. Building this evening, when a team will be formed.

—The reception given to the clerks of the city last evening at the Y. M. C. A. is the first of a series. Others will follow to business men, firemen, Grand Army men, lodges and the police.

—Perseverance Lodge No. 74, K. of P., will have important business come up for consideration at their meeting tonight.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills Cure Sick Headache.

SICK HEADACHE is usually caused by indigestion. If you take Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills, you won't have sick headache.

Send to us for a free sample.

DR. J. A. DEANE CO., Kingston, New York.

At all druggists' 25c.

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them"

Horner's Furniture.

Reasons why you should buy it in preference to any other.

(1). Because this firm have long enjoyed the reputation of keeping only the best Furniture that can be produced, both in medium and finest grades; (2). Because their assortments are unequalled; (3). Because their prices are the lowest at which goods of standard quality can be sold.

Latest productions in Dining Room, Bedroom, Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Hall Furniture——Venetian Carved Furniture——Novelties in Imported Furniture——White and Gold Enameled Furniture——Enameled and Brass Bedsteads——English Brass Bedsteads (75 patterns); Maple and Bamboo Furniture——Restful Easy Chairs and Settees——Smoking and Billiard Room Furniture——Everything for city or country homes——Eight spacious floors——All prices in plain figures.

R. J. HORNER & CO.,
Furniture Makers and Importers,
61-65 West 23d St., N. Y.
(Adjoining Eden Musee.)

Horner & Co.'s establishment is one of the sights of New York.—Newspaper Comment.

MUSIC HALL.

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 49B.

Saturday, Mch 30

Matinee and night.

John P. Smith's own version of Mrs. Stowe's great work

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The same as played by this company at the Boston Theatre, Grand Opera House and Niblo's Theatre, New York. New and beautiful scenery. The Gates Ajar' and Mississippi river at night. The great Steamboat Race. Splendid company.

Matinee prices—Adults 20c; reserved seats 30 and 50c. Prices at night 25, 35, 50 and 75c. Box office now open.

MUSIC HALL,

Jos. Sohl, Lessee and Manager
Telephone 49B.

Tuesday Night, April 2.

A revolution in minstrelsy.

Primrose & West's Big Minstrels.

Big show. 40 whites, 30 blacks, 70 in all, including the original and only George Wilson, direct from their phenomenal New York engagement.

Prices 35, 50, 75 and $1. Box office now open.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street.

Next to Trinity Reformed Church
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 168 11 28 y

DEATHS.

SWEENY—In this city March 27, 1895, Mary E. Sweeny, aged 32 years.

Funeral services from the residence of Edward Connors, 534 West Third street, Saturday morning at 9 from the house and 9:30 from St. Mary's Church. Friends and relatives are invited to attend. 2

CORIELL—In Greenbrook, N. J., March 28, 1895, Abraham C. Coriell, in the 76th year of his age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend his funeral services at 2, Sunday afternoon at his late residence Greenbrook road. Interment in North Plainfield cemetery. 3 29 2

CORNWELL—At Scarsdale, N. Y. on Friday, March 29, 1895, Elizabeth L. widow of Richard H. Cornwell, in the 82nd year of her age.

Funeral services at the residence of her son-in-law, D. J. Garth, Scarsdale, on Sunday, March 31, at 3:30 p. m.

Carriages will meet the train leaving Grand Central Depot (Harlem R. R.) at 2:20 p. m. 3 29 2

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,
AT 50 CENTS.

—The personal property of the late Hiram Hornish was appraised yesterday by Samuel Wallace and Sylvester Randolph, who were appointed by the executors to do that work.

EASTER.

Our line of cards, booklets and novelties for Easter gifts is now complete and we invite an inspection.

R. C. RAND,
140 West Front street.

THE CIRCLE OF

King's Daughters,

Young Daughters of the King, Washington Park Plainfield, N. J., announce a series of three evening recitals by

MR. CHAS. F. UNDERHILL,

At The Casino.

Mason & Hamlin "Liszt" organ will be used.

Thursday, April 4, Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," with Mendelssohn music.
Monday, April 22, Charles Dickens' masterpiece, "David Copperfield."
Thursday, May 2, Sheridan's Great Comedy, "The Rivals."
Tickets for the series, $2, at the usual places Single recitals 75c. 3 28 6

WANTS AND OFFERS.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 24 6

FOR SALE—10½ acres, good fertile land and small house, 2 miles from Plainfield. $1,400, $400 down. Paff Scotch Plains. 3 29 2

SPANISH lessons given in exchange for shorthand and typewriting by competent teacher. Address, stating experience etc. Spanish care Press. 3 29 2

LAYING hens for sale. Apply to W. Williams, 1109 East Front st. corner Netherwood avenue. 3 29 2

WANTED—A good gentle horse; good and kind, for ladies to drive. Address Box 335, city. 3 26 4

TO LET—Two seven-room houses. E. Second street near Richmond. Apply to Theodore Gray, 121 Hillside avenue.

HOUSE and barn to let in Netherwood. Enquire 133 East Second street.

SITUATION wanted as chambermaid and waitress, by girl with experience and good references. 340 E. Third st. 3 28 2

SHOATS for sale, Cheshire and Chester white stock. Enquire C. J. Ackerman Clinton ave. 3 28 3

40 Acre farm to let, also 3 rooms. Address 131 New street. 3 28 3

FOR SALE—New 2-seat surrey, cheap. Also pony phaeton. Enquire Frank Hedden's livery, 118 E. 4th. st. 3 28 tf

HOUSE and building lots for sale in Westfield, N. J., high ground, good neighborhood, convenient to depot. Address box 104 Westfield N. J. 3 24 6-3 28 4 e

FOR SALE—12-room house, all improvements, large lot, East Second street $3,600, $1,000 down. Paff, Scotch Plains. 3 29 2

For SALE—On Installments, six-room house, 746 East Second street, or to let. Inquire of Jacob Voehl. 3 27 6

FURNISHED rooms with board; home comforts; all improvements. 403 Central avenue. 3 26 3

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

SIX ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. R. Force, 132 Park ave. boots and shoes. 3 23 6

FLAT to let, every convenience, Apply J. P. Taylor, 612 Park ave. 3 23 tf

BOARDERS and table boarders wanted in a private family, by the week, day, or meal. 130 North ave. 2nd. flat. 3 23 6

30 Acres good land to rent on shares. Apply P. C. Ohl. 3 23 6

SIDE-BAR surrey, phaeton top; price $160. Inquire at 747 West Front st. 3 25 6

COLORED girl wants situation as chambermaid or waitress. 230 Park ave. 3 25 6

CORNER flats to let, improvements, steam heat, corner store. Miller 339 Park ave. 3 25 6

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 309 West Fourth st. 2 7 tf

KNACK.

There is a knack in doing everything, and when people say that White has a knack of selling goods cheap, they mean he knows how. Takes some time to learn it, but then it comes naturally to a WHITE.

CHANGES.

Since the time we first sold Dry Goods in the little 18x20 corner Front and Peace streets twenty-one years ago, when a dollar bought 8 yards of calico—now it buys 20, and a dress that cost ten, now costs you $3. Nothing has done it but hammering prices and we are still at it.

Six pair of socks for 59c, the 25c kind; 13c for ladies' stockings that are worth 25c; 12c for children's hose that will give 25c worth of wear.

Six cents for ten cent ginghams.
Eight cents for twelve cent ginghams.
Six cents for ten cent percales.
Seven and one-half cents for 13c percale.
Seven cents for 10 cent linen toweling.
Nine cents for 13 cent linen toweling.
Thirty-eight cents for 50 cent table linen.
Seven cents for 12 cent outing flannel.
One twenty five for $2.00 napkins.
Ten cents for 15 cent matting.
Ten cents for 15 cent percaline.

The same story right through the store. 20 per cent., and in some cases 50 per cent., saved to you. Only a few of those 2½x3½ Jap art squares left—$6.98 each.

New coats, capes, skirts, house dresses all in, and 'twill surprise you when you see how low they are in price.

Housefurnishing Goods business on the move. Remember we have everything in tinware, glass and crockery, and the same close, quick prices sell them.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

Grand

Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastefully trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on

Tuesday, March 25,
Wednesday, March 26,
Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season. We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing, but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.
10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 54 in. wide.
5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.
Our 49c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.
75c will buy a $1 00 skirt.
95c. " " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,
113 WEST FRONT STREET.

HARK! HARK!

Do you hear those bells ringing? They are to warn you that Johnson's delivery wagon is near at hand, ready to supply you with the finest home-made bread in the land, pies, cake, buns and rolls, fresh every morning at 6 a. m.

Boston brown bread a specialty. Just give me a trial, my goods speak for themselves. All orders promptly attended to at shortest notice.

W. H. Johnson,
3 23 1w 41 Somerset Street.

SAIL BOATS

—IN—

Sloops and Schooners,

—FROM—

25c. to $1.25.

R. C. RAND.
140 West Front st.

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit.

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, India rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Miss Fawcett's School,
25 Washington Ave.
Department for boys to the age of 12.
" girls and kindergarten.
Girls prepared for college.
Re-opened September 13.

SPRING MILLINERY DISPLAY,

Wednesday, March 27, of all the latest novelties in Hats, Bonnets, Dutch Bonnets, Napoleon and 20th Century Turbans, Flowers, Ribbons, and all the accessories in Trimmings that complete the newest styles.

Mrs. L. Adams,
111 East Front st., under First National Bank

A FALL

in the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.
The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

E. H. HOLMES.
DEALER IN
COAL and WOOD,
YARD—No. 206 Madison Avenue. Also
Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle 145 North avenue.

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

GEO. J. TOBIN.
187 North avenue.
Practical Plumber
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer
TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

J. W. VAN SICKLE,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salt Meats
GAME IN SEASON.
New No. 122., North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

BOCK BEER

all this week at
Charles Smith's Saloon.
Buckwurst and sauerkraut all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.
ADDIS & SON,
PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Have your plumbing system tested with the smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.
Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

You may have
Lost
many hours of comfort by not having worn
A
good reliable
Pair of Collier's
Glasses.
103 Park ave. Established 1869.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET,
(Estate D. I. Smalley.)
94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.
GEO. EGEL, Manager.
We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

---

REMOVAL.
I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to
142 North Avenue
Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.
CALEB DICKINSON

L. PAOLI & CO.,
Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Segars, Etc.
128 NORTH AVENUE,
FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,
10 CENTS A QUART.
I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered, anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

---

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume, Agt
80 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.,
Invites the public to inspect the operation his newly added steam vibrating mechanism screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening
UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.
ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.
He would also announce recently increased facilities for TURNING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same at the lowest rates and shortest notice.
6-13-

SAD FRENCH WIDOWS.

CUSTOMS WHICH MAKE THEIR LOT ANYTHING BUT PLEASANT.

Practically Their Only Chance for Social Pleasure Is in a Second Marriage, which Is Not Always So Easy to Arrange. Taxed to Maintain the Army.

The Paris widow is a surprise. I cannot tell exactly what I had expected, but for some reason or other the thought of French widows always called up vague recollections of the bereaved young person in "A Trip to Chinatown." I humbly beg the pardon of the real Paris widow. She is much more like the Oriental wives who die on the funeral pyres of their husbands, and she is often almost as secluded as if she were buried alive.

Naturally this does not refer to the people, as the French call the working classes. When the small grocery man dies his widow, who has sat at the desk and been cashier and bookkeeper during his lifetime, sits there still, and everything goes on as before except that there is a "Vve" put before the name to show that "Widow (Veuve) Maurice," or whatever her name may be, is at the head of the business. There is no attempt made, as there often is in America, to give the impression that affairs are in the hands of a man. The women are too shrewd and experienced as shopkeepers to need any such pretense.

With the women of society it is different. It is not easy for a stranger to make observations in this field, and above all in the direction of widows. The easiest way to gain information is to cultivate some widow who has seen better days, and get her to reveal the secrets of her sad estate. This is not difficult. Widows with money are the prey of designing relatives and unscrupulous guardians, so that there are always plenty of them who have been reduced to keeping boarders, which, after the pawnshop, is their sole resource.

"In France if a husband dies without a will, leaving a widow but no children, all his property, even though it may have been held in common during his lifetime, goes to his family. His widow has nothing. If he dies without a will, leaving a widow and children, all the property goes to the children. The widow may live on the income with her children, provided she can arrange it with their guardian, but if he is so inclined he can forbid her receiving a cent from her children and compel her to earn her own living. It is terrible, isn't it?"

It was a bright, attractive little French woman of forty who told me this. She has been a widow ten years, and although her husband left her a fortune of $150,000, and although she had her own dot of $12,000, she is now keeping boarders for the princely sum of $5 a week. Her brother-in-law, in whose bank her entire fortune was placed, failed at a judicious interval after her husband's death, and Mme. T. found herself with a young son to educate, without income or without resources, except a small country house. This she sold and put her 15-year-old boy in college. By the advice of prominent lawyers she set about trying to recover her dot, which is supposed to be the inalienable property of a married woman. She failed, and in the meantime had sold or pawned most of her jewelry and furniture.

Her son was scarcely out of college before, like every other Frenchman, he was obliged to go into the army. Most young men are obliged to serve for three years, but the only sons of widows are let off with one year. This is not such a concession as it seems at first, for the young man at the end of his year is taxed a certain amount annually until he attains the age of sixty. Not only this, but if he cannot or does not pay this tax his mother, the unfortunate widow, becomes responsible for it. If she fails to pay it her furniture, or whatever possessions she may have, is seized. In effect, therefore, it is she who is taxed in lieu of the military service from which she is supposedly exempt.

Her son, during his year of military service, receives one cent a day. With this he is obliged to buy blacking for his boots, tobacco and other things. He receives his clothes and an insufficient amount of food from the government. If his mother did not send him food he would fall ill from pure hunger.

These are a few of the practical inconveniences of being a French widow. In the social line she is much worse off, especially if she happens to be a daughterless or a penniless widow.

There are two classes of human beings in France who have no liberty. They are young girls and widows, and of the two the former are much the happier, because their seclusion does come to an end, since they are almost sure to marry. The widow is liberated by the same method, but the road is a more difficult one.

Yes, the Paris widow certainly is a surprise. A Frenchman would never have written "A Trip to Chinatown." And as for Tony Weller, if his immortal wisdom had blossomed on this side of the channel he would never have said "to bevare of vidders," but beware of being one.

Good Ammunition.

While in London last summer the saunterer strayed into one of the cheaper London Music Halls. All through the music the audience was chaffing the orchestra, for even the lowest of European audiences knows good music, and is free in venting its approval or disapproval. Suddenly in the back of the gallery a fight arose, and two costermongers, locked in a close but unfriendly embrace, gravitated to the rail overhanging the pit. At last one of them got the better of the other, and grabbing him by the collar, held him over the rail. Apparently he was going to throw him into the pit. But from the audience in the pit, arose a voice, shrill and small, but perfectly audible:

"Don't waste 'im, 'Arry! Throw 'im h'at the trombone!"—Boston Budget.

Had Papa On the Hip.

A hospital nurse mania has set in among Canadian young women of good family and no necessity, whose energies have been transplanted to New York. Within the past month seven Canadian girls have become nurses at St. Luke's, making an overwhelming majority of British subject employes within one institution.

This nursing craze is a veritable fever in Canada just now. The reply of a young English girl on a visit to Toronto to her father's angry letter of rebuke, voices the situation exactly:

"What on earth" wrote the irate parent, "could have induced you to think of becoming a nurse?"

"Because every one I knew was becoming a nurse," came the daughter's reply.

TACKLED A LEAN WOODCHUCK.

Better for the Arrogant Fox if He Had Tackled a Fat One.

The woodchucks are long, lean and fierce these varying cold or warm days. Unprovided with the long, thick fur that makes nonhibernating animals comfortable, but having instead a ragged coat of coarse hair, he is a shivering, plain ribbed creature that would awaken pity in the hardest hearted woodman's breast were it not so fierce as savagely to tackle anything without provocation.

Let two woodchucks meet and there surely comes a bloody fight; let a woodchuck meet a rabbit and the rabbit will be torn to pieces as if by a wildcat; let a woodchuck see a mink and the mink will flee for life.

The foxes have a notion that they are lords of the lesser woods creatures. They bulldoze minks and small wildcats, and slaughter rabbits and partridges, and treat one another most condescendingly, while upon seeing such a miserable creature as a thin woodchuck they make up their minds to have some sport. Time and hard experience do not seem to teach them anything, for every year just such things as happened yesterday morning back of Lem Lawson's, Seaberry Settlement, N. Y., are remembered of the year before.

A big, sleek fox, with a belly full of rabbit, was strutting along the edge of the swamp with head and tail up, feeling bigger than life and better than nature, when a forlorn woodchuck came into his sight and began to eat some birch buds. That was sheer impudence, to the fox's mind, and he straightway gave his tail a switch and his teeth a snap by way of warning, then made for the woodchuck.

The woodchuck was in bad temper. Not a clover leaf had passed his teeth in six months and his stomach was empty. A winter of sleep and semi-starvation had thinned him till not a grain of superfluous flesh was on his bones. Long, food seeking tramps had hardened his muscles to the extreme condition of springiness and strength. A three years' life of daily danger and long fights for existence had given him the grit of desperation and the wind of a racer. No prize fighter ever entered the ring so well conditioned for a fight. He met the fox quarter way with open mouth and tense muscles. The fox made a fancy jump into the air and the woodchuck made a business leap at the fox's legs. The fox yelped when four teeth met in the middle of his hind leg.

The fox quit his fooling and began to bite in earnest, but the lean woodchuck took punishment like a wildcat and fought like a weasel. He got in a good bite on the fox's ham, grated his teeth through the fox's ears and crippled a paw while the fox was sniffing the air. In two minutes after the fox made his first attack he was running for life across the crust with the woodchuck racing after, but losing ground.

Lem Lawson shot the fox by his barn, but allowed the woodchuck to escape. The fox was a big one that would have made a wildcat or fisher hump itself, but it was no match for a lean and hungry woodchuck.

TWO FAMOUS VOICES.

Phenomenal Vocal Powers of the World's Great Singers.

Jenny Lind's voice, at its best, was a high soprano of bright and remarkably sympathetic quality, reaching from D below to F in alt, the upper register being stronger, clearer and richer than the lower. She had also very large, well-developed lungs, that gave her phenomenal length of breath and enabled her to tone down a note to the finest pianissimo while maintaining the quality unchanged. Her execution was really marvelous and her performance of cadenza passages was never equaled before nor since. She usually invented her own cadenzas, and modified them in a way that electrified not only the ordinary audience, but the most highly cultured musicians also. Nothing like the furor she excited had ever been known before in England or America. People were known to stand in line for twenty-four hours to have an opportunity to purchase, at an extravagant rate, a ticket to one of her concerts.

Patti's voice is of only moderate strength, there being several of greater power among the operatic singers of the present day, but the compass of her tones is extraordinary, reaching to F in alt, and her execution is exceedingly brilliant and polished. Her greatest vocal charm, however, lies in the sympathetic quality of her notes, a quality that instantly impresses every auditor. It is most apparent in the rendition of simple, well known songs, like "Home, Sweet Home" and "Coming Through the Rye," and in these she has achieved such success that, while her repertoire comprises over thirty operas, her fame really rests on two or three familiar songs. She first appeared in opera in New York in 1859.

The Pleasures of Drowning.

The news that ex-Governor Richard J. Oglesby is ill recalls the fact that, but for a stroke of good fortune, he would not have lived to command a newspaper tribute as a distinguished man.

"When I was a boy," he said to a friend some time ago, "I was bathing with some friends and got beyond my depth and was unable to swim. I had heard that when a person in the water goes down the third time he drowns. I counted distinctly the number of times I sank, and when I started down the third time I said to myself, 'Here goes the third and last time; now I am dead.' Every event of my life passed before me with vivid distinctness, but without creating any peculiar feeling. I saw them go by as if they were a swift moving panorama. I was dead. I knew that I was dead, and a sweeter death no one can die. My consciousness suddenly departed, and I died without a struggle or pain. I was rescued immediately after touching bottom the third time, and after my friends had worked over me for nearly an hour life was restored."

Hard to Please.

He (reading the paper)—It certainly is very difficult to please a woman.

She—What makes you think so?

He—Mr. Young of Wabash, Minn., locked his wife in the house; Mr. Potts of Pekin, Wis., locked his wife out of the house, and now both women are suing for divorce.—Texas Siftings.

Unless She Did First.

Mrs. Weedleigh—I might marry again, but I am afraid that the man I married might remind me of my first husband.

Mrs. Uptodate—Take my word for it, he'll never mention him.—Smith, Gray & Co.'s Monthly.

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2243 JAMES H. ECKELS,
S 4 30 Comptroller of the Currency.

A. Lusardi,

No. 120 North Ave.,
Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.
Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

L. A. HUMMER. L. B. MULFORD.
Hummer & Mulford,
VARIETY MARKET,
Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.,
220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Telephone call, 29 A.
Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge. 9 11

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,

Madison Avenue and 58th St.,
NEW YORK.
$3 per day and up. American Plan.
Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.
The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.
H. M. CLARK, Prop.
Passenger elevator runs all night.

W. K. McCLURE,
Counselor-at-Law.
SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.
First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's
LAW OFFICES,
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

HOTEL GRENADA,

North Avenue.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.
5-13-

CITY HOTEL.
Plainfield, N. J.
COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET
J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.
With stables attached. 45

BAR-LOCK VISIBLE WRITING TYPEWRITER

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.
It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.
It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.
These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.
The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.
Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,
307 Broadway, New York.
1 5 6m

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.,
141 East Front st.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America
Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.
On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:
FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 20 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania
6.37 P. M. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.
8.34 p.m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.
8 45 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago, and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.
For Baltimore, Washington and the South—3 00 9.08, 9.36 a. m., 9.39 p. m.
Sundays, 1, 9 05, 9 36 a. m., 9 41 p m.
For Baltimore only 1 21 p. m., week-days.
For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 04, 5 46, 6 17, 6 45, 7 0' 7 20, 7 49, 7 07, 8 06, 8 28, 8 33, 8 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 28, 10 48, 11 07, 11 48 a. m., 1 18, 1 20, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 48, 3 27, 3 47, 4 42, 5 15, 5 36, 5 48, 6 08, 6 27, 6 48, 6 58, 7 07, 7 26 7 39, 9 a. m. 9 10, 9 50, 10 08 11 03 and 11 56 p. m.
Sundays 3 02, 5 34, 7 54, 8 48, 9 20, 9 47, 10 12, 10 38, 10 49 a. m., 12 35, 1 44, 2 32, 3 45, 5 48, 6 34, 8 48, 7 05, 7 12, 7 35, 7 58, 8 30 9 15, 10 16, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.
For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.
For Philadelphia—1 00, 6 37, 7 19, 9 05, 9 36, 11 45, a. m.; 1 05, 1 37, 3 32, 5 06, 6 36 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 02, 6 39, 9 05, 9.36, 10 41 A. M.; 5 46, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.

FOR ATLANTIC CITY
(2 25p.m. with through Buffet parlor car) Sundays 6 50 a. m.
Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City 1 37 p. m. weekdays.
For Rahway—1,1 43 daily ex. Monday, 4 08, 6 44, 7 10, 7 39, 8 54, 9 46, 9 50, 10 39, 11 43, a. m., 12 46, 1 11, 1 37, 2 48, 3 20, 3 39, 3 59, 4 38, 4 53, 5 22, 5 46, 6, 6 06 6 12, 6 17, 6 27, 6 45, 6 52, 6 59, 7 20, 7 46, 8 14, 8 55, 9 54, 11 02 11 45 p. m. and 12 27 night week-days.
Sundays, 1,1 43, 6 59, 7 43, 9 46, 10 28 10 41 and 11 47 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 2 47, 3 29, 4 50, 5 20, 5 46, 7 21, 7 27, 7 47, 8 14, 8 47, 9 16, 10 14, 11 and 11 55 p. m.
For New Brunswick—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 7 39, 9 08 9 36, 9 50, 11 43 a. m., 12 35, 1 37, 2 48, 3 59, 4 38, 5 06, 5 40, 6 06, 6 45, 7 46, 9 39 and 11 02 p. m. Sundays, 1 00, 6 59, 9 05, 9 36 9 49, 10 41 a. m., 12 50, 1 50, 5 40, 7 47, 9 16, 9 41 p. m.
For Woodbridge—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59 a.m., 12 46, 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, and 7 20 9 54 p.m., 12 27 night, week-days. Sundays, 1 43, 10 26, and 11 47 a. m., 10 14 p. m.
For Perth Amboy—1 43 a m daily except Monday, 6 44, 9 46, 10 59, 12 46 3 20, 4 53, 5 44, 6 12, 7 20 7 39, 9 54 and 12 27. Sundays, 1 43 10 26, 11 47 a m 10 14 p m.
For East Millstone—7 10 a. m., 12 35, 2 48 and 5 40 p. m., week-days.
For Trenton—1 00, 6 37, 7 10, 7 39, 9 05, 9 26, 11 43 A. M.; 1 05, 1 37, 2 48, 5 06, 5 36, 7 46, 8 42, 9 39 P. M. Sundays 1 00, 9 05, 9 26, 9 36, 10 41 A. M.; 5 46, 6 37, 7 47 and 9 41 P. M.
For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—7 39 A. M., 2.48 and 6.36 p. m., and 5.40 p. m. Sunday.
For Flemington—7 39 A. M.; 2 48 P. M.
For Freehold—7 39, 11 43 a. m., 4 38, 5 06 p.m., via. Monmouth Junction, week-days.
For Jamesburg, via. Monmouth Junction—7 39 and 11 43 a. m., 4 38 and 5 06 p. m., week days.
For Long Branch, Ocean Grove, and points on New York and Long Branch R. R.—9 46 12 46, 4 13 6 44 p.m., 12 27 night week-days. Sundays, 10 28 a. m., and 6 44 p. m.; do not stop at Asbury Park on Sundays.
For Sea Side Park, Island Heights and Toms River—12 46, p m.
For Boston—8 46 p. m., daily.
For Brooklyn, N. Y.—All through trains connect at Jersey City with boats to Brooklyn annex, affording direct transfer to and from Fulton Street, avoiding double ferriage and journey across New York City.
Leave New York for Elizabeth—1 00 daily except Monday 6, 6 30, 7 20, 8 10, 8 30, 9, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 30, 12 40 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 45, 5 00, 5 10, 5 30, 5 30, 5 40, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 15, 9 15, 10 15, 11 00, 11 59 p. m., 12 11 night. Sundays, 1 00 6 15, 8, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 2 00, 2 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 30, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10, 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.
S. M. PREVOST, General Manager
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.
NEW YORK MAILS.
Arrive—7 30, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 8 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a.m., 1 45, 6, and 7 30 p. m
SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.
Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m.
SUNDAY MAILS.
Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m.

The Finderne,

FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.
Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.
HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.
(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.
A. E. WHITE, Manager.
19 tf Finderne, N. J

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.
Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. C. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

JOHN P. EMMONS
—Mason and Builder.—
Washington avenue and Prospect place
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to 11 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.
E. B Gayle, No. 18 Vine St.
ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO
7-27-tf

GEO. W. STUDER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

---

McCullough's Steam Mill,
21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.
E. H. McCullough, Proprietor.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-13-t

---

C. W. LINES & CO.,
Mason and Builders.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence 18 Elm Place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to 13 6t

Jno. J. Shotwell,
Wood Mantels,
Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.
221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 t

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)
Station in New York—foot of Liberty street.
Time Table in effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield, 2 14, 3 27, 5 28, 6 05, 6 29, 6 57 7 26, 7 50, 7 58, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 22, 10 04 10 27, 11 19, a m: 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12 4 50, 5 54, 7 03, 8 30, 9 22, 10 17, 11 28, p. m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 27, 6 05, 8 01, 8 48, 10 08, 11 19, 11 28 a. m.: 12 33, 1 45, 3 50, 5 28, 5 36, 7 11, 8 22, 8 32, 10 12 p. m.

Leave New York, foot Liberty Street at 4 30 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a. m.: 1 30, 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 5 15, (Express Saturdays) 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p. m., 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 8 30, 9 15 a. m.; 12 00 m.; 1 00, 2 15, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p. m.; 12 15 night 1 00 a. m.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 28, 6 29, 6 58, 7 28, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 22, 10 04, 10 27, a. m.; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 6 54, 7 03, 8 30, 10 17, 11 28, p.m. Sunday 8 01, 8 52, 10 08, 11 28, a. m.; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 11, 8 22, 8 32, 10 17 p. m.

Leave Newark, at 6 15, 7 15, 7 55, 8 30, 9 00, 10 05, 11 25 a. m.; 1 15, 1 35, 2 20 (Saturdays only) 2 50, 3 25, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 40, 10 05, 11 25 p. m. Sunday 7 30, 8 45, 9 35, 11 35, a. m.; 1 10, 2 35, 4 10, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20 p. m.

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 09 a.m. 12 46, 2 08, 2 32, 3 45, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 19, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 24 p. m.; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 34, a. m.; 2 03, 3 28, 5 14, 6 36, 10 15, 11 14 p. m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 35, 7 48, 8 20, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m.; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 25, 4 25, 5 28, 6 25, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 55 a. m.; 12 08, 1 20, 5 05, 6 45, 8 05, 9 40 p.m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54, a. m.; 12 46, 2 08, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 16 a. m.; 2 03, 6 35, p. m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53 a. m.; 12 22, 4 00, 7 00 p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 35 a. m.; 6 40, 7 30 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 35 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.
6 46 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk Williamsport and Tamaqua.
7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.
3 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.
9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hanticoke, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.
12 46 p. m. way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.
2 08 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.
5 06 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch
5 14 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.
6 19 P. M. for Flemington.
6 38 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.
8 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.
6 46 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 26 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 2 09 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6.38 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.
For Atlantic City, 8 27 a. m. 1 18 p. m.
Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c
Leave Plainfield 8 27, 8, 10 27, a. m 1.18, 3 51, 6 54, p. m. Sundays—(except Ocean Grove 8 52, a. m., 3 30 p. m.
For Perth Amboy, 3 27, 5 28, 8 10 27 a. m. 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 6.54, 7 03 p.m. Sunday—8 52, a. m., 3 30 p. m.
For Freehold, 6 27, 8.10 27 a.m., 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 9 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.
Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 46, 7 44 9 46, 10 46, a. m., 2 09, 5 30 6 46 8 21, 9 27 p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—5 46, 9 46, a. m., 2 09, 5 14, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.
For Trenton 5 46, 8 44, 9 46, 10 46, a. m., 12 46, 2 09, 5 30, 6 39, 8 21, 9 27 p.m., 1 12 night. Sundays—9 46 a. m., 2 09, 5 14, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.
For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 24 p m. Sundays 5 14 p m.
For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week-days as 9 54 a m., 8 22 p. m. Sundays 6 39 p. m
RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA, Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 00, 9 50, 11 35 a.m., 1 50 3 40 5 18, 6 04, 8 26, p.m. 12 20, night.
Sundays—4 10, 8 00, 9 50, 12 35 a. m., 3 50, 6 00, 8 26 p. m., 12 20 night.
From 24th and Chestnut—3 55, 7 58, 9 21, 11 15, a m. 3 50, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—3 55, 7 58, 12 19 p m, 3 50, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m.
Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 00 4 58, 9 06, 10 26, a.m. 12 15, 2 10, 4 29, 5 54, 9 01 p.m. Sundays—1 00, 4 58, 9 06, 10 27 a. m. 1 15, 4 29 8 49, 9 05 p. m.
Plainfield passengers by trains marked change cars at Bound Brook.
Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to the ticket agent at the station.
J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS
COPYRIGHTS.
CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.
Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.
ESTABLISHED 1840.
Nearly 100,000 Now In Use.
RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD,
WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO
EASY TERMS, — EXCHANGED.
Catalogue mailed on application.
110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

MONEY LOANED.
Local Representatives Wanted.
Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 6 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. E. Robertson, President, 1128 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 6m

Sanitary Science,

THE NATION'S PRIDE

Excelsior Disinfector,

The most powerful and agreeable Deodorizer and Germicide known. Price comp'ete, one disinfector and one can fluid $1.50; fluid only $1. Call and examine.

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

The Welsbach Gas Burner,

The great reading light. White China for decoration.

CHINA FIRED.

102 piece Dinner Sets, decorated, $5.00.

Gavett's

120 East Front street.

Ready, There

Yes! All ready at Randolph's for your patronage—A first-class pharmacy to anchor by.

Reasonable prices, courteous clerks, pure drugs and chemicals await you.

L. W. Randolph,

Prescription Druggist,

143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

Painters and Decorators.

167 NORTH AVENUE (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

We renew our offer of last month to paper any room free for the first one sending the correct sentence composed of the following letters:

LYHAOEITSUORETMIRESOPUBCFTRAPT

We give you your selection of our immense stock of Wall Papers, which is the finest in the city, and all this years patterns. This contest to close on the 31st day of this month. Our first prize went to Dunellen; see if this one can be kept here. Remember, one guess to each family. To win this prize is an easy way to save money

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats. Dress Shirts,

Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 169 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

THE BISHOP'S BEER.

THE FUN A CHICAGO DIVINE IS HAVING RUNNING A SALOON.

His Bartenders Are Artists in Concocting Drinks. Tricks Played by Rivals. The Church Saloon Seems Popular and Its Number May Increase.

Fancy a Reverened Bishop of the Reformed Episcopal Church selling beers and drinks about a saloon, the foam dripping down the front of his clerical coat or splashing in his face as a bartender slides the glasses along the shiny, polished cherry bar toward him!

Yet this is what happens every day in Chicago. And the Bishop not only serves drinks, but deals out hash, kidney stew and pork and beans as well. The clerical subject is the Rt. Rev. Samuel Fallows, D. D., Bishop of the Reformed Episcopal Church, and the place where he performs these interesting things is the "Home Salon," at 155 Washington street.

The place has not been in operation long yet the average attendance per day has been 2,400. Four thousand persons patronized it on the opening day. Crowds throng the place day and night, and its promoters have difficulty handling the crush and furnishing the drinks, which are becoming famous.

Bishop Fallows believes men do not drink beer—that is, the majority do not—for the alcohol that is in it, nor for the tipsiness overindulgence induces. He maintains that they drink it as a beverages imply, and that the drunkenness is in most cases the result of unintentional excess. He believes, too, that many slaves of drink have been made so through their first indulgence in what at the time they thought was a harmless beverage, but that the alcohol in it, awakening an appetite dormant in many and only becoming active as it was fed, finally saturated the victim and reduced him to the pitable condition of the habitual drunkard.

REV. DR. FALLOWS.

The place is in a stuffy, narrow, badly ventilated basement in the heart of the office building district of Chicago. Its entrance is a narrow marble staircase, on one side of which in great brass letters is the sign, "Home Salon."

There is nothing to indicate that the cellar is different in character from the thousands of basement saloons that flourish in Chicago. In fact, the highly polished brass posts and railings leading into the basement are in strong imitation of their alcohol subsidized competitors, and a stranger going into it and asking for a glass of beer would probably leave with no suspicion that he had not had the genuine thing, except a slight peculiarity in the taste of the beverage.

On the left side of the basement as one enters is the brilliantly lighted bar, glistening with the usual glassware and bottles and decanters exactly similar to those used in saloons and filled with many colored liquids, all non alcoholics. Behind the bar are the four bartenders, resplendent in white jackets, well groomed and as dexterous in mixing decoctions and serving drinks as a Hoffman House studi artist. In fact, the head bartender, F. L. Newman, for many years tended bar in one of the Delmonico houses in New York, and his assistants are George Bradley, late of Chapin & Gore's and Hannah & Hogg's; George Wilson and George Castles, both old time dispencers of liquid refreshment.

The Bishop has acquired such a Bacchalian dexterity in the serving of the drinks that he would create a furore at a Coney Island beer garden.

On each side of the back bar is a portrait of Miss Frances Willard and Neal Dow, and about the room in conspicuous places are placards announcing the different kind of drinks.

The beer, or beerette, or Bishop's beer, as it is variously called, is, as explained by the expert German chemist, who makes it, "a pure brewed extract of hops and malt, and while there is no alcohol in it, any beer drinker will declare it to be a good drink, and a close counterfeit, without any of the bad effects of lager beer." Its exact composition the chemist says is a secret which he intends to jealously guard, for he thinks "there are millions in it."

A funny complication arose on the opening day. The amount of beerette manufactured and on hand for prospective customers proved to be distressingly inadequate to the demand, so that by 2 P. M. the foaming beverage had run out. In the emergency some practical joker whispered to Bishop Fallows that weiss beer was just as free from alcohol as was his beerette, and suggested that a supply of that be obtained. The suggestion was acted upon, and several dozen cases hurriedly bought. Customers who knew the difference between beer and beerette that afternoon softly "winked the other eye" after drinking the weiss beer, and ordered the Bishop to "set 'em up again."

The hilarious manner in which his customers began to act astonished the good Bishop, but not an inkling of the real state of affairs occurred to him until two revenue officers entered and said they understood the "Salon" was selling weiss beer. The Bishop acknowledged it, and was thunderstruck when they informed him the weiss beer he was selling contained 8 per cent. of alcohol, and that if he wanted to continue he must take out a saloon license. The weiss beer was thrown into the sewer forthwith and the house closed while an investigation was begun.

One Week of Sunshine in Georgia.

One week o' sunshine fills the cup
O' pleasure to the brim;
The mockin' birds primpin' up—
The bluebird's on the limb.

An' fur' an' nigh the bendin' sky
Is bright with livin' blue;
An' in the meadows you can spy
The daisy in the dew.

If this ain't spring, I'm bound to tell
It's got deceiving looks;
For here's a man with clocks to sell—
Another one with books!

—Atlanta Constitution.

BISHOP FALLOWS'S IDEAS.

Reasons for Starting the Home Salon in Chicago.

Bishop Fallows, in discussing the establishment of his saloon for the sale of non-alcoholic beverages, says:

"I did not enter the 'Home Salon' project blindly. I first carefully learned if there was a field for such an enterprise. The idea is based upon the English coffee house idea that began at New Castle-on-Tyne. The movement was under the auspices of the church, and it was made as a result of a demand for some comfortable place where workingmen or men of the middle class could go, having no other place to lounge than at tap and alehouses, where they squandered their earnings and became besotted idlers. Now there are thousands of coffee houses all over England. We here have Americanized the idea and there is ample room in the large cities of the country for it to expand.

"We are aiming at the patronage of the saloon. We want the floating or transient trade of the saloon. There is not much money in regular, or drunkard, trade for the saloon. If we can get, or even divide, the patronage of the rum mill its power will be undermined. The saloon business is not a legitimate trade, yet it has more patronage and influence in all affairs than every other business. In most communities it is all powerful.

"Just contemplate for a moment the result of exerting the saloon influence of Chicago or New York to-day in favor of good municipal government. The people of the country are very foolish to allow saloon keepers to have all the advantages, all the emoluments, all the power that are the result of the saloon or liquor traffic influence. When one great newspaper can get the subscribers of another newspaper it does so without hesitation, and it goes about getting them by meriting, deserving the new patronage. If it gets them the loser finds its influence and prestige gone, while the other gains in influence and earning capacity. We are jealous of the earning capacity of a saloon—particularly because the work of destroying them is in the interest of humanity, view it what light you will.

"We are not seeking as a primary object the making of money. We want the work to be self-supporting in order that it may be extended. Other houses will be opened in the downtown district as rapidly as we find room for them. We will remain open night and day, except on Sunday, when we will close, even if the saloons do not. I have letters from nearly every State in the West commencing the project.

"One Kansas man wants to put the idea in operation in that State under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., and another from Philadelphia is very enthusiastic. The newspapers without exception indorse the idea. We have had many practical pointers given us by restaurant men and even saloon keepers in Chicago."

One of the most interested of Bishop Fallows' visitors last week was Benjamin Peters Hutchinson ("Old Hutch"). The famous ex-plunger and speculator was greatly impressed with what he saw and forthwith inserted the following advertisement in the Chicago daily papers:

Wanted—Party to join me in opening a temperance home saloon and restaurant. B. P. Hutchinson, Board of Trade.

EDITOR DARGAN WARNED.

He Spoke for Fair Treatment of the Negro and Receives Threats.

Col. John J. Dargan, editor of the Columbia, S. C., Sumter Freeman, whose speech there favored universal suffrage and fair treatment of the negroes, has received a letter from Hartsville, S.C., signed "Legion of White Men," which contains the following:

"Your incendiary speeches are calculated to cause bloody strife in this State. We consider it blood economy to take the blood of one man rather than the blood of many. Take warning at this and save yourself from death and us from a heinous deed and save your wife and daughter the disgrace that their husband and father died a shameful death as an incendiary leader of negroes. No negro in this."

Dargan published the letter in the Freeman, and invites the anonymous signers to get up a meeting at Hartsville, promising to go there alone and address it on the negro question.

"It would save them a long ride, and they would have me handy for the heinous deed which they wish to commit," is his comment.

Stevenson's Last Prayer.

The text of a prayer, composed by the late Robert Louis Stevenson, has been published. This prayer was read aloud to Mr. Stevenson's family on the night before his death:

"We beseech thee, O Lord, to behold us with favor. Folk of many families and nations are gathered together in the peace of this roof—weak men and women, subsisting under the cover of thy patience. Be patient still. Suffer us yet a while longer, with our broken purposes of good, with our idle endeavors against evil—suffer us yet a while longer to endure and, if it may be, help us to do better. Bless to us our extra mercies and if the day comes when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be with our friends. Be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest and if any awake temper to them the dark hours of watching, and when the day returns to us our sun and comforter, call us with morning faces and morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if happiness shall be our portion, and if the day be marked to sorrow, strong to endure it. We thank thee and praise thee, and in the words of Him to whom this day is sacred, close our oblation."

He Smokes and Drinks.

The oldest man in West Virginia is J. A. Scott, who was born in Giles county, Va., March 15, 1795, and who celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary a short while ago.

He has been married three times, his last wife dying a few years ago after a short married life. He has eighteen children and fifty grand and great grand children. The old man has used tobacco, smoked and chewed, and drunk whisky nearly all his life, and he has enjoyed good health until about two years ago, when he broke a leg. His mind at times wanders now, but otherwise he appears to be in fairly good health for one of his age.

An Explanation.

Proud father—That is a sunset my daughter painted. She studied painting abroad, you know.

Friend—Ah! that explains it. I never saw a sunset like that in this country.—Puck.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J.

Why Pay $5.00 for Flour

when you can get a good barrel for $3.75 at

J. F. MacDonald's, 186 E. Front St.

All goods of the finest quality and guaranteed.

N. O. molasses	35c	2 quarts Cal. limas	25c
Fine butter	22c	4 cans corn	25c
5 pounds raisins	25c	3 cans ex. fine tomatoes	25c
3 pounds fr prunes	25c	3 cans E. J. peas	25c
2 pounds dry peaches	25c	2 cans peaches	25c
2 pounds evaporated apricots	25c	2 cans apricots	25c
4 pounds rice	25c	2 cans salmon	25c
3 quarts beans	25c	3 cans string beans	25c

THE CZAR,

The Handsomest Wheel Ever Produced.

HIGHEST GRADE MADE.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue

A CLEAN WASH! SOAP, SOAP.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW

only hope that you will embrace this opportunity and purchase an elegant box containing three cakes of fine toilet soap for 10c.

Lavender Salts, bottle	25c.
Royal Talcum Powder, box	10c.
Layons Tooth Powder, box	18c.
Box of O. C. O. Complexion Powder and bottle of Perfume, special	10c.
Extra quality ½ hose, 15c. pair. 2 for	25c.
Men's medium weight underwear	39c.

Warner Bro's. CORSETS.

Thompson's "Glove Fitting"

TRUNKS.

New stock in today. Any trunks left over from last year go at cost.

We have re-tagged them. You see old price and new; good trunks they are, too—mostly big sellers. Prices $2.50 to $10.50. Quick if you want one.

Front street, opp Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

Hallock

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager

Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn. 1 14 tf

IF YOU WANT

ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once.

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

TOXIN

BY OUIDA

[Copyright by Bacheller, Johnson & Bacheller.]

CHAPTER VI.

He remained there some minutes whilst the water traffic passed by him unnoticed and the crowds flocked out from a novena in the Salute. One of the medicine men whom he had summoned came out on to the steps.

"The sisters say the prince is better. He seems so," said his colleague.

"What do they know?" said Damer; and added, less harshly: "It is too early to be able to make sure of recovery; it is a disease which is very treacherous."

"You have more knowledge than I," said the Venetian, who was a meek man, not very wise.

"Come to my laboratory in the Fondamente, and I will show you something and tell you something," said Damer.

His Italian colleague, flattered, complied with the request.

What he showed him were three animals, two rabbits and a cat—inoculated with and dying of diphtheria; what he explained to him were the theories of Loffler and Klebs and the discovery of the antidote by Behring; and displayed to him some serum which he had received from Roux, who was only then at the commencement of his applications of Behring's theory.

The Venetian doctor inspected and listened with deep respect.

"Why do you not try this treatment on the prince?" he said, which was what Damer desired and intended him to say.

"I will do so on my own responsibility if he is no better in the morning," he replied. "But you will admit that the responsibility will be great, the theory of the cure being at present unknown to the general public, and no one of his family being at present in Venice to authorize the experiment."

"We are there as your colleagues, and we shall support you," replied the more obscure man, touched and flattered by the deference of one who was in the confidence of French and German men of science.

"If there be no other way," said Damer, as he put the small phial of serum back into a locked case.

The dual meaning which lay in the words was like a devil's laugh in his ears.

When the Venetian doctor had left him he had taken the phial of serum, inoculating syringe, and another smaller bottle containing a clear liquid; he had put these together in the breast pocket of his coat. He looked up at the Ca' Laranigra as he passed it; its windows were all dark, and the white lilies had no light upon them save that from the rays of the moon. As he entered the lighted hall of the hotel they handed to him a telegram. It was from the Princess Andreis.

She had received his dispatch twelve hours late, as she had been in her summer palace in the mountains; she had left Sicily immediately, and said that she would travel without pause at the utmost speed possible. She added: "I commend my darling to God and you."

Damer crushed the paper up in his hand with a nervous gesture and flung it out, by the open doorway, into the water below.

Then he ascended the staircase, and entered his patient's room.

The night was very warm; the windows stood wide open; there was a shaded porcelain lamp on the table. One nun watched whilst the other slept. Andreis lay still on the great bed in the shadow; he was awake, his eyes were looking upward, his mouth was open, but his breathing was easier and less hard. The sister of charity whispered to Damer: "I think he is better. The fungus growth seems loosening. We have given the wine and the meat essence. He could swallow."

Damer said nothing. He was absorbed in meditation. The infliction of death was nothing to him; could be nothing; he was used to kill as he was used to torture with profound indifference, with no more hesitation than he ate or drank or fulfilled any natural function of his body. What was the man lying sleeping there to him? Only an organism like those which daily he broke up and destroyed and threw aside. Only an organism, filled by millions of other invisible organisms, by a myriad of parasite animalculæ, numerous as the star-dust in the skies.

He sat by the window and looked out absently at the night.

He knew that the nun was right; he knew that the disease was passing away from the sick man; that, if left alone, sleep and youth would restore him to health, to love, and joy.

Should he leave him alone?

The mother of Andreis could not be there before another day, travel as rapidly as she would. He knew the effect of affection on the nervous system, and that the sight and sense of a beloved person near often gave to enfeebled frames the power of resistance and recovery. Those emotions were not in himself, but he recognized their existence, and he knew that in Andreis the emotions and the affections were very strong in proportion as the mental powers were slight.

"What thou doest, do quickly," he murmured in words which he had heard in his childhood as he had sat in the old parish church of his native village.

He rose and walked to the bed.

Andreis still seemed to sleep, the breathing was heavy and forced chiefly through the nasal passage; but there was a look of returning serenity on his features—a look which the man of science is well aware precedes recovery, not death. As surely as anyone can gauge the unseen future, he was sure that if let alone Andreis would recover. He no longer hesitated; he no longer doubted. He went to the adjacent chamber, where the two nuns, still dressed, were sleeping. He awakened them.

"Come," he said gently. "He is worse. I am about to try the cure of Behring. It may succeed. It will be necessary to hold him. I require you both."

He was well aware that it would be unwise to essay that operation alone—it would rouse comment in the day to come.

"Hold him motionless," he said to the two women. "Do not awake him if you can avoid it."

He filled the inoculating syringe from one of the little phials which he had brought from the Lattere. He stood in the full light of the lamp so that the two sisters could see all that he did.

"Loosen his shirt," he said to them. Andreis still slept; in his predisposition to sleep the few drops of chloral had sufficed to render him almost insensible.

Damer bent over him and inserted the injecting needle into the side of his throat; the incision disturbed him without wholly loosening the bonds of the soporific; he struggled slightly, moaned a little, but the nuns succeeded in resisting his endeavor to rise.

The face of Damer in the lamplight was not paler than usual, but his hand trembled as he withdrew the syringe.

"What is Behring's cure?" asked the nun who felt most interest in her patient.

Damer had walked to the window and stood looking out at the moonlit water.

"An antitoxin; the serum of an immune beast," he answered, calmly, as he turned slightly towards her. The nun did not understand, but she was afraid of troubling him with other questions.

He had left on a table the syringe and the phial of serum which was half empty. But in the breast pocket of his coat he had the phial of toxin, which was wholly empty. The nuns, engaged in holding down Andreis, had not seen that the phial on the table was not the phial from which the syringe had been filled; and, when used, Damer had plunged the syringe immediately into a bowl of disinfecting acid. There was no trace anywhere that the toxin had been used—no trace whatever save in the tumifying vein of the sick man's throat.

"You had better stay, you may be wanted, and it is two o'clock," said Damer to the nurses. "I shall remain here. There will be, I hope, a great change soon."

He went out on to the balcony and turned his back on the watching women and leaned against the iron work, looking down on the canal, where nothing moved except the slow, scarcely-visible ripple of the water.

He did not repent or regret; he did not see any evil in his act. The right of the strong, the right of the sage was his; he had but exercised his reason to produce an issue he desired.

So he thought as he leaned against the iron scroll work and watched the thick, dark water glide by the Salute. There was a faint light in the sky on the east, but he could not see the east where he stood; it was still completely night between the walls of the Grand canal. The voice of a man called up to him from the darkness below.

"Madame sends me to know how goes it with the prince?"

Damer looked down. "Tell the Countess Laranigra that things are as they were. A new remedy has been essayed."

The man who had come by the calle retired by them, swinging a lantern in his hand.

The vulcans of the clock tower, hard by in St. Mark's square, struck four times upon their anvil. Damer looked up the darkness of the canal where nothing was to be seen but the lamps which burned on either side of it with their reflections, and the lanthorns tied to poles before some of the palaces. He could not see the Ca' Laranigra, which was not in sight even in the day, but he saw it in remembrence with its flowering balconies, its tapestried chambers, its red and white awnings, its great escutcheon over its portals. He saw her in his vision as she must be now—awake, listening for her messenger's return, in some white, loose gown no doubt, with her hair loose, too, upon her shoulders, her face white, her eyes strained in anxiety, as he had seen them that afternoon and evening. If Andreis had lived she would have been his wife; that was as certain as that the sea was beating on the bar of Malomocco underneath the moon.

"I have done well; I have exercised my right," he thought. "We have right of life and death over all birds and beasts and things which swim and crawl, by virtue of our greater brain; in like manner has the greater brain the right to deal as it will with the weaker brain when their paths meet and one must yield and go under. The fool hath said that there is sanctity in life, but the man of science has never said it. To him one organism or another has the same measure in his scales."

He was consistent enough and sincere enough to follow out the theories of the laboratory to their logical sequence without flinching. He honestly held himself without blame.

He called up to his command that power of will which had never failed him; he returned to the bedside as he would have returned to visit a dog dying under atmospheric pressure. Andreis still lay in the same position. About the almost invisible orifice where the needle had punctured there was a slight tumified swelling.

"He seems worse," whispered the nun.

The head of Andreis was thrown back on the pillows; his eyes were closed; his face was pallid and looked blue round the mouth and about the temples. He was now straining for breath like a horse fallen on the road, blown and broken.

"He is worse," said Damer, gravely.

The nun, who had a tender heart, wept. Damer sat down by the bed. He had seen that struggle for air a thousand times in all the hospitals of Europe. It could now have but one end. A little while after they brought him a note and a telegram. The first was from Veronica. It said: "How good you are. How I thank you."

THE NUNS SANK ON THEIR KNEES.

The second was from the mother of Andreis. It said: "I have reached Bologna. I shall soon be with you. God bless you for your goodness to my son."

He read them, and put them in his breast pocket beside the empty phial of toxin.

They would be useful if any called in question the too late usage of the Behring serum. They would show the complete confidence placed in him by the writers. At that moment his two Venetian colleagues arrived. The day had dawned. The women put out the light of the lamps.

"You have given the anti-toxin?" said the elder of the Venetians, glancing at the syringe.

"I have," replied Damer. "But, I believe, too late."

"I fear too late," replied the Venetian. "Not less admirable is your courage in accepting such responsibility."

The pure light of earliest daybreak was in the whole of the vast chamber.

It shone on that ghastly sight, a man dying in his youth, struggling and straining for a breath of air, fighting against suffocation.

The poisoned growth filled every chink of the air passages as though they were tubes mortared up and closed hermetically. His face grew purple and tumid, his eyes started from their sockets, his arms waved wildly, beckoning in space; he had no sense left except the mere instinctive mechanical effort to gasp for the air which he was never to breathe again. The five persons round him stood in silence, while the stifled sobs of the nun were heard, the splash of oars echoed from the water below, somewhere without a bird sang.

The minutes went on; the nuns sank on their knees; the one who wept hid her face on the coverlet of the bed. All which had been the youth, the form, the vitality of Andreis wrestled with death as a young lion tears at the walls of the den which imprisons him. The terrible choking sounds were heard through the air to which his closed throat could not open. Blood foamed in froth from his lips, which were curled up over the white teeth, and were cracked and blue. Damer ceased to look; almost he regretted.

IN THE CORRIDOR BEYOND WAS A PRIEST IN HIS CANONICALS.

"He is out of pain," said one of the Venetians.

"He is dead," said Damer.

The women crossed themselves.

The little bird outside sang loudly.

The door opened, and the mother of Andreis stood on the threshold.

In the corridor beyond was a priest in his canonicals and a boy bearing the Host.

Six months later the man who had killed him wedded Veronica Laranigra. Her family opposed and her friends warned her in vain; she shrank from him, she feared him, but the magnetism of his will governed hers till he shaped her conduct as the hand of the sculptor moulds the clay.

He became master of her person, of her fortune, of her destiny; but her soul, frightened and dumb, escapes from him, and hides in the caverns of memory and regret.

[THE END.]

—It takes twice as much space as it used to, in The Press ad columns, for White to tell the news of his store, for he has so much more to tell. He has twice as big a store as hitherto, and an immense stock of bargains that beat the metropolis.

BAMBERGER'S

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

147 and 149 Market St., Newark.

GRAND

Spring Opening

MONDAY, April 1,
TUESDAY, April 2,
WEDNESDAY, April 3.

Our handsome, recently enlarged establishment will be decorated with rare Tropical Plants, Exotics and Flowers, and on Monday evening

A GRAND PROMENADE CONCERT

—BY—

PROF. VOSS'S FAMOUS ORCHESTRA will be given. No goods sold on Monday evening. Aside from the decorations and the music, the magnificent assortments of New Spring Wearing Apparel, which we are showing should be sufficient to bring you to us during our opening days.

Special Bargains

—IN—

All Departments,

will aid in making the visit a most profitable one to you.

L. BAMBERGER & CO., NEWARK.

VAN EMBURGH & SON

All-Silk Ribbons.

5/8 inch wide	4c	1½ inch wide	8c
7/8 "	5c	1⅞ "	10c
1¼ "	7c	2¼ "	12c

Stockinet dress shields, Nos. 2 and 3, 8 cents per pair.
Pure rubber dress shields Nos. 2 and 3, 10c pair.
Ladies' laundried shirt waists 49c
New novelty wool dress goods (colors) 25c pair.
40 inch all-wool ladies' cloth (colors and black) 35c pair.
31-inch French sateens (colors) 18c pair.
Turkey red table covers 2½ yards long 65c each.
1¼ yard wide table oil cloth 14c yard
Extra heavy table felt 48c; regular price 65c
Men's half hose, fast black. 10, 15, 25c; all seamless
Men's half hose, light shades, 12, 15, 25c; all seamless.
Ladies' black hose, seamless, 10, 15, 18, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45c.
Black satin, extra quality, 79c.
Black and colored velvets, fancy silks, wash silks, black Moreen, light and dark hair cloth, fibre Chamois and dress makers' furnishings.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

LADIES' $2 OXFORDS

Black and Russet.

Common Sense and Opera Toe; all new Spring goods!

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue

Come and see them!

106 East Front Street—— NEW STORE, NEW GOODS.

Grand Opening of the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co., Saturday, Feb. 9.

"EVERY DAY PRICES."

Fine quality mixed tea	25c	Can tomatoes, solid packed	8c
" Oolong tea	30c	Can peas, early June	8c
" Young Hyson tea	40c	Can corn, fine goods	8c
" Japan tea	40c	Fine butter	24c
XX soda crackers	4½c	Ground coffee	17½c
Ginger snaps	5½c	Java and Mocha coffee	32c
Nic-nac crackers	6c	Extra fine Maricaibo coffee	30c
California peaches	17c can	" Rio coffee	24c
		Lard	8c

All goods warranted as represented.

H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager.

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE

Grand Opening

New Spring

CARPETS!

on

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY

March 27 and 28,

at which time we will have on exhibition the choicest and most exclusive line of Carpets ever exhibited in this State.

Royal Wilton from $1 50 up.
Axminster from $1 yd up.
Body Brussels from 90c yd up.
Tapestry Brussels from 60c yd up
Ingrain carpets from 40c yd up.
Linoleums from 50c yd up.
Oilcloth from 25c yd up.
Mattings from $3 75 per roll.

Splendid new line of Rugs, Art Squares, etc., at moderate prices.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend this opening and inspect the goods, whether they want to purchase or not.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET,
Newark, N. J.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

Notice is hereby given that Christian Schepflin and Peter Schultz of the borough of Dunellen, County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, partners trading under the firm name and style of "Schepflin, Schultz & Co.," and also under the firm name and style of "C. Schepflin & Co." clothing manufacturers, at No. 320 West Front street, in the City of Plainfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey, have this day made an assignment to the subscriber of their estate, real and personal, for the equal benefit of their creditors pursuant to the act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey entitled "An Act to secure to creditors an equal and just division of the estates of debtors who convey to assignees for the benefit of creditors," (Revision) approved March 24th, 1874, and the several supplements thereto, and that all claims of creditors against said estate must be presented under oath or affirmation to the subscriber, assignee of said Christian Schepflin and Peter Schultz, partners as aforesaid, at his office No. 320 West Front street, in the City of Plainfield aforesaid, within three months from this date, being the date of said assignment, or be forever barred from coming in for a division of said estate.

Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March Twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety five.

JAMES F. MACDONALD, Assignee.

3 29 4 o a w.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

Notice is hereby given that Christian Schepflin, of the borough of Dunellen, County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, has this day made an assignment to the subscriber of his estate, real and personal, for the equal benefit of his creditors, pursuant to the act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey entitled "An Act to secure to creditors an equal and just division of the estates of debtors who convey to assignees for the benefit of creditors," (Revision) approved March 27th, 1874, and the several supplements thereto, and that all claims of creditors against said estate must be presented under oath or affirmation to the subscriber, assignee of said Christian Schepflin, at his office No. 320 West Front street, in the City of Plainfield, aforesaid, within three months from this date, being the date of said assignment, or be forever barred from coming in for a division of said estate.

Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March Twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety five.

JAMES F. MACDONALD, Assignee.

3 29 4 o a w

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.

Notice is hereby given that Peter Schultz, of the borough of Dunellen, County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, has this day made an assignment to the subscriber of his estate, real and personal, for the equal benefit of his creditors, pursuant to the act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey entitled "An Act to secure to creditors an equal and just division of the estates of debtors who convey to assignees for the benefit of creditors," (Revision) approved March 27th, 1874, and the several supplements thereto, and that all claims of creditors against said estate must be presented under oath or affirmation to the subscriber, assignee of said Peter Schultz, at his office, No. 320 West Front street in the City of Plainfield aforesaid, within three months from this date, being the date of said assignment, or be forever barred from coming in for a division of said estate.

Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March Twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety five.

JAMES F. MACDONALD, Assignee.

3 29 4 o a w.

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,

Teacher of Banjo. Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street. Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J.

3 12 m

THE DAILY PRESS

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1895. TWO CENTS A COPY. $5 A YEAR.

LITTLE ENDEAVORERS.

They Entertain an Audience With Novel Exercises.

The home missionary exercises under the auspices of the Junior Christian Endeavor society in the First Presbyterian Church last night, were participated in by 23 little Endeavorers who furnished an entertaining evening to the large number assembled.

The exercises were of a novel character, each of the twenty-three representing a portion of a railroad train and in turn performing the part of reciting or singing. Those who took part were Mary and Bertha Anglehart, Charlotte and Lind Cave, Jennie and Mamie Dunham, Mabel and Willie Mehl, Mildred and Carl Ulrich, Beatrice and Vincent Miner, Ethel Lang, Donald Bechtelle, Roy Radford, Douglas and Chauncey Murphy, Flossie and Edna Martin, Etta and Ella Havens, Pierson Morgan and Willie Hepborn.

Rev. Dr. Wm. R. Richards of the Crescent Avenue Church made a few remarks appropriate to the mission work, telling of his experience in the West with the needy, and how well the efforts of the little workers were merited here in our own country.

The exercises were arranged by and under the supervision of Misses Lou Peck and Bessie Blair, who devoted much time and energy to perfecting their young pupils.

Holy Week Services at All Saints Church, Scotch Plains.

On Palm Sunday, April 7, the Holy Communion will be administered at 9:30, a. m., the second service at 10:45 will consist of morning prayer, litany and sermon. The Sunday-school will meet at 3 p. m. as usual, and rehearse the Easter carols. At 7:30 p. m., by the courtesy and help of the Messrs. Hall of Fanwood, the Rector will deliver a lecture on "The Events of the First Palm Sunday", which will be illustrated by the gentlemen named above, by stereopticon views, including pictures of Bethany, the brook Kedron, Gethsemane, Jerusalem, etc. There will be no postponement of this service on account of the weather. On Wednesday following, at 8 p. m., there will the usual litany service and sermon on the "Betrayal of Christ". On Thursday there will be morning prayer, Holy Communion and sermon at 11 a. m., and evening prayer at 4 p. m. Good Friday, April 12, full morning service and sermon at 11 a. m., and evening prayer and sermon at 7:30 p. m. Easter-Even, (Saturday) there will be evening prayer with Holy Baptism at 4 p. m. On Easter-Day, there will be an early celebration of the Holy Communion at 9; full morning service, sermon and second celebration at 10:45 a. m. Evening prayer will be said at 4 p. m. The Children's Easter Festival, singing of carols and presentation of Easter gifts, will take place in the evening at 7:15. All the seats in this church are free, and strangers are cordially welcomed at all services.

EDW. H. TRUE, Rector.

Sunday-School Officers.

The annual meeting of the Sunday-school Board was held last evening in Vincent Chapel. Reports were received from the various officers, after which the annual election was held with the following result: Superintendent, J. W. Jackson, with G. R. Cornwell and G. M. Rittenhouse assistants; secretary, N. J. Hull; treasurer, A. E. Crone; librarian, L. M. Dunavan. Officers of Sunday-school Mission society: President, J. C. Peck; vice-president, Wm. H. Larrabee; secretary and treasurer, A. E. Crone.

How the Teams Finished.

The final games in the county section of the Journal Association were rolled Thursday night, and Roselle came out ahead. The scores on the whole were excellent, and the showing made by the teams was of a quality of which any team might be proud.

Roselle won the series with nine victories and three defeats.

Plainfield finished second, with seven victories and five defeats.

Westfield and Cranford are tied for third place, each with four wins and eight losses.

Death of Mrs. Sarah French.

Mrs. Sarah M. French, aged 73 years, died yesterday noon at the home of her brother, Bethune Dunham, South Plainfield. She had been ill about one month with the grip, when paralysis occurred. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 from her late residence and 2 at the Baptist Church. Interment at Samptown.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

A FRESH YOUNG MAN.

The Cat Was All Right, But the Boy Needs a Spanking.

At 8:45 last night a young man was coming down North avenue, and in his arms carried a cat. The cat was all right, but he young man was too fresh. When in front of Hotel Grenada he met two young women going in an opposite direction. Here is where the young man thought he would be funny, so he made a quick motion as if to throw the feline into the face of one of the girls. The young woman is subject to fits, and this act had the effect of immediately bringone on. She dropped to the sidewalk and the guests in the hotel rushed out with a chair and lifted her into it. For nearly an hour the unfortunate girl's hands were rubbed, her forehead was bathed with cold water and various other remedies were brought into use, but she recovered very slowly. Finally a physician was called, and the young woman, still in a helpless condition, was removed to her home on West Fourth street. After the physician had administered several remedies, she finally regained consciousness.

The fresh young man escaped without being recognized. Had he remained to view the result of his freshness, there would probably be a young man wearing two eyes draped in mourning, for the men of the neighborhood were greatly aroused.

PLAINFIELD'S BY RIGHT.

Executive Committeemen to Hear the Bowling Dispute.

President Pell of the Elizabeth Journal Bowling League yesterday issued a call for a meeting of the Executive Committee of the League. The meeting will be held next Wednesday evening, April 3, in the Journal office.

The season has been closed for several weeks, but owing to the inability of the Elizabeth Bowling Club to roll its postponed game with the Plainfield Bowling Club the affairs of the League have not been settled.

Among the questions to be acted on by the Executive Committee will be the Cranford-Y. M. C. L. A. game, and the postponed contest between the P. B. C and E. B. C.

If the League's decision is in favor of Cranford and of Plainfield, the season's championship and the Journal trophy will go to Plainfield. The trophy has been held for two years by the Y. M. C. L. A. of Elizabeth. Other matters on which the Executive Committee will act include awarding of individual prizes.

Washingtonville Election.

The annual business meeting of the Sunday-school teachers and officers of the Mary E. Wilson Memorial Chapel, Washingtonville, was held last evening with a very large attendance.

After hearing excellent reports from the differen committee the following officers were elected: President—E. L. Bonny; Vice-president—Andrew Wilson; Treasurer—J. G. Bicknell; Secretary—W. E. Bicknell; Organist—Miss Nettie Beeching; Assistant-organist—Miss Carrie Bullman; Librarian—George Howard; Trustee, 3 years—George Winans.

All About a Hat.

Motorman Keefe of the street railway lost his hat Thursday night while running his car near Grant avenue on West Front street, and it necessitated his taking the headlight from his car to look for it in the vacant lots. Conductor Michael Nevins suggested that he could get him a hat that would stay on by sending to Ireland for it, but the motorman did not accept the offer.

Artistic Progress.

People who like to see for themselves the evidences of the growth of inventive genius should go to Collier's and note the wonderful evidences there shown of artistic progress in designs of gold and silverware. Not only is the stock here shown remarkable in this regard—daintily elegant and of rare design—but each article constitutes a present to be kept and cherished; of intrinsic as well as sentimental value.

Silk Sale.

A big purchase of silks was made yesterday by Edward White from a large importing house in New York. There were twenty-five hundred yards in the lot, and he bought them at 50 cents on the dollar. Among them are some very handsome patterns, suitable for shirt waists. The prices range from 33 to 39 cents per yard, just half the original value. They will be put on sale Monday morning at 9.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

THE STOVE WAS TOO HOT.

And Set Fire to the Bed, Which Called Out the Department.

"Me, oh my, what 'll me husband say when he sees this", cried Mrs. Edward Kline of 307 Plainfield avenue as she viewed the ruins of her spare bedroom suit from the ravages of fire this noon.

She had had a hot fire in a coal stove near the bed all the morning, and at 11:15 commenced to smell burning feathers. Going from her work about the house and opening the bedroom door, a great cloud of suffocating smoke belched forth. Mrs. Kline ran out of the house and gave the cry of fire. Policeman McCue who was near by heard her and sent in an alarm from Box 43 at the corner of Plainfield avenue and West Front street, at 11:25.

All the apparatus of the fire department responded, but three hand extinguishers sufficed to put out the fire, which had ruined the bed, coverings and carpet. One ambitious fireman attempted to save the feather bed, and in so doing scattered its contents all over the house, much to the discomfiture of Mrs. Kline. The damage will not exceed $50; insured.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

E. S. Peck is suffering with sore eyes.

Frank Sheppard is suffering from tonsilitis.

Paul Kimball is ill at his home with bronchitis.

Druggist Kean of Paterson is in town today on business.

J. A. Simpson and wife of Philadelphia were in town yesterday.

Miss Etta Bistz is spending a few days with friends in Brooklyn.

Miss Gottschalk of Newark is visiting friends on East Front street.

Bertram Talamy is an addition to the choir of Grace P. E. Church.

Mrs. Eliza Stites of West Front street is visiting relatives in Newark.

Carl Gallup of West Front street has recovered from his recent illness.

Marion Ackerman returned last evening from a business trip to Cumberland.

J. C. VanName of Elmwood place has not improved much from his severe illness.

Miss Grace Rowland will spend Sunday with relatives at Washington, Warren County.

Jedediah Smalley, the North Plainfield butcher, is suffering with an attack of pinkeye.

Lawyer C. L. Moffett has removed his family from Dunellen to 328 Watchung avenue.

Walter Thorn of Orchard place is assisting Secretary J. H. Manning at the Y. M. C. A.

Isaac Smalley of East Front street, who fractured a leg, was able to walk about the house yesterday with assistance.

Rev. Hubert A. Munson will deliver his farewell sermons in Monroe Avenue Chapel tomorrow morning and evening.

Mrs. N. W. French of West Fourth street was able to get down stairs yesterday for the first time after a long illness.

Mrs. Frank Leland returns to her home in Chicago Monday, after a two-weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. N. Godown, East Fifth street.

J. E. Stewart and family have returned from their Winter home in New York city and again taken up their residence at 662 West Seventh street.

PRESIDENT WALTER LONG.

Bicycle Juniors Organized by the Y. M. C. A. Boys.

Physical Director MacPhie presided at a meeting this morning in the small hall of the Y. M. C. A. Building, called to organize a Junior section of the bicycle club. Much enthusiasm was manifested and the new club started off with good prospects. E. Stanley Peck was made secretary pro tem, after which the following officers were elected: President, Walter Long; vice-president, Daniel Runkle; secretary, Thomas Earl Stockton; treasurer, O. T. Waring, Jr.; captain, Wm. J. Roome, Jr.; first lieutenant, Fred T. Hunt; second lieutenant, Howard L. Roome; sergeant, George H. Richards; color bearer, Harry T. Bogert.

The physical director appointed the following lookout committee: Frank Talmadge, Irving Clark, Edward Stanley Peck.

The selection of buglars was referred to D. A. MacPhie, who appointed Rowland Cox and Donald McGee.

"Perhaps you would not think so but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

A CENT FOR EACH YEAR.

Highly Enjoyable Birthday Party in the Congregational Church.

This "birthday party" is given to you:
'Tis something novel, 'tis something new.
We send you each a little sack,
Please either send or bring it back
With as many cents as years you're old;
We promise the number shall never be told.
Kind friends will give you something to eat,
And others will furnish a musical treat.
The Ladies Aid, with greetings most hearty.
Feel sure you'll attend your own "Birthday Party."

Such was the invitation, which, accompanied by a little cheese-cloth bag, was sent by the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational Church to all the members of the church and congregation. In consequence, the pleasant parlors of the church were last evening filled to overflowing, and the evening was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The rooms presented a charming appearance. Dainty little tables stood about, supporting beautiful lamps, candies and books. Handsome rugs lay here and there, and some most comfortable chairs added to the homelike appearance. Not the least among the decorations were the lovely flowers sent by Mrs. W. H. Brower.

At about 8:30 the programme commenced with a selection by the Ladies Orchestra, "Les Sirenes", by Waldteufil. The members of the orchestra were: Miss Whiton, violin, Miss Mary Whiton, piano. Miss Whiting, guitar, Miss Morse, autoharp, Miss May Parmelee, banjo. An orchestra composed of these instruments was something entirely out of the usual, and after a very pleasing rendering of their selection, the young women were heartily applauded.

This was followed by the reading of an original poem, by Mrs. Esther K. Miller, one of the oldest and best loved members of the church.

Miss Nellie Winckler next played very acceptably a brilliant and difficult piano solo, Mattei's "Grande Valse de Concert", after which Miss May Parmelee recited that touching little poem, "Papa's Letter", which was much enjoyed.

Next followed a violin solo by Miss Whiton, accompanied by Mrs. M. E. Dwight, a "Lullaby", by Brahms, to which the audience listened to with great pleasure.

L. B. Morgan than read an original poem, a reply to the invitation verse.

The programme closed with the presentation of the little sacks containing the birthday pennies. A collection plate was placed on a little table among flowers and lighted candles. Rev. C. L. Goodrich took his stand near this table and read a poetical extract descriptive of each month. At the close of the selection describing each month, those whose birthdays occurred in that month were requested to come forward and deposit their sacks in the plate, which soon vanished from sight under the mass of gayly-colored little bags, from the contents of which the Ladies Aid society realized a goodly sum.

An hour of sociability followed the sack depositing, and cake and coffee were served. The young women who assisted in the serving were Miss Parsons, Miss Shepherd, Miss Suffern, Miss Whiton, Miss Mary Whiton, Miss Morse, Miss Harriet Loomis of New York, Miss Jenkins, Miss Julia Belknap, Miss Howell.

The evening was a decided success, both socially and financially, and reflected great credit on the Ladies Aid Society of which Mrs. H. E. Nomer is the efficient president.

DESTITUTE THROUGH FIRE.

A Poor Family on the Mountain Burned Out of House and Home.

George Totten, who lives on top of the mountain back of Smalley's stone crusher, lost his house by fire yesterday afternoon, while he was at work.

The fire started at the chimney flue, and soon spread over the room. The room was speedily a blazing furnace.

Mrs. Totten had difficulty in the excitement in getting out the children, the hair of one being badly singed and its clothes burned.

They lost everything they had except the clothes they had on. He is a poor and deserving man, and has a family of small children. A subscription has been started to build him a new house. Any donations sent to The Daily Press office will be forwarded to him.

—Two dances, one at Miss Tappan's at Marconnier, and the other at the home of Mr. Suydam, Oak Tree, attracted a number of Plainfield people Thursday evening.

—The American championship cheese trophy, now held by the Park Club, was photographed by Langhorne yesterday. A copy of the picture will be framed and hung in the clubhouse.

For seven years or more Mrs. W. D. Louder, of Quincy, Ky., was subject to severe attacks of cramp colic. Mr. S. R. Morse, a druggist of that place, recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has effected a permanent cure, saving her much suffering besides the trouble and expense of sending for a doctor, which was often necessary. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S Armstrong, manager.

ENTERPRISING JUNIORS.

They Show How Well They Can Entertain, and at What a Profit.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Trinity Reformed Church, under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Meeker and Miss Susie Berg, assisted by Miss Mabel Wilson, gave a delightful entertainment last evening which was attended by a large number of the Senior members and their friends. An admission fee of one cent was charged for children and five cents for adults, the proceeds to go towards helping needy churches in the West.

A well-rendered piano duet by Isabelle Edwards and Violet Beerbower opened the evening's exercises, and then followed an interesting recitation by Robert Metler, "Yankee Doodle Kitchen". Evelyn Berg gave a pleasing piano solo which was well received.

In one corner of the room a photograph gallery had been arranged with pink and green bunting and presented an attractive appearance. This was in charge of J. Berg, Charles Dunlap William Swaim, Everitt Leighton and George Reynolds. All wishing a photograph called on the young men and for five cents were given a "brownie". Much amusement was afforded those who desired a picture.

Continuing the programme Jennie Thorn gave a recitation of much merit.

Members of the Society then formed themselves into a "butterfly group" and the picture was exceedingly pretty.

A recitation by Charles Suhr, preceded a piano solo by Lucy Corieli.

Fifteen minutes was again given those present to secure their photographs.

The entertainment concluded with "Mother Goose" by the Society and a recitation by David Wikoff.

The Juniors will realize about $12 from the entertainment which is very encouraging to the young Endeavorers.

TEA AND MUSIC.

The Ladies Society Entertained by Mrs. Henry A. McGee.

The tea and musicale given by the Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E Church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Orchard place, yesterday from 4 to 7, afforded a pleasant time to all who attended, and netted a handsome sum for the society. Those who received were Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Cokefair and Mrs. Davis.

The dining room looked very pretty, decorated with yellow daffodils. The table was presided over by Mrs. George T. Rogers and Mrs. J. H. Howell, assisted by the Misses Smith, Miss Pangborn, Miss Chandler, Miss Barnes, Miss Mulford and Mrs. S. W. Clark.

During the serving of the light refreshments the musicale was enjoyed. Miss Addie Parker Jackson recited "The Prize Violin" and "How Mrs. O'Toole and her five children got to Twenty-ninth street." Both were entertaining pieces, and the elecutionary powers of Miss Jackson added much to the happy effect on her hearers.

Miss Grace Whiting of Brooklyn, accompanied on the piano by her sister, Mrs. J. B. Morrill, rendered the Venetian song and "Sweet Phylilda". The Slumber song was played on the cornet by Raymond McGee, which completed the programme.

Prizes Presented.

Court Plainfield, No. 7144, Independent Order of Foresters, at their meeting last night, initiated one member, John Shirley, and after transacting routine business closed the meeting, and reopened again for the Foresters and their friends of which the room was filled to its capacity. Chief Ranger Whitley presided, and beside him on the platform were High Chief Ranger Bingham of Elizabeth, Court Physician Lowrie of Plainfield, Court and other officers. Chief Ranger Whitley welcomed the friends of the order in a few happy words, and also introduced the various numbers on the programme. High Chief Ranger Bingham delivered a ringing address on Forestry which was well received by all present, and then in a few well-chosen words presented on behalf of the High Court handsome gold badges to Court Deputy High Chief Bird, Chief Ranger Whitley, Past Chief Ranger Allen, and Brother William Rankin, for valuable services rendered the Court in securing members. Chief Ranger Whitley replied in a short speech of thanks for himself and brethren. Refreshments were then served in abundance to all present, and a very pleasant evening was brought to a happy termination.

Following was the programme:

Song, Scotch medley, Wm. Rankin; guitar and harmonica solo, Harry McComas; German dialect, John Carney; banjo solo and song, Harry Dreier; vocal duet "Minute-Gun at Sea", Messrs Wharton and Cumerford; English hornpipe and Irish jig, Albert McComas; solo "The Fatal Wedding", F. W. Bowden; Highland fling, Wm. Rankin; song "Maid of Glen Colem", Charles McIntosh.

—Uncle Tom's Cabin in Music Hall tonight.

—The sale of seats has been large for Primrose & West's minstrels in Music Hall.

—Hallock's store will be closed tomorrow, but you can see his batting styles on the best looking heads in town.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Robert Sowden of West Second street is a new bicycle rider.

—Thomas Smith will ride a new Cleveland wheel this season.

—The Board of Health meet tonight in regular monthly session.

—The Masons meet for the first time in the Babcock Building Monday.

—Miss Gaskell has resumed her duties in Edsall's after a brief illness.

—Peck says he is proud of his goods this season, and likes to show them off.

—Miss Lucy Rafferty has resigned her position in the crockery department at Edsall's.

—Isaac Doty, who is an inmate of the Soldiers Home, is suffering from continued illness.

—The Sons of Veterans had a drill last evening in preparation for Decoration Day marching.

—The annex which W. H. Rogers has been adding to his bicycle emporium on West Fifth street is completed.

—E. H. Clevely's restaurant and cigar store presents an improved exterior appearance because of the new coat of white paint.

—A brick chimney 50 feet high has been built on the new building of the American Steam Laundry Company, East Front street.

—A number of the Plainfield members of Mecca Temple, Mystic Shrine, attended the meeting of that organization in New York last night.

—The horse of Fritz Madden ran away from West Fourth to West Seventh street yesterday afternoon. The only damage was the breaking of a shaft.

—The store front of the place formerly used by Jules Boutes on West Second street is being torn down, and improvements are being made about the dwelling.

—Schepflin & Co. have opened a very attractive line of Summer suits. Commencing next week, Winter overcoats will be sold at greatly reduced rates, under the assignee's sale.

—The electric lights in the lodgerooms of the Babcock Building were tested last night and found to be all right. In the Masonic rooms there are 112 lights and in the Odd Fellows' 64 lights.

—Chief Marshal Pangborn arrested David Drake of Jefferson avenue yesterday on complaint of his daughter, Mrs. Gallagher, and was put under $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

—The union services on Good Friday will be held in the First M. E. Church. The list of speakers will be published in due time. Revs. Richards, Rodman and Barnes are the Committee of Arrangements.

—It is conceded by all prejudiced shoe dealers that the Johnston & Murphy patent leather shoes are the finest made in the country. You can find a fresh supply at Doane & Edsall's preparatory for Easter.

—Lester Leggett, who is to speak in the Y. M. C. A. Building Sunday afternoon, was brother of the late C. P. Leggett, and has been very successful in evangelical work in the Catskill Mountains during the past Winter.

—The North Plainfield Township Committee meet this evening at Demler's Hotel, at which time the bonds of all the officers must be filed. If any do not comply with the law in this respect and have not otherwise qualified, their offices will be declared vacant.

—Prof. Josiah Royce, who is to lecture in the Casino next Monday afternoon, is an authority in psychological matters. His lecture will deal with his own recent experiments in this field, and the results derived from his original work. Those who are interested in the subject should not lose the opportunity of hearing so distinguished a man.

—The prison evangelist, Thomas Elgar of New York, will speak in Reform Hall tomorrow afternoon at 4. His chief work is speaking to the prisoners in the prisons of the country. His theme will be "Iron and the Soul". As he is not only eloquent and pathetic, but also has a marvelous experience from which to draw, a rare treat is in store for those who attend.

—Wm. Hand & Son moved yesterday; Mrs. Crawford to Newark; Mr. Desendorf to Brooklyn; Miss Loree from 515 Park avenue to 130 North avenue; Edward Garretson from 434 West Front street to Love's new building; Mrs. Totten from Madison avenue to 69 Manning avenue; Mrs. Northup from West Front street to corner Washington avenue and Front street, and A. C. Rogers from 506 West Fifth street to 11 East Third street.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down by pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Sold by L. W. Randolph druggist. Regular size 50c and $1; sample price 45c and 90c.

ADDICKS LOSES ONE

Break at Last in the Delaware Deadlock.

Believed That the End Is Near—Pennewill Seems To Be in the Best Position at Present—Legislators and the People Tired of the Long Struggle.

Dover, Del., March 30.—Yesterday's senatorial ballots were interesting on account of the first break occurring in the Addicks' ranks. One of the Addicks men, Morgan of Sussex county, went to James Pennewill of Dover. Money of New Castle, one of Higgins' men, also made a break and went to Harry A. Richardson of Dover. Two ballots were taken and each resulted as follows: Richards (rep.), 6; Addicks (rep.), 4; Massey (rep.), 4; Higgins (rep.), 1; Pennewill (rep.), 1; Ridgely (dem.), 9; Tunnell (dem.), 1; absent, 3.

The End Believed To Be Near.

Representatives Money and Morgan declare sincere earnestness in their changes of front, and each insists that he is actuated by a desire to elect a senator. Yesterday's revelations have given hope of a successful ending of the senatorial struggle. Speculation is again active as to the probable winner, and Pennewill's name is the favorite.

Addicks Men Still Confident.

Pennewill, it is contended, can obtain the four Massey votes any time he can come within sight of an election. The remaining member of the Addicks contingent severely felt the defection of Representative Morgan although they expressed confidence that they would suffer no more losses. This confidence is not shared by other members of the legislature. They, as well as the people, are heartily tired of the senatorial deadlock, and any avenue that promises to open to a graceful and satisfactory ending of the contest will be eagerly traveled.

HIS BONES TOO STIFF.

Bismarck Says He Cannot Ride a Horse Now.

Berlin, March 30.—Prince Bismarck said yesterday in conversation with an architect visiting him in Friedrichsruhe: "I shall be glad when the birthday week is over. I ought to have been on horseback when the emperor came, but I cannot manage it now. My bones are too stiff. I cannot get my leg over the horse's back."

May Live Another Ten Years.

Berlin, March 30.—Dr. Schweninger is well satisfied with Bismarck's health and is reported to have said: "With the help of providence we may bring him to ninety. Heaven ought to grant him as long as his great emperor."

THE MASSACRE IN ARMENIA.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 Killed and Their Bodies Burned.

London, March 30.—The Times publishes a second installment of the report on the Armenian atrocities, the first part of which appeared yesterday. The report confirms the story of an alleged but probably exaggerated massacre and cremation of from 4,000 to 5,000 Armenians, who had taken refuge in a hollow of an extinct volcano in the Andoke mountains.

NATIVE TROUBLES IN SAMOA.

The Accuser of Robert Louis Stevenson Sentenced to Imprisonment.

Auckland, New Zealand, March 30.—Advices received here from Samoa, dated March 23, say that the Tauiet rebels are still threatening disturbances. Charles Thomas Taylor has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for accusing the late Robert Louis Stevenson of supplying the rebels with guns and ammunition.

Sentenced for Embezzlement.

Utica, March 30.—Hiram A. Webster, appointed postmaster at Brockport, N. Y., in March, 1893, and indicted at Albany for embezzling and defrauding, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to imprisonment for one year and a half in the Erie county penitentiary and to pay a fine of $1,372.

To Increase Capital Stock.

Philadelphia, March 30.—The stockholders of the Pittsburg & Eastern Railroad company have agreed to increase the capital stock from $2,750,000 to $5,000,000. The new capital is to be used to complete the line from Mehaffey to West Newton, a distance of 115 miles.

Stabbed for an Overcoat.

Boston, March 30.—Thomas R. Maddox, living with his mother on Ashland street, was stabbed just below the heart last evening by Herbert McDonald, a boarder in the Maddox household. The stabbing grew out of a dispute about an overcoat. The wounded man is very low.

To Protect Militia Insignia.

Trenton, N. J., March 30.—The governor has just signed a bill fixing a penalty of $500 for wearing any insignia of the national guard by persons having no membership in the organization.

Another Bean Suspect Arrested.

Baltimore, March 30.—Charles Ross, a mulatto, 30 years old, has been arrested here on information received from Caroline county authorities. Ross is supposed to have murdered 14-year old Sallie Bean.

Job Offered Prof. Cole.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 30.—Prof. Frank N. Cole of the university of Michigan has been offered the professorship of mathematics in Columbia college New York at a salary of $3,500 a year.

Congratulations to Bismarck.

Munich, March 30.—The regent of Bavaria, Prince Luitpold, has sent his congratulations to Prince Bismarck on his birthday, in a letter signed by all the Bavarian ministers.

Countess Castellane's Gift.

New York, March 30.—A $35,000 silver tabernacle is to be presented to St. Augustine's Catholic church in Brooklyn, said to be the gift of Countess Castellane.

80 Degrees at Des Moines, Ia.

Des Moines, Ia., March 30.—The thermometer at the signal service station registered 80 degrees yesterday afternoon. The hottest March day on record.

THE DICKINSON CASE

More of Anna's Strange Doings Told in Court.

Often Appeared Illy Clad and Was Given To Exaggeration and Lying—So Drunk at One Time She Could Not See Her Visitors—Kissed Her Doctor.

Scranton, Pa., March 30.—There was a great amount of cumulative testimony given in the Anna Dickinson case in the United States circuit court here yesterday. The witnesses examined were Miss Mary Bushline, a servant of the Danville asylum; J. Harry Bryden, a defendant; George B. Thompson and wife, the former a defendant; George J. Llewellyn, Dr. Theodore Johnson, Bridget Moran, a defendant, and Dr. Gideon Underwood and Dr. John Hileman, the last two, defendants. All but the Danville attendant testified to Anna's peculiar conduct previous to her incarceration at the asylum. The sensational testimony was by Dr. Johnson, Mrs. Thompson and Dr. Hileman.

Often Appeared Illy Clad.

Mr. Thompson testified that he frequently called at the house where he met her eight or ten times. The witness prescribed for the plaintiff once. He went for the doctor other times. She was, he testified, in the habit of appearing illy clad, so much so as to be the occasion for remarks.

Given To Exaggeration and Lying.

The wife of the previous witness said for a year or more she was in the Dickinson residence nearly every day and she described Anna's peculiarities. One was that she imagined that she was the greatest woman on earth, and she was continually referring in a slighting manner to other great women. Anna could not, in her opinion, tell a really truthful story, she was so given to exaggeration and lying.

Carried a Donkey Up Pike's Peak.

She once said that three hundred colored girls in the south were once all baptised at the same time and named after her. A lot of colored boys baptised at the same time were all called Abraham Lincoln. She also claimed that she was the first to ascend Pike's peak, and carried a donkey under her arm up the side of the peak.

Kissed the Doctor.

Dr. Johnson testified that Anna was a slave to her nerves and did not always have command of her will power. She confessed to him that she had used alcoholic stimulants a great while on the road. Once when he returned from a visit she was so enthusiastic over seeing him that she kissed him. She was very vehement and often spoke with great emphasis and in an uncomplimentary manner of great men and women.

So Drunk She Could Not See.

Dr. Hileman described Anna's drift toward insanity, which he said was due to change in life which came upon her at that time, to her habits and to over indulgence in stimulants. He first met her in her own home, going there with a clergyman and Anna could scarcely walk and acted strangely. Afterwards she confessed that she was so drunk at this time that she could not see her visitors. He forced her to discontinue the use of strong drink and when she was taken to Danville she was certainly insane. She once referred to Whitelaw Reid in terms not best to use, but the remarks were not uncomplimentary.

Christian Endeavor Convention.

Boston, Mass., March 30.—The local authorities have given permission to the managers of the Christian Endeavor convention, which meets here July 10-15, to hold a monster open air demonstration on Boston common, and the endeavorers are planning to make this the most notable affair that this city has witnessed for a long time. At least fifty thousand delegates are expected, and all these, with many outsiders, will take part in the meeting on the common.

McKinley at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., March 30.—Governor William McKinley, of Ohio, and party arrived here from Jacksonville last night. They were conducted to the Desoto hotel by a committee appointed at a special meeting of the city council. The governor and his party will be given a carriage drive around the city to Bonaventure and other points of interest to-day.

Railroad Mulcted for $10,000.

Buffalo, March 30.—In the superior court yesterday afternoon a jury brought in a verdict awarding Mrs. Nellie Sauer $10,000 damages for injuries received in the big East Aurora railroad accident, July 18, 1893. The verdict is against the Western New York & Pennsylvania railroad.

Held for Jumping Board Bills.

New London, Conn., March 30.—John W. Bowe, representing himself as a reporter from New York and Boston papers, wanted in Bridgeport for attempted theft and beating a boarding house, has been arrested here, where he is held to await the action of the Bridgeport authorities.

Lehigh's New Locomotives.

Philadelphia, March 30.—The Lehigh Valley railroad company has just received five new high standard passenger locomotives. The engines are built entirely of steel and with a view to the highest speed and greatest safety.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

How to be Well and Strong.

Take Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Guaranteed Purely Vegetable and Harmless.

The Best Spring Medicine in the World.

It is the Discovery and Prescription of a Physician.

Read what Mrs. Jordan says:

I was in bad shape when I began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I could not sleep nights, many times had to get up and walk the floor; had no appetite and what little I did eat soured in a few moments. I was nervous, weak, and trembling, and got up in the morning more tired than when I went to bed, and felt all down — in fact, could not see anything worth living for. After taking one bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy I could sleep all night and feel rested in the morning, my appetite was better, food did not sour, and I felt better all over. Now I have taken four bottles and I feel like a new being.

MRS. MARTHA JORDAN, New Vineyard, Me.

Now read what Mrs. Bogart says:

Mrs. E. S. Bogart, of the Baptist Home, 68th Street, New York City, says:

"For eight years I have been constantly under the care of doctors, but found no relief, nor, from what the doctors told me, did I expect to get any better. I was convinced that they did not understand my case, so I thought I would try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and the result has been truly wonderful. I now feel in better health than for the last twenty years.

"During all this time I had been suffering with malaria, heart disease, kidney and liver complaints, nervous prostration and sleeplessness. For the three months before taking this wonderful remedy, I had been confined to my room and most of the time to the bed. I feel with the blessing of God, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has given me a new lease of life and health, and that I am cured of all my troubles. I have a great desire that others may be benefited as I have been, and take every opportunity to recommend it to the sick."

MRS. E. S. BOGART.

A Well-Known Business Man's Advice

GEO. W. ATKINS, ESQ.

In the spring many persons have weak nerves, tired feeling, poor blood, indigestion, kidney and liver complaint, headache, and innumerable other troubles. They are not sick with any particular disease, but are out of order, have weak nerves and tired bodies. Geo. W. Atkins, Esq., of Waterbury, Vt., is a leading business man, well known throughout New England. He says:

"I was in a very feeble condition, not being able to attend to my business for some time. I had become all run down and did not know what to do.

"I was nervous and exhausted and worried over my condition. I took many remedies, but did not seem to get any better.

"At last I decided to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, having always heard it very highly spoken of. I had not taken it but a very short time when I began to notice decided improvement. I continued using it, and the benefit derived was marvellous.

"I was cured by this wonderful medicine and recommend it to everybody. I have no hesitation in saying it is the best medicine I have ever seen."

A Chapter from Life.

How many people there are who grow weak and tired in the spring without knowing why, do not sleep well nights, and get up mornings tired and unrefreshed; their head often aches or feels badly, their stomach, liver, or kidneys are affected, they have constipated bowels, and they feel nervous, depressed in mind and generally run down. Then it is that they realize the value of their lost health.

So it was with Charles H. Stevens, Esq., of South Effingham, N. H., a man well known and highly honored in the Granite State.

"The facts are these," said Mr. Stevens. "I was about prostrated in health, extremely nervous, limbs stiff in the joints, my bowels were bloated badly, and my breathing was terrible. I could not stoop without almost losing my breath.

"In fact I was almost a complete wreck, and could do but little work of any kind.

"I commenced to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and at the end of one week I had lessened in girth about my bowels two inches and now my girth is five inches less, and I am able to do a full day's labor.

CHARLES H. STEVENS, ESQ.

"I tell you, if it had not been for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy I should have been dead before this time, and I can therefore give this wonderful remedy the highest praise."

Doctors, Druggists, and the People Recommend

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy

As the Greatest

Spring Medicine! For it Cures.

For sale by all Druggists, for $1 a bottle.

DR. GREENE, 35 West 14th St., New York City, can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

PIANO BARGAINS.

Vanderbeek & Sattels

desire to say that they have just received a fine lot of

New Pianos

of different makes which they will sell at prices never before offered. Among them are those wonderful

Behr Brothers Pianos

Also Behning & Sons.

They represent also the Knabe, Hazelton, Chickering and many others.

They offer an excellent

Steinway Grand, $350.

A great bargain. Call soon at

221 PARK AVENUE.

Fresh

Keyser's

LEGGETT'S PHARMACY.

A Spring Gown

is a subject for thought. Haven't you some of last season's dresses that can be made useful? They may need cleaning, or perhaps dyeing—either we do perfectly, and it costs only two dollars or two dollars and a half.

Hillier & Co.

175 North ave.

Two Butter Days, 20 Cents

Best Elgin Creamery Butter at 20c pound.
Extra lot roll butter, will offer at 17c.
Granulated sugar 4c.
15 California seedless oranges for 25c.
2 pounds extra combination coffee for 25c.
Extra No. 1 mackerel at 10c.
Buckwheat honey 12c.

AT FULPER'S.

DeWitt C. Ivins & Co.,

301-311 Watchung Ave.

DEALERS IN

Lumber, Coal, Masons' Materials, &c.

Agents for King's Windsor Asbestos Cement For walls and ceilings.

CARPETS

Made and Laid With Paper Without Charge

Amos H. VanHorn, Limited,

73 Market Street, Near Plane Street.

are making and laying Carpets with paper without charge, which is a saving of 15c per yd.

Parties about going to housekeeping will find no larger stock of Parlor Suits and Bedroom Suits to select from at such low prices. All of the latest Spring styles of Bedroom Suits of the Hall & Lyon manufacture, and Parlor Suits of all the latest manufactures and of the latest designs and coverings.

Note the Name Amos Before Entering the Store.

All other goods suitable to furnish a house with in our line are sold at the lowest prices. Terms easy; one dollar per week.

The Portland Range!

The Court of Errors has just unanimously affirmed the opinion of the lower courts that no other dealer can take any range and put the name Portland on it and try to hoodwink the people that they are selling the original Portland Range, when such is not the case. 7,000 of these ranges now in use and not one complaint. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Goods delivered to all parts of the State free of charge.

Storing Furniture

Our new building just erected at 88, 90, 92 Bank street, seems to be the only building in the State to store furniture, the way it is being filled up. Furniture moved with vans at reasonable rates in city or country. Telephone 580.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Limited,

73 Market st., near Plane st., Newark, N. J.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

(Armstrong Mulford, Assistant.)

Real Estate Broker and Fire Insurance,

Office 1 9 North ave., (opp. Railroad station.) Money to loan. 19 tf

---

SHAD!

Rogers

232 W. 2d. St.

SPECIAL!

Gent's suits dyed	$2.25
Gent's suits cleaned	$1.50
Overcoat dyed	$1.50
Ladies' dresses cleaned	$1.50
" " dyed	$1.50
Lace curtains cleaned, a pair	50c
Blankets cleaned	$1.00

G. O. KELLER,

317 WEST FRONT ST.

☞Goods called for and delivered.

The Spalding Bicycle

W. H. Rogers, 408 W. 5th Street.

REPAIRS. SUPPLIES.

LIST OF ADVERTISED LETTERS

Post-office, Plainfield, N. J., March, 25, '95

[Officially furnished weekly for publication in THE DAILY PRESS.]

Anderson Mrs H
Blackford David
Bacon Henry
Bilyeu Jeremiah L
Burn Rev Jno B
Burgess Lewis W
Batholomon Mr
Clarke C E
Conly Patrick
Connolly Mrs
Dunn L A
Fabian F
Higbie A L
Hopple F W
Hill I
Hill J
Hedden Eugene D
Huff Mrs Fred E
Howard Jos C
Henihan Mary
Humer Gillis
Harris Caroline
Henshaw T
Johnson Bell
Johnston Jos
Jones Lewis
James Oliver
312 East 2d st
524 West 4th st
Kane Susie 2
Lutman A
Lyman Mrs
Ludlow Miss
Lee Samuel
Lynch Bessie
Model Heating Co
Perry Celina
Park J B
Parilla Pietro
Preston Mrs H A
Power Mrs G H
Quinn Miss
Reid Lizzie F
Richardson E C
Randolph R
Smalley Isaac
Sherow A N
Stutts C C
Sheriff Miss
Smith Ma
Troy Thomas
Tingmann Peter
Terry Jacob Wm
TenEyck Geo
Thorn Hon Frank
The Tabor M'f'g Co
Wright Mrs L. C
Williams S P
Zaremba Albert

Telephone 58

Ring it up when you want good coal, and talk to

Geo. O. Stevens

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

Fresh and Salted Meats,

smoked ham. Jersey pork and poultry a specialty. Attention is called to my Trenton abbatoir city dressed beef, which is the finest in the market. Prices reasonable. Orders called for and delivered. 203 Liberty street.

Real Estate Insurance

VAN BUREN & TIMPSON.

263 North ave. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Grand

Millinery OPENING

A very cordial invitation is extended to the lovers of tastefully trimmed hats to attend our opening of spring and summer millinery on

Tuesday, March 25,
Wednesday, March 26,
Thursday, March 27.

We have had millinery openings, so have others, but none can nor will compare with our display this season. We will take pleasure showing you any article that you may wish to see and never tire. Others say the same thing, but we really mean it. As for prices we will let that remain with you, we are positive that you will agree with us that we lead, others try.

SPRING

Dress Goods

We have not called your attention to this department for the past few weeks. It has not decreased the sales any, but we wish to tell our tale of woe. You can visit our store any time and see the handsomest and cheapest line of dress goods in the city.

15 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 40c. 38 in. wide.

10 pieces of fancy mixed all wool 49c. 38 in. wide.

10 pieces of fancy mixed Covert cloth all wool 65c. 54 in. wide.

5 pieces of silk and wool mixed Coverts 95c. 54 in. wide.

Laundried Shirt Waists.

The largest line in the city.
Our 49c. waist worth 60c.
" 95c. " " $1 20
" $1 00 " " $1 25

Black Sateen Skirts.

These skirts you can buy of us for less than the sateen will cost you.
75c will buy a $1 co skirt.
95c. " " " $1 25 "
$1 25 " " " $1 50 "

Remember

Us when in need of anything in the house furnishing goods line.

BOEHM'S,

113 WEST FRONT STREET.

HARK! HARK!

Do you hear those bells ringing? They are to warn you that Johnson's delivery wagon is near at hand, ready to supply you with the finest home-made bread in the land, pies, cake, buns and rolls, fresh every morning at 6 a. m.

Boston brown bread a specialty. Just give me a trial, my goods speak for themselves. All orders promptly attended to at shortest notice.

W. H. Johnson,

3 23 1w 41 Somerset Street.

Prospect Hill For Sale,

26 acres, or in plots to suit,

Also trees, shrubs, hedge plants, palms, Bermuda lilies, Indian azaleas, india rubber trees, etc.

L. J. DENTON, 131 Hillside avenue.

EDUCATIONAL.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
is called to the
Home Department
of Rockview School, 317 East Front street.
Children received from
4 to 15 Years.
Parents leaving city can place children for any length of time. References.

Miss Fawcett's School,

25 Washington Ave

Department for boys to the age of 12.
" girls and kindergarten.
Girls prepared for college.
Re-opened September 13.

EASTER.

Our line of cards, booklets and novelties for Easter gifts is now complete and we invite an inspection.

R. C. RAND,

140 West Front street.

H. Eggerding,

121 PARK AVENUE.
Manufacturer of the celebrated

C. O. D. CIGAR

The best 5c cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana. Clear Havana cigars a specialty. A large assortment of the choicest brands of domestic cigars. 11 96

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS pure stock. Eggs for hatching, guaranteed. $1.50 a setting (13) delivered anywhere in Plainfield. Stock can be seen on premises. Address Wm. J. Dougherty, New Market, N. J. 2 26 1m

---

SPRING MILLINERY DISPLAY,

Wednesday, March 27, of all the latest novelties in Hats, Bonnets, Dutch Bonnets, Napoleon and 20th Century Turbans, Flowers, Ribbons, and all the accessories in Trimmings that complete the newest styles.

Mrs. L. Adams,

111 East Front st., under First National Bank

PEACE FOR THE ORIENT

A Temporary Armistice Granted by Japan.

Belief in Li Hung's Ultimate Granting of the Demands Made by the Mikado — Cessation of Aggressive Hostilities, Although Some Fighting May Occur if Provoked.

Washington, March 30.—The following telegram has been received by the Japanese legation from the Japan foreign office: "On the opening of the negotiations the Chinese plenipotentiary proposed armistice, which the Japanese government was willing to accept on certain conditions. While this negotiation was going on the untoward event happened on the person of the Chinese plenipotentiary. His majesty, the emperor, having, in view of this unhappy occurrence, command the Japanese plenipotentiaries to consent to temporary armistice without conditions. This was communicated to the Chinese plenipotentiary."

Fighting Will Cease.

Minister Kurino says that the effect of the emperor's order will be the immediate cessation of aggressive hostilities and that the Japanese armies will make no further advance as long as the armistice lasts. Some fighting may occur if provoked by the Chinese, but the second step towards peace has been practically taken, the arrival of Li Hung Chang and the satisfactory character of his plenipotentiary credentials having been the first.

Confidence in Li's Acceptance.

The minister is of the opinion that the action of the emperor was influenced by the confidence his majesty reposed in the successful conclusions of the peace negotiations through the ultimate acceptance by Li Hung Chang of the terms stipulated by Japan.

Only Armistice Considered.

"It was immediately after the close of the second session of the peace plenipotentiaries," said the minister, "that Li Hung Chang was prostrated by a fanatic, and up to that time nothing had been considered but China's request for an armistice pending the consideration of the terms of peace.

Not Disposed To Humiliate China.

"The proposition had been met by the presentation of certain conditions from the Japanese plenipotentiaries. The discussion of the terms of final peace had not been entered upon. The emperor's command of temporary armistice is also a refutation of the idea that Japan is disposed to humiliate China or merely to acquire territory. Japan has gained the end of demonstrating Japanese importance in eastern affairs." Minister Kurino promptly notified Secretary Gresham of the armistice and it was made known to President Cleveland, who expressed his gratification.

NEW YORK CENTRAL TROLLEYS.

Rumored Plan To Do Away with Steam on the Vanderbilt Lines.

Watertown, N. Y., March 30.—There is said to be a scheme on foot among the New York Central capitalists to purchase all the water powers on the Black river between Carthage and Dexter, including all of such powers in this city, for the generation of electricity to be used as the motor power on all of the Vanderbilt railroads in northern New York. Should the scheme go through there will be an overhead trolley system consisting of four wires over each track.

One Game Gamblers Didn't Beat.

Glenwood Springs, Col., March 30.—Shortly after midnight three masked men, armed with Winchesters and revolvers, entered Campbell & Connor's saloon and commanded all present to hold up their hands. They then helped themselves to the money in the drawers of the faro table and roulette wheel, amounting to over $500. After securing the booty they fired several shots into the ceiling and floor and retreated.

Li Hung Chang Out of Danger.

Shimonoseki, March 30.—Surgeon Ishiguro, who is attending Li Hung Chang, has made a report in which he states that his patient is making favorable progress towards recovery. There is no discharge from the wound, and the pulse and temperature are normal. The surgeon says that all danger is passed.

Unable To Dislodge Squatters.

Armour, S. D., March 30.—A dispatch was sent yesterday to the department of the interior at Washington by Gen. J. A. Smith, superintendent of the Yankton reservation, stating that he was unable with his small force of Indian police to dislodge the squatters who refuse to leave the reservation.

Rev. Dr. Milburn Going Abroad.

New York, March 30.—The Rev. W. H. Milburn, D. D., the blind chaplain of the United States senate, will leave next week with his daughters for an extensive tour of the continent, ending with an engagement in one of the principal churches in London the latter part of the summer.

Dominion Cabinet Crisis Ended.

Ottawa, Ont., March 30.—The Dominion crisis is ended. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper has returned to active work in the cabinet, the difficulties between himself and Premier Bowell having been amicably settled.

Business Good Along the Big Four.

New York, March 30.—President M. E. Ingalls, of the Chesapeake & Ohio and Big Four roads, said to-day that business is very good in the small manufacturing towns on the Big Four.

Countess Perponcher Out on Bail.

Berlin, March 30.—The Countess Perponcher, arrested for perjury in denying her intimacy with the count's family doctor, has been released on 120,000 marks bail.

Dinner to Captain Hinkey.

New Haven, Conn., March 30.—A complimentary dinner was given at Heublein's last night to the members of last year's eleven and to Captain Hinkey.

No Cigarettes in Lawrence.

Lawrence, Kan., March 30.—The anti-cigarette ordinance went into effect yesterday and no cigarettes can be purchased in the city.

An agreeable Laxative and Nerve Tonic. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per package. Samples free.

KO NO The Favorite TOOTH POWDER for the Teeth and Breath, 25c.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists.

SHILOH'S CURE.

This Great Cough Cure promptly cures where all others fail. For Consumption it has no rival; has cured thousands, and will cure you, if taken in time. Price 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00.

Sold by all druggists.

S 14 y

Granite Iron Ware.

Prices reduced January 1. Only perfect goods sold.

Stoves at reduced prices.

Hardware, Housefurnishings, Tin and Sheet-iron Work.

Plumbing and Heater Work.

A. M. GRIFFEN,

119 East Front St.

H. Hand,

LICENSED AUCTIONEER.

15 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

esidence and postoffice address

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

Office in Plainfield at Terrill & Cole's livery, 200 West 2d st. 1 12 tf

---

—AT—

NEUMAN BROS.,

—THE—

Watchung Ave. Grocers,

will be found tomorrow a choice lot of fresh vegetables as follows—Spinach, cauliflower, Boston lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, rhubarb, parsley, beets, oyster plant. Also a select lot of table apples and oranges.

The sign on the windows reads

Woolston & Buckle,

Paper Hangers.

We have had the door hinges and latch oiled up so that getting in is easy. So also is the getting out.

Prices are so low on Wall Papers that you will buy before you go.

FURNITURE

MOVING

Telephone 121. Office 161 North ave.

HOAGLAND'S EXPRESS.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD

Hair Cutting and Shampooing.
Tonsorial Parlor, 304 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies shampooing and childrens hair cutting a specialty. 10 18 1

A full assortment of Stationery!

AT

HARPER'S,

411 Park ave.

Fred Endress,

Dealer in all kinds of

CHOICE MEATS

Jersey pork and poultry a specialty.

203 LIBERTY STREET.

Finest Elgin Creamery Butter 25c. lb
Finest Dairy Butter.....22c. lb

V. L. FRAZEE,

151 West Front St.

Your valuables will be safe in

Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOCK BOXES

From $3.50 to $10.00 a year.

M. Powers & Son.

Superior quality of

LEHIGH COAL.

No. 2 Coal Only $3.75

In the yard. A No. 1 Kindling Wood.

Yard and office, 763 South Avenue. Down-town office with Lyman & Petrie, 171 North ave., opp. railroad station.

Short Vacations

For busy people by the beautiful new steamships of the

Old Dominion Line.

To Old Point Comfort
[Hygeia Hotel]

Or Virginia Beach, Va.,
[Princess Anne Hotel] may be made for

$16 Old Point Comfort, $16 Virginia Beach, $17 $17

INCLUDING EVERY EXPENSE

of meals and berths enroute, and a day and a quarter's board at the hotels.

These trips are ideal, as a considerable portion is made through the quiet waters of the famous Hampton Roads and there is little likelihood of seasickness.

Also tickets on sale, with privilege of going or returning by rail.

Write for particulars of these and other delightful trips to

Old Dominion S. S. Co.,

Pier 26, North River, New York.
W. L. Guillaudeu, Vice Pres. and Traffic Manager. 11 26 6m

Wm. Hand & Son.

MOVING VANS AND TRUCKS,

for moving Furniture, Pianos, etc., 518 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Stages and sleighs for picnics and parties. Teams and men for moving safes, building material, etc. 3 14 m.

M. M. DUNHAM,

Real Estate and Insurance.

7 East Front Street.

A. W. BAKER, 208 Park Ave. B. C. YOUNG, 337 Watchung Ave.

Baker & Young,

Carpenters and Builders.

Estimates given on all kinds of plans and alterations. Jobbing attended to. Give us a trial. Satisfaction guaranteed 3 4m

---

Prof. A. Wehner,

TEACHER OF THE PIANOFORTE.

ALSO VOICE CULTURE.

Graduate of the Conservatory of Leipsic, Germany, desires a few more pupils in Plainfield.

References given and required.

Address letters to, the office of this paper. 1 21 tf-e

MRS. L. COLES,

FASHIONABLE DRESS-MAKER,

Room 202, Babcock Building } { Plainfield, N. J. Residence 78 Duer st

---

Taylor's French System

used. Suits $6.00 and upward.

2 2 tf

Geo. O. Stevens,

COAL AND WOOD.

Yard—Front street and Grant avenue. Branch offices—163 North ave., 109 West Front street.

H. DeMOTT,

With livery attached,
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
59 Somerset Street, Plainfield, N. J.

L. L. MANNING.

Marble and Granite Works

Cor. [Central Ave. and Front st., opp. First Baptist Church.

Over 150 monuments and headstones to select from. Prices never so low.

F. A. DUNHAM,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor, 109 Park avenue. Sewers, pavements and road improvements. Publisher of city map and atlas.

TOWNSEND'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

SOMERSET STREET.

Our Motto—Good work, good material at fair prices. 9 4 y

Jones & Co., Excavators.

Cesspools and sinks thoroughly cleaned. Attention given to sanitary conditions. Buildings, cellars, etc., disinfected. All work done under experienced manager.

JONES & CO.

Cesspools built. 8 18]

Joseph E. Mosher,

Agent for

H. J. Hayden & Co.,

WAR CLAIMS ATTORNEYS, WASHINGTON, D. C.

All claims put in our hands will receive prompt attention.

Call at the Crescent Cigar Store for fine cigars

Gold Dollars for Fifty Cents.

—NO.—

BUT FULL VALUE.

C. E. MORSE, Painting and Paper Hanging, 27 Chatham street.

N. E. KING,

High Grade Portraits

in Crayon, Pastel and Water Colors.

483 Lexington ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Refers by permission to John A. Thickstun, L. B. Woolston, J. L. Blackford, L. W. Randolph, A. L. Force. Further information at the drug store of L. W. Randolph or office of The Daily Press, where specimens of work can be seen. 11 20 tf

THE DAILY PRESS.

A. L. FORCE, Publisher and Proprietor.

WALTER IRVING CLARKE, Managing Editor.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MCH. 30, 1895

TOWN AND HOME FAVORITE.

Rockview Avenue Masquerade.

Miss Grace E. Overton of Rockview avenue entertained friends at her home, last evening, with a masquerade.

After a general promenade to view the different costumes, interesting and amusing games made the evening pass very pleasantly.

Every one present was given the name of an animal and drew it on a blackboard while the rest guessed the name. This caused no end of fun. After playing "advertisements" and "chips" the masks were removed.

Miss Elizabeth Fish and George A. Horne received the first prizes for the best disguises. Herbert W. Moore won the booby prize.

Among the striking costumes worn were: Misses Edith L Burt, flower girl; Grace E Overton, Japanese; Mabel Ladd, "Mary, Mary, quite contrary"; Eleanor T Van Deventer, nun; Eva Dayton, jester; Elizabeth Fish, "Liberty"; Sadie Douglass, Swiss girl; Lucie Davis, Japanese; Mary Hull, milkmaid; and George A Horne, baby; Nathan Lane, Jr., French nurse; Everett J Peck, shepherd; Herbert W Moore, shepherd; Raymond A McGee, student; Herbert Richardson, prince; Fred Fullerton, Henry II; J Vincent Rittenhouse, flower girl; Robert Douglass, devil; A Murphy, executioner; Carleton Potts, fat man; Philip Suffern, black domino.

Miss Overton was assisted in receiving by Miss Kate Overton, Miss Grace Bonny, Miss Elsie Horne, and Miss Edith Lane.

During the evening there were recitations by Miss Grace E. Overton and Miss Mary Lucky and a song "Cum Bonus Homo" by Miss Eleanor T. Van Deventer.

An elaborate collation was served and the gay party broke up shortly after twelve.

BY THE WAY.

—The Saengerbund will meet Thursday night.

—It is not A. Lusardi, but J. Lusardi who is ill.

—Mrs. Frances DeCamp Darby, wife of Revl Darby of Fanwood, died Wednesday, aged 70.

—Great cut-rate bargains are offered by the Plainfield Tea and Grocery Company, 106 East Front street.

—The High School Kappa Delta Phi yesterday elected Charles Noble president and Edgar I. Serrell secretary.

Motorman James Totten of the Somerset street branch of the street railway resigned his position today.

The Name Is Everything.

The many tricks of trade that are practiced in these times are justified by a prominent soap manufacturer of Philadelphia as being positively necessary to influence a stupid public to buy what is for their benefit. The article in which he takes the most pride is a pure Castile soap, purer and better than that made in Castile. He stamped it as American Castile and was unable to sell any quantity. The people would not buy what little was taken by retail dealers. Under these circumstances the manufacturer changed the stamp on his soap to one abounding in Spanish words which meant the same thing. Since the change in stamp the sales have been remarkable and the soap is ever gaining in popularity.—Philadelphia Record.

A Robin Dined With the Captain.

Touching instances of the recent stress of weather comes from the mountainous districts of Wales. At Ffestiniog a sheep actually walked into a house and placed its forelegs on a lady's lap to beg a bit of bread which she held in her hand. At Barmouth a robin took up its quarters on board a steamship (the Telephone), accompanied it on its voyage to Liverpool and back again, and at dinner hours hopped on to the table and dined with the captain.

A Compliment.

"That boy of yours, madam," remarked the conductor as he punched the half fare ticket, "looks remarkably well developed for a child under 12."

"Thank you," replied the lady very calmly. "It's so gratifying for me to have any one notice Tommy's remarkable precocity."—Chicago Record.

According to Dean Hole there are fifty silly young men for one silly young woman.

Luncheon Muffins

(Miss Parloa's recipe)

made with

Cleveland's Baking Powder

are just the thing for Lunch Parties.

Cleveland's, the best that money can buy.

Our cook book tells you how to make them. A copy mailed free on receipt of stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., 81 Fulton St., New York.

Heavily Handicapped.

A certain old Yankee had been hobnobbing with congenial companions at a favorite little barroom during a blizzard, and the hour was late when he donned his wraps and started for home. His gait was unsteady, and he was scarcely well out of the door before he stumbled and fell on a pile of lumber in such a manner that, with the load of liquor which burdened his powers, he could not get up. Jonathan Hardbutton—that is his name—succeeded in raising himself to a sitting posture, but could not regain his feet in spite of every effort. Being at length exhausted he sat still and waited until he should recover enough strength to extricate himself from his predicament. And while thus waiting his trousers froze stiff and fast to the lumber. Then his trouble increased. But luckily a belated friend passing that way noticed him.

"Say, Jonathan, you old fool," he drawled out, "why don't you git up and go home? What are you sitting there for sech a night as this?"

"Well, how be I agoin' to git up," bawled Jonathan, "when all uv th' Lord's creation is frus fast to my pantaloons?"—Utica Observer.

An Advantage, After All.

She—Men think they know everything.

He—Well, if it wasn't for that the women couldn't fool them.—Chicago Tribune.

—Home-made overalls, jumpers and shirts are made to wear by Guttman, 203 East Front street.

—Marshall & Co. announce a grand opening. See their ad. and call at 167 North avenue.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ill. For sale at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues. T. S. Armstrong, manager.

GRIP IS EPIDEMIC.

Whole Families Stricken and Many Deaths Reported.

Nearly Every Third Person Suffering With a Cold, Which Often Results in Grip, Pleurisy or Pneumonia.

Colds lead to coughs, coughs to grip pneumonia and consumption; therefore, it is all important to check a cold before it reaches the lungs. Munyon's Cold Cure will positively break a cold inside of 24 hours if taken as soon as the cold manifests itself. When the cold reaches the lungs or bronchial tubes the Cough Cure should be used alternately every half hour with the Cold Cure. The Cold Cure is guaranteed to prevent pneumonia, if used in the beginning of a cold. Pneumonia or inflammation of the lungs can be controlled by the use of these two cures.

The Cough Cure positively cures bronchitis, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, loss of voice, soreness of the chest, difficulty in breathing, hacking cough and all pulmonary diseases where the lungs are not too far decomposed or covered with tubercles.

If you are ailing step into the nearest drug store and get a 25c vial of one of Munyon's Remedies. No matter what your disease, or how many doctors have failed to cure, it will give you relief.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch st., Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

—A gang of Italians from the Water-Works Company were digging trenches on North avenue this morning in which supply pipes will be laid to Titsworth's new restaurant and cigar store.

BAMBERGER'S

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"

NEWARK, N. J.

Whatever fashion favors in

Coats, Capes, Suits, Separate Skirts

will be found in our greatly enlarged department, now the biggest, the lightest, the most complete in New Jersey. Astonishingly small as the prices are, they represent new goods only, for not one of last season's garments finds a place in our magnificent collection.

New Spring Capes

in all styles of cloths, in silks, in velvets, in velours, in moire, in lacee effects and crepons,

$1.98 to $27.50

NEW

Spring Jackets

in black and colored, of every fashionable material, made in the latest style, with extra large sleeves, from

$3.98 to $10

Misses and Childrens Dresses of cloths, cashmeres and wash fabrics, in desirable designs and choice colors, from

49c to $7.50

NEW

Separate Skirts

of desirable materials, made in the very latest styles, lined and interlined, from

$1.98 to $25

MISSES AND CHILDRENS REEFERS

The greatest assortment ever shown, a large variety of cloths and styles, from

98c to $7.50

WRAPPERS AND

House Dresses

Our best previous efforts have been surpassed. Our line incomparably great; prices from

44c to $5

L. BAMBERGER & CO.,

147 and 149 Market Street,

Near Broad Street. Newark, N. J.

Hark! Did You Hear Anything Drop

Plainfield Tea and Grocery Co. Still Lead.

5c lb Raisins reduced to.....4c lb
10c lb Prunes reduced to.....8c lb
15c lb Apricots reduced to.....11c lb
8c lb Rice reduced to.....6c lb
50c Gal. molasses reduced to.....32c Gal
15c can Salmon reduced to.....12c can
13c qt Limas reduced to.....12c qt
10c can Tomatoes reduced to.....8c can 10c can Corn reduced to.....8c can 10c can Peas reduced to.....8c can 5½c lb Ginger snaps reduced to.....5c lb
5c lb Soda crackers reduced to.....4½c lb
10c lb Lard reduced to.....8c lb

Fine butter 20c. Finest Elgin Creamery butter 25c. Free deliveries Plainfield and Netherwood daily. Scotch Plains Thursday and Friday. Dunellen Monday and Wednesday.

All goods warranted as represented. H. T. WILLIAMS, Manager

Grand Opening!

E. E. Marshall & Co.,

167 NORTH AVENUE. (Formerly with A. D. VanSciver)

Wall-paper Painting Window Shades

We are now ready to show you the handsomest line of wall-papers in the city. Come direct to headquarters, as we intend to do the business. Why go to New York when we can give you just as good work and at lower prices. Painting and decorating in all its branches. Designs sumbitted for frescoing in oil or distemper colors. We employ none but skilled mechanics and guarantee all work first-class.

—TAKE—

Randolph's Sarsaparilla,

The Great Spring Remedy.

50 cents per bottle. Half dozen bottles $2.50.

L. W. RANDOLPH,

Prescription Druggist, 143 West Front st., Plainfield, N. J.

Spring Curry Comb

Clock Spring Blade. Soft as a Brush. Fits every Curve. The Only Perfect Comb. Used by U. S. Army and by Barnum and Forepaugh Circuses, and Leading Horsemen of the World. Ask your Dealer for It. Sample mailed post paid 25 cents. Name name on the handle. SPRING CURRY COMB CO., 102 Lafayette St., South Bend, Indiana.

781-1 9-11

REMOVAL.

Dr. Lighthill begs leave to give notice that he has removed to

NO. 132 CRESCENT AVE.

(a few doors from his former location) where he can be consulted on all chronic diseases of whatever name and nature.

Dr. Lighthill refers with pardonable pride to the success of his practice in Plainfield and submits below a few of the many testimonials which he has received from grateful patients. A mass of similar ones can be seen at his office.

AN ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE.

The Statement of Mr. Edward Teel, Jr., of Dunellen, N. J.

TO THE PUBLIC:

From a sense of duty I desire to call public attention to the almost miraculous cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in the case of my wife. For eleven years she had been afflicted with piles of an unusual severe and distressing character. She suffered every day of her life the most intense pain, attended with frequent and profuse hemorrhage. This state of things debilitated her entire system until she became a perfect wreck of her former self.

We made every effort to obtain a cure but they all resulted in bitter disappointment, although a number of physicians of excellent reputations for skill in that direction had treated her case. She grew worse and worse all the time, the pain became perfectly unbearable and I felt she could not bear the strain of her condition much longer. In this extremity, a friend of mine, Mr. W. E. Dilts, a resident of Roselle, N. J., a passenger conductor on the New Jersey Central told me that he had been similarly affected, and had been permanently cured by Dr. Lighthill, after other medical skill had failed. He assured me that the doctor would cure my wife, no matter how severe her case may be, and his prediction proved perfectly correct. In spite of her desperate condition, Dr. Lighthill, I am glad to say, has effected a complete and perfect cure in her case, and has given her new life.

Since the cure has been effected she has gained in health and strength and is so improved in appearance that her friends scarcely recognize her. They all consider her cure as almost miraculous, and Dr. Lighthill's praise is heard on every side. Our gratitude to Dr. Lighthill is unbounded and we only hope that other sufferers may be benefited by this publication.

EDWARD TEEL, JR.

A Flattering Testimonial from Colonel John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

16 ARLINGTON PLACE, Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing with which I was afflicted.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skilful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of No. 214 Richmond street Cured of a Very Distressing Trouble by Dr. Lighthill.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 1, 1894.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past I have been greatly distressed with noises in the head. They were all over my head and troubled me constantly; they were loudest at night when everything was quiet and at such times would often keep me from sleep and disturb my rest. In fact they got to be so bad and distressing that they affected my whole nervous system as well as my health. I did not obtain the least relief until I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill, of No. 132 Crescent avenue, who effected a complete cure in my case in a short time and made me a very happy man.

THOMAS CALLAHAN, 214 Richmond street.

A Card From Mr. T. R VanZandt,

of Nos. 304 and 306 Park ave., Plainfield, N. J

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks, but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep, sit down, lie down or move about without serious discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permaneat cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose flattering testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT, 304 and 306 Park avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence,

No. 132 Crescent Avenue.

Plainfield, N. J.

Do you want Laces?

Do you want Embroideries?

Come to Peck's

Trouserings!

500 choice patterns which we are making to order for $5.00.

Sebring's

Park Avenue, Packer's Block.

12-6-1

Commercial Palace, EDSALL'S Babcock Building,

Special

For Saturday night's needs from 8 to 9:30 (if they last.

85c. 1 lot Capes, good quality, 85c

48c 1 lot ladies' wrappers, large sleeves, 48c

30c 1 lot boys' blouse waists, well made, 30c

7c Gold band china tea cups and saucers, imported, 7c

SPRING OPENING

AND

10-DAY SPECIAL SALE

now going on. The decorations and display of elegant New Goods the most profuse and attractive ever shown in this part of the State. Come and see.

Specials

in every department. These are a few samples:

For the opening the following extraordinary values—All-wool cheviot cloth capes in black, navy and brown, trimmed with tinsel braid, manufactured to sell at $1.59 and $1 85; special for the opening

$1.10 and $1.30

All-wool Cheviot and Covert cloth capes in tan and black, with excellent trimming, double cape, manufactured to sell at $4.65;

Special $3.85

All-wool Cheviot Broadcloth Covert and Kersey Cloth Capes, embroidered in cream, satin ribbon trimmings, lace and jet, manufactured to sell at $5.85, $6.75 and $10; special at $4.85, $5.90 and $7.50.

An excellent Broadcloth Cape in black, navy, black and red, fashion's latest conceptions, satin-lined, manufactured to sell at $10; a great special at

$8 35 Each

Grocery Department.

AT 6 Cents CAN — 75 more cases fresh Canned Goods just received. 25 cases Farrow's string beans, 25 cases cold packed Pride of Sussex tomatoes, 25 cases sweet corn. The above open for inspection; as long as they last 6c can. — AT 6 Cents CAN

Boston Chips 10c Box — 300 boxes Boston potato chips, just received from the factory fresh. While they last at 10c a box. — Boston Chips 10c Box

CHINA DEPARTMENT

At 3 Cts EACH — 250 doz ironstone china plates, all sizes at 3c each. 200 doz ironstone china tea cups and saucers. The above is John Edwards's best English ware. — At 3 Cts EACH

New Cut Glass, new Bouquet Holders, new Bohemian Glass Salad and Fruit Dishes just opened.

Look out for genuine bargains.

Edsall's.

THE FEET

are very sensitive. Why not give them comfort in a pair of our $3.00 Welted Shoes? We have them in all styles from the Kahler to the Razor Toe; sizes 2 to 8, widths AA to E.

Doane & Edsall.

We make a specialty of repairing | CHARLES C. LISTER, | Wheels to hire; storage by the day, week or month.

134 NORTH AVE.

AGENT FOR

The Eagle and Keating Bicycles.

The Apollo, a first-class, fully guaranteed wheel, 23 pounds, for $65. Nothing to equal it for the money

Second-hand wheels, pneumatic tires, from $15 up. Big cut in prices for sundries.

3 29 6m

WANTS AND OFFERS.

LOANS NEGOTIATED. J. T. Vail, broker. 2 21 tf

MONEY to loan. Mulford, broker. 2 1 tf

FOR SALE—A fine young cow, calf by her side. W. H. Rogers, Washingtonville. 3 24 6

FOR SALE—10½ acres, good fertile land and small house, 2 miles from Plainfield, $1,400, $400 down. Paff Scotch Plains. 3 29 2

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. R. Force, 132 Park ave. boots and shoes.

MAN wants position as gardener, etc. 209 West Front street. 3 30 2

HOUSE to let. F. W. Bird, 321 East Front street. 3 30 1 m

FRESH cow and heifer calf for sale cheap. Please call all week at the Brisbey farm, Terrill road. J Griffin.

WOULD like to take in washing, best references, rates reasonable. 87 Somerset street.

RANGE for sale cheap. 110 East Fifth street. 3 30 2

LOST—A little black kitten. Reward to der at 228 East Fifth street.

FURNISHED rooms to let; use of bath. 110 East Fifth street. 3 30 2

WANTED—A competent girl for general housework, in a small family, at 19 Sycamore ave, North Plainfield.

FOR SALE or to let, two ten-room houses with improvements. Terms very moderate. Apply 432 E. 6th st. 3 30 6

SPANISH lessons given in exchange for shorthand and typewriting by competent teacher. Address, stating experience etc. Spanish care Press. 3 29 2

TO LET—2 new, attractive dwellings, 12 rooms each; all modern improvements; expensive decorations; Belvidere ave, opp, Hotel Netherwood; Woodland ave., near LaGrande; will sell; inspection invited. Call or address Alfred Cocks, 728 Woodland avenue, near Netherwood station, or Plainfield brokers. 3 T & S

FOR SALE—New six-room house in good neighborhood; terms easy. Call 196 Somerset st. 3 26 3-sod

LAYING hens for sale. Apply to W. Williams, 1109 East Front st. corner Netherwood avenue. 3 29 2

WANTED—A good gentle horse; good and kind, for ladies to drive. Address Box 335, city. 3 26 4

SHOATS for sale, Cheshire and Chester white stock. Enquire C. J. Ackerman Clinton ave. 3 28 3

40 Acre farm to let, also 3 rooms. Address 131 New street. 3 28 3

FOR SALE—New 2-seat surrey, cheap. Also pony phaeton. Enquire Frank Hedden's livery, 118 E. 4th st. 3 28 tf

HOUSE and building lots for sale in Westfield, N. J., high ground, good neighborhood, convenient to depot. Address box 104 Westfield N. J. 3 24 6-3 28 4 c

FOR SALE—12-room house, all improvements, large lot, East Second street $3,600, $1,000 down. Paff, Scotch Plains. 3 29 2

FOR SALE—On Installments, six-room house, 745 East Second street, or to let. Inquire of Jacob Voehl. 3 27 6

FURNISHED rooms with board; home comforts; all improvements. 403 Central avenue. 3 26 3

TO LET—House 235 East 6th st. Inquire 231 East 6th st. 3 9 tf

SIX ROOM flat to let; all improvements. 200 West 2d st. 3 4 tf

OFFICES and flats to rent in Babcock Building. Inquire of J. A. Hubbard or W. M. Stillman 1 30 tf

LARGE pleasant furnished and unfurnished rooms to let; all improvements; central location. No. 115 Church st., between Front and Second sts. 3 19 tf

FLATS to let, also barn. Inquire B. R. Force, 132 Park ave. boots and shoes. 3 23 6

FLAT to let, every convenience, Apply J. P. Taylor, 612 Park ave. 3 23 tf

BOARDERS and table boarders wanted in a private family, by the week, day, or meal. 130 North ave. 2nd. flat. 3 23 6

30 Acres good land to rent on shares. Apply P. C. Ohl. 3 23 6

SIDE-BAR surrey, phaeton top; price $160. Inquire at 747 West Front st. 3 25 6

COLORED girl wants situation as chambermaid or waitress. 230 Park ave. 3 25 6

CORNER flats to let, improvements, steam heat, corner store. Miller 339 Park ave. 3 25 6

TO LET—3 or 4 rooms for light housekeeping; no children. Apply 103 Duer street. 3 6 tf

MONEY to loan in sums to suit. Reed & Coddington, atty's., Babcock Building. 2 26 tf

TABLE boarders wanted in private family. Apply 303 West Fourth st 2 7 tf

MARRIAGES.

JOHNSTONE—MULFORD—March 29, 1895, in New York city May, daughter of E. C. Mulford, to William Johnstone of Plainfield.

YOU LIKE

Guttman's Home-Made Overalls

Jumpers and Shirts.

Please call at

203 East Front St.,

Opposite Peace st.

3 30 2w

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Official Announcements for Worship in Plainfield Tomorrow.

[Matter intended for this department must be supplied fresh every week, not later than 10 a. m. Saturday to insure insertion.]

Y. M. C. A. Boys Meeting—4:15 p. m. and continue 30 minutes.

St. Joseph's Church—Masses at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school at 3, and Vespers at 8 p. m.

St. Mary's Church—Masses at 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; Vespers, 8 p. m.

Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest—Morning prayer and sermon, 11; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m.

Swedish Meeting—Grace Church, 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Scandinavians welcome. Rev. M. Ahlberg, pastor.

St. Peter's German Lutheran Church—Services, 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.; Sunday-school, 9 a. m. Rev. Ed Klonka, pastor.

Congregational Church—Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor. Morning service, 10:30. Sunday-school, 2:45 p. m. Christian Endeavor meeting, 7:30 p. m.

All Souls Church—Rev. Hobart Clark, pastor. Services at 10:45 a. m. with preaching by Rev. D. W. Morehouse of New York. Sunday-school, 11:45 a. m.

Y. M. C. A. Building—4:15 p. m. Meeting will be addressed by Evangelist Lester Leggett, a brother of the late Chas. P. Leggett. The singing will be led by a violin and male choir.

Church of the Redeemer, Protestant Episcopal—Rev. Dr. Jocelyn Johnstone, rector. Celebration of the Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m. Morning service, 11:15; Sunday-school, 3 p. m.; evening service, 4:30.

Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church Fourth and Liberty streets.—Rev. T. A. V. Henry, pastor. Preaching, 11 a. m. by the pastor; at 3 and 7:45 p. m. by Bishop B. T. Tanner, D. D., of Philadelphia.

St. Stephen's Church, Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector—Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45; morning prayer, litany and sermon, 11; evening prayer, 4:30. Free stages from station at 10:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

First Church of Christ (Disciples) Morris's Hall, 110 Liberty street—Preaching by the pastor, Rev. B. W. Hand, 11 a. m.; Lord's Supper, 12 m.; Sunday-school, 2:45; Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m. Evangelist Humpstone will preach at 8 p. m.

First M. E. Church—Rev. Dr. C. R. Barnes, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Preaching by the pastor. Morning subject: "Gratitude and Hopefulness"; evening subject: "People Who Are Bowed Down". Sunday-school, 2:30 p. m.; Epworth League, 6:45 p. m.

Park Avenue Baptist Church—Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. by the prison evangelist, Rev. Thomas Elgar of New York. Morning theme, "A Study of the Face of Jesus;" evening, "The Inner Prison", a description of his visit to the largest penal institution in the country. Sunday-school at 2:30 p. m.

Trinity Reformed Church—Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor. Services and divine worship at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school, 2:30; prayer-meetings 10 a. m. and 6:45 p. m. The evening meeting will be addressed by O. J. Walter and C. G. Mallory, members of the Volunteer Band of Rutgers College, and by W. D. Murray of Plainfield.

First Presbyterian Church—musical programme. Morning—Prelude, prayer—Decq. Anthem, Jubilate in C—Schilling. Offertory, Calvary—Rodney; Miss Glen. Postlude in F—Stern. Evening—Prelude, "On the Coast"—Buck. Anthems, "Lead Kindly Light"—Buck; "O Jesus Thou Art Standing"—Shepard. Offertory, selected. Postlude, "Be Not Afraid", "Elijah"—Mendelssohn.

Salmagundi Goodbye.

Miss Florence Spaulding of Bound Brook gave a salmagundi party as a farewell to Miss Myrtle Ford, who who will soon leave that place. First prize, a handsome shaving set, was won by J. Hazlewood Craig of Dunellen. Chas B. Morse of Plainfield received the booby prize, a decorated clay-pipe.

Among those present from this city were Miss Grace A. Crane, Arthur B. Crane, J. Hazelwood Craig and Charles B. Morse.

Year In, Year Out.

Year in, year out, the same glad tones accruing
Fill every heart with echoes of sweet praise.
The babbling runnels and the robin's wooing
Bring inspiration to the lengthening days;
Year in, year out, the radiant renewal
Of sunbeams makes our spirit grow elate.
And Spring or Winter he who wants good fuel
Gets it thro' Telephone Call, fifty-eight.

Nominated Debs for President.

Columbus, O., March 30.—Grand Master Workman Sovereign, of the knights of labor, in an interview here last night, nominated Eugene V. Debs as the candidate of the people's party for president in 1896.

Free Delivery for Kingston.

Washington, March 30.—The postmaster-general has issued an order establishing a free delivery service at Kingston, N. Y., with ten carriers, to begin May 1st next.

Labor Unrest in Belgium.

Brussels, March 30.—The labor party has resolved to placard the streets with an appeal to the working classes to join in the general strike.

Sabol Pardoned.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 30.—The governor has pardoned Michael Sabol, convicted of murder in Allegheny county.

Shiloh's Cure, the great cough and croup cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains 25 doses, only 25c. Children love it. Sold by all druggists.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c Sold by all druggists.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell; 25c., 50c. and $1. Sold by all druggists.

GRAND OPENING

—OF THE—

ARLINGTON HOTEL.

Greenbrook Road and Somerset street.

Monday Evening, April 1.

Very fine free lunch will be served.

Henry Wiedemeyer, Prop.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The condition of Harry L. Day of Rockview avenue, who is suffering from typhoid fever, is more hopeful today.

Miss Sadie, daughter of Evan Jones, who has been so seriously ill for more than a week past, is now thought to be much better.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moran of Grove street lost one of their children, little Mary Frances, this morning, of diphtheria. Another child is very low with the dread disease.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cutter entertained a few friends last evening at their pretty home, 111 Richmond street, in honor of the first anniversary of their beginning housekeeping. A very enjoyable evening was passed.

J. K. Lane of Duer street, who has been connected with the Metropolitan Insurance Company of New York, has been transferred to the offices of the company in Philadelphia. He will remove his family to the Quaker City.

—At the meeting of the Watchung Whist Club with Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Woodruff on Westervelt avenue last night, the first prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. John Emmons, and the consolation prizes by Mrs. Messerschmitt and Mr. Slater.

FITCHBURG & WEST SHORE.

Wm. Huston and E. A. Palmer's Experience.

There is no body of men who labor more hours continuously than railroad men. So constant and tiring are their responsible duties that there are few who do not suffer from overwork and nervous troubles, and it does not take long before the strongest constitution gives way to the ravages of disease. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, urinary and kidney troubles have incapacitated many a man that could have been saved if the proper precaution had been taken.

Engineer Wm. Huston, of the West Shore railroad, says: "For years I suffered from kidney trouble and dyspepsia; at times I was in so much pain. I thought I would have to give up my engine. I had been under the treatment of various physicians, but derived no benefit. Finally, one day Conductor Frazer, of our road, said to me, 'Huston, get a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; it will do you more good than all the doctors in existence.' I followed this advice, and in a few days I began to feel better and I have been well ever since."

E. A. Palmer, of the Pitchburgh Railroad's freight department at Troy, N. Y., in speaking of the great good he had received from using Favorite Remedy, said. "I was troubled with urinary difficulty for a long time. My attention was called to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; I began its use, and in a few weeks was cured of the trouble. I have since used it as a family medicine with splendid results, especially in cases of constipation and stomach difficulty."

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a natural antidote for diseases arising from uric acid in the blood; in cases of scrofula, sleeplessness or nervousness, it cures where all else fails.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

I suffered terribly from roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf, used Ely's Cream Balm and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Garling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

Prof. Josiah Royce

OF HARVARD COLLEGE will lecture under the auspices of the Monday Afternoon Club, on

THE PSYCHOLGY OF IMITATION

AT THE CASINO

ON

Monday Afternoon, April 1

at half-past three o'clock.

ADMISSION, - FIFTY CENTS

THE CIRCLE OF

King's Daughters,

Young Daughters of the King, Washington Park Plainfield, N. J., announce a series of three evening recitals by

MR. CHAS. F. UNDERHILL,

At The Casino.

Mason & Hamlin "Liszt" organ will be used.

Thursday, April 4, Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" with Mendelssohn music.
Monday, April 22, Charles Dickens' masterpiece, "David Copperfield."
Thursday, May 2, Sheridan's Great Comedy, "The Rivals"
Tickets for the series, $2, at the usual places. Single recitals 75c. 3 28 6

Telephone Rates

IN PLAINFIELD.

$40, $50, $60, according to number of local messages sent and joint use of line; full long distant equipment. Address The New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 175 North avenue, Plainfield.

3 22 2w-c 2

In Honor of L. M. Alcott.

The North Plainfield Public School held a Louisa M. Alcott exercise, Friday. The programme was as follows: "The Fringed Gentian", Bryant. Sarah Douglass; "The Clover Song", Saxe Holme, Winnie Gulich; "The Ocean Depths", Percival, Florence Duck. Song. Sketch—Ida Fountain. Extract from her journal on her childhood—Carrie Weise. Miss Alcott's first poem, written at 8 years of age, "To a Robin"—Ada Van Horn. A sample of her lessons—Agnes Morse and Edna Moffett. Poem, "My Kingdom", written at 13 years—Mabel Ladd. A letter to her sister—Nellie Schutt. Singing. Extract from "Hospital Sketches"—Annie Emmons. "A Song from the Sude"—Bessie Martin. A letter to her mother—Mildred Everitt. A letter to her nephews—Josephine Feller. A letter to the editor of St. Nicholas, concerning the publication of "Jack and Jill"—Joan Anderson. "My Prayer"—Julia Williams. Singing.

—The grand musical opening of the Arlington takes place Monday night.

—Wm. Robinson is driving Alert Hose Company's wagon during the illness of regular driver Townley.

—For the first time in the history of the office the Surveyors of Highways in North Plainfield Township qualified this year.

—One week from tomorrow evening the First Baptist Church choir will render Dudley Buck's "The Story of the Cross".

—West Fourth street is being staked for the new system of sewers, by H. C. VanEmburgh and his efficient staff of civil engineers.

—Augustus Frazee's house is receiving an attractive coat of paint. Henry Drake is doing the work.

MUSIC HALL.

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone call 49B.

Saturday, Mch 30

Matinee and night.

John P. Smith's own version of Mrs. Stowe's great work

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The same as played by this company at the Boston Theatre, Grand Opera House and Niblo's Theatre, New York. New and beautiful scenery. The Gates Ajar and Mississippi river at night. The great Steamboat Race. Splendid company.

Matinee prices—Adults 25c; reserved seats 30 and 50c. Prices at night 25, 35, 50 and 75c. Box office now open.

MUSIC HALL,

Jos. Sohl, Lessee and Manager.
Telephone 49B.

Tuesday Night, April 2.

A revolution in minstrelsy.

Primrose & West's Big Minstrels.

Big show. 40 whites, 30 blacks, 70 in all, including the original and only George Wilson, direct from their phenomenal New York engagement.

Prices 25, 50, 75 and $1. Box office now open.

MUSIC HALL,

Joseph Sohl, Lessee and Manager
Telephone Call 49B.
ONE BIG NIGHT.

Thursday, April 4, 1894.

The Swedish Comedy Success,

OLE'S LUCK.

presented by an admirable cast, including

Mr Richard T. Brown.

The Sweet Singer.

New songs, new dances, new music, but not a new show.

TERRILL & COLE,

Undertakers and Embalmers

200 West 2d street,

Next to Trinity Reformed Church.
First-class livery attached.
Telephone 153 11 28 y

DEATHS.

MORAN—At the residence of her parents, 210 Grove street, of diphtheria, Mary Francis, infant daughter of James and Margaret Moran. Funeral private Sunday, March 31, at 2:30 p. m. Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery.

FRENCH—At South Plainfield, N. J., March 29, 1895, Sarah M French, age 73 years, 8 months, and 20 days.
Funeral services Monday, April 1, 1895, at 1:30 p. m., from the residence of her brother Bethune Dunham, and from South Plainfield Baptist Church at 2 p. m.
Interment Samptown, N. J.

PROBASCO—In this city Thursday, March 28, 1895, Laura A. Mattis, wife of Frank E. Probasco, aged 19 years, 6 months, 25 days.
Funeral services Sunday, March 31, in Hope Chapel at 2 p. m.

CORIELL—In Greenbrook, N. J., March 28, 1895, Abraham C. Coriell, in the 76th year of his age.
Relatives and friends are invited to attend his funeral services at 2, Sunday afternoon at his late residence Greenbrook road. Interment in North Plainfield cemetery. 3 29 2

CORNWELL—At Scarsdale, N. Y. on Friday, March 29, 1895, Elizabeth L. widow of Richard H. Cornwell, in the 82nd year of her age.
Funeral services at the residence of her son-in-law, D. J. Garth, Scarsdale, on Sunday, March 31, at 3:30 p. m.
Carriages will meet the train leaving Grand Central Depot (Harlem R. R.) at 2:20 p. m. 3 29 2

Beautiful Bicycles

You see them everywhere.

Columbias—They almost fly.

Bicycle beauty comes from graceful lines and fine finish, in which points Columbia bicycles excel. But there is more than mere looks to recommend a Columbia. Back of the handsome design and elegant finish is a sterling quality that over the roughest road and the longest journey will carry the rider with safety and satisfaction.

Buy a Columbia or a HARTFORD.

BRANCH STORES: Boston, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Providence, Buffalo.

Send two 2-cent Stamps for a Columbia Catalogue; free if you call at a Columbia Agency.

KNACK.

There is a knack in doing everything, and when people say that White has a knack of selling goods cheap, they mean he knows how. Takes some time to learn it, but then it comes naturally to a WHITE.

CHANGES.

Since the time we first sold Dry Goods in the little 18x20 corner Front and Peace streets twenty-one years ago, when a dollar bought 8 yards of calico—now it buys 20, and a dress that cost ten, now costs you $3. Nothing has done it but hammering prices and we are still at it.

Six pair of socks for 59c, the 25c kind; 13c for ladies' stockings that are worth 25c; 12c for children's hose that will give 25c worth of wear.

Six cents for ten cent ginghams.
Eight cents for twelve cent ginghams.
Six cents for ten cent percales.
Seven and one-half cents for 13c percale.
Seven cents for 10 cent linen toweling.
Nine cents for 13 cent linen toweling.
Thirty-eight cents for 50 cent table linen
Seven cents for 12 cent outing flannel.
One twenty five for $2.00 napkins.
Ten cents for 15 cent matting.
Ten cents for 15 cent percaline.

The same story right through the store. 20 per cent., and in some cases 50 per cent., saved to you. Only a few of those 2½x3½ Jap-art squares left—$6.98 each.

New coats, capes, skirts, house dresses all in, and 'twill surprise you when you see how low they are in price.

Housefurnishing Goods business on the move. Remember we have everything in tinware, glass and crockery, and the same close, quick prices sell them.

WHITE OF PLAINFIELD.

BEEF, WINE, IRON.

The words suggest STRENGTH and ENERGY if any words can. Spring Fever is at hand. Perhaps you need BEEF and IRON. The wine only serves to hold them in solution together. Pint bottles of the best that can be made at

Reynolds's Pharmacy,

AT 50 CENTS.

A FALL

In the price of Men's Clothing. This week we will offer an elegant line of Men's All-wool Suits, worth $16 to $18; this week only, at $10.00.

These new beautiful suits are delighting, and the low price is a genuine surprise.
The new spring styles in

HATS

and men's furnishing goods are now ready. We hit prices hard, and our blows leave us complete masters of the field.

Werner's,

206 West Front st.

E. H. HOLMES,
DEALER IN
COAL and WOOD,
YARD—No. 208 Madison Avenue. Also
Office for coal orders with Woolston & Buckle 145 Worth avenue.

FLORIST.

A. E. LINCOLN, 226 Park avenue, has just received an elegant assortment of rare ferns and other plants. Also will have a fine assortment of flowering plants, azaleas, lilies, etc., for Easter. Large assortment of choice cut flowers daily. Floral design work for all occasions a specialty.

GEO. J. TOBIN,
187 North avenue.
Practical Plumber
Contractor for plumbing, steam and hot water heating, drainage, sewerage, ventilation and water supply; testing ventilation and sewer lines, under hydraulic and air pressure. This should be done before connecting with new sewer
TELEPHONE CALL 158a. 12 15 tf

J. W. VAN SICKLE,
Dealer in all kinds of
Fresh and Salt Meats
GAME IN SEASON.
New No. 122., North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone 148 B. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Tel. 29B Established 1878.
ADDIS & SON,
PLUMBING AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Have your plumbing system tested with the smoke process under pressure, preparatory for the sewerage system.
Opp Roberts's Livery 132 North Ave

You may have
Lost
many hours of comfort by not having worn
A
good reliable
Pair of Collier's
Glasses.
103 Park ave. Established 1869.

SMALLEY'S CASH MARKET,
(Estate D. I. Smalley)
94 Somerset, Corner Race Street.
GEO. EGEL, Manager.
We sell only first-class goods, at low prices, for cash. Orders called for and delivered. 12 10 t

REMOVAL.
I have removed my watchmaking and jewelry business from Park ave. to
142 North Avenue
Next to Walker's bakery, and shall be pleased to have my friends call.
CALEB DICKINSON

L. PAOLI & CO.,
Fruits, Confectionery, Temperance Drinks, Segars, Etc.,
138 NORTH AVENUE,
FRESH ROASTED PEANUTS EVERY DAY,
10 CENTS A QUART.
I take this method of informing my friends and the public in general that I am again in business at the old stand. I solicit your patronage. Store will close at sundown on Friday and open at sundown on Saturday.

BANJO.

Miss Claribell Jeffery,
Teacher of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 322 West Front street. Taylor's music store, Plainfield. Send for circular. Residence 28 Marshall st., Newark, N. J. 3 12 m

CLEANER COAL.
L. A. Rheaume, Agt
80 BROADWAY, cor. 4th ST.
Invites the public to inspect the operation his newly added steam vibrating mechanical screen for nut coal, which he confidently believes enables him to deliver cleaner coal than is possible by any other method of screening
UPPER LEHIGH AND HONEYBROOK COAL
in best qualities and various sizes carried in stock.
ROUGH AND DRESSED LUMBER.
He would also announce recently increased facilities for PLANING and SCROLL SAWING and is prepared to execute orders for the same at short notice.
6-25-

When Little Ones
refuse to eat and begin to look thin and pale, the wise mother resorts at once to Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites. She knows they will take it willingly, for there is no bad taste of the oil about it, and it will not make them sick. Soon their appearance tells the cheering story of returning health. They grow bright, active, plump and hungry; they eat anything now. With babes in arms it is just the same. Nourishment! That's the secret of Scott's Emulsion.
Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!
Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All Druggists. 50c. and $1.

A. Lusardi,
No. 120 North Ave.,
Will be pleased to serve his friends and the public generally with first-class fruits and confectioneries, cigars, etc. Fresh roasted peanuts every day 10c. quart.
Branch store corner Front and Somerset streets.

L. A. HUMMER. T. B. MULFORD
Hummer & Mulford
VARIETY MARKET,
Meats, Fruits, Vegetables, Poultry, Eggs, Etc.,
220 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Telephone call, 29 A.
Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

W. K. McCLURE,
Counselor-at-Law.
SUPREME COURT COMMISSIONER.
First National Bank Building.

W. R. Codington's
LAW OFFICES,
Corner Park avenue and Second street.
Solicitor and Master in Chancery.
Notary Public.

ELY'S
Cream Balm
CATARRH
Is quickly absorbed.
Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation.
Heals the Sores, Protects the Membrane from Additional Cold.
Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

COLD IN HEAD
IT WILL CURE. A particle is applied into each nostril and is a greeable. Price 50c. a druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS 56 Warren st., New York.

Mrs. L. Adams,
111 East Front st., Under 1st National Bank
is selling out her stock of Winter Millinery at reduced prices. Alpine Hats from 39c to 75c. The celebrated Bazar Glove Fitting Patterns at 15c each.
BROWNIE HANDKERCHIEFS.

WM. D. THICKSTUN,
Real Estate and Insurance,
197 North ave. 10 1 tf

HENRY C. ADAMS,
INSURANCE.
Agent for National Fire Ins. Co. of Hartford; Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. of Newark. Residence—306 Orange place.

J. C. POPE & CO.,
Insurance Agents,
NO. 6 EAST FRONT STREET
Plainfield, N. J.

CUT ROSES, CARNATIONS AND VIOLETS
Flowers furnished for weddings, funerals, etc., in bunches, bouquets or design.
MILES,
Somerset st., Johnston's drive, terminus of electric railroad. 3 17 tf

Lodge and Society Meetings.

Senate Lodge, 3543, Knights of Honor.—The regular meetings of this Lodge are held on the First and Third Thursday evenings of each month in Stillman Building, No. 212 West Front street, at 8 p. m.
R. C. Pease, Dictator.
H. A. Thorne, Reporter. 2 6 tf

Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 8024, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, meets in K. of P. Hall, No. 108 West 2d st., first and third Tuesday evenings in each month.
Samuel J. Flynn, Chief Ranger.
Samuel H. Lunger, Fin. Sec. 9 25 y

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M.—Meets second and fourth Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, 10 East Front stree
C. C. Howard, W. M.
T. A. Rogers, Secretary.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M.—Meets first and third Tuesdays at Masonic Hall, East Front street.
D. C. Adams, W. M.
Chas. Yeager, Secretary.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum.—The regular meetings of this Council are held on the Second and Fourth Monday evenings of each month in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Coward's Building, Park avenue, at 8 P. M.
P. A. Emmons, Regent.
H. A. Thorne, Secretary.

JAMES E. BAILY,
97 Jackson avenue, Plainfield, N. J.
Trucking of All Kinds Done.
Two and four-horse vans and trucks. Particular attention given to moving furniture and pianos. Satisfaction guaranteed. 3 28 tf

TRY DOBBINS'S CIGARS.
30 PARK AVE.
He Manufactures Them

THEODORE GRAY,
MASON AND CONTRACTOR.
Estimates given, repairing promptly attended to. Residence 117 Hillside ave. 2 25 1

HOME RULE FOR ALL.

A Resolution Passed in the Commons with Redmond's Opposition.

London, March 30.—In the house of commons James Henry Dalziel, advanced liberal, moved the adoption of a resolution to give home rule to England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. John Redmond, Parnellite, opposed the resolution, declaring that it meant the shelving of Irish home rule until the house of lords shall have been abolished. John Dillon supported the resolution. The Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, conservative leader, appealed to the house not to make itself ridiculous by voting in favor of a policy that was exactly the opposite of that which had built up the great empires of the world. A vote was then taken, and the resolution was adopted by a majority of 24, the vote standing 126 in favor to 102 against.

A HUSBAND'S REVENGE.

Shot His Wife and Killed Himself Because She Had Left Him.

Philadelphia, March 30. — John A. Brown, aged 30 years, until recently employed as a salesman by the drygoods commission house of James A. Talcott & Co., New York city, shot his wife, Mrs. E. B. Brown, aged 24 years, yesterday afternoon, and then committed suicide, at the residence of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Liebert, on South Forty-second street. The husband's drinking habits caused his wife to leave him and return to her parents several months ago, and her refusal to return to him was the cause of the tragedy. Brown lived only a few minutes. His wife's wounds, it is said at the hospital, will not likely prove fatal.

HIS MYSTERIOUS ABSENCE.

Nothing Yet Heard of President Boynton of the Cortland Bank.

Cortland, N. Y., March 30.—President Fitz Boynton of the Second National bank of Cortland, who left home February 2 and mailed his resignation to the board of directors from Detroit, Mich., has not since been heard from, and his whereabouts are a mystery. At the time of writing his letter of resignation, he wrote a letter to his family, as well—a communication which caused serious doubt as to his sanity, and, it is thought, that he is either wandering about the country in and irresponsible condition, or possibly has already lost his life. Mr. Boynton is a Knight Templar and a member of the mystic shrine, and is widely known among Masons as well as in business circles.

NOT TOM O'BRIEN.

The Man Held in Paris Says He Is the Bunco Man's Brother.

Paris, March 30.—The hospital surgeons attending Waddle, the man who was shot by O'Brien, have extracted one of the bullets from his body. Another bullet remains to be extracted, but the wounded man is improving. Judge Franqueville has closely questioned O'Brien, but the prisoner continues to give misleading answers. When the judge asked him if it were not true that he was O'Brien, the American bunco crook, he replied: "No, that's my brother." When the picture of O'Brien, the bunco man, was shown to Waddle he declared at once that it was the face of his assailant's brother.

SHE REFUSED TO MARRY HIM.

A Fifty-year Old Man Kills a Widow and Wounds Himself.

Springfield, Mass., March 30.—John McBride, aged 50, a laborer in J. P. Falt & Co.'s quarry at Sixteen Acres, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Julia Rochefort, aged 31, a widow with six children living on Cooley street, at 2:20 yesterday afternoon, and then fled into the woods where he attempted to commit suicide. He is badly wounded in the back of the head and may die. The cause of the deed lies in the continual refusal of Mrs. Rochefort to marry McBride, who had been importuning her ever since the death of her husband, who was killed by the cars in Hartford April 9, 1893.

Gov. Morton Will Be Present.

Albany, March 30.—Gov. Morton has accepted an invitation of the committee which has charge of the dedication and transfer to the city of New York of the Washington arch at Washington square, foot of Fifth avenue, and will be present with his staff at the dedicatory exercises on April 30.

Policeman Shoots Himself.

Troy, N. Y., March 30.—John Perry, a police officer, accidentally shot himself through the brain last night, in the first precinct station, this city. When the accident occurred, he was lying on a lounge, and attempted to shift his revolver from a hip pocket to a chair near his head.

To Do Away with Lithographs.

New York, March 30.—A meeting of theatrical managers was held to take action on bill-board and lithographic advertising. The object of the managers is to do away with these forms of advertising and also the privileges, in the way of tickets, connected with them.

The Old "Color Doctor" Dead.

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—Dr. William Hotchkiss, alleged to have reached the age of 140 years, died suddenly yesterday at his home in this city of heart disease. He came here forty years ago, and has always been known as the "color doctor."

Harvard Student Arrested for Theft.

Boston, March 30.—Henry Hoppe of Boston, 18 years old, a student at the Harvard medical school, was arrested yesterday for stealing letters containing checks and money from the clothing of other students. He confessed.

Held as a Fugitive from Justice.

Boston, March 30.—Harry Steele, 28 years of age, living at Elizabeth, N. J., is under arrest here charged with being a fugitive from justice, being wanted in New York city for the alleged larceny of silverware.

Warmest on Record.

Omaha, Neb., March 30.—The warm weather which has prevailed for the past three days reached its climax yesterday in a temperature of 85.3, which is the warmest on record.

German Cruiser for Chinese Waters.

Berlin, March 30.—The German cruiser Gefion will be sent to Chinese waters to take the place of the Alexandria in the German squadron.

England and Venezuela.

London, March 30.—No communications have been exchanged recently between Great Britain and Venezuela.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY

DUKES MIXTURE
for 35 cents
Every pipe stamped
DUKES MIXTURE or ATC
2 oz. PACKAGES 5¢

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.
WASHINGTON, March 1, 1895.

Whereas, By satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882,

Now, therefore, I, James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Plainfield, in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely, until close of business on March 1, 1915.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 1st day of March, 1895.

2243 JAMES H. ECKELS,
3 4 30 Comptroller of the Currency.

Hotels and Saloons.

Madison Avenue HOTEL,
Madison Avenue and 58th St.,
NEW YORK.
$3 per day and up. American Plan.
Fireproof and first-class in every particular. Two blocks from the Third and Sixth avenue elevated railroads.
The Madison and 4th Avenue and Belt Line cars pass the door.
H. M. CLARK, Prop.
Passenger elevator runs all night.

HOTEL GRENADA,
North Avenue.
Now open for the reception of guests, under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller. House has been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished throughout, and contains all improvements. First-class accommodations for families and the traveling public.
6-12-1

CITY HOTEL.
Plainfield, N. J.
COR. PARK AVENUE AND SECOND STREET.
J. E. BEERBOWER, Proprietor.
With stables attached. 483

Writes every letter in sight of operator. Does most of the work, in writing AUTOMATICALLY, and yields in the time thus saved additional work.
It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.
It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical or other times.
These are some of the reasons why it is different from all other writing machines.
The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.
Columbia Typewriter Mfg. Co,
307 Broadway, New York.
1 5 6m

Creating a Stir.

Somewhat mixed. The paint business requires a good mixer—one who can create a stir. We have created a stir by the variety and excellence of our stock of paints, as well as by low prices at which we sell them.
Marsh, Ayers & Co.,
141 East Front st.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America
Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Jan 20, 1895, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

FAST LINE leaves Philadelphia 12 25 p m daily with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars for Pittsburg, Northern and Eastern Pennsylvania.

6.37 P. M. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.34 p.m—SOUTH WESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

8 42 p. m.—PACIFIC EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, for Pittsburg, Columbus, Chicago, and Toledo, daily, except Saturday for Cleveland.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—1 00 6.06, 9.26 a. m., 9.26 p. m.

Sundays, 1, 9 05, 9 26 a. m., 9 41 p m.

For Baltimore only 1 37 p. m., week-days.

For Newark and New York—3 02, 5 34, 6 46, 6 17, 6 45, 7 07, 7 20, 7 49, 7 57, 8 06, 8 28, 9 23, 9 47, 9 17, 9 41, 9 48, 10 20, 10 28, 10 49, 11 07, 11 45 a. m., 1 13, 1 29, 1 56, 2 24, 2 40, 3 45, 3 27, 3 47, 4 43, 5 15, 5 36, 5 48, 6 02, 6 27, 6 45, 6 55, 7 07, 7 26, 7 39, 8 4, 9 10, 9 30, 10 03, 11 03 and 11 56 p. m.

Sundays 3 02, 5 34, 7 54, 8 45, 9 30, 9 47, 10 12, 10 28, 10 49 a. m., 12 26, 1 44, 2 23, 2 45, 3 45, 4 26, 5 34, 6 48, 7 05, 7 13, 7 26, 7 55, 8 20, 9 15, 10 14, 11 46 and 11 56 p. m.

For New York only, 6 10 a. m. daily.

For Philadelphia—1 00, 3 37, 7 19, 9 05, 9 56, 11 43, A. M.; 1 06, 1 37, 3 22, 5 02, 6 26, 7 46, 8 43, 9 39 P. M. Sundays at 1 00, 3 52, 9 05 and 11 02 p. m.

For Atlantic City 8 37 a. m. daily except Sunday, 9, 10 10, 11 00 a. m., 12, 12 10, 12 35, 12 40, 1 00, 2 10, 2 30, 3 00, 3 30, 4 00, 4 10, 4 30, 4 40, 5 00, 5 10, 5 30, 5 50, 6 00, 6 10, 6 30, 6 40, 7 00, 7 30, 8 10, 9 10, 10 10, 11 00, 11 59 p. m., 12 11 night. Sundays, 1 00, 3 15, 3, 9 00, 9 45, 10 00, 11 00 a. m., 12 00 noon, 1 00, 3 00, 3 45, 4 00, 4 30, 5 00, 6 00, 6 45, 7 00, 7 30, 8 00, 8 30, 9 30, 10, 15, 11 00 p. m., and 12 15 night.

E. M. DEVEREUX, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.
NEW YORK MAILS.
Arrive—7 20, 8 40, 11 a. m., 2 30, 5, 8 30 p. m.
Close—7 and 9 20 a. m., 1 45, 5, and 7 30 p. m
SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.
Arrive—8 40 a. m., 2 40, 6 30 p. m.
Close—7 15 a. m., 4 30 p. m.
Warrenville mail arrives 12 m; closes 9 20 a.m.
SUNDAY MAILS.
Office open from 9 30 to 10 30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6 15 p. m.

The Finderne,
FINDERNE, Somerset Co., N. J.
Open all the year as a resort of the highest order. Driving and sleighing parties will receive every attention.
HIGH-CLASS SUNDAY DINNERS.
(Table d' Hote from 1 to 3:30) Steam heat; inclosed piazzas; everything immaculate. When out driving let us entertain you.
A. E. WHITE, Manager,
1 9 tf Finderne, N. J.

Carpenters and Builders.

UTZINGER & KLINE,
CARPENTERS AND BUILDERS.
Jobbing promptly attended to.
V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview ave. L. G. Kline, 54 Jackson ave.

JOHN P. EMMONS
—Mason and Builder.—
Washington avenue and Prospect place
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Jobbing promptly attended to 12 14 tf

PEARSON & GAYLE,
Carpenters and Builders.
RESIDENCE—W. J. Pearson, No. 15 Vine St.
E. B. Gayle, No. 12 Vine St.
ALL WORK PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO
9-21-tf

GEO. W. STUDER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
985 ARLINGTON AVENUE.
Jobbing of any kind promptly attended to. Estimates given; charges reasonable. 5 3 6m

McCullough's Steam Mill,
21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield.
M. H. McCullough, Proprietor.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing Turning, &c. Estimates cheerfully Furnished. 6-11-1

C. W. LINES & CO.,
Mason and Builders.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence 18 Elm Place.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to 12 21

Jno. J. Shotwell,
Wood Mantels,
Tiles and Fire Place Furnishings.
221 Park avenue, upstairs. 3 5 tf

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)
Station in New York foot of Liberty street.
Time Table in effect, Nov. 18, 1894.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield, 2 14, 3 37, 5 38, 6 05, 6 29, 6 [illegible] 7 26, 7 30, 7 58, 8 00, 8 15, 8 27, 8 31, 8 48, 9 22, 9 [illegible] 10 27, 11 19, a m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 [illegible] 4 50, 5 54, 7 03, 8 20, 9 22, 10 17, 11 28, P. m. Sunday, 2 14, 3 37, 6 05, 8 01, 8 32, 10 08, 11 19, 11 28 [illegible] m.; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 37, 5 36, 7 11, 8 23, 8 32, 10 [illegible] p. m.

Leave New York, foot Liberty Street at 4 [illegible] 6 00, 7 15, 8 00, 8 40, 9 10, 10 00, 11 45, a. m.; 1 [illegible] 1 30, 2 30, 3 30, 3 45, 4 00, 4 20, 5 00, 5 15, (except Saturdays) 5 30, 5 45, 6 00, 6 15, 6 30, 7 00, 7 30, 8 [illegible] 8 30, 9 15, 10 15, 11 30, p. m., 12 15, 1 00, night. Sunday, 4 30, 7 15, 8 30, 9 15 a. m.; 12 00 m.; 1 [illegible] 2 15, 4 00, 5 30, 7 00, 9 00, 10 00, p. m.; 12 15 night, 1 00 a. m.

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield at 5 28, 6 29, 6 59, 7 28, 7 30, 8 00, 8 48, 9 32, 10 04, 10 27, a. m; 12 06, 1 18, 2 07, 2 30, 3 12, 3 51, 4 50, 5 54, 6 54, 7 03, 8 20, 10 17, 11 28, a. m.; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 37, 5 36, 7 11, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, 11 28, p. m.

Sunday 8 01, 8 32, 10 08, 11 28, a. m.; 12 33, 1 45, 3 30, 5 36, 7 11, 8 23, 8 32, 10 17, p. m.

Leave Newark, at 6 15, 7 14, 7 55, 8 39, 9 08, 10 05, 11 25 a. m.; 1 15, 1 55, 2 20 (Saturdays only) 2 30, 3 25, 4 05, 4 40, 5 04, 5 34, 5 50, 6 20, 7 15, 7 35, 8 [illegible] 10 05, 11 25 p. m. Sunday 7 30 8 45, 9 25, 11 [illegible] a. m.; 1 10, 2 35, 4 10, 5 40, 7 20, 9 25, 10 20 p. m.

Passengers for Newark please change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 7 10, 8 16, 9 54, 11 00 a.m. 12 40, 2 08, 2 32, 3 45, 4 36, 5 05, 5 14, 5 34, 6 04, 6 38, 7 12, 7 34, 8 21, 10 26, 11 25 p. m.; 12 38 night. Sunday 5 45, 8 28, 9 34, a. m; 2 03, 3 28, 5 14, 6 [illegible] 10 15, 11 14 p. m.

Leave Somerville at 6 00, 6 30, 7 00, 7 25, 7 [illegible] 7 48, 8 29, 9 05, 9 48, 11 40 a. m.; 12 50, 1 48, 2 05, 3 [illegible] 4 25, 5 28, 6 25, 8 07, 8 45, 11 05 p. m. Sunday at 8 25, 9 45, 10 55 a. m.; 12 08, 1 20, 5 05, 6 45, 8 [illegible] 8 05, 9 40 p.m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield at 5 45, 8 16, 9 54, a. m.; 12 [illegible] 2 08, 5 05, 5 14, 6 38, 8 21 p. m. Sunday at 5 45, 8 [illegible] a. m.; 2 03, 6 35, p. m.

Leave Easton at 6 05, 7 00, 8 53 a. m.; 12 22, 4 [illegible] 7 00 p. m. Sunday at 7 15, 10 52 a. m.; 6 40, 7 [illegible] p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield at 9 54 a. m.; 5 05 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

5 45 A. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport and Tamaqua.

7 10 a. m. for stations to High Bridge, connecting for stations on High Bridge Branch.

8 16 A. M. for Flemington, D. L. & W. R. R. Easton, Bangor and Mauch Chunk.

9 54 A. M. for Flemington, High Bridge branch D L & W R R, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Hazleton, Upper Lehigh, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c. Through coach to Williamsport.

12 46 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at Junction for stations on D. L. & W. R. R.

2 08 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Sunbury and Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Buffet parlor car to Mauch Chunk.

5 05 p. m., way for Easton, connecting at High Bridge for stations on High Bridge branch.

5 14 P. M. for Flemington, Easton, Bethlehem, Bangor Allentown, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Mauch Chunk Shamokin and Tamaqua, Buffet parlor car to Scranton.

6 19 P. M. for Flemington.

6 38 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading and Harrisburg.

8 21 P. M. for Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown.

8 48 A. M. Sunday for Easton, Bethlehem Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. 8 28 a.m. Sundays for Easton, 2 08 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Reading and Harrisburg, 6 38 p. m. Sundays for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Reading, Harrisburg, &c. and at Junction for D. L. & W. R. R.

For Atlantic City, 8 37 a. m. 1 18 p. m.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, etc

Leave Plainfield 8 37, 9, 10 27, a. m. 1 18, 3 51, 6 54, p. m. Sundays—except Ocean Grove 9 03, a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Perth Amboy, 8 37, 6 38, 8 10 27 a. m. 1 18, 3 51, 4 50, 6 54, 7 03 p.m. Sunday—9 03 a. m., 3 30 p. m.

For Freehold, 8 37, 8.10 27 a.m., 1 18 3 51, 4 50 p. m.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia, 5 45, 8 16, 9 54, 10 45, a. m., 2 09*, 5 54* 6 45 p. m., 12 night. Sundays—5 45, 9 03, a. m., 2 09*, 5 54*, 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Trenton 5 45, 8 54, 9 40*, 10 45, a. m., 12 46, 2 09*, 5 54*, 6 38*, 6 45, 9 21, 9 27* p.m., 1 12 night. Sunday—5 45, 9 36, a. m., 2 09*, 5 54* 6 45, p. m., 1 12 night.

For Baltimore and Washington at 9 45, a. m. 2 09, 5 54* 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night. Sundays—9 45 a. m., 2 09, 5 54* 6 45 p. m., 1 12, night.

For Chattanooga, New Orleans and all points south with through vestibule sleeper, via Shenandoah Valley Route at 5 54 p m. Sundays 5 54 p m.

For Buffalo, Chicago and all points west, week days at 9 54 a m., 9 22 p. m. Sundays 6 36 p. m.

RETURNING—LEAVE PHILADELPHIA.

Reading terminal, 4 10, 8 30, 9 00, 11 35 a.m., 1 30 3 10 5 15, 6 04, 8 25, p.m. 12 10, night.

Sundays—4 10, 8 30, 9 00, 12 35 a. m., 3 30, 6 00, 8 25 p. m., 12 10 night.

From 24th and Chestnut—2 35, 7 55, 9 21, 11 12 a.m. 2 50, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m. Sunday—3 35, 7 55, 12 19 p m, 3 30, 6 12, 8 10, 11 45 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker sts., 1 10 4 58, 9 06, 10 26, a.m. 12 15*, 3 10, 4 28*, 5 54, 9 01 p.m. Sundays—1 00, 4 58, 9 06, 10 27 a. m. 1 15*, 4 [illegible] 5 45*, 9 05 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

Through tickets to all points at lowest rate may be had on application in advance to ticket agent at the station.

J. H. OLHAUSEN, General Sup't.
H P. BALDWIN. Gen. Pass. Agt.

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS
COPYRIGHTS.
CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.
Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

FISCHER PIANOS.
ESTABLISHED 1840.
Nearly 100,000 Now In Use.
RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARD, WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.
EASY TERMS,—EXCHANGED.
Catalogue mailed on application.
110 FIFTH AVE., cor. 16th St., N. Y.

MONEY LOANED.
Local Representatives Wanted.
Our system affords an opportunity to borrow on either personal or real estate security. The plan is superior to building and loan associations. The amount borrowed may be returned in monthly payments without bonus, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum, it affords absolute security to investors, with a reasonable guarantee of an annual dividend of from 8 to 10 per cent. We desire to secure the services of energetic, representative men in every community to act as local secretaries. The position will be sufficiently remunerative to amply compensate for services. If you possess the above qualifications write for particulars. Full information regarding our system of making loans as well as investments and agencies will be furnished by addressing S. E. Robertson, President, 1128 Walnut st., Philadelphia. 1 5 3m

A. Conan Doyle,

the great light of the new romantic school of fiction, has written another story for The Daily Press, which is, if possible, quite as fascinating as his famous "Medal of Brigadier Gerard," published in this and other papers from Dec 10 to Dec. 14. The new story, publication of which will begin Tuesday, April 2, is entitled

HOW THE BRIGADIER HELD THE KING

It is an exciting story of adventure with brigands in the mountains of Spain.

The style in which it is written is characterized by the dash and spirit so notable in the Brigadier's adventures in carrying the message of Napoleon.

It would be a misfortune to miss this story, and readers of The Press will do a favor to their friends if they provide them with copies of the paper containing it.

You'll Read It in The Press

OR NOWHERE.

Mercer Thin Porcelain

Osborne pattern, blue flowers, gold edge.

Tea plates	90c	Teas and saucers	$1,30
Breakfast plates	$1,05	Covered dishes	67
Dinner plates	1,20	Meat dishes	18 27-60
Individual butters	35	Preserves	50
Sauce boat	25	Bakers	26

Make up your own set. The Welsbach Light.

—GAVETT'S,—

129 East Front st.

NEW STOCK.

Fine Hats, Dress Shirts, Gloves and Neckwear

U. B. Crane, Hatter and Furnisher,

120 West Front street.

Metropolitan Livery and Boarding Stables

Horses boarded by the day, week or month. Especial accommodations for transient trade.

OFFICE AND STABLES,

147, 149, 151 North Avenue. Opp. Railroad Depot.

A. C. BLAIR.....Proprietor. FRANK DAY.....Manager
Telephone 152, connected with all circuits of New Jersey, New York and Brooklyn.

1 14 tf

Horse Blankets & Fur Robes

at cost, before packing away. Spring style Hats now ready.

E. M. LAING, 105 Park Avenue.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.,

DEALERS IN

Lumber. Coal. Mason's Material. &c.

Our stock is under cover and we can always deliver dry stock. Agents for Adamant Wall Plaster. Orders solicited.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO.

CLEARING-OUT SALE.

GOODS MARKED LOWER THAN EVER.

Special discount of 10 per cent on all Fall and Winter Goods.

Are you looking for an Overcoat or Ulster? Remember we have them and are closing them out at slaughter prices.

Our Men's, Boys' and Children's Goods are all put in at the same cut rates.

Schepflin, Schultz & Co.,

318 WEST FRONT STREET.

WAR IS IN THE AIR

Great Britain's Open Warning to France.

Sir Edward Grey's Utterances in the House of Commons Regarding the French Invasion of the Upper Nile Valley Causes a Sensation—Comment of the Journal des Debats.

London, March 30.—The statement which Sir Edward Grey, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, made in the house of commons, saying that an advance of the French into the territory of the Upper Nile valley, belonging to the Royal Niger company, and therefore, under British protection, would be an unfriendly act, and that it was well known to France that Great Britain would so regard it, is causing a profound sensation here and on the continent.

Situation Extremely Critical.

Sir Edward's announcement, which was read from notes believed to have been written by the secretary of state for foreign affairs, the earl of Kimberly, is looked upon as revealing the extremely critical relations now existing between France and Great Britain. The fact that the statement was prepared, in writing, before hand, emphasizes the seriousness of the situation and shows that every word embodies the views of the cabinet.

Necessary at Last To Act.

In brief, the statement is that it is becoming daily more difficult to live on good terms with France, that Great Britain has made concession after concession in the past two years, in the interest of peace, but that the end has now come, and that it is found necessary to warn France from the ministerial bench. The most important and significant portion of Sir Edward Grey's statement was the following: "But, something besides our own efforts is necessary, and that is the co-operation of the French government and the French people."

Cannot Recognize England.

Paris, March 30.—Only the Journal des Debats comments upon the utterances of Sir Edward Grey in the British house of commons. The Debats says: "In regard to the Upper Nile, France can only recognize the rights of Turkey and Egypt, and no others. The proclamation of England's claims there does not constitute a title."

France Will Reply.

Paris, March 30.—On Thursday next M. Hanotaux, minister of foreign affairs, will reply to an interpellation in the chamber of deputies on the statement made in the British house of commons by Sir Edward Grey concerning the relations between France and Great Britain.

FLAW IN THE DOUGLASS WILL.

It Is Not Signed by the Third Witness Required in the District.

Washington, March 30.—The will of the late Frederick Douglass has just been filed with the register of wills. It is a brief document. To his wife he leaves the estate situated near this city with all the furnishings. Ten thousand dollars in United States bonds and $10,000 in money are given to his daughter, Rosetta Sprague, and to his sons, Lewin, Frederick and Charles Douglass is bequeathed the remainder of his property, each to receive an equal share, which, says the will, will amount to about $15,000 each. The will bears the signature of but two witnesses, and the laws of the district require three.

Big Mills To Be Sold.

Rochester, N. H., March 30.—Amasa Clarke, of Brookline, Mass., agent of the Norway Plains Manufacturing company, which was formerly one of Rochester's leading industries, was here yesterday and stated that the plant will not resume under the present ownership. The mills are to be sold.

Will Try To Resume Monday Next.

Whitinsville, Mass., March 30.—Despite the fact that the American axe and tool company closed its doors last Saturday, a notice has been posted to the effect that work will be resumed on Monday if a sufficient number of men return to work. If not, the works will be closed indefinitely.

The Kaiser and Reichstag Officers.

Berlin, March 30.—The Post denies the report that the emperor will receive the new officers of the reichstag. It confirms the announcement that a court dinner in Bismarck's honor will be given on April 1 and that the emperor will attend the Bismarck commers in the evening.

Little Damage by Forest Fires.

Egg Harbor, N. J., March 30.—The damage by forest fires reported from this section of the state is very much exaggerated, the ground burned over being principally covered by underbrush.

Club Still Over McKane's Head.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 30.—The indictments against the ex-officials of Gravesend, with the exception of those against John Y. McKane and ex-Judge Sutherland, have been quashed.

Minister Risley Coming Home.

London, March 30.—James E. Risley, United States minister to Denmark, will sail from Southampton on the steamship New York to-day.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Prices are held higher on spot. No. 2 red f. o. b. afloat quoted at 62½c.

Corn—Spot quiet and prices unsettled. No. 2 nominally 56c. in store; steamer mixed, 52c. afloat.

Oats—Spot held strongly with a moderate trade. No. 2 white, 37½c.; No. 2 mixed, 33½c.

Pork—Spot firm but trade is quiet. Extra prime nominal, $13.25a$15.50; mess, $13.50a$13.75.

Lard—Contracts are quiet and unchanged. May, $7.40.

Butter—Prices are generally firm with fair demand. New butter, creamery, western extras, 21½c.; state dairy, half-firkin tubs, fancy, 18½a19c.

Cheese—Market remains quiet. State, full cream, large colored, fancy, 11½c.; common to fair, 8a9½c.

Eggs—The demand good and market remains firm on the basis of 12½c. for best western.

Potatoes—Domestic potatoes continue to sell well at full price. State, white stock, per 180 lbs., $2.00a$2.25; Jersey, prime, in bulk, per 180 lbs., $1.75a$3.12.

EFFORTS TO STOP THEIR SALE.

Two Documents of Great Historical Value To Be Put Up at Auction.

Dover, Del., March 30.—Acting under instructions contained in a resolution adopted by the general assembly, Attorney General Nicholson has applied to Chancellor Wolcott for an injunction restraining J. Harry Rogers of Newcastle from disposing of two deeds bearing the date of August 24, 1682, in which documents, James, duke of York (afterwards king James II.), conveyed to William Penn the twelve-mile circle around Newcastle. The documents are of great historical value and are now in possession of a firm of Philadelphia auctioneers, who propose to sell them early in April, unless restrained by an injunction. The attorney general claims in his bill that the documents belong to the state of Delaware and not to Rogers. The York deed to Penn was once taken to London and used in evidence before Chancellor Lord Hardwicke in the suit between the Penn and Lord Baltimore heirs.

THE ABANDONED SUGAR SOLD.

It Brought $4,000 Notwithstanding the Report of Poison.

Philadelphia, March 30.—A million pounds of sugar which was abandoned by the Spreckle Sugar Refining company to the marine underwriters and which was turned over by the latter to the government on account of the bad condition in which it arrived at this port in the steamer Remus on December 5th, 1894, was sold at auction yesterday. The purchaser was Henry K. Kelly, of the sugar brokerage firm of Field & Kelly, and the price paid was $4,000, which about covers the duty. There was considerable agitation in connection with the damaged cargo over a report that a quantity of arsenic which was also in the hold had become mixed with the sugar, but a recent chemical analysis failed to discover any trace of the poison.

"COLONEL GILBERT" DEAD.

The Coffin Containing His Body Was Too Large for the Hearse.

New York, March 30.—When the coffin containing the body of J. G. Gilbert was placed in the hearse the doors could not be closed. Gilbert was seven feet, eight inches tall. Gilbert's home was at 287 Elizabeth street, where he lived with his wife, who, while not so tall as he, was of uncommon size. He used to show himself in circuses and museums as the "Dahomey Grant," but later appeared in uniform as "Colonel Gilbert." He had been ill for some time. He was a native of Scranton, Pa., and the body was taken there for burial. Gilbert's death took place yesterday.

DEMAND FOR POSTAGE STAMPS.

The Bureau of Engraving Hardly Able To Keep Up With It.

Washington, March 30.—If the increased demand for postage stamps from offices all over the country is any index of a general revival of activity in business, it will be comforting to the public to learn that the bureau of engraving and printing has had all it could do to keep up with the calls upon it, even by working overtime and at night. For the quarter which will end with the 31st of March, the demand has been larger than ever for a corresponding period in the history of the government. The present quarter's returns will show the issue of some 750,000,000 stamps.

BEHRING SEA REGULATIONS.

To Be Adhered to by England Regardless of Canada's Desires.

London, March 30.—In regard to the published statement that Canada has urged Great Britain not to further paralyze British industry by assenting to the Behring sea regulations of 1895, it is officialy learned that whatever Canada may desire, the decision of the Paris arbitration will be strictly adhered to during the ensuing season.

Forbidden Use of the Mails.

Philadelphia, March 30.—Postmaster Carr of this city has been notified by the postoffice department to forbid the use of the mails to the United States Importing and Exporting company on the ground that it is a fraudulent concern. Whitman Dunbar, of this city, with several aliases, is the head of the company.

May Move to the South.

Middletown, Conn., March 30.—The Russell Manufacturing company of this city, employing 1,200 hands, is considering invitations from several places in the south to transfer its business. The offers include free factory site, freedom from taxation for ten years, cheap coal, cheap cotton and cheap labor.

Hot Day in Chicago.

Chicago, March 30.—Yesterday was the hottest March day on record in this city for twenty four years. The temperature at 2:30 p. m. registered 74 degrees and evening brought no relief to the people who have not yet discarded their winter clothing.

Lunched with Secretary Herbert.

Washington, March 30.—After the cabinet meeting all the members of the cabinet, except Secretary Carlisle, who is out of the city, accompanied President Cleveland to Secretary Herbert's residence for luncheon.

For Raising a Note.

Woodbury, N. J., March 30.—Samuel I. E. Warwick, convicted of raising a note from $200 to $30,000, was sentenced by Law Judge Clymer to six years at hard labor in the state prison and to pay a $2,000 fine.

Father and Son Missing.

Norwalk, Conn., March 30.—George A. Bartlett and his son William went down the river yesterday in a small boat after fish and clams and have not returned. Their absence occasions great alarm.

Oxford-Cambridge Boat Race.

London, March 30.—The Oxford-Cambridge boat race will be rowed on the Thames this afternoon. At this hour the prospects seem even more favorable than usual to Oxford.

Strikers Resume Work.

New York, March 30.—The marble cutters have settled their differences with the Marble Manufacturers' association, and 1,000 of them have returned to work to-day.

Europeans Leaving Formosa.

Amoy, China, March 30.—European women and children are leaving the island of Formosa, fearing that an attack will be made by the Japanese.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.
ALLEN C. SMITH, Pres.,

The Centaur Company, 77 Murray Street, New York City.

Why Pay $5.00 for Flour

when you can get a good barrel for $3.75 at

J. F. MacDonald's, 186 E. Front St.

All goods of the finest quality and guaranteed.

N. O. molasses	35c	2 quarts Cal. limas	25c
Fine butter	22c	4 cans corn	25c
5 pounds raisins	25c	3 cans ex. fine tomatoes	25c
3 pounds fr prunes	25c	3 cans E. J. peas	25c
2 pounds dry peaches	25c	2 cans peaches	25c
2 pounds evaporated apricots	25c	2 cans apricots	25c
4 pounds rice	25c	2 cans salmon	25c
3 quarts beans	25c	3 cans string beans	25c

THE CZAR,

The Handsomest Wheel Ever Produced.

HIGHEST GRADE MADE.

E. FRANK VAIL, Agent,

177 North avenue.

A CLEAN WASH! SOAP, SOAP.

PUTNAM & DeGRAW

only hope that you will embrace this opportunity and purchase an elegant box containing three cakes of fine toilet soap for 10c.

Lavender Salts, bottle	25c.
Royal Talcum Powder, box	10c.
Layons Tooth Powder, box	18c.
Box of O. C. O. Complexion Powder and bottle of Perfume, special	10c.
Extra quality ½ hose, 15c. pair, 2 for	25c.
Men's medium weight underwear	39c.

— Warner Bro's.
Thompson's "Glove Fitting" —CORSETS.

TRUNKS.

New stock in today. Any trunks left over from last year go at cost.

We have re-tagged them. You see old price and new; good trunks they are, too—mostly big sellers. Prices $2.50 to $10.50. Quick if you want one.

Front street, opp. Somerset street, Plainfield, N. J.

Hallock

IF YOU WANT ANY REAL ESTATE,

Come and see me. I always keep a good line of houses to rent and for sale. Elegant flats, steam heated, city water and electric lights. Private houses with all modern improvements. Vacant lots, farms, speculative property bought, sold and exchanged.

Now is the opportunity to get a home; prices are away down. Real estate owners need money. Buy this year as you will have to pay 25 per cent. more next year. You hear what I am saying. Take warning and come at once

F. M. BACON,

Babcock Building, Room 211.

COURTING OF SUSAN.

"Well, s'r," said Cuthbert Miles, the octogenarian hermit basket weaver, who lives in a little cal in near the head of Indian river, "sence ye seem to like to hear about ol' times, I'd like to tell ye how I fust met Susan, she ez got to be my wife. Most astoundin' woman, Susan was! Seems amazin' queer to me how I been livin' right along all these forty year sence Susan died! 'Taint ben my fault, though. I ben willin' any day to go an' jine her, if the good Lord had only said so.

"Sixty year ago is a good while, ain't it? Lots o' men don't live ez long ez that, an' yet it were sixty year ago when I fust met Susan. I was comin' 21 an' she were on the edge of 18. Now ye mowt think that I'm goin' to tell ye happened in the wilderuest round about this deestric'—an' I want to tell ye that all this part o' Pennsylvany was jist more than wild sixty year ago. It's wild enough now, when ye can walk from this here cabin o' mine putty nigh forty miled, sou'west, and never git out o' the woods. But sixty year ago ye could walk three days, whichever way ye wanted to, an' scarcely see a clearin'.

"But it wa'n't in that 'ere tremendous Pennsylvany wilderuest that what I'm goin' to tell ye happened; it may s'prise ye, but it happened right up in the middle o' York State—right in Cortland county, where I hear now there ain't nothin' but big towns, an' slammin' farms, an' railroads windin' an' twistin' an' stretchin' to all p'ints o' the compass. This here happened in the ol' Tioughniogy deestric', and it'd sound queer to folks over there now, I bet you! There wa'n't much country there then but woods, an' b'ar an' deer an' painters hadn't thought o' quittin' them woods yit. One day I was trampin' along through the woods, lookin' out fer a chance at sumthin' or other. I didn't care much whether it was b'ar or painter or deer, fer my ol' flintlock never got skeered at anything, an' when she hollered whatever she hollered at had to give up the ghost an' no arguin' about it.

"I had tramped a good while without seein' anything worth turnin' ol' flintlock loose on, when suddenly I come out into an openin' in the woods, an' I seen sumpin' s'prisin'. There stood a young gal, her eyes a-flashin, her chist a-heavin', her cheeks 'most on fire, they was so red, an' teeth whiter'n snow showin' betwixt her lips, that was half open. She had a big club in her hands, an' it were riz over her shoulder. An' what do ye s'pose this gal—the pootiest sight I ever seen—was so excited fer? Good reason. I hadn't more than stepped into the openin' an' stopped at the amazing sight o' that gal when a big painter that'd ben scrootchin' on a log sprung at her like a ball out o' a cannon. I was so stuck in my tracks an' fuddled in my head by the sight o' the gal that I never thought o' ol' flintlock. The gal met the painter with her club while he was in the air an' tumbled him back pooty nigh to his log.

"'Better quit foolin' with me, you pesky ol' varmint!' I heerd the gal say, standin' there pantin' an' glarin', an' her chist a-heavin' an' her cheeks a-blazin' an' her teeth a-showin' 'twixt her lips.

"Well, sir, that painter [illegible] had got up an' shot through the air a'gin at the gal, an' she had doubled him up a'gin, an' the painter had riz to make a third spring at her 'fore I got over the spell the sight o' the gal had put on me. Ez he was gittin' ready to spring the third time, though, I come to.

"'Now's my chance!' thinks I to myself. 'I'll save this astoundin' gal from the painter an' there's no knowin' what'll happen, she'll be so thankful like.'

"So I let ol' flintlock holler. The painter tumbled over back'ards an' never peeped ag'in. But I want to tell ye I was sorry the nex' second that I had done it. The gal hadn't seen me yit, but when she heard the gun an' seen the painter tumble she turned on me. Well, sir, her eyes glared wuss at me than they had at the painter, an' I seen that where she had only jist ben excited afore she was mad now—madder'n a hit snake. After glarin' at me for 'bout two seconds, with her club riz ez if she had more'n half a notion to use it on me, she says to me, an' her voice wa'n't in a whisper—she says to me:

"'Who be you, I'd like to know, as comes sneakin' up an' mixin' in with my fun an' sp'illin' of it? In a few more clips that painter'd ben my meat, an' I don't thank nobody to sneak up with a gun an' take it away from me. Anybody can kill a painter with a gun!' she says.

"Sayin' o' which, an' looking me over from head to foot, an' turnin' up her nose ez much ez to say, 'You'm a flue lookin' speciment, you be!' she walked over to the log, which I then seen was holler. Reachin' in, she drug out a young painter. In spite of its kickin' and scratchin' an' squawlin', she held it by the neck while she reached in the log an' drug out another un, bigger'n t'other. Clutchin' 'em by the neck, she knocked the ugly young varmints' heads together till they was dead. Then, turnin' to me, she says:

"'If it hadn't been for you a-sneakin' up with yer gun, I'd a had the old un, too. I hope ye'll injoy the stealin' of her!'

"Sayin' o' which, she slung the two dead young painters over her shoulder an' strode away out o' sight into the woods, 'fore I could say a word. By an' by I come to ag'in, an' says:

"'Most astoundin' gal, that! Don't want no life savers 'round where she is! But,' says I, 'unless I git that gal, there ain't nothin' that'll save my life!'

"I went over an' kicked the consarned carcass o' the painter till I felt better, an' then I dug fer home, an' though I had a chance at another painter an' three b'ar on the way in, I never let ol' flintlock holler wunst. Fact is, I felt jist like breakin' h'r ag'in a tree.

"Well, sir, in less'n a week I met that gal at an apple cut, an' had a knock down to her. She was Susan Wiley, ol' Sam Wiley's darter, o' Wiley's Clearin'. But she jist stuck up her nose at me, an' said she didn't hanker arter folks that snuck around with guns an' got other folks's painters away from 'em. She wouldn't take no 'pology, an' I went home a sick young chap, I tell ye!

"But not long arter that I struck luck. I had a few sheep, but no sheep dog, an' a friend o' mine had a good sheep dog, but no sheep. He thought more o' that dog than anything else, I guess, but he said he'd lend him to me till I could sell my sheep. I had to go two mile through the woods with the dog, an' on the way a big bear jumped out o' the brush an' went scamperin' away toward a lot o' big rocks, not more than a hundred yards away. That dog was down on b'ars the wust kind, an' he took arter this un, mad as mad could be. I called to him, but he kep' right on, an' so I jined in the chase to git the dog away. Into a big hole in the rocks the b'ar disappeared, and the dog fo lered right arter him. When I got there I see that the place where the b'ar had gone in couldn't be more'n seven or eight foot square, an' him an' the dog was havin' it tooth and nail.

"'Lord!' I says. 'If that dog gits killed I can't never look Sam Finley in the face ag'in!'

"Sam was the one that owned the dog. So I took my knife in one hand an' a big stone in t'other hand an' went feet foremost into that cave where the b'ar an' dog was fightin'. I never knowed exac'ly all the p'ints o' that tussle with the b'ar in that dark little hole, but when I come to I was layin' on the b'ar's carcass an' the dog was layin' 'longside o' me lickin' my face an' hands an' chist, for there wan't clothes enough left on me to make a bale o' carpet rags. It was all I could do to crawl out o' the cave, an' I had a pooty hard time a gittin' home. One o' my arms was broke, my face an' chist was clawed amazin' an' my legs was ez lame ez if they'd ben pounded with hammers. But I saved the dog.

"I was laid up more'n three weeks as a consequence o' that leetle rassle, but I was pooty nigh as good ez new when I got 'round ag'in. Course when I got home arter the fight, all broke an' tore up, I had to tell what had happened to me, so gradu'ly it got noised 'round the country. A day or so arter I got out I got an invite to some doin's over at Wiley's.

"'Lord!' I says. 'This is amazin'! Me git an invite to Susan Wiley's! It's astoundin'!'

"But I went, though my face was pooty streaky yit from the b'ar's claw's, an' my gener'l git up wa'n't what ye mowt call scrumtious. An' what do ye think? The fust one I met was Susan, an' she come an' shook hands with me, an' her eyes wa'n't glarin', but they was bright an' her cheeks was rosy.

"'I guess I'll accept your 'pology 'bout gittin' that painter away from me,' she says.

"Well, sir—but what's the use? Susan an' me got hitched in a month arter that an' come over into this Pennsylvany wilderuest an' made a clearin' an' many's the b'ar an' wolf an' painter me an' her fit away or laid low around that clearin'. But she left it an' me forty year ago, an' I left it cause it was lonesome there an' come up here, where I ben waitin' ever sence to jine Susan, astoundin' woman that she was!"

REVENGE OF THE INDIANS.

One Way in Which the Red Men Are Repaying the Whites for Injuries.

"That reminds me of a buffalo," said Augustus Bramedagee, former member of Congress, as he took a packet of cough drops from the train boy. "Whenever I see sugar or candy I think of Indians and buffaloes.

"I suppose you won't guess why. Well, if you ever took a trip on the western part of the Canadian Pacific railway, you would. You travel for hundreds of miles and all you see in the way of freight are piles of white bones standing by the side of the track awaiting transportation.

"They are the bones of buffaloes long since dead, and the Indians collect them from the plains and take them to the track. There is a fellow in St. Louis who pays them something for them, $1 a ton, I think, delivered at the track side.

"The bones are used in sugar refining. I believe buffalo bones are better than any other kind for that purpose. Of course the redskins sometimes try to ring in other bones, perhaps those of human beings.

"It is a strange thing," said the former member of Congress, as he chewed on a cough drop, "that the noble savage, who owes his extermination to the whites, should be able to get such poetic revenge. The American people are said to owe many of their troubles to candy and sweet things, and there are those redskins out on the Canadian Pacific road industriously collecting bones and doing their best to get even by encouraging the production of candy."

Adulterated Cocoa.

What is cocoa? Admiral Field, in defending his refusal as a magistrate to inflict a fine on a grocer charged with selling adulterated cocoa, said that in the navy and in commerce it is always mixed with 25 per cent. of rice, sago or arrowroot, and that, consequently, fraud being an element of criminal adulteration, the grocer was not guilty. This view was upheld by the court, and it seems to me to have been a reasonable one. At the same time it might be as well that any person selling cocoa as cocoa should in some way bring home to his customer that only 50 per cent. of the article comes from cocoa nibs; for unless this be done the tendency will be to reduce the actual cocoa to an almost imperceptible percentage, as it costs more than either sugar, rice or sago.—London Truth.

IN MEMORIAM.

MRS. LAURA PROBASCO.

Gone through the portal to glory,
Gone to the realms of the blest,
Farewell to the earth and its sorrow,
Gone to the promised rest.

Gone where no trouble can enter,
Angels have welcomed her home;
Now she is sitting with Jesus,
Beckoning others to come.

Soon shall we join her up yonder;
Let us keep faithful and true,
So that when summoned, like Laura,
Angels may welcome us, too.

—Contributed by a personal friend.

—Mrs. W. H. Sampson of East Fifth street has presented to the Free Public Library the very valuable collections of the New York Historical Society for the years 1868-'73 inclusive, 6 volumes. These contain the valuable "Lee papers".

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sence of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75 cts. per bottle.

JOHN NEWTON WILLIAMS

Eminent Inventor of the Williams Typewriter Owes Strength and Health to Paine's Celery Compound.

The old-time visionary inventor has given place to the practical, hard-working professional inventor of today.

The successful inventor must now be a business man as well as a man of mechanical ideas.

The high tension of the nervous system, often kept up for months and months, makes tremendous drafts on the health of those busy brain workers. Many succumb to nervous prostration when they seem just on the point of surmounting every difficulty.

Of all the countless recent useful inventions none has passed through so many or so rapid a course of improvements as the typewriter. Today the latest perfected machine is undoubtedly the Williams typewriter, which represents a vast amount of cumulative invention.

John Newton Williams, its inventor, was born in 1855 in Brooklyn, N. Y. He spent his early manhood on the western frontier. Subsequently he settled in Kentucky, where he became known as one of the most successful stock breeders in the State.

But it is as an inventor that he has won his national reputation. Several most useful and important inventions were made by him before he produced the Williams typewriter, a machine that probably excels all others in the most important features.

Mr. Williams, speaking of the labor expended in bringing the machine that bear his name to its present perfection, he says:

"Some four years ago, when engaged in experimental work on the Williams, I was putting in about 16 hours per day of hard work and worry, and came near breaking down. Although very particular and regular in my habits and careful in eating, my stomach troubled me. It was difficult to eat, and more difficult to digest and assimilate my food, my stomach acting in sympathy with an over-worked brain. A friend had sent some Paine's celery compound to one of my business associates, and knowing him personally, and seeing what it did for him, I thought I would try it. I commenced taking it before meals, and it at once stimulated my appetite and aided digestion. I took two bottles and was much benefited.

"Again two years later I was troubled with nervousness and indigestion, and again took Paine's celery compound with great benefit. My wife, after her long illness last summer, and severe nervous prostration, concluded to try Paine's celery compound, a few weeks ago, and she is now taking it with steady improvement. Several of my friends have taken it on my recommendation, and are now practical believers in its great restorative powers. I have found the celery compound a tonic and restorative that I could lean upon with confidence in time of trouble."

Paine's celery compound makes people well. As a spring remedy it is unsurpassed.

Don't

buy a Remington bicycle. We will

Give

you one.

To the person buying the most Wall Paper, Carpets, Rugs, Paint, Glass, Shades, by cash sales before

JUNE 1, '95

we will give

FREE

a fine Remington bicycle. Stop in and see the bike. Now is your opportunity.

LOVE,

Corner North and Watchung aves.

CODDINGTON'S

FURNITURE AND FREIGHT

EXPRESS.

OFFICES—24 West Front street; 39 Park avenue Post Office Box 238.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. Large covered trucks. Goods sent to any part of the country. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed

VAN EMBURGH & SON

All-Silk Ribbons.

5/8 inch wide	4c	1½ inch wide	8c
7/8 "	5c	1⅞ "	10c
1¼ "	7c	2¼ "	12c

Stockinet dress shields, Nos. 2 and 3, 8 cents per pair.
Pure rubber dress shields Nos. 2 and 3, 10c pair.
Ladies' laundried shirt waists 49c.
New novelty wool dress goods (colors) 25c yd.
40 inch all-wool ladies' cloth (colors and black) 35c yd.
31 inch French sateens (colors) 18c yd.
Turkey red table covers 2½ yards long 65c each.
1¼ yard wide table oil cloth 14c yard.
Extra heavy table felt 48c; regular price 65c
Men's half hose, fast black. 10, 15, 25c; all seamless.
Men's half hose, light shades, 12, 15, 25c; all seamless.
Ladies' black hose, seamless, 10, 15, 18, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45c.
Black satin, extra quality, 79c.
Black and colored velvets, fancy silks, wash silks, black Moreen, light and dark hair cloth, fibre Chamois and dress makers' furnishings.

Corner Store Babcock Building.

LADIES' $2 OXFORDS

Black and Russet.

Common Sense and Opera Toe; all new Spring goods!

ALEX. WILLETT & SON,

107 Park avenue

Come and see them!

J. T. VAIL, Real Estate and Insurance,

177 North Avenue.

HEATH & DRAKE

ELEGANT GOODS.

Just now we wish to call your attention to some of the best grades of goods that we carry.

Laces, real laces, Duchesse, Appliqué and Honiton, range in price from $2 75 to $14 per yard.
Real Guipure d'Gene from $1 69 to $4 50 yard.
Elegant Jet Garnitures, from $3 50 to $10.
Real Lace Handkerchiefs, from $2 50 to $19 50.
Silks, Rich Black Gros Grain and Faille Francaise Silks, at $1 50 to 2 50 per yard.
Black Satin Duchesse, at $1 to $2 50 per yard.
Fancy Novelty Silks, for trimmings and dress purposes from $2 to $5 50.
New Grenadines, beautiful effects, for Spring and Summer wear at $2 50 yard.
Linens, Linen Damask table sets, our best quality, at $65 set.
Best bleached linen napkins, $20 doz.
Finest linen towels $1 50 each.
Upholstery and Curtains, Silk Damask furniture coverings, very rich in designs, elegant in quality, at $5 yard.
Silk drapery curtains, from $10 to $18 pair.
Chenille curtains, in many styles, up to $15 pair.
Lace curtains for $7 50 to $50 pair.
Brussels point Lace Curtains, from $12 to $75 pair.
Lace bed spreads from $6 to $50 set.
Muslin Underwear, Ladies' night dresses, elegantly trimmed at $6 50
Ladies' muslin drawers at $5 00.
Pillow shams, made in the very latest styles $5 to $19.
Corsets in all the best brands from 3 75 to $6.

Free delivery to Plainfield and vicinity.

HEATH & DRAKE,

777 and 779 BROAD STREET, Newark, N. J.

THE Bee Hive.

"KIDS."

Ladies' 4 button kid gloves in tans and slates 65c.
Foster hook kid gloves in all the new shades, the 98c quality, 75c.
Children's kid gloves, a good glove, 69c.
Men's kid gloves, every pair warranted, $1.

MEN'S CAMBRIC SHIRTS.

Men's cambric shirts, laundried, collar and cuffs attached, 50c.
Men's laundried shirts, white body and fancy bosom, 48c.
Men's laundried shirts, white body and colored bosom and cuffs 65c.

Louis Callman,

222 West Front st.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, administrator of Adele Feytel deceased will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the seventeenth day of April next.

CHARLES JOSEPH FEYTEL.

Dated February 11, 1895. 2 16 10

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Executor of Robert Palmer, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphan's Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the Seventeenth day of April next.

JOHN S. McLEAN.

Dated February 11, 1895. 2 16 10

MOSLER SAFE CO.,

contractors to the United States Government

Mosler Patent Safes,

(fire and burglar-proof) in general use

All Over the World.

Lowest prices. Drop a postal to

S. W. CLARK,

General Agent,
118 West 5th st., Plainfield, N. J.
and he will call and give special attention and information.

Large assortment of second-hand safes in first-class condition at low prices.

AN IDEAL FAMILY MEDICINE

For Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, Bad Complexion, Offensive Breath, and all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

R·I·P·A·N·S· TABULES

act gently yet promptly. Perfect digestion follows their use. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Price 50 cents a box. Address RIPANS CHEMICAL Co., 10 Spruce St., N.Y.